Chapter 1: Start the Round as a Dragon

Rumble!

Plash!

August had just begun, and rain came pouring on the ground. The rain was so heavy that the raindrops could bounce off the floor.

In the quiet school compound, one or two students were sprinting towards the dormitory under their umbrellas.

Yet, a student was sitting outside of a pavilion at the side of the lake as rain fell on him without any mercy.

Within seconds, he was all drenched from the rain.

"Heh, I'm poor!"

The young man stared at his reflection in the lake with a pale face. He felt a sense of bitterness when his reflection was distorted by the falling rain.

"Why is God so unfair?"

A mocking expression surfaced on the young man's face.

His name was Wang Xian. When school reopened, he would be a second-year student at the University of Rivertown. Since a young age, he stayed with his younger sister and grandmother.

But his grandmother had passed away a few years ago. Wang Xian and his younger sister, Xiao Yu, were left to depend on one another.

Both of them were smart students. Wang Xian had enrolled in the renowned university, University of Rivertown, with excellent grades, while his sister had gotten into the same school this year.

Besides having an adorable younger sister, Wang Xian also had a like-minded female friend. Even though neither of them spelled out their relationship, they were as close as a couple.

Hence, Wang Xian was satisfied with his life despite having to spend all his spare time working part-time just to earn a living for his younger sister and himself.

The girl whom Wang Xian shared an intimate relationship with had been working part-time with him all along. However, she had left him for a man with a luxury car yesterday.

In a cold voice, she said to him, "I'm sick of such a poor and miserable life. I want a brand new life now."

Wang Xian could still remember the scorning and disdainful sneer drawn at the lips of the luxury car guy when he left with the girl in his arms.

"Reality and money. Heh." Wang Xian showed a scornful expression as he stared blankly at the lake in front of him. Getting drenched from the rain was nothing to him.

Buzz!

Wang Xian dug out his phone when he heard the buzzing sound. A faint smile surfaced on his face when he saw the message sent by his younger sister.

"Hi everyone, I'm Louis Koo. And I'm Nick Cheung. Tanwan is a brand-new game that you have never tried before. Just three minutes, and you will love this game as much as I do."

Drops of rain fell on the screen. As he unlocked his phone, a pop-out advertisement was playing loudly.

"Lousy phone..." Wang Xian's expression was full of bitterness. The shoddy phone which he got as a gift for topping up his pre-paid card often had pop-out advertisements.

He closed out of it.

After he cleared the advertisement away, another one popped out again.

"Start the round as a dragon. At the later stages, you can roam the universe!"

"Are you bullying me too?" Wang Xian grasped his phone with force.

Rumble!

A clap of thunder was heard suddenly as his hands went numb.

"What's going on?" Wang Xian felt pins and needles in his body as his expression turned apprehensive.

Splash!

A silvery-white thunderbolt landed in his hand without any warning. Wang Xian's body went stiff and plunged into the lake.

"Start the round as a dragon. At the later stages, you can roam the universe!"

The advertisement continued to play on his worn-out phone. With a stiff body, Wang Xian realized that the screen was giving off lights.

An image of a divine dragon appeared on his phone. It was letting out a silent bellow before it sprang out from the phone.

Yes, the divine dragon sprang out unbelievably from the phone.

Wang Xian saw the palm-sized divine dragon went right into his head.

"Start the round as a dragon."

He suddenly heard a voice in his mind. Soon after, he was shocked to see the image flashed out in his mind.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (with ability to transform into a dragon)

Level: 1

Dragon Energy: 1/1000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animal that is lower than your own level)

Devour any form of living (for extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"What is happening? What are all these things in my head?"

Just as Wang Xian was astonished about what he saw in his mind, he realized he could actually breathe in the water.

"I can breathe and talk in the water. This..." With his wide-opened eyes, Wang Xian felt more comfortable in the water as compared to living on the land.

"What does 'transform into a dragon' means? Does that mean I can turn into a dragon?" Wang Xian stared at the image in his head and murmured in shock.

"Start the round as a dragon. You can become a dragon." A voice suddenly echoed in his mind.

Wang Xian was dumbfounded as he said unbelievably, "I can become a dragon. A dragon."

"Voila!"

At this moment, Wang Xian realized that his body seemed to undergo a massive transformation. He moved and shook his body slightly.

"This..." Wang Xian felt that he had turned into a long creature. He lowered his head and realized he had four claws. On each of the claws, there were nine toes.

The claws were similar to eagle claws while the palms were like those of tigers. Fish scales were all over his body.

"I'm really a dragon." Wang Xian stared with his eyes wide. He had horns that looked like a deer's, a head like a camel's and a pair of rabbit-like eyes. Besides that, his neck moved like a snake, and his stomach was like a clamshell. With fish-like scales, eagle claws, tiger palms and a pair of ox's ears, this is the Divine Dragon of the Chinese legends!

Wang Xian slightly moved his body, and he could easily swim seven to eight meters away.

"A divine dragon." Wang Xian was excited. "But I'm only baby size now."

As a fish swam past him, a message appeared in his head.

Extractable Dragon Energy: 0.001

Wang Xian hesitated before he moved and swam at a fast speed with his mouth open.

"Devour!"

Before the little sharpbelly could react, it was swallowed by Wang Xian.

"Dragon energy was increased by 0.001."

A notification showed up in his head, bringing a halt to his movement.

"Since I can become a dragon, can I change back to my human-form again?" asked Wang Xian.

"Yes." The voice in his head sounded off.

"What's the use of dragon energy?"

"Dragon energy can be used to level up and cultivate your superpower. It can also be used to upgrade marine animals."

"Cultivate superpower? What do you mean by upgrading the marine animals?" asked Wang Xian immediately.

"The divine dragons are one of the most formidable living beings in the universe. Their power comes from their dragon energy as the energy can enhance their bodies and cultivate their superpower. The Divine Dragon Transformation is all about the use of the dragon energy."

"Divine Dragon Transformation?" Wang Xian thought of the skill that he possessed.

"Divine Dragon Transformation!"

At this time, an imposing and mighty voice echoed in his mind.

Soon after, divine dragons were circling around within his head.

Among which, there was Inferno Divine Dragon with its red-hot body in flame, Frosty Divine Dragon that was covered with thick frost, and Azure Dragon which possessed unlimited vitality. There was also a dragon with a charcoal-like body that was burning in black flame, Black Dragon, and one that can sweep up a windstorm with its wings, Wind Dragon.

A myriad of divine dragons circled and eventually formed three great and majestic words – Divine Dragon Transformation.

Chapter 2: Divine Dragon Transformation

"So this is Divine Dragon Transformation? So powerful!"

Wang Xian was feeling the various types of divine dragon and their aura which seemed to be looking down on the rest of the world. His eyes were filled with astonishment.

"So this is how Dragon Strength is used."

After some time, Wang Xian exhaled gradually and a tinge of excitement flashed past his eyes.

Art of Cultivation, Divine Dragon Transformation was the cultivation arts of the Divine Dragon. Moreover, it was also the strongest cultivation art.

The methods of gathering and using Dragon Strength were within the Divine Dragon Transformation.

Dragon Strength allowed him to possess Inferno Superpower, Frosty Superpower, Wind Superpower and various other types of superpowers.

Based on what was explained in the Divine Dragon Transformation, Dragon Strength was the highest-tier energy. It could be transformed into lower-tier energy.

Lower-tier energies referred to elements like Metal, Wood, Water, Fire and others. Dragon Strength could even strengthen one's body.

Another strong ability of Dragon Strength was to upgrade marine animals.

Every Divine dragon had their own Dragon Palace with crawfish soldiers and crab generals. Dragon Strength could gift ordinary marine animals the ability to evolve and gain great strength.

"Haha! I would never have imagined that I would have such an incredible encounter."

Wang Xian showed excitement on his face. After turning into the Divine dragon, the illness in his body was automatically eradicated.

"Now that I have become a divine dragon, I'll be able to gather the clouds and summon rain with a wave of my hand after I get stronger. I'll become the strongest existence in the entire world and build the strongest Dragon Palace."

Wang Xian wriggled his own body and was filled with lofty ambitions.

"Once the divine dragon's body got stronger, my self-body would get stronger too. Let's start absorbing some Dragon Strength first."

Wang Xian thought in his heart. There are two methods to absorb Dragon Strength. One of them was to devour other living things to gather Dragon Strength. The other method would be to gather Dragon Strength based on the description of the Divine Dragon Transformation.

"Let's start by devouring the surrounding living things."

Wang Xian's eyes lit up. There was a significant amount of fish in the lake beside the pavilion. As the lake was only two to three meters deep, there weren't any large fish. Therefore, he wasn't afraid of encountering strong living things.

Wang Xian wriggled his body and headed directly towards the lake.

"There's a small grass carp over there."

Wang Xian saw a grass carp that was similar in size to him. Moving his body, he swam directly towards it.

"Devour." Wang Xian swam over, opened his mouth and devoured the grass carp that was of similar size to him. He obtained 0.05 Dragon Energy.

"Let's continue."

Wang Zheng felt extremely excited as he moved around and started devouring the surrounding living things frantically.

Grass carp, carp, lobsters and mudfish.

These fish were all Level 0. Even carps that weighed three to four jin were Level 0. [\[1\]](#)

Wang Xian's devour was extremely strong. Even if the fish was twice the size of him, the fish would shrink and directly enter his belly as he devoured one with each bite.

Subsequently, he cornered all the fish to an area before devouring them in a frenzy.

Heavy rain was pouring constantly and seven to eight hundred fish gathered in the middle of the lake in the school. A golden-colored body was devouring them rapidly.

Growl!

A weak and soft dragon roar propagated. The growl was very soft and was even softer than the sounds of the rain. However, this growl was filled with endless awe.

"I have gotten only twenty Dragon Energy after devouring all the fish in the lake! That's really little!"

After half an hour, the golden-colored Wang Xian swam to the edge of the lake.

He looked around him and found that there was no one. Looking at his clothes at the edge of the lake, a naked Wang Xian surfaced without much thought. His eyes flashed nobleness as a dragon while his body beamed golden light.

The naked body looked extremely strong and was full of muscles.

"I better put on my clothes quickly and get out of here." Wang Xian wasn't in the mood to admire the great changes to his body. He quickly scooped up his clothes from the lake and put them on rapidly.

He also scooped up his phone at the same time and ran towards the dormitory.

Bam!

Wang Xian closed the door to his dormitory room with his body fully drenched. A tinge of a smile surfaced on his face.

"My strength seems to be several times that of the past. My body also feels stronger than before."

Wang Xian clenched his fists tightly. Subsequently, he looked at his wet clothes, took them off and changed into a set of dry clothes. "So handsome!"

Standing in front of the mirror, Wang Xian looked at himself in an almost narcissistic way.

It was the summer break and there weren't many people in the entire dormitory building and he was the only one in his dormitory room.

"My level is still too low currently. I will have to practice diligently from now onwards to become a strong Divine dragon as quickly as possible."

Wang Xian clenched his fists tightly and took a look at his elemental attributes.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Ability to transform into a Dragon)

Dragon Energy: 20/1000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of living (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"It seems that 20 Dragon Energy isn't of much use, either. I'll have to reach level 2 as quickly as possible."

Wang Xian thought to himself.

Buzz Buzz. At this moment, Wang Xian suddenly heard his phone ringing.

"What the... The phone is still working after falling into the lake?"

Wang Xian was surprised. He walked over immediately, picked up his phone and saw a message from his sister.

Unlocking the phone, there wasn't any rubbish advertisement this time.

"Brother, I'm done with my work today and am accompanying Xiao Mi to go shopping. I earned two hundred today from tutoring! Brother, let me buy you a shirt."

"Brother, why aren't you replying to my message? And why aren't the calls getting through?"

...

"Brother, what are you doing? Are you still working? Please reply to me immediately when you receive my messages."

Seeing seven or eight messages from his own sister, a smile appeared on Wang Xian's face. He immediately replied, "Your brother is busy now. Go shopping and buy whatever you want. Your brother has enough money for your school fees and you won't have to worry about the living expenses in the future."

"I still have a sister who will be attending the University of Rivertown with me. Let's see if I can give her a surprise before she arrives."

Wang Xian's heart softened at the thought of his adorable sister.

"Now that I can transform into a Divine dragon, what are some ways for me to earn money? Should I head to the ocean and catch some fish?"

Wang Xian thought to himself and recalled about that girl. His eyes were filled with determination as he mumbled to himself, "I must become a rich man in the future. Only when I have strength and money can I get what I want."

He had been working on temporary jobs before and could earn approximately a hundred dollars a day. For this summer vacation, he found a rather good job and earned four thousand dollars in twenty days.

Currently, he had over eight thousand dollars in his hands. This was sufficient for his and his sister's school fees but wasn't enough to cover their living expenses.

His sister was also sensible enough to start working during the summer vacation. She found a job as a home tutor back in their home village and could be considered as being well paid.

"I will definitely not allow my sister to suffer after she enters university. I have to turn her into a little princess."

Wang Xian made up his mind to not allow his sister to become like him in the past where he had to work part-time while studying.

Growl.

"I'm so hungry. This is weird considering that I had devoured so many fish."

At this moment, Wang Xian felt pangs of hunger. He took his umbrella and headed out directly.

Chapter 3: Arowanas That Cost Millions

During the summer break, the entire school was plunged into quietness as not many students stayed back in school.

Hence, the school canteen was not opened. Wang Xian would usually have his meals outside of school.

The University of Rivertown, unlike other universities, was not situated in the desolate suburbs.

The university was situated within Rivertown College Town which had three universities and three vocational schools in total.

The area surrounding the University of Rivertown was extremely robust with an old street. Even though it was known as the old street, everything was new inside. It was a street that was full of buildings that were imitations from the ancient days.

The old street was the most robust street within Rivertown as it gathered all the students from the six schools. With a few high-class residential areas surrounding it, many people were there even though it was summer break.

However, there was not much of a crowd on the street as it was raining today.

Wang Xian looked at the restaurants around him. "Let's have something good today."

Previously, he was so thrifty that every meal would not cost him more than fifteen dollars. Most of the time, he would settle his meals with instant noodles.

Even though Wang Xian was as broke as usual, he thought of ways to earn money with the golden opportunity he chanced upon today. So, he decided to splurge for once.

Wang Xian observed the restaurants around him and fixed his gaze on a restaurant that was called First-grade Seafood Restaurant.

First-grade Restaurant was the most expensive restaurant on the street. Wang Xian's roommate mentioned that two people could spend almost six to seven hundred dollars for a simple meal here.

Average spending per person was about three to four hundred dollars, which was a price that he could not afford before.

Yet, at the same time, this restaurant served the most delicious food on this street.

"This is it." Wang Xian decided to have a sumptuous meal.

"Welcome." The two greeters at the door bowed welcomingly.

"Sir, you can leave your umbrella here." The waitress on the right said to him with a crisp-clear voice.

"Sure." Wang Xian nodded.

"Eh?" However, he revealed a surprised look on his face when he looked up to the girl.

Seeing Wang Xian staring at her, the girl smiled at him politely.

"Guan Shuqing? She's Guan Shuqing, the hottest girl in our major." Wang Xian recovered from his state of shock. The girl who was greeting him was also a student from the same year as him.

A pretty girl who was also among the top few beauties in the school – Guan Shuqing.

However, they were not from the same class. Hence, she would not know a nobody like Wang Xian.

Guan Shuqing had many admirers courting her in school. One of the most epic incidents was that a rich man's son drove a Ferrari with a full trunk of flowers to woo her, but was rejected.

"Never would I expect to see Guan Shuqing working as a part-timer during the summer break."

Wang Xian was thinking to himself. A pretty girl like her would gain easy access to money if she needed it, just like how she... but now...

"But probably, this was the reason why many people took a liking to Guan Shuqing."

Wang Xian shook his head. He did not care about the gossip in school, so he was unaware of her situation.

"Sir, how many of you?" A waiter walked over and asked.

"One."

"Sir, this way please."

The waiter led him into the restaurant. Wang Xian observed the crowd that was dining in the restaurant. The business here was extremely good.

After getting himself seated, Wang Xian studied the dishes on the menu.

"It's indeed the First-grade Restaurant. They even have twin abalones that are worth two hundred thousand dollars." Wang Xian stared at the price on the menu.

Apart from the high-priced twin abalones, a portion of sashimi cost seven to eight hundred dollars and a portion of caviar cost a few thousand dollars.

On top of that, an Australia lobster of three to five jin cost two thousand dollars each.

"That is simply expensive!" Wang Xian was slightly stunned. He ordered a plate of oysters, two cheap dishes and a soup which cost him over two hundred dollars in total.

"Sir, please wait for a moment. The dishes will be brought to you in no time." The good-looking waitress said with a sweet smile.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded. Good restaurants simply had better service. Even the waitresses are all young and beautiful.

Soon, the dishes were served to him. Wang Xian began to tuck in his food excitedly. Previously, he had eaten all kinds of artificially flavored instant noodles including stew beef, tomato beef, Sichuan spicy beef, and pickled vegetables. He almost wanted to puke. Today, he could finally upgrade his meal.

After a hearty meal, Wang Xian burped with satisfaction and took a few sips of tea.

"The food here is really delicious. When I'm rich in the future, I'll bring my sister here every day." Wang Xian told himself.

"Excuse me, can I have the bill?"

Wang Xian called out and foot the bill of over two hundred dollars. A meal like this was equivalent to more than one week's worth of his meals.

After footing the bill, he was about to leave with a smiling face.

Bang!

"Ah!"

When he got up, he heard something shatter and a fearful scream coming from the entrance.

Wang Xian wondered for a while, but he was not bothered by it and continued on his way out.

When he was at the door, he saw a fish tank that was about 1.8 meters long, three fish and some water lying on the floor.

A middle-aged man was yelling anxiously, "Get some water now. Hurry! It can't die. It can't die."

As he was yelling, he walked to the three fish. Two of them were fine while the remaining one was looking half-dead under the broken glass of the tank.

"Boss, I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I didn't see you just now." A greeter in her uniform who was standing to the side was apologizing to the boss with an ashen face.

"Don't apologize to me. You'll be lucky if the arowanas are fine. If anything happens to them, you can't even compensate me even if you sell yourself away." The middle-aged boss was howling at the girl with anger.

The girl paled immediately with her eyes red.

"Gosh, Mr. Li, how did this happen? Why are the three arowanas on the floor?" At this time, an elder walked over with a surprised look.

Mr. Li looked up at the elder and replied quickly, "Zhao, a young lady accidentally broke the tank when the workers were moving it."

"Do these three arowanas belong to Old Wang? They're worth five to six million dollars. Old Wang treated them like precious jewels. How did you borrow the fish from him?" Zhao squatted down and examined the three arowanas.

At the same time, the employees from the hotel fetched a huge basin of water.

Zhao began to examine the condition of the three arowanas.

The greeter at the side got even paler when she heard the old man.

Wang Xian was stunned by the old man's words too. Three fish for five to six million?

"If three fish are worth five to six million, each of them would have cost one to two million?" Wang Xian was aghast in hearing the price. He looked towards the greeter and frowned immediately. "Guan Shuqing!"

Chapter 4: Treating Fish With Dragon Energy

"These two fish should be fine but this one might have some problems."

Within the First-grade Restaurant, Old Zhao frowned as he looked at the half-dead arowana. He touched the body of the arowana and continued, "This red arowana probably had a worse fall when it dropped down. It probably would be..."

Zhao did not complete his sentence but it was clear what he was trying to say. This arowana might not survive for long.

Mr. Li looked extremely unhappy when he heard the words of Zhao. With a heavy face, he said, "I asked Old Wang to lend them to me for a few days to change the Fengshui of the shop. Who would have expected..."

As Mr. Li spoke, he stared at the female greeter.

"These are arowanas that are worth several million. To cause their death by dropping them, you are really too careless."

"That's right. The greeter probably wasn't paying attention and knocked into one of the few deliverymen who was shifting the goods. That's really careless on her part."

At this moment, the customers were gathering around the scene. They were pointing and commenting on that arowanas as they felt sorry for the incident. Some of them were even pointing at Guan Shuqing as they explained the incident to customers who had just joined the crowd.

Guan Shuqing had her head lowered all along and tears were streaming down. She looked extremely pitiful at this moment.

"What are you crying for? I'm the one who should be crying. A red arowana that costs one to two million is killed by you."

Mr. Li looked up angrily and walked in front of Guan Shuqing. His finger was pointing angrily at her head as he scolded.

Guan Shuqing kept her head down and her body was shaking slightly. She raised her head slightly, revealed an expression that drew sympathy and said, "Mr. Li, I didn't do this on purpose. I really didn't do this on purpose."

"Not on purpose? Will it be fine if you just apologize after breaking something that costs one to two million? Huh? Can you afford to compensate me for it?"

The angry Mr. Li grabbed and pulled Guan Shuqing's clothes. He looked rather hideous at this moment.

"Hey hey. Mister!"

At this moment, Wang Xian could no longer stand the sight of Mr. Li who seemed to be acting irrationally. "This lady didn't do this on purpose. Moreover, isn't this arowana still alive?"

"Who is this brat? Mind your own business. If you want to interfere in this, compensate me on behalf of her!"

Mr. Li turned around immediately and yelled at him after hearing what Wang Xian had said.

Wang Xian heard Mr. Li's words and frowned slightly. He took a glance at Guan Shuqing before turning his vision towards the red arowana.

"I could extract one Dragon Energy from it? No wonder this arowana is worth more than a million." Wang Xian thought to himself. At this moment, he recalled the applications of Dragon Energy. He looked towards Mr. Li and said, "As a man, don't make things difficult for a young lady. I'm confident I can cure the arowana."

"You are confident?" Mr. Li looked at him in doubt.

"Hey brother, this is a red arowana that is worth a million or two. Are you sure you could cure it?" Old Zhao looked at him with suspicion.

"You will know after you see it." Wang Xian didn't elaborate further and walked directly towards the red arowana. This was because he wasn't a hundred percent sure of it either.

"If you are not sure, don't touch it." warned Mr. Li as he looked sternly at Wang Xian.

"How would you know if you don't give it a try," replied Wang Xian without looking up. He extended his hand over and touched the fish.

Mr. Li had a stern look on him but didn't try to stop him. This teenager in front of him was so confident and might be his only ray of hope.

"Dragon Energy."

With just a thought, he injected Dragon Energy into the body of the arowana based on how he would upgrade other marine animals.

Something magical happened. Wang Xian could fully sense the internal constitution of the arowana and he realized that he could make upgrades to the arowana through the Dragon Energy.

"Truly magical."

A surprised look appeared on Wang Xian's face. He discovered that there was a little blood clot within the red arowana and it was exactly this blood clot that made it lethargic and on the brink of death.

"Dragon Energy nourishment."

Golden-colored Dragon Energy streamed passed and the blood clot within the body dissipated.

He retracted the Dragon Energy and realized that he had only exhausted one point of Dragon Energy,

Flap flap. At this moment, the previously half-dead red arowana was wriggling its body in the basin. It seemed to be extremely active.

Wang Xian revealed a smile on his face as he swung his finger in front of the red arowana.

The red arowana moved along with his finger excitedly.

Wang Xian put on a front by squeezing the body of the red arowana.

"Wow! So magical! It has recovered."

"For real. The arowana looks fine and it seems to have really recovered."

The surrounding crowd looked towards Wang Xian with astonishment after seeing the red arowana swimming freely in the water.

Old Zhao, who was beside him, made a detailed examination of the red arowana. He gasped with surprise and blurted, "It has really recovered!"

"Of course there's no problem with it. It just had a little blood clot within its body previously. Just a small issue." Wang Xian stood up, cleared the dust off his hands and said to Mr. Li who was standing by the side, "Come take a look. There's nothing wrong with it now."

Mr. Li was stunned for a moment before rushing over. He looked carefully at the red arowana.

"Old Zhao, is it really fine?" He looked towards the old man beside him and asked with uncertainty.

"It should be fine." Old Zhao nodded his head.

"Great, great." Mr. Li finally heaved a sigh of relief and said, "My brother, I'm really, really grateful for this."

"You're welcome. I just hope that Mr. Li will not make things difficult for the young lady." Wang Xian waved his hand.

"I won't, I won't. Thank you young man. Come in. Have some food before you leave. This is my restaurant."

"It's alright. I just had my lunch. Your food are really delicious."

Wang Xian shook his head. He looked towards Guan Shuqing, who was standing on one side, and noticed that she was also looking at him.

He smiled at her, bade goodbye to Mr. Li and left directly.

Guan Shuqing looked at the back view of Wang Xian with gratitude. She hesitated about going up but was halted by the manager beside her.

"Arowana, ornamental fish!"

Wang Xian walked out of First-grade Restaurant. He opened his umbrella and sank into deep thought. The three arowana that were worth more than one, two million gave him some inspiration.

"Perhaps I have discovered a way to earn money quickly."

The edge of Wang Xian's mouth arched upwards as he carried his umbrella and walked forward.

After walking for several hundred meters, his vision turned to a shop to his left.

Aquarium shop.

An aquarium shop was a place that sold fish bowls and ornamental fish.

When Wang Xian walked into the shop, a middle-aged man and two young female attendants were standing in the shop. There were no other customers.

"Hey handsome, are you looking to buy some ornamental fish?" A female attendant smiled and asked this the moment he stepped in.

"Just browsing." Wang Xian smiled at her and replied.

"Alright, feel free to do so." The female attendant didn't seem to be too concerned if he was interested in buying as she replied with a smile.

"Grass tank, sea tank and this is the ornamental fish section."

The entire aquarium shop was huge and separated into three sections of grass tank, sea tank and ornamental fish. The grass tank and sea tank sections were mainly about the background setting and had a few fish. As for the ornamental fish section, it was mainly a section that showcased various types of fishes.

There were common goldfish, parrotfish and angelfish. Besides those, there were also the more expensive goldfish and koi carp.

Chapter 5: Upgrading with Dragon Energy

"The most expensive Koi carp is worth 150,000 dollars while the most expensive arowana will cost about 100,000 dollars."

Wang Xian was observing the ornamental fish in the aquarium store. The two most expensive fish cost only about a few hundred thousand in this shop.

He looked at the fish and realized that most of them were at Level 0. Only the arowanas and the Koi carps possessed slightly more Dragon Energy.

But those arowanas and the Koi carps in the fish tanks were indeed beautiful.

The scales on the arowanas were glittering, and they had prominent foreheads with long whiskers.

Bright and colorful patterns were all over the bodies of the Koi carps. As they swam in the tank, they looked as though they were living pieces of art.

"Hey, pretty, your arowanas and Koi carps are quite expensive."

Wang Xian smiled to the salesgirl beside him as he struck up a conversation.

"Do you think this is expensive? You must have not seen those Koi carps and arowanas that cost millions of dollars. Our price is considered to be at the mid-range," said the salesgirl smilingly.

Wang Xian listened to her reply and asked immediately, "Pretty, how do you differentiate a good Koi carp and arowana?"

"Red arowanas are the most valuable breed among the arowanas while Chilli Red Arowanas are the most precious breed among red arowanas. Koi carps are more expensive, in particular, from the island countries. Those that are larger in size with bright colors are worth a few million dollars." The salesgirl explained to him smilingly.

Wang Xian pondered as he nodded. He asked, "If I want to buy Koi carps and arowanas that cost a few million dollars, where can I get them in the Rivertown?"

"Koi carps and arowanas that cost a few million dollars? You can check out the Flowers and Birds Market of the Oceantown. But a few million dollars of Koi carps and arowanas are not common. Moreover, not many people will purchase such expensive ornamental fish. Those that cost a few hundred thousand are for sale though." The pretty salesgirl continued.

"Okay, thank you." Wang Xian nodded with a smile. He pulled out his phone and did a simple search.

"Just like what the salesgirl said, Koi carps and arowanas that cost a few million are uncommon and not easy to sell. But people would buy a few hundred thousand dollar ones."

Wang Xian ran through his thoughts. He smiled at the salesgirl and left.

It's just noon. Let's check out the Flowers and Birds Market.

After Wang Xian walked out of the aquarium store, he headed to the Flowers and Birds Market by cab.

The Flowers and Birds Market was situated at the East Ocean district of the Rivertown, and it was not far for him.

After a 20-minute drive, the car stopped at the entrance of the Flowers and Birds Market.

The Flowers and Birds Market of Rivertown was a more substantial market since many wealthy people resided in Rivertown, because it was one of the top second-tier cities.

Wang Xian went into the market. He followed the signs and strolled towards the fish viewing area.

On the way, he saw a pet shop selling pet dogs for fifty thousand dollars.

"A pet dog can be kept for dozens of years, but a Koi carp or an arowana can be kept for one's entire life. There's a reason for the hefty price tag on the ornamental fish."

The Flowers and Birds Market was well-maintained with wide and clean pedestrian roads. There were stores on each side of the road.

Due to the rain today, there was not much human traffic. Wang Xian went to the fish viewing area and began to skim through the individual aquarium stores.

"There will be a two-day Goldfish Fair starting tomorrow. It will attract many local people and those from other cities. The exhibition will bring a large amount of human traffic. So, let's do a proper clean-up today."

"Goldfish Fair? Is it the exhibition jointly organized by the Jinhua Goldfish Farm, Longlian Goldfish Farm, and other large-scale goldfish farms?"

"That's right. The exhibition organized by these goldfish farms will attract many customers. After all, these goldfish farms are among the market's top list."

"I wonder what kind of goldfish they will be exhibiting tomorrow. Will there be rare goldfish like Redcap Brown Oranda?"

"Hard to say. But given the resources of those goldfish farms, there might be Redcap Brown Oranda."

When Wang Xian walked into one of the aquarium stores, he overheard the conversation in the shop.

He was stupefied for a moment. "Goldfish?"

Goldfish was the most commonly seen ornamental fish breed. Even though they were common, rare breeds could fetch up to hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Redcap Brown Oranda they mentioned could sell for three to four hundred thousand dollars. It was known as the most expensive goldfish in the world.

"If there is a Goldfish Fair tomorrow..." He raised his eyebrows and looked at some of the goldfish in the store with an idea. "Give me some goldfish, Boss."

"What kind of goldfish do you want? The goldfish that I have are premier grades, incomparable to those goldfish stalls from the flea markets." The middle-aged storeowner chuckled as he spoke after hearing Wang Xian.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded and observed the goldfish in his store. He realized that the goldfish here were indeed costly. Some cost forty to fifty dollars each while others cost a few hundred dollars each.

"Boss, give me two of this, three of this and three of that." Wang Xian observed the colors on some of the goldfish as he spoke.

"Sure. Four fifty, please. Pal, I'll give you a fishbowl for free." The store owner put up a smiling face while speaking to him.

"Thank you." Wang Xiang smiled and handed the money to the store owner.

"It's quite expensive, but I would reap profits thousandfold if I succeed."

Radiance flickered in Wang Xian's eyes as he lugged eight goldfish out of the door.

He took a cab and headed back to school. On the way, Wang Xian researched a lot of information on goldfish.

After doing research for the entire afternoon, he realized that Koi carps had the highest value, followed by arowanas. Wang Xian wanted to improvise some arowanas for sale. But the Goldfish Fair spoiled his plan.

Even though arowanas had a high value, it was more than ten times bigger in size than the goldfish. Hence, the consumption of the Dragon Energy would be high. His current level of Dragon Energy was still quite low. Besides, the value of the goldfish was not bad either.

Tomorrow is the Goldfish Fair. There must be buyers. I can use my Dragon Energy to upgrade a few goldfish that are of high worth.

Wang Xian thought to himself as he hugged the goldfish under the umbrella and headed towards the dormitory.

The rain was still as heavy as before, and there were only a few students in the school compound.

That...seems to be him. As she entered the school gate, Guan Shuqing was holding onto an umbrella when she saw the figure who was pacing briskly pass her.

She stared at his umbrella and the clothes he was wearing with radiance flickering in her eyes.

Guan Shuqing hesitated, but she quickly caught up and called out, "Hey, you."

"Huh?" Wang Xian looked back in complete bewilderment when he heard a voice from behind.

It's really him. Guan Shuqing recognized Wang Xian's face with an astonishing expression on her face.

"It's really you. Thank you for your help today," Guan Shuqing walked over and said gratefully.

"Guan Shuqing?" Wang Xian was slightly stunned, but he nodded with a smile.

"Do you know me?" asked Guan Shuqing, surprised when he called out her name.

"How could I not know the renowned beauty of Class of 2020?" Wang Xian looked at her and chuckled.

Chapter 6: Redcap Brown Oranda

"You are also from Class of 2020? Which department are you from?"

On the small path in the school, Guan Shuqing looked at the boy with shimmering eyes.

A height of 1.7 meters wasn't very tall. However, he had a unique aura around him. His determined face carried with it a tinge of stability that students didn't possess.

She was full of gratitude towards the man who had helped her in the afternoon. If it wasn't for this man, she really couldn't imagine the consequences.

"I study Business Administration. You can call me Wang Xian," Wang Xian replied with a smile.

"Business Administration? Our classrooms are close to each other. You're not going home for the summer break either?" Guan Shuqing continued, "I'm really thankful for your help with the incident today. If it wasn't for you, I really don't know what would have happened to me."

"You don't have to thank me for it. It was just a simple act." Wang Xian smiled before continuing, "No, I'm not going home this summer - found a summer job outside the school."

"Oh really? What a coincidence! Sadly, I got fired by my boss." Guan Shuqing pouted slightly.

"Hehe," Wang Xian looked at her and smiled, "My dormitory is right over there. Talk to you next time."

Wang Xian waved his hand as he spoke. All he was thinking about was the ornamental fish and making money. He didn't have the additional energy to think about chatting with a beautiful girl.

Wang Xian walked away directly. This made Guan Shuqing a little shocked as she looked at his back. "Then... Bye bye... You..."

"What?" asked Wang Xian as he saw her stop suddenly despite having things to say.

"Can I add you on WeChat? It's all thanks to you that the incident in the day was settled. Let me buy you a meal some time," said Guan Shuqing.

"Hmm. Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head. However, he smiled bitterly after looking at the fishbowl and umbrella in his hand. "My phone is in my pocket. I'll give you my number and you can add me with that."

"Alright." Guan Shuqing nodded her head. She took out her phone and added Wang Xian on WeChat.

"Alright, I shall not take up more time of yours. Goodbye." Guan Shuqing waved her hands at him after sending the friend request.

"Goodbye."

Wang Xian nodded his head before walking quickly in the direction of the dormitory.

"Did I lose my charm?" Guan Shuqing touched her face as she looked at the back view of Wang Xian at a loss. "If it were any other man that had helped me, perhaps... What a unique man. Could it be that he already has a girlfriend?"

Guan Shuqing mumbled to herself. She hesitated for a moment before taking out her phone and sending a message to a classmate of hers that was also in Business Administration.

"Xiao Ya, is there a guy called Wang Xian in your class?"

"Wang Xian? Yes. What's the matter? Don't tell me he's wooing you. That can't be. He's a pretty introverted man." After several tens of seconds, she received a reply from her classmate.

"Introverted?" Guan Shuqing looked at the reply messages from Xiao Ya and sank into deep thought. She replied, "No. It's just that this man really helped me out today and I would like to find out more about him. He is a little different from others."

"Huh? Really helped you out? Oh Goddess Shuqing, are you thinking of marrying him to show your gratitude? I know a little about Wang Xian as he is in the same dormitory as my boyfriend. From what my boyfriend told me, his family background's conditions are really bad and his sister is all he has as family. Not only has he got to work for his living expenses, he still has to raise his sister. He didn't join any group outing in his first year in school. In fact, he rarely joined his roommates in any gatherings. He's really poor."

"Poor?" Guan Shuqing felt a little confused when she saw Xiao Ya's reply. But he went to First-grade Restaurant for lunch today!

"Did he have something to do at First-grade Restaurant?"

Guan Shuqing was confused but subsequently replied, "Alright, I got it. From what you said, this man is pretty good."

"Oh, my Goddess Shuqing, you can't be serious. You have to think thrice about it!"

"Don't read too much into it. I'm focusing on my studies right now..."

Wang Xian had no clue that the it girl of the school was scooping around about him.

At this moment, he was back in his dormitory. He locked the door of the room and stared excitedly at the eight goldfish in the fish tank.

"I wonder if the exhaustion would be huge."

Wang Xian scooped up one of the goldfish and thought to himself.

With just a thought, he injected Dragon Energy into the body of the black and white goldfish. The breed of this goldfish was Ranchu and it had cost $120 for one. It could be considered rather expensive.

He was preparing to upgrade the goldfish to the most valuable Redcap Brown Oranda. Therefore, all the goldfish that he had chosen were of similar colors to the Redcap Brown Oranda.

As the Dragon Energy entered the body of the goldfish, a controlling force cruised within it.

A faint smile appeared on Wang Xian's face. The Dragon race had absolute control over marine animals and Dragon Energy could even upgrade other marine animals.

He picked up his phone and upgraded the goldfish according to the picture in the phone.

"It's done." Looking at the modified Redcap Brown Oranda, Wang Xian's face was filled with excitement.

The Redcap Brown Oranda which was upgraded using Dragon Energy was much more beautiful than those in the picture.

Moreover, it had a nobility aura around it as though the fish was from a noble race.

Besides that, this Redcap Brown Oranda looked extremely lively. When compared with other Redcap Brown Oranda, this was definitely one of the highest tiers.

"It's so beautiful. However, upgrading one Redcap Brown Oranda would exhaust two points of Dragon Energy. This exhaustion is a bit high. If I am to upgrade larger size fish like arowana and koi carps, it would probably take twenty to thirty Dragon Energy."

Wang Xian frowned slightly. He had only gained twenty points of Dragon Energy after devouring thousands of jin of fish in the entire lake of the school. After helping Guan Shuqing in the afternoon, he was only left with nineteen points.

"Let's make some money first. I can gather Dragon Energy by devouring fish in the lake or oceans. Besides that, I can also gather it through cultivation practice."

Wang Xian thought to himself. Money was still very important to him.

He continued his upgrades using Dragon Energy. Soon, several Redcap Brown Orandas were created.

Looking at the lively and nimble Redcap Brown Orandas in the fishbowl, excitement filled his face.

"Eight goldfish! If we go by the current market price, these would be worth more than two million."

Wang Xian's eyes lit up. If he could really get two million, he wouldn't have to work part-time in the future. He would also be able to allow his sister to truly enjoy her university life.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Ability to transform into a Dragon)

Dragon Energy: 3/1000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of living (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"I have exhausted 16 points of Dragon Energy and can clearly feel that I have been weakened. I've got to cultivate diligently from now on to reach level 2 as quickly as possible and become a true Divine dragon. I will also have to build my own Dragon Palace."

Looking at the information about himself, Wang Xian's eyes lit up.

With a casual jump, he jumped onto his bed and immediately sat with his legs crossed on it.

Divine Dragon Transformation, directing Dragon Energy into the body.

Cruising in the high skies.

Chapter 7: An Accident

Not too bad to gain twenty points of Dragon Energy after one night of cultivation.

The next morning, Wang Xian stared at the level of Dragon Energy he gained over the night with a flash of radiance in his eyes.

Given his speed, it would take him fifty days to up his level to Level Two.

According to the Divine Dragon Transformation, one can only reach the First Transformation after Level Nine.

The First Transformation of Divine Dragon Transformation could allow Wang Xian to roam the ocean and dive into the clouds.

He would be a dragon, a baby dragon, after the First Transformation.

"It's still far. After earning some money, I'll head out to the sea."

As Wang Xian wondered to himself, he washed himself up swiftly.

"I'll ride Dahai's scooter over." After some thought, he picked up the keys that Dahai had passed to him before the summer break.

Wang Dahai was the best friend of Wang Xian. They were quite close, likely because they shared the same last name.

Wang Dahai was a local. Knowing that Wang Xian was poor, he often took care of him. The funniest thing was that Wang Dahai offered to bring Wang Xian to one of those sauna cover brothels after knowing he was still a virgin.

Eventually, Wang Xian turned him down speechlessly. Wang Dahai was slightly plump and lazy. Other students bought bicycles for themselves, but he said he was too lazy to paddle. So, he bought a scooter.

Wang Xian hugged the fish bowl down the stairs.

The rain had already stopped with the sun shining brightly. The summer air after the storm was refreshing.

Wang Xian came to the carpark and started the engine of Wang Dahai's scooter.

His scooter was slightly more massive as compared to the AIMA scooters. A stout person like Wang Dahai could ride this scooter comfortably.

Wang Xian placed the fishbowl on the leg rest and drove to the Flowers and Birds Market.

I hope I can sell all of them.

Wang Xian grinned.

Throughout the 30-minute journey from his school to the Flowers and Birds Market, his ride was smooth and steady as he was trying to prevent the fishbowl from toppling.

Almost there. Wang Xian checked the location in front of him and noticed the massive crowd at the Flowers and Birds Market. He also spotted a lot of cars with non-local car plates driving in slowly.

"Looks like many people are coming for the Goldfish Fair."

Wang Xian sped up a little as he drove towards the carpark of the Flowers and Birds Market through a side lane.

Vroom!

Vroom!

Suddenly, he heard a vroom coming from behind. Soon after, Wang Xian saw a few heavy-duty motorcycles dashing in from the junction at a speed not less than 80 km per hour.

Wang Xian then noticed four heavy-duty motorcycles were charging towards him at a fast speed.

Vroom!

"Haha. Sorry, I'm first!"

At this time, a heavy-duty motorcycle at the forefront braked swiftly, and the bike stopped steadily. The cyclist laughed out loud as he took off his helmet.

The rest of the motorcycles behind braked and stopped quickly too.

"Oh no."

One of the bikes did not manage to brake and skidded suddenly.

The road was still wet after a day of rain. Hence, the bike hurtled in Wang Xian's direction.

Wang Xian was slightly appalled. He quickly dodged to the side when the bike came crashing in.

Bang!

The scooter that he was sitting on was sent flying back for three to four meters. After the motorcycle hit the scooter, it stopped.

"Damm, the bike actually skidded!"

A young man on the bike took off his helmet and spoke embarrassed.

He got down off his motorcycle and checked out the front of his bike. Upon seeing there was not much damage, he heaved a sigh of relief. "Luckily, the bike is intact!"

Wang Xian pulled a long face when the young man ignored the scooter that he hit and examined his own motorcycle the moment he got down from his bike.

If Wang Xian was not strengthened by the Dragon Energy, he might not have dodged the hit in time.

"Oh no, my goldfish."

Wang Xian hurried over, and his face was even longer when he saw the broken fish bowl.

The fishbowl was shattered, and all eight of the Redcap Brown Orandas were struggling on the ground.

Two of them were crushed under the wheels and had died immediately.

Another four of them were half-dead. Seeing the shedding fish scales, the fish must have fallen and knocked themselves.

Wang Xian sulked as he looked at the young man who behaved as if nothing had happened. With a darkened expression, he walked over, "How could you drive like that? And don't you have to check my scooter after knocking it down?"

"Hur?" The young man turned to the scooter that was lying on the floor as soon as he heard Wang Xian.

"Okay, lad. I'm sorry. How much is your scooter? Tell me. I'll compensate you," said the young man with a smile as he paid no serious attention to the scooter.

"What's wrong? You didn't knock someone down, did you?" At the same time, those juveniles who were also on motorcycles came from behind and checked on the young man.

"Nothing. Just a scooter. Heh, seriously...the quality of this custom-made Harley-Davidson was no joke." The young man replied laughingly as he turned around.

Wang Xian stared coldly at the young man who did not care about anything. He went straight to the young man,

"Hey, aren't you going to compensate me for the things you damaged?"

"Hur?" The young man looked at Wang Xian and smiled, "Of course, I will. It's just a scooter, isn't it? Tell me how much it is."

"Heh, not only the scooter. My goldfish, too." Wang Xian replied nonchalantly.

"Goldfish? Haha, there were goldfish, too? Just name the price."

Upon hearing it, the young man laughed and took out about five to six bills from his wallet.

As he spoke, he dug all his money out from it, "Here's about six thousand dollars. This should be enough. Get going."

"Six thousand?" Wang Xian looked at the money in his hands with a mocking expression, "You can't even buy a fishtail with that amount."

"Lad, are you trying to extort?" The young man asked coldly as he turned and glared at him.

"What? Are you trying to put the bite on us?" The three juveniles walked over at this time as they glared at Wang Xian scornfully.

Some of the people at the entrance of the Flowers and Birds Market crowded over with curiosity when they saw the accident.

"Lad, you don't need to stare at me. Six thousand dollars is more than enough to cover that rundown scooter of yours and those pathetic goldfish," the young man said as he peered at Wang Xian who was staring at him. He pointed at him with much displeasure. "Take the money while you can. Otherwise, you'll not get a single cent."

"Seems like the young man who rode the heavy-duty motorcycle accidentally knocked into the young lad on scooter."

"Is he alright? If he is alright, six thousand is not a small sum."

"Yes, he's alright. But, that fellow seems discontented. Those few people who were riding the motorcycles were going too fast. The engines were roaring loudly just now."

"It's a Harley-Davidson. That motorcycle is so cool. It must have cost a bomb."

At this time, the surrounding spectators were whispering as they watched the group.

"Trying to send me off with a mere six thousand dollars?" Wang Xian sneered at the young man. He turned to his scooter and picked up the Redcap Brown Orandas.

Chapter 8: Goldfish For Motorcycle

Wang Xian placed the redcap brown oranda on a piece of glass and walked straight to the young man.

"Eight goldfish. I'm afraid your six thousand isn't sufficient at all. I'm calling the police now to let them handle this accident."

Wang Xian looked at the young man and spoke coldly.

The young man in front of him was acting too arrogant and conceited. If he had apologized the moment he alighted, Wang Xian might not have been too calculative with him. After all, all he had to do was to exhaust another sixteen points of Dragon Energy.

However, he was so arrogant and Wang Xian naturally wouldn't just let it go. What he didn't know at this moment was that he was gradually gaining the imperious nature of a divine dragon. "Brat, you must be trying to make a fuss out of this. How much could your thrashed motorcycle costs? How much do your petty goldfish cost? I'll compensate you for them. Don't try to get more out of this." The young man walked over and spoke coldly when he saw Wang Xian take out his mobile phone.

"Hey brat, are you looking for trouble?" Several young men behind him walked over and surrounded Wang Xian in all four directions.

"Hey, don't be so rash guys. Let's talk this over." An old man at the side saw the commotion, walked over and shouted out of goodwill. "Son, look at what you've lost. These young men aren't being unreasonable. They would compensate you the right amount. Don't be greedy."

Wang Xian took a glance at the old man before turning his vision to the four young men around him.

I don't need you guys to compensate me for the damaged motorcycle, but my goldfish..." Wang Xian paused, placing his eight Redcap Brown Orandas on the floor. He looked at them coldly before remarking, "You have to compensate me for my goldfish. There's a total of eight Redcap Brown Oranda. As for the value of each fish, you guys can look it up online yourself."

"What bullshit Redcap Brown Oranda are you saying? Hey arrogant brat, don't spout nonsense in front of me. Let me tell you this. Don't even dream of getting a cent today." The young man pointed and spoke coldly after seeing how Wang Xian had acted.

"What? Redcap Brown Oranda?" However, the old man who was trying to play the mediator was shocked. He looked at the goldfish beside Wang Xian and ran over immediately.

"These are really Redcap Brown Oranda. They are real!" exclaimed the old man as he saw the goldfish in the broken fishbowl after running over. He squatted down, feeling a little heartache before shouting, "These are premium Redcap Brown Oranda! These two fish should be fine. Hey guys, hurry over and take care of them!"

"Redcap Brown Oranda... Are those really Redcap Brown Oranda?" Several old men standing behind the crowd exclaimed as they walked over in shock.

"These are really Redcap Brown Oranda. They are the nobles among the goldfish. What a shame that two of them were crushed to death directly."

"Looking at the condition of these fish, they could even be considered to be among the best of the Redcap Brown Oranda. Each one of them would be worth at least $300k-400k."

Some citizens exclaimed and shook their heads when they walked over and saw the goldfish on the ground.

"$300k-400k." The group of young men, who were standing at a side, heard what the old man and the others said. They were completely shocked as they looked at the goldfish on the floor with disbelief.

"These... These goldfish are worth $300k-400k?" they asked in shock.

"Not these." The old man lifted his head and said to the group of young men, "Each of them is worth $300k-400k. Look at their appearances, they wouldn't be cheaper than $350k."

"These two fish are crushed to death directly and the scales of these four are damaged. Six fish would cost no less than two million dollars," an old man replied. "Redcap Brown Oranda are extremely hard to breed. Now that there are eight of them appearing at the same time... What a misfortune for them to..."

As the middle-aged man spoke, he shook his head constantly.

More and more citizens were crowding over. They were all here for the goldfish fair today and were goldfish lovers. Naturally, they were able to recognize the nobles of the goldfish breed, Redcap Brown Oranda.

As the young men heard the sigh of the crowd, their jaws dropped.

Wang Xian looked at the young man and said coldly, "I believe it would be best to let the police handle this incident."

"You can't get away with less than two million dollars. There's a goldfish fair at the Flowers and Birds Market today. It would be easy to assess the losses once the professionals are here to do an assessment." The old man shook his head and continued, "Hey son, you should have been more careful when you were riding. What a shame that these goldfish were..."

The young man opened his mouth in disbelief. The other young men behind him were also standing there in shock.

They would have never expected that the goldfish that they had killed would be worth two million dollars.

When the young man saw Wang Xian took out his mobile phone, his face turned black.

This incident was entirely his fault, and there would be no doubt that the final verdict would be that he had to compensate at least two million dollars.

However, how was he going to take out that amount of money?

If the Old Master in his house was to know of this incident, it would be an even greater disaster. [\[1\]](#)

"Hey brother, please don't call the police." The expressions on the young man's face changed rapidly as he spoke to Wang Xian in a hurry.

"I'm fine with not calling the police but you have to compensate me," Wang Xian replied, looking at him coldly.

"I..." The young man looked at the group of young men with embarrassment.

"Shan He, the best we could do is forty, fifty hundred thousand dollars. You should also know that..." The group of young men behind him had helpless looks on them as they continued, "Why don't you ask your..."

"I can't." The young man shook his head immediately. He definitely couldn't let his family know about it. He looked at Wang Xian, gritted his teeth and said, "Brother, why don't I compensate you with my heavy-duty motorcycle?"

"Heavy-duty motorcycle?" Wang Xian raised his eyebrows and turned his sight to the imperious-looking motorcycle at the side.

"My heavy-duty motorcycle was custom made recently and is worth $1.53 million," the young man said reluctantly.

"A heavy-duty motorcycle that costs $1.53 million?" Wang Xian frowned and doubted his claim.

"You can check it out on the official website. Moreover, I have records of my order here." The young man took out his mobile phone and opened up the record. "This heavy-duty motorcycle is an exclusive custom-made version of Electra Glide. The total cost of it was $1.53 million."

"Even if it is $1.53 million, it's still not enough. Moreover, this is a second-hand heavy-duty motorcycle." Wang Xian said sarcastically, "If we just take the value of 6 Redcap Brown Oranda, the value would at least be $2.2 - $2.3 million."

The young man was embarrassed at the words of Wang Xian. He walked over to the small trunk of the Harley heavy-duty motorcycle and retrieved a box.

"I'll include this pair of shoes." The young man opened the box and revealed a pair of shoes. "Nike MAG - Back to the Future 2. There's only a limited 81 pairs in the whole world, and each pair is worth approximately $70k."

Wang Xian was slightly shocked as he looked at this pair of shoes in disbelief.

"Shan He had bought these shoes to show off to others. Now..." The other young men couldn't help but feel their mouths twitching. "This accident alone has pushed him back to the time before he became free."

Wang Xian frowned. No matter how great a $1.5 million heavy-duty motorcycle or a $700k pair of shoes were, they weren't as great as money.

"You could sell the heavy-duty motorcycle away and there wouldn't be a lack of buyers for this pair of shoes." The young man said reluctantly. "If you want cash, I don't have it. Moreover, your goldfish were worth two million dollars, just like the worth of my items added together."

"Alright!" Wang Xian nodded his head, but he was clearly not very pleased.

Chapter 9: The Damm Motorcycle and the Shoes

"This damn motorcycle and shoes."

Wang Xian came out from the vehicle administrative office with a darkened expression as he looked at the Harley motorcycle and the pair of shoes.

The young man was acting like a scoundrel. He, too, took out two million dollars worth of goods as compensation since the goldfish were worth over two million. A Harley motorcycle and a pair of shoes made up the sum quite nicely.

"But there is one good thing. Judging from the reactions from the Flowers and Birds Market, I should be able to sell away all my goldfish."

Wang Xian mumbled.

The crowd began to multiply when the people around them found out about the Redcap Brown Orandas that were crushed under the wheels.

At that time, someone expressed an interest in buying them, but he was afraid that the remaining fish would have implications after the accident. Hence, he did not dare to complete the purchase.

Subsequently, Wang Xian followed the young man to the vehicle administrative office to transfer the ownership of the Harley motorcycle. At the same time, the young man got him a heavy-duty motorcycle license through some ties.

"This motorcycle..."

Wang Xian gazed for a short while before he rode on it.

He knew how to ride a motorcycle, but this motorcycle was too high-class for him. Wang Xian started the engine and headed back to school with much caution.

"This is way too fast."

Wang Xian pressed gently on the accelerator, and the motorcycle simply dashed out.

Just now, he tried to find out more about this Harley motorcycle.

In general, most of the heavy-duty motorcycles were worth about a few hundred thousand. One of their unique features was the ability to get modified and custom-made.

A custom-made Harley that cost 1.5 million dollars was possible.

The most unique feature for Harley motorcycles was that they were cool and extremely flashy. Any men who rode on one would be full of charisma.

Besides, Harley motorcycles made their appearances in many U.S blockbuster movies.

Wang Xian could sense the curious gazes from the pedestrian when he rode the bike on the street.

Gosh, this Harley motorcycle is still far from a sports car.

Wang Xian complained to himself. After all, sports cars could act as shields for the drivers and passengers whereas the heavy-duty motorcycles worked the other way around. If he were to be thrown off the bike, he would sustain serious injuries.

For a first-timer in riding such a heavy-duty motorcycle, Wang Xian was riding it slowly as he valued his life very much.

However, he was in a light-hearted mood today as he had found a way to earn money.

"Shan He, you gave that lad your favorite vehicle you just bought and your flashy shoes. There goes almost everything you've been saving up for when you were studying overseas," said a juvenile to Shan He, who had a gloomy look on his face at the entrance of the vehicle administrative office.

"What else could I do?" the young man, Shan He, replied despondently.

"Eh, that's true." The rest of the juveniles looked at him pitifully. Shan He's family was known to be strict in their discipline. His father could not tolerate any mistakes. Back then, Shan He got into some trouble, and his father kicked him out of the country for three years. Finally, he made it back. If he got into trouble again, he would be sent away again.

"I should call my sister and ask her to come, and she doesn't need to work part-time anymore." After Wang Xian parked his bike behind the dormitory, he brought his shoes back to his room cheerfully.

With the ability to earn a living, his younger sister didn't need to work anymore.

Wang Xian entered his room and hurled the pair of shoes onto his bed. He took out his phone and called his younger sister.

"Xiao Yu."

"Brother, what's up? I'm tutoring Nannan." Xiao Yu's voice came from the phone.

"Let me tell you this. You don't have to work part-time anymore. Come to me. I have earned some money that is enough for our living expenses." Wang Xian chuckled as he spoke.

"No way, Brother. Nannan's parents just gave me my wage in advance today. Besides, tutoring Nannan is a relaxing task. On top of that, Xiao Mi and I had plans to go to Rivertown together." His younger sister, Xiao Yu, continued to speak on the phone.

Wang Xian knit his eyebrow slightly. Xiao Mi was the best friend of Xiao Yu, and Xiao Yu was staying at Xiao Mi's place now. Both of them were enrolled at the University of Rivertown.

"Alright, I will send you some money, so you don't have to be frugal. I'll give you a surprise when you come to school," said Wang Xian after pondering.

"Brother, you don't have to. I still have $5,000 with me. I won't have a chance to use yours. Alright, I need to explain a question to Nannan now."

"Do-do!"

"This girl." Wang Xian shook his head and laughed, "When you are here, I'll prepare a great present for you."

Wang Xian chuckled as he made up his mind.

If it weren't for that young man, I could have earned another two million. Two million!

Radiance flashed in Wang Xian's eyes as he gathered his thoughts. He decided to sell some Redcap Brown Oranda tomorrow again.

At most, I can only sell the fish one more time tomorrow. Otherwise, someone will sense something amiss if it becomes too frequent.

Wang Xian was thinking that it would be fine if he did it just once or twice. However, he would definitely attract unwanted attention if it continued. He would get into trouble if he lured the attention of some crooks.

Wang Xian was still a meticulous man.

"Continue with the cultivation."

Wang Xian crossed his legs on his bed and began to practice his Divine Dragon Transformation.

He could earn a few million dollars with just a dozen points of Dragon Energy. Because of Divine Dragon Transformation and the ability to turn into a Divine Dragon, Wang Xian was full of confidence for his future.

In the future, he would not have to worry even for a little sum of money, and he could pursue a better life.

Another night of cultivation passed. When he woke up, he read his profile.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Ability to transform into a dragon)

Dragon Energy: 47/1000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of living (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"Over forty points of Dragon Energy. I feel my strength growing stronger."

Wang Xian sensed the change in his body and smiled. Given the past, his current condition could win a fight against seven or eight of himself.

I shall go and get some goldfish first.

Wang Xian gave a thought and looked at the pair of shoes on the bed. I better find some time to sell this away. A $700k worth pair of shoes is just too...

After he stepped out from the dormitory, he stood in front of the Harley motorcycle with the keys in his hand. The corner of the lips was slightly drawn.

"This bike is just awesome. If I ride on this after the school reopens, it will be way too cool."

Wang Xian grinned as he rode on the bike and headed towards the old street.

I shall grab some breakfast first.

He walked into a decent breakfast shop and made his way to the same aquarium shop after his breakfast.

"I'll get three goldfish and an Arowana."

Wang Xian thought of upgrading an Arowana to a premium Arowana to earn his last fortune.

The Arowana cost three thousand dollars while the goldfish was only fifty dollars.

Wang Xian went back to his dormitory again to upgrade the four ornamental fish he'd just bought.

"Premium Chilli Red Arowana. Mine would not lose out to that Chilli Red Arowana that was sold for three million online!"

Wang Xian looked at the Chilli Red Arowana in the fish tank with brightness in his eyes. The bright redfish was giving off a classy radiance.

If he could sell this fish away, he would not crack his brain for money anymore and could concentrate on cultivating his Dragon Energy.

So that he could become the Divine Dragon that could roam the universe.

Chapter 10: Selling Fish

Vroom vroom vroom!

On the 2nd Ring Road of Rivertown, Wang Xian was riding his Harley heavy-duty motorcycle. He had a styrofoam box tied around his body as he rode towards the location of the Flowers and Birds Market.

To prevent the incident of yesterday from happening again, he had made the effort to find a solid styrofoam box for today and ensure that the five goldfish and the Arowana were well preserved.

While cruising down the road with his helmet on, there was an indescribable extreme pleasure.

However, Wang Xian didn't ride too fast and simply maintained a speed of approximately 60 km/hour.

It was indeed more satisfying to ride on a heavy-duty motorcycle that cost over $1.5 million than Wang Dahai's motorcycle.

"Oh poor Dahai. I dumped his motorcycle near the Flowers and Birds Market yesterday and it's probably gone by now. However, I'll let you ride my Harley when school reopens."

Wang Xian thought to himself. He could already imagine the exhilarated expression on Wang Dahai when he saw his Harley.

The speed of the heavy-duty motorcycle was much faster than taking a taxi. After approximately ten minutes, Wang Xian had reached the entrance to the Flowers and Birds Market.

Under the shocked looks of the security personnel, Wang Xian parked his Harley in the carpark before carrying the styrofoam box and walking into the market.

"The number of people today is substantially less than yesterday."

Wang Xian looked at the people in the Flowers and Birds Market and saw the directional signboard prompting where the goldfish fair would be held. He immediately headed towards it.

The goldfish fair was to be held in the center of the Flowers and Birds Market. After entering the place, Wang Xian noticed that there were several hundreds of people around.

At that place, there were some advertisement signboards that gave introductions about the various goldfish farms and the goldfish on display.

Wang Xian walked further in and saw a row of fishbowls placed neatly on the table. Within the fishbowls, there were all kinds of goldfish that were extremely beautiful.

At the center of the table, there were two larger size fishbowls. Within these fishbowls, there were only 2-3 goldfish.

Wang Xian saw that there were 2 Redcap Brown Oranda in them. He looked towards the price tag at the side which showed $430k.

"Calm down. Seems like I made a huge loss yesterday."

Wang Xian was clearly displeased after seeing the price. He looked around him and saw goldfish that ranged from $40k-$50k and also some that ranged between $10k-$20k.

He looked around for a while before heading to the service counter of the organizer.

At this moment, there were four, five people sitting in front of the reception. Among them, there were some middle-aged and old men and also a young beautiful attendant.

"Hey, pretty, I would like to ask...what should I do if I wish to display my goldfish for sale in this place?" Wang Xian asked the service attendant.

"Huh? What? You would like to display and sell your goldfish?" The service attendant looked at him with a little disbelief and noticed that he was carrying a styrofoam box in his arms.

"Yes." Wang Xian nodded his head.

"If you would like to display your goldfish for the goldfish fair to sell them, you would need to provide the fish farm quality certification as proof. All the participating fish farms for our fair are successful goldfish breeding farms. Secondly, you need to have valuable goldfish. If you can meet the criteria, we would be happy to arrange a spot for you. However, we would be collecting some commission if you complete any transaction." The beautiful service attendant smiled at him and replied.

Wang Xian frowned slightly upon hearing her explanation. "I can provide great goldfish. However, with regard to the fish farm quality certification..."

"Unqualified goldfish breeding farms are not accepted in our goldfish fair."

Before Wang Xian could complete his sentence, a middle-aged man, who was lying on a chair, rejected him directly.

"I'm sorry about that." The service attendant smiled apologetically after hearing what the middle-aged man had said.

Wang Xian frowned slightly, nodded his head and headed out.

"A young man carrying a styrofoam box here to ask for an exhibition spot... This is clearly the boss of a small goldfish shop wishing to attract some attention to sell his goldfish. You don't have to pay attention to people like him."

"Alright, Director Zhao."

Wang Xian vaguely heard the voice as he left the place. All he could do was to shake his head silently.

"Forget it. Since Redcap Brown Oranda is so famous, I don't necessarily have to rely on your fair to sell them."

Wang Xian carried the large styrofoam box and headed out. He stopped at the entrance and looked around him.

"Should I just set up a stand here to sell?"

Wang Xian thought about it. The human traffic flow of this place was great since anyone who wished to enter the fair would have to pass by this place.

Moreover, he was just going to place a box right here. He wouldn't be obstructing anyone.

Wang Xian smiled and placed the box down by the road. After which, he opened up the cover of the box.

One blood-red colored Arowana and five Redcap Brown Oranda were revealed in the box.

Six fish in one box was a little cramped but they were very lively and swam constantly.

Through modification using Dragon Energy, their vitality was much stronger than ordinary fish.

Wang Xian squatted at that spot while looking at the pedestrians who were walking around.

"Hmm?"

Perhaps it was because Wang Xian looked a little rustic with a large styrofoam box beside him and the fact that the pedestrian couldn't see the Arowana and goldfish within it, there wasn't any pedestrian who walked over.

"Cough cough."

Wang Xian coughed out loud and shouted towards the pedestrian, "Top grade Arowana and goldfish for sale. Come and take a look."

Some pedestrians were a little curious when they saw a teenager setting up a store by the roads. After seeing the huge styrofoam box beside him, they couldn't help but feel a little suspicious.

"Let's go and take a look at what kind of goldfish he has."

At this moment, a beautiful lady, who had her hands around a young man, looked over with curiosity as she said to the young man.

"What's there to see here? There couldn't possibly be any good goldfish here. Let's head over to the fish fair to buy." The young man replied impatiently.

"Let's just go and take a look." That beautiful girl said and pulled the arm of the young man flirtatiously.

"What a drag. What kind of good goldfish could a roadside stall have in an ugly styrofoam box?" The young man remarked impatiently and had reluctance written all over his face as he walked over.

"Wow, so beautiful. Is this an Arowana? And these goldfish are simply too beautiful!" exclaimed that beautiful girl as she squatted down with exhilaration.

"No need to make such a fuss," said the man without squatting down, nor did he care to shoot a look at inside the box. "All the goldfish at the fair will be beautiful and of valuable breeds. Ok, now, let's go. It's not graceful squatting on the street."

"But I feel that the goldfish here are so beautiful!" The beautiful girl was clearly not an expert in this field. She continued, "And this Arowana is truly too beautiful. I really like it! I want to buy it, I want to buy it!"

"If you like them, just buy them." The young man took out his wallet directly and acted generously as he said, "Hey kid, how much do the fish in your styrofoam box cost? I'll take them all."

Wang Xian lifted his head and was a little shocked after seeing the wallet of that young man. There were approximately a few thousand dollars in it.

This made him feel speechless.

"What? Say something, man. How much do they cost in total?" The young man looked at Wang Xian and remarked impatiently.

"This..." Wang Xian looked at him and replied, "If you have five million dollars on your card, we could go to a bank and do a transfer."

Wang Xian's words shocked the young man. He frowned, stared at Wang Xian angrily and said, "Hey kid, what kind of nonsense are you sputtering? I'm asking you how much the fish in this broken styrofoam box cost."

"I'm not sputtering nonsense. I'm just speaking the truth."

Wang Xian revealed a smile when he noticed his conversation with the young man drew some curious customers over.

Chapter 11: Setting Up A Stall

"Boss, you're kidding me. How much are your goldfish? I will take them all," said the pretty lady with a glare when she heard what Wang Xian told her boyfriend.

"Babe, your boyfriend might not be able to afford it." Wang Xian replied with a smile.

"What? Did you just say that I can't afford it?" The young man peered at him. Scornfully, he held up the car keys in his hand, "Did you say that I can't afford it?"

Wang Xian looked at the BMW car keys in his hand. Probably a 5 Series that was worth about five to six hundred thousand dollars.

"What kind of goldfish are they? Why are they in a styrofoam box?" A middle-aged man came over with curiosity when he overheard their conversations.

Another old man popped his head over from the side.

Wang Xian grinned at the middle-aged man, "A premium Chilli Red Arowana and five Redcap Brown Orandas"

"What? Redcap Brown Orandas?" The middle-aged man was slightly stunned as he squatted down hurriedly.

"They are Redcap Brown Orandas! They are!" The middle-aged man looked at the Redcap Brown Orandas in the styrofoam box dumbfoundedly.

"Are they very expensive?" The pretty lady asked with doubt when she saw the astonished look of the middle-aged man.

"Yes," he nodded, "I did not expect there would be five. They look even more exquisite than those in the exhibition. They are beautiful. Just too beautiful. There were two Redcap Brown Orandas in the fair, priced at $430,000 each. I heard they sold two of them yesterday."

"What? Each of them cost $430,000?" The pretty lady gasped with an unbelievable expression.

The young man at the side had his eyes wide open as he looked at the goldfish in the styrofoam box again. He stuttered, "How...how could this be possible?"

"The Redcap Brown Orandas are the most noble breed among all the goldfish breeds. I won't be exaggerating to say it's one of hundreds and thousands or more," said the middle-aged man at a steady pace.

"This arowana is a beautiful Chilli Red Arowana. It is so beautiful."

The old man who popped his head over was not paying attention to the Redcap Brown Orandas. Instead, he fixed his gaze upon the red arowana.

"How is it, Sir? This is the premium Chilli Red Arowana." Wang Xian asked smilingly when he saw the old man staring at the Chilli Red Arowana. He knew he met someone who understood the value of the fish.

"Highest quality!" the old man exclaimed. "This is the most beautiful Arowana I've ever seen. Young chap, how can you contain it in a cheap styrofoam box? You are... you are..."

The old man kept shaking his head as he exclaimed.

"This Arowana does look beautiful, but I don't really know much about Arowana. Sir, is this really a premium grade?" asked the middle-aged man doubtfully.

"Not only is this a premium grade Arowana, I doubt the previous one from Town Wen that was worth three million was any better quality than this. The chilli-red scales give off a shiny glow, and the barbel at the mouth is prominent. This is simply beautiful. Young chap, how much are you selling this Arowana for?" asked the old man as he exclaimed.

Wang Xian went silent for a while when he heard the old man. He pondered before he answered, "Three million. I'll sell this for three million. On the other hand, I'll sell these Redcap Brown Orandas at $350,000 each."

Both the old man and the middle-aged man were slightly stunned.

"The Redcap Brown Orandas were sold at $430,000 each in the exhibition. You're selling them cheap."

"To be honest, if you go to a first-tier city and auction this Arowana, I'm sure the price will be more than three million," the old man suggested.

"No, I'll stick to this pricing." Wang Xian shook his head. He wanted to sell them for cash as soon as possible. Hence, it did not matter even if he sold them at a lower price.

Besides, these goldfish and Arowana only consumed forty points of Dragon Energy.

The consumption was slightly higher for upgrading the Arowana. To upgrade one arowana, it would consume thirty points of Dragon Energy.

The young man found their conversation hard to believe. He looked at his wallet and the BMW 5 series' car key on his hand. Without any word, he stuffed them back to his pocket and pulled the pretty lady who was squatting down beside him.

The pretty lady stood up and gazed at the goldfish and the Arowana in the styrofoam box.

She thought she had a rather wealthy boyfriend. Yet, it was still far-fetched for him judging by the current circumstances. A few fish that cost four to five million...

Wang Xian did not care about the young man and the pretty girl who left. At this time, a few more customers crowded around him, as they'd overheard the conversation just now.

"Are they really the Redcap Brown Orandas?"

"Is there a premium Chilli Red Arowana over here?"

A few customers walked over and asked curiously.

"Yes, these are the premium Redcap Brown Orandas that are even more beautiful than those in the fair. Look, there is another rare Arowana." The middle-aged man pointed out for the three customers at the side.

"Really?" the three customers came over. When they saw the goldfish and the arowana, they wore shocked faces immediately.

"You're right. They are the Redcap Brown Orandas and a premium Arowana."

"Gosh, five of them. Young chap, did you say one for $350,000?"

"Yes, one for $350,000. It's $80,000 cheaper than the ones they're selling in the fair. On top of this, this Arowana is selling for three million." Wang Xian answered.

"$80,000 cheaper than buying from the fair. This is quite a deal." A middle-aged man nodded.

"Where is the Redcap Brown Oranda that is $80,000 cheaper than the ones in the fair?" More passers-by popped over with curiosity.

"Redcap Brown Oranda that is cheaper by $80,000?" A group of people who just walked out from the fair joined the crowd with dubiousness.

When the crowd gathered, it was another round of commotion.

As more people joined in, the number of bystanders who were watching it for fun grew. One after another, they walked over to check out the fish when they heard that the Redcap Brown Orandas were selling at $80,000 cheaper than the fair.

Soon, dozens of people gathered around Wang Xian, and the crowd eventually grew to a size that jammed the road.

"Young chap, did you say you are selling the Redcap Brown Oranda for $350,000? I'll get two." At this moment, a middle-aged man called out.

"Finally, business opens."

Wang Xian was thrilled as more potential buys surfaced after more than dozens of people gathered.

"Okay, $700,000 in total. You can check. I promise there isn't any problem with them," said Wang Xiang immediately.

"Sure, can the person in front let me pass?" A middle-aged man came to the front and looked at the goldfish in the styrofoam box. With satisfaction on his face, "No issue. They look just fine with strong vitality."

"Can I pay through bank transfer?" asked the middle-aged man while looking at Wang Xian.

"Of course." Wang Xian nodded immediately.

"Okay, I will get these two Redcap Brown Oranda. Here..., wait. I think I'd better buy a small fish tank."

"Sir, I should be giving you the fish tank. I'll pay you some money to bring me a few tanks back too." Wang Xian handed two bills to the middle-aged man.

"Heh, young chap, you're honest. Hang on. I'll bring you a few more fish tanks. It's unsightly to put something so valuable in a styrofoam box."

Chapter 12: Target: Ocean

"Alright, I have transferred $700k over. Please check your online banking account."

A middle-aged man spoke to Wang Xian in front of the goldfish fair after completing the fund transfer.

"Alright, I have received it." Wang Xian revealed a smile on his face. After he noticed the crowd in front of him, he shouted loudly, "There are three more top-grade Redcap Brown Oranda selling for $350k each. No restock after these are sold. In addition, there's a top-grade Chilli Red Arowana selling for three million dollars. Feel free to come and take a look."

"Give me one." After seeing someone else had purchased it, more people in the crowd were tempted, considering the fact that the price was cheaper than those in the goldfish fair by eighty thousand dollars.

At such a cheap price, they might even be able to earn several tens of thousands by flipping it.

"Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head with a smile. He immediately placed the Redcap Brown Oranda into a fishbowl and handed it to that old man.

With another $350k transferred into his account, Wang Xian was getting a little agitated. He had $1.05 million in his account now!

"There are two more Redcap Brown Oranda and a Chilli Red Arowana." Wang Xian shouted towards the crowd that had grown to close to a hundred people.

At this very moment, Director Zhao, who was at the service counter for the organizing party, looked at the exhibition hall in doubt.

"Why are there so few people?"

Several middle-aged and old men at the side frowned slightly and seconded, "Yeah, where did everybody go?"

"Director Zhao, Director Lian," shouted an employee as he ran towards them.

"What's the matter? Why are you so flustered?" Director Zhao looked at the young man, frowned and asked.

"Director Zhao, something bad has happened. There's a guy who set up a stall at the entrance selling Redcap Brown Oranda at the price of $350k each. He has already sold a total of three fish." The young man replied anxiously.

"What? There's someone selling Redcap Brown Oranda? At $350k each?" Director Zhao looked at the young man with a face of disbelief.

"Yes, Director Zhao. $350k each. There are over a hundred people who have gathered at that place currently." The young man nodded his head immediately.

"$350k each and he has already sold three." Director Zhao was a little displeased. He stood up immediately and headed out.

When he was at the entrance, he saw a group of people crowding the entrance.

"I'll take the last two Redcap Brown Oranda."

At this moment, Director Zhao heard a guy beside him shout loudly.

"Excuse me." The middle-aged man said to the people in front of him as he tried to make his way forward.

Director Zhao looked around and squeezed forward behind the man with displeasure.

"Alright, these are the last two Redcap Brown Oranda." After hearing the man, Wang Xian replied with a faint smile.

"Bank transfer." The middle-aged man said and nodded his head in satisfaction after walking forward and seeing the two Redcap Brown Oranda.

"Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head.

Director Zhao, who was following behind, felt embarrassed instantly. He took a glance at the two Redcap Brown Oranda and the styrofoam box at the side. His mouth started twitching uncontrollably.

"Damn it. Did he keep the goldfish that are worth several million in a styrofoam box? Playing dumb to take advantage of others!"

Director Zhao was clearly displeased. After this brat sold Redcap Brown Oranda at $350k each, it would be impossible for him to sell his Redcap Brown Oranda in the goldfish fair at $430k. In fact, he might not be able to sell them even if he reduced the price to $350k.

Wang Xian noticed Director Zhao but didn't pay much attention to him. He continued, "There's one last top-grade Chilli Red Arowana left. You can take it for just three million."

"This Arowana is really beautiful but the price is too high."

"This top-grade chili red Arowana is definitely worth three million dollars. However, that's three million! Who could afford it?"

"Yeah, yeah. It's too expensive. However, if I had the money, I would definitely buy it. This chili red Arowana is simply too beautiful. "

The surrounding crowd was discussing and commenting. An Arowana that cost three million dollars was indeed not easy to sell.

Wang Xian heard the conversation of the people in the crowd and frowned slightly. Arowana that cost several million was indeed not so easy to sell. There weren't many people who could afford it.

However, what made him the most disappointed was that there was no one who bought the chili red Arowana.

The crowd of customers simply left after admiring it for some time.

"Damn it. If I had known about it, I wouldn't have upgraded such an expensive Arowana." Wang Xian looked at the time and it was already three o'clock in the afternoon. Yet, the Arowana was still not sold.

Although there was always a huge crowd looking at it, there weren't many who could have afforded it.

Just like what they had commented, it was too expensive.

"Phew!"

Wang Xian waited all the way to five o'clock and hadn't even had his lunch.

"Forget it, I'm not selling it anymore. I have $1.75 million in my hands now and it should be sufficient."

Wang Xian was a man who was easily contented. Although he couldn't sell this Arowana, it didn't really affect his mood.

After all, he had still been working hard for several hundreds of dollars a few days ago.

After placing the Arowana into the styrofoam box, Wang Xian rode his Harley towards the school.

He put the Arowana in his dormitory room and headed directly for the First-grade Seafood Restaurant.

With more than $1.7 million in his account, he wouldn't be lacking money in the short term.

"Let's head to the ocean tomorrow and see if I can raise my own level."

Wang Xian made the decision in his mind.

Rivertown was a town that was beside the sea and in the vicinity of Bohai Sea.

Bohai Sea was one of the four main seas in the country. At the same time, it was the only inland sea.

The size of Bohai Sea was the smallest among the four seas. At the same time, it has the shallowest seabed.

"Just perfect for myself."

The next morning, Wang Xian rode his heavy-duty motorcycle and headed towards the sea.

He took a look at his attributes.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Ability to transform into a Dragon)

Level: 1

Dragon Energy: 25/1,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

I'm still not powerful enough at the moment and can only move around in the shallows region of Bohai Sea. If I encounter marine animals like sharks, I'll probably be devoured by them. Luckily, sharks are few in the vicinity of the Bohai Sea.

Wang Xian thought to himself and he soon arrived at the seaside.

The areas of Rivertown along the sea had become tourist and vacation hotspots after the last few years of development.

In this vicinity, the environment was great and it was a rather famous tourist beach.

Wang Xian parked his heavy-duty motorcycle in a parking slot before heading to a rather deserted position.

After ensuring that there wasn't anyone in the surrounding area, Wang Xian turned his vision to the sea in front of him.

The sea was boundless and the waves came one after another. Looking at the sea, Wang Xian was suddenly filled with enthusiasm.

"Dragon coasting through the seas!"

Wang Xian removed his clothes and entered the sea gradually.

The weather in August was extremely hot. The water didn't feel cold at all as he entered into the sea.

Wang Xian was exhilarated. Leaping forward, he dived into the sea directly.

"Turn into a dragon."

He was ebullient!

Swish!

Wriggling his tail slightly, Wang Xian turned into a divine dragon the size of a human's palm.

While in the seas, his speed was really fast. In just a move, he was able to cover four to five meters.

"Haha, this is where I truly belong. Oh the great seas, here I come."

Wang Xian wiggled his tail excitedly as he swam towards the sea.

Chapter 13: King of Ribbonfish

Extractable Dragon Energy: 0.08

The golden body of the Divine Dragon was giving off an imposing and majestic demeanor despite it being only the size of a palm.

After diving into the ocean, Wang Xian saw a little Yellow Croaker with his sharp eyes.

With excitement on his face, he swam swiftly and opened his mouth to swallow the fish.

"The fish are too small over here. Given my strength, I can swallow fish that are of a few kilograms at once."

Wang Xian was dissatisfied as he looked at the increment of 0.08 in his Dragon Energy. Currently, he could easily swallow up fish that weighed more than dozens of kilograms.

As a Divine Dragon of Level One, his level of strength was equivalent to a human form of Wang Xian.

Even though he was only as big as a palm, Wang Xian was fearless even if he came across fish that weighed more than dozens of kilograms.

With a jerk, Wang Xian swam towards the bed of the sea.

The Bohai Sea was not as deep at all, as the sun could shine directly on the seabed.

Wang Xian could see small fish and prawns swimming freely over there.

On the floor of the ocean, there were rocks with aquatic plants growing on them and various odd-looking moving marine life.

"The lake in the school was nothing compared to the marine animals in the sea."

Wang Xian's eyes brightened up. He swam over swiftly while fixing his eyes on the rather massive mackerel in front of him.

The mackerel was approximately four kilograms and half a meter long.

"0.8 Dragon Energy."

Radiance flashed in Wang Xian's eyes as he dashed towards the mackerel.

When he was about five meters away, the half-meter mackerel spotted Wang Xian who was charging towards it.

The mackerel was slightly stunned as it sensed the oppression of Wang Xian. Hurriedly, it tried to flee.

"Can you escape?"

The mackerel shuddered and did not dare to swim away when Wang Xian emanated slight Dragon Power.

He darted out and gulped the half-meter mackerel.

"That's too cool. Given my current Dragon Power, I can dominate the marine animals within five meters. It will cause great oppression for those who are beyond five meters too."

Wang Xian rocked the body of the Divine Dragon and headed somewhere far again.

"Dominate!"

"Dominate!"

Along the way, when he saw the various marine animals, he would swim over and dominate them.

Pacific mackerel, Spanish mackerel, yellow drum fish, slender shad fish, herring and pomfret... The smaller ones were palm-sized, whereas the bigger fish were over a few kilograms. All of them were dominated by him.

At the bottom, he also spotted pairs of prawns.

After swimming for a thousand meters, thousands of fish types gathered within five meters around Wang Xian.

"If I can sell these as seafood, I'm sure they could fetch a few hundred thousand dollars."

Wang Xian observed the various marine animals around him. Among those, there were tiger prawns, which were larger than a palm. If such prawns were to be sold, each one of them could sell for over a hundred dollars.

"This is simply too wasteful."

Wang Xian laughed out. To increase his strength, he could only gobble them up.

Gulp!

A golden Divine Dragon was gobbling up every single marine animal in the ocean frantically.

Even a fish that was around a meter long was swallowed up by him.

"Haha, I added over 80 points of Dragon Energy. Indeed, gobbling up the marine animals is much faster for increasing energy!"

Wang Xian swished his dragon tail excitingly and realized his body was growing to about twenty centimeters longer now.

The dragon scales turned exquisite, and the dragon claws were full of mightiness even though they were small. The two dragon beards looked dominating too.

Wang Xian overturned his body and was satisfied with his boosted-up power.

He moved and swam out far again.

At this point, he was 4,000 to 5,000 meters away from the shore.

"The nearby marine animals are still too little. I have to head farther out."

With a jolt, Wang Xian swam out to a farther place.

On the way, he dominated various types of marine animals and gobbled them up crazily. His Dragon Energy was also leveling up at an extremely fast speed.

"The water is much deeper ahead."

Wang Xian realized the ocean ahead was about 13 to 14 meters deep after swimming for approximately eight kilometers. The region was much deeper as compared to before.

He noticed the entire region ahead was covered with greenish seaweed and multi-colors reefs.

"Eh, there's a school of ribbonfish ahead?"

Just then, Wang Xian spotted a school of ribbonfish swimming ahead with approximately over thousands of ribbonfish closely packed together.

Each of them was long in size, and among them, a few were one meter long.

The ribbonfish are at Level Zero. I have nothing to fear.

Wang Xian thought to himself. Ribbonfish was a type of ferocious fish. However, they did not dare to resist when confronted by the Divine Dragon.

Wang Xian stared at the school of ribbonfish while swimming at high speed.

Boom!

He acted like an ancient divine dragon which had just descended into the ocean. When Wang Xian charged over, some of the ribbonfish was shuddering their long bodies in fear.

Some of them rattled and tried to flee.

"Where are you going?!"

Wang Xian was much faster than the ribbonfish in the water. He dashed into the school of ribbonfish like a golden flash of lightning.

"Dominate!"

As he emanated his Dragon Power, the ribbonfish within five meters looked at Wang Xian as though they were worshipping him. None of them dared to move a single inch.

Wang Lian smiled and opened his mouth at one of the ribbonfish.

Swoosh!

After he swallowed the third ribbonfish, Wang Xian suddenly noticed a commotion in the ribbonfish around him as the ribbonfish on the left gradually gave way to form a path.

"Eh? What's this?" Wang Xian's body shook as his eyes were full of solemnness.

Wang Xian saw a huge ribbonfish swimming towards him, and he was somehow a little nervous about it.

The ribbonfish had a long body of at least two and a half meters long with approximately thirty centimeters at the broadest part of its body. The fins on its back looked sharp.

King of Ribbonfish: Level 1

Extractable Dragon Energy: 88

"Level One. It's a level-one King of Ribbonfish."

Wang Xian was looking wary all over his face.

Ribbonfish are massive fish in the ocean. An average ribbonfish was less than a meter, but there were many large ribbonfish.

A fishmonger was reported on the internet for catching a two-meter ribbonfish, and the fish was known as the King of Ribbonfish.

Apart from the King of Ribbonfish, there was another type of colossal ribbonfish known as the Giant Oarfish.

The size of Giant Oarfish could hit more than a dozen meters.

"Luckily, this is not the ten-meters Giant Oarfish. It's just a King of Ribbonfish, but I shall not underestimate it since it is a level one fish."

Wang Xian looked at the sharp teeth of the King of Ribbonfish. Given its size, he guessed he could swallow it too.

The King of Ribbonfish fixed its eyes on Wang Xian as if it was observing some delicious food.

Though it sensed the immense threat from the strange-looking being in front of it, it could evolve itself if it gobbled up the unknown creature. This was the instinct of a living being.

I must gobble it up.

Wang Xian moved his body cautiously as he looked at the King of Ribbonfish that was swimming towards him.

Get ready to fight!

Chapter 14: Giant Sea Clam

Swish!

Amidst the boundless Bohai Sea, Wang Xian wiggled his tail forcefully. His attention was fully focused on the King of Ribbonfish right in front of him.

The King of Ribbonfish had a huge head that was equivalent to the size of Wang Xian. It opened its mouth slightly and revealed the lingering flesh of a small octopus on its teeth as it stared at Wang Xian viciously and wriggled its huge body towards him.

"Pre-emptive strike."

Wang Xian looked at the King of Ribbonfish. Wriggling his body, he shot out like a golden arrow at the King of Ribbonfish directly to attack it.

Swish!

The reaction of the King of Ribbonfish was a little beyond what Wang Xian had expected and its combat prowess was no weaker than a human when it was in the water. Its sharp teeth headed towards Wang Xian directly.

"I can't attack it head-on."

Wang Xian saw the huge teeth of the King of Ribbonfish. He extended his dragon claws and acted as though he was ready for a direct clash.

Tssss.

Wang Xian seemed to have heard the roar of the King of Ribbonfish. It opened its mouth widely and revealed rows of sharp teeth within it.

A glimpse of craftiness flashed passed Wang Xian's eyes. Just before they collided, he shifted his body and headed upwards while slashing his dragon claws towards the eyes of the King of Ribbonfish.

Wang Xian belonged to the "Nine Claws Divine Dragon" breed which was the supreme leader among the divine dragons. Although his claws were very small, they were extremely sharp.

The nine claws landed on the eyes of the King of Ribbonfish directly.

Just like a stone colliding with an egg, Wang Xian easily ruptured the eyes of the King of Ribbonfish.

"The intelligence of marine animals can't be compared with me at all. Their attacks are very primitive and based on instincts."

Seeing the King of Ribbonfish wriggling its body violently, Wang Xian was pleasantly surprised. He dived towards it and bit onto the head of the King of Ribbonfish directly with his sharp jaws.

Crack crack crack.

Boom!

Wang Xian's jaws sank into the head of the King of Ribbonfish and it struggled violently by wagging its tail towards Wang Xian's body.

Wang Xian extended his claws and slashed ruthlessly on the body of the King of Ribbonfish. The sharp claws penetrated the body directly.

"Devour."

The vitality of the blinded King of Ribbonfish was getting weaker and weaker. Wang Xian opened his mouth and devoured the entire King of Ribbonfish directly.

"An direct increase of eighty-eight points of Dragon Energy."

Wang Xian's eyes lit up as he felt his body getting substantially stronger once again.

I'm a divine dragon coupled with the intelligence of a human, slaying marine animals of the same level is an easy task. Even if I were to encounter level Two marine animals, I wouldn't be wary.

Wang Xian thought to himself. Looking at the Ribbonfish that were scattering in all directions, he quickly gave chase.

One, two, three...

Soon, he had devoured seven to eight hundred ribbonfish. However, several hundred ribbonfish managed to escape too.

Wang Xian wasn't too concerned about it. Wriggling his body, he looked at his surroundings.

There were a lot of seaweed and corals in this area and the sea resources in the vicinity were ample. It was especially so for octopuses, lobsters, sea cucumbers, jellyfish and swimming crabs.

"I'll definitely capture some lobsters and swimming crabs when I head back tonight."

Looking at the lobsters and swimming crabs around him, he suddenly had a craving.

If one would like to have some lobsters or swimming crabs, it would easily hit six hundred dollars. If he was to head to First-grade Seafood Restaurant, it would probably cost six to seven hundred dollars per person.

Wang Xian licked his lips before continuing to devour marine animals in the vicinity at a frantic pace.

"Eh? There's a small island ahead."

Wang Xian noticed an island when he looked ahead. However, the area of the island wasn't very big.

He didn't pay much attention to it as he turned his attention towards a sea snake in front of him.

Sea Snake: Level One

Extractable Dragon Energy: 44

"Sea snake! I'd better not mess with it."

Wang Xian took a few more glances at that sea snake before taking a detour around it to capture other marine animals.

Sea snakes had lethal poison. Even though they weren't as strong as the King of Ribbonfish, they had lethal poison with them. If he was poisoned to death, it would be tragic.

"That's a sea turtle."

Wang Xian noticed that a sea turtle that was approximately a meter long was swimming near the rocks below the island.

Sea Turtle: Level Three

Extractable Dragon Energy: 988

"The sea turtle is level three."

Wang Xian was rather shocked by that greenish sea turtle. A sea turtle was a rather docile marine animal but one shouldn't underestimate the strength of a sea turtle.

Although sea turtles don't have teeth, they have sharp edges inside their mouth that are sharper than teeth. These sharp edges could easily crush one's finger. Moreover, a sea turtle of the size of close to a meter would definitely be more vicious.

"In mythical legends, Dragon Palace would have a Turtle as Prime Minister. When I upgrade marine animals in the future, I could also upgrade a turtle to be the Prime Minister."

Sea turtle gave off the impression of intelligence and longevity. In Journey to the West, Prime Minister Turtle was 9,000 years old and would handle various kinds of matters of the Dragon Palace. Its role was similar to the Prime Minister in an ancient kingdom. [\[1\]](#)

Wang Xian had decided to get a strong Prime Minister Turtle for himself in the future.

"It's a shame that my level is still too low. If I wish to upgrade marine animals, I would have to at least wait till I have raised my level to level Three."

Wang Xian thought to himself. In the Divine Dragon Transformation, to upgrade marine animals would first involve manifesting the intelligence of marine animals before imparting upon them the cultivation arts.

This would require a large amount of dragon energy and would at least be a thousand points of dragon energy.

Currently, Wang Xian only possessed an overall four hundred points of dragon energy.

"I'm going to level up quickly and get my own subordinates."

Wang Xian wiggled his body and devoured the marine animals around him rapidly.

"There's a large humphead wrasse ahead."

At this moment, he saw a fish that weighed approximately a hundred jin. It was a humphead wrasse!

Humphead wrasse: Level One

Extractable Dragon Energy: 44

"I can extract forty-four points of Dragon Energy. Haha."

Wang Xian got excited. Moving his body, he launched his attacks rapidly towards the humphead wrasse.

The humphead wrasse sensed danger approaching and wiggled its tail to swim away.

"Do you think you can escape?"

A smile appeared on Wang Xian's face. He accelerated immediately and extended his dragon claws ahead. Although he wasn't big in size yet, he still emanated an aura of power and prestige.

"Hehe, there's no place for you to escape to anymore."

The humphead wrasse that was close to a meter long escaped below the island. Wang Xian immediately accelerated.

Crack!

However, at this moment, something shocked Wang Xian. When the humphead wrasse swam to a position beside the rocks, the rock-like object closed immediately and devoured the humphead wrasse that was almost eighty centimeters long.

Astonishment was written all over Wang Xian's face. He immediately stopped and looked ahead.

"That is...?"

Wang Xian got closer and noticed that the "rock" wasn't a real rock but the disguise of a type of living thing.

"That's a sea clam. How is it possible that there's such a big sea clam?"

Wang Zheng was shocked. It was a brownish-colored sea clam in the shape of a fan. The entire sea clam was extremely huge and spanned close to two meters. Looking at it, it looked simple and heavy.

Extractable Dragon Energy: 9,987

"It's level is level six. Moreover, I could get extract close to ten thousand points of Dragon Energy from it."

Wang Xian opened his eyes widely and stared fervently at that huge sea clam.

Chapter 15: Clam Girl

Sea clams are a common creature in the ocean.

Most people have eaten clams before. Average clams are about the size of a thumb while some bigger ones are about the size of a palm.

In this world, there was also a type of sea clams called the Giant Clam, also known as the Man-eating Clam. The biggest one was 1.8 meters.

However, the sea clam before Wang Xian was definitely larger than what was recorded.

Wang Xian could not help but feel stupefied as he looked at the enormous sea clam.

"Luckily, this sea clam is moving very slowly, so I don't have to be afraid of it. Besides, the sea clam will not be able to threaten me if I just stay behind it."

Wang Xian stared at the sea clam as he made up his mind.

If he could devour the sea clam, he could advance to Level Three with the Dragon Energy he extracted from it.

Wang Xian hesitated before creeping behind the sea clam.

The sea clam remained unmoved when Wang Xian closed in. Wang Xian was unsure if it was because it had just eaten or was it trying to conceal itself, as it was not moving.

Wang Shan got closer and grabbed the clamshell with his claw.

Boom!

Wang Xian sulked when the claw that was as strong as the metal did not leave any dents on the sea clam.

"It's too solid. Simply impenetrable."

Wang Xian looked embarrassed. He tapped another two more times with his claws but discovered no traces on the clam. The sea clam did not have any reaction either.

"The shell is just too hard. I have no means to deal with it."

Wang Xian was thinking hard as an idea flashed across his mind.

"Try it."

Wang Xian hesitated. He looked around him before he said, "Transform into a human."

Instantly, from a 20-centimeter golden Divine Dragon, Wang Xian returned to his human form.

Wang Xian was naked in the sea and had no issue in the water that was more than ten meters deep.

He looked at the sea clam before him. With a stretch, he lifted and carried it.

With his current strength, Wang Xian could at least carry four hundred kilograms of weight. Hence, he was rather relaxed to carry a sea clam of 250 kilograms in the sea.

The sea clam remained unmoved when it was being carried up.

Wang Xian was delighted as he carried it to the island beside the ocean.

Wang Xian swam fast in the sea. After he surfaced from the water, he put the sea clam on the shore.

Sensing no seawater around it, the sea clam opened its shell at this time.

A clam flesh that was covered in sticky mucus wriggled out of the shell. The flesh stuck its body to the ground. It controlled its body and squirmed towards the ocean.

"Haha, thinking of escaping? Where can you escape to?"

Wang Xian was looking thrilled. He immediately grabbed and pulled the clamshell back.

Slap!

Just then, a piece of clam meat slapped at his arm with fast and furious speed.

The force was so powerful that Wang Xian let out a yelp.

"Gosh, that was painful."

He touched his arm in a cold sweat and realized the arm was swelling up. The entire arm would have been broken if his physique was not strengthened by the Dragon Energy.

"Indeed, this is the Level Six Sea Clam. Even though it was not a fighter by nature, it could still hurt me."

Wang Xian was surprised.

"However, don't ever think of escaping since you're thrown onto the shore."

Wang Xian was feeling lucky that the sea clam did not notice what was happening when they were in the ocean. Otherwise, he would not be able to have carried it to the shore, given its mighty strength.

Wang Xian spotted the sea clam as it exited hurriedly towards the sea. He quickly grabbed the clamshell and flung it towards the island.

Subsequently, he took a few rocks on the side and hurled them at the flesh of the opened clamshell.

Wang Xian possessed daunting strength now as each mighty rock he cast caused the flesh to huddle up. The clamshell quickly shut itself up.

"Don't kill me. Please!"

Just then, Wang Xian heard a unique voice which stunned him immediately.

"Who? Who is talking?" Wang Xian observed his surroundings with shock. But there was no one on the desolate island.

"No, it wasn't a human language spoken just now."

Wang Xian thought of the voice. Immediately, he cast his gaze upon the sea clam.

"Was it you?" Wang Xian stared with his eyes wide open.

All living beings with intelligence would have their own language just like the dolphins and killer whales.

However, humans would not understand their language.

Despite so, as a Divine Dragon, Wang Xian could understand any language of the marine animals.

"Let me go. Let me go." Another sound that was frail and weak was heard. The voice sounded like a little girl who had just learned how to talk.

"Are you a girl? No, are you a female clam?" Wang Xian stared at the sea clam and asked.

"Please don't kill me. Let me go." The voice of the sea clam was heard again. But, she was repeating those simple words, like, "Don't kill me... let me go."

It must be that her intelligence is not high enough for her to master more sophisticated expressions.

Wang Xian pondered and frowned. He never expected that this sea clam would have intelligence. Moreover, it was a female clam.

"Given my current ability, it will be difficult and troublesome to kill her off unless I wait for her to dry up."

"Let me go. Don't kill me."

Once again, the tender and innocent voice resounded in his head again.

Wang Xian hesitated. He was thinking, "I don't have to kill her. I can make her my subordinate – the first member of the Dragon Palace."

Wang Xian brightened up his eyes and stared at the sea clam. He was thinking of how a Divine Dragon could subdue the marine animals.

With an idea, he slowly tempted the sea clam, "Little Sister, I will release you now if you swallow this thing."

Upon seeing no reaction from the sea clam, he squeezed out a small amount of golden blood from his hand. It was the blood of Divine Dragon, and at the same time, a form of commitment.

Divine Dragons dominated the marine animals not only with domineering strength but also with the power of pact.

After absorbing the Blood of Divine Dragon, the other party would regard him as the King.

"Take this fresh blood, and I, as your Brother, will release you."

Wang Xian placed the drop of fresh Blood of Divine Dragon on the sea clam and guided her patiently.

"Developed Marine Animals: Clam Girl."

At this time, the system notification sounded off in his mind. The blood on the sea clam disappeared.

"Haha, it works."

Wang Xian was excited. He quickly routed to the front of the Clam Girl.

"Brother, I like you."

The Clam Girl opened her clamshell. Being a low-intelligent being, she did not understand what a King was. She only knew to obey his words when he wanted her to address him as Brother.

This was the power of pact.

"Haha, little sister, you must listen to me from now on."

Wang Xian spoke delightedly.

"Gosh."

However, the Clam Girl wrapped her flesh around Wang Xian's body at this time.

Chapter 16: Pearl

"Release me, release me!"

Wang Xian was trapped by the clam girl completely. The flesh of the clam was abnormally soft and gave off an aroma.

She had completely wrapped around him, and he felt extremely comfortable throughout his body.

The clam girl listened to his command and released him immediately. Wang Xian looked at his body covered in sticky goo. He couldn't control his mouth as it twitched slightly.

"What the...!"

Wang Xian patted his own face and said, "Let's get into the sea first. Let's get into the sea first."

When he came to the seaside, he jumped into the sea directly. The clam girl followed closely behind him into the sea.

Wang Xian looked at the clam girl beside him. With just a thought, he transformed into the appearance of a divine dragon immediately.

"Don't address me as the brother from now on. You shall call me the Dragon King."

Wang Xian looked at the clam girl and found having a sea clam calling him "brother" extremely weird. Moreover, he didn't have a fad in other aspects.

"Yes, Dragon King." The voice of the clam girl was directed into his mind directly.

Wang Xian nodded his head in approval. Looking at the clam girl, he was extremely satisfied.

This was his first subordinate and her level was level 6! Although her attacking prowess was rather weak, her defense capability was insane.

"Upgrading marine animals, pacts, and cultivate intelligence. Since the intelligence of clam girl has already been cultivated, I could save myself a lot of dragon energy. If I have to rely on dragon energy to upgrade, I can just forget about it. I don't have ample dragon energy but I could impart upon her cultivation arts for her to cultivate on her own."

Establishing the dragon palace and upgrading marine animals. If Wang Xian was sufficiently powerful, he could increase the strength of marine animals directly by using dragon energy. However, helping to raise their strength was just one aspect. The other aspect would be to let them cultivate on their own.

There was cultivation art related to the water tribe within the Divine Dragon Transformation.

The so-called cultivation arts were, in fact, the cultivation arts of the Dragon race. For the other marine animals, these cultivation arts could also be considered as "Leaping Through The Dragon's Gate".

There were many different types of cultivation arts to make the Leap Through The Dragon Gate, including the water dragon's cultivation arts, fire dragon's cultivation arts, frost dragon's cultivation arts and other kinds of cultivation arts.

"Clam girl is more suited for the cultivation arts of the water dragon. I can impart it to her directly."

With just a thought, he imparted the cultivation art on clam girl immediately.

"This is cultivation art. You must definitely cultivate diligently from today onwards."

Wang Xian spoke to the clam girl. When clam girl achieved mastery over the cultivation art, she would have a chance of transforming into human form. Moreover, by practicing the cultivation art of the water dragon, she wouldn't be weaker than ordinary water dragons when she grew up.

"Yes, Dragon King," answered the clam girl.

"Yeah." Wang Xian nodded his head. "You shall practice in the vicinity of this island from here onward and be careful!"

"Yes!" replied the clam girl. She opened her clamshell and ejected the stone that Wang Xian had thrown in previously.

"Eh? What are those?"

Suddenly, Wang Xian saw several shiny objects within the body of the clam girl.

"These are...? Pearls?"

Wang Xian's eyes lit up. He extended his hand over and retrieved the objects from the clam girl's body.

There were over 10 crystal clear pearls. There were white, black, pink and golden pearls with each one of them perfectly round without any flaws.

Each pearl was at least twenty millimeters in diameter and looked extremely beautiful.

"So beautiful. Such huge pearls."

Wang Xian looked at the sixteen pearls in his hand with awe. "Such big and exquisite pearls would definitely be very valuable. Haha, it should be worth a lot of money."

Pearls came from the body of sea clams and natural pearls had always been very valuable.

Wang Xian held onto the sixteen pearls and looked at the clam girl. "These pearls... Can you get more of these?"

"Dragon King, these pearls are from the remains of what I consumed and are formed slowly over time."

"They would appear after a certain period of time. I don't like them and would just throw them all out."

"What? They appeared once in a certain period of time and were all thrown out by you?" Wang Xian's mouth was twitching after hearing what she said.

"How long do they take to form?" he immediately asked.

"I don't know," answered clam girl.

"Hmm... Forget it. Clam girl doesn't have a sense of time after all." Wang Xian shook his head helplessly before instructing her, "If there are pearls in the future, you have to keep them."

"Yes, Dragon King."

"I'll check out how much these are worth after I get back." Wang Xian took a look at the pearls in his hand before putting them in the sea clam.

"You can cultivate here now."

Wang Xian instructed the clam girl. After which, he looked around him.

Currently, he would just need a further four hundred more points of Dragon energy to level up. Seeing that it was about noon, Wang Xian decided to make the best use of his time and attempt to raise his level to Level Two by night time.

Wang Xian looked towards a sturgeon. Moving his body, he headed towards it and attacked it.

Devour! Frantic devouring!

Dragon energy was increasing at a terrifying pace.

"There's another school of ribbonfish right there."

It was afternoon time. When Wang Xian swam out another twenty kilometers, he encountered another school of ribbonfish.

This school of ribbonfish was three to four times larger than the school he encountered in the morning. Three to four thousand fish were swimming together and it was a majestic scene to witness.

"If I devoured all of them, I would be close to Level Two. When I'm at Level Two, my strength will also be substantially greater."

Wang Xian was getting excited. His vision was locked onto the school of ribbonfish as he dashed towards it directly.

The current Wang Xian was approximately thirty centimeters and was still relatively much smaller as compared to the ribbonfish.

However, the aura that he was emitting was causing the ribbonfish to tremble in fear.

Growl!

A weak dragon roar erupted as Wang Xian started his devouring. Ribbonfish after ribbonfish was easily devoured and turned into dragon energy within Wang Xian.

Three to four thousand ribbonfish were completely devoured by him in half an hour.

These included three top-grade Kings of Ribbonfish. Despite facing against three of them at the same time, he still killed and devoured all three of the Kings of Ribbonfish.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Able to transform into a Dragon)

Level: 1

Dragon Energy: 997/1,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"Three more points to make the breakthrough."

Wang Xian got excited and swam to his left. All he had to do was to devour another ten fish before his level could be raised to Level Two.

"This is bad. That's a shark."

Just as he swam a dozen meters ahead, he suddenly saw a shark swimming towards him.

"It must have been drawn here because of the bloody scent I caused when devouring the ribbonfish."

Wang Xian had an idea while looking at the shark that was approximately three meters long.

Horn shark: Level Four

Extractable Dragon Energy: 443

Run! I'm definitely not a match for it.

After seeing the level of the horn shark, Wang Xian immediately escaped towards the sea at the side.

That horn shark seemed to have seen Wang Xian as it immediately wiggled its tail and chased after Wang Xian.

"Oh damn. I'm already escaping and yet you have to chase me."

When Wang Xian felt the horn shark heading towards him at high speed, he accelerated towards the seaside.

Luckily, his speed was faster. When he reached the area with seaweed all around him, the horn shark lost him.

"I still couldn't get too far as I'm too weak currently. If I had encountered several vicious sharks, I'd be finished."

Chapter 17: Advance to Level Two

Kakaka!

In the Bohai Sea, Wang Xian swam beside the olive flounders and gobbled them up.

"Extracted 0.1 Dragon Energy."

"Extracted 0.3 Dragon Energy."

"1000 Dragon Energy completed. Evolved to Divine Dragon Level Two."

After Wang Xian devoured a few olive flounders, the system notification sounded off in his mind. Instantly, Wang Xian felt his tremendous power surging from his body.

Kakaka.

The bones throughout his whole body let out crisp sounds. The 40-centimeter dragon body grew longer to approximately a meter long.

By now, Wang Xian's entire body was giving off a golden glow. The tremendous power swirled in the seawater around him.

"I have advanced to Level Two."

Sensing the immense power from his body, Wang Xian could not hide his exhilarating expression.

Every scale and bone in his entire body was greatly enhanced, in particular, the claws. He was full of mighty explosive force.

Roar!

The sea water around him rippled as the dragon roared.

"I have become stronger by at least tenfold."

Wang Xian felt the immense strength within his body. He clenched his claws and cast a glance to the boulder at the side.

Ka!

With a swing, Wang Xian shattered the sturdy boulder easily.

"I'm already so powerful even when I have not acquired the Superpower. If I have enough Dragon Energy to cultivate my Superpower, I'll grow even more formidable."

The Divine Dragon was the same dragon when he just started to practice the Divine Dragon Transformation.

Superpowers were things like infernos, water current, frost, and skeletons.

He could grow his claw longer with Dragon Energy while Superpower would be required for enhancing his body's flexibility, acquiring techniques like spurting out fire and water, and generating electricity.

All these required Dragon Energy for upgrading.

The current Wang Xian only possessed the physical body of a Divine Dragon but its Superpower.

However, just the physical body was daunting enough.

"I'm just at Level Two now, and the power was incredibly strong even before I got to my First Transformation. When I attained the Nine Divine Dragon Transformations, does that mean I can roam the entire universe?"

Wang Xian was feeling passionate. He swam to the sea clam not far from him and reminded the Clam Girl to cultivate diligently before he headed back to the shore.

The sky gradually turned dark. His speed was considered fast since he had advanced one level within a day.

But it would require 10,000 points of Dragon Energy to advance to Level Three. Subsequently, each level of advancement required ten times the Dragon Energy.

Level advancement at the early stages would be speedy, but it would get harder as it progressed to the later stages.

After two levels of advancement, his speed was so fast that he could swim fifteen meters per second. That was way faster than many types of fish.

Dragon Race were born rulers.

Wang Xian swam to the shore. On his way, he caught some lobsters and swimming crabs: two lobsters that were about 1.5 kilograms each, and six swimming crabs.

"Wooh!"

Wang Xian put on his clothes after he was out of the sea. He grinned as he looked at the pearls, lobsters and the swimming crabs in his hands.

After putting on his clothes, he headed up. "Boom!" Wang Xian took a gentle leap to the shore. As he did, he was off the ground by four meters.

Ka!

He picked up a stone from the ground and crushed it.

"I'm simply too powerful now."

Wang Xian was excited. He found a bag to pack the lobsters and the swimming crabs into before he walked towards the entrance of a resort not far from him.

For safety concerns, he parked his Harley motorcycle there.

Vroom!

Wang Xian rode on his motorcycle after placing the lobsters and the swimming crabs at a safe location. Soon after, he stepped on his accelerator and headed back to school.

"My reaction and eyesight have improved greatly after advancing to Level Two."

Wang Xian slightly narrowed his eyes as he glanced at the motorcycle that he was riding on.

Based on the speed that he was riding now, it was a total waste for such a modified motorcycle.

After millions of dollars' worth of modifications, the speed of this heavy-duty motorcycle could reach a terrifying level.

The maximum speed for this Harley was 397 kilometers per hour. To make a comparison, the maximum car speed of a Bugatti Veyron with a starting price of over 20 million was only 405 kilometers per hour.

This modified Harley was freaking fast.

The acceleration capability was faster than a sports car.

Given the performance of this Harley, sports cars that were worth a few million were incomparable with this.

"Let's test out the speed of this heavy-duty motorcycle."

Wang Xian was eager to try it out. In the past, the chance of endangering his life was high if he got into an accident with this motorcycle. Hence, he did not dare to drive too fast.

But now, Wang Xian's strength was greatly enhanced. Even if he traveled at two hundred kilometers per hour, he could assure his own safety if there were any accidents.

Besides, given his current speed of reaction, he would be quite safe.

The region near the ocean was rather remote. Not many cars could be seen on the road.

Wang Xian began to change gears and stepped hard on his accelerator.

Vroom!

The engine of the motorcycle exploded a loud and clear sound.

The corner of Wang Xian's lips was slightly drawn when he looked at the speedometer. Within five seconds, the speed increased to a hundred kilometers per hour and soon, it would hit 180.

Speeding at 180 kilometers per hour was already scary as the trees on each side were moving behind at a daunting speed.

"Feels great. No wonder many people seek thrills from the ultimate speed to the extent that it cost their lives. This really feels good."

With his helmet on, Wang Xian zoomed off on his motorcycle in his chirpy mood.

Vroom!

Just then, Wang Xian suddenly heard engines vrooming from behind.

"Shoot!"

A couple of sports cars passed by his motorcycle like phantoms.

"Eh? Their speed hit at least two hundred kilometers per hour."

Wang Xian was slightly stunned as he watched the sports cars overtaking him. Yet, he did not chase after them in spite of his pride.

Wang Xian reduced his speed to around seventy kilometers per hour before making a turn ahead.

When he made a turn, he saw three sports cars lining up in one straight and neat row. Looked like they were preparing for the new round of a competition.

Wang Xian's presence immediately drew the attention from the three sports cars – a Ferrari, a Lamborghini Aventador, and a Maserati.

"Hey, Uncle, let's race!"

A young girl came out from the Maserati car. She slightly raised her chin and looked at Wang Xian in a provocative way.

"Yes, bro. Your driving skill seemed to be good. Let's have some fun." After the young girl, the window was wound down on the Ferrari as someone called out at him.

"Yes, bro, come." The window of the Lamborghini rolled down as well while the driver called out to him.

"No, it's okay." Wang Xian shook his head as he was in no mood for car racing against these kids born with a silver spoon in their mouth.

"You chicken. Whoever loses calls me mom. Hurry up! Don't be a coward!" The young lady who spoke to Wang Xian first pointed out a middle finger and jeered at him. [\[1\]](#)

"Xiao Wan, what nonsense are you spouting at such a young age. Drive slowly. Who says you can race?" A pretty girl sitting beside the young lady glared at her.

"Heh heh." The young lady stuck her tongue out and beckoned to Wang Xian.

"Don't be such a pussy and fight like a man."

Chapter 18: Call Me Daddy!

Bzz Bzz!

The young girl controlled her sports car and made a skilled drift movement that stopped the car right beside Wang Xian's heavy-duty motorcycle. She lifted her head in a taunting manner as she glanced at the heavy-duty motorcycle below him.

"Don't they call those who ride heavy-duty motorcycles 'knights'? Come on Uncle Knight!"

As the young girl spoke, she stepped on the accelerator and revved the engine.

Wang Xian looked at the young girl, feeling speechless. He revved his engine too as a reply.

"Hah, come on. If you lose, you're going to call me mum."

The young girl laughed in a loud and boisterous manner before moving her car beside the other two sports cars, forming a neat row.

Wang Xian's lips arched up slightly as he moved his heavy-duty motorcycle beside the three vehicles and lined up in a row.

Vroom vroom vroom!

The sports cars revved their engines and Wang Xian followed by throttling his engine.

"Three, two, one. Start."

The young girl shouted loudly. Three sports car burst out in a straight line.

Wang Xian kept a brief smile but wasn't inferior at all. The performance of his heavy-duty motorcycle was much better than those sports cars.

As the race started, the advantage of the heavy-duty motorcycle was translated to a huge lead. Wang Xian increased the speed of his car to approximately 180 km/hr.

Bzz, bzz, bzz!

However, those three sports cars all cost no less than three million dollars. Their performances were still very outstanding.

Moreover, the three of them increased their speed greatly to at least 230 km/hr or even higher.

Wang Xian frowned. He glanced at the Maserati beside him and saw a young girl showing a derogatory hand signal at him.

"If you want to play, I'll play."

Wang Xian lowered his body slightly. When riding a heavy-duty motorcycle, one would typically lower his body and lean on the motorcycle when one was moving at extreme speed. This was to reduce air resistance and also to gain better control.

"The moment I lowered my head, you guys lose."

Wang Xian was smiling in his helmet as he throttled the accelerator to the maximum. The needle of the speedometer was increasing at a frantic pace.

200, 210, 220.

In just a short span of ten seconds, he had increased the speed to 280 km/hour.

Bzz Bzz!

A thunderous sound erupted from the Harley heavy-duty motorcycle. Wang Xian lowered his head and overtook the three sports cars rapidly and accelerated away at an even greater speed.

"Oh damn, he's fast. Mommy's coming for you."

Within the Maserati, the young girl stepped on the accelerator fully in anger as she saw Wang Xian's figure disappearing at a fast pace.

"Xiao Wan, you are a crazy brat. Lower the speed immediately," the beautiful girl sitting in the car said with a pale face.

"Sister Lingling, don't be afraid. Just look at how I'm going to overtake him." The young girl didn't pay attention to her as she stared at the heavy-duty motorcycle in front of her.

"Trying to compete with me? Little brat!" Seeing that he was almost at the road juncture, a faint smile appeared on his face.

"Huh? This is bad!"

At this moment, Wang Xian saw a large truck turning in from the road juncture. His expression changed slightly.

He immediately pressed the brakes as he focused all his intention attentively on the large truck while being ready to jump off the ride at any time.

Screech! "

The bike isn't stopping in time!"

Wang Xian held his breath, squinted his eyes slightly and saw a two-meter opening on his left.

Tsssssss

Wang Xian got through the opening and avoided the largest by the slimmest margin before stopping.

"Phew!"

Bang, bang, bang!

Just as he heaved a sigh of relief, he heard three collisions.

Wang Xian's expression changed slightly. He stopped his heavy-duty motorcycle immediately and looked ahead.

Three sports cars had all collided with the large truck.

"Oh damn. Please don't tell me anyone's dead."

Wang Xian frowned and ran towards the three sports cars immediately.

There were a total of six people sitting in the three sports cars. Among them, the Maserati, which was at the forefront, had the worst collision. On the other hand, the collision of the Lamborghini and Ferrari weren't that serious.

Nonetheless, the strong impact from the collision knocked everyone in the vehicles unconscious.

Wang Xian immediately ran to the Maserati at the front position.

The front of the Maserati had been turned into complete scrap. The airbags of the car had popped open, but the young girl and the beautiful girl in the car were lying there and not moving at all.

The Maserati was driving the fastest. The large truck turned all of a sudden and they couldn't stop their car in time.

Seeing that the car door was damaged from the collision, he reached out and tried to pull the door open.

Crack crack!

Wang Xian's strength ripped the car door apart directly. He saw the beautiful girl on the seat beside the driver and carried her out carefully.

Huh? The legs of the young girl are almost deformed.

Wang Xian looked at the young girl in the driver seat. Her legs were hit by the metal plate in front of her seat and had been deformed. She probably had a few fractures.

He immediately carried her out carefully.

"I shall call the police first."

After placing the two girls on the floor, Wang Xian immediately called for the police and ambulance.

After which, he ran to the other two sports cars. The people inside the other two sports cars didn't seem to have suffered serious injuries. Therefore, he didn't attempt to move them rashly.

"So painful, so painful."

At this moment, Wang Xian heard a weak wail. He immediately walked over and saw the young girl wailing in pain with tears in her eyes.

Wang Xian frowned at the sight of the girl's completely deformed legs.

"Save me, save me. I don't want to die." The young girl looked at Wang Xian and begged. She was no longer the same as the naughty girl from before.

Wang Xian had a heavy look. "Let's see if dragon energy could be used to treat them."

With just a thought, he placed his hand on the legs of the girl, regulated his dragon energy into the legs of the young girl and nourished her injuries.

As the dragon energy entered her legs, he could sense the internal situation of the legs of the young girl.

"Bone fractures that will require adjustment."

He hesitated for a while before holding the right leg of the young girl.

This brat has a rather good figure. Wang Xian couldn't help but compliment in his heart after he looked at the girl's long legs and her well-endowed chest while adjusting the bones of her legs slightly.

Hmm, it's indeed effective. Under the nourishment of dragon energy, the injuries on her legs should be able to recover quickly. However, I have just advanced to level Two and don't have additional dragon energy left remaining in my body. Therefore, I can only use this method to nourish.

Wang Xian thought to himself.

"It hurts. It hurts." The young girl wailed softly as tears streamed down constantly.

"Hehe, little brat. If it wasn't for me, your legs would be crippled. How dare you to have asked me to call you 'mum' before?"

Wang Xian looked at the young girl and raised his eyebrows. He wore a cunning smile on his face and continued, "Your injuries are serious and I can save you now."

"Save me, save me." The young girl shouted in pain without consciousness.

"I can save you but you have to call me daddy. Otherwise, I won't save you." Wang Xian said to the young girl while staring at her teasingly.

"Save me. Waaa!" When the young girl heard his words, she immediately broke down and cried out loud.

"Call me daddy." Wang Xian pinched her leg and the girl shuddered.

"Daddy. Waaaa. Daddy save me. Waaaa~"

"Hehe!"

Endnote:

Daddy could be considered an insult

Chapter 19: A Highly Skilled Doctor?

Never did I expect the Dragon Energy to have such an effect. If I have sufficient Dragon Energy, I can inject it into her body, and her legs would recover immediately.

Wang Xian thought to himself as he looked at the young lady who was in a coma after he had fixed her leg.

Subsequently, he came to the pretty girl and examined her condition with the Dragon Energy.

"Her chest has some blood clotting due to the impact of the hit."

Wang Xian took a look at her injuries and proceeded to nourish her with his Dragon Energy. Soon after, he came to check on the rest of the four people in the other two sports cars.

Apart from the juvenile with a broken rib bone which had been fixed by Wang Xian with his Dragon Energy, the rest were only suffering from light injuries.

The young lady and the juvenile with his broken rib bone were the two most serious cases.

Just then, the traffic police and the ambulance arrived, and Wang Xian heaved a sigh of relief.

"Three luxurious sports cars got into an accident!"

The traffic police officers who rushed here sped up their pace as they came over.

"Young chap, were you the one who called the police?"

A middle-aged traffic police officer asked this immediately when he saw Wang Xian.

Wang nodded, "Yes, it was me. I examined those people, and there shouldn't be anything serious."

"Chief, look at these sports cars. That car plate of the Maserati seemed like the one that was just applied by the granddaughter of Old Xue."

The young man who was following behind the middle-aged officer spoke softly to him.

"Eh?" The middle-aged officer looked at the car plate, 2333, and frowned immediately. "Yes, it's the granddaughter of Old Xue. The rest of them must not be ordinary people either. Go check on them."

The middle-aged officer ran to Wang Xian and took a look at the young girl and the pretty girl.

"She's the granddaughter of Old Xue," Cold sweat broke on his forehead, "Please, nothing must happen to her. Nothing."

He spotted the ambulance nearby and screamed at the top of his lungs, "Paramedics, over here. Hurry!"

A few paramedics brought the stretcher and sprinted over immediately.

"Hang on, let me examine her first," said a doctor to the two nurses who were walking by the side. She squatted down and began to examine the injuries of the young lady.

"Her leg was injured, but it was almost healed by me. She just needs some time to fully recover. The pretty girl beside her had some blood clotted at her chest area. I have taken care of it, and it shouldn't pose any serious problems. On top of that, the young driver of the Ferrari had a broken rib, which I also took care of. Just be careful when you guys move them."

The doctor who was doing the examination was slightly stunned. She lifted her chin to look at Wang Xian with astonishment.

Wang Xian, too, looked back at the doctor and could not help but feel slightly surprised. Where did all the pretty ladies come from?

This doctor was in her late twenties. Her white robe was propped up and could not hide her busty figure.

Her face was fair and refined. She looked like a goddess as her hair was worn up in a bun.

The doctor reached out to touch the legs of the young girl, and a shocked expression gradually surfaced on her face. She did notice some problems with the young girl's legs.

"Be careful, bring her up to the ambulance without moving her legs."

"Yes, Doctor Sun." The two nurses nodded immediately.

"Have you practiced medicine before?" Doctor Sun stood up and asked curiously.

"Eh... just a little. You should do a recheck to be certain." Wang Xian chuckled.

He knew nothing about medicine. All he did was treat the patients with Dragon Energy.

Doctor Sun did not ask much as she began to examine the rest of the casualties.

She lifted the clothes at the chest area of the pretty lady and examined her injuries. Once again, she was shocked, "She was injured at her chest area. Avoid touching it."

Subsequently, she came to the other sports car and began her examination.

"It was the rib. That young man is really superb."

Doctor Sun examined everyone and was stunned by the outcomes.

Given such a situation, she would have taken a long time to examine the injuries if not for the young man who had reported to her on their conditions.

"Okay, I'm off now," said Wang Xian to the traffic police officers and the doctor.

Seeing that all the casualties were moved into the ambulance from the sports cars, Wang Xian checked on the time, and it was almost seven o'clock.

"Young chap, please leave your contact number so that we can contact you when necessary," said the middle-aged traffic police officer.

"Sure." Wang Xian nodded and left his contact number.

Doctor Sun gave him a significant look before she got onto the ambulance.

"A car race almost got someone killed." Wang Xian shook his head and walked to the side. He rode on his motorcycle and headed back to school.

"Chief, that young man rides a Harley motorcycle. His family must be quite well-off." The young police officer gazed at Wang Xian's back view as he left.

"Hmm, let's ignore the rest for now. We need to check on the situation in the hospital. Let's hope the granddaughter of Old Xue and the rest of the young fellows will be fine. Those guys' family backgrounds were not ordinary either," said the middle-aged officer.

"The big car was on the wrong side of the road, and those sports cars were driving too fast. Hence, the car accident. The car owner of that truck will be in deep shit soon."

At this time, Doctor Sun was examining both legs of the young lady with a piece of equipment in the ambulance. Her expression was aghast.

"How could this be possible? Both her legs were obviously fractured. Yet, they were fixed by some formidable treating skill. Could that young man be a skillful practitioner?"

...

By now, Wang Xian had reached the school entrance on his motorcycle.

He cast a glance at the lobsters and swimming crabs on the car before he came to a convenience store as he rubbed his hands.

After purchasing some sauces, he came back to his dormitory immediately.

"I'll put the pearls somewhere first, then do some cooking outdoors."

Wang Xian grinned.

Outdoor barbecue was one of the highlights of the University of Rivertown. At the Eastern Hill of the university lay a perfect spot for outdoor barbecue.

The holes were already dug. Just bringing along pots, wood, and fire would do.

The glutton Wang Dahai had all the necessary tools for outdoor cooking. Wang Xian took the pot and fetched some water. He carried all his ingredients and headed for the Eastern Hill.

The Eastern Hill was a hillock located at the side of the Pavilion Lake. Setting up fire was extremely safe as there were neither trees nor grass.

The sky gradually darkened as Wang Xian carried his things to the Eastern Hill.

Buzz!

Just then, his phone suddenly rang. He took a look and found it was Guan Shuqing.

"I have yet to thank you for what happened a few days ago. Have you taken your dinner? I would like to treat you as a token of appreciation."

Wang Xian looked at the Wechat message that Guan Shuqing had sent. He was slightly taken aback, but he quickly replied, "It's okay, thank you."

Huh?

Guan Shuqing was slightly stunned by Wang Xian's reply.

Since she was young, no one had ever turned her down. He was the first one to do so.

At first, like any other guys, she thought Wang Xian would send her chatting messages after adding her on Wechat. But he did not.

Now, she was once again rejected after initiating a dinner with him. She could not help but feel her face and doubt her charm.

Chapter 20: Cooking Outdoors

Guan Shuqing felt a little disappointed and wasn't willing to just give up.

"You did help me out greatly after all. I definitely owe you a treat."

Guan Shuqing held onto her phone and sent the message.

This man is really different from others. Or maybe he's gay?

That's the only explanation Guan Shuqing could come up with.

"Huh?" Wang Xian was boiling water and cleaning off the ashes of the firewood from before when he heard his phone ring. He saw Guan Shuqing's reply before looking over at the swimming crabs and large lobsters in the pot. "Since I can't finish all these by myself, why don't I just ask if she would like to come over?"

Wang Xian wasn't thinking too deeply into this matter and sent the message, "I'm cooking outdoors on the Eastern Hill. If you haven't eaten, why don't you just come over to the Eastern Hill?"

After sending the message out, Wang Xian started cleaning the area once again. He washed the bowls and chopsticks and started a fire.

When Guan Shuqing received this message while she was in the dormitory room, she frowned slightly.

"Cooking outdoors. Should I go? It's getting a little dark. Will he..."

"He probably wouldn't as he isn't such a guy. Moreover, although it is summer holiday, there's still security patrolling the area."

Guan Shuqing made up her mind to go. She stood up and put on some light makeup before heading towards the Eastern Hill.

When she arrived at the Eastern Hill, she saw a figure standing by the flames.

"Just him alone."

Guan Shuqing looked over as she walked. "Wang Xian."

"Huh, if it isn't our great beauty, Guan Shuqing?" Wang Xian lifted his head, looked over and saw Guan Shuqing switching on the flashlight of her mobile phone.

"I take that you're in a good mood, cooking outdoors so late." Guan Shuqing walked over and saw Wang Xian preparing the sauce. She was shocked and asked, "Wang Xian, what delicious dishes are you making?"

"Seafood. I caught them from the sea today."

Wang Xian lifted his head and looked at her.

Guan Shuqing was still as beautiful as always today. Guan Shuqing was a well-known goddess of the University of Rivertown, and it was pretty good to be able to have a meal with such a beautiful lady.

Of course, on the condition that they get along.

"Wow, seafood. It seems like I'll be in for a treat today." Guan Shuqing squatted down. She looked at the covered pot first before turning her attention to Wang Xian.

Under the illumination of the flame, he had a very unique aura. Appearance-wise, Wang Xian was definitely a handsome guy.

Guan Shuqing found a rock and sat down on it. "It should be me who is supposed to give you a treat and yet you are the one who invited me to have seafood. Why don't I give you a treat tomorrow night? What do you think about that?"

"Sure!" Wang Xian looked at her and continued, "It will be my honor to be given a treat from the goddess of Rivertown!"

"Why don't I feel that way? You still said that it wasn't necessary just a while ago." Guan Shuqing gave him an angry stare.

"Hehe," Wang Xian laughed. "That's because I feel that I didn't really help you out. It was just a little thing after all."

"What you did isn't just a little thing," replied Guan Shuqing as she shook her head.

"Alright, the food is cooked. Let's get started quickly. I'll get the sauce ready for you." Wang Xian opened the lid to the pot and passed over a bowl of sauce that he had prepared previously to Guan Shuqing.

"Wow, lobsters and crabs." Guan Shuqing was shocked when she saw two large lobsters and swimming crabs, each seemingly weighing two to three jin, in the pot.

"Hehe." Wang Xian smiled. "Yeah, they were all caught from the sea."

As Wang Xian spoke, he scooped out a large lobster from the pot. After which, he deshelled the head, grabbed the tail and passed it to Guan Shuqing. "Take it. We can each have one large lobster. If you hadn't come, I might not have been able to finish them all by myself."

"Thank you, thank you." Guan Shuqing took it joyously.

"Be careful, it's hot."

"Yeah."

Guan Shuqing took over a large lobster that was even bigger than her palm and gently removed the shell.

"It smells so good!" exclaimed Guan Shuqing happily.

"The taste is pretty good." Wang Xian dipped it into the sauces he'd prepared. It was extremely satisfying to have wild large lobsters together with the tasty sauces.

"I didn't expect I'd be so lucky to be in for such a sumptuous dinner." Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian and spoke with a face of smiles.

"Hmm. I've brought two bottles of alcohol with me. Do you want some?" Wang Xian asked, taking out the beer Wang Dahai had placed in the dormitory.

"Lobsters with beer! Give me a bottle, then. However, I won't be able to finish it." Guan Shuqing extended her hand and replied with a smile.

"It's alright. Pass it to me if you can't finish it." Wang Xian helped her open the bottle before passing it to her.

"Wow. This is simply too satisfying." Guan Shuqing sipped a mouthful before enjoying her lobster flesh.

"Have some swimming crabs too. I caught them from the sea and they are really fresh." Wang Xian scooped out a swimming crab and deshelled it like a gentleman before passing it over to her.

"Wang Xian, you're so sweet. And the sauces you prepared are really delicious. This is fantastic. I'm sure you have a girlfriend, right?" Guan Shuqing looked at him and asked in a probing manner.

Wang Xian's body stiffened up. He recalled the girl that chose to go with the other guy. Although she wasn't very pretty, her quiet and cute look was what he was really fond of.

Sigh! He heaved a long sigh. A materialistic girl like that wasn't worthy for him to think about any further, nor was she worthy of his love.

"What's the matter?" Guan Shuqing saw his sudden change and asked curiously.

"I'm fine. I don't have a girlfriend. Or rather, in my case, it ended before it even started." Wang Xian laughed in a self-deprecating manner before drinking a mouthful of beer.

Guan Shuqing was slightly stunned. "You are such a great guy. I'm sure you would be able to find a really beautiful girlfriend."

"Perhaps." Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head. "However, I'm focusing on improving myself and earning a lot more money for now. My sister will be attending this school soon. I've got to let her live her university life like a princess."

Guan Shuqing saw his determined look and couldn't help but feel a little envious. "I'm really envious of your sister to have such a good brother. Your relationship with your sister must be really good!"

"We only have each other after all. My sister is really adorable and sensible," laughed Wang Xian.

"Only have each other?" When Guan Shuqing heard these words, she recalled what she'd heard from what her good friend had gathered.

Could it be that he truly only has a sister? His parents aren't around anymore?

Guan Shuqing thought of her own parents suddenly. Although her father's company encountered a huge crisis this year and declared bankrupt, she still had her parents with her after all.

"Everything will be fine. A guy like you will definitely be very blessed in the future," Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian and remarked. "There aren't any sad things that wouldn't pass. My father's company was declared bankrupt this year and this had a huge impact on my way of living. However, I still feel that as long as I work hard, everything will become better."

Wang Xian looked at Guan Shuqing, who was at aside, with a little surprise. Who would have expected this girl to still be able to maintain such a way of thinking?

"What are you looking at? Cheers!" Guan Shuqing noticed Wang Xian was looking at her. She lifted her head slightly, lifted her bottle of beer and replied.

"It will be better, Guan Shuqing." Wang Xian lifted his beer, smiled and added, "If you have any difficulties in the future, feel free to come and look for me. I might be able to help you resolve them."

"Why aren't you calling me the great beauty, Guan Shuqing? Haha!"

"Aren't we friends!"

"Wah, are you treating me as friends right now? I felt like a stranger to you just moments ago."

Chapter 21: Wise Men Do Not Cut Someone Down to Size

Guan Shuqing was a knowledgeable and cheerful girl who was born into an affluent family. She possessed a wealthy demeanor, but she did not have the usual arrogance and snobbish attitude that a rich girl would possess.

Even though her family was bankrupt, she was not discouraged at all. Instead, she worked part-time during her summer break.

Wang Xian was impressed by such a girl. She enjoyed her good life, but at the same time, she could take hardship.

"Thank you for your dinner. This is the most delightful meal I've had recently." Guan Shuqing looked at the guy who sent her back to her dormitory.

He was the first guy who ever did so.

Wang Xian grinned at her, "I guess I will be having seafood for all my meals for a while. If I do, I'll tell you in advance."

"Right, it's a deal." Guan Shuqing stood in front of him with a sweet-looking smile on her face.

"Okay, bye. I'm going back to take a rest."

"Bye."

Guan Shuqing watched as the guy departed with a beam. The smile was extremely sweet-looking.

Guan Shuqing is a pretty girl with a good personality.

After departing, Wang Xian was thinking to himself too. It was impossible for a man not to fall for beauties.

I better increase my strength first. I must hit Level Four before school reopens.

Wang Xian told this to himself. He went back to his room and took a bath. Then, he took out his pearls and examined them. After that, he sat in a lotus position to begin his cultivation.

"Dragon Energy increased by 45 points."

When Wang Xian woke up and saw the notification the next morning, sharp radiance flashed in his eyes.

Since he'd advanced to Level Two, his cultivation speed was two times faster than before.

Wang Xian picked up the pearls beside him and headed out after washing up.

He rode to the city center and began his search for jewelry stores.

Pearls could only be sold to jewelry stores. Otherwise, he really had no idea who would acquire his pearls.

"Deep-sea Jewelry."

As Wang Xian arrived at the city center, he spotted a jewelry accessories store with luxurious decors.

"Deep-sea?" Wang Xian looked at the name of the shop.

He'd heard of this name before; a locally listed company with a renowned branding.

Such a well-established company should offer reasonable pricing.

Wang Xian secretly pondered. While he was having his breakfast that morning, he also surveyed the value for his pearls. The natural and flawless pearls of 20mm that he had could fetch tremendous pricing.

Every pearl could sell at a few hundred thousand dollars, or even higher.

"Welcome."

Upon entering the store, the greeter who was wearing a cheongsam greeted him at the door.

Wang Xian entered and began to browse the pieces of jewelry within the cabinets. Their pieces of jewelry consisted of pearls and jade, excluding the gold jewelry.

All the pieces of jewelry were extremely pricey.

Wang Xian observed all the accessories. A pair of earrings cost a few thousand while some of the valuable pieces of jewelry were sold at a few hundred thousand dollars onwards.

"Sir, are you looking for anything?" asked a salesgirl looking at him.

"I'm looking for pearl jewelry." He grinned as he said.

"They are over here. We have pearl necklaces, pendants, and bracelets," the salesgirl pointed to a spot and said.

Wang Xian moved over and checked it out.

"This pearl and jade necklace is expensive." Wang Xian spotted one at the center that cost $180,000.

"These are natural pearls from the South China Sea with a size of 16mm. The colors are mellow, and they are the top-rated pearls. $180,000 is not expensive at all."

"Miss, can I take a look at that necklace?"

Before the salesgirl could finish talking, someone at the side spoke.

Wang Xian turned over and saw a middle-aged man with a beautiful girl. The middle-aged man was talking to them.

"Sure." The salesgirl smiled at him. She wore a pair of gloves before taking out the necklace and handed it over to the man.

"Here, Wenwen. Put it on. I'm sure you'll look gorgeous in it." The man took over the necklace and spoke to the beautiful girl who looked ten years younger than him.

"Wow, this is lovely!" The girl gazed at the necklace the man was holding with her eyes brightened up.

"Try it. If it's nice, we'll buy it," said the middle-aged man with a face full of smiles. To woo the beautiful girl before him, he was ready to throw in his money.

"Okay, I'll do it myself, Uncle." The beautiful girl nodded.

"Sure." He was so happy that he kept nodding his head.

As the girl was putting on the necklace, the man turned to look at Wang Xian again. He observed Wang Xian's dressing from head to toe. With his lips slightly drawn, he asked, "Young chap, are you buying jewelry for your girlfriend?"

"Just looking around." Wang Xian peered at the man and nodded. He then turned to look at the necklace that the girl was holding.

Wang Xian looked at the pearl necklace and smiled. Regardless of the size or color, the pearls on the necklace were not as good as what he had. In fact, they were far more inferior quality.

"Young chap, what is your budget for the jewelry? Young people like you should not be too far-fetched. Buying one that is around one to two thousand will do. You should buy according to what you can afford. When you have the money, you can get something more expensive. When I was your age, I was equally poor. But if you work hard in the future and earn big bucks, you can also pursue those expensive items that are over hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The middle-aged man spoke while looking at the beautiful girl and Wang Xian.

Even though it sounded like a reminder from a senior, he was conveying an implicit message to the girl: Young people are poor, and I'm rich.

The beautiful girl put on the necklace and peered at Wang Xian before she finally fixed her eyes on the middle-aged man, "Does it look beautiful on me?"

"Of course, you look extremely gorgeous with it. Wenwen, this type of pearl and jade necklace suits you the most. Those that are worth a few thousand dollars don't match you at all." The man quickly praised her.

"Really?" The beautiful girl was so happy that she could not stop looking at herself in the mirror.

"I'm sure. Wenwen, look at how beautiful you are when you are wearing it. Your friends will envy you when they see this," said the man. Suddenly he turned to Wang Xian and asked, "Young chap, don't you think it's beautiful too?"

"Yes, it is." Wang Xian nodded in agreement.

"Haha, see! Young chap, you don't have to envy me. Work hard and earn more money in the future. Till then, you can also get one for your girlfriend," the middle-aged man patted Wang Xian on his shoulder, "It's a pity that this necklace is the best among all. If there were better ones, I'd buy them for you, Wenwen."

"Uncle, you're so nice to me." Wenwen looked at him

"Haha, of course, I'm nice to you. Even though I'm slightly old, no young chaps can be comparable to me," said the middle-aged man confidently.

"Ahem, Uncle, I have better pearls over here. I wonder if you have any interest in them," Wang Xian pursed his lips and said. He looked at the man who was diligently 'guiding' and 'teaching' him. In actual fact, the man was trying to bring himself up.

This man was a sly fox. He put in good words for himself by stepping on others without being too obvious.

Wise men do not cut someone down to size. This fellow not only stepped on others, but he was also stepping on Wang Xian to prove himself.

Chapter 22: Who Didn't Know How to Show Off Pompously?

When the middle-aged man heard what Wang Xian said, he was slightly shocked.

"What did you say? You have better pearls?"

The middle-aged man looked at him with doubts and started chuckling soon after. In a demeaning and mocking way, he said, "Brat, do you even know what a pearl is? What are natural and wild pearls? Do you know about the colors and quality differentiation?"

"I didn't find out about them in the past so I don't know about that. However, I have some pearls with me and they are indeed better than those pearls this beautiful lady is wearing."

As he spoke, he took out the pearls from his pocket one after another. "Natural pearls. As for their condition, I'm not too sure about that. Nonetheless, these are definitely much better than yours."

"What pearls do you have there?" The middle-aged man saw the pearls in Wang Xian's hands and was filled with doubt. However, nonchalance was written all over his face. "Natural pearls are valuable treasures. How could yours be real?"

Wang Xian's lip was slightly drawn upon hearing what the middle-aged man said. "We will know once we get them to appraise the pearls."

Wang Xian headed over to the service attendant at the cabinet and asked, "Does this shop collect pearls?"

The service attendant looked at Wang Xian with astonishment. She nodded her head and replied, "Yeah we do but we only collect pearls in good condition."

"In that case, please help me take a look at these and give me an appraisal of the value," Wang Xian said to the service attendant.

"Alright Mister, please wait a minute. I'll go and get my manager." The service attendant saw the pearls in his hands and immediately went to the back of the shop to call the manager over.

"These pearls are really huge!" At this moment, the beautiful lady just beside him was looking at the pearls in Wang Xian's hands in astonishment.

Wang Xian smiled and answered carefreely, "20mm. Just slightly larger than those you are wearing. These pearls are round and without flaws. I believe they are worth at least several hundreds of thousands."

The beautiful lady's mouth gaped open.

The middle-aged man's face took on a ghastly expression and he said, "We aren't even sure if they are real. If they are real, you must be really lucky."

"Hehe."

Wang Xian chuckled, "These are just some pearls. So what if they are real? It's just several hundreds of thousands."

Showing off! Wang Xian was openly doing it in front of him. As compared to the middle-aged man's subtle way of doing it, his way was more direct.

"Several hundreds of thousand is already really expensive," the beautiful lady beside him commented.

"It isn't, it isn't. It's just several hundreds of thousands." Wang Xian shook his head as he remarked. The way he was acting currently was very similar to a property tycoon. "After starting my business for some years, I still have some wealth."

"Awesome! To start a business when you are still so young," the beautiful lady replied in astonishment.

This caused the middle-aged man beside her to take on a ghastly expression. What the hell! This ordinarily dressed brat sure is great at boasting.

"Sir, please let our manager take a look at your pearls." At this moment, the service attendant walked over and spoke to him.

Wang Xian nodded his head and handed the pearls to the female manager on the other side of the cabinet.

When the manager took over the pearls from his hands, her face was filled with bewilderment. She immediately took out a magnifying glass to take a closer look.

"Natural pearls! These are natural pearls."

The manager was shocked. After which, she took out a ruler to measure.

"20mm natural pearls without any trace of impurities. Round and without any flaws. This is simply unbelievable. These pearls are of the highest quality even among the highest quality pearls."

The manager couldn't contain her astonishment.

"Of course!" Wang Xian was pleasantly surprised. Wang Xian had checked the value of 20mm natural pearls online and they were really valuable. Moreover, if the pearls were made into a string of necklace, the value would be even higher.

"Mister, are you looking to sell these pearls?" the manager looked at Wang Xian and asked frantically.

"I'm selling. May I know how much you could offer me?" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"This..." The manager frowned. This was the first time she'd seen such precious pearls and therefore she couldn't determine a price at the moment.

"$500k. Mister, are you alright with the offer?" The manager threw out an offer price.

"$500k?" When Wang Xian heard this offer price, he was rather satisfied but he didn't agree to it immediately. "I'm selling quite a few of them. Is it possible to increase the price a little more?"

"What? Mister, do you have more pearls with such grade?" The manager looked at him with astonishment.

Wang Xian smiled and took out all the pearls from his pocket.

There were a total of 16 pearls with four white, four black, four gold and four pink pearls.

Each pearl was almost the same size and gave off a mesmerizing glow.

The manager's eyes popped wide open. "Oh my gosh... You have so many and every single one of them is of the highest quality."

"16 pearls could be used to make an entire set of pearl jewellery or into a pearl necklace. I believe that the offer price could be increased a little more." Wang Xian looked at the shocked expression of the manager and spoke with a giggling smile.

"Wow, these pearls are so beautiful!" The beautiful lady took a look at the pearl and jade jewellery on her before looking at the pearls in Wang Xian's hand. They were completely of a different grade.

"With so many pearls, wouldn't it mean that these are worth at least $8 million?" The beautiful lady's eyes popped wide open and her jaw dropped.

Wang Xian glanced at the beautiful lady and middle-aged man and said, "Yeah, these are worth at least $8 million. However, if it's just $8 million, I clearly wouldn't sell them. Hey uncle, if you are interested and can offer me a suitable price, I can sell them to you."

As he spoke, the corners of his mouth arced upwards.

The middle-aged man couldn't help but feel his mouth twitching. He had a heavy expression on his face and kept silent.

"Mister, Deep-sea Jewellery would like to purchase your pearls." At this moment, the manager got a little flustered upon hearing what Wang Xian said.

Top grade pearls had always been in demand but there might not be a supply for it. Moreover, natural pearls were hard to come by. If she could purchase these 16 top grade pearls and make them into a set of jewellery or even just a pearl necklace, it would definitely become the attraction of Deep-sea Jewellery.

"Mister, please wait a minute. I'm not authorized to make decisions for transactions in the range of over $10 million. Please wait a moment while I report this to the headquarters."

"Alright!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Please come in." The manager opened the small door leading to the back of the cabinet in a hurry and said to Wang Xian.

"Mm." Wang Xian nodded his head. When he walked to the position of the middle-aged man, he paused. He lifted his hand, patted his shoulder and said, "Uncle, if you wish to woo a beautiful lady, you've got to work hard. After all, there are many rich young men nowadays and you are already so old. Money is one aspect but you have to be sincere too. Hehe."

As Wang Xian spoke, he put on a demeanor of an elder educating a younger guy. After which, Wang Xian headed to the waiting room in the back of Deep-sea Jewellery shop.

Who didn't know how to show off pompously nowadays? Even if you couldn't, you would at least know how to boast, right?

However to show off in front of others, one would still need to have some capital. Wang Xian believed that he still had the capital to do so currently.

Whoever wishes to show off in front of me has to assess themselves first.

The middle-aged man was extremely displeased. After seeing Wenwen who seemed to be hesitating, his displeasure was even more apparent.

After all, he was already over 40 years old. The only advantage he had was that he had family assets of more than $10 million.

Chapter 23: Acquaintance

"Sir, please wait for a moment. My company is sending someone down. Please have some tea while waiting."

The manager from the Deep-sea Jewelry poured and handed a cup of tea zealously to him in the waiting room.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded, "No problem. I'll just wait here. No hurry."

"Great."

Wang Xian made himself comfortable in the waiting room as he felt funny when he thought of the middle-aged man whom he'd met just now.

"Is the seller inside?"

After 20 minutes, Wang Xian heard a girl from the outside.

"Sir, sorry to keep you waiting. This is our in-charge from the company."

Just then, a pretty girl who was in professional attire followed behind the manager as the manager introduced her to Wang Xian.

"Hi." Wang Xian stood up and stretched out his hand.

"Eh?"

"Eh?"

Wang Xian gasped as he looked at the familiar girl in front of him.

The girl before him was slightly shocked to see Wang Xian too.

"Wang Xian?" she raised her eyebrows and asked.

"Chairman Lan!"

Wang Xian did not expect an acquaintance to be here. Moreover, she was a senior in the school – Lan Qingyue.

Lan Qingyue was the vice-chairman of the student council at the University of Rivertown. Wang Xian had met her a few times before.

However, Lan Qingyue was not expecting Wang Xian to be the seller who wanted to sell the premium grade pearls.

She knew a fair bit about Wang Xian.

He was a year-one student, and they'd met a few times when he was looking for some part-time jobs in school.

She remembered the guy in front of her was working for the entire year, even during his school holiday.

He part-timed in school and outside of school too.

For quite some time, as the vice-chairman of the student council, she took on the chairman role for the students' affairs club and was responsible for the part-time work in school.

Back then, Wang Xian was part-timing non-stop. So, she was quite familiar with his family's situation.

His parents were not around, and he was left living with his younger sister. Hence, he had to be responsible for his sister's livelihood. Back at that time, Lan Qingyue had a deep impression of him as she had due respect for this guy.

"What a coincidence!" Wang Xian grinned and said to her.

"Yes!"

"Director Lan, do you know this gentleman?" the manager asked in astonishment.

"Schoolmates." Lan Qingyue nodded with a smile.

"That will be even better, Director Lan. Both of you take a seat, and I'll get you some water," said the manager quickly.

"The rumors in the school are real."

Upon seeing the manager's attitude, Wang Xian thought of the rumors in the school saying that her family owned a significant listed company, and they were an affluent family. In the future, she would be taking over the large-scale family business.

But he did not expect that she was already handling her family business before she turned year three.

"Wang Xian, I never expected you would be the seller," said Lan Qingyue indifferently to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian chuckled and checked out Lan Qingyue who was in office attire. She gave off a cool and distant vibe.

She had a great figure, but she was the type who seemed remote and aloof. In school, she was known as the Ice Queen.

She and Guan Shuqing were two different characters. Guan Shuqing was a goddess that was friendly yet reserved.

But Lan Qingyue was a goddess who kept her distance at arm's length.

"I was not expecting you either."

"Can you show me the pearls?" Lan Qingyue peered at the pearl on the table.

"Of course." Wang Xian nodded and showed her.

Lan Qingyue placed four pearls of different colors in her palm.

"This is gorgeous!" she exclaimed. "16 pearls could make one or two sets of jewelry or a string of necklace."

"I wonder how much you are asking for," asked Lan Qingyue.

"Name me your price." Wang Xian smiled and replied.

"How about $600,000 for one?" Lan Qingyue asked with a grin.

"Deal." Wang Xian nodded without asking for a higher price, as $600,000 for a pearl was already a remarkable price.

16 pearls would bring him $9.6 million. With the $1.75 million that he had, he would have over $10 million in total.

Within a few days, Wang Xian turned into a millionaire!

"I thought you would raise your price." Lan Qingyue was a little stunned by Wang Xian's unconditional agreement. "You are making me uneasy. Let's make it a round sum, $10 million."

"Thank you!" Wang Xian laughed and nodded.

"Can I ask where you got these pearls from?" Lan Qingyue asked with her curiosity piqued.

"From the sea," Wang Xian answered with a grin. "If I have more pearls in the future, I'll come and look for you."

"Sure." Upon hearing that, Lan Qingyue was slightly stunned. Can pearls be found so easily?

"Let's add each other on Wechat. I will look for you when I have more pearls," Wang Xian told her.

"Great!" Lan Qingyue nodded and smiled. "Let's go to the bank to transfer the money."

"Sure." Wang Xian nodded and followed her out. The maximum limit for online bank transfers was set at five million. Hence, they needed to go to the bank to do a transfer instead.

Before they could exit through the door, three juveniles walked into Deep-sea Jewelry. Three of them were wearing formal clothing in the summer. When they saw Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue, they exchanged gazes with each other.

"Don't move and don't make a noise. Otherwise, I will kill both of you."

Suddenly, the three of them aimed black handguns drawn out from their pockets at them.

Lan Qingyue and Wang Xian were stunned immediately as they looked ghastly at them.

"Close the store now! Hurry! Otherwise, I'll kill both of you immediately."

One of them pointed the handgun at one of the salesgirl's head.

"Ah!"

That salesgirl raised her hands shockingly. All the salespeople and the manager behind the counters in the shop got a fright.

"Stop screaming and close the door now. Don't think of staying alive if the police are here."

That juvenile barked ferociously at everyone.

"No, don't kill me." The salesgirl walked to the door and shut it while shuddering in fear.

There were no other customers in the store at this time except for six salesgirls and a manager. Once the door was closed, people from the outside had a limited view of whatever happened in the shop.

"Squat down on the floor. Hurry." The robber who was pointing his gun at Wang Xian shouted to everyone.

Wang Xian was slightly stupefied as he did not expect he would encounter a robbery. After all, robbery was not a common thing in modern day.

"Squat down!" The robber in front of Wang Xian barked at him again.

Wang Xian looked at the shiny black muzzle and squatted down.

Lan Qingyue squatted down and stared at the three robbers with a horrified look on her face.

"Quick, take all the jewelry now."

A robber pointed the handgun towards Wang Xian and the rest of the people.

"Okay, okay." The other robber took out a hammer hidden in his clothes and smashed the glass counters.

Chapter 24: Robbery

Ring ring ring~

When the hammer landed on the glass, the security alarm of the jewellery shop went off.

"Hurry, hurry. Damn it, the alarm system is activated. The security personnel will be here at any moment," a robber roared loudly.

"Boss, the glass here is too solid." The robber with the hammer growled softly with a ghastly expression when he noticed only a few cracks appeared on the glass after hammering it.

"Leave this to me." Another young man looked across with a vicious expression. He took over the hammer and the veins on his fist were bulging out.

Bam! The hammer landed on the glass and smashed open a hole directly. He continued to smash the glass with the hammer.

"This is bad. The anti-bullet glass has been smashed open." Lan Qingyue, who had been squatting down and paying attention to the situation, was shocked at what she discovered.

"Shut your mouth," the robber, who had a gun and was standing beside Lan Qingyue, roared. When he saw she had a piece of jewellery around her neck, a hint of joy surfaced on his face. He extended his hand over and demanded, "Give me this."

"No." Lan Qingyue saw the robber reaching towards her and immediately took two steps back. In the process, she fell back and sat onto the floor.

"Huh?I didn't expect that you are rather pretty." When the robber saw Lan Qingyue's face, he was amazed and revealed a perverted expression.

"Don't move or I will shoot open a hole on your body. Hehe." The robber pointed the gun at Lan Qingyue.

"Damn it. We don't have time for this. Just keep a close watch on them." The young man hammering the glass counter roared at the other robber with the gun after hearing the commotion. At the same time, he grabbed the jewelry in the glass cabinet rapidly.

As for the other robber, he was pointing his gun at another service attendant and ordering him to open the cabinet with their keys.

"Boss, she has a top grade jade pendant on her. I'll get it." This robber seemed to be very wary of the young man who'd shouted at him previously. With a hideous look on his face, he reached out and grabbed towards Lan Qingyue. "If you resist any further, I'll kill you."

"No." Lan Qingyue had completely lost her usual cold demeanor. She protected the jade pendant around her neck helplessly and seemed determined to protect something extremely important in her heart.

"Damn it. You are seeking your own death." The robber reached over directly and grabbed towards Lan Qingyue's neck. With a forceful pull, he ripped the necklace over.

"Give it back." Lan Qingyue felt pain cruising through her neck but still extended her hand over to try to get the pendant back.

"Damn you, bitch." The robber growled angrily as he looked at the two trails of blood on his arm caused by Lan Qingyue's nails. "I'm going to strip you naked!"

He reached over and started tearing Lan Qingyue's clothes apart.

Tssss...

"Ahhhh!"

Lan Qingyue's professional working attire was ripped apart immediately. Her shoulders and fair skin were revealed.

"Huh?" When Wang Xian saw the robber trying to reach over once again after ripping open Lan Qingyue's clothes, he frowned.

He covered Lan Qingyue in his embrace, stared at the robber and said, "Don't go any further. You have already taken what you wanted."

"Brat, are you trying to play the hero here? Hehe?" That robber pointed the gun at Wang Xian and sneered.

Wang Xian stared at the robber and didn't complete his sentence out of fear. Lan Qingyue was in his embrace, completely petrified.

"I'm going to strip her naked right in front of you and let you take a look. Haha!" That robber laughed hideously. As he spoke he pointed the gun at Wang Xian with one hand while reaching towards Lan Qingyue with the other hand.

Lan Qingyue held tightly to Wang Xian's arm out of fear.

"Damn it." Wang Xian looked at the arrogant robber reaching over his hand with a hideous smile. At this moment, a cold and vicious intent flashed past Wang Xian's eyes.

Crack crack! At this instant, Wang Xian suddenly took action. He reached his hand over and grabbed towards the robber's arm.

His hands were like dragon claws and sank directly onto the robber's arms. Exerting some force, Wang Xian broke the robber's arm.

Bam!

He lifted his leg and kicked it towards the robber's chest. The strong force sent the robber into the wall directly as the robber lost consciousness from the pain.

"Scumbag, incompetent bugger." The other two robbers heard the commotion and pulled out their guns immediately.

Wang Xian saw the two robbers pointing their guns at him. At that instant, cold sweat was breaking out from his forehead.

Lan Qingyue looked at the robbers pointing their guns at them in horror. She was desolated.

"Damn!"

Bang! Bang!

When she heard the gunshots, she could feel the fear of death engulfing her.

However at this very moment, a figure pounced onto her and gripped her tightly in his embrace.

Tsss." Ouch!"

Wang Xian could feel the intense pain spreading from the back. However, after the pain sensation subsided, he didn't feel any misery.

"My body can withstand bullets."

Wang Xian was surprised. The reason why he wasn't taking action was because the other parties had guns with them. He was afraid that with the durability of his body, it would still be insufficient to withstand a bullet attack.

"Don't move, don't move." He said softly to Lan Qingyue in his arms.

"You... Are you alright, Wang Xian?" Tears were streaming down Lan Qingyue's face. She heard the two soft gunshots and also the sounds of bullets hitting his back.

The guns had silencers installed on them.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have resisted. The jade pendant was a gift from my grandmother when she passed away. I'm...sorry," Lan Qingyue said miserably as she thought Wang Xian had been injured by the bullets.

"It's alright, it's alright." Wang Xian shook his head.

What the hell. Girls are really a drag. If she didn't resist previously, the robber would not have fired. Furthermore, she's even crying out loud now. What if she attracts the attention of the robbers again? Why doesn't she have the demeanor of the Ice Queen?

"I'm sorry to have let you down. I'm sorry." Lan Qingyue held on to Wang Xian as she cried.

"Hurry, let's go. Three minutes had passed and security is coming. We've got to hurry!"

At this moment, the robber took the bag of jewellery and shouted at the other robber.

"Alright, boss."

The two robbers headed to the exit in a hurry.

"Boss, what should we do with our companion?" The robber looked at his companion on the floor and asked anxiously.

"Incompetent bugger! Leave him here."

The boss had a cold expression as he opened the door with force.

"Hurry, let's go!"

At this moment, Wang Xian silently pried open Lan Qingyue's grip on his arm.

Before Lan Qingyue could react to it, Wang Xian flipped up and landed a punch directly on one of the robbers.

Bam!

The current Wang Xian had enormous strength. He smashed his punch directly on his back with the robber completely off guard.

A crisp sound propagated as the robber fell to the ground with a thud.

"Bastard, die!"

The other robber reacted to the situation quicker than Wang Xian had expected him to.

"Die." That robber threw his punch towards Wang Xian's face with awe.

"This is bad, he's super strong!"

Wang Xian was shocked but wasn't fearful. He clenched his fist too and struck towards the robber's head.

Bam!

He could feel that this robber's punch was heavy and he was very strong. However, the robber was still slightly weaker than him.

Crack!

A clear and crisp sound propagated as a shocked expression surfaced on the robber's face.

Chapter 25: Mighty Physique

Boom!

The moment the robber's fist cracked, Wang Xian stomped his foot on his chest. The robber fell onto the shutter door as he held his chest in pain.

"You...you..." With wide open eyes, he stared at Wang Xian in disbelief. "You are a Martial Artist..."

"Hur?" Wang Xian was confused by 'Martial Artist.'

"Voila!"

Just then, the shutter door was prised from the outside. A team of security guards stormed in with electric batons.

"What's going on? What happened? A robbery?" a fit and well-built middle-aged man asked in a loud voice.

"Captain Li, someone is here to rob our jewelry shop."

The manager acted quickly as he sprinted over and pointed at the three robbers. Subsequently, he scurried to Lan Qingyue and asked, "Director Lan, are you all right?"

"Yes, I'm fine."

Lan Qingyue seemed to be in a daze. She pulled her clothes together and looked at Wang Xian.

"I'm fine too."

Wang Xian sensed her gaze. He felt the tear in his skin and the bleeding at his back, but it was not anything serious. Given that he owned a dragon body, he should be fully recovered in one to two days.

"Director Lan, put this on." The manager quickly took off his jacket and put it on her when he saw the clothes on Lan Qingyue were torn.

"Okay," Lan Qingyue stood up and walked to Wang Xian, "Are you really all right? I saw they shot at you. Let me check your back."

"I'm fine. Their guns might be fake. The impact wasn't as powerful." Wang Xian smiled and shook his head.

"Let me see it." Lan Qingyue checked his back and spotted the blood stains on his white shirt. She covered her mouth, "It's bleeding. I'll call the ambulance. You have to get to the hospital now."

"It's okay," Wang Xian shook his head again and bared his back, "Look, it's okay. I guess it's just a slight tear."

"Yes, he is fine. Just a slight tear." Captain Li took a look and told one of the security guards, "Call the police now and send them to the station. Manager Huang, check if you have any losses."

"I'm glad that you are fine." Lan Qingyue was scared stiff as it was her first encounter with a robbery. She felt her heart warming as she looked at the fit and muscular back. She could not stop thinking about the hug just now.

"We will do the bank transfer tomorrow then. Go back and get some rest."

"No...it's okay. I'm fine. I better accompany you to the hospital for a check-up. I hope your wound won't get any infection." Lan Qingyue shook her head.

"It's nothing. The injuries I got from my childhood times were even more serious than this. It was fine then," Wang Xian shook his head and pointed at her clothes. "You should get some rest. Your clothes..."

Lan Qingyue looked down at her clothes and blushed, "I will get the company to transfer the money to you today."

"Sure." Wang Xian was not afraid that Lan Qingyue or Deep-sea Jewelry would repudiate the payment. He saved her and her company big time today. He believed they would not decline to pay that $10 million to him.

"I still have something going on. Got to go. You better get some rest," said Wang Xian to Lan Qingyue. He waved his hand and walked out.

"Director Lan, I've already reported this to the CEO. They will be arriving soon," Manager Huang walked over and told Lan Qingyue. "They are worried for you."

"Okay." Lan Qingyue acknowledged briefly as she watched Wang Xian leaving.

Manager Huang followed her gaze and looked over. She sighed softly when she thought of the courageous moment performed by the young man just now.

If she were any younger, she would also fall for the young and suave man who saved and shielded her from a bullet.

Buzz!

Just then, Lan Qingyue's phone rang. Upon seeing her mother's call, she picked up immediately.

"What luck I have for encountering a robbery when I'm here just to sell my pearls."

After Wang Xian walked out from the jewelry store, he shook his head.

However, the fact that his body could block a bullet caught him by surprise.

That was a bullet!

"If I can block a bullet when I'm only at Level Two, does that mean I can defend from a sniper rifle or a grenade when I'm at Level Three or Four. Then if I'm at Level Eight or Nine, will I survive a bomb? I have not even attained the First Transformation yet. If I did, wouldn't I be invincible?"

Wang Xian was thrilled over it. The mightiness of the Divine Dragon's body beyond his expectations.

"I wonder where that robber drew his mighty strength from, and what Martial Artists he was talking about?" Wang Xian suddenly thought of the things that the robber had just said. "Could there be Martial Artists in this world?"

Wang Xian pondered to himself. He looked around and walked to a shopping mall.

Su Nan Shopping Mall was a large and grand shopping mall that acted as a landmark in the city center. Wang Xian was ready to splurge in the mall.

He did not have just $1.7 million, but he had $11.7 million now. Even though he has yet to receive the $10 million, it was a done deal.

"I want to change my phone to the latest model and get three sets of branded clothes."

Wang Xian walked into a few renowned branded shops and spent more than $50,000 on three sets of clothes.

"Time to go back."

Wang Xian looked at the things he'd bought with a satisfied face.

He walked out and rode his Harley motorcycle back to school.

Even though a Harley motorcycle looks cool, it isn't convenient at all. Should I get a driving license and buy a car?

Wang Xian looked at the shopping bags that were hanging on the bike and thought to himself.

Forget it, I think I better improve my strength. It's a waste of time learning how to drive.

Wang Xian threw his clothes on the bed and dumped all his old clothes away after he came back to his room.

Buzz.

Just then, the phone rang. Wang Xian opened the message sent by his younger sister.

"Brother, I just knocked off, and I'm bored. Xiao Mi went for her driving lesson and left me alone."

"Driving lesson?" Wang Xian saw his sister's message and got an idea. "Little Sis, you can take driving lessons too. I'll transfer you the money for it."

As he said this, he transferred $10,000 over to her.

"Brother, why did you transfer so much money to me? Where did you get the money from? I'm not learning to drive!"

Xiao Yu saw the $10,000 that her brother had transferred to her and got a shock.

"I earned some money over here. You can take driving lessons with Xiao Mi. I'll wait for you to drive me around."

Wang Xian said this to dismiss her sister. He did not tell her the truth.

He wanted to buy her a car when she arrived at school.

A branded car.

Chapter 26: An Incident

Bzz Bzz.

"A beautiful girl is giving me a treat. Hehe."

After staying in the dormitory room for an hour plus, Wang Xian received a message from Guan Shuqing saying that she definitely had to give him a treat today.

Wang Xian agreed to it. After the outdoor cooking the previous day, the relationship between the two of them was clearly no longer just about friendship.

Wang Xian changed into a set of fine clothing. The pair of white casual shorts and black short sleeve t-shirts cost $10k each.

However, these weren't the most extravagant pieces. Wang Xian also took out the Nike shoes that cost $800k.

This pair of Nike shoes was the Nike MAG; Back to the Future 2, a limited release worldwide.

He got these shoes from the young man riding the heavy-duty motorcycle, who had bought them overseas to show off to others.

In the end, the shoes fell into Wang Xian's hands. Wang Xian had initially wanted to sell them. However, since he had the money currently, he no longer had to sell them and could wear them himself.

This pair of shoes was not just filled with technology. Moreover, the design was great and extremely comfortable.

It was also a great match for Wang Xian's clothes.

After changing into the new clothes and being modified by dragon energy, Wang Xian had a unique aura around him.

After parking his Harley at one side of the road, Wang Xian waited by the school gate.

Guan Shuqing found a translation job and was about to knock off from work right now. She had asked him to wait for her at the school gate for a moment.

"Huh?" At this moment, Wang Xian heard screams of shock. He turned his head over and his attention landed on a girl in front of him.

The girl was wearing a white dress and carrying a LV bag. She had makeup on her face, had a great figure and could be considered very beautiful.

As compared to before, her dressing was more fashionable. She was none other than the girl who Wang Xian was once fond of, Qi Chuchu.

Qi Chuchu also noticed Wang Xian and looked at him with astonishment.

As compared to the quiet and ordinarily dressed guy, in her opinion, the current Wang Xian was better dressed.

Moreover, he was emitting a unique aura.

"He's just wearing some $10 new clothing." Qi Chuchu thought to herself reluctantly.

"What are you doing here? You don't have to work?"

Qi Chuchu adjusted her LV bag and beautiful dress while speaking plainly to Wang Xian.

"I'm waiting for someone." Wang Xian smiled at her and was clearly no longer interested in her.

As compared to Guan Shuqing, Qi Chuchu was a far distance behind.

"Oh, what a coincidence. I'm also waiting for someone." Qi Chuchu glanced at Wang Xian and a smile appeared gradually on her face. "I'm waiting for my boyfriend to come and fetch me."

Seeing that Wang Xian wasn't replying to her, she got a little angered. "Don't you have work today?"

"Nope, I already have enough money to spend." Wang Xian smiled.

"Enough?" When Qi Chuchu heard his words, her face was filled with belittling and deprecating vibes. "Didn't you say that your sister would be attending the same school and you will let her lead a comfortable university life? Do you know how expensive this bag is? How expensive the makeup cosmetic products are? Just the bag in my hand will cost more than $10 thousand."

As she spoke, she flicked her hair with a strong sense of superiority.

When she was talking, three to four young men were also waiting for others at the same location.

They took a glance at Qi Chuchu before looking at Wang Xian.

"As long as I have sufficient money to spend, it will be fine for me. As for the bag, as long as it can be used, I'm fine with it." After hearing the deprecating words of Qi Chuchu, Wang Xian just smiled faintly.

"Every girl would hope to be able to buy bags they like and makeup cosmetics." Qi Chuchu laughed. "You aren't really a qualified brother!"

"Hehe." Wang Xian smiled and didn't bother to entertain the materialistic Qi Chuchu. Looking at a materialistic girl like her now, she looked more like a clown.

When the group of young men heard what Qi Chuchu said, they were slightly shocked. A young man pointed at Wang Xian's shoes and mumbled to his companions.

His other two companions looked over and were shocked. After which, they took a closer look at Wang Xian's clothes.

"That's a Harley Heavy-duty motorcycle. It's a Harley! So cool."

At this moment, the group of young men saw the Harley motorcycles behind Wang Xian. They couldn't help but reveal their fondness for the vehicle.

"It's too cool. This Harley probably costs at least a few hundred thousand."

"Eh, nope nope. This Harley has been specially modified and should be a custom made version. Custom made Harley is even more expensive. Harley Electra Glide is sold at over $400k on the official website. A special custom version would definitely be more expensive. I've got a friend who had one custom made and it cost over $800k. However, that is still a far cry from this."

"In that case, wouldn't this be over a million?"

The group of young men walked over in awe and were exclaiming as they looked.

Qi Chuchu heard what they said and turned her head over in astonishment. "Yeah, it's pretty cool."

Wang Xian noticed that there were a few people crowding around his ride. A smile appeared on his face.

"A heavy-duty motorcycle is cool but still couldn't be compared with a car," he said faintly.

"Tsk, what do you know about these?" Qi Chuchu heard what he said and looked at him with disdain. "You will never be able to afford a car like this."

Wang Xian chuckled upon hearing what she said. The group of young men also looked over with surprise.

"My boyfriend is here. Where are you going, do you need a ride?" Qi Chuchu saw a BMW 5 Series car driving towards her and spoke in a deprecating manner at Wang Xian.

"It's alright."

"Chuchu." At this moment, the BMW stopped by the side. A young man that looked just slightly over 20 years old stepped out. He looked a little skinny and weak and his complexion was a little pale. What's more prominent was that he had a protruded mouth and an ape-like chin. To sum it up, he looked a little ugly.

The young man walked over and opened his arms slightly for an embrace.

"Brother Qing." Qi Chuchu walked over and hugged the young man directly. At the same time, she gave him a kiss.

"Who are you talking to?" the young man wrapped his arms around Qi Chuchu's waist and asked with a smile.

"Just a guy who tried to woo me in the past. Tsk. Aiming for someone completely out of his league." Qi Chuchu pouted slightly and giggled.

"Oh?" That young man looked at Wang Xian and took out a cigarette. He looked at Wang Xian with disdain and said, "Hey brother, do you have the capability to go after Chuchu?"

Wang Xian saw the young man talking to him and was slightly shocked. A cold smirk appeared on his face. He looked at the BMW 5 Series before looking at his shoes.

A faint mocking expression surfaced on his face.

When the group of young men heard the conversation, they were shocked too. When they heard what the girl said previously, they were already a little surprised. Right now, they were completely stunned.

They looked at that BMW before looking at the shoes of Wang Xian.

"I recalled a scene suddenly."

A young man saw his other two companions pointing to the BMW suddenly before pointing to Wang Xian's shoes.

"Can you remember the day I asked you out to play? I was wearing Nikes. When you appeared, you turned around and left with a guy with trendy clothes and driving a BMW 5 series. What you might not know is that his car is worth $600k but my Nikes are worth $810k."

The voice of the young man was loud and clear and everyone could hear it. It was especially so as the young man was pointing his finger.

Chapter 27: Night Out At Sea

Qi Chuchu and the young man at her side were stunned by the juvenile.

The juvenile pointed to the BMW car and the shoes on Wang Xian's feet.

"Nike MAG; Back to the Future 2!" the juvenile who spoke exclaimed again.

Qi Chuchu and the young man stared at that pair of Nike shoes that Wang Xian was wearing.

The young man was wide-eyed as his eyes were full of disbelief. Qi Chuchu was also dumbstruck as she could not believe her ears.

Wang Xian looked at them impassively before he saw Guan Shuqing walking towards him. He immediately grinned and waved to her.

"Sorry to keep you waiting."

Guan Shuqing scampered over and saw the zestful and good-looking Wang Xian. A faint smile surfaced on her face.

"It's okay. I just got here too." Wang Xian shook his head.

"Let's go, I'll treat you to dinner in the old street." Guan Shuqing beamed at Wang Xian as she spoke.

"Sure, anything would do," Wang Xian nodded. "I'm riding a motorcycle."

Wang Xian headed to the Harley motorcycle and unlocked it with a key.

"Wow, a Harley motorcycle. Looks like you're really rich." Guan Shuqing looked at him with astonishment.

She thought Wang Xian might be making some money, but it was less expected that he would be rich enough to afford a Harley motorcycle.

"Someone gave it to me. Unfortunately, I don't have a car license yet. So, I could only ride this motorcycle."

Wang Xian grinned, "Do you mind sitting behind?"

"Hehe, you are not using this motorcycle for wooing girls, right?" Guan Shuqing looked at him and teased him.

But, she went on to sit at the back.

Wang Xian chuckled and replied, "I guess to woo girls with this is not as effective as a BMW."

"Hehe," Guan Shuqing laughed, "Let's go and have some meat skewers."

"Sure." Wang Xian nodded. He started the engine and rode towards the old street.

Guan Shuqing stared at the back of the guy in front of her. With some hesitation, she held his waist.

"Cool, he is so freaking cool!"

"That pair of shoes and the Harley motorcycle are about 2 million dollars. He's loaded."

"I envy him. He's actually wearing a pair of shoes that is $800,000. Such a filthy rich man."

The three juveniles looked at the Harley motorcycle that took off. Slowly, they shifted their focus to Qi Chuchu and the other young man.

Flaunting your BMW? The price of your BMW is incomparable to that one pair of shoes.

Just now, the girl even told the young guy to stop dreaming about riding a Harley.

That young man also told him that he did not have the capital.

Now, that was a slap in their faces!

He had a pair of shoes that was worth $700,000 to $800,000 and a Harley motorcycle that could easily cost a million. You guys still mocked him and asked if he has the capital?

At the same time, Qi Chuchu put on a different expression as she watched in disbelief as the Harley motorcycle zoomed off.

"How could he be loaded?" Qi Chuchu did not want to believe it. He was just a poor lad. How did he boost his wealth all of a sudden? And that girl just now. Wasn't she the famous belle, Guan Shuqing?"

Was he hiding his identity of a son from a wealthy family?

Regrets... Deepest regrets.

The young man observed the peculiar gazes from the three of them at the side with a sullen face. He was infuriated when he looked at Qi Chuchu with a face full of regret. "Let's go to the hotel."

A calm and peaceful encounter with Qi Chuchu was over. Not the slightest tinge of yearning was left. Instead, he detested her.

After dinner, he sent Guan Shuqing back to her dormitory. Wang Xian looked at the moon and the stars that were shining brightly in the sky. He made up his mind to head out for the sea.

"I want to improve my strength and make myself even more powerful."

When he'd learned that his body could resist a bullet this afternoon, Wang Xian decided to upgrade his strength as soon as possible so that he could grow stronger.

He did not ride his motorcycle. Instead, he took a cab outside of the school.

When he arrived at the beach, it was already 9 pm. Wang Xian watched the glistening waves under the moonlight.

He found a remote spot, took off his clothes, and jumped into the sea.

Transform into a dragon.

With a thought in his mind, he dived into the sea.

As a new-born dragon, he had no ability yet. To possess those Superpowers like Wind, Rain, Thunder, and Lightning would require the exchange with the Dragon Energy.

Dragon Race needed to cultivate for Superpowers and their physical body.

In Divine Dragon Transformation, there were Conversion Techniques for various attributes.

Dragon Energy could convert to wind, rain, and even thunder and lightning.

However, a mighty Divine Dragon would use Dragon Energy to upgrade his body into Wind Physique, Water Physique and Inferno Physique and many more.

After upgrading to Wind Physique or Water Physique, the attributes attacks would be much more powerful. With mighty physiques and invincible attributes, Divine Dragons would become the most powerful race in the universe.

Divine Dragons were also divided as Wind Divine Dragon, Fire Divine Dragon, Earth Divine Dragon, Thunder Divine Dragon, and so on.

Among all the Conversion Techniques of the Divine Dragon Transformation, he had yet to decide his cultivation direction in the future.

However, Wang Xian could enhance his body parts using Dragon Energy. For example, he could use the Dragon Energy to strengthen his claws or upgrade his eyes.

As a Divine Dragon, the darkness at night could never blind his vision.

Wang Xian dived into the sea and swam to the far end.

The ocean at night was as lively as it was in the day. Various fish and sea creatures were swimming in the sea.

To the fish, there was no day and night. In fact, most of the fish were active and hunting for food at night.

At Level Two, Wang Xian was not weak in his strength. Because of his mighty physical body and the power of a Divine Dragon, even a sea creature at Level Three would not be his match.

But if he saw a shark, he would not be able to outfight it. To devour marine life like the shark, he would need to wait until he advanced to Level Four.

For marine life such as Killer Whales, he would need to advance to at least a Level Five or Level Six.

Perhaps there are many other mysterious yet daunting marine animals in the vast ocean, Wang Xian thought to himself. He fixed his eyes on a grouper. With a jerk, he swam over and swallowed it.

"Bohai Sea has too little schools of fish. If there is a large school of fish in the ocean, my strength will improve quickly."

Wang Xian had been hunting, gobbling up the fish and converting them into Dragon Energy in the area.

But, the resources in the ocean were not abundant. Due to the wild hunting of the marine animals in the country, the resources were insufficient.

"Eh, there are hundreds of salmon ahead."

Wang Xian came to the spot where the Clam Girl was situated when he saw the school of salmon. He swam speedily and devoured them all at once.

"Dragon King!"

Sensing his arrival, the Clam Girl opened up her clamshell, revealing her clam flesh.

Clam Girl: Level Six

Art of Cultivation: Water Dragon Transformation

Superpower: None

After the Clam Girl became his subordinate, Wang Xian could read more information about her. The Clam Girl who was practicing her Water Dragon Transformation would become a strong existence for controlling the water element.

"Continue with your cultivation."

The Clam Girl had just started her cultivation not long before. Hence, there were not many changes to her. Wang Xian left his instruction with her and swam off to other surrounding areas to continue his hunting.

Chapter 28: A Massacre Triggered by a Bun (1)

Swish!

The sun rose into the skies and the rosy red sunlight shone on the sea surface, forming a uniquely beautiful scene. Wang Xian surfaced from within the seas with his naked body.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Able to transform into a Dragon)

Level: 2

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

"After a night of devouring, I have only increased my Dragon Energy by just over 700 points."

Wang Xian frowned. He wasn't very lucky the previous night as he did not encounter any school of fish like a school of ribbonfish. Therefore, he had only managed to increase his Dragon Energy by 700 points in a night.

Feeling his body getting stronger, a faint smile appeared on his face.

"Since I got stronger, I don't even feel that sleepy. However, the hunger still remains."

Wang Xian still couldn't survive without food at the moment. He swam to the shore, put on his clothes and leapt onto the road easily.

If there's anyone who saw this scene, their jaw would have definitely dropped. This was because Wang Xian jumped over four meters with a single leap!

Luckily, there weren't many people in the vicinity in the morning.

"There should be some places selling breakfast ahead."

Wang Xian looked at the surroundings and thought to himself. There's a seaside holiday resort right ahead. During this hot summer, it would simply be a luxury experience to be able to spend one's holiday there.

This resort was rather famous and the food and accommodations in it were rather luxurious.

Naturally, the expenses would also be very high.

After passing by the entrance of this Summer Sun Resort, Wang Xian looked ahead of him and discovered a few roadside stalls. There were already quite a number of people having breakfast around.

Wang Xian walked over and saw a stall selling deep-fried pancakes. He asked directly, "Boss, please give me five dollars of deep-fried pancakes and a bowl of soup."

"I'm sorry, son, we have sold out," replied the boss of the stall with a smile.

"So early?" Wang Xian was a little surprised.

"It's almost nine in the morning now. Moreover, there are more people working by the seaside recently," the boss explained.

Wang Xian nodded his head and headed to the stall just beside it.

After asking several stalls which gave similar replies, he felt a little helpless about the situation.

"Boss, do you still have some buns?" Wang Xian arrived at the last stall selling buns and asked the boss.

"Yeah, we have one last serving. Son, you are really lucky!" The boss smiled at him.

"That's great. Give me a serving of buns and a bowl of soup," Wang Xian replied before walking in and sitting down.

"Alright, please wait a minute," shouted the boss.

"The money has been transferred in." Wang Xian took out his phone and saw the notification messages. He suddenly got a little agitated.

Ten million. It's ten million. The money for the pearls sold just yesterday!

The edge of his mouth arched upwards.

"Boss, do you still have some buns?" At this moment, two middle-aged men walked in.

A slightly plump middle-aged man asked the boss.

The middle-aged boss looked at the two men before replying, "I'm sorry Misters, the last serving of buns has been ordered by that young man in the stall."

"Huh?" The slightly plump man frowned.

"Boss, what do you think about selling us this last serving of bun? We are willing to offer a higher price." At this moment, the other middle-aged man, who was standing beside the plump middle-aged men, asked the boss.

"This..." The boss felt a little uncomfortable about the idea. He shook his head and replied, "This isn't right. He ordered it first after all."

"Why isn't there any more breakfast?" The slightly plump middle-aged man grumbled unhappily.

"Director Li. It will be fine. Leave this to me. Just leave this to me." The plump middle-aged man seemed to be eager to get on the good books of the other middle-aged man. He turned his attention to Wang Xian who was sitting in the stall.

He walked forward directly into the stall and took out $100 from his pocket.

"Hey, pal." The middle-aged man walked beside him. Wang Xian lifted his head, feeling a little surprised.

"What's the matter?"

"Hey, pal, I'll like to buy the last serving of buns for $100!" said the middle-aged man as he placed the red cash note on the table in front of Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was slightly shocked. Looking at the $100 note, he kept his silence and simply smiled.

This serving of buns had cost him eight dollars. If it was like before, he would definitely agree to the suggestion happily. This was because he didn't have money in the past.

As for now, he wouldn't allow himself to go hungry for just $100.

Wang Xian shook his head and replied, "I'm sorry. I'm not selling."

The middle-aged man was surprised. He frowned and took out another $100 note from his pocket. "$200!"

"I'm not selling." Wang Xian shook his head.

"Huh?" The middle-aged man was clearly displeased at this point. He took out another $100 note and remarked, "$300. I'm not offering any higher!"

Wang Xian lifted his head and looked at the gold necklace around the middle-aged man's neck. "I'm not selling no matter what you are offering me."

"You little brat..." The middle-aged man had a ghastly expression upon hearing Wang Xian's reply.

"What's the matter, Mr. Song?" Director Li walked into the stall and asked the middle-aged man with a dissatisfied tone.

"It's alright, Director Li. I'm offering this brat money but he isn't willing to sell." The middle-aged turned his head over and explained embarrassingly.

"Isn't this area managed by Zhang Qianyuan?" Director Li remarked in a plain tone while looking at Wang Xian. He found Wang Xian a little familiar.

"Excuse me, Misters." At this point, the boss carried the bun and walked over.

When the middle-aged man heard what Director Li said, he understood the meaning behind it immediately. He looked at the boss of the stall and said coldly, "Boss, this area should be under Zhang Qianyuan, right? Do you need me to give Zhang Qianyuan a call?"

The boss was stunned for a moment when he heard the name of "Zhang Qianyuan". He immediately asked timidly, "Is there anything I can help you guys with?"

"Our Director Li hasn't got his breakfast," the middle-aged man replied before looking at Director Li who was beside him. "Director Li, please take a seat here."

"Alright." Director Li nodded his head and sat in the seat to the right of Wang Xian.

"This..." The boss was at a loss. Zhang Qianyuan was in charge of this street. Some of the facilities of this area had been modified by him. Anyone who wished to set up a stall here had to submit rentals to him. Although this place might look deserted, business here was great. Therefore this was a great place to do business for him and allowed him to feed his entire family.

The two middle-aged men weren't dressed like ordinary guys and had come in a luxurious car, which was parked right outside. For them to be able to call out Zhang Qianyuan's name, they should have some relationships between them.

"This... Son." The boss was fearful of offending the other party and turned to Wang Xian with an embarrassed expression. "Son, this... I'm sorry. Let me get some rice for you... For free... Are you... Are you..."

Wang Xian saw how the boss was acting and was clearly displeased. The boss was clearly wary of the influence these two guys had and would like to give the bun to these two middle-aged men.

He didn't blame the boss for this and just kept his vision on the middle-aged man and Director Li beside him.

He recognized this Director Li, as he was the boss of First-grade Seafood Restaurant. When Guan Shuqing had accidentally knocked over the arowana, he almost beat Guan Shuqing up in a fit of anger.

If it wasn't for Wang Xian previously, the consequences for Guan Shuqing would be hard to imagine.

With regard to Director Li, Wang Xian didn't have a good impression of him.

He was even trying to use his influence to bully others over a serving of buns.

"It's alright boss. Just get me a bowl of rice. You can give them the bun," Wang Xian said to the boss and didn't make things difficult for him.

"Alright, thank you, son. Thank you." The boss nodded his head in gratitude as he thanked Wang Xian.

"I was offering you $300 previously and yet you weren't willing to sell. Look at it now... Tsk!" The middle-aged man beside him sneered.

Chapter 29: A Massacre Triggered by a Bun (2)

At the bun stall, Wang Xian looked impassively at Director Li and the middle-aged man.

He was slightly embarrassed by the way they got their things done.

"I'll let you have a taste of regret when the time comes." Cold radiance flashed in Wang Xian's eyes. He was a tit-for-tat person.

The middle-aged man scorned at Wang Xian. Subsequently, he bowed and scraped as he passed the pair of chopsticks to Director Li. "Director Li, please have it. I had my breakfast. You reaped quite an amount of fish in your farm. I'm sure you'll sign the contract with the two countries in East Asia today."

"Heh, it's way within my expectation. Otherwise, I would not have loaned $20 million just to set up the fishery," said Director Li with an indifferent tonality. But his expression was full of complacency.

"This time, your profits will double. You're my boss from now on," the middle-aged man quickly added on.

"Sure, Xiao Zhao, I guarantee you that you will not lose out if you follow me. This year, the fishery will produce at least 300,000 kilograms of goods. The export price is $60 per 500 grams. That would be $36 million. After deducting costs and manpower, the profits can hit around $20 million. Your small little fish pond can expand after today." Director Li nodded with pride.

"Yes, Director Li. I'll follow you after this year. You got your investment capital back just within a year. That's awesome!"

"Heh, oh, right. Have you found a channel for my seafood? I am short on premium seafood supply in the First-grade Restaurant. The last supply channel was gone, and the school will reopen soon. The current situation doesn't look optimistic. This will tarnish my brand name. Besides, there is another high-class seafood restaurant opened beside me. Obviously, they want to steal my business."

"Director Li, leave this to me. I'll help you find one since I know the people from the fish market. Just leave it to me. The newly opened seafood restaurant will never surpass your First-grade Restaurant."

Fishery? Fish farms? Wang Xian was slightly stunned when he eavesdropped on their conversation about the fishery. He pondered to himself.

He put down the rice bowl, took out his phone and began to search for Rivertown Fish Farms.

"Oh, there are fish farms over here, and they are nearby." Wang Xian studied the information on his phone with a ray of sharp radiance flashing in his eyes.

He spun and looked at Director Li and that middle-aged man with his lips slightly drawn.

They quickly finished their meals and headed out.

Wang Xian stood up and followed them.

"Young man, I'm sorry." When Wang Xian was at the door paying two bucks, the boss of the stall apologized to him.

"It's okay." Wang Xian gestured. When he saw Director Li and the middle-aged man get in the Audi Q7, he quickly asked, "Boss, do you know where the nearest fishery is?"

"Fishery?" The boss was slightly stunned as he pointed in a direction in front of them, "The fishery zones in the Rivertown can be found 700 to 800 meters ahead."

"Oh, thank you!"

Wang Xian nodded as he beamed. The Audi was already gone in the direction that the boss had pointed out.

Wang Xian immediately followed in the same direction.

These two days, Wang Xian had never been there before as he always went out to the sea for hunting. Hence, he did not notice the fish farm.

Wang Xian sped up. True enough, he spotted Director Li's car parked along the roadside at the turning point 1,000 meters away.

He walked over and spotted the fish farms with nets all over the sea.

However, there was a protruding spot not far from there.

That region extended out to the land with a surface area of 40 hectares which was equivalent to a mini inland sea.

However, the region was surrounded by purse seine and other materials so as to form the best geographical location for the fishery.

At this time, Director Li and the middle-aged man were standing at the shore, surrounded by a group of workers.

A few fishing boats were parked within the fishery. From a distance, he could vaguely see various types of fish.

"There are so many fish here."

Wang Xian fixed his astonished eyes on the fishery.

"This is the fishery that belongs to that Director Li. According to what he said, there are 300,000 kilograms of fish over here." 300,000 kilograms. That is enough for him to advance to the next level.

Wang Xian was thrilled, but a cold-looking expression surfaced on his face. With a swift movement, he headed to the sea at the back.

He found a remote spot to take off his clothes and entered the sea.

Transform into a dragon.

As he moved, the golden Divine Dragon of one meter long swished his dragon tail and headed swiftly to the location where the fisheries were.

"There are many fish varieties in each fishery."

Wang Xian swam around and passed by many fisheries. But he did not enter to devour the fish.

The owners of these fisheries did not offend him. Wang Xian would not harm anyone else just to advance his levels.

He still had basic moral principles.

However, he would not spare that fishery of Director Li.

Soon, Wang Xian swam to the side of that fishery. Through the water, he could see Director Li and the middle-aged man on the shore.

"Eh? They actually used steel wire mesh."

Wang Xian saw the row of steel wire mesh at the opening that prevented the fish from escaping.

Wang Xian chuckled softly. He stretched out his claws and slammed it hard on the mesh.

Kakaka!

Soon, the steel wire mesh was broken, and Wang Xian entered.

"Voila!"

Large Yellow Croaker: Level 0

When he just entered the farm, he saw a Yellow Croaker of about 1 kilogram.

A smile surfaced on his face. As Wang Xian emanated his Dragon Power, the large Yellow Croaker shuddered and stayed still immediately.

At Level Two, his Dragon Power not only covered an area of 10 meters, but the marine animals within 10 meters, which were lower levels than him, would be oppressed and controlled by him.

At a size of one meter, Wang Xian opened his mouth and gulped down the fish.

The sea was about five to six meters deep. No one would discover Wang Xian at the bottom of the sea.

"Come, get some workers along with me to the sea and bring some fish up. When the partners from the two countries are here, we can also introduce the fish to them."

Just then, Wang Xian seemed to hear Director Li's voice. The sea water could not blur his vision as he looked up.

Director Li and the middle-aged man boarded a fishing boat, and one of the workers drove the boat to the center of the sea.

"Bring a few fish of different varieties up." Director Li ordered the worker at the side.

"Yes, boss." The worker nodded. He brought out a net and threw it into the fish farm casually.

Soon, dozens of bred fish like sea bass, Yellow Croaker, groupers and puffer fish were caught in the net. They were some of the goods from the fishery.

"Boss, the fish are good. I'm sure they can fetch a good price this year," said the worker holding the fish.

"Good. Not bad. Haha," Director Li laughed out. "When the people from the two countries are here, I'm sure our cooperation will be a breeze."

"I'm sure there will be no problem. After signing this contract, we can have our own supply channel. For the next few years, we will only earn big money." The middle-aged man fawned over Director Li.

"Yes." Director Li stood on the fishing boat and looked out at his fishery with excitement.

From now on, this place would be his Aladdin's cave.

Chapter 30: A Massacre Triggered by a Bun (3)

"Sign the contract?"

Wang Xian, who was at the bottom of the sea, revealed a tinge of coldness, upon hearing their conversation.

His turned his vision to the densely packed yellow croaker fish, sea bass, grouper and puffer fish around him and showed a faint smile.

"The massacre triggered by a bun is just about to start. This should let you know the consequences of offending me and also not to be so arrogant in your actions."

Wang Xian shifted his body and activated his Dragon Power. Different types of fish gathered tightly around him. Shifting his body again, all the fish were gathering towards him.

This place was different from the sea as the fish were all packed in a small area. Close to three hundred tons of fish were being bred in this confined area and they were free for him to devour.

The extractable dragon energy from bred fish are a little lower than those from the other fish. However, their strength lies in their large numbers.

Wang Xian got agitated and opened his mouth widely to devour fish after fish in a frenzied manner.

There were several hundreds of fish around him. Even if he was devouring one with each mouthful, it would still take a long time under normal circumstances.

Wang Xian's dragon energy was increasing at a terrifying pace. His body size was also growing rapidly from one meter at the beginning to approximately one and a half meters.

As for the fish in the fish farm, they were decreasing at a rapid pace.

"Great, this feels really great."

His strength was increasing rapidly. After an hour, Wang Xian's body size had reached close to two meters. His devouring speed had increased by ten times and was able to devour a dozen fish per mouthful.

And at this moment, Director Li, who was on shore, still had no idea what was happening within his fish farm.

There were six to seven men standing beside him beside the shore. These people were clearly not Chinese and Director Li was accompanying them with a cheerful grin.

"Hello everyone! This is my fish farm. It is the largest and the best fish farm in the entire Rivertown. We are different from those fish farms who do seine fish by the sea. Our farm is five meters deep and the fish we breed have qualities similar to those from the wild."

"We have yellow croaker fish, puffer fish, grouper and sea bass being reared right here. We have some of them right here and you are free to come and take a look at the quality."

Director Li spoke confidently to the group of people.

Among this group of people, two old men walked over. They squatted down, took a look at the fish in the sea and nodded their heads slightly. "The quality looks great from the exterior. However, if we are going to sign a long term cooperation agreement, we've got to understand more and in more detail," one of the old men said to Director Li.

"Naturally." Director Li nodded his head. "We can catch some fish from this place and ask the chef to cook them right away."

Since we are going to work together, we should help each other. There would definitely not be any problem."

"Great. I appreciate Director Li's honesty. If the fish are of top grade, we are willing to sign the contract with you," a middle-aged foreigner replied with a smile.

"In that case, please follow me. I believe that the fish from our farm will not disappoint you guys."

Director Li made an invitational pose to the group and the group of people boarded the fishing boat by the sea.

"Go to the center and catch a dozen fish to show our clients," Director Li walked forward and said to the worker at the fish farm.

"Alright, boss." The worker nodded his head, operated the fishing boat and headed towards the center of the fish farm.

"This fish farm is pretty big and could possibly produce quite a number of types of fish each year."

"If their fish meet our requirement, we could work with them. After all, their offer price and quantity are pretty attractive."

On the fishing board, the group of foreigners conversed softly in their own language.

Director Li noticed their expressions. He continued, "My fish farm could breed four to five hundred tons of fish. For this year, this number is about three hundred tons. The number would be even greater next year."

"Director Li, your fish farm is great. Let's hope that we can work together," a foreigner replied.

"It is also my wish to work with you guys." A burst of excitement flashed past Director Li's eyes. "I have a restaurant just some distance away. Let me be a good host and treat you guys to a sumptuous meal during the afternoon."

"Definitely, definitely." The crowd smiled and nodded their heads.

The fishing boat arrived at the center of the fish farm. Director Li signalled to the worker and instructed, "Get some fish for us."

"Alright, boss."

That worker nodded his head, took out a huge net and threw it ahead of him.

The crowd moved to the front of the boat to take a closer look.

Swish!

The net fell quickly into the water and the worker quickly pulled it back. However, he was shocked when he noticed that the net was empty.

"I didn't catch any?" The worker was a little embarrassed. He smiled at Director Li and explained, "Director Li, let me do it again. The fish are not concentrated here."

"It's alright, it's alright." Director Li shook his head and wasn't too concerned. He looked to the crowd and explained, "In order to let the fish have a better environment for growth, the fish in our fish farm aren't very concentrated."

The crowd smiled and weren't too concerned either.

The fishing boat moved ahead by several dozens of meters. The worker took out the net and threw it ahead of him once again.

Swish!

As the fishing net fell into the water, the worker started pulling the net back immediately. However, to his astonishment, he still hadn't caught a single fish.

"Eh? What's happening?" The worker mumbled to himself in shock. When Director Li saw what had happened, he also frowned.

"What's the matter? Didn't we easily catch a dozen fish just this morning?"

"Boss, I'm not too sure. Let me give it another try.

The worker frowned, sorted out the fishing net and threw it to the surroundings once again.

The fish net scattered perfectly on the water. The worker smiled and remarked, "There should be fish this time."

However, when he pulled the net up, there still wasn't a single fish.

This time, the worker was even more shocked. Director Li also frowned and said, "What's the matter? Why isn't there a single fish in this area?"

"What's wrong? Why aren't there any fish despite scattering the net several times? This shouldn't be happening? What's wrong?"

Doubt surfaced on the foreigners' faces. They took a glance at Director Li before looking at the fish farm.

"Perhaps the fish are all gathered at another location. Xiao Hua, let's get closer to the edge."

The worker was confused as he spoke to the young man operating the boat.

The fishing boat approached the edge and that worker threw out the fishing net immediately.

Splash!

The fishing net fell into the sea. After pulling the net up, there was still not a single fish.

"How could it be? How could it be?" The worker was full of shock and surprise. He scattered the net to the surrounding area several more times but still came up empty handed.

Director Lee was stunned. He frowned, looked at the surroundings and was clearly embarrassed.

"How can there be no fish? There were still a lot of them in the morning. Why isn't there any now?" Director Lee asked with a ghastly expression.

"Boss, I have no idea either. Logically speaking, we should be getting a lot of fish by just pulling up our net. This type of thing shouldn't be happening." The worker looked like he was wronged and was clearly displeased.

"What just happened? How can there be no fish in such a large fish farm?"

"Director Li, where are your fish?"

The group of foreigners frowned as they asked Director Li.

Chapter 31: Level Three and the Despairing Director Li

"Fish? They already converted to Dragon Energy. You would have never expect to pay such a hefty price for snatching my buns away."

Wang Xian overheard their conversations in the sea with a faint smile on his face.

He looked around him. Currently, only one school of fish from the fish farm was left, controlled by him.

Wang Xian opened his mouth wide. He swung his tail slightly and darted out like a sharp arrow.

A few hundred fish were devoured by him easily as he passed through them.

"Extracted 0.09 Dragon Energy."

"10,000 Dragon Energy completed. Evolved to Divine Dragon Level Three."

At the same time, Wang Xian sensed an immense Dragon Energy charging and strengthening his body.

The dragon scales, amid golden glow, were even more firm and secure.

His pair of dragon claws were stronger and tougher. Every single strike of the claws contained a daunting amount of destructive power.

His body weighed even more with two imposing dragon beards at the side.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Able to transform into a dragon)

Level: 3

Dragon Energy: 1/100,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than own existing level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

Level Three. With my current physical body, I guess even a bullet would not hurt me. But according to my research, my human form is much weaker than my dragon form, Wang Xian thought to himself.

He did a demonstration last night. He tried to knock himself against a boulder, and the dragon scales on him were unscathed.

But his human form was weaker than his dragon form by two times.

Wang Xian's current physical body could take a bullet from a handgun or even some guns that are more powerful.

"I still left with the last few thousand fish. I will devour them all and leave nothing here."

Wang Xian moved his body at an extremely high speed. Within five minutes, the remaining fish left in the fishery were all devoured.

The entire fishery was left with no fish. All of them were exterminated.

Director Li was on tenterhooks as he stood on the fishing boat. His body was shuddering, and his voice was shaking. "Carry on with the search. Carry on! How could the fish be missing?!"

"Yes, boss!" The worker on the boat wiped the cold sweat off his forehead.

He had cast over 20 nets just now, and none of them caught any fish. This was extremely peculiar.

How could the fish be missing out of the blue from a fishery with at least 300,000 kilograms of fish goods?

Voila!

The fishnet was cast into the sea, and the same thing happened again.

An empty net was pulled out from it.

Director Li was getting the creeps when he saw the same thing happening all over again.

"Director Li, didn't you say you have 300,000 kilograms of fish in your fishery? Where are they now?"

"Yes, Director Li. For both parties to establish a partnership, we need to see your fish. But now?"

At this time, a group of foreigners on the fishing boat frowned as they looked at Director Li in dismay.

Without fish, how are they going to establish the partnership?

Upon hearing what they said, Director Li darkened his expression as his heart was racing in fear.

The fishery had cost him $20 million to set up.

$20 million was invested in the rental and manpower down to the setup, fry and the fish food.

Now, he was ready to use the fish goods in the fishery to recover that sum of money.

But, all the fish goods in the entire fishery had vanished.

Vanished!

No doubt, this had impacted him significantly, and he was at risk of bankruptcy.

"Use a bigger net and pull them out. I don't believe 300,000 kilograms of fish can disappear without reason."

Director Li called out to his worker with a sullen face instead of answering to those foreigners.

As the worker on the boat observed the expression on his boss's face, his blood ran cold. Immediately, he called upon all the other workers to harvest for fish with the purse seine.

Three fishing boats reached the center of the fishery and deployed large purse seine to encircle the school with the net.

Time passed quickly, and the blazing hot sun was hanging in the sky.

Sweat was breaking on Director Li's forehead while the middle-aged man at the side handed a piece of tissue to him gingerly.

The group of foreigners stood at the side, watching impassively.

The three fishing boats began to harvest the fish, and the net was drawn up quickly.

However, nothing. There were no fish at all. The entire fishery seemed to be completely empty without a single fish fry left.

"Let's go. We wasted a few days of our time."

"Yes, what a disappointing trip. Next time, we will not be cooperating with a fishery without any credential."

The foreigners who stood at the side of the fishery shook their heads as they stared at Director Li coldly. One by one, they turned and walked out.

"Why? Why?!"

Director Li's eyes opened wide as he murmured to himself while looking at the sea in the fishery. There was only despair left.

He seemed to be in a trance-like state as he stumbled and fell on the ground.

"Director Li, Director Li." The middle-aged man exclaimed as he held Director Li up.

"It's all over." Director Li sat on the floor with mixed expressions.

"Director Li, we can start all over again. Don't give up." The middle-aged man consoled him.

"It's over. All over. I need to pay back $20 million loans this year. Unless I sell away all my assets, otherwise... otherwise..."

Director Li was dazed as he sat there with his eyes empty.

The middle-aged man was stunned for a moment and lost his tongue.

"Don't blame me for being ruthless. Blame it on yourself."

Wang Xian glared at Director Li, who was sitting on the shore with cold eyes.

He rocked his body and swam towards the sea speedily.

The two-meter long body gave off a mighty and imposing vibe. When he reached the steel wire mesh at the exit, Wang Xian stuck out his dragon claws and ripped the wire mesh into a large hole such that he could dive out from it.

His speed in the sea was so fast that even the sharks were slower than him.

In the sea, the marlins and the swordfish were the only two types of fish that could swim faster than him.

"At first, I thought I would need more than 10 days to advance to Level Three. This is totally a surprise. Now it's only 2 pm. I shall catch some seafood and do some outdoor cooking back at school."

Wang Xian was feeling chirpy. Level advancement and the $10 million in his bank cheered him up.

The only thing that was not going well for him was his empty stomach.

He swam back to the sea and caught three lobsters and some swimming crabs before he came back to the shore.

Chapter 32: Too Weak, Too Weak

Emerging from the seas, Wang Xian put his clothes back on.

Since his level had advanced to Level Three, there'd been an invisible might of the dragon emitting from his body. At the same time, his body became slender and of perfect proportion.

Through the strengthening by the dragon energy, his skin was fair and flawless without any marks.

Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. He stretched his back before looking for a string to tie up all the lobsters and swimming crabs.

I'm going to have a good rest when I get back.

Wang Xian clenched his fist as he felt the strength of his body. With a face of smiles, he headed forward.

It's easier to get a private-hire car nearer to the Summer Sun Resort. Therefore, he had chosen to walk towards the entrance of the Summer Sun Resort.

The sun was hung high up in the sky during the early afternoon. When it was noon time, the skies started to darken. Wang Xian raised his head and took a look at the weather.

Perhaps I might be able to summon clouds and make it rain as I wish one day.

Wang Xian thought to himself. He smiled and arrived at the entrance of the Summer Sun Resort.

There was a huge fountain in front of the main gates of the resort. At the sides of the gate, there were trees and other plants as decoration. These plants cast shadows over an area and there were some tables and chairs under the shade that was available for others to take a break.

Wang Xian noticed that there weren't any private-hire cars at the entrance. He took out his phone and started calling for one through the internet.

Huh? It's raining now?

However at this moment, small droplets of rain started falling from the skies. Wang Xian immediately ran towards the shade of the trees.

When he arrived at the shade, he saw a middle-aged and old man within it.

The old man was wearing a white martial arts suit made of silk and looked just like the typical old people who practiced Taichi in the garden in the morning.

As for the middle-aged man, he was wearing a shirt and standing by the side. He was looking at the old man with caring eyes.

Wang Xian's arrival drew the attention of the middle-aged man. He took a glance at him and didn't pay attention to him thereafter.

Wang Xian placed the lobsters and swimming crabs by the side before picking up his phone to continue his booking.

Vroom, vroom vroom!

At this moment, the revving sounds of the engine of a sports car sounded over. Wang Xian turned his head to take a look and noticed a teenager running out of a Ferrari towards him.

"Grandfather." The teenager looked very strong and healthy. With a simple jump, he leapt over the grass and started shouting excitedly towards the old man, "Grandfather, I've made the breakthrough."

"Huh?" The old man looked at his grandson and revealed a satisfied look. "Not bad, not bad. You are much better than your father. Your father had only made the breakthrough when he was 27 years old."

"Grandfather, come and give me some guidance." The teenager rubbed his hands excitedly.

The old man saw Wang Xian. He waved his hand and replied to his grandson, "Let's do it at night. It's not very convenient right now."

The teenager was taken aback slightly. He took a glance at Wang Xian, who was standing just beside them, and knew that his grandfather was a little wary.

He turned towards Wang Xian and said directly, "Hey brother, do you mind excusing yourself from here. We have some matters to attend to."

When Wang Xian heard his words, doubts arose in his mind as he looked at the teenager in front of him.

His demanding demeanor pissed Wang Xian off and thus he just ignored the teenager.

Huh? The teenager frowned and a cold and murderous intent flashed past his eyes. He walked slowly towards Wang Xian.

"Xiao Jing, don't cause trouble," the old man reminded him when he noticed his grandson was walking over.

"Grandfather, I'll just be inviting him away. I won't cause any trouble." The teenager seemed to be a little fearful of the old man as he turned around and replied to him. After which, he extended his hand over to Wang Xian and grabbed his shoulder.

Wang Xian lifted an eyebrow when he saw the action of the teenager. Looking at his extended arm, Wang Xian moved his right arm and grabbed onto the teenager's arm.

"What do you want?" Wang Xian lifted his head and said coldly to the teenager.

Eh? The teenager looked surprised. Soon after, the corner of his mouth arched up slightly as he spoke. "Your reaction is pretty quick?"

Moving his arm, he reverse grabbed onto Wang Xian's right arm.

So fast! A normal person definitely couldn't achieve this speed. Wang Xian was slightly shocked as he looked at the teenager grabbing onto his arm.

At this point, he recalled the conversation between them and the "Martial Artist" the boss robber had mentioned previously.

Could it be that they are martial artists?

"Hey, brat, please get out of our sight." The teenager looked at Wang Xian with eyes of mockery and disdain. However, he was gradually applying force with his palm.

Pretty strong! Wang Xian was once again slightly shocked as he felt the strength of the teenager through his arm.

At the same time, he started exerting a little strength onto the arm of the teenager.

"Argh!"

"You are seeking your own death!"

A horrifying shriek of pain propagated. Following which, the teenager growled furiously.

The middle-aged man and old man were shocked when they heard the shriek and quickly turned around.

"Xiao Jing, stop it! Don't injure others!" they shouted when they saw the teenager lifting his leg and sweeping it viciously towards Wang Xian.

Feeling his arm going numb, the angered teenager didn't stop but instead attacked furiously with his right leg.

"It's you who are seeking your own death."

Wang Xian saw the vicious attack from the teenager. His expression turned colder and he reached out his palm directly.

What seemed like an unstoppable right leg was grabbed directly and no longer pushed ahead.

Similarly, Wang Xian lifted his leg and kicked towards the chest of the teenager.

Bam!

The strong impact force smashed the teenager onto the stone bench by the side. The teenager couldn't hold back and vomited blood, followed by a horrifying shriek.

"How dare you injure my son!"

Everything happened in just a blink of an eye. They had initially thought that this young man would be injured by the teenager. However, in just an instant, Xiao Jing was the one who was so gravely injured that he spat out blood from the impact.

The middle-aged man was stunned. However, he moved quickly subsequently and attacked Wang Xian like a leopard hunting its prey.

Wang Xian looked at the middle-aged man and murderous intent started to build up.

The speed of the middle-aged man was much faster than the teenager. However, it was still too slow in his eyes.

Looking at the fist that was attacking towards him, he reached out his hand directly.

He stopped the fist with one hand and stopped it from moving an inch.

The middle-aged man was shocked. The punch he had put all his strength in was stopped as though it was being fixed in the position.

"Too weak."

Wang Xian also lifted his fist and attacked towards the stomach of the middle-aged man.

Bam!

The mighty strength of the Divine Dragon sent the middle-aged man to his knees directly.

"Hey pal, this is just a misunderstanding." The old man was dumbfounded to see the young man defeating his grandson and son with just a kick and a punch. He quickly interrupted.

Wang Xian looked to the old man and shrugged his shoulders slightly. "I don't think that this is just a misunderstanding."

"I'm sorry, son. I'm sorry. I'm Xue Liangren, please accept my apologies," the old man hurried over and said to Wang Xian with his right fist clasped in his left palm.

"Please forgive us. My grandson and son failed to recognize how mighty you are. If they have offended you, please allow me to apologize for them."

The old man repeated himself.

Cough cough! The old man was a little agitated and started coughing violently. He quickly took out a white handkerchief to wipe his mouth and his blood was all over the handkerchief.

Wang Xian looked at the old man. He shook his head slightly and remarked, "Forget it."

He wasn't a person with violent tendencies. If the teenager's attitude was better and he hadn't wanted to show his strength in front of him, he would not have retaliated.

Moreover, he had not controlled his strength well when he attacked previously.

He had thought that the other party was strong but they were unexpectedly weak to spit out blood after just taking a kick. This guy was just too unlucky.

Too weak, too weak! Is this the strength of a martial artist?

Chapter 33: Respect

"Father."

The middle-aged man kneeling on the floor had cold sweat breaking on his forehead. He endured the pain and stood up as he saw his father spit out a mouthful of fresh blood. Then, he walked to the side of the old man.

"I'm fine." The old man waved his hand with an ashen face. "Take a look at Xiao Jing and call the ambulance."

The middle-aged man nodded. He swept a wary gaze at Wang Xian and walked quickly to his son.

"Xiao Jing, are you alright?"

The expression of the middle-aged man was awful as he placed his hand on the chest of the juvenile. Immediately, he fished for his phone and called an ambulance.

How could this young man be so formidable? I don't think I was his match, even during my peak.

Xue Liangren coughed again as he observed Wang Xian with terror.

It never rains, but it pours. Not only did he sustain serious injuries, but his grandson also encountered a formidable expert.

He did not expect that the arrogant behavior of his grandson would bring such a disastrous consequence.

If the other party insisted on going after them, that would be simply an undeserved catastrophe for the Xue Family.

The moment he thought of this, Xue Liangren felt his injuries worsen. He staggered to a seat that had a briefcase on it. Without hesitation, he took out a checkbook and wrote $10 million on it.

This was a gift of apology. Even if they could not befriend him, they could never allow themselves to provoke such a young and formidable expert at this time.

Wang Xian did not bother about them as he peered at the three generations.

If someone provokes me, I'll definitely pay them back. Otherwise, I would not provoke anyone without reason.

This was Wang Xian's principle even though he possessed a powerful strength now.

Of course, he knew he needed to remove all source of trouble if they were his foes. After all, he had seen and read so many dramas and novels.

A good man died for his kindness while a scoundrel died for speaking too much.

"Young chap."

When Wang Xian was about to hop in a cab and leave, the old man came to him slowly.

"Hur?" Wang Xian raised his eyebrow when he spun and looked at the old man.

"My grandson was reckless and offended you just now. I'm here to apologize on his behalf."

The old man took the check in both hands and handed to Wang Xian.

"$10 million?" Wang Xian was shocked to see the figures on the cheque.

$10 million. This is $10 million. The old man is offering this amount of money as an apology.

He looked at the old man, stunned.

"Please accept it." Seeing no response from Wang Xian, he thought Wang Xian was not going to forgive them. Hence, he pleaded again with trepidation.

Cough, cough. After he finished his sentence, he began to cough non-stop again. He quickly covered his mouth with his hand, but blood was dripping off from it.

Upon seeing this, Wang Xian took the check.

"Thank you for forgiving us." The pale-looking old man had a faint smile on his face.

"Father." When the middle-aged man at the side heard the coughing, he was so worried that he looked over and called to him.

"I will not take this money for nothing." Wang Xian looked at the old man and said. He placed his palm on the chest area of that old man.

"Young chap." The old man stiffened up when Wang Xian suddenly struck, as he was not able to resist him at all.

Without saying a word, an amount of Dragon Energy entered the old man's body. Almost immediately, the condition of the old man appeared in Wang Xian's mind.

"Hmm?" There was a black spot at the heart. Besides that, he found unique energy in eight extraordinary meridians which protected his heart. Otherwise, he would have been dead. Could this energy be so-called Internal Energy?

Wang Xian was doubtful when he was examining the injuries in the old man's body.

He pressed his palm against the old man's chest. As he gently pressed down his palm twice, the Dragon Energy traveled to the location where the black spot was.

The Dragon Energy was the most formidable energy of all. It could strengthen the physical body and upgrade marine animals. As such, it had a tremendous effect in healing too.

After consuming about 100 points of Dragon Energy, Wang Xian cleared up the black spot around his heart.

He pressed his palm again when he saw the clotted blood in the old man's body.

"This...!" Just when the old man was freaked out, he suddenly felt a stream of warm energy envelope his heart.

Soon after, he felt something gush out of his throat, and he spat out a mouthful of black-colored blood!

"What are you doing? Don't hurt my father. Otherwise, I'll fight you out with my life..."

"Shut up!"

The middle-aged man had bloodshot eyes as he raged when his father spat out blood after Wang Xian placed his palm on his chest.

However, the old man stopped him before he could finish his sentence. Different from his previous breathless voice, he sounded full of energy.

"Young chap, you're my benefactor. Thank you. Thank you for treating my injury. Thank you."

The old man bent his body with his fists cupped as he bowed to Wang Xian.

His cheeks were blushed, and his eyes were filled with excitement.

The moment he spat the blood, he knew he was fully recovered from his injury.

The old man knew that this injury of his almost had his life. It was difficult to treat and recover from it.

Yet, what the young man before him did was place his palm at his chest, and it was healed after some presses. What kind of ability was this?

Even the disciples of the Medical Saint or one of the highly-skilled doctors from the Sacred Followers Guild would not be able to get this cured at this speed.

Is he the disciple of the Medical Saint? Or one of the disciples from the Sacred Followers Guild? This is freaking scary!

"You're welcome, this will pay for your medical bills." Wang Xian waved the check in his hand. He looked and walked over to the juvenile who was in a coma. "Might as well do it together."

In a nutshell, the juvenile could only blame his condition on his luck as he offended Wang Xian, while he had no idea of the strength he possessed. In the end, he spat blood after his kick, and it almost cost him a life.

Since the old man gave $10 million, Wang Xian regarded it as their medical bills.

Wang Xian did not want to take advantage of others. Spending more than 100 points of Dragon Energy in exchange for $10 million was quite a good deal for him.

Wang Xian came to the juvenile and placed his hand on his chest.

Under the scan of the Dragon Energy, he realized that a few of his rib-bones were broken and one of them even pierced through his lungs. His injuries were rather severe. If not for his strong physique, he could have died by now.

Wang Xian shook his head and healed the juvenile with his Dragon Energy.

"Hur?" The juvenile opened his eyes as his injuries were slowly recovering. When he saw Wang Xian, he could not help but shudder.

"You should thank him for treating you. He forgave you and healed your injuries. You better apologize and thank him now!"

"Xiao Jing, apologize and thank him now. Our benefactor cured your grandfather and you. You should thank him."

The juvenile was shocked when he heard what his grandfather and father said.

He stared, terrified, at the smiling Wang Xian, who possessed formidable strength that could kill him in one second.

"Big Brother, I'm sorry. I was acting impetuously just now. It's all my fault. Thank you. Thank you for your magnanimous actions."

The juvenile quickly answered without the previous self-conceited attitude.

Chapter 34: The Ancient Martial Arts Family, Xue Family

Blessing in disguise, blessing in disguise!

At this point, the old and middle-aged men were looking at the recovering teenager excitedly.

They would have never expected that this mysterious and strong young man would forgo the past and treat their injuries.

The old man couldn't help but feel fortunate about his initial attitude and the wise decision to give him $10 million.

"It's done," Wang Xian stood up and said plainly to the old man.

He had a rather good impression of the old and middle-aged men. When the teenager attacked him, the two of them immediately shouted at the teenager for him to stop.

Subsequently, the old men even apologized sincerely. At that moment, Wang Xian had already forgiven them.

After which, the old man even gave him $10 million! This was the main reason for him to help to cure their injuries.

"Thank you, pal." Old man, Xue Liangren, clasped his right fist with his left palm as he thanked Wang Xian.

"Thank you, benefactor."

"Thank you, big brother."

The middle-aged man and teenager also thank him in succession. Although that teenager was probably older than Wang Xian, he still addressed Wang Xian as big brother.

There's no way he could not be convinced of Wang Xian's capabilities.

"It's alright, you have paid for your medical fees." Wang Xian waved his hand and said to the old man.

"Pal, these medical fees are nothing compared with my injuries. If there's anything my Xue Family could help you with, feel free to instruct us. We would not reject you." Xue Liangren spoke sincerely.

Wang Xian looked at the old man and smiled. He changed his tone before continuing, "There's something I'm curious about and would like to ask if you are willing to tell me?"

"If I know, I would not keep anything back." The old man replied in a hurry.

"When it comes to cultivating, do you mind explaining it in detail to me?" Wang Xian asked curiously.

He had no knowledge about martial artists, cultivation and internal energy at all.

"Cultivate?" Xue Liangren was a little shocked. However, he organized his thoughts quickly and said, "The current cultivation ways are known as ancient martial arts. Those who have stepped into the world of ancient martial arts are known as martial artists and are hidden within cities. Although there aren't a lot of them, the numbers are definitely not small. They exist in the forms of families or sects. Many large corporations are directly or indirectly controlled by martial artist families or sects."

"Martial artists could be segregated into nine levels. Through absorbing spiritual energy, they are able to open their eight extraordinary meridians. One could advance a level by opening one extraordinary meridian. When all eight extraordinary meridians are opened, one would be at Level Nine. When one had sufficient and complete spiritual energy, they would be classified as "Inborn." Inborn experts are the real experts in the world. I, Xue Liangren, am not too gifted. I was exposed to ancient martial arts by accident when I was young. Now that I'm 85 years old, I'm only at Level Six and am the number five in Rivertown. This allows me to support my small Xue family."

"Oh?" Wang Xian nodded his head in deep thought upon hearing what the old man said. The world is mysterious and he wouldn't find it strange that it had martial artists.

"My son, Xue Jiahua, is pretty capable and is currently at martial artist Level Five. My grandson, Xue Jing, is even more gifted and is at martial artist Level Four," the old man added. He looked at Wang Xian and continued, "With your strength, you are probably at martial artist Level Seven. You are really insanely gifted and a once in a million years talent."

Level Seven? Wang Xian was slightly shocked. His current level was only three.

However, his Level Three was based on the divine dragon's classification. In other words, he could fight with human martial artists four levels above him.

"Level Four martial artists could dodge a bullet and Level Five martial artists could survive under gunfire. When one reaches Level 6, ordinary bullets would not be a threat anymore. At Level Seven, one could ignore bullets. Only concentrated cannon bombardment could kill you. As for Level Eight and Nine, one would be even stronger. When one reached the Inborn stage, one could be the ruler of a region." Xue Liangren explained this slowly.

Wang Xian nodded his head and broke into laughter. "Thank you for the information. I have some things to attend to and I'll be leaving now."

"Eh? Hey, pal, I'll get Jiahua to send you back." The old man replied in a hurry.

"It's alright, I'll just call for a car." Wang Xian shook his head and rejected the offer.

"Big brother, let me give you a ride. My car is just right there!"

Xue Jing spoke immediately and pointed to his sports car by the side.

"Yeah pal, let Xiao Jing give you a ride. It would be quicker." The old man seconded.

"Hmm, alright." Wang Xian saw the private-hire car left from the entrance of the resort and therefore didn't reject this time.

"Come, big brother, let me help you carry this. You can just get into the car."

Xue Jing acted sensibly as he took the large lobsters and swimming crabs at the side before running towards the sports car quickly to open the car door.

Wang Xian nodded at Xue Jing and sat in it directly.

Xue Jing smiled and closed the door carefully.

"Xiao Jing!" At this point, Xue Liangren and the middle-aged man walked over and shouted at Xue Jing.

"Grandfather, father." Xue Jing walked up immediately and greeted.

"This is the Family membership card for our Summer Sun Holiday Resort. Please pass it to that pal. You must definitely treat him well. This might just be an opportunity for the Xue Family. Remember this! Our Xue Family is still very weak." Xue Liangren instructed Xue Jing sternly.

"Rest assured, grandfather. I know what I have to do and I won't be rash." Xue Jing nodded his head solemnly.

"Hmm... Get this pal back quickly." Xue Liangren patted him on the shoulders.

"Yes." Xue Jing got into his car immediately.

"Big brother, where would you like to go?"

"University of Rivertown," Wang Xian replied with a smile upon hearing how Xue Jing addressed him, seeing the blood stains on his clothes.

"Alright, big brother. Big brother, are you a student at the University of Rivertown? I graduated from that university in the past," Xue Jing said with a smiling face. He started the car and saw Wang Xian nod his head. At this point, he took out the Family membership card for Summer Sun Resort that his grandfather had passed to him.

This was a "Family membership card." Although it might sound cliché, it was much more valuable than the platinum or diamond cards that they gave to other customers.

"Family membership card" was representing the Xue Family.

Up till this point in time, the Xue Family had only issued two such cards. One who possessed this card could enjoy the best service in Summer Sun Resort without any cost forever.

Moreover, "family membership card" gave the impression of closeness and could help them shorten the distance between them.

"Big brother, this is a "Family membership card" for our Summer Sun Resort and is our highest grade card. With this card, you can enjoy the most premium service at no cost forever. If big brother has the time, you can drop by. Feel free to bring your friends along."

Xue Jing held the card beside Wang Xian as he explained.

Summer Sun Resort?! When Wang Xian saw this card, he was a little surprised. "Summer Sun Resort is your family's property?"

"Yes, big brother. We have another Summer Sun International Hotel in the city too. This card could also be used there. Big brother, please accept this," replied Xue Jing.

"It's alright, it's alright. Wang Xian was slightly stunned. He had not expected the family of three generations would be the owner of Summer Sun Resort. This explained why they could take out $10 million as compensation directly.

"Big brother, you have to accept it. I'm under the orders of my grandfather and father. Otherwise, I will be beaten by them when I get back." Xue Jing turned around and acted pitifully.

What the! Wang Xian was speechless when he saw how he acted.

Acting cute? You are a grown up now! Is it fine to act cute in front of me?

And keep calling me 'big brother'...

Chapter 35: Consent and Rejection

"Big Brother, take care."

Xue Jing sent Wang Xian to the school gate and waved to him zealously.

Wang Xian nodded. He swung the bag of lobsters and swimming crabs back to school.

"Phew!" Xue Jing let out a loud breath as he looked at Wang Xian's back view. He then added Wang Xian on his Wechat immediately with a thrilled face.

Boom!

Once Wang Xian returned to his room, he threw the lobsters and the swimming crabs into a basin. Then, he looked at the Family membership card of Summer Sun Resort and that $10 million check.

"I'll bank in the money first."

The time was 4 PM. Wang Xian placed the Family membership card into his wallet and headed out with the check.

He rode his Harley motorcycle to the nearest bank. After depositing the check, his balance had broken the $20 million mark.

"Such a young age with $20 million assets. Sigh!"

Wang Xian tossed his bank card into the air as if he was some big shot before he got back on his motorcycle.

Then he bought new utensils, sauces, etc. when he was at the supermarket.

After everything was done, it was already past 5 pm. Wang Xian took out his phone and dialed Guan Shuqing.

"Hello, Wang Xian!"

Upon receiving Wang Xian's call, Guan Shuqing, who was upset with her father's call earlier on, turned gleeful.

"Are you free tonight? I got some lobsters and swimming crabs. Want to do some outdoor cooking?"

Wang Xian asked Guan Shuqing with a grin. When Guan Shuqing treated him to dinner last night, he told her that it would be a seafood feast from now on.

"Tonight? Sure! Are there any huge lobsters?" asked Guan Shuqing smilingly, who brightened up her eyes when she heard Wang Xian's question.

"Of course. I still have big lobsters and some swimming crabs. I'll change the menu for you a few days from now," Wang Xian chuckled and replied.

"Hehe, then I shall not stand on ceremony with you. From now on, I'll get to have great food from the nouveau riche." Guan Shuqing could not hide her happiness from her face.

"Sure, no problem. Come to Eastern Hill after work." Wang Xian nodded.

"Okay." Guan Shuqing nodded and hung up with a face full of smiles as she held her phone.

"Shuqing!"

Just then, a young man interrupted her imaginings.

"Hur? Director Zhou!"

Guan Shuqing spun and quickly called out when she saw the young man.

"There will be a small gathering tonight. Come along too. It's a celebration for closing the international deal." The young man looked at Guan Shuqing with a tinge of greed flashing in his eyes.

"Hur? Tonight? Director Zhou, I don't think I can make it. I promised my friend to have dinner together!"

Guan Shuqing was slightly stunned, and she quickly shook her head and declined. She had already promised Wang Xian.

"Hur? Why?" the young man frowned. "Eight of us from the business operation team and the translation team will be gathering tonight. Although you are temporary staff, you should not miss it either. Come on, Shuqing. We are going to the nearby famous restaurant, First-grade Restaurant."

"But..." Guan Shuqing had a look of difficulty on her face when she heard his tonality, "But I already promised my friend. If I don't go..."

"Are there many of them? Why not this? If there aren't many, you can bring your friend over since all of us are young people in the company," said the young man after observing Guan Shuqing's expression.

"Just one, but..." Guan Shuqing knit her eyebrows tightly as she hesitated.

"No worries. Get your friend to come over. We'll have dinner together since your friend is the top student from the University of Rivertown. In the future, I might go to your school to scout for talents too. Just nice, I can get to know your friend and probably all of you can join my company!" The young man gestured with a big-hearted smile as he spoke.

Upon seeing his attitude, Guan Shuqing knew it would be a slap in his face if she continued to decline. Hence, she hesitated and nodded her head, "I'll ask my friend."

"Okay, give your friend a call. Shuqing, you can't miss the gathering tonight!" The young man chuckled while straightening his suit.

"Okay." Guan Shuqing nodded. She fished out her phone and walked to the side.

The young man drew his lips. "It's better if her friend is a girl, but it doesn't matter even if it's a guy."

He smiled confidently before heading back to his office.

Wang Xian wondered why when he saw Guan Shuqing's number on the phone when they just ended the conversation not long ago.

"Why do you call again?" he questioned.

"Wang Xian, there's a gathering with my colleagues tonight. My boss wants me to go no matter what," Guan Shuqing said. Before Wang Xian could say anything, she quickly added on, "I already turned my boss down, but he asked me to come with my friend. Why don't you join us as well?"

"I don't think this is right, is it?" Wang Xian was slightly stunned by her words. Straightaway, he shook his head and rejected her. "This is your company's gathering. It would be inappropriate for me to go."

"Wang Xian, can you... can you come over? I've only been here for two days, and I'm not very familiar with the rest of the colleagues. Besides, I won't be working here for too long. If you are here, I can have someone to talk to. The venue is at the First-grade Restaurant near our school." Guan Shuqing dragged her last word out as she seemed to be pleading with him.

"Eh..." Wang Xian was hesitant, but he finally nodded his head. "Fine."

"Hehe, thank you. When I get my pay, I'll give you a treat." Upon hearing his consent, Guan Shuqing was so happy that she laughed.

"Still, my treat." Wang Xian smiled. They arranged a time and hung up the phone.

"At most, I'll foot the bill since it's her colleagues' gathering."

Wang Xian put his phone back in his pocket and shrugged. Since he had over $20 million on his card now, he was full of confidence.

Buzz!

After he stored his lobsters and the swimming crabs and changed his clothes, his phone buzzed again.

"Lan Qingyue?" Wang Xian opened his Wechat and was shocked to see her message. "Lang Qingyue asked me out for dinner. Looks like I'm quite popular after all!"

He touched his face as he was feeling himself. However, he turned her down with a reply, "I'm having dinner with my friend tonight. Sorry, next time then!"

At the same time, Lan Qingyue was a little uptight as she sat on the sofa in the luxurious villa.

This was the first time she asked a guy out for dinner. As she recalled the figure who hugged her, she was looking forward to it while feeling nervous.

Hence, when the notification sound rang, she quickly checked on it.

"Rejected. He actually rejected me." Lan Qingyue was dazed as she looked at the message. She felt something special within her.

She did not expect she would get rejected the first time she asked a guy out for dinner.

Chapter 36: Buying First-grade Restaurant

Bzz Bzz!

Wang Xian rode his heavy-duty motorcycle towards First-grade Restaurant.

What he didn't know was that his casual rejection previously had a huge impact on a cold and noble lady.

"Welcome."

When he entered First-grade Restaurant, the two greeters at the entrance spoke passionately.

"Table for?" a waitress walked over and asked.

"I'm waiting for a friend," Wang Xian said to the waitress.

"In that case, please wait here at the moment. I'll get you some tea."

The waitress was well-trained and pointed to the sofa at the waiting area. After which, she went to get a cup of water.

Wang Xian nodded his head and sat to the side. He took out his mobile phone and started playing while waiting for Guan Shuqing to arrive.

Clap clap, clap clap!

"Where's Director Li?"

At this moment, a group of people appeared at the entrance. A young man asked his question with a smile and a cigarette in his mouth.

"You guys are? Do you have an appointment with Director Li?" The greeters at the entrance looked curiously at the group of four men who walked over.

"Director Li was the one who asked us over. Where is he?" the young man replied. He scrutinized the two greeters and commented flirtatiously, "Pretty, beautiful."

The two greeters frowned.

"Director Zhou! Your guys are here! The office is a little small, shall we sit here?"

At this moment, the slightly plump Director Li walked out from a small room beside the cashier. There was a middle-aged man following beside him.

Upon hearing Director Li's voice, the edge of Wang Xian's mouth arched up. He turned his attention over.

At this moment, Director Li was no longer looking as rosy as he had been in the morning. In fact, he looked a little pale and seemed to be fatigued.

The middle-aged man beside him wasn't looking pleased either.

"Oh Director Li, you aren't looking too well. Hehe." The young man looked at Director Li and it was clear that he was mocking him.

"I caught the flu in the morning and am not feeling too well." Director Li walked over with a straight face and invited him into the restaurant.

"Hehe." The young man smiled. Together with the three other men who came with him, they headed directly to the sofa in the waiting area. Sitting upright, he looked at Director Li and said, "I'm really surprised to have received Director Li's call. Just a month ago, I invited you over for a sumptuous banquet and requested to acquire your restaurant. However, you rejected it. What's the matter now? Did you change your mind?"

"Yeah, I've changed my mind. I have a better business plan to execute and therefore am preparing to sell First-grade Restaurant."

Director Li sat at the side, lifted the teacup served by the waiter and squeezed out a faint smile.

"Oh, is it? In that case, how much is Director Li looking to sell it to me for?"

The edge of the young man's mouth arched upwards. He leaned back on the sofa and seemed to be seeing this as a joke.

"Let's go with Director Zhou's previous offer, $23 million!" Director Li looked at him and said.

"What? $23 million?" The young man pretended to be shocked. "Director Li, the $23 million offer was when I came to you and offered to buy. Now that you have come to me to sell, how could it still be $23 million?"

"Moreover..." The young man paused and looked coldly at Director Li. "I wanted to buy this place but Director Li wasn't willing to sell in the past. I just purchased a restaurant just a stone's throw away from here and am renovating it. I am still intending to compete with you directly in the future!"

Upon hearing the young man, Director Li's expression turned ghastly. He replied resolutely, "My First-grade Restaurant has been around for five to six years and its reputation has already spread throughout Rivertown. Even if you would like to compete with me directly, we will not be afraid. As long as my First-grade Restaurant is still around, your restaurant would also be greatly and negatively affected!"

"Director Li...what you are saying is that I shouldn't open the restaurant that I have already spent over $10 million on, and should spend more money to purchase yours?" The young man looked at him with contempt.

"It's over $10 million because you bought the building with it. I believe that simply losing some renovation costs to guarantee your business would be a great deal!" Director Li replied with a frown.

"Hehe." The young man laughed again. He stared at Director Li and replied, "Director Li, since I have decided to do it, I'm not afraid of your First-grade Restaurant. It's still uncertain who will win in the end but I can guarantee that your losses will be severe."

"Now that you would like to sell First-grade Restaurant... Great! $13 million. If you would like to sell, I'll buy. If you aren't willing, we shall see how it goes."

"$13 million? Impossible. Just the building alone is worth close to $10 million. To ask me to sell my restaurant to you for $3 million?" When Director Li heard his reply, he raised his voice and his face turned dark.

"At most $15 million. If you want to sell, then sell. If you will not, you can just sell to others." The young man sat there confidently. "With Longxuan Restaurant's publicity and strength currently, this would be the most you could get from any other buyer."

Upon hearing what he said, Director Li had an embarrassed look.

Just as the young man had said, the profit of his restaurant each year was only four to five million over the last few years. The asking price of over $20 million wasn't high at all.

However, there was a strong competitor coming up along this street.

The young master of Rivertown Distant Sea Fishing Group would be entering this business. His family business was in distant water fishing and had ample resources. He would also be able to basically obtain all kinds of seafood.

Seeing how this young man in front of him was willing to spend and was daring, it was hard for him to tell who would emerge victorious in their future competition.

It would be impossible for him to sell his restaurant for over $20 million. In fact, it was still uncertain if he could even sell it for $17-18 million.

Despite his considerations, he knew he would be filled with indignance if he had to sell to him for $15 million.

Director Li's expression was changing constantly. He was considering all his options, and this incident today was a lethal blow to him.

All the fish in his entire fish farm had disappeared without a reason. Fish that were worth several tens of million had just vanished into the air!

At this moment, he had to return the bank loan as soon as possible. Otherwise, his mortgaged home might be taken over by the bank.

The only option he had was to sell First-grade Restaurant.

He was out of other options!

The young man sat there confidently and said to Director Li, "I can give you cash. As long as you are willing to sell, $15 million will be transferred to your account immediately. You should know that there aren't many people who can come out with so much cash at one time to invest at this moment."

"Director Li, it's better if you sell First-grade Restaurant. Those who are slightly capable would know that buying First-grade Restaurant at the moment might not be profitable. In fact, my brother might even lose from this investment. There aren't many people who can bear this." The 18-19 years old juvenile, who was sitting beside the young man, remarked excitedly.

He lifted one of his legs and rested it on the other leg in a cocky manner. Looking at Wang Xian, who had been listening to their conversation, he laughed, "Don't you agree with me, pal? Will you buy this place if you have $15 million?"

The juvenile was exhilarated. He would be in his freshman year when the school reopened and was an incoming student to the University of Rivertown. With his brother's restaurant right here and it being the most luxurious in the vicinity, it would be a fantastic experience for him when he brought his classmates over to show off to them.

Just thinking about it made him a little excited.

"I will buy."

The three words that sounded suddenly from the side shocked the juvenile. He saw Wang Xian had a serious look to him and was instantly stunned. Following which, he burst into laughter, "Haha, my friend. You will buy? Can you even afford it? All you could do is to fantasize about it! Wake up!"

"Director Li, do consider the offer price of $16 million."

Wang Xian looked nonchalantly at the juvenile and took out a platinum card from the Agricultural Bank of China. One had to have over $5 million deposited in order to get such a card.

Although this card might not have $16 million on it, it was still a symbol of one's strength.

Capitalism!

Chapter 37: I'm the Boss (1)

When the juvenile saw Wang Xian take out a bank card, he was stunned, as his eyes were filled with disbelief.

All the people around, including Director Li, looked at Wang Xian with astonishment.

"The money on the card is sufficient to fork over $16 million. I'll buy First-grade Restaurant. What do you think, Director Li?" Wang Xian asked Director Li with a smiling face.

When they were talking just now, Wang Xian's attention was drawn when he overheard Director Li was going to sell away the First-grade Restaurant.

At present, he had some money obtained through special ways, but he had no stable source of income.

If he bought the First-grade Restaurant, he could manage the restaurant in the future.

Moreover, he had a great advantage of catching his own seafood if he took over the restaurant.

Perhaps it might be a waste of time for him to catch his own, but he could get his subordinates from the Dragon Palace to do it. Till then, his procurement of seafood would be at zero cost.

The restaurant just had to pay off the staff wages and the necessary expenses.

The business would not lose out. It's 100% profitable.

Wang Xian wanted to wait until they left before he discussed with Director Li. Who knew the juvenile beside him would lend him a helping hand? What a kind person he was.

"$16 million, are...you really going to take over?" The juvenile pointed at Wang Xian in disbelief and asked with a shaky voice.

The boy before him was just as young as him. Yet, he could actually fork over $16 million to buy the restaurant. How... could this be possible?

Wang Xian looked at the juvenile before he fixed his gaze on Director Li.

"You..." Director Li saw Wang Xian and recognized him. With a mixed expression, he asked, "Are you really buying the restaurant?"

"Of course, I will not joke around when it concerns millions of dollars. $16 million. Are you selling or not? If you are selling, we can sign the contract and make the payment tomorrow." Wang Xian nodded with a solemn face.

Director Li had a change in his expression before he cast his gaze to the young man at the side.

At this time, the young man fixed his gaze on Wang Xian, "Young chap, are you sure you want to buy the First-grade Restaurant? Think it over again."

"Depends on the price. If it's too expensive, I'll not buy it. I'm offering $16 million. Aren't you going to counteroffer?" Wang Xian smiled at the young man.

Bang!

Suddenly, the young man banged his hand on the table. "Think again. If you are buying over the restaurant, be prepared to challenge Longxuan Restaurant. When the time comes, don't lose your pants and go bankrupt."

Sensing the threat from him, Wang Xian picked up the teacup slowly from the table and said indifferently, "I love challenges. If you want to fight it out, I'm all in for it. But who will lose his pants? Hehe, it'll not be me. "

"Fine!"

The young man stood up straight away, "I can do without the First-grade Restaurant. Since you want to have a game, let's do it. Lad, you're still an amateur."

"If I take over here," Wang Xian stood up slowly, "You will not be my match!"

A tit for tat.

He displayed the shining edge of a Divine Dragon against his opponents and gave off an invisible imposing demeanor.

The young man felt embarrassed by the faint oppression.

"Fine, fine. You're ridiculous. We'll wait and see!" The young man glared at him with a ferocious look in his eyes.

"Anytime." Wang Xian looked at the young man with a smile on his face.

"Hmph, I'll make sure you lose big time."

The young man left after he made those harsh remarks as he stared at Director Li coldly.

"You... you're doomed!" said the juvenile as he jumped up and pointed at Wang Xian with an angry face after he saw his elder brother had left.

Wang Xian threw him a nonchalant look and ignored him before he turned to Director Li.

People like the juvenile were not qualified to speak to him, except for his brother.

"Young lad, are you really buying the First-grade Restaurant with $16 million?"

Director Li did not look at those young people who left. Instead, he questioned Wang Xian again.

"100% positive."

Wang Xian nodded.

"Hmph!"

Upon seeing Wang Xian ignoring him, the juvenile walked out, feeling embarrassed.

"Brother, that fellow was extremely haughty just now. We cannot let him off just like this."

The juvenile caught up with the young man with an infuriated look on his face after he walked out of the First-grade Restaurant.

"Okay, I got it." The young man brushed him off without any patience. If his younger brother had not provoked that guy, he would not have expressed his interest in buying the First-grade Restaurant.

If he could take over the restaurant at $15 million, it would be the best choice for him. There was no risk, and it was a profitable business.

Now, he would have to fight it out.

"Anyway, Longxuan Restaurant has completed the renovation. We can open for business soon. Till then..."

The young man darkened his expression as he thought of that fellow's haughty look just now.

"Just wait and see. I'll let you have a taste of regret for offending me."

...

"We'll discuss the transfer of ownership at 9 AM tomorrow."

Back at the First-grade Restaurant, Director Li was smiling at Wang Xian.

He was already content to sell the restaurant at $16 million.

"Sure, 9 tomorrow." Wang Xian nodded.

"I'll get the things prepared first. Let's have dinner together." Director Li said as he stood up.

"No, it's fine. I'm meeting my friends." Wang Xian shook his head with a smile. Apart from this business deal, he had nothing to chat with Director Li about.

"Sure, enjoy your dinner. This place will be yours tomorrow!"

As soon as Director Li finished his words, he looked at his restaurant and sighed as he was unsure if he could make a comeback in the future after selling the restaurant.

He walked into the office at the side with low spirits. He would probably never find out that the person who landed him into his current plight was right in front of him.

Everything was to blame on his arrogance.

Buzz.

Wang Xian's phone rang after waiting in the waiting area for 10 minutes or so.

"Hello? I'm here, in the waiting area," Wang Xian received the call and told Guan Shuqing.

"Wang Xian."

As his voice trailed off, he heard Guan Shuqing's voice at the door.

She waved at him and walked towards him.

Wang Xian gleamed and walked forward to greet her before he saw a group of people behind her.

The one leading the group of youngsters was a 28 or 29 years-old young man who was wearing a trendy summer clothes series from Armani. He was 1.8 meters tall and rather good-looking.

When Wang Xian was looking at him, the young man was observing him too.

A guy wearing Versace on him. His family should be quite well-to-do.

Director Zhou narrowed his eyes and observed Wang Xian from head to toe. He raised his eyebrows, but he was not bothered by him at all.

In his opinion, Wang Xian was still inexperienced.

"Shuqing, is this your friend? Hello, I'm Zhou Yuanhao."

Zhou Yuanhao walked over and extended his hand to introduce himself with a face full of smiles.

Wang Xian looked at him inquisitively. "Hello, I'm Wang Xian!"

Chapter 38: I'm The Boss (2)

"Hey, young lad! Not bad, not bad."

Zhou Yuanhao looked at Wang Xian, extended his hand towards his shoulders and wanted to pat on them.

"Hehe."

Wang Xian had his eyes fixed on this young man as he avoided his palm fluently. He had the feeling that this dude was up to something.

Zhou Yuanhao's arm stiffened. Following which, he smiled and said, "Let's go. I've made a reservation and we can go straight to the private lounge."

"Misters, this way please."

As Zhou Yuanhao spoke, the waitress by the side led the way for him.

First-grade House could be divided into two stories. The lower level was the main hall while the upper story was where the private lounges were at.

"First-grade Restaurant is a rather famous restaurant in Rivertown. You can get to taste all types of seafood, abalone, shark fin and sea cucumber. Sometimes, there is also precious seafood such as Atlantic Bluefin marlin sashimi."

Zhou Yuanhao was walking at the front of the pack as he explained to the group with a face full of smiles. He looked to Guan Shuqing and Wang Xian, who was beside her, and said, "Shuqing, your school is around this area. I'm guessing you know about this restaurant."

"Of course I know about it. This restaurant is known to be expensive," Guan Shuqing smiled and replied.

"Hehe, I came here once previously when a friend of mine was giving me a treat. I have to say that the food here is really expensive. A meal in a private lounge will cost at least seven to eight thousand. This is the level of a five-star hotel. Since Director Zhou is paying today, we are in for a treat!"

"First-grade Restaurant is known for its seafood. Although they are delicious, their prices are too expensive. I heard about it previously but this is still the first time I've come here. I have to thank Director Zhou for your generosity."

The two young commented with intentions to flatter Director Zhou.

"Hehe. As long as everyone works hard and we do well, such a gathering will be common in the future."

Zhou Yuanhao said with magnanimity, "Although First-grade Restaurant is expensive, the food they serve is really delicious. I have always liked their food and often patronize this restaurant."

"In that case, we've got to stick close to Director Zhou in the future. There aren't many bosses who are as generous as Director Zhou!" a girl smiled and said to Director Zhou.

"Naturally, I wouldn't treat you guys badly."

The edge of Zhou Yuanhao's mouth arched up.

Guan Shuqing and Wang Xian followed behind and didn't comment as the group arrived at a private lounge.

"Shuqing, you can sit beside me."

Zhou Yuanhao sat at the seat of the host as he spoke to Guan Shuqing, who was just beside him.

Guan Shuqing was taken aback slightly before nodding her head and sitting down. She looked to Wang Xian and said, "Wang Xian, why don't you sit beside me?"

"Huh? Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head. The few young men and women took a glance at Zhou Yuanhao and Guan Shuqing before sinking into deep thought.

"You guys, take a look at the menu and see what would you like to have. Come! Just order as you wish."

Zhou Yuanhao passed the menu to Guan Shuqing and asked, "Take a look and see if there's anything you would like. You can just order it directly."

"It's okay, Director Zhou. I'm not a picky eater and am fine with anything." Guan Shuqing waved her hand and handed the menu back to him.

"You... Alright. In that case, let me order a few dishes. Hmm... This sea cucumber porridge with lotus seed is good for the complexion. Let's get a bowl for Shuqing and the ladies here."

Zhou Yuanhao looked and spoke to Guan Shuqing and the few other ladies.

"Our Director Zhou is such a gentleman. Hehe," one of the ladies laughed and said.

"That's true. After all, Director Zhou attended a famous University in the UK for three years. He's definitely the role model of a gentleman," a young man commented as he tried to get on the good books of Director Zhou subtly.

"Haha." Zhou Yuanhao smiled. "Alright, let's get a bottle of champagne and white wine to go along with the seafood."

"Alright, Mister, please wait a moment." The waitress by the side nodded her head, collected the menus and walked out of the lounge.

"Shuqing, do you have the intention to come to our company to work after you graduate from school?" Zhou Yuanhao asked as he poured Guan Shuqing a cup of tea after filling his own cup.

"Director Zhou, I can do it myself." Guan Shuqing tried to take the teapot and pour for herself in a hurry. "I still have two years until my graduation."

"It's alright. You can come over to the company during the weekends or when you have no classes. I wouldn't scrimp on your salary. Our company business is growing larger and larger and we still need some talents," Zhou Yuanhao remarked.

"This..." Guan Shuqing was a little tempted. Now that her father had declared bankruptcy, her family conditions weren't too great. Currently, she had to settle her own living expenses.

"I think it's fine. Shuqing, this is a good idea. After all, the curriculum of university isn't that tight. You definitely could gain some working experience during your free time. This is a good thing."

"Yeah, just take a look at how well Director Zhou is treating us. It's hard to get a good boss like him. You might not be able to get such a good job even after you graduated."

The two young men by the side tried to convince Guan Shuqing.

"Hmm, this would work too." Guan Shuqing took a look at Wang Xian who was beside her and nodded her head.

When Zhou Yuanhao heard her reply, a joyous feeling surged. "Haha, let's welcome Shuqing for joining us officially."

As they were chatting, the dishes were being served one by one.

Zhou Yuanhao kept trying to chat with Guan Shuqing. As for Wang Xian, he just sat there alone as he ate the food.

"Shuqing, do you have a boyfriend?"

Suddenly, Zhou Yuanhao asked Guan Shuqing.

This question shocked Guan Shuqing. Her eyes were wavering as she turned her head over and looked at Wang Xian.

Zhou Yuanhao saw her action and frowned. His vision fell on Wang Xian as he tried to change the topic. "Oh, Shuqing, you haven't introduced us to this friend of yours!"

"This is my classmate, Wang Xian," Guan Shuqing replied immediately.

"Hello, everyone, I'm Wang Xian." Wang Xian remarked.

"Don't just eat, let's have a chat." Zhou Yuanhao looked at him and squeezed out a faint smile. "Brother Wang Xian, your family conditions should be pretty good. What is your family like?"

"Family?" When Wang Xian heard him, he laughed, "I only have a sister as kin."

"Huh?" Zhou Yuanhao was slightly stunned and shocked. A smile appeared as he continued, "I'm sorry to ask about something that I shouldn't have. However, please allow me to say this. Brother Wang Xian, life isn't easy. You should be making plans for life after graduation. Similar to Shuqing, you are from the University of Rivertown. It's clear that you are a capable man. Why don't you come and work for my company? If you work for me, it would definitely be better when you try to look for a job after graduation."

"That's right. We will be working for Director Zhou in the future and he would be our leader. Haha!" a young man laughed and said.

"Hehe. It's alright." Wang Xian shook his head. "It's better to just enjoy my university life!"

"Oh, Xiao Wang, that's not a good mentality to have. You should be working hard starting from university. When you say you want to enjoy your university life, what are you actually thinking of? I'm guessing it's not playing games and is about finding a beautiful girlfriend. However, you need to be rich to find a beautiful girlfriend. Buying a bag for your girlfriend would set you back several tens of thousands! Similarly, buying clothes, jewellery and gifts would also be in the range of several tens of thousands!"

"As a young man, one should have goals. This would then give you motivation. If you can't rely on your family, you can only then rely on yourself."

"For example, if you want to get a girlfriend as beautiful as Shuqing, you can't be just giving her a bag that costs a few hundred. Moreover, you can't even get one at a few hundred dollars nowadays. It can't be that you are thinking of bringing her to the canteen for meals all the time. All of these would cost money. If I had a girlfriend as beautiful as Shuqing, branded bags and clothes are a necessity. As for other gifts or even a house or car, these are needed in the future."

"The company my family owns has just started. Despite that, our annual profits are in the range of five to six million dollars. Even so, I feel that my conditions in Rivertown are still below average. Therefore, a young man like you should be looking to start working hard from a young age."

"Xiao Wang, you can consider working for me in the future. You can still expect to easily earn $3,000 a month in a part-time role."

Director Zhou lit a cigarette and smiled.

In his words, he had lifted himself up subtly and bashed Wang Xian..

Work part-time for $3,000 a month?

Chapter 39: I'm the Boss (3)

"$3,000 a month?"

Wang Xian wanted to laugh when he saw Director Zhou pretending to be a kind senior, offering advice to a junior.

On seeing the yearning in Director Zhou's eyes, Wang Xian finally understood his intentions.

Director Zhou wanted to woo Guan Shuqing and regarded him as a potential rival.

He must step on his rival when he met one.

But he could not do it directly to avoid leaving a negative impression with Guan Shuqing. Hence, he could only give a tall hat to himself and lower the status of Wang Xian indirectly.

Be a follower of his? Become his employee?

Wang Xian smiled and shook his head gently, "Director Zhou, the students in our school are not that materialistic. We can get a bag at a few hundred dollars, and date at the school canteen."

"Hur?" Upon hearing Wang Xian's words, Director Zhou had a change in his expression. He did not expect Wang Xian to be sarcastic about him being materialistic.

Director Zhou's eyes glimmered with displeasure.

"Xiao Wang, you can't put it that way. Campus love is pure and innocent, but you'll leave school and enter society after all. Director Zhou said all this for your own good. Don't take his words for granted." a young man said and frowned at Wang Xian when he saw the expression on Director Zhou's face.

"That's right. What can you do when you don't have any money? Girls are all looking for rich husbands who dote on them and love them. Too bad I'm married.

Otherwise, I'd woo Director Zhou instead."

A girl also glanced at Wang Xian. "Xiao Wang, you're still young."

They had been working in the society for many years, and they could sense something from their boss's expressions.

They could tell that Director Zhou wanted to shame him. Naturally, they needed to give him a hand.

A hint of sarcasm flashed in Wang Xian's eyes when he heard their remarks.

"We're still schooling, and we don't have many troubling matters. We just need to pursue what we want, and that will do."

Guan Shuqing spoke with a smile when she felt something was amiss with the atmosphere.

"Shuqing, you are still young. Listen to me. I'll nag at you in the future," said a girl to Guan Shuqing.

She was pleased to see the kindness in Director Zhou's eyes as soon as she finished her sentence.

"Waitress."

At this time, Director Zhou got an idea and called for the waitress at the door.

"Sir, how may I help you?" asked the waitress who walked over.

"Do you still have that limited caviar?" asked Director Zhou to the waitress.

"I'll need to check with the kitchen," the waitress answered with a smile.

"Okay, please check for me." Director Zhou nodded unconcernedly.

Subsequently, he told everyone, "Truffle, foie gras, and caviar are the three most renowned overseas dishes. Caviar, in particular, is extremely precious. The caviar sold in First-grade Restaurant is limited edition and costs $4,000 per portion. Just enough for one or two people to share. The taste is superb. I'll see how many portions are available. We can order more, subject to availability."

"Director Zhou, you're way too generous. The caviar is just too expensive."

"That's right, Director Zhou. These dishes are enough. Why don't you order for Shuqing? You don't have to waste your money on us," said several sensible youngsters.

"We will see how many portions are available." Director Zhou was satisfied with them after hearing them.

"I'm sorry, Sir, but our caviar is all out today." Soon, the waitress walked over and apologized.

"Hur? Sold out? Oh, is Manager Huang around?" asked Director Zhou with a frown.

"Yes, Sir, do you have any requests?" asked the waitress quickly.

"Nothing, I'll give him a call." Director Zhou gestured at the waitress and fished for his phone.

"Director Zhou, do you know the manager from the First-grade Restaurant?" asked a young man with surprise.

"We met each other over a couple of meals," Director Zhou said without any emotion, but his eyes glimmered with arrogance. "I still know some people from during the few years after returning from overseas."

"Director Zhou, you really befriend many people from all walks of life. That would give you the convenience to do anything." A young man at the side was licking his boots.

"Network is essential in society today," said Director Zhou smilingly as the phone on the opposite side rang.

"Hello, Director Zhou, how are you?" a middle-aged man's voice was heard on the phone.

"Manager Huang, are you busy?" asked Director Zhou with a smile.

"Not really, is there anything I can help you with, Director Zhou? How was your dinner today?"

"I'm quite pleased with it. I'm calling you with regards to this too. Manager Huang, do you think you can get some caviar for us? Your staff said it is out of stock, but I have a craving for it. Do you think you can get some for me to host my guests? Haha."

"Sure, the kitchen should have set some aside. There should be some left."

"Great, sorry to trouble you, Manager Huang." Director Zhou deepened his smile as he hung up after making a few courtesy remarks.

"Well, the First-grade Restaurant will set aside some every day just in case. There are some left." Director Zhou chuckled. He cast his gaze at Guan Shuqing, "Give it a try later, Shuqing. The taste is great."

"Director Zhou, thank you for your treat. It must be expensive for this meal," Guan Shuqing said with a smile.

"It didn't cost that much. Perhaps less than $10,000." Director Zhou shook his head. "So long as you enjoy the meal today. By the way, where did you and your friend plan to have your dinner at just now?"

"We were planning to cook outdoors at school," Guan Shuqing said with a smile.

"Outdoor cooking?" Director Zhou paused and raised his eyebrows. "Such a hot day and you're going for outdoor cooking? There are many mosquitoes outside. Xiao Wang, you're not being understanding. Besides, it is not good for their skin if girls are smoked by the barbecue. If you're treating a girl to dinner, you must at least go for a decent restaurant."

"What kind of restaurant?" Wang Xian noticed that Director Zhou was looking back at him, so he took a sip of water and asked impassively.

"The First-grade Restaurant may be expensive for you since you are a student. But you should at least go to a franchise restaurant for a meal that is around $200 to $300. Outdoor cooking is inappropriate," Director Zhou looked at Guan Shuqing as he spoke, "Besides, outdoor cooking is not safe. Shuqing, you better not go."

"Heh heh." Upon hearing his remarks, Wang Xian sneered at him.

Director Zhou showed displeasure in his eyes when he heard the scornful laughter.

"Director Zhou, let's dig in. It's getting late."

Seeing that Wang Xian was unhappy, Guan Shuqing quickly tugged at his arm under the table.

While doing so, her palm was caught in his palm nicely. A current seemed to run in her body, and she withdrew it immediately.

Wang Xian peered at Guan Shuqing and chuckled. He did not persist further and laughed, "Have some food. The seafood in the First-grade Restaurant is the best."

"Oh, then have more food. You might not have any chance for it in the future," Director Zhou jeered.

"Yes, thanks to Director Zhou for the treat today." Wang Xian drew his lips slightly and nodded. He picked up his chopsticks and continued with his food.

Guan Shuqing was relieved when he saw Wang Xian enjoying his food. She hesitated and picked a piece of crab claw. With a smile, she said, "Try this. This is delicious."

"Sure." Wang Xian looked at her and nodded.

"Really... I'm afraid you might not have the chance to try it again after this," a young man muttered when he saw Wang Xian's look.

The voice was soft, but it was audible.

However, Wang Xian was not bothered at all. He did not want to quibble with him since they were all Guan Shuqing's colleagues.

At the same time, Manager Huang hung up Director Li's phone call and spoke to Director Li, who was clearing up his stuff at the side.

"By the way," Director Li heard him and said, "Turn that customer down. After that, go to the kitchen, get the additional caviar, and follow me to that private room. We're delivering to someone else."

"Hur? Director Li, who are you giving it to?" Manager Huang was slightly stunned as he asked in surprise.

"Your future boss!" Director Li looked at him and said, "The First-grade Restaurant will belong to this person from tomorrow onwards. You should get to know him first today."

"My future boss?" Manager Huang was surprised. He knew that Director Li had a deal with this person for taking over the First-grade Restaurant. But he did not expect that his future boss would be having dinner here today.

"Okay, Director Li, I'll explain it to the customer."

Manager Huang quickly nodded and walked to the kitchen. He would be asking the chef to prepare it with utmost effort. After all, this was prepared for their future boss!

Chapter 40: Taking Over the First-Grade Restaurant (1)

The atmosphere was a little heavy within the private lounge of the First-grade Restaurant.

Guan Shuqing felt a little awkward while sitting there and eating.

At this point, she could already sense the animosity Director Zhou and the surrounding colleagues had towards Wang Xian.

He could also sense that Director Zhou had other thoughts about her.

This made her unable to help feeling remorseful for not rejecting the invitation to today's gathering.

Bzz Bzz.

At this moment, Director Zhou's phone rang. He took out his phone and looked at it. "It's a phone call from the manager here. It should be about sending the food over."

He smiled and accepted the call after explaining.

"What? No more? Not a single bit is left?" When Director Zhou received the call, he asked in shock.

"I'm really sorry, Director Zhou. We don't have any caviar left in First-grade Seafood Restaurant as they have been ordered by some distinguished customer," Manager Huang explained over the phone. "I will definitely reserve a serving for Director Zhou for your next visit!"

"Forget it then. If it's sold out, so be it!" Director Zhou shook his head slightly and hung up the phone.

"We probably won't get the chance this time. Manager Huang said that all the caviar has sold out."

He shrugged his shoulders and said to Guan Shuqing, "This time we didn't get it, next time I'll bring you along to get some."

Guan Shuqing smiled and didn't reply as she didn't know how to.

Bzz Bzz.

At this moment, Wang Xian's phone also rang. He took out his phone and saw a phone call from Director Li. He accepted it immediately.

"Brother Wang Xian, which private lounge number are you in?"

"203. Is there anything Director Li has for me?"

"Oh, nothing! I'll just come and disturb you for a moment."

Just as Director Li finished his sentence, someone knocked on the door of the private lounge. Following which, the waitress opened the door.

"Sorry for the interruption, Brother Wang Xian. I'm here to serve you a speciality delicacy of our restaurant."

Director Li stood at the entrance of the door as he smiled and spoke to Wang Xian.

Behind him was Manager Huang with the plates in his hand. As they walked in, Manager Huang looked towards Wang Xian and put on a radiant smile.

"Director Wang, this is the speciality caviar of our restaurant. There are five servings in the kitchen and I have brought all of them here for you and your guests. Director Wang, you can call me Xiao Huang. I'm the manager of First-grade Seafood Restaurant currently." [\[1\]](#)

The middle-aged Manager Huang kept a very low profile. He carried the plates and placed the servings of caviar on the table in front of Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was slightly shocked but quickly smiled and nodded his head. He looked at Director Li and said, "Thank you for your kind intentions, Director Li."

"Please enjoy yourself, brother Wang Xian. I shall not be interrupting you any further." Director Li smiled at him.

"Thank you." Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Director Wang, please enjoy yourself. Feel free to ask for me if there's anything."

Manager Huang bowed down. From the very beginning to the end, he didn't look at others and had his attention fixed on Wang Xian.

Even as he left, he lowered his stance before turning around and walking out of the room.

Director Zhou was dumbfounded and his eyes were opened widely. Just as he was about to say something, he noted that Manager Huang had not even looked over at all during the whole process. Suddenly, he felt a little embarrassed.

As for the other young men and women, they were also shocked by what they had just seen.

What's the situation?

Who were those two people previously?

That guy who served the caviar said that he is the manager of this place and Wang Xian could just call him Xiao Huang? Is he the same Manager Huang that Director Zhou had mentioned?

They quickly turned their heads over and looked at Wang Xian.

They saw five bowls of caviar beside him with each serving costing $4,000 and a total of $20,000.

Moreover, this was something that even money might not be able to get.

Even their Director Zhou had failed to order any despite giving Manager Huang a call.

Yet, the manager sent over five bowls with profound reverence.

This...

How can this be possible? Isn't he just a student?

Guan Shuqing, who was just beside Wang Xian, also looked at him with astonishment. She noticed that she had more and more things that she couldn't understand about him.

He was a poor student that had to work part-time frequently to earn his school fees and living expenses in the past.

Currently, he rode a heavy-duty motorcycle and the clothes he wore weren't cheap either.

However, this wasn't the most surprising thing to her. What really shocked her was the manager's attitude previously and the free food that was worth $20,000.

"Wang Xian... You... You..." Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian and had a huge basket of questions to ask him. However, she did not know where to start asking.

"Let's eat. Let's see how the limited caviar of First-grade Seafood Restaurant will taste." Wang Xian smiled and passed over a bowl to her.

"Wang Xian... This... Why would the manager of this place bring these over..." Guan Shuqing looked at the caviar Wang Xian placed in front of her and asked blankly.

"I bought this place." Wang Xian looked at her and continued, "Director Li, who came in previously, is the previous owner of First-grade Seafood Restaurant. We have reached a preliminary agreement and I'll be the boss of First-grade Seafood Restaurant at this time tomorrow. Therefore..."

Wang Xian smiled. As for Guan Shuqing, she was staring at Wang Xian with her eyes opened widely and filled with surprise.

"First-grade Seafood Restaurant... You bought it?" She asked again in disbelief.

"Yeah!" Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head. "If you have something you would like to eat in the future, you can look for me. I'll just treat you to it."

"This..." Guan Shuqing was a little dumbfounded.

"How can this be possible?"

At this point, a young man sitting by the side couldn't contain his surprise and showed his disbelief.

This student sitting right here bought First-grade Seafood Restaurant? This is First-grade Seafood Restaurant! How much will he need?

$10 million or $20 million?

This is First-grade Seafood Restaurant! How can anyone buy this place with just $10 million?

The other young men and women around also showed their disbelief.

They recalled what they had said to him previously: I'm afraid you might not have the chance to try it again after this.

Thinking back now, they felt a surge of heat over their face. This was a tight slap to their faces!

Not only could he try it again, he even bought the whole restaurant.

Their attention turned slowly to Director Zhou as they realized that Director Zhou's expression was even more dramatic.

His face was twitching constantly and his body was trembling slightly as he looked to Wang Xian.

Playing a sucker and acting poor? What an obnoxious person!

Director Zhou stared at Wang Xian and had various phrases surfacing in his mind. He gritted his teeth tightly.

To be able to buy First-grade Seafood Restaurant, he definitely had several dozens of millions in assets. As for his family, they only had $50-$60 million in assets.

Moreover, these were all under his father.

Wang Xian glanced faintly at Director Zhou before saying directly to Guan Shuqing, "I'll be taking over this place tomorrow. I wouldn't make changes to the manpower of this place but I might need a reliable person to manage the accounts of this place. I couldn't possibly be cooping myself up in this place. Will you come and help me out?"

"I... I..." When Guan Shuqing heard his words, her eyes flickered. She glanced at Director Zhou beside her and remarked, "But I've already..."

However when she looked at Wang Xian once again, she still nodded her head in hesitation. "Alright, since you have asked, how could I reject your invitation?"

"Hehe, great. With you helping me out, I'll be saving myself a lot of trouble."

Wang Xian smiled.

As for Director Zhou who was just beside her, his eyebrows twitched violently and he clenched his fist tightly upon seeing Guan Shuqing being poached away right in front of him.

However, he couldn't just flare up. This young man in front of him was able to buy First-grade Seafood Restaurant directly. He might have a strong backing.

Damn his answer of having only a sister! Who is he trying to fool!

Endnote:

[1] Literal translation of "Xiao" is little. Manager Huang added "Xiao" to his surname to make Wang Xian feel less distant to him. At the same time, it's to show deference to someone more senior or with more authority. Back

Chapter 41: Taking Over the First-Grade Restaurant (2)

"I guess you really made Director Zhou enraged tonight!"

"You saw it too. He was the one who started it. If it weren't for you, I would have asked them to get lost."

"Hur hur, the last thing you said was simply... I'm speechless."

Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing walked out from the First-grade Restaurant exchanging words happily on the old street.

The gathering was not over yet. But when Wang Xian handed the leftover caviar to Director Zhou just now, he smiled and said, "Director Zhou, this is the caviar that you asked for. Try it. Welcome to my restaurant in the future. Oh, this restaurant is not mine yet. So, you've still got to pay for tonight's dinner."

After he finished his sentence, Wang Xian called Guan Shuqing out.

At that time, Director Zhou's face was looking extremely sulky!

"Heh, I need to apologize to you for offending your superior. Looks like you won't be getting your two-day wages. I'll compensate you for that." Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Of course, you have to compensate me."

Guan Shuqing chuckled and looked over her shoulder at Wang Xian as she felt her heart warming.

This was the first guy who made her happy, comfortable, and heart-warming.

The feeling was not immense, but she was addicted to it.

"Hop on."

Wang Xian rode his Harley motorcycle over and called out to Guan Shuqing.

"Okay." Guan Shuqing felt her heart thumping as she looked at him on the bike.

She got on the bike. With some hesitation, she held out her arms and wrapped them around Wang Xian.

Sensing a warm body closing up on him, Wang Xian's body stiffened up. Subsequently, he revealed a smiling face.

"Sit tight, we're leaving."

He stepped on the accelerator and headed back to school. Soon, they arrived back at the female dormitory.

"See you tomorrow. I'll pick you up over here."

Wang Xian waved to Guan Shuqing.

"Okay." Guan Shuqing nodded and waved back to him. Happily, she skipped her way back to her room.

Wang Xian chuckled and drove back to the male dormitory.

During that night, Wang Xian did not do any cultivating. Instead, he slept soundly.

When he woke up the next day, it was past 8 AM. Wang Xian got up quickly and freshened up.

When he picked up his phone, he saw an unread message.

"Hur? Lan Qingyue again?"

Wang Xian was taken by surprise when he saw the Wechat message. It was Lan Qingyue again. The same thing, she wanted to buy him dinner in appreciation for the previous incident.

The message was sent out five minutes ago.

"I'm sorry, Chairman Lan. I've been busy lately, and I really don't have time."

Wang Xian declined politely. Today, he was going to take over the First-grade Restaurant. In the next few days, he would be too busy for anything.

He needed to handle the internal issues of First-grade Restaurant and its management issues.

The Longxuan Restaurant is going to open soon beside the restaurant, and it was an outright act to steal business from him.

After hearing the conversation between Director Li and that young man yesterday, Wang Xian knew that the other party had some capacity. Hence, he needed to prepare himself for it.

After Wang Xian sent out the message, he packed up and brought the lobsters and swimming crabs downstairs.

Within a room in a villa, the entire place was loaded with pink color.

All the men in the Rivertown would not have imagined that the renowned Ice Queen, Chairman Lan Qingyue, would paint her room with such a girly color.

Someone once said that every aloof girl fantasizes about fairy tales.

Lan Qingyue lay with her stomach on the bed with a big-sized, pink teddy bear beside her.

Ding!

When her phone rang, she quickly opened her WeChat.

"Rejected... He rejected me again." Lan Qingyue was a little lost.

Yesterday, she guessed that he might really have something going on, and that was why he turned her down. Hence, she asked him again early in the morning, but little did she expect that she was being rejected again.

On top of that, he replied that he would be busy lately!

"Does he dislike me, so he doesn't want to see me? Or is he really that busy?"

Lan Qingyue frowned and got up from the bed immediately to stare at herself in the mirror.

Despite the fact that she just woke up without any make-up, her refined profile and her perfect figure were extremely seductive.

"Is my charm not attractive to him at all?" For the first time, Lan Qingyue doubted her own charm.

...

"Let's have breakfast. I want to eat steamed dumplings."

After fetching Guan Shuqing on his bike, together with Wang Xian, they headed towards the old street.

"Sure, whatever the beautiful lady wants!"

"What a glib tongue you got. If I wanted to eat your meat, would you cut yourself for me?"

"You are not that cruel. I'm not the Tripitaka from Journey to the West."

"But I'm the wicked female monster. Haha!"

As they cracked jokes, Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing reached a steamed dumpling shop. After breakfast, it was time to meet Director Li.

When they reached First-grade Restaurant, the door was already opened.

Director Li and Manager Huang were already here.

"Director Wang." Upon seeing his arrival, Manager Huang went up to him immediately and greeted him with a beam on his face.

"Good morning, Manager Huang!"

Wang Xian nodded and looked at Director Li, who was standing at the side.

"The property deed and the deed of ownership transfer are ready. Apart from the past profits, everything in the restaurant belongs to you. We will be busy for the entire morning since we are going to the Property Management Bureau for the transfers of the property and other stuff." Director Li smiled when he saw Wang Xian.

"Great, let me see the contract first." Wang Xian nodded.

"Here, I'm sure there's nothing wrong with the contract."

Director Li handed the contract to him. Wang Xian took it and studied it carefully before he casually nodded his head.

Next, they took Director Li's car to the Property Management Bureau, State Administration for Industry and Commerce, some departments in the bank to expedite the transfer procedures, including business licenses, and so on.

After running around for the entire morning, Wang Xian transferred the balance amount to Director Li's account. Both of them shook hands, and the deal was sealed.

"Boss, Director Li did not take anything with him when he left. Everything is operating as usual for now. I'll take you over to meet the rest of the staff."

After coming back from the bank, Manager Huang, who had been following around the entire morning, spoke to Wang Xian with enthusiasm.

"Sure, let's get to know the restaurant. Also, all the staff positions will remain as they are now."

Wang Xian nodded. It was lunchtime when they reached the restaurant. Wang Xian called for Manager Huang and Guan Shuqing to have lunch at the First-grade Restaurant.

Manager Huang knew Guan Shuqing too. She had worked as a greeter for more than half a month.

When they met again, Manager Huang guessed she could be the Lady Boss in the future. Hence, he was proactive to serve Guan Shuqing.

As such, Guan Shuqing felt lost when her previous manager fawned upon her in such a way.

All these were because of the guy beside her.

After lunch, Wang Xian toured the entire restaurant. Looking at the First-grade Restaurant, he felt a sense of achievement.

This was his restaurant, and he would definitely make a name for this restaurant in the entire Rivertown, and it would be the best restaurant ever!

Chapter 42: Re-organization

"I believe everyone would have heard some rumors yesterday regarding First-grade Restaurant having a new Boss. Let us welcome our new boss, Director Wang."

Within First-grade Restaurant, Manager Huang gathered all the employees after they were done with their work in the restaurant at approximately three o'clock in the afternoon.

"Hello everyone, I'm Wang Xian and will be the boss of this restaurant in the future."

Wang Xian walked up and smiled faintly at the crowd. The entire restaurant had fifty employees currently. The employee count was considered to be high among restaurants.

Just the number of waitresses alone had reached thirty people.

Similarly, this helped to guarantee service quality.

"So young!" A female waitress looked at Wang Xian and exclaimed when she couldn't contain her bewilderment.

All the employees looked inquisitively at Wang Xian.

Indeed, Wang Xian was too young to the point that he didn't look like a boss. They were all older than Wang Xian.

Seeing this, Wang Xian lifted his head slightly and released a surge of Dragon Power towards them.

"The restaurant will operate as always. Since I'm taking over this place, I have to make some changes to this restaurant. The first change will be to increase all employees' base salary by 10%. Other rules will remain the same as for now. Don't think that I'm easy to fool just because I'm young. When I have to fire someone, I won't be soft."

"I have inquired about your jobs and salary. What I'm trying to say is that your compensation will definitely be better now than it was with Director Li. I'm more generous than Director Li."

As he spoke, he revealed a faint smile. "If you encounter any issues, you can look for Manager Huang or look for me directly. Everything could be discussed and I'm easy to talk to. However, if anyone makes a mistake, I wouldn't be kind with my words either."

As Wang Xian spoke, the aura he emitted from his body made the atmosphere around him seem to have solidified.

It was as though everything under the skies had him as the focus.

The waitress, kitchen personnel, front desk personnel and other employees were all listening attentively.

They could feel a sense of might that originated from the soul from the young man in front of them.

"Alright, you guys can go and have a good rest. Head chef, bring along another chef and Manager Huang to come and see me for a while."

Wang Xian looked towards them and instructed them.

"Phew!" They felt like it was as though they had received an order and dispersed immediately. As they walked away, they were commenting softly.

"What the... Why does it feel like our current boss has an aura around him? He had a stronger majestic aura around him than Director Li."

"The new boss is indeed generous to directly increase our salary by 10%. This is equivalent to $400-$500!"

"What a young boss! He's probably just about twenty. However, the boss has a majestic aura around him. Could it be that he is a rich second-generation from a large family?"

"The boss is so handsome! Young, handsome and rich! So cool!"

"Director Wang, Director Wang."

The head chef brought a chef along and walked over as they addressed him with smiles. However, they were still a little reserved.

Wang Xian was listening to the comments of his employees as he looked at the two chefs. He smiled and nodded his head.

This was the impact he had envisioned. As a boss, he had to be able to control his employees first and make his employees respect and fear him a little at the same time.

Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to manage the company effectively. Currently, he had achieved the impact he wanted.

"Come, I'd like to know more about the operations of our current restaurant."

Wang Xian sat down with them at the waiting area by the side.

"Director Wang, these are our supply channels and these are some unique dishes we offered."

Manager Huang took out a booklet and passed it to him.

Wang Xian nodded his head. He had found out a little about these previously.

What was outstanding about First-grade Restaurant was that the variety of seafood it offered was large. Moreover, the chefs had great culinary skills and the restaurant had great service quality and a good environment.

For example, the caviar, Two-headed abalone and some precious seafood had a specialized purchaser. [\[1\]](#)

It was the uncle of Director Li previously who was the specialized purchaser. Now that Director Li had left, he had also resigned.

Nonetheless, the purchase channel was still intact.

Precious items like caviar were purchased directly from overseas and the costs were high. As for ordinary seafood, they were purchased from the seafood market.

Yellow croaker fish, true tunas and other precious seafood would have to be obtained from auctions by the sea. It would also be dependent on luck.

"Director Wang, our contract with Golden Lobster Managing Company is about to end and will not be renewed. We have to find other channels quickly. Besides that, we have to purchase a batch of caviar soon. Also, we are running out of top-quality ingredients in the restaurant," Manager Huang said to Wang Xian.

Although there weren't many customers who could afford top-quality ingredients, they were a symbol of strength and were a good publicity stunt.

For example, if one restaurant has two-headed abalone, Atlantic blue marlin, yellow croaker fish, Australian lobsters, large lobsters and other kinds of top-quality seafood put up as display, and the other restaurant doesn't have such top-quality ingredients, this would be a distinct difference. One would have the impression that the first restaurant is better and the number of customers who would patronize it would be greater.

Therefore, Wang Xian had to find some top-quality ingredients for now.

"The supply of large lobsters from our seas is too little each day. Besides that, we don't have ingredients such as caviar." Wang Xian shook his head slightly.

"Boss, we have to go to the seafood market early in the morning to get those ingredients. As for top-quality seafood, they aren't in ample supply in the seafood market. Disregarding the high price of large lobsters and crabs, the quantity is limited too. Sometimes, we might not even be able to get it. If we use frozen ingredients, the taste would be a little worse off," the chef explained.

"Leave the supply of seafood to me." Wang Xian nodded his head slightly and continued, "As for the rest, everything shall be the same as before. Besides that, Longxuan Restaurant would be opening soon. When they open for business, they will definitely organize some event. At that time, we must be able to keep up and play around with them."

"Boss, even if they wish to gain market share, we still have an advantage as our reputation has spread. As long as we can obtain sufficient top-quality seafood to attract traffic and maintain the quality of ordinary seafood, they would definitely not be a match for us." Manager Huang spoke confidently.

"Great. Let me handle the issue of top-quality ingredients. Head chef, I'll leave the issue of the quality of ordinary seafood to you." Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Rest assured boss and leave it to us. The kitchen will ensure the quality of the seafood," guaranteed the head chef.

"Alright, if there are any issues in the future, come and look for me. It's fine too if it's relating to your everyday life." Wang Xian smiled and patted on the head chef's shoulders.

"Thank you, boss." The head chef smiled.

"Get rid of these fish tanks for ornamental fish in the middle. I'll get bigger tanks and some ornamental fish," Wang Xian instructed as he looked at the empty fish tanks in the middle of the restaurant.

The ornamental fish in them had been taken away by Director Li. It was initially used to keep the arowana that Director Li had borrowed from others.

It was an easy task for Wang Xian to get these ornamental fish.

At this point, he was considering if he should get some expensive ornamental fish to be used as a display.

Chapter 43: Looking for Top-quality Ingredients

"I didn't expect that you would look like a boss when you are really one."

After talking to Manager Huang and the main chef, Guan Shuqing beamed at the serious Wang Xian.

"Haha, really? Do I look like a professional?" Wang Xian chuckled and asked in vain.

"Yes, a little. Looks like you're going to be busy in the next few days. Where are you going to find top-quality ingredients? Do you want me to go with you?" Guan Shuqing asked him with a smile.

"Not really. You have to run around to find them. Besides, the weather is hot. You will stay in the shop and keep a tab on my money." Wang Xian looked at her smilingly.

"Well, what's the matter with that? I can take hardship well." Guan Shuqing rolled eyes at him.

"I still cannot allow the belle of the University of Rivertown to run around outside and get tanned. Otherwise, I am committing a sin by doing so. I have ways to get those top-quality ingredients. Don't worry. You'll get food-tasting first after I got them."

Wang Xian spoke with a smile.

"You better be careful if you're asking me to try. I'll eat so much that your restaurant might go bankrupt," Guan Shuqing said with some slyness.

"Haha, if you really did it, then I have nothing to say." Wang Xian said with a smile.

"I'll be leaving in a while. Later, you'll learn the daily revenue and expenses from Manager Huang. After which, check on the inventory. I'll need you to look after my money in the future."

He continued joking.

"Sure, go get busy." Guan Shuqing nodded to him.

"Okay, I'll give you your wage in advance. Let me know if you need more in the future."

Wang Xian stood up and fished for his phone. He transferred $10,000 to her through WeChat.

Guan Shuqing took out her phone immediately when she heard it buzz.

However, Wang Xian took away her phone and received the money on her behalf. He smiled and said, "If you work for me, you'll get to enjoy life."

Wang Xian returned her phone to her and spoke teasingly.

Guan Shuqing froze for a moment as she looked at the transaction on her WeChat. With a slight blush on her cheek she said, "Hmph, that would depend on my mood too. If the boss is nasty, I'll quit too."

"Okay, I'm leaving." Wang Xian grinned and waved to Guan Shuqing.

"Get going," Guan Shuqing looked at him and said.

"Director Wang, see you. I'll take care of everything in the restaurant." On seeing that Wang Xian was about to leave, Manager Huang immediately walked over and saw him off.

"Okay, call me if there's anything. Work together with Guan Shuqing too." Wang Xian nodded.

"Rest assured, Director Wang." Manager Huang nodded.

After he left First-grade Restaurant, Wang Xian rode his Harley motorcycle to the seaside while thinking of ways to fish for the seafood.

The restaurant required top-quality ingredients every day. Hence, he would need a large volume of seafood.

There were many top-rated seafoods available in the domestic waters.

Take lobster as an instance. Those who knew something about seafood would understand that the Australian lobsters were one of the average-priced lobsters.

However, the price was jacked up to $200 to $250 for every catty in recent years.
[\[1\]](#)

Within China, several kinds of lobsters were more expensive than Australian lobsters like the Scalloped Spiny lobsters, Ornate Spiny lobsters, and Striped Spiny lobsters.

But too many locals were foodies. Hence, the number of lobsters in China's domestic waters were left with very few of them. As such, they were too overpriced.

In particular, the Chinese Ornate Spiny lobsters, also known as the Divine Lobsters or the Rainbow Lobsters, were jacked up to $5,000 to $6,000 for every 4 to 5 catties.

In addition to the lobsters, the Wild Giant Yellow Croaker fish, and Chinese Bahaba fish found in China were expensive as well.

3 catties of Wild Giant Yellow Croaker would cost about $8,000 to $12,000 for every catty.

While the Chinese Bahaba fish cost a few million for each, its fish gelatine could fetch a scary price of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

These fish could be found in the nearby waters around the country, but it had become so scarce that it was hard to find one in a few years.

"If I can catch fish like Wild giant Yellow Croakers and Chinese Bahaba fish, it would give us some great publicity."

Wang Xian pondered to himself. Very soon, he came to the seaside. He parked his Harley motorcycle at the side and walked to a remote spot.

He took off his clothes. With a swift movement, Wang Xian jumped into the water.

"Transform into Dragon."

Splash!

In just a move, Wang Xian turned into a two-meters long Divine Dragon. The Divine Dragon exuded strong and powerful strength as it swished its tail and dived into the ocean.

I'll check out the Clam Girl first. She should have some transformation after the two-days cultivation, Wang Xian thought to himself and headed to the spot where the Clam Girl was.

The golden tail swung, surging strong currents. On seeing Wang Xian swimming over, some of the surrounding marine animals were shuddering and dared not move.

Some even fled in terror.

Soon, Wang Xian arrived around the remote island in the middle of the ocean, sensing the position of the Clam Girl.

Moving his body, he swam to the Clam Girl.

Queen Clam: Level Six

Art of Cultivation: Water Dragon Transformation

Superpower: Ability to control clam race whose level is lower than own existing level; Water Control

"No changes to her level, but she has cultivated her own Superpower. She can control her own kind whose level is lower than hers, and water."

Wang Xian was surprised to see the Clam Girl's attributes. On top of that, the name of the Clam Girl was changed to Queen Clam.

"Dragon King!"

Sensing Wang Xian's arrival, the Clam Girl opened its shell and revealed the flesh inside.

He was surprised to find that the flesh had gradually become humanoid. However, there were no limbs and face except for a simple embryonic form.

Does that mean the Clam Girl will change into a human when her level gets higher?

Wang Xian secretly thought to himself. He looked at the Clam Girl and commanded, "Clam Girl, show me your water control ability."

"Yes, Dragon King!"

After sending the message to the Clam Girl, he found that the water around him began to surge.

The surge was extremely powerful. Soon, he noticed that the sea water at the bottom of the ocean began to freeze.

Boo!

At this time, he saw a solidified water body appeared beside the Clam Girl. With her mind control, the ball of water was hurled forward.

The ball of water was thrown off on the boulder at the side, leaving a dented mark on it.

"Not bad, the Clam Girl possesses a fair strength now. With her sturdy clamshell, the sharks might not necessarily be able to beat her."

"Follow me to the sea farther out," Wang Xian ordered the Clam Girl.

"Yes, Dragon King."

Wang Xian nodded. He took the Clam Girl to the waters farther out.

To his surprise, the Clam Girl was moving at a breakneck speed. Her water control ability allowed her to control the flow of water around her and accelerate her pace.

"She just cultivates on the Water Dragon Transformation. As time goes by, she will be more powerful than now."

Wang Xian looked and sped forward.

A golden Divine Dragon, along with an odd and huge sea clam, were swimming freely in the vast ocean.

While swimming in the seas, Wang Xian would spot precious fish from time to time. However, all these fish were devoured by him directly.

As the quantity was too low or only one, it wouldn't be useful even if he had brought it to the restaurant.

The truth was that within the seas, there was still a lot of fish that had a high value. However, the less common they were, the higher the value. High-value fish were often not available in large quantities.

The Bohai Sea was one of the most shallow sea regions in the country and was only several dozens of meters deep. Currently, Wang Xian could dominate all marine animals that were within twenty meters of him using his Dragon Energy.

The resources in nearby regions of the country are too scarce and couldn't be compared with the sea regions of Europe and the Americas.

With such a large population and uncontrolled fishing, many marine animals were on the brink of extinction. The marine animals within the seas couldn't be compared with regions in other countries.

There's a small school of fish right ahead.

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and looked at the several hundreds of fish in front of him. Those should be black seabream, a common fish found in the Bohai Sea.

Moving his body, he dominated the school of fish using his Dragon Power before the school of black seabream could react to the situation.

"Devour."

Wang Xian opened his mouth and started devouring the hundreds of black seabream one after another.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Human (Able to transform into a Dragon)

Level: Three

Dragon Energy: 323/100,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

I still need a lot of Dragon Energy to reach Level Four but let's put aside the issue of leveling up and focus on finding some top-quality ingredients first.

Wang Xian looked at his attributes and thought to himself. He looked at the clam girl behind him before heading forward.

Eh, the place right ahead is really beautiful!

The seafloor of the seas was broader and more magnificent. They also had a stranger landscape than those on the land.

After swimming for about an hour, other than finding several large lobsters, he didn't see any other top-quality seafood. He looked ahead and noticed colorful reefs ahead of him.

The entire seafloor was decorated with different colors. Under the illumination of the faint sunlight, it looked very magical.

However, the landscape was very chaotic in that area with protruding rocks from time to time. Wang Xian also noticed that there were many torn fishnets around that area.

If one drove a fishing boat over to fish in this chaotic coral reefs region with lots of sharp rocks, it would be over if his net got caught on the rocks and was cut open.

Wang Xian accelerated and swam over and found fishing nets on many rocks.

What Wang Xian didn't know was that this area was known as the "Chaotic Coral Reefs" region by experienced fishermen in the Bohai Sea.

The reason why it was known as such was that there were many submerged reefs in this area. It was also considered as the restricted ground for fishing.

The resources around these areas are clearly more abundant.

As Wang Xian approached the area, he immediately saw a school of pomfret. There were approximately 400-500 of them that were swimming in the vicinity.

Moving his body, he encountered schools of fish and still chose to devour them.

Boom!

Wang Xian charged over and dominated the school of Level 0 pomfrets directly. After which, he turned them into Dragon Energy.

"It's pretty here." After devouring the school of pomfrets, Wang Xian turned his attention to the entire coral reef region in front of him.

Although the landscape wasn't smooth, it was of different colors and one couldn't hide the magical feeling this place was giving off.

Wang Xian wiggled his body slightly and looked to the surroundings. He noticed that there were quite a number of jellyfish around.

Jellyfish were poisonous marine animals. Strong jellyfish could even poison a person to death easily.

However, only uniquely horrifying jellyfish would pose a threat to Wang Xian. As for ordinary jellyfish, Wang Xian wasn't wary at all.

Wang Xian swam slowly towards the inner regions of the coral reefs.

Eh, that should be scalloped spiny lobster. The current price of it is about $200 per catty.

Wang Xian saw a lobster that weighed over a catty passing by. With just a thought, he controlled it with his Dragon Power and made it swim towards him.

Swoosh!

However, at this moment, a horrifying living animal emerged from the seafloor and bit on that scalloped spiny lobster directly.

Crack crack!

That monster bit onto the head of the lobster directly. In just a short while, it had killed the lobster.

Wang Xian was slightly shocked and quickly turned his attention to that monster.

"This is? Conger eel!"

Wang Xian squinted his eyes. Conger eels were considered as violent animals just like an electric eel.

Similarly to an electric eel, a conger eel was capable of discharging electricity. In addition, a conger eel was more horrifying than an electric eel.

Conger eel was known for his tenacity and would even attack other types of fish.

Wang Xian was scrutinizing this ingesting conger eel. It had a body that spanned 2.5 meters and a hideous-looking head. With just a single bite, it broke the shell of the lobster.

Conger eel: Level Three

Extractable Dragon Energy: 231

A level three conger eel.

Wang Xian opened his mouth slightly. At Level Three, his Dragon Power would not have a huge influence on the conger eel.

He wiggled his tail slightly and opened up his claws. Jerking ahead, he attacked the conger eel directly.

Swoosh!

Just as Wang Xian charged over, the conger eel, which was 10 meters away, immediately lifted its head and looked at Wang Xian with a cold stare. At the same time, it was emanating a violent aura.

At the same level, the divine dragon isn't afraid of any living animal.

A cold look surfaced on Wang Xian while he did not reduce his attacking momentum.

Growl!

The conger eel opened its mouth widely and charged towards Wang Xian without hesitating.

"Go and die!" Wang Xian extended his dragon claws and grabbed onto its head directly.

Sss.

However at this moment, a blue ray of light emitted from the conger eel's head. Within the glow was a strong electric current.

At that instant, Wang Xian could feel his dragon claw going numb. His entire body even started shivering.

Sss!

The conger eel opened its mouth widely and bit towards Wang Xian's head.

Growl!

Giving out a soft roar, Wang Xian opened his mouth too and charged ahead.

Crack, crack! He ripped the conger eel's head out with a bite and quickly devoured it.

Seeking its own death!

Wang Xian showed disdain at the Level Three conger eel which was being arrogant. At this moment, only a Level Five or Six conger eel would be able to deal with him.

The coral reefs in this region are chaotic and everywhere. It's very suitable for lobsters and conger eels to survive. If there are more lobsters here, I wouldn't have to worry about getting top-quality lobsters in the restaurant.

Wang Xian looked to the surroundings and instructed clam girl to search the surroundings.

"Dragon King, there's a lobster right here!"

Clam girl quickly brought him the news. Moving his body, he swam over directly.

He saw clam girl had captured a lobster that was over 1 meter long.

Ornate Spiny lobsters! It is the expensive Ornate Spiny lobsters and weighs about two catties. It seems like there would be quite an amount of lobsters in this area.

Looking at this colorful lobster, excitement started filling Wang Xian.

Chapter 45: Crawfish Soldiers

"The market price for this lobster can hit more than $1,000. The unit price is more expensive than the Australian Lobster."

Ornate Spiny lobsters were of the highest value within the domestic waters, followed by the Chinese lobsters (a name of a lobster).

"You will control this lobster and continue with the search."

Wang Xian commanded the Clam Girl and continued the search in their surroundings.

The colors of the surrounding corals were very close to that of the lobsters. Hence, it was not easy to spot them. If the lobsters remained still and hidden among the coral reefs, it would not be easy to spot them.

After all, Wang Xian was only a tiny Divine Dragon. Without Divine Sense, he could not scan and check the surrounding situation.

"Should I upgrade my eyes with Dragon Energy so that they can have the Byakugan effect in Naruto's anime?" [\[1\]](#)

Wang Xian pondered to himself. He could use Dragon Energy to upgrade and strengthen any parts of his body, including the eyes. However, it would require a lot of Dragon Energy to do so.

After some considerations, he gave up. His current level was too low, and he had too little of Dragon Energy.

Wang Xian observed the surrounding with his sharp eyes. Some of the colorful fish were swimming around him.

"There is a lobster over there. It should be the Painted Spiny lobster. The price for this is about $300 per catty. Not too low for it."

The Dragon Power enveloped the area, and Wang Xian commanded that Painted Spiny lobster to swim over.

Looking at the 20-centimeters lobster, a smile surfaced on Wang Xian's face.

Perhaps the lobsters here were suitable to supply for the use of his restaurant.

"Hmm, there is a Conger eel."

A cold smile surfaced when Wang Xian saw an eel roaming slowly between the corals.

That was a Level-two eel which was smaller than the previous one just now.

He swam over and devoured the eel which did not put up even the slightest resistance.

"Carry on with the search."

One by one, Wang Xian found the lobsters and caught 20 of them. All of them were controlled by the ability of the Clam Girl.

"It only took about half an hour to catch 20 of them from this corner of the area. This entire zone with reefs and rocks seems like a treasure land."

A glimmer of excitement flashed in Wang Xian's eyes. He moved forward and saw a huge coral reef in front of him.

The entire reef was protruding out from the seabed for about five meters, and it was covered with colorful corals.

"We should be able to find lobsters over there."

With a swift movement, Wang Xian swam over. When he was over there, he was stunned.

Filled in between the crevices of the coral reefs were at least a few dozen lobsters, including Painted Spiny lobster, Ornate Spiny lobsters, and Chinese lobsters.

"Among those, the biggest lobsters are Ornate Spiny lobsters. That must be at least 5 to 6 catties. This is a breeding ground for lobsters."

It was difficult to come across Ornate Spiny lobsters of such a size for decades.

This was a region that had yet to be fish by anyone. As such, the number of lobsters here was beyond his expectation.

Wang Xian was thrilled. With a jerk forward, he enveloped the area with his Dragon Energy and commanded the lobsters to follow behind.

As the lobsters were moving slowly, Wang Xian had to reduce his speed too.

He continued to swim forward and spotted a larger reef area ahead.

"Based on the experience just now, that might be a breeding ground for the lobsters."

Wang Xian's eyes brightened up as he led the lobsters to the coral reef.

"Hur? This is...!"

When he arrived at that reef, he was stunned by what he saw. Not many lobsters resided here.

Instead, it was an Ornate Spiny lobster. Beside this lobster was a Conger eel and it was even larger than the one he met previously.

The Conger eel was about 3.5 meters long and was considered to be a giant Conger eel.

Its body was bulky and looked like an underwater monster.

However, the eel was not the only one that shocked him. There was an Ornate Spiny lobster as well.

The size of the lobster of at least 1.5 meters was beyond his expectation.

In history, the largest lobster recorded was only 1.2 meters at 40 catties.

The Ornate Spiny lobster before him should weigh about 50 catties at least.

Its body seemed durable and robust, especially the pair of colorful lobster claws which looked like a sharp weapon.

The colorful body seemed exceptionally noble too. However, this lobster was a little terrified as it was confronting the Conger eel before it.

Conger eel: Level Four

Extractable Dragon Energy: 548

Ornate Spiny lobster: Level Three

Extractable Dragon Energy: 346

"A Level-four Conger eel and a Level-three lobster!"

Wang Xian was shocked by this terrifying Conger eel. Not even any of the ordinary sharks would dare to provoke it. This Level-three Ornate Spiny lobster was also out of his knowledge.

"The ocean is really amazing; occupying a 70% surface area of Earth and with areas that were unknown to mankind. Besides that, various unbelievable species can be found in it."

Just as Wang Xian exclaimed, the giant Conger eel struck at the Ornate Spiny lobster swiftly.

The giant Ornate Spiny lobster lifted its claws hastily and lurched forward.

Sst!

At this time, the body of the Conger eel gave off blinding blue sparks.

The Ornate Spiny lobster retreated speedily as it was fearful of the blue sparks.

The Conger eel spun its heavy body around and lurched forward again.

This time, the Ornate Spiny lobster raised its claws and clamped at the eel's body.

"What is the value of such a large lobster? It could be the greatest asset of the restaurant."

Wang Xian stared at the Ornate Spiny lobster with bright eyes. On seeing the offensive Conger eel, he moved his body and attacked it.

Roar!

Before the Conger eel could launch its attack, it quickly turned around and glared coldly at Wang Xian who struck.

Wang Xian did not care. He was not afraid of a Level-four Conger eel.

Bang, bang, bang!

The Conger eel looked at Wang Xian with fear. Yet, its eyes were full of greed. With its body flashing with blue lights, it swept out to Wang Xian.

"If the voltage from a Level-three Conger eel can cause numbness, the voltage from a Level-four Conger eel should be much stronger."

Wang Xian moved away and dodged the attack from the Conger eel. He extended out his claws and scratched the body of the eel.

Sst!

The sharp claws drew a long and bloody mark on the body.

Roar!

The Conger eel spun its head fiercely and rapidly. It opened its mouth which was full of teeth and bit on Wang Xian.

Wang Xian raised its claws and charged forward.

Crack!

At the same time, blue sparks were flickering from the mouth of the Conger eel.

Wang Xian was startled and ducked quickly.

Shoo!

Just then, he saw a water ball fired right into the mouth of the Conger eel.

Wang Xian was slightly stunned. He knew it was the Clam Girl who had made her move. With a swift movement, the dragon claws grabbed the Conger eel by its neck. He opened the dragon mouth and bit down.

Extracted 548 Dragon Energy.

Wang Xian revealed a smile on his face. He looked at the Ornate Spiny lobster again with a sudden thought.

The lobster was fleeing in horror when it saw Wang Xian swallow the mighty Conger eel in one gulp.

"Don't think of escaping, Little Lobster. Seeing that you're gifted by nature, I'll keep you as one of my Crawfish Soldiers!"

Chapter 46: Pod of Lobsters

Within the seas, a 1.5 meter gigantic ornate spiny lobster was scampering away rapidly in the water. Its actions looked extremely comical.

"Still trying to escape!"

Wang Xian swayed his tail and caught up with this ornate spiny lobster directly and pointed his dragon claw at it.

This lobster held up its large pincers in fear and looked at Wang Xian in horror with its pair of tiny eyes. He was petrified.

That horrifying conger eel was its natural nemesis and was eaten by this golden-colored monster just a while ago. How could it possibly go up against this monster!

Growl!

Wang Xian let out a roar as he shrouded this lobster with his Dragon Power. The timid ornate spiny lobster shrivelled immediately. If its intelligence had manifested, it would definitely beg for mercy and claimed to have parents and kids to take care of.

"Submit to me, the Dragon King!"

A supreme intention was directed into his mind. The ornate spiny lobster shrank its body instinctively and placed his large pincers down as it squatted in front of Wang Xian.

"That's the way."

Wang Xian revealed a faint smile and opened his mouth gradually. A drop of dragon blood flew out from its mouth. The essence blood was emitting a golden glow and fell on the head of the ornate spiny lobster.

"Don't resist it!" Wang Xian directed the words into his mind.

The ornate spiny lobster didn't dare to move recklessly and simply stayed there without moving as the golden-colored dragon blood entered its body.

"Success!" Wang Xian smiled. This ornate spiny lobster had become his second subordinate.

Hmm. This lobster hasn't got its intelligence manifested and couldn't cultivate. I have to use dragon energy to upgrade it and manifest its intelligence for him to pick up cultivation arts.

Wang Xian thought to himself. This lobster was different from the Clam girl. Clam girl already had her intelligence manifested. Therefore, Wang Xian didn't have to use dragon energy to manifest her intelligence after subduing her.

Manifesting intelligence would exhaust a large amount of dragon energy.

Wang Xian placed his dragon claw on the head of that ornate spiny lobster. Streams of dragon energy entered its body and strengthened its intelligence and body.

Crack crack, crack crack!

Cracking sounds came from the body of the ornate spiny lobsters. Glows of seven colours shimmered on its body as its body grew gradually to two meters.

"It does look like a Divine Lobster!" Wang Xian laughed as he saw the glow of the lobster.

"Dragon King!"

Just as he had exhausted about 700 points of dragon energy, Wang Xian heard a faint will reach him.

Wang Xian immediately stopped the upgrade using dragon energy and looked at the ornate spiny lobster. "Little lobster, is that you?"

"Dragon King, it's me." The ornate spiny lobster moved its long antennae as a response.

"Haha, great. I shall impart you a cultivation art. Hmm... Your claws are pretty sharp... In that case, I shall impart to you the cultivation arts of Metal Elemental Divine Dragon!"

With just a thought, the cultivation arts of Metal Dragon, a part of Divine Dragon Transformation, was imparted on the ornate spiny lobster.

Crawfish Soldier: Level 4

Art of Cultivation: Metal Dragon Transformation

Superpower: Ability to control lobster race whose level is lower than own existing level

Through the upgrades using dragon energy, ornate spiny lobster's level has increased by one. Moreover, its body also looks much stronger. This was because I have used dragon energy to upgrade it directly. This also allows it to awaken its first superpower to control a lobster race whose level is lower than its own existing level.

Wang Xian looked at the superpower of Crawfish Soldier and excitement flashed in his eyes.

This surprise was within his expectation. After subduing Clam girl, he did not use dragon energy to upgrade her abilities. She relied on herself to gather dragon energy and awakened two superpowers. One of them was the ability to control a clam race whose level was lower than her own existing level and the other was Water Control.

As for Crawfish Soldier, Wang Xian used dragon energy to upgrade its abilities directly. This awakened its first superpower directly and allowed it to control a lobster race whose level was lower than its own existing level.

This was the strength of the Divine Dragon that could suppress all things. With the Divine Dragon's bloodline, animals which practiced Divine Dragon Transformation could all possess the horrifying strength of suppressing its own race whose level is lower than its own.

"Now that I have two marine races subdued, let's just give you all a name. Clam girl shall be called Roving Girl and you shall be called Roving Lobster. Hehe!"

Wang Xian smiled and looked at the Roving Lobster in front of him. He immediately instructed, "Go and gather all the lobsters in the vicinity and bring them over."

"Yes, Dragon King!" Roving Lobster nodded his head before moving his body and scampering out.

Although Roving Lobster looked a little comical while moving in water, its speed was five to six times faster than before.

After the upgrades of dragon energy and obtaining the cultivation arts of Metal Dragon Transformation, this lobster was destined to roam the nine skies in the future.

"With Roving Lobster, it would be more convenient to capture lobsters in the future."

Excitement flashed in Wang Xian's eyes. This was one of the reasons why he didn't mind expending a large amount of dragon energy to upgrade a single Crawfish Soldier.

Wang Xian waited quietly on the spot. After 40-50 minutes, he sensed Roving Lobster rushing over from a distant place.

After another 10 minutes, he saw a two meters Rainbow Lobster headed towards him with two long antennae like a Divine Lobster.

Behind him was a pod of densely packed large lobsters.

Four species of lobsters, namely ornate spiny lobsters, scalloped spiny lobsters, Chinese lobsters and painted spiny lobsters, were separated into groups in front of him! The scene was grandiose and there were at least 10,000 of them.

Wang Xian looked at this huge pod of lobsters in disbelief.

"Dragon King!" Roving Lobster swam to the side of Wang Xian and stopped on the rock respectfully.

"Great. Haha, so many lobsters! I'm rich! Just these 10,000 lobsters alone could be sold for several tens of millions."

Wang Xian's eyes lit up. Just these lobsters in front of him would bring him astronomical profits.

"These are just lobsters in the vicinity. There are more at places further away," Roving Lobster said.

"Haha," Wang Xian laughed in ecstasy.

These lobsters were marine animals without intelligence. Therefore, Wang Xian didn't feel a tinge of guilt for selling them for money.

In the world of marine animals, large fish fed on small fish and small fish fed on shrimps. These were the primeval rules of survival.

"I won't be lacking supplies of lobsters for First-grade Restaurant in the future. Also, I'll be able to go look for other top-quality ingredients."

Wang Xian looked at the large pod of lobsters in front of him and revealed a smile.

Within First-grade Restaurant, he had settled the supply of top-quality lobsters. However, this wouldn't be enough. He still had to look for other top-quality ingredients in order to make First-grade Restaurant become the best and most famous restaurant in Rivertown.

"Roving Lobster, cultivate diligently at this place. Roving Girl, follow me and continue with our search," Wang Xian said to the Roving Lobster. After which, he brought Roving Girl along and started exploring the surroundings.

At this place, there were quite a number of other marine animals other than the large number of lobsters.

Moreover, he wanted to see how large this region was and the approximate number of lobsters in the area.

"Eh, that is?"

After roaming around the chaotic coral reefs area for two hours, Wang Xian still hadn't covered the entire region.

Based on his estimates, this place had a radius of at least 30 kilometers.

Wang Xian finally found several precious fish after devouring and looking for top-quality ingredients for hours. They were wild giant yellow croaker fish!

A total of five yellow croaker fish had a golden glow on the surface of their body and each one weighed 3-4 catties.

"I'm so lucky today!"

Moving his body, Wang Xian swam over directly. He shrouded the five precious yellow croaker fish with his dragon power and suppressed them.

Chapter 47: Guan Shuqing's Problem

Wild Giant Yellow Croakers, in the present, were almost extinct. Any one of them with a weight of 3 catties and above could fetch a price of $30,000 to $40,000.

$10,000 per catty would definitely be the top-quality fish in the world.

Wang Xian looked at the 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croakers that he dominated with a faint smile on his face.

Having stayed in the ocean for more than 17 hours, the biggest benefit that he reaped was Roving Lobster and the lobsters. Besides that, he also acquired 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croakers.

These Wild Giant Yellow Croakers were worth at least $300,000.

Wang Xian did not bring all the lobsters up. Instead, he brought those Wild Giant Yellow Croakers back to shore.

He got Roving Lobster to guard the entire lobsters' area and commanded Roving Girl to look for top-quality ingredients during her free time.

Wang Xian transferred the image of abalones, Wild Giant Yellow Croaker, and Chinese Bahaba fish to Roving Girl so that she could search for them.

After coming out of the sea, it was 9 am the next day. He touched his empty stomach, as he had already missed two meals in a day.

Wang Xian put on his clothes and headed to the place where he had parked his Harley motorcycle.

How nice it would be if I had a house by the sea. In this way, I wouldn't have to go through the trouble. It would be best to have a fish farm or fishing boat at sea. Next time, I can better explain the source of the seafood if I put them on the fishing boat.

Wang Xian was pondering to himself. He took out his phone to check the price of fishing boats.

There were several messages on the phone. In addition to Guan Shuqing's messages, there were messages from Xue Jing.

Xue Jing sent him a message asking if he had time to meet. Subsequently, he followed up with some warm greetings again.

Wang Xian chuckled after he saw these and returned a few polite replies.

He rode all the way back to First-grade Restaurant and saw Guan Shuqing and Manager Huang exchanging conversations as soon as he entered the restaurant.

On seeing him, Guan Shuqing was displeased and grumbled, "Where did you go? You didn't reply to my messages since yesterday."

Wang Xian saw some resentment flashing in her eyes. He chuckled and said, "I have been busy, and I was too busy to look at my phone."

"Who will believe you? You're so busy that you can't even look at your phone?" Guan Shuqing stared at him with disbelief.

"It's true. I'm not lying to you." Wang Xian walked over without a word and swung the bag of Wild Giant Yellow Croakers in his hand. "To get some seafood back, I was busy throughout the night. I didn't even sleep well last night. Manager Huang, bring it to the kitchen and keep it. We're not selling these for the time being."

He smiled to Guan Shuqing as he spoke to Manager Huang.

"Yes, Director Wang." Manager Huang trotted over with curiosity as he took over the bag in Wang Xian's hand.

"This is...?" When he saw the Giant Yellow Croakers, his eyes were wide open as he was taken aback. "Director Wang, this...these are Giant Yellow Croakers?"

"Yes, Wild Giant Yellow Croaker. Keep them properly. They should be dying." Wang Xian nodded.

"Sure, Director Wang. You're awesome. Wild Giant Yellow Croaker is so rare that it is hard to catch even one. You have got 10 of them, and each of them is at least 3 catties. Director Wang, you're simply superb."

Manager Huang spoke with surprise. Then, he quickly took the fish back to the kitchen.

When the main chef saw the fish, he was also shocked. The new boss was awesome. He had managed to get 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croakers in just a day, and these are all the priceless top-quality ingredients.

"You got 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croakers?" asked Guan Shuqing shockingly as she knew about the scarcity of the Giant Yellow Croakers as well.

"Yes, I got them through tremendous effort." Wang Xian nodded.

"Wang Xian, you're now... superb!" said Guan Shuqing with her mouth agape.

"Heh, it's nothing. You'll be well-fed if you follow my lead." Wang Xian smirked.

"You're such an outstanding man now. I'm sure many girls will take a fancy to you in the future." Suddenly, Guan Shuqing looked at him, feeling lost.

"Hur?" Wang Xian was slightly stunned. Subsequently, he joked and said, "That's for sure. Just that I'm not sure if there is anyone as pretty as our Guan Shuqing who will take a fancy to me."

"What a glib tongue." Guan Shuqing heard his words and chuckled, "Well, I'm going to check and make a comparison with the old data. I cannot take your salary for granted."

"I will also take a look at the office."

Wang Xian came to a small office with three tables. Among which, there was one desk that belonged to him.

Wang Xian picked up the old data and studied it.

The daily sales figure of First-grade Restaurant was about $150,000. Such turnover is considered to be high, at $50 million a year.

Yet, the profit margin was minimal at 12% to 13% of the revenue.

Expenses include taxes, staff wages, in-store expenses, and the procurement cost.

With 50 employees, the staff wages cost almost $20,000. Procurement expenses were even higher than this.

Take caviar for instance, there was basically no profit in selling it.

The First-grade Restaurant could enjoy its reputation because of the excellent quality in the ingredients and the culinary skills of the chef.

Director Li was a very enterprising person. He hired three award-winning 'Gold-medalist' chefs. The so-called 'Gold-medalist' chefs were chefs who were qualified to be the main chefs in five-star hotels.

The yearly salary of these three cooks was around half a million.

With the increase in cost, the reputation of the restaurant was on the rise too. Five to seven million profits in a year was considered high to a restaurant.

An average restaurant would make more than 25% of profits. The First-grade Restaurant's profit margin is still relatively low. If we can double the profits, we will have $13 to $14 million in income.

Wang Xian was thinking to himself. He remained confident with First-grade Restaurant. Once their top-quality ingredients were ready, they could make at least 35% profits.

By that time, the yearly earnings could hit over $20 million.

During the day, Wang Xian had been staying in the restaurant to study how to make money.

Guan Shuqing was also looking at the various data.

Ring!

When Wang Xian was about to get Guan Shuqing for dinner at 6 pm, Guan

Shuqing's phone rang.

Soon after, he heard the reluctant voice of Guan Shuqing.

"Wang Xian, I had to make a trip home," After she hung up the phone, Guan Shuqing had a troubled face. She apologized to Wang Xian, "I might not be able to come tomorrow either. I'm sorry. I just started my work for a day..."

"Hur? What's up? Anything wrong?" asked Wang Xian with concern. He was slightly stunned when he saw her expression.

"Something about my parents. I'm sorry," Guan Shuqing replied with guilt.

"It's okay. Get going." Wang Xian shook his head and assured her.

"Well, I'll come back the day after." Guan Shuqing nodded.

Wang Xian nodded as he did not take it to heart.

Guan Shuqing's house was situated within an old district of the Eastern River District in the Rivertown. They used to be staying in a high-end, duplex residential building in the city center, but they had to sell their house to return the debt after her father's company encountered some problems and went bankrupt.

"Dad, Mom?" When she opened the door, Guan Shuqing saw her parents sitting on the sofa.

The middle-aged man was smoking, and his hair was a mess. The fact that he had turned from a billionaire to a penniless man had struck a huge blow to her father. Even her mother was impacted by this significantly.

"Shuqing is here." the middle-aged man put out the cigarette in his hand immediately. He stood up and said, "Get yourself dolled up. We're going to have dinner."

"Come, Shuqing. Wear something nice today. We have an important dinner," Guan Shuqing's mother said to her too.

"Alright." Guan Shuqing nodded with bitterness on her face.

Chapter 48: Is This A Confession?

The midsummer night was cooling down. Guan Shuqing walked out from a hotel.

A chilling breeze blew past her body causing her to shiver a little. Looking at the bright moon in the sky, she suddenly felt a little helpless.

"Brother Wu, Brother Wu. Please be careful."

At this moment, her father's voice sounded from behind her.

He was walking in front of a middle-aged man and was constantly trying to get on the good books of the middle-aged man.

The middle-aged man nodded his head arrogantly and patted on the shoulders of his father. "Alright brother, if I can help, I'll definitely help you!"

"Thank you, Brother Wu. Thank you, Brother Wu. Please be careful. Sister Wu, you too!"

Guan Shuqing's father was full of smiles as he spoke passionately at them.

"Shuqing, see you in the morning tomorrow!" Behind the middle-aged man and woman, a juvenile stared at Guan Shuqing fervently.

Guan Shuqing felt uncomfortable at the gaze of the juvenile but still nodded her head slightly.

The edge of the juvenile's mouth arched upwards as he said, "I'll go and fetch you in the morning tomorrow."

Guan Shuqing and her family saw the middle-aged man family leave. Guan Shicheng looked at her and frowned. "From here on, be a little more enthusiastic around Wu Chen and don't be so cold to him."

"Dad!" Guan Shuqing looked at her father with displeasure and answered resolutely, "I don't like him!"

"Huh?" When Guan Shicheng heard her, his face sank. "It's fine that you don't like him now. Feelings can be developed over time."

Upon hearing her father's reply, Guan Shuqing's body stiffened up.

"Shuqing, Wu Chen is still a pretty good guy. Moreover, Wu Family's conditions are good." Guan Shuqing's mother tried her best to convince Guan Shuqing.

"Mom, are you all going to sacrifice the happiness of your daughter for the company?" Guan Shuqing asked in a pitiful tone.

"After raising you to this age, you should be thinking about your father. Could you bear to let us stay in that old house till we die? It's time for you to think about us after raising you to this age," Guan Shicheng said to her in a solemn tone. "If Wu Chen doesn't reject the idea, have the wedding completed as soon as possible!"

"What?" When she heard her father, she looked at him with disbelief. "Dad, I'm still studying and am just 21 years old. Are you asking me to get married now?"

"You are going to get married eventually so what's wrong with getting married now?" Guan Shicheng stared at her.

"No, definitely not. I won't marry someone I don't like." Guan Shuqing shook her head incessantly and her body started leaning back. "I don't like him and I will never marry him."

"Shuqing." Guan Shuqing's mother saw how her daughter reacted and couldn't help but feel her heart aching. She walked over quickly and said, "Oh daughter, we are not asking you to get married to him right now. You guys can try to develop feelings for each other first."

"I... I..." Guan Shuqing looked at her parents, gritted her teeth and exclaimed, "I already have someone I like."

"What?" When Guan Shicheng heard her words, he stared at her intensely.

"I have someone that I like!" Guan Shuqing gritted her teeth and said resolutely.

"Someone you like? Great! If the guy that you are fond of has family conditions that are as good as Wu Family and could help us, I won't object to it. If he doesn't, I advise you to give up on this idea as soon as possible. After raising you for twenty years, can't you just help out the family? Let me tell you this. Don't even start having second thoughts about this. My words are final!" Guan Shicheng looked at her and growled angrily.

Guan Shuqing's expression turned pale and tears were welling up in her eyes.

"Shuqing, your dad and mom are doing this for your own good." Mother Guan walked over and patted the shoulders of her own daughter.

For my own good? Asking me to marry someone I don't like is for my own good?

Using me as chips in exchange for benefits is for my own good?

Guan Shuqing felt that her heart was in pain suddenly. Since the unfortunate event happened to her family, she felt that her parents had changed greatly.

Wang Xian! She shouted helplessly in her mind.

If Wang Xian's family conditions are better than Wu Family, then my parents...

But Wu Family had assets of $400-500 billion. Although Wang Xian is rich, there's a clear difference between him and the Wu Family, not to mention helping my family.

No, I definitely wouldn't marry someone I don't like!

Guan Shuqing sat in the car and her brain was cluttered. It was when she was back in her own room that she finally regained some consciousness.

A determined look appeared on her face gradually as she took out her phone and tapped on "WeChat".

"Wang Xian, are you there?" She sent the message over anxiously.

At 10.30pm, Wang Xian had just returned to his dormitory room after bathing and happened to see Guan Shuqing's message. He immediately replied,

"Yeah, what's the matter? Are you alright?" he asked, concerned.

"Not fine." Guan Shuqing replied. After which, she asked anxiously, "Do you like me?"

What the...!

When Wang Xian saw this message, he was completely surprised. What's her intention behind asking this question?

His expression changed rapidly and didn't know how to reply. He would be lying if he said he had no feelings for a beautiful girl like Guan Shuqing.

"Did you have too much alcohol?"

However, Wang Xian didn't reply "yes" directly. He sensed that Guan Shuqing was acting a little weird and wasn't her normal self. There's always a reason behind an abnormal behaviour. Therefore, Wang Xian cleverly did not answer her question directly.

Guan Shuqing was a little disappointed at this reply and she added immediately, "If you could earn $50 million within 3 years, is it okay if you marry me?"

Cough cough! What the f*ck!

Wang Xian was drinking water when he saw the reply and choked on it immediately. If he was surprised before, he was shocked now.

What the f*ck! What's with Guan Shuqing today?! Why is she speaking so weirdly? Is this a joke?

Wang Xian was making guesses in his mind and felt that the weather was a little erratic the last few days. He answered in a jokingly manner, "Forget about three years. It shouldn't be a problem for me to earn $50 million within two years or perhaps even within a year! At that time, will I be able to take a great beauty like you as my wife? Hehehe!"

When Guan Shuqing saw Wang Xian's reply, she finally had a faint smile on her face. "Yes, you can."

"Haha, then you will be too simple. Wow! If the guys in school knew about it, wouldn't they die of envy? The goddess of the school would be marrying me!" Wang Xian answered in a comical manner.

"Yeah!" When Guan Shuqing saw his reply, she smiled wider. She lay on her bed and replied, "My parents are asking for a guy I dislike to go out with me tomorrow. At that time, please accompany me."

"Sure, absolutely not a problem." Wang Xian answered directly despite feeling that the message was a little strange.

"Then we have agreed on this. This baby is going to sleep now. Goodnight, Xiao Xian. I'll call you again in the morning. Remember to wake up early!" [\[1\]](#)

When Guan Shuqing sent that message out, her face turned red. Although Xiao Xian isn't as successful as Wu Family right now, if he could earn $50 million in 2-3 years and I use death to force my parents, my parents would definitely not pressure me further. Moreover, they would also likely agree to us being together. After all, Xiao Xian is so capable despite his young age.

Oh my god!

When Wang Xian saw Guan Shuqing's last message, he could no longer hold back his emotions as he jumped upright.

Although their relationship wasn't bad, they were still addressing each other using their full name. He would address her as Guan Shuqing and she would address him as Wang Xian.

With Guan Shuqing's personality, she wouldn't call him Xiao Xian and address herself as "baby" to him.

The last message made Wang Xian's heart palpitate violently.

He scrolled through the conversation log between the two of them and started pondering the details.

Firstly, something must have happened to Guan Shuqing on her way home.
Secondly,...

Hehehe. Could it be that Guan Shuqing really likes me and that this was a confession?

Hohoho~

Wang Xian was in ecstasy.

Chapter 49: Summer Sun Resort

"I'm drop-dead handsome!"

The next morning, Wang Xian stood in front of the mirror, looking refreshed after a bath. Looking at himself in the mirror, he was pleased.

While fiddling with his hairstyle, his phone suddenly rang.

Wang Xian spun around and picked up his phone quickly. When he saw Guan Shuqing's number, a smile surfaced on his face.

"Hello, Pretty Guan!" Wang Xian squinted his eyes and said.

"Have you woken up?"

"Yes, where are we going? Do you need me to pick you up?" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"No, I'll be going with the annoying guy. Oh, I forgot to tell you yesterday that you're acting as my boyfriend today. Do you have any issues with that?"

"No, I'm sure."

Wang Xian chuckled. He had a sleepless night as he was thinking of what Guan Shuqing meant by what she said yesterday.

He was rather into Guan Shuqing.

But he was neither someone who could chat with girls easily nor the proactive type. Otherwise, Qi Chuchu, whom he had been working together with, would have become his girlfriend.

Wang Xian did not put much thought into this, but that did not mean that he did not have the desire.

Now, he was fired up after Guan Shuqing tempted him.

"I'll send you the address. See you then!"

Guan Shuqing hung up after talking to him. Soon after, an address was sent to his WeChat.

"Guan Shuqing is back to herself today. That's odd. Women are always unpredictable."

Wang Xian shook his head. He knew Guan Shuqing must have encountered some problems. Otherwise, she would not have said such a thing yesterday.

However, he still remembered that she promised to marry him if he earned $50 million. That was not a difficult task for the present Wang Xian.

"Hur? Summer Sun Resort? Isn't that the property of Xue Jing and his family?"

Upon seeing the address sent by Guan Shuqing, Wang Xian was taken aback by surprise.

"What a coincidence."

Wang Xian laughed as he headed outside. He rode to the old street and had his breakfast before he rode off to the Summer Sun Resort.

When he arrived at the Summer Sun Resort, it was only about 9 am. He came to the car park at the entrance and parked his motorcycle there.

"Should I tell Xue Jing?"

Wang Xian hesitated. After some considerations, he decided to let it go to avoid unnecessary troubles.

He put the keys back in his pocket and headed to the entrance.

"Kite, don't run, stop!"

At this time, Wang Xian heard a shout and a cheerful cry from a kid behind him.

"I want to play!"

A kiddish voice was heard, and Wang Xian felt someone knocking into him and hugging his leg from behind.

"Watch out, watch out!"

Wang Xian turned around and saw a little boy hugging his thigh nervously.

"I'm sorry that I knocked into you. I almost fell too."

As Wang Xian turned around, the little boy lifted his head and looked at him shyly.

"It's all right." Wang Xian looked at the cute and well-mannered boy, he could not help but to rub his head.

"Little Kite, why are you running so fast? Wait for your Dad and Grandpa." A middle-aged man and an elder walked out from a campervan. Along with them were two young men who looked like bodyguards in suits.

"Grandpa, Dad. Let's hurry up and play." The little boy released Wang Xian's leg and continued to run inside.

"You rascal." The middle-aged man sped up his pace and chased after him. He caught him in his arms, "Listen to me. Stop running."

"Don't run, don't run."

Following behind, the old man came along with a cane.

Wang Xian smiled when he saw the cute little boy staggering as he ran. Then, Wang Xian headed for the resort.

"Brother Qin, Old Qin." At this time, another middle-aged man greeted them at the entrance.

Isn't he the father of Xue Jing, Xue Jiahua? Wang Xian was a little surprised to see the middle-aged man.

As Xue Jiahua was ushering the three people, he also saw Wang Xian. He was slightly taken aback before he walked over, "Benefactor Wang Xian."

"Just call me Wang Xian." Wang Xian chuckled at the way he addressed him.

"Sure, are you here for leisure?" asked Xue Jiahua with a smile on his face.

"Yes, I came here to look around." Wang Xian nodded.

"Why don't I get Xiao Jing to accompany you around?" answered Xue Jiahua hurriedly.

"No, it's okay. I have to wait for my friend. Mr. Xue, you can ignore me." Wang Xian smiled as he declined.

"Sure, then I shall not bother you anymore. Enjoy yourself and let us know if you need anything." Xue Jiahua nodded hurriedly.

"Alright." Wang Xian nodded and headed inside.

Xue Jiahua watched as Wang Xian entered. With a slight hesitation, he fished out his phone and texted his son to entertain Wang Xian eventually.

"Brother Xue!"

Just then, the middle-aged man, not far away, knit his eyebrows and called out for Xue Jiahua with the little boy in his arms.

Just now, Xue Jiahua was supposed to greet them, but he cast them aside when he saw a young man. Such a way of doing things was impolite.

However, they did not say anything. After all, they were here to ask for a favor.

"Old Qin, Brother Qin, I'm really sorry." Xue Jiahua quickly responded to his calling by walking over quickly.

In Rivertown, not many people were qualified for him to greet them personally. Old Qin was exceptional. Qin Family was much more influential than Xue Family. Hence, he did not dare to be a poor host.

"I'm really sorry. Just now, I met my benefactor. So I had to greet him personally." Xue Jiahua explained with apologies.

"Oh? A benefactor?" The middle-aged man looked at the figure in front of him with curiosity.

"Never mind, I heard that Old Xue not only regained his health, but he also made some improvements. I'm here to check on him." Old Qin shook his cane, not minding at all.

"Sure, Old Qin. My father is waiting inside. This way, please!"

Xue Jiahua looked at the little boy in the arms of the middle-aged man. Naturally, he knew the purpose of Old Qin to come personally over here. Hence, he quickly led the way.

Summer Sun Resort is quite a posh place.

An usher was leading in front of him as Wang Xian observed the surroundings with slight surprise.

The entire resort was luxurious, surrounded by rockery, streams, and a few trails. There were streams of crystal-clear water on both sides of the road with a myriad of fish swimming in it.

Refined and posh-looking housing could be found ahead. Summer Sun Resort was situated near the sea. He could vaguely see the beach that was full of various activities like surfing.

Not only that, there was a small restaurant on the sea with several tourists having their beverages.

Surrounding the resorts were tall trees which made the place beautiful. There were some ponds with crystal-clear water too.

The entire place was relaxing, and the environment was elegant.

"It's a five-star resort indeed. The environment is really awesome," Wang Xian exclaimed softly.

"Sir, if you are waiting for your friends, you can rest in the waiting area for the time being."

The usher brought Wang Xian to a waiting area.

Chapter 50: Treatment

Wang Xian sat at the waiting area within Summer Sun Resort and the usher brought him a cup of water.

He gave Guan Shuqing a call and informed her about it. Moreover, she hadn't left her house.

Wang Xian took out his phone and started playing to kill his boredom.

"Big Brother Wang Xian!"

At this moment, a voice sounded. Under the astonishment looks of the ushers in the surrounding, their young boss was running towards a young man.

"Huh?" Wang Xian lifted his head and saw Xue Jing running towards him. He smiled and thought that Xue Jing was probably here under orders of his father.

"Big Brother, why didn't you let me know that you are coming? I would have come to pick you up at the entrance," Xue Jing ran over passionately and said.

"A friend invited me here so I didn't disturb you." Wang Xian smiled and answered Xue Jing.

As the other party was so zealous and warm to him, he naturally would treat him with sincerity.

"You aren't disturbing me. Not at all! I happened to be here anyway." Xue Jing laughed as he walked. "Big Brother, are you waiting for someone?"

"Yeah, I'm waiting for someone." Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Big Brother, why don't I bring you around for a tour since you are free now? Moreover, my grandfather has asked me to thank you again. Since my grandfather was treated by you, he has made a breakthrough in his cultivation level," Xue Jing said with gratitude.

"Really? In that case, I'll have to congratulate Old Xue." Wang Xian nodded his head with astonishment. Dragon Energy was a top-grade type of energy. While treating Old Xue's injuries, he also strengthened his heart. This was what allowed him to achieve the breakthrough.

"Big Brother, let me bring you around for a tour. I'm guessing this is your first time here at our Summer Sun Resort. Let me introduce you to the various sites." Xue Jing asked.

"Alright, I'll be troubling you then." Wang Xian hesitated before nodding his head.

"Not at all!" Xue Jing shook his head, stood up and led the way immediately.

"This resort is pretty good and the area is pretty big," Wang Xian remarked while following behind Xue Jing and listening to his explanation.

"This resort of ours is the largest in the entire province. Our Xue Family invested $1 billion to build it in the past. Currently, our Xue Family are relying on this resort and the five-star hotel in the city center," Xue Jing explained.

Wang Xian nodded his head. Looking at this, Xue Family's assets should be at least a billion.

There were many rich people in the country and many of these rich people were not known as they kept a low profile. Xue Family could be considered as a family that kept a rather low profile.

They didn't have a lot of properties but their properties weren't small.

The scenery by the seaside was extremely beautiful after modification. The resort houses in the vicinity were all luxurious and exquisite.

Large trees and a clean swimming pool!

There were various kinds of entertainment. The restaurant by the sea was a great place to go to in the resort. When winter came, there would even be a hot spring. This place was great for tours for all seasons in a year.

"Big Brother, would you like to go to the room at the side to take a break. My father and grandfather are both here today. If it's convenient for you, let's have lunch together today?"

The Xue Family would like to make Wang Xian a friend. Xue Jing had also witnessed his strength and therefore tried to invite him and make him closer with them.

Wang Xian also knew about the thoughts of Xue Jing and the Xue Family. Even though the other party wanted him as a friend, he wasn't against the idea. To him, there were still a lot of benefits from getting to know an additional friend.

"Sure, my friend hasn't arrived yet. However, let's talk about lunch again later. If I have the time, I will definitely agree to it."

Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Alright, Big Brother Wang Xian, this way please." Excitement flashed past Xue Jing eyes as he replied quickly.

"Big Brother Wang Xian, the two most luxurious rooms of our resorts are here. One of them is this and the other just beside. You can come over directly with your Family Membership Card."

Xue Jing pointed at the two luxurious rooms as he explained.

Wang Xian looked over and nodded his head. After which, he walked into one of the luxurious rooms.

Within the room, Xue Jiahua was sitting in the main hall with a middle-aged man. The middle-aged man was smoking and had a worried look on him.

"Brother Wang Xian!" When Xue Jiahua saw Wang Xian walk in, he was filled with surprise. He stood up immediately and went over to welcome him.

"Mr. Xue, please take a seat!" Wang Xian replied immediately.

"Come, come!" Xue Jiahua smiled and nodded his head. He immediately took the teacup from the table, poured tea in it and passed it to Wang Xian personally. "Brother Wang Xian, take a seat too."

"Sorry for disturbing Mr. Xue." Wang Xian nodded his head. He felt a little weird about his enthusiasm as he sat down.

"Not at all, not at all!" Xue Jiahua waved his hand immediately. "Authentic longjing tea, have a try!"

"Mm. I won't stand on ceremony then." Wang Xian nodded his head.

The middle-aged man by the side looked at Wang Xian with surprise.

This was the second time he saw Wang Xian. He met him for the first time at the entrance and Xue Jiahua left them aside just to greet this young man.

Xue Jiahua even poured him tea personally and addressed him with deference!

Even when facing his own father, he had never been so enthusiastic!

He looked over inquisitively.

Waa, waa, waa!

At this moment, the crying sounds of a child propagated over. Soon after, a guy with his upper body naked ran out of the room.

"Little Kite, don't run! Grandpa will bring you out to play! Let's go!"

Behind him, an old man with a walking stick walked out and called to the little guy.

"Dad, so itchy and pain!" The little guy looked at his father and ran over with tears all over his face.

"It's alright, everything will be fine soon, my son!" The middle-aged man carried the little guy, patted his back and was consoling him.

Wang Xian looked at the small boy inquisitively. He noticed that his entire body was strangely red.

"Brother Wang Xian, you are here?" Old Xue walked out of the room and saw Wang Xian. He had a shocked expression as he quickly made his way over.

"Old Xue, sorry for bothering you." Wang Xian nodded at Xue Liangren.

Clearly, he didn't know that Wang Xian had come.

"Father, we happened to meet while fetching Old Qin previously. Therefore, I asked Xue Jing to go and receive him." Xue Jiahua stood up, walked to his father's side and spoke softly.

Mm. Xue Liangren's eyes lit up.

"Waa, waa. Dad, so hot, so hot... Let's go swimming... swimming."

The crying sounds of that little boy sounded once again. He choked for a moment but soon started crying loudly again.

Wang Xian's attention was once again attracted by that little boy. He frowned and hesitated before extending his hand over. "Hey pal, come and let brother take a look."

"Huh?" When the middle-aged man heard Wang Xian, he frowned.

Old Qin, who had a walking stick with him, looked at Wang Xian with doubts on his face.

However, Xue Liangren was stunned. He commented immediately, "Quick! Xiao Qin, come and let Brother Wang Xian take a look."

When the middle-aged man heard Old Xue, he was slightly shocked and turned to his father.

Old Qin also looked at Old Xue in surprise.

However, Old Xue wasn't paying attention as he introduced the little one to Wang Xian. "Brother Wang Xia, Little Kite is Old Qin's grandson. He has a congenital illness and the symptoms are really strange. Currently, we can only use internal energy to alleviate the effects of the illness. Why don't you take a look at it?"

Chapter 51: Making Friends

"Old Xue, who is this young chap?"

Seeing that Old Xue was ignoring him, Old Xue knit his brows slightly. He walked over and asked the question softly when he saw Wang Xian reach out to touch his grandson.

"A young expert!"

Old Xue paused before he uttered the words to Old Qin.

Old Qin was slightly stunned. A young expert? The term coming out from Old Xue was extremely unusual given that his strength was ranked top five in Rivertown. Moreover, he had made a breakthrough in his strength too.

As such, he looked at the juvenile with surprise.

Wang Xian found out about the little boy's condition after he injected some Dragon Energy into his body.

There was something congenital growing in his right kidney, and it connected his kidneys together. This caused kidney failure for the little boy.

Just now, Old Xue must have been using his Internal Energy to nourish him so as to alleviate the problem.

However, this was not a long-term solution, and it did not resolve the root problem.

I can remove it with my Dragon Energy, but it would consume 50 to 60 points.

Wang Xian pondered to himself as he lifted his chin to look at the two elders.

"Wang Xian, can you treat the grandson of Old Qin?"

"Young chap, any ways to do it?"

The two elders asked Wang Xian quickly. Old Qin, in particular, was looking forward to his answer.

Wang Xian nodded slowly. "Yes, there is a way."

"Really, can you really cure my grandson's disease?" Upon hearing Wang Xian, the hand that was holding on to the cane was trembling as Old Qin asked once again in disbelief.

"Master, you... you can save my son." the middle-aged man stood up suddenly and said in excitement.

"Yes, I can do it now." Wang Xian nodded.

"So long as you can cure him, the entire Qin Family would be grateful to you. I hope you can save my grandson." Old Qin's cheeks blushed slightly as he clenched his cane tightly when he heard Wang Xian.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian stroked the head of the little fellow and said, "Let's go. I'll cure your disease."

"Brother, can you really cure me?" The little fellow was looking at him as his eyes got redder.

"Yes, of course. It will be done in a while." Wang Xian smiled and carried him up. "10 minutes. Just give me 10 minutes."

"Wang Xian, you can use this room. We'll not disturb you," Old Xue said hurriedly.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded and carried the little boy into the room.

The little boy was obedient as he stared blankly at Wang Xian. He was looking forward to it with his glimmering eyes.

Wang Xian entered the room because he wanted to avoid setting the world on fire since getting the little boy fixed only took a few seconds.

He had to stay under the radar. After all, he had yet to become invincible.

"Old Xue, can he...can he really do it?" Old Qin watched as Wang Xian carried his grandson into the room. Then he turned to Old Xue and uttered words that do not hang together.

"If he said he can, he can," Old Xue confidently nodded. He looked at Old Qin. "Old Qin, your luck is good today since you managed to meet Wang Xian. Relax, am I not looking good now?"

Old Xue spoke with a smile on his face.

Old Qin was slightly stunned by his words. He stared with his eyes wide open. "Old Xue, are you saying that your injury was...was..."

Old Qin smiled and nodded.

Old Qin had a change in his expression. He looked to that room with great surprise.

Apart from him, everyone in the Rivertown knew about Old Xue. He had sustained severe injuries and visited many doctors for them. But, it was pronounced that he could not live for more than two years.

Everyone in Rivertown thought the Xue Family would eventually fall, but no one expected that the old Master of the Xue Family would recover and make improvements in his strength.

This surprised everyone.

When Old Qin heard about this, he brought his grandson to Old Xue so that he could help to alleviate the illness.

Never did he expect that he would have such an amazing encounter.

"Kite has hope, Dad. Kite has hope!" The middle-aged man at the side was overjoyed at their unexpected good fortune. He was so happy that he acted like a kid.

The eyes of Old Qin were full of thrills as he nodded slowly. The entire Qin Family had work painstakingly hard for their only grandson. Finally, they were relieved of it.

"Old Xue, how did you repay him back then?" Old Qin looked at Old Xue hesitantly and consulted him.

"Repay?" Old Xue smiled, "Back then, it was a coincidence. My grandson, Xiao Jing, offended Wang Xian accidentally. So, I gave him $10 million as compensation. However, Wang Xian was kind-hearted. He took the money as my medical fees."

"This..." Old Qin was stupefied. How could such a good thing happen?

"Wang Xian is a kind-hearted person. Treat someone with sincerity, and naturally, the other party will return the favor. Old Qin, you can give them a sum of money with some sincerity," Old Xue pondered and said.

"Thank you, Old Xue. If you need any help, please let me know." Old Qin nodded his head and spoke to Old Xue gratefully.

"Sure." Old Xue was taken aback by surprise. The Qin Family might not come from the background of an Ancient Martial Artist Family, but they had the most robust backings, even from the government.

Even the Ancient Martial Artist Families would not dare to offend the Qin Family.

"Brother, you're awesome. I'm not feeling sick anymore."

A kiddish voice interrupted the people in the living room.

Old Qin and the middle-aged man spun around and saw the smiling Little Kite. His cheeks were rosy as he pulled Wang Xian's hand and walked out of the room happily.

"Little Kite!" The old man and the middle-aged man walked over quickly with faces full of surprises.

"Grandpa, Dad, bring me out. I want to go swimming." The little boy grinned as he spoke.

"Sure. Sure." The middle-aged man carried the little boy in his arms and kissed him hard on the cheek.

Standing at the side, tears welled up in Old Qin's eyes. His grandson's health had always been a load on his mind.

"Wang Xian, thank you for saving my grandson. Thank you!" Old Qin looked at Wang Xian and bowed to him.

"You're welcome. He is cute too." Wang Xian laughed and shook his head. When he was treating the kid with his Dragon Energy, he accidentally obtained a thing from the stuff the kid spat out. It was a total surprise to him.

"Brother, I'm handsome, not cute," the little boy turned to him and said.

"Thank him now," the middle-aged man told Little Kite. His son was born when he was in his mid-years. His greatest wish was to see his son growing up healthily.

"Thank you, Brother." The little boy grinned.

"Wang Xian, these are the medical fees for my grandson. It's not a lot, but it is a token of my appreciation. The pin number is the last six digits behind the card."

Old Qin took out a card that he just prepared and handed it respectfully to Wang Xian. "I, Qin Guohui, have some power in Rivertown. If you need any help in the future, you can call me directly. It is never enough to repay you for treating my grandson."

"I'll keep the money as the cost of treatment. You don't have to take the rest seriously."

Wang Xian took the card with a smile. Firstly, the boy was cute and well-behaved. Secondly, he did this for the money. He was only left with $5 million. It was nothing less, but not a lot. Hence, he depleted some of his Dragon Energy just to treat the boy.

Besides, he could make some friends and build his network.

At the same time, he obtained a treasure unexpectedly. This deal was a profitable deal to him.

Chapter 52: We Fight (1)

"Wang Xian, where's your hometown? This is still the first time I've known someone as powerful as you are in Rivertown."

"Old Qin, you're really humble. I'm not as powerful as you might think. It's just some simple medical techniques. I was from Pengzhou. If there aren't any accidents, I might very well stay in Rivertown for a long period."

"Hehe. If your medical techniques were simple, there wouldn't be any great techniques. Sacred Followers Guild and Disciples of the Medical Saint aren't as great as their reputation would suggest."

"Wang Xian is indeed great in this. For my son's illness, I have consulted almost all the hospitals from the North to the South."

"A doctor typically has a kind heart. The reason why Brother Wang Xian has such extraordinary medical techniques has very much to do with his young chivalrous heart."

"You guys are praising me to the skies! I'm just 20 years old and couldn't take all these compliments. Otherwise, I'll get arrogant. Haha."

Wang Xian was chatting with Old Qin and Old Xue in the living room. Xue Jiahua and Old Qin's son had the intention to get on the good books of Wang Xian as they went along with the conversation.

As for Xue Jing, he had nothing to contribute at all nor did he dare to interrupt. All he did was to pour tea for others and laugh along.

For Old Qin and Old Xue, they were in an authoritative position with extraordinary backgrounds. They naturally had an "aura" around them. As for Wang Xian, he wasn't uncomfortable while chatting easily with Old Xue and Old Qin. as he had the disposition of the Divine Dragon.

Xue Jiahua and the middle-aged man were a little surprised that Wang Xian was able to chat care freely with their fathers at such a young age. This was something that they couldn't do themselves.

Among the younger generation in Rivertown, there was no one that could be compared with him.

"I heard from Xiao Jing that Wang Xian is now operating a restaurant. May I know where is it located so I can go and get some food when we are free? Hehe," laughed Old Xue.

"I bought over an operating restaurant. It's in the vicinity of the University of Rivertown. I believe Old Xue and Old Qin might have heard of it before. It's called First-grade Restaurant." Wang Xian replied.

"Oh? First-grade Restaurant? I would have never thought that Brother Wang Xian has bought over First-grade Restaurant. This restaurant is rather famous in Rivertown. In that case, we will pay you a visit when we have the time!" Old Qin remarked with a tinge of surprise.

"Sure, not a problem! You'll be more than welcome. When you guys are coming, remember to give me a notice in advance so I can make some preparations for you." Wang Xian laughed.

"Haha. Great! Great!" Old Xue and Old Qin nodded their heads. They were naturally happy that they were able to make friends with an extraordinary person like Wang Xian.

As for Wang Xian, he had a good impression of Old Xue and Old Qin. One could tell the qualities of another person by the way they spoke and behaved. Moreover, he had a joyous chat with them too.

"Oh right! Brother Wang Xian, I'll be hosting a banquet tonight. At that time, there will be many elites of Rivertown. If you are free, do join us." Old Qin invited him all of a sudden.

"I don't really know anyone so I guess I'll not be going." Wang Xian was taken aback slightly and shook his head.

"It's enough to just know these two old men right here. At that time, Old Xue would bring his family along too. Since Brother Wang Xian would like to grow in Rivertown, it would still be beneficial to get to know more people." Old Qin smiled.

"Hmm. Alright." Wang Xian hesitated for a while before nodding his head.

"Alright. Do you want to have lunch with us in the afternoon?" suggested Old Qin.

"This might not be possible," Wang Xian replied apologetically. "I came over here to look around while I was waiting for a friend. It might not be possible in a while..."

As he spoke, his phone in his pocket suddenly rang.

"Haha, since Brother Wang Xian has things to attend to, just go ahead. We will be fine. Let's go to your restaurant for a meal when I've arranged a time with Old Qin," Old Xue smiled and said.

"Yeah, go ahead and attend to your matters."

Wang Xian smiled and turned on his phone. It was a message from Guan Shuqing.

After reading the message, Wang Xian looked at them. "Old Qin, Old Xue. My friend has just sent me a message so I have to rush over. Sorry about that."

"It's fine. Just go. Let's have a chat again when you are free."

Wang Xian nodded his head and headed out.

"Big Brother, let me send you over. I'm familiar with the place. Where is your friend currently?" Xue Jing came over and asked him directly.

"Sea Cloud Pavilion 101 private lounge. It's near the sea," Wang Xian looked at Xue Jing and said.

"Alright! Big Brother, please follow me." Xue Jing smiled and went ahead to lead the way.

Along the beach, there was a row of tree houses. It was neatly arranged and looked extremely beautiful.

"Big Brother, this is our Sea Cloud Pavilion 101 private lounge." Xue Jing pointed to a small tree house.

"Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head, took out his phone and gave Guan Shuqing a call.

Creak!

Soon, the door to the private lounge opened. Guan Shuqing, who was wearing a short-sleeve white shirt and black casual shorts walked out from the room.

"Wang Xian!"

Guan Shuqing's expression didn't seem fine. When she saw Wang Xian, she forced a faint smile on her face.

"What happened?" Wang Xian asked, concerned upon seeing her unusual self.

"Not... Nothing." Guan Shuqing shook her head and said apologetically, "It might be tough on you in a while. It's all my fault!"

Hmm? What happened? Wang Xian frowned.

"What's the matter, Beauty Guan? Invite your boyfriend in!" At this moment, an impatient male voice sounded from the room.

Guan Shuqing's expression changed slightly.

"Let's go in." Wang Xian lifted one of his eyebrows. He walked beside Guan Shuqing and patted her softly on her back.

Guan Shuqing felt a stream of warmth in her eyes. With shimmering eyes, she looked at him. After hesitating for just a moment, she extended her arms over and wrapped them over his arm.

Wang Xian's heart skipped a beat and the edge of his mouth arched up. He walked into the room with a face of smiles with Guan Shuqing.

When he entered the room, Wang Xian saw four young men and three young girls sitting in the room.

When the man sitting by the entrance saw Guan Shuqing come in with Wang Xian with her arms around his, gloominess flashed in his eyes.

"Hello, everyone." Wang Xian smiled at them.

The four young men in the room started scrutinizing him without reserve.

"Eh? Wang Xian?" Suddenly, one of the girls had a shocked expression and exclaimed out loud.

"Hmm? Mei'er, you know him?" the young man beside the girl asked in bewilderment.

"Of course, we are classmates!" The girl whose name was Mei'er clung onto the young man while revealing a deep cleavage to him. She then added, "Just a poor brat and student in the school."

"Is it?" When the young man heard her reply, he was a little surprised.

"Of course." Mei'er nodded her head. She turned to Wang Xian with a mocking smile and asked, "Isn't it Wang Xian?"

Wang Xian smiled and shrugged his shoulders. Disdain flashed in his eyes as he remarked, "Su Mei'er is indeed true to the rumors spreading within the school."

As he spoke, he sat down in one of the chairs by the side without fear.

"What do you mean by that?" Su Mei'er was triggered suddenly and stared at him with outrage.

"I mean nothing? What did I just say?" Wang Xian maintained his smile while replying.

Su Mei'er was known to be flirtatious in school and changed her boyfriend frequently. Moreover, her boyfriends were all guys from a rich family. Who would have expected her to cling onto a young man outside of school at this moment?

"Lad, you're pretty arrogant to insult my girlfriend the moment you came in," the young man in front of Su Mei'er said coldly.

"Did I? In that case, is her calling me a poor guy an insult?"

Wang Xian smiled.

"What I've said is the truth!" Su Mei'er exclaimed angrily at him.

"Did I tell a lie then?"

Wang Xian spoke plainly to Su Mei'er. He leaned back in the chair nonchalantly and looked at all the people around him.

When he saw Guan Shuqing's embarrassed look previously, he knew that she must have been treated unfairly but didn't dare to retort.

In that case, he had no intention or need to be respectful and polite to the people in the room.

Let's just be arrogant then!

Chapter 53: We Fight (2)

"Lad, you're quite arrogant. But I'm not sure if you're fit to talk big."

With a cigarette in his hand, a young man in the center was staring at Wang Xian impassively upon seeing Wang Xian's attitude.

"A poor schoolboy is such an arrogance. What a courageous fool. Guan Shuqing, what a good boyfriend you've got."

The young man beside Su Mei'er jeered as he looked at Guan Shuqing.

"Shuqing, is this your taste?" Wu Chen, who was sitting beside Guan Shuqing was staring coldly at Wang Xian with a ferocious look in his eyes.

"I..." Guan Shuqing was looking pale.

She thought it was only her and Wu Chen today, and she was not expecting him to call his friends. That ruined her plan completely.

In particular, those friends of Wu Chen were all from affluent families in the Rivertown. The young man sitting in the center, especially, had an even more daunting background and status.

Any one of them in the room was not someone Wang Xian could mess around with. Suddenly, she regretted. What if this bunch of people decided to hurt Wang Xian because of her...

Guan Shuqing stretched out her hand and tugged at Wang Xian's arm.

Sensing the palm under the table, Wang Xian held her hand and gave her an assuring smile.

Guan Shuqing went stiff as she felt touched, and at the same time, worried too.

"She has great taste!" Wang Xian smiled and turned around to look at Wu Chen. He observed him from head to toe, "At least, I'm more handsome than you!"

"Hmph!"

On hearing his words, Wu Chen banged the table with his hand. He stared at Wang Xian. "Lad, I'm telling you to leave Shuqing now. Otherwise, there will be a corpse found in the Bohai Sea."

"You're in way over your head. You can't even estimate your capability." Su Mei'er jeered at Wang Xian on hearing what he said to Wu Chen.

"Haha, you guys are awesome since you're asking for my life without any reason. What a great society. Since you're a well-known figure in society, why don't you introduce yourself."

Wang Xian turned cold as he heard Wu Chen. Subsequently, he laughed.

"Remember, my name is Wu Chen, the heir to the Wu's Group." Wu Chen answered Wang Xian emotionlessly.

"Gong Family in Rivertown," the young man next to Su Mei'er said with a smile.

"Song Family in Rivertown." Another young man spoke smilingly.

The young man in the middle chuckled, "I'm Bi Xiuming, you can find out about me yourself."

"Wu's Group, Gong Family, Song Family, another one gave me a name to find out myself. You guys are awesome!"

Wang Xian placed his hand slowly on the table while staring at the four of them with a beaming face.

"Xiao Xian, don't... don't act recklessly!" Upon seeing Wang Xian's action, Guan Shuqing hurriedly whispered in his ears.

She was afraid that Wang Xian would get into conflict with the rest of the people whom she treated with care even before her family went bankrupt.

"I told you to look for me when you have any difficulties. Don't worry. I'll be fine." Wang Xian consoled her softly and looked at the rest.

"I don't seem to have any conflicts with anyone of you, right? Oh, if there is, it would only be with you," said Wang Xian, looking at Wu Chen.

"Are you having cold feet? We don't need conflicts. We just hate you."

Sitting in the middle of the room, Bi Xiuming looked at Wang Xian mockingly. "To be honest, thrashing people like you is not fun at all. But, you're too arrogant. Here, drink these two bottles of liquor up and get lost!"

"Lad, get out of this city. If I see you again, you'll bear the consequences," said Wu Chen while glaring at Wang Xian. He then turned to Guan Shuqing. "Your father asked you to marry me, so don't try to be funny with me. If I find out you have other boyfriends, your father will teach you a lesson. Hmph!"

"What a brag. Don't you even look at yourself in the mirror?" said Su Mei'er disdainfully to Wang Xian. Her eyes were beaming with joy from the misfortunes of others.

"You guys can't do this!" When Guan Shuqing looked at them, she was full of regret. If only she knew, she would not have asked Xiao Xian to come... It was all her fault.

"Guan Shuqing, if you want to find someone to annoy me, you should at least get someone capable of doing so." Wu Chen looked at Guan Shuqing coldly.

"Hehe, you guys are indeed from the wealthy families. So stylish!"

Wang Xian looked at them and drew his lips slowly. This situation seemed to have happened before.

In particular, the two bottles of liquor in front of him.

Wang Xian took out his phone and stood up slowly as he was calling Xue Jing.

"Hey, Big Brother, what's the matter?" At this moment, Xue Jing was in a kitchen not far away.

He was asking the chefs to whip up some signature dishes for Wang Xian.

"Someone asked me to find out about him. His name is Bi Xiuming," Wang Xian asked with a smile.

"Bi Xiuming?" Xue Jing paused slightly, "He should be from the Bi Family, one of the Ancient Martial Artist Families in the Rivertown. According to the ranking, they should be in sixth place, slightly weaker than us, but not too bad."

"Oh, got it. I may break a few things. You've got to come and settle it later."

Wang Xian hung up the phone after he finished his words.

On the other side, Xue Jing froze before he screamed, "Gosh, Big brother is having a fight. Who the hell dares to provoke my Big Brother..."

"Haha, you're not that stupid since you know how to find out about me from someone else." Bi Xiuming was slightly taken aback when Wang Xian picked up his phone. When he overheard what he said, he chuckled.

"Okay, I got your information." Wang Xian revealed a smile on his face as he reached for a bottle of liquor.

"Well, so now you know who you're messing with?" Wu Chen was showing a face full of sarcasm as Wang Xian picked up the bottle of liquor.

"Xiao Xian!" Guan Shuqing grabbed on Wang Xian's arm hastily.

Wang Xian shook his head and said, "It's all right. I haven't experienced this for very long. Last time, it was for my sister."

A smile surfaced on Wang Xian's face. Two years ago, he was busy with his school work during the last year of high school. His younger sister was afraid that his studies might get affected, so she went to work in a pub to make some money.

When he found out that someone bullied his sister, he ran over.

The situation was similar to this. The other party wanted him to finish a box of wine before he could take his sister away. In the end...

He reached out his hand. In the past, it was for his sister. Today, it was for another girl.

In the past, he had nothing except his enthusiasm and boldness. Now...

Everyone watched in horror when Wang Xian grabbed the bottle of liquor and slammed hard on Bi Xiuming.

His strength was so mighty that no one could dodge the blow unless they were Level-seven Martial Artists.

Not to mention, it was a sudden attack.

Bi Xiuming, the young generation of Bi Family, was not any better than Xue Jing.

Bam!

Upon seeing the bottle coming at him, Bi Xiuming could only react out of his instinct by blocking it with his arm.

"Ah!" Bi Xiuming let out a devastating scream as his arm was shaking from the sharp pain.

"Wu Group, Gong Family, Song Family, Bi Xiuming? Speak no more and just fight the hell out!"

Wang Xian flipped the table with his hand and sent his kick towards Wu Chen.

If we can't talk it out, we fight!

Chapter 54: Crippled

If we can't talk it out, we fight!

Let's fight!

Wang Xian had his own principles and bottom line. In the past, as long as there was anyone who dared to bully his sister, he wouldn't care who the other party was. He would just fight it out!

Throughout primary school, middle school and high school, he was more resolute and brave than most kids, as he was a kid without parents.

He knew deeply that only by becoming stronger could he stop others from bullying him.

Therefore, as long as there were people who bullied his sister during primary school, middle school or high school, he wouldn't care about the age of these people. He would just risk his life and fight them.

Two fights in middle school deterred anyone from bullying his sister.

Three fights in middle school stopped anyone in the high school from bullying his sister.

And a fight outside the bar at that time made all the gangsters in the county wary of disturbing his sister.

To those who dared to bully people he wanted to protect, Wang Xian would not waste his words on them. He never had much to say and would just fight it out.

In the past, he relied on adrenaline and disregarding dangers to his life. As for now, he could rely on his personal strength. Moreover, Bi Xiuming, who had the strongest background in the room, was still weaker than Xue Family.

Therefore, he could strike without being fearful of anything.

Bam!

"How dare you hit me? You are dead this time!"

Bam!

"Argh... My leg is broken, my leg is broken... Don't hit me!"

"Argh. You are crazy! Stop fighting! Stop fighting!"

Bam!

Wang Xian didn't say anything when he struck. He didn't like to speak while fighting as this would disrupt his flow of actions.

Therefore, in less than 10 seconds, the other three young men were already lying on the floor of the room. They had food scattered all over them as they wailed in agony on the floor.

This was still considering the fact that Wang Xian had controlled his strength. Otherwise, they would have been dead.

"How dare you hit me! How dare you ambush me!"

Bi Xiuming stared at Wang Xian and his body was shaking in anger. He had a hideous expression on him as he stood up and his eyes were bloodshot. "I'm going to kill you!"

"Hehe." Wang Xian took a glance at Bi Xiuming and mocked, "Just you? You are still too weak!"

As he completed his sentence, he saw a bottle of white wine by his feet. He lowered his body and picked it up.

"Die!" Seeing Wang Xian pick up the bottle of white wine, his eyes twitched violently as he jumped. He lifted his legs and kicked towards Wang Xian violently.

Bam!

However, the bottle of white wine was smashed ruthlessly on his right leg, making him shriek in pain.

"Argh! Bi Xiuming fell to the floor while wailing in agony.

His right leg had been broken!

Bam! Wang Xian heard his scream. He kicked impatiently at him and knocked him unconscious directly.

"Wang Xian, how dare... How dare you hit them? You must be eager to die..." Su Mei'er, who had been staying by the side, shrieked in horror.

Wang Xian looked over coldly.

"Xiao Xia, you... You... How could you start the fight. It's over Xiao Xian!"

Guan Shuqing saw Wang Xian strike without warning. Moreover, he even broke their arms and legs. Her heart started beating violently as worries filled her and her eyes turned red with tears.

"Big Brother! F*ck! Who the hell dares to offend my Big Brother."

At this moment, Xue Jing had arrived. Seeing the mess and the four young men lying on the floor, he turned to Wang Xian and asked, "Big Brother, are you alright?"

"I'm fine. Do I look like I'm not?" laughed Wang Xian.

"That's true. Big Brother is so powerful," chuckled Xue Jing. He turned his attention to the four young men on the floor and a violent light flashed in his eyes. "Damn it. How dare you offend Big Brother."

As he spoke, he walked straight into the room, pulled them by their clothes and threw them on the floor.

"Sorry to trouble you," Wang Xian saw the mess in the room and said.

"Big Brother, not at all." Xue Jing quickly shook his head. He looked at the four young men on the floor and said, "He is from Bi Family and this must be Gong Liuyun from Gong Family. Damn it. They must be too eager to die. Big Brother, you are too lenient on them.

As he finished his sentence, he kicked consecutively at the arms of the four men under the horrified eyes of Guan Shuqing and the other 3 girls.

Crack crack crack crack!

The sounds of bones breaking propagated over. Xue Jing didn't hold back at all and crippled the arms of the four young men.

Argh!

The intense pain jerked them awake as they held onto their arms in anguish.

"Tsk. This is just a small lesson to you guys."

Xue Jing sneered. He had witnessed Wang Xian's strength. Because of his provocation, he almost died from a single kick of Wang Xian. Based on what his father had told him, if Wang Xian had not stepped in to help, he would have been crippled.

Therefore when he saw that the injuries on the four young men weren't that serious, he piled on their injuries smartly to appease Big Brother Wang Xian.

"Director Xue!"

At this moment, seven to eight security personnel of the Summer Sun Resort had rushed over. When they saw Xue Jing, they quickly greeted him.

"Call for an ambulance and send them away!" Xue Jing instructed coldly.

"Yes, Director Xue." The security personnel nodded their heads.

"And the four of you, get out of here." Xue Jing looked at the girls and shouted.

Su Mei'er and the other two girls were stunned and looked at Xue Jing in horror.

Guan Shuqing was also a little shocked as she shrank her body instinctively and hid behind Wang Xian in fear.

"This is a friend of mine!" Wang Xian patted on Guan Shuqing's shoulders and said to Xue Jing.

Xue Jing's body shivered. When he saw Wang Xian's actions, he immediately said to Guan Shuqing, "I'm sorry Sister-in-law. It's a misunderstanding.. a misunderstanding!"

Guan Shuqing was a little overwhelmed at this point.

"Big Brother, it would seem like you haven't gotten your lunch yet. Why don't I inform my grandfather and let's have lunch together?" Xue Jing asked with a faint smile.

Wang Xian hesitated for a while and looked to Guan Shuqing. "Have you eaten? Wanna join us for lunch?"

Guan Shuqing nodded her head vaguely but quickly added, "Xiao Xian! Those guys that you beat up had very strong backgrounds. They..."

"Rest assured. It will be fine." Wang Xian shook his head at Guan Shuqing and smiled. "If you encounter any difficulties in the future, just tell me. If anyone bullies you, I'll beat him up for you!"

Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian, gripped onto the edge of her clothes and replied, "Thank you, Xiao Xian."

"Hehe." Wang Xian stared at her and smiled. "That... Do you mean what you said last night?"

"See... See your performance!"

"Hehe!" When Wang Xian saw Guan Shuqing's reaction, he had a resolve. He knew that he had fallen for this girl. When he saw her being treated unfairly and fought for her, he knew that the number of people he wished to protect had increased by one.

"Big Brother Wang Xian, please go to this private lounge. My grandfather and Old Qin would be there soon. Let's go and wait in the private lounge!" Xue Jing said.

"Alright!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and said to Guan Shuqing who was beside him,

"Let's go. We will be having lunch with some friends in a while."

"Mm!" Guan Shuqing nodded her head and took another look at the four young men moaning in anguish.

Just a while ago, Wu Chen had looked at her arrogantly and told her that she would be his wife in the future and that she had to listen to everything he said.

The few other young men around Wu Chen were all looking at her and mocking her about her family's bankruptcy and that she shouldn't think too highly of herself.

At this moment, they were all lying on the floor.

Chapter 55: Dragon Ball

"I heard you just punched a few ignorant lads who offended your companion out of anger."

Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing were sitting at a table in the room, chatting when Old Xue and Old Qin walked in. Following behind them were Xue Jiahua, the son of Old Qin and Little Kite.

Old Xue spoke with a smile as he swept his glance across Guan Shuqing.

"Hehe, those few guys were too braggy. They said they were from the Gong, Song, Bi Family, and they even threatened me. I can't hold my fists," Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Those affluent younger generations... It's good for you to teach them a lesson on behalf of their families," Old Xue said with no importance.

"Yes, I didn't manage to hold back in time." Wang Xian chuckled.

"So good to be young!" Old Qin said with a little envy.

"Haha, come, take a seat." Old Xue laughed, "Wang Xian, aren't you going to introduce your confidante?"

Wang Xian smiled and looked at Guan Shuqing, "This is my classmate, Guan Shuqing,"

Then he turned to Guan Shuqing and continued, "This is Old Qin and Old Xue!"

"Hello, Old Qin and Old Xue!" Guan Shuqing hurriedly greeted them as she was slightly taken aback by surprise when she saw Wang Xian having conversations with two extraordinary elders.

"Well, well... she's quite pretty." Old Qin smiled.

"Guan Shuqing? Do you know Guan Shicheng?" the middle-aged man who was carrying Little Kite asked suddenly.

"He's my father. Do you know him?" Guan Shuqing looked puzzled at the middle-aged man.

"I heard about him." The middle-aged man smiled.

"Oh?" Old Qin looked at his son with question marks on his face.

"Dad, we'll talk about it after dinner!" the middle-aged man smiled and said.

"Alright." Old Qin did not probe into it and continued his chat with Wang Xian and Old Xue.

The lunch took over an hour. Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing left the place after making a promise to attend the dinner event that night.

"Dad." Gazing at the back view of Guan Shuqing, the middle-aged man slightly frowned and continued, "Guan Shuqing's father went bankrupt."

"What exactly is going on?" asked Old Qin with his eyebrows slightly raised.

"Guan Shicheng was in the medical equipment business. This year, his vendor encountered some problems and landed him in hot soup. Eventually, he went bankrupt because of this. Her father came to me for help some time ago, but I turned him down," said the middle-aged man.

"Oh, really?" Old Qin pondered. "Invite Guan Shicheng to the dinner tonight."

"Yes, father." The middle-aged man nodded as he understood his father's intention.

Guan Shicheng really has a good daughter.

The middle-aged man pondered to himself.

"Tonight, three of us are going to disturb Old Qin." Old Xue was wearing smiles on his face.

He had a small family with only three of them practicing martial arts. During the early days, it was Xue Liangren who supported the family.

Luckily, his son and his grandson did not disappoint him. They had great talents in martial arts. Hence, they could make a name in the Rivertown.

A while ago, some of the people were ready for some trouble when he was injured. This time, he was going to announce the return of Xue Family along with his son and grandson. They were still the old Xue Family and could only be stronger than ever.

"Where are we going? Should we stay here?"

After coming out of the room, Wang Xian looked and asked Guan Shuqing, who was next to him

"No." Guan Shuqing shook her head and gazed at him.

Wang Xian beamed and looked at Guan Shuqing. When they exchanged gazes, Guan Shuqing turned her head away.

"Xiao Xian, will they be okay after you beat them up?"

"Don't worry. Didn't you meet Old Xue just now? It's his property here. Those Bi and Gong Family, and Wu's Group didn't even dare to provoke them. Besides, the one who broke the arm of that young man was Old Xue's grandson," Wang Xian said confidently. "You can't underestimate me. I also know one or two formidable people. But, I'm not afraid of them even if I'm alone."

Guan Shuqing was stunned as she looked blankly at Wang Xian. He had brought too much surprise to her such that she was getting mystified by him.

But soon, Guan Shuqing smiled and said, "Yesterday's agreement is still valid."

Wang Xian drew his lips slightly and looked at Guan Shuqing, "You said it."

"Uh-huh, I said it."

"Heh, then you will have to prepare yourself for it!"

Wang Xian was on cloud nine as he fixed his gaze on the girl before him quietly.

She was almost 1.7 meters tall, with long hair down to her shoulders. Her center parting hairstyle was only suitable for a Goddess like her.

The simplistic and monochrome dressing made her look cool and fit her innocent and good figure.

Sensing Wang Xian staring at her, Guan Shuqing chuckled and spun her body around, "Let's go back to the restaurant. I need to work so that I'm not taking the salary for granted."

"Sure, the boss will send you over."

Wang Xian laughed cheekily. They came to the entrance, and Wang Xian drove her back to the First-grade Restaurant.

Guan Shuqing hugged Wang Xian at his waist as she sat on the backseat. With a smiling face, she sniffed the fragrance from his body and leaned gently on his back.

"Boss!"

Manager Huang greeted them as soon as he saw Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing walking into the restaurant.

Wang Xian nodded and returned to his office with Guan Shuqing.

Manager Huang was sensible to walk out of the office.

"I will continue with my data." Guan Shuqing sat down and continued to analyze her data after finishing her sentence.

Wang Xian nodded and returned to his seat. He fished out a ball of flesh that was about a thumb size from his pocket.

It was the crystal-clear, red, glossy flesh, which had been growing in Little Kite's kidney.

Glazed Inferno Crystal: Level Six

Extractable Dragon Energy: 48,338

Superpower: Glazed Inferno

Wang Xian toyed the Glazed Inferno Crystal in his palm as he was deep in his thoughts.

The Glazed Inferno Crystal was growing in the Little Kite's body. Once the heat broke out in his body, it would burn him. As time went by, the blazing temperature would get higher and eventually burnt Little Kite to death.

In order to suppress the Glazed Inferno, the Qin Family had been looking for Martial Artists to suppress it with their Internal Energy.

However, Old Qin was unaware that, while Internal Energy might have suppressed the Glazed Inferno, it also provided nourishment to the fire and catalyzed its evolution.

Hence, Old Qin looked for a Level-two Martial Artist to suppress it in the beginning. Subsequently, he noticed that the Internal Energy of Level-two Martial Artist was insufficient. Then he continued to Level three, four, five and six. Lastly, he found Old Xue, who was a Level-seven Martial Artist today.

This Glazed Inferno Crystal was upgraded to Level Six through those Internal Energy from the Martial Artists.

Once the Qin Family was unable to find a more advanced Martial Artist to suppress it. Little Kite would turn to ash immediately when the next relapse happened.

Luckily, they met him.

"I can increase over 40,000 points of Dragon Energy, but it would be more practical if I can refine it into a Dragon Ball."

Wang Xian did not devour it immediately because he wanted to build a weapon.

Basically, Divine Dragons did not have to use weapons, as their physical bodies were the most formidable weapon of all.

However, there was a refining technique of Divine Dragon Weapons in the Divine Dragon Transformation for Dragon Ball.

Chapter 56: A Storm In The Banquet

(1)

Dragon Balls were weapons unique to the dragon race. Based on their elemental attributes, they would have different dragon balls.

Dragon ball of fire attribute could burn the skies and cook the seas while the dragon ball of ice attribute could freeze the world.

A strong dragon ball was sufficient to change an entire world.

Wang Xian looked at the glazed inferno crystal in his hand. He dripped a drop of dragon blood on it before injecting dragon energy into the fire crystal. Soon, he felt a sense of control.

Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. Through the upgrades used dragon blood and dragon energy, the glazed inferno crystal started to give off its own glow.

The crimson red glow emitted a scorching hot temperature that could easily burn up a human.

With just a change in his thoughts, the dragon ball levitated gradually in mid-air. All Wang Xian had to do was to instruct with his mind and the dragon ball would start moving rapidly.

Great. Through the nourishment with dragon energy, this dragon energy will only get stronger and stronger in the future!

Wang Xian was pleasantly surprised. Even at this very moment, the strength of this dragon ball was very horrifying.

Its temperature could be 3000-4000 degrees.

An ordinary man would be turned to ashes upon contact with the fire dragon ball! At this moment, even my body couldn't take it head on and a level seven martial artist couldn't touch it at all!

Wang Xian thought to himself. With another change in thoughts, he kept the dragon ball in his body.

"Great, great."

Excitement filled Wang Xian's face. Seeing that Guan Shuqing was still reading the information, he switched on the computer and started playing.

"Xiao Xian, I'll be heading home." At five-plus in the evening, Guan Shuqing spoke to Wang Xian who was facing the computer.

"Are you going back now? Do you need me to send you back?" Wang Xian took down his earphones and asked.

"It's okay." Guan Shuqing shook her head.

"Let me know if there's anything," Wang Xian said to her.

"Mm. Alright." Guan Shuqing smiled, nodded her head and headed out of the restaurant.

"It's five-plus now. I should get going at 7 pm."

Wang Xian looked at the time. There would be a banquet hosted by Old Qin at Old Xue's five-star hotel tonight and he would be going over to take a look.

When Guan Shuqing got home, her parents asked her to change into an evening gown and follow them to a banquet excitedly.

Guan Shuqing was a little surprised by her parents' behavior.

"Quick. Qin Family will be hosting a banquet at Summer Sun International Hotel tonight and they have invited us!" her father said agitatedly.

Considering the state of her family at this moment, they were not qualified to attend a banquet hosted by the Qin Family. However, they had surprisingly received an invitation!

If Guan Shuqing's father could get to know some friends in the banquet or get into the good books of Qin Family, it would be an easy task for him to make a comeback.

Guan Shuqing was taken aback by what she heard from her father. Qin Family? Summer Sun International Hotel?

This made her recall her lunch with Old Qin and Old Xue at Summer Sun Resort in the afternoon.

However, she did not read too much into it and couldn't believe that would be true. She changed into the clothes and headed to Summer Sun International Hotel with her parents in advance.

Summer Sun International Hotel was a property under the Xue Family of Rivertown. When one spoke of the Xue Family, the upper social circle often referred to them as Ancient Martial Arts Family, Xue Family.

They were ranked fifth in the ranking of Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown. However, they would probably advance up the ranking by one or two as the Old Master of Xue Family had recently achieved a breakthrough.

As for Qin Family, they were the commerce superpower in Rivertown. Qin Family's Ancient Dynasty Property, Ancient Dynasty Logistics and Ancient Dynasty Real Estate, were all humongous organizations.

The assets of Qin Family were over $10 billion. Moreover, the background of Qin Family was very, very strong.

Currently, the Old Master of Qin Family had a war comrade holding an important position in the government. The brother of Old Qin's wife was a very capable person in the capital of the province. Despite not being an Ancient Martial Arts Family, Qin Family was still one of the strongest in existence within Rivertown.

Even Ancient Martial Arts Families wouldn't dare to offend them.

For the banquet hosted by Qin Family tonight, 60% of the elites of Rivertown would be present.

At 7.30 pm, a heavy-duty motorcycle arrived at Summer Sun International Hotel. There was a row of luxury cars lined up neatly in front of the entrance of the hotel.

Wang Xian removed his helmet and smiled as he looked at the luxurious hotel in front of him.

"Hmm... It seems that I have underestimated the Xue Family. This construction costs of this hotel would at least be several hundreds of millions."

Wang Xian looked around before walking in.

The seventh story was where the Qin Family would be hosting the banquet and they had already booked the entire seventh story.

Wang Xian walked out from the lift and headed to the main hall joyously.

"Mister, please show us your invitation." When he arrived at the entrance, the two employees were looking at him with weird looks.

"Invitation letter?" Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders and replied, "Qin Lianhui said it would be fine as long as I said I'm with him. You could give him a call to check."

"Qin Lianhui?"

Director Qin!

The two employees were shocked. One of them took out a phone to verify after taking another look at Wang Xian.

"Mister Wang, this way please." After hanging up the phone, the employee spoke enthusiastically.

Wang Xian nodded his head and headed in.

"This is Qin Family's banquet. Isn't this young man too casual with his dressing?"

"If he could call our Director Qin by his name, his background must not be ordinary."

The two employees conversed softly as they saw Wang Xian off.

Dressing?

With Wang Xian's acute hearing, he could hear the conversation between the two of them clearly. He was shocked and quickly took a look at his attire.

He was wearing casual attire from Versace and a pair of white casual shoes. I do look pretty handsome!

Hmm? Perhaps my attire isn't really suitable for the occasion!

At this moment, Wang Xian saw the group of people in the banquet hall who had arrived. The guys were all in suits and the girls were in evening gowns.

Looking across, he understood the level of this banquet immediately.

Most of the men had watches on their wrists. As for the ladies, they had all kinds of necklaces around their necks.

Damn it. This is my first time attending a banquet like this. I didn't know about these!

Wang Xian truly didn't know. He hadn't given much thought about the banquet in the afternoon and headed over directly in his casual attire.

My attire currently isn't really fitting for the occasion here!

Forget it. Since this was organized by Old Qin, he will know that I'm not being disrespectful to him.

Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders and didn't pay too much attention to it. He walked inside in a straight line.

He hadn't had his dinner yet. Therefore, he chose to head to a corner to get some food.

Eh? Isn't that Shuqing? When Wang Xian arrived at the corner, he was surprised to see a familiar figure.

Guan Shuqing was sitting with a middle-aged man and a couple and they were most probably her parents.

Guan Shuqing was wearing a black evening gown tonight. She also had high heels on and exquisite makeup put up, making her look extremely alluring.

Wang Xian walked over with smiles. "Shuqing, what a coincidence! You are here too!"

Guan Shuqing was slightly shocked when she saw Wang Xian after lifting her head. She was also surprised and asked, "Xiao Xiao, why are you here too?"

Guan Shuqing stood up.

Her parents, who were beside her, turned their heads around with doubts. They took a look at Wang Xian before looking at their daughter again. Immediately, they frowned.

"Daughter, who is he?" Her father frowned and asked.

To be dressed so casually in a formal setting, the first impression he had of Wang Xian was that this young man wasn't sensible.

"Uncle, Aunt!"

Wang Xian greeted Guan Shuqing's parents when they looked over at him. After all, they could be his future parents-in-law.

"Hur?" Guan Shuqing's father frowned. He acknowledged, and threw him a glance before he fixed his eyes on his daughter.

"Dad, this is...this is my classmate." Guan Shuqing hesitated.

"Classmate." Her father looked at Guan Shuqing and nodded.

Wang Xian was a little stunned, as he could sense that his future father-in-law did not seem to like him. Helplessly, he looked at Guan Shuqing. "I'll sit over here."

As he said, he took a seat at the sofa next to Guan Shuqing.

"Dad, Mom, I'll chat with my classmate for a while," said Guan Shuqing to her parents as she nodded to Wang Xian.

"Sit with us. We're bringing you to meet some people later on," said Guan Shuqing's father, frowning.

Guan Shuqing knit her brow, sat down with them helplessly, and smiled to Wang Xian with bitterness.

Wang Xian shook his head slightly and gave her a smile.

"Shuqing, what kind of family does your classmate come from?" Guan Shuqing's mother looked at Wang Xian with doubts and asked her.

"This classmate of mine," Guan Shuqing threw a glance at Wang Xian and answered with some pride, "is really awesome, Mom. He's the same age as me, but he already earns millions of dollars. Isn't he superb?"

"Oh? Is that so? He's making millions at such a young age?" her mother said in surprise.

Guan Shuqing's father was stunned too. He looked at his daughter and asked, "What kind of business is he doing?"

"He...!" Guan Shuqing chuckled, "Dad, Mom, let me tell you this. That's the best part of him. He only has a younger sister, but he relied on himself and became an entrepreneur. Don't you think he's awesome?"

"No background?" Her father paused for a moment and frowned again.

"Nope, he relies on his own effort when he is just as young as me." Guan Shuqing laughed while saying it.

Her father shook his head slightly, "No wonder he entered this place in casual wear. I guess he followed someone here, but that person did not bring him to network with the rest of the people."

Her father was disappointed. A young man who could earn millions was awesome indeed. But without any backings or background, his achievements would be limited.

When he saw Wang Xian picking some food and beginning to eat alone, all the more he shook his head.

Upon seeing the expression on her father's face, Guan Shuqing was unsure why.

"Director Wu is here. Let's go, Shuqing."

Her father took a glance at the hall and saw a familiar figure. He quickly got up and told them.

Guan Shuqing followed behind reluctantly.

"My future father-in-law seems to have a problem with me!" When Wang Xian realized that Guan Shuqing's parents did not even look at himself, he picked up some fruit and started to feast on it. Then he fished out his phone and dialed for Xue Jing, asking her when she would be here as he was too bored.

Piak!

Suddenly, a loud slap was heard abruptly in the ballroom.

Everyone was shocked, including Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was toying with his phone when he turned around. Soon after, he stood up with a darkened expression.

At the center of the ballroom, Guan Shuqing was covering her face with her head down while her father was standing there with a hideous look on his face.

Next to them, a few middle-aged men stood there and watched impassively.

His father walked over with a sullen face.

"Director Wu, Director Gong, Master Bi, Director Song, I'm sorry. I didn't expect she would do such a thing. It was my lack of discipline. I'm sorry."

Wang Xian came to the middle of the ballroom as he watched Guan Shicheng bowing down and apologizing in fear.

"Do you think you can settle this with a slap? My son is lying in the hospital with broken limbs now!" Chairman Wu glared at Guan Shicheng coldly.

When he knew his son was sent to the hospital in the afternoon, he was shocked. He scrambled his way to the hospital where the doctor told him that the right arm and leg of his son were broken. It would take three to four months to recover.

He raged when his son was immobilized. He learned from his son that everything happened because of Guan Shuqing and the boyfriend of hers.

This made his blood boil. He immediately sent people to investigate the specific details and the culprit who beat his son up.

Yet, Guan Shicheng had the cheek to greet him just now. If this was not the event of the Qin Family, he might just make his move.

The rest of the three middle-aged men were having the same sentiments as they stared coldly at Guan Shicheng.

Guan Shicheng was fearful as he did not expect his daughter would have created such trouble. He trembled in his shoes.

"Shuqing!"

Wang Xian walked over and called her name gently. As soon as he saw Guan Shuqing was holding her face, he stretched out his hand slowly and caressed her cheek.

"Xiao Xian!" A teardrop fell on his hand. Guan Shuqing lifted her chin with tears rolling in her eyes.

"It's all right. I'm here."

Wang Xian stroked her face as his heart ached for her. He used the Dragon Energy to moisturize her cheek.

"Who are you? Get out of my way!" Guan Shicheng looked at Wang Xian first before he stared at Guan Shuqing with a trembling body. "I raised you up. It's okay if you're not doing me a favor. Yet, you got into such trouble. I'm telling you, I don't have such a daughter like you..."

Wang Xian looked at Guan Shicheng and frowned. He then turned and gazed at the four middle-aged men. With a cold smile, he said, "I was the one who beat up all your sons."

"What?" Before the four middle-aged men could say anything, Guan Shicheng fixed his gaze deadly on Wang Xian. "You were the one who beat up their sons?"

"Yes, Uncle. It was me, and it had nothing to do with Shuqing." Wang Xian looked at Guan Shicheng and nodded.

"Great, so it was you! You scoundrel, how dare you hit their sons? You're courting your own doom." Guan Shicheng pointed at Wang Xian with a hideous face. "You are just a wild kid without your manners."

Guan Shicheng continued as he looked at the four middle-aged men, "Master Bi San, Director Wu, Director Gong, and Director Song, it was all his fault, and it has nothing to do with me."

On seeing Guan Shicheng pointing his finger at himself, Wang Xian knit his eyebrows tightly.

"Your daughter is involved in this matter," Master Bi San looked at Guan Shicheng and said coldly. He then turned to Wang Xian. "How dare you beat up my son. You are really outrageous!"

"You broke my son's arms and legs. Very well, I'll make sure you repay this 10 fold." Director Wu was glaring at him angrily.

(3)

Everyone in the banquet hall was attracted by the commotion and gathered over inquisitively.

Wang Xian looked at Master Bi San, Director Wu, Director Gong and Director Song with indifference and said plainly, "I have already beaten them. What do you guys want?"

"How arrogant of you to admit to beating them. Hehe, what do you think your outcome will be after beating Master Bi San's son?"

A young man stood out and ridiculed Wang Xian upon hearing Wang Xian's reply.

"How? That's a good question. That's a good question." Master Bi San looked at the arrogant Wang Xian and sneered. "We are at Qin Family's banquet so I wouldn't do anything yet. Once the banquet ends, I'll let you experience desolation. I'll let you know the outcome of crippling my son!"

"Young lad, I don't care what kind of backing you have. I'll let you experience what is worse than death today!" Director Wu stared fiercely at Wang Xian.

"I wonder who brought this under-dressed lad in today. However, I wouldn't care who he is. You will pay the price for what you have done today!" Director Song roared at Wang Xian.

"Who would have expected this lad to be so crazy to cripple the sons of Master Bi San, Director Gong, Director Song, and Director Wu. He must be really eager to die."

"Yeah, yeah. To wear casual attire to attend a banquet, his upbringing must be really bad!"

"He truly deserves death. Even if the people of the four families were to cripple him, it wouldn't be considered overboard. If this lad were to even touch my son, I'd kill him no matter what!"

The crowd started dissing and criticizing Wang Xian

"How could he wear such attire to attend this banquet. In my opinion, we should throw him out," the young man who spoke previously said towards Wang Xian once again.

"Shut up!"

Wang Xian sneered upon hearing the criticism of the crowd and the group of arrogant people from the four families.

"Who the f*ck do you think you are? Asking me to shut up?" the young man shouted at Wang Xian the moment Wang Xian completed his sentence. He walked to the side of Master Bi San and said, "Master Bi San, this kid is really arrogant to beat Xiuming. Let him know the consequences today."

"He's really arrogant. It's been a long time since I've seen such an arrogant young man." Master Bi San looked coldly at Wang Xian.

"Excuse me."

Suddenly, a cold voice propagated from the entrance. Following which, a beautiful lady walked over.

She was in a red dress and had light makeup on her. Overall, she gave off a distant feel to others.

Her entrance attracted the attention of many people instantly. Many young men looked towards this figure fervently.

The eyes of the young man standing beside Master Bi San lit up as he clenched his fist tightly.

"The eldest daughter of the Lan Family, Lan Qingyue."

"She's the future successor of the Lan Family, Lan Qingyue. The one beside her is the General Manager of the Lan Family, Lan Gongwen. He is also Lan Qingyue's uncle."

"The future successor of Deep-sea Jewelry, Lan Qingyue. They are the strongest listed company in Rivertown and could be considered as the leaders in the jewelry industry in the country."

Some people saw Lan Qingyue and exclaimed softly.

"Hi, uncles, my friend is at fault for this incident. I would like to ask for forgiveness on his behalf." Lan Qingyue looked at Wang Xian and the cold look in her eyes flickered for a moment. She walked to the side of him and looked towards Master Bi San and the group.

"What? Why would Lan Qingyue try to protect this kid?"

"What's the matter? Could it be that this lad has a good relationship with the Lan Family?"

The surrounding crowd was surprised. Some people were even looking at Lan Qingyue with shock.

Wang Xian was also looking at Lan Qingyue with bewilderment. He had not expected to see her at this place and had not expected her to help him.

Lan Qingyue turned her head over, smiled at Wang Xian and commented, "What a coincidence!"

This smile was just as beautiful as a hundred flowers blooming at the same time. The cold-looking Lan Qingyue had an indescribable charm.

"Thank you!" Wang Xian expressed his gratitude to Lan Qingyue. Recalling that he had rejected her invitation for a meal twice, he suddenly felt a little embarrassed.

Lan Qingyue smiled and nodded her head. She turned her attention towards Director Wu, Director Gong, Director Song, and Master Bi San. "Dear uncles, please look past this incident for my sake."

Miss Lan. When Director Wu, Director Gong and the group saw Lan Qingyue, their expressions changed.

Deep-sea Jewelry was a large corporation with a market capitalization of close to $10 billion. This was more than ten times greater than theirs.

Even if the four families added their assets together, they still wouldn't be a match for Deep-sea Jewelry.

The only one who wasn't wary was Master Bi San. This was because Bi Family was an Ancient Martial Artist Family and couldn't be measured directly using typical cash value and background.

However, Master Bi San still wasn't very pleased. After all, a family that was worth $10 billion would have a complicated and widely connected background. When one's money reached an outrageous amount, it could also be seen as one's strength.

"Miss Lan, this friend of yours crippled the arms and legs of my son. Aren't you being unreasonable to ask me to let this go!" Master Bi San stared at Lan Qingyue but his eyes were flickering.

"That's right, Miss Lan. My son was crippled because of him. If I just let this go, how would anyone show us respect in the future?" Director Wu added with a solemn face.

"Uncles, I, Lan Qingyue, am willing to compensate for the injuries of your beloved sons. Please don't pursue this matter anymore for my sake," Lan Qingyue said with a determined look.

Lan Qingyue's words caused the atmosphere of the surroundings to solidify.

No one would have expected that the eldest daughter of Lan Family would try to protect this wild lad and disregard the fact that she would be going up against four families.

This caused a lot of young men in the crowd to be filled with jealousy. This lad doesn't deserve this at all!

Guan Shicheng's expression also changed as he looked on with disbelief.

Director Wu, Director Gong, Director Song and Master Bi San had a ghastly look. They had not expected that the eldest daughter of the Lan Family would be so insistent on this matter, disregarding the chances of offending them in order to protect this young man. This caused them to be very embarrassed by the situation.

"What? What's the matter?"

However at this moment, a frivolous voice sounded. A middle-aged man walked over from the inner area of the banquet hall and looked inquisitively towards the center.

Everyone was surprised and turned their attention to their back. All of them saw a middle-aged man carrying an apple in hand, eating it while walking.

"Second Master Qin!"

"Second Master Qin!"

Some people in the crowd immediately gave their greetings to this middle-aged man.

Second Master Qin was looking a little pale and had serious eye bags. He also looked like a frivolous guy who liked to fool around.

When the crowd saw his behavior, they didn't look down on him. Instead, they were addressing him as "Second Master Qin" with the utmost respect.

This was because he was the second son of Old Qin, or an adopted son.

Old Qin had a total of two sons. The second son was adopted and was the son of a war comrade of Old Qin. After his war comrade had passed away, he asked Old Qin to take care of his son. Old Qin took him in and adopted him as his son immediately. However, this adopted son was arrogant and cocky from a young age and got into a lot of trouble in Rivertown. He even caused the death of some people. Despite nearing his forties, he still wasn't married and didn't have a child. Rumors had it that he had a strange fetish and Old Qin wasn't too fond of him.

Despite all that, Old Qin valued relationships and had been turning a blind eye to the actions of this adopted son.

Although he was an adopted son, he was still the second master in the Qin Family. No matter how useless he might be, he was still high above the rest as his identity was known to everyone.

"Second Master." Master Bi San immediately called out Second Master Qin when he saw him. Bi Family was inferior to Xue Family and was even further behind Qin Family. When Master Bi San saw Second Master Qin, he still had to greet him politely.

Moreover, Master Bi San had always had a good relationship with Second Master Qin.

"What's the matter Master Bi San?" Second Master Qin asked Master Bi San before biting his apple.

"Second Master, please be the judge for us in this matter." Master Bi San explained the whole situation to Second Master Qin. In the end, he whispered something to Second Master Qin.

"What! Such a thing has happened?" Second Master Qin looked ahead and his vision fell onto Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue. "Oh niece Qingyue, it's better if you stay out of this. This lad deserved the punishment for breaking the arms and legs of others." [\[1\]](#)

Waa!

Upon hearing Second Master Qin's words, the crowd erupted.

"Since Second Master Qin has spoken, it would be pointless even if Lan Qingyue put in a good word for him. This lad is as good as dead."

Endnote:

[1] "Niece" in this context isn't the same as the child of one's sibling. In Chinese culture, one would call the child of a business partner (or people with close relationships) "niece" or "nephew." Back

(4)

Things changed once again. When everyone thought that Lan Qingyue could shield this lad, Second Master Qin put it to a stop.

Second Master Qin was the godson of Old Qin. Even though he was not the favorite son, his status was high enough to suppress Lan Qingyue, who had yet to inherit the Deep-sea Jewelry.

True enough, Lan Qingyue frowned slightly when she heard what Second Master Qin said.

Second Master Qin observed Wang Xian from head to toe. He then ditched the apple core in his hand into the trash.

"Lad, what an insensible lad to come to our function in casual wear. Who taught you to be ill-mannered?"

"Second Master Qin, he is my friend. I hope you'll let him off on my account," said Lan Qingyue to Second Master Qin with a frowning look.

"Qingyue, we have to be reasonable. This fellow should bear the consequences since he broke the limbs of others. You better not involve yourself." Second Master Qin smiled at Lan Qingyue.

"Qingyue." The middle-aged man who has been following beside Lan Qingyue tugged her arm and shook his head. "Since Second Master Qin is involved, you better leave this matter alone. You won't have any control over this."

"No way, Uncle. He is my friend!" Lan Qingyue gritted her teeth and looked at her uncle with determination.

The middle-aged man shook his head again. "Qingyue, don't be reckless. You have to spare a thought for the Lan Family too. Without Second Master Qin's involvement, we can help. But..."

The middle-aged man shook his head. He could not understand why his niece insisted on helping this young man. If Second Master Qin was not involved, it did not matter at all since Lan Family was capable of dealing with this.

But the Qin Family was the most influential family in the Rivertown.

Lan Qingyue had a drastic change in her expression. She looked at Wang Xian worriedly.

"This has got nothing to do with him. It was all because of me!" Guan Shuqing shuddered as she stepped forward and spoke with determination in her eyes.

"Nonsense, all this happened because of that lad and has got nothing to do with the Guan Family. Guan Shuqing, I don't have such a daughter like you." Guan Shicheng was trembling with anger as he bawled.

"It was I who beat them up. What has it got to do with you?" Wang Xian felt comforted when Lan Qingyue lent him a helping hand, and when Guan Shuqing stood in his defense.

He slowly walked to the middle of the ballroom and swept his gazes across Second Master Qin, Master Bi San and the rest of the people. With a cold voice, he said again, "I did what I did. If things like this happen again, it won't be as simple as this time."

"Arrogant lad. After you walk out of this door today, I'll make sure you live in despair forever." Master Bi San growled at Wang Xian with a darkened expression.

"You're arrogant, heh, simply too arrogant!" When Second Master Qin saw Wang Xian's attitude, he sneered at him.

"Why don't we settle this matter now?" A cold smile surfaced on Wang Xian's face as he walked slowly to Master Bi San.

"Wang Xian." Lan Qingyue, who was next to him, quickly called him when she saw Wang Xian walking over.

There was no response from Wang Xian as he continued making his way to Master Bi San.

"How dare you create trouble in the Qin Family's banquet!" Second Master Qin's expression turned cold when he saw the menacing Wang Xian walking over.

"How dare you play punk in Qin Family's banquet! Lad, you're courting your own death!" Master Bi San glared coldly at Wang Xian.

"He is seeking his own death to act arrogantly in the Qin Family's dinner function."

"Lad, even if we don't kill you, Qin Family will not let you off either."

Director Wu, Director Song, Director Gong, and the rest of the guests spoke in a low voice while looking at Wang Xian.

"Reckless lad, seeking his own death." The middle-aged man standing beside Lan Qingyue shook his head slowly.

"All of you are too noisy. I'll destroy you today." Wang Xian raged. His anger was not only targeting at Master Bi San and the other three people. It was also because of the father of Guan Shuqing and the Qin Family.

Old Qin invited me over, and look what his second son is doing to me? What does he take me, Wang Xian, for? Is this the way the Qin Family treats their guest?

A ferocious look flashed in Wang Xian's eyes as he stared at Master Bi San. The Dragon Energy exploded from his body, enveloping Master Bi San and Second Master Qin.

Both of them had a drastic change in their expression as they sensed the immense oppression of the young man.

"Lad, if you dare to fight in Qin's place, I'll make sure you die a horrible death," said Second Master Qin harshly as he stared at Wang Xian with cold eyes.

"You're asking for your death if you strike. I'll teach you a lesson so that you'll learn some rules today."

The young man before Master Bi San brightened up his eyes when he observed the situation. In a swift movement, he swung his fist at Wang Xian.

"Gu Qinglong struck. Gu Family is an Ancient Martial Artist Family that came from other cities. They did not have many members in the family, and their skills were not that formidable, but still, they could not be underestimated."

"This young lad is simply courting his own death. How dare he strike in the banquet of Qin Family. This is as good as slapping them in their faces. He's finished."

"Just now, Master Bi San and the rest of them did not dare to strike in the midst of the banquet. This lad is just too arrogant. He is seeking a quick way to die."

The rest of the guests watched Wang Xian as though they were looking at an idiot.

"You talk too much." Impassively, Wang Xian looked at the young man who struck at him.

He swung out his fist straight at him.

"How dare an ordinary guy take my fist. Go to hell!" Gu Qinglong displayed a disdainful look. He wanted to prove himself. That was the reason why he was so eager to strike today.

He wanted to announce the arrival of Gu Family in the Rivertown and befriend the Bi Family, another Ancient Martial Artist Family. In this case, he could quickly build up his foundation.

Ka Ka Ka!

His thinking was good. But a bone-cracking sound was heard when the fists collided with each other.

Gu Qinglong's arm was broken under the formidable power.

"Useless thing!" Wang Xian did not even display 20% of his power. He jeered at Gu Qinglong, who was screaming in pain on the floor.

"Ah!"

Gu Qinglong was crying out in agony as he looked frightened.

"Ah!"

The rest of the guests let out a gasp and a cry as they saw Gu Qinglong's deformed arm.

Wang Xian looked at Master Bi San, and a cold smile surfaced, "No hurry. We don't have to wait until we leave. We can settle this one by one now."

As he was talking, he made his move and launched his attack on Master Bi San.

"You're asking for it. I will kill you today!" Master Bi San clenched his fist with veins popping out.

Master Bi San was a Martial Artist with Level Five strength. He was shocked to see that the young man before him was also a Martial Artist. But he had no fear of him.

"No wonder you're arrogant. But you're too full of yourself. Go to hell!"

With a hideous look, Master Bi San moved like a fearsome tiger as five of his fingers turned into claws.

"Sending me to hell? You are not fit to do it yet." Wang Xian looked at Master Bi San scornfully. He lifted his foot and swept it across.

"Die." Master Bi San stretched his claws at Wang Xian's leg.

Ka! Bam!

Master Bi San felt like he was scratching on a metal surface the moment they collided. Immediately, a mighty force hit his shoulder.

Bam!

The mighty force sent Master Bi San crashing to the table next to him at a much faster speed. He then landed on the ground and spat out a mouthful of fresh blood.

"You...you..." The moment Master Bi San was knocked down within a split second, Second Master Qin was a little terrified when he saw Wang Xian's emotionless look in his eyes. He tried to act tough as he yelled, "Stop it. Otherwise... otherwise, the Qin Family will not let you off. No one dares to provoke us in the Rivertown."

"You won't let me off? You might want to ask if Qin Guohui dares to say this to me!" Wang Xian let out a low growl with an impassive expression.

The rest of the people were shocked to hear this!

Qin Guohui, Old Qin!

(5)

"You, you... What an arrogant brat!" Second Master Qin pointed at Wang Xian and was shivering in anger.

At this very moment, Old Qin and his family, together with the three generations of Xue Family, were walking towards the entrance of the banquet hall.

"You won't let me off? You might want to ask if Qin Guohui dares to say this to me!"

However, just as they arrived at the entrance, all of them heard this angry roar.

Old Qin was completely stunned and Old Xue immediately frowned.

"Grandfather, that's Brother Wang Xian's voice," Xue Jing commented quickly upon hearing as his expression turned solemn.

Old Qin clearly heard Wang Xian's voice too. His expression changed quickly and a worried look hung on his face. "Let's quickly get there and take a look!"

He couldn't understand why Wang Xian would let out such an angry roar.

He couldn't understand why the seemingly amiable Wang Xian, who he had an enjoyable lunch with in the afternoon, would be so angry.

Disregarding the fact that Old Xue believed that he had unparalleled horrifying strength, Wang Xian had just cured his beloved grandson. Their Qin Family couldn't make him an enemy.

Moreover, even the Qin Family wouldn't go offend such a strong expert for no reason.

In the modern era, other than the society, there was also an underworld. Although the Qin Family was very strong in society, they still wouldn't dare to offend strong experts of the underworld.

Old Xue frowned and quickly hurried in.

At this moment, the crowd was completely astounded by Wang Xian's words.

Everyone was shocked as no one expected him to shout that Qin Guohui wouldn't dare to say this to him in the Qin Family's banquet.

"Step aside. All of you, step aside!" At this moment, Xue Jing's growl sounded from behind the crowd.

Everyone who was gathered here was shaken as they quickly looked back.

"Old Qin is here and Old Xue is here too!"

A middle-aged man couldn't contain his shock and exclaimed.

The crowd opened up a path of them automatically.

"This lad is finished."

"His death is certain!"

A weak voice sounded from the side. When Lan Qingyue saw Old Qin and Old Xue, she couldn't help but feel deeply worried.

As for Guan Shuqing, she was dumbfounded when she looked over. Following which, joy and relief replaced her initial emotions and were shown on her face.

They really are! They really are...!

She was shaken up. The two people who were walking at the front of the group were the two old men she'd had lunch with in the afternoon.

When she arrived, she was still a little suspicious. However, she didn't dare to think so and assumed that they were these two old men. At this moment, all her worries had dissipated entirely.

She recalled the attitude of the two old men when speaking with Wang Xian in the afternoon. She was more confident that Wang Xian truly had the qualification to say what he had just said previously.

"You're finished! How dare you start a fight and injure others in a banquet hosted by the Qin Family. You're finished! My dad is here." Second Master Qin was exhilarated upon seeing Old Qin walking over.

Wang Xian's expression didn't change a bit and was still emitting the aura of the divine dragon. He turned his head around and looked towards Old Qin's Family and the three people from Xue Family.

What a strong disposition!

Old Xue could sense the faint aura around Wang Xian and was shocked. He thought that his strength was probably similar to Wang Xian after making the breakthrough. However, he felt that he still wasn't a match for Wang Xian after feeling this disposition.

The Qin Family and Xue Family walked over in a straight line.

The surrounding atmosphere had frozen up and no one even dared to take a deep breath.

When Old Qin heard what his adopted son said, his hand, which was holding onto the walking stick, started trembling. He walked directly towards Second Master Qin without any expressions.

"Father, he actually dares to ... in the banquet organized by us... Argh!" When Second Master Qin saw his father walking over, he reported happily.

However, before he could even complete his sentence, the walking stick in Old Qin's hand had landed ruthlessly on his leg.

Crack crack!

The walking stick made of solid wood broke directly! One could easily imagine how furious Old Qin was.

"Father, you... Why did you beat me..." Second Master Qin's face turned pale as he grabbed onto his leg and spoke in horror.

Haiz! Old Qin suddenly heaved a sigh. "When your father passed away and handed you over for me to take care of, I saw you as my biological son.

However, you have repeatedly...I have always turned a blind eye to your actions but you didn't learn your lessons and committed so many heinous acts under the name of our family. There will be a day when our family might get into serious trouble because of you!"

Old Qin threw his walking stick onto the floor. "Lianhui, transfer Rivertown Mining Grounds to his name. From this day onwards, he would have nothing to do with our Qin Family. No matter if he is dead or alive, it has nothing to do with the Qin Family. Our Qin Family isn't blessed enough to have him!"

Old Qin's strong words propagated throughout the banquet hall. No one could have expected this development.

"Second Master Qin was directly expelled out of Qin Family! This... This..."

However, what shocked the crowd the most was Old Qin's bowing down slightly as he spoke to the young man. "I'm sorry Brother Wang Xian. I'm sorry. It's because of my loose teachings that you had to suffer!"

"Brother, don't be angry. Hug, hug!" Little Kite looked at the solemn-faced Wang Xian and said as he walked in front of him and raised his arms.

After witnessing the attitude of Old Qin and the cute Little Kite, a smile appeared on Wang Xian's face. He reached out his arm and carried Little Kite. "Old Qin, it was I who was impulsive. Sorry for causing you troubles."

Old Qin heaved a huge sigh of relief upon seeing Wang Xian's expression. He smiled, "That's great, that's great... As long as Brother Wang Xian doesn't blame it on this old man."

Wang Xian smiled and replied, "I was impulsive. I hope you wouldn't blame me."

"Haha!" Old Qin laughed out. "Old Xue and I were a little late. Sorry about it. Brother Wang Xian, come! Let us take a seat now. I'll definitely give you a good explanation for what happened today."

Wang Xian smiled.

"Grandfather, I have found out about the incident." Xue Jing returned immediately after going over to a service attendant to find out more. Subsequently, he repeated the whole event softly.

"Hmm? It seems like it's still about the incident in the afternoon. Bi Family?" A murderous intent flashed passed Old Xue's face. "In that case, I shall use Bi Family to establish our dominance. As for the rest, I'll leave them to Qin Family to settle."

"Yes, father!" Xue Jiahua nodded his head and looked to Qin Lianhui.

Qin Lianhui nodded his head and headed directly to Director Wu, Director Gong and Director Song.

As for Xue Jiahua, he walked over to Master Bi San who had crawled up.

"Father, no. This can't be..."

At this moment, Second Master Qin was mumbling to himself in a daze. He couldn't believe that what had happened was the reality. If he left Qin Family, who would he be in Rivertown in the future?

And at this moment, the crowd in the banquet hall had their attention focused on the young man who was carrying Old Qin's beloved grandson. They were completely lost.

They would have never expected things to end up this way.

Second Master Qin was expelled from Qin Family and that young man could make Old Qin bow down to apologize?

They quickly looked towards the future successor of Qin Family who was heading towards Director Wu, Director Song and Director Gong.

They then looked at Xue Jiahua, the future pillar of Xue Family.

Eventually, they turned and saw Director Wu, Director Song, Director Gong and Master Bi San. Their faces had turned pale and they seemed to be scared out of their wits.

(6)

"Master Bi San, the arm of your son was broken by my son. Serves your son right for offending the benefactor of Xue Family!"

In the ballroom, Xue Jiahua walked towards Master Bi San and stared coldly at him.

Master Bi San was trembling as he looked at the young man between Old Xue and Old Qin. A bitter smile surfaced on his face as he looked embarrassingly at Xue Jiahua.

From the exchange just now, he knew that he had provoked the wrong people. The strength that the young man had exploded just now was definitely coming from someone whom the Bi Family could not afford to offend.

"But, you are equally wicked."

After Xue Jiahua threw out his cold and harsh remark, he punched out at Master Bi San's shoulder immediately.

Upon seeing the attack from Xue Jiahua, Master Bi San wore a different expression. But he did not dare to resist.

Old Xue from the Xue Family was thought to be a dying person. Yet, he had suddenly recovered and made a breakthrough in his level. This reshuffled the rankings of the Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown.

The Xue Family was already more formidable than the Bi Family. Now, they had become people whom they could not afford to provoke.

Kaka!

A bone-cracking sound was heard from the ballroom. Everyone was horrified to see Master Bi San lying on the floor as he hugged his arm in extreme agony.

"Your broken arm shall serve you a lesson. If you have any grievances, the Xue Family will answer all of them," said Xue Jiahua coldly to Master Bi San.

Everyone was shocked to watch the fearsome Xue Jiahua.

"Director Gong, Director Song, Director Wu."

On the other side, Qin Lianhui came to them and looked at those millionaire directors.

"Director Qin..."

They quickly addressed him. At this time, cold sweat was breaking on their foreheads with eyes full of horror.

"Mr. Wang is a guest of the Qin Family," Qin Lianhui said emotionlessly. "We were also there in the afternoon when it happened. We were planning to give you a warning tonight."

Qin Lianhui was speaking impassively as though he was talking about a trivial matter.

Yet, the directors could not help but to shake in their boots as they knew that it was the end of the story for them.

"Director Qin, we were wrong. I really didn't know. If I had known, I would have killed that unfilial son of mine..." Director Wu almost went jelly as he bowed with his shaken body.

"Leave Rivertown now and don't let me see you again." Qin Lianhui gestured, annoyed, at them.

Their faces turned black when they heard what Qin Lianhui said. Yet, they were in such despair that they had nothing to say.

Asking them to leave Rivertown was equivalent to asking them to give up their foundation over here.

But, they were powerless to put up any resistance because this was the decision made by the Qin Family.

"It was all my son's fault for offending someone that he shouldn't."

The three directors clenched their fists and walked out like zombies.

There was no place in the entire Rivertown for them.

Master Bi San also left with his face full of despair.

Anything that took place in the society would have to be resolved within the society. So were the underworld matters.

Even though Bi Family was not asked to leave their base in Rivertown, the Xue Family would forever be pressing on them. Bi Family would not be able to obtain some resources in the future.

"Throw him out." As Xue Jing spoke to one of the hotel staff, he stepped on both legs of Gu Qinglong at the side with force.

The surrounding crowd could not help but shiver when they saw the happenings unfolding.

They were glad that they did not intervene or jeer at that young man.

But those who spoke ill of that young man were standing there with their hearts in their mouths.

Second Master Qin, the adopted son of Old Qin, had been expelled from the Qin Family.

Master Bi San of the Bi Family had gotten his arm broken by Xue Jiahua.

Gong, Song, and Wu Family would no longer have their foothold in Rivertown.

Gu Qinglong of the Gu Family who had help Master Bi San would only have a tough life in Rivertown.

All these were results of offending the young man.

They stared blankly at the young man who was talking jovially with Old Xue and Old Qin.

No wonder he did not regard the Gong, Wu, So, and Bi Families highly. No wonder he dared to come to this banquet in casual dressing.

He did not have to care, and he had no need to care about any of them.

This symbolized power. Aren't Old Xue and Old Qin in casual wear too?

At this moment, Guan Shicheng, who was in the middle of the crowd, was in a daze.

He was looking in disbelief at the young man who was sharing a jovial conversation with Old Xue and Old Qin.

The thought of the young man addressing him as Uncle with smiles on his face.

The thought of him treating the young man coldly, scornfully and even...

He regretted it very much. If I could reverse everything, I would surely hold on to him. Definitely...

"Why, why did this happen?" Guan Shicheng felt restless. It was such a good opportunity for the rising of Guan Family again.

At this time, he saw Director Qin walking towards him. He was slightly uptight and fearful.

"Miss Guan, Niece Lan."

Guan Shicheng noticed that Director Qin was walking towards his daughter.

"Uncle Qin!" Lan Qingyue answered politely.

"Director Qin." Guan Shuqing nodded to Qin Lianhui. They had been having lunch in the afternoon just now.

"I'm sorry, Miss Guan, to have let you suffer some injustice." Director Qin apologized to Guan Shuqing.

"No, no," Guan Shuqing quickly shook her head. "With Xiao Xian around, I didn't suffer much."

"Right, there is Wang Xian around!" Qin Lianhui laughed. He turned to Guan Shicheng and smiled, "Director Guan, we will discuss your matter later. "

"Director Qin!" Guan Shicheng was stunned. Upon seeing the other party's smiling face, he suddenly got excited. He looked towards his daughter and thought of some possibilities.

Piak! Piak!

Guan Shicheng walked to his daughter and slapped himself on his face, "Girl, it's all my fault. It's all my fault. Don't blame me!"

When Guan Shuqing saw her father walking towards her, she was feeling complicated. She sighed softly. After all, this was her father.

"Dad, I don't blame you at all!" Guan Shuqing shook her head.

"I'm glad that you don't blame me. I'm glad to hear that," Guan Shicheng nodded with a smile. He hesitated before he asked, "Girl, what's the relationship between you and that young man?"

When Guan Shicheng posed that question to Guan Shuqing, Lan Qingyue was also anxious to hear the answer.

"Friends, we're just friends." Guan Shuqing replied, knowing what her father was thinking.

"Just friends?" Guan Shicheng was a little disappointed.

He was hoping that the young man could be the boyfriend of his daughter, and his son-in-law. If that were the case, who would dare to offend him, Guan Shicheng, and the entire Guan Family in the future?

Chapter 62: A Storm In The Banquet (End)

"I'd like to go over and say "hi" to two friends of mine. Old Qin and Old Xue, please have a chat now."

The banquet continued as per normal. Although the atmosphere had changed a little, the impacts weren't that great.

After informing Old Qin and Old Xue, Wang Xian turned his attention to the banquet hall and headed towards where Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue were.

Feeling the intentional and unintentional gazes from the crowd, the edge of Wang Xian's mouth started to arch up.

"Chairman Lan, thank you."

Wang Xian saw Guan Shuqing was talking to her parents and thus went over to Lan Qingyue to express his gratitude first.

Just a while ago, Lan Qingyue had to endure the huge pressure from the crowd to put in good words for him. Lending a helping hand when one was in need was tough, while sucking up to one when he was basking in the light of success was easy. She belonged to the former.

He was a little surprised that Lan Qingyue had chosen to help him but was also grateful to her.

Lan Qingyue, who was in a red evening gown, looked extremely alluring under the warm lights of the banquet hall. While wearing high heels, she was approximately the same height as Wang Xian.

Her beauty couldn't be appropriately described with words.

"You're welcome." Lan Qingyue looked at him with fervent eyes. As compared to their previous encounter, she felt that the strange quality of Wang Xian had gotten stronger by a little.

"It's too heart-breaking that you have rejected my invitation for a meal twice to thank you for the previous incident!" Lan Qingyue looked at him and recalled his rejections. She couldn't help but comment unhappily.

"Hehe." Wang Xian laughed awkwardly. "I've really been a little busy in the last two days. However, if you would like to have a meal together, you can come to my restaurant. I'm staying there for almost the entire time each day. I could also give you a treat!"

"Your restaurant? Great!" Upon hearing his reply, Lan Qingyue revealed a faint smile and nodded her head. "In that case, we have a deal."

"Yeah." Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

Just beside them, Guan Shicheng felt his head aching when he saw Lan Qingyue and Wang Xian chatting.

He naturally knew who Lan Qingyue was, as she was the future successor to the Lan Family. Her family wealth was among the top three in Rivertown currently.

Moreover, there was nothing one could pick on about Lan Qingyue's looks. Within the entire Rivertown, she was at the highest level.

Seeing how she had tried to protect Wang Xian a while ago, he was able to tell something from it.

When it came to looks, he was confident that his daughter wasn't inferior to Lan Qingyue. However, when it came to family background, the difference was stark.

It was especially so after what he said previously. At the thought of this, he started to regret further.

He wasn't just feeling regretful but also feeling a sense of danger. If his son-in-law was snatched away, it would be pointless for him to cry over it then.

Guan Shicheng's expression was changing constantly. He was thinking of ways to get on the good books of Wang Xian and also to make up for what he'd done previously.

Guan Shuqing saw Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue chatting joyously and was feeling a little uncomfortable about it.

After finishing his chat with Lan Qingyue, Wang Xian turned his head and smiled at Guan Shuqing. He walked over and asked, "Shuqing, are you alright?"

"I'm fine." Guan Shuqing nodded her head. She looked at him and said, "Thank you, Xiao Xian."

"You don't have to." Wang Xian smiled and shook his head.

"Son-in-law, I'm really sorry. I'm really sorry. I was wrong in the incident previously. It's all my fault! Please forgive me."

At this moment, Guan Shicheng came over shamelessly and spoke with a sincere face. He was even calling Wang Xian his son-in-law.

Wang Xian was taken aback and so was Guan Shuqing.

He had not expected Guan Shuqing's father to be so shameless.

"Father, what are you calling him!" Guan Shuqing's face had turned red while speaking to her father.

"Hehe." Guan Shicheng continued smiling and said to Wang Xian once again, "I was foolish and timid previously. Please don't take it to heart."

Wang Xian was speechless while looking at Guan Shicheng. The current him was completely different as compared to when he first saw Wang Xian.

What an opportunistic person!

Wang Xian wasn't too calculative with him, as he was Guan Shuqing's father after all. However, he wasn't being too close and friendly with him either. He shook his head, smiled, and replied, "It's alright."

"As long as you are fine with it! Have a chat with Shuqing first while I get some food together with her mother. Come over to our house for dinner when you're free! I'll get my wife to make you some delicious food." Guan Shicheng could feel that Wang Xian was keeping a distance from him. However, he was rather thick-skinned and spoke solicitously.

Wang Xian nodded his head. "Sure, uncle."

"Great!" Guan Shicheng heaved a huge sigh of relief. He turned around and walked towards a woman by the side.

"Xiao Xian, my father is a little... I hope you don't mind," Guan Shuqing said as she looked at her father.

"It's fine." Wang Xian smiled and shook his head. After which, he turned to Guan Shuqing and said, "This is Lan Qingyue. Shuqing, I believe you know her too."

"Hello!" Lan Qingyue looked at Guan Shuqing, smiled, extended her hand and greeted.

"Hello!" Guan Shuqing also looked at Lan Qingyue and extended her hand.

A special force field was formed between the two of them.

When the young men in the banquet hall looked over and saw these two gorgeous ladies, they couldn't help but feel slightly shock.

At the same time, they were envious of the teenager standing beside them.

"You girls are really charming." Feeling the surrounding gazes, Wang Xian smiled and complimented them.

"Junior Shuqing is really beautiful and has attracted everyone attention." Lan Qingyue smiled and commented.

"It's senior's charisma that is stronger. I'm still a long way behind." Guan Shuqing replied immediately.

The atmosphere was slightly strange.

"Haha, both of you are beautiful." The insensitive Wang Xian didn't notice and simply complimented the two girls.

This caused the two girls to break into laughter while looking at each other.

"Wang Xian, I have to go greet some people with my uncle. Don't forget that you will be treating me to a meal," Lan Qingyue smiled and said to Wang Xian.

"Alright, go do what you have to." Wang Xian nodded his head.

Subsequently, Wang Xian chatted with Guan Shuqing for a while before heading towards where Old Qin and Old Xue were at.

Old Qin introduced him to some people in Rivertown. There were businessmen and also officials working in the government.

For a guy that could make Old Qin bow down to apologize, they naturally wouldn't dare to be lax in entertaining as they were full of smiles while conversing with Wang Xian.

Through this banquet, Wang Xian obtained a lot of name cards. When he walked out of the banquet hall, it was already 11 o'clock at night.

After bidding goodbye to Old Qin, Old Xue, Lan Qingyue, Guan Shuqing and her parents, Wang Xian rode his heavy-duty motorcycle towards school.

As the cold wind blew on him, Wang Xian was feeling very comfortable. After today, he could be considered as having a strong foothold in Rivertown.

What would come next was to strengthen himself.

The moon was bright and Wang Xian was heading back to school on his heavy-duty motorcycle. The trees along the pathways were moving past him rapidly.

There were barely any other people or cars left on the roads.

Just as Wang Xian was coming to a curve, a black shadow crashed towards him.

Screech!

Wang Xian was slightly shocked and immediately slammed on his brakes. Sharp grinding noises propagated as the motorcycle's wheels scratched against the road.

Chapter 63: The Five Elements Stone Plate

Bam!

An old man who was soaked in blood fell on the road in front of him.

Cough.

The old man looked up. With a pale-looking face, he looked towards the trees and bushes at the roadside with a despairing expression.

"Mo Qinglong, you can't run away. Hand over the thing now, and I'll let you have a peaceful death."

Soon after, an angry bellow was heard, Wang Xian saw eight men rushing towards his side.

They were like the martial arts experts on the television who leaped onto the tree branch and landed on the road in front of him.

The eight of them were dressed uniformly in black costumes. The swords in their hands were flickering with cold radiance under the moonlight.

A middle-aged man in the center stepped forward and glared coldly at the elder on the ground.

"Green Lotus Ancient Sect, the so-called decent sect, stooped to using despicable and shameless resorts just to steal the treasure from the Ancient Fiend Clan." The old man stood up slowly with hideous expressions on his face.

"Haha, the Ancient Fiend Clan has always been up to no good. We are going to uproot your clan and finish off all the assassins that the clan has cultivated. We're doing this for the good of the people. Mo Qinglong, don't ever think of escaping today. Hand over the Five Elements Stone Plate now." The middle-aged man in the center was glaring at the old man with immense killing intent. He stared at the chest area of the old man with greed in his eyes.

"Unless you kill me, you bunch of hypocrites will never ever get it." The old man was covered in blood with numerous cuts on his body.

His clothes were getting soaked in his fresh blood.

"Then we'll kill you." The middle-aged man in the center had an impassive look. He looked towards both sides and commanded, "Kill him. We must get the Five Elements Stone Plate."

"Kill!" The rest of the seven members nodded and launched swift attacks at the old man.

One of them suddenly looked up and fixed his gaze on the spot where Wang Xian was.

"Count yourself unlucky today." As he spoke, he flung his arm and hurled a dagger at Wang Xian.

Without looking at him, the man turned to attack the old man.

In his opinion, Wang Xian could be considered a dead man.

It was an unexpected misfortune to any commoners.

Wang Xian was about to take his leave when he saw what happened. But his eyes could not help but narrow when he saw the dagger flying towards him.

How tyrannical of them. I'm just a passer-by.

Wang Xian squinted his eyes as he looked at the incoming dagger. He stretched his arm out.

Piak!

The dagger was easily grasped by Wang Xian.

Back in the fight, the old man was besieged by eight people, and soon, he took another two slashes on his body.

The old man's strength should be around Level Eight, and only the middle-aged leader is on par with him. The remaining Martial Artists are all at Level Seven.

Radiance flickered in Wang Xian's eyes. He got down from his Harley motorcycle slowly and gazed at the eight people with a cold look.

"If it were not for you who wanting to kill me, I would have never interfered in this. But now, it's a good chance for me to test my skill."

Wang Xian curled his fingers into a fist. He was wearing his helmet, but he was not afraid that someone would recognize him.

Ka Ka Ka!

The dagger in his hand was crunched into a ball and discarded on the floor.

"I'm just a passer-by, yet, you guys wanted to silence me. Fine. If that's the case, let's have some fun."

Wang Xian moved as he talked. He sprang into action and attacked the closest middle-aged man.

"Courting your own death. Qingwen and Qinglie, kill him!" The middle-aged leader was looking cold as he commanded loudly after Wang Xian dodged the dagger and attacked them.

"Lad, never did I expect that you're a Martial Artist too. However, you are bound to die today!" The two middle-aged men, Qingwen and Qinglie, took themselves out from the joint attack of the old man and looked towards Wang Xian. Immediately, they made a counterattack.

"Heh heh!"

There was only coldness in Wang Xian's eyes. Even though he had a good temper, his killing intent was triggered when he met a bunch of people who wanted to kill him without any reason.

The two middle-aged men wielded their sharp and long swords at his chest and throat.

"Have a taste of my physical power!"

The Dragon Energy in Wang Xian's body surged. He stretched out both his hands and grabbed the two sharp swords.

"Die!" The two men looked at him disdainfully as they spun the long swords in their hands. "Go to hell."

Piak Piak!

However, what shocked them was both swords were caught, and their attacks were stopped.

Ka Ka Ka!

"Oh no!"

Their eyes were filled with disbelief as they noticed the long swords in their hands were giving way.

"Die!"

Wang Xian hurled himself forward and attacked one of the middle-aged men.

He had not learned any martial arts before and had little experience in real-life combat. However, the power and speed of the Divine Dragon were insurmountable.

He held his fist tightly. With his mighty strength, he swung his fist at the middle-aged man who was looking shocked and horrified. He wielded his sword across his chest for defense.

Ka!

The sword broke when the sound was heard. The domineering force struck onto the chest of the middle-aged man.

Bam! The middle-aged man felt as though his chest had exploded. His eyes were protruding out as he stared at Wang Xian with disbelief.

"Damm, we met an expert!" The other man who witnessed the instant death of Qinglie was horrified. Hence, he quickly called out.

"Didn't you guys say you were going to kill me?" Wang Xian lifted his head and stared ferociously at that middle-aged man. Like a raging beast, he struck an attack with brutal force.

"Green Lotus Sword Dance!"

That middle-aged man was horrified to see Wang Xian charging at him like a raging beast. He wielded the long sword in his hand, and an image of a green lotus appeared before him.

The green lotus was carrying a bone-chilling cold radiance with it.

"Fancy but impractical."

Despite seeing the Green Lotus Sword formation, Wang Xian did not have the slightest hesitation. He continued punching his fist out.

Ka Ka Ka!

When the sleeves on Wang Xian's arm were torn, it sounded like shattering glasses.

Blood traces could be seen on his arm, but they recovered almost instantly because of the mighty Divine Dragon's body.

"No..." When the middle-aged man let out a devastating scream, Wang Xian's fist already landed on his chest. Immediately, his chest sank in, and he collapsed on the floor.

"Damm, Qingwen and Qinglie got killed!"

The devastating screams from Qingwen and Qinglie drew shocking exclamations of those middle-aged men who were attacking the old man as they watched in disbelief.

Initially, they thought they killed an ordinary passer-by just to conceal the secret. But no one expected that he was a formidable Martial Artist who killed two Level-seven Martial Artists instantly.

Level-seven Martial Artists were experts who could establish an Ancient Martial Artist Family in this world.

"I was only passing through this place, and yet, you guys wanted to kill me. Then don't blame me for it. Let's see who will win today!"

Wang Xian stared at the remaining six people. All he wanted was to fight.

He wanted to find out how strong he was now!

Chapter 64: Dragonians

"Haha, great!"

When the old man under siege saw that Wang Xian had slayed two members of the Green Lotus Ancient Sect, his eyes lit up and he got excited. He looked to the middle-aged leader and started laughing, "Shame on the Green Lotus Ancient Sect to claim to be an orthodox Sect but ambush an ordinary person in order to silence him. Yet, you would have never expected him to be so strong. Haha!"

"Brother, thank you for lending me a helping hand. If you can help me eliminate this group of sanctimonious people, I will give you what they are trying to snatch away from me."

The expressions on the six middle-aged men's faces, who were cornering the old man, changed drastically. They had never expected themselves to encounter this situation. They had been used to being arrogant and thinking nothing of killing an ordinary man.

However, they had never expected Wang Xian to be so terrifying.

The middle-aged leader held the knife firmly in his hand and stared at Wang Xian with bloodthirst.

"This is between the Green Lotus Ancient Sect and Ancient Fiend Clan. I hope that this brother wouldn't interfere and we would reward you handsomely after everything!"

"Kill!"

Wang Xian wasn't shaken at all by the words of the middle-aged leader. He had zero affection for the six people in front of him and charged directly towards the one who was closest to him.

"Kill! Even if I, Mo Qinglong, was to lose my life, I want all of you to die with me!" When Mo Qinglong saw Wang Xian make his move, his eyes lit up. The black aura around him started surging violently. Disregarding his injuries, he charged and attacked towards the surrounding six people.

"Shit!"

When the middle-aged leader saw them attacking, his face turned gloomy. "You guys try to pin down Mo Qinglong while I go and take care of that brat."

"Yes, Sect Leader!" The other five people gripped their swords tightly and set up a Sword Formation towards Mo Qinglong.

"Do you think the five of you are enough to trap me? Even when I'm severely injured, you guys still aren't a match for me!" The dark hair of Mo Qinglong was flying freely and the dark aura around his body was surging towards the surroundings.

At the other end, Wang Xian revealed a heavy look upon seeing the middle-aged man attacking towards him.

He realized that the speed of the middle-aged man was slightly quicker than him.

Martial Artist Level Eight! I wonder if my body could withstand an attack from a Level Eight Martial Artist?

Wang Xian had a gloomy look. With his current strength, he could go against and kill Level Seven Martial Artists. As for Level Eight Martial Artists, he wasn't certain. Nonetheless, he wasn't fearful.

"Die, you damn brat!" The middle-aged man moved the sword in his hand and a cold glow pierced toward Wang Xian.

So fast!

Wang Xian was a little shocked when he saw the sword of the middle-aged man. Adjusting his body posture, he dodged to the side.

"Can you dodge this?" The middle-aged man looked at Wang Xian with disdain and swung his arm across.

Sss!

The sword cut along Wang Xian's arm and left a three inches long wound on it.

However, the wound wasn't deep, but looked severe.

Indeed! A Level Eight Martial Artist could injure me!

Seeing the wound on his arm regenerating gradually, Wang Xian looked towards the middle-aged leader with alertness.

"You don't know anything about martial arts techniques and you dared to mess with us?"

The middle-aged leader knew Wang Xian didn't know any martial arts technique with just a look. He looked at him with disdain and said, "You can die now!"

As he finished his sentence, the sword in his hands moved in a mesmerizing manner. In the end, countless sword shadows intersected together to form a sharp sword that slashed towards Wang Xian.

Poof!

Wang Xian took a deep breath as he saw the sharp sword slashing towards him. If he was hit, he would definitely be severely injured.

However, he felt no fear at all. "Let's see how powerful the dragon ball is!"

He opened his mouth slightly and a quail-egg size dragon ball flew out of his mouth. It was burning in crimson red flame and flew towards the middle-aged man at a horrifying speed.

"What is this?" The middle-aged man was shocked when he saw a fireball-like object flying towards him. He immediately swung his sword and slashed directly at it.

With a change in thought, the dragon ball made a creepy curve and avoided the sword. Instead, it landed on the arm of the middle-aged leader.

Argh!

A horrifying shriek pierced through the night. To the horror of the middle-aged man, the little fireball-like object had landed on his hand and was quickly disintegrating his body.

In just a split second, a hole appeared on his arm. Terror overwhelmed him when he noticed that his chest area seemed to have been "cooked".

It was "cooked" under the intense heat!

The middle-aged man's eyes were wide open and were filled with disbelief. He stared towards Wang Xian and his eyes were filled with despair.

"If you try to kill others, be ready to be killed!"

Wang Xian spoke slowly to the middle-aged leader. With just a thought, the dragon ball went through the body of the middle-aged leader.

In that instant, the body of the middle-aged man was turned into dust! Nope! Under the high temperature, not even ashes were left behind!

Controlling it with his mind, the dragon ball flew towards the other two corpses. When it went through them, nothing was left.

"Shit! Sect leader is killed!"

At this moment, a horrifying shriek propagated from the side. They had never expected their Sect Leader to be killed.

Their gazes swept by Wang Xian and their bodies were trembling in fear.

Why the hell did we mess with this expert?

"Haha, all of you shall die too!" Mo Qinglong saw them being distracted. Instantly, the black gas around him surged more violently and swept towards the five of them.

"Shit!"

"Argh! No!" "

Several horrified screams filled the air. The five middle-aged men were defending hopelessly. However, they were all slain by the old man.

Cough cough cough!

Mo Qinglong spat out blood after slaying the five middle-aged men. He was barely holding up as his body was emitting its last stretch of vitality. He was on the verge of death!

The escape and desperate counterattack a while ago had exhausted all of his life force.

"Thank you, brother!" "

With all his might, he tried to maintain his posture, and revealed a pitiful smile at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian looked at the old man and started to frown.

Cough cough! Mo Qinglong coughed violently and spat out blood once again. He grabbed something from his waist slowly and said, "This is what those orthodox sects tried to snatch from us. Since they didn't get it, I shall give it to you, brother."

As he finished his sentence, Mo Qinglong fell to the ground directly, as though he had expended all his strength.

Wang Xian looked at the old man quietly. Suddenly, he had an idea, walked to the side of Mo Qinglong and carried him up.

As the dragon ball swept through the battling scene, the surrounding corpses vanished into the thin air.

Looking at the baggage in the old man's hand, Wang Xian carried the old man and sat onto his heavy-duty motorcycle. After which, he rode towards the seaside.

At the seaside, Wang Xian carried the old man and jumped into the water directly. He didn't transform into a divine dragon and simply swam towards the sea.

In less than 20 minutes, Wang Xian arrived at the deserted island where clam girl was at.

Wang Xian threw the old man on the ground. Looking at him on the verge of death, Wang Xian revealed a faint smile.

As a divine dragon, not only do I need to have marine subordinates for my Dragon Palace, but I also need to have my own force in the mortal realm. Regardless of whether it is in the seas or on land, I want my name to send fear throughout!

Wang Xian stared fervently at the old man. He was thinking of building a force in the mortal realm.

This old man shall be the first human General: Dragonian!

Chapter 65: Evolution: Five-elements Divine Dragon (1)

Dragonians were also known as the Dragon Servants.

Dragonians represented the power of the Divine Dragon in the human world.

The purity in Dragonians' bloodline would determine the limitation of their strength and capability.

It was rare for Divine Dragons to develop into Dragonians except for those dragons with low purity bloodlines or the offspring of Divine Dragons and humans.

Dragonians were powerful. Those that attained great achievements in their cultivation could even transform from humans into dragons.

Of course, it was an arduous thing to do so.

The development of Dragonians and marine animals was somewhat similar. The only difference was the speed of their cultivations. Not only did the Dragonians cultivate slower than the marine animals, but they also had to cultivate according to their own physique conditions.

That is, they had to work step by step by cultivating their eight extraordinary meridians first.

However, this was not required from the Divine Dragons. Divine Dragons just needed to absorb Dragon Energy to evolve and strengthen their physical bodies.

That is to say, the human cultivation technique was invalid for Wang Xian.

Gazing at the old man who was at the verge of his death, Wang Xian stretched out his hand. The golden drop of blood which appeared in his palm dripped on his glabella.

Suddenly, the head of the old man jerked.

"If you wish to live, absorb it, and don't resist it!" Wang Xian said to the old man upon seeing his resistance.

The old man calmed down, and the blood of the Divine Dragon entered his brain.

An agreement was formed, and the old man had to serve Wang Xian as his Master from now on.

"Let's heal him first!" On seeing the completion of the contract, Wang Xian smiled and placed his palm against the chest of the old man.

Streams of immense Dragon Energy entered his body.

The old man was obviously stretching himself way too far as all his internal organs were barely functioning. Hence, his body quickly absorbed the nourishment of Dragon Energy.

At the same time, the golden dragon blood flowed through his entire body, making him in possession of the bloodline of Divine Dragon.

Both the dragon blood and Dragon Energy caused the old man to develop tiny dragon scales on his body, which made him look formidable.

"After becoming a Dragonian, his defense ability and vitality would increase by two to three folds. A strong Dragonian could upgrade his arms into dragon claws, and bring out his own dragon tail for combat purposes."

Wang Xian thought to himself. As he felt the Internal Energy circulating in the old man's body, he suddenly had an idea.

For humans to make a breakthrough in their eight extraordinary meridians, they had to work step by step before they could advance. What if Wang Xian uses his own Dragon Energy to help him with it?

Would that speed up the cultivation? Without the slightest hindrance?

Wang Xian pondered. He hesitated, but he tried to direct his Dragon Energy to the old man's eight extraordinary meridians.

Currently, only his Conception Vessel and Governing Vessel were blocked. Once they were unblocked, he would become the Inborn Expert.

An Inborn Expert was good enough to lead a force.

Wang Xian sensed where his two vessels were and tried to unblock with streams of Dragon Energy.

Bobo!

A subtle sound came from the old man's body while his Internal Energy was circulating frantically within him.

"It works!" Sharp radiance flashed in his eyes. After depleting over 100 points of Dragon Energy, he really unblocked his Conception Vessel and Governing Vessel.

"If I could unblock someone's meridian, that means I can build a powerful army in the shortest possible time."

Wang Xian was excited. Just then, the old man who was lying on the floor suddenly sat up.

His expression changed drastically, and his eyes were wide open when he learned something new.

He raised his head slowly and looked at Wang Xian, who was beside him as his body trembled.

"Dragon King!" He bowed, "Thank you, Dragon King, for bestowing a new life to me. I'll lay down my life and fight for you!"

Mo Qinglong was shocked, excited, and full of disbelief.

According to the information in his mind, he had become an immortal Dragonian. All this was given to him by the legendary Dragon King before him.

"You may rise!" Wang Xian was pleased with the respectful Mo Qinglong.

"Yes, Dragon King!" Mo Qinglong stood up and stayed by the side respectfully.

"You're my first Dragonian subordinate. In the future, you'll also become the leader of the powerful Dragonian army. Now, you'll need to find a batch of loyal subjects so that I can upgrade them to Dragonians," said Wang Xian to Mo Qinglong.

"Yes, Dragon King. Leave this to me!" Mo Qinglong hastily answered, "I was the elder of the Ancient Fiend Clan. Our clan was in hot water after we obtained the treasure, Five Elements Stone Plate, by chance. All the disciples of the Ancient Fiend Clan were killed except for a bunch of assassins who hid themselves during their training and escaped the calamity."

"But they aren't any powerful assassins. Just ordinary people."

"Oh, really?" Sharp radiance flashed across his eyes, "It doesn't matter even if they are weak. Just gather all of them first."

"Yes, Dragon King!" Mo Qinglong nodded his head obediently.

"Is this the Five Elements Stone Plate that you mentioned? What's the use of it?" Wang Xian picked up the bundle on the floor and opened it.

"Yes!" Mo Qinglong nodded his head as he stared at the bundle with fiery eyes. "The Five Elements Stone Plate is a very magical treasure. So far, we have not fully grasped its functions. We only know that cultivation speed can increase by five fold with this around. It can also heal injuries, which makes it powerful!"

"Oh, really?" Wang Xian opened up the bundle, revealing the Five Elements Stone Plate.

"This..."

Suddenly, Wang Xian's eyes were wide open as he looked at the stone plate in front of him. The stone was glimmering in five different pure colors, namely the gold, green, white, red, and yellow.

The Five Elements Source Stone marked the source of five elements. Wood fuels fire. Fire creates Earth. Earth bears Metal. Metal collects Water. Water nourishes Wood.

Extractable Dragon Energy: Energy is too high to be extracted.

"The Five Elements Source Stone! It's the Five Elements Source Stone!" Wang Xian's body shook with excitement.

The so-called Source Stone was the Origin Source which represented a form of limitation.

For example, if Wang Xian practiced fire attributes, his body would transform into the Origin of Inferno when he mastered the ninth transformation of Nine Divine Dragon Transformations. He could easily control all the fire in the world with his mind.

And the Origin of Inferno was represented by the red portion on this Five Elements Source Stone.

Same goes for the water and metal attributes.

"According to the art of cultivation of Divine Dragon Transformation, the Divine Dragon must choose an attribute when it masters the First Transformation. Subsequently, it must cultivate according to its attribute. But there was a legendary attribute known as the Five Elements Attribute. It was the most powerful attribute of all, as five elements reinforce and counteract each other."

"Relying solely on the Cultivation Arts to cultivate Five Elements Attribute was not enough. It would require a treasury auxiliary, and that is the power of the Origin Source of Attribute. At the same time, the auxiliary must possess the integration power from the Inborn Origin Source of Five Elements Attribute that almost doesn't exist in this world."

Wang Xian stared at the Five Elements Source Stone passionately. The five colors were connected to each other, exuding a magnificent and imposing power.

"I'll merge this stone with my body and proceed with the five elements cultivation. When I master the First Transformation, I will become the legendary Five Elements Divine Dragon!"

Chapter 66: Evolution: Five-Elements Divine Dragon (2)

The Five Elements Source Stone couldn't be devoured as Wang Xian wasn't able to absorb the energy within.

Carrying the Five Elements Source Stone, Wang Xian jumped into the water directly.

Rawrr!

A dragon roar propagated through the seas. Wang Xian sat on the seabed and scratched the Five Elements Source Stone with his dragon claws.

"Evolution: Five-Elements Divine Dragon!"

Wang Xian shouted softly. The Five Element Source Stone was emitting 5 different colored lights as it entered Wang Xian's body gradually.

In that instant, his body glowed in 5 different colors and his body was no longer just gold in color.

"Evolution: Five-Elements Divine Dragon!"

A voice exploded in Wang Xian's mind and his dragon's body started cracking.

His body was growing at a rapid pace from three meters to five meters. Moreover, the color of its body was also undergoing major changes.

His head was blue, the color of the water. His pair of claws and dragon horns were golden in color. His body was a dull shade of yellow with a tinge of green.

As for his tail, it was red. His entire body reflected the colors of the Five Elements: Metal, water, wood, fire and ground.

Wang Xian felt that his dragon claws seemed to have been completely turned into metal and were capable of splitting metal and shattering stones. His head could control the flow of water and his body had a thick defense with strong regeneration capability.

As for his tail, it was filled with violent power.

There were five different types of colors connected to one another, complementing and restricting each element. [\[1\]](#)

Rawrr!

Wang Xian couldn't help but let out a dragon's roar which resounded in a radius of several dozens of miles. All the marine animals within this range were all looking towards his direction in horror.

Some of them were even trembling in fear while lying flat on the seabed as though they were paying respect to Wang Xian.

So strong! I'm so strong now! Wang Xian could feel the destructive strength that filled his body.

Looking across, he could see all the living animals in a radius of one kilometer and all the marine animals within several kilometers. With just a thought, he could control them.

Absolutely horrifying!

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Five Elements Divine Dragon (Able to transform into a human)

Level: Six

Dragon Energy: 564,421/100,000,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of living (For extraction of dragon energy)

Five Elements Control

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

My level increased three times to Level Six and I got a new superpower!

Wang Xian's eyes lit up as he felt his unprecedented strength.

With a body of 5 meters, he was considered rather large in the seas. Moreover with his current strength, he could easily kill any types of sharks. In fact, he could even kill a school of tiger whales.

Five Elements Control!

With a thought, he opened up his dragon claw and a sharp metal longsword appeared in his hand.

When he opened his mouth slightly, a ball of water appeared from within.

When he swayed his tail slightly, the scorching temperature that was emitting from the tail could reach the might of the dragon ball.

I'm so strong now. Even if I encounter an Inborn expert, he wouldn't be a match for me!

Wang Xian was filled with confidence. From here onwards, he would also be an existence that could rule over an area.

"Dragon King!"

At this moment, clam girl, who had been around, swam over. She opened her shell and revealed her human form.

"Haha, I'm in a really good mood today. Here is some dragon energy for you!"

Wang Xian looked at clam girl and revealed a smile. With a wave of his golden claws, a stream of dragon energy entered clam girl's body.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

The clam girl shivered and absorbed the dragon energy rapidly. Her form was getting closer and closer to a human and the shell behind her was emitting a blinding glow. At the same time, her level had increased to Level Seven.

"Roving girl, did you catch any top-quality seafood over the last few days?" Wang Xian asked Roving Girl.

"Dragon King, I've found some abalones as you described near this island." Moving her body, she controlled the water flow and pointed to a direction.

Oh? Abalone? Wang Xian revealed a shocked expression. "Bring me over to take a look."

"Yes, Dragon King!" Roving Girl nodded her head. As she moved her body, she went ahead and led the way.

Wang Xian moved his tail slightly. His current speed was horrifying in the seas currently and few marine animals could match his speed.

A five meters long Five Elements divine dragon was starting to have its majestic look.

Under the island was a patch of chaotic rocks. Clam girl led him towards the opposite direction where Wang Xian came from.

In that direction, green seaweeds were all over the surface of the rocks.

"Dragon King, look! The abalones that you've described!"

Clam girl pointed to an abalone in the cracks between a rock. She controlled the flow of water and swept the abalone towards her directly.

"This is... Two-headed abalone!"

When Wang Xian saw the abalones in front of him, his eyes lit up and revealed a shocked expression.

An abalone is considered a "Two-headed abalone" when just two of them weighs a catty.

Two-headed abalone was a very rare and precious animal. A single two-headed abalone would fetch at least $400,000 - $500,000.

Even so, one might not even get one with money. This was something that an ordinary rich person could eat.

Wang Xian looked to clam girl with joy and asked, "Are there more of these abalone?"

"Yes." Clam girl nodded her head and swam to the side. Controlling the water flow, she swept an even larger abalone over.

"This..."

Wang Xian was speechless when he saw this abalone. It was at least the size of two palms, had a heavy and thick shell and dull-yellow flesh.

"One-headed Abalone. Oh my gosh, this is a one-headed abalone that is worth several million for one!"

Wang Xian was exhilarated. He opened up his claws and held it with his own hand.

Abalone! This was the highest-quality ingredient available!

Just this abalone alone would be more than $2 million. Moreover, it would at most be enough for two people.

$2 million for a meal? Who could have afforded it?

"Roving girl, get me all the abalone in the surrounding area," Wang Xian ordered loudly.

Roving girl nodded her head. Moving her body, she started to catch the abalones within the cracks of the rocks.

Soon, 20-30 abalones appeared within the area she was controlling.

Among which, there were several one-headed abalones and two-headed abalones that were similar to those in Wang Xian's hand.

There was 1 one-headed abalone and 4 two-headed abalone. As for the rest, they were either three-headed abalones or four-headed abalones.

"Dragon King, this is a portion of the abalones."

In less than 10 minutes, abalones were densely packed around Roving Girl. There were approximately 100 of them.

"Great, that's enough!"

Wang Xian was overwhelmed. Among the abalones in front of him, there were approximately 5 one-headed abalones, 15 two-headed abalones and the rest were three-headed abalones or four-headed abalones.

"If I place these in the restaurants, it would definitely cause a commotion. These are one-headed abalones and two-headed abalones that are close to impossible to find within the country!"

Wang Xian recalled a piece of news that he had seen. Someone dried a two-headed abalone and preserved it under perfect conditions. After which, he used it as a family heirloom. From this, one could see the value of a two-headed abalone, let alone a one-headed abalone.

Lobsters and abalones... If I could get some Chinese Bahaba fish and Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, it would be perfect. At that time, no restaurants would be able to match the top-quality ingredients of First-grade restaurant!

Chapter 67: Establish Dragon Sect

In the ocean, Wang Xian swayed his enormous body and swam out hundreds of meters away in a single move. He headed towards the spot where the Roving Lobster was at.

Roar!

A dragon roar was heard in the area filled with messy reefs. All the marine animals in the region were shuddering.

Soon, Roving Lobster, with a pair of two-meters claws, swam quickly and lowered himself. "My respect to the Dragon King!"

Wang Xian looked at the Level-four Roving Lobster and drew his lips. "I'm here to enhance your strength for your cultivation."

"Thank you, Dragon King!" The low-intelligence Roving Lobster said gratefully.

Wang Xian swung his arm and instilled a stream of Dragon Energy into the body of Roving Lobster.

Ka Ka Ka!

The Roving Lobster gave off frying sound from his body. His body did not grow any bigger, but all his legs, including his claws, grew muscular.

His pair of large claws, as sharp as razors, were about 1.5 meters long. His legs were about the same size as the human ones.

Slowly, the Roving Lobster stood up. With a height of two meters, two out of eight legs were supporting his body. The rest of them looked extremely strong and durable.

The two claws located on his head were exuding mightiness. This was the authentic Roving Lobster General.

The Roving Lobster upgraded to Level Six after Wang Xian transferred 100,000 points of Dragon Energy.

Compared to a Martial Artist, a Level-seven Martial Artist was no match for a Level-six Roving Lobster.

"Guard this land of lobsters. That would be sufficient." Sharp radiance flashed across Wang Xian's eyes.

"Thank you, Dragon King!" The Roving Lobster knelt again and said with gratefulness.

"Carry on with your cultivation!"

After leaving his instruction, he made a move and headed towards the island where Mo Qinglong was residing.

When Wang Xian swam out of the water, Mo Qinglong immediately walked over humbly. "Dragon King!"

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded and asked, "When will your subordinates be arriving?"

"Dragon King, they will be here in no time!" Mo Qinglong answered with respect.

"In no time?" Wang Xian looked at Mo Qinglong with astonishment. "So fast?"

"Dragon King, they were receiving military training. I called them just now, and they were not far away from the Rivertown. Now, they are on their way. I believe they will be here soon!" Mo Qinglong replied.

"Oh?" Wang Xian nodded his head with sharp radiance in his eyes. He looked at the shore where a ship was sailing towards them, "Are they here?"

Mo Qinglong looked over and nodded his head, "Yes, it should be them!"

"Where did their ship come from?" asked Wang Xian curiously.

"Dragon King, as an elite assassin, getting a ship is a piece of cake," Mo Qinglong replied.

"Great!"

Wang Xian displayed a satisfied look while he waited quietly for the ship to arrive.

"Gather here!" When the ship docked, Mo Qinglong called out.

"Master!"

A surprising voice was heard. Soon after, a middle-aged man, along with a team of young men, ran towards him.

"Come here!" Mo Qinglong said in a low voice.

"Yes!"

A group of people crowded around.

Wang Xian swept his gaze across the people and noticed 50 fit and muscular young men. They were standing there uniformly without making the slightest sound.

A chilling killing aura exuded from them.

This bunch of people was not strong because they were from a sub-branch of the Ancient Fiend Clan, and none of them had learned Ancient Martial Arts.

Besides, at their age, their meridians would have stiffened up. It would be extremely difficult to do any cultivation. Only the middle-aged leader was a Level-six Martial Artist.

"This is the Dragon King, and he will be your king from now on too!" Mo Qinglong told the 50 people.

The middle-aged man leading the team revealed a shocking expression as he looked at his Master.

"I'll take you to another world!"

Wang Xian walked to the center slowly as the Dragon Power gradually encompassed everyone.

Boom!

After the encompassing of the Dragon Power, the entire world seemed to have undergone a drastic change. Infinite oppression was suppressing them.

"Dragon King!" This group of well-trained assassins was horrified. They, including the middle-aged man in the lead, quickly knelt down on the ground.

"All of you shall not resist."

Wang Xian swung his palm, and 50 drops of dragon blood emerged in his hands. He flung his arm and sent the blood to each of their glabellas.

Everyone was horrified and dared not resist when they saw the skills he displayed.

"Next, I'll unblock your eight extraordinary meridians. During this period, you'll focus on your cultivation. In the shortest possible time, cultivate yourself to the Inborn Realm and become invincible masters!"

Wang Xian swung his arm and injected a large amount of Dragon Energy into their bodies. He closed his eyes and unblocked all the meridians.

Unblocking their meridians would not make them Inborn Experts immediately. They would still require absorbing Spiritual Energy.

However, their absorption speed would increase by 100 times after unblocking their meridians.

Roar!

After all the meridians were unblocked, they let out a soft dragon roar. All their clothes were torn into pieces by the domineering force. Faint dragon scales were attached to their bodies.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

After everyone absorbed the dragon blood, they clutched their fists tightly with excitement on their faces. They knelt, and their voices echoed through the sky.

"From now on, you'll be the security of the Dragon Palace, and will be known as the Dragon Sect from the Dragon Palace. The entire Dragon Sect would be led by Mo Qinglong," Wang Xian ordered them.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong knelt down before him thrillingly.

"Find a basecamp for everyone to cultivate!" Wang Xian nodded and said slowly.

"Dragon King, why don't we make this place the basecamp of the Dragon Sect?" Mo Qinglong suggested while standing up.

"Here?" Wang Xian observed the surrounding. The entire island had a size of 3,000 meters. The surface area was enough, but the island was too bleak.

"It would take a lot of money to transform this place into the Dragon Sect!" Wang Xian slightly frowned.

"Dragon King, we have some funds here. Just enough for us to establish our basecamp." Mo Qinglong was exhilarated. "Besides, my strength will reach the Inborn Realm soon. Till then, we can apply for this island to be the basecamp for the Dragon Sect."

"Great!"

Wang Xian's eyes glimmered with sharp radiance. "I'll leave the Dragon Sect to you. I hope everyone can become Inborn Experts in no time!"

"Everyone will become an Inborn Expert within 100 days!" Mo Qinglong guaranteed, "Since we've got your bloodline, we can even strive for a more powerful level too!"

"From now on, I, Mo Qinglong from the Dragon Sect, will clear all the obstacles in your way! Everyone will worship the Dragon Sect!"

"We will make Dragon Sect well-known in the world and clear all obstacles for the Dragon King! Everyone will worship the Dragon Sect!"

The rest of the Dragonians at the back roared with passionate eyes.

Wang Xian swept his gaze across all the people. He bellowed to the sky, Roar!

The roar symbolized my arrival, the arrival of the Five Elements Divine Dragon, Wang Xian. I'll definitely soar to the highest point in the world!

Chapter 68: A Dragon or A Worm?

Early in the morning, a figure flew out of the seas. That's right, it flew out like a deity.

Naturally, the word "flew" might be exaggerating. Nonetheless, Wang Xian was able to jump over ten meters in a single leap.

Since his level had increased to Level Six, his body had integrated the Five Elements Source Stone and had 5 elemental attributes of metal, wood, water, fire and earth in his body, Wang Xian's strength was a hundred times stronger.

With a flick of his finger, a spark appeared within his hand. Moving it again, it was a metal dagger this time. Subsequently, there was a fireball, a block of earth and a piece of wood.

However, what Wang Xian found the most interesting was that he could grow beautiful flowers on his palm with just a thought.

This was the strength of the five elements and showed why the Five Elements Divine Dragon was the most horrifying.

Wang Xian retracted his aura with a face of smiles and walked to his heavy-duty motorcycle. He rode it and headed towards First-grade Restaurant.

When he reached First-grade Restaurant, it was already 9.30 a.m. and Guan Shuqing had arrived.

"Xiao Xian, have you eaten?" Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian with loving eyes and asked sweetly.

Despite being upset by her father's actions during the banquet, she felt fortunate to have Wang Xian with her all along.

Currently, her family would likely rise again with the Qin Family providing assistance. Moreover, her family would grow to be even stronger than before.

Her parents were exhilarated and wanted her to grab hold of the opportunity to become Wang Xian's girlfriend.

Although this made her speechless, she was secretly happy about it as her parents were no longer against her being together with Wang Xian.

"I haven't. Have you eaten? Wanna head out to grab some food?" Wang Xian smiled and asked.

"I have already eaten. You could go by yourself." Guan Shuqing looked at him and smiled.

Wang Xian nodded his head and headed out.

The traffic on the old street was huge. Even though it was a morning in the summer, there were still quite a number of pedestrians in the surrounding area.

Wang Xian looked around before heading towards a breakfast shop.

"Longxuan Restaurant will be opening in five days! Sir, please come and take a look."

At this moment, a girl walked to him with a flyer and handed it to him.

Longxuan Restaurant?

He took the flyer from the girl's hand inquisitively and took a look.

Longxuan Restaurant will be opening in five days. On the day of the opening, everything will be sold at 50% of the original price. Subsequently, it will be 60% on the second day, 70% on the third day, 80% on the fourth day and 90% of on the fifth day.

Longxuan Restaurant mainly sells all kinds of seafood and definitely has more variety than First-grade Restaurant. We have all kinds of valuable and precious seafood.

At that time, we will be selling Two-headed abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin sashimi, delicious caviar and Australian lobsters.

We welcome all guests to visit and taste our exquisite and delicious seafood. We would also be giving out attractive prizes!

Wang Xian looked at the advertisement flyer in his hand before lifting his head to look at Longxuan Restaurant which was just a short distance away.

At this moment, the renovation of Longxuan Restaurant was complete. Looking at its exterior, it wasn't inferior to First-grade Restaurant at all. In fact, it looked a little more luxurious, as it was a newly renovated restaurant after all.

Everything at half price on opening day five days later? Claiming to have a wider variety of seafood than First-grade Restaurant?

Wang Xian's eyes flickered and a faint cold smirk appeared on his face.

"Eh, isn't this our Director Wang? What's the matter? Coming to learn more about your competitor?" At this moment, a teasing voice sounded from beside him.

He turned his head over and saw a young man followed by three other guys. The lips of the young man curved into a smile when he saw Wang Xian holding onto the advertisement flyer.

Wang Xian looked at the young man and gave a cold smirk. "I don't have to resort to finding more about your restaurant. My First-grade Restaurant has never been afraid of anyone!"

"Haha, great. Director Wang is really confident!" The young man looked at Wang Xian and smiled. His expression turned heavy as he continued, "However, I wonder if Director Wang could stay as composed when his restaurant goes bankrupt."

"Bankrupt? That's interesting. Let us wait and see who will be the first to declare bankruptcy." Wang Xian smiled and looked at them.

"Let's wait and see then! At that time, I'll let you know the strength of our Longxuan Restaurant." The young man gave a cold smile. "If you go bankrupt, I'll buy it from you for cheap!"

"Arrogant!" Wang Xian looked at the young man and said in an emotionless tone.

"Lad, you are still lacking a lot in comparison with my brother. As to what you are capable of, we have already investigated thoroughly. This time, we would hand you a complete defeat."

At this moment, the teenager beside the young man lifted his head and spoke to Wang Xian in a condescending manner.

"My capabilities? It seems like you guys have been investigating me?" Wang Xian's face sank.

"Hehe. Know your enemy and you will not be defeated in a hundred battles! You are just a lucky brat. After this experience, you will be left with nothing," the young man said coldly.

"Sure," Wang Xian sneered. "In that case, I'd like to see who will be the one who is left with nothing!"

Tsk!

The young man sneered and headed out.

"Brother, this time we will teach this brat a good lesson and let him know the consequences of going against our Longxuan Restaurant!" the teenager said to the young man.

"In five days' time, he will be crying over this. Our Longxuan Restaurant's branch in this city is coming to this town like a hurricane and will triumph over the local First-grade Restaurant regardless of how strong it might be. Furthermore, he is just a worm after all."

The young man revealed a confident look.

If he wasn't capable, he wouldn't have come to the area to set up his restaurant. In his eyes, the First-grade Restaurant was just a worm.

"Haha, that's right big brother. In five days' time, we will know who's the dragon and who's the worm!" The teenager laughed excitedly.

Longxuan Restaurant!

Wang Xian looked at them as they left before looking at Longxuan Restaurant once again. He smirked coldly and mumbled, "You guys dare to claim to be Longxuan Restaurant? Claiming to be a 'Dragon?'" [\[1\]](#)

In five days' time? Wang Xian smiled and threw the advertisement into the rubbish bin.

"Director Wang!"

When he returned to First-grade Restaurant after finishing his breakfast, Manager Huang walked to him, looking flustered. In his hand was an advertisement flyer.

"What's the matter?" Wang Xian saw his flustered look and asked.

"Director Wang, Longxuan Restaurant has just started a strong and massive advertisement campaign by giving out flyers and employing the media at the same time. Their reach is really wide!" Manager Huang replied in a hurry and passed the flyer to Wang Xian. "This was a flyer that I received from them."

"I knew about this." Wang Xian smiled and shook his head upon seeing the flyer.

"Director Wang, you knew about this?" Manager Huang was a little shocked but quickly added, "Director Wang, we need to get prepared. Longxuan Restaurant is a famous restaurant in the nearby city and they have strong capabilities. Moreover, their boss is a distant sea fishing group and has supplies with a range of top-quality ingredients. Please take a look at the menu that they are advertising."

"Relax! I have thought of how to handle this. As for now, the operations of First-grade Restaurant shall remain the same as before. It's just a Longxuan Restaurant. I'll make them close their shop quickly!" Wang Xian said plainly.

"Director Wang, you are confident?" Manager Huang asked again, feeling a little doubtful.

"Just go and do what you have to do."

Wang Xian looked at him and smiled mysteriously.

He had not brought over the large lobsters from the chaotic reef areas and the abalones from under the island. This was because the time wasn't right yet.

There were five more days and this was ample time for him to make some preparations

Chapter 69: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (1)

Days passed by, and soon it was only ten days left before the school reopened.

And one day before the Longxuan Restaurant opened for business.

"Director Wang, the things you wanted are ready!"

When Manager Huang saw the arrival of Wang Xian early in the morning, he was worried sick. He could not help but ask, "Director Wang, almost everyone in the Rivertown knows that the Longxuan Restaurant will be opening soon. Given the market responses, many people will turn up in their restaurant on the first day. How should we deal with this?"

"It's okay. Make sure the things are ready!"

Wang Xian did not answer his question directly as he looked at the entrance with a smiling face.

These few days, Wang Xian got Manager Huang to prepare a few showcase boxes like those that could be seen in the market.

However, the showcase boxes that came with frozen storage were much more high class and exquisite.

The four showcase boxes were located on both sides of the entrance while a huge aquarium was situated in the center. However, there was no ornamental fish in the aquarium.

"It's done. Director Wang. Look at all the imported equipment. They neither obstruct the visual nor the passageway," said Manager Huang, frowning.

"Shuqing, have you printed out all our promotions?" Wang Xian asked with a smile.

"Yes, they are done. We can start our promotions anytime," said Guan Shuqing with a grin.

"Great, I'll get the people to move in the stuff in the afternoon!" Wang Xian nodded.

"Xiao Xian, are you confident in winning against the Longxuan Restaurant?" Guan Shuqing asked with some concerns.

"No problem." Wang Xian nodded.

Seeing Wang Xian acting so secretively, both Guan Shuqing and Manager Huang did not ask anything further. All they did was wait quietly.

Longxuan Restaurant in the distance had already hung up huge red lanterns with fabulous decorations at the entrance.

Just on advertising and promotions alone, Longxuan Restaurant had spent millions in five days. With such a substantial investment in marketing, the results were visible. Some passers-by even made enquiries in the daytime today.

At three in the afternoon, an old man, together with six young men, walked in. The old man was burly while the rest of the young men exuded fearsome auras.

They were carrying things in their hands.

"Our operating hours start at 5 pm..."

"All of you are here. Move the things over here!" Wang Xian intercepted the receptionist when he saw Mo Qinglong and the Dragonians.

"Wang!" When Mo Qinglong saw Wang Xian, he quickly walked over and addressed him respectfully.

Wang Xian requested him to address him in this way. After all, addressing him as 'Dragon King' was way too high-profile.

And 'Wang' (aka 'the King') seemed like a shorter nickname Wang Xian.

"Bring the things over!" Wang Xian stood up and said.

Guan Shuqing, Manager Huang, and the rest of the chefs did not rest. They all stood up and checked out curiously.

"We're ready!" Mo Qinglong waved to the rest of the six young men behind him.

"Put it in that showcase box!" said Wang Xian to them.

"Yes, Wang!" the rest of the young men nodded.

Two of the young men moved over a huge foam box with ice in it. They opened the box, revealing a fish in it.

The body size of the fish was about three meters long. It was beefy and sleek, flickering with silvery radiance.

"Atlantic Bluefin Marlin. It's the Atlantic Bluefin Marlin!"

"Gosh! It's an Atlantic Bluefin Marlin of at least 400 catties!"

"Such a huge and beautiful Atlantic Bluefin Marlin. This one is worth at least 3 million and above!"

The group of chefs standing around could not help but exclaim as they quickly surrounded the box in astonishment!

This was the best fish in the world - Atlantic Bluefin Marlin!

Yet, another box opposite them was already opened while they exclaimed. It was a yellowish of one meter, weighing around 100 catties.

"Chinese Bahaba fish. It's the Chinese Bahaba fish!"

"The fish gelatine is just beside the Chinese Bahaba fish. That's just huge!"

"Gosh, there's another Chinese Bahaba fish!"

When the Chinese Bahaba fish was out, another round of commotion broke out from the surrounding chefs. Chinese Bahaba fish. It's the Chinese Bahaba fish.

"Director Wang... Boss, you're awesome. An Atlantic Bluefin Marlin and a Chinese Bahaba fish. Gosh!" Manager Huang exclaimed dumbfoundedly.

With these two top-graded fish, would the First-grade Restaurant be afraid of the Longxuan Restaurant? They did not seem to exist.

Guan Shuqing parted her lips slightly in astonishment as she looked at the expensive fish.

She had not even have a chance to eat such expensive fish before.

"What a huge abalone! Gosh, the abalones are huge!"

Just as everyone was staring at the Atlantic Bluefin Marlin and the Chinese Bahaba fish, the abalones were unloaded one by one.

Among which, a few of the palm-sized abalones drew surprising cries from the chef.

The chef pointed unbelievably at those abalones that were taken out from the box with eyes agape.

"This... One-headed abalone. One-headed abalone!"

"Gosh, this is incredible. Too incredible!"

When Wang Xian saw their reactions, he smiled. "Put the ornamental fish into the fish tank!"

"Yes, Wang!"

A young Dragonian nodded, opened the foam box, and stored the arowanas in it.

There was a total of nine arowanas, and each of them was about 80 centimeters long.

Precious Chilli Red Arowanas, noble Asian Arowana, Domineering Silver Arowana, Elegant Yellow Arowana, and Radiant Blue Arowana...

Each of the Arowana exuded a faint and imposing aura.

They were the top-graded arowanas. Definitely the ultimate top-graded arowanas.

Manager Huang stared unbelievably at those arowanas with eyes agape.

He was not an expert in arowana, but his ex-boss borrowed several arowanas some time ago. Those arowanas were said to be worth more than a million each.

But he was sure that those arowanas back then were far inferior to these arowanas here.

The nine arowanas were sweeping its body from left to right in the aquarium. Its domineering mightiness was fascinating!

"Just these arowanas would cost more than $10 millions of dollars? Manager Huang was a little stupefied.

Lastly, hundreds of lobsters were taken out, relieving the group of people who were still stunned.

Luckily, the last hundred lobsters were worth hundreds of thousands of dollars which were incomparable to the rest of the fish.

"An Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish, two one-headed abalones, ten two-headed abalones... Bring out those Wild Giant Yellow Croaker which I caught some time ago, and put them in the showcase."

Wang Xian looked at a chef impassively.

"Yes, Boss. I'll get it!" That chef quickly rushed to the kitchen.

Soon, the 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croakers were in place.

The Chinese Bahaba fish and Atlantic Bluefin Marlin were situated on both sides of the door while the abalones were put beside the Chinese Bahaba fish. On the other hand, the Wild Giant Yellow Croakers were placed beside the Atlantic Bluefin Marlin.

Finally, the ornamental arowanas that were worth over $10 million were placed at the center position.

The shock on Manager Huang and the chefs' faces did not subside.

Anyone who just walked into the shop would form an illusion that they were in a museum which housed the world's best seafood. This was a "fish castle!"

Chapter 70: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (2)

"Let's have a toast to eating well, drinking well and having a good time today! From tomorrow onwards, our Longxuan Restaurant will start its operations officially and mark a new page of history for Longxuan Restaurant in Rivertown."

"In the future, people will definitely speak of us when discussing restaurants in Rivertown. As for that First-grade Restaurant, it will become history soon!"

"That's right, Director Xie! With Director Xie's capabilities and the publicity we have done over the last few days, First-grade Restaurant is nothing to us. They will just be a part of history soon!"

In the evening, the boss of Longxuan Restaurant brought all his employees to a luxury hotel for a "starting work" feast.

Longxuan Restaurant would be opening the next day. In other words, they were having a celebratory feast today!

They were celebrating the upcoming success of Longxuan Restaurant and for the name of Longxuan Restaurant spreading throughout Rivertown!

"That's certain. With the ingredients that we have prepared, it will definitely shock the entire Rivertown. I have never seen First-grade Restaurant as a threat to us!" Director Xie revealed an arrogant and cocky expression.

"First-grade Restaurant hasn't been doing any publicity recently. Could it be that they are so arrogant to believe that their reputation alone is enough to compete with us? That's really naive!"

A plump middle-aged man that looked like the chef chuckled.

"First-grade Restaurant naturally has to pay for its arrogance. As I have said, I'll make that brat regret!"

Recalling the arrogant Wang Xian, Director Xie revealed a cold look.

"Come, let's have a toast to the success of Longxuan Restaurant!" Director Xie stood up and said to the crowd around him.

"Cheers. Our Longxuan Restaurant will definitely shoot to stardom tomorrow!"

"Haha, shoot to stardom!"

Just as the people of Longxuan Restaurant were having the celebratory feast, what they didn't know was that there was a commotion that broke out in First-grade Restaurant!

"Welcome!"

A group of five people walked into the restaurant in the evening.

"Wow, you guys have made some changes to the entrance!"

A middle-aged regular patron noticed there was a new setup the moment he stepped into the restaurant. He looked at it inquisitively while asking the greeter at the side.

"Yes, Sir." The greeter smiled.

"However, the changes aren't significant. It's just changing the arrangement of some of the things." The middle-aged man looked around and shook his head slightly. "This won't do it. Longxuan Restaurant will be opening right beside tomorrow with a 50% discount on everything. Moreover, they have a wider variety of seafood than First-grade Restaurant. I heard that you have a new boss. If this isn't handled well, your business will be snatched away by Longxuan Restaurant."

"Sir, we will also be having a 50% discount on all items tomorrow," the greeter replied with a smile.

"Just having discounts isn't enough. Do you know the range of seafood that they have? Longxuan Restaurant will be having Atlantic Bluefin Marlin sashimi, precious sea cucumber and many other types of deep sea fish. I heard that there will be an unlimited amount of Australian lobsters and King Crabs." The middle-aged man shook his head as he spoke. He looked to the group of people with him and continued, "Let's go try the food of Longxuan Restaurant tomorrow. Their publicity has been really strong recently."

"I have also heard about Longxuan Restaurant. From their publicity, it seems that it is indeed better than First-grade Restaurant and has lots of top-quality seafood." Another middle-aged man by the side smiled and commented.

When the greeter heard the words of the middle-aged man, she revealed a faint smile. "Sir, Longxuan Restaurant is still a far cry from us. We have a new boss and it's only natural that we have made improvements. Sirs, please take a look inside."

"Alright, let's go and take a look." The middle-aged man nodded his head initially but smiled and shook his head soon after. "But I still feel that as compared to Longxuan Restaurant, you guys are a little inferior..."

However, before he could finish his sentence, he saw the nearest display platform to him.

There were 10 yellow croaker fish that weighed about three to four catties each on the display platform. Looking at the colors and the gloss of their bodies, it was clear that they were wild yellow croaker fish!

The middle-aged man was taken aback and commented in shock, "Wild Giant Yellow Croaker! And there're 10 of them! I would never have expected you guys to be able to get your hands on 10 Wild Giant Yellow Croaker fish!"

"Sirs, feel free to take a look. All the top-end seafood on our 4 display platform are for sale. You could choose from them and we would cook for you on the spot!" a beautiful female waitress standing by the platform said to them.

"These 10 wild giant yellow croaker fish are really precious. Who would have thought that First-grade restaurants would be able to get ten of these..."

This time, he did not complete his sentence. This was because just a short distance away, he saw a whole Atlantic Bluefin Marlin.

It was a 3-meters long Atlantic Bluefin Marlin! His eyes stared wide-open as he said, "Oh my gosh! What a move by First-grade restaurant. Just this Atlantic Bluefin Marlin alone would be comparable to Longxuan Restaurant!"

The waitress at the side simply smiled and didn't comment.

"Old Liu, take a look at this. Oh my god! Chinese Bahaba Fish! It's a whole Chinese Bahaba Fish!"

"This is still the first time I have seen a Chinese Bahaba fish. This fish alone is worth several million. These are fish gelatine! Fish gelatine from the Chinese Bahaba fish is the most precious of all fish gelatine. The gelatine alone would fetch several hundreds of thousands!"

"Don't just look at the Chinese Bahaba fish! Take a look at these! Oh my gosh! I have never seen abalones that are so large. This is just like a dream!"

"One-headed abalone! And there're 2 of them. There're also 10 two-headed abalones. Since when are one-headed and two-headed abalones so common? Each one of these is worth over a million!"

"This is crazy! 2 one-headed abalones and 10 two-headed abalones. These are worth close to $10 million. Furthermore, those are Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish and Wild Giant Yellow Croaker fish. All these together are worth close to $20 million!"

"First-grade Restaurant is too awesome. This is just like a dreamland!"

"Wow! Mr. Liu, welcome!" At this moment, Manager Huang saw them the moment he stepped out of the office. He smiled and immediately walked over.

"Manager Huang, these Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba and abalones are for sale?" the dumbfounded middle-aged man asked Manager Huang.

"Of course. If Mr. Liu would like to have some, feel free to choose from them. Our chefs would cook for you immediately. These are definitely the most premium food in the world." Manager Huang smiled and replied. "Moreover, we will be having a grand sale tomorrow. Everything will be sold at 50% of the original price. This would naturally include what you have seen here."

"In other words, if one would like to have a one-headed abalone, he would just need $1.2 million and could save half of the original cost!"

The five middle-aged men were dumbfounded. What the hell! An abalone still costs $1.2 million after a 50% discount?

Gulp! As the middle-aged man looked at the top-quality seafood around him, he couldn't help but swallow his saliva. "Manager Huang, you guys are really having a showdown with Longxuan Restaurant!"

A showdown? Manager Huang smiled and said with indifference, "Mr. Liu, what do you think of our First-grade Restaurant relative to Longxuan Restaurant?"

"Manager Huang, your new boss is truly awesome to be able to get these world-class top-quality ingredients."

The middle-aged man smiled and continued, "This isn't even a contest with Longxuan Restaurant anymore. You guys are simply holding them down and rubbing their faces against the floor! Too awesome!"

Rub rub!

Chapter 71: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (3)

Apart from Mr. Liu and his clique that night, close to hundreds of people who turned up for dinner at First-grade Restaurant saw the luxurious line-up of the seafood.

Every customer who walked in was dumbfounded by the world's best seafood.

What's more, these seafoods could only be found on the news.

They thought the recent improvements from Longxuan Restaurant were already impressive. But now, they simply paled in comparison!

That night, Wang Xian instructed that all the promotion events of the First-grade Restaurant be sent to the customers on their contact list via their phones.

No other message was sent except for the "50% off."

Yet, those images were shared on the social media feed among people within Rivertown that night.

"Crazy! Do you know what the best seafood in the world is? Australia Lobster, King Crab? Those are crappy. Let me tell you what the best seafood in the world is."

Below the caption were some pictures with One-headed Abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish.

"Splendid. This is the most awesome restaurant I have ever seen. The First-grade Restaurant is going the hell out of the way. All One-headed Abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish are now 50% off."

The photos and the information were shared on the WeChat feeds, which subsequently gave rise to some online jokes.

"I'll marry any nouveau riches who treat me to a meal at First-grade Restaurant!"

"Bro, follow me to a feast at First-grade Restaurant. I'll bring you, and you'll bring the money!"

"How much does it cost to go all-out eating at the First-grade Restaurant? The price of your house!"

"I'm sitting in the private room of First-grade Restaurant while having abalone, sashimi and Chinese Bahaba fish. I envy those who are having street food outside. Sigh, my life is tough!"

Within a short period, the god-like First-grade Restaurant was plastered all over the WeChat feeds. Many people were prepared to check the restaurant out.

The next morning.

The entire old street was filled with a festive atmosphere as Longxuan Restaurant opened their doors early in the morning.

The dancing lion and dragons were performing non-stop on the road outside the Longxuan Restaurant.

At the entrance of Longxuan Restaurant stood 10 gorgeous-looking models who were smiling all the way.

Director Xie, his brother and the manager of the Longxuan Restaurant were standing in front of the restaurant with smiles all over their faces. They were happy to see the crowd gathering at their door.

"Director Xie, it's only 9 am now and what a crowd we have. There will be more people when we officially open at 9.30 am. I bet they will start having their food at 9.30 am!"

"Haha, of course. We're having a promotion of 50% off today. It will be a pity if you are not eating the top-grade seafood at half price," said Director Xie, laughing out loud.

"Brother, the First-grade Restaurant is not even open yet. Interesting," the juvenile next to Director Xie said with a smile.

"That restaurant will be closed forever!" said Director Xie confidently.

"Director Xie, the beauty, Lin Qingying is here. More people might be coming later!" At this time, the manager of Longxuan Restaurant saw a pretty girl with a pair of big sunglasses. An assistant was following beside her too.

"Oh? Get her to come over now. Ask her to sing a song later and participate in the opening ceremony of Longxuan Restaurant!" Director Xie said while beaming.

"Got it." The manager nodded and went over immediately.

"Brother, we should hire a top star for our opening. Why would we get someone who is a B-lister?" the juvenile asked Director Xie.

"Lin Qingying might be a B-lister, but she is a special case. She's a star who loves food, and her reviews are spot-on. Hence, she has a huge base of fans who are foodies. Getting her is much more appropriate than hiring other A-listers!" Director Xie beamed as he spoke.

"You've got great foresight, Brother," the juvenile smiled and replied.

"Xiao Feng, you're still young. There are things you need to learn!" Director Xie smiled at his younger brother.

"Yes, Brother."

A simple stage was set up at the entrance of the Longxuan Restaurant.

"Hi, Miss Lin Qingying!" Director Xie greeted Lin Qingying with a face full of smiles when he saw her walking over.

"Hello, Director Xie!" Lin Qingying smiled and nodded with slight arrogance.

Director Xie did not mind at all. He knew that Lin Qingying was quite well-off. She gained her popularity from being a foodie and from the two songs she sang. She was not the one who was short of money. Now, he was the one who needed her help.

"Miss Lin Qingying, we'll need you to sing a song for us and introduce the Longxuan Restaurant later. Is there any problem?" asked Director Xie with a smile.

"No problem, Director Xie. Since I promised to take on this job, I'll definitely do my best!" Lin Qingying tidied her hair and nodded.

She was 1.7 meters tall with a perfect figure, and she looked fit. Her lips may have been thin, but they were seductive in their own way.

"Welcome, everyone, to Longxuan Restaurant. Today is the opening of the Longxuan Restaurant. We are officially announcing our arrival in Rivertown with the most top-grade seafood and the most delicious food. In this opening ceremony, we have invited the renowned foodie star, Miss Lin Qingying! Next, let's invite Miss Lin Qingying to introduce the Longxuan Restaurant, which has a rich history!"

The host stood on the stage with a microphone as he did the introduction. The beautiful and enchanting Lin Qingying walked up to the stage with a handheld microphone and a smiling face.

"Hello, everyone. I'm Lin Qingying. I'm very honored to be invited here for the opening ceremony of Longxuan Restaurant. The Longxuan Restaurant..."

"Lin Qingying! She's pretty. Let's go over now."

"Lin Qingying was invited to this restaurant's opening ceremony. This restaurant is splendid."

"The publicity of the Longxuan Restaurant these past few days was strong. I have also heard that it is a high-class seafood restaurant with lots of expensive seafood ingredients. They are quite awesome."

The presence of Lin Qingying on the stage drew all the people on the street instantly.

Director Xie curved his lips into a smile when he saw the crowd, which almost blocked the entire Longxuan Restaurant.

"This time, I want the entire Rivertown, or even the nation, to go crazy with my restaurant opening!"

Director Xie held his fist tightly as he revealed a confident look. He looked at the First-grade Restaurant, which had yet to open, with his lips slightly drawn!

At this time, a bunch of food lovers who had nothing to do rushed over when they heard the news.

"The First-grade Restaurant opens at 9.30. Since they are not open yet, let's check out the Longxuan Restaurant first!"

"Longxuan Restaurant might have strong publicity, but they seem to lose out to First-grade Restaurant by a lot. In any case, we can check them out since we've got nothing to do. I think there's a celebrity over there! "

Some customers joined the crowd at Longxuan Restaurant, which was not far away, when they saw the closed door at the First-grade Restaurant.

Chapter 72: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (4)

9.20 am. 10 more minutes to the official opening of Longxuan Restaurant.

At this moment, Director Xie and Lin Qingying were standing on the platform with the restaurant manager, the chief chef and Director Xie's brother. Everyone had a bright and radiant smile on them!

"And now we will have the ribbon-cutting ceremony to commemorate Longxuan Restaurant's opening and to wish them a bright future ahead!"

The ribbon-cutting ceremony is complete!

Director Xie's face was wreathed with smiles as he took over the microphone and looked at the densely packed crowd in front of him.

At this moment, the streets had been congested with people. There were at least 700-800 people gathered here and this made him pleasantly satisfied.

"First, I'd like to welcome everyone who is here to witness the opening of Longxuan Restaurant. As the beautiful Lin Qingying has introduced, our Longxuan Restaurant has a long history and a range of top-quality seafood. Today marks the beginning of Longxuan Restaurant in Rivertown and this will signify Longxuan Restaurant becoming the best, the most luxurious and the most delicious seafood restaurant in Rivertown!"

"Our Longxuan Restaurant has always liked to prove it with our strength. In five minutes' time, we will be opening officially. Everyone could come in and try our food. I believe that the top-quality seafood in our Longxuan Restaurant will be far superior to those in the nearby First-grade Restaurant. Atlantic Bluefin Marlin sashimi! We have it! Two-headed abalone! We have it! Top-quality caviar! We have it! Australian lobsters and King Crab! We have them too! We have every kind of top-quality seafood you can imagine!"

Director Xie spoke confidently. He was in a state of exuberance and had a confident disposition. Following which, the doors to Longxuan Restaurant were opened as he waved his hand.

A huge fish was placed right at the main door.

"This is a little benefit to commemorate the opening of our restaurant, large-sized grouper! It weighs over 300 catties and the market price of it is more than $100 per catty. As long as you eat in our restaurant today, we will be giving you a serving for free."

"Wow, what a big fish!"

"Grouper! The price of grouper isn't cheap. It's over $100 per catty!"

"This grouper is really huge! Doesn't this mean that this alone is worth $30,000 to $40,000? Longxuan Restaurant is really generous to give it out for free!"

"Rich! This Longxuan Restaurant is simply rich! Disregarding the publicity over the last few days, one could easily tell its strength by its ability to invite Lin Qingying over. Moreover, the range of top-quality seafood is really wide here!"

Some people looked at that huge grouper in awe. How extravagant! Awesome!

The lips of Director Xie curved into a smile and he was very satisfied with the reactions of the crowd. He smiled faintly at the people below the platform who were busy taking photos with their mobile phones.

However, there was a batch of people who were surprisingly not shocked. On the contrary, they were commenting softly, "It's just a grouper! This is a far cry from First-grade Restaurant!"

"Yeah. Is this all they got? Why does it feel that they are miles behind First-grade Restaurant? Yet they dare to claim to be far ahead of First-grade Restaurant!"

This group of people was puzzled while looking at Director Xie acting cocky on the platform.

"Boss, is everything going at 50% of its original price?" A voice of a middle-aged man sounded suddenly. The crowd looked towards Director Xie and was waiting for his reply.

"Everything in our restaurant is going at 50% of the original price. This includes the drinks." Director Xie smiled. However, he quickly added, "Naturally, some stuff couldn't possibly be going at 50%. For example, the two-headed abalone. We have spent a lot of effort to get them from Australia and therefore these will be sold at the original price of $450,000. Besides that, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin and caviar will also not be at 50%. I believe everyone knows the prices of these."

"However!" Director Xie's face was still brimming with confidence. "Our Australian Lobsters and King Crab will be going at 50%. Just think about being able to have these for slightly over $1,000 when one typically costs $2,000-$3,000! Isn't this great!"

"Our Longxuan Restaurant is really extravagant and generous. The price of a meal would be just $5,000 if it costs $10,000 initially. This is a once in a blue moon opportunity! Moreover, our promotional activities will only be for today and over the next few days. Today, we have the highest discount of 50%." The manager added from the side.

"That's a really good deal!"

"It's a perfect deal! Even Australian Lobsters and King Crab are going for half price. This is simply too cheap."

"Longxuan Restaurant is taking a loss with each sale! Awesome, awesome!"

The crowd couldn't contain their surprise as they exclaimed.

Director Xie had also invited some members of the media to record this event. They were taking photos constantly to prepare for future publications.

They had already thought of the headlines. For example, "Extravagant Longxuan Restaurant! Everything at just 50% on the opening day! Top-quality seafood waiting for you to enjoy!"

"The most extravagant restaurant! The most luxurious restaurant! The most delicious restaurant! Top-quality restaurant awaits your arrival!"

However, there was a group of people looking at Director Xie and the manager with a weird expression.

A middle-aged man couldn't contain himself and remarked loudly, "Please pardon me for my honest words! If this is all you have, I'm afraid Longxuan Restaurant has a long way to go to overtake First-grade Restaurant!"

"Yeah. To exclude Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, two-headed abalone and other top-tier ingredients from discounts, you guys are miles behind First-grade Restaurant!"

"Yeah. First-grade Restaurant is also having a promotional event today and all the ingredients in the restaurant are going at half price. Even a one-headed abalone is at half price. Think about it! A $2 million one-headed abalone going at half price!"

"I thought Longxuan Restaurant would be generous. What a huge discrepancy from expectation!"

When the middle-aged man spoke, those customers that were waiting for First-grade Restaurant's opening couldn't hold back anymore and seconded.

After five to six people had spoken, the crowd was stunned.

Director Xie was also taken aback and looked sternly at those people. "You guys are probably hired by First-grade Restaurant to cause trouble here! With First-grade Restaurant's capabilities, there's no way it has the strength to compete with Longxuan Restaurant. We are at least two tiers ahead!"

Director Xie's words angered those people. We were hired? They naturally wouldn't be happy about being accused of being something that they weren't!

"We are hired? What a joke! We are just regular customers and would go to wherever has the most delicious food and widest range of top-quality ingredients. We are just speaking the truth!"

"That's right. I really wonder where you find the courage to say that you guys are two tiers above First-grade Restaurant. You guys should take a look at others before saying that."

"Ignorance! It's you guys who are inferior by several tiers as compared to First-grade Restaurant and have to rely on a large amount of publicity to gain reputation. You guys should have checked out the difference between Longxuan Restaurant and First-grade Restaurant!"

The customers below the platform grumbled angrily. Since they were accused of being hired, they wouldn't have to be courteous with Longxuan Restaurant.

"Who would have expected that First-grade Restaurant would send these troublemakers. What a despicable group of people. Security! Throw these people out." A young man from below the stage was outraged upon seeing the few middle-aged men shouting.

"Interesting! Interesting! We are just speaking the truth. How do you even dare to be so presumptuous in claiming First-grade Restaurant is inferior to you when you haven't even recognized the true strength of First-grade Restaurant!"

"I'm just going to say this and it isn't because I'm biased towards First-grade Restaurant. In my opinion, Longxuan Restaurant is just trash as compared to First-grade Restaurant!"

"You guys are just trash!"

Chapter 73: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (5)

"Chase them off. Chase these troublemakers away!" Director Xie turned and said to the security guard. He darkened his expression as soon as he heard the comments on the stage.

"I don't need you to chase us off. We'll walk out ourselves. In any case, the First-grade Restaurant is going to open soon!"

A middle-aged man spoke to Director Xie coldly as he walked towards the First-grade Restaurant.

"You'll find out who is the best when you walk into the restaurant. How dare you claim yourself as the most generous and luxurious restaurant. Heh, you're far from that!"

"Sigh, I can't even bear to look anymore. The top-graded ingredients of the First-grade Restaurant were shared frantically on the Wechat feed. 50% off everything in the shop. Even the One-headed Abalone that is worth 2 million is selling at half price. They even have ten Two-headed Abalones."

Some people commented while shaking their heads. They left the place and headed to the First-grade Restaurant.

About 80 people left the place with disdainful expressions on their faces as they commented.

Some of the people around were stunned as they had no idea about it. They knew nothing about the top-graded seafood of First-grade Restaurant and the half-priced promotion.

After all, someone had only spotted the top-graded seafood of First-grade Restaurant last night. Despite how fast it was propagated on the feed, many people remained unaware of it.

The surrounding people were somewhat stunned as they watched the group of people departing.

Just then, the door of the First-grade Restaurant was opened. Subsequently, they took out their advertising signboards and set them up in front of the door.

"50% off everything including One-headed Abalone, Two-headed Abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish, and even the Wild Giant Yellow Croakers! 50% off everything!"

A simple advertising signboard with pictures of abalones, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish, and Wild Giant Yellow Croakers.

"Finally, they are opened. Let's go. I heard they placed all the top-graded ingredients at the entrance. If we get them, the chef can cook it on the spot!"

"Let's hurry. The first-grade Restaurant has a 50% off promotion, and the place will soon be fully booked. We should start to queue now. Otherwise, we can't get to eat even if we want to!"

"Hurry, I heard that the boss has arowanas that are worth millions of dollars inside. Gosh! This is way too awesome!"

Those people who left were excited as they ran off hastily when the First-grade Restaurant opened their doors for business.

"Why don't we check it out too?!" those people in front of the Longxuan Restaurant asked hesitantly when they saw the crowd streaming towards the First-grade Restaurant.

"I'll check it out to see if what they said was real!"

"Me too. It should not be possible for the First-grade Restaurant to find about 90 people just to act as shills. If what they said was untrue, then they would be smearing their own brand name!"

"That's right, I'll check them out too!"

"We'll wait and see if it is really as awesome as they claimed it would be!"

Some of the people popped over to the First-grade Restaurant while some people were prepared to sit around and observe.

For a moment, no one entered the Longxuan Restaurant. On the stage, Director Xie turned sulky as he held his microphone tightly with killing radiance flickering in his eyes.

"Don't push, everyone. Line up orderly."

Manager Huang was excited to see the influx of customers at the restaurant entrance.

"Sorry, we're really sorry. We're still in the midst of preparation. So, if you want to have your meals, you might need to wait for more than an hour. You can wait if you're patient enough!"

Manager Huang yelled at the top of his lungs. His chin was slightly lifted as he was feeling proud.

"Let's take a look at these displays in front of us. Check out the One-headed Abalone and the Chinese Bahaba fish."

"Yes, let's check these out first. Damm, I have never seen One-headed Abalone. Not even a Chinese Bahaba fish."

"Manager Huang, even the One-headed Abalone that cost more than 2 million...it is also at half price? If someone buys this, won't the shop be losing money?" the group of people asked curiously as they marched in.

"50% off for everything. This is not empty talk. But all our seafood has to be cooked in the restaurant after purchase to prevent people from reselling our One-headed Abalones," Manager Huang answered in a loud voice.

"Gosh! It's true. This is a god-like promotion. A One-headed Abalone at half price means we save over a million dollars!"

"Wow, they are really Chinese Bahaba fish, Wild Giant Yellow Croakers, two One-headed Abalone, and 10 Two-headed Abalone. This is simply amazing!"

"What a huge abalone. One of these costs more than 2 million. This is incredible.

Too incredible."

"What a sight. What a god-damned sight!" Everyone took out their phones to take photos as they exclaimed in disbelief.

"And these arowanas... Gosh, Manager Huang, where did your boss find so many precious arowanas that are worth a few million each?"

"You're kidding me. Are they really that expensive?"

"Of course. My friend sells ornamental fish. So, I know something about it. These arowanas looked really impressive. They are worth at least a million!"

"Gosh! Then all this seafood and the ornamental fishes would add up to a value of 20 to 30 million. I heard that First-grade Restaurant is owned by someone else now. Is the current boss that wealthy?"

"People in front, please wait inside after viewing. Give the people at the back a chance!" the customers who were waiting behind said in anticipation as they heard the exclamations from the customers in front.

"No hurry, no hurry!" the people in the front answered.

"The people queuing behind are blocking the road. Can the people in front hurry up?!"

The crowd was overwhelming. Some of them entered slowly as they revealed shocked expressions while gazing at the top-graded seafood. All of them took out their phones to snap pictures and share on their WeChat feeds and the internet.

"How is it? Is it true what those people just said?" some of the ignorant people asked the people in front.

"It's true. Damm. A huge One-headed Abalone, rare Chinese Bahaba fish, and a three-meters Atlantic Bluefin Marlin. This is simply incredible."

"Compared to the First-grade Restaurant, the Longxuan Restaurant is totally crap! The grouper is a joke in front of all these top-graded seafoods!"

"The people in the Longxuan Restaurant are idiots. How could they have the cheek to say the First-grade Restaurant is incomparable to them. It should be the other way around. The two of them are not of the same class. How dare they claim to be generous? They are a disgrace in front of the First-grade Restaurant!"

"Yes, I don't understand how they have the guts to make such proclamations. They even invited a celebrity over. They are obviously not on par with them. What can they do, even if they get the top stars here?"

Many people were talking about it. Soon, the news spread outside.

Those people were not shills!

What they said was true!

The people outside were dumbfounded when they heard the description from the people inside.

Just like what the angry man had said.

Compared to the First-grade Restaurant, Longxuan Restaurant is crap!

The two of them are not of the same class!

Chapter 74: First-grade Restaurant vs Longxuan Restaurant (End)

The old street was more buoyant than normal today. It was especially so in the vicinity of First-grade Restaurant.

Just a while ago, all the traffic was gathered at the well-decorated entrance of Longxuan Restaurant. However, at this very moment, it looked a little deserted.

"This is crazy. This is crazy! First-grade Restaurant is full right now. I couldn't even squeeze in if I wished."

"I was still thinking of going to take a look at the one-headed abalone. I have never seen a one-headed abalone in my life."

"One-headed Abalone, two-headed abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Chinese Bahaba fish, Yellow Croaker Fish and several precious ornamental arowana! First-grade Restaurant's promotional activity is truly shocking."

"First-grade Restaurant truly deserves its name. However, Longxuan Restaurant is in an embarrassing situation now. They have been publicizing fervently and even invited a star over. During the opening speech, they even claimed to be much better than First-grade Restaurant. This is simply a slap to their own face!"

"Yeah, a slap to their own face. Longxuan Restaurant publicized that everything is going at half price but exclude two-headed abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin and some top-quality ingredients. However, everything is going at half price at First-grade Restaurant. First-grade Restaurant is clearly to take a loss with each sale!"

"This is a contest between First-grade Restaurant and Longxuan Restaurant but it seems like Longxuan Restaurant has been handed a complete defeat!"

At the entrance of Longxuan Restaurant, some customers took a glance at Longxuan Restaurant. They shook their heads and walked towards First-grade Restaurant just a short distance away.

Director Xie was shivering in anger while standing by the side and hearing their conversation. He gritted his teeth and clenched his fist tightly.

Defeat. Utter defeat!!

From the beginning to the end, the boss of First-grade Restaurant had never shown his face. And from the beginning to the end, First-grade Restaurant had never done any publicity.

Relying on just strength, First-grade restaurant had completely rolled over Longxuan Restaurant.

"How can this be possible? How did he get his hands on such precious seafood!"

Director Xie's eyes were filled with disbelief.

He thought that he was already great to be able to get two-headed abalone and Atlantic Bluefin Marlin. However, just a simple comparison and it was clear that he was far from it.

"Director Xie, we... We..." The middle-aged manager of Longxuan Restaurant walked out and stammered with sorrow.

"Damn it!" Director Xie turned his head over and stared at the middle-aged man with murderous intent. "Didn't I ask you to investigate the background of the boss of First-grade Restaurant? Didn't I ask you to keep a lookout of their actions? These are the results of your investigation?"

"Director Xie, this really isn't my fault. I had not expected this either. They only brought out these ingredients last night. At that time, we were having the celebratory feast!" the manager said righteously.

Celebratory feast!

When Director Xie heard these words, it felt full of mockery. Celebratory feast? A celebratory feast for this darn outcome?

"Brother, what should we do?" the young man from the side walked over and asked Director Xie with a face of sorrows.

"After investing close to $20 million, we can't just let it be!" Director Xie clenched his fist tightly as a violent look flashed past his eyes.

The young man was taken aback but soon revealed the same expression. "Brother, I also feel that we shouldn't just let this go. brother-in-law's strength could be considered really strong in Rivertown. Should we look for him?"

Director Xie took out a cigarette and lit it. "I'll go make a call."

"Longxuan Restaurant will operate as planned. The victory of this showdown will belong to us."

Director Xie sneered at the people around and headed directly to the office in Longxuan Restaurant.

The surrounding members of the media and publicity personnel took a look at Longxuan Restaurant before looking at First-grade Restaurant just a short distance away. Suddenly, they were lost as to how to write their articles.

Lin Qingying also looked inquisitively at First-grade Restaurant and her eyes were shimmering.

"Boss, we have succeeded. There're barely any customers at Longxuan Restaurant and we have a full house right here. There're still a lot of people waiting to come in to take a look!"

At this moment, Manager Huang spoke excitedly to Wang Xian within the office in First-grade Restaurant.

"As expected!"

Wang Xian's lips curved slowly into a smile. "Since we have started the activity today, we better do it well. This will be tough on the employees. Get something good for lunch!"

"It's not tough. It's not tough. After this incident, it wouldn't be easy for Longxuan Restaurant to get up again. On the contrary, with the seafood that boss had brought over, our business would only get better and better!" Manager Huang said joyously.

"Definitely! Oh right, Manager Huang. Reserve a private lounge for me tonight. I'll like to invite some friends over for dinner." Wang Xian said to Manager Huang.

"Alright, Director Wang." Manager Huang nodded his head.

"Xiao Xian, you are really awesome." The moment Manager Huang left, Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian with total respect.

"Haha, that's a given." Wang Xian smiled satisfactorily.

It was a little beyond his expectations to be able to win this showdown so easily.

Although he brought over quite a substantial amount of top-quality ingredients from the ocean the last few days and Longxuan Restaurant was miles away from First-grade restaurant, Longxuan Restaurant shouldn't have been defeated so utterly.

However, their mistakes were on the discounts given and that they were too petty about the discounts.

First-grade Restaurant was also providing 50% off like Longxuan Restaurant. However, First-grade Restaurant's 50% discount was on all ingredients.

As for Longxuan Restaurant's 50% discount, it did not include those top-quality ingredients. Besides that, they were still emphasizing how extravagant they were at their opening ceremony. In the end, this became a tight slap on their own faces.

Comparing would only reveal one's shortcomings.

If Longxuan Restaurant did not compare themselves with First-grade Restaurant, they were indeed really awesome.

However, in a simple comparison, the difference between them was stark.

Even Wang Xian had not expected that the arrogant Director Xie would be such a scrooge.

However, Wang Xian was able to do so because these top-quality ingredients did not cost him anything as he caught them from the seas. However, Director Xie had to spend real cash to purchase his ingredients!

Wang Xian lied on the chair leisurely and was smiling as he witnessed the rise of First-grade Restaurant.

What happened on Old street today was soon spread to the majority of Rivertown.

Many group chats, Weibo, chat groups and forums were discussing First-grade Restaurant.

The reputation of First-grade Restaurant had also quickly spread to other cities as it became sensational over the internet.

In this era, a Chinese Bahaba fish would be enough to make the headlines, let alone a restaurant in possession of such a range of top-quality ingredients.

As for Longxuan Restaurant who had been publicizing fervently over the past few days, they had now become the joke.

A showdown ended with Longxuan Restaurant's complete defeat!

Late at night, some media houses who caught the news carried their cameras over to First-grade Restaurant to visit the hottest restaurant in Rivertown.

Wang Xian saw it from his office. After which, he sent Manager Huang over to receive them.

When it came to interviews from the media, Wang Xian was still very willing to accept them. This was a very good way to achieve publicity.

"Let's go and try the food of First-grade Restaurant. More importantly, have a taste of the legendary fish gelatin from the Chinese Bahaba fish that is rumored to be a great beauty supplement!"

"Qinying, First-grade Restaurant is probably full today!"

"It's fine. With this face of mine, the boss would definitely give us a table. Hehe, we might even get it for free!"

At the entrance, Lin Qingying wore a huge face mask and entered First-grade Restaurant with her assistant.

Chapter 75: Even a Celebrity Must Queue

The First-grade Restaurant at night was not only fully occupied. Many people were also queuing in the waiting area near the entrance.

Many customers were gazing at the expensive world-class seafood.

When Lin Qingying walked into the restaurant, her brows slightly knit together as she looked inside.

The people were overwhelming such that the restaurant seemed overcrowded.

However, it was normal since the First-grade Restaurant was too famous.

Lin Qingying raised an eyebrow as she looked at the front desk staff. She asked the staff over at the counter, "Are there any seats available?"

"Nope. You can take a queue number. But I don't recommend you wait if there are too many people in front of you," the front desk staff said with a smile.

Lin Qingying frowned and continued, "Please get your boss here."

"Hur? What's the matter, babe?"

Wang Xian had just walked out of his office when he heard Lin Qingying. Hence, he looked at her with a puzzled look.

"Are you the boss over here?" Lin Qingying stared at Wang Xian with surprise.

"Yes, what's the matter?" Wang Xian asked with a smile.

"Can you give me a seat? I would like to taste the delicacy of the First-grade Restaurant and the fish gelatine of the Chinese Bahaba fish!" Lin Qingying removed her sunglasses, revealing her look as she smiled at Wang Xian.

"Lin Qingying!"

When Lin Qingying took off her sunglasses, the staff at the side exclaimed and took her phone out for pictures.

Lin Qingying revealed a confident look as soon as she saw the reaction of the staff.

"Lin Qingying!" Wang Xian recognized the beauty in front of him. She was the renowned food celebrity who had taken part in the opening ceremony of Longxuan Restaurant this morning.

"Can we?" Lin Qingying raised her eyebrows slightly as she continued asking Wang Xian.

"How many people are there in the queue?" Wang Xian did not answer her. Instead, he asked the staff at the side.

"Director Wang, there are 25 more people in the queue!" The staff replied.

"25?" Wang Xian nodded and turned to the sexy Lin Qingying. Regretfully, he said, "I'm sorry, Miss Lin Qingying. There are 25 tables in front of you. I'm afraid today is not possible. Please come early tomorrow!"

Wang Xian had stunned Lin Qingying with his statement as she looked at him with disbelief.

Lin Qingying was not expecting such an answer from the other party. She was a celebrity--a food celebrity. Her presence in any restaurant would be its best publicity.

Yet, this young man had turned her down flat.

This was embarrassing to her. She looked at Wang Xian with radiance flickering in her eyes, "Do you know who I am?"

The question posed by Lin Qingying stunned Wang Xian. He chuckled and replied immediately, "What has that got to do with it?"

"You..." Wang Xian's reply infuriated her, "You actually reject me from dining in here?"

Lin Qingying looked at Wang Xian with a dirty look.

In the past, all the managers or bosses would deliver their dishes personally wherever she had her meals. All of them were hoping to receive good reviews from her. If she could post their restaurant on her Weibo, that would be even better.

Yet, the First-grade Restaurant had the cheek to ask her to return tomorrow. This boiled the blood of the prideful girl.

"This beautiful lady over here has a funny way of talking, I guess? The restaurant is full now. If you want to have your food here, you can wait. But we'll stop receiving guests at 9 pm. Till then, if it's not your turn, too bad. Celebrities are all the same. They don't get to enjoy any privilege here!"

Wang Xian looked at the prideful Lin Qingying and spoke to her impassively. Subsequently, he walked to the front desk, ignoring her.

Lin Qingying was infuriated, as her anger was written all over her face after hearing what Wang Xian said.

Some of the customers who were waiting spotted the commotion. When they saw Lin Qingying, all of them had a surprised look on their faces.

When they overheard the conversations between Lin Qingying and the boss, they were stupefied.

"The boss is really superb. You need to wait if you want to eat. That goes for the celebrities. The First-grade Restaurant doesn't even need celebrities to promote them."

"Lin Qingying...who would have thought that the boss would keep her waiting when she wants to dine in this restaurant? But yes, so what if you're a star? The First-grade Restaurant is capable on their own without the need for any celebrities' promotions!"

"The First-grade Restaurant lives up to its name. They are domineering. With such capability, you need to queue for their food even if you're a food celebrity!"

Some customers praised Wang Xian for the way he dealt with the situation while some looked at him with a sneer.

There were several media members, not far away from them, who recorded down the scene with excitement on their faces.

They were not expecting to meet Lin Qingying when they were only here for the coverage of the First-grade Restaurant.

The news was simply too juicy. They already thought of ways to publicize it.

Headlines:

"Breaking news! Lin Qingying was told to wait in the queue by the boss when she was here for the food. Even celebrities need to queue. No privilege!"

Or...

"Shocking! The First-grade Restaurant is so capable that they do not need the celebrities' promotion. So what if you are Lin Qingying, queue up!"

Lin Qingying had a complicated facial expression when she heard the surrounding comments.

"Qingying, let's leave this place. The media are here too," the assistant next to her said to her anxiously when she noticed the media snapping photos of them.

Lin Qingying took a deep breath. She put on her sunglasses and walked out, embarrassed.

Wang Xian lifted his head. As Lin Qingying departed, he had a faint disdainful look on his face.

So what if you are a star? Longxuan Restaurant might need publicity, but not First-grade Restaurant.

...

One by one, Wang Xian's friends turned up at about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Old Qin brought along his wife, Qin Lianhui, as well as Little Kite. Four members from Old Xue's family, including Xue Jing's mother, were here. Lan Qingyue showed up too.

When Wang Xian had invited them over for a meal, both Old Xue and Old Qin agreed without any hesitation.

Guan Shuqing came over happily too.

"Today, I would like to invite everyone to have a taste of the food in the First-grade Restaurant."

Wang Xian beamed at everyone as the dishes were brought to the table.

Looking at the dishes that were worth over a million on the table, Old Xue exclaimed, "Tsk tsk, Buddy Wang Xian, you're too generous. Two-headed Abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin sashimi, Wild Giant Yellow Croakers, and Chinese Bahaba fish's gelatine soup. This is too extravagant!"

"This is the first time in my life to have such extravagant dishes. All thanks to Buddy Wang Xian," Old Qin laughed out loud as he said to Wang Xian.

"I have to bring out the best when I'm hosting my friends. If not, that would be too stingy of me," Wang Xian chuckled. "The fish gelatine of the Chinese Bahaba fish is good for the ladies. It enhances the beauty and enriches the blood flow."

"Xiao Xian, you're sincere in buying us a meal!" Lan Qingyue, who was sitting on the left of Wang Xian, laughed as she said.

"Hehe, it's half price today. I don't feel bad with some orders!" Wang Xian joked while Guan Shuqing on his right smiled.

"Buddy Wang Xian and the two beauties over here, let's have a toast. In the future, you can look for me if you need any help. The Qin Family will definitely help you out."

"Thank you, Grandpa Qin!" Both Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue quickly raised their glasses.

Wang Xian and the rest of the people finished their drinks in a gulp. The Xue Family and the Qin Family were great friends.

It was only courteous to reciprocate their friendship. Wang Xian bought them a meal to strengthen their bond.

On the other hand, the two influential families, Qin and Xue Families, were very happy to befriend Wang Xian.

Chapter 76: Whose Fireworks?

When the dinner ended, it was already around 11 pm. Wang Xian was surprised to see two beautiful girls still around after sending off Old Qin and Old Xue.

"Are you not going home too?" Wang Xian gave a gentle smile and asked Lan Qingyue.

Wang Xian wasn't very familiar with Lan Qingyue. The number of times they had met and chat could be counted with a single hand.

Nonetheless, his impression of Lan Qingyue was still very good. It was especially so after the incident at the banquet. With regard to this cold-looking girl, he did have some good feelings for her.

However, such feelings hadn't reached the level he had for Guan Shuqing.

"It's late now. I'll probably head back to the dormitory to sleep." Lan Qingyue smiled, looking to Guan Shuqing before asking Wang Xian, "Are you heading back to the dormitory too?"

"Yeah, I can't possibly be sleeping in the restaurant." Wang Xian smiled and turned to Guan Shuqing. "Let's go, it's pretty late now. Let's head back!"

"Alright! In that case, let's walk back. Your motorcycle is unlikely to fit three people!" Guan Shuqing joked.

"That's true!" Wang Xian replied with a smile. This darned heavy-duty motorcycle had problems fetching an additional person, let alone ferrying two people.

"Let's walk back together!" suggested Wang Xian.

"Sure. I'm feeling so full from the dinner. Walking back can help in the digestion." Guan Shuqing nodded her head.

Lan Qingyue felt a little uncomfortable listening to the conversation between the two of them from the side. Nonetheless, she squeezed out a smile on her face.

"The night skies are really beautiful today. Let's walk back together. I wonder if the people from the school would kill you with their gazes if they saw you walking with two beautiful girls!"

"Haha, that's true. You two are well-known beauties of our school and considered as goddess-like existences! I'll probably walk slower on our way back in a while!" Wang Xian chuckled.

Lan Qingyue was to his left in a black dress and had the disposition of a cold-looking goddess. Guan Shuqing was to his right and had a faint smile on her. She had the disposition of a cute and adorable goddess.

Both of them were very tall because of their fine family backgrounds and were considered by many as goddesses.

Guan Shuqing rolled her eyes at Wang Xian before commenting, "Let's go, let's go. Thank you, boss, for treating us to such a great dinner today!"

"Yeah, Xiao Xian. If there's something so delicious in the future, don't forget to call me along." Lan Qingyue added in a hurry.

"Sure, that's not a problem. If there's anything delicious in the future, I'll call you along." Wang Xian walked between the two beautiful girls and could smell two different fragrances. This made his face light up with impish glee!

"Xiao Xian, I really have to thank you for this. Because of you, our Lan Family has gotten closer to Qin Family."

"Oh yeah! Xiao Xian, my father has been thinking of apologizing to you for that incident. He would like to ask you out for dinner but I told him that you aren't free..."

Along the way, Wang Xian realized that Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue had many things to talk about. All he could do was to nod his head in approval while listening.

They started from their families to interesting incidents that happened in school. Throughout the journey, it was an enjoyable experience for all of them.

After sending the two girls to the girl's dormitory, Wang Xian waved and bade goodbye to the two of them.

"See you tomorrow!" Guan Shuqing looked to Wang Xian and waved back.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and waved at them before heading back to his dormitory.

Looking at the back view of Wang Xian, Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing suddenly quietened down. A unique atmosphere started forming around them.

"Junior, I wouldn't just give up." Suddenly, Lan Qingyue broke the silence. She flicked her long and silky hair and exhibited a strong sense of confidence.

"I have more interactions with him and that's an advantage!" Guan Shuqing smiled radiantly and said to Lan Qingyue. She was also exhibiting the same confident disposition.

"Fair competition!" Lan Qingyue looked at Guan Shuqing before walking up the stairs.

Looking at her back view, Guan Shuqing suddenly had a bitter feeling. She mumbled, "Although I'm confident, my mum said that all men would eat from their bowl but stare at what's inside the pot. It is especially so when there's such a tasty piece of meat in the pot..."

Wang Xian didn't know about the conversation between the two girls after he left.

When he got back into the dormitory, he took a shower and stretched his back.

It had been extremely tiring for him over the last few days as he was actively looking for Chinese Bahaba fish and Atlantic Bluefin Marlin.

However, just as he was about to get into bed, his expression changed.

"Damn it. Disturbing my rest."

Wang Xian immediately put on his clothes, walked out of his dormitory and ran quickly towards First-grade Restaurant.

In the wee hours of the day, he moved like a phantom. If one simply used his naked eyes, all he could see was a black figure flashing past him.

"Brother-in-law, would there be a problem if we burned down his restaurant!"

At the entrance of Old street, a luxurious Bentley was parked at the left side of the road.

Within the car, a young man was sitting in the driver seat. Director Xie was sitting beside the driver seat and a young man was sitting in the back of the car.

"Rest assured! A restaurant catching fire is just a small issue. Moreover, what can they possibly do even if they can find some traces?" the young man in the driver seat said with indifference as he smoked.

"Thank you, brother-in-law. If we didn't have you, I really wouldn't know what to do." Director Xie was sitting beside and kept a very low profile.

"This is just a small issue. Look for me if you encounter any issues in Rivertown. I'll settle it for you," the young man said nonchalantly as though burning down a famous restaurant was nothing in his eyes.

"Brother-in-law is from one of the top Ancient Martial Arts Family in Rivertown. We weren't intending to disturb you initially and wanted to invite you over for a meal. However, we encountered this troublesome incident." Director Xie smiled.

"Hehe, it isn't too late if you invite me a few days from now. Come, let us enjoy the fireworks!" The young man retracted the roof of the Bentley.

"Fireworks, fireworks!" The juvenile sitting in the backseat revealed an excited expression.

Director Xie's lips curved slightly and gave a cold and faint smirk. He was already thinking of going to witness the despairing look on that brat the next day.

Mess with me? You aren't qualified! Although Xie Family's influence isn't in Rivertown, I could still easily crush you!

Director Xie took out a cigarette leisurely and waited patiently for the fireworks to start.

Swoosh!

However, they hadn't noticed a figure charging over from the side.

Them?

Wang Xian was still able to see the surroundings clearly while running. When his gaze swept passed the Bentley convertible at the road junction, he had a thought.

Swoosh!

In the blink of an eye, Wang Xian had appeared at the entrance of the restaurant.

There wasn't anyone around Old Street in the wee hours of the day and all the shops were closed. At the location of First-grade Restaurant, two figures were lying down on the floor.

"Dragon King, these two people tried to burn down First-grade Restaurant."

A burly old man stood at the entrance of First-grade Restaurant and he was none other than Mo Qinglong.

With goods worth several tens of millions in First-grade Restaurant currently, Wang Xian naturally wouldn't feel safe. Therefore, he had arranged for Mo Qinglong to guard this place at night.

As Mo Qinglong was his bloodline descendant, he could contact Wang Xian through a unique method within a three kilometer radius.

"Martial Artists?" Wang Xian was surprised to see the two unconscious people on the ground.

"Yes, Dragon King. Both of them are Level Five Martial Artists and could be considered to be quite strong!" Mo Qinglong said.

"Two martial artists?" When Wang Xian recalled the luxurious Bentley convertible at the road junction previously, an image of a young man surfaced in his mind.

"Who would have expected you guys to employ such despicable means. In that case..."

Wang Xian's eyes flickered and looked away from First-grade Restaurant.

"In that case, I'll give you guys a firework show!"

Chapter 77: Beautiful Fireworks

Crack!

"Immobilize the two of them and follow me to meet the culprit behind this."

A blazing fire suddenly rose as Wang Xian walked out from the Longxuan Restaurant. With a scoffing look on his face, he walked towards the old street.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong, with a pair of passionate eyes, nodded respectfully. With just an arm swing of the Dragon King just now, the place was engulfed by the blazing fire.

Such formidable Superpower. Even if his cultivation attained the Inborn level, he could never duplicate that.

Wang Xian enveloped the entire Longxuan Restaurant with his fire attribute. Soon, the restaurant was burning.

"The fireworks are up. Haha, it's so beautiful!"

When the flames rose, the juvenile sitting in the Bentley sports car stood up as he watched the fireworks in the old street from a distance.

"It's beautiful, it's beautiful!" Director Xie had an intoxicated look on his face, "Haha, First-grade Restaurant. How dare you fight with me. This is your end. Brother-in-law, thanks to you this time."

"No big deal!" The young man flicked the ash off his cigarette with a slacking face. This was a piece of cake for him.

He did not care about burning down a restaurant.

"When that young man finds out that his restaurant has been turned into ashes tomorrow, he probably will hug himself and cry!" The juvenile stared at the firework in the distance with excitement.

"This is his end!" Director Xie took a deep puff. Satisfying!

"Yes, the fireworks are beautiful. Stunningly gorgeous!"

Just then, an unfamiliar voice was heard suddenly from the car.

"Of course..." When the juvenile heard this, he responded instinctively. But soon, he realized that something was amiss.

The voice seemed to be coming from the seat next to him.

But there should be no one beside him...

He spun his head around and revealed a shocking look in his eyes. "You...You..."

He pointed at Wang Xian with an look of disbelief.

"Who are you?"

The young man who was sitting in the driver's seat sensed an oppressive danger instantly. He stood up immediately and looked at Wang Xian with disbelief. He then swept his gaze across Mo Qinglong, who was standing next to the car.

He had not sensed anyone near him.

"Me?" Wang Xian revealed a playful expression when he saw the young man staring at him, shocked. "Let them introduce me!"

"How... How did you come in?" Director Xie was also stunned when he turned around and saw Wang Xian in the car.

"Hey, don't be panicked. Look at the fireworks. They're so beautiful!"

Wang Xian looked at the distant fireworks with a smile.

"That place... No... That is..." Director Xie noticed his composure, so he turned around to look carefully again. Subsequently, his body trembled as he spun and stared at Wang Xian with his blood-shot eyes. "How dare you burn down my Longxuan Restaurant..."

"What? Longxuan Restaurant is the one on fire?" The juvenile was shocked, with mixed expressions on his face. "Brother-in-law, kill him. Kill him! How dare he..."

"Shut up!" At this time, Ren Anzhi stared at Wang Xian and Mo Qinglong with wariness on his face. When he heard the juvenile's voice, he yelled at him in a cold voice.

Immediately, the juvenile shut up upon hearing him. But he glared furiously at Wang Xian.

"Yes, that's the Longxuan Restaurant. Look, now it has turned into fireworks. How beautiful!"

Wang Xian looked into the distance with a beaming face.

"Which family or sect are you from?" asked Ren Anzhi with a cold face. He did not dare to make any reckless moves as he could sense significant threats from them!

"Which family are you from then?" Wang Xian turned around and looked at him with smiles on his face when he heard Ren Anzhi's question.

"Ren Family in Rivertown!" Ren Anzhi said emotionlessly.

"Oh, Ren Family; ranked second in the Ancient Martial Artist Families of Rivertown. Quite a formidable family!"

Wang Xian drew his lips slightly when he listened to him. From Old Xue, he had already found out the rankings of the families in Rivertown. Ren Family was in second place.

The strongest Martial Artist was a Level-eight elder in the Ren Family. Together with another two Level-seven Martial Artists, they made a powerful team.

But to him, they were nothing if he just flicked his finger.

"Well, that's the end of the fireworks. Finish them off!"

Wang Xian slowly opened the door and instructed Mo Qinglong next to him.

"Yes, Dragon King!" Mo Qinglong nodded as he stared at Ren Anzhi.

"Finish me off?" Ren Anzhi was infuriated when he heard what Wang Xian said. With a cold face, he said, "Let me tell you this. No matter who you are, the Ren Family will not be afraid of you."

"You talk too much," Mo Qinglong said impassively as he stretched out his arm to seize him.

"Seeking your own death!" Ren Anzhi was furious when he sensed Mo Qinglong's contempt. He curled his fingers into a fist and hurled at Mo Qinglong.

"Too weak!"

Mo Qinglong shook his head gently. Without any additional movements, he grabbed Ren Anzhi's fist with no difficulties.

"Oh no!" Ren Anzhi was horrified, with eyes full of disbelief.

He was a Level-five expert!

"Ren Family? Regardless of which family you're from, you'll need to pay a hefty price for provoking the Dragon King!" Mo Qinglong said impassively.

With a pair of fearful eyes, Ren Anzhi felt a powerful stream of Internal Energy gushing towards his Elixir Field.

Ka Ka Ka!

Sounds of cracks were heard, Ren Anzhi could not help but spit a mouthful of blood. His eyes were full of despair.

"You... you ruined my Elixir Field. You are actually a... Half-step to Inborn!"

Feeling the intense pain from his body and the vast Internal Energy from the elder before him, he trembled in fear as the oppression continued to lurk in his heart as if something heavy had fallen from the sky onto him.

"Killing you or wiping the entire Ren Family out is not a big deal!" Mo

Qinglong spoke to Ren Anzhi nonchalantly.

"No... I beg you..." Ren Anzhi narrowed his eyes as he pleaded desperately.

"Hmph!" Mo Qinglong scoffed at him. With a swing, Ren Anzhi fell heavily on the car. Mo Qinglong then spun around to look at the remaining two people.

"No... Don't." Director Xie was appalled to see his mighty brother-in-law torpedied.

"It's too late!" Mo Qinglong swung his arm again and hit the limbs of Director Xie with his immense energy.

"Ah!" Director Xie was screaming in despair.

"No, don't kill me, no! The juvenile was so petrified that he knelt in the car quickly.

He was only 19, and he was about to enter the university. He had yet to experience so many wonderful things in life.

"Useless thing."

Mo Qinglong revealed a disdainful look. He swung his arm again, and the immense energy entered his body.

All his limbs were crippled!

Looking at the three people who were rolling in pain in the car, Wang Xian sneered and headed to the school. "Let's settle the underworld matter in the underworld. You're welcome to seek revenge from me!"

"If you dare to do any despicable things, this would not be the end," Mo Qinglong said coldly and returned to protecting the First-grade Restaurant.

"I'm doomed. I'm completely destroyed. Half-step to Inborn. He's actually a Half-step to Inborn Expert..."

Ren Anzhi stared in the air blankly as he went into a trance. The previous slack, casual look was long gone.

The fireworks in the distance seemed to be burning their souls away.

Chapter 78: Famous Throughout The Country

First-grade Restaurant is on fire!

Longxuan Restaurant has caught fire!

First-grade Restaurant's reputation had spread throughout the whole country.

As for Longxuan Restaurant, it was burned to ashes!

On the night of the fire, someone reported it. After the fire was put out, the insides of Longxuan Restaurant were blackened and charred. Everything had been destroyed in the fire.

"Boss, we are famous! We are famous!"

The next morning, just as Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing arrived at First-grade Restaurant, Manager Huang exclaimed in excitement. He passed the newspaper over and continued, "Boss, take a look! This is the morning paper of Rivertown. Our First-grade Restaurant is now known throughout the town! Moreover, Longxuan Restaurant is completely finished after they caught fire last night. They are unlikely to reopen in the future."

"I already know about it."

Wang Xian smiled. "We might be getting a little busier for the next few days and will have to trouble Manager Huang to supervise the situation."

"Not a problem, not a problem." Manager Huang smiled as he shook his head.

Wang Xian nodded his head and went into the office. With nothing to do, he switched on his computer and started playing.

As a boss, he could do as he wished. Now that First-grade Restaurant had started off well, he could just come over to play games.

Eh? First-grade Restaurant is in the headlines!

Wang Xian clicked on a news article and had a radiant smile as he read about the introduction of First-grade Restaurant.

The article was titled, "Although I Was Surprised, I'm Not Exaggerating"

When Wang Xian looked through the contents of that article, he smiled. After which, he continued browsing the Internet and saw several news articles reporting about them. Among them, there were also articles from large media houses.

One of the news articles was about Lin Qingying and First-grade Restaurant.

In that article, it was mentioned that Lin Qingying came to First-grade Restaurant for a meal. She tried to use her fame and reputation of a food blogger to ask the boss to arrange a table for her. However, she was asked to wait by the boss directly. Even stars wouldn't receive special treatment.

There were lots of comments under the news article. Among which, the most popular one was:

"First-grade Restaurant is incredible!"

In a food magazine, First-grade Restaurant was promoted as the most incredible, most extravagant and most luxurious restaurant.

The three "most's" clearly showed the strength of First-grade Restaurant.

Within a single day, First-grade Restaurant was known throughout the country. There were even many customers from other cities who wished to head to First-grade Restaurant to try out their food and take a look at the most incredible restaurant in the country.

Amongst the media reports from Rivertown, there was also an assessment of the showdown between Longxuan Restaurant and First-grade Restaurant.

The gist of the content was that First-grade Restaurant completely ran over Longxuan Restaurant.

There were even videos of Lin Qingying being rejected directly by the boss circulating on the Internet.

Longxuan Restaurant was utterly defeated.

Together with that fire at night, one could only pity Longxuan Restaurant.

For the following days, the business of First-grade Restaurant exploded. People who came here for meals weren't just from Rivertown. Tourists in Rivertown would all come to First-grade Restaurant to try the food as long as they had the economic capacity to do so.

Besides that, through some connections of Old Qin, First-grade Restaurant was placed in the introduction of Rivertown's tourist spots. Currently, First-grade Restaurant was classified as a "must-go" restaurant for anyone who came to Rivertown.

With the local authority's publicity, coupled with the reputation of First-grade Restaurant, First-grade Restaurant had a full house each day. Its sales had also doubled from before.

Two-headed abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin, Wild Giant Yellow Croaker fish and Chinese Bahaba fish were all sold out.

"Xiao Xian, these are the sales figures over the last few days. I have also calculated the profits. Do take a look."

On the fourth day, Guan Shuqing brought over the sales report to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian took a look at it after receiving them from Guan Shuqing.

First day sales: $770,000

Second day sales: $830,000

Third day sales: $970,000

Fourth day sales: $102,000

When Wang Xian saw these figures, excitement flashed in his eyes. These figures were really high and were several times as compared to before.

However, from a different perspective, they weren't that high either. This was because they were achieved in a discounted period.

Sales were $770,000 with 50% discount on the first day. Without discounts, it would be $1.54million.

There were also 40% discounts on the second day, 30% discounts on the third day and 20% discounts on the fourth day.

On the fourth day, sales had broken through the million-dollar mark. Moreover, with the current popularity of First-grade Restaurant, the sales figures of $1 million a day would likely last for some time.

It was especially so during the festive days when sales might be even higher.

If he was lucky to have a customer order 3 two-headed abalone in a day, that would be over $1 million. Moreover, these abalones, lobsters, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin and other variety of fish were all caught from the sea. There were no costs associated with them.

Excluding the costs, I have earned approximately $2.5 million in four days!

Wang Xian's lips curved into a smile. Although he was giving generous discounts over the last few days, he wasn't too concerned as there was no cost associated with the world-class ingredients.

Based on this pace, he could earn more than $10 million in a month. Naturally, this had to be based on having a steady supply of world-class ingredients.

Wang Xian's mind was thinking quickly and a smile appeared gradually. The issue with the supply of ingredients could be left to Roving Girl. With Roving Girl's current strength, catching some world-class seafood shouldn't be a problem at all.

Bzz, bzz, bzz!

At this moment, Wang Xian's phone rang suddenly. He took it up, took a look and a radiant smile appeared on his face.

"Xiao Yu."

"Brother. I'll be going to the University of Rivertown with Xiao Mi and some other friends who got in too. At that time, come and fetch me."

From the phone, the voice of his sister, Xiao Yu, sounded.

"What time are you arriving tomorrow?" Wang Xian asked.

Unknowingly, the semester of the university was about to start and his sister, Xiao Yu, would also be going to the same school as him.

"We will be reaching Rivertown High-speed Rail Station tomorrow at 10am. At that time, you have to bring us around!"

"Relax! I, your brother, guarantee to be there on time!"

As he hung up the phone with a face of smiles, Wang Xian looked at today's date.

The first-year students of the University of Rivertown had three days to report to the school. This was to ensure that students who were from a more distant place would have ample time.

Xiao Yu and her friends were a little early and would be arriving a day in advance.

There would also be a few other high school students who made it into the University of Rivertown. To be precise, there were eight of them.

"Xiao Xian, your sister will be arriving tomorrow?" Guan Shuqing overheard his phone conversation and asked inquisitively.

"Yeah." Wang Xian nodded his head. "For the following two days, I'll be bringing my sister around to have some fun. Therefore, I won't have time to come to the restaurant."

"In that case, have a good time with Xiao Yu over the next two days. There're still three days to the official start of school after all," replied Guan Shuqing.

"Yeah."

Wang Xian nodded his head and sank into his thoughts. He was thinking of giving her a huge surprise this time.

The next morning, after finishing his breakfast, Wang Xian arrived at the High-speed Rail Station to wait for the arrival of his sisters.

At 10 am, a group of young guys and girls walked out from the High-speed rail station.

There were eight of them, three girls and five boys.

One of the girls was around 1.6 meters in height. She wasn't very tall and was slightly slim. However, she had an exquisite face.

She did not have any makeup on, looked very quiet and gave others the feeling of a "girl next door."

Chapter 79: The Admirer of the Younger Sister

"Xiao Yu!"

"Brother!"

At the exit of the high-speed railway station, Wang Xian called out to his sister, who was carrying a backpack. When Xiao Yu saw him, she was so thrilled that she dashed towards him.

"Brother!"

Xiao Yu jumped onto Wang Xian. With an exhilarated face, she hugged his neck and called out happily.

"Alright, you're a big girl now. Why are you still so clingy?"

Wang Xian patted her head and put her down.

"Hehe." Xiao Yu chuckled as she got down from him. "Brother, let me introduce you to our hometown friends who were admitted to University of Rivertown this year."

Xiao Yu smiled as she introduced the seven people who were walking over to Wang Xian.

"Hello, Senior Wang Xian!" A pleasant-looking girl greeted Wang Xian immediately.

"Hi, Xiao Mi!" Wang Xian nodded as he smiled at the girl. Xiao Mi was his sister's best friend, and her family was quite well-to-do. Hence, she often took care of Xiao Yu.

"Hello, Senior!" The rest of the people observed Wang Xian and greeted him.

"Where are you guys heading to? The school doesn't provide accommodation today. So, you may need to stay outside for a night." Wang Xian looked at them. He then turned to Xiao Yu and asked, "Are you hungry? Do you want to have something to eat?"

"No, I'm not. We're going to find a motel near the school and stay for a night. Then, we intend to tour around Rivertown during the next two days. Oh, where are we going now?" asked Xiao Yu to the people behind her.

"Let's get some stuff today. We'll do our tour after we report to the school tomorrow." A juvenile with a sling bag asked, "We didn't bring many things with us, so, we need to get stuff like computers...Senior Wang Xian, do you know where we can get them? It would be a lot of fun to play tomorrow if we settled our things today."

"Yes. We can get our things today, and put them in our dormitory tomorrow. Senior, please take us to places where we can shop for our stuff!" Another juvenile echoed in agreement.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian looked at them and nodded. He reached out for Xiao Yu's bag and said, "Let's go. We'll have something simple in a restaurant, and I'll bring you guys to the city center to shop for your stuff."

"Yes, Senior." The rest of them nodded their heads and headed outside.

"Senior, how's life at the university? Is it fun?" a juvenile walked beside Wang Xian and asked.

"It's alright. You will have some freedom since the school is not that strict." Wang Xian chuckled.

"Senior, you can take us to a better restaurant. I'll be buying lunch for all of us."

At this time, a juvenile spoke. He was dressed in trendy clothes with a pair of golden frame spectacles without any lenses. On his back, he carried a Hermes bag.

As he spoke, he turned to look at Xiao Yu. "Xiao Yu, what would you like to eat?"

"It's okay, Jia Wenrui. I'll eat anything!" Sensing the attention of the juvenile, Xiao Yu shook her head with uneasiness.

"It's okay. We'll eat whatever you want," Jia Wenrui continued with a thick skin.

"Ask them what they want. I don't have any preference." Xiao Yu shook her head and looked at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian smiled at her. He was not surprised when Xiao Yu had admirers. After all, his sister was pretty too.

"I want to have Japanese food. Let's have Japanese food, Wenrui." A girl walked beside Jia Wenrui and replied as she leaned closer to him.

Jia Wenrui hesitated when he saw the tall and slim girl. She was a totally different kind of girl from Xiao Yu. She was tall with a height of 1.7 meters, and her figure was hot.

She had a pretty face: sharp chin, tall nose, and a slim face.

Even though she looked pretty, her face looked as though it was from a mold just like those online celebrities with plastic surgery faces.

Moreover, the traces of plastic surgery were evident. She had makeup on her face with Chanel clothes and bag on her.

She was a girl who came from a wealthy family.

"Forget about having Japanese food in the afternoon. It's a waste of time. Besides, we've got too many of us. It's a little troublesome."

Wang Xian suggested, "Let's have something simple first, and I'll take you to seafood tonight."

Upon hearing Wang Xian, the girl frowned slightly with unhappiness flashing in her eyes, "How would having Japanese food be a waste of time. Besides, it delicious. I bet you haven't had it before."

"Forget it. Let's not have Japanese food. We will have something simple for lunch!" Jia Wenrui told the girl, "Let's do the Japanese food tomorrow."

"Fine!" The girl was displeased but she did not refute Jia Wenrui. Instead, she continued to chat beside him.

While Jia Wenrui was chatting beside that girl, his eyes often drifted to Xiao Yu.

But Xiao Yu was talking happily with Wang Xian and Xiao Mi as they were sharing their funny stories about their driving lesson during the summer break.

"Let's take a cab to the city center. We can take a rest after lunch and shop for stuff over there."

The group of people nodded to Wang Xian's suggestion.

The group divided into three per cab. Wang Xian, Xiao Yu, and Xiao Mi shared a cab.

"Xiao Yu, that handsome guy just now seems to like you!" When they were in the cab, Wang Xian beamed to Xiao Yu as he spoke.

"Heh," Xiao Yu lifted her chin with some pride but shook her head subsequently, "I don't like Jia Wenrui. He seems cheeky and thick-skinned. I prefer the type of people similar to my brother. Brother, I haven't seen you for such a long time, and you have become even more good-looking. Isn't it so, Xiao Mi?"

"Senior Wang Xian really became more attractive!" Xiao Mi looked at Wang Xian and replied with her cheeks blushed.

"Hehe, of course. My brother is the most handsome and kindest person." Xiao Yu smiled and continued, "If I'm getting a boyfriend, I must find someone like my brother."

Wang Xian chuckled. He turned to Xiao Yu and reminded her, "I'm telling you... you are allowed to date when you're in the university, but the guy must be good enough. Otherwise... you know me..."

"Yes, Brother. But I'm not preparing to date when I'm schooling unless I meet someone like you. Hehe." Xiao Yu laughed.

The happiest thing for her was to be able to attend school with her brother. A boyfriend was nothing to her. I have my brother, right?

Wang Xian nodded with satisfaction.

The cars reached the city center. The group of nine people came to a building and had some lunch. After the generous Jia Wenrui fought to pay for the bill, the bunch of youngsters began to shop excitedly.

All the girls traveled here lightweight. Their parents must have given them money to shop for their clothes and stuff.

Wang Xian also noticed those youngsters were quite well-off.

"Let's go shopping. I want to buy a computer and some clothes."

After lunch, everyone was excited.

"Let's buy some clothes first. They're lighter to carry," Wang Xian suggested to them.

"Yes, Senior." Jia Wenrui nodded and asked with a smile, "Senior, where can we buy branded clothes here?"

"I also want to get a bag. I've been carrying this for half a year. It's time to change," the girl that looked like some online celebrities said with a sense of superiority.

After some chats during lunch, Wang Xian found out that this girl was called Jiang Shuang.

"Wenrui, Jiang Shuang, both of you are nouveau riches. We can't afford branded stuff. But we can join in for fun," the rest of the boys said with envy.

"Hehe, it's nothing. Let's see if we have time in the afternoon. I'll buy a car. I took $200,000 from my parents to buy a car for daily transportation." Jia Wenrui smiled as he spoke. But his eyes were full of egotism.

"Wow, you're rich," the boys exclaimed in surprise with an envious look.

"I'll take you guys there. Let's go!"

Wang Xian gazed at the few people who were showing off, with a faint smile on his face.

Chapter 80: Luxurious Shopping (1)

"Su Nan Shopping Mall is the largest mall in Rivertown and carries many world-wide brands. Let's go to this mall."

Wang Xian led them into the mall. He had been to this mall once and spent over $50,000 on three sets of clothes.

"Alright, let's go then."

Jia Wenrui smiled and walked in.

"The guys' section is on the second floor and the girls' section is at level three. Let's head to the second floor first. I'd like to get two sets of clothes." Jia Wenrui's lips curved into a smile as he spoke to the group behind him.

"Alright, alright. Let's follow and take a look." The other guys smiled and followed Jia Wenrui.

It was clear that Jia Wenrui was rich and had treated them to meals. Therefore, they were seeing him as the leader of the group.

"Let's go." Jia Wenrui waved his hand and walked at the front of the group.

Xiao Yu held on to Wang Xian's arm and followed behind while looking at the surroundings.

When the group arrived at the second floor, Jia Wenrui headed to the Armani Specialty Store and walked in confidently.

The group followed. When they saw the price tags on the clothes, the group of guys couldn't help but shake their heads.

"It's so expensive! Just a casual shirt costs $700-800. There are even some that cost a few thousand," Xiao Yu said to Wang Xian.

"Yeah. It's a world-wide brand and it's natural that the price isn't cheap!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Yeah, it's really expensive. Even I can't afford such luxurious clothes," Xiao Mi stuck out her tongue and said.

"Is it expensive?" At this moment, Jiang Shuang's voice sounded from the side. She gave an indifferent look at Xiao Yu and commented, "A $700-$800 shirt is common. Armani is world-wide. Wearing it naturally allows one to have a different disposition. One's disposition has a lot to do with the clothes they are wearing. You wouldn't understand even if I explain to you."

Jiang Shuang had a slightly arrogant look on her and was clearly looking down on Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi.

It was especially so for Xiao Yu. All her clothes together wouldn't cost more than $200 and yet she was able to attract the attention of Jia Wenrui. This made her really jealous of Xiao Yu.

When Xiao Yu heard her comments, she pouted slightly. However, she didn't say anything. She knew that she couldn't compete with others when it came to money and she didn't want to make such comparisons.

Wang Xian looked plainly at Jiang Shuang.

"Xiao Yu, what do you think about these clothes on me?"

At this moment, Jia Wenrui had just changed into a new set of clothes. He walked in front of Xiao Yu.

"It's pretty good." Xiao Yu answered perfunctorily and nodded her head.

"Wenrui, I feel that a blue shirt would look better on you. Although white matches well with black, blue would be more suitable."

Jiang Shuang immediately walked over to Jia Wenrui from the side and suggested to him.

"It's alright, I'll just take these." Jia Wenrui smiled and shook his head at Jiang Shuang. After which, he turned to Wang Xian and said, "Senior, let me pick a set of clothes and gift them to you."

When Wang Xian heard the sudden words from Jia Wenrui, he shook his head and replied, "Thank you. That's not necessary."

"It's fine, it's fine." Jia Wenrui smiled and looked to Xiao Yu. "You are Xiao Yu's brother and I'll need to get on your good books! Moreover, a set of clothes only costs a few thousands and that's nothing to me. I hope that our relationship could be better. Hehe."

As Jia Wenrui spoke, he had a confident smile on. He knew the family conditions of Xiao Yu and Wang Xian. Therefore, he was very confident.

He believed that he was really outstanding to the point that Xiao Yu, and even her brother, wouldn't possibly reject him.

Therefore, Jia Wenrui didn't say it in a more subtle way. Upon hearing his words, Xiao Yu frowned slightly.

Wang Xian also raised his eyebrows. He noticed Xiao Yu's response and said directly, "It's alright. You are not the type my sister is fond of so you wouldn't have to do so."

He knew that Xiao Yu wasn't fond of Jia Wenrui but was too shy to reject him. Therefore, he said it for her and rejected him directly.

Jia Wenrui's face stiffened upon hearing Wang Xian words and was speechless.

A face to face rejection! Moreover, it's a direct and clear rejection. This made him feel shameful.

The surrounding people were also slightly shocked. They had not expected Wang Xian to be so direct in his rejection of Jia Wenrui.

When Jiang Shuang heard Wang Xian's reply, a tinge of joy flashed in her eyes. However, when she saw the embarrassment on Jia Wenrui's face, she quickly walked in front of him and said, "Wenrui, you are really outstanding. It's her who is not deserving of you. Your family conditions are great and you are good looking. There would be many girls who would be fond of you."

"Senior, aren't you going a little overboard by being so direct. You should at least give him some face," a guy by the side said to Wang Xian after noticing the displeasure on Jia Wenrui's face. [\[1\]](#)

"I was just speaking the truth." Wang Xian said with indifference.

"Tsk. Alright, I thought too much into this." Jia Wenrui looked a little embarrassed. He stared at Wang Xian and sneered, "Since senior couldn't tell who's sincere, forget it then."

Wang Xian smiled and didn't say another word. In his eyes, these guys in front of him were still too young and childish.

Arrogant, show off, childish, materialistic.

"Wenrui, why go and try to get on the good books of an inferior person? Do you still want to get some clothes, I'll help you pick some." Jiang Shuang looked at him and tried to console him.

"It's fine." Jia Wenrui shook his head while looking at Jiang Shuang. "Let's go get your clothes. I'll buy a set for you."

"Really? You are the best, Wenrui!" Jiang Shuang was taken aback and spoke in ecstasy.

"Let's go." Jia Wenrui took a glance at Wang Xian and Xiao Yu with a heavy expression before heading to the third floor. Jiang Shuang was full of smiles as she followed behind and the group of guys quickly followed too.

Wang Xian saw that the group had left before looking to Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi by her side. He shrugged his shoulders and asked, "Do you all still want to follow them?"

Xiao Mi had a bitter look and looked to Xiao Yu. "We don't belong to the same circle as them. Why don't we go on our own?"

"Yeah." Xiao Yu nodded her head. She hesitated before adding, "We are really not the same kind. Let's not follow them. After all, we will not be in the same class in the future."

"Alright, alright. Let's go. Didn't I say I'd get you a big gift before school starts? Let's go up too." Wang Xian looked at her and smiled.

"Hmm? Brother, why don't we head back? Bring us to somewhere more interesting!" Xiao Yu lifted her head and looked at him.

"We can leave that for tomorrow. Let's get you some stuff today."

Wang Xian's lips curved into a smile as he said to Xiao Yu. "It will be fine. Just follow me."

"Brother, what are we doing upstairs?" Xiao Yu asked in doubt.

"Of course, to buy things!" Wang Xian smiled and pulled her to the lift.

"Huh? It's alright brother. The clothes here are too expensive." Xiao Yu shook her head immediately.

"Don't argue. Just follow!" Wang Xian turned his head around and spoke with a strong tone.

"Oh!" Seeing her brother acting this way, Xiao Yu pouted and simply followed.

The third floor was entirely for the ladies. Various worldwide brands were all gathered on this floor.

When they arrived at the third floor, Wang Xian looked straight to a shop. Prada!

There's a rather famous movie called The Queen Who Wears Prada.

Prada was a luxury brand among luxury brands. It was an existence of the highest tier.

It shall be this shop then!

Chapter 81: Luxurious Shopping (2)

"Come over. Both of you stay beside me." Wang Xian tugged on Xiao Yu's arm as he spoke to her.

"Brother, forget it. I know you're making some money. But... But it's too expensive here."

Xiao Yu looked at those luxury brands around her with her eyebrows knit. She knew that her brother was making some money, but she also understood how hard it was for her brother to work for it.

She had remained thrifty since young. Hence, she had no desire for these branded clothes except for the practical stuff.

Moreover, the clothes here were too expensive. How much money could her brother have?

"Just follow me." Wang Xian's heart ached for his sister as he stroked her hair.

Girls at her age often asked for money to buy clothes and makeup. But his sister was unwilling to spend money on expensive food just to save up.

"Xiao Yu, stop being naggy and follow me today. I know how much I have and how much I can spend. I'm not spending it blindly," Wang Xian stared at Xiao Yu and said solemnly.

"Well... Fine then." Upon seeing the serious look on her brother's face, Xiao Yu was touched as she held his hand.

"That's better. Follow me!"

With a smile on his face, Wang Xian walked straight into the Prada store.

"Welcome!"

The greeters at the door immediately greeted them.

Wang Xian brought them around as he looked at the clothes. He nodded with satisfaction and told the salesgirl, "Get them a set of clothes each. I want pretty clothes that are suitable for their age."

The salesgirl was slightly stunned as she looked at Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi. Hastily, she nodded. "Yes, Sir. Ladies, please come over here. It's the summer season now, and girls look the best in skirts. This is the most popular Prada skirt series this year. Both of you look like students. This series suits students the most."

The salesgirl introduced the clothes to Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi enthusiastically.

Xiao Yu was stunned. She saw the dresses which the salesgirls were holding onto. They were pretty, but her gaze drifted to the price tag.

$33,299.

That was the price of the skirt.

"Brother, this place... this place... We better go to other..."

Xiao Yu was anxious when she saw the rocket-high prices. How could she afford such expensive clothes?

Wang Xian stroked her head and took out a bank card from his pocket. "Today, let's just finish off the money on the card!"

It was the diamond card from Agricultural Bank of China with more than 5 million.

Wang Xian was not short on money now. When he treated Little Kite the other time, the card that Old Qin gave him had 20 million on it.

With the revenue his First-grade Restaurant was earning, he had difficulties spending his money away.

As Wang Xian spoke, he handed the salesgirl the card, "Bring them the clothes!"

The salesgirl was stupefied with the diamond card Wang Xian handed to her. As an experienced salesperson, she knew the card well.

Forget about how much money was stored inside, it was definitely enough even if it was overdraft consumption.

"Yes, Sir. I'll be choosing the clothes for them," said the salesgirl excitedly.

"Brother, did you make a fortune?" Xiao Yu could not help but ask when she saw his generosity.

"Here, ladies. Let's try on the clothes and see which skirt looks the best," the salesgirl said to them.

Wang Xian smiled at Xiao Yu. Without answering her question, he beckoned to her to go with the salesgirl.

"Senior Wang Xian, you can get the clothes for Xiao Yu. I don't need it." Xiao Mi shook her head.

She knew that Xiao Yu had only her brother to depend on, and their life was tough.

"It's okay. Go ahead. Thank you for taking care of Xiao Yu for such a long time," Wang Xian smiled at her and said. "Just go."

"This..." Xiao Mi hesitated.

"Xiao Yu, drag your best friend along." Upon seeing Xiao Mi's look, Wang Xian instructed his sister.

Xiao Mi was a nice and innocent girl, and both of them were on good terms.

Xiao Yu had been staying in Xiao Mi's house for the entire summer holiday.

He would treat anyone good to Xiao Yu nicely.

The salesgirl called upon another two salesgirls before they began to let Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi try on the clothes.

After she changed into a refined dress, Xiao Yu became more beautiful and gorgeous.

Wang Xian was delighted with the look.

"Sir, look at the clothes your sister is wearing. After school reopens, she can wear them for a very long time." The salesgirl beamed at Wang Xian.

"Good. I'll take this. The one on Xiao Mi looks good too. What do you think? If you think they are good, just get them packed for you," Wang Xian said directly.

"This is not bad too. Pack it for me."

"Senior Wang Xian, I'll take this one. The rest are fine. It's too expensive."

"Okay, I'll buy a bag for you when I get one for Xiao Yu later."

Wang Xian nodded to Xiao Mi.

After paying for their items, the three sets of clothes cost a total of $100,300.

"Let's go. After these two dresses, we need to get other styles too. Let's get another two more sets." Wang Xian smiled and spoke with the bags of clothes in his hand. After shopping in the Prada shop, Wang Xian dragged Xiao Yu out while she was still in bewilderment.

"Brother, why do you have so much money?" Xiao Yu asked in disbelief.

"I own a restaurant now. Hmm, you'll find out tonight. Today's mission is to finish off the card."

Wang Xian flashed his card again and laughed.

"Xiao Yu, your brother is really awesome now!" Xiao Mi exclaimed in bewilderment.

"Let's go. This one, Louis Vuitton."

Wang Xian headed to the shop in front of him. Louis Vuitton, the world's biggest luxury brand, also known as the often-said LV.

Wang Xian was a traditional man. Once he was rich, he wanted to get the best things for his sister.

"Welcome!" The salesgirl immediately greeted them with a smile as soon as she saw them strolling in.

Wang Xian observed the shop. Women's clothes, bags... Just nice, he would get them all.

"Pick two sets of clothes for her," Wang Xian told the salesgirl and turned to Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi. "Take a look and choose your favorite bag."

Soon, they got two sets of clothes and two bags with more than $140,000 spent on the card.

After they came out of the shop, Xiao Yu recovered slightly from the shock and asked Wang Xian with a smiling face, "Brother, how much money does your card have? Do you intend to make me into a little princess?"

"You'll know it after you're done. Let's go. We have clothes and bags now. Girls must have shoes. Oh, and some accessories and cosmetics even though you're a natural beauty."

Wang Xian smiled at Xiao Yu. "Let's go, little Princess. Off to Level 4!"

"Charge! My brother has become a rich man. I'm a rich man's sister!"

Xiao Yu was thrilled as she regained the sweet and adorable side of her. She skipped her way up to level four for more shopping.

Chapter 82: Luxurious Shopping (3)

"Brother, we have already spent over $70,000 on skincare products. How much money is left on the card? All items we have bought add up to over $300,000!"

Walking out from the Lancôme shop, Wang Xian had a few other things in his hands. Currently, his hands were full of bags.

However, with his current strength, it was an easy task to carry all these.

"Let's go on. We haven't gotten any shoes." Wang Xian smiled. He was also very delighted to see his sister being so jubilant.

This was the first time he could buy her things without reserve.

"Eh, there's a watch shop right there. You guys can go and take a look first while I organize the things in my hands. There are too many bags right now," Wang Xian said to his sister.

"Senior, let us help you with some of those," Xiao Mi said, feeling a little embarrassed.

Wang Xian shook his head and smiled. "It's fine. These aren't heavy anyway. Go and take a look first while I organize these."

"Alright, I'll go with Xiao Mi then. Brother, you can be our bodyguard today! Hehe!"

Xiao Yu smiled as she pulled along Xiao Mi into the Patek Philippe Watch shop.

"Hmm?"

When the two of them entered, they saw a group of familiar people immediately. Jiang Shuang was in front of the cabinet, trying out the watches.

"The price of this watch is a little over $37,000. It's a discounted item in our shop and looks great on you," the store attendant said to Jiang Shuang.

Jiang Shuang looked at the watch on her and was truly fond of it.

However, her family only gave her $60,000 this time. If she bought this, she would be a little tight on money. Therefore, she was a little hesitant.

"Hmm? Why did they follow us here?"

At this moment, a guy behind her was surprised to see Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi walk into the shop.

"We didn't follow you guys here. We are here to take a look at our own accord," Xiao Mi looked at them and said.

Xiao Yu saw Jia Wenrui and the group look over but didn't pay attention to them. She walked over to the cabinet in front of her and started looking at the watches within it.

"These watches are so expensive!" Xiao Yu was a little shocked by the prices of these watches.

As compared to luxury bags, the prices of watches were even more eye-popping.

Just a casual watch would cost $30,000 - $40,000. There were even some that cost over $100,000 or even several hundreds of thousands.

"Patek Philippe is a world-class watch brand. A good watch could cost as much as a luxury car," Xiao Mi reminded her from the side.

Xiao Yu's jaw dropped open. She looked into the cabinet and saw a watch that cost $80,000. "This watch is so beautiful."

"Hey salesgirl, can you take this out for us to take a look?" Xiao Mi said to a salesgirl standing at the side.

"Tsk, shameless."

At this moment, Jiang Shuang, who was sitting a short distance away and trying out a watch, looked over at Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi with deep contempt.

"You guys should take a look at the price of the watch. Can you guys even afford it? Taking a look? Can you all pay for it if you scratch it?"

When the salesgirl heard what Jiang Shuang said, she looked at Xiao Mi and Xiao Yu with hesitation.

They were wearing very ordinary clothes. It was especially so for Xiao Yu. In fact, one could say that her clothes were of rather poor quality.

They weren't wearing any accessories and didn't look like they could afford the watch at all.

"Are you sure you are buying?" the salesgirl in front of Jiang Shuang asked them.

Xiao Mi and Xiao Yu were furious upon hearing this.

This was their first time in such a luxury watch shop and it was natural for them to feel angry when being questioned in such a way by the salesgirl.

"Can't I try it if I'm not sure?" Xiao Mi replied angrily.

She knew that Xiao Yu's brother was rich and could afford it.

"Hehe, not sure?" Jiang Shuang laughed in a condescending manner. She looked at them and added, "Can you guys afford it? Can't you see the price on it? You should have taken a look at yourself!"

"If you can't afford it, it's better if you don't try it on," the salesgirl said after hearing the words of the customer in front of her.

"Did you see this? If you don't have the money, don't shop around here and waste everyone's time," Jiang Shuang mocked.

The words of the salesgirl and Jiang Shuang made the faces of Xiao Mi and Xiao Yu turn red rapidly.

They were all 18-19 years old girls and naturally wouldn't have encountered such mockery and belittlement.

"We... Who says that we can't afford it..." Xiao Mi was seething in anger! Her eyes had turned a little red, from both anger and embarrassment.

Tsk. Jiang Shuang sneered and stood up directly. She said to the salesgirl in front of her, "I'll be taking this watch on me. Please wrap it up for me."

"Thank you, miss. Thank you, miss." That salesgirl was thrilled and immediately walked over.

"I'll be paying by card!" Jiang Shuang held out a bank card.

"Xiao Yu."

At this moment, Jia Wenrui suddenly walked over to Xiao Yu who looked ghastly. He took a glance at the watch in the cabinet.

"If you like it, I'll buy it for you, but you have to be my girlfriend."

Jia Wenrui put on a strong front. He stared intensely at Xiao Yu and continued, "I can give you a life that you could never imagine. All you have to do is to agree to be my girlfriend and you wouldn't have to suffer with your brother. All you have to do is to agree and you will never have to be looked down on by a salesgirl in a shop."

Jia Wenrui revealed a confident look. He knew that his words could definitely move a girl. To him, no one would choose to not pursue a better life.

As long as she was with him, he was able to provide.

"Wenrui!" Jiang Shuang was shocked upon hearing Jia Wenrui. Her face quickly sank and turned hideous as she walked over. "Wenrui, she's just a little brat from a village. Her dressing is bad and her family is poor. Why would you..."

"Shut up!"

At this moment, a cold shout pierced through the atmosphere. Even the temperature in the whole shop seemed to have fallen by several degrees.

Wang Xian happened to overhear Jia Wenrui's words when he walked in after organizing the bags in his hand. He also heard what the girl with the online celebrity's face said about his sister. This made his face twitch with anger.

"Brother?" Xiao Yu saw Wang Xian and immediately walked to him. Her face was still a little red with embarrassment and anger.

"Senior Wang Xian." Xiao Mi also walked over.

Wang Xian looked condescendingly at Jiang Shuang and Jia Wenrui.

"Trash! Trash that is so full of yourself just because your family is rich."

Wang Xian looked coldly at Jia Wenrui and continued, "Tsk. Give my sister a life she cannot imagine? With how you are currently?"

"Do you know how much these things in my hands are? Did your parents give you enough money?"

"Salesgirl, get me the most expensive and the best female watch in this shop!"

Wang Xian placed the things in his hands on the cabinet as he spoke coldly.

Clothes from Prada, bags and clothes from LV, skincare products from Lancome. All of them were the latest design.

One of the salesgirls saw the 7-8 bags on the cabinet and was surprised. These things would most likely cost $200,000 - $300,000!

"Alright, alright!" a salesgirl quickly replied. "Sir, these are the best female watches we have. This watch has diamonds embedded at this spot and sapphire here..."

"This watch. Payment by card," Wang Xian said as he pointed to the watch he felt looked the best.

"Sir, are you really going to buy? This watch costs $888,000. Are you sure?" The voice of the salesgirl was trembling.

"Wrap it up." Wang Xian threw the card on it directly.

"Yes, sir." That salesgirl was thrilled. What a rich tycoon to spend $888,000 without batting an eye!

"Get your manager here," Wang Xian said coldly to the salesgirl.

"Yes, sir." That salesgirl was shocked and quickly ran to a small storage room at the back.

A middle-aged woman walked out and looked at Wang Xian. With a warm tone, she greeted, "Sir, thank you for visiting Patek Philippe. Is there anything you need?"

"My sister was here a while ago and was looked down on by your salesgirl. Give me an explanation!" Wang Xian said to the middle-aged manager with an indifferent tone.

The middle-aged manager was shocked and frowned at the salesgirl.

As an international brand, they had very high demands for the quality of service and cared a lot about word-of-mouth.

Now, this young customer who spent $888,000 without batting an eye was questioning her directly and wanted her to give him an explanation.

In such a scenario, she really had to give him an explanation.

Everyone around was dumbfounded.

When Jia Wenrui heard Wang Xian calling him "trash," he had wanted to retort. However, when he saw the luxury goods in his hands, he was stunned.

He knew very clearly about these things. The prices of these items in Xiao Yu's brother's hand weren't cheap.

He was even more shocked when he saw Xiao Yu's brother buy a female watch that cost $888,000 immediately.

At the same time, Jiang Shuang was watching Wang Xian's actions in disbelief.

He bought an $888,000 female watch without batting an eye!

The other young men were even more shocked. $888,000! $888,000 for a single watch!

This...

Didn't they say that Xiao Yu and her brother only had each other since young and had a tough life?

This is what they consider tough?

Chapter 83: What's the Gap?

"Sir, I would like to apologize on behalf of my staff. I'll also answer to you."

The manager made a bow to Wang Xian, apologizing before he turned to the salesgirl and inquired on the incident.

"Xiao Yu, come over," Wang Xian beckoned her. "Which salesgirl despised you just now?"

"Brother, it's nothing. She was just asking if we can afford it. If we can't, then don't bother to try it on." Xiao Yu was slightly embarrassed when she repeated the incident again.

"Hehe, we can't even try when we're not buying?" Wang Xian sneered at the manager.

"Of course not. Those who walk into our shop are our customers. We'll let customers try on the watches."

The manager was looking woeful when he was being accused by Wang Xian. He looked at those salesgirls and asked coldly, "Who was the one who said no trying?"

"Manager, I... I thought they were..." The salesgirl whimpered as she tried to explain to her manager with a pale-looking face.

"Don't explain to me. If all our staff behaved like you, could we even do any business? Who told you that customers cannot try on the watches?" The manager cut her off without any emotion. "Pack your things. Our store has no means to keep such an employee like you."

"Manager, I... I'm in the wrong. Please give me a chance," the salesgirl pleaded.

The manager frowned and looked at Wang Xian, who was watching everything with his impassive look as always. The manager gritted his teeth, "Cut your words and resign now!"

"What a snob," said Wang Xian to the salesgirl emotionlessly.

The salesgirl looked over with a pale-looking face as she was filled with regret.

Just then, the other salesgirl packed the watch and said to Wang Xian, "Sir, your watch."

Wang Xian nodded his head and took over the bag before he passed it to his sister.

"Take it. Everyone says girls need to be pampered when they are growing up. Even though you're a grown-up now, it's not too late now."

Wang Xian smiled as he handed the watch to Xiao Yu. Then, he looked at Jia Wenrui and Jiang Shuang. "You think you're rich and you can act snobbish? Heh, I didn't want to say it, but you're just brats. Many people are richer than you and your family."

As he said this, he walked to Jia Wenrui and patted his shoulder, "Never mess around with my sister. You're not qualified yet. If you don't know what's good for you, I'll make sure the consequences are unbearable for you."

After Wang Xian finished his sentence coldly, he turned to Xiao Yu and smiled. "Let's go, Sister. We are still short on shoes. Oh, do you want to get a necklace? Shall we go and get one now?"

"No, Brother. Let's go."

Seeing her brother standing up for her, happiness and admiration crawled all over Xiao Yu's face.

Her brother had always protected her like this.

In the past, he would beat up the people who bullied her. Now, it was even more interesting. If anyone bullied her, he would slam them with money.

"Let's go. I have too many things in my hands. You'll have to carry some of them later."

Wang Xian carried the shopping bags and headed outside.

"How did... how did Xiao Yu's brother become a rich man?" Gazing at their back views, a guy behind murmured in shock.

Jia Wenrui was looking sulky as his mouth twitched.

What Wang Xian had said just now was in outright contempt, humiliation for how he was behaving on the first story just now.

Yet, he did not dare to say anything. Since Wang Xian could take out $880,000 like a breeze for a watch, he could be someone formidable in the Rivertown.

He dared not rebuke as he was afraid Wang Xian would find someone to hurt him.

Jiang Shuang, on the other side, gazed at the back of Xiao Yu with jealousy.

Why? Why does Jia Wenrui detest herself and like Xiao Yu?

Why does she have such a formidable brother?

She took a glance at the watch she bought with heartache. Her face paled when she thought of the expensive watch Xiao Yu's brother had bought without thinking.

It was futile to make a comparison.

"Okay, Brother. We've got enough stuff. Everything is in." After getting the shoes, they even bought a few sets of lingerie. Xiao Yu was carrying some shopping bags when she spoke to Wang Xian.

"Yes, everything, including the clothes, is in."

Wang Xian pondered as he observed the things in his hand, "We're still short a notebook, a phone, and another iPad. That should be done. Oh, Xiao Yu, what else do you need?"

"Gosh, my dear beloved brother. It's enough. The computer and such..."

"You will get to use the computer. There's an Apple store here. Let's go."

Wang Xian interrupted her and walked out on his own.

Xiao Yu looked at her brother and followed behind with a happy smile.

The gadgets were not expensive. A laptop, a phone, and an iPad cost only $30,000.

"Brother, we're really done with the shopping. Let's put these things in your dormitory, shall we?"

Xiao Yu smiled as she looked at Wang Xian, whose hands were full of shopping bags.

"I'll get you girls a hotel. Let's put the things inside and take a rest," Wang Xian smiled and said.

"Alright, Brother." Xiao Yu nodded.

Wang Xian looked around and fixed his gaze on the Summer Sun International Hotel, the hotel owned by Xue Family.

"Come on, follow me."

As Wang Xian spoke, he took the lead in front and headed towards the Summer Sun International Hotel.

When Xiao Yu was at the entrance, she gazed at the hotel's name and murmured, "Summer Sun International Hotel, 5-star hotel."

If it were in the past, she would never allow her brother to let her stay in such an expensive accommodation. But now, she has seen how her brother behaved like a nouveau riche. Hence, she was adapting to it slowly.

"Babe, give me a presidential suite," Wang Xian came to the reception desk and said to the receptionist.

"I'm sorry, Sir. Our Presidential Suites are all fully booked. Would you like to choose another room?" The receptionist apologized to Wang Xian.

"Brother, Xiao Mi and I can stay in a standard room. There's no need for a Presidential Suite. Don't waste your money." Xiao Yu tugged his hand immediately.

"Fine. Just get me any room."

Wang Xian nodded his head reluctantly. He took out the Family membership card that the Xue Family gave him and handed it to the receptionist.

When the pretty receptionist received the Family membership card, she was slightly stunned as she was shocked to see the Summer Sun membership card.

When she swiped the card on the machine, the computer immediately sounded off. "Welcome our distinguished members for the Family membership card. You'll enjoy the best service in the hotel."

The pretty receptionist was stunned while the other two receptionists popped over immediately. They were shocked to say, "It's the Homeland Card; the most prestigious membership in the Summer Sun Hotel. Members will get to enjoy the best service in the hotel for free. Gosh!"

The pretty girl who was holding the card recovered from her shock. She immediately said respectfully, "Sorry sir. Our hotel has reserved a separate Presidential Suite dedicated to the members of the Homeland Card. I'll take you there now."

"Sure, thanks." Wang Xian nodded.

"You're welcome," the pretty receptionist replied immediately.

Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi were staring at Wang Xian with surprise.

Chapter 84: Getting a Car (1)

"Brother? This hotel, you..."

When Xiao Yu saw the enthusiastic, or rather respectful, actions of the front desk receptionist, she couldn't contain her curiosity and asked.

"Oh? This hotel belongs to a friend of mine, the Xue Family. They also have another holiday resort by the sea. This membership card was a gift from them. With this, everything will be free in this hotel and the holiday resort. Moreover, we will be able to enjoy the best service."

Wang Xian explained to Xiao Yu nonchalantly. "I'll find some time to bring you guys over to the holiday resort to play after tomorrow. It's pretty good! It's also a five-star holiday resort."

Xiao Yu's mouth opened and had a shocked expression.

Seeing her expression, Wang Xian caressed her head and said, "There's nothing your brother can't settle in Rivertown in the future. Therefore, don't be scared. Be confident because you are my sister."

"Brother, you are so awesome now!" Xiao Yu's eyes shimmered as she stared at him.

"I guess I'm doing pretty alright!" Wang Xian smiled.

"Mr. Wang, we are here. This is a room we use to receive our most important guests. There will also be a personal assistant. If there's a need, you could press the service bell and your personal assistant will arrive within two minutes."

The beautiful female front desk receptionist brought them to the highest floor after opening the door to a room.

"Alright, thank you!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and walked in.

The entire apartment consists of three rooms and a living hall. The decorations were extremely luxurious and one could see the beautiful city center by simply drawing the curtains and looking out.

"Wow, what a huge room!" Xiao Mi looked around with surprise.

"Not bad. You guys could stay here tonight."

Wang Xian put the things down, sat on the sofa and poured a cup of water for himself. "Take a break for now. It's only 3 pm. Let's go get something else in a while."

"We are still getting more? Brother, we already have all the things we need."

Xiao Yu sat beside him. She held on to Wang Xian's arm and said, "Brother, you are so nice to me."

"Great that you know your brother is nice to you! Take a 10 minute break. What we are getting in a while will be useful to me too. Moreover, I have said that we are going to spend all the money on the card."

Wang Xian smiled.

After taking a short break, Wang Xian brought Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi out and called for a car.

"Sir, please take us to Cheyun Street," Wang Xian said to the driver.

"Taking a look at the car exhibition?" the driver smiled at them and asked.

"Car exhibition?" Wang Xian was surprised and asked. "Sir, is there a car exhibition today?"

"Yeah, don't you know about that? I thought you were going to the car exhibition. Today's the last day of the exhibition. There're quite a number of people at the car exhibition. Hehe. And a lot of beautiful models..." The driver raised his eyebrows.

"Oh? Are there a lot of cars on exhibition?" Wang Xian asked.

"Yeah, how could there not be? There're lots of supercars. The scale of this car exhibition is really big. You will know once you see it in a while." The driver nodded his head.

Cheyun Steet was where the 4S showrooms for cars in Rivertown were gathered. [\[1\]](#) Anyone who wished to buy a car in Rivertown would typically come to this place.

After alighting the car, Wang Xian brought Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi and looked ahead.

In the direction they were facing, there were many banners hanging around. The biggest one of all read "Rivertown 5th Car Exhibition."

The exhibition hall was huge and one could see many people shopping in it. There were cars of various brands on display.

"Let's go and get you a car. The reason why I've asked you to learn to drive in the summer is so you could become brother's driver. Hehe."

Wang Xian chuckled.

"How could you let your sister be your driver! You are so thick-skinned!" Xiao Yu rolled her eyes at him but still followed Wang Xian in.

"Isn't that because I have no time to get a license!" Wang Xian laughed and walked ahead.

"There're quite a number of people at this car exhibition. There're a lot of models here too."

Wang Xian looked around and saw many people. Some were looking at the cars while many others were looking at the car models.

In front of each car brand, there were 3-4 car models. These car models were wearing seductive clothes that complemented their great figures. The cleavage they were showing added heat to the already hot summer.

There were also quite a number of people taking photos, amongst which many were taking photos of these car models.

"Wow, there're so many people and cars!"

Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi looked around them and were observing the surroundings in curiosity.

"This car's look is so beautiful!"

Right ahead of Xiao Yu and at the entrance, there were several luxurious cars that were worth several million on display.

Xiao Yu pointed to a Rolls-Royce and exclaimed.

"Rolls-Royce Phantom! This car costs at least $6-7 million!"

Wang Xian looked at the Rolls-Royce and was getting a little excited too.

Men always had a love for supercars. Therefore, it was only natural that he would like such a domineering-looking car.

However, he didn't have a license and couldn't drive a car.

And the Rolls-Royce was clearly not suitable for Xiao Yu.

"Let's go take a look around," Wang Xian said to them before walking further in.

"Wow, this sports car is so cool." Xiao Mi's eyes lit up when she saw the Lamborghini beside her.

"Yeah. However, it would probably be hard to drive if the road conditions are bad!"

"That Benz ahead looks pretty domineering."

"Benz G-series, the love of every man. Senior Wang Xian, why don't you get a car like this. It would be so cool."

Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi looked at the same car fervently as they commented raucously.

Wang Xian simply smiled and agreed with what they were commenting as they looked through the collection of cars.

This car exhibition was indeed pretty large scale. One could easily see international luxury car brands in this exhibition.

Wang Xian was trying to decide on a car to get for Xiao Yu.

He had looked up information on this a few days ago. For a girl, a Maserati would be more suitable and a top-end Maserati would cost less than $3 million.

Nonetheless, he still wanted Xiao Yu to make her own decision and would like to see what she would like to drive!

"Wow, that car is so stunning!"

"Yeah, it's really stunning and it's pink! That's simply beautiful."

At this moment, Xiao Yu exclaimed and walked ahead. Xiao Mi's eyes followed Xiao Yu as she walked over too.

Wang Xian lifted his head and looked over. It was a pink Bentley Continental! A look at it was enough to capture the hearts of any young girl.

The elegance and luxury of a Bentley paired with its pink color made it a classic car that fair, rich and beautiful woman would prefer.

Seeing Xiao Yu's excited expression, Wang Xian followed behind.

"Wow, stunning!"

"A Bentley! A Bentley is very expensive and would cost at least a few million. Nonetheless, this pink Bentley is really breath-taking!"

"Yeah! However, driving this car around would be a little too eye-catching."

Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi were discussing and couldn't help but take out their phones to take a few photos.

Wang Xian simply smiled by the side and didn't comment. After looking at this car for several minutes, these two girls continued walking forward.

At the display area of Maserati, Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi exclaimed in unison. Girls typically preferred this car brand.

And this car model was also more suitable for a girl to drive.

Chapter 85: Getting a Car (2)

"Those are the common brands inside."

Wang Xian, Xiao Yu, and Xiao Mi were shopping around the car show.

All the luxury cars were placed at the entrance. As they walked further in, the cars in the show were mostly low to mid-range brands. The three of them walked one round briefly.

"Which car looks better?" asked Wang Xian to Xiao Yu with a smile.

"In terms of appearance, the pink Bentley is the nicest. Maserati is pretty, but if we're getting a car, I suppose a BMW or Mercedes Benz will do," said Xiao Yu to Wang Xian with a smile.

"Come with me."

Wang Xian nodded and smiled. He thought that since he was still left with over 4 million in his card, it should be enough to get that pink Bentley.

When they returned to the pink Bentley, many people were gathered around, and the majority of them were ladies.

The Pink Bentley gave off youthful vibe amid elegance. Indeed, it was attractive to the ladies.

"Hubby, when you have the money, you can get me the pink Bentley, right?"

"No problem, Wifey. Tomorrow. If I got the lady of luck tomorrow, I'd buy it for you!"

"Tomorrow? Hubby, why do we have to wait till tomorrow?"

"I bought a lottery ticket, and the result will only release at night. If I win the first price, we can come and collect the Bentley immediately."

"You... You go to hell."

When they walked over, they overheard the young couple's conversation. Everyone around them was smiling amiably.

"This car is lovely, but it's too expensive. The entire car would cost 4.2 million. Alas!" A middle-aged man who dressed like a successful businessman in his suit shook his head.

"It's Bentley. Even slightly cheaper ones will cost 3 million. The price of this pink Bentley can buy two decent houses," a girl next to the car mumbled as she could not stop taking pictures of the vehicle.

Many people fancied the car, but they were being put off by the price.

"4.2 million?"

Wang Xian observed the car carefully. He made a decision after he noticed that Xiao Yu took a fancy to the car.

"Hey, handsome!" Wang Xian called upon the salesman who was standing next to the car.

"Sir, how may I help you?" the young salesman looked at Wang Xian puzzledly and asked with a smile.

"Can we do a test drive?" As Wang Xian asked, he took out a bank card. "We'll buy it immediately if we're satisfied with it!"

That young salesman was slightly taken aback as he looked at the bank card in Wang Xian's hand. Immediately, he replied, "Sir, hang on. I'll get my manager here!"

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded.

"Brother..." After the conversation, Xiao Yu tugged Wang Xian's arm and shook her head, "Brother, this is too expensive. Besides, it's too striking..."

"I told you to finish the money on the card. After getting this car, the card should have about $30,000 left. Just nice for your pocket money." Wang Xian chuckled.

"You still have more than 4 million on it?" Xiao Yu's eyes were agape with her lips slightly parted. She looked cute with her shocked look.

This afternoon, they had already spent almost $300,000 on their clothes and bags. After paying for a watch that cost nearly $900,000, the card still had more than $4 million on it.

"Gosh, he's a nouveau riche indeed. Diamond card from the Agricultural Bank of China. To get that card, you'll need at least $5 million in your account."

"Someone is really buying the pink Bentley. He's rich."

"This is the true-blue nouveau riche. Buying a Bentley for his sister. Why don't I have such a good brother?!"

"He's the rich second generation. I'm sure. It seems like they spent the money on the card in just a day. Oh gosh!"

The crowd stared at Wang Xian shockingly.

A slender and tall figure with good-looking appearance. At the same time, he had a unique demeanor which gave off a noble vibe.

But the two girls beside him were somewhat ordinary even though they were pretty.

After all, there were too many pretty girls in this era.

"Xiao Yu, your brother is filthy rich now. He is actually buying you a Bentley that is over $4 million. if you drive this to school, I really can't imagine..." Xiao Mi shook Xiao Yu on her arm as she spoke with her eyes bright.

"Xiao Mi, do you think I've become rich overnight?" asked Xiao Yu dumbfoundedly.

"You're a swan that turns into a Phoenix now. I envy that you have such an awesome brother!" Xiao Mi said with envy.

"Hehe!" Xiao Yu chuckled as she wrapped her arms around Wang Xian's arm.

"Sir, are you buying this car?" At this time, a middle-aged man was taking big steps as he followed beside the young salesman. With enthusiasm, he asked Wang Xian.

"Yes, but can we do a test drive?" Wang Xian asked, "Money is not an issue. We'll buy the car immediately if there's no problem."

"Sure, of course!" The middle-aged manager answered without the slightest hesitation. He knew that the young man had the buying power.

"Great, where can we do the test drive?" asked Wang Xian.

"Sir, there's a place outside just for test driving. I'll accompany you guys there," the middle-aged manager replied immediately.

"Okay," Wang Xian nodded and looked at Xiao Yu with a smile. "Let's go for a test drive!"

"Brother, I've only had my driving license for a few days. What if I damage the car?" Xiao Yu said with a bitter face, as she did not dare to drive.

She knew the repair cost of the car would cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"It's okay. The manager next to you will remind you. Besides, the car is insured after you buy it. If you hit the car, just repair it!" Wang Xian smiled as he spoke without much thought.

The manager next to them chuckled when he heard Wang Xian. "Yes, babe. Don't worry."

There was another sentence that he did not spell out: Nouveau riches are rich. You don't need to worry!

"Fine!" Xiao Yu nodded her head and walked to the car. The middle-aged manager sat in the passenger seat to drop reminders to her. Wang Xian and Xiao Mi were seated at the back seats.

"Here, babe, I'll do an introduction!"

The middle-aged manager got into the car and began introducing the various functions of the luxury car to Xiao Yu.

Xiao Yu listened with flickering radiance in her eyes. The functions of this car were not what the cars in the driving school could compare to.

"Let's go. We'll take a drive out for two laps!" the middle-aged manager said with a smile.

Xiao Yu took a deep breath and spun to look at her brother.

"Don't worry and drive on. Don't be scared," Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Yes, brother!" Xiao Yu nodded and drove out cautiously.

She was driving with care as she had just gotten her license. But after two rounds of the test drive, she got her smile back on her face.

Driving a luxury car was better than driving those ordinary cars. To a certain extent, it was a comfortable ride.

Wang Xian looked at Xiao Yu's smile and turned to the middle-aged manager sitting at the passenger's seat. "I'll get this car. Prepare all the paperwork for us."

"Sure, we promise to get you all the paperwork done today." The middle-aged manager was excited as his eyes were beaming. "Sir, I'll return to the showroom first. You can take a seat over there while waiting."

"Sure!" Wang Xian nodded.

They drove the car back to the car show and followed the manager back to the 4S showroom.

"Director Cui, you're here!"

The Bentley showroom was spacious, and the decorations were extravagant with various luxurious Bentley cars in it.

After they entered the showroom, the manager saw a middle-aged man speaking to a couple with polite smiles. He was slightly stunned as he hurriedly greeted them.

"Yes, I just arrived!" Director Cui nodded and said. "Manager Zhao, Young Master Lin is buying that pink Bentley. Please help him with the paperwork."

Manager Zhao revealed a shocked face and said hastily, "Director Cui, a customer was about to pay for that car."

"Is it sold?" The young man beside Director Cui knit his eyebrows slightly.

"Young Master Lin, not yet." When Director Cui heard the young man asking, he quickly replied, "This car was prepared for you. How can we sell it?"

As Director Cui spoke, he looked at Manager Zhao. "Let the customer know that the pink Bentley is already sold. We can recommend other cars for them."

Chapter 86: Smash

"You don't have to inform us. We have overheard everything."

Wang Xian frowned upon hearing their conversation and walked over slowly.

Director Cui was slightly shocked and looked at Wang Xian in surprise. However, he quickly recovered and maintained a smile on his face. "I'm really sorry about this, brother, but this pink Bentley has been ordered by someone. If you would still like to have it, you could wait a month and I'll get the Bentley Headquarters to custom-make one for you."

"There should be a sequence in buying a car. When we want to buy it, this car hasn't been sold. Now that we are about to buy it, you're telling me that it has already been booked? Isn't this out of line? Are you fooling with me?"

Wang Xian looked at Director Cui and spoke indifferently.

When Director Cui heard his words, his eyebrows knitted together. He was also wary of offending Wang Xian as one who could afford a car over $4 million definitely wouldn't be a simple man. However, he was more wary of offending the young man beside him.

"Let's do it this way, brother. Why don't you take a look at other models of car or perhaps you could wait for a month? I'll get one made for you from the headquarters," Director Cui looked at him and said.

"You can say this to the young man beside you," Wang Xian replied.

Wang Xian's reply made Director Cui's face sink. His eyebrows were closely knitted together.

"In that case, I'm sorry, brother. There's nothing I can do. This car has already been booked by another customer."

"You haven't even paid for it. He's free to sell it to whoever he wants. What's there to quarrel about!"

The beautiful girl beside the young man looked at Wang Xian and said, clearly annoyed.

That pink Bentley was for her and she naturally wouldn't allow anyone to snatch it away from her.

The young man looked on nonchalantly and didn't say a word.

"That's not wrong but I'm not happy about it!"

Wang Xian smiled and said slowly, "I'm a consumer and I'm not here looking to suffer such unjust feelings!"

"There are many unjust things in the world. What can you do about it? Hehe. Brat! It's good for you to go through these experiences."

The young man sneered when he saw how Wang Xian reacted.

Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders and looked to the manager and Director Cui. "We are here to buy a car and not for this. After trying out for so long and being just about to buy, you're telling me it has been booked? Moreover, it's clear that the other party hasn't bought it yet."

"Hey, brother, we are the seller!" When Director Cui heard his words, his expression got even heavier. "We are free to choose who we would like to sell to."

"Don't you hear them? They are free to choose who they want to sell to! What are you blabbering about? Annoying! They have already said that they aren't selling it to you!"

The beautiful girl at the side crossed her arms and remarked sarcastically.

"Great, great!" A cold look surfaced on Wang Xian's face as the anger in him had built up.

He was angry over what Director Cui had said. After trying the car for half an hour and being just about to pay for the car, he was told that the car had been sold to another person. Moreover, they weren't the slightest bit apologetic about it. Saying that they were free to sell to whoever they chose was the final straw.

Whoever encountered such an incident naturally wouldn't feel good about it.

"In that case, I'll let you pay a price for it!" Wang Xian remarked coldly.

Since they had made him unhappy, he would also make them unhappy.

"Price? Hehe!" When Director Cui heard him, he smirked coldly and stared at Wang Xian with contempt. "I would like to see what price you could make us pay. Tsk. Get out of my shop immediately."

"So arrogant? I wonder where he was from." Young Master Lin looked at Wang Xian from the side. "Don't be so arrogant in Rivertown. Otherwise, you might not even know how you will die."

"I sure would like to know how I would die in Rivertown!"

The vibes of a divine dragon started spreading from his body gradually.

"Brother, let's just let it go... I'm not interested in this car anymore."

Xiao Yu looked at the crowd around her. She started feeling a little worried and pulled Wang Xian's arm.

Hehe.

When Wang Xian heard her sister, he released his aura and joked, "Xiao Yu, just stand aside and watch. I'll let you see what your brother is capable of today. There's no one we need to be afraid of in Rivertown."

"Brother~"

Wang Xian caressed her head before turning his attention to Director Cui, Young Master Lin and the girl.

"Didn't you hear me? This is my territory. Get out of here, you brazen brat." Director Cui met Wang Xian's gaze.

"'A newborn calf isn't afraid of a tiger.' An arrogant brat like you would suffer a terrible death." Young Master Lin lit a cigarette and looked at Wang Xian as though he was watching a show.

"In that case, let's see if I will have a terrible death."

Wang Xian smirked and noticed a large hammer used for repairs at one side. He walked towards it directly.

"Brat, what do you think you are trying to do?" When Director Cui saw Wang Xian go and pick up the hammer, his expression changed as he roared loudly.

Young Master Lin also raised his eyebrows and stared coldly at Wang Xian.

"What am I trying to do? Since you made me unhappy, I'll just have to vent it out a little."

Wang Xian's lips curved into a smile and he turned his attention to within the shop.

There were approximately 10 Bentleys in the shop. He carried the hammer and walked to the nearest one to him.

Bang!

The hammer smashed heavily on the Bentley, forming a huge dent from the ginormous impact.

"YOU..." Director Cui's expression turned ghastly upon seeing Wang Xian smash the Bentley. "Bastard, stop it right now. Otherwise, I won't hold back."

"I'm going to smash this shop and would like to see what will happen to me!"

Wang Xian glanced at him with murderous intent. The hammer in his hand smashed down on the Bentley once again.

A huge dent appeared after a single smash. After smashing the Bentley 4-5times, the Bentley looked completely wrecked.

However, Wang Xian didn't stop and simply walked to the next Bentley to continue smashing.

"STOP! Call security. Get the security over here and kill him..."

Seeing that Wang Xian had smashed two Bentleys, Director Cui's eyes had turned red in anger as he roared loudly.

The young man by the side threw the cigarette on the floor and stared at Wang Xian callously.

Wang Xian smiled plainly and said, "After I've smashed all the cars, do show me what will happen to me."

Currently, Wang Xian wasn't afraid of anyone in Rivertown. Qin Family's influence could help him settle anything in the society.

As for the underworld, he was even less wary of anyone.

Bam bam bam!

Incessant thumping pierced through the atmosphere. Wang Xian had already smashed five Bentleys when the security guards arrived one after another.

"Stop! You better stop!"

When the four security guards saw Wang Xian smashing the Bentley, they were shocked. These are Bentleys that cost over $3 million each!

Yet, he dared to just smash!

And he had already smashed five of them!

Wang Xian saw the group of security guards and smiled. He threw the hammer in his hand on the floor and stared at the red-eyed Director Cui.

"Come, I have just smashed five cars. Let me see what will happen to me!"

"Bastard, you are dead! You are as good as dead."

Seeing the fearless look on Wang Xian, he pulled out a phone directly.

He didn't call for the police but dialed another number.

The young master of the Ren Family was here and it seemed that young master Ren wasn't in a good mood. If he knew that there was someone causing trouble here, he would definitely cripple the troublemaker.

The Ren Family was strong and had interests in half of the 4s showrooms. This place was just one of them.

It's over. This brat is as good as dead.

Chapter 87: Ren Anzhi's Actions

Ren Anzhi was feeling despair and had been irritated these past few days.

When he recalled what had happened the few nights before, he felt immense fear.

His Elixir Field was destroyed, and now, he had become a useless man. The one who ruined him was a Half-step to Inborn Expert.

He shuddered at the thought of the old man and the young man.

He told his father, the current Master of Ren Family.

When his father heard about this incident, he almost killed him to make amends with that expert. But under the persuasion of his mother, his father gave up the thought eventually.

His father wanted to bring him along and apologize to them. But he gave up the thought as his father did not wish for anyone in the family to find out about this.

If other elders in the family found out that he'd gotten into trouble with such a formidable expert, he would be beaten to death to atone for his sins even if his father did not do so.

Blood and brutality filled the world of Ancient Martial Arts.

Even though Ren Anzhi escaped the calamity, his cultivation was totally ruined. Initially, he had the chance to inherit the family as the leader. But now, it was completely out of the question.

His Elixir Field was completely destroyed, and it was only possible to recover with the help of an Inborn Expert and some medicine.

Obviously, the Ren Family was not capable of inviting an Inborn Expert to treat him.

After he lost all his cultivation, he was sent to one of the organizations in the family to manage some businesses.

"Damm, if it was not for those two idiots, would I have ended up in such a state?"

Ren Anzhi was sitting in the office, staring at his computer. When he recalled what happened that day, he was fuming.

If it was not for those two idiotic brothers-in-law, how would he have ended up in such a state?

However, the two of them were also leading a tough life. Their limbs were crippled, and they had to spend the rest of their lives in wheelchairs.

Besides, his brother-in-law's family also compensated him with half of their assets.

However, no matter how much money they compensated him with, it could never be enough in exchange for his cultivation.

Buzz!

Just when Ren Anzhi was feeling vexed, the phone suddenly rang. He displayed an impatient look when he saw the caller's name on the phone.

"Speak out now!" Ren Anzhi screamed with an unpleasant expression.

"Director Ren, I'm sorry to disturb you. Something happened in our showroom. Someone smashed five of our Bentleys. Five of them! That person even taunted us."

"What?"

Director Cui's voice stunned Ren Anzhi for a while. He raised his voice with rage, "Has the person left?" Ren Anzhi darkened his expression as he asked with radiance flickering in his eyes.

"Not yet, Director Ren. He's still in the showroom."

"Great, I'll be there. God damm it. He's asking for it!"

Ren Anzhi revealed a killing expression. He was feeling grumpy, yet, someone dared to make trouble in his showroom. That person was going to be a piece of dead meat.

"In the entire Rivertown, everyone knew that the Rivertown 4S showroom had the backing of the Ren Family. What a fuc*ing fellow."

Ren Anzhi stood up immediately with a cold expression as he walked to the showroom.

He was going to teach that outrageous fellow a hell of a lesson.

"Lad, you're doomed. I'll make sure you regret what you did for the rest of your life. Just you wait. You're dead!"

Back at the 4S Automobile Showroom, Director Cui spoke to Wang Xian with a hideous look once he got the reply from Director Ren.

"Director Cui, who did you call just now?" Young Master Lin asked with doubt when he heard how Director Cui addressed the person on the line.

"I called Director Ren, the son of the Ren Family," Director Cui answered. He continued coldly, "Director Ren will be here in no time. You are dead."

"The son of the Ren Family?" Young Master Lin was surprised as fear filled his eyes.

Ren Family was a huge and influential family in Rivertown. Lin Family was far more inferior to them. The son of the Ren Family was definitely not someone he could compare with either.

"Director Ren will be here in no time. You're dead!"

Young Master Lin looked at Wang Xian as though he was a dead man.

The pretty girl beside Young Master Lin grabbed his arm and scorned at Wang Xian. "Lad, you're too arrogant. You actually bashed their cars when they didn't want your business. How ill-educated you are!"

Wang Xian swept his cold gazes when he heard them. His flickering gaze fixed on the pretty girl and Young Master Lin.

Just then, a voice suddenly cut the air before the person could arrive. "Who the hell dares to create trouble in the Ren Family's turf? Are you sick of living?"

When Director Cui heard the voice, his eyes flashed with happiness as he hurried over to greet the person.

"Director Ren, that fellow is inside. He's simply too arrogant. He bashed our cars when we didn't want to sell the car to him. Director Ren, you must teach him a lesson!" Director Cui explained as he ran.

With a cigarette in between his fingers, Ren Anzhi was looking cold as he saw Director Cui running to him. He nodded his head and walked inside.

After he entered the showroom, he froze when he saw a young man, leaning haughtily against a Bentley.

"Hello, Young Master Ren. I'm Lin Feng." When Young Master Lin saw Ren Anzhi, he quickly went over and greeted him.

Yet, Ren Anzhi could not hear what Lin Feng was talking about now.

He could see darkness in front of him as if he had fallen into the abyss.

This young man, this young man.

He would never forget him.

His serene smile.

His taunting look in the eyes.

He recalled that night when even that domineering Half-step to Inborn Expert had to listen to his commands.

He felt suffocated.

Why, why is it him?

How could I be so pitiful that I have to meet this devil-like young man again?

Ren Anzhi shuddered in his shoes when he saw the curious and playful look in that young man's eyes.

"Director Ren, he's the one who smashed five of our cars." Director Cui pointed at Wang Xian as he howled angrily to Ren Anzhi.

Ren Anzhi paused his breathing, and his expression changed dramatically when he heard Director Cui.

"Fuc* you! Are you trying to get me killed?"

Ren Anzhi jumped up and slapped Director Cui hard on his face.

He almost exerted all his force on it. If his Internal Energy was still around, Director Cui could be dead with that slap.

Ren Anzhi looked at Wang Xian with bitterness as he trotted over.

Boom!

Next, Ren Anzhi did something that shocked everyone.

He ran over and knelt in front of that young man.

That's right. He knelt, and the sound of getting down on his knees was loud.

Everyone was blown away by Ren Anzhi's series of actions.

He slapped Director Cui hard.

Then, he ran over and knelt before the young man.

He was the Young Master of the Ren Family; the son of the leader of Ren Family.

Moreover, the Ren Family was ranked as the number two Ancient Martial Artist Family in Rivertown.

Yet, when he was confronted by the young man who smashed their cars, he actually ran over and got down on his knees!

He got down on his knees!

Chapter 88: Feared Like A Demon, Revered Like A God

"Young Master Wang, Young Master Wang. I didn't know it was you. I have nothing to do with this! It's all these damned guys who offended Young Master Wang. I have nothing to do with them!"

"Young Master Wang, I'll apologize to you. We are at fault in this incident. I'll apologize!"

Wang Xian had initially wanted to wait for the person Director Cui had called before calling Old Qin or trying to settle it by himself. However, it was beyond his expectations that the person who came was Ren Anzhi.

He naturally remembered him very clearly.

He was from the Ren Family. Previously, he was asked by Longxuan Restaurant to burn down his First-grade Restaurant. At that time, he was crippled by Mo Qinglong directly.

What he had never expected was that Director Ren, whom Director Cui was talking about, was none other than Ren Anzhi.

Seeing Ren Anzhi kneel down beside him, on the verge of tears, Wang Xian was speechless.

Am I so scary?

Is it fine for a guy to act like this?

If Ren Anzhi knew what Wang Xian was thinking currently, he would definitely cry out loud. How is he not afraid?

Not only are you horrifying, but you are also the embodiment of the devil!

Damn it. With a half-step to an Inborn expert as subordinate, how horrifying your background is. A single kick from you is sufficient to finish off the Ren Family.

If I let my father know that I just offended this devil again, I'll probably be killed by him.

"I was wondering who Director Cui would call. So, it happens to be someone I know."

Wang Xian looked at Ren Anzhi. He rubbed his nose and found this to be a little hilarious.

"Young Master Wang, I didn't know it was you either. If I knew, I wouldn't have dared to come, even if you beat me to death... I wouldn't dare to..."

Ren Anzhi was shivering as he broke into tears.

"Since we know each other, I believe this matter could be settled easily."

Wang Xian looked at him, smiled and squatted down.

"Young Master Wang, we are at fault in this. I'll apologize. I'll kill Director Cui as apology. Please calm down!"

Ren Anzhi trembled at the sight of Wang Xian squatting down. He was completely petrified!

At the other end, Director Cui, who got slapped so hard that he bled, finally started to recover from the shock.

However, when he heard what Ren Anzhi said, he blanked out and lost consciousness.

The security guards around couldn't help but swallow their saliva as they witnessed this unbelievable twist of events.

When Young Master Lin and the beautiful girl beside him saw this, their eyes were in a daze and their faces paled.

Even Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi were dumbfounded.

Wang Xian looked around before turning to Ren Anzhi. "I'm not an unreasonable man. You can be the judge for me."

"Young Master Wang, please carry on. Please carry on," Ren Anzhi replied immediately.

"Yeah, this is how it happened. I brought my sister here to buy a car and we had our eyes on a pink Bentley. After trying it out for several rounds and making the decision to buy it, Director Cui told me that the car has been sold."

"He said that the car was pre-booked by that Young Master Lin and wouldn't sell to me. However, it was clear that at the moment we were trying out the car and had confirmed that we wanted to buy it, this car wasn't sold yet. In other words, I wanted to buy it first but he sold it to another person. Tell me if you would be angry about it if you were me?"

"Moreover, Director Cui wasn't apologetic at all and asked me to get out. That Young Master Lin and the beautiful girl beside him even said that I was arrogant, I was courting death and was uneducated. Hehe. Tell me now, can you blame me for what I've done?"

"I can't, I can't blame you. We are at fault in this. Young Master Wang, I'll definitely give you an explanation that you could be satisfied with!"

When Ren Anzhi heard Wang Xian finish his illustration, he gritted his teeth and replied quickly. He repeated, "Young Master Wang, I'll definitely give you an explanation you could be satisfied with. Rest assured, it's those damned brats who have not followed the rules!"

"Yeah, they are the one who did not follow the rules. I'm not an unreasonable person!"

Wang Xian smiled, nodded his head and extended his hand over to pat Ren Anzhi's shoulders.

"No, No... Young Master Wang, please don't..."

When he saw Wang Xian extending his hand over, he thought that Wang Xian was meting out punishment. His face paled as he begged for forgiveness.

However, he suddenly felt a warming feeling from his Elixir Field. To his pleasant surprise, he noticed that his Elixir Field was recovering gradually.

This made him stare at Wang Xian in disbelief.

"I'm a very reasonable person. As long as you don't offend me, I wouldn't offend you!"

Wang Xian patted on his shoulders and smiled.

Ren Anzhi felt the power returning to his body. His face turned red in agitation and his mucus was almost spit out.

"Thank you, Young Master Wang. Thank you! Young Master Wang!"

Ren Anzhi was kowtowing to Wang Xian. He was unexplainably agitated as he had not expected that this devil in front of him... No... This god-like young man could heal his Elixir Field.

He had never expected this to end in such a fortunate way.

Wang Xian smiled, stood up and signalled for him to stand up.

Ren Anzhi stood up immediately and stood beside Wang Xian with his head lowered like a servant.

"For these Bentleys that I've smashed, put it on the tab of Director Cui and that Young Master Lin. Also, Young Master Lin and the beautiful girl beside him threatened me, saying that I wouldn't even know how I died. Hehe. I leave them to you."

Wang Xian smirked as he turned his attention to Young Master Lin and the girl beside him.

"Rest assured Young Master Wang, leave this matter to me. I'll definitely not disappoint you."

Ren Anzhi lifted his head and guaranteed solemnly. "Since they dare to offend Young Master Wang, I'll let them know what is meant by not knowing how one died!"

Ren Anzhi was speaking very loudly. Young Master Lin and the beautiful girl beside him could definitely hear him clearly.

When they met Ren Anzhi's murderous stare, they felt a shudder down their spine and were petrified.

"Young Master Ren, Young Master Ren... Don't... It's our fault... Please Young Master Ren!" Young Master Lin's voice was trembling and he looked horrified.

Ren Anzhi looked coldly at Young Master Lin, smirked and said, "How dare you offend Young Master Wang and behave arrogantly in front of him. Just wait and see. We will have a good time together! "

"Young Master Ren, you can't do this to me. It's my fault. Young Master Wang, Young Master Wang, it's all my fault. I didn't recognise that it was you. I deserve death!"

When Lin Feng heard the words of Ren Anzhi, he was completely flustered. He looked towards Wang Xian in horror. In his eyes, this young man was the equivalent of a devil.

He was petrified. Even Young Master Ren kneeled down in front of him and begged for forgiveness. Just a word from Wang Xian was enough to make Young Master Ren decide to mess with him.

Looking at how Young Master Ren behaved, he might very well be killed.

His body was trembling as he begged for forgiveness.

The beautiful girl beside him had turned as white as sheet and her whole body was shivering. Who the hell did I offend?

Wang Xian glanced at them without emotions.

In the eyes of those who offended him, Wang Xian was feared like the devil. Similarly, he could also make others revere him like a god.

All of this depended on his mood.

If he was in a bad mood, he could cripple Ren Anzhi. Ren Anzhi's actions made him satisfied and he could cure him with a wave of his arm.

Feared like a devil and revered like a god.

With regard to the control he had, Wang Xian enjoyed it greatly. Your life or death is all in my hands!

Everything shall be as I wish!

Chapter 89: Your Brother is a Legend

"Young Master Wang, I've got the paperwork done for the car. Here's the key."

"No, Young Master Wang, I cannot take your money. Just take it as a gift from me. Thank Young Master Wang for treating my injuries. Take care and goodbye!"

Back in the showroom where the Bentley 4S showroom was, Ren Anzhi was thanking Wang Xian with respect and enthusiasm.

Wang Xian smiled when he saw his look. "Good, I'm going off now."

"Young Master Wang, take care!" Ren Anzhi continued with a polite smile.

Wang Xian nodded and handed the car key to Xiao Yu. "Xiao Yu, you'll drive. Let's go."

"Oh, oh!" Xiao Yu nodded. She took over the key hurriedly and unlocked the pink Bentley.

They'd gotten the luxury car without paying a single cent on it.

Wang Xian sat in the car and watched smilingly at his sister who drove the car out.

Ren Anzhi watched as the car dove away. He wiped the sweat on his forehead with a complicated expression on his face. "What a domineering existence. I wonder if I should feel fearful or lucky to meet someone like him. Whatever it is, never provoke him! Never!"

He could destroy you when he is unhappy and heal you easily when he is in a good mood.

Radiance flickered in Ren Anzhi's eyes as he spun his head around slowly. He gazed at Lin Feng and the pretty girl, who were standing at the entrance.

Just then, Lin Feng slapped the girl furiously. Because of her, he'd provoked that terrifying existence.

"Lin Feng, count yourself unlucky to have provoked Young Master Wang," Ren Anzhi said with icy cold eyes as he walked in slowly.

Not many people knew what had happened in the 4S showroom. Those who knew did not dare to spread the word around.

"Gosh, aren't they... aren't they Xiao Yu and her brother?"

However, a group of young people saw what had happened just now not far away.

They saw Xiao Yu driving out with a brand-new pink Bentley.

It was a high-class luxury car, Bentley.

Jia Wenrui, Jiang Shuang and the rest watched in surprise as the pink Bentley disappeared before them.

"Her brother is rich! He actually bought her a Bentley. That luxury car costs about $5 million."

"Gosh, this is incredible. Too incredible!"

Several young people could not help but exclaim. They never thought that Xiao Yu's brother was that awesome.

Jia Wenrui stood there with a mixed expression of fascination and awkwardness.

Jiang Shuang was dumbfounded. Apart from being jealous, there was nothing else left for her.

Bentley... Her dad was unwilling to buy a Bentley for her.

"Senior Wang Xian, you're way too suave! The person whom Director Cui called was so terrified of you. He even gave us a free car!" Back in the car, Xiao Mi spoke to Wang Xian with admiration.

"Brother, you have become so awesome now!" Xiao Yu exclaimed too.

"Haha, don't you know who your brother is? Your brother is a legend," Wang Xian laughed and replied loudly.

Xiao Yu also beamed, "My brother is the best!"

"Where are we going now, Brother?"

"It's almost evening time. I'll take you to my restaurant for dinner."

Wang Xian looked at the time. He gave Xiao Yu the directions too.

"Restaurant? Brother, where is your restaurant? Is it near the school?" asked Xiao Yu curiously.

"Yes, it's near the school."

After talking to Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi, the car reached the entrance of the old street half an hour later.

"Cars are prohibited inside. You've got to park the car in the parking lot," Wang Xian told his sister.

"Yes, brother!"

After they walked out of the car, Wang Xian began to introduce the old street to them.

"This street is known as the old street. You can shop for stuff and have your meals on this street in the future. My restaurant is inside."

As they walked, he introduced the delicious breakfast places and some street food to his sister.

Xiao Yu nodded her head continuously as she asked questions curiously.

Holding her brother's arm, Xiao Yu felt relaxed and happy.

"This is my restaurant," Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu when they arrived at the entrance of First-grade Restaurant.

Both of them looked up and were slightly stunned when they saw the restaurant's name.

"First-grade Restaurant, such a familiar name!" Xiao Yu murmured.

"Xiao Yu, isn't this the restaurant that gained popularity on the internet lately? It was known to be the country's best restaurant." Xiao Mi thought of the news she read recently and spoke in surprise.

"Yes, I remember. First-grade Restaurant. Brother, never did I expect that the First-grade Restaurant belongs to you. This restaurant is famous now!" Xiao Yu stared at Wang Xian and cried out in surprise.

"Come on in. I'll treat you to a big feast tonight."

Wang Xian chuckled as he led them inside.

"Director Wang."

"Boss!"

As soon as the greeters saw him, they immediately greeted him.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded at them as he looked inside.

It was only 6 pm, and there were almost 80 people in the queue. It was not hard to imagine the popularity of the First-grade Restaurant.

"Director Wang!" Upon seeing the arrival of Wang Xian, Manager Huang hurried on his way over.

"Did you reserve the seat I asked you to? I'm going to treat my sister to dinner. Get the kitchen to prepare Two-headed Abalone, Atlantic Bluefin Marlin sashimi, and Chinese Bahaba fish gelatine. On top of that, prepare some specialty dishes too," said Wang Xian to Manager Huang.

"Yes, the seat has been reserved for you. I'll get the kitchen to prepare your dishes."

Manager Huang nodded as he swept his gazes across Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi behind him. Finally, he fixed his gaze on Xiao Yu.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded. Then he went into the office and got Guan Shuqing out.

"Xiao Xian, is this your sister, Xiao Yu?" asked Guan Shuqing with a smile. She walked out and spotted Xiao Yu, who looked somewhat alike to Wang Xian.

"Yes, this is Xiao Yu, and this is her best friend, Xiao Mi. Xiao Mi, this is Guan Shuqing, and she's your senior from now on." Wang Xian nodded.

"Hello, Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi!" Guan Shuqing grinned as she waved and greeted them.

"Hello, Sister!" Xiao Yu looked at the beautiful and elegant Guan Shuqing. She leaned to Wang Xian and whispered in his ears, "Brother, is she...my Sister or sister-in-law?"

"What are you thinking?" Wang Xian patted her head. "Let's go for our dinner."

"Brother, I've realized that I'm simply too happy right now. With good food and nice clothes. Hehe, I'm so happy to be attending university!"

"My Xiao Yu will be the little princess from now on!"

"Brother, you are wonderful!"

"Enough of the sweet-talk. I'll send you back after dinner. You've been running around for the entire day. Rest well tonight. Report to school tomorrow first thing, and I'll bring you out again!"

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu grinned at each other. Guan Shuqing was also gazing at them with a smile on her face.

Chapter 90: Starting School

The time to report to the university had arrived, and the students turned up at the school one after another.

Today was the first official day to report for the freshmen. Nonetheless, the year two and year three students were also rushing back to school.

Just like the freshmen, the year two and year three students also had three days to report to school. However, there were some students who were responsible to receive the freshmen and had to arrive before their reporting dates.

By around 10 in the morning, the entrance of the school had gradually seen students gathering.

Moreover, there were cars parked everywhere in the vicinity of the entrance of the school. Scenes of parents bringing their children and walking into the university were common.

Several young faces were carrying their luggage while looking around constantly at the campus where they would be spending the next few years of their lives.

A pink Bentley drove over and stopped beside the school, drawing the attention of a substantial number of students.

"Let's find a place to park the car first. The school forbids us to drive the car into the school today."

Wang Xian looked at the surrounding cars and spoke to Xiao Yu who was driving.

For the first three days of school, many parents would drive their children to school. In order to prevent congestion, the school forbid cars from entering the school.

"Alright, brother!"

Xiao Yu nodded her head, found a spot and parked the car.

"Let's go. I'll carry the things and lead you all to the reporting area. After which, we will head to the dormitory to unpack your luggage!" Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi as he dragged along their luggage.

Other than some clothes and their laptops, they didn't have many other things in their luggage.

Blankets were all issued by the school.

After locking the car, Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi followed behind Wang Xian eagerly as they looked at the school in front of them with anticipation.

Xiao Yu had changed into the new clothes she'd bought the previous day.

It was a beautiful long dress from Prada that revealed her fair arms. On her wrist was a watch from Patek Philippe which cost over $880,000.

She didn't put on any makeup and had a natural, confident and beautiful smile.

If Xiao Yu was a swan the previous day, she was a beautiful phoenix today!

An action or a single smile was enough to attract other's attention.

"It seems like our University of Rivertown will have another beautiful girl!" Wang Xian looked at Xiao Yu and joked.

"Hehe. Brother, I have always been an adorable and beautiful girl!" chuckled Xiao Yu.

"Let's go and report. After which, we are going to the dormitory to put down your things!" Wang Xian said as he led them to the reporting area.

Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi had the same specialization and therefore Wang Xian brought them to the same reporting area directly.

There were teachers and students sitting at the reporting area. Seeing Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi walking over, one of them spoke to Xiao Yu.

"Junior, take out your enrollment notice and show it to us. I'll get some students to bring you to your dormitory and inform you of the location of your classes."

"Alright." Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi took out the notice letter while the student at the side checked for the information of their allocated dormitory room.

"Wang Yu, room 303. Zhang Xiao Mi, room 305. I'll get some students to bring you there."

"Let me go, let me go..."

When one of the boys saw Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi, his eyes lit up as he volunteered enthusiastically.

"It's alright. I'm Wang Yu's brother and I'm also from this school. I know the location. I'll bring them over."

Wang Xian stood behind and smiled upon seeing the enthusiastic senior.

In university, seniors were like wolves and juniors were little lambs. Many seniors would wait for the arrival of the juniors, ready to pounce when the opportunity arose.

Wang Xian dispelled the ideas of that senior immediately.

"Uhm, this..." That guy looked at Wang Xian and was speechless.

"Let's go, I'll bring you guys over."

Wang Xian smiled and led Xiao Yu and Xiao Mi towards the dormitory.

"So beautiful. That junior is really beautiful."

Behind them, the enthusiastic guy looked at the back view of Xiao Yu and remarked sadly.

"Hehe, Liuwen, I think you should just give up on that idea!" the girl sitting in front of the table said to the guy with contempt.

"Wangmei, what do you mean by that? Why did you ask me to give up on the idea? I'm known to be attractive!"

"Hehe, you should take a closer look at that girl. The Prada dress is at least $30,000- $40,000. Her shoes are at least $4000-$5000. More importantly, if I didn't make a mistake, the watch on her wrist was the latest female model from Patek Philippe and costs more than $800,000. How would such a fair, rich and beautiful girl be fond of you," the girl replied with contempt.

"This..." That guy was dumbfounded and swallowed his saliva. "She's so rich!"

Xiao Yu didn't pick up the comments from the girl behind her. She was full of smiles while observing the surroundings of the school.

Wang Xian stood by her side and was explaining to the girls about the school.

"This is the female dormitory. Let's go to the third floor!"

The first few days of school were the only days when a guy could enter the female dormitory legally. Wang Xian brought them to the third floor.

"This is 303. Xiao Mi, 305 is right there!" Wang Xian pointed to another room and said to Xiao Mi.

"We aren't in the same room." Xiao Yu commented grumpily.

"It's fine. We are still staying really close to each other." Xiao Mi smiled before continuing, "I'll go unpack my luggage. You should hurry too."

Xiao Yu nodded her head and entered her own room.

Each school dormitory room was for four people. The beds were at the top while the study desks were below the beds.

When they got in, they noticed that the other 3 girls had arrived.

"Oh, the last lady is here too. Everyone is here now! All four of them!"

When they just stepped in, a rough manly voice chuckled.

"Hi, uncle!" Xiao Yu looked over and smiled radiantly at the ordinarily-dressed middle-aged man.

"Hi, uncle!" Wang Xian also greeted and looked to the middle-aged man. The middle-aged man had an honest smile on him and was probably from the rural areas.

However, people like this were also the easiest to get along with.

"Hello." The girl beside the middle-aged man greeted Xiao Yu and Wang Xian shyly.

The girl looked young and was very shy. Her eyes were bright and had an exquisite look. Her dressing was a little old-fashioned, a classic example of a village girl. Nonetheless, she looked natural.

"Hello, I'm Wang Yu. This is my brother, Wang Xian. My brother is also from our school and is in year two." Xiao Yu smiled..

"I'm Yuan Yuanyuan." Yuan Yuanyuan smiled nervously.

"Come, let's chat after unpacking," the middle-aged man smiled and said as he extended his hand over to help.

"It's alright, uncle. We don't have a lot of things to unpack. We can handle it ourselves," Wang Xian smiled and replied.

"Alright, there's still some space here." The middle-aged man laughed.

Wang Xian nodded his head. There was a blanket on the bed that wasn't spread open. Wang Xian crawled up the ladder to prepare the bed.

As for Xiao Yu, she remained at the bottom to sort out her clothes and computer.

They didn't have a lot to unpack and therefore finished quickly.

When they were done, the other 3 girls had also finished tidying up with the help of their parents.

"Come, try some sweet candies from our hometown. We made them ourselves and they taste really good."

The middle-aged man took out a bag of snacks from his bag. After opening it, he passed it to the people around him. "Come, have a try. It's delicious."

Chapter 91: Spoiled Girl

"Okay, thank you, Uncle!"

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu took a look at the stuff that the middle-aged uncle passed over. Both of them smiled and took some when they saw the fried brown sugar inside.

"We don't have much at home. So, I got my daughter to bring some of the hometown specialty for her classmates. Here, try it!"

The middle-aged uncle gave a good-natured smile and passed on the food to the other two families.

Another two girls came with their parents. One of them was slightly plump, and so were her parents. Given their dressing, their family must not have been too poor.

The family closer to the balcony was obviously a wealthier family.

The girl was tall and slender with a good-looking face. She wore a large white tee with hot pants, revealing her fair thighs with a tattoo on her leg.

Her lips were brightly colored with lipstick.

Her mother's dressing was trendy and she maintained her figure well.

Her father had a slight beer belly with a lavish dress sense, just like the way bosses would dress.

"Thank you." The family members of the slightly plump girl nodded to the middle-aged uncle with a friendly look as they took some of the food.

"It's okay for us."

The mother of the tall and slender girl gestured, "You guys have it. We'll skip."

"Try them. Don't stand a ceremony. They are tasty." The middle-aged uncle raised his voice as he laughed.

"The taste is really good." Wang Xian tasted some and nodded his head smilingly.

"I told you. This is our hometown specialty. But we've got a secret recipe, so they taste better than the rest." When the middle-aged uncle heard what Wang Xian said, he beamed as he explained happily.

He raised the bag to the family who had declined earlier on.

"No, really." The plump middle-aged man took a look at the cheap and unrefined plastic bag, frowning as he gestured his rejection.

"It's okay, try it. I'll pour you some for you to taste it."

The middle-aged uncle stood up to share some of the food with them.

"I told you not to..." However, an impatient voice sounded off at this time. The middle-aged uncle froze with an unnatural expression on his face.

"You kid..." The lady spoke as she glared at her daughter. She laughed and said, "Fengya is not someone good with words."

"Uncle, give it to me. It's delicious, hehe." Wang Xian chuckled as he stood up when he saw the middle-aged uncle was somewhat embarrassed.

"Great, go ahead. It's nothing. Hehe." The middle-aged uncle squeezed out a smile on his face, pretending that he did not hear what that girl had said.

He rubbed his palms together when he saw Wang Xian was eating. Feeling embarrassed, he said, "My daughter, Yuanyuan, is a little shy. I hope her classmates will take care of her and that they'll get along well with each other. If you wish to have more sweets, let me know. I'll get Yuanyuan to bring you some."

"Yes, my daughter is Su Qian. She has a sweet tooth. Next time, you and Yuanyuan must get along with each other, along with other roommates," Su Qian's mother said with a smile.

"Yes, let's get along with each other!" The middle-aged uncle chuckled and nodded.

"My sister and I are studying in this university. But I'm a Year Two student now. If you need any help in Rivertown, you can look for me." Wang Xian smiled.

"Young lad, you're also from the same school? You must be incredible since both of you made it to the University of Rivertown together!" Su Qian's father exclaimed in surprise.

"Yes." Wang Xian chuckled.

"That's good then." The middle-aged uncle agreed with a beaming face.

"We're local people over here. Fengya knows nothing. I hope the rest of the roommates can help her out," the mother of the tall and slender girl said smilingly.

"Who said I know nothing?" The girl pouted in dissatisfaction.

"What do you know, kid? Do you know how to do your laundry, wash the toilet?" The lady stared at her.

The girl was slightly displeased as she took out a box of ladies' cigarettes and lit one.

"Cut the smoking and get along well with your roommates." The plump middle-aged man looked at his daughter before he turned to look at the rest. "My kid is pampered. I hope the rest of the roommates can help out in things like cleaning. Thank you!"

What he said caused the parents of Su Qian to frown, but they did not make any remarks.

The middle-aged uncle said nothing either.

Wang Xian raised his eyebrows and looked at the girl who was smoking. He then turned to her father and asked, "Since you are a local, why doesn't she just stay at home so that it is convenient to take care of her?"

Wang Xian was hinting.

"Our house is far from the school. It would take about an hour to come here from home," the middle-aged man smiled and said.

"Oh." Wang Xian nodded and continued, "I think the four ladies should be responsible for the things in their room. They should do their own cleaning and keep their own things. The room is not big. It won't be tiresome to do these. And..." Wang Xian looked at the girl who was smoking and said, "It would be best not to smoke in the dormitory for girls. That will affect other people."

The atmosphere suddenly froze after Wang Xian spoke. The middle-aged lady frowned immediately.

The girl who was smoking was staring unhappily at Wang Xian.

"You're right. My daughter is too pampered."

"What has my smoking got to do with you? You're such a busybody!"

At this time, the girl who was smoking suddenly glared at Wang Xian and rolled her eyes at him.

"Fengya, how can you say such things? I told you to get along with other roommates." The lady told her daughter off hurriedly.

But when she turned to them, she said, "It's just a lady cigarette. It won't stink."

The middle-aged man darkened his expression. He looked at the time and stood up suddenly, "It's going to be noon. I'll treat all of you to lunch. It's also a kind of destiny for the kids to be sharing a room together. Let's have lunch together."

"Yes, let's have lunch together so that the kids can get to know each other," the lady by the side agreed.

"Well..." the parents of Su Qian hesitated as they looked at the middle-aged Uncle and Wang Xian.

"Let's go and have something outside," the middle-aged man stood up again and said.

"Okay, then let's have lunch together." After much consideration, Su Qian's parents agreed to it.

"Sure." The middle-aged uncle also agreed.

But apparently, they had a bad impression of that family and that girl.

Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders and stood up with Xiao Yu.

"Hmph!"

The middle-aged man and the lady took the lead and walked out first. Their daughter followed behind. When she walked past Wang Xian, she stared and snorted at him.

Wang Xian looked at her as he raised his eyebrow.

"Brother, this girl is not easy to get along with." Xiao Yu stuck her tongue out to Wang Xian as she whispered.

"Let's go. We can talk over lunch. I also want to see what they want by treating us to lunch."

Wang Xian sneered.

Chapter 92: Who Dares To Say It's Not Appropriate?

"Dad, just leave your things here!"

"It's alright, it's alright. I'll be going off directly after the meal and will not be coming back. I still have to head to the construction site, at the latest by tonight."

"Alright then, Dad. Be careful at the construction site."

The middle-aged man and Yuan Yuanyuan walked at the back of the group. Her father was carrying a gunny sack with some living necessities in it.

Wang Xian turned his head over, smiled at the middle-aged man and asked, "Uncle, are you working in Rivertown?"

"Yeah, I'm working at a construction site. Yuanyuan happened to be in Rivertown and I thought I'd drop by since it's near." The middle-aged man smiled. From his gunny sack, he took out a box of cigarettes.

"Son, do you smoke?"

"No, I don't!"

Wang Xian shook his head.

"It's good to not smoke. It's good. This isn't a good thing!" The middle-aged man smiled and put back his cigarette.

The group of people headed out of school. The middle-aged plump man and lady were constantly instructing their daughter on some matters.

Su Qian and her family walked together with Wang Xian and the middle-aged man, chatting along the way.

Xiao Yu and the other two girls seemed to have gotten along well as they smiled and chatted.

The group of people headed towards Old Street. Although it was already September, the sun was still very vicious. However, they weren't too far and the whole journey took only five minutes.

"Let's go. I'll bring you guys to the most famous restaurant in the country, First-grade Restaurant, for a simple meal," the plump, middle-aged man turned his head around and said to the crowd.

"First Grade Restaurant? Is it the same First-grade Restaurant that is insanely popular on the Internet recently?" Su Qian's father exclaimed with amazement.

"Yeah, it's that First-grade Restaurant. It is also the most luxurious restaurant in Rivertown." The middle-aged plump man smiled and nodded his head. With pride written on his face, he continued, "A meal would easily cost several thousand. Let's head there. Our kids will be roommates in the future and it's also fate that brought us together."

"It's too expensive, too expensive! Let's just find another place and have a simple meal," Yuan Yuanyuan's father quickly remarked.

"It's alright, it's alright. It's just a meal. Let's go! This meal is on me." The middle-aged plump man waved his hand nonchalantly as he walked ahead.

When Xiao Yu heard where they were going, she raised her head and looked at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian smiled at her but simply followed behind the middle-aged plump man, who seemed to feel that he was above others, towards First-grade Restaurant.

"This is the most well-known First-grade Restaurant in Rivertown. Come, let's go in!"

At the entrance, the middle-aged plump man spoke to the group and led them in.

"Welcome!"

As they entered, the greeters remarked passionately.

"Are there still tables available?" the middle-aged plump man asked.

"There's only one more left at the main hall!" the greeter replied.

"Your business is really good. It's not even 11.30am! Let's go in!"

The middle-aged plump man led the way. Wang Xian and Xiao Yu also followed the group in.

"Director..."

When the two greeters saw Wang Xian, they were surprised. Just as they were about to greet him, Wang Xian immediately waved at them, signaling for them to not greet. Wang Xian simply followed behind the middle-aged plump man.

The two greeters looked inquisitively at him and didn't continue.

"Look! These are world-class ingredients. Hehe. So incredible!"

The middle-aged plump man looked at the world-class ingredients as he smiled and explained.

Yuan Yuanyuan's and Su Qian's father walked over inquisitively and were shocked by what they saw.

"Let's go. Let's have lunch now."

When the middle-aged plump man saw their expressions, he nodded his head in approval and walked further in.

Argh!

At this moment, a scream sounded from the side.

"My clothes! What are you doing? Don't you open your eyes when you are walking? Look at what you did to my new clothes!"

Following this, a sharp shriek pierced the atmosphere.

Wang Xian looked over in surprise and saw a tall girl sweeping her hands on her clothes with contempt. She had a ghastly expression on her face.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry." The middle-aged man quickly turned around and apologized when he saw the stain on her T-shirt.

"Why are you carrying this? Why did you carry such a dirty bag to eat? Don't you know that this is a high-class restaurant? You..."

The girl was furious and launched a barrage of insults at the middle-aged man.

"What's the matter, Fengya?" the lady by the side looked over and asked, concerned.

"Mom, look at my clothes. These are new and cost over $2,000. They're stained now!" the girl replied furiously.

"Uncle is walking in front of you. You probably knocked into him when you were distracted from playing on your phone!"

Wang Xian looked at this unreasonable girl and spoke with an unfriendly expression.

"If he didn't carry this, how would I knock into it?" The girl stared at Wang Xian. "We are in such a high-class restaurant to eat. Tell me, why did he bring along such a damned bag!"

"Why is my father's bag a damned bag? It's clear that you knocked into him!"

Seeing the girl insulting her father furiously, Yuan Yuanyuan's face turned red and she wanted to speak up for her father.

"Do you know where we are? This is First-grade Restaurant! You group of country pumpkins! Have you ever been to such a high-class place? Can this thing be brought in?" the girl retorted angrily.

"Alright, Fengya. It's just a little dirty and it will be fine after washing!" the lady by the side quickly interrupted.

"Who says that First-grade Restaurant doesn't allow him to bring this in?"

Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at the girl before turning around and seeing the nervous and lost middle-aged man and the unapologetic lady with her husband.

"Shouldn't he know that he shouldn't bring such a dirty bag here?" the girl rebutted.

"What poor upbringing! You knocked into him and yet tried to blame him for it?"

Wang Xian spoke to the girl coldly. This time, he had no intention to be polite and shouted directly.

"What are you saying? You are the one with a poor upbringing. Have you been here before? This is one of the highest-class restaurants in the entire country. Can this damned thing be brought in?" The girl pointed at Wang Xian.

"Alright, Fengya. Stop it! Brat, you should stop too."

The middle-aged plumped man frowned and shouted.

"Shut up!"

When Wang Xian heard his words, he was enraged. He had never thought that he would encounter such a "unique" family.

"Who said that you cannot bring a gunny sack in? Tell me! It's the fault of the parents if the child makes a mistake. Teach your daughter well!"

"Brat, since when are you qualified to criticize my daughter?" The lady exploded upon hearing Wang Xian. "What's wrong with complaining a little after my daughter's shirt got stained? Besides that, is it appropriate for him to carry a gunny sack here?"

"He can if he wishes. Why is it inappropriate? In this place, who dare to say it's inappropriate?" Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at them..

At this moment, the quarrel between Wang Xian and them had drawn the attention of the surrounding crowd.

Manager Huang was shocked to hear his boss's voice. He immediately ran over.

"Director Wang, what happened?" Manager Huang walked to Wang Xian and asked nervously after seeing his fuming boss.

Chapter 93: Get Out

"It's okay!"

Wang Xian shook his head to Manager Huang, who came in and checked on him. Then he turned to look at the middle-aged lady and her daughter. With a cold voice, he said, "The first-grade Restaurant is my restaurant. What's wrong with my customers carrying a bag when they are dining in my restaurant? Tell me who forbid the bag to be carried here?"

"You know it very well yourself if your daughter is ill-mannered. She was spoilt by you. But I'm telling you this. You can pamper your daughter, but others will not! So, don't boss people around. No one is giving in to you here. If you have a temper, I'll beat you till your temper is gone."

Wang Xian looked at Manager Huang impatiently and said, "Throw the three of them out. I get annoyed when I see them."

"Yes, Director Wang!" Manager Huang nodded his head and looked at the three of them. In a cold tone, he said, "Please leave the First-grade Restaurant. Otherwise, we'll chase you out personally."

"You..."

The middle-aged couple was stunned with mixed expressions on their faces. They did not expect that the young man before him owned the First-grade Restaurant.

Isn't he just a year-two student? How could he be the boss of the First-grade Restaurant?

However, the manager who was staring at them coldly wanted them to get out!

The middle-aged man had an embarrassing expression as he clenched his fist tightly.

Their daughter was shocked to witness this, and her facial expression changed dramatically.

"If you are not going out, don't blame us for it." Seeing that the three of them were keeping still, Manager Huang warned them again.

"Fine, you're good!"

The middle-aged man stared at Wang Xian with a darkened expression as he headed out.

The lady was fuming with redness flushing to her cheeks. She glared at Wang Xian angrily as she pulled her daughter out of the restaurant.

The girl also stared at Wang Xian ferociously as she followed her parents.

"Never did I expect that this lad is the boss of the First-grade Restaurant..."

The middle-aged man walked out with a sullen look. His facial expression continued to change.

Given the current strength of the First-grade Restaurant, he could somewhat guess how influential the boss was. He was only running a construction business for a property company. Even though his status was not too low, he would not dare to provoke the First-grade Restaurant's boss.

"Hur?" Just when the plump middle-aged man walked to the entrance, he saw a familiar figure at the door.

He stopped walking as an idea came to him. Immediately, he put up a smile and greeted him, "Director Sun, I wasn't expecting to see you here!"

"Hey, Old Zhao, you're here with your family? Have you eaten?" asked a man with a smile. He was in his thirties, and he was slightly taken aback when he looked at the middle-aged man.

"No, not..." the middle-aged man smiled awkwardly.

"I'm meeting a few business friends. Since all of us know each other, let's have lunch together!" Director Sun smiled as he invited him.

"Director Sun, perhaps... perhaps you can help me out with one thing." The middle-aged man looked towards Director Sun hopefully with cold radiance flashing in his eyes.

Director Sun and he were quite familiar with each other. To be exact, he was relying on the property developers under Director Sun for his livelihood.

Director Sun was working in the property developing company as high management with waters that ran deep.

His networking power was extensive as he got dozens of helpers at hand to settle those stubborn households who were reluctant to move.

Apart from that, Director Sun owned three to four nightclubs, bars, and KTV. Many people who were working in Rivertown had to lower themselves and address him as "Second Master Sun" respectfully.

Director Sun could almost call the shots in the Rivertown!

So what if he was the boss of the First-grade Restaurant when he could ask for help from Director Sun?

"Help? What is it about?" Director Sun looked at the middle-aged man, puzzled.

"Director Sun, just now the boss of the First-grade Restaurant threw us out of the restaurant. I hope you can settle this for me!" said the plump middle-aged man with a bitter face.

"The boss of the First-grade Restaurant?" Director Sun was slightly shocked as his expression darkened when he heard it. He looked at the middle-aged man with radiance flickering in his eyes. "Why did he chase you out?"

"This...This... Director Sun, this is a long story. That lad was rude, and he actually scolded my daughter. This is simply too much. Director Sun, I can't swallow this down. Since you're so formidable, I hope you can avenge me. I'll repay you handsomely!" the middle-aged man said with a solemn face.

"You're kidding your father!" Director Sun looked at the girl beside him and said slowly.

"What?" the middle-aged man asked puzzledly, hearing his weird remarks.

"It's all right, wait for my news here., Director Sun said to the middle-aged man with a disdainful look in his eyes.

"Great!" When he heard Director Sun's promise, sharp radiance filled his eyes.
"Thank you, Director Sun, for avenging for me. Tomorrow night, I'll treat you to a sumptuous dinner."

"Okay." Director Sun gave a gentle nod.

"Director Sun, please have your lunch. I shall not disturb you anymore." The middle-aged man gave a polite smile as he spoke.

Director Sun nodded and entered the restaurant.

"Hubby, is this the formidable Director Sun that you mentioned?" The lady beside them overheard their conversation and asked with a pair of beaming eyes.

"Yes, he's the one." The middle-aged man revealed a thrilled expression.
"Director Sun has promised that he would avenge for me... Hmph, a restaurant owner. No matter how famous his restaurant is, he can never outfight Director Sun."

"Dad, you should get someone to bash that lad up. He's too arrogant!" said the girl ruthlessly as she clenched her fist tight.

"That's enough." the middle-aged man looked at his daughter and frowned.
"Can't you stop throwing your temper around? With such a character, how can you make friends in school? I wanted to treat them to lunch so that your roommates could take care of you. Now, you ruined everything!"

"But, since Director Sun has agreed, that lad is either going to lose his arm or his leg!"

"Who wants them to take care of me? I'm not befriending them. Don't meddle in my affairs, will you? And Dad, don't let that arrogant fellow get away that easily!" The girl waved her hands impatiently.

"You imp..."

The middle-aged man walked out.

"What an ignorant fellow!" Director Sun turned and looked back at the family who just left with cold-looking eyes.

"But I have to thank this idiotic fellow!"

Director Sun raised his eyebrow and grinned as he looked inside the restaurant for Wang Xian.

"There!" His eyes brightened up as he walked to a table in the hall immediately.

He still remembered clearly how the young man had shouted at the banquet that night.

"You might want to ask if Qin Guohui dares to say this to me!"

Back then, everyone was shocked, including him.

In particular, Old Qin showed up and chased Second Master Qin out of the Qin Family. Not only this, but Old Qin even bowed and apologized to him.

That scene left a deep impression on him.

How formidable could this young man be, such that even Old Qin needed to bow and apologize to him?

He was only someone from high management under the ruling of Qin Family. It was not an exaggeration to say that he looked highly upon this young man.

Since there was a chance to fawn upon this young man, he must seize it for sure!

Chapter 94: I Don't Have To Do It Myself

"Uncle, please let Manager Huang keep your stuff in the office while we have our meal."

On the other side, Wang Xian smiled and spoke to the middle-aged man who was still in shock.

"Hey, son...thank you. You are a really nice person," the middle-aged man recovered and replied. His eyes were a little red from the incident.

"It's just a small matter. It's fate that brought us together." Wang Xian smiled at the middle-aged man. "Let's go and find a seat."

With regard to this simple middle-aged man, Wang Xian was fond of him.

He still remembered vividly that while living with his sister and grandmother, there was a middle-aged man called "Uncle Zhang" who took great care of them.

Uncle Zhang was a very nice guy and had been very caring towards him. He also had an honest smile at all times and was passionate about everyone around him.

During the harvesting season, Uncle Zhang would always help them, as he knew that Wang Xian's grandmother couldn't take the toll.

After their grandmother passed away, it was also Uncle Zhang who helped them with the funeral matters. He had even spent a lot of money because of that.

I wonder how Uncle Zhang is right now? I should return and repay him for what he has done for me, Wang Xian thought to himself.

The middle-aged man in front of him right now was polite, followed the rules and was similar to Uncle Zhang. A look at him and one could tell that he was a great person.

"I really hadn't expected you to be the boss of this restaurant. Incredible! Really incredible! To be so outstanding at such a young age!"

Su Qian's parents were shocked and their eyes lit up while complimenting Wang Xian.

"I'm just lucky."

Wang Xian smiled. "Come, let us all take a seat. Let's forget about the unhappy events. As for the girl with a poor upbringing, just ignore her in the future. It will be fine as long as the three of you get along well."

"Yeah, yeah." Su Qian and Yuan Yuanyuan nodded their heads while looking at him with eyes of worship.

Handsome and righteous! This is the type of guy that every young girl would fall in love with.

"Yuanyuan, remember to get along with them. These two girls are great friends to have." the middle-aged man said emotionally while caressing his daughter's head.

"I know it, dad. Rest assured and don't worry about me!" Yuan Yuanyuan was sensible and cared a lot about her father.

Wang Xian smiled and said, "If you encounter any issues in school or Rivertown in the future, feel free to look for me."

"Thank you, son."

"Thank you, brother. Thank you very much."

The middle-aged man and Su Qian's parents immediately thanked him.

"It's a small matter. We are all from the same school after all!" Wang Xian waved his hand and the seven of them walked to a table.

"Young Master Wang!"

At this moment, a young man walked over suddenly and greeted Wang Xian.

"Hmm? You are?" Wang Xian looked at the young man who had appeared suddenly.

"Young Master Wang, we met once at the banquet of Old Qin. Perhaps Young Master Wang doesn't remember me."

This person was none other than Director Sun, as he said respectfully.

"Oh, I'm sorry about it." Wang Xian smiled apologetically but still had doubts about his intentions.

"Young Master Wang, this is what happened," Director Sun said immediately. "I bumped into Zhao Jingshan and he told me something."

Director Sun saw the doubtful eyes of Wang Xian and quickly clarified, "Zhao Jingshan is the slightly plump middle-aged man. I just bumped into him and his family at the entrance."

"Hmm? You know them?" Wang Xian frowned.

"I'm not close to him, not even close!" Director Sun explained immediately.

"Zhao Jingshan is a construction material supplier under Qin Family's Property Company. I'm a manager of the company and am capable of some things. He wanted me to cause you some trouble when I bumped into him at the entrance a while ago. Such a despicable person has to be punished!"

"Young Master Wang, I suggest that I let the company stop working with him. Moreover, I'll ask all the developers in Rivertown to not work with him. What do you think of this?" Director Sun asked.

"Mm, I leave this to you," Wang Xian nodded and said to Director Sun. "Thank you."

"Young Master Wang, you are too courteous. It's just a small matter. In that case, I shall not take up any more of your time," Director Sun replied immediately with a smile.

"Wait a minute. That... How do I address you?" An idea struck Wang Xian as he stopped Director Sun.

"Young Master Wang, you can just call me Xiao Sun!" When Director Sun heard

Wang Xian stop him, he was thrilled.

"I'll just call you Director Sun. Director Sun, I have something to trouble you with." Wang Xian looked at him and smiled. "This is the father of my sister's classmate. He is currently working at a construction site. Help me keep a lookout if there are any suitable jobs for him."

"Work?" Director Sun was taken aback. Following which, excitement flashed in his eyes. "Yes, there is, Young Master Wang. We are looking for a Security Department head and there are also many vacant slots in the Quality Inspection Department, which is recruiting. The salary isn't particularly high but is still around several tens of thousands a month," Director Sun remarked. He turned to the middle-aged man and said enthusiastically, "Brother, come look for me! This is my name card, and can I get your number? I'll give you a call after lunch. At that time, I'll bring you over."

The middle-aged man was stunned. Looking at this well-dressed young man, he was at a loss as to what to do.

Although the middle-aged man was from the village, he wasn't silly.

He could roughly deduce the ability of this young man in front of him.

The parents of the girl a while ago were just a small partner of his and they were already doing so well. Currently, this even more incredible person was being so enthusiastic to him. This had completely thrown him off.

"This... Director Sun..." The middle-aged man stood up immediately. He looked at Wang Xian and waved his hand constantly. "Hey son, this wouldn't do. I know what I'm capable of. It's alright if you want me to do some menial work. As for others, I wouldn't be able to do it!"

"It's alright, uncle. You can learn while doing. If you really can't, you are free to switch to a more ordinary job." Wang Xian stood up and patted the shoulder of the middle-aged man. He looked to Director Sun and said, "Director Sun, take down my number. If there's anything, you can call me directly. I'll contact you directly with regard to this uncle in the future."

"Sure, sure." Director Sun nodded his head gladly and took out his phone.

"Alright, let's talk again after lunch." Wang Xian nodded at Director Sun.

"Sure, sure. In that case, Young Master Wang, have your lunch first. We are going for lunch too." Director Sun nodded his head and smiled.

Looking at the shocked look on the middle-aged man, he added, "Uncle, take a seat. It's just a small matter."

"Sigh. Son, you are truly a great guy. Really! Thank you! I have to thank you!" The middle-aged man was so moved that he became incoherent.

"It's really a small matter. Uncle, you are a great guy and I was just helping you within my means."

Wang Xian shook his head and continued, "Let's eat, let's eat. If you all are free in the future, ask Xiao Yu to bring you over. Don't stand on ceremony."

"Thank you, senior," Yuan Yuanyuan replied gratefully.

"You're welcome. We are roommates and will be living together for four years. This is just a small matter!"

Xiao Yu held on to Yuan Yuanyuan's arm and chuckled.

Su Qian's parents, who were sitting at the other end, looked at the young man in shock.

Without having to do anything, there were people coming over to help eradicate that cocky family.

With just a request, he could give the middle-aged man a job that many others desired.

They were convinced that they should ask their daughter to be good friends with his sister.

Chapter 95: Underworld Affairs

"Brother, where are we going?"

After Wang Xian settled the middle-aged man, Xiao Yu, Yuan Yuanyuan and Su Qian questioned him after their lunch.

"It's about two o'clock, why don't we..."

Buzz!

Just when Wang Xian was about to take them to the Summer Sun Resort to relax, his phone suddenly rang.

"Old Xue."

Wang Xian took out his phone and looked at the number with surprise. Old Xue seldom called him. It was always Xue Jing who contacted him the most.

"Hello, Old Xue!"

Wang Xian picked up the phone and greeted doubtfully.

"Wang Xian, are you busy?" Old Xue's voice was heard on the phone.

"Hur? What's the matter, Old Xue?" asked Wang Xian curiously.

"There is something that I would like to discuss with you. Old Qin is with me too. I wonder if you're free in the afternoon!"

Wang Xian hesitated before he nodded, "Okay, I'll pop by!"

"I'll send you the address, or I can get someone to pick you up."

"I can go over on my own. You can just send me the address!"

"Sure, see you later!"

Wang Xian nodded and hung up. He glanced at Xiao Yu and the other two girls with a shrug of his shoulders.

"Xiao Yu, I can't keep you company in the afternoon. I've got something going on!"

"That's great. It would be inconvenient for the three girls to follow you around too. Hehe. Besides, we can check out the school too," said Xiao Yu to Wang Xian with a smile.

"You little one, go ahead and have fun. I've got to go." Wang Xian patted her head and followed them to the school.

He came to the back of the dormitory and rode on his Harley motorcycle before he headed to the place Old Xue sent him.

"Wow, Xiao Yu. The Harley motorcycle that your brother is riding is so cool. Do you think I could stand a chance with him after I slim down?"

Su Qian looked at Wang Xian with affectionate eyes. She then looked at her plump figure with dissatisfaction.

"Hehe, my brother seems to have a girlfriend. But if you slim down, I'm sure you will be gorgeous." Xiao Yu chuckled as she spoke.

"You're very kind," said Yuan Yuanyuan gratefully as she gazed at Wang Xian who had left and Xiao Yu who was right by her side.

"That's enough. I wanted to get my brother to bring us out. But since he has something on, we can walk around and get some daily necessities. We should also decorate our room too."

...

The address that Old Xue sent him was not Summer Sun Resort. It was another place.

An area that was near the sea with many villas - Bamboo Forest Estate.

When he reached it, Wang Xian made a call, and Xue Jing rushed over soon after.

"Brother Wang Xian, you're here. My grandfather and Old Qin are waiting for you!"

"What did Old Xue and Old Qin ask me here for?" Wang Xian asked Xue Jing curiously.

Xue Jing paused before he said, "Should be something to do with the underworld affairs!"

"Underworld affairs?"

Xue Jing nodded slowly. There were two ecosystems in the current modern world -- Society and underworld.

Underworld was a place for people who possessed domineering powers.

Wang Xian followed Xue Jing into the villa, which was surrounded by a bamboo forest. Along the path, he found a quiet stream with a small bridge that made a picturesque scene.

From the wooden door, he entered into a courtyard where he could see some nostalgic and posh-looking houses.

In the courtyard were some ponds with ornamental fish.

Old Qin and Old Xue were sitting under a willow tree on the left, drinking their tea.

"Wang Xian is here!"

Both Old Xue and Old Qin smiled and greeted him as they saw him.

"Sorry to keep both of you waiting."

Wang Xian smiled and sat on the seat beside them. Xue Jing was filling a cup of tea for him.

"I just arrived not long ago too." Old Qin smiled and shook his head, "We wanted to discuss something with you today. Hence, we invited you over."

"What is it about?" Wang Xian took a sip of tea and asked.

"Let me explain." Old Xue straightened his posture with a solemn expression. "It has something to do with the underworld. Something has been brewing in the underworld these past two days. Those hidden clans and sects revealed themselves one after another. I'm afraid there will be upheavals in the underworld soon."

"Oh?" Wang Xian expressed his curiosity, "Hidden clans? Hidden sects?"

"That's right. The number one Ancient Martial Arts Family in Rivertown, Yan Family, returned yesterday after staying out of underworld affairs for 20 years. The Lingluo Sect of the provincial city began their recruitment of disciples all of a sudden. Fierce battles broke out between the two sects in the north due to some cultivation treasures. A sect in the Eastern Sea announced that they will be expanding and recruiting more disciples. The Sacred Followers Guild began their recruitment too." Old Xue explained this slowly to him.

"Yan Family? Disciples' recruitments?" Wang Xian was deep in thought. "Why did these hidden clans and sects start their recruitments all of a sudden?"

"Because they wanted to compete for resources in advance." Old Xue frowned and continued, "Currently, the cultivation resources are lacking. It is even scarce when we're now in the modern era. These hidden clans needed more people to search for resources, tackle other living creatures, and refine medicines."

"Other living creatures?" Wang Xian was stunned as he raised his eyebrows.

"Yes, Wang Xian. You may not know these. Humans are not the only domineering ones on Earth. There are also other creatures around."

"Let's not go into the mysterious ocean. Numerous spirits and monsters lie in the mountains and rivers too. Creatures like sea monsters that lurk around various lakes and the well-known monsters in the mountains are all spirits and monsters!"

"Just like Jianghai Lake in the Rivertown. I'm sure you would have heard of all the tales about the sea monsters in Jianghai Lake."

Upon hearing that, Wang Xian nodded his head gently. Jianghai Lake was a lake that connected to the sea. The lake was huge with a depth of 178 meters.

He knew about the tales with regards to the sea monsters in Jianghai Lake, but he did not pay attention to it.

"The tales about the water and sea monsters have always been around. But not all are rumors. They really exist. Currently, we're lacking cultivation resources. Hence, we need to find other ways to them. Just recently, someone caught some powerful creatures to enhance their own strength, and the effect was significant."

"Currently, various Ancient Martial Artist Families surfaced just to compete for these resources. The underworld will be greeted with bloodshed and brutal fights again. At that time, not only the hidden Ancient Martial Artist Families will be involved, but ancient sects might also join in too."

Wang Xian listened quietly to the conversation between Old Qin and Old Xue. From the conversation, he had a deeper understanding of the cultivation techniques of the various clans and sects in this world.

Currently, not only the ancient martial arts existed, but there were also ancient yoga, Ninjutsu, western Bloodline Art, and Beast Transformation Art.

But, in actual fact, all Cultivation Arts may seem different, but they were similar to each other. Towards the later stages of the cultivation, all the goals of the cultivations were the same.

Wang Xian not only learned about the Cultivation Arts, but he also found out a lot of anecdotes about the underworld's mountain spirits and sea monsters.

That's interesting. Sea Monsters? Currently, my cultivation speed is too slow. Perhaps I can devour them or recruit some sea monsters to build up the Dragon Palace as soon as possible!

Wang Xian pondered to himself. He was not concerned about those hidden clans which surfaced in the underworld again. He trusted himself.

And the Dragon Sect which was developing rapidly!

Chapter 96: Prime Minister Turtle (1)

There was still another reason why Old Qin and Old Xue invited him over for a discussion, and that was "strength in numbers."

They hoped that Wang Xian would ally with them and that they could help one another out.

When Wang Xian understood their thinking, he hesitated for a moment before agreeing to the suggestion.

The reason as to why Wang Xian chose to ally with Old Qin and Old Xue wasn't because of their strength. Instead, he felt that Old Qin and Old Xue were nice people and worthy friends.

Otherwise, with his current strength and the powers of the Dragon Sect, it wasn't necessary for him to ally with them.

When he walked out of the meeting with Old Qin and Old Xue, it was already 8 pm. Wang Xian hesitated for a moment before heading towards the sea.

He hadn't been back for a few days and was wondering about the progress of the establishment of Dragon Sect.

At the seaside, Wang Xian removed his clothes and easily jumped out over 10 meters.

Splash!

After letting out a light roar, Wang Xian transformed into a five-meters long divine dragon.

Five Elements Divine Dragon with five different colors. Wiggling his body, Wang Xian swam towards the island in the middle of the sea at an incredible speed.

Executing water controlling techniques along the way, he arrived at the island 5 kilometers away in a single minute.

Eh? There're quite a number of boats around.

Wang Xian noticed a few boats around the island. The island was brightly lit and he could see some figures moving on the island.

With a thought, an invisible Dragon Power spread towards the island.

Swoosh swoosh swoosh!

Soon, several figures descended by the seaside.

"Dragon King!"

"Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong and his disciple, together with all the Dragonians, rushed over and kneeled down in front of Wang Xian with respect.

"Martial Artist Level Six. Not bad. To be able to reach Level Six in such a short time."

Wang Xian looked towards the group of Dragonians before turning his attention to Mo Qinglong and his disciple.

Mo Qinglong had already reached the Inborn Realm and his disciple had reached Martial Artist Level Eight.

"What's the progress of establishing Dragon Sect?" Wang Xian looked at the Island and asked.

"Dragon King, we are right on track. In just about another month, Dragon Sect will be established. At that time, our might will definitely spread through the world!" Mo Qinglong's eyes lit up as he reported.

"Great. Cultivate diligently!"

Wang Dahai nodded his head. Flipping backward, he dove back into the sea.

"Sending off the Dragon King!" The group of Dragonians kneeled down and shouted in unison.

Wang Xian went over to the Clam girl.

Clam girl opened her shell slowly and revealed her human form. She immediately greeted him.

Wang Xian nodded his head before devouring the marine animals in the sea.

"Bohai Sea is too shallow. The variety of fish is too limited!"

After devouring a small shark, Wang Xian sighed emotionally.

Currently, he was about 80 kilometers from land. However, the seas were only about 18 meters deep. There were barely any schools of fish around.

As compared to the other sea regions where the depth of water could reach over a thousand meters, Bohai Sea was too shallow.

If he wished to increase his level, Bohai Sea would be hard to satisfy his desire.

To increase my level, it would be more effective to look for higher Level marine animals. Higher Level...

Wang Xian pondered. Suddenly, a place appeared in his mind.

Jianghai Lake.

There was a rumor about a huge sea monster in Jianghai Lake four years ago. Some people reported seeing a huge sea monster that resembled a grinding disc.

It had a huge oval-shaped body. Some people caught it in a photograph where one could vaguely see a monster larger than boats surfacing from the water.

However, as the distance was too far, some said that it wasn't a sea monster but just some reflections.

There were also people speculating that it should be some giant sharks or similar marine animals that had swam into Jianghai Lake.

Everyone had their own explanations and this even attracted a group of researchers. They conducted a search of the entire Jianghai Lake but didn't detect any ginormous animal.

Therefore, this ended without a conclusive answer.

However, the rumors of a sea monster in Jianghai Lake didn't just stop there. There were still people claiming to encounter the sea monster from time to time.

However, none had concrete evidence and no one had seen how the sea monster really looks.

Old Qin and Old Xue talked about the sea monster of Jianghai Lake today. In that case, there might really be a powerful sea monster.

Wang Xian thought. Based on his impression, he swam quickly towards where Jianghai Lake was located.

Jianghai Lake was connected to the Bohai Sea. However, since it was deep between the lands, many simply referred to it as Jianghai Lake.

Jianghai Lake covered an area of approximately 20 kilometers.

After passing through an entrance of over 100 meters in length and 40-50 meters in breadth, Wang Xian entered Jianghai Lake.

Who would have expected Jianghai Lake to be deeper than Bohai Sea? It's at least 20 meters deep here.

Wang Xian was slightly shocked. The waters of Jianghai Lake were a little murky. Moving his body, he dove in directly.

The dragon energy I needed for cultivation is too high now. Ordinary fish don't provide sufficient dragon energy. If there're higher Level marine animals, my cultivation speed would also be quicker.

Wang Xian thought. Swaying his tail, he swam towards the middle.

The distance of 20 kilometers wasn't far from Wang Xian. He swam to the middle and started observing the surroundings.

There were few marine animals around. This was a little strange for a lake so huge.

A golden light shot out from Wang Xian's eyes as he looked at the surroundings carefully.

He swam in the vicinity while searching, but couldn't find anything unusual.

Eh? How can there be nothing? If it is like what the people on the Internet have said, the sea monster should be at least 10 meters long. I should be able to find it.

Wang Xian's eyebrows knitted together but he continued swaying his tail slowly.

Growl!

A dragon roar resounded in the Jianghai Lake. Wang Xian released all his aura to announce his arrival at Jianghai Lake.

The current Wang Xian could spread his dragon power to cover a radius of 2 kilometers. All the marine animals within the area were shivering and didn't dare to budge an inch.

The water of Jianghai Lake was ravaged without cause.

Growl!

Wang Xian swam to another person and let out another roar. His dragon roar resounded throughout the entire Jianghai Lake.

Swish!

At this moment, Wang Xian could sense something to his back.

He immediately turned over and stared at the bottom of the lake.

Indeed! The sea monster truly exists!

Wang Xian looked forward and in the direction he was facing, a huge animal was floating up gradually.

It seemed to have been lying on the bottom of the water with its entire body sunk into the mud.

As he floated upwards slowly, the mud on his body slowly fell off.

The image of the giant shell became clearer and clearer to Wang Xian. On the shell, there were small sharp edges that looked like it was made from mud.

So big, so big!

At the front of the large shell that spanned at least 10 meters, a head slowly extended out.

His head was black and had sharp edges on it. Although its eyes were black, it had a glow that could be seen through the water in the middle of the night.

Rawwr! "Who are you?"

He opened his mouth and let out a roar, showing creepy-looking teeth. He looked directly at Wang Xian.

It has intelligence!

When Wang Xian heard this dinosaur-like turtle's growl, he was slightly shocked.

Spiritual Turtle: Level 10

Extractable Dragon Energy: 123,272

A Level 10 Spiritual Turtle? That's equivalent to an Inborn Realm Expert!

Wang Xian was shocked and his eyes lit up with excitement as he stared at this spiritual turtle.

Chapter 97: Prime Minister Turtle (2)

"I am the Dragon King, the world's only true Dragon."

Wang Xian slightly lifted his head and stared at the spiritual turtle. "Succumb to me, or you'll get devoured by me!"

"Succumb? I'm the Turtle Ancestor. You're just a mere Dragon King, and you have the cheek to ask me to succumb to you? Ignorant!"

The spiritual turtle had a high intelligence as he stared coldly at Wang Xian with a tilting head. His eyes had a disdainful look in them.

Even though he could sense the domineering strength from the odd creature in front of him, he was not afraid as his physical size was larger than it.

Besides, he had lived for thousands of years. As the ancestor of the turtles, how could he succumb to anyone?

"Turtle ancestor?"

Wang Xian was a little stunned when he heard the spiritual turtle calling himself the Turtle Ancestor. It was unexpected for him to encounter a cocky spiritual turtle.

"If that's the case, you're choosing the second alternative."

Wang Xian swung his tail gently as he gazed at the gigantic spiritual turtle.

"Courting your own death. Since you interrupted my sleep, I'll eat you up."

The spiritual turtle opened his mouth wide as he attacked Wang Xian without any fear.

He shook his body, and the mud around the area spread out. The entire region turned murky, and the visibility dropped.

"Earth Control?"

Once again, Wang Xian displayed a surprised look when he saw the fluctuation in the surrounding earth.

This was the most formidable marine animal that he had ever encountered. Not only did the creature have intelligence, it even had Superpower.

"I know Earth Control too!"

Wang Xian displayed a cold smile on his face. He slightly wriggled his body, and the soil in the murky sea was filtered from the water. The soil then gathered and formed into a ball of dirt.

When the surrounding water was cleared, Wang Xian saw the spiritual turtle, which had swum to a location within five meters away from him. A smirk surfaced on his face.

"Earthy Thorn!"

Earthy Thorn was a simple technique in his Earth Control Arts. The current Wang Xian was still too weak, and he had yet to master his control of the Five Elements.

If he grew stronger, he could control all the surrounding earth and bury everything around it.

"You can control the earth too."

The Spiritual Turtle was taken aback when he saw the incoming Earthy Thorn. However, there was no fear in him as he lowered his head slowly.

Bam!

The Earthy Thorn landed on the durable shell of the Spiritual Turtle, leaving no trace on it.

"Go to hell!"

The Spiritual Turtle suddenly accelerated as he opened his enormous mouth to bite Wang Xian.

Upon seeing the dense and sharp teeth in his mouth, Wang Xian knew that he could bite off a piece of meat from him if he were caught in it.

"Go and die!"

Wang Xian looked at the Spiritual Turtle with a disdainful look in his eyes. Even though he was only Level Six, he had no fear when confronted by creatures who were of Inborn levels.

As a Five Elements Divine Dragon, Level-ten marine animals could not pose any threat to him.

"Metal counters Wood, Wood counters Earth, Earth counters Fire and Fire counters Metal!"

The five elements reinforce and counteract each other. The colors on Wang Xian's body changed and turned green eventually.

The Azure Dragon with Wood attribution can counteract all Earth in the world!

Wang Xian stretched out his dragon claws with thistles and thorns slithering and twining themselves around the mouth of the Spiritual Turtle.

Roar!

Wang Xian let out a dragon roar while exhaling a gush of green breath.

As the green breath hit the aquatic plants in the surrounding area, the plants began to shoot up frantically.

The water plants entangled themselves to form ropes. They slid towards the Spiritual Turtle and entwined the Spiritual Turtle.

In an instant, the Spiritual Turtle was trapped within the woody field which spanned across a radius of 20 meters.

"Such a powerful Five-elements reinforcement!"

Looking at the woody field that he created, Wang Xian was rather surprised.

When he was in the human form, he was five times weaker than he was in dragon form. Hence, he was unable to create such a powerful woody field.

Moreover, he was unable to interchange the five elements when he was in human form. Hence, he was even weaker, and his combat skill would be weaker by 10 folds.

"Let me go, let me go!"

The Spiritual Turtle struggled violently, but he realized that the seaweed around him was not giving way except to tighten its grip on him.

Besides, the counteract of the five elements made it even more difficult for the Spiritual Turtle, with a heavy body, to break free.

"Turtle meat makes a great tonic. Heh heh, I'll chop off your limbs and barbecue them. Then, I'll cook your head for the soup. Hehe!"

"Oh...no. The head cannot be used for the soup. I'll throw it away. Heh heh!"

Wang Xian revealed his creepy teeth as he observed the turtle with a thought in his mind.

"I'll surrender to you. Don't kill me. Spare my life, Great King!"

The Spiritual Turtle hid his head in his gigantic shell with eyes full of fear as he pleaded.

"Just now, I asked you to surrender to me. You refused. Now, you're surrendering to me because you can't win against me?"

Wang Xian stared coldly.

"Great King, I'll give all the treasures that I've collected to you. Please spare my life!" said the Spiritual Turtle hurriedly.

"Treasures? What treasures?" Wang Xian quickly asked with eyes brightened up.

"I'll get them for you. But please, don't kill me!"

"Fine, don't think of running away. I can easily kill you."

Wang Xian nodded. He was not afraid that the Spiritual Turtle would escape. With a thought, the surrounding seaweed retracted rapidly and turned into ordinary seaweed again.

With a pair of wary eyes, the Spiritual Turtle looked at Wang Xian before he swam to the back.

Wang Xian followed him and came to the place where he'd been just now.

Ka Ka Ka!

The Spiritual Turtle came to the place where he'd been and manipulated the earth below him. As he did that, individual items began to surface and float up.

"Hur? What are all these things?"

Wang Xian looked at the floating things that resembled turtle shells with shock.

"Trophies, King. These are my trophies. Those little turtles who fought with me were all killed by me. These are their shells."

The Spiritual Turtle shifted his gigantic body as he spoke.

"Pervert!"

Wang Xian looked at the pile of turtle shells beside him and blew his dragon beard.

Among these turtle shells, there was one that was about five meters in size. It must have been a formidable one before it was slaughtered by this Spiritual Turtle, unfortunately.

"King, I'm formidable!" the Spiritual Turtle said proudly.

"Fine. I have no interest in your trophies. Swallow this blood essence and do not think of resisting!"

Wang Xian moved his claw, and a drop of Dragon Blood entered the Spiritual Turtle's mouth.

The Dragon Blood was no longer gold in color. Instead, it was five different colors.

The Spiritual Turtle closed his eyes without putting up any resistance.

"It's done. From now on, you'll be the Prime Minister Turtle of the Dragon Palace!"

The moment Wang Xian spotted such an enormous Spiritual Turtle, he had already made up his mind.

The Dragon Palace needed a Prime Minister Turtle!

Ding.

"You've subdued three marine animals and fulfilled the criteria for constructing the Dragon Palace."

"Level-one Dragon Palace can be established deep in the seabed with resistance to floods and fires. It will form a region of its own. The required materials to build one: 100 tons of gold, 100,000 tons of silver, 1 million of brass, 10,000 of refined iron, 1 million of coral reef, one ton each for gemstones with five different colors and one ton of spiritual stones."

At this moment, the system notification sounded off, which made him freeze.

He seldom heard the system notification apart from the beginning where he had just become a dragon. Now, the system actually prompted him about the Dragon Palace.

Initially, Wang Xian thought he needed to build his Dragon Palace by mastering the Divine Dragon Transformation. Never did he expect that the system was building it for him.

Surprise!

Chapter 98: Wang Dahai

It seems like the system still has a lot of functions that aren't unlocked and only would be when I've reached a certain level.

Wang Xian's eyes flickered.

Name: Wang Xian

Race: Five Elements Divine Dragon (Able to transform into a human)

Dragon Energy: 563,421/100,000,000

Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than your own level)

Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)

Five Elements Control

Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation

Level One Dragon Palace: Not built (Required Materials: 0/100)

Dragon Palace Subordinates: Turtle Race (1); Clam Race (1) Lobster Race (1)

It has changed! My personal information has changed!

There are additional line items of "Dragon Palace" and "Dragon Palace Subordinates".

Divine dragons exist in this universe. However, I'm not just an ordinary divine dragon, but also possess a god-like Divine Dragon System. The cultivation of Divine Dragons couldn't extract divine energy by devouring marine animals. Instead, they have to cultivate diligently. As for me, due to the system, I could make use of the system to convert them directly into dragon energy. As compared to the divine dragon race, there's a huge difference!

Similarly, I could build the strongest Dragon Palace directly through the system!

Wang Xian's eyes flickered. Divine Dragon System was relatively more unique. It couldn't make one become an unparalleled Divine Dragon directly, and required that he take one step at a time.

The focus of Invincible Divine Dragon Cultivation System was in cultivation!

Only by going through each step could he become an invincible divine dragon.

One should know that the strongest races of the universe weren't just the dragon race.

However, he could make use of the system to become an invincible existence!

"But!" Wang Xian had a million thoughts running in his mind. In the end, he had a bitter look on his face and couldn't help but curse. "Isn't the material required to build the Dragon Palace a little too much?"

Disregarding others, just a hundred tons of gold would be an astronomical sum.

A hundred tons of gold would be 100 million grams. Taking the price of gold to be $330 per gram, he would need $33 billion.

The $33 billion was even before he considered other materials. The total sum required to build a dragon palace would be astronomical.

Wang Xian's expression darkened. He couldn't even take out a hundred million currently, let alone $30 billion.

"Poor, I'm still too poor."

Wang Xian pulled a long face and took a deep breath. "This is forcing me to rule the world so as to look for the resources!"

"Forget it. I might not need to rule the world but I do need to earn some money. Once I have the money, the gold and other materials could be bought. It is just that spiritual stone wouldn't be easy to get!"

Spiritual stone was a condensed form of pure energy. However, he hadn't seen one previously. Therefore, it was most likely very valuable.

Wang Xian shook his head and stopped thinking about it. He wanted to take this step by step, as it hadn't even been a month since he became a divine dragon.

The money would come and so would the Dragon Palace.

"King!"

At this moment, the spiritual turtle disrupted Wang Xian's thoughts.

Wang Xian looked at the spiritual turtle. The spiritual turtle was drastically different from when he first saw it.

Its shell looked a little sturdier and wasn't like the ground beetle previously. It even looked rather majestic.

"Not bad, not bad. I'll call you Prime Minister Turtle in the future. Don't address me as King. Call me 'Dragon King!'"

"Yes, Dragon King. Prime Minister Turtle thanks Dragon King for the name!"

"Sure, sure!"

Wang Xian looked at Prime Minister Turtle with satisfaction. Although its current appearance wasn't great, it was highly intelligent. A Prime Minister Turtle that doesn't know how to bootlick isn't a good Prime Minister Turtle!

"Why don't you head into the seas? Why do you choose to stay in this lake?" Wang Xian asked peculiarly.

"It's more comfortable here and I won't be disturbed!" Prime Minister Turtle answered honestly.

"Alright."

Wang Xian was a little speechless. Waving his arm, the Earth Dragon Cultivation Arts of the Divine Dragon Transformation was imprinted in his mind.

"Cultivate diligently here. I'll make my move now."

After finishing his words, Wang Xian headed out immediately.

Time flew past quickly, and he had to return.

He had a fruitful night. Not only did he manage to subdue a Prime Minister Turtle but he had also gotten an idea of the process of building his Dragon Palace.

However, no one would have imagined that the sea monster of Jianghai Lake was actually a large and horrifying turtle that spanned over 10 meters.

When he arrived at school from the seaside, it was already past 9 am.

Just as he stepped into the dormitory room, a rough voice sounded.

"What the... Old Wang, you are finally back. I called you so many times but you didn't pick up. Come, accompany me to buy some clothes today."

Wang Xian lifted his head and immediately saw a fat head extending out of the bed.

"Dahai, why are you so early? What a rare occasion!"

Wang Dahai had the same surname as him and was a year older than Wang Xian. He weighed around 190 catties.

He had all the strengths of a fatty such as being honest, upright, and conservative on the outside but passionate on the inside. He was the closest friend Wang Xian had in the dormitory.

Wang Dahai was a local of Rivertown. Typically, he wouldn't report to school before school started. It would seem that he had arrived the previous day and was acting a little strange.

"I have something in mind, hehe." Wang Dahai chuckled.

Looking at his horny look, it must be related to a girl!

"Old Wang, I'll get up right now. Accompany me to buy some clothes!" Wang Dahai stood up as he spoke.

Speaking of Wang Xian's nickname, "Old Wang," there was a meaning behind it.

The story was from the beginning of freshman year. At that time, there was a guy from the opposite dormitory block who liked a girl from their class.

However, that girl was more interested in Wang Xian.

After that guy confessed and got rejected, Wang Xian got another nickname, "Old Wang, the Neighbour" or in short, "Old Wang." [1] Almost everyone in the dormitory addressed him as such.

"Buy clothes? I have to accompany my sister today. My sister has arrived." Wang Xian chuckled.

"Your sister, Xiao Yu, has arrived?" Wang Dahai was a little surprised. "Why don't we ask your sister, Xiao Yu, along?"

"Let me ask her about it." Wang Xian didn't reject the suggestion.

Wang Dahai was a great guy and had been taking good care of him. He had treated Wang Xian to multiple meals and even lent Wang Xian his motorcycle over the summer holidays.

After getting Wang Xian's call, Xiao Yu replied, "Brother, I'm going to take a look at the school clubs with Xiao Mi, Yuanyuan and Su Qian. I guess I won't be going."

Wang Xian nodded his hand. "Alright, have fun. I'll accompany my roommate to get some stuff."

"Give me a moment to wash up!"

Upon hearing Wang Xian's words, Wang Dahai immediately jumped up and started washing up.

"Where are we going to get clothes?" Wang Xian asked.

"City center!"

"Why do you want to go to the city center to get clothes. Can't you just get them from the shops beside the school? Oh right, you haven't told me why you arrived at school so early?"

Wang Xian looked at Wang Dahai.

Hehe! Wang Dahai chuckled. He stuck his head out of the washroom and said, "Let me bring you to have some fun tonight."

"Eh... You got a date? Is she from our school?" Wang Xian asked in shock.

"She's a senior. Hehe, it was initially last night but she went out with her roommates for dinner. Therefore, it was postponed to tonight. Old Wang, you are lucky."

"Damn, why does it feel like you've gotten more handsome since the last time I saw you a month ago. If only you were a little uglier. You would then be able to show how tall and mighty I am."

"Sigh. It's okay, who asked me to be so kind? She said she would be bringing her roommates along. Perhaps they might find you handsome and have a relationship that lasts for a single night with you."

"Old Wang, the Neighbour" was a comic strip character. He took on many roles, among which was a guy who got into an affair with the neighbor's wife.

Chapter 99: Brother Xian, Brother Xian

As Wang Dahai nagged, Wang Xian gave a funny look. After bathing, Wang Dahai changed his clothes and made a few poses in front of the mirror.

"Not bad. Even though I'm slightly plump, my features are perfect, giving off a sense of security."

Wang Dahai looked into the mirror as he was satisfied with his look.

"Will this work this time? Don't get disappointed again!"

Wang Xian looked at him and chuckled. Wang Dahai had an experience of dating a girl from the internet. In the end, the petite girl left after seeing him.

"There's hope this time! I'm sure!"

Wang Dahai's eyes brightened up. "I met this girl before. So, I'm not afraid that she will run away after she sees me."

"All right, let's go!"

Wang Xian laughed as he went down with Wang Dahai.

"Give me the keys. I'll drive you!" Wang Dahai told Wang Xian.

"Eh, your motorcycle was damaged by me. So, I bought another one!" Wang Xian smiled and said.

"Damaged?"

Wang Dahai was stunned and shouted at him, "If you've damage it, just let it be. Why do you still have to buy another one? Look, you should have told me earlier. I have two at home. Why did you have to buy one?!"

Wang Xian felt warm in his heart. Wang Dahai said these things because he knew about his family situation.

Wang Dahai's family was so-so and was considered to be middle class. They were not of high status, but neither were they poor. With a sum of $3,000 monthly allowance, it was considered an average amount.

"Let's go. I'll show you a new bike."

Wang Xian arched his lips slightly as he brought him to the back of the dormitory.

"Wow, Harley. It's the Harley motorcycle. This is my dream heavy duty motorcycle. I'll get one when I'm rich!"

Wang Dahai brightened his eyes as he stared at the Harley motorcycle with an envious look as soon as he was at the back.

With a face full of smiles, Wang Xian took the keys and walked up. "Do you want to try?"

"Sigh, I can only look at it. This Harley costs at least a few hundred thousand. I wonder who the rich guy is who put it here. Envy... If tonight..."

Wang Dahai was talking with a face full of regrets. However, his face stiffened up as he spoke.

He saw Wang Xian take out the key, unlock the bike, and push it out.

"Gosh! Old Wang! Brother Xian! This...this..."

Wang Dahai looked at Wang Xian with astonished expressions.

"What's the matter? Look at my dressing. Don't I deserve this bike?"

Wang Xian smiled and pointed to his clothes as he put on the flashy sunglasses kept in the motorcycle.

"Givenchy. Givenchy's clothes! It's authentic. Old Wang, did you win some lottery?!"

Wang Dahai had just noticed the brand on Wang Xian's clothes. He jumped immediately, shocked.

"There is one thing that I have never told you. I'm actually an affluent second generation in disguise. I can inherit the family's assets now since I've turned 20."

Wang Xian joked with a smiling face.

"Really? Didn't you have only one sister?" Wang Dahai seemed to buy his words as he looked at him.

"Let's go. You just have to know that I'm not a pauper anymore."

Wang Xian beckoned him and asked him to sit at the back seat.

"Gosh, this is so cool!" Wang Dahai rubbed his palms together as he got excited. "Can I try it too?"

"You can ride around the school. But you can forget about riding it in the city center. You don't have a license!"

"That's true. But you got to let me enjoy it during the normal days!"

"Get lost, enjoy my ass!"

"Brother Xian, you'll be the big brother from now on. I'm Xiao Hai!"

Wang Xian started the engine and rode to the city center with Wang Dahai.

As soon as Wang Dahai entered the mall, he began to shop.

The reserved Wang Dahai even bought a pair of golden rimless glasses. What a flashy look!

Wang Xian looked at him speechlessly. "Looks like you really took a fancy to the girl tonight!"

"She's the true love of my life. Brother Xian, tonight is the night!" Wang Dahai patted Wang Xian on his shoulder.

"It's still early now. Where are we going?" Wang Xian looked at the time.

"Let's go back. I want to dress myself up, then recharge myself in an internet cafe!"

Wang Dahai was full of fighting spirit.

Wang Xian followed Wang Dahai back to the dormitory helplessly. After they rested for a while, they came to the internet cafe.

In the evening, Wang Dahai called the girl, but the girl asked him to wait.

Wang Xian asked if the other party would stand him up tonight.

Wang Dahai patted his chest and said she would never do that. In fact, the later they met, the better.

Wang Xian could not figure out his train of thought. But when it was 8 pm, the girl called him.

"Let's meet at the school entrance!"

"Let's go. Haha. 8 pm! Let's have fun tonight!"

Wang Dahai had shiny hair with exhilarating expressions all over his face.

"It's so late. Where are we going at such an hour?" asked Wang Xian speechlessly.

"The pub, of course."

Wang Dahai raised his eyebrows. "Let's go. We'll take the Harley motorcycle, and the remaining three ladies can take a cab."

"All right, let's go!"

As Wang Xian arrived at the entrance with Wang Dahai on the bike, the three trendy-looking girls were standing there.

The three girls were all in mini-skirts. One of them even wore a pair of black stockings.

Temptations in the air.

"Rongrong, this is my roommate, Wang Xian. We're heading to the place on our bike. The three of you will share a cab. Is that okay?"

He spoke with a smile. As soon as Wang Dahai saw them, he hopped off the bike before he came to a girl whose face was round.

"Sure, then I'll see you at the pub."

"Sure, I'll get you a cab before we leave!" said Wang Dahai with smiles all over his face as he acted like a gentleman.

The other two girls next to them observed Wang Dahai before they turned and looked at Wang Xian, who was on the bike.

"It's here. Three beautiful ladies, you may leave first. We'll wait for you at the entrance."

As soon as the cab arrived, Wang Dahai spoke with a smile.

"Sure, we'll meet you at the pub entrance." The girl named Rongrong waved to him as she sat inside.

"Rongrong, is he Wang Dahai? He's fat. But his roommate is quite handsome!"

"Yes, that's him. I turned him down yesterday. But he kept pestering me to hang out with him. Since we've got nothing going on today, let's go out and get high!"

"Then let's enjoy ourselves today. I saw them riding the Harley motorcycle. They should be quite loaded. Let's have a feast today!"

"I'm telling all of you in advance. Don't get yourselves drunk like the other day."

"No, we won't."

"That roommate of his is handsome. Do you want to seduce him later on?"

"Damm you, I've got a boyfriend!"

The girls were laughing and chatting in the cab.

"Charge! My life happiness depends on today!" Wang Dahai sat on the bike and yelled at Wang Xian excitedly.

"Fine, for your happiness. Charge!"

Chapter 100: Love Bar

Love Bar was a bar on a street of Rivertown that was relatively more well-known, relatively well received and had a relatively better atmosphere.

Wang Xian and Wang Dahai reached the entrance of the bar before the girls.

Wang Dahai waited by the side anxiously.

"Why are you so excited? You look just like a bull that's in heat!"

Looking at Wang Dahai, Wang Xian found it hilarious.

"You wouldn't understand. This is true love. If you encounter the girl you really like, you would be the same as me. Rongrong is the cutest girl I've ever seen. I definitely want her to be my girlfriend."

Wang Dahai spoke resolutely.

Wang Xian was taken aback. This was still the first time he had seen Wang Dahai being so serious about chasing after a girl. He patted him on the shoulder and encouraged, "All the best!"

"She's here, she's here!" Wang Dahai saw them walk out from a rented car and quickly went up to receive them.

When Rongrong saw Wang Dahai, she spoke with a smile. "Let's go. We can reserve a table for the five of us to chat and drink!"

"Sure, let's go in."

Wang Dahai nodded his head and the group of five walked towards the bar.

Once they entered the bar, deafening music overwhelmed their ears.

Wang Xian's eyebrows knitted together. This was the first time he'd visited a bar and wasn't used to such an atmosphere.

Looking towards the dancing platform, he saw a group of young men and women fooling around.

Some were even grinding on each other. Under the faint and shimmering lights, there was a sense of vileness filling the atmosphere.

Wang Xian looked at Wang Dahai and noticed that he was also frowning.

The three girls seemed to be familiar with the place as they walked towards a long table. Immediately, the waiter walked over.

"Girls, which set meal would you like to have?" the waiter asked as he handed over a price list to the three girls.

Rongrong took a look at the price list before ordering. "The $1,888 set meal. Besides that, we want two bottles of Chivas Regal!" [\[1\]](#)

"Alright, please wait a moment."

Wang Dahai and Wang Xian sat down. When he saw the prices on the price list, he frowned.

"Dahai, a $1,888 set meal with two bottles of Chivas Regal of $400. That's already more than $2,600!"

"$2,600?" Wang Dahai put aside the price list and whispered, "Old Wang, since I'm here, I've made preparations. If I don't spend this, how could I get the girl?"

"Alright then, all the best!"

Wang Xian smiled and patted his shoulders.

"Come, Rongrong. I had not expected your roommates to all be so beautiful!"

Wang Dahai quickly started flirting. As for Wang Xian, he simply sat quietly and observed.

The waiter quickly brought over the alcohol, fruits, and nuts. Wang Xian took a bottle of alcohol and poured some for himself.

After trying a mouthful, he put it down.

Fake alcohol!

"Handsome, are you from the same class as Wang Dahai?"

Just as Wang Xian was feeling bored and looking around, a girl sat beside him.

The girl had a good figure but her face was a little long. She gave off a "vixen" vibe and could be considered as good looking overall.

"Yeah." Wang Xian nodded his head before looking toward Wang Dahai. "Hey pretty, do you think Dahai has a chance with Rongrong?"

"This..." The girl thought for a while before continuing, "I'll tell you if you finish two more cups."

"Alright." Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders helplessly and gulped down two cups of alcohol. "I believe you can tell me now?"

"I don't know about it. Haha. If Wang Dahai works hard, he might have a chance!"

Wang Xian was speechless upon hearing her reply. It was equivalent to not saying anything.

"Come handsome, let's have a toast!"

That girl leaned over and had half of her body on Wang Xian. At this moment, Wang Xian could even smell her perfume.

Wang Xian frowned, "I'm not good with alcohol."

"Just have a little. Oh right, handsome! Do you have a girlfriend?" the girl asked directly.

"Yeah." Wang Xian hesitated for a while. "I do."

"Huh? You have a girlfriend? Do you mind changing one?" The girl looked at him with her pair of large eyes and even blinked flirtatiously at him.

Looking at the girl, Wang Xian felt as though he was a weak little lamb.

The other party had ample experiences with flirting. Although Wang Xian was being picked up by the girl, he wasn't feeling happy at all.

The girl in front of him couldn't be compared with Guan Shuqing or Lan Qingyue at all. She was just like a prostitute to Wang Xian.

Shameless and revealing!

Wang Xian wasn't too interested in continuing chatting, and simply said a few perfunctory words in response.

That girl saw how Wang Xian acted and started frowning. Contempt flashed in her eyes and she went back to her previous seat beside the other girl directly.

At about 10 pm, Wang Dahai said to Wang Xian, "Let's go to the bathroom, Old Wang!"

"Sure."

Wang Xian nodded his head and followed him to the bathroom.

The girls behind them took a look at them but soon went back to playing among themselves.

"How was it?"

Entering the washroom, Wang Xian glanced at Wang Dahai and asked.

"This..." Wang Dahai frowned. "Rongrong is pretty good, but... But..."

"Doesn't feel like a student and was very open?" Wang Xian hesitated for a moment and added.

"Yeah!" Wang Dahai didn't know how to describe it and simply nodded his head.

For a female university student to be so open in such a place, it was clear that she was a frequent patron. This made Wang Dahai, who was a little chauvinistic, a little uncomfortable.

"That's how I felt too. Dahai, you've got to think about it!"

"I know. Let's see how it goes. It was very comfortable to chat with her," Wang Dahai replied after thinking for a moment.

"Mm!"

Wang Dahai took out a cigarette to smoke. After he was done, he signaled to Wang Xian to return.

The two of them walked towards their seats. There were a lot more people at the bar than when they had arrived. This was natural, as the nightlife had just started after 10 pm.

"Huh?"

To their surprise, they saw four other men when they were back at their seats.

These four young men were sitting in their seats and chatting happily with the three girls.

On the table, there were five bottles of imported wine and over 20 bottles of beer.

Wang Xian and Wang Dahai exchanged gazes before finding another place to sit.

"Come Dahai, let me introduce them to you. This is Lingling's boyfriend and our friends. We happened to bump into them so I asked them over. It's livelier with more people!"

Rongrong moved towards Wang Dahai and spoke to him with smiles.

"Rongrong, is this the handsome guy who is wooing you? He's not as handsome as me!" A young man beside Rongrong took a glance at Wang Dahai and chuckled.

"You are handsome?" Rongrong rolled her eyes at him.

"Am I not?" The young man leaned over towards Rongrong.

"Scram! Get further away from me!" Rongrong stretched over to whack him.

"Don't!"

Seeing the two of them flirting with each other, Wang Dahai's eyebrows twitched and wasn't looking well.

"Dahai, shall we go?" Wang Xian saw everything. He moved towards Wang Dahai and spoke softly.

"Mm, alright!" Wang Dahai took a deep breath and forced out a smile. He looked at Rongrong and said, "Rongrong, I'm sorry. We just received a call and have something urgent to attend to. We will be going off now!"

"Huh?" Rongrong frowned upon hearing Wang Dahai. However, she immediately remarked, "In that case, get the bill before you go!"

"Alright!" Wang Dahai nodded his head unwillingly. He shouted to the waiter at the corner, "Waiter, bill please!"

"Alright, sir." A waiter walked over. "Your total bill..."

"Wait a minute. Get us two more cartons of beer and two bottles of whiskey!" At this moment, one of the young men interrupted.

"Alright, sir." The waiter nodded his head. After recalculating, he continued, "Adding those that this mister ordered, your total bill is $9,380!"

"What?? $9,380?"

Wang Dahai was shocked and looked at the waiter in disbelief!

Chapter 101: Fight

"Yes, Sir. $9,308. This is your receipt. You may check."

The waiter nodded and passed him the receipt.

Wang Dahai took the receipt with an embarrassed look. When they started to drink, the cover and a few drinks had cost just more than $2,000.

Even after a second round of drinks ordered, he calculated that it would only add up to not more than $4,000. How did it end up at $9,308?

But when he looked at the drinks that were ordered while they were away in the bathroom, Wang Dahai darkened his expression.

Five bottles of alcohol that cost more than $4,000. On top of that, those fruit and snack platters they ordered added up to the $9,308.

The price was clearly stated, and the pub was not at fault.

Wang Xian looked at the bill and darkened his expression. Wang Dahai did not have over $9,000 with him. His family was well-off, but not to the extent of getting more than $10,000 for his monthly allowances.

$9,000 was peanuts to Wang Xian. He could pay without batting his eyes.

But, he was unhappy with what the three girls did.

They probably treated Wang Dahai as someone who could be bullied by his generosity.

It is right to treat and pay for the three of you. But your friends tagged along. What does that mean?

Wang Xian looked at Wang Dahai, who was looking embarrassed.

Wang Dahai was a person who did not want to shame himself. He could not bring himself to say something as he would rather not disgrace himself.

"More than $9,000?"

Wang Xian took over the bill and put it on the table. He told the waiter, "When we were here, we only ordered drinks that cost about $2,600. We'll pay for that. We did not order the rest."

"This..." The waiter looked at Wang Xian, "So who will pay for the rest?"

"You'll have to ask them that. We are only paying for what we drank!" Wang Xian said nonchalantly.

"Hur?" Three girls and four young men looked over at Wang Xian.

"What? You want us to pay?" the girl who seduced Wang Xian just now frowned at them and asked.

"The drinks and fruits that we treated the three of you to will be paid for by us. The ones that you treated your friends to should be paid for by you guys!" Wang Xian stared at the girl and said.

"What? What do you mean by this?"

Upon hearing what Wang Xian said, Rongrong stood up angrily and glared at Wang Dahai.

"Wang Dahai, what do you mean by this? You asked us out to the pub, and now you want us to pay for ourselves?"

On hearing Rongrong's question, Wang Dahai's expression was even more awful than before. He gritted his teeth, lifted his chin, and stared at Rongrong, "I'll treat you to your drinks. But not your friends!"

"Besides, you guys just ordered the drinks that amount to $9,000 while we were in the bathroom. Do you think I'm a fathead?"

Wang Dahai had finally seen the true colors of Rongrong, so he spoke without giving her any face.

"Fathead?" Rongrong jeered at him, "Hey, you were the one who asked us out. Now you think we've ordered too much, and you refuse to pay for it."

"Do you count yourself as a man? If you don't have that kind of money, don't woo any girls. $9,000 is considered expensive? Then why are you here?" A girl next to Rongrong criticized with a sharp remark.

"That's right, you two paupers. If you had said that you're broke, we would not have come out with you. Now you refuse to foot the bill. Are you a man? How dare you ask people out when you're acting this way. Aren't you a joke?"

The three girls took turns to mock him as they looked at him disdainfully.

Upon hearing their remarks, coldness flashed in Wang Xian's eyes. He looked at Wang Dahai, who was quivering and took a step forward. "We're buying drinks for the three of you. Not your friends. So? You need to bring your friends along to get the treats? Don't they have money?"

"Hey, lad. What do you mean by this? Are you saying that we are so broke that we have to get free drinks from you?"

A young man rolled up his sleeves as he stood up. He stared coldly at Wang Xian when he heard what he said.

"If you have the money, how about paying for what you've ordered?" Wang Xian stared at the young man and said emotionlessly, "We'll pay for the beginning round of drinks. You can pay for the rest that you've ordered!"

"I finally got it. Both of you are just too broke, and you guys are finding excuses to leave. If you are broke, why did you ask us out? How funny. Guys like you actually want to woo girls. What a dumbass!" A girl scorned Wang Dahai and Wang Xian.

"Wang Dahai, I never expected you to be someone like this. Guys like you should be made known in the school forum. Let everyone witness what a pauper you are. You're broke, and you acted tough by asking us out? I bet you borrowed that motorcycle of yours from someone else!" Rongrong said to Wang Dahai coldly.

"You..." Wang Dahai stared at Rongrong, who was unkind with her words, with his eyes red.

"We were blind as we thought you were just ordinary students. Never did I expect that... Hehe!"

Wang Xian scoffed and continued, "We'll pay for the starting orders. Those that you added on, you'll pay for yourself."

"Waiter, we'll pay $3,000. The rest you can get from them. We didn't order that!"

The waiter frowned as he looked at the girls and the four young men.

"Hey, what do you mean by that?" Rongrong pointed at Wang Xian and asked furiously.

"Am I not being obvious enough? Whoever ordered the drinks pays for them," Wang Xian said coldly.

"Pauper, you're penniless and yet you tried to woo a girl. You're a thrash!" the young man said to Wang Xian in a cold tone.

"Heh heh." Wang Xian sneered, "Since you're not a thrash, you can pay for it."

"Damn you, I have the money!" The young man took his wallet from his pocket and slammed it on the table. "But I don't like what I see. I'll not pay for the bill. You guys are leaving without paying after you asked the girls out?"

"I have the money too, but I'm not spending it on thrashes!" Wang Xian put his foot on the table as he swept his gaze across the three girls. Eventually, he stopped at the young man and spoke coldly.

"Damn, are you seeking trouble? F*ck you. Didn't you find out who I am? I can beat the shit out of you guys!"

"F*ck, you're arrogant. Let me tell you this. Today, you're paying it whether you like it or not. Otherwise, I'll make sure you guys can't walk out of the door."

"Two jerks are running away without paying after asking us out?"

Upon seeing the conceited look of Wang Xian, the young men and girls stood up and glared at him.

One of the young men even removed his shirt, revealing his vest. The areas that the vest could not conceal were filled with tattoos.

"Fine!"

Wang Xian wet his dry lips. He picked up an unopened bottle of wine from the table and smashed it at the middle young man!

Bam!

Chapter 102: A Man Stopping 10 Thousand Men

Argh!

A blood-curdling scream propagated throughout the bar and even overwhelmed the deafening music.

Tragic, really tragic!

The whole bottle of alcohol smashed into the head of a man, making him bleed profusely immediately.

The other three young men and girls were stunned. They looked at their companion, whose head was bleeding profusely, in disbelief.

"Damn it. How dare you start the fight!"

That young man with tattoos behind his back looked viciously at Wang Xian and growled angrily.

"Start the fight?"

Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at this young man and grabbed another bottle of beer from the table.

He did not make use of his great strength and did not bother to talk to them.

This was because this group of people wouldn't require him to use his full strength. Moreover, he did not like to talk while fighting.

"Scumbags! You guys are too much!"

Seeing that Wang Xian had started the fight, Wang Dahai, who was standing behind Wang Xian, was initially hesitant. He clenched his fist tightly before grabbing another bottle of beer.

His brother had already started the fight for his sake. How could he possibly just stand there and watch?

What kind of brother would he be if he just stood by?

The other few young men found it hard to accept, as they had never expected these two young men to start the fight the moment they couldn't agree on things. Furthermore, they were so ruthless!

The moment Wang Xian saw Wang Dahai readying himself, he revealed a smile.

That's how a brother should be. They should fight together, carry guns together, sleep together and visit prostitutes together. [\[1\]](#)

"Fuck! Bastards! Don't think I'm afraid of you!"

The other three young men were looking hideous and immediately charged towards Wang Dahai and Wang Xian!

However, there was no way their power and strength could be compared with Wang Xian.

Bam bam!

The two bottles of beer landed on two other people. As for Wang Dahai, he was 1.8 meters tall and weighed over 190 catties.

Most people wouldn't be a match for him. Therefore, the three young men were put to the ground easily.

"They must be eager to die! How dare they touch us!"

A young man held onto his head and looked menacing.

"You guys... How dare you guys cause trouble here..." Rongrong shrieked and pointed to Wang Xian and Wang Dahai. Her face had turned as white as a sheet.

"Grrr. Fight, don't stop!"

"Can't even defeat two when there're four of you? Trash! Get up and fight!"

The crowd in the bar noticed the fight and started cheering loudly.

They were here for fun and it was better for them when the bar was livelier.

"Weak and fragile!"

Wang Xian looked coldly at the four young men struggling to get up. He grabbed another bottle and taunted, "Come, let's continue!"

"How dare you... You're going to die..."

The tattooed young men, whose head was covered in blood, stared at Wang Xian. He was seething with anger. "If you can walk out of Love Bar tonight, I wouldn't be able to show myself here in the future!"

"What's the matter? Who's fighting? Who's fighting? Get out if you want to fight!"

At this moment, 5-6 security guards of the bar rushed over and shouted loudly.

"Fuck! Wait here if you dare!"

Although the tattooed young men saw the security guards rushing over, he showed no fear and roared loudly.

"What's the matter? Still want to fight?" When the middle-aged security guard heard him, he frowned and walked over.

"If I don't cripple these two brats, my name wouldn't be Fifth Master Gong!"

The young man with the tattoo took out his phone, ignored the security guard and dialed a number.

The group of security guards frowned as they turned their attention to this young man with tattoos.

"Boss, it's me, Fifth Master Gong!"

One of the security guards was shocked and murmured to the middle-aged man beside him.

"Fifth Master Gong, if you are causing trouble, please get out. Don't do it in the Love Bar!" the middle-aged security said to the young man with tattoos.

"I'll leave after crippling these two brats. They dare to touch me? I'll kill them!"

Fifth Master Gong's face sank and he roared loudly.

"Wang Xian... What should we do now?" Wang Dahai could sense the savage vibes from Fifth Master Gong. He wasn't even afraid of the security guards! At this moment, Wang Dahai felt a little flustered.

The reason why he joined the fight was also because he was in the heat of the moment. However, the other party was clearly calling for reinforcements and had threatened to cripple them. This made him a little scared!

"What should we do? It's obvious to continue whacking them before their reinforcement arrives. We couldn't be waiting for them to be here to beat us up, right?"

Wang Xian smiled at Wang Dahai. To Wang Dahai's astonishment, Wang Xian charged towards Fifth Master Gong directly.

Everyone was shocked!

They had not seen anyone who fought in such a manner.

Under normal circumstances, when the other parties were all put to the ground and were calling for reinforcements, the one who started the fight would typically run or just wait.

However, this young man started the fight once again!

When Wang Xian charged over, he saw that Fifth Master Gong was filled with shock and disbelief.

He smiled at him, "Aren't you calling people over? In that case, I shall see if I can kill you before your guys arrive!"

The moment he finished his sentence, he smashed the bottle in his hand on Fifth Master Gong's arm.

Argh! Fifth Master Gong let out a horrifying shriek. His arm had already been deformed.

His face was filled with horror.

He isn't playing by the rules!

"Continue!"

Wang Xian smiled again at Fifth Master Gong. Under his horrified gaze, he smashed towards the other arm!

Bam! Crack crack!

The sound of bottles and bones cracking propagated once again. The crowd was all shock by the development.

That young man really wants to kill Fifth Master Gong!

The expressions on the other three injured young men were as white as sheets as they looked towards Wang Xian.

As for the other three girls, they were lost and flustered. They cuddled together and were filled with fear as they looked at Wang Xian.

"Your guys are a little slow!"

Wang Xian smiled sarcastically as he spoke to Fifth Master Gong and grabbed another bottle.

"No.. No... No... Please..."

Fifth Master Gong was completely petrified. He was truly afraid this time.

"Who the fuck dared to touch my brother!"

At this moment, an angry growl sounded.

Fifth Master Gong was thrilled and stared at Wang Xian menacingly.

"You are finished! You are finished! Haha!"

Over 10 people rushed over. Everyone in the group was burly, and a middle-aged man in front of the group looked coldly over.

Bam!

Wang Xian still smashed the bottle over as the shriek of pain sounded once again.

"Fuck, you dare to continue!"

The group that charged over saw Wang Xian smashing the bottle down and heard the wail of Fifth Master Gong. Among them, one burly young man dashed towards Wang Xian directly.

Bam!

With a simple sweeping kick, the young man that was dashing over was sent flying back and landed heavily on the sofa by the side.

Instantly, everyone was stunned.

Expert!

This young man isn't simple!

No wonder he wasn't afraid of anything!

Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at them before revealing a faint smile. "Just a dozen people? I'm afraid this might not be enough!"

The group that arrived with momentum frowned when they saw how calm Wang Xian was.

This young man had just sent one of them flying away with a single kick. Moreover, the man that was sent flying didn't get up after the kick. It was clear that the young man was strong!

The bar quietened down suddenly as everyone looked to the young man standing in the middle.

He had the vibes of being able to stop 10 thousand men!

Chapter 103: Is it Over?

"Get Brother Panther here!"

The middle-aged man who was standing in the middle told a young man. A dozen people did not make a move against Wang Xian.

"Lad, there are not many fearless people like you. Aren't you afraid of death?"

The middle-aged man threw a glance at the dreadful Fifth Master Gong before he spoke to Wang Xian while staring at him.

"Heh, just a few of you?" Wang Xian sneered at them.

The middle-aged man raised his eyebrows as he looked at the young man in front of him with bewilderment.

Fearless and composed, disregarding all of them.

An ordinary young man could not possibly possess such a demeanor.

The middle-aged man, unlike Fifth Master Gong, knew how to think. The young man in front of him must have some backings.

However...

He took out a cigarette casually and lit it. "Lad, arrogant people will not have good endings!"

Once Brother Panther arrived, this lad would have to pay the price regardless of how formidable he was.

On the other hand, a young man trotted to a private room along with a security guard of the pub.

"Brother Panther, someone beat our buddies up." As soon as the door was opened, that young man quickly reported to the middle-aged man inside.

"What?" There were about six people in the room. The one who was known as Brother Panther was rather muscular. He was slightly stunned before he stood up.

"Where are they?" Brother Panther calmly asked.

"They are in the pub now. Fifth Master Gong fought with two young men, and he got beaten up badly!" the young man replied at once.

"Oh? In my pub?" A young man sitting in the middle lifted his chin puzzledly. With a smile, he said, "Interesting. Let's check it out!"

"Brother Panther, Second Master, the one who beat Fifth Master Gong was a juvenile. He is formidable. He can send a person flying with just a kick," said the young man at the side.

"Regardless of how formidable he is, I'll not let him off for beating up my buddy!" Brother Panther said coldly. He turned to the young man at the side, "Second Master, sorry to cause you trouble over here."

"It's all right!"

The young man gestured as he did not seem to be bothered by it. Looked like he was in a good mood today!

"Fine, I want to see who dares to lay his finger on my buddy!"

Seeing that Second Master was not mindful, cold radiance flashed in Brother Panther's eyes as he looked at the place where people were gathering. He bellowed, "How dare he beat up my people. Let me see how formidable he is!"

The surrounding people were shocked as they quickly turned around and looked at the source of the voice.

"It's Brother Panther, Brother Panther!"

"It's really Brother Panther. I guess that juvenile is doomed!"

Some people exchanged whispers in fear when they saw Brother Panther walking over.

As Wang Dahai listened to the whispers around him, he displayed an anxious look on his face as he clenched his fists tightly.

Wang Xian watched the approaching people emotionlessly. But he raised his eyebrow when he spotted someone.

The Second Master who was next to Brother Panther froze as the smile on his face slowly disappeared.

"Were you the one who hit my buddy?" Brother Panther glared at Wang Xian coldly as he pointed his finger at him.

"Brother Panther, it was him. Brother Panther, you must avenge me!" Fifth Master Gong, who was lying in a pool of blood, said with a hideous face.

However, the Second Master who was standing beside Brother Panther quickly trotted towards Wang Xian while they were exchanging conversations.

"Young Master Wang, I did not expect to see you here. This is my fault." The Second Master ran over and greeted him with fear. He was gritting his teeth.

Damm, this bunch of useless things!

He called some friends here for a celebration as he managed to pull some strings with Wang Xian. Never did he expect that he would encounter such a thing.

He swept his gaze across Fifth Master Gong, who was lying on the floor, with a strong desire to destroy him for good!

"It's nothing. I just fought with some of them. I'll leave this in your hands. My friend and I will go back now. Let's meet for lunch someday," said Wang Xian to the young man before him, who was the Director Sun he'd met yesterday. Wang Xian peered at Wang Dahai, who was looking worried and gloomy.

"Yes, Young Master Wang. Leave this to me, and I'll make sure you're happy with the outcome." Director Sun nodded hastily in assurance.

"Okay!" Wang Xian nodded. He walked to Wang Dahai and said, "Let's go, Dahai!"

Wang Dahai was stunned as he followed Wang Xian outside in bewilderment.

Everyone was stunned!

What's going on?

Brother Panther was dumbfounded too when he saw the Second Master running to the juvenile and speaking to him respectfully.

Eventually, he witnessed the departure of the juvenile.

He had a mixed expression when he saw the juvenile walking past him.

But he remained silent as Second Master walked towards him.

"Second Master, he... he..." Brother Panther pointed shockingly at the juvenile who left.

Director Sun took out a cigarette slowly. "Panther, don't you know how to manage your subordinates?"

Brother Panther froze as he panicked while looking at Director Sun. "Second Master, what have I done wrong? Please... let me know..."

"Break their limbs and make sure they disappear from Rivertown. Teach these three girls a lesson too," Director Sun said slowly.

What Director Sun said shocked everyone around him.

What's going on? Why did the Second Master give such instructions?

That juvenile?

"I know you have a lot of questions in your head. What's the reason for the celebration tonight?" Director Sun looked at Brother Panther and asked impassively.

"Because... Because you befriended such a formidable expert." As Brother Panther spoke, his eyes were agape. "Second Master, could that juvenile be..."

Director Sun nodded his head slowly. "I wish I could save some face for you.

But it was your men who courted their own death!"

Brother Panther was appalled as trepidation filled his eyes.

Today, Second Master Sun had invited them out to have some drinks. Obviously, he was in a chirpy mood. Hence, they were puzzled and asked him about it.

In the end, the Second Master told them proudly that he had befriended a formidable person who was one of the supreme people in the entire Rivertown.

His remark shocked them. They would look up to anyone who was favored by the Second Master.

On top of that, the Second Master made another remark which startled them the most.

He was someone who could make Old Qin bow and apologize.

They were unable to stay composed after hearing these words. That person is Old Qin!

The Second Master could enjoy his current status because he worked for the Qin Family.

"I know what to do!" Brother Panther took a deep breath and stared coldly at the Fifth Master Gong. "Fifth Master Gong, you're gonna get us killed."

"Break their limbs!"

A resentful bellow shocked the rest of the bar.

What's the situation now?

Fifth Master Gong and his bunch of friends, including the three girls, stared at Brother Panther with disbelief and despair.

"Is it over?" asked Wang Dahai, who was following behind Wang Xian as he looked over his shoulder dumbfoundedly.

"Yes, it's over. What else do you want?"

All of a sudden, Wang Dahai hugged Wang Xian and cried.

"Sob sob, Old Wang, I'm out of love. Out of love! I never thought that Rongrong was such a person!"

Chapter 104: Military Training

Wang Dahai had just gotten dumped. Using his own words, it was being dumped before getting into a relationship.

Rongrong was the girl he'd liked the most since he was born. However, the shame was that... her character was poor.

Nonetheless, this didn't stop Wang Dahai from feeling like he got dumped. He dragged Wang Xian along to drink for the entire night in memory of his failed relationship.

They drank from the wee hours of the day until dawn broke, and Wang Xian accompanied him for the entire night.

When he woke up, it was already 4 in the afternoon.

"Dahai, Dahai."

Wang Xian tried to wake Wang Dahai.

"No... Shit, it's already 4 pm! I still have to report to class at night!" Wang Dahai exclaimed and quickly sat up. "My head is aching from the drinking!"

"Let's get up and go get dinner. Let's go, I'll treat you to something good!"

"First-grade Restaurant?" Wang Dahai's eyes lit up.

They'd had a long conversation the previous night and Wang Xian told him about the fact that he was the boss of First-grade Restaurant.

"Brother Xian, Brother Xian! Let's go and have something good to relieve my sorrows of being dumped!"

Wang Dahai jumped up immediately. From his excited looks, he didn't look like he just got dumped.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head. He changed into another set of clothes before giving Xiao Yu a call.

"I've also called my sister and her roommates. Oh right, where's Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng?"

Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng were the other two people in the same dormitory. In his dormitory, Wang Dahai and Wang Xian were closer to each other.

Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng were closer to each other. Nonetheless, the four of them had a cordial relationship.

"I don't know. They must be with their girlfriends."

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head but still called them to verify. However, they were accompanying their girlfriends and couldn't come.

Wang Xian didn't press further and headed towards the girl's dormitory with Wang Dahai.

"Brother!"

Xiao Yu, Yuan Yuanyuan and Su Qian walked over. Xiao Yu walked to his side joyously and held on to his arm.

"Before we go get dinner, let me introduce him. He is my brother, Wang Dahai!"

Wang Xian explained to the group of girls. After which, he introduced the girls to Wang Dahai.

"Hello, pretty!" Wang Dahai chuckled. However, his attention fell on Su Qian and remained there for some time.

"Let's go for dinner." Wang Xian laughed. "Xiao Yu, are you guys starting on military training tomorrow?" [\[1\]](#)

"Yeah, 20 days of military training. That's horrible." Xiao Yu pouted and said grumpily. "After the military training, we probably will tanned too."

The group chuckled and arrived at First-grade Restaurant.

First-grade Restaurant had returned to normal operations by today. However, it was still filled with customers and the popularity of First-grade Restaurant hadn't subsided on the Internet.

Currently, the net profit of First-grade Restaurant could reach approximately $1 million a day.

It could be considered very high.

However, when he recalled the materials he needed to build the Dragon Palace, Wang Xian could feel his head starting to ache.

During Dinner, Wang Xian called Guan Shuqing over too. This made Wang Dahai a little dumbfounded as he gave a "thumbs up" to Wang Xian.

After the group finished their dinner, they headed back towards the school.

The school was starting officially today. Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing were chatting happily. After not seeing each other for two days, they had a lot to talk about.

As for Wang Dahai, he got closer to Su Qian and was trying to impart onto her his experiences at the University of Rivertown.

After parting with the girls, Wang Dahai looked at the back view of Su Qian and suddenly blurted out, "Haiz...Old Wang, I feel that I'm in love again!"

Pfft!

Wang Xian was drinking from a bottle. When he heard what Wang Dahai said, he almost spit it out.

"Brother, you are in love again?" Wang Xian looked at him in astonishment.

"I'm serious about it this time. Did you notice how cute Su Qian is? It's especially so for her plump face. Old Wang, my spring is coming again! I've made up my mind! I'm going to woo her!"

Wang Dahai spoke passionately. However, when he saw Wang Xian simply walking towards the classroom, he quickly asked, "Hey, hey. Old Wang, do you think I stand a chance?"

"Yes, you do!" Wang Xian replied helplessly.

"That will do. I've decided to bring water to Su Qian during her military training period and show her warmth!"

...

Wang Xian was speechless. When the two of them arrived in the class, most of the students were already there.

Wang Xian specialized in International Economics and Trade. Therefore, the guys far exceeded the number of girls. Moreover, beautiful girls were few and far between.

The prettiest of them all was Su Mei'er. However, she was very flirtatious and many did not have a good impression of her.

When he stepped into the room, Wang Xian immediately felt gazes upon him. Turning around, he saw Su Mei'er shifting away her gaze in a hurry. In her eyes, there was fear.

Wang Xian smiled and found two seats for him and Wang Dahai.

Soon, the school counselor walked in. The school counselor was a young man. After taking attendance, going through the questions they did for examination last year, and reminding the students to study diligently, he left.

The second year was much easier than the first year. There weren't many miscellaneous matters to attend to and they had more free time.

After two lessons in the morning the second day, Wang Dahai rushed to Wang Xian. "Let's go, Old Wang. Have you found out what I've asked you about?"

"Didn't you add her on WeChat*? Can't you ask her yourself?" Wang Xian looked at him, feeling speechless.

"You don't understand! I couldn't make it so obvious. It would be horrible if she thinks that I am the same as those casual guys! Quick, quick!"

Wang Dahai was pressing him and Wang Xian had no choice but to walk ahead helplessly. "Let's go. I'll bring you over!"

Seeing Wang Dahai regaining the vitality of spring, Wang Xian was still very happy about it. At the very least, Wang Dahai wasn't severely affected by being dumped.

The sun was vicious today and this was something that the year one students wouldn't like to see.

As the intense sunlight shone down, this group of spoiled students all felt miserable.

Wang Xian brought Wang Dahai to a spot in the field, found a place and sat down. "This is where my sister and her classmates are having their military training. Su Qian is also here."

"Let us wait a while. When it's their break time, we will go bring them some water!"

Wang Dahai chuckled as he looked around fervently, trying to spot Su Qian.

Wang Xian looked across and noticed that, after the girls put on the military cap, it wasn't easy for him to see the girls' looks. Therefore, he took out his mobile phone to play.

Perhaps the students just had their break. Therefore, the tutors didn't give them a break despite Wang Xian and Wang Dahai waiting for half an hour.

Under the intense sun, one could see that every student's face was turning a little red.

Wang Dahai was a little plump and didn't take the heat well. He wiped off the perspiration on his forehead. "It's so hot today. Luckily, there was rain for a few days during our military training last year!"

"Only by going through trials and tribulations can you get your girl!" Wang Xian looked at him and chuckled.

"Oh no! Someone has fainted!"

At this moment, a scream sounded from the side.

Wang Xian and Wang Dahai immediately looked over and saw a student lying on the ground. The military officer immediately carried her up and ran towards Wang Xian and Wang Dahai's location where there was more shade.

Chapter 105: Sacred Followers Guild

"Get out of the way. Can those two students give up their seats?"

The instructor yelled at Wang Xian and Wang Dahai as he carried the student over.

"She must have fainted from the heatstroke!"

Wang Dahai was shocked as he stood up hastily and gave up his seat.

Wang Xian also stood up when he saw the instructor lay the girl down on the ground.

At this time, two doctors ran over.

Apart from the school doctors, the regular hospital doctors were present during the military training at the University of Rivertown to prevent any accidents.

Two doctors, a middle-aged man and a 27 to 28-year-old female doctor, sprinted over.

"Doctor Sun, let me take a look first. She must be suffering from heatstroke!" said the middle-aged school doctor to Doctor Sun as he carried his medical equipment.

"Sure, Doctor Song, you can examine her first." Doctor Sun nodded.

At this time, Wang Xian felt Wang Dahai tugging his arm. He peered over with doubt. Wang Dahai was pouting his lips in a direction.

Wang Xian looked over.

That doctor was about 28 years old. She wore a white gown that couldn't hide her bosomy figure. Her white gown was pushed up at the chest area.

She had a fair and refined profile. With bun-up hair, she looked just like a goddess.

Wang Xian was in a stupor for a moment as he found her familiar. He then recalled the same Doctor Sun at the previous accident the other time.

"Her body feels hot, it doesn't seem like she got heatstroke!"

The anxious voice of the middle-aged school doctor was heard, "Give her some cold water before we apply some medicine on her!"

"She's not having a heatstroke? Didn't the students have their check-up in advance? Check her heartbeat to see if there are any problems." Doctor Sun continued, "Let me do it since it's more appropriate."

"Sure!" The middle-aged school doctor agreed immediately while Doctor Sun took over.

Doctor Sun took out her stethoscope immediately and placed it at the girl's chest area.

"Gosh, her heart is beating very slowly!" Doctor Sun's expression had a drastic change. She flipped the eyelid of the girl, "Her eyes are red. This is not a heat stroke."

"Her breathing is weak. We must send her to the hospital immediately!" said the middle-aged school doctor as he placed his finger on the girl's nose.

"What's going on? Is she alright?" Just then, two school in-charges rushed over and consulted.

"It's not a heat stroke. It should be some other illness. We need to get her to the hospital now for an examination!" the middle-aged school doctor replied immediately.

"How serious!" The two school teachers frowned.

"Hurry, get the car now. We're sending her to the hospital before it's too late!" Upon seeing the motionless girl, Doctor Sun spoke anxiously.

"Okay, I'll get the car now," said the two school teachers who were panicked too.

The impact would be huge if students had any accidents during military training in school.

"Let me take a look." At this time, Wang Xian spoke when he saw the frail-looking girl.

"You..." Upon hearing Wang Xian, everyone turned to look at him.

"Don't you fool around..." said the middle-aged school doctor impatiently as he realized how young and inexperienced Wang Xian was.

"Wait, you..." Doctor Sun looked at Wang Xian as she observed him carefully with a pair of refined eyes. "You were the one in that accident..."

"Yes, let me take a look!" Wang Xian nodded and said to Doctor Sun.

"Okay, go ahead."

Radiance flickered in the eyes of Doctor Sun as she stared at Wang Xian with curiosity.

Previously, they did a detailed examination of the young men and the young lady from the car accident back in the hospital.

What shocked all of them in the hospital was that the broken leg of the young girl had miraculously healed by itself.

On the other hand, the young man's injuries were even more severe as his ribs were fractured. Yet, the bones had been fixed in some unique way.

It was shocking to all the doctors. Such a situation could be considered a miracle in the medical field.

When Doctor Sun learned about the report, the first thing she thought of was that juvenile. She did not expect to meet him here.

The middle-aged school doctor and the two school teachers were slightly stunned by what Doctor Sun had said. But they did not stop him.

"I'll do it!"

However, a juvenile in his military uniform walked out suddenly just when Wang Xian stood up.

The juvenile was 1.8 meters tall, looking cheerful and handsome. His confident vibe was even more intense when he was in a military training outfit.

"Out of my way. Let me do it!" The juvenile looked at Wang Xian and spoke immediately while he fished out an ID from his right pocket.

"This is?"

The middle-aged school doctor opened his eyes wide with a shocked expression. He exclaimed, "Sacred Followers Guild, Medical Saint!"

"I'm not a Medical Saint yet. I'm just an apprentice."

The juvenile gave a faint smile as he held his chin high when he heard the exclamation from the middle-aged school doctor.

Confident, handsome, imposing!

"Unexpected. Unexpected!"

The middle-aged school doctor was overwhelmed with surprise. "Little Miracle Doctor, come and take a look!"

"Sacred Followers Guild!" Doctor Sun was also taken aback as she gazed at the juvenile.

Sacred Followers Guild was one of the two sacred places in the medical industry.

Almost everyone in the medical industry knew about Sacred Followers Guild. At the same time, all the medical students were hoping to have a chance to learn in the sacred place.

However, only very few doctors managed to pass the test.

Any apprentices who walked out from the Sacred Followers Guild were equipped with formidable medical skills.

The middle-aged school doctor spoke respectfully to the juvenile, and the juvenile was enjoying such treatment. He wriggled his finger, and the silver needles appeared in his hand.

"Awesome!"

The middle-aged school doctor was amazed by the appearance of the silver needles.

"Excuse me."

The juvenile pushed Wang Xian away and squatted down immediately.

"Little Miracle Doctor, please take a look at this student to see what's wrong with her," said the two school teachers respectfully. Apparently, they had heard of the reputation of the Sacred Followers Guild.

"Okay, don't worry. If it's not something serious, I can cure her with a silver needle!"

The juvenile drew his lips and spoke confidently.

"That'll do!"

The two teachers heaved a sigh of relief as they smiled. Then they looked at Wang Xian and Wang Dahai who were gathering around them. "Two of you, please give way. Don't interrupt the Little Miracle Doctor while he is treating!"

"Sacred Followers Guild!"

Wang Xian took two steps back as he gazed at the juvenile with surprise.

He had heard Old Xue mentioning the Sacred Followers Guild. They were like the ultimate existence in the entire medical industry.

The members of Sacred Followers Guild came from a mix of the underworld and society. Some of them were commoners while some were Martial Artists.

However, the majority of them were mainly Martial Artists since they would circulate their Internal Energy during their treatment.

The juvenile placed his hand on the young girl's hand and closed his eyes.

"Hur?" The juvenile knit his eyebrow slightly.

"What is it, Little Miracle Doctor? Is her illness serious?" asked the two teachers when they saw the juvenile frowning.

"It's a little tricky!" In a flash, the juvenile took the silver needle in his hand and inserted it into one of the acupoints on the girl's arm.

"I can treat her, but it will take some time!"

Chapter 106: Technique

Chapter 106 - Technique

"This girl's body is deficient and lacks a type of element. This made her body weak and made her suffer from breathing difficulties. She will still need some time to recuperate!"

The juvenile wiggled his fingers and another dozen silver needles appeared in his hand. He continued with a smile, "I'll execute silver needle treatment on her to first wake her up."

When the juvenile completed his sentence, he moved his hands so quickly that they formed after images which confused the onlooking crowd.

"Incredible! Absolutely incredible! You are indeed from the Sacred Followers Guild! The techniques of hidden needles and laying out needles are truly incredible!"

"Yeah. I would have never thought that the University of Rivertown would have such an incredible expert. Looking at the medical skills of this young miracle doctor, you are more than qualified to become a tutor in our medical branch!"

The middle-aged school doctor and lead each exclaimed in disbelief.

"It's just a simple trick and isn't anything!" The juvenile revealed a satisfied look but still replied in an arrogant manner.

"If this is a simple trick for this young miracle doctor, my medical skills will be nothing in comparison. Incredible!"

The middle-aged school doctor gave him a thumbs-up.

Hehe!

The juvenile smiled faintly as he controlled the silver needle in his hand. Soon, the girl opened her eyes gradually.

"I... This... What happened?" The girl looked around, feeling a little lost.

"Awesome, awesome. You are indeed worthy of the name of 'miracle doctor!'"

The two leads were thrilled and remarked excitedly.

"Alright, for the coming week, rest well and have some beef and fruits. Together with my silver needles treatment, I can guarantee that you will recover within a week!"

As the young man waved his hand, all the silver needles were kept within his hand.

"So strong!" Doctor Sun, who was on the side, also looked at the girl with amazement.

"Basic operations." The arrogant juvenile nodded his head and suddenly looked to Wang Xian. "This student seemed to be thinking of providing treatment too a while ago. Did you learn medical skills previously?"

Wang Xian was taken aback, shook his head, smiled and replied, "I know a little about healing."

Tsk! "If you don't understand it well, it's better than you don't try providing treatment to others. Otherwise, you might make it worse if you misdiagnose the symptoms!"

The juvenile spoke in a tone similar to how a senior would guide a junior.

"This young miracle doctor is right. Misdiagnosing would only harm the patient. If you aren't confident, it's better if you don't act rashly. Not only does this young miracle doctor have extraordinary medical skills, but his medical ethics are also worth respecting!" the middle-aged man said as he tried to lick the juvenile's boots.

"I'm just a little more gifted than others." The juvenile shook his head and continued, "Please send this student to the dormitory to rest. Give her something to eat in an hour or two, and she should be recovering well. For the following days, I'll perform a few additional rounds of treatments and she will recover fully!"

"Alright, thank you, young miracle doctor! Thank you, young miracle doctor!" The two leads quickly replied. "Why don't we excuse the young miracle doctor from training and let him be a doctor here? If any students are to encounter any issues, we would also be more assured with this young miracle doctor with us!"

"Yeah, that will work too!" The juvenile nodded his head and revealed a prideful smile. "With me around, there wouldn't be any issues!"

"Yeah, yeah. Definitely! With you around, we will feel more reassured too." The middle-aged school doctor quickly seconded.

Haiz. "You two students...if you guys are free, can you help us bring this girl back to her room?" one of the leads said to Wang Xian and Wang Dahai.

"Alright!" Wang Dahai nodded his head and squatted down, ready to help the girl up.

"Let me do it!" Wang Xian extended his hand over to stop Wang Dahai. He bent down and placed his hand on the stomach area of the girl.

"Huh? What are you doing?" When the middle-aged school doctor saw Wang Xian placing his hand on the girl's stomach, he immediately frowned.

"I'm just taking a look!" Wang Xian lifted his head and smiled.

"What are you looking for? You can't possibly be thinking that you could cure her?" the middle-aged doctor said sarcastically. "Hurry up! The young miracle doctor has already seen her. Stop causing trouble!"

"Hehe! Don't move recklessly if you don't know anything! Do you think you could tell her condition just by placing your hand on her? Childish!"

The young man looked at Wang Xian with contempt.

Hehe.

Wang Xian laughed and had a cold expression. "I was still wondering how incredible one from the Sacred Followers Guild is. It seems that you are just average."

"What the hell are you saying? Do you even understand what "Sacred Followers Guild" represents?"

When Wang Xian completed his sentence, the middle-aged school doctor standing by the side immediately shouted at Wang Xian mercilessly. "What did you say? I dare you to repeat it!"

When that juvenile heard Wang Xian, his face sank too. "Sacred Followers Guild isn't something you could humiliate!"

"What the hell are you saying? Hurry and apologize to this young miracle doctor!" The two leads also condemned Wang Xian solemnly.

"If everyone in Sacred Followers Guild is at your level... Hehe!"

Wang Xian looked at the group of people shouting at him and his expression turned chilly.

He looked to the girl and moved his finger, tapping on over 10 spots on the girl.

"Brat, are you humiliating me?"

The juvenile's eyes flickered as he stared at Wang Xian. He moved his fingers and needles appeared within his hands.

Wang Xian ignored him and simply injected vitality of the Wood Element into the girl's body.

With his current strength, he wouldn't have to exhaust dragon energy for treatment and could simply rely on the vitality of the Wood Element to cure the girl.

The fatigued girl suddenly felt strength returning to her body. She opened her eyes and looked at Wang Xian in astonishment.

"Brat, I'm talking to you!"

Seeing that Wang Xian wasn't replying to him, he remarked, "Get up!"

Wang Xian stood up gradually and gave the juvenile a harsh stare. He then extended his hand over to the girl.

"Thank you!" The girl nodded her head and grabbed onto Wang Xian's hands. She was blushing and stood up with Wang Xian's assistance.

The crowd was stunned their attention was all on the girl.

Doctor Sun, who had been by the side all along, was thrilled. She immediately asked, "Are you feeling any discomfort?"

"Nope. When brother tapped on my body, I felt very comfortable. Moreover, I'm feeling a lot better than before."

The girl replied as she stole glances at Wang Xian with a blushing face.

"You just have a small issue and it could be solved with a little treatment. Have regular meals in the future and don't lag behind on your military training!" Wang Xian instructed directly.

The truth was that he didn't know the source of the girl's problem. However, it didn't matter. The dense vitality of the Wood Element had eradicated the issue at the source. Besides that, the girl's body composition was a little weak, and military training would be beneficial for her.

"Alright, brother, thank you!" The girl nodded her head.

Wang Xian nodded his head in response and turned to the juvenile beside him. He lifted his head and said with contempt, "If members of the Sacred Followers Guild are like you, they aren't anything special. Trash!"

"YOU..." When the juvenile heard Wang Xian, he held onto the silver needles in his hand tightly and his eyes were filled with murderous intent.

The middle-aged school doctor and the two leads were stunned. This time, they didn't comment anything when they heard Wang Xian.

Wang Xian had simply tapped a few times on the girl and she was cured. As for this juvenile from the Sacred Followers Guild, he claimed that the girl required a week of treatment.

One could easily tell the difference between them!

Recalling how they had chided Wang Xian just a while ago, the group was feeling embarrassed currently.

"You are from the Medical Saint Sect? What techniques did you just use?" The juvenile stared intensely at Wang Xian and questioned him.

"Brat, I'm not from the Medical Saint Sect. As for medical techniques, I only understood a little and am not as well-known as your Sacred Followers Guild. Hehe!"

Wang Xian looked at the juvenile with mocking eyes. "As for the technique, it's called 'Anyhow Pressure Points Technique!' Hehe. Brat, don't be so cocky when you don't have the capabilities. Otherwise, you are just bringing shame to the Sacred Followers Guild!"

Wang Xian imitated how the juvenile had acted previously and chided as though he was simply educating a junior as a senior!

Chapter 107: You Can't Woo a Girl Like That

"Anyhow Pressure Points Technique!"

When the juvenile heard the technique he mentioned, he trembled and stared hard at Wang Xian.

What the hell was that?

Wang Xian looked at the self-conceited juvenile with a smile on his face.

Acting tough in front of me?

Using me as a stepping stone?

Serves you right.

As for what Wang Xian did just now, it was true that he was doing it without any thoughts. That was also done deliberately to maintain a low profile.

Otherwise, the girl would be fully recovered with a swing of his arm.

"Fine, just you wait!" The juvenile stared fiercely at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian put away his smile and looked impassively at the juvenile. Slowly, he said, "I'll be waiting!"

"Hmph!"

With a cold snort, the juvenile went back to his military training.

The doctor and the two leads next to each other parted their mouths. With some hesitation, they dispersed into the crowd.

Doctor Sun did not leave as she observed Wang Xian with curiosity.

Just now, the juvenile from the Sacred Followers Guild had already displayed formidable medical skills. But this young man here was much more powerful than him.

When Doctor Sun thought about it, she had some desires for the astounding medical skills.

"Hey, this is the second time that we meet!" said Doctor Sun, looking at Wang Xian.

"Yes." Wang Xian smiled to Doctor Sun.

"You are formidable in medical skill." Doctor Sun stared at him with passionate eyes as she wanted to know him better.

Wang Xian smiled and said modestly, "So-so. I'm not that skillful!"

"I'm a little ashamed of myself if your standard is considered so-so." Doctor Sun gave a bitter smile, "You're the most skillful doctor I have ever seen."

"Haha, it's nothing!"

Wang Xian chuckled with embarrassment since he was admired by a beautiful doctor who was older than him.

Wang Dahai was dumbfounded as he observed the look of the beautiful doctor. He then shook his head slowly and found himself a seat.

Wang Xian brushed Doctor Sun off with a few words before he sat down beside Wang Dahai.

Wang Xian wanted to chat with the beautiful girl, but Doctor Sun posed some medical-related questions to him.

Wang Xian felt awkward as he knew nothing about it. So, he briefly answered her.

Doctor Sun bit her lip when she noticed that Wang Xian did not seem to welcome her. Hence, she blatantly asked for his phone number and left.

Seeing Wang Xian walking towards him, Wang Dahai gave him a thumbs up.
"Bro, you're terrific!"

Wang Xian smiled, "Your Su Qian has rested enough. Send her the drinks now!"

"Haha, we can do it together. You deliver drinks to your sister while I will give mine to Su Qian."

Wang Dahai pulled him immediately and headed to the ladies where a crowd had just dispersed.

After fawning over the ladies, Wang Dahai went back to the dormitory with Wang Xian, feeling satisfied.

"Do you want to game?" asked Wang Dahai when they were back in the room.

"Nope. You go ahead. I'll just lie down for a while."

Wang Xian shook his head. He lay on his bed, thinking about the Dragon Palace.

To construct the Dragon Palace, he would require a substantial amount of materials. These materials would be worth at least hundreds of billions if they were to convert into monetary value.

Some of these resources could be found in sinking ships or minerals from the ocean floor in the sea.

But he would need to purchase some of the materials like fine iron and silver by himself.

"This would cost a bomb. Now, I need to think of a way to earn money. The First-grade Restaurant is only earning about a million in a day. Compared to what I need, it is way too little."

Wang Xian knit his brow slightly. Finding ways to earn money was a problem for him.

"Medical skills? Should I open a medical hall?"

An idea came to him when Wang Xian thought of the girl who he'd treated just now. Opening a medical hall seemed viable.

Given his current Five Elements Divine Dragon strength, treating ordinary illness was a piece of cake to him.

Moreover, he could open a high-class medical hall where one consultation would cost about two to three million or even higher.

Once the reputation of the medical hall is established, Wang Xian could take in two to three patients a day. In a month, he would be able to earn hundreds of millions, or even more.

Wang Xian drew a smile at the corner of his lips. He immediately took out his phone and made a few calls.

First of all, he called Old Qin, asking for his help to get a certification to practice medicine.

Opening a medical hall required certification. Otherwise, the medical hall would be operating without an official license.

At the same time, he got Old Xue and Old Qin to promote and refer some clients to him.

Finally, he called Manager Huang too.

He recalled that a shop was put on lease right beside the First-grade Restaurant. He could buy that place over and turn it into his medical hall. It would also be convenient for him to pop by the First-grade Restaurant to have his lunches and dinners.

After making three calls, Wang Xian's plan to open the Divine Dragon Medical Hall had finally begun.

"It's 11.30 am now. I'll ask Guan Shuqing out for lunch. Guys should take the initiative."

Wang Xian climbed out from his bed, "Dahai, I'm having lunch with someone. You can have lunch by yourself!"

"What a beast. Who are you going out with?" asked Wang Dahai, who was playing his game.

Wang Xian waved his hand and ignored him. He took out his phone and sent a message to Guan Shuqing.

Today, Guan Shuqing had four lessons in the morning. So, Wang Xian headed straight to her classroom.

The University of Rivertown was a huge school. It took Wang Xian five minutes to walk from the male dormitory to Guan Shuqing's classroom.

Wang Xian looked at the building with classrooms. He then walked over and waited for Guan Shuqing downstairs.

Vroom!

When he just arrived, the sound of a sports car was heard from behind.

Wang Xian looked back with curiosity. He spotted a young man coming out from an Audi R8 Sports Car that was parked beside him.

The young man was wearing formal attire, looking charming. He opened his boot and took out a bouquet of red roses. With a face wearing smiles, he stood beside the car and waited.

Wang Xian looked at the young man and smiled.

The young man also noticed Wang Xian, who was next to him. He drew his lips and glanced at the expensive watch on his wrist.

Ten more minutes until class dismissal.

"Hey, are you waiting for your girlfriend?" the young man asked Wang Xian, as he was bored.

"Well, she's not my girlfriend yet!" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Oh? Are you wooing that girl?" the young man looked at him and asked with a smile.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Are you going to lunch with her?" asked the young man smilingly.

"Yes, we're going to the canteen for lunch." Wang Xian nodded.

"Canteen?" The young man was slightly stunned as he curved his lips slightly. "Bro, since you're wooing the girl, you should treat her to something good. In this way, the girl will feel your effort. The canteen?" The young man shook his head as he talked, "You need to be sincere in wooing the girl. If you want to impress her, learn from me. You're still far from it!"

As he said this, he patted Wang Xian on the shoulder. He was earnest in his words, "Girls are vain. She will be touched by my formal confession. It's not going to work if you do it like you did now. This is your shortcoming."

Chapter 108: Shocking Rumors In School

Hehe!

Wang Xian looked at the young man and shook his head. He found it a little hilarious and commented, "Love in school is simpler!"

"Simpler? Brother, I wouldn't call that simpler. It's brainless! Tell me, if we confessed at the same time to the same girl, who do you think the girl would accept?"

The young man replied in contempt, "You are still a far cry from me. However, there's nothing you could do about it as you were born with it. Your looks are still alright and you are still better than ordinary students."

He added this with a faint sense of superiority. He took out his phone to play and no longer paid attention to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian looked at the young man and wasn't fond of him. However, he did not take his words to heart and simply waited there.

11.50 am, the bell that signaled the end of the lesson rang. Students walked out of the classrooms one after another.

Some students who had just walked out immediately saw the Audi R8 sports car by the classroom block.

"Wow, a sports car! It's an Audi R8!"

"What a stunning sports car. It would be great if I could get a sports car in my lifetime!"

"That guy has a bouquet of flowers in his hand. It seems like he's here to make a confession!"

"Isn't he the third-year Senior, Liu Feng? I've heard that his family is filthy rich and that he always drives his sports car to school. I wonder who he is confessing to today!"

"That girl would be so lucky. If only I was her."

Some students looked at the young man beside the sports car and started commenting. Many students looked towards him with eyes of envy.

A rich family, drives a sports car, and good-looking!

A guy like him is the envy of all men and the dream guy for all girls.

Hearing the comments from the surrounding students, Liu Feng revealed a satisfied smile.

He took a glance at Wang Xian, lifted his head proudly and kept one of his hands in his pocket.

More and more students walked out of their classrooms.

Some students had no intention to leave the area, as they would like to see who that lucky girl would be.

"She's here!"

At this moment, Liu Feng took out his hand from his pocket and had his eyes locked in front of him. His eyes sparkled with joy.

Guan Shuqing's lesson had ended and she was carrying a bag. She tip-toed as she looked around her.

When she saw Wang Xian, she walked over excitedly.

Wang Xian also spotted Guan Shuqing as he extended his hand and waved at her.

"Shuqing!"

Just as Wang Xian was about to walk over, he suddenly saw the young man walk directly towards Guan Shuqing.

Guan Shuqing was clearly taken aback as she looked at the young man in shock.

"Shuqing, from the very first time I saw you, I've fallen in love with you. Today, I've finally mustered the courage to confess to you!"

Liu Feng suddenly went down on one knee. He handed the fresh flowers towards Guan Shuqing and spoke with sincerity.

"Wow, who would have expected that the one he is confessing to would be Guan Shuqing!"

"Oh, Guan Shuqing! She's one of the five goddesses of our University of Rivertown. She has a great disposition, a good figure and a great character."

"Liu Feng isn't bad either, and is pretty handsome. I believe Guan Shuqing might accept him!"

"Liu Feng is so rich and even drives a sports car. I guess Guan Shuqing will most likely accept him. Oh my goodness. Could it be that a beautiful girl like her is going to be attached?"

There were over a hundred students that had gathered. Some of them even took out their mobile phones to take pictures and videos.

"Shuqing, would you be my girlfriend? In front of over a hundred students, I promise that I will treat you well forever. I'll love you and protect you!"

Liu Feng said loudly, "I'll get you whatever you want. If you want a sports car, I'll give one to you. If you want a bag, I'll get you the best out there!"

Extravagant! And a confession fully associated with materialism.

A sports car that costs over $2 million by the side, a handsome Liu Feng and a sincere confession.

Many girls around them were looking on in anticipation. If only they were the female protagonist, how great would it be! What a shame!

"A matching couple! Say yes!"

At this moment, a girl shouted loudly.

"Say yes, say yes!"

Following this, seven to eight other students joined in with the chanting.

Guan Shuqing, who was in the midst of this, looked at Liu Feng in shock. She had not expected him to confess to her all of a sudden. Moreover, he did it under Wang Xian's attention.

This made Guan Shuqing frown, and she replied directly, "I don't like you. Please don't disturb me."

After completing her sentence, she walked directly towards Wang Xian.

"I'm sorry, Xiao Xian. I don't know him well and had not expected him to confess to me all of a sudden. Please don't take it the wrong way!" Guan Shuqing quickly explained to Wang Xian.

"It's alright. Let's go get lunch!"

Wang Xian smiled and didn't take it to heart. Considering that Guan Shuqing was so beautiful, having people confessing to her wouldn't be uncommon.

What was different was that this young man did it in a more high-profile manner.

And at this moment, Liu Feng, who was still on his knee, was completely shocked. His eyes opened wide in disbelief as he turned his head around.

He saw that the girl he just confessed to was walking towards the school canteen with that teenager he saw previously.

The surrounding students were also shocked by the development.

"What the... Guan Shuqing just went for lunch with another guy."

"Is that Guan Shuqing's boyfriend? Why didn't I hear about it previously?"

"Liu Feng was rejected. He was actually rejected! He drives a sports car and had a bouquet of fresh flowers in his hand. Yet, Guan Shuqing didn't even take a further look at him and even went for lunch with another guy!"

"Shocking news! It looks like Guan Shuqing likes that guy. What the... WHY?"

Who's that guy?"

"It must be really embarrassing for Liu Feng. It isn't embarrassing to be rejected by Guan Shuqing but to see Guan Shuqing go to the canteen with another guy for lunch must be heart-breaking!"

The surrounding students were discussing fervently. No one had expected this to end in such a way.

Listening to the comments of the crowd and seeing Guan Shuqing's back view, his face was red from embarrassment.

Recalling what he'd said to the young man previously, a surge of heat flooded to his face.

"Damn!"

Liu Feng stood up angrily and threw the bouquet of flowers in his hand into the rubbish bin by the side.

Under the mocking eyes of the surrounding students, he drove off.

This time, he had really embarrassed himself badly.

"If this incident is posted to the school forum, it will definitely cause a huge hoo-haa!" some students who were filming previously exclaimed.

"Haha, I've already uploaded it to the school forum. Things are going to get interesting."

Wang Xian didn't know that he was about to get really famous.

A simple love while in University and having lunch with Guan Shuqing alone at the school canteen made him feel really comfortable.

The lunch lasted for half an hour and the couple walked around the school campus for another half an hour.

What they didn't know was that within the school forum, the incident that had happened in the afternoon had been spreading like wildfire.

Afternoon. Just as Wang Xian entered the dormitory room, three pairs of eyes that were filled with jealousy stared fervently at him.

"Old Wang, you are finally here. There's no wonder why they called you Old Wang!"

Wang Xian looked at them in shock and joked, "What are you guys doing?"

"Old Wang. No, it should be Brother Xian! Take a look at the school forum quickly! You are famous now!"

Chapter 109: The Fight Between Two Women

[Liu Feng, the third-year student, drove a sports car. With flowers in his hand, he was rejected by Guan Shuqing for his confession!]

[Guan Shuqing turned down Liu Feng's confession flatly and went lunch with another guy!]

[Who is this guy? Guan Shuqing actually rejected Liu Feng, who drove a sports car and went to the canteen for lunch with him?]

[Bro Liu Feng, are you heartbroken? Did you throw your face?]

As his roommates looked at him with bewilderment, Wang Xian opened his computer and read the messages one by one.

The entire school forum was flooded with dozens of threads regarding Liu Feng's confession for Guan Shuqing.

Wang Xian clicked on a thread randomly.

[Our third-year senior, Liu Feng, was in his formal attire, driving his Audi R8 Sports Car that was worth more than two million dollars in the school. He held a beautiful bouquet of flowers and confessed to the Goddess Guan Shuqing.

Just when all the students thought he was going to succeed, Guan Shuqing rejected him without hesitation. She then walked off to the canteen and had lunch with a guy who was waiting for her with empty hands.

All of you did not witness the mixed expression on Senior Liu Feng's face back then. A loaded person like him actually lost to a nobody.

Heart-shattering. This is too heart-shattering.]

In addition to the text, some pictures were uploaded too.

With one knee down, a guy was holding flowers with a luxurious car beside him.

In the end, the girl who received the confession left with another guy.

The photos were clearly taken. Guan Shuqing, Liu Feng and another guy were clearly captured in the photos.

"I look handsome, but..." Wang Xian looked at himself in the photos and gave a bitter smile.

"Old Wang, you're going to be famous. Damn! You are courting Goddess Guan Shuqing quietly. You need to give us a treat. A treat!" Zhang Wen was yelling from the bottom bunk.

"I don't want to be famous!"

Wang Xian shook his head. As he continued scrolling down, he was surprised to find a video clip.

The entire incident that had happened in the afternoon was recorded in the video. This made him speechless.

At the same time, Lan Qingyue was sitting in front of the computer on her desk as she browsed the school forum in the female dormitory.

Her face paled, and she bit her lip tightly when she saw Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing walking side by side to the canteen.

Eventually, her face revealed a determined expression.

Wang Xian had gone famous. Other classes might not know him, but his own classmates would definitely recognize him.

As such, all his classmates were staring at him when he arrived at his class in the afternoon.

The guys were half envious, half jealous of him. Some even gave him a thumbs up.

"Awesome!"

Wang Xian chuckled.

In the afternoon, he had two lessons. With a Divine Dragon's body, Wang Xian's memory had attained a daunting level.

Learning was far too easy for him.

Just when he was in class, his phone rang suddenly.

He checked his phone and realized it was a WeChat message from Lan Qingyue.

[Can we have dinner tonight?]

A shy emoticon was attached behind the text.

Wang Xian got used to how Lan Qingyue chatted in a girly manner.

He pondered and replied, [Sure!]

[Great, do you have class in the afternoon?]

[Yes, I'm in the midst of it, but it is going to be over soon.]

[Okay, I'll look for you then!]

[Okay!]

After he chatted with Lan Qingyue for a while, Wang Xian looked at the time. It was almost 5 pm. Time for dinner.

At this time, Lan Qingyue was dressed elegantly in a blue dress. She had a slim figure and a refined profile.

She bunned her hair up, which gave her a youthful and noble vibe.

While waiting for the class dismissal, Lan Qingyue stood quietly in front of the building with a bottle of water in her hand.

5 pm. The school bell rang.

"Old Wang, let's have dinner together. I'm starving!" Wang Dahai shouted loudly as soon as the class was over.

"Let's go together!" Zhang Wen said in agreement.

"Hey, Wang Xian might not be going with you guys. With the company of a beautiful girl, who still would want to stick around with you guys?"

"Damn, Old Wang. Are you that kind of person who forsakes friends for love?"

Three of them, Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, and Zhang Feng, raised their voices as they stared at him.

Wang Xian looked at them speechlessly. He said, "Eh, not tonight. I'll treat you guys to dinner tomorrow!"

"Gosh, Zhang Feng is right. Old Wang, I never expected you to be such a person!"

"Geez, if I had such a pretty girlfriend like Guan Shuqing, I would want to stick with her all day long."

"Let's go and ignore this ungrateful fellow. The three of us will have dinner on our own!"

They walked out as they talked.

Wang Xian shook his head without any words. He followed behind them and sent a message to Lan Qingyue: [Where are you?]

However, he spotted a blue figure in front of the building when he walked out of his class.

"Wow, Lan Qingyue. It's Lan Qingyue!"

"Lan Qingyue is extremely gorgeous. Her beauty is beyond comparison. We could only appreciate her from afar!"

"Lan Qingyue is a well-known goddess in our school. She's even more famous than Guan Shuqing. I heard her family owns billions of assets. She's way too awesome!"

"If I could marry a goddess like her, I'd be willing to shorten my life by 20 years."

The rest of the guys, including Zhang Wen, Zhang Feng, and Wang Dahai, were commenting on her as they looked at the blue figure fervently.

Guan Shuqing was a Goddess, and she was known as one of the five Goddesses in school.

Same for Lan Qingyue. But Lan Qingyue enjoyed a higher reputation than Guan Shuqing in the University of Rivertown.

Firstly, she was the vice-chairman of the student council. Secondly, she was a billionaire princess.

Elegant, aloof, and she made people feel ashamed of themselves.

Guan Shuqing received many confessions, but not Lan Qingyue, as not many guys had the confidence to do it.

Even the children of the wealthy families did not dare to fool around in front of her.

Elegant, aloof! This was Lan Qingyue!

"Hey, Lan Qingyue rarely makes an appearance in school. I wonder who she is waiting for!" Wang Dahai said curiously.

"Perhaps it has something to do with the student council!" Zhang Feng made a guess.

The rest of the surrounding students were staring at Lan Qingyue with interest.

Wang Xian chuckled when he overheard their conversations as he walked towards Lan Qingyue.

"Hey, Old Wang. Where are you meeting Guan Shuqing?" asked Wang Dahai curiously as he spotted Wang Xian walking out.

"I'm not having dinner with Guan Shuqing!"

Wang Xian spun around and smiled at him. Without any words, he came to Lan Qingyue.

"Sorry to keep you waiting!" Wang Xian looked at her and said with a smile.

"I just got here too. Let's go to the canteen. There's a new delicious hot-plate rice!" Lan Qingyue smiled as she handed the beverage to Wang Xian, "This is for you!"

Wang Xian was a little stupefied when he looked at the pretty and gentle Lan Qingyue. "Thanks!"

"Let's go. It's been a long time since I last ate in the canteen!"

Lan Qingyue was tagged closely to Wang Xian as they made their way to the canteen.

Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, Zhang Feng, and the rest of the classmates were behind them.

They watched them walking off with their eyes wide open. All their faces wore unbelievable looks on them.

Chapter 110: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (1)

[Shocking news! After one of the five goddesses, Guan Shuqing, was seen having lunch with a guy and had seemingly fallen in love, our goddess Lan Qingyue was also seen having dinner with a guy. Moreover, the guy they ate with is the same person! Their actions were intimate and looked just like a couple. The male protagonist is none other than the immoral year-two Wang Xian!]

[What does the immoral Wang Xian truly possess to allow him to eat with two of our goddesses in the same day?]

[What kind of scumbag is the immoral Wang Xian? Please follow our thread as we bring you into Wang Xian's life!]

[Oh my goddesses! Please take a good look at him. He is an immoral beast to go out with two of you in the same day! That's a disgraceful breach of norms!]

[The Immoral Year-Two Wang Xian. A god-like existence! Deserving of our worship!]

The school forum was a lot more raucous today than normal. However, the comments on the forum also made countless people dumbfounded.

The first was Guan Shuqing rejecting a guy's confession and going to the canteen with another guy for lunch.

And the second was their goddess, Lan Qingyue, meeting up with the same guy for dinner!

This was a tragic development as it dealt consecutive blows to the fragile minds of many male students.

However, what made countless male students enraged was that the one who accompanied Goddess Guan Shuqing for lunch and Goddess Lan Qingyue for dinner was the same person.

The same year-two guy.

If there were two different guys, the other male students might just drown their sorrows with alcohol in memory of their crushes.

However, if there was only one guy, that's a different story.

What they wanted to do the most currently was to turn that scumbag, the immoral Wang Xian, into memories.

That's right, he's an immoral beast!

It would have been fine if he had just gone out with one of their goddesses. However, he went for both goddesses at the same time! Having lunch with Guan Shuqing and dinner with Lan Qingyue in the same day!

This asshole...

They couldn't even get one and now a guy had gotten both of them?

Who could tolerate this?

No one could!

They had to expose this immoral beast and let their two goddesses see the true character of this man.

And to also let the huge female cohort in the University of Rivertown know the existence of this immoral beast, Wang Xian.

If the incident in the afternoon made Wang Xian famous, what happened at night made his name known throughout the entire University of Rivertown.

When Wang Xian returned to his dormitory room, he immediately sensed three pairs of intense eyes looking towards him.

"Aiyo! Our immoral beast, Old Wang, is back!"

A voice filled with jealousy and envy sounded from Wang Dahai.

"Huh..." Wang Xian paused and looked at Wang Dahai, feeling puzzled.

"Damn! And you are still looking at me with those innocent eyes! Old Wang, I believe it will be better for you if you lock the door to the room. Otherwise, I'm afraid there will be people charging in to beat you up!"

Looking at how Wang Xian had reacted, Wang Dahai gritted his teeth in anger.

Having lunch with Guan Shuqing in the afternoon.

Having dinner with Lan Qingyue at night.

Immoral! Immoral beast!

"Haiz. Comparing would only make one feel inferior. Old Wang, if you weren't our roommate, we would definitely beat you up severely!"

Zhang Wen exhaled slowly and looked as though he wanted to eradicate the scourge for the greater population.

"What exactly happened?" Wang Xian looked at them and still had no idea what was happening.

"Take a look at the forum yourself!"

When the three of them saw his "innocent" expression, they gritted their teeth and remarked in unison.

Wang Xian shrugged his shoulders, walked to his study desk immediately and loaded the school forum webpage.

"What the hell!"

When he saw the entire forum being overwhelmed by the same message, he couldn't help but blurt vulgarities.

It was especially so when he saw the word in front of his name! He was on the verge of spitting blood.

Immoral Beast, Wang Xian?

Asshole!

When he clicked into each thread, all the comments were condemning him.

They were condemning him for being a two-timer and for overreaching for someone way beyond his league.

Some threads even published his personal particulars. However, they were quickly removed by the moderator.

Wang Xian saw the liveliest thread had over 8,000 comments.

What the hell! There are only a total of 10,000 plus students in the University of Rivertown!

"This... I'm not a two-timer," Wang Xian shook his head bitterly and mumbled.

"You are not? Explain yourself then! Why did you eat lunch with Guan Shuqing in the afternoon? Why did you eat dinner with Lan Qingyue at night?"

At this moment, three grudgeful voices sounded.

Wang Xian turned his head around and saw three guys staring at him with resentment.

Even though Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng already had girlfriends, this fact did not stop them from condemning Wang Xian.

After all, the two goddesses of the University of Rivertown had rumors with the same guy, and this infuriated many others.

After listening to them, Wang Xian twiddled his fingers. He was feeling complicated.

In his heart and undoubtedly, he had seen Guan Shuqing as his girlfriend.

As for Lan Qingyue, although it wasn't at the level of a girlfriend, Wang Xian naturally wished to be together with this girl from the bottom of his heart.

He could also sense Lan Qingyue's admiration of him.

But... With today's laws and societal norms, this was clearly difficult.

It was especially so as the two girls would most likely find this hard to accept.

Even if...

Even if the two girls could agree, their parents would not.

It was especially so for Lan Qingyue. Her family was wealthy, and she would be the future successor. Why would her parents allow her to suffer such grievances?

"Can you give me a cigarette?"

Wang Xian felt irritated all of a sudden. Although he didn't know how to smoke, he still asked for one from Wang Dahai.

"Damn, still want a cigarette? You better tell us everything now! What are your relationships with the two goddesses?"

Wang Dahai looked at him, feeling speechless, but he still gave him a cigarette. He even lit it for Wang Xian.

Wang Xian took a deep breath and slowly exhaled.

The smoke lingered around him.

Wang Dahai and the group found this to be very pretentious.

"If you let me choose..."

Wang Xian took another puff. In his mind, two figures appeared.

Nonetheless, he would have a clear answer if he had to make a choice at this moment.

"Guan Shuqing!"

Wang Xian answered.

"You are choosing? YOU... You..."

The trio didn't really care about his final decision. What they cared about was Wang Xian's reaction.

Choose? You are actually thinking of choosing?

Both goddesses were the dream girls of any man, and they would work their hardest just to be with either one of them!

Bzz!

At this moment, his phone rang.

It was the notification sound of WeChat. Wang Xian looked across and saw three pairs of burning eyes staring at his phone.

Coincidentally, another message was sent over.

These messages were from two people; Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

Wang Xian could feel three pairs of cold eyes staring at him. He felt helpless and revealed a bitter look. Taking his phone with him, he jumped onto his bed.

"Alright, alright. I'm sleeping now," he yelled and unlocked his phone.

Guan Shuqing's message was, [What are you doing now? Are you not going to the library tonight?]

Lan Qingyue's message was [I'm sorry Wang Xian. I might have caused you trouble.]

Looking at these two messages, Wang Xian felt conflicting emotions.

Guan Shuqing couldn't possibly not know about the school forum. However, she didn't question Wang Xian. She ignored those comments and didn't condemn Wang Xian at all. This was trust and unconditional belief in Wang Xian!

Lan Qingyue was apologizing to him for what had occurred at night and wasn't concerned about how this would affect her reputation. This was sacrifice!

With two girls sacrificing so much for him, what else could he possibly ask for!

Chapter 111: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (2)

Wang Xian did not sleep a wink last night.

His thoughts kept him awake until 3 am, and he continued with his cultivation until 7 am.

When the four of them, including Wang Xian and Wang Dahai, arrived at the canteen in the morning, Wang Xian could see people pointing fingers at him.

He could even sense the gazes from people who could not wait to kill him off.

We are sworn enemies now that you've taken our goddesses away!

The trio distanced him instinctively. In their words, they said,

"Old Wang, you are notorious in the university now. We have to distance ourselves from you. Otherwise, it will be hard for us to find girlfriends."

Wang Xian was speechless when the four of them came to the canteen to have a high-profile breakfast.

Wang Xian was feeling helpless. He should not have taken lunch and dinner with the girls.

When he was back in class, Wang Xian felt all eyes on him again. The envy, hatred, and jealousy coming from his male classmates annoyed him.

He had two classes today. After his class, he went out of school instead of going to the field with Wang Dahai.

"You are Wang Xian!"

All of a sudden, a few guys were in his way, glaring at him when he had just left the classroom building.

Wang Xian froze for a while. He raised his eyebrows and looked at the people in front of him. Eventually, his eyes fixed on the student who was at the center of the group.

The guy was about 1.85 meters tall, good-looking, and looked charming. Wang Xian knew his name.

Xu Qingcheng, a year-three student. He was the President of Taekwondo Club with a fourth dan black belt. He had also won the championship of the Rivertown Taekwondo district competition.

If it were not for age limit, his black belt dan would be higher.

In the University of Rivertown, not only the five goddesses were the famous ones. They had three rather well-known guys that were commonly known as the campus hunks or the prince charmings.

There were several good-looking guys in the school, but only three of them were the official recognized Prince Charmings.

Xu Qingcheng was one of them. Being the President of the Taekwondo Club, he enjoyed high popularity in the school.

The other two were a famous internet celebrity and a mystery student who was known as Mr. Feng among the students.

"Can I help you?" asked Wang Xian as he looked at Xu Qingcheng emotionlessly.

"Nothing. I just want to check out what kind of guy you are, who can date two goddesses in a day!"

As Xu Qingcheng spoke, he circled Wang Xian and observed him from head to toe.

Upon seeing his brazen behavior, Wang Xian raised his eyebrows. "I don't like guys."

He continued his way out after he spoke.

Xu Qingcheng hesitated after hearing him. "You're humourous, pal."

As he spoke, he stopped in front of Wang Xian and blocked his way.

"Get out of my way!"

Wang Xian was already feeling irritated. When he saw Xu Qingcheng's provocative behavior, he could not help but bawl at him impatiently.

"Hur?"

When Xu Qingcheng heard that, his face sank as he stared at Wang Xian with cold eyes. "Lad, you're bold. How dare you speak to me like this!"

"Brother Cheng, he's so arrogant. Tsk. I wonder how he managed to take the two goddesses out," a guy walked over and said as he glared at Wang Xian.

"If you have something to say, spit it out. If you don't, then get out of my way. I don't have time for you!" Wang Xian said impatiently.

Seeing the four playful and impudent guys around him, he would have given them a slap if they were not in school.

"How arrogant!"

When Xu Qingcheng heard what Wang Xian said, he clenched his fist slightly. "Of course, I have something for you. I just wanted to check out what ability you possess, such that you can date the two goddesses, in particular, Lan Qingyue. I need to see if you're worthy of them!"

"Show me your capability or your background!"

While Xu Qingcheng was talking, he stretched his body. He looked at him with a cold smirk at his lips.

"Otherwise, I'm going to embarrass you!"

Currently, many people were pissed off with Wang Xian. But the majority of them only expressed it on the forum. Even though some mentioned that they wanted to fight with Wang Xian, none of them really did.

However, others might be afraid of doing so, but not Xu Qingcheng.

He was one of the few guys who had wooed Lan Qingyue before. But he failed in the end which made him a sour grape.

Yesterday, Xu Qingcheng was surprised to hear about Lan Qingyue having dinner with a guy. He wanted to see how the guy looked.

He wanted to see how this guy got into the book of Lan Qingyue.

"What? Are you picking a fight?" Wang Xian stared coldly at them.

"No, as a student, how can we pick a fight? This is called sparring. Come to our Taekwondo Club for sparring."

A smile surfaced on Xu Qingcheng's face again as he spoke with a casual expression.

"I have no time!"

Wang Xian had a disdainful look in his eyes.

You? You want to spar with me with your Taekwondo?

Ha-ha!

Wang Xian ignored him totally and walked forward again.

Xu Qingcheng did not give way to him. Neither did Wang Xian stop. So, he went on to knock into him.

"Hur?"

When Xu Qingcheng saw him coming, his eyes were filled with sarcasm. He moved away and stepped out of Wang Xian's way, gazing in the direction he left.

"Brother Cheng, this fellow is too cocky. Why don't we teach him a lesson?"

The three guys next to him pointed at Wang Xian and spoke as he left.

Xu Qingcheng stared at the guy who spoke with an unpleasant look.

"Sorry, Brother Cheng. I forgot about it."

When that guy saw Xu Qingcheng's displeased eyes, he quickly apologized.

Xu Qingcheng had been a troublemaker in the school since year one.

In the beginning, the school was lenient to him since he was the champion of the Rivertown's Taekwondo District Competition.

Subsequently, he made frequent troubles, affecting the school's reputation. Hence, the school gave him a warning. If he continued to create trouble, he would be expelled from the school. This finally stopped him.

However, it did not mean that he could not spar with others.

"He is arrogant. But he must be capable of being arrogant. If that's the case, I'll make sure you lose your face utterly!"

Xu Qingcheng looked at Wang Xian and let out a faint smile. "Go to the school forum and issue a challenge on it. Then..."

Xu Qingcheng smiled. If he could teach Wang Xian a lesson at this time, he would gain higher popularity. At the same time, he could show Lan Qingyue that the guy she favored was totally useless.

He wanted to prove that he was the best!

"Sure, Brother Cheng. Leave this to us. This time, we'll show him the power of our Taekwondo in the University of Rivertown!"

"Okay!"

Xu Qingcheng nodded with confidence and walked away.

Wang Xian was not even thinking about Xu Qingcheng as he walked to the First-grade Restaurant.

He needed to speed up the preparation of the medical hall and quickly get the business running.

The speed of constructing the Dragon Palace would depend on the business of the medical center.

However, Wang Xian did not know that the school forum was set ablaze again with the topic of him.

This time, it was the challenge from Xu Qingcheng!

Chapter 112: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (3)

"Director Wang, I have negotiated the terms with the boss of the shop next door. As the floor area isn't that big, the sale price would be $7 million. If you want to rent it, it will be $50,000 a month!"

In the office of First-grade Restaurant, Manager Huang reported to Wang Xian.

"Try to negotiate the price down a little and buy it directly. After which, find a good interior designer for me. Inform me again when everything's done," Wang Xian said to Manager Huang.

"Alright, Director Wang. Leave this to me!" Manager Huang nodded his head.

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head. Looking at the earnings over the last few days, the earnings had remained at the level of approximately $1.5 million.

Now that First-grade Restaurant had basically reached its maximum capacity, it would be hard to improve on these earnings. This was because the restaurant's size was fixed and the number of customers they could get each day was limited.

After having lunch in the shop, Wang Xian headed back to the school.

"Eh, that's Wang Xian. Look! It's him!"

"Yeah, it's him. He's pretty good-looking. However, it's unreal that he could make two goddesses fall in love with him. Perhaps Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue weren't really interested in him and were simply having a meal with him!"

"Did you see it? Xu Qingcheng said that he wants to challenge him on the school forum. He's interested to see why he is qualified to have dinner with Lan Qingyue!"

"Really? Xu Qingcheng is a black belt taekwondo expert. No one is a match for him in the entire University of Rivertown. In fact, not many people in the entire Rivertown could possibly defeat him. Challenging Wang Xian would be like toying with him. I believe Wang Xian wouldn't be that dumb to accept the challenge and spar with Xu Qingcheng."

"Xu Qingcheng has only said he would like to have a simple sparring with him. Sparring could be in other aspects. However, if Wang Xian did not accept, he would be a coward and be the butt of the joke in the University of Rivertown. He has to accept it!"

Walking on the pathway through the campus, Wang Xian could vaguely hear the discussions of the surrounding students. He frowned slightly as he walked towards his dormitory.

"Old Wang, you are back."

Just as he stepped into the room, Wang Dahai immediately turned over and greeted him.

There was only him in the room. Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng must be accompanying their girlfriends currently.

As for Wang Dahai, it was a rare occasion that he wasn't playing games. Instead, he was staring at the computer.

"Huh? Did something happen again?" Wang Xian asked directly.

While he was walking back, he had heard a little about it.

"Old Wang, don't be angry when you see this. Xu Qingcheng is being too arrogant just because he has some strength. I despise this type of person the most!"

Wang Dahai rambled on.

Wang Xian walked to his study desk and switched on his computer. Wang Dahai immediately brought his chair over and sat beside Wang Xian.

"Old Wang, I feel that you shouldn't have to entertain this guy. One of the three Prince Charmings? Aw shucks! He's still not as incredible as our Old Wang!"

Wang Dahai was commenting from the side while Wang Xian clicked into the forum to take a look. One of the threads had over 9,000 replies. Once again, there was a thread that had a relatively large number of replies.

Wang Xian clicked into the thread. It was created by Xu Qingcheng.

The content of the thread was as follows.

[There's a man of the hour in our school recently. Yeah, he's the second-year student, Wang Xian, who ate with two goddesses in a day. I won't be going to the details as I believe everyone would have known about this. Currently, he is given the nickname "Immoral Beast, Wang Xian." Hehe, that's an elegant nickname. Today, I would like to invite the Immoral Beast, Wang Xian... Oops, a slip of the tongue. Haha! I'd like to invite him to spar. I would like to see what you are capable of.]

[Sparring is not limited to just violence. It could also be in many other aspects. Show me what you are capable of. I'm really curious. Haha, if you aren't a coward, look for me, Xu Qingcheng, at the Taekwondo gym!]

It wasn't a very long thread but fully showed how Xu Qingcheng had taunted Wang Xian. It was full of mockery.

In the comments section, there were also a lot of people supporting the idea.

Wang Xian eating with their two goddesses had ignited the anger of the majority of the male student population.

It was especially clear from the pictures taken that Wang Xian was acting very intimate with Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

This further infuriated many. It's fine if you just date one of them. However, you are a scumbag for being a two-timer!

Unforgivable!

Wang Xian looked through the thread but kept his composure.

"Xu Qingcheng!"

Wang Xian sank into deep thought. In that case, I'll just make him the example. I'll probably save myself a lot of trouble too!

Wang Xian thought to himself and stood up gradually.

"Eh, Old Wang. Where are you going?" Seeing that emotionless look, Wang Dahai quickly asked him.

"To the Taekwondo club," said Wang Xian.

"What? You are really thinking of going? Old Wang, forget it! Just forget it! That Xu Qingcheng is really strong. We don't have to entertain him. They are just a bunch of jealous dudes!"

Wang Dahai spoke immediately. He was really worried that Wang Xian would go.

Xu Qingcheng had a black belt in Taekwondo after all. If Wang Xian went ahead and sparred with him, even if Wang Xian wasn't severely injured, he would likely be humiliated.

"Relax, I wouldn't go if I was not confident." Wang Xian shook his head slightly and smiled.

"You..." Wang Dahai knew Wang Xian was a little stubborn. He shook his head and said, "Alright then. I'll go with you."

"Mm. Let's go."

Wang Xian nodded his head and walked straight to the Taekwondo Club.

Taekwondo Club was a relatively large club in the University of Rivertown. Taekwondo originated from Korea but was very popular within the country.

This was because of the way of thinking of the past generations. Martial arts from the country wouldn't be imparted to external parties, let alone ancient martial arts.

As for Taekwondo, Wang Xian had no comment on it.

The clubs in Rivertown had their activities congregated in an area.

When Wang Xian walked towards the Taekwondo club, he immediately attracted many people's attention.

"Eh, isn't that the year-two student, Wang Xian? Could it be that he is heading to the Taekwondo Club?"

"Looking at where he is heading, he must be going to the Taekwondo Club. Xu Qingcheng just issued him a challenge recently. Could it be that he's going there to accept it?"

"This is interesting. Let's go. Let's follow and take a look!"

"Wang Xian is accepting Xu Qingcheng's invitation. This is going to be interesting. If he chooses to fight with Xu Qingcheng, this will likely turn out to be tragic for him!"

"Hurry! Let's go! We can post it on the forum later and it will definitely shock the entire school."

The students along the way followed behind in excitement as they headed towards the Taekwondo Club.

Wang Xian didn't mind the growing crowd behind him and arrived at the entrance of the Taekwondo Club.

Creak!

Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. Walking to the door, he pushed the door open directly.

The Taekwondo Club had a huge room and there were many students still wearing Taekwondo uniforms while practicing.

When the door was pushed open, some members looked out inquisitively.

Wang Xian stood at the entrance and swept his eyes across before walking in slowly.

"Get Xu Qingcheng over. Tell him that Wang Xian is here!"

Some members of the Taekwondo looked over with sarcasm.

"Hehe, he's here. It's time to see how our captain will torture him!"

Chapter 113: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (4)

Sarcastic laughter was heard in the Taekwondo Club. Most of the members had only mocking expressions when they saw the young man at the door.

They looked relaxed as though they were watching a show.

They did not regard Wang Xian highly even though he was here for the challenge.

Sparring with their President was as good as getting bashed by their President.

"Hey, Lad. Wait over here. I'll get our President here."

A burly member gazed disdainfully at Wang Xian from head to toe.

"Hurry up, I'm busy!"

Wang Xian looked at that member before he walked impassively to a chair.

"Hmph, how arrogant. I hope you can remain arrogant later!"

Seeing the impatient look on Wang Xian, that member snorted and went to the back of the club.

People who had followed Wang Xian to the Taekwondo Club were standing around with interest.

In less than a minute, Xu Qingcheng appeared with five members behind him.

All of them fixed their eyes on Wang Xian, who was sitting in the chair.

Xu Qingcheng displayed a mocking expression on his face. He did not expect that Wang Xian would run over here.

"Some courage you've got. Not a coward, huh!"

Xu Qingcheng slowly walked towards Wang Xian. The way he gazed at Wang Xian was as though he was almighty.

Wang Xian hated this kind of person!

Self-flattering!

"I don't have time for you people. Xu Qingcheng, show me your best. I want to see if you're formidable like what others have said!"

Wang Xian stood up and stared at Xu Qingcheng.

"Brother Cheng, this fellow is too cocky. You don't even have to step out. I can take him on!"

Before Xu Qingcheng could say anything, the burly member spoke his mind. He stared at Wang Xian with a dismissive look as he stretched his well-built body.

Wang Xian was 1.75 meters tall. He was not very tall, and he was quite skinny.

As such, none of the long-time members of the Taekwondo Club regarded him highly.

"How can you be such a bully?" Xu Qingcheng gestured for him to shut up. He put on a smiling face and looked at Wang Xian, "I've made myself clear on the forum. This is just sparring. There is no restriction to the type of martial arts used. Anything will do. Let me see the capability of this highly-acclaimed character. I want to know how qualified he is to dine with Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing!"

Wang Xian laughed at his words as he threw a taunting look at Xu Qingcheng. "Save me that look. You asked me here to show off yourself. Since you want to have some fun, I'll do it with you. Let's do some sparring!"

The smile on Xu Qingcheng froze on his face when he heard what Wang Xian said. He looked coldly at Wang Xian. "Fine, since you're courting your own doom, I'll grant your wish!"

"Heh heh!"

Wang Xian looked at the sparring arena in the center of the club. With a face full of smiles, he walked towards it.

"Enjoy the walk. You might be carried out of this place later." Xu Qingcheng's cold voice came from behind him.

"Old Wang, are... are you confident?" Wang Dahai, next to him, asked him with concerns.

Wang Xian gave him an assuring look.

"They're really sparring. Hurry, let's get a good seat!"

"Before we comment on the fight, Wang Xian is indeed courageous to begin with!"

"Courageous, my ass! Sparring with Xu Qingcheng is simply looking for his own trouble!"

"Haha, I really want to see Xu Qingcheng."

The surrounding students were exhilarated as the two of them headed to the arena. All of them quickly circled around the arena.

"Brother Cheng, you don't even have to dirty your hands. This is overkill!" a few guys around Xu Qingcheng looked at Wang Xian and said disdainfully.

"It's okay. I'll not use both hands and give him some handicaps. If not, someone will think I'm a bully."

Xu Qingcheng looked at the figure in front of him with a smiling face. An idea came to him. He looked at the few people beside him and continued, "Later, you'll go live on the forum so that all students in the University of Rivertown will know him!"

"Live?" Some of the members brightened their eyes and chuckled, "Sure, Brother Cheng. Leave this to us."

Going live on the forum did not mean video streaming, but more like updates using images.

One of the members took his phone out and snapped a few photos of Wang Xian.

Subsequently, he found a few more angles to take charming photos for Xu Qingcheng.

He opened the school forum and drew his lips slightly while starting a new thread.

Title: [Who will kneel? Xu Qingcheng, the Prince Charming vs. Wang Xian, the Beast with a handicap of two hands.]

He had a smirk when he looked at the headline and photos he posted.

Edit, send.

Wang Xian and Xu Qingcheng walked into the ring, which was surrounded by hundreds of students.

Many students took out their phones, ready to record this PK match.

The members of the Taekwondo Club were spectating the match with ease. They were waiting for their President to abuse his target.

"You still turn up despite knowing you'll lose. Lad, you aren't really that lousy."

Xu Qingcheng stood around casually in his white Taekwondo robe, criticizing Wang Xian.

It was as if a teacher was reviewing a student.

"Why not this? I'll not use either of my hands!"

Xu Qingcheng went on. He placed his hands behind his back, protruding the black belt on his waist.

This symbolized his strength.

"Wow, Senior Xu Qingcheng is simply too cool!"

"Such generosity by not using his hands. Prince Charming Xu Qingcheng is too domineering."

"This is the stance that a powerhouse should adopt. Comparing him to Wang Xian, Wang Xian is just an evil clown!"

The students outside of the ring were deeply impressed by Xu Qingcheng. He was looking mighty with his hands behind his back.

The member who was posting on the forum took a few snapshots excitedly. His caption was written as [The look of a winner].

[Wow, that Wang Xian accepted the challenge from Senior Xu Qingcheng.]

[Ah, I'm in the dormitory now. I wonder if I can still make it to watch how Senior Xu Qingcheng knocks out Wang Xian with a kick!]

[Xu Qingcheng already gave him the leeway by not using his hands. Wang Xian will be embarrassed if he can't even block 10 strokes from him.]

[Thread owner, please update soon. We want to see the photos of how Beast Wang Xian was beaten to a pulp. You must take more photos.]

There were more than hundreds of replies below the thread that was started not long ago.

The excitement was all over that member's face.

"I'll let you start first!"

Just then, Xu Qingcheng's voice was heard from the ring again. He tilted his head slightly and sneered at him!

"Do it. This is your only chance to strike. Haha!"

"President, let's not talk about giving him a two-hands handicap. Even if you use just your leg, you can also send him flying with a kick."

Confident and sarcastic voices came from a group of Taekwondo members outside the ring.

Chapter 114: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (5)

"Xu Qingcheng, why are you kicking up a fuss?"

In the Taekwondo Club, just as Wang Xian was about to cripple this arrogant guy with a slap, a loud roar pierced through the atmosphere.

The surrounding crowd, who was ready for a show, turned around and looked in shock.

All they saw was a middle-aged man in a Taekwondo suit rushing over. He had the same black belt over his waist and looked worried.

"Coach!"

"Coach!"

The members of the club quickly greeted despite being surprised by the middle-aged man.

The middle-aged coach wasn't bothered and walked up to the ring with a heavy expression. His gaze swept passed Wang Xian and his heart palpitated rapidly. After which, he turned to his student and stared angrily at him.

"Coach, why are you here?" Xu Qingcheng was startled to see his coach.

"If I didn't come, would you expect me to accept your actions silently?"

Yan Hu was furious and gave Xu Qingcheng a harsh stare. He took a deep breath and walked towards Wang Xian.

"I'm sorry, Wang Xian. My student couldn't tell what's good for him and has offended you. I'll teach him a lesson personally."

The middle-aged coach spoke with great respect.

He didn't know much about Wang Xian but he knew that Wang Xian was a person that even Director Sun had to show great respect to from the incident on that night.

Director Sun was a friend of a higher social status that he got into contact with by coincidence.

On that night, Director Sun had also invited him. Therefore, he knew what had happened in the bar.

After that incident, he heard some information from Director Sun. This young man wasn't from a family with a strong background but was one with truly incredible strength.

This strength was referring to human strength.

As a 9th Dan Taekwondo expert who had reached the epitome of Taekwondo, his battle prowess was extraordinary.

Even so, he also knew some things that ordinary people didn't.

That was none other than Ancient Martial Arts.

Against Ancient Martial Arts, the Taekwondo that he practiced was no more than playing house.

At this moment, this student of his had offended such an expert. He must be truly eager to die.

The other party could even kill you before anyone noticed it.

Wang Xian looked at this middle-aged coach with doubts.

Yan Hu saw his puzzled looks and immediately explained. "Hi, student. You might not recognize me but I was lucky to have met you at the bar that night. I'm a friend of Director Sun."

Wang Xian nodded his head and looked to Xu Qingcheng.

"Xu Qingcheng! Apologize now!" Seeing that Wang Xian had turned to Xu

Qingcheng, Yan Hu quickly shouted.

"Coach... You... You..."

Xu Qingcheng looked at his coach in disbelief. He couldn't understand why his teacher would be chiding him or why his coach would apologize to the other party. Moreover, he was even doing so with great respect.

One should know that his coach was a 9th Dan blackbelt and had even clinched the title of the National Taekwondo Champion.

It was also because of the teachings of his incredible coach that he managed to achieve what he had today.

"Apologize! To challenge Young Master Wang with your strength, are you courting a beating? Even I am not a match for Young Master Wang, do you think you would be? If I hadn't seen the thread in the school forum by coincidence, I wouldn't have known that you are so brazen!"

Yan Hu chided Xu Qingcheng angrily.

"What?" Xu Qingcheng's eyes stared wide open and looked at his own coach in disbelief.

What did I just hear?

Coach said that he isn't a match for him?

How can this be! My coach is a 9th Dan Blackbelt!

"Are you turning a deaf ear to what I've said?" Yan Hu looked at him and continued.

Seeing his coach's expression, Xu Qingcheng looked around unwilling and said with a blushing face, "I'm... I'm sorry!"

He didn't dare to defy his coach's words and his coach wouldn't lie to him.

However, he still couldn't understand why his coach wouldn't be a match for Wang Xian.

What just happened? What just happened?

The surrounding crowd looked at the sudden twist in development in disbelief. They had all believed that Xu Qingcheng would give Wang Xian a painful lesson.

However, before their fight even started, Coach Yan Hu suddenly rushed over.

Coach Yan Hu was a pretty well-known figure in the University of Rivertown. He had taken on over 10 street ruffians by himself when they came to school to cause trouble.

It was also because of that incident that Coach Yan Hu shot to stardom and made the Taekwondo Club the hottest student club in the University of Rivertown.

And now, Coach Yan actually apologized to Wang Xian and even claimed that he wasn't a match for Wang Xian!

This...

Everyone was astonished.

It was especially so for the members of the Taekwondo Club. They were puzzled over Coach Yan Hu's words.

However, since they were from Coach Yan Hu, they had no reason to doubt the authenticity of them.

In the crowd, those students, who had come over to watch a show, looked towards the Taekwondo Club members. Some of them were shocked but there were also some who looked at the members with mockery.

Just a while ago, they had seen their disdainful looks on Wang Xian.

And now, their coach ran out to apologize and even made Xu Qingcheng do the same.

Twist!

Major twist of events!

Wang Xian hadn't even moved a finger and the outcome of this matter had been clear as crystal.

The Taekwondo Club members sensed the gazes from the surrounding crowd and their faces turned a little red from embarrassment.

As for that student who was using his phone to update the situation on the thread, he stood there in complete shock.

Seeing that there were still students constantly replying, his face sank.

What should I do now? Continue to update?

Am I supposed to say that the sparring did not happen because their coach arrived? That he even apologized to Wang Xian and stated that he wasn't a match for Wang Xian? That he is here to reprimand Xu Qingcheng for being brazen and courting death?

And even made Xu Qingcheng apologize?

If I send this out, Xu Qingcheng will be completely embarrassed!

How could he even lift his head in front of Wang Xian in the future?

However, even if I don't post, those students who were here to witness would also spread this out.

Damn!

At this moment, he suddenly saw someone had updated the situation on his behalf in the thread he had started.

Picture after picture and word after word.

[Just as the two of them were about to fight, Coach Yan rushed over and apologized to Wang Xian personally. He even claimed to not be a match for the other party!]

[Coach Yan made Xu Qingcheng apologize and Xu Qingcheng did so with a flushing red face!]

[Those Taekwondo Club members, who were mocking Wang Xian previously, just got a tight slap to their faces. If their Coach isn't a match for Wang Xian, how are they qualified to mock him?]

The updates continued and many had pictures attached.

That student blacked out. He couldn't hide it! This incident couldn't be hidden anymore.

"I'm sorry, Wang Xian, I'm sorry!"

At this moment, in the ring, Coach Yan brought Xu Qingcheng over, bowed and apologized.

This action stunned the crowd once again.

Wang Xian frowned upon seeing their actions. He didn't say another word and headed for the exit.

Behind him, Wang Dahai followed behind excitedly. Even he had not expected things to have developed in such a manner.

Wang Xian strolled towards the exit under the gaze of the crowd.

When he reached the exit, he suddenly stopped.

He lifted his head and saw a signboard three meters above the door. On the signboard were two words: "Taekwondo Club."

He smirked.

Coach Yan had rushed over to apologize to him personally. He was a coach and was acting respectfully towards Wang Xian. This made it hard for Wang Xian to press on the matter.

However, he wasn't pleased with Xu Qingcheng and the club members.

When he walked in, they were all looking at him with despisement.

Taekwondo Club!

Wang Xian smirked. To the astonishment of the crowd, he jumped lightly and smashed violently at the signboard with a kick!

Bam!

Shattered!

Chapter 115: Known Throughout University of Rivertown (6)

[Nobody was expecting such an end. Xu Qingcheng bowed and apologized to Wang Xian, who was invited for sparring, even though they did not fight.]

[Even Coach Yan Hu said he was not a match for Wang Xian. He even made a respectful apology to him. How strong is Wang Xian?]

[How domineering is he! Did you see how Wang Xian leaped two meters high when he left the Taekwondo Club? He smashed the signboard with just a kick. That was an outright slap to their faces!]

[Xu Qingcheng shamed himself much this time. He and the entire Taekwondo Club's members mocked Wang Xian just now. Now, they couldn't even make a sound when Wang Xian smashed their signboard. What a shame!]

[Xu Qingcheng will have to avoid Wang Xian at all costs in the future.]

[Breaking opening with a dramatic ending. Naughty Xu Qingcheng challenged Wang Xian, but his father-like Coach Yan Hu slapped him awake and got him to apologize. How interesting!]

[I wonder how formidable Wang Xian is such that even Coach Yan Hu admitted that he was not a match. Moreover, from the way Wang Xian smashed the signboard when he left, I could tell that he's superb!]

The school forum erupted into commotion again. Incidents involving Wang Xian had become more captivating in the last two days.

The thread that was posted by the member of the Taekwondo Club had more than ten thousand replies.

Since this incident involved Wang Xian and Xu Qingcheng, the Prince Charming, it was expected to draw all the students' attention in the school.

"Power, Old Wang. You're simply too domineering!" Wang Dahai said to Wang Xian with a face full of admiration when they were on their way.

Wang Xian had arrived at the Taekwondo Club and confronted everyone with composure. Even when he smashed the signboard with a kick, he looked incredibly cool.

"No wonder both Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue goddesses fancy you. I'm also beginning to like you, Old Wang."

"Get lost, I have no interest in you!"

Wang Xian peered at him, "Continue to look for your Sister, Su Qian."

"Hehe, there's no need to since we've been keeping contact for the past two days. Now, you stirred such a commotion, I'm sure Su Qian will be curious and find out things from me."

Wang Dahai spoke with some pride. He could sense love on its way.

Wang Xian shook his head without any words, "I will be busy for the next few days. Apply for leave from the counselor on my behalf. If you send beverages to Su Qian everyday, remember to give one to my sister too!"

"Leave? Old Wang, what are you busy with?" Wang Dahai was slightly stunned as he asked doubtfully.

"I have something to attend to. It should take about one or two weeks," Wang Xian replied.

He was going to use these few days to search the entire Bohai Sea for any resources that could be tapped, like a sinking ship.

In addition, he also needed to proceed with the medical hall.

Wang Xian did not mind if this delayed his studies now.

The school was not important to him anymore. He would have dropped out of school if his sister did not report to school. So he had to keep her company for a while.

All he wanted to pursue was the starry sky and the ocean.

"All right, Old Wang. Don't worry about your sister. Leave her in my hands."
Wang Dahai patted his chest. He understood that Wang Xian was now undergoing tremendous changes.

As a buddy, he did not probe further as long as his buddy was doing well.

"Get lost. What do you mean by leaving her in your hands? I'm just going away for a few days."

Wang Dahai patted hard on Wang Dahai's shoulder.

"Stop it, Old Wang. Stop it. You're so formidable now. All my fault. My fault!"

Wang Dahai screamed immediately and briskly walked to the dormitory.

Wang Xian chuckled and followed behind him.

After four to five hours of propagation, almost all the students knew about the incident on the school forum.

When Wang Xian walked along the path in school in the afternoon, many people continued to point and gossip about him.

What made the difference was the curiosity and respect in the eyes of many. The sarcasm, disdain, and even jealousy in the looks was not as much as before.

Wang Xian came to the office to apply for a week's leave from the counselor.

Wang Xian managed to do so after answering all the curious questions from the counselor.

He paused and took out his phone to send a message to Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue after he walked out of the office. He told both of them that he would be away for two days and he might be uncontactable.

"Guan Shuqing, Lan Qingyue!"

Wang Xian mumbled the two names and shook his head. If he had to choose either one of them now, he probably will pick Guan Shuqing.

These past few days, Guan Shuqing had been using her free time to settle some of the accounts of the First-grade Restaurant.

She was a girl who had no complaints about her work, and she was poor in expressing herself.

Wang Xian liked her because he felt comfortable with her.

Guan Shuqing was listening attentively to the teacher in her class.

When the phone buzzed, she froze slightly when she read Wang Xian's message.

She knew what had happened during the past few days just like she knew that Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue went out for dinner.

Yet, she did not comment on anything, nor did she question him either.

Guan Shuqing felt that her silent effort would eventually pay off. That was her character, and she believed Wang Xian liked her.

[Take care, and let me know once you're back] Guan Shuqing replied.

[Sure.]

Wang Xian felt a heart-warming feeling when he saw Guan Shuqing's reply.

Buzz!

At the same time, his phone buzzed again with the arrival of Lan Qingyue's message.

[Is there anything I can do to help? I've brought you enough troubles for the past two days.]

[No, I'm just gonna be busy for the next two days. Just letting you know beforehand as there might be no signal then.]

Lan Qingyue's reply was totally different from Guan Shuqing's.

Back at the office building in the city center, Lan Qingyue was sitting in front of her computer in her formal attire. She was frowning when she looked at Wang

Xian's message.

She knew what had happened during these two days in school.

"Was it me who made him feel irritated, hence he..."

Lan Qingyue was thinking a little too much. She bit her lips. "Blame it on those people who love to gossip in school."

She took a deep breath and logged in to the school forum.

Since she was the vice-chairman of the student council, all the students knew her forum ID.

Create post:

[1. I hope everyone will stop discussing Xiao Xian and me.]

[2. Whatever that happened between Xiao Xian, Guan Shuqing and I is only between us. I hope no one will make any wild guesses or even slanderings.]

[3. Fair competition.]

After Lan Qingyue wrote three lines, she posted out immediately.

She was in a daze when she looked at the thread that was posted out.

She thought she should not have brought troubles to Wang Xian.

At the same time, she would not give up. Even though she might get hurt in the end, all she wanted was a fair competition!

Chapter 116: Water Monkey

Wang Xian rode his heavy-duty motorcycle from the school. What he didn't know was that his name had once again caused an uproar in the school forum.

A thread from Lan Qingyue had made Wang Xian's name known throughout the University of Rivertown.

As for Wang Xian, his name had truly spread to the entire University of Rivertown. Everyone would know about him and hear about him.

He had captured the hearts of two goddesses and even made Lan Qingyue made the comment on "fair competition!" This made all the male students spit out a mouthful of blood.

Why?

Why isn't it me whom the goddess has fallen in love with?

If I was the one, you wouldn't have to compete with anyone!

Wang Xian's name was even known by the new batch of year one students.

Xiao Yu was naturally thrilled to see two goddess-level beauties pursue her brother and was trying to find out more about Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

She would like to know which sister-in-law would be better.

However, what she got was the same two words: "Perfect Goddess!"

...

After riding his motorcycle to the seaside, Wang Xian walked towards the forefront of a fish farm. There was a vessel that was parking by the side.

"Dragon King!"

On the vessel, the four dragonians immediately greeted with great respect the moment they saw Wang Xian.

Mm!

Wang Xian nodded his head and boarded the vessel.

The vessel spanned approximately 40 meters. It wasn't huge and wasn't a luxury yacht. It was simply a shipping vessel used for transportation.

The vessel moved quickly and soon they arrived at the deserted island in the middle of the seas.

At this moment, there were over a thousand people constructing on the island.

When the construction was completed, Dragon Sect would enter the ranks of the Ancient Martial Artist Families and make its name known throughout the country.

Wang Xian alighted at the island and observed the surroundings.

"Has the Dragon Sect Platform been built?" Wang Xian asked the dragonian beside him.

"Yes, it's completed, Dragon King!" the dragonian immediately replied.

"Mm. Great." Wang Xian nodded his head.

Dragon Sect Platform was similar to the "Generals Conferment Platform" of ancient times. To put it simply, it would be similar to a jetty. However, this jetty wasn't for ships to park, but for the subordinates of the Dragon Palace.

Wang Xian arrived at the location of the Dragon Sect Platform. The location was a deserted area of the island and spanned over a kilometer. It was built from concrete and extended towards the sea.

At the middle of it was a platform with three words written in ancient style: "Dragon Sect Platform"!

Wang Xian stood on it and looked to the sea.

With just a thought, he spread his dragon power towards the surroundings.

In less than two minutes, a giant clam appeared at the surface of the sea in front of the Dragon Sect Platform.

"Dragon King!"

The clam opened and Roving Girl appeared on the sea surface. Around her, the waters were circulating. She has a figure similar to a human and greeted Wang Xian.

Wang Xian nodded his head slightly and didn't say a word.

In less than five minutes, a golden lobster-like organism surfaced from beneath the water in front of the Dragon Sect Platform.

It stood on the surface of the water and had a pair of giant golden claws that had the glow of metal.

The golden metallic exterior shimmered under the sunlight. It bowed and greeted with great respect, "Dragon King!"

It was none other than Roving Lobster of the Dragon Palace!

Wang Xian nodded his head and still didn't say a word.

At this moment, the waters in front of the Dragon Sect Platform started moving violently and caused huge waves.

A ginormous object that spanned approximately 10 meters emerged from the seas.

"Dragon King!"

The giant animal lifted his dull-yellow head and greeted Wang Xian.

It was none other than Prime Minister Turtle of the Dragon Palace!

The three marine animals floated on the surface of the seas. Any one of them, if discovered by a human, would have caused a huge uproar.

Wang Xian stood on the Dragon Sect Platform and looked down on his three subordinates.

Prime Minister Turtle: Level 11

Art of Cultivation: Earth Dragon Transformation

Superpower: Ability to control turtle race whose level is lower than own existing level; Control Earth

Roving Lobster: Level 8

Art of Cultivation: Metal Dragon Transformation

Superpower: Ability to control lobster race whose level is lower than own existing level; Control Metal

Roving Girl: Level 9

Art of Cultivation: Water Dragon Transformation

Superpower: Ability to control clam race whose level is lower than own existing level, Control Water

"Dragon King!"

The three marine animals exchanged gazes before greeting in unison.

"Mm. Currently, the three of you are the only members of our Dragon Palace. I will require more marine animals. Besides that, I've got to look for material to build the Dragon Palace. Today, I've summoned the three of you to follow me to search the entire Bohai Sea."

Wang Xian stood on the Dragon Sect Platform, which looked just like the "Generals Conferment Platform" of ancient times, and spoke to Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Girl and Roving Lobster. He was satisfied with their current strength.

The group had practiced Divine Dragon Transformation and their strength had increased very quickly.

The strongest, Prime Minister Turtle, had already attained the level above the Inborn state, a level above his former stage.

"Yes, Dragon King!" Roving Girl, Roving Lobster and Prime Minister Turtle answered immediately.

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head. Although he had only three subordinates at this moment, he hoped that there would be a day where he stood on the Dragon Sect Platform in front of tens of millions of Dragon Palace members. He also believed that the day would come sooner than later.

"Let's go!"

Wang Xian jumped into the skies and turned into a five-colored divine dragon.

Growl!

A soft dragon roar propagated through the atmosphere. The five-meters long Wang Xian dove into the seas directly.

Swaying his body, he led the group.

Roving Girl and Roving Lobster immediately swam to his left and right while Prime Minister Turtle stayed behind Wang Xian.

"Dragon King!" At this moment, Prime Minister Turtle remarked.

"What's the matter?" Wang Xian looked at Prime Minister Turtle with doubt.

"Dragon King, if you are looking to get more subordinates, I know of such a place."

Prime Minister Turtle spoke slowly after thinking about the matter.

"Oh? Where would that be? What kind of marine animals are there?" Wang Xian asked Prime Minister Turtle inquisitively.

"A group of Water Monkeys. I remember encountering them at a location near the seas. They lived in a group, had pairs of sharp claws and were annoying!" Prime Minister Turtle replied.

"Water Monkeys?"

Wang Xian was taken aback and sank into thought.

He had heard of Water Monkeys previously. They were similar to apes and were referred to as water spirits by the civilians.

Water Monkeys looked horrifying and had hair all over their bodies. They also had tremendous brute strength.

Are the water monkeys Prime Minister Turtle has mentioned similar to those in folklore?

Wang Xian thought to himself. He turned to Prime Minister Turtle and instructed, "Lead the way!"

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Prime Minister Turtle nodded his head. He sank to the seabed and executed his Earth Control superpower.

Under the propulsion of the Earth, the speed of Prime Minister Turtle was unbelievably fast!

Roving Girl and Roving Lobster couldn't keep up with him at all.

Prime Minister Turtle is still the more competent member. Not only has it lived for several thousands of years, but it also has a better understanding of the surroundings. Moreover, it is also stronger!

Wang Xian was very satisfied with Prime Minister Turtle. Perhaps Prime Minister Turtle could truly be competent enough to take on the responsibilities as the chamberlain of the Dragon Palace.

Bohai Sea. Under the leadership of Prime Minister Turtle, they swam approximately a hundred kilometers. Along the way, they met a few schools of small fish but Wang Xian ignored them.

"Dragon King, they are right ahead!" Prime Minister Turtle looked ahead and said.

Wang Xian turned his attention forward. This piece of sea region had complicated landforms.

The underwater mountains were closely packed.

Their peaks were also just a few meters from the surface of the water.

The entire region looked gloomy as though even sunlight couldn't shine through.

Wang Xian jerked his head and looked to his right.

In that direction, there was an emaciated organism of approximately 1.5 meters which had red eyes. It stood at the peak of one of the mountains and was staring at them!

Chapter 117: The Destructive Devil Monkey

Jagged peaks of seamounts jutted out from the seabed in the dark.

A pair of bloodshot eyes were exceptionally obvious in the sea as it hugged the tips of the peaks with a hideous and horrifying expression.

A pair of sharp fangs were exposed from its mouth, with its entire body covered with fur.

Wang Xian stared at the Water Monkey, and the monkey did the same too.

Devil Monkey: Level 5

Extractable Dragon Energy: 544

"Devil Monkey?"

Wang Xian was taken aback as he read the information about the Water Monkey. A Water Monkey, standing at 1.5 meters tall, had Level-five strength, which was even more dominating than sharks.

Wang Xian rocked his body and swam towards the Devil Monkey.

Zi zi, Zi zi!

The Devil Monkey screeched the moment it saw Wang Xian approaching. Wang Xian could vaguely hear the message it was trying to convey.

Get out of here. The Devil Monkey told them to get lost.

"Monkeys' IQ is relatively high. Indeed. A mere Level-five Devil Monkey already has Spiritual Intelligence. Not bad!"

Wang Xian's eyes brightened up while displaying his imposing disposition.

Roar!

With a soft dragon growl, the Dragon Power enveloped the Devil Monkey immediately.

As a Divine Dragon, his Dragon Power could subdue all creatures lower than his level.

Now, he was already in Level Six. He could subdue all creatures below level six.

Zi zi, Zi zi!

The Devil Monkey was petrified. It let out a frightful scream and hugged the seamount peak with uneasiness.

"Submit to me!"

Wang Xian yelled softly as the Dragon Power encompassed the Devil Monkey

Zi zi!

Just then, the Devil Monkey hugged its head in pain. It looked up and let out a sharp screeching sound.

The sound traveled far, far away.

"Bad news, Dragon King. It is trying to summon all other Water Monkeys here!"

Upon hearing the sharp shriek, the Prime Minister Turtle behind him had a change in expression. He quickly reminded Wang Xian.

Wang Xian knit his eyebrows slightly. "How many Water Monkeys are there?"

He gazed at the dark waters. The area seemed to span to a dozen kilometers away.

Just when Wang Xian finished his question, he suddenly noticed more and more bright red eyes appearing in front of him.

These Devil Monkeys jumped and leaped around the jagged peaks on the sea bed just like a great army that exuded ferocious devilish aura.

The sharp claws dug into the peaks as they leaped towards them.

"So many of them!"

Wang Xian stared at the mighty Devil Monkeys ahead of him as he was looking shocked.

At least a thousand Devil Monkeys were glaring at them coldly.

"Apart from level five, there are Devil Monkeys in level six and seven!"

Wang Xian swept his gaze across all the Devil Monkeys. At the same time, their information appeared in his mind too.

Zi zi!

"Tear them apart!"

At this time, a sharp cry was heard. Wang Xian looked over immediately.

Right in the middle, a Devil Monkey of three-meters tall with a burly body squatted on one of the peaks as it let out a roar!

Zi zi, Zi zi!

Zi zi, Zi zi!

The Devil Monkeys around it reciprocated with high-pitched cries too. The sound of it was extremely sharp even in the water.

One by one, the monkeys leaped and attacked with sharp claws, honed fangs and agile movements.

"Courting your own doom!"

Upon seeing the charging bunch of Devil Monkeys, Wang Xian fired his imposing Dragon Power and encompassed them. All the Devil Monkeys below level six were shuddering and did not dare to move at all.

He stretched out his metal dragon claws at the nearest Level-seven Devil Monkey.

"Courting your own doom. Submit to me or die!"

The Prime Minister Turtle let out a cold bawl. His body was close to the ground as he swept up a massive amount of earth and stones at the dozens of Devil Monkeys.

"Surrender!"

Roving Girl was standing behind. The ocean in front of her swirled and turned into gushes of water currents which she used to attack the Devil Monkeys.

Kaka. "Die!"

Roving Lobster raised his pair of gigantic claws and attacked them.

"Tearing you apart!"

The Level-seven Devil Monkey was not afraid of Wang Xian's incoming attack. With a pair of sharp claws, it reached out to Wang Xian's head.

"Since you are disobedient, I'll bash all of you up till you surrender!"

With a swing, Wang Xian's dragon claws confronted the Devil Monkey's claw.

The metal dragon claws, accompanied by a tearing sound, turned the entire sea in front of him into a vacuum.

Sss!

As the dragon claws struck across, the Level-seven Devil Monkey was torn into two.

Wang Xian opened his mouth and swallowed it up.

At the bottom of the sea, the Prime Minister Turtle acted like a stone mountain. Pieces of hard soil blocks around him were thrown at the dozens of monkeys in front of him.

Bam!

The massive amount of soil blocks hurled the monkeys against the peaks behind them.

On the right, the Roving Girl was controlling the water as she bound four monkeys with it. The water current strangled their necks to death.

On the left, the Roving Lobster was surrounded by eight monkeys. All of them were quick-moving as they struck their claws occasionally at the Roving Lobster.

But the Roving Lobster had a body of metal. The claws of the Devil Monkeys were only able to leave a few marks on his body.

When the Roving Lobster expanded his pair of claws, the claws were so sharp that he could snap the Devil Monkeys into two once he caught hold of them.

Practicing the Divine Dragon Transformation had allowed them to battle with strengths that were beyond their levels.

For a moment, thousands of Devil Monkeys were entirely suppressed by them.

In less than 20 seconds, they had killed hundreds of Devil Monkeys!

"Submit to me, or else, I'll exterminate all of you!"

On seeing the dauntless Devil Monkeys, the color of Wang Xian's body changed violently. Eventually, it stopped at the fiery-red color.

As the Inferno Divine Dragon made his appearance, the seawater around him began to seethe.

Wang Xian opened his mouth, and a fiery-red Dragon Ball appeared inside it.

After his nurturing, the current Dragon Ball was even more formidable than before.

The combined power of the Inferno Divine Dragon and the Fire Dragon Ball doubled.

Roar!

The dragon roar echoed throughout the waters. He opened his mouth and wrapped the Dragon Ball with immense flames. With the Dragon Ball, he lurched forward to attack.

Boom!

The boiling waters were rapidly evaporating as the power of the flame from the Dragon Ball was dominating.

Bam!

The monkeys let out painful cries as the Dragon Ball swept across hundreds of meters ahead.

Some of the weaker ones were incinerated.

Bam!

The Dragon Ball eventually landed on a small peak, crushing the tip of it.

One could see a fiery zone with various types of fish within the thousand meters, killed under such high temperature outside the sea.

"Surrender!" Wang Xian bellowed angrily once again with his roar resounding through the world.

The path to becoming the strongest was built on blood and flesh. Hence, Wang Xian did not have the slightest bit of pity for killing all these Devil Monkeys.

It was his destiny to blaze his way through all obstacles!

Blood and flesh pathed the way to the peak!

Boom!

"How dare you kill my younger generations. Go and die!"

Just then, a seamount peak was split open as a fierce cry was heard.

A Devil Monkey of a size of five meters came into sight.

It was burly and muscular, glaring at them with a pair of bloodshot eyes.

Evil aura lingered around it as it held a seven-meters long metal rod in its hand.

Like a destructive Devil Monkey!

Chapter 118: Nine Divisions Of The Divine Dragon

Devil Monkey King: Level 10

Extractable Dragon Energy: 201,231

It's Level 10 and its extractable dragon energy is over 200,000! This devil monkey king is really formidable. In fact, he is almost as strong as me!

Wang Xian looked at the Devil Monkey King in front of him and had a solemn look.

His current level was six but in his divine dragon form, he could go beyond his level and challenge Level 11 animals.

However, that was applicable to ordinary animals.

For some Level 11 animals, they were able to fight beyond their level and slay Level 12 existences.

Although the Devil Monkey King was Level 10, the aura it was emitting would easily match a Level 11 animal.

The Devil Monkey King stood on the peak of the mountain that it had sliced off. An unknown metal rod that was about seven meters long was resting on his shoulders as he looked down on Wang Xian with contempt.

That looks...!

Wang Xian stared at the Devil Monkey King in front of him and recalled a character in a popular novel, The Great Sage Equalling Heaven, Sun Wukong!

[\[1\]](#)

They both had the disposition of being the one above all and both of them used rods as weapons!

"Surrender or die!"

Wang Xian wasn't wary at all. The other party wasn't the Great Sage Equalling Heaven and he wasn't the Dragon King of the East Seas from the popular novel.

[\[2\]](#)

"How dare you kill my disciples and followers. I'm going to slaughter you!"

The Devil Monkey King held the rod in his hands tightly and his blood-red eyes were filled with black gas.

"Water Monkeys! If you aren't willing to submit to the Dragon King, I'll kill every single one of you!"

Prime Minister Turtle lifted his huge head as it started emitting a dull-yellow aura.

Around him, the earth started churning. His huge body was also emitting a heavy atmosphere.

Prime Minister Turtle's strength wouldn't be weaker than the Devil Monkey King. In fact, he might even be stronger.

Zi zi!

The Devil Monkey King gripped onto his rod tightly and gritted his teeth as he looked at the Prime Minister Turtle. He then turned his attention to Wang Xian.

A tinge of fear flashed past his eyes.

"You've got to defeat me to make me surrender. Otherwise...!"

As the Devil Monkey King spoke, he started manipulating the rod in his hand. Letting out a roar, he continued, "Otherwise, I won't be convinced!"

"Great, I'll make you submit to me!"

Wang Xian stared at the Devil Monkey King. The intelligence of this Devil Monkey King was terrifyingly high. If he could make it a general under him, it would definitely become an important general in the future!

"If you want me to submit, show me your strength. Otherwise, get out of my region and I forbid you from entering in the future!"

The devilish aura on the Devil Monkey King started raging and the water around him started turning black.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian agreed. Only by completely defeating this obstinate and unruly Devil Monkey King would it be convinced. Otherwise, it would likely choose death over surrender.

Wang Xian waved his dragon claws as the metal claws gave off a metallic glow. Charging ahead, he attacked the Devil Monkey King directly.

"Come to me!"

The Devil Monkey King moved like a demonic shadow and was surprisingly faster than Wang Xian. Lifting the rod in his hands, he smashed ruthlessly at Wang Xian's head.

What incredible speed!

Astonishment flashed in Wang Xian's eyes. He swayed his tails and the seawater around him started getting denser. With him as the center, the area of 100 meters around him seemed to have been turned into a swamp.

Water Control!

Zi zi. "Huh?"

The Devil Monkey King could sense the immense increase in resistance. The devilish flames on him exploded as he forced open a free area.

"Space Shattering Metal Dragon Claws!"

The dragon claws that were glowing slashed towards the Devil Monkey King.

The devilish aura around the Devil Monkey King was shredded immediately and 18 golden marks fell onto the Devil Monkey King's body.

Zi zi! Rawwr!

Deep cuts appeared on the body of the Devil Monkey King all of a sudden. However, what was creepy was that the Devil Monkey King wasn't bleeding. Instead, dense black gases started flowing out.

It lifted its head and growled. Strong and dense dark aura started emitting from the rod in his hands as the Devil Monkey King swung towards Wang Xian.

"Earth Dragon's Imperial Guard!"

Wang Xian could sense the powers of the incoming attack and was shocked. He immediately started emitting dull-yellow Earth energy around his body.

Bam!

The black rod smashed onto Wang Xian's body directly. His body shook and the dense Earth energy dissipated, leaving behind a mark.

Sss!

Wang Xian gasped as he felt the excruciating pain from his body. The impact of the attack had numbed his entire body.

After he flushed his body with Wood attributes energy, his injuries recovered rapidly.

However, taking on this attack had made him exhaust substantial stamina.

"Even if your devilish flames could blaze the skies, I'd still defeat you today!"

Wang Xian swayed his tail. The surrounding waters moved as though they had a will and became extremely dense. Wang Xian stared at the Devil Monkey King in front of him and opened his mouth slightly.

The Dragon Ball was spat out once again. This time, the dragon ball was wrapped in a layer of water and illuminated the surrounding sea.

The Devil Monkey King looked solemnly at Wang Xian.

His wounds were still emitting a black gas and this was proof that his injuries weren't light.

The Devil Monkey King clenched his hands tightly around the rod.

"It's over!"

Wang Xian extended out his palm and was rotating the dragon ball with water control.

He stretched his dragon claws forward before slashing down.

The Devil Monkey King was shocked. The dense water around him had slowed him down substantially. In fact, his current speed was slower than Wang Xian.

If it couldn't dodge, it could only take it head-on, directly.

It lifted the rod in its hands, clenched it tightly with both hands and roared, "Take this!"

"I'd like to see how tough your rod is!"

Wang Xian maintained a poker face. The dragon ball started rotating even more violently in the middle of his dragon claw as the golden-colored dragon claws ripped apart space.

Bam!

When the dragon claw and the Dragon Ball collided with the metal rod, the water around the Dragon Ball dissipated and the Dragon Ball emitted horrifying heat.

Argh!

The flames of the dragon ball started flaking off. At the same time, Wang Xian opened his mouth and spewed out flames that covered several hundreds of meters.

The flames raged on as they started overpowering the devilish aura on the Devil Monkey King.

Argh! Argh! Argh!

A heart-wrenching scream sounded. It was as though the monkey was placed in a furnace.

"I... I'm willing to submit!" the Devil Monkey King shouted loudly.

Wang Xian opened his mouth once again and devoured the dragon ball with the flames. The Devil Monkey King lay on the floor, feeling completely drained.

The seawater that was vaporized by the flames gushed in once again.

Waving his dragon claw, a five-colored blood essence flew towards the Devil Monkey King.

"Absorb it and don't resist it!" Wang Xian shouted.

"Yes! I, the Monkey King, am willing to submit!"

The Devil Monkey King lifted his head and got up with the help of its rod. It was still panting violently. Although the battle wasn't long, it was perilous.

The Devil Monkey King had not practiced any Cultivation Arts and had lost.

Ding! Conquered Devil Monkey King!

The notification of the system sounded. Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. Waving his dragon claw again, he injected dragon energy into the body of the Devil Monkey King to heal its injuries.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

The Devil Monkey King knelt down on one knee and spoke with great respect to Wang Xian.

"I'll form the Nine Divisions of the Divine Dragon in the future. Today, I shall bestow upon you the name of Roving Heavens and place you in charge of the Devil Division! Order your subordinates to come over!"

Wang Xian imparted the Cultivation Arts of Devil Dragon Transformation to Devil Monkey King.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

"The Devil Monkey King went down on both knees and felt overwhelmed.

"Gather your subordinates!" Wang Xian instructed. Divine Dragon Transformation consisted of nine different divine dragon cultivation arts.

Metal, Wood, Water, Fire, Earth, Wind, Thunder, Light and Darkness. These were the nine different cultivation arts under the Divine Dragon Transformation.

Wang Xian was preparing to establish nine battle divisions of the Dragon Palace to fight in wars for him.

Devil belonged to Darkness. In the future, the Devil Monkey King would be in charge of the Devil Division!

Chapter 119: Devil Flowers

"Dragon King!"

Wang Xian stood on the summit of a mountain in the dark and gloomy sea. He was pleased with the bunch of Devil Monkeys before him.

Roving Heavens knelt in the center while holding onto his unknown metal rod.

The rod was so hard that it was beyond Wang Xian's imagination. During the combat just now, Wang Xian's claw and Dragon Ball did not do any harm to it at all.

Divine Dragons did not need to fight with celestial weapons. The only celestial weapon that he had was the Dragon Ball.

Hence, Divine Dragons did not know how to make weapons. But in the list of Dragon Palace's constructing materials, there was a pillar known as the Dinghai Divine Rod.

Dinghai Divine Rod not only made a strong pillar, but it could also be used as a weapon.

When Roving Heavens refined the rod in his hand to Dinghai Divine Rod, his combat power would be extremely domineering in the future.

Wang Xian could already imagine the imposing fighting demeanor of a Devil Monkey blazing in devilish flames with a Dinghai Divine Rod.

Behind Roving Heavens stood a bunch of Devil Monkeys. Among these monkeys, there was only one Level-nine, which is the highest level among all. The rest were level eight and below, while most of them were level five.

There was a total number of 800 monkeys.

All the Devil Monkeys bowed on the seafloor respectfully as they worshipped their new king.

The Devil Monkeys were born with intelligence. As they cultivated, their intelligence would improve. Wang Xian did not need to activate their Spiritual Intelligence at all.

He swung his arm and drops of blood essence entered the Devil Monkeys. Subsequently, he imparted the Divine Dragon Transformation to all the monkeys.

Consuming more than 800 drops of blood essence in one go had no impact on Wang Xian.

Blood essence was related to Dragon Energy. He could use Dragon Energy to restore his blood essence.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

The bunch of Devil Monkeys thanked him in synchronized voices.

"Roving Heavens, you'll lead them from now on. Get them to do their cultivation and listen to your orders. All of you will be part of the first division, Devil Division of the Dragon Palace!" said Wang Xian to Roving Heavens.

"Yes, Dragon King," everyone replied loudly.

"Let's go. Follow me for a search of the nearby waters. We need to find sunken boats and a variety of resources!" Wang Xian said to them.

"Yes!"

Wang Xian took the lead and swam ahead with Roving Girl and Roving Lobster beside him. Prime Minister Turtle was swimming at the bottom of the sea while Roving Heavens, with a few subordinates, were following behind Wang Xian.

Compared to the time when they had just came, they had undoubtedly built up a massive lineup.

Wang Xian had many followers after subduing the Devil Monkeys, but there was one weakness.

Most of the Devil Monkeys were moving too slowly and could not keep up with their speed.

Wang Xian could only slow down the speed without much choice.

The ocean was vast, magnificent, and extremely mysterious.

Occupying 70 percent of the Earth, humans had yet to explore many regions of the ocean.

The terrain of the ocean was much more complicated than the land. Some areas were covered by seaweed, some were barren and desolate. Some had towering seamounts on the bed of the ocean.

Wang Xian stormed the ocean with a group of subordinates. In the shallow waters, all the marine animals fled in fright when they met them.

"There is a Chinese Bahaba fish ahead. Seize it!"

He commanded those at the back. As they wandered around in the sea, Wang Xian was observing the surroundings before he saw a meter-long Chinese Bahaba fish.

A Devil Monkey lurched as it seized the Chinese Bahaba fish.

The Devil Monkeys could leap as far as eight meters in the sea. Hence, their speed was much faster than ordinary fish. The Devil Monkey caught the Chinese Bahaba fish easily and returned.

Dozens of Devil Monkeys caught Chinese Bahaba fish, Giant Yellow Croaker and other precious fish.

Wang Xian was catching the fish conveniently to replenish the top-quality ingredients in the First-grade Restaurant.

"Dragon King, there's a sinking ship ahead!"

At this time, a Devil Monkey who was running all over the place reported to Wang Xian.

"A sinking ship?" Wang Xian's eyes gleamed with excitement. "Let's go over there."

A sinking ship was the biggest treasure in the ocean.

According to records, the gold and silver found in the sea were enough to buy over a developed country.

The treasure in the ocean was beyond anyone's imagination.

With a jerk, Wang Xian swam rapidly to the sinking ship.

"Sure enough!"

After he swam for about 2,000 meters, a sinking ship came into his sight. It was a modern ship.

The ship was about 30-meters long with the front and back of the ship separated in different directions. The center portion of the vessel was covered in sludge.

Wang Xian observed the sinking ship, and he was slightly disappointed.

The ship was too small to cross the ocean; likely to be a fishing boat.

Wang Xian exhaled a dull-yellow dragon breath, revealing the entire ship buried under the earth.

"Hur?"

When Wang Xian looked over, he spotted some chests in the ship. He opened immediately.

"Gold. It's gold! Five chests of golds!"

Wang Xian's eyes gleamed as he saw the shining gold.

"We found a ton of gold, ten tons of steel. Do we collect them for the construction of the Dragon Palace?"

"Eh..."

Wang Xian was looking bitter on his face. A ton of gold was worth more than 300 million. If he sold them away, he would instantly become a billionaire.

Besides, these golds were more or less one percent of what he required for constructing the Dragon Palace.

"Collect them!"

Wang Xian made a decision, and the gold, even the steel on the vessel before him disappeared. Only some wood structures were left.

"Sigh!"

Wang Xian shook his head and continued hunting in the ocean.

If he persisted, the Bohai Sea was too shallow. Wang Xian was considering whether to proceed to other water regions.

As they went deeper into the sea, more fantastic living creatures and treasures could be found.

But the sea was too vast. It would be a waste of time if he continued to search. He thought he could send the Devil Monkeys to explore the ocean for resources when the Devil Monkeys hit level ten.

"Dragon King, there's an aqua plant forest ahead. It's very magical and beautiful!" said Roving Girl, pointing one direction after traveling for half an hour.

Wang Xian looked over. A huge and magical underwater region was seen on the right.

The entire underwater region was in a myriad of colors, full of fantasy just like how it was on TV and in movies.

Many jellyfish were floating around, giving off all kinds of radiances.

"The underwater wonderland!"

This was the first time Wang Xian had encountered such a beautiful underwater world with various coral reefs and aquatic plants that exuded different radiances.

"Let's check it out!"

Wang Xian swam over with a group of subordinates behind him.

"We must make our Dragon Palace look as beautiful as this place in the future!"

Wang Xian swam over and observed the surroundings. Some of the jellyfish gave way to them when they sensed the imposing aura from them.

The surrounding plants gently swayed, looking beautiful at the bottom of the sea.

"Hur? What's that?"

At this time, a pure red coral drew his attention as he looked ahead.

Blood coral, the world's most precious gemstone, worth more than diamonds.

That blood coral was worth over tens of millions or even hundreds of millions.

The blood coral was located on top of a reef, looking beautiful with a few flowers of a size of one meter surrounding it.

Wang Xian swam next to the blood coral. He was full of surprise as he reached out to grab the blood coral.

Just then, the bright-colored flower below him suddenly moved!

Chapter 120: Flower Sac and Heart-Shaped Blood Corals

The more beautiful a thing was, the more likely it became that it would be dangerous.

Similarly, the more beautiful a place was, the greater the chances of dangers lurking in the dark.

Wang Xian didn't pay attention to the beautiful flowers below him, as his attention was on the blood corals.

However, just when he noticed it, it was already too late.

10 bright and gigantic flowers were like beasts on a hunt. In an instant, they launched a lethal attack.

Within each flower were densely packed sharp needles.

Their roots extended and their petals wrapped around Wang Xian's body directly.

Although Wang Xian's body was over five meters long, the 10 large flowers were still able to cover his entire body.

When he noticed he was attacked by these flowers, Wang Xian was greatly shocked. He could feel the sharp needles of these flowers piercing through his flesh.

Although this didn't cause huge damages to him, he noticed that the sharp needles were injecting a poisonous substance into his body.

These flowers are poisonous!

Wang Xian immediately tried to wiggle his huge body to break free from the flowers.

Swish swish swish!

Suddenly, tentacle after tentacle extended from the ground and wrapped around Wang Xian.

They came one after another at a frantic pace towards Wang Xian.

These flowers are trying to absorb me as nutrients!

Wang Xian was flabbergasted as he felt his body weakening. He immediately tried to change his elemental attributes.

Wood Element Azure Dragon!

Switching between the Five elements, Wang Xian turned into an Azure Dragon of the Wood Element.

This won't do!

After turning into an Azure Dragon, he was shocked that he couldn't break free from the hold of these flowers. On the contrary, he could sense that these flowers were feasting on his Wood attributes energy.

Wang Xian's eyes flickered and attempted an attribute change once again.

Metal counters Wood! A metal attribute golden-colored divine dragon appeared.

"How dare you attack the Dragon King. You must be courting death!"

At this moment, Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Heavens and the group immediately attacked the flowers after seeing Wang Xian being attacked by them.

Roving Heavens swung his huge rod towards these flowers.

Roving Lobster used his razor-sharp claws to attack furiously.

Metal Edge Cosmos!

Wang Xian turned into a divine dragon with metal attribute. He immediately noticed that the damages these terrifying flowers were dealing to him were reduced substantially.

Wiggling his body, Wang Xian shot sharp metal needles at the petals of these colorful flowers.

Swish swish swish!

The flowers were pierced and Wang Xian immediately shredded the roots off him with his metal claws.

Devil Flowers: Level 9

Extractable Dragon Energy from the flower sac: 45,334

Devil Flowers! What kind of organism is this? It's so scary and it has reached Level 9.

Wang Xian looked at it in horror. A flower reaching Level Nine and even disguising itself as ordinary plants! Just the thought of it made him shudder.

The 10 Devil Flowers had actually trapped him for almost an hour.

"Dragon King! Sorry that we are late!"

Prime Minister Turtle swam over and spoke with concern.

"It's alright!"

Wang Xian shook his head and looked to the Devil Flowers he had killed. He extended his dragon claws over and grabbed onto the roots before pulling them out forcefully.

A blood-red flower sac appeared in his sight.

Flower Sac of the Devil Flowers: Level 9

Extractable Dragon Energy: 45,334.

Can be used to restore and strengthen one's heart.

Wang Xian looked at the information on the Flower Sacs of the Devil Flowers and was shocked. This could be considered a spiritual medicine!

Restoring and strengthening one's heart was a powerful ability.

Cultivation of Ancient Martial Arts had a lot to do with one's heart. One could strengthen his internal energy by consuming this flower sac. At the same time, his cultivation speed would also increase.

"This is useless to me."

Without a moment of hesitation, he devoured it.

The 10 Devil Flowers provided him with over 40,000 points of dragon energy. These were also pleasant surprises for Wang Xian.

"This... Blood coral!"

Wang Xian turned his attention to the blood corals. Blood corals weren't big but looked extremely grandeur in the waters.

Blood corals were regarded as auspicious objects and represented the noble as well as authority. They were also referred to as "precious treasures" and symbolized happiness and eternity.

Just a single blood coral was worth over $10 million.

Wang Xian kept it and looked across this dream-like underwater region.

I was a little careless previously. Although this place is beautiful, there are barely any fish around. Most of the fish were likely eaten by the Devil Flowers. These Devil Flowers emit a very unique scent, which makes one feel comfortable, to attract other marine animals.

Wang Xian looked further ahead. He hesitated for a moment before embarking on his search of this region once again.

Although the Devil Flowers were terrifying, he wasn't too wary after turning into the golden-colored divine dragon of the metal attribute. Considering that he was better prepared currently, Level 9 Devil Flowers wouldn't pose much of a threat to him.

Moreover, there was a large amount of dragon energy within the flower sacs of the Devil Flowers. This could provide him with the dragon energy required for levelling up.

Lastly, there were also precious blood corals around. Therefore, he wasn't willing to leave this region.

Wang Xian continued his search in this region for signs of Devil Flowers.

Extractable Dragon Energy from the flower sac: 19,654

There are over 10 of them here but they are all Level 8 Devil Flowers.

Wang Xian looked ahead and the information about these Devil Flowers popped up in his mind.

He gave a faint smile, swam over and swung his sharp dragon claws through them before extracting the flower sacs.

These added up to an additional 100,000 points of Dragon Energy and Wang Xian was feeling great about it.

Continue the search!

This dream-like region wasn't very big but still covered seven to eight kilometers.

Wang Xian found a total of over 30 Devil Flowers in the vicinity.

However, when he reached the central area, he was shocked by a giant Devil Flower.

This particular Devil Flower had humongous petals that spread over seven to eight meters. Each petal was a different color, which included yellow, red, white, green, blue and others.

Looking at the flowers, Wang Xian felt an urge to charge forward!

Zi zi!

Suddenly, the devil monkeys around him seemed a little flustered. Their blood-red eyes turned blurry and they started walking towards the humongous Devil Flower.

Growl!

Wang Xian let out a dragon roar which jerked the devil monkeys awake. When the devil monkeys regained their consciousness, they couldn't help but look in horror at the Devil Flower.

Devil Flower: Level 12

Extractable Dragon Energy from the flower sac: 1,112,343

Level 12!

Wang Xian gasped. Considering what the Devil Flower could do, he had no way to deal with a Level 12 Devil Flower. In fact, this Devil Flower could very well devour him.

Forget it!

Wang Xian looked at this Devil Flower with fearful eyes. Although devouring this Devil Flower could allow him to increase his level quickly, it was too dangerous.

"The seas are indeed mysterious. My current strength still isn't enough to rule the seas!"

Wang Xian sighed. When his attention landed on the area behind the Devil Flower, he stopped and had a joyous look.

Surprise! A total surprise!

It was a patch of coral reefs. The reason why he was so excited was because these blood corals were in a natural heart shape!

This is what is really meant by precious. If I put this on auction, it would fetch at least $100 million!

Chapter 121: The Girl That Drives A Bentley (1)

For all three days, Wang Xian explored the entire Bohai Sea with his subordinates.

Three days of sleepless nights did not impact him much.

When Wang Xian stood on the Dragon Sect Platform again, a large number of men had already gathered before him.

Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Girl, Roving Lobster, Roving Heavens, and 800 Devil Monkeys!

Apart from them, some sea turtles and lobsters with no Spiritual Intelligence lined up together too.

These turtles and lobsters were captured by order of Prime Minister Turtle as he wanted to groom his own subordinates.

Wang Xian thought for a while before he agreed to it. For Prime Minister Turtle and Roving Lobster to groom their own men was a good idea too.

"Cultivate yourself, and enhance your strength as soon as possible!"

Wang Xian looked at his men as he spoke.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

The response was much louder than the previous time he'd come.

Wang Xian was satisfied. All the men from Dragon Palace disappeared in the ocean as soon as he gestured with an arm swing. All of them hunted for nearby spots to start their cultivation.

"Quite a good haul this time. I can sell them for quite a huge amount!"

Wang Xian was amazed when he checked out the treasures beside the Dragon Sect Platform.

Millions of dollars' worth of Chinese Bahaba fish and rare Giant Yellow Croakers.

Four beautiful blood corals. One of them was ravishing, natural, heart-shaped, and the size of a thumb.

Apart from those, they found fifteen sunken ships in the last three days. Out of which, they found three ships with treasures.

Wang Xian found an emerald ring which was worth a lot from the sunken ships.

As for the gold and silver, it was taken by the system to construct the Dragon Palace.

"It has been three days. Time for me to go back."

Wang Xian looked at the time and noticed it was already afternoon. He beckoned a few Dragonians over and got them to send the Chinese Bahaba fish and the Giant Yellow Croakers to the First-grade Restaurant.

After which, he kept the blood corals and the ring before he followed them back to the First-grade Restaurant.

"Director Wang!"

Wang Xian heard Manager Huang's voice as soon as he was at the door.

He turned around and looked at the shopfront beside the First-grade Restaurant. As he lifted his chin and gazed at the fascia board, a satisfied smile surfaced on his face.

Divine Dragon Medical Hall!

"Quite a speedy job. Not bad!"

Wang Xian expressed his satisfaction on his face and walked towards Manager Huang.

"Is it renovated?" Wang Xian asked directly.

"Director Wang, it's in the process. It will soon be done since the place isn't big. I'll get the contractor to do it within the shortest possible time!"

Manager Huang answered Wang Xian.

"Okay, let's take a look inside."

Wang Xian entered.

The size of this place was not very huge with about 170 square meters for the ground and second floor. But as a top medical institution, such a size was good enough.

There would not be many patients in the future either.

The renovation was done in a retro style, and it would take about three or four days before it was completed.

Wang Xian was very pleased with the medical hall. After which, he went back to the First-grade Restaurant to check on the revenue made in the past few days.

The turnover for the past three days remained at just over one million for each day.

Buzz!

Just then, Wang Xian's phone rang. He received a message from Xiao Yu.

[Brother, today's Friday. I don't have to do military training after school. So I'm having dinner with my friends.]

Wang Xian sent a message to Xiao Yu when he came out of the ocean. He looked at the date. Without knowing, it was already Friday.

[Let's have it together. Just perfect, I can treat my roommates to dinner too!]

Wang Xian pondered for a while. He had yet to buy Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng a meal yet.

The two of them were nice people. He should buy them a meal.

[Sure, Brother. Where are you? We still have half an hour before we end!]

[I'll look for you guys!]

Wang Xian got on his motorcycle and rode to school as he sent the message.

After he entered the campus, he felt the familiar attention on him again as some of the students recognized him.

"Wang Xian looks really cool on his heavy-duty motorcycle. He's got a good figure too. So handsome!"

"Yes, he's very handsome. No wonder Lan Qingyue declared that she likes him on the forum."

"Handsome is one thing. I bet Wang Xian has some capabilities too. Otherwise, how could he attract Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing?"

"I heard that Wang Xian used to be very poor. He was working his ass during his first year. Now, he looks like he is loaded. He's indeed capable and charming."

The surrounding students exchanged conversations in whispers.

When Wang Xian heard that, he drew his lips. Looked like after he smashed the signboard of the Taekwondo Club, his reputation had changed tremendously.

At least those contemptuous and disdainful looks were gone.

To stay low-profile, Wang Xian took out and put on his sunglasses from the motorcycle. He did not return to his room. Instead, he called Wang Dahai. After the call, the three fellows in the room began to doll themselves up.

Wang Xian came to the female dormitory and waited for Xiao Yu and her friends to come down.

Xiao Yu and the rest had just ended their military training. They must be dolling themselves up.

Girls like to look pretty by nature. Since they had been wearing military attire during the training for the past few days, they would want to show off their most beautiful sides now that they were heading out.

Wang Xian took out his phone and waited downstairs.

"Hey, let me make myself clear. I'll sit beside Wang Yu later when we're having dinner. All of you cannot snatch the seat from me!"

"Wang Yu is the prettiest girl in our class. We don't have hopes, but you still have a chance. We'll support you!"

"Liu Ranran is not bad either. Besides, she's an internet celebrity. Heh, I like her!"

"Liu Ranran seems haughty. She's not as good as Wang Yu. Wang Yu is like a girl-next-door. She's cute!"

"I heard that Liu Ranran can earn a monthly income of $80,000 with her daily live-streamings. She even got a car. Damm, being an online broadcaster makes you a lot of money!"

"Only rich second generations like you have a chance to woo Liu Ranran and Wang Yu. We can forget about it!"

Wang Xian wore a pair of sunglasses to prevent himself from being recognized. When he was swiping his phone, he peered over in curiosity when he overheard the conversation around him.

There stood five guys with tanned skin. Obviously, they were freshmen from military training.

One of them was rather good-looking with a height of 1.85 meters. Judging from his dress sense, his family should be quite well-off.

They must be Xiao Yu's classmates.

Wang Xian pondered to himself as he listened to them.

"They are coming!"

Just then, the voices of the same group of guys were heard again.

Wang Xian looked over to the entrance as six girls walked out of the dormitory.

All the girls were dressed up beautifully after changing out of their military uniforms.

A girl in the middle was in her high-heels. Her body-con clothes shaped her perfect figure, making her sexy and gorgeous.

Xiao Yu was wearing a flower-patterned dress. Yuan Yuanyuan, Su Qian, Xiao Mi, and an ordinary-looking girl were standing beside her.

"Liu Ranran is so sexy, Wang Yu is so pretty!"

The guys beside them brightened up their eyes as they whispered.

Chapter 122: The Girl That Drives A Bentley (2)

"Liu Ranran, Wang Yu, Zhang Jing..."

When the guys saw them walking down, they immediately shouted.

"Liu Hui, you are here!" the luscious Liu Ranran smiled at the group of guys and replied.

"Let's go, girls! Let's head out of school for a good meal. I'm feeling nauseous at the thought of canteen meals after having them for several days straight!"

That good-looking Liu Hui smiled as he spoke to them.

"Xiao Yu!" When Wang Xian saw Xiao Yu walked out, he smiled and shouted at her.

"Brother!" Xiao Yu lifted her head and looked over. A radiant smile appeared on her face as she walked over quickly!

"You are so tan now. I almost couldn't recognize you!" Wang Xian pinched on Xiao Yu face as he joked.

"Who is tan? I'm not even a tinge darker!"

Xiao Yu rolled her eyes at him and grumpily pushed away the hands that were pinching her face.

"Senior, senior!"

Xiao Mi, Yuan Yuanyuan and Su Qian also came over to greet Wang Xian.

This senior in front of them was a well-known figure.

"All of you look tanner now!" Wang Xian joked. "Let's go, I'll treat you guys to a meal!"

"Hehe, thank you senior." Xiao Mi and the group smiled happily.

"This is..." At this moment, Liu Hui and a few other guys looked over in doubt and saw Wang Xian with sunglasses.

"This is my brother and he's from our school too. My brother is bringing us out to eat!" Xiao Yu smiled and said to Liu Hui.

When Liu Hui heard Xiao Yu, he frowned slightly. Xiao Yu's brother! This won't be good.

"Let's not trouble your brother. Shall we just go on our own?" Liu Hui smiled and asked.

"Not at all. I'll get my brother to foot the bill. Hehe," replied Xiao Yu.

"This..." Liu Hui opened his mouth, changed his intention and added, "Xiao Yu, let's not make your brother pay for it. I can bring you guys to Haidilao and it isn't too expensive. Let this be my treat today!" [\[1\]](#)

Since Xiao Yu's brother would be following, he could only choose to use another strategy and act more generously. This was to leave a good impression on him.

"It's fine, let me do it!" When Wang Xian heard his words, he smiled.

"It's fine. How could I make our senior pay for us? Come, let this be my treat today," Liu Hui insisted.

"Just let this be my treat today. I'm already starting to earn money!" Liu Ranran flicked her hair, looking past Xiao Yu and Wang Xian.

"Let's discuss this after we get there!"

Seeing them, Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Let's drive there. Liu Ranran, don't you have a car? I have one too. Two cars are just enough!" Liu Hui commented.

"Yeah, where did you park your car? I'll go get mine." Liu Ranran took out a BMW car key from her bag.

"At that side!" Liu Hui smiled and took out a Benz car key as he pointed to the side.

"Oh, Liu Hui and Liu Ranran, you guys are really rich! Could it be those with the surname "Liu" are all rich?"

The few guys at the side spoke in envy when they saw them taking out keys to a BMW and a Benz.

"I bought my car with the money I've earned," Liu Ranran looked to Liu Hui and said proudly.

"Cough cough. This is a present from my dad when I made it into the university." Liu Hui smiled and didn't find this embarrassing.

"Let me go get my car!" Liu Ranran took another glance at Liu Hui before heading for the carpark behind the dormitory block.

Seeing that they had gone to get their car, Xiao Yu hesitated for a moment before adding, "My brother bought me a car too. I'll go get it!"

"Xiao Yu, you got a car too?" the few guys looked at Xiao Yu in disbelief and questioned.

"Yeah, my brother bought it for me. Hehe!"

Xiao Yu laughed and headed for the carpark behind the dormitory block too.

"Senior, I did not expect you to be so awesome! You even bought Xiao Yu a car!" The few guys looked at Wang Xian and commented.

"It was a gift from others. I didn't have to pay a cent for it!" Wang Xian shook his head.

Oh, no wonder.

The few guys nodded their heads. There weren't many students who could afford a car nowadays.

Students like Liu Ranran and Liu Hui were part of the extreme minority.

"However, Senior you still look like someone incredible!"

"Oh! To me, Liu Ranran and Liu Hui are more incredible. They could afford to drive a Benz and BMW while they were still students! If I could even get one in my lifetime, I'd be contented with life!"

The group of people waited by the roadside, chatting as they walked.

"Eh? What are you doing here, Wang Yu?"

At the back of the female dormitory block, Liu Ranran looked puzzlingly at Xiao Yu when she saw her.

In their entire class and even the faculty, the two of them could be considered to be the two most beautiful girls.

However, she realized that the gentle Xiao Yu, who also had the girl-next-door image, was more popular among the guys. This made her a little upset.

Naturally, girls liked to compare themselves with others.

"My brother bought me a car and I've parked it here too," Wang Yu smiled and replied to Liu Ranran.

"Oh?" Liu Ranran raised an eyebrow. "Not bad."

As she spoke, she clicked on the key in her hand. The BMW 5 series car sounded in front of her. "I bought this myself. Which car is yours?"

As she spoke, her lips curved into a smile.

Despite being a student, she had bought a BMW 5 series with her own hard work. This was the reason why she had the capital to be proud of her achievements.

"That one!" Wang Yu pointed to a car completely covered with a car hood.

The car had been left outside for a few days. Xiao Yu wasn't willing to let it be battered by the wind and rain. Therefore, she had covered it up well.

"Let's go!"

Liu Ranran stole a glance and her lips curved into a smile. She entered the car, brought down the car window and smiled at Wang Yu.

Wang Yu walked to her car, squatted down and started removing the car hood.

A pink Bentley was slowly revealed.

The car was elegant, breathtaking and grand. That distinct car logo "B" was so eye-catching.

After placing the car hood in the boot, Xiao Yu opened the door and got into the car.

"Let's go!"

Xiao Yu also lowered her car window when she replied to Liu Ranran.

At this very moment, Liu Ranran stared at Xiao Yu car, completely dumbfounded.

A pink teenage girl series Bentley!

Bentley! It's a Bentley that costs $4-5 million!

Her heart was shaken and her eyes were filled with disbelief. "This is your car?"

"Yeah, it was a gift from my brother!"

Xiao Yu nodded her head, started the car and drove out.

Looking at the breathtaking and luxurious Bentley leaving, Liu Ranran held tightly to the steering wheel.

"How can this be? How can this be possible? Bentley! That's a Bentley..."

Liu Ranran looked helplessly at the car ahead. Compare? What could she take out to compare?

That car alone would be enough for her to buy 10 BMW 5 Series.

At the other side, along the pathway beside the female dormitory, Liu Hui drove a $400,000 Benz over. He lowered the car window and said to the group of guys.

"Come, my car can fit 4 people at the maximum. Three of you get in!"

"Boss is really awesome! A Benz! Hehe!" The group of guys got in excitedly.

"Oh my gosh! Bentley! A pink Bentley!"

Chapter 123: Let's Be Friends, Tycoon

A pink Bentley slowly stopped at the roadside next to the girls' dormitory.

Rivertown was considered to be the best second-tier city, but top branded cars were uncommon.

Especially a pink Bentley.

This was the luxury car that all girls dreamt of.

But 99.9 percent of the girls would not pin their hopes on it.

Not many people could afford a car that was worth four to five million.

At the very least, no one was driving such a luxury car at the University of Rivertown.

Let alone the ladies.

Hence, when the luxury car stopped by the roadside, it drew all the attention of the surrounding people instantly.

"What a beautiful car! It's simply gorgeous!"

"Pink Bentley. Which girl is driving it? I'm dying of envy!"

"A Bentley. A girl driving such a car is simply too striking. I'm envious. How nice would it be if I had one too?"

"Must be an 80-year-old boyfriend gave it to her. Otherwise, how could she afford a Bentley?"

Envy and jealousy echoed in the surroundings.

"Brother, Xiao Mi, Yuanyuan, Su Qian, get in the car!"

Xiao Yu stretched her cute little head and shouted to Wang Xian and the rest.

Xiao Mi, Yuanyuan, and Su Qian were not surprised. After all, they already knew her brother's capability.

But the guys and the other girl were totally clueless.

Xiao Yu was also a low-profile girl during military training. From her behavior, she did not portray herself to be a princess.

Hence, everyone was dumbfounded when they saw her driving a car that was worth 5 million.

Gulp!

Liu Hui swallowed his saliva in his Mercedes as he gazed at the pink Bentley with his eyes wide open.

"Out of expectation. I never thought that Wang Yu came from such a wealthy family. This..."

He recalled how he'd flaunted his Mercedes' car key just now.

His lips twitched as he squeezed a smile on his face. "Wang Yu, I didn't know that you're actually a princess!"

"Hehe!"

Xiao Yu giggled to him. She noticed that the people around her were pointing and taking photos of her car, so she quickly said, "Let's go. We better hurry up!"

"Okay, let's go now!"

Liu Hui answered quickly. Now, he did not dare to pretend he was rich anymore.

"Let's go!"

Wang Xian sat in the passenger seat inside the car. He did not ride the motorcycle away, as Wang Dahai would be riding it over.

The three girls sat in the back.

The other girl and a guy took Liu Ranran's car.

"Brother, this is too high-profile!"

When the engine started, Xiao Yu spotted that some of the students stopped walking just to view her car. They even took photos of it. For a moment, her cheeks blushed.

She had never been in the limelight since young.

"It's okay, girls should be pampered!" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Xiao Yu, you are so blessed to have such a brother. Others would be too envious of you!"

"Yes, Xiao Yu. You're too low-profile. Just look at Liu Ranran. She can't wait to let the entire school know that she's an internet celebrity, earning $80,000 monthly, and owning a BMW!" Su Qian said from the back.

Xiao Yu smiled and said no more. She just wanted to be herself.

The car drove out of the school and headed to the old street.

After Xiao Yu parked the car, some of the guys crowded around her car with astonished looks on their faces.

"Wang Yu, this is awesome. Too impressive. It's a Bentley. A pink Bentley. Gosh! I learned something today!" A guy said in exaggeration.

"Come on, it's just a car." Wang Yu smiled and shook her head.

"Just a car? We could worship the car!" A guy twitched the corner of his lips.

"We thought Liu Hui and Liu Ranran were already impressive. But Wang Yu, you concealed yourself well!"

Several of them rattled on.

Liu Hui and Liu Ranran at the side were looking embarrassed, but they did not say anything.

When the gap between both parties was too huge, they lost the motivation to make a comparison.

All they could do was worship.

No way could they make a comparison!

"Let's go. I'll take all of you to dinner. Later, you guys will sit at a table while my roommates sit at a table with me."

Wang Xian explains this to them as he led them to the First-grade Restaurant.

"Senior, anything will do. Anything," the guys quickly replied.

"The First-grade Restaurant!"

When they reached the door, the guys took a glance and looked at Liu Hui.

"Senior is awesome. Treating so many of us to dinner here could easily cost over ten thousand!" Liu Hui drew his lips as he spoke.

Liu Ranran nodded her head silently and followed them in.

"Director Wang!"

They heard the greeters at the side as soon as they entered through the door.

"Okay."

Wang Xian nodded and continued his way inside.

The group of people behind froze as they were all stunned.

"The First-grade Restaurant is owned by Xiao Yu's brother," said Su Qian, looking at them.

"Senior owns the First-grade Restaurant?" All of them stared with astounded eyes as they were overwhelmed by the shock.

First-grade Restaurant! Looking at the fish that were worth millions on display, the amount of shock they received was hard to put into words.

"Xiao Mei, get the kitchen to prepare some dishes. Get us a big table for 12 people and a small table for 4 people. Prepare Two-headed Abalones for each table," Wang Xian looked at Xiao Mei and said.

"Yes, I got it, Director Wang!" The server, Xiao Mei, nodded her head immediately.

"Okay, let's go to the private room!" Wang Xian told them as he led them to a private room.

"Two-headed Abalone! Senior just took two Two-headed Abalones out. Gosh! They're worth $600,000!"

"Gosh, we're going to have a meal that is worth a few hundred thousands?"

"Hard to believe. It's hard to believe!"

All of them were stunned. Even Liu Hui and Liu Ranran were dumbfounded.

The cost of this meal could easily pay for their cars.

"Xiao Yu's brother is a tycoon. Did you all see the watch she's wearing now? She just put it on today. Can you guys guess how much it is?" Xiao Mi lowered her voice and asked her with smiles all over her face.

All of them looked over.

Liu Hui was pondering, "That brand should be Patek Philippe!"

"Patek Philippe's watches should be more than a few hundred thousand!" Liu Ranran continued.

"$880,000!" Xiao Mi gestured with her fingers.

All of them went into silence as they slowly shook their heads.

"Impressive!"

"I'm willing to shorten my life by 20 years to have such a great brother!"

This bunch of students finally understood who were the rich people and who were the tycoons.

They stared at Xiao Yu as they could not imagine such an approachable and cute girl to be so filthy rich.

First-class branded car, and a watch that cost nearly a million.

Let's be friends, tycoon...!

Chapter 124: Princess Xiao Yu

In a large private lounge in First-grade Restaurant. There were two tables in the private lounge.

Xiao Yu and her classmates were sitting around a table.

Wang Xian, Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng sat around the other table.

"Come tycoon! Let's have a toast!"

Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng raised their cups and signalled to Wang Xian.

"I had really not expected you to become so rich. If I hadn't heard it from Dahai, I wouldn't have believed it. Incredible!"

"A million thanks to the tycoon, Wang Xian, who is treating us today! I have to eat till I can't even walk today!"

Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng looked at the dishes on the table and remarked emotionally.

Wang Xian smiled and said, "Come, let's have a toast! It's fate that brought us together as roommates!"

"Cheers!"

Wang Xian's table had started eating without holding back. As for the table beside them, Xiao Yu and her classmates had not started at all.

Nowadays, girls like to take pictures of their food before they start eating. It was the same for some of the guys.

There were also guys who weren't into this.

However, everyone resisted the temptation of the food this time. They wanted to take photos before they start eating.

Nope! Rather, they wanted to show off to others before they started eating.

"After we upload these pictures to our circle of friends, they will definitely be impressed. Two-headed abalone and Atlantic Bluefin Marlin for this meal? Hehe... Hehe!"

"Xiao Yu, this is too extravagant!"

"Thank you, Xiao Yu, for your warm welcome!"

The group commented as they took pictures and uploaded them to their circle of friends.

Even Liu Ranran and Liu Hui, who came from well-to-do families, couldn't contain themselves and took a few pictures to show off.

"Come, let's take a group picture!" Liu Hui stood up and said to the group.

"Eh, take a look at our school forum. There are many people commenting on Xiao Yu's pink Bentley!"

"Really? Let me see!"

"It's true. There're quite a number of replies too!"

"Don't just look at the forum. Take a look at our class Weixin group! They were talking about this too!"

The few guys commented and soon everyone took out their phones to check.

In their class group chat, a student had uploaded a few pictures and added, [There's a pink Bentley beside the female dormitory block. It's so stunning!]

[Oh damn! Who's that filthy rich girl who could actually afford to drive a pink Bentley!]

[Looking at the cup noodles beside me... Haiz. Forget it, I'll add a strip of bacon!]

[Who's that girl? Is she single? I'll pursue her!]

[Comparing with others would only deflate myself. I was still considering the brand of bicycle I should get. Now...]

In the class group, the group of students were chatting raucously and sighing.

The group around the table found this to be hilarious. Su Qian laughed and uploaded the pictures she took today onto the group.

"Take a look! Who do you think this is?"

She smiled and clicked the "send" button.

The group got silent for a few seconds. However, it exploded shortly after.

[Damn!]

[What the!]

[What the hell!]

[Why does she look a little like Wang Yu?]

[She doesn't just look like Wang Yu. It's her!]

[The owner of the pink Bentley is our class goddess, Wang Yu?]

[She has hidden it too well! Wang Yu looks so approachable like the girl next door. Who would have expected her to drive a Bentley?]

[Worship, worship! I never expected our class to have a hidden Princess-level existence!]

The group exploded immediately as the students couldn't help but sigh.

Towards the end, even the school counsellor commented.

No one had expected that demure, cute and beautiful girl would be so incredible!

"Let's give them another piece of shocking news!"

One of the male students revealed a smile and uploaded a picture of their meal.

[Xiao Yu's brother is giving us a treat. First-grade Restaurant is her brother's restaurant. This meal alone costs over $100,000!]

That male student added the comment.

Replies flooded in quickly for that comment.

Perhaps they couldn't imagine the life of the filthy rich.

$100,000 for a meal? They wouldn't even dare to dream about it.

[This is equivalent to a Princess-level existence!]

The students sighed emotionally.

After this incident, Xiao Yu had become famous in the class. In fact, the entire school might get to know about her in the near future.

Wang Dahai and Wang Xian were chatting joyously while eating. Soon, Xiao Yu and her classmates also started.

Towards the end of the day, Xiao Yu's classmates went over to Wang Xian one after another to give a toast to him.

No matter what, they had to thank Wang Xian and Wang Yu for treating them to such a luxurious dinner.

The dinner ended at around 10 pm. Wang Xian stood up and walked over to Xiao Yu.

"You will be having your off-day tomorrow. If you'd like to tour around, take this card along. You could stay and play for free in the Summer Sun Resort with it!"

Wang Xian passed the Family membership card of the Summer Sun Resort to Xiao Yu, as he wouldn't be using it himself.

"Alright, brother. Aren't you coming with us to play tomorrow?" Xiao Yu asked while taking the card from Wang Xian.

"I'll give it a pass. I'll be a little busy for the next two days and have things to attend to. You guys could go and have fun!"

Wang Xian smiled as he replied.

"Mm. Alright then!" Xiao Yu nodded her head and didn't question further.

The group headed back towards the school with satisfied smiles on their faces.

This time, when Xiao Yu drove her car to the carpark behind the girls' dormitory block, Liu Ranran went over enthusiastically and even helped her put up the car hood.

In fact, if it wasn't for the fact that she knew that Wang Xian had rumors with Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing, she might have asked for Wang Xian's contacts from Xiao Yu!

However, after giving it some thought, she gave up on the idea.

Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue were famous goddesses of the school. They weren't something she could match up to.

When Wang Xian got back to his dormitory, he had a good night sleep. He had not slept for the last three to four days.

The next morning, Wang Dahai went over to look for Su Qian at the break of dawn.

When Wang Xian woke up, it was already 10 am.

After washing up, he went over to his Medical Hall.

He would still prefer to take a look at the renovations of the Medical Hall. Moreover, there were still some things that he had to give instructions about before buying.

Currently, Wang Xian liked to wear a pair of sunglasses while in school. It wasn't that he wanted to look cool to others, but rather that he wanted to prevent others from recognizing him!

However, when he reached the entrance of the school, he still sensed a sharp gaze looking at him.

Wang Xian looked over in the direction and was slightly surprised.

It was a juvenile that was looking at him. That juvenile from the Sacred Followers Guild.

There was also a middle-aged man beside the juvenile.

That middle-aged man was skinny and wore a white shirt and a pair of grey pants.

The middle-aged man was also staring at Wang Xian. His gaze was sharp and felt chilly.

Wang Xian didn't pay attention to it as he continued walking forward.

However, even if Wang Xian didn't want to be bothered by them, it didn't mean that they wouldn't bother him.

The two of them headed straight to him.

Wang Xian lifted his eyebrows and stopped. He looked at the middle-aged man and that juvenile.

"Hey son, how are you?" the middle-aged man walked over and said to Wang Xian.

"Do you have something for me?" Wang Xian looked at them and asked.

"Nothing." The middle-aged man looked at Wang Xian from head to toe. He shook his head and commented, "It's just..."

"If you have nothing, I have something going on. I'm not too close to you guys so don't come and disturb me!"

Seeing their attitude, Wang Xian interrupted his words directly in a sharp and cold manner.

After finishing his sentence, he turned around and left.

Chapter 125: Medical Hall is Open

Wang Xian ignored that fellow. He was even more annoyed with the middle-aged man.

If both of them came with a good attitude, he would not have any comments.

But all they did was stare hard at him, and judge him from head to toe without any courtesy.

People would have thought that this middle-aged man was a pervert.

Wang Xian usually ignored such people. I don't care who you are.

Who cares!

The faint smile froze on the face of the middle-aged man. He darkened his expression and glared coldly at Wang Xian.

"Master, this fellow is too arrogant. Last time, he even commented that the Sacred Followers Guild is trash. Too haughty. We ought to teach him a lesson!"

The juvenile by his side stared at Wang Xian as he spoke viciously.

He bore grudges ever since what happened last time. He told his Master about this since he was here.

Yet his Master's curiosity was piqued, and that was not what he had expected. After some investigations into that young man, the outcome took them by surprise.

According to the information from the Sacred Followers Guild, he was not a disciple of the Sacred Followers Guild.

Wang Xian might have inherited the medical skills from some experts unknowingly.

Hence, his Master had a plan.

"Yes, he's arrogant. This lad probably thought he could afford to be haughty!"

Radiance flashed in the middle-aged man's eyes as he stared at Wang Xian. "He thought he could be arrogant since he has ties with Qin Family and Xue Family. Heh."

"Master, he probably didn't know what we're capable of. Should we teach him a lesson?"

Coldness flashed in the juvenile's eyes.

"Sacred Followers Guild cannot be humiliated. No spirits or God could save them if they did!"

The middle-aged man displayed a cold look. "Initially, I wanted to recruit him to the Sacred Followers Guild and get him to hand over his medical skill inheritance. Since he is so ignorant, I shall not give him any face. Hmph!"

"Master, what should we do?" Upon hearing what his Master said, the juvenile looked surprised.

"We must teach him a lesson. Didn't he open a medical hall? If that's the case..."

Radiance flickered in the middle-aged man's eyes. "Some lads don't know what's good for them. We need to teach him a lesson. Hehe."

"That's right, Master. We need to teach him a lesson!"

The juvenile showed excitement on his face.

Anyone who provokes Sacred Followers Guild is seeking their own doom.

No spirits nor Gods can save them!

"Let's go. We'll meet the people from the Yan Family. I heard that the old man in Yan Family has already attained half-step level," said the middle-aged man.

"Yes, Master!"

The juvenile nodded and followed behind his Master.

Yan Family was ranked first in the Ancient Martial Artist Family of Rivertown. They were the absolute ultimate existence in this town.

Even though Yan Family had retreated for twenty years and things had changed, they were still known as the first in the Rivertown.

The rest of the Ancient Martial Artist Families could never be comparable with the Yan Family in terms of their capabilities.

Wang Xian came to the Divine Dragon Medical Hall and suggested some ideas to the renovation workers.

Once the renovation was completed, they could use it immediately since they only used materials of the best quality.

In addition, Wang Xian also got Old Qin and Old Xue to promote his business for him.

Publicity was difficult for Wang Xian, but it was a piece of cake for them, especially Old Qin.

Old Qin pulled strings for him. In the future, those eligible patients were recommended here for treatment if they could not get themselves cured in Rivertown's hospital.

Wang Xian also fixed a price.

Cost of treatment would start from $2 million. No money? I'm sorry. Please leave.

The Divine Dragon Medical Hall is not a charity organization. No money, no cure.

Wang Xian was not a Virgin Mary that would treat any poor man who came along.

There were too many pitiful people around the world. If all of them need treatment, wouldn't he be tired to death?

Hence, Wang Xian laid some ground rules.

1. Treatment fees start from $2 million. Subject to conditions.
2. No money, no cure.
3. Appointments need to be made in advance.
4. Open from 9 am to 5 pm daily.

These four rules, in his opinion, were not harsh at all. They were achievable.

Time passed by, and Wang Xian just shuffled between the restaurant and Divine Dragon Medical Hall every day.

The weather was rather hot these few days. Xiao Yu had been complaining to him how hot it was during their military training.

Seeing her getting darker each day, Wang Xian decided to find a chance to strengthen her body with the Dragon Energy.

With regards to his sister's future, he had some struggles.

He wanted Xiao Yu to practice the Divine Dragon Transformation with him.

But Xiao Yu did not have the Divine Dragon bloodline.

Wang Xian could not possibly insert his blood essence into his sister.

If she did, she would be controlled by him. Then she would possess the mindset that she was under his command.

Naturally, he did not want his own sister to do that.

It was possible for her to practice Ancient Martial Arts. However, he did not have the methods.

What Mo Qinglong practiced was considered a devilish art. It was not suitable for Xiao Yu to practice.

Whereas Xue Family's Art of Cultivation could only be practiced by the men.

Hence, he did not mention too much to Xiao Yu. After the Dragon Palace was built, there would be ways.

The Dragon Palace had a treasure known as the Dragon Evolution Fruit. After eating that, one could transform into a dragon.

When the time came, he would just need to ask his sister to take the fruit and that would do.

"Boss, all the things are ready. We can open for business tomorrow!" said Manager Huang after he checked on all the things in the medical hall on the fourth day.

"Okay, done."

Wang Xian nodded.

All the renovation was completed. The medical hall was painted in green with wood furniture.

Green represents wood attributes. Hence, Wang Xian felt that this was a suitable color.

The entire room was very simple, with three beds and four chairs in the middle.

The second floor had the exact same layout with three beds.

"I have invited those who needed to be invited. Tomorrow, the medical hall will be officially opened!"

Wang Xian smiled. If the medical hall succeeded in the future, the revenue from the First-grade Restaurant could not hold a candle to the revenue of the medical hall.

The medical hall was opened for business the next morning. There was no stage or publicity.

Wang Xian put two wooden signs on both sides of the medical hall.

One said, "May the opening be a success."

Another one had the Divine Dragon Medical Hall's rules written on it.

The rules were what Wang Xian had set.

As a Divine Dragon Medical Hall, there must be some style in it.

The two signs before the entrance were very eye-catching.

The pedestrian traffic was huge on the old street. Some of them looked at the medical hall with curiosity.

Medical halls had almost disappeared in modern times. There were only pharmacies, healthcare services, and hospitals.

But an ancient medical hall was rarely seen.

Some of the people crowded around and looked at the ancient and plain-looking medical hall.

A curious old man walked closer and read the fascia board. He then swept his gaze at the signs near the entrance and got a shock on his face.

"What does it say? Treatment fees start from $2 million. Subject to conditions. No money, no cure. Appointments need to be made in advance. Open from 9 am to 5 pm daily. What kind of medical hall is this, with the cost of treatment that starts at $2 million? Nowadays, people are crazy about money. Is a deity the doctor? It's so expensive!"

Chapter 126: Challenge (1)

"That's strange! Someone actually decided to open a medical hall here."

"Medical halls are rarely seen nowadays, although there might still be some in the rural areas. Nonetheless, isn't this medical hall a little too much? Treatment starts at a minimum of $2 million? Are they crazy?"

"This is likely just their publicity stunt. Each of its four rules gets more and more absurd!"

"They are probably just fooling around. Look, there's no one here to see the doctor. Moreover, I don't see any medicine in it."

Outside the Divine Dragon Medical Hall, a curious crowd had gathered to take a look at this new medical hall.

Looking at the notice board placed outside, every one of them shook their head.

Disregarding the other rules, treatment fees at a minimum of $2 million could already deter many people.

$2 million? What kind of illness would require treatment of $2 million?

The crowd exchanged their views and quickly scattered. That old man that had joked that this medical hall was treating deities had also left after seeing the exorbitant price.

Wang Xian sat in the medical hall and smiled upon hearing the conversations outside the medical hall.

This was what he wanted to achieve. He did not wish that his medical hall would be as noisy as the wet market.

His positioning had been set to focus on the high-end market!

"Brother Wang Xian, you seem to be in high spirits!"

At this moment, Wang Xian heard Old Qin and Old Xue's voice from outside the shop. There were also some family members of the Qin and Xue Families behind the two family heads.

"Congratulations on the opening of your medical hall!"

Five to six people walked in. They were all wearing smiles as they observed the surroundings.

Xue Jing and Qin Lianhui each held onto a congratulatory gift which they eventually placed on the table by the side.

Wang Xian stood up to welcome them. "I'm still waiting for Old Qin and Old Xue to direct some business to me!"

"Haha, there's definitely business for you." Old Xue laughed heartily. "I have introduced you to a few Ancient Martial Artists. All of them had hidden injuries on them that require treatment!"

"The directors from several hospitals in Rivertown will also be coming over in a while. They could also help to introduce patients if they fulfil the criteria!" Old Qin replied.

"I really have to thank you guys then! Let's have a feast for lunch," Wang Xian smiled and replied.

Just as they were chatting, a middle-aged man and an old man arrived at the entrance.

Carrying the congratulatory gifts in their hands, they took a look at the signboard to confirm the location before entering.

"Eh, isn't that the director of the Number 1 hospital in Rivertown? I recognize him. He's incredible!"

"That... That seems to be the director of the Number 3 hospital in Rivertown!"

"They aren't the only ones. The directors of several other large hospitals are all there!"

"Who's the owner of this Divine Dragon Medical Hall? Why are there so many influential figures?"

With a dozen-plus people suddenly entering a rather unique medical hall, it immediately drew the attention of many people.

Passersby, who were initially curious about the medical hall, were all shocked by what they had seen.

Considering that the directors of several large hospitals had come, it was easy to tell that the owner wasn't someone ordinary!

"Director Li, you are here! Come in!"

As the group of hospital directors and influential people in Rivertown entered the shop, Old Qin immediately went over to welcome them.

Wang Xian smiled and followed. These were all his guests and he had to rely on them to refer business to him.

"Thank you, directors, for coming. I'm really grateful!"

Wang Xian went over and exchanged customary words.

"This must be Brother Wang Xian! Indeed, heroes are often developed from youth! May your medical hall prosper in years to come!"

"Congratulations!"

The group of hospital directors greeted enthusiastically.

Wang Xian smiled in response and exchange customary words.

He was clear that they were here because of Old Qin. Otherwise, he really wouldn't be able to invite this group of people.

"Old Xue, I hope we aren't late!"

Less than half an hour after the arrival of the hospital directors, another group of people entered the shop.

Different from the first batch of guests, this group of people had a unique disposition around them.

All of them had terrifying powers contained within their bodies.

"Not at all, not at all! Old Brother Duan, please come in!"

Old Xue immediately walked over and invited the old man at the front of the group.

Old Qin turned his head over and greeted with a smile, "Old Duan, I did not expect you to be here!"

"Hehe, just coming to take a look. For a miracle doctor that even Old Xue and Old Qin recommend, I naturally had to come and take a look!"

The old man smiled in response as his attention fell on Wang Xian.

"Old Duan, welcome!"

Seeing how Old Qin and Old Xue had acted, a thought struck him and he recalled a family.

Ancient Martial Arts Family, Duan Family. They were the third strongest family in Rivertown!

As for this old man in front of Wang Xian, he was most likely the family head of the Duan Family, Duan Guozhi! He's a Martial Artist Level Eight expert!

"This must be the young miracle doctor, Wang Xian! I will have to trouble you in a while!"

Old Duan looked at Wang Xian.

"Not at all, I'm doing this as a business after all!"

Wang Xian laughed, took a glance at Old Duan and thought to himself that Old Duan must have some hidden injuries.

"Haha. Old Duan was injured during a sparring session when he was young and has not recovered since. Brother Wang Xian, you've got to take a good look at it in a while. The Duan Family isn't lacking in money!" Old Xue joked.

"As long as you can cure me, money isn't an issue!" Old Duan waved his hand proudly.

The Ancient Martial Arts Families in Rivertown weren't dishevelled. The seven to eight families were often not seen or known by the general public. Moreover, there wasn't deep animosity between families.

Xue Family was on the rise recently and had formed a good relationship with the Qin Family. During this period of time, things were smooth sailing for the Xue Family, and the Duan Family had chosen to maintain a cordial relationship with them.

Just as Wang Xian was entertaining his guest, a voice sounded from outside the shop suddenly.

"Divine Dragon Medical Hall? How arrogant! The divine dragon serves as our totem. Its prestige should not be encroached or infringed upon. A small medical hall dares to call itself the Divine Dragon Medical Hall? Inappropriate! It has to change its name!"

Instantly, the lively hall quietened down.

Old Xue frowned and lashed out, "Come in! You guys sure are haughty!"

"Hehe. That's because we have the strength to back it!"

The voice sounded again and the crowd immediately looked to the door. There were 5 people standing at the entrance with two middle-aged men in the middle.

There was also a juvenile and two young men by their left and right.

The group of five people walked into the shop. They looked around arrogantly before turning their attention to Wang Xian.

"Not bad. I can see that you have invited quite a number of people." The slim middle-aged man smirked and commented sarcastically, "The medical hall isn't big but there sure are quite a number of rules! As for the medical skills, it's worth looking into but you sure are arrogant!"

Wang Xian looked at the five of them emotionlessly.

He knew two of the five people and they were none other than the middle-aged man and juvenile from the Sacred Followers Guild.

"It seems like I should have added another rule for my medical hall!"

Wang Xian looked at the five of them and smirked, "Uninvited people... And DOGS are prohibited!"

"Haha, great. What a sharp tongue you have!"

Wang Xian's words immediately made the five of them embarrassed. The slim middle-aged man looked coldly at Wang Xian.

"You are the first person who dares to be so unruly to the Sacred Followers Guild!"

"There's also no one in Rivertown who dares to speak to me, Yan Zhongyuan, in such a way!" the sturdy middle-aged man beside the slim middle-aged man added in a cold tone.

"Sacred Followers Guild!"

"Yan Family!"

Exclamations sounded in the medical hall!

Chapter 127: Challenge (2)

Sacred Followers Guild!

Yan Family!

To the people of Rivertown, each of them represented a supreme existence.

In particular, one of the two medical sacred sects, Sacred Followers Guild. Any members from the Sacred Followers Guild possessed huge influence.

"Greetings to the senior!"

Those hospital directors in the medical hall revealed an appalled expression. They hesitated before they greeted him respectfully.

No choice, the Sacred Followers Guild was influential in the medical field. They were so strong that even directors had to treat members of Sacred Followers Guild with care.

This was the power of the Sacred Followers Guild.

"Yan Zhongyuan!"

Old Xue, Old Duan and the rest of the Ancient Martial Artists fixed their gazes at the sturdy middle-aged man beside the members of Sacred Followers Guild.

A burly figure with shoulder-length hair made him look a little out of this world, but none of the Ancient Martial Artists on the spot dared to underestimate him.

Yan Family, Yan Zhongyuan. Both names were good enough to hold Rivertown in awe.

Old Duan clenched his fist as he glared at Yan Zhongyuan with hatred in his eyes.

But helplessness took over what was in his eyes.

Yan Family was too strong!

Yan Zhongyuan's reputation was domineering too.

Old Xue had mixed expressions. Eventually, he took a deep breath and spoke no more.

The group of ancient martial arts experts did not utter a word.

Upon seeing everyone's shocked and respectful manner, the slim, middle-aged man made a prideful gesture.

"Yan Family, Sacred Followers Guild!"

Wang Xian gazed at Yan Zhongyuan and that middle-aged man with radiance flickering in his eyes.

Both Yan Zhongyuan and the middle-aged man from the Sacred Followers Guild were staring back at Wang Xian with disdainful looks in their eyes.

"How reputable, Sacred Followers Guild and the Yan Family. Hah!"

Wang Xian was composed as he stared at them scornfully.

"Yes, how reputable." Old Qin swept his gaze across the directors and spoke slowly with a darkened expression.

Those hospital directors dreaded the influence of the Sacred Followers Guild.

The Ancient Martial Artist Families were afraid of the Yan Family.

But, not the Qin Family. No matter how formidable the Ancient Martial Artists were, they were still under the governance of the country. Even the Inborn Experts could not do anything they pleased.

Qin Family, the family that had a long history in Rivertown, was not afraid of the Ancient Martial Artist Family.

Of course, Qin Family would not provoke them since it would do them no good.

The middle-aged man from the Sacred Followers Guild and Yan Zhongyuan took a glance at Old Qin without saying anything. Both of them were not afraid of Qin Family either.

"I, Fang Huazi, heard that there's a Little Miracle Doctor over here. So, I'm here to look around and spar with him at the same time."

"When I saw the fascia board on the medical hall, I thought it was inappropriate. I think the medical hall should change its name to Little Worm medical hall. Hah! That would suit it the most!"

Fang Huazi of Sacred Followers Guild jeered as he looked at Wang Xian.

Upon hearing him, Wang Xian revealed a faint, cold smile. "Does that mean that if I think that Fang Huazi is a bad name, I can call you Jiao Huazi?" [\[1\]](#)

"Asshole, you better watch your mouth. Your medical hall just opened for business today, and we are here to challenge you. If you lose, you'll have to smash your signboard and close down this place. In medical learnings, there's no first or last. But don't disgrace yourself when your skill is lousy!"

As soon as Wang Xian finished his sentence, a juvenile jumped out and pointed at him as he bellowed.

"Sacred Followers Guild is here to challenge. This is getting out of hand."

"Sigh, I never thought that this young man would have provoked the Sacred Followers Guild. We can't meddle in this anymore."

"On account of Old Qin, let's just stay and watch!"

The directors were exchanging conversations in whispers with awful looks.

If it were not on account of Old Qin, all of them would definitely support the Sacred Followers Guild.

It was all about the reputation. The reputation of the Sacred Followers Guild was like a towering mountain to them.

Hence, they were in favor of the Sacred Followers Guild.

If not for the relationship with Old Qin, they could have jumped out and reprimanded Old Qin just to fawn over the Sacred Followers Guild.

The discussion among the directors might have been soft, but Wang Xian heard everything clearly.

He frowned slightly and looked at Fang Huazi whose expression was cold. He had an idea. His eyes were smiling as he said, "Challenge? Ha, fine! Since you're here to challenge, I'll smash my own signboard and close down this place if I lose." As Wang Xian spoke, he slowly strolled to Fang Huazi and looked at him impassively. "But that would be too boring."

"What? You still want to raise the stakes?" Fang Huazi looked at Wang Xian with sarcasm on his face.

"Since you're here to challenge me, I will set the rules. If I lose, I'll close down this place. In addition, let's put a pair of arms at stake. Whoever loses will cripple their arms!"

Wang Xian stretched out his arm at Fang Huazi with a smiling face while looking at him fervently.

Wang Xian would never lose. Even if it were a dying person, he could prolong his life with Dragon Energy. It would at most consume some of his Dragon Energy.

If consuming some Dragon Energy could impair Fang Huazi, it would be worth it.

Wang Xian stunned everyone with his words. Even Fang Huazi frowned.

"Even your life is not worth exchanging my master's arms." A juvenile by the side glared at Wang Xian coldly as he growled.

"Shut up."

Wang Xian snapped at the juvenile impassively. He slowly sat back in a chair at the side, gazing at them leisurely. "Isn't Sacred Followers Guild compelling? You don't even dare to accept the challenge? Hehe, and don't tell me how precious your arms are. Accept it if you dare. Since you're here to challenge, you can't be that chicken!"

"Do you know you're asking for your own doom?!" Fang Huazi glared at Wang Xian coldly.

"Idiot, I don't have time for you. Since you're here to challenge, you might as well place a bigger bet. Get lost if you're a chicken. You said I'm courting my own doom? Why do you have so much fuc*ing nonsense for a challenge?"

Wang Xian stood up immediately as he spoke to Fang Huazi coldly.

Sss...

The hospital directors around them drew a cold breath as they stared at Wang Xian in surprise.

Guts, he had guts!

If that man from the Sacred Followers Guild is here for a challenge, then Wang Xian is forcing the challenge to go on.

They were unsure if challenging a Sacred Followers Guild on medical skills was considered to be brave or capable.

No matter what, Wang Xian's imposing demeanor overpowered that man from the Sacred Followers Guild.

Even Yan Zhongyuan knit his eyebrows, staring at Wang Xian doubtfully.

Old Xue and Old Qin clenched their fists as they watched quietly.

"Don't blame me for it since you want to die so much. Nobody can save you today once you compete with me on medical skills." Fang Huazi fixed his gaze on Wang Xian.

He was infuriated because of Wang Xian's challenge.

He was confident that the lad before him would never be his match. But he was angry at Wang Xian's dominating demeanor.

He should be the one who dominated the situation.

"Fine, since you agreed, let's begin now."

Wang Xian chuckled. "Everyone here will be our witnesses for the competition. The one who loses will impair both arms. I think Sacred Followers Guild would not go back on their word. Otherwise, the entire Sacred Followers Guild will be shameful!"

"You'll soon find out your outcome for offending me!"

Silver needles were flickering, giving off cold radiance when Fang Huazi rubbed his palms together. "Later, we'll impair your arms personally!"

Chapter 128: Challenge (3)

"Let's make everyone the judges for this contest. Does anyone have any issue with it?" Old Qin looked at the face-off of Wang Xian and Fang Huazi, and asked loudly.

"Sure. The winner of a contest of medical skills will be clear to tell!"

Fang Huazi looked past Old Qin and said plainly, "Medical skills are about the four diagnostic methods of observing, listening, questioning and feeling one's pulse followed by manipulation, medicinal herbs, and acupuncture for treatment. Since we are going to compete, let's start with these."

Observe, listen, question and feel one's pulse?

Wang Xian looked at him and revealed a faint smile. He knew nothing about these diagnosis methods and naturally wouldn't be a match in these aspects.

"Troublesome. Since we are going to compete, it's natural to cure the patient. That's the core of medical skills. No matter how great you are in these four diagnosis methods, it's useless if you can't cure the patient!"

Wang Xian spoke plainly.

The surrounding hospital directors nodded their heads silently. These four diagnosis methods were frequently used a long time ago. However, in the current era, there weren't many who specialized in these. It wasn't that these methods weren't important anymore, but it was because of the advancement of technology.

Whether a doctor was great or bad depended on if he could cure his patient. It was pointless to have other fanciful packaging.

"Alright, how shall we do it? When it comes to medical skills, you aren't a match for me either!" Fang Huazi gave Wang Xian a harsh stare and said.

"We have a few members of the underworld here today and most of them have hidden injuries that have not recovered completely. Let's see who can cure them of their injuries. I believe this wouldn't be a problem for you, right?"

Old Xue looked at Wang Xian before turning to Fang Huazi.

Fang Huazi squinted his eyes, and looked across the people beside Old Xue before agreeing, "I don't have an issue with it."

"I'm fine with it too!" Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Since you guys are going to compete, you guys can use me for the contest!"

Old Duan walked out and stopped between Wang Xian and Fang Huazi. "I was injured by a poisonous palm strike 10 years ago. The poison has entered my bone marrow and I'll have a day each month where I'll feel worse than death."

As Old Duan spoke, his gaze swept past Yan Zhongyuan and felt a tinge of resentment.

"I'm fine with the arrangement." Wang Xian nodded his head directly.

Suddenly, Yan Zhongyuan, who had been staying at one side, spoke to Fang Huazi.

"Miracle Doctor Fang, I believe we should find another person. The poison palm strike on him was dealt by me when we sparred!"

"Oh, in that case, let's find another person. Since this reckless man was injured by you, let's forget about him." Fang Huazi nodded his head.

"YOU..." When Old Duan heard their conversation, rage welled up to his face. His eyes burned with rage as he stared intensely at Yan Zhongyuan.

"What? Do you want another fight? However, if you lose again, it won't end so well."

Yan Zhongyuan looked at Old Duan with contempt and threatened.

Puff!

Old Duan's face was seething with anger. He took a deep breath, closed his eyes and did not speak another word.

"You guys sure are asking for a lot."

Wang Xian looked to Old Duan and said, "Old Duan, I'll take care of your injuries. It wouldn't be a problem."

Old Duan's body stiffened. His eyes jerked open as he stared at Wang Xian with joy. "Brother, can you really cure my injuries?"

"Not an issue." Wang Xian nodded his head and replied confidently.

"Thank you. Thank you, brother!" Old Duan answered in agitation and his body was even trembling slightly from the excitement.

At this moment, Yan Zhongyuan said emotionlessly, "If you cure the opponent of the Yan Family, that would be equivalent to going against our Yan Family. You have to think about it."

"Oh, the Yan Family!"

Wang Xian turned his head to Yan Zhongyuan and said with contempt, "So what if I'm going against the Yan Family?"

Hehe. Hehe!

When Yan Zhongyuan saw Wang Xian's reaction, he smirked. "Interesting! Interesting! To see that there would be people willing to go against our Yan Family! You will learn about the consequences soon!"

"Is it?" Wang Xian's eyes flickered and broke into laughter. He diverted his attention to the few martial artists and no longer paid attention to Yan Zhongyuan. "Is there anyone who wants to volunteer?"

"Let me do it! My injuries were sustained during a fight in the past. My five visceral and six bowel organs were torched by the devil technique. I once sought treatment from a disciple of Medical Saint Sect but he wasn't able to cure me completely." [\[1\]](#)

A middle-aged man stepped out and flipped up his clothes. At the location of his stomach, there was a clear palm mark.

The palm mark was filled with densely packed black dots and looked horrifying.

"Black Rain Palm!"

When Fang Huazi saw the injury on the middle-aged man, he was shocked.

"Yeah, it is the Black Rain Palm!" The middle-aged man nodded his head bitterly.

"What a creepy injury!"

"That looks horrifying! What kind of injury is that? If he was sent to our hospitals, we wouldn't even know where to start!"

The few hospital directors exchanged gazes and were clearly shocked. They were discussing softly about the injury among themselves.

Fang Huazi took a few steps forward to take a closer look at the injuries.

"Your injuries must have been sustained three years ago. The one who fought you probably hadn't mastered Black Rain Palm. Otherwise, you would have died on the spot. However, looking at your current situation, you wouldn't live longer than five more years!"

"You are not able to engage in vigorous activities currently, or might not even be able to bend your back because of the injuries, which makes you feel unbearable pain!"

At this moment, Fang Huazi looked just like an intelligent old man. He stood beside the middle-aged man and explained the symptoms to him like a real master in medical skills.

"Yes, Miracle Doctor Fang is right!"

When the middle-aged man heard Fang Huazi explain all the symptoms he was facing, he became agitated. "Miracle Doctor Fang, is this curable?"

"Incredible! Just a look at it and he could tell all the symptoms of the injuries!"

"He truly lives up to the name of the Sacred Followers Guild. His medical skills are so impressive!"

"Miracle Doctor Fang Huazi's medical skills are god-like. This young man is finished."

Fang Huazi's explanation was direct and succinct. This greatly impressed the crowd.

Everyone, including the hospital directors and martial artists, were looking in awe at the confident Fang Huazi.

This was why the Sacred Followers Guild was so powerful!

"Tsk. My master is an incredible existence even within the Sacred Followers Guild."

When the juvenile heard the exclamations of the crowd, he got pleasantly contented. He looked to Wang Xian and said, "We will cripple your arms in a while. Just accept your fate without resistance!"

Fang Huazi revealed a faint smile and looked at Wang Xian with contempt. In a proud and demeaning tone, he continued, "I can cure this guy. Brat, what about you?"

Everyone's attention had fallen on Wang Xian at this moment.

They were all here because of Old Qin and Old Xue's invitation. With regard to this young man, they weren't too confident about his capabilities. After all, Wang Xian was too young.

Now that he was competing with an expert from the Sacred Followers Guild, no one really had high hopes of his chances of winning.

It was especially so after they witnessed the medical skills of Fang Huazi a while ago. It was really impressive.

Even Old Qin and Old Xue were looking at Wang Xian anxiously and weren't too certain that Wang Xian could win.

After all, the one he was competing with was from the Sacred Followers Guild!

"If you were going to administer treatment, how would you go about it and how long would you take?"

Wang Xian didn't answer Fang Huazi directly and posed a question instead.

"I'll be using acupuncture and medicinal herbs. I'm confident of curing him completely within two days. Brat, just stretch your arms over."

"Think about it, I'll give you another option. I hate that mouth of yours. You could use your tongue in exchange for your arms. Hehe, that's a pretty good deal for you!"

Chapter 129: Challenge (4)

"Two days. I can cure him in two days!"

"Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable! The Black Rain Palm is the famous poisonous palm art. Yet, Miracle Doctor Fang could treat this in two days!"

"Is this the Sacred Followers Guild? They are really skillful!"

"Miracle Doctor Fang, I have an internal illness. Can you take a look later on?"

What Fang Huazi said evoked emotions within those Martial Artists who were suffering from severe illnesses.

If injuries sustained from Black Rain Palm can be healed within two days, that means their injuries could be treated easily.

As for Wang Xian, they did not think Wang Xian was as capable as Miracle Doctor Fang.

They were almost certain he would win the competition.

"Wang Xian, are you... are you confident?!" asked Old Qin and Old Xue with worry and mixed expressions.

Wang Xian peered over his shoulder and gave them an assuring look. He beamed at the haughty Fang Huazi and said, "I love your arms though!"

After speaking, he turned back to the middle-aged man who suffered injuries from the Black Rain Palm, "Sir, please follow me. Five minutes. Five minutes at most."

Wang Xian threw a smiley glance at the middle-aged man before he walked up the stairs.

The middle-aged man was stunned as he revealed a shocked expression when he looked at Wang Xian.

"Five minutes!"

When Old Xue heard Wang Xian, his eyes were glowing, "Gao Cheng, follow him!"

"Yes, Old Xue! "The middle-aged man's expression changed before he followed behind Wang Xian.

"What's going on? Can he really treat Gao Cheng in five minutes?"

"No way, Black Rain Palm is a vicious palm art. To survive under the attack of this palm art is considered lucky."

"What can he do in five minutes?"

Everyone was in disbelief.

Everyone knew how formidable the Black Rain Palm was. Hence, no one believed that injuries could heal in five minutes.

"He's playing tricks!" Fang Huazi stared coldly at Wang Xian.

He would never believe Wang Xian when he said he could treat the Black Rain Palm in five minutes.

Even if it were Fang Huazi, he would need to consume some precious herbs before the injuries could heal.

"If he dares to play any tricks, we can just simply break his arms!" Yan Zhongyuan said impassively, disregarding everyone in the room.

Fang Huazi smiled and nodded as he waited quietly.

Thump!

Five minutes passed very fast.

Everyone looked over as soon as they heard the footsteps coming down the stairs.

Wang Xian put on a smiling face as he walked down. Gao Cheng was following behind him with thrill and disbelief on his face.

Incredible. It was incredible.

Fang Huazi knit his eyebrow slightly as he stared at Gao Cheng.

"What's going on?" a hospital director whispered and asked puzzledly.

"Fang Huazi of the Sacred Followers Guild, come over. Let me break your arms!"

Wang Xian widened his lips with a taunting look.

"Hur?"

Everyone was caught by surprise as they looked suspiciously at Wang Xian and Gao Cheng.

Seeing that everyone's attention was gathered on him, Gao Cheng could not hide his excitement and exclaimed loudly, "I've recovered. I'm fully recovered!"

"This is impossible!"

Fang Huazi glared at Gao Cheng and gritted his teeth. "This is totally impossible. If both of you dare to play any trick on me, don't blame me for being ruthless."

"It's somewhat impossible to recover in five minutes."

"Did they collude? Even so, they can't deceive the Sacred Followers Guild and Yan Zhongyuan!"

Not only did Fang Huazi find it hard to believe, but the rest of the people did too.

"This is great! I really recovered!"

Gao Cheng lifted his shirt up, revealing his belly where the trace of Black Rain Palm had disappeared.

"How did it happen? It really disappeared!"

"Gone. It's gone. Five minutes. Five minutes was all it took to treat the Black Rain Palm!"

Everyone was looking at Gao Cheng's belly in disbelief.

It was healed! Too fascinating.

"Haha, look. I really recovered. I finally recovered from the injury that has been torturing me for three years!"

As Gao Cheng exclaimed, he patted his stomach with excitement.

"There's no such thing as impossible. You're just a piece of trash. You still have the cheek to challenge with that petty skill of yours?"

Wang Xian sneered at Fang Huazi, "Now, can we fulfill our bet?!"

"Impossible. I don't believe you can treat the Black Rain Palm within five minutes. No way!" he exclaimed in disbelief. Seeing that Gao Cheng had fully recovered, Fang Huazi was looking dreadful.

Absolutely impossible. No way!

"Why not? Miracle Doctor Wang deserves his name. He purged the toxic of the Black Rain Palm with his hand in five minutes. Look! Look!"

Gao Cheng rebuked in a loud voice as if he was a loyal fan of Wang Xian. His body jerked as he released an imposing vibe of a Martial Artist.

"Haha, my cultivation is restoring rapidly after I recovered. Within days, I will be able to return to my peak condition!"

"He really recovered!"

"It's confirmed! He's recovered!"

"Five minutes. He used only five minutes to treat Gao Cheng. He's more formidable than the Sacred Followers Guild!"

"Where did this mysterious young man learn his medical skills from? He is highly proficient in it!"

The crowd was witnessing the entire incident with shocked faces. Some were surprised, some were exclaiming in disbelief. The rest had respect for Wang Xian from the bottoms of their hearts.

The hospital directors were looking at Wang Xian with great admiration in their eyes.

In medical learning, there is no first nor last. Whoever possesses the skill will win. Wang Xian, with a skill that surpassed the Sacred Followers Guild, was worthy of their respect.

"Let's materialize the bet now!"

Wang Xian looked at Fang Huazi and said coldly, "Given the reputation of the Sacred Followers Guild, I'm sure you will not go back on your word!"

Fang Huazi had a mixed expression with a slight tinge of fear in his eyes.

The bet was to cripple both arms.

He trembled, as he did not expect he would lose to a miserable extent.

But, Fang Huazi dared not go back on his word because of the reputation of the Sacred Followers Guild.

He believed the other party would spread the word once he broke his promise. By then, the Sacred Followers Guild would cripple him without any helping hands.

No one can humiliate the Sacred Followers Guild!

Yan Zhongyuan darkened his expression gradually. It was beyond his expectations that Fang Huazi would lose to a nobody.

He had followed Fang Huazi here because Fang Huazi saved the old man in his family.

He did not anticipate such a situation now.

"Give me face and let this matter rest."

Yan Zhongyuan lifted his chin and looked at Wang Xian, "I can forgive your ill manners just now. Give the Yan Family face."

As Yan Zhongyuan spoke, he exuded a powerful vibe from his body.

Everyone around him took a deep breath.

Yan Zhongyuan spoke for the Yan Family. He was protecting Fang Huazi.

In Rivertown, the Yan Family could not be stopped!

"Scram!"

Chapter 130: Return of the King

"Scram!"

Wang Xian shouted and his voice exploded in the medical hall.

When Wang Xian finished his word, the entire medical hall quietened down.

They were looking at Wang Xian in shock.

The one he was chiding was from the Yan Family!

When Yan Zhongyuan heard his words, his face stiffened and his expression turned heavy gradually.

He stared at Wang Xian with killing intent!

"I... Dare... You... To... Repeat... Yourself!"

Yan Zhongyuan gritted his teeth and threatened, word by word.

"Can't... You... Understand... The... Human... Language?"

Wang Xian replied in the same manner coldly but with the intention of mocking Yan Zhongyuan!

The atmosphere in the medical hall chilled rapidly. Everyone held their breath as they witnessed this shocking scene.

Seeing this, Old Qin said with an angry expression, "A loss is a loss! Could it be that you are trying to impose your will on others?" He looked to the few hospital directors and his eyes were filled with displeasure.

The hospital directors were stunned and understood that Old Qin wasn't pleased with how they had reacted previously.

One of them gritted his teeth and said, "A contest of medical skills shouldn't be affected by age and authority. The winner has the right to decide the fate of the loser. These rules have to be followed."

"Yes!"

The other hospital directors seconded and nodded their heads.

This group had no personal view and would go whichever way the situation dictated. Now that Fang Huazi had lost, they naturally knew where they should stand.

As for the rest of the martial artists, they didn't speak a word. Nonetheless, all of them had their attention on Fang Huazi, Yan Zhongyuan and his clique.

What they were implying was crystal clear. The rules were the rules and the Yan Family still did not possess the strength to break them.

With the Qin Family around, the Qin Family would at least have the right to speak up.

"Great, great!" Yan Zhongyuan looked across coldly before landing on Wang Xian. "Just you wait. Now that you've offended the Yan Family, I'll let you know what is worse than death!"

"Can you represent the Yan Family?" Wang Xian smiled and stared at Yan Zhongyuan.

"What I've said are the words of the Yan Family. If you dared to touch Miracle Doctor Fang Huazi today, I'd guarantee the Bohai Sea would have another corpse!" Yan Zhongyuan threatened.

"Alright, understood!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Brat, if you dared to touch my master, you wouldn't even know how you die!"

The juvenile behind Fang Huazi stared at Wang Xian with his bloodshot eyes.

He had also not expected his Master to have lost to this brat.

Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at the juvenile before turning to the silent Fang Huazi. He mocked, "Stretch out your arms. Otherwise, I'll publicize this throughout the underworld and let others determine how reputable the Sacred Followers Guild is. Hehe!"

"YOU..."

Fang Huazi stared fiercely at Wang Xian. He had not expected Wang Xian to be still thinking of touching him after Yan Zhongyuan had threatened him.

Yan Zhongyuan heard Wang Xian. His expression turned even colder and he gave him a death stare.

The complexion of the juvenile by the side had turned pale.

"I guess I have to do it myself!" Wang Xian added as he stretched his hands over and placed them on Fang Huazi's arms.

Fang Huazi's body shivered slightly.

"The consequences aren't something you can bear!" Yan Zhongyuan stared at Wang Xian and reminded him.

Wang Xian was unmoved. He smiled radiantly and stared at Fang Huazi.

"You wouldn't dare. I, Fang Huazi, have cured countless experts. If you dared to cripple me..."

Fang Huazi rambled on with a hideous look. However, before he could complete his sentence, he gradually lost all feeling in his arms.

His face stiffened and fear gripped him.

"If I crippled you..." Wang Xian smiled and continued staring at him. "Then as a doctor, you wouldn't be able to use your arms anymore. In the future, you would have to use your legs to administer acupuncture for others. Yeah! That would be an incredible scene!"

Wang Xian gradually retracted his arms as he spoke. He smiled and looked across the group. "I won't be sending you guys off then!"

"How dare you really crippled my arms. How dare you!"

Fang Huazi's body shivered vigorously. To his horror, he could no longer sense the existence of his arms. It was as though they had been wiped off unknowingly.

This sent a chill down his spine.

If the arms were crippled by the common way, he still could rely on his medical skills to restore them quickly.

However, he couldn't sense what the issue was with his arms at all currently. In fact, he couldn't even sense his arms!

"Great! You are still the first one who wouldn't show respect to the Yan Family!"

Yan Zhongyuan clenched his fist tightly, smirked and stared at Wang Xian.

"Not going off? What are you still staying for?" Wang Xian looked at them and mocked.

"My arms! I'll remember this!"

Fang Huazi stared at Wang Xian. His face had turned a little pale as he turned around and left.

"You better remember it. Your arms can't be cured! Rest assured. My medical techniques in the field of osteopathy are still very good."

Wang Xian added this in bad taste as he saw the back view of Fang Huazi leaving.

Fang Huazi stumbled and almost fell to the ground if not for the juvenile beside him who held onto him.

Hehe!

Wang Xian laughed and had a satirical smile.

"Brother Wang Xian, you just offended the Sacred Followers Guild and Yan Family completely. You have to be careful from now on."

Seeing that Fang Huazi and the group had left, Old Qin reminded in a solemn tone.

Yan Family!

Wang Xian's eyes shimmered and revealed a smirk.

"Yan Family's strength is truly terrifying. Even if all the other Ancient Martial Arts Families allied together, they wouldn't be as strong as the Yan Family. An old member of Yan Family reached Martial Artist Level 9 20 years ago. He's probably even stronger now. Now that you have offended the Yan Family, things will get troublesome.

Old Xue spoke with a heavy heart. When he had just arrived at Rivertown, Yan Family was already a great and giant force in Rivertown.

If he had to go against the Yan Family, he would have no confidence at all.

"Just a few days ago, the Yan Family announced that they would be returning. They have invited all the Martial Artists of the underworld to attend the Yan Family's banquet in two more days. Although it was said to be a banquet, it is also a form of declaration. A declaration of their return! They are announcing to all that the King of Rivertown will be returning."

"I dare to bet that during this banquet, they will show their strength and even resort to violence to warn the rest!"

"Moreover, the Ancient Martial Arts Families in Rivertown will experience a major reshuffling when the time comes. There will probably be many families who would choose to go under the umbrella of the Yan Family!"

At the side, Old Duan added with a solemn face.

He'd had conflicts with the Yan Family previously. Now that the Yan Family was returning, it would definitely be a huge blow to the Duan Family.

"Reshuffling!" Old Xue heaved a sigh. When he knew that the Yan Family would be returning, he immediately invited Old Qin and Wang Xian. This was done in the hope of strength in numbers!

And to deal with the changes happening to Rivertown in the future!

Looking at it now, everything was hard to tell!

"The day after tomorrow?"

Wang Xian heard their conversation and a faint smile appeared on his face.

Announcing the return of the King of Rivertown for the future?

In that case, Wang Xian would like to make an announcement too!

The descent of the King!

As to who would be the real King, he would really like to know!

Chapter 131: Choice

"Wang Xian, do you want to go into hiding for the time being?" Old Qin suggested in the medical hall as he was worried when he saw Wang Xian deep in thought.

"Hur?"

Wang Xian was back from his daze. He shook his head and grinned. "Just a Yan Family. Since they are announcing the return of the King, I'll check them out the day after tomorrow to see how the King returns."

As he spoke, he widened a suggestive smile on his face.

Old Qin was startled, while Old Xue was looking at Wang Xian, stunned.

"Okay, after a morning of eventful happenings, it's noon now. I'll treat everyone to the First-grade Restaurant for lunch. Anyone who needs treatment can queue up in the afternoon!"

Wang Xian changed the subject and beamed at everyone.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, we should be the ones who buy you lunch."

"Yes, we should. Let's go. We can have our lunch first and wait to get treated. It's not urgent now!"

The surrounding Martial Artists answered readily.

All of them suffered from internal injuries. Since they'd finally met such a skillful doctor, they must show their respect and enthusiasm.

Given that they were not some powerful Martial Artists, it would be extremely difficult to invite doctors from the Sacred Followers Guild or Medical Saint Sect to treat them.

They might not have many doctors, but each of them had a strong network.

They would ignore those who did not have a background or could not afford their medical fees.

Even for Old Duan, he could not invite the Sacred Followers Guild or the Medical Saint Sect to treat his injuries.

This was also their proud capital.

"It's okay. I own the restaurant next door. I'll buy everyone lunch to thank you all in advance for referring business to me in the future."

Wang Xian chuckled and brought them to the First-grade Restaurant for a delicious treat.

A total of five Martial Artists required treatment in the afternoon.

Among them, Old Duan had the most severe injury. Hence, Wang Xian consumed much of his Dragon Energy. The other four were treated easily.

"Thanks, Wang Xian. Thank you. Let me know if you need any help in the future!"

After Old Duan recovered from his injury, he was full of gratitude.

"You're welcome. I was paid. No need to thank me."

Wang Xian waved him off.

"But sometimes, money cannot necessarily cure my injury. I still have to thank you!" Old Duan bowed and said with gratitude.

"You can come back to me again if you need any help," said Wang Xian as he lifted Old Duan up.

"Then, I shall not disturb you further."

Old Duan nodded and left after a few polite remarks.

Wang Xian was grinning as he looked at the medical hall after everyone left.

"The medical hall makes the most profitable business!" Wang Xian exclaimed.

He had received a total of 35 million for his medical fees after treating five people.

Out of that, twenty million came from Old Duan, as he consumed much more Dragon Energy.

Those who were treated, including Old Duan, wanted to befriend Wang Xian after they had seen his formidable skills.

This allowed Wang Xian to realize the benefits of being a skillful doctor.

"The Sacred Followers Guild is so prideful and arrogant because they have a powerful network. Just Fang Huazi alone can get Yan Family to strike for them...how strong can the entire Sacred Followers Guild be?"

When Wang Xian thought of the vicious look on Fang Huazi's face, he knew he had completely fallen out with him and the Sacred Followers Guild.

"Regardless of Sacred Followers Guild and the Yan Family, so long as you provoke me..."

Radiance flickered in Wang Xian's eyes. He had made a decision. First, he would get rid of the Yan Family.

"A week is over. I should be back in school."

Wang Xian was sitting down, pondering over some thoughts. When he looked at the time, it was already five o'clock. He stood up slowly and went back to school.

His one-week leave was up after spending three days in the sea and four days in the medical hall.

But still, Wang Xian could not attend school because he would have to stay in the medical hall.

When he was back in school, surrounded by students with hands full of books, Wang Xian suddenly felt that he was not of the same world as these people.

Buzz!

Buzz!

At this time, Wang Xian's phone rang. He took it out and froze after looking at it.

Two messages from two people.

One was Guan Shuqing, and the other was Lan Qingyue.

The messages had similar content, asking if he was in school and if he wanted to have dinner together.

Wang Xian hesitated as he was unsure of how to reply to their messages.

He could not possibly go out with the two of them. Should he reject both?

In that case, he would feel apologetic to the two girls.

"Hey, isn't that Wang Xian? The guy who was fancied by the two goddesses, Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue?"

"Yes, how lucky he is to have earned the hearts of the two beautiful goddesses. I wonder who he will choose."

"Should be Lan Qingyue. After all, she had an influential family background. If he marries Lan Qingyue, he can enjoy the rest of his life."

"That's true. Guan Shuqing pales in her family background. Otherwise, she's not a bad choice!"

"There's a post on the school forum about who Wang Xian will pick in the end. Guan Shuqing had more than one thousand supporters, while Lan Qingyue had over five thousand supporters. After all, Lan Qingyue has a better family background."

Suddenly, Wang Xian overheard the two girls whispering next to him.

Wang Xian was stunned.

"The school forum's post!"

He frowned deeply as he fished out his phone.

Indeed, there was a post regarding his choice between Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

When he saw the post, he was not feeling prideful at all. Instead, a dreadful look surfaced on his face.

He had not felt the way he did now when the people in the school forum called him a scumbag.

That was because he did not care about his own reputation. But now, two girls were involved.

Getting all the finger-pointing would upset the two girls.

In particular, Guan Shuqing. After all, he and Guan Shuqing shared a long history.

Whoo!

Wang Xian took a deep breath. He fancied Guan Shuqing. Lan Qingyue, too...

Forget it. Not many people were infatuated. Wang Xian was not one of them either.

But he knew that he had to make a choice.

Wang Xian took out his phone. He hesitated before he replied to Guan Shuqing. [Sure, where are you? I'll look for you.]

Then he looked at Lan Qingyue's message and replied, [Hey, I'm having dinner with Guan Shuqing tonight. Sorry!]

A choice. A tough decision.

But this was a choice he needed to make. If not, what else could he do? Make both of them his girlfriends?

Would they agree?

Date both of them together? Wouldn't they mind? Heartbroken?

Apparently, it was not easy to date both girls!

If he did not make the decision when he needed to, he would suffer the consequences.

So he chose Guan Shuqing, whom he was very fond of and had been together with him for a longer time!

Chapter 132: Mr. Feng

"Did he choose Guan Shuqing?"

In one of the rooms of the girls' dormitory block, Lan Qingyue's already pale face was filled with misery.

"I just need a hug and some comforting words right now but who would have expected..."

"Although I have thought of the possibility of you choosing him, why does it have to be right now?"

Lan Qingyue was in a daze and her complexion was as white as a sheet.

Weng weng weng!

At this moment, her phone rang. She saw that it was from her dad as she picked it up in a daze.

"Qingyue, we need you back to handle the company matters. If we can't get past this hurdle, our Lan Family will be in deep trouble!"

The solemn voice of her father sounded from the other end of the phone. Lan Qingyue was hesitating.

"Dad. Why don't I just drop out of school and focus on managing the family business?"

Lan Qingyue's father pondered for a moment before replying slowly, "Alright. You wouldn't really learn anything from school anyway. It's fine if you are coming back to manage the company in advance."

"Yeah!"

Lan Qingyue was a genius. When she was 14 years old, she'd demonstrated exceptional business acumen.

At that time, she followed her grandparents and stayed within the company for the majority of the days. Gradually, through learning and understanding, her talents in business were quickly developed.

When she was 17 years old, she was already able to complete a project on her own.

Lan Qingyue's performance greatly shocked everyone in the Lan Family. Subsequently, the Master of the Lan Family decided that he would hand over the Lan Family's business to Lan Qingyue for management.

After a few years, she had further consolidated her position as the successor of the family business.

However, it wasn't that simple to manage a family corporation with a market capitalization of close to $10 billion.

After hanging up the phone, she looked around her room blankly and flipped through some photographs in her phone gallery.

"Do I not have any chance now?"

A teardrop flowed out slowly from her eyes. Lan Qingyue rested her head and arms on the table and her shoulders were shaking slightly from sobbing.

...

"Eh, isn't that Guan Shuqing and Wang Xian? They are eating together again."

"Yeah. Look, they are really intimate. Could it be that Wang Xian has gotten together with Guan Shuqing?"

"Really? Wang Xian has chosen Guan Shuqing?"

"If he has chosen Guan Shuqing, it must be true love. After all, Lan Qingyue's qualifications are too good!"

Within the school, when the students saw Guan Shuqing eating with Wang Xian, they were all shocked.

They had not expected Wang Xian's final choice to be Guan Shuqing.

"Xiao Xian, when do you think we can go for a picnic again? I really miss the time when we had a picnic at the Eastern Hill! Hehe."

Guan Shuqing smiled radiantly at Wang Xian as she spoke.

"Picnic? That's easy! If you like, we can have it tonight!"

"Nope. I have already eaten tonight. I'll get fat if I eat again."

"In that case, let's do it tomorrow. I'll get some large lobsters, crabs..."

Wang Xian chatted happily with Guan Shuqing. After they finished their meal, the two of them took a walk around the school again.

Guan Shuqing had likely sensed something and took the initiative to hold Wang Xian's hand.

Wang Xian smiled and walked around the school with her.

The two of them were just like any couple as they strolled within the school.

The news of Wang Xian choosing Guan Shuqing was also revealed on the school forum by others, causing a huge uproar.

"I really had not expected Wang Xian's final choice to be Guan Shuqing!"

"This must be true love. Lan Qingyue's family is so rich and yet he has chosen Guan Shuqing!"

"What a man! Wang Xian has made the right choice this time!"

"If he can give up a girl with a superb family background and choose to be with Guan Shuqing, Guan Shuqing will likely be very blessed."

The news of Wang Xian getting together with Guan Shuqing was shocking to many people. However, there was still a large number of students who were impressed with Wang Xian.

The next day. Other than staying in his medical hall, Wang Xian spent all his remaining time with Guan Shuqing. He had also thought it through. Since he had made his decision, he shouldn't try to hide the facts!

However, he sat within his dormitory room in shock on the third day.

"Old Wang, Lan Qingyue has suspended her studies and has submitted her resignation as the vice-president of the student council! I heard that she wanted to drop out of school initially but the school has retained her name in the school's name roll. Nonetheless, she is unlikely to come back in the future," Wang Dahai said to Wang Xian.

Looking at his reaction, Wang Dahai shook his head. "I had not expected Lan Qingyue to be so in love with you. You are a really lucky guy!"

Wang Xian frowned. He took out his phone but hesitated. In the end, he did not contact her.

Lan Qingyue's sudden drop out of school frustrated him a little.

Bam!

At this moment, the door of the room was kicked open suddenly with a loud bang.

"Who's that? Don't you know how to be softer!" Wang Dahai turned around and cried out unsatisfactorily.

However, when he saw the figure by the door, he was slightly surprised.

At the door, an extremely handsome man was standing there. He had a pair of eyes, which inclined upwards, and thin lips which made him look extremely beautiful.

That's right, he was beautiful. This was an extremely beautiful and exquisite looking man.

Wang Dahai opened his mouth slightly. "You are... Mr... Mr. Feng!"

Mr. Feng was a very mysterious person in the school.

All the students only knew that he was so good-looking that he made the other male students jealous, and was so beautiful that even girls envied his beauty.

His family was extremely rich and he rarely appeared in school.

Among the girls, they referred to him as Mr. Feng, a rather elegant name.

"You must be Wang Xian!"

Mr. Feng didn't pay attention to Wang Dahai and stared fervently at Wang Xian with his sharp eyes.

Wang Xian looked at the extremely good-looking guy at the door and roared impatiently, "Speak!"

"I just returned yesterday and I had not expected Lan Qingyue to have dropped out of school because of you. Therefore, I decided to investigate about you. To my surprise, you are really outstanding!"

Mr. Feng walked over slowly with his eyes fixed on Wang Xian. It was as though there were nothing and no one around him.

"I'm really surprised to learn that there is a man as outstanding as you."

Mr. Feng was observing him as he complimented Wang Xian. "However, you've made two mistakes."

He wasn't bothered by Wang Xian's silence. "First, you shouldn't have made Lan Qingyue fall in love with you. Second, you shouldn't have offended my Yan Family."

"I'd like to invite you to a place tonight," he continued. As he spoke, an invitation card appeared in his hands. He flicked it lightly and it landed on the table beside Wang Xian.

"I'll make this an unforgettable night for you. If you don't come, you better watch out for your relatives and friends."

Mr. Feng turned around and left with a huge smile after completing his sentence.

Everyone in the school knew that Mr. Feng was fond of Lan Qingyue. However, Lan Qingyue didn't have the same feelings at that time.

Subsequently, Mr. Feng, for unknown reasons, had rarely gone to the school.

Now that he had returned, he received two pieces of negative news.

He truly appreciated the fact that there was such an outstanding man in Rivertown, as he felt that there was finally someone he could relate to.

However, it was destined that one of them would disappear forever from Rivertown.

Wang Xian looked at his back view and a faint smile appeared on his face.

It's the Yan Family again? Threatening me?

His mood wasn't great to start with because of the Lan Qingyue incident.

Wang Xian took out his phone and called Mo Qinglong. He only told him four words,

"Dragon Sect, fall in!"

Chapter 133: Craziness Before Destruction (1)

Craziness before destruction!

Whenever Wang Xian fought with someone in the past, he did not prefer talks. Instead, he struck immediately.

But this time, he wanted to have some fun.

The Yan Family had been threatening him time and time again. If he did not let them have a taste of despair, he would be letting himself down.

Wang Xian wanted them to fall, as heavy as they could when they were at the top!

"Dragon King!"

Harmonious voices sounded off in front of him. Wang Xian opened his eyes and saw 52 Dragonians gathered before him.

Mo Qinglong, his disciple Mo Yuan, and fifty Dragonians.

Mo Qinglong had already hit the Inborn Realm while his disciple, Mo Yuan, was a Level-nine Martial Artist.

The rest of the remaining Dragonians remained at Level Seven.

Level Seven was considered high in Rivertown. The current Old Xue was only a Martial Artist at Level Seven, but the Xue Family was ranked fourth in Rivertown.

Old Duan was only a Level-eight Martial Artist.

Level-seven Dragonians may not fight two levels above them, but they could easily deal with Level-eight Martial Artists. As for Level-nine Mo Yuan, he could defeat Half-step to Inborn, but he's still not a match for Inborn Expert. As for Mo Qinglong, he's invincible to the Inborn Experts.

Wang Xian looked at the Dragonians and pondered.

The strength and defense capability of the Dragonians was not any average Martial Artist could compare with. In the future, they could even fight two or three levels above them once they activated the Divine Dragon bloodline within them.

"With such a strength, it is good enough to deal with the Yan Family!"

Wang Xian looked at the Dragonians and burst out softly, "Follow my orders today. Our target is the Yan Family. Today it's your first appearance. I hope all of you will not disappoint me!"

"Yes, Dragon King!"

All the Dragonians answered with bountiful fighting spirit.

"Follow me and wait for my orders!"

...

The Yan Family was the number one Ancient Martial Artist Family in Rivertown. They were known as the domineering giant in this place.

Twenty years ago, the Yan Family announced that they would go into seclusion to avoid chaos. They stayed low profile and ignored all underworld and society affairs.

A few days ago, the Yan Family announced their comeback.

Their comeback stirred a great commotion in the entire Rivertown.

In particular, in the Ancient Martial Art circle. Their comeback marked a huge shuffle in the rankings.

Twenty years ago, the Yan Family had three Level-nine, six Level-eight and dozens of Level-seven Martial Artists.

With such strength, the family was an invincible existence in Rivertown at that time.

And they remained invincible at present even with their strength from twenty years ago.

Now, twenty years had passed, and the Yan Family could only be more powerful.

The comeback of the Yan Family struck fear into all the Martial Artists and the Martial Art families in Rivertown.

Today, it was the ninth day since the Yan Family made their comeback. At the same time, it was the day they declared their return formally.

The Yan Family invited all the Martial Artists in Rivertown to the Yan Family's Mountain Villa.

Everyone knew their intention.

The declaration of the King's return.

Yan Family's Mountain Villa was situated before a summit near the sea known as Mount Qingfeng.

The entire Mount Qingfeng belonged to the Yan Family. Hence, the Yan Family's Mountain Villa was worthy of its name.

The villa was extremely lively in the evening. The Martial Artists and the Martial Art families in Rivertown were not a lot, but were made up of three to four hundred people.

All the Martial Artists were moving to the Yan Family in groups. Some of them had grave expressions, some were feeling uneasy.

Some were looking thrilled.

"When will Wang Xian be here?" asked Old Duan to Old Xue in a group of more than twenty people.

"I called him just now. He should be here soon. Let's go in!" Old Xue replied slowly with a solemn face.

"Wang Xian did not give any face to the Yan Family. I'm afraid today..." Old Duan was a little worried.

"He should have his own plans!" Old Xue was contemplating too. He could not tell Wang Xian's thoughts.

Given his understanding of Wang Xian and the imposing vibe that he released occasionally, he could sense the domineering strength in Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was full of mystery. Since he dared to show up for this event, he should have some backings.

But, all these were just his conjectures.

"All the families and Martial Artists in Rivertown are here. No one dares to turn the Yan Family down. I wonder what they will be doing or what announcement they will be making at this event," Old Duan said as he tensed up.

"We'll take one step at a time. There are so many Martial Artists in Rivertown. I doubt the Yan Family can take things too far!" Old Xue pondered and answered him as he walked.

"Hur? Isn't that...?"

Suddenly, an exclamation was heard.

Old Xue and Old Duan peered over their shoulders immediately. They raised their eyebrows. "Hu Family? The one beside the Master of Hu Family is... Whirling Blade Hu Fei? Is Hu Fei part of the Hu Family?"

"This...This is possible. Hu Fei is ranked seventh in Rivertown. Hu Fei did not rise in Rivertown, but in the far North. No one has linked Whirling Blade Hu Fei with the Hu Family. From the looks of it now... Unexpected. Totally unexpected. Hu Fei is a Level-nine Martial Artist!"

"What did the Hu Family bring Hu Fei here for? To strengthen the Hu Family, or are they together with the Yan Family?"

Old Xue and Old Duan were looking even more solemn than ever when they saw the sudden appearance of the Level-nine Martial Artist.

The water in Rivertown got murkier. No one could predict what would happen at tonight's dinner.

All the Martial Artists entered the ancient-looking villa.

The villa looked retro as if it was one of those secluded villas in the martial arts movies.

Two burly, middle-aged men were standing on the left and right of the entrance.

From the vibes they gave off, all the Martial Artists that streamed in had grave expressions on their faces.

"Even the gatekeepers are Level-five Martial Artists. The Yan Family is too domineering."

"All the power of all Martial Artists in Rivertown combined may not be comparable to the Yan Family!"

People around exchanged whispers.

Stepping on the red carpet, everyone strolled into the villa.

The villa was huge, with little bridges and streams, looking picturesque.

There was an open space all the way to the back.

It was filled with tables and chairs as though it was a sect gathering from the ancient underworld.

On the tables were fruits and food.

Two striking flags were placed at the sides with words that said:

Return of the hidden dragon!

Roaming the nine skies!

The words were magnificent.

"Guests can sit according to their strengths and rankings!"

A steward-look-alike middle-aged man stood in front and gave everyone the instructions.

His hands were behind his back, with the imposing manner of a Level-eight Martial Artist.

Everyone took a look and headed to their seats after a slight hesitation.

Starting from the second family in Rivertown, Ren Family, Hu Family, Duan Family, Xue Family etc., they sat in their own seats.

Half an hour before the start of the Yan's dinner event, everyone was here early.

The steward observed the situation with a glimmer of satisfaction on his face.

This is right. When the Yan Family returns, all of them must submit to them!

Chapter 134: Craziness Before Destruction (2)

7.30 pm. The tables set up at the Yan Family's Mountain Villa training field was filled with Martial Artists.

Martial Artists from Rivertown sat in two rows according to their strength.

Those who were at the forefront were all top-ranking families.

However, there were eight seats placed horizontally across the middle.

These seats were for the Yan Family.

The Yan Family was very particular about the setting of this banquet and was being extremely arrogant.

Two straight vertical rows for the various Martial Artists of Rivertown and a horizontal row at the front for the Yan Family.

This setting was an emulation of the local authority in ancient times.

The King would be seated in the middle.

And his officials would sit in two rows in front of him.

Everyone could tell that the Yan Family was seeing the other families in Rivertown as their "officials," while they were the King.

There was still half an hour until the start of the banquet. Seeing that everyone had arrived, the Yan Family felt satisfied.

At approximately 7:35 pm, members of the Yan Family started walking in from the entrance to the banquet one after another.

The six of them instantly attracted the attention of everyone.

In the middle of the group, an old man held a walking stick with a dragon head at the top. He had a head of grey hair but the looks of a child. One would easily mistake him for a middle-aged man of 40-50 years old.

To the side of this old man was an extremely good-looking juvenile wearing white.

The juvenile had pearl white teeth and thin, red lips which made him look extremely beautiful.

Beside the two of them were two old men. They had burly statures and looked across the surroundings as though they were far superior to the rest.

Further to each side were two middle-aged men.

"The old man in the middle must be the leader of the Yan Family, Yan Gukong. He reached Martial Artist Level 9 20 years ago. I wonder if he has taken that final step!"

"The oldest generation of the Yan Family included Yan Gukong, Yan Gufeng and Yan Gulie. Among them, Yan Gukong is the strongest!"

"Those two middle-aged men are Yan Zhongyuan and Yan Zhongwen. Both of them are Level 8 Martial Artists. Together with their Martial Artist Level 8 butler, they still have three other Level 8 Martial Artists who aren't here today!"

"They are too strong! Really too strong! Even if Yan Gukong hasn't made the breakthrough, the strength that the Yan Family has displayed is enough to overwhelm everyone here today!"

The Martial Artist Families and Martial Artists, who were seated at the side, looked at the six people in shock as they walked towards the seats at the forefront.

When the six of them reached their seats, they turned around and looked down on the surrounding crowd.

Yan Gukong was holding on to a dragon-head walking stick and shouted, "Twenty years ago, our Yan Family announced our retirement and stayed away from the matters of the underworld. On this very day, twenty years later, our Yan Family is announcing our return!"

"The reason why we have invited everyone is to announce this. Twenty years! We have been missing from the underworld of Rivertown for twenty years. Today, our Yan Family is back!"

Yan Gukong lifted his head slightly and looked across the two flags erected at two ends.

Return of the hidden dragon! Roaming the nine skies!

As he spoke, a faint smile appeared on his face. "I'm grateful to everyone who could attend the Yan Family's banquet. Please enjoy the food and alcohol today. However, our Yan Family has a few things to announce before we start!"

It's coming!

The entire banquet hall was silent. When they heard Yan Gukong, their hearts skipped a beat.

What was coming next would affect everyone's interests.

Yan Gukong looked across the crowd and showed a faint smile.

"First, the Yan Family hasn't participated in the quarrels of Rivertown in the last 20 years. Since we are announcing our return, it's only natural for us to collect some interest. Experts rule the underworld. Our Yan Family won't rob you guys of your interest. However, we will be collecting 20% of your resources.

"What? 20%!"

Before Yan Gukong had finished his words, a middle-aged man couldn't help but exclaim.

"Wait for me to finish!" Yan Gukong stared at the middle-aged man and said plainly.

The middle-aged man immediately held his breath and did not dare to say another word.

The surrounding crowd turned solemn as they waited for Yan Gukong.

"Second, now that the underworld is changing and the competition for resources has gotten fiercer, our Yan Family welcomes any families who wish to become our affiliates."

"Third, Ancient Martial Arts Families in Rivertown have been fighting over their own interests all along. I feel that we should get together and take a common stand against outsiders for survival!"

"Anyone has any objections?"

Ruthless! Ruthless Ruthless!

Each announcement was more ruthless than the previous.

First, collecting 20% of interests from every family.

Second, recruiting affiliates to the Yan Family.

Third, becoming the King of Rivertown. In other words, it was similar to the ruler of the underworld in ancient times.

When Yan Gukong completed his announcement, the surrounding Martial Artists and Ancient Martial Arts families instantly turned solemn.

The three announcements of Yan Gukong were simply ruthless.

"Our Cao Family supports the Yan Family. Old Yan and Yan Family's strength are something that we all could see with our eyes!"

At this moment, a middle-aged man stood up and replied loudly. As he spoke, he looked across the crowd.

"Yan Family's strength is miles ahead of us. If Old Yan really wants to do a major reshuffling in Rivertown, who can possibly stop him? Old Yan is compassionate. The three conditions aren't too tough. Our Cao Family is willing to support the Yan Family!"

"I, Chang Gaoyang, am willing to join the Yan Family. I've always held Old Yan in high regards. I'm willing to join Yan Family and be on the same boat as them!"

"Our Wu Family is willing to support the Yan Family and become an affiliated family!"

One after another, leaders of various Ancient Martial Arts Families and Martial Artists stood up and announced their desire to join and support the Yan Family.

There were more than two dozen people who stood up and pledged their loyalty to the Yan Family.

"Haha, great. Now that you guys have joined our Yan Family, our Yan Family will naturally be kind to you. All of you will be part of the Yan Family from today onwards!"

Yan Gukong looked on as he spoke to the two dozen people.

"It is obvious that these people are bought over by the Yan Family in advance!"

"20% of our interests and to follow the instructions of the Yan Family from here onwards? That's equivalent to treating us as his subordinates!"

"That's too much! The conditions of the Yan Family were truly too much!"

Some were agreeable but the majority wasn't willing to accept.

The Yan Family wants to collect 20% of our interests the moment they announce their return, and have even demanded our obedience? That's no different from treating us as their subordinates!

The few families, which were seated at the forefront, exchanged glances.

"Old Yan, aren't you too overbearing with your three conditions. Although the Yan Family is strong, aren't you a little too over yourself by demanding to collect our interests and treating us like your subordinates? Our Hu Family is just a small family. All we are looking for is to survive steadily. We will not be participating in this!"

Seated in the first row, Hu Fei, who sat beside the leader of the Hu Family, stood up and spoke to Yan Gukong.

"The families in Rivertown have always sought their own development. Moreover, the relationships between Ancient Martial Arts Families in Rivertown are cordial. I don't think your concerns are warranted!"

The 20th generation leader of the Ren Family, who was a Level 9 Martial Artist, also stood up and made his decision known.

Old Xue, Old Duan and the leaders of a few other families also stood up.

With regard to these three conditions, they couldn't agree!

"Hahaha, great! Great! It's alright! It's only natural that you guys won't agree!"

Yan Gukong laughed out loud. However, his expression turned vicious as he looked at the remaining Martial Artists.

"However, don't forget that we are part of the underworld. In the underworld, experts rule. If you guys don't agree, the Yan Family can only suppress you guys and make you guys agree with violence!"

Chapter 135: Craziness Before Destruction (3)

Domineering!

Confident!

Arrogant!

With his dragon-head walking stick in his hand, Yan Gukong swept his overbearing gazes across everyone.

The crowd next to Yan Gukong overlooked the rest of the people, exuding powerful aura.

"Old Yan, aren't you a bully? We're just a small family. You don't have to be so pushy. I have been in the underworld for more than ten years, and I still have some connections. The Hu Family just wants to stay out of this!" Hu Fei said to Yan Gukong and his clique sullenly.

His purpose here this time was not to fight for any status. He just wanted to ensure the safety of the Hu Family.

He had seen situations like what happened tonight in the Yan Family throughout his dozen years of underworld experience.

When a powerful family rises, the rest of the families either submit to it or be destroyed. This was the norm in the underworld.

Hence, he was here to protect the Hu Family!

"Oh? Is that so?"

Yan Gukong remained silent. But the young man next to him looked at Hu Fei with a teasing look.

"The Whirling Blade Hu Fei. I have heard of your name. It's just that I'm not sure if you have what it takes to be a legend!"

As the young man spoke, he slowly walked down from the table.

Hu Fei frowned as he glared disgruntledly at that young man. "I'm talking to Old Yan. You're not fit to talk to me yet."

"Is that so?"

The young man swung his arms, and a belt sword appeared creepily in his hand. He lifted his chin slightly and said, "Sacred Seas of Swords, Yan Feng. I want a taste of your blade!"

"What? Sacred Seas of Swords!"

Hu Fei was stunned by Yan Feng and he looked shocked. His eyes narrowed. "You're from the Sacred Seas of Swords?"

"Heh, you can test me. Aren't you a Level-nine Martial Artist?"

Yan Feng put on a smiling face and looked as though he was someone charming. "Oh, you said you have many friends. Just nice. I have friends too!"

"Haha, good to have friends around the world!"

At the same time, a gentle and feminine voice was heard. Subsequently, a fair-looking young man stood from the back of the row.

The young man made a leap and presented himself in front of the Yan Family at an unbelievable speed.

He sat down on an empty seat there with a smile. "It's a better seat here. What a broad vision!"

"He's formidable."

"He's fast! This young man is at least a Level-nine Martial Artist."

"Gosh, this young man is actually from Sacred Seas of Swords. Sacred Seas of Swords!"

"Gone. I did not expect that young man to be someone from the Sacred Seas of Swords. The Yan Family is unstoppable!"

The Martial Artists were differentiated by levels, as were the families and clans.

In the underworld, the families and clans were split into Third-class Force and Saint-class Force.

According to this classification, the Yan Family was considered to be the second class, while the First-class Force would already have Inborn Experts.

As for the Saint-class Forces, it meant the families or clans possessed daunting influence and strength with over ten Inborn Experts.

Sacred Followers Guild, Medical Saint Sect, and Sacred Seas of Swords were colossuses.

Even Yan Feng was a member of the Saint-class force, and no average families or sects could afford to get into his bad books.

Hu Fei glared at Yan Feng with a dreadful expression. He did not expect that the young man before him was a disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords.

The Sacred Seas of Swords headquarters was located on an island in the sea. That island was one of the sacred lands of swordsmanship.

The young man who was recruited by the Sacred Seas of Swords must be a rare talent.

"The sword vs. the saber. Show me your skill. If you can defeat me, I'll let the Hu Family leave this place. Otherwise...!"

Yan Feng lifted his chin and wielded his Belt Sword like an agile snake. The sharp edge of the sword gave off a cold radiance.

"Haha, my grandson has made himself clear. Show us what you've got so that we know if you're qualified to defy the Yan Family!"

Yan Gukong looked at his grandson and laughed out loud.

It was a great blessing to the Yan Family that this grandson of his was a disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords.

With his grandson around, they could suppress the entire Rivertown even without him making his moves.

"Fine!" Hu Fei curled his fingers tightly and took out a sharp machete from his back. His impassive eyes were focusing on Yan Feng.

"I'm going to attack!"

Yan Feng drew his lips into a faint smile. His body made a quick move and attacked Hu Fei like a ghostly soul.

"His move is creepy. Indeed, the disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords!"

Hu Fei narrowed his pupils and held his machete tight as he brought it down in front of him.

The blade brought a whirling gust of wind.

Piak

But when his machete came into contact with the sword, the belt sword wrapped it like an agile snake. It went for Hu Fei's hand and stabbed it.

"What a creepy sword!"

Hu Fei was appalled. He quickly drew his machete back, but even so, his palm got a wound that cut into his bone.

The victory was determined within a stroke.

"What a daunting young man. He possesses a Level-nine strength at such a young age. In the future, he can definitely be an Inborn Expert!"

"Too dominating! He's only in his twenties, he is capable of defeating Hu Fei! This..."

"Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. How can we resist the Yan Family?"

Everyone was dumbfounded by the scene.

"Ah!"

At the same time, Hu Fei, who had exchanged more than ten strokes, was horrified. All of a sudden, Yan Feng had another transparent soft sword in his hand. The sword went through Hu Fei's shoulder, and his face paled after this.

"You can exchange more than twenty strokes with me. Not bad!"

Yan Feng gave Hu Fei praise.

Hu Fei's face was ashen. He stared at Yan Feng in disbelief with his body trembling.

He was already a famous Level-nine expert!

"Hu Fei!" the leader of the Hu Family, was panicked as he ran over, "We admit our loss. We lost!"

What the leader of the Hu Family said made everyone shudder.

It's over.

It's completely over.

The Yan Family is unstoppable!

"Bi Family is willing to follow the lead of the Yan Family."

"Gu Family is willing to join hands and fight along with the Yan Family!"

"I, Gu Xinghe, am willing to join the Yan Family..."

All of a sudden, some of the families and Martial Artists made their pledge to Yan Family.

The Yan Family was too strong. They were so strong that they could easily suppress everyone.

"Since the sparring has begun, let's do a few more rounds to make those who refused to submit to us surrender!"

Suddenly, Yan Zhongyuan, who was standing in front, made his speech.

He walked out slowly and swept his cold gazes across a few people.

"He's trying to...get rid of all his enemies!"

"Beat the dog before the lion. The Yan Family is eliminating those who have offended them!"

Everyone's face was pale when they saw Yan Zhongyuan approaching them. They were praying that he would not look for them.

Old Xue and Old Duan saw Yan Zhongyuan looking over, and their faces were washed-out.

Both of them had grudges!

Chapter 136: Descent Of The King

(1)

The Yan Family sat there like how a King would.

Every action or word from them was watched closely by the surrounding people.

No one could stop them.

And they wouldn't be stopped!

Just like the return of the King! The return of the true ruler!

"Don't push it!"

Seeing Yan Zhongyuan approaching him, his body was shivering slightly and fear started creeping on him.

Behind him, the other Duan Family members' faces were as white as sheets as they stood there helplessly.

"What do you mean by pushing it? This is just like any other ordinary sparring. My nephew is a Martial Artist Level 9 expert and so is Hu Fei. We are both at Martial Artist Level 8!"

Yan Zhongyuan looked at Old Duan tauntingly before turning to Old Xue. "Oh right, where's that brat, Wang Xian? Why isn't he here?"

Old Xue's heart sank and had a ghastly expression. He knew that his close relationship with Wang Xian on that day had completely angered the Yan Family.

"I gave him an invitation letter but it seems like he's not here today."

Yan Feng looked around with derision. "His medical skills are so great and he has the capital to be proud. I still thought he would appear. It seems like he has disappointed me."

He shook his head gradually and looked a little disappointed. "However, I told him that if he wasn't here, he'd better watch out for his family and friends."

Yan Feng stared at Old Xue and smirked. "Those who offend our Yan Family will definitely deeply regret their actions!"

"Come, let's spar!" Yan Zhongyuan looked to Old Xuan and said plainly.

Yan Feng waved his hand to signal for a Martial Artist Level 7 expert from Yan Family to step out. He then looked towards Old Xue in contempt.

"Alright. Who's afraid of you!"

"Come!"

Old Duan's face turned solemn. He clenched his fist tightly and walked to the middle of the field.

Old Xue was equally solemn as he faced that expert from the Yan Family.

The crowd held their breath and looked at Old Duan and Old Xue with pity.

They were currently the third and fourth strongest families in Rivertown! And were extremely strong existences in the entire Rivertown! However, in the face of the Yan Family, they couldn't do anything but be manipulated by them.

They could already foresee the Duan Family and Xue Family being erased from Rivertown in the near future.

"Haha. Come, come!" Yan Zhongyuan laughed heartily before launching his attack.

This was originally a training field and there was ample space.

"Cripple him! Tell Wang Xian that this is just the beginning. If he dares to be a coward, I'll let him experience a life worse than death!" Yan Feng said to the Martial Artist from the Yan Family.

"Yes, young master!" That middle-aged man nodded his head and stared harshly at Old Xue.

"Wang Xian? Tsk!"

Contempt filled the eyes of Yan Feng.

As one that was favored by the gods, he was spotted by an expert from the Sacred Seas of Swords and had trained under him since he was young. When he was 18 years old, he was brought to the Sacred Seas Island by his master.

He had always been under the dazzling limelight when growing up.

Soon, the Yan Family would become the King of the entire Rivertown. At that time, he would be the crown prince of Rivertown.

No one would dare to go against his words.

So what if that brat has some medical skills? Crushing him would be as simple as crushing an ant.

Yan Feng smirked and stared at Old Xue. He looked to the surrounding crowd and spread his domineering aura towards them.

On the training field, Yan Zhongyuan was engaged in an intense fight with Old Duan.

Old Xue and the middle-aged man were also fighting with all they had.

Nonetheless, it was clear that Old Duan and Old Xue were on the losing end.

Since the Yan Family had chosen them for the battles, they would definitely be confident about the outcome.

"It's over. Old Xue and Old Duan are probably going to be defeated soon. Yan Zhongyuan and the other Martial Artist are ruthless with each strike!"

"The third and fourth strongest families are going to be crushed so easily? That's horrifying!"

The crowd looked attentively at the battle of these four people and discussed softly.

Xue Jing, his father and the members of the Duan Family were all watching anxiously. Their faces were as white as sheets and their eyes were filled with despair.

Arghh!

Argh!

A piercing scream sounded and the crowd felt as if their hearts skipped a beat.

Yan Zhongyuan palm struck ruthlessly on the chest of Old Duan, causing it to sink in directly. It was an extremely brutal scene.

As for Old Xue, his four limbs were crippled and he lay on the floor motionless. Even his Elixer Field had been crushed.

A complete tragedy!

As the two old men fell, it also represented the complete destruction of the Xue Family and Duan Family.

Xue Jing and his father's eyes were bloodshot and they stared at the members of the Yan Family with deep hatred.

The members of the Duan Family were shivering in anger and clenching their fists tightly.

However, they didn't dare to retaliate.

"Undermatch! Who still dares to go against our Yan Family?"

At this moment, seeing that Old Duan and Old Xue were lying on the floor, Yan Gukong stood up slowly and shouted. He lifted the dragon head walking stick in his hand slowly.

"Who else!"

It was another angry roar. This roar was full of might, dominance and the aura of an expert.

When his dragon-head walking stick landed on the ground, a low and dull sound propagated together with an invisible airwave towards the crowd.

Instantly, everyone felt a faint sense of pressure!

"Half-step! Inborn!"

The leader of the Ren Family, who was seated in the front, instantly opened his eyes widely. His face was filled with horror.

This aura was definitely from someone who was at the half-step to Inborn realm.

He had not expected Yan Gukong of the Yan Family to make this step and achieve the realm of half-step to Inborn.

"Half-step to Inborn! Oh my gosh! He's at the half-step to Inborn Realm!"

"Old Yan is a half-step to Inborn expert! I'll surrender. I'll surrender!"

The surrounding Martial Artist were all shocked.

"We are willing to defer to the Yan Family!"

"We are willing to follow the commands of the Yan Family from here onwards!"

The remaining Martial Artists, who had not made a stand previously, immediately bowed down.

A disciple of Sacred Seas of Swords and a half-step to Inborn expert. What a horrifying family! They might very well become a First-class family in the future!

The Martial Artists bowed down to show their will to submit!

On the training field, Old Xue looked at the horrifying Yan Family in despair.

Even if Wang Xian was here right now, there would be no other way out. It's over!

"Haha, follow our Yan Family and you will bask in glory in the near future!"

Yan Gukong looked at the crowd and laughed heartily. He then added four words, "The King has returned!"

"Let's give up!" The leader of the Ren Family felt helpless. He knew that the Yan Family couldn't be stopped and they couldn't oppose the Yan Family. What was left for them would be only to surrender.

Although he was unwilling, there was no other option for him!

Just as he was about to lower his body, a voice sounded suddenly.

"The invitation letter stated that the banquet would start at 8 pm. It's 8 pm right now. It seems like someone has been impatient!"

It was unexpected and the surrounding crowd was shocked.

They turned around and looked at the entrance.

A juvenile was walking towards them with a faint smile.

There was a group of people following behind this juvenile and they had a unique disposition around them.

All of them had completely sealed their auras. One could not sense a shred of internal energy from them. It was as though they were ordinary people.

Everyone was shocked to see this group of people.

Within the Ren Family crowd, Ren Zhian saw a familiar figure. Looking at the old man beside the figure, his eyes constricted.

"He... He's here!"

Chapter 137: Descent of the King (2)

Within the group of 53 people, a young man was walking in the center with an elderly man following beside him.

The young man put on a smile and swept his gaze across everyone in front of him casually.

But when he saw the old man who was lying on the ground, his smile slowly disappeared.

The banquet in the training field was plunged into silence as they watched the incoming group of people.

"Who are you? How dare you make a scene in the Yan Family's Mountain Villa!" a Martial Artist from Rivertown shouted at the top of his lungs.

He wanted to please the Yan Family!

"A bunch of small fries. How dare you even mess with the Yan Family!"

The leader of the Bi Family also did the same thing.

The ones who just arrived were Wang Xian and his Dragon Sect.

He swept his cold gaze across everyone and strolled to Old Xue.

"I didn't think you'd dare to come. I thought you were a coward."

When Yan Feng saw Wang Xian bring his men over, he gave a faint smile after looking at them.

Yan Feng did not take those people to heart. In fact, he felt that this was getting interesting.

"It's only eight o'clock now. I thought I was punctual, but I didn't expect the dinner to have been brought forward. You're not sticking to the time!"

Wang Xian threw an impassive look at Yan Feng, the so-called Mr. Feng in school, before he came to Old Xue and squatted beside him!

"Wang Xian, you're here. Be careful. The Yan Family... they are... just too strong!" said Old Xue with an ashen-looking face, in despair as he looked at Wang Xian.

"Don't worry, Old Xue. Leave this to me!"

Wang Xian placed his palm on Old Xue and used his Dragon Energy to treat him.

The four limbs of Old Xue had been crippled, and his Elixir Field was destroyed. His life as a Martial Artist was completely ruined.

But to Wang Xian, this was nothing.

An immense Dragon Energy repaired all his injuries.

Old Xue recovered speedily, and his expression was slightly different when he stared blankly at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian smiled at him and lifted him up from the floor slowly.

Old Xue was injured because of him. However, he was not too late.

He could still treat the injuries, and for those who hurt his friends... he could...

"Well, well...what powerful medical skills you have. No wonder the Sacred Followers Guild was defeated by you!"

Yan Feng's eyes brightened up when he saw Old Xue stand up suddenly. "I'll give you a chance to atone for your mistake. Submit to the Yan Family, and I can forgive your rude and imprudent behavior. I can also let your friends off! "

As he spoke, he was looking down his nose at Wang Xian, giving off immense confidence from within.

Yan Feng stared at him as though he was looking at his prey. As the one favored by the gods, he had never regarded Wang Xian as his match.

Wang Xian wore a smiling face and looked over. Yan Feng was overconfident such that he was arrogant.

Wang Xian ignored Yan Feng.

"Old Xue, who hurt you?"

"I sparred with a Martial Artist from the Yan Family, and I was crippled by him."

Old Xue had a bitter look on his face. After all, it was his fault for being poor enough with his skills to get eliminated by a Martial Artist of the same level.

"Sparring?"

Wang Xian looked at the Yan Family. "Since all of you like sparring, then spar with my people. Show me what the Yan Family has got as the return of the King!"

"Haha, lad. I guess you want it the hard way. I've given you a chance. If you make me angry, you won't be able to bear the consequences!"

Yan Feng looked at Wang Xian, who disregarded him with a ferocious look.

"Lad, with just these people of yours, we could destroy them without the Yan Family."

"Old Yan, we'll cripple these arrogant fellows on your order!"

One by one, the Martial Artists and the families sought permission from Old Yan as they raised their cold voices at Wang Xian.

Yan Gukong made a gesture, and all the Martial Artists went silent immediately. None of them dared to utter a word.

"You are the fellow who offended our distinguished guest from the Sacred Followers Guild, disregarding the Yan Family, aren't you?!"

Yan Gukong glared at Wang Xian, questioning him.

"Your people injured my friend, right?!" Wang Xian did not answer him. He also stared at Yan Gukong and questioned him back.

"This is what happens when you go against the Yan Family!" Yan Gukong said without any emotions.

"Very well. Since you like it this way, I'll do it your way." Wang Xian nodded impassively. He swept his gazes around and bellowed in a cold voice, "Who was the one who injured my friend. Step out now!"

"It's me, brat. I'll cripple him every time after you heal him. This is the consequence of offending the Yan Family!"

The middle-aged man who fought with Old Xue spoke impassively to Wang Xian as he looked at Old Xue scornfully.

"Well then, let's spar!"

Wang Xian beckoned, and a Dragonian walked out in wide steps.

"Level-seven Martial Artist, Mo Shisan!" The Dragonian stared at that middle-aged man.

"Haha, challenging the Yan Family? That's interesting!"

Upon seeing Wang Xian sending his people to fight with the Yan Family, Yan Gukong laughed out. "If so, it's only polite to accept the challenge. Let's play with them!"

The middle-aged man let out a cold laugh. He bowed to Yan Gukong before he stared at Mo Shisan with his chin up. "I'll destroy you!"

"Given Yan Beiyun and Old Xue's combat skills, Yan Beiyun is at his peak as a Level-seven Martial Artist. He could be even a Level-eight Martial Artist. The art that he practiced was already formidable. Among the Martial Artists at Level Seven, and he's almost invincible. Yet this juvenile actually challenged him. He's obviously courting his own death."

"Who's that young guy who dares to provoke the Yan Family? He even shows himself at this dinner today. He's asking for it!"

"This fellow wasn't here just now, so he didn't witness how formidable the Yan Family is. Now, he seems like a clown, copying the Yan Family by asking for a spar. Hehe, what a joke!"

Everyone stared at Wang Xian with disdainful looks. The less wit, the more courage. If he dared to provoke the mighty one, his outcome would be dreadful.

Wang Xian listened to the surrounding discussion. Seeing the arrogant expression on the middle-aged man's face, Wang Xian revealed a playful look.

Boom!

Just when everyone was waiting for Mo Shisan to be abused by Yan Beiyun, Mo Shisan moved.

A faint black aura was exuded from his body as he charged rapidly at the middle-aged man like some savage beast.

"Some capability he has!"

The middle-aged man squinted his eyes. He curled his fingers into a fist tightly and darted out!

"Trash!"

Boom!

A faint voice sounded from the training ground, followed by a low groan.

The middle-aged man from the Yan Family flew out at a terrifying speed. His sunken chest could be seen in the air.

Bam!

The middle-aged man from the Yan Family landed on the table heavily and lay there without moving.

"How is this possible?!"

Everyone was taken aback. That middle-aged man was at the peak of Level Seven. But he was instantly killed by someone of the same level!

This was unbelievable!

"Brat, how dare you lie to us! Damm you!"

Seeing his clan mate being killed in a split second, Yan Zhongyuan was furious.

He would never believe that Mo Shisan was only a Level-seven Martial Artist.
At his level, he could never achieve an instant kill.

Chapter 138: Descent of the King (3)

"Die!"

Twisting his body, Yan Zhongyuan lifted a sword and slashed towards Mo Shisan rapidly.

"How dare you send a Level 8 Martial Artist expert to battle a Level 7 Martial Artist expert from the Yan Family! That's despicable!"

"Tsk. Just a brat courting death. This time, the Yan Family will definitely not let them off!"

The crowd looked on coldly as Yan Zhongyuan launched his attacks.

Although it was shocking that Mo Shisan had defeated the middle-aged man from the Yan Family in an instant, the crowd saw Wang Xian's action of hiding Mo Shisan's true strength as the reason for his imminent downfall.

Despite seeing Yan Zhongyuan making his moves, Wang Xian did not say a word. Instead, he simply smiled and looked on.

"Those who dare to offend our King shall all die today!"

Mo Shisan looked at Yan Zhongyuan. Around him, devilish flames were rising. His fingers turned into a claw as he swung his arm.

One could vaguely see faint scales on the hands of Mo Shisan.

Dragon scales!

"Courting death!"

Yan Zhongyuan manipulated the long sword in his hand. To his astonishment, he saw Mo Shisan intending to take the attack directly with his bare hand. Murderous intent filled his face as he slashed down ruthlessly.

Bam!

However, what happened sent chills down Yan Zhongyuan's spine. Mo Shisan had grabbed onto the long sword directly with his hand. Moreover, cracks were starting to appear on his long sword.

Rawrrr!

Mo Shisan let out a low growl as he attacked heavily with his right hand.

Yan Zhongyuan was shocked by the development and immediately raised his arm to defend against the attack!

Crack crack!

To his astonishment, he heard the bones of his arms cracking.

Bam bam bam!

Mo Shisan clenched his claws and dealt 5 consecutive punches to Yan Zhongyuan's four limbs and Elixir Field.

In less than 10 moves, Yan Zhongyuan was down on the ground.

"Martial Artist Level 9!" the crowd exclaimed, looking on in disbelief.

He is definitely a Martial Artist Level 9 expert. Otherwise, he wouldn't have defeated Yan Zhongyuan so easily!

Yan Zhongyuan could be considered as very strong even among Martial Artist Level 8 experts.

Bam!

"Great! How dare you make a fool of the Yan Family! You have completely angered me!"

When Yan Gukong saw Yan Zhongyuan crippled by Mo Shisan, the dragon-head walking stick in his hand smashed heavily on the floor. At the same time, a strong and dense aura started emitting from his body.

He stared at Wang Xian with murderous intent.

"I have made my decision. You won't be stepping out of the Yan Family's gate tonight!"

Yan Feng lifted his belt sword and pointed at Wang Xian. His belt sword was like an agile snake and had a dazzling glow.

"Let me destroy him!"

Yan Gulie, who was beside Yan Gukong, walked over slowly with a heavy look. His eyes were fixed on Mo Shisan!

"I'm really just a Level 7 Martial Artist!"

Mo Shisan pouted and looked at him with murderous intent.

"Mo Yuan, Martial Artist Level 9!"

At this moment, Mo Qinglong's disciple, Mo Yuan, walked forward and passed Wang Xian. He maintained a cold smile while observing his surroundings.

Mo Shisan bowed to Mo Yuan before leaving.

Mo Yuan nodded in response before looking to Yan Gulie.

Yan Gulie's expression changed and the crowd was stunned.

Everyone's attention was on Mo Yuan.

"It... It can't be. Mo Yuan looks so much stronger than Mo Shisan! Mo Shisan claimed to be Martial Artist Level 7 but was able to easily crush Martial Artist Level 8. Now we have Mo Yuan, who looks much stronger and is claiming to be Martial Artist Level 9!"

"How strong is this group of people?"

The Martial Artists around looked at Mo Yuan in disbelief. At this moment, they had put away their disdain and chose to take this group of people more seriously.

Yan Gukong from the Yan Family also squinted his eyes. His palm wrapped around the dragon-head walking stick tightly and he suddenly had a bad premonition.

Yan Feng's expression had also turned heavy. He looked at Mo Yuan before looking across at the group of people behind Wang Xian.

"Playing tricks!"

Yan Gulie's expression changed dramatically. He gritted his teeth and jumped towards Mo Yuan.

"You? Not good enough!"

Mo Yuan looked nonchalantly at Yan Gulie and his face was filled with contempt.

"Die!"

Yan Gulie's palm turned red, emitting dazzling and scorching light as he struck towards Mo Yuan's head.

"Dragon Claw!"

Mo Yuan was unmoved. Just as Yan Gulie's attack was about to hit him, he swung his five fingers like a claw towards Yan Gulie.

Argh!

Horror and shrieks sounded. Mo Yuan grabbed onto Yan Gulie's arm easily. His eyes were filled with contempt as he said, "You are too weak. Next!"

Bam!

Yan Gulie was sent flying back and landed heavily in front of Yan Gukong. He was throwing out blood violently.

"Instant kill! How can this be possible..."

"He can't be a Level 9 Martial Artist. Definitely not! He is at least a half-step to Inborn realm expert!"

"Half-step to Inborn! Could it be that he is really at the half-step to Inborn realm?"

"Who is that juvenile? How is he... Able to bring along such powerful people!"

Shock! Everyone was stunned.

No one had expected that juvenile to bring along such horrifying people.

What would the Yan Family do now?

At this moment, the people in the crowd who had chided them to get on the good books of the Yan Family previously were turning pale.

They would have never expected this group of people to be so powerful.

The members of the Yan Family turned solemn. Even the arrogant looks on Yan Gukong were gone.

Yan Feng had also put aside his arrogance and looked at Wang Xian in disbelief.

"Hehe. Let's continue!" Wang Xian said as he looked across the crowd at Mo Yuan.

"Yes!"

Mo Yuan nodded his head and turned his attention to Yan Gukong in the middle.
"Only you are qualified to be my opponent!"

Yan Gukong's expression turned ghastly and his hand that was holding onto the walking stick started shivering.

"This is unexpected. Really unexpected. May I ask...where are you guys from?"

"Dragon Sect!" Mo Yuan said plainly.

"Dragon Sect? I don't think we have any deep grudges between us. If we continue with this fight, you wouldn't come out unscathed." Yan Gukong stared at Mo Yuan as he spoke.

"Since you have offended our Dragon King, it's only natural to annihilate you!"

Mo Yuan pouted. "As to whether we would come out unscathed, your Yan Family isn't qualified to say that. You are really full of nonsense!"

Mo Yuan spoke, and as he finished his words, the devilish aura around him raged fiercely as he attacked Yan Gukong.

"Fight!"

Yan Gukong was shocked. The opponent was too overbearing.

"Get back! Get back! Battles between half-step to Inborn experts could implicate a large area!"

Seeing the fight, the leader of the Ren Family quickly retreated.

All the Ancient Martial Arts Families also retreated in a hurry as they looked to the fight in horror.

They had initially thought that the Yan Family would announce the return of the King and dominate over all others. To their surprise, a juvenile brought a group of horrifying experts over that could even match Yan Family's half-step to Inborn realm expert.

"Father. That... That old man is likely to be even stronger than Mo Yuan!"

Ren Zhian and the Ren Family were dumbfounded by the fight. When Ren Zhian saw the old man behind Wang Xian, he subconsciously recalled the events of that fateful night. He couldn't hold back his thoughts as he spoke to his father.

The leader of the Ren Family was slightly shocked as he turned his gaze towards the old man in front of the group of 50 people.

The old man maintained a faint smile throughout and didn't seem to be concerned about the current battle.

"Zhian, are you sure?" The leader of the Ren Family was shaking slightly.

"I'm sure!" Ren Zhian nodded his head heavily.

Inborn Expert! Horror crept into the leader of the Ren Family.

Chapter 139: He's the King of Rivertown (1)

Twists and turns, one after another.

The eventful twists in the Ancient Martial Arts World of Rivertown stunned everyone.

First, Yan Family declared a strong return as a King and oppressed the entire Ancient Martial Arts world in Rivertown.

Next, a mysterious young man led his Dragon Sect to challenge the Yan Family.

Everyone opened their eyes to a new world when they saw two Half-step to Inborn Experts fighting at the stage of the training ground.

But they were all waiting since their fates were closely linked to the victorious party.

All the people from the Yan Family were looking gloomy as they observed the showdown. Their arrogance and egotism were long gone.

"Too fast. We can't see their moves clearly!"

"Is this the Half-step to Inborn Experts' combat? It's horrifying!"

All the Martial Artists retreated to the edge of the field as they watched the battle in horror.

All they could see were two figures exchanging hands at a fast speed, but they could not see their strokes clearly.

Yan Feng held his belt sword tightly as he stared at the field.

"Is this the best the Yan Family can do?"

Just then, Mo Yuan's voice cut through the battle: "How dare you be arrogant when you just became a Half-step to Inborn?"

"You're gone!"

As Mo Yuan's cold bellow passed through again, the two entangled figures separated themselves.

Puke!

Yan Gukong's figure kept going back with his hand clasping at the dragon-head walking stick.

Ka Ka Ka!

Puke!

Yan Gukong's cheeks were flushed with redness as the dragon-head walking stick slowly cracked by itself. He spat a mouthful of blood and stared at Mo Yuan with an ashen face.

"What?"

Everyone was dumbfounded by what they saw. He was defeated. Yan Gukong from the Yan Family was defeated!

"The Yan Family is defeated. Rivertown is going to change hands again. That middle-aged man is incredibly powerful!"

"Gone. No one thought that the day that the King returns would be the day they would be defeated."

The surrounding Martial Artists had mixed expressions.

"Old Yan."

"Brother!"

The people from the Yan Family held their breath as they ran towards Yan Gukong. All of them stared at Mo Yuan with an icy cold look.

Yan Gukong was panting as he glared at Mo Yuan with a gloomy look. He gritted his teeth. "I've lost!"

"I think you can still go on!"

Mo Yuan walked towards Yan Gukong slowly with a sarcastic smile on his face.

"We admitted our loss. What else do you want?" an old man from the Yan Family asked Mo Yuan with an awful look.

"Just now, my friend was defeated. Didn't you cripple him?"

Wang Xian looked at the people from the Yan Family with a mocking expression.

He cast a look at Yan Feng. With a nonchalant face, he asked, "Now you know the consequences for threatening me."

"You..." Yan Feng stared coldly at Wang Xian without all his calmness and arrogance. "I'm the disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords. My Master is an Inborn Expert. If you dare to lay a finger on the Yan Family, all of you will die!"

"Haha, Inborn Expert!"

Claps of thunderous laughter were heard. "Get your Inborn Expert from the Yan Family out then. Otherwise, I'll be too bored. Haha!"

Suddenly, the laughter took over the entire training ground.

Everyone was surprised as they quickly located the source of the sound.

An old man who had been standing in front of the fifty people walked out slowly.

His hair was swaying even without the moving air as he exuded immense black aura from his body.

The demonic aura lingered. Within a range of ten meters in the sky, a demonic dragon roar could be heard vaguely.

Gulps!

"Inborn... He's an Inborn!"

"An Inborn showed up. That old man is actually an Inborn..."

"Gosh, the Yan Family is finished! That old man is an Inborn Expert!"

"Indeed, just as Zhian said, he's an Inborn, and he's even more daunting than those whom I've met. That imposing deposition was invincible!"

All the people around shuddered as they sensed the imposing demeanor of Mo Qinglong, the Inborn Expert with mighty and powerful oppression.

The oppression made them tremble in their boots!

"Inborn Realm, would anyone from the Yan Family like to fight with me?!"

Mo Qinglong stood beside Wang Xian and swept his cold gaze across all the members of the Yan Family as he yelled.

"Inborn!"

Yan Gukong was shaking violently as despair flashed across his eyes.

Everyone from the Yan Family glanced at Mo Qinglong with fear and hopelessness.

Just now, they were acting like they were invincible to all the Martial Artists in Rivertown just like this Inborn Expert was doing now.

But at this moment, they were like those Martial Artists from before, feeling frightened against this group of people.

They had a deeper sense of despair and fear.

"I heard that the Yan Family was full of experts. The Dragon Sect would like to challenge them!" Mo Yuan exuded his imposing aura and strolled behind Wang Xian.

At the same time, the fifty Dragonians released their magnificent fighting spirit and disposition.

Demonic aura lingered around the fifty Dragonians. As the aura gathered, they looked like an army of demons.

"Gosh... They..."

Everybody stared at Mo Yuan and the fifty Dragonians. All of them had fear in their eyes.

"All of them possessed a similar demeanor to Mo Shisan."

"Where did this Dragon Sect come from? How could they be so terrifying? How can it be?!"

"Over fifty people who could crush Yan Zhongyuan. Hehe. The Yan Family is finished!"

"How could it be? How could it be!" Yan Gukong could not believe his eyes when he saw the demeanor displayed by the Dragonians.

Yan Feng had an extremely awful look on his face. More than fifty powerful existences with a Half-step to Inborn and an Inborn Expert.

Things had gone beyond his expectations.

"What do you want?" Yan Gukong asked in a low voice with a dreadful look.

Now, he did not even dare to raise his voice. He was no different from those families and Martial Artists just now.

"You were the one who invited me here. What do you think?"

Wang Xian looked at Yan Gukong, then turned to Yan Zhongyuan, who was on the floor, and Yan Feng. He asked playfully, "All of you said there will be another corpse in the Bohai Sea if I offended the Yan Family. You all even asked me to think of my friends. Haha!"

Wang Xian chuckled and stared at Yan Gukong. His expression turned cold. "You tell me what I should do!"

His words caused embarrassment to the Yan Family.

If anyone dared to speak to the Yan Family like this, there would be no doubt about the consequence--extermination!

When they thought about it, all of them trembled.

"I'm the disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords. They have dozens of Inborn Experts. But this time, the Yan Family lost," Yan Feng said slowly as his body shook and he stared at Wang Xian.

His words hinted a warning and a plead.

He mentioned Sacred Seas of Swords because he wanted to protect the Yan Family!

"Why are you admitting defeat now?!" Wang Xian stared at Yan Feng and said sarcastically. "Didn't you want me to submit to the Yan Family, and think about my friends?"

"Besides, do you think I'll let you off when you mention Sacred Seas of Swords?"

Chapter 140: He's the King of Rivertown (2)

Wang Xian's mocking voice resounded throughout the entire training field as everyone's attention fell on him.

It was this juvenile who had offended the Yan Family. Yan Family had invited him over and was preparing to teach him a lesson.

However, to the Yan Family's surprise, he had called along a group of terrifying people with him.

The disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords was still arrogantly demanding his surrender to the Yan Family just a while ago. As of this moment, all he could do was make empty threats and beg for forgiveness.

What a huge twist of events!

At this juncture, Wang Xian wouldn't even be bothered by him.

"So what if you are from the Sacred Seas of Swords?" Wang Xian smirked and looked at Yan Feng.

"You..." Yan Feng instantly got embarrassed.

"Watch your words!"

Mo Qinglong swung his arm and dense devilish aura penetrated into Yan Feng's body directly.

He didn't even have the opportunity to react when his body stiffened.

"YOU... You destroyed my Elixir Field!"

Yan Feng's body shivered violently. His eyes were bloodshot as he stared at Mo Qinglong.

"Oh, do you think this is over? Threatening us with the Sacred Seas of Swords?"

Mo Qinglong looked emotionlessly at Yan Feng and his eyes were filled with contempt.

Yan Feng's body tensed up. He had not expected this group of people to be unafraid of the Sacred Seas of Swords, or to cripple him directly.

Helplessness and despair started welling up in his heart. This was the very first time he felt such emotions since he was born.

"Incredible. This group of people is too strong. They aren't even flinching when dealing with a disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords."

"That old man is an inborn expert. Using Sacred Seas of Swords as a threat wouldn't be effective. Do you really expect the Sacred Seas of Swords to risk their men to fight with an Inborn expert for Yan Feng?"

"Inborn experts could easily rule over an area. Yan Feng's threat was simply a taunt to the old man. He has truly caused his own demise!"

"The Yan Family is finished!"

The surrounding Martial Artists and Families looked at this in shock as the Dragonians walked towards the Yan Family members whose faces had turned as white as sheets.

Every member of the Yan Family looked on in despair.

Wang Xian looked across Yan Feng and his family with contempt. He walked directly to Old Duan to heal his injuries before helping him up.

"Thank you! Thank you, my benefactor, Wang Xian!"

Old Duan, who was previously filled with despair, was trembling in agitation and even wanted to go down on his knees to thank Wang Xian.

Wang Xian patted him on his shoulders and replied, "It's alright!"

"I leave this to you guys. I'll be waiting for you at the pavilion by the side!"

Wang Xian said to Mo Qinglong.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong nodded his head respectfully.

"That Old Man was addressing that juvenile as Dragon King?"

"An inborn expert has to be so respectful to that juvenile? This..."

"What is his real identity to have an inborn expert obeying his commands? Can it be that he is from an even stronger Ancient Martial Arts Family?"

Upon seeing how Mo Qinglong reacted to Wang Xian, everyone around was dumbfounded.

Seeing the juvenile walking freely to the pavilion and even pouring himself a cup of tea under such circumstances, they couldn't help but have even more respect for him.

This was probably what they called the demeanor of a King.

That insufferably arrogant Yan Feng from the Yan Feng was miles apart from this juvenile, who was unfazed by the circumstances!

All he did was say a few words and smile as he watched, and he could decide the survival of your family.

This difference in demeanor was distinct.

Wang Xian sat within the pavilion leisurely. He had vented his frustration that had built up because of the Yan Family, and what was remaining could be easily dealt with by Mo Qinglong.

Mo Qinglong was from the Ancient Fiend Clan and would naturally know how to deal with such matters. This time, the Yan Family would truly be erased from Rivertown!

"Great tea!"

Despite the incessant screams and wails, Wang Xian ignored all of them and simply focused on enjoying his tea.

The tea was fragrant and made one want more of it.

Wang Xian loved to drink tea and disliked drinking alcohol. This was because of the influence of his neighbour, Uncle Zhang.

The Yan Family's Mountain Villa had beautiful scenery. In front of the pavilion was a small stream. Enjoying the scenery while drinking tea was a great way for one to liven up.

"However, I still like to be near the seas during the spring. Moreover, I could even dive into the sea to look around when I have nothing to do. Hehe!" Wang Xian mumbled to himself.

"Dragon King!"

After half an hour, Mo Qinglong brought a group of people over as he reported to Wang Xian respectfully.

The Dragonians didn't follow over. The group of people behind Mo Qinglong were all Martial Artists and Families of Rivertown!

"Dragon King!"

All the Martial Artists and Families of Rivertown hesitated for a moment before greeting Wang Xian in the same respectful manner.

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head and smiled faintly to Mo Qinglong. "Are you done?"

"Everything has been settled. Moreover, this incident won't leak out!"

Mo Qinglong smiled. This wasn't the doings of the Dragon Sect but the doings of all the Martial Artists and Families in Rivertown.

Everyone who was present wouldn't spread this incident...they wouldn't dare to.

All they had to do was to treat the Yan Family as if they had never returned.

The only possible issue would be Yan Feng's identity as the disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords. However, the Dragon Sect wasn't fearful of them.

"Hmm!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Thank you, Dragon King, for breaking us free from the control of the Yan Family. If the Dragon King is to encounter any issues, you could instruct our Ren Family and we wouldn't reject your request!"

"Thank you, Dragon King! Just a word from the Dragon King and we, the Martial Artists of Rivertown, would risk our lives to complete your task in the future!"

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

The family head of the Ren Family immediately thanked Wang Xian. Currently, the circumstances of Rivertown had changed. This juvenile in front of him would be the ruler of the underworld of Rivertown.

The remaining Martial Artists and Families also expressed their gratitude immediately and made their loyalty pledges. Looking from another perspective, they had surrendered their services to the Dragon Sect.

Dragon Sect was different from the Yan Family. Dragon Sect had an Inborn expert. Even if they were restricted by the Dragon Sect, they were willing to be so.

When one's strength reached a level where others could only look up to them, they would not choose to resist, but rather to follow.

Wang Xian listened to the loyalty pledges of various Martial Artists and Families before waving his hand. "Everything will be as before. Don't cause trouble in Rivertown and stay within your area. Oh, right! I've opened a medical hall along Old Street. If you suffered grave injuries or have lingering injuries, you can come to me for treatment. I have to inform you guys that the fees are very high."

Wang Xian spoke nonchalantly. However, the Martial Artists and Families in front of them were all shocked.

What does he mean? Everything as before? Don't cause troubles? He operates a medical hall?

What this would mean is that he will not be consolidating the underworld of Rivertown. He will not be declaring himself as the ruler and will not rob us of our interests.

And he operates a medical hall?

This... This...!

Everyone was taken aback.

Every single one of them had already prepared their pledges of allegiance, prepared to lose a large portion of their interests and prepared to make Wang Xian their leader. However, Wang Xian wanted them to carry on as before!

"Thank you, Dragon King, for your compassion!"

"Thank you, Dragon King, for your compassion!"

All the Martial Artists and Families were agitated and looked at Wang Xian with deep respect. They bowed down immediately as they expressed their gratitude.

Wang Xian smiled and waved his hand. He looked to Old Xue and said, "Old Xue, look for me at my medical hall at noon tomorrow. I'll take a look at your injuries."

"Yes!" Seeing Wang Xian talking to him caringly, Old Xue got agitated. He sighed emotionally, "Thank you, Brother Wang Xian!"

"Don't stand on ceremony. Everyone, I have to go. It's already past 9 pm and I have something in school!"

Wang Xian smiled, turned around and left.

"This compassion and demeanor! In Rivertown, he's the King!"

"If he's the king, I'm convinced!"

Chapter 141: Mad Doctor (1)

"Wang Xian is different from other people!" Old Xue exclaimed as he looked at Wang Xian. He listened to what everyone was saying around him and felt lucky that he managed to befriend someone who valued friendship.

Old Xue knew that he was crippled by the Yan Family because of Wang Xian. Wang Xian would surely keep this in mind. From now on, the Xue Family would have a more comfortable life in Rivertown.

No one dared to mess around with them.

"Indeed. If it were the Yan Family or other families, they would get us to cough out enough interest even if they didn't rule over us."

The family head of the Ren Family looked at Old Xue and joked, "If Old Xue needs any help, you can look for me, Ren Tianhong. Since the Xue Family has such a connection with strong backing, we must have more bonding."

"Haha, the Xue Family is lucky only."

When Old Xue heard him, he chuckled and made some polite remarks. He knew that the Ren Family Head might sound like he was joking, but it was from the bottom of his heart too.

"Old Xue, you're fortunate!"

"Yes, Old Xue. Let's find a time for a martial arts sharing session."

All the Martial Artists and the families spoke to Old Xue fervently.

Given the Xue Family and that Dragon King's status now, it was worth associating with them.

Even though that young Dragon King did not rule the Martial Art circle in Rivertown, the Dragon Sect had shown their capabilities and that none of them could be matched.

Besides, they admired the Dragon King from their hearts.

At least Rivertown would stay peaceful with him around. A situation like what happened in the Yan Family would not happen again.

It's all because of the Dragon King!

They had the most heartfelt respect for him.

"The Dragon King said he opened a medical hall at the old street. Shall we pay him a visit?"

"Yes, we should. We can go over with some gifts. But there can't be too many of us. The Dragon King might find us irritating."

"Why don't we gather the gifts and get Old Xue or Old Duan or Ren Family Head to send them over?"

"This is feasible. We can prepare a huge gift as a token of appreciation under the name of all Martial Artists and families for the Dragon King. Today, the Dragon King did us a huge favor!"

"That's right!"

All the Martial Artists of Rivertown agreed.

Sometimes, that was the case. If they were being oppressed, they would put up resistance and even retaliate.

But when help was rendered to them, they would be genuinely grateful and respectful.

Wang Xian may not have gotten them to submit to him, but they would obey any orders from Wang Xian immediately!

This was the impact of a powerful and generous man.

Wang Xian, walking on the road, did not know his unintentional act had impacted the Martial Artists and the families in Rivertown.

Wang Xian had never thought of asking them to submit to him. Not that he never thought of it, but rather, he was not interested in them.

The highest level they had was Level-nine Martial Artists. With only one or two such people, what could they do?

Too weak. They were so weak that Wang Xian had no intention to keep them for his use.

At the same time, it was not necessary to get them to surrender some of their interests like how the Yan Family had. Wang Xian disdained such intimidating practices.

As a Divine Dragon that would roam the nine skies in the future, he must have class.

He could earn money by himself, or even fish from the sea. But obtaining them through such methods? He would not stoop to it.

Wang Xian was only concerned about his future businesses of the medical hall. After tonight, he believed any Martial Artist who was injured would look for him in the future.

This could help to drive more business and make more money.

Wang Xian loved the feeling of making money by himself.

When he was back in school, it was already 9.30 pm. Wang Xian quickly headed to the Eastern Hill.

It still was not too late. He ran over with a smiling face as soon as he spotted a spark of fire lit on the Eastern Hill.

"Xiao Xian, you reached it. Have you settled all your things?"

Guan Shuqing asked smilingly, as though she was waiting for her husband to return.

"Yes, I'm here. Is the food ready?"

After he settled the Yan Family, Wang Xian was in a chirpy mood. He squatted down and rubbed his palms while looking at the food in the cooking pot.

"It's almost done. Hehe. It still feels more comfortable to be able to cook our own food here. The atmosphere is better here compared to eating in the First-grade Restaurant."

Guan Shuqing removed the lid as she smiled, blowing the steam away.

"Really? Then we shall have all our meals here!" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Sure!" Guan Shuqing happily nodded her head and sat closer to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian gently placed his arm over her as he smiled.

Guan Shuqing was stunned for a moment with her cheeks flushed with redness. But darkness helped to conceal her blushing face.

"It's done. Here, Xiao Xian. Let's dig in!" Guan Shuqing took the lid away happily.

"Great, I will help you with the shells!" Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

Eastern Hill, outdoor picnic... It was cozy and relaxed.

No one would have thought that the dominating King from just now would be having an outdoor picnic, eating seafood with a girl.

The relationship between Guan Shuqing and Wang Xian had finally been confirmed, except for not having their nuptial chamber. Wang Xian was pondering when he could proceed to the next step.

Heh heh!

The next morning, Wang Xian went to the medical hall as soon as he woke up.

He opened the door and placed the signage with the rules at the entrance.

Wang Xian made himself tea and took out the gifts sent from Old Xue and Old Qin the other time.

Old Qin gave him a box of hundred-years-old ginseng. A very precious one.

On the other hand, Old Xue gave him a secret medical manual. Wang Xian was feeling bored, so he began to read the manual.

This manual was obviously written by a doctor who practiced Ancient Martial Arts. The book recorded many case studies and treatment methods.

Wang Xian did not know the treatment methods. He treated people using his mighty Dragon Energy and the vitality of the Wood attribute.

Of course, there were pros and cons to this.

Reading some of these medical books would benefit him when he treated others in the future.

The September sun continued to shine. Wang Xian lay on the deck chair in the room with a smiling face. He sipped his tea and read his books, enjoying a relaxing afternoon.

Whoo-hoo-hoo!

Just then, the ambulance siren echoed through the road on the old street.

Wang Xian paused and put down his teacup slowly before he went outside to have a look.

"Doctor! Where's the doctor?!"

At the same time, two men barged in and raised their voices inside.

Wang Xian knit his eyebrow slightly. "There's no doctor here. If you have a patient, you can carry him to one of the chairs in the room."

"Fuc*! What kind of fuc*ing medical hall is this? The doctor recommended we go here. If they delayed my dad's treatment, I'll fuc*ing kill them all!"

The middle-aged was very nasty with his words. He shouted outside, "Doctor, are you sure this is the place for treatment?"

"Yes, this is the place. Hurry! Bring the patient in!" Doctor Sun was not surprised by the poor attitude of the patient's family member.

With a large number of patients in the hospital, they'd met all kinds of weirdo family members before!

Chapter 142: Mad Doctor (2)

"If my father doesn't recover after going through so many troubles, don't blame me for being violent!"

A middle-aged man looked furiously at Doctor Sun and roared.

Doctor Sun frowned. "Sir, you have agreed to our sending him here."

"If it wasn't because of your recommendation, why would I send my father here? No matter what, let's cure my father before speaking!" the middle-aged man said impatiently.

Doctor Sun did not pay attention to the middle-aged man and said to the group of nurses, "Come, carry the patient into the medical hall."

"Alright, Doctor Sun!"

Four nurses placed an old man on a stretcher before walking into the medical hall.

"Place him on the bed!" Wang Xian said to the nurses, seeing them carrying a patient in.

He knew that this was a referral from the hospital.

"Where're the attendants of the medical hall? Where's the doctor? Why isn't there any equipment around? Give my father the treatment right away!"

The middle-aged man followed into the medical hall, looking around and growling.

"Calm down. Since the hospital has sent the patient here, I'll be able to cure him!"

Wang Xian frowned slightly as he spoke to the middle-aged man.

"Hurry over and start the treatment for my father then. We can't afford any delay!"

"Hurry up! My father's treatment has been delayed by over 10 hours. Even if he was fine previously, he won't be now!"

The middle-aged and 30-plus-year-old man demanded impatiently.

Wang Xian frowned and walked slowly to the patient.

Doctor Sun walked to Wang Xian and asked with eyes of admiration, "Miracle Doctor Wang, the patient's heart is failing and his situation is dire. What our hospital could do for such dire state patient is simply extending his life by a few days, but we are not able to cure him completely. Therefore, we have sought the intentions of his family members and sent him here. Do you have any solutions?"

"Let me take a look!" Wang Xian nodded his head as he stretched his hand over and placed it on the chest of the old man.

"You are the doctor? So young?"

At this moment, a few middle-aged and young men looked at Wang Xian in shock.

They had not expected the doctor of this medical hall to be a juvenile. Is he even reliable?

Wang Xian ignored them and did a sensing of the old man's body.

Treatment wouldn't be difficult.

"I can cure him."

Wang Xian lifted his head as he spoke to Doctor Sun.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, you are so incredible!" Doctor Sun said in admiration.

Wang Xian smiled and looked to the middle-aged man. His lips curved into a smile and he said, "Your father's illness is curable!"

"Really!" The middle-aged man was taken aback and a little shocked.

"Curable!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Can we kindly ask Doctor Wang to start treatment?"

The middle-aged man kept his temperament in check and squeezed out a smile.

"Hmm. Payment before treatment!" Wang Xian said plainly.

"I wouldn't pay you any less. Hurry up and treat my father before we talk about this!" the middle-aged man replied unhappily.

Hehe!

Wang Xian looked at the middle-aged man and revealed a faint smile. He walked to the chair beside him and said, "$8 million for treatment. Once you've paid up, I can guarantee his recovery. If you don't pay or not have the money, just bring him out!"

Wang Xian sat on the chair and poured himself a cup of tea.

"What? $8 million? Why don't you just go and rob?" The middle-aged man was shocked by Wang Xian. He flared up and pointed his fingers furiously at Wang Xian.

"Initially, $2 million was enough for your father's treatment. However, you have a bad attitude. It's $8 million now. Pay up if you want treatment. Otherwise, scram!"

Wang Xian spoke coldly to the middle-aged man and the crowd.

"YOU..."

The middle-aged man and the few young men were enraged. They stared hideously at Wang Xian, "Brat, do you know who I am. I am giving you a warning right now. Treat my father immediately or I won't be courteous with you!"

"Oh, hehe."

Wang Xian looked at them with mocking eyes. "The price is $10 million now!"

"Brat, you must be courting death!"

Green veins lifted out of the middle-aged man's arms as he walked towards Wang Xian.

"Sir, please calm down!" Seeing the enraged middle-aged man and crowd, Director Sun quickly interrupted.

"Scram. Your hospital must be thinking of robbing us!"

A young man shouted coldly at Director Sun.

"Brat, treat my father right away. Once he recovers, I'll give you $2 million. Don't test my patience!"

The middle-aged man walked to Wang Xian and looked down at him as he spoke solemnly.

He rolled up his sleeves and revealed his tattoos.

Wang Xian looked mockingly at the middle-aged man and said, "$15 million!"

"F*ck you..."

"Tsk. How dare you kick up a fuss in Divine Dragon Medical Hall!"

Just as the middle-aged man extended his arm and was grabbing towards Wang Xian's arm, a cold shout sounded from outside the medical hall.

The middle-aged man paused and stared angrily at the entrance. However, when he saw the group of people at the entrance, his face stiffened up gradually.

The middle-aged man stared at the six people, dumbfounded. His body couldn't help but shiver.

The head of the Ren Family, Hu Fei of the Hu Family, Old Xue, Xue Jing and Old Duan!

When his gaze met the head of the Ren Family, fear crept upon him.

Ren Family used to be the Number 1 Ancient Martial Artist Family in Rivertown before the Yan Family announced their return. The Ren Family had great strength and influence in the entire Rivertown.

Moreover, the head of the Ren Family was also the Director of an organization.

The middle-aged man had met him once when his father brought him to a banquet.

His father had warned him solemnly that the family head of the Ren Family could not be offended as he could annihilate them with just a wave of his hand.

His father had also briefed him a little about the situation of the Ancient Martial Arts circle in Rivertown. This petrified him.

He had never expected that there was such a horrifying group of people that still existed in the current era.

Why would the family head of Ren Family come to this medical hall? He's the leader of the Number 2 Ancient Martial Artist Family in Rivertown! Fear crept up to the middle-aged man.

"You must be courting death!"

At this moment, the family head of the Ren Family moved his palm and two silverish beads shot towards the middle-aged man.

Argh.

All the middle-aged man could feel was intense pain on his knees as though they were broken. He couldn't resist the pain and landed on his knees directly. Cold sweat broke out on his head!

"Big Brother!"

"Big Brother!"

The few young men ran towards the middle-aged man instinctively when they saw him going on his knees suddenly.

"I'm sorry, Ren Family Head, I'm sorry. If there's something that I've done badly, I'll definitely change!"

The middle-aged man ignored his brothers' exclamations. He immediately begged for forgiveness from the Ren Family Head while enduring the intense pain of his legs.

He didn't dare to have any sense of resistance of unhappiness.

"You must be looking for death to kick up a fuss in the Divine Dragon Medical Hall!"

Ren Family Head shouted coldly at the middle-aged man.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry. Miracle Doctor, please forgive me this time!" The middle-aged man turned to face Wang Xian, kowtowed in a hurry and begged for Wang Xian's forgiveness.

Wang Xian looked at the middle-aged man on his knees and shook his head in contempt. He was completely different from his arrogant self just a while ago!

"To cure your crippled legs, $5 million!"

Chapter 143: The Miracle Doctor Chart

In the Divine Dragon Medical Hall.

A middle-aged man was shuddering as he lay on the bed next to his father.

A few juveniles were standing at the side with caution. They wailed softly and did not dare to move, let alone talk.

Scary!

They did not know that the owner of this medical hall had such a strong background.

Gazing at their elder brother and father who were lying on the beds, their faces turned pale.

Initially, it only cost two million for the treatment. Now, it had shot up to twenty million.

It's twenty million... How much can the Zhao Family's companies pay?

However, given such a circumstance now, they must pay. They had to pay.

Because of their arrogance just now, they needed to pay a painful price ten times more than before.

"Dragon King, these are some of our tokens of appreciations from the Martial Artists and families in Rivertown. I hope you can accept them!"

"Yes, Dragon King. Please accept them. Let us know if we can be of some use to you in Rivertown in the future."

The Ren Family Head, Old Duan, and Hu Fei spoke to Wang Xian fervently and respectfully.

"Your thoughts are appreciated. Just leave it aside, and calling me Wang Xian will do."

Wang Xian smiled and nodded at them.

"Yes." The group of people smiled and nodded. They looked around and said with some hesitation, "Then we'll take our leave now. Please rest well."

"Okay, I still have some patients to attend to. Thank you for your concern." Wang Xian nodded with a smile.

"You're welcome!" The group of people beamed at Wang Xian.

"Okay." Wang Xian nodded his head. Ren Family Head and the rest left, but only Old Xue stayed put.

"Old Xue, let me check your body," Wang Xian said to Old Xue with a smile.

"Thank you, Wang Xian." Old Xue thanked him as he followed Wang Xian to the second floor.

In fact, Wang Xian had already cured Old Xue's injuries. But because Old Xue got implicated because of him last night, he decided to reward Old Xue.

"Lie down. I'll unblock your meridians for you!" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Unblock the meridians?" Old Xue hesitated as he revealed a pondering look. He lay on the bed slowly.

Wang Xian placed his hand inside Old Xue's body and injected an immense amount of Dragon Energy into his meridians.

Even though Old Xue was a Level-seven Martial Artist, his Conception Vessel, and Governing Vessel, were not unblocked yet.

He did not use the Dragon Energy to unblock them. Instead, he unblocked all the vessels before the Conception Vessel and Governing Vessel.

That is to say, if Old Xue wanted to attain Level Nine in the future, it would take him a few months to do so, and it would be a breeze for him.

Wang Xian clearly distinguished his gratitude and resentment.

Old Xue moved his body on the bed, looking shocked.

"Done!" Wang Xian smiled as he opened his eyes slightly.

"My meridians are unblocked. You actually unblocked my meridians!" Old Xue flinched as he stared at Wang Xian with disbelief.

"You had a tough time yesterday." Wang Xian shook his head and smiled.

"Compared to what I have now, the pain I received yesterday was nothing!" Old Xue shook his head and exclaimed. "Others envied that I can make friends with you. I'm also envious of myself now. Unblocking the meridians... Only the top ten miracle doctors of the Miracle Doctor Chart can do this. Your medical skill is extremely terrific!"

"Miracle Doctor Chart?"

"You didn't know about it?" asked Old Xue doubtfully.

Wang Xian shook his head.

"The Miracle Doctor Chart is an international chart that consists of the top-notch miracle doctors in the world."

"The first on the chart is Hand of God from Europe. He's recognized as the world's number one. It is said that he is capable of reviving the dead."

"The second on the chart is Medical Saint from China. He's the current Head of the Medical Saint Sect. The third one is Sacred One, the Head of the Sacred Followers Guild!"

"Fourth is Emperor Samana from India and fifth is King Sanhe from an island country..."

"It is said that each miracle doctor is highly-skilled in medicines, and they can also use special techniques to unblock the meridians to increase the cultivation speed."

"Of course, unblocking meridians needs to consume a large number of herbs. So it is tedious. Wang Xian, I'm really grateful that you can help me unblock them," Old Xue said to Wang Xian thankfully.

Wang Xian nodded his head slowly. He did not know that there was such a chart around in the world.

"Wang Xian, I'll not disturb you further. Let me know when you need any help!" Old Xue cupped his fist and said.

"Sure, Old Xue!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and sent Old Xue to the door. After which, he spun around and looked at those who were standing in the medical hall obediently. Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. He walked over and gave them treatment.

Doctor Sun stood by the side with curiosity piqued. Her eyes were full of admiration.

For the subsequent days, the Divine Dragon Medical Hall was finally made known in Rivertown. Every day, there would be two or three patients turning up at the medical hall to seek treatment.

At the same time, not only did the medical skills of Miracle Doctor Wang become famous, but also the rules of the medical hall.

Apart from the expensive fees, the patients must have a good attitude. Otherwise, no one knew how much Miracle Doctor Wang would quote for the cost of treatment.

The medical hall received two or three patients and earned about six to ten million a day.

Within a short period of ten days, his deposits hit $150 million.

"Tsk tsk, I'm also a billionaire now."

Wang Xian lay on his deck chair and smiled to himself.

Wang Xian was delighted as he'd penniless in the first place, but now he had $150 million in his hand,

"Brother."

At this time, he suddenly heard Xiao Yu's voice. Wang Xian spun around and saw Xiao Yu, who was beautifully dressed.

Ever since he'd strengthened Xiao Yu's constitution with his Dragon Energy, the military training was much easier for her.

Her skin was not that tanned anymore.

"You got a break?" asked Wang Xian with a smile.

"Yes. I don't have military training tonight, and tomorrow is the last day of it!" Xiao Yu walked in happily. She grinned at Wang Xian. "Why are you lying down here like an uncle?"

"Hehe, I'm relaxing. Get me a cup of tea!" said Wang Xian smilingly to Xiao Yu.

"Sure, my brother!"

Xiao Yu walked to the side, filled the teacup, and passed it to Wang Xian.

"Brother, it's National Day soon. When are we going back?"

"National Day?" Wang Xian paused and looked at his phone. Indeed, it was almost the end of the month. "I had forgotten about it. We're not going back."

"Brother, Sister Li is getting married on National Day. Don't you want to go back?" Xiao Yu rolled her eyes at Wang Xian. Then she picked up a huge Bodhi figure from the table.

"She's getting married?" Wang Xian was stunned. "But Uncle Zhang did not tell me!"

"Sister Li told me. So I guess Uncle Zhang didn't tell you. We need to go back on National Day," said Xiao Yu. She hesitated and decided to continue, "Brother, I want to tell you something. But you must not let anyone you know. A lady asked me to be her disciple and join her sect. I agreed!"

Chapter 144: Thistles And Thorns

Sect

"What?"

When Wang Xian heard his sister, he stood up immediately and stared at her in shock.

"Brother, calm down. This isn't anything bad."

Seeing her brother's agitated looks, Xiao Yu explained, "This was a rather sci-fi matter. Initially, I couldn't believe it either. However, when my master displayed unbelievable abilities, I realized that there are people who can walk on walls and injure others with just a leaf in this world. Brother, I'm going to become a heroine in the future."

Wang Xian's eyebrows knitted together. "What's the name of the Sect you are joining?"

"Thistles and Thorns Sect! My master told me that our sect is very strong and is a second-class sect. Moreover, my master is incredible and is a Level 8 Martial Artist!"

Xiao Yu answered before asking curiously, "Brother, do you know about sects?"

Wang Xian nodded his head gradually.

Wang Xian had not told Xiao Yu about the matters of the underworld. Since she had joined a sect by coincidence, Wang Xian did not intend to hide further.

"Brother, you know about them too?" Xiao Yu's eyes stared, opened wide as she looked at Wang Xian in disbelief.

"Do you think your brother's medical hall is just any ordinary medical hall?" Wang Xian smiled and said to Xiao Yu.

Xiao Yu's eyes popped open and looked at Wang Xian in disbelief. She then asked suddenly, "Brother, you are so bad. Why don't you tell me about these things? Hmm! You are really bad to hide it from me. I wanted to share this matter with you once I learn about it! You... You have changed!"

Cough cough cough!

Wang Xian started coughing violently upon hearing Xiao Yu. "Alright, alright. It's your brother's fault. I just thought that the timing wasn't right."

"Hmm!" Xiao Yu stared at him and was clearly displeased.

Wang Xian smiled and quickly walked in front of her. "Did your master teach you any cultivation arts?"

"Nope. Last night, my master said that I have great body constitution and talents. However, she said that I have to undergo examinations with other disciples tomorrow night before teaching us cultivation arts!" Xiao Yu answered.

"Tomorrow night? I'll go with you tomorrow." Wang Xian hesitated for a while before he spoke.

"Brother, you are going with me? This... This might not be acceptable!" Xiao Yu replied shyly.

"It will be fine. You can tell them I'm from the Ancient Martial Arts circle too. Moreover, since you are entering the Ancient Martial Arts circle, your master will know that you can't hide it from your family. I don't think she will say no," Wang Xian said.

"Mm. Alright then, let me ask my master!" Xiao Yu nodded her head and continued, "Brother, my master is a really, really beautiful lady."

"Is she? That's great. If your master was a guy, I might not agree to him taking you as a disciple," Wang Xian joked.

Xiao Yu rolled her eyes at him. "The main reason why I'm here today is to ask you something. Brother, now that you are so rich, should we buy some presents for Sister Li's wedding. Also, shall we get some presents for Uncle Zhang?"

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head. "Let me get some gifts for Uncle Zhang and Sister Li. Uncle Zhang and his family have been taking care of us. It's about time that we repay and thank him."

Uncle Zhang had always seen them as his own family and took great care of them

For some people, although they weren't related by blood, their relationships were closer than those with blood ties.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu had always remembered how Uncle Zhang had taken care of them and their grandmother.

It's only natural for them to return this gratitude as though Uncle Zhan was their kin.

"Hmm. I'll leave this to brother then. I'm hungry, brother. Bring me out for dinner!" Xiao Yu pulled her brother's hands as she asked him.

"What do you want to have for dinner?" Wang Xian caressed her head and asked.

"I want to have steamboat. Why don't we ask sister-in-law to eat with us?" Xiao Yu smiled and asked.

"Hmm. Alright. Before this, follow me to the upper story!"

Wang Xian brought Xiao Yu to the upper story and asked her to lie on the bed.

"Brother, what do you want to do?" Xiao Yu looked inquisitively at Wang Xian and asked. "I'm not sick."

"Just lie down. Let brother examine your health."

Wang Xian patted on her head. "I'll make you sleep for 5 minutes in a while. Close your eyes!"

"Oh!"

Xiao Yu nodded her head and closed her eyes. She knew that what her brother was doing would be for her good.

Wang Xian tapped lightly on Xiao Yu's body and she fell unconscious immediately.

Over the last few days, he had been reading some medical books. He understood a little about how to knock one unconscious by tapping at certain spots of the body. These small techniques were still useful for him.

Regardless of whether Thistles and Thorns Sect is good or bad, since Xiao Yu will be entering the Ancient Martial Arts circle, let me strengthen her body a little!

The reason why Xiao Yu was spotted by her master was probably because Wang Xian had strengthened her body previously.

While Wang Xian was at it, he decided to help Xiao Yu open all her meridians.

He wanted Xiao Yu to be an existence that equalled one who was favored by gods no matter where she was.

Dense dragon energy entered Xiao Yu's body and into her meridians directly.

Xiao Yu's body had been strengthened previously. There were almost no impurities in her body.

And now, all eight extraordinary meridians were opened.

Based on what Wang Xian knew of the Ancient Martial Arts circle, those that were born with their eight extraordinary meridians opened were known as having an Inborn constitution.

Inborn constitution only existed within the myths. There might not be even one in a hundred million people.

However, as long as one with Inborn constitution was to start cultivating, he would definitely reach the Inborn Realm.

Horrifying!

After exhausting some dragon energy to open all eight extraordinary meridians on Xiao Yu, Wang Xian tapped on her body again.

"Hmm? Brother, it's done?"

After recovering consciousness, Xiao Yu looked at Wang Xian.

"Alright, let's go have steamboat!"

Wang Xian smiled and went over to First-grade Restaurant to get Guan Shuqing. After which, they walked to the steamboat restaurant around the corner.

8 pm. Wang Xian sent Xiao Yu back to the dormitory before returning to the medical hall to give Old Xue a call.

"Old Xue, I have something to ask you. Do you know anything about Thistles and Thorns Sect?"

Wang Xian went straight to the point.

"Thistles and Thorns Sect?" Old Xue was taken aback slightly. "I know a little about them. They are a rather good sect within the province and could be considered as a second-class sect. Nonetheless, their actions are righteous and open and they could be considered as an orthodox sect!"

"The sect leader is a half-step to Inborn expert. I heard that there are several sects who come to Rivertown to recruit disciples recently. Did Brother Wang Xian come across them?"

"My sister was selected by a member of the Thistles and Thorns Sect. Therefore, I'm just asking around," replied Wang Xian.

"Hmm. In that case, please give me some time. I'll get you more detailed information," Old Xue immediately replied.

"Alright, thank you, Old Xue."

Wang Xian nodded his head.

In less than 10 minutes, an information file was sent to Wang Xian. Wang Xian opened it with his computer. Not only was there information on Thistles and Thorns Sect, but there was also information on other sects.

Chapter 145: Selection of Disciples

The Thistles And Thorns Sect was an influential second-class sect in the province. They had a Half-step to Inborn Expert and dozens of Level-nine Martial Artists in the sect.

There were three sects in the southern province. One was the third-class sect, Green Lotus Sword Sect. Another one was also a second-class sect, Northern Summit Sect.

Of course, not including some substandard sects.

These three sects were recruiting disciples in the entire southern province.

However, a few sects came to Rivertown for recruitment because there were no sects in the Rivertown, except for those Martial Art families.

But the families never released their Art of Cultivation to outsiders. This meant that there was a chance of finding many talented people in Rivertown.

On top of that, the Yan Family was said to be exterminated by a mysterious expert. These sects got outrageous since the Rivertown suffered a loss in strength.

"Looks like there isn't many powerful sects or families in the entire southern province!" Wang Xian looked at the information he got and grinned.

Tomorrow, I shall check them out with Xiao Yu! Wang Xian thought to himself. He then shut down his computer and walked towards his dormitory.

The next morning, Wang Xian received a notification from Xiao Yu that her master agreed to let him come along.

At about 6 pm, Wang Xian arrived at the school entrance.

When he reached it, he spotted Xiao Yu waiting with a woman.

Wang Xian looked at her.

Referring to her as a woman sounded a little too old for her.

She should be a young woman, as she looked to be about 30 years old with a perfect figure.

This was the best figure Wang Xian had ever seen, wearing quaint clothes.

Her hair was bunned up, and she had fair and flawless skin. Her watery and bright eyes looked very beautiful.

In comparison, even Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue lost out to her as their charms were lacking.

"Xiaoyu!" Wang Xian put on a smiling face as he shouted.

"Brother!" Xiao Yu beamed as she waved her hand. She immediately turned to the woman and said, "Master, he's my elder brother!"

"Okay!" That woman nodded as she fixed her gaze on Wang Xian and began to observe him before shifting her eyes away again.

"Brother, this is my master!" Xiao Yu introduced softly.

"Hello." Wang Xian greeted the woman.

"Mmm. Follow me. It's getting late!" the woman said to them with a nod.

"Yes, Master!" Xiao Yu stuck out her tongue and beckoned Wang Xian as they followed her master to a Mercedes car.

"Elder Fang." A middle-aged driver greeted the woman respectfully in the car.

"Let's go!" said the woman.

"Yes!" The driver nodded and started the car immediately.

"Brother, my master wanted me to remind you not to speak or walk around when you're there. Just keep still and watch. There should be a lot of people tonight," Xiao Yu whispered a reminder to Wang Xian in the back of the car.

"Don't worry!" Wang Xian smiled and patted her head.

The car drove out of the city for an hour before they came to the cross-border between Rivertown and Pengzhou.

Pengzhou was Wang Xian's hometown, but they were still far from his home.

The car stopped in a somewhat remote area, where there was a small neighborhood.

When the car entered, Wang Xian realized that this district was not as simple as it seemed.

The environment in this district was pleasant. But in this neighborhood, someone could jump up to a stone platform that was as high as three to four meters.

Many weapons like machetes, spears, and rods were found in the surroundings, which seemed a little out of the world.

This must be a branch of the Thistles And Thorns Sect, or their headquarter!

Wang Xian pondered to himself when the car was parked in a parking lot.

Wang Xian looked around and realized many branded cars were parked over here.

There were a total of forty to fifty cars with Pengzhou and Rivertown's car plates around.

"Follow me!" the woman said coldly, leading them from the front.

They came to somewhere at the back with a training ground in front. But a crystal-like thing was placed in the middle of it.

The crystal was a hexagon shape, emitting a special glow that looked extraordinary, with tall and huge poplars surrounding it.

At this time, hundreds of people were standing in the field.

There was a middle-aged man in a suit with a juvenile beside him, and a well-dressed old man with his grandchild.

Based on their dressing, it was easy to tell that they were rich people.

"Both of you wait here and don't run around. The sect will begin the test later. I'll be leaving to settle some stuff now."

Xiao Yu's master reminded them of this before she walked to a room.

Xiao Yu nodded and looked around with curiosity.

"So many people? At least dozens of them want to join the Thistles And Thorns Sect!" Wang Xian observed the surrounding with a curious look on his face.

"Brother, not every one of them can enter the sect. Most of them will be eliminated," Xiao Yu said to him with pride on her face, "But my master said that I just need to go through the process. After that, I can join the Thistles And Thorns Sect for sure!"

"You're amazing!" Wang Xian smiled and said to Xiao Yu.

"Of course. I'm definitely awesome!" Xiao Yu raised her chin slightly and said in a cute voice.

"Sigh, I wonder if my child can make it into the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

"Certainly, Director Zhao. Your son is suave and charming. He must be a talent!"

"I hope so. Director Wang, your son has an eighty percent chance. I heard he was praised by an expert!"

"Hehe, well, my son did not let me down. That expert said my son has high hopes!"

"This time, it is a rare opportunity in the last ten years for Thistles and Thorns Sect to recruit disciples in the open. I hope my son or daughter can get in!"

The discussions around Wang Xian made him understand something.

The Thistles and Thorns Sect not only sent their men to recruit disciples. Some people with resources brought their children to join too.

It would just depend on their endowment to join the sect.

"Hey, excuse me."

Just then, a voice that was louder than the discussion was heard.

Everyone was discussing at a soft volume, as they did not dare to raise their voice.

Apparently, this person did not care about it.

All the people frowned slightly and looked over with a displeased look.

"That is the Song Family!"

"It's the Song Family. I heard that someone from the Song Family joined the Thistles and Thorns Sect a few decades ago. Now, he's the elder of the sect. Each time, a member of the Song Family can join the Thistles and Thorns Sect directly!"

"Song Family of Pengzhou. They are the colossal existence in Pengzhou. No wonder they dare to raise their voice here!"

"That juvenile is Song Aowen. I heard he was selected by that elder in the Song Family when he was a child. That elder taught him cultivation art. Now, he's only eighteen, and he is already a Level-four Martial Artist with astonishing talents. He almost can join the Thistles and Thorns Sect straightaway!"

"One that is favored by God! This is the supreme talent!"

One by one, they spun around to look at the incoming person with amazed looks on their faces.

Xiao Yu also looked over with her curiosity piqued. An imposing juvenile in white had his chin up, and a haughty look on his face.

"A Level-four Martial Artist. He's awesome!" Xiao Yu exclaimed softly with a face full of envy!

"You will soon become one too. Don't worry." Wang Xian smiled. Given Xiao Yu's Inborn Constitution now, she could easily hit level four.

"Heh, do you think it's that easy to become a Level-four Martial Artist?"

At this time, a contemptuous voice was heard!

Chapter 146: Shiver In Fear (1)

A voice that had a mocking intonation caused Wang Xian and Xiao Yu to frown slightly.

Xiao Yu turned around angrily and looked to the one who was speaking.

The voice came from a girl that was approximately 17-18 years old. She had a ponytail and looked extremely pretty. Her proud demeanor made her look just like a little swan.

"I'm talking to my brother and this has nothing to do with you. Moreover, as long as I work hard, I'll be able to reach Martial Artist Level 4 quickly!"

Xiao Yu gave the girl a harsh stare as she spoke grumpily.

"You? Let's see if you can even make it into Thistles and Thorns Sect!" The girl looked at Xiao Yu with contempt. She lifted her head proudly and said arrogantly, "I'm already a Level 2 Martial Artist and an expert has agreed to take me as her disciple."

"Alright, Yan'er. After you become a Martial Artist, you've got to be aware of your identity!"

A middle-aged man beside the girl glanced at Xiao Yu as he spoke to his daughter.

"I understand, father. I'm not an ordinary woman from here on." The girl nodded proudly, lifted her head high and ignored Xiao Yu.

Xiao Yu pouted and said angrily, "Who said I can't enter the Thistles and Thorns Sect. My master is an Elder!"

"What?" The girl beside her was slightly shocked and looked at Xiao Yu. "Your master is an Elder?"

Hmm!

Xiao Yu didn't want to entertain her. She grabbed Wang Xian's arm with both of her hands and put on an expression that seemed to suggest that she did not want to entertain her.

Wang Xian patted Xiao Yu's head. This girl looked just like a young girl from a small family most of the time but she did have times when she was very competitive.

With regard to Xiao Yu's decision to join the Thistles and Thorns Sect, Wang Xian had no objections and allowed her to do as she wished.

With Wang Xian's current strength, it would be easy for him to find her a better sect or get her an Art of Cultivation to cultivate.

However, he did not do so. Since it was similar even if she cultivated in other places, it would be fine as long as his sister was happy.

"Lies!"

Seeing Xiao Yu chose to ignore her, the girl beside Xiao Yu grumbled.

Wang Xian glanced at that girl and his lips curved up slightly.

"The Elders of Thistles and Thorns Sect are coming!"

At this moment, a voice pierced the atmosphere. Wang Xian looked over and saw the higher management of Thistles and Thorns Sect walking over.

There were a total of seven people and they wore a common uniform with a logo in the shape of a "thorn" at the chest area. At the forefront of the group was an old lady.

Xiao Yu's master, Elder Fang, was amongst the group too.

"The old man in the middle is the vice sect leader of Thistles and Thorns Sect, Old Lei. Ordinary matters of the sect were all handled by Old Lei."

"The Elders are here. The one beside Old Lei is Zhao Qingshan, an elder of the Zhao Family."

Some people who were familiar with the higher management of Thistles and Thorns Sect commented softly.

As the seven of them approached, the entire training field also quietened down. Everyone looked respectfully towards the seven higher management members of the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

"Time's up, those who aren't here don't have to come."

Vice Sect Leader Lei of the Thistles and Thorns Sect looked at the crowd before speaking to another Elder beside her.

"Yes, Vice Sect Leader Lei. Everyone is present. Let's start with their assessment!"

The other Elder nodded his head, looked at the crowd and announced, "The assessment of the Thistles and Thorns Sect would begin soon. Please get ready. Those who pass our assessment will become a member of the Thistles and Thorns Sect in the future while failures will have to leave. Now, come forward one by one!"

The Elder nodded his head in satisfaction as he saw everyone listening quietly and attentively. He signalled to a young man near him.

The young man nodded his head, brought a book with him and walked towards the transparent hexagon crystal.

"Come forward for the assessment when I call out your name."

The young man looked at the crowd and shouted, "Zhang Xing, Pengzhou!"

"Here!" a juvenile answered anxiously.

"Come up!" the young man looked at the juvenile and instructed.

"Yes, yes!"

The juvenile walked to the young man and looked at him anxiously.

"Place your hands on the assessment crystal!" the young man said to the juvenile.

The juvenile nodded his head and placed his hands on the crystal.

A magical thing happened. To his surprise, a black and blurry human figure appeared within the crystal.

When the young man saw it, he shook his head. "Fail, you can go back!"

"Huh?" That juvenile was shocked. With a disappointed look, he lowered his head as he walked back.

"What just happened? How did he fail?"

"How does this assessment work? How do they determine success or failure?"

Below the platform, the crowd looked on with doubts.

"This is an assessment crystal. You can just see it as a piece of unique assessment equipment. When you place your hands on the crystal, dark spots will appear in the crystal. The greater the number of dark spots, the poorer one's talents are."

Below the platform, a middle-aged man from where the Song Family was standing explained to the crowd.

"That's right. Anyone who touches the assessment crystal will cause the crystal to be tainted. The level of pollution determines one's talents. The greater the black spots, the poorer one's talents are. If an image of a black man appeared, it would mean that the person has zero cultivation talents!"

The young man nodded his head and explained to the crowd.

The crowd nodded their heads slightly. The juveniles who were here for the assessment looked anxiously at the assessment crystal.

"Next, Lu Yun!"

Another juvenile walked forward. When he placed his hands on the crystal, a black man figure appeared.

The juvenile was embarrassed.

"Fail, next!"

"Fail, next!"

After four consecutive juveniles failing, the remaining crowd got nervous.

It's so hard to get into Thistles and Thorns Sect and become a Martial Artist.

"Next, Zi Yan'er"

"Tsk, I'll definitely pass."

Beside Wang Xian and Xiao Yu, that juvenile girl with a ponytail lifted her head, walked forward confidently and placed her hands on the crystal.

Some black spots appeared on the crystal gradually. However, the black spots were clearly much lesser than the previous four candidates.

When the young man saw the black spots in the crystals, he smiled and announced, "Middle-class talents, pass!"

Mm!

Zi Yan'er lifted her head proudly and walked down the platform.

"That juvenile girl actually passed! She's really lucky."

"Middle-class talents are considered to be really great talents for cultivation."

The crowd sighed emotionally and looked at the juvenile girl in envy.

The higher management members of Thistles and Thorns Sect also revealed faint smiles while watching from above.

Middle-class talents could be considered as great!

Hmm! When Zi Yan'er walked passed Xiao Yu, she lifted her head proudly and sneered.

Xiao Yu pouted.

"Next!"

The assessment carried on. There was a total of 40 plus juveniles and the assessment was carried out at a quick pace.

Approximately one out of five or six would pass. Moreover, most of them only had ordinary talents.

"Next, Song Aowen!"

When reading out this name, the young man raised his voice and looked to where the Song Family was with a radiant smile.

"Junior brother, you are still taking the assessment? With your strength, it's a done deal that you can enter our Thistles and Thorns Sect," the young man said to the approaching Song Aowen with the intention of getting on his good books.

"I have not assessed my own talents previously. Therefore, I would like to give it a try."

Song Aowen smiled radiantly and nodded his head as he walked up to the platform.

"Elder Song, your grandson is really talented to reach Martial Artist Level 4 at such a young age. I'm afraid even our disciples aren't as talented." Where the higher management members stood, a middle-aged Elder spoke to Elder Song.

"Haha, he's still fine!" Elder Song smiled. Although he might have sounded humble, his face was filled with pride.

"Elder Song's grandson's talents are at least middle-class. In fact, he might even be better!" Vice Sect Leader smiled and commented.

"At least middle-class and might be even better! Congratulations, Elder Song!" the remaining members congratulated.

"Hehe, let's take a look. Let's take a look!" Elder Song said with smiles.

On the platform, Song Aowen walked towards the assessment crystal confidently and placed his hands on it.

Tiny black spots appeared. They were few, even fewer than Zi Yan'er!

The young man was shocked and exclaimed, "High-class talents! High-class talents!"

Upon hearing the exclamations of the young man, Song Aowen smiled proudly. "Not too far-off from what I expected!"

"Junior brother Song, you might be able to reach the heights of Elder Song or even higher in the future!" the young man said with envy.

"Haha, great!" Seeing his grandson's performance, Elder Song revealed a proud look.

"Congratulations, congratulations!"

Beside him, the other Elders congratulated Elder Song.

Elder Song waved his hand and remarked, "I had not expected this from my grandson either!"

"We are really lucky to recruit a disciple of high-class talents this year," Vice Sect Leader Lei commented joyously.

"Didn't junior sister Fang recruit a new disciple? This is Junior sister Fang's first disciple! I believe her talents should be exceptional too!"

Among the seven people, there were only two female members. Suddenly, the middle-aged lady looked to Elder Fang and asked this jokingly.

"What? Are you thinking of snatching my disciple away again?" Elder Fang asked coldly, glancing emotionlessly at the middle-aged woman.

"Haha, Junior sister Fang, you are reading too much into it. My disciple also has high-class talents. She isn't much inferior to Elder Song's disciple. Why would I snatch your disciples?" the middle-aged woman said nonchalantly.

"Tsk! Would the disciple I found last month run over to you suddenly for no reason?" Elder Fang replied coldly.

"That's her own decision. New things wouldn't come if the old things aren't gone! Perhaps this disciple of yours would have top-class talents! Hehe!"

The middle-aged man mocked and embarrassed Elder Fang.

"Alright, let's carry on!"

Seeing the two female Elders quarrelling, Vice Sect Leader Lei waved his hands helplessly and interrupted.

Chapter 147: Shiver in Fear (2)

Elder Fang and Elder Zhou shared a huge conflict all the time. A month ago, Elder Fang had found a talented disciple, but Elder Zhou snatched that disciple away.

Everyone knew about this, but none of them said anything. After all, that disciple had the final right to choose Elder Zhou.

Elder Fang could only suffer her loss in silence.

The middle-aged woman, Elder Zhou, cast a glance at Elder Fang as she straightened her body on the chair and continued looking at the field.

"Next, Wang Yu!"

One by one, the young girls and boys went up to the stage. When the youthful voice was heard again, Xiao Yu threw a nervous look at Wang Xian.

"Go on!" Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu with a smiling face.

"Okay." Xiao Yu nodded as she walked perturbingly towards the Assessment Crystal.

"She's the one you brought?" Vice Sect Leader Lei asked Elder Fang on the stage when he saw Xiao Yu walking up the stage.

"Yes." Elder Fang nodded. "She's not bad."

"Is she better than Qiu Yun?" Elder Zhou, who was next to her, said with a smile.

Elder Fang frowned and kept her silence.

Several elders around them shook their heads at this.

High-class talents were one in a million. How could it be easy for Elder Fang to seek another one again?

"To practice the ancient martial art, it's not only about being a talent, but also depends on the personal efforts and understanding!" Vice Sect Leader Lei consoled her.

"That's true. Hehe!" Elder Zhou chuckled in agreement, but her tone was full of sarcasm.

Elder Fang remained calm and fixed her gaze on Xiao Yu.

She knew that Xiao Yu was a talent, but she was still far from the disciple which she'd found a month ago.

I just ask for her to be someone of good character, unlike the previous one! Elder Fang had coldness flashing in her eyes as she thought to herself.

"Heh, I want to see what kind of talent you are!" Zi Yan'er, next to Wang Xian, glared at Xiao Yu with a smirk.

"Only that juvenile from the Song Family was better than you. The rest are not as good as you. Hehe!" the middle-aged man beside her said to his daughter as he watched the training ground with a prideful face.

"Place your hand on the crystal!" On seeing Xiao Yu on stage, the young man instructed her.

"Okay." Xiao Yu nodded as she placed her hand slowly.

Everyone's attention was fixed on Xiao Yu.

"She's quite pretty!" Song Aowen from the Song Family commented smilingly when he saw Xiao Yu.

"Hehe, you've grown up." Song Aowen's father patted his shoulder and said, "If you like her, go ahead and woo her. You are old enough!"

"Hehe." Song Aowen giggled and observed Xiao Yu from head to toe.

Xiao Yu placed her palm onto the crystal.

One second.

Two seconds.

Three seconds.

"Hur? No reaction?"

All the people were stunned as they stared at the crystal with surprise.

The crystal had no reaction at all. It was as though it was not activated.

The young man standing at the side watched in surprise. Why is there no reaction from the crystal at all?

"What's the matter?" The higher management members on the platform knit their eyebrows.

"Could the Assessment Crystal break down?" An elder raised the question.

"Impossible. The Assessment Crystal can never break down," an elder rebuked immediately.

Elder Fang knit her eyebrows. She darted out and landed beside Xiao Yu. After careful examination, Xiao Yu's palm was touching the Assessment Crystal firmly.

"Master, this... this doesn't seem to be responding!" Xiao Yu looked at the crystal under her hand with confusion. She was at a loss.

"Lift your hands!" Elder Fang said with a frown.

"Okay." Xiao Yu nodded and raised her hand.

Elder Fang stretched her hand out, and a tinge of black color appeared in the crystal.

She raised her eyebrow before she grabbed Xiao Yu's hand and placed it on the Assessment Crystal again.

"What's the matter?" Vice Sect Leader Lei stood up on the platform and asked doubtfully.

"Is she a jinx or what?" Elder Zhou said wickedly.

All of the people were watching curiously as they wondered what was happening.

Elder Fang had mixed expression when the Assessment Crystal was not responding to Xiao Yu's touch.

She hesitated before she placed her hand on Xiao Yu with flickering eyes.

Immediately, a stream of Internal Energy passed through Xiao Yu's hand and went towards the Assessment Crystal.

Om!

With a soft sound heard, the Assessment Crystal seemed to be activated as it was giving off a luster glow.

The glow continued to be incandescent under the moonlight.

"This..." Elder Fang narrowed her pupils with a trembling body. She stared at the glowing Assessment Crystal with disbelief.

She could not believe it even now. Even when the crystal was glowing, she still felt like it was a dream.

"This is...!"

Suddenly, the Vice Sect Leader Lei's eyes were agape. He could not help but exclaim with a shaking body as he looked at the glowing Assessment Crystal.

His roar was so loud that some average people found it unbearable.

"Flawless and pure, Inborn Constitution!" Elder Zhou stood up immediately as she repeated the words with a shaken and nasty look.

"Flawless and pure, Inborn Constitution!" All the elders stood up too. One by one, they darted out and showed up in front of Xiao Yu.

"What's the matter? Why are the higher management members of the Thistles and Thorns Sect so excited?"

"That young girl can make the Assessment Crystal give out a white luster glow. What's going on actually?"

"Judging from the look of the higher management members, it seems like that girl is a tremendous talent!"

"What does 'pure and flawless' mean?"

On seeing the excitement of the higher management members, everyone was puzzled as they discussed.

"Xiao Yu, you actually have an Inborn Constitution. An Inborn Constitution! But I checked on you... You!" Elder Fang could not believe it as she grabbed Xiao Yu on her shoulder and spoke with excitement.

"Master, I have no idea either!" Xiao Yu was lost as she looked at her master. Seeing all the elders and Vice Sect leaders beside her, she turned back to peer at Wang Xian timidly.

"Little girl, let...let Grandpa check your body." The Vice Sect Leader Lei stretched out his hand to Xiao Yu with a shaking voice.

Xiao Yu was puzzled as she looked back at Vice Sect Leader Lei. Did he call himself Grandpa?

Xiao Yu stretched out her hand.

With a pair of trembling hands, Vice Sect Leader Lei did not look like a vice sect leader now.

All the surrounding elders stared hard at them with heavy breaths.

Vice Sect Leader Lei placed his hand gently on Xiao Yu's hand as though he was afraid he might hurt her.

He closed his eyes, and a gentle stream of Internal Energy flowed into Xiao Yu's body. The energy went through her eight extraordinary meridians slowly.

Vice Sect Leader Lei's body was shaking as tears of excitement slowly ran down his cheeks.

Fu*k! It's really the Inborn Constitution!

Chapter 148: Saintess (1)

Hahaha, hahaha!

Suddenly, Vice Sect Leader Lei laughed raucously.

Without any premonition, his laughter resounded within the entire training field.

His laughter was just like that of a maniac or retarded person.

However, Vice Sect Leader Lei wasn't bothered.

"Heaven is blessing our Thistles and Thorns Sect! Heaven is blessing our Thistles and Thorns Sect!" Vice Sect Leader Lei roared out in agitation.

"She really is! Inborn Constitution!"

The surrounding Elders' eyes popped open and they were thrilled.

Inborn Constitution! Inborn Constitution! They knew clearly what this would mean.

This would mean that within five years, Thistles and Thorns Sect would have an Inborn expert as they advanced and became a first-class sect.

They would also become the strongest existence in the Southern Province.

For the entire Thistles and Thorns Sect, this was a blessing from the heavens. One could easily say that they were favored by the heavens.

"What just happened? Why would Vice Sect Leader Lei be so agitated?"

"That juvenile girl must have some incredible talents. Otherwise, Vice Sect Leader Lei wouldn't lose his composure."

"Inborn Constitution? Could it be a horrifyingly strong existence?"

The surrounding crowd was dumbfounded to see the maniac Vice Sect Leader

Lei and agitated Elders.

"Inborn Constitution!"

Where the Song Family was, they understood Ancient Martial Arts a lot more than ordinary people because of Elder Song.

When they heard those words, everyone was shocked!

Song Aowen sank into a daze as he looked at the juvenile girl on the platform as though he was retarded.

As compared to the Inborn Constitution, his high-class talents could be considered as trash!

"Inborn Constitution really exists in the world."

A few members of the Song Family were still in a daze. Inborn Constitution had been circulated as part of mythology. It had been a few hundred years since there was a human with Inborn Constitution.

"Master, is Inborn Constitution incredible?" Seeing the thrilled looks of the Elders and the Vice Sect Leader, Xiao Yu asked her master this curiously.

"Inborn Constitution! Xiao Yu, you might not know what this truly means!"

Elder Fang helped to comb Xiao Yu's hair as she explained, "This would mean that you could reach the Inborn Realm quickly and become an expert stronger than even your Master and our Sect Leader!"

"So incredible?" Xiao Yu's eyes popped open and her mouth opened slightly in awe.

"We can't let others know about the Inborn Constitution."

At this moment, Vice Sect Leader Lei turned solemn. He knew that he had been too agitated a while ago and had not controlled his emotions. As a result, everyone knew about it.

"We can't let other sects know about this. Otherwise, we would attract lots of trouble!" Elder Song also added solemnly.

Vice Sect Leader Lei put on a stern face, turned around, looked at the crowd and announced, "Those who wish to join our Thistles and Thorns Sect today will be enrolled. Besides this, with regard to the Inborn Constitution, everyone has to forget about it and not mention it to others. Otherwise, kill!!"

Vice Sect Leader Lei's stern voice reached the ears of everyone and everyone could sense the killing intent within it.

The surrounding crowd was shocked.

As for those juveniles who had been eliminated in the assessment, they were thrilled.

Thistles and Thorns Sect had allowed them to join because of her!

"It's all because of that girl... that Thistles and Thorns Sect enrolled everyone."

Some people felt it was unreal in thinking that the Thistles and Thorns Sect would be wasting their resources to groom those without talents because of this juvenile girl.

However, the families of these juveniles knew why Thistles and Thorns Sect would do so.

It was to silence them and prevent them from leaking information about Inborn Constitution.

Now that their kids had joined Thistles and Thorns Sect, they would enjoy both the fame or obscurity that would come with it in the future. Once Thistles and Thorns Sect got into trouble, their kids would too.

Besides that, Thistles and Thorns Sect probably had another intention in mind. That was if you dared to leak anything, your kid would be dead.

Although the actions of Thistles and Thorns Sect had the intention of threats, no one was opposed to it. Instead, they were thrilled.

They did not know how incredible Inborn Constitution was but they did hear

Vice Sect Leader Lei commenting that the Heavens were blessing Thistles and Thorns Sect.

Inborn Constitution must be an incredibly horrifying existence to make the Vice Sect Leader of Thistles and Thorns Sect lose his composure.

Thistles and Thorns Sect would likely get stronger and stronger in the future.

In that case, their kids would also do better in the future.

"Thank you, Vice Sect Leader Lei. We don't know anything that happened tonight. Even if others are to place a knife by our necks, we would not speak a word about today."

"That's right. We would die before we said anything about what happened today!"

Members of each family gave their promises one after another regarding not speaking of what had happened.

"Great, great!"

Vice Sect Leader Lei nodded his head in satisfaction. He turned to the other Elder and instructed, "Inform the Sect Leader right away and ask him to get here as soon as possible!"

"Yes!"

That Elder nodded his head immediately.

Under normal circumstances, they naturally wouldn't request the Sect Leader to come over immediately. However, the Sect Leader had to rush over immediately this time.

Vice Sect Leader Lei stared at Xiao Yu intensely before heaving out a long sigh. With a friendly smile, she asked, "Is your name Xiao Yu? Hmm. Our Sect Leader will be here in a while. We will be letting the Sect Leader guide your cultivation in the future. Our Sect Leader is a half-step to inborn expert and we would provide you with the best resources. What do you think?"

Seeing how Vice Sect Leader Lei reacted, Xiao Yu pulled back. She felt a little like a big grey wolf asking a little rabbit to open the door.

Elder Fang wasn't looking pleased. She knew what Vice Sect Leader Lei meant by asking Xiao Yu to go under the wing of the Sect Leader and providing her with the best resources.

Although she wasn't comfortable, she did not speak a word. Xiao Yu had an Inborn Constitution after all.

If Xiao Yu announced she had an Inborn Constitution, even the Sacred Sects would fight over her.

She's not qualified to become the master of Xiao Yu.

"Master!" Xiao Yu lifted her head and pulled Elder Fang's arm.

Elder Fang had a bitter look. "Xiao Yu, I'm not qualified to become your master. Let our Sect Leader guide you!"

"Master, I have already seen you as my master. Moreover, it is you who brought me here. My brother also agrees to you being my master," Xiao Yu looked at Elder Fang and said.

"Xiao Yu, your master would be our Sect Leader. He's the strongest in our Sect. Elder Fang is not qualified to guide you."

Elder Zhou glanced at Elder Fang in envy before saying this to Xiao Yu with a smile.

She called Xiao Yu a jynx previously but didn't dare to do so now. Instead, she couldn't wait to get on the good books of this future Inborn expert.

"This..." Xiao Yu looked at her master, feeling indecisive.

She had already taken Elder Fang as her master from the bottom of her heart. However, Elder Fang had also wanted the Sect Leader to guide her. This made her feel a little indecisive.

The crowd below the platform saw what had happened and almost fainted.

What the... Vice Sect Leader wants the Sect Leader to be your master and yet you are hesitating?

How infuriating!

Chapter 149: Saintess (2)

"She will continue to have Elder Fang as her teacher!" Seeing Xiao Yu growing flustered, Wang Xian slowly stepped forward from the audience.

He knew about the Thistles and Thorns Sect. The Sect Leader was a ninety-year-old man.

When he thought about Xiao Yu becoming the disciple of an old man, he preferred Elder Fang to him.

Besides, as Xiao Yu progressed with her cultivation, the Sect Leader would still be able to guide her. Moreover, Wang Xian would be around too.

"Who are you? This is not something you can poke your nose in. Hmph!" Upon hearing Wang Xian's comment, Elder Zhou frowned and shouted at him.

"Brother!" Xiao Yu spun around and called him as soon as she heard his voice.

"Hur? Is he your brother?" The Elder Zhou was stunned, and her expression quickly changed. She observed Wang Xian from head to toe. "I wasn't expecting you to be Xiao Yu's brother. Not bad. Do you want to join the Thistles and Thorns Sect too? How about this? I'll take you as my disciple and groom you."

"Eh..." Wang Xian was speechless as he looked at the middle-aged woman. What a fence-sitter.

"Eh, he is...?"

At that point in time, a young man had stepped out suddenly and declared that he was Xiao Yu's brother. All eyes were on him.

Those who wished to join the Thistles and Thorns Sect were all people from Pengzhou and Rivertown.

Among those were ancient martial artists from Rivertown who did not join any sects and they were not from any families as their strength was not strong enough. They were considered rogue cultivators.

Some of the rogue cultivators wanted their sons or grandchildren to join the Thistles and Thorns Sect for a better cultivation environment. At the same time, they could get themselves a strong backing. Hence, they brought their offspring here.

Wang Xian had been hiding in the crowd, and hence, no one recognized him.

But when he walked out, those who came from Rivertown recognized him immediately.

"He is here!"

Those rogue cultivators from Rivertown were struck by terror. Whatever happened that night was still vivid to them.

That young man led the Dragon Sect and trampled the Yan Family.

Since then, that terrifying Inborn Expert had cursed every one of them.

Whenever anyone wanted to talk about what happened that night, that person would die an immediate death.

A terrifying curse.

However, they did not mind about the curse as they had participated in that incident as well. They did it to ensure that no one would ever leak out the truth.

She's the younger sister of the Dragon King. No wonder she has the Inborn Constitution, those rogue cultivators from Rivertown thought to themselves. They walked towards Wang Xian, ignoring all the strange looks cast on them.

"Greetings to the Dragon King!" Dozens of middle-aged old men brought their children over to Wang Xian respectfully and greeted him.

The one over here is the real king. What is Thistles and Thorns Sect to him?

"Isn't he the Miracle Doctor Wang?"

Not only were those rogue cultivators from Rivertown stunned, but those wealthy people who had some connections were also stunned when they saw

Wang Xian.

They might not know what had happened to the Yan Family, but they knew the miracle doctor of Rivertown, Miracle Doctor Wang.

It was said that Miracle Doctor Wang had the ultimate skills in Rivertown, and that even Old Qin and the Qin Family had to treat him politely.

Besides, there were those affluent people who attended the Qin Family's dinner that night too.

Hence, they did not hesitate at all when they saw the rogue cultivators go up to him and greet him.

"Miracle Doctor Wang!" Another dozen people came to Wang Xian and greeted him with humility too.

This had caused the people from Thistles and Thorns Sect and Pengzhou to be dumbfounded.

"What's with those from Rivertown? Why are they so respectful to that young man?"

"Dragon King? Miracle Doctor Wang? What a title!"

"Those who are here are somewhat capable people. Yet, they are so respectful to that young man. Who is he? What sort of background does he have?"

"Mm." Wang Xian looked at those people from the Rivertown, nodded his head slightly and waved them off.

The rogue cultivators and the rich did utter a word and returned to their original spots.

"Gosh!"

"This...."

What did it feel like when some courtiers were paying their respects to their king?

Unbelievable, unbelievable.

All the Pengzhou people were taken aback as they wondered how formidable this young man was, making these people back off with just a gesture.

The higher management of the Thistles and Thorns Sect were staring at Wang Xian with disbelief too. Even Vice Sect Leader Lei showed a doubtful look in his eyes.

"Elder Song, I asked you to check on the information from Rivertown..."

"Vice Sect Leader Lei, I remember! It's him. So it's him!"

Elder Song suddenly interrupted Vice Sect Leader Lei as he continued with a shocked face. "According to the info that we got, there was a mysterious young man known as Miracle Doctor Wang in Rivertown. He defeated Fang Huazi, who was ranked 18th in the domestic Miracle Doctors Chart easily with his medical skills. At the same time, he crippled Fang Huazi's arms. Also, we found out that all the Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown share a close relationship with this young man. When we wanted to dig deeper, we couldn't find any further information."

"Now he operates a medical hall in Rivertown. He charges a high consultation fee and is known as the Crazy Doctor. In Rivertown, it is said that he can treat all illnesses!"

Elder Song swept a glance at Wang Xian with radiance flickering in his eyes as he spoke with some shock.

"Miracle Doctor Wang in the Rivertown? I've heard of him. He defeated the Sacred Followers Guild, which goes to show that he is formidable!" another elder said with a solemn face.

Xiao Yu was among them as she listened to their remarks about her brother. Her lips were slightly parted, as she did not expect her brother would be so powerful.

"A miracle doctor is equivalent to a sect!" Vice Sect Leader Lei said slowly, and everyone was struck with complex thoughts.

Indeed. A miracle doctor is equivalent to a sect.

Those miracle doctors on the Miracle Doctors Chart would have a strong network. They could even get a Half-step to Inborn Martial Artist over if they asked for it.

The Inborn Experts could even owe those better doctors a considerable favor.

With the strength that could defeat Fang Huazi from the Sacred Followers Guild, and also being ranked 18th on the Miracle Doctor Chart...this was good enough for the Thistles and Thorns Sect to be wary of.

"I did not expect Xiao Yu's brother was such a famous person." Radiance flickered in Elder Fang's eyes. The disciple whom she'd discovered accidentally had a more profound and more terrifying background.

"Xiao Yu's brother is Miracle Doctor Wang. I'm sorry that I didn't recognize you!" Vice Sect Leader Lei had a change in his expression. He cupped his fist at Wang Xian and spoke politely.

"It's fate." Wang Xian smiled. "I did not expect Elder Fang to take in my sister as her disciple all of a sudden."

"You should know that Xiao Yu has the Inborn Constitution!" Vice Sect Leader Lei said hesitantly.

"Of course, I know. I thought she could begin her cultivation at a later stage. But since she's happy about it, I'll just let her be." Wang Xian nodded his head. "Besides, I also learned about Thistles and Thorns Sect. You have some good reviews."

Vice Sect Leader Lei and the rest of the elders felt uncomfortable about what Wang Xian had said.

Obviously, Wang Xian had checked on the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

However, they got over it very soon. After all, his sister had joined a sect out of the blue. As her brother, it was natural for him to find out more.

If they thought further, having Xiao Yu with such a powerful brother would be extremely beneficial to the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

Chapter 150: Saintess (3)

In the future, not only did Thistles and Thorns Sect have a disciple with Inborn Constitution, but it had also gained the friendship of a powerful miracle doctor.

At the thought of this, Vice Sect Leader Lei exchanged glances with the Elder group.

It was clear that they couldn't hide their excitement.

For the Thistles and Thorns Sect, today was their lucky day.

Just as Vice Sect Leader Lei had shouted previously, the Heavens were blessing the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

"Does Miracle Doctor Wang have any opinion on the master of Xiao Yu. Our intention will be to let our Sect Leader guide Xiao Yu personally. After all, our Sect Leader is a half-step to Inborn expert."

Vice Sect Leader Lei lowered his stance as he asked Wang Xian once again.

"Let's stick with Elder Fang. When Xiao Yu enters the Ancient Martial Arts circle, I will also help her out in cultivation," Wang Xian replied.

"Alright. In that case, let's go with what Miracle Doctor Wang suggested!" Vice Sect Leader Lei nodded his head.

Xiao Yu smiled, looked at her master and said, "Master, I think that's better too. It's you who brought me here while my brother has been hiding these things from me," Xiao Yu added and it was clear that she was still upset with Wang Xian.

This made Wang Xian smile bitterly. "I was thinking of letting you enjoy your university life."

Tsk! Xiao Yu rolled her eyes at him before breaking into laughter.

Elder Fang was a little moved. Her previous disciple only had high-class talents but was easily tempted and poached by other people. Now that her current disciple had Inborn Constitution, she wouldn't agree to letting the Sect Leader be her master, and chose her instead.

She was glad to have a disciple like her.

Different from Elder Fang, the surrounding Elders looked extremely displeased.

"Lei Quan, where's the disciple with Inborn Constitution?"

At this moment, an agitated voice pierced the atmosphere. Following which, an old man with a head of white hair rushed over at a horrifying pace.

Half-step to Inborn couldn't walk in the skies yet. Only by reaching the Inborn realm could one levitate in the air for short periods.

"Sect Leader!"

The Elder group and disciples immediately bowed. Vice Sect Leader Lei immediately walked to the old man and repeated the sequence of events.

"Great, great!"

The Sect Leader of Thistles and Thorns Sect was thrilled as he looked at Xiao Yu. After which, he turned to Wang Xian and greeted Wang Xian with his right fist clasped in his left palm.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I have long heard of you!"

"Sect Leader Tang, greetings!"

Wang Xian exchanged customary words.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, are you really letting Xiao Yu join our Thistles and Thorns Sect? With Xiao Yu's gift and your ability, it would be easy for you to get her into a Sacred Sect!" Sect Leader Tang asked Wang Xian calmly.

"Since fate brought us here, let's just go with it. It doesn't matter if it is a First-class Sect or Sacred Sect," Wang Xian replied nonchalantly.

"In that case, Xiao Yu will be a member of the Thistles and Thorns Sect from here onwards. Haha. Since Xiao Yu still insisted to let Elder Fang be her master, I'm fine with it. I could find time to guide her in her training in the future too."

Sect Leader Tang laughed loudly. His face was rosy and he was also very agitated. He hesitated for a moment before making the decision. "Members of Thistles and Thorns Sect, listen!"

"Here!"

All the disciples, including the Elders and Vice Sect Leader Lei all bowed down.

Those juveniles who had not joined Thistles and Thorns Sect also followed and lowered their bodies.

"From today onwards, our Thistles and Thorns Sect will have a Saintess position. Xiao Yu will be the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect. Her status will be equal to Vice Sect Leader Lei. No one is allowed to go against the words of the Saintess. Otherwise, he would be punished according to our sect rules. When the Saintess reaches the Inborn Realm and leads our Thistles and Thorns Sect forward, she will take over the role as the Sect Leader!" Sect Leader Tang announced to the crowd.

Everyone was shocked but no one objected.

One who had the Inborn Constitution could easily reach the Inborn Realm with cultivation. On that day, she would be able to lead Thistles and Thorns Sect to join the ranks of First-class Sects.

Even if she was made the Saintess, no one would object to it.

Upon hearing the announcement of the Sect Leader, Xiao Yu was stunned and shocked.

Wang Xian stood aside and smiled. Even with Xiao Yu's constitution, he was a little surprised that Xiao Yu was designated as the Saintess and the future successor of the Sect Leader.

The only question would be if Xiao Yu was willing to take up the role of the Sect Leader.

However, it would be fine even if she wasn't willing. In the worst scenario, Wang Xian could help to raise an Inborn expert.

Disregarding others, it would be easy for him to create another Inborn Constitution.

Wang Xian was equivalent to a "bug" like existence for the Ancient Martial Arts circle.

However, it would be difficult for him to raise someone above the realm of Inborn.

"Greetings, Saintess!"

An Elder went down on one knee in front of Xiao Yu and greeted with respect.

The surrounding Elders, excluding Xiao Yu's Master, Elder Fang, also went down on one knee.

The rest of the disciples of Thistles and Thorns Sect had also gone down on one knee as they greeted the Saintess.

Prostration was only done when Xiao Yu assumed the role. Under normal circumstances, even ordinary disciples wouldn't have to execute such prostration.

After all, modern era thinking was also affecting the Ancient Martial Arts circle.

"You guys... Get up quickly!"

Seeing everyone paying such high respect to her, Xiao Yu's blushed and spoke quickly.

Below the stage, Zi Yan'er was shivering slightly and her eyes were filled with fear.

She lifted her head and saw the girl she'd been mocking a while ago. She couldn't help but regret her action.

"Will she expel me? Or..."

Zi Yan'er was filled with horror and fear and did not move an inch while kneeling down. When everyone got up, she didn't even notice.

Where the Song Family was, Song Aowen also lowered his head. He recalled his arrogant remark previously that this girl was pretty.

If he dared to say this at this moment, disregarding others, his grandfather would kill him.

You're just a piece of trash. She's way out of your league!

"Mm. All newly enrolled disciples gather in front!" Vice Sect Leader Lei nodded his head in approval and said to the group of juveniles in front of him.

The group of juveniles immediately rushed forward and stood upright.

Vice Sect Leader Lei looked across and his attention eventually landed on Zi Yan'er.

Seeing Vice Sect Leader Lei staring at her, Zi Yan'er's expression turned as white as a sheet.

"Are you Zi Yan'er? Your talents are still commendable. From here on out, you shall follow behind the Saintess and are in charge of her living needs!" Vice Sect Leader Lei announced.

"She's so lucky to be able to stay close to the future Inborn expert!"

"She could follow the Saintess around! What a lucky girl!"

The juveniles looked at Zi Yan'er with envy.

Upon hearing the words of Vice Sect Leader Lei, Zi Yan'er's expression turned even paler. Her legs went wobbly and she almost fell to the ground.

With a little crying tone, she answered, "Yes!"

"Mm." When Vice Sect Leader Lei saw her, he thought she was just a little agitated and wasn't too concerned.

Xiao Yu looked at that girl and revealed a smile. However, she wasn't intending to be calculative with her!

Chapter 151: Home

"Brother, if Sect Leader Tang wants me to inherit the Thistles and Thorns Sect as the Sect Leader after four or five years, do you think I should do it?"

"Do whatever you like. Just letting your vice sect leader handle the sect's affairs will do. Didn't Sect Leader Tang do that to Vice Sect Leader Lei? Since Vice Sect Leader Lei and Sect Leader Tang will assist you, you shouldn't have much to worry about."

"But I'll be just 23 or 24 then. Am I not too young? I'm afraid they will not listen to me!"

"In the Ancient Martial Arts World, people respect those who are highly skilled. Since you possess strength at such a young age, people will be respectful to you..."

"But...But..."

"If you don't want to be the Sect Leader, you can just say no!"

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu laughed as they walked towards the carpark area near the Thistles and Thorns Sect. They walked as they exchanged conversation after midnight.

On hearing the last answer from her brother, Xiao Yu was displeased and she pouted. "But I want to become the Sect Leader. I want to uphold the righteous and help the weak, leading the Thistles and Thorns Sect to become the strongest sect. Then, I'll be the renowned Xiao Yu, a female God of War and Warrior of the Ancient Martial Art World. Hehe."

As she spoke, she seemed to be imagining herself to be the next Sect Leader, leading the Thistles and Thorns Sect and becoming a female God of War.

Wang Xian chuckled. "Well if you want to be a female God of War you must work hard. If you want to cultivate, I have ways to speed up your process in attaining Inborn Realm."

"Really, brother?" Xiao Yu asked, brightening up her eyes.

"Yes, within half a year. Half a year is good enough for you to attain the Inborn Realm."

Wang Xian smiled as he spoke to Xiao Yu. For Dragonians, Wang Xian could help them to attain the Inborn Realm within a hundred days even if they were average people. But Xiao Yu did not have the Divine Dragon bloodline. For her to achieve the Inborn Realm, half a year would be good enough.

"Half a year?" Xiao Yu parted her lips slightly. Then she nodded her head with a resolute look on her face.

Wang Xian beamed as he looked at the motivated Xiao Yu.

"Let's go home the day after tomorrow," said Wang Xian to Xiao Yu.

"Okay, Sister Li's wedding is on October 3rd. Uncle Zhang is having a wedding banquet!" Xiao Yu said with a smile.

After they sat in the car, the middle-aged driver started the engine and drove them home.

"We're fortunate this time. With the rise of the Thistles and Thorns Sect, it will be more advantageous to us!"

"That girl is quite a daunting talent. A Saintess! You must respect her when you see that girl in the future!"

"Yes, father."

"Thanks to her, you can get into the Thistles and Thorns Sect this time. Practice hard on your cultivation."

"Saintess's brother is somebody. He could even talk to Sect Leader Tang, a Half-step to Inborn Expert, on an equal status. You must find a way to befriend the Saintess. She's the future Sect Leader of the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

When the Saintess and her brother went into the car, those middle-aged and old men reminded their children since they were following behind Wang Xian and Xiao Yu from about ten meters away.

The Song Family was among them too. They cast their respectful and fearful gazes on the young man and girl who went into the car.

"Your grandfather wants us to please the Saintess since she will be the leader of Thistles and Thorns Sect in the future. Also, it would be best if we could curry favor with her brother too!" An old man looked around the family members and spoke slowly.

"The Saintess's brother, Miracle Doctor Wang?" Song Aowen frowned.

That young man was only older than him by a few years. In the beginning, Song Aowen had been a genius. But now, a girl appeared and surpassed him immediately. He was already feeling uncomfortable with it. If he was asked to please the Saintess, he had nothing to say. But he did not have to please the young man.

"Your grandfather is in charge of the Information Department of the Thistles and Thorns Sect. According to the information he got, he thinks that the Saintess's brother is even more daunting than the Saintess. Remember how the rogue cultivators and the rich from Rivertown were acting tonight?"

Song Aowen froze and frowned.

"Your grandfather suspected that her brother does not only possess formidable medical skills, but also has mighty strength. Of course, all these things were speculation. But whatever we saw was already good enough to give him our respect," the old man continued.

Song Aowen slightly hesitated before he nodded his head. "Grandfather, I know what to do."

"Mm!" The old man nodded slowly.

...

When Wang Xian and Xiao Yu reached Xiao Yu, it was almost 1 am. The dormitory was locked. So they had to sleep in separate rooms in the hotel.

In such a situation, Wang Xian wondered if he should get a house.

As soon as the thought was planted, he could not control it from growing. If he had a house near the sea, he would not have to stay in the dormitory anymore.

Besides, he rarely went to school nowadays. Staying in the dormitory was inconvenient to him.

If he lived near the sea, he could go directly as and when he wanted to.

Moreover, it was inconvenient to date Guan Shuqing if he stayed in the dormitory. If he got a house outside... heh heh heh!

Wang Xian burst out with kinky laughter as he thought about it. After all, he was already 20 years old. Sometimes, his underwear got wet during his sleep.

Heh heh!

A sea-view house in Rivertown would cost over ten million. But he could afford to get one now.

It was one day before the National Day holiday, and it also marked the last day of the military training.

During the last night of military training, the school held an orientation night. The programs were quite good, but Wang Xian and Xiao Yu were not in the mood for it.

Xiao Yu had started her cultivation ever since she obtained the Art of Cultivation.

Wang Xian was speechless upon seeing her overdone way of cultivating.

On the first day of the holiday, Xiao Yu drove Guan Shuqing home before they headed back to their home.

Their hometown was next to Lake Xianfeng at Feng Lake County, in Pengzhou City. The county was small with lovely scenery.

When the pink Bentley drove into the county, it drew a lot of surprise from many people.

Such a luxury car almost did not exist in the county.

The car drove to the northern part of the county near Lake Xianfeng, which was surrounded by paddy fields.

About seventy to eighty residents were residing on one stretch of the paddy fields.

As it was far away from the city center, this area was also much of the countryside.

The road was smooth with poplar trees planted by the residents on both sides. Each poplar tree was more than ten meters in height.

During summer, those aunties and uncles who had nothing to do loved to gather under the shade for mahjong or chit-chatting sessions.

Looking around at the surroundings, Wang Xian felt a sense of belonging.

"What a beautiful car!"

When the pink Bentley was driving down the road, the surrounding people under the shade were staring at it with shock.

"This... this 'B' logo. Is that... a Bentley? Oh right, I heard their cars cost a few million each."

"Wow, a few million? We can buy a few houses in the city center of this county."

"It's a dead-end in front. I wonder who their relatives are."

"Who has such rich relatives?"

As everyone looked doubtfully at the car under the shade, the car stopped in front of the single-story house.

A young man and a young girl stepped out of the car.

Chapter 152: In Return

"Eh? That is...?"

"Aren't they the siblings, Wang Xian and Wang Yu?"

"Yea, it's really them! This... How can this be possible? They even had trouble gathering the school fees previously? How can they afford to drive such a good car now?"

"Although these sibling are poor, they are pretty good in studies and have qualified for the first-tier university."

"Did they engage in illegal dealings? Otherwise, how can they afford such a good car?"

"I believe they borrowed it from others!"

The people of the current era were no longer as pure and honest. They had a serious mentality comparing with others.

Comparing their cars, comparing the results of their kids and comparing the conditions of the family.

Wang Xian and Wang Yu's family was the poorest among the 70-80 families in this area.

When their grandmother was still alive, she couldn't do much because of her old age. They were barely able to make ends meets by doing some farming and receiving aid from their neighbour, Uncle Zhang.

When the people tried to educate their kids, they always liked to use Wang Xian and Wang Yu as examples. Look at you! Take a look at Wang Xian and Wang Yu. Their results are so good even though they barely get enough food. What about you? You get to eat well and live in a comfortable environment and yet your results are so bad!

Although they were complimenting Wang Xian and Wang Yu for doing well in their studies, they were also commenting on their family background.

They were really poor!

When Wang Xian heard the exclamations and doubts from his neighbour, he wasn't bothered.

Among the surrounding 70-80 families, only Uncle Zhang had been kind to them from the bottom of his heart.

As for the other families, Wang Xian didn't want to comment.

He could still remember the incident when his neighbour, who had a relatively good relationship with them, hired Xiao Yu to give tutoring to their daughter.

After giving tutoring for over a month, they only gave Xiao Yu $300.

Each session lasted three to four hours and she was giving their daughter tutoring every day. Yet, they only paid her $300. This left him speechless and helpless at those moments.

They knew clearly that Wang Xian's family wasn't doing well and took advantage of them. This made Wang Xian and Xiao Yu disappointed.

However, they were both young at that time and didn't speak up about it.

Since then, he finally got a clear view of the kind of people they were.

Wang Xian took out the key and opened the door.

It was a small house and it didn't have many things in it.

Other than a simple sofa and a few stools, the left and right rooms were Xiao Yu's and his bedroom respectively. As Xiao Yu had cleaned the place before he went to Rivertown for her studies, the house wasn't very dirty.

"Take out the presents! Let's go to Uncle Zhang's house!" Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu as he walked to the back of the car and took out some gifts.

Wang Xian had personally bought these gifts. Uncle Zhang liked to drink tea and therefore Wang Xian bought him some tea leaves.

Pu'er tea leaves from the 1980s! Each catty would cost $120,000 and Wang Xian bought two boxes for Uncle Zhang.

Five sticks of premium cigarettes from "Huang Helou" and "Supreme Ruler" which cost $18,000 in total.

Uncle Zhang didn't drink and therefore Wang Xian did not buy alcohol for him. He also bought Aunt Zhang some cosmetics and accessories which cost a bomb too.

As for Sister Li, he bought her a watch that cost over a hundred thousand.

"Let's go!" Wang Xian carried the gifts and said to Xiao Yu.

"Alright, brother!"

The two of them headed out of their house. However, when they reached the door, they saw three housewives, a middle-aged man and an old man walking towards their house.

"Eh. Xiao Xian, Xiao Yu? Did you guys... strike the lottery?"

The crowd at the door looked over inquisitively. They noticed the gifts in Wang Xian's hands and asked their question curiously.

"We did make some money!" Seeing that they were their neighbours and seniors, Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Where are you guys going?" Seeing Wang Xian carrying the gifts, the middle-aged man smiled and asked.

"We are going to Uncle Zhang's house. We got him some gifts." Wang Xian said plainly before continuing. "We'll be going over now."

"Eh, what are you carrying? Huang Helou? Supreme Ruler? Pu'er Tea?"

That middle-aged man was surprised by the gifts in Wang Xian's hands.

"Just some small tokens," Wang Xian said plainly before heading to a nearby house with Xiao Yu.

"What's Huang Helou? What's Supreme Ruler?" the housewives standing by the side asked the middle-aged man inquisitively.

"Cigarettes." The middle-aged man's eyes were still fixed on Wang Xian's gifts. His eyes were full of shock.

"How valuable could cigarettes be?" The group of housewives sneered.

"One stick costs approximately $1,800. He had 10 sticks with him and so those are close to $20,000."

The middle-aged man lit a cigarette from the cigarette pack that cost $10 as he spoke.

"$1,800 for a stick? So expensive?"

"Oh my gosh. Can it be that the Wang siblings have really gotten rich?"

"Let's go take a look!"

The crowd followed behind curiously as they headed towards Uncle Zhang's house.

When Wang Xian and Xiao Yu arrived at the doorstep, a land rover, which cost approximately two to three million dollars, drove out from Uncle Zhang's house.

Wang Xian was taken aback. Through the car window, he could see that it was a young man who was driving the car.

Uncle Zhang and his family did not send him off and this made Wang Xian a little suspicious.

"Have the wedding matters been settled?"

"Who knows? Xiao Li is marrying into a rich family but this might not be a good thing after all."

"That's true. I heard that she's getting married only because she is pregnant! Hehe!"

"Yeah. I heard rumors that the groom's family wasn't agreeable to this wedding."

Comments from the housewives sounded from behind Wang Xian and Xiao Yu.

Wang Xian frowned. After seeing that the land rover had driven off, he walked through the main door.

Once he was in the yard, he could see Uncle Zhang and his family sitting in the living room. Uncle Zhang was smoking and was clearly not looking pleased.

"Uncle Zhang!" Wang Xian shouted.

Uncle Zhang was taken aback. When he saw Wang Xian and Xiao Yu, he immediately extinguished the cigarette in his hand and revealed a smile. "Wang Xian and Xiao Yu, you guys are finally on break!"

Uncle Zhang had taken great care of Wang Xian and this might be because he did not have a son.

"Yeah, we got back once the school break started. We bought you some gifts too!" Wang Xian replied and walked towards the house.

"Why did you even bring gifts over? Are you rich now? Take them away, take them away!"

Seeing Wang Xian carrying bags of gifts with him, he reprimanded Wang Xian fiercely.

"Hehe, I really am a little rich now!"

Wang Xian chuckled as he walked in and placed the gifts on the table.

He had been to Uncle Zhang's house for meals frequently. Therefore, both Wang Xian and Xiao Yu were familiar with the place.

"Why did you go to the expense of buying gifts? Just make sure you guys can take care of yourself!" Aunt Zhang stood up and grumbled. "Take them away, take them away."

Wang Xian felt warmth from their actions. He smiled and replied, "We have already bought them and can't get a refund on these."

"You kids!"

"Old Zhang, take a look at what Xiao Xian got for you! Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu came in a luxury car just a while ago. That car is worth at least several million!"

Behind them, the neighbour who followed Wang Xian toward Uncle Zhang's family commented curiously.

"Luxury car?" Uncle Zhang was stunned. He then looked at the gifts in the bags.

10 sticks of cigarettes. These were the kind that he had never smoked before. In addition, there were two boxes of tea leaves which were his favourites.

"Huang Helou, Supreme Leader and '8582 brand Pu'er Tea Leaves."

Sister Li, who had been standing by the table, suddenly revealed a surprised look after taking a look at the gifts.

"I heard that Huang Helou and Supreme Ruler both cost $1,800 a stick. My box of cigarettes only cost me slightly over $100. A single stick is enough for me to get 10 boxes of cigarettes!" a middle-aged man commented with envy.

"So expensive?" Uncle Zhang was shocked.

"Dad, these cigarettes are cheap in comparison. 8582 Pu'er Tea leaves are the really expensive ones. A box will cost at least a few hundred thousand," Sister Li commented.

"What?"

Chapter 153: The Wedding

All of them stared at the two boxes of tea leaves in shock.

Zhang Yuanli was taken by surprise too. She'd found herself a rich boyfriend. As such, she understood some of these things.

She and her boyfriend had once bought a box of Pu'er tea leaves from the 1980s for an elder.

However, she never expected this brother would gift two boxes of such tea leaves to her father. It cost more than $200,000!

"It's just some tea leaves. Since Uncle Zhang loves to drink tea, I had to buy him some good ones!"

Looking at his surprised look, Wang Xian chuckled. No amount of money could measure the bonds they shared.

"Aunt Zhang, Sister Li, we bought you some presents too." Xiao Yu, at the side, beamed as she took out Aunt Zhang's jewelry and Sister Li's watch.

"This..."

Zhang Yuanli was taken aback when Xiao Yu passed her the Vacheron Constantin watch and the platinum jewelry to her mother.

"All these things cost at least $200,000...?" said Zhang Yuanli in shock as she looked at Xiao Yu and Wang Xian.

"$200,000? And these things... didn't they cost around half a million?" Uncle Zhang was stunned. His expression was slightly different than before.

"Xiao Xian, did you do something bad? Where on earth did you get the money to buy all these things? I'm telling you, we cannot do anything that breaks the law," said Uncle Zhang.

The rest of the people around them were staring at Wang Xian with doubts and suspicions.

How can a student have the money to buy such expensive gifts?

Not to mention, they were from the poor Wang siblings.

"Uncle Zhang, when I was in college, I earned some money by chance with my own restaurant and a hospital in Rivertown. Now, I'm still quite loaded," Wang Xian explained ambiguously. "When you go to Rivertown next time, I can bring you guys to check out my restaurant."

"Restaurant? Hospital?" Uncle Zhang felt relaxed when he heard what Wang Xian said. "That's good. But the things you bought were too expensive."

"It's okay!" Wang Xian shook his head. "It's not much. Don't worry, Uncle Zhang. I'm rich enough to buy these things!"

"Oh well, you've grown up in the blink of an eye. You became more capable. That's very good!" Uncle Zhang patted him on the shoulder with consolation.

"He is rich now!" The surrounding neighbors stared at Wang Xian with a surprised look.

They were jealous when they saw the gifts that Wang Xian sent to Uncle Zhang and his family.

Almost half a million worth of gifts, yet Wang Xian gave it readily to Uncle Zhang, and they might receive more in the future.

"I didn't expect Xiao Xian to be earning big bucks now. That's incredible. He's a boss at such a young age."

"I thought so too. Xiao Xian is so clever. He will become somebody in the future. It's happening now."

"Xiao Xian is awesome at such a young age. He might become a millionaire in the future. Xiao Xian, don't forget us in the future."

The surrounding crowd praised Wang Xian with faces full of smiles as they curried favor.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded but did not utter a word.

Everyone felt embarrassed.

"Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu, have you had your lunch? It's almost noon. I'll make your lunch now!" Aunt Zhang stood up at this time as she asked them.

"Not yet. Thanks, Aunt Zhang."

"Don't stand on ceremony with me. You just arrived, right? Take a seat and chat with Uncle Zhang!"

Uncle Zhang opened up the cigarette packaging and distributed a box to each of the neighbors. He spoke with them for a while before they finally left.

"Xiao Li, brew the tea for your brother and me!" Uncle Zhang took out the tea leaves happily.

"Sure, Dad!"

"Xiao Xian, since you're doing well, I feel at ease now. From now on, don't buy these things for me anymore," said Uncle Zhang to Wang Xian smilingly.

"Okay." Wang Xian chuckled and asked with doubts, "Oh, Uncle. Who drove out just now when I was here?"

"Your future brother-in-law." Uncle Zhang was obviously unhappy when he said this. "Sigh, let's not talk about this. Xiao Xian, how's school?"

Uncle Zhang changed the topic, and Wang Xian did not continue to ask. Instead, he chatted with Uncle Zhang about other things.

"Uncle Zhang, since Sister Li is getting married, aren't you busy now?"

After lunch, Wang Xian saw Uncle Zhang sipping his tea relaxingly, and he raised his question.

"Nothing to be busy about. Since the banquet is managed by the hotel, it's much more manageable than before," Uncle Zhang answered.

"Oh, Uncle Zhang. Where's your fishing rod? Let's go fishing if you have nothing going on later."

Lake Xianfeng was quite renowned in the entire southern province. The entire lake spanned thirty to forty kilometers, and the deepest area of the lake was more than ten meters deep.

Uncle Zhang even undertook an area at the Lake Xianfeng to rear fish.

Wang Xian had loved to fish since he was young. The fish that he caught mostly turned into food on the table.

"Fishing? We can't fish anymore. This year, weird things have happened to Lake Xianfeng. Not a single fish could be found in it. Those fish that I reared in the fish pond this year were all gone. It's very odd. All the families which reared fish incurred quite a loss!"

When Uncle Zhang talked about the fish, he frowned immediately.

"The fish were gone in all of Lake Xianfeng?" Wang Xian's curiosity was piqued.

"Yes, it was bizarre. This even went on the news, and someone was sent to investigate. But there isn't any conclusion to date. I reared more than 10,000 catties of fish, but now it's all gone." Uncle Zhang shook his head and sighed.

"Oh?" Wang Xian was even more doubtful.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu returned to their home from Uncle Zhang's place after 2 pm.

After they came back home, Xiao Yu smiled and asked Wang Xian, "Brother, do you know who Sister Li is marrying?"

"Not sure. Uncle Zhang looks like he didn't want to talk about this, so I didn't ask much."

"She's marrying someone from Rivertown. A rich second generation! I heard Sister Li say that his family is rich!"

"Really? But why did Uncle Zhang seem reluctant about this?" asked Wang Xian curiously.

"Brother, Sister Li told me that her future husband has some family issues."

"What issues?" Wang Xian looked curiously at Xiaoyu.

"Sister Li's husband came from a wealthy family. His family disagreed with this marriage in the beginning. But Sister Li's husband loves her so much that they got a baby. That is why they had no choice but to agree."

"Moreover, Sister Li told me that her husband's parents were going to arrange a joint marriage with an equally wealthy family. Hence, even though they agreed to the marriage, they were not happy at all."

"Simply said, they are looking down on Sister Li's family. Hmph! What snobs!"

"This time, Uncle Zhang was angry about the bride's car. Uncle Zhang's original plan was to get the groom to fetch the bride from here since it is only a two-hour car ride from Rivertown. The atmosphere would be far more lively, and Uncle Zhang and his family would look good. Yet the other party's parents turned this idea down because it was too troublesome. They wanted to ask Sister Li to set off from a hotel in Rivertown."

"The man was a weakling too. He dared not defy what his father said. What was more infuriating was that Sister Li is getting married, but the guy did not help her at all. He said he was busy with his own family work. Don't you feel angry too?"

Chapter 154: Venomous Sea Snake

Note: The venomous sea snake within this chapter refers to a type of snake often found in historical Chinese culture that has the ability to evolve into a dragon.

Xiao Yu grumbled as she explained to Wang Xian.

After learning the causes and effects, Wang Xian also frowned. No matter how one looked at this, the groom's actions weren't right.

A wedding should be a joyous event. Since they had decided to get married, they should complete the wedding joyously. Now that it had turned out this way, it was only natural that Uncle Zhang wasn't pleased.

"Perhaps the groom's family is trying to show they are infuriated by doing so. What an egocentric family! Sister Li's boyfriend isn't helping the situation. He doesn't have a backbone," Xiao Yu grumbled and felt indignance for Sister Li.

Wang Xian frowned and commented, "Forget it. It's not appropriate for us to speak on this. Let's just follow Uncle Zhang's decision."

Since this was relating to Sister Li's wedding, it wasn't appropriate for Wang Xian to comment on it.

"Xiao Xian, Xiao Yu. Are you guys there?"

"Can it be that these kids have gone to bed?"

At this moment, a foreign voice sounded from outside their home. The voice seemed to be from a neighbour of theirs.

"Sleep!"

Wang Xian said softly to Xiao Yu before walking towards his room.

Xiao Yu also stuck out her tongue playfully as she headed for her room.

They had seen the true colors of these people and there wasn't a point to keep in contact with them.

When one got rich, others would claim to be your relative even if you stayed deep in the mountains. On the contrary, when one was poor, no one would show concern for you even if you lived in a lively city.

That's the way things were!

"Can it be that these kids aren't at home?"

"Their car is still here. Where else could they go?"

"I guess they have gone to bed?"

Some people commented at the doorstep. Seeing that they weren't getting a response from within the house, they shook their heads helplessly as they turned back.

In this small area with 70-80 families, the news of the Wang siblings getting rich had spread within a few hours.

They drove a luxury car that cost several million and even gave Old Zhang's family gifts that cost $400,000 – $500,000.

This made many people jealous.

And they had come over to get on the good books of the Wang siblings in hopes of getting some benefits.

"You guys don't even take a second look at them and weren't willing to help them with the simplest thing in the past. Now, you guys are trying to curry favor from them? These kids aren't silly!"

Just a short distance away, Uncle Zhang sat at the entrance of his house. He shook his head in contempt as he saw the group of people.

Only by treating others with sincerity would you be returned with sincerity.

Wang Xian took an hour nap in the afternoon. He took out his phone to play after getting bored.

If it wasn't because of Sister Li's wedding, Wang Xian wasn't thinking of returning during the National Day holidays.

Other than Uncle Zhang's family, there wasn't anything that he felt sentimental about in this place.

After having dinner at Uncle Zhang's place, he returned to his home.

Xiao Yu continued with her cultivation enthusiastically. One could easily tell the advancements she was making as she had the Inborn Constitution.

Xiao Yu got a little addicted to the feeling of getting stronger quickly.

8 pm. The sky had turned dark. In places like the village, there wasn't anyone walking around at 8 pm.

Around the village, faint moonlight shone on the hazy world.

"I'll go take a look."

Xiao Yu was practicing her cultivation. Wang Xian was bored from having nothing to do. Recalling his conversation with Uncle Zhang in the afternoon, he got up and headed out.

Lake Xianfeng was just three to four hundred meters from his house. The lake was so huge that one could not see the end of it.

This was a naturally-formed lake. The villagers had occupied the area near the shores to rear fish. As for the deeper waters, there was a rule that limited fishing to five days a year.

During these five days, Lake Xianfeng would be extremely lively. Even people from nearby cities might come over for fishing.

Although it couldn't be compared to other large sized lakes in the country, Lake Xianfeng was still rather famous.

Wang Xian arrived at the lake and saw the glittering water under the moonlight.

He removed his underwear and jumped right into the lake.

Based on Uncle Zhang's account, the fish in Lake Xianfeng had mysteriously disappeared. This was definitely not common. Perhaps this is caused by some animals or even Ancient Martial Artists! Let's take a closer look! Wang Xian thought to himself before jumping in and swimming deeper into the lake.

As he dived into the lake, he gradually changed into a five to six meters long five-colored divine dragon.

The water near the edges was shallow. Wang Xian swayed his dragon tail as he swam rapidly towards the center of the lake.

His current speed was incredibly fast. In just five minutes, he had swum seven to eight kilometers.

The depth was over ten meters and the bottom of the lake was just mud.

Indeed, there aren't many fish in the surroundings!

Wang Xian looked around in shock. Due to restrictions on fishing in Lake Xianfeng, there should be a lot of fish. Whenever the fishing season arrived, the people had been able to catch over 100,000 tons of fish easily.

Yet, there were barely any fish left at this moment.

Wang Xian observed the surroundings carefully as he moved within the lake.

Nope, nope!

He covered the surrounding with his Dragon Power but couldn't sense any abnormality in the surrounding.

He looked across and hesitated for a moment before swimming in the East direction.

After swimming four to five kilometers, Wang Xian found that the bottom of the entire lake was abnormally ordinary. However, it was also because it was so ordinary that it was a little creepy.

Wang Xian felt like he was in a no man's land while staying under the water. There wasn't anyone around and the surroundings were serene and cold.

"Eh, this place..."

Wang Xian observed his front direction.

This place was even more desolate than the center of the lake. There wasn't even any animal in the surroundings.

Not even one or two small fish.

And at the bottom of the lake in front of Wang Xian, it was abnormally pitch dark.

He swam over and realized that it was a strange species of seagrass.

"Black seagrass?"

Wang Xian was surprised and grabbed it with his dragon claw.

Sss sss!

Wang Xian felt a corroding sensation on his dragon claw and was instantly shocked.

These seagrasses were poisonous!

Looking ahead, he noted that the areas covered by the seagrasses weren't small. It spanned approximately two thousand meters in radius.

He swam slowly above the seagrass and looked down at this strange region.

"That is...!"

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and looked at the middle of the grass.

At that place, there were nine caves. As to how deep these caves were, Wang Xian couldn't sense it.

Nonetheless, the entrance of each cave was at least one meter in width.

What's inside must be what's responsible for the disappearance of all the fish within Lake Xianfeng!

Wang Xian swam slowly above the cave entrance as he focused on the cave.

Growl!

The cave was extremely deep. Based on his senses, it should be over ten meters deep and he couldn't see what was in there.

He let out a light roar that carried the dragon power towards to cave.

Sss sss sss!

At this moment, a sound that resembled a poisonous snake hissing propagated across.

There were nine caves and nine pairs of black eyes were staring at him. Their black tongues had the shape of a triangle.

This was a species of snake. What really surprised Wang Xian was that where their heads were, there were bulging "buns."

The nine snakes only revealed their heads and stared coldly at Wang Xian.

"These are..."

Seeing the snakes that extended from nine caves, a thought came to his mind.

Venomous Sea Snake: Level 10

Extractable Dragon Energy: 235,432

Possess Wind Divine Dragon's bloodline

"Venomous Sea Snake! An animal that possesses the bloodline of the divine dragon!"

Wang Xian looked at the nine venomous sea snakes in shock. Extractable Dragon Energy from them was even higher than Roving Heavens. They must be horrifyingly strong.

Suddenly, he recalled the animal in ancient Chinese culture.

A venomous sea snake evolved into a serpent in 500 years. A serpent evolved into a dragon in 1,000 years. A dragon evolved into a horned-dragon in 500 years and into a winged-dragon in 1,000 years.

Winged-dragons had wings and were commonly known as the Wind Dragon.

This animal was an existence that had the bloodline of the divine dragon. Looking at their bulging heads, they must be evolving into serpents soon!

Chapter 155: Nine Dragons Royal Carriage (1)

Hiss!

Just when Wang Xian was staring at the venomous sea snakes, they stuck out their tongues slowly and wriggled out from the caves. With cold and sharp eyes, they glared at him as they squeezed their bodies together.

These venomous sea snakes are thinking of devouring me!

As Wang Xian sensed the look from the venomous sea snakes, he slowly retreated.

Nine Level-Ten venomous sea snakes were something of a threat to him. Especially when these snakes were much stronger than Roving Heavens.

Wang Xian could suppress Roving Heavens, but he had to be careful when facing these venomous sea snakes.

The venomous sea snakes wanted to devour him as a lower level Divine Dragon. If they could devour him, they could turn into dragons immediately!

Gobble him up!

Just as Wang Xian's thoughts were running, the venomous sea snake at the center threw its coiled body at him at a fast speed.

The intelligent snakes decided to join forces and attack him.

Wang Xian's expression changed slightly. He swiped his tail gently, creating a muddy swamp area with streams of water currents.

But to his surprise, the nine venomous sea snakes were moving as fast as him.

"After all, they have the bloodline of Wind Divine Dragon. Even Thunder Dragon could not compare its speed with them."

Wang Xian showed a stern look on his face. Seeing the incoming attack from the nine venomous sea snakes, he swept his tail across.

All the snakes were about five meters long, and their bodies were thicker than a human thigh. But they were smaller than Wang Xian.

Bam!

The mighty Divine Dragon Power swept three venomous sea snakes more than ten meters away.

But the fourth venomous sea snake opened its bloody mouth and bit onto Wang Xian's tail with its black teeth.

The immediate numbness stiffened up Wang Xian's body.

At the same time, the other five venomous sea snakes widened their lips just to chew at his body.

Hiss!

Wang Xian felt the immense pain as he sensed the poisonous teeth sinking into his body.

"This is bad. Their intelligence is too high to have a perfect joint attack."

Wang Xian had a slight expression change. The nine venomous sea snakes seemed to know what each other was thinking such that they could achieve a perfect attack.

Drops of fresh blood were absorbed by five poisonous snakes. If they did not bite on the body part which had the most robust defense, his injuries might be more serious.

"Get lost!" Wang Xian exclaimed, and the five colors on his body were flashing violently. Finally, his body turned green.

Green, the wood attributes of the Divine Dragon with anti-poison effect.

Roar!

Wang Xian widened his mouth and spurted a gust of green gas from it.

Sss!

The intense wood attributes gave off a sizzling sound when they hit the venomous sea snakes.

Hiss!

The six venomous sea snakes were in pain as they quickly loosened their bite and retreated.

Wang Xian jerked, releasing the green gas from his body, and his injuries were slowly recovering.

Hiss!

The nine venomous sea snakes stared at Wang Xian ferociously as they surrounded him once again.

Wang Xian stared back at them with icy cold eyes. He swayed his green body and cast a glance at the black seaweed in the surrounding area.

Roar!

This time, Wang Xian decided to strike before them. The green wood attributes spread out to the surroundings.

Whoosh!

Just then, the seaweed around them began to grow exponentially. Thousands of seaweeds twisted and slid towards the nine venomous sea snakes.

Hiss!

The venomous sea snakes swished and swam rapidly towards Wang Xian for an attack again.

"Ignorant!"

Wang Xian exuded a rich and immense green gas, causing the surrounding water plants to grow frantically.

It was as though the Wood Release* from the First Hokage in the Naruto Manga Series. [\[1\]](#)

Even though he had yet to master the ability to trap his opponent with massive wood, he could control the seaweed growing frantically within more than ten meters.

Hiss!

The nine venomous sea snakes swirled their bodies as they avoided the seaweed. But the amount was too substantial such that they could not move.

"You can't stop us...die!"

A venomous sea snake stuck out its tongue as it quickly struggled out from the seaweed.

I'm still too weak. The seaweed cannot hold them for long!

Wang Xian's expression changed slightly. He got an idea.

"You are asking for your own death!"

As Wang Xian waved his dragon claws in the water, all the seaweed around him gathered and entwined together, trapping nine venomous sea snakes in a semi-circle.

Bam!

A snake tried to bash its way through a small hole.

They were, in fact, just poisonous snakes without any claws. As such, they would need at least ten seconds to break out from the trap.

"Now!"

Wang Xian took a deep breath. This move determined success. If he failed, he'd need to be stronger before he came back here again.

The radiance on his body flashed again before he turned into a blue marine dragon.

"Suck!"

He opened his mouth and sucked up all the lake water in the area surrounded by the seaweed.

A vacuum area was created at the bottom of the lake.

The venomous sea snakes were petrified as they quickly struggled out of the seaweed.

"Go to hell!"

With an icy cold look, he could only barbeque this bunch of ignorant fellows.

The colors on his body switched again. The Inferno Dragon was exuding blazing hot flames.

As the lake water seethed, he opened his mouth and spat out a Dragon Ball. The Dragon Ball charged and attacked the area surrounded by the seaweed.

"Cremation!"

Flames of more than ten meters were fired off and landed on the black seaweeds.

Boom!

As all the lake water was already sucked up by Wang Xian, the entire area was burning in the fire as soon as the flame landed on the seaweed.

The bottom of the lake was on fire.

From the top, the entire lake looked like a red, fiery volcano ready to erupt. It was horrifying.

Whoo-hoo!

Wang Xian returned to the Azure Dragon form as he panted slightly. After releasing a few of the high-consumption attacks in one go, it was tedious for him too.

In Azure Dragon form, he could quickly rejuvenate himself.

The flame burned, seething the lake water. The entire bottom of the lake formed a fascinating picture.

Hiss!

Wang Xian stared coldly as he heard the dreadful cries from the venomous sea snakes in the sea.

The flame slowly reduced under the control of the Dragon Ball.

Shoo!

At this time, the Dragon Ball flew back into Wang Xian's mouth as he devoured it.

The fire disappeared. All the seaweed within a hundred meters was turned into ashes.

The nine venomous sea snakes were bound in the middle with their heads leaning against each other.

A burning smell came from their bodies as they were covered by a thick layer of blood.

What a pathetic scene.

However, they did not die. They leaned against each other and resisted the fearsome fire attack of the Dragon Ball.

Even so, they were seriously injured, hugging themselves together lifelessly.

The harshness in their eyes had completely disappeared.

Wang Xian was shocked by what he saw. The assault that he had performed was equivalent to three Level-six Divine Dragons striking out together. Yet, they were only seriously wounded.

In that case...!

His eyes glinted and he said three words slowly:

"Surrender or die!"

Chapter 156: Nine Dragons Royal Carriage

"Surrender or die!"

Wang Xian swayed his body and covered it with his dragon might while looking coldly at the nine venomous sea snakes.

The nine venomous sea snakes gathered together and looked at Wang Xian in horror.

As they had the bloodline of the divine dragon, Wang Xian had an innate advantage against them. However, Wang Xian's level was too low and he was too weak. Therefore, the nine venomous sea snakes had wanted to devour Wang Xian initially.

After suffering grave injuries and in the face of a real dragon, they were shivering in fear.

"Surrender or die!"

Wang Xian lifted his dragon claws and repeated himself.

"We surrender!"

Under Wang Xian's might, the venomous sea snakes lowered their heads and replied.

"Absorb these!"

Wang Xian threw out drops of divine dragon blood essence onto the heads of the nine venomous sea snakes.

The eyes of the nine venomous sea snakes lit up when they saw the blood essence. However, they were also hesitating.

Looking at the mighty Wang Xian, they chose to absorb the essence blood eventually.

Wang Xian revealed a satisfied smile.

These nine venomous sea snakes had the bloodline of the Wind Divine Dragon and could be considered as rare existences.

Only the venomous sea snakes had the bloodline of the Wind Divine Dragon and had preserved their evolution path. Their bloodlines were extremely pure.

However, it wouldn't be easy for them to eventually evolve into the Wind Divine Dragon.

To evolve into a dragon, they required thousands of years of cultivation. If they did not have any great chance encounters, it would be hard for them to become Wind Divine Dragons.

However, the paths of these nine venomous sea snakes would undoubtedly be smoother after Wang Xian imparted them the cultivation arts of the Wind Divine Dragon.

As long as they cultivated diligently, there would be a day where they made the leap through the dragon gate and evolved into a divine dragon.

"Looking at the looks of these nine venomous sea snakes, they should be able to evolve into serpents soon!"

Wang Xian's eyes lit up as he stared at these nine venomous sea snakes. From the first time he saw them, he had an idea in mind.

Nine dragons royal carriage!

That's right. It would be to take the nine dragons royal carriage as he went on a supervision trip around the world!

The thought of nine divine dragons... No... Even if it was just nine serpents flying in the air pulling the throne, that would be an awe-inspiring moment.

Wang Xian's eyes were burning with passion as he stared at these nine venomous sea snakes. As he waved his dragon claws, dense wood attribute energy entered their bodies, treating their wounds.

"Thank you, Dragon King!"

The injuries on the nine venomous sea snakes recovered gradually. They remained at the bottom of the lake and bowed down respectfully.

"Alright, rest well over the next few days. I'll be bringing you to the seas after that."

Wang Xian looked at them.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

The nine venomous sea snakes nodded their heads.

"Cultivate diligently!"

Wang Xian took another glance at them before swimming back into the lake.

Wang Xian was exceptionally satisfied to be able to subdue these nine subordinates from Lake Xianfeng for this trip.

These nine venomous sea snakes were even more important than a group of devil monkeys.

Within the entire group of devil monkeys, only Roving Heavens could possibly match the nine venomous sea snakes. The rest of them wouldn't be a match.

Splash!

Flying out from the lake, Wang Xian put on his underwear before getting into his room quickly.

I've got to get some clothing equipment in the future. Otherwise, it will be too troublesome to remove my clothes when turning into a dragon. It would be best if I could get celestial equipment that could freely change its size, Wang Xian thought to himself. Seeing that it was 11 pm, he went to bed without thinking further.

"Brother, time to get up!"

The next day morning, Xiao Yu tried to wake Wang Xian up early in the morning.

"Brother, let's go. Sister Li is holding a wedding banquet in a hotel in the city!"

"A hotel in the city? Are we going that far? Can't they do it within the county?"

Wang Xian changed into his clothes quickly while looking at Xiao Yu with doubtful eyes.

"This is a decision by Sister Li's husband. He said that it will look grandiose if it is done in the city and he wanted to marry Sister Li in a grand way. Uncle Zhang has the same view too. They have given a dowry of $580,000 and it should be enough," Xiao Yu explained.

"Hmm. Alright then. Let's head to Uncle Zhang's house.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu went over to Uncle Zhang's house. There were quite a few people in the yard when they arrived.

They were all people who were managing different aspects of the county. For example, someone who held a role similar to the village chief and there was also someone responsible for collecting and managing their common funds.

"Hey, Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu! You guys are here!"

When the crowd saw them, they quickly greeted.

Wang Xian smiled and returned the greetings. He looked to Uncle Zhang and asked, "Uncle Zhang, is there anything I can help with?"

"Nothing, nothing! Oh right, I heard that you got a car. Can you send Sister Li and Aunt Zhang to the hotel in a while? I'll inform the hotel about it."

Uncle Zhang was going to be busy.

"Alright." Wang Xian nodded his head.

9 am. Sister Li and Aunt Zhang followed Wang Xian and Xiao Yu to the yard. When she saw the pink Bentley, she was filled with shock.

"Xiao Yu, this Bentley cost at least $4 million, right?"

"Yeah, my brother got it for me. However, they didn't charge my brother for it!"

Xiao Yu chuckled.

"No charge?" Sister Li was confused.

"$4 million! Oh my gosh!" Aunt Zhang looked at the car in disbelief.

Xiao Yu opened the door and ushered the group in.

Aunt Zhang looked at the internal decorations of the car inquisitively.

"Sister Li, which hotel are we going to? Let me get the GPS set up!"

"Sanwen International Hotel!"

"Alright!"

Wang Xian sat beside the driver and the car drove out slowly.

The crowd that was gathered at the doorstep of Uncle Zhang's house was shocked by what they had seen.

No one had expected the Wang siblings to be doing so well.

The journey lasted 30 minutes and the car arrived at the city center.

Sanwen International Hotel was a good hotel. Pengzhou was just a small county and didn't have a five-star hotel.

The car stopped by the side. Aunt Zhang and Sister Li alighted and headed into the hotel.

"Why don't you follow Sister Li and Aunt Zhang? I'll go get some money," Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu.

"Alright, brother."

It was Sister Li's wedding and Wang Xian naturally wanted to give some monetary gift. He withdrew $660,000 as it was an auspicious number.

When he got back to the hotel, Aunt Zhang and Sister Li had settled the matters in the hotel.

The hotel was big and could accommodate more than one wedding. Another family was hosting a wedding besides Sister Li today.

The entrance to the other wedding was decorated in a grand manner.

As for Sister Li's side, they didn't put up much decoration as they were simply inviting relatives and friends over for a meal and weren't having any other ceremony.

When Wang Xian arrived at a temporary room in the hotel lobby, he saw Sister Li had changed into her wedding costume.

"Xiao Li, give Xiao Wei a call again. Ask him if he's coming!" Aunt Zhang told Sister Li grumpily.

"Alright, mom!"

Sister Li nodded her head, took out a phone and dialled a number.

"Tell me! He isn't even going to show up at the wedding. How am I going to face our relatives and friends in the future?"

Aunt Zhang grumbled. "It isn't that our daughter has to marry into a rich family. It's all because of their child's action..."

"Aunt Zhang, calm down. A wedding should be a joyous event. When Sister Li heads to Rivertown, my brother and I will accompany Sister Li!"

Chapter 157: The Monetary Gift

"Mum, Xiao Wei couldn't make it as he is being held up at home," said Sister Li as she walked very quickly towards her mum. She held on to her mobile phone, and was not looking very good.

"Just what is going on? Your dad has already told him yesterday that we will have the wedding in Rivertown and we don't even need the wedding car. We are having the ceremony right here and now, shouldn't he just show up, at the very least?"

Aunt Zhang stood up with an awkward look and said, "Our relatives will be here any moment, are we going to tell them that the groom is busy and couldn't make it? Who would buy this story?"

"Mum, Xiaowei wished to be here as well, it's just that..."

"I understand, it's his parents, they're... sigh, let's forget it." Holding onto her frustration, Aunt Zhang raised her palms and did not utter a single word.

Sister Li sat at the side, looking displeased as her eyes turned red.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu witnessed the whole incident and frowned. This brother-in-law was just too much.

"Xiao Li, please welcome the guests in at the front door. Xiao Yu, you shall help her out as well."

About half an hour later, Uncle Zhang walked in, and he knew what had happened. Looking displeased he said, "Let's manage what's here and not be bothered by the rest."

"Yes, Uncle Zhang." Xiao Yu stood up and nodded.

"I will help to welcome our guests in as well," Wang Xian said happily as he stood up.

"All right, we're counting on you kids." Uncle Zhang thought as he nodded that his son-in-law did not live up to his expectations. Fortunately, he was proud to show that he had a promising nephew.

Everyone here had a huge sense of pride.

That included Uncle Zhang.

Wang Xian, Xiao Yu, and Sister Li arrived at the hall of the hotel.

At the entrance, another family was also holding a wedding ceremony, right beside theirs.

Both the bride and groom welcomed their guests as they stood by the reception. Judging from their guests' identities, they could tell that the families lived in Pengzhou and life could not be better.

"Uncle and Aunt-in-law, this way please!" Sister Li said with a smile as she saw her own uncle (second brother in her dad's family) and his wife.

"Oh my, you look gorgeous today, where's your boyfriend? Show him to your aunt-in-law," The lady said as she walked into the front door.

"My boyfriend has yet to arrive as he is caught in a jam on the highway," Sister Li expressed with some embarrassment.

"Oh, he should have come a day in advance. Anyway, I know you'll be busy down here so I shall make my way in." Sister Li nodded, looking awkward.

It was truly an embarrassment that her own husband was not present on their wedding day.

At this moment, another group of relatives had arrived. Sister Li welcomed them with a big smile.

Aunt Zhang also came to welcome each and every guest.

Xiao Yu also went up to welcome them with Wang Xian, who brought a smile.

"Oh my, you are really beautiful today."

"Our Xiao Li shall be enjoying her new life with her new wealthy family, but you still have to visit your own family more often in the future!"

"Xiao Yu, I heard that you and your brother have won a fortune, is that true? Congratulations, and don't forget about your neighbors!"

Xiao Yu showed some awkwardness as the group of adoring relatives and neighbors pulled her aside and bombarded her with questions.

"Oh yes, Xiao Li, where's your future husband? I don't see him anywhere."

"He has yet to arrive as he's caught in the traffic jam." Xiao Li tried to explain boldly as she gave the look of embarrassment.

Some nodded, while some had their doubts but did not question.

The groom of the other wedding looked at them with a frown and said, "They are so rowdy!"

"Must be some villagers, such an annoyance. We shall have someone remind them to keep their volume down when our guests have arrived," the bride replied with displeasure as well.

The groom nodded his head.

Wang Xian stood at a corner, watching people starting to present their monetary gifts, many of them in the form of cash, and he walked out of the hotel after notifying Xiao Yu.

He had left the money that he had withdrawn in his car.

As he walked out of the hotel, he saw a group of more than 30 neighbors alighting from a bus.

The bus was rented by Uncle Zhang to pick up the neighbors.

"Hey Xiao Xian, where are you going?" a neighbor asked with a smile.

"I need to grab something," Wang Xian replied in their direction.

"Our Xiao Xian has just won a fortune, shouldn't you be treating your neighbors to a drink?" asked a middle-aged man.

"We need to leave tomorrow, perhaps another time," he replied. "I need to grab something, please excuse me."

"Hmph! This fellow is so full of himself!"

That middle-aged man looked displeased as he felt that Wang Xian was treating them with a perfunctory attitude.

"I could not agree more. We went to his house yesterday. Clearly, he was at home, but he didn't answer the door even when I shouted for him a couple of times."

"This fellow thinks that he is capable enough to be ignorant; he's definitely full of himself!"

"I agree, he is so insensible that he doesn't give that respect to his elders," the elder relatives whispered with criticism as they saw him walking away.

They were given the cold shoulder when they just wished to give that pleasant approach. Naturally, it sparked unhappiness.

"All right, let's get going, he might not even come back to us anymore," said a highly respected elder, as he led the group into the hotel.

Unknown to them, all that was spoken had been heard by Wang Xian.

"Hmph! Why should I give you all those benefits? I am well aware of those who treated me well, the rest is not my business."

Wang Xian felt disappointed, but he did not argue with them.

As he arrived at the hotel's parking lot, he took out the $660,000 in cash from his car.

He knew that Uncle Zhang was holding onto that pride, so he had to uphold that pride for him. He took the money and made his way back to the hotel.

"Oh, Xiao Li, why isn't your husband here? I hope he's not looking down on us."

"That's right, Xiao Li, that is so insensible of him for not showing up."

"If he's not going to show up for the wedding, I wonder what's going to happen for the rest of your life. Sometimes, one may not be blessed with happiness even after being married to a wealthy family."

Wang Xian heard all those comments made by the people surrounding her as he walked into the hotel.

Wang Xian knew those ladies who were talking, had some conflicts with Uncle Zhang in the past.

"These people, seriously..."

Wang Xian shook his head and frowned as he watched the embarrassed looks on Uncle Zhang and Aunt Zhang.

"Please excuse me, uncle, I would like to present my monetary gift."

Wang Xian spoke as he walked towards the crowd.

"Oh, Xiao Xian has come to present his monetary gift, over here."

The middle-aged man made a path for him.

Wang Xian thanked him and made his way to the reception.

"How much are you presenting, Xiao Xian?" asked another middle-aged man who was accounting for the gifts.

"$660,000!"

Wang Xian put the pouch on the table as he replied, and took the stack of cash out.

"What? $660,000!"

Chapter 158: Strength (1)

The middle-aged man taking records couldn't hold back his exclamation and this drew the attention of the crowd.

Those who were chatting and those who were waiting to give their monetary gifts turned their heads over immediately.

"Xiao Xian, you... Are you sure you would like to give all this as a monetary gift?" the middle-aged man doing recording stood up and asked in disbelief.

"$660,000! Oh my gosh! The kid from the Wang Family is giving $660,000 as a monetary gift!"

"$660,000 as a monetary gift... He must be filthy rich!"

"I heard that Wang Xian just gave Old Zhang's family gifts that cost $400,000 - $500,000 yesterday. Today, he gave $660,000 as a monetary gift! That would be over $1 million in total!"

"Oh my gosh. The Wang sibling is filthy rich!"

"Old Zhang took great care of the Wang siblings and their grandmother in the past. Now that the Wang siblings have gotten rich, it's time that they start returning the kindness!"

"Isn't this a little too extravagant. Giving out $1 million in just a few days?"

"$660,000 as a monetary gift! That's enough to get a house in the county.

The neighbours looked over and their faces were filled with shock and envy.

Monetary gifts in the hundreds would be sufficient. Those who were closer might give a few thousand. However, Wang Xian gave $660,000 as a monetary gift! He must be really rich!

When Uncle Zhang saw the thick stack of monetary gifts, he was taken aback slightly. He stood up and walked over immediately.

"Xiao Xian, take it back. I can't accept these. You have already spent over $500,000 on gifts. Take it back. Save it for the time when you get a wife!"

"It's fine, Uncle Zhang. It's just a small token. It's only natural for me to give some gifts for Sister Li's wedding. Just keep it and spend as you wish. I'm not lacking this money either."

Wang Xian smiled and replied to Uncle Zhang.

"Even if you aren't lacking these, you shouldn't be giving so much. Take it back, son!"

"It's really fine. When Uncle Zhang is free, come to Rivertown and I'll bring you around."

Wang Xian waved his hand.

"This..." Uncle Zhang was hesitating. He also knew that Wang Xian was really rich now and his sister was driving a luxury car that cost over $4 million.

However, he was still really moved to see Wang Xian willing to spend $1 million on him.

Uncle Zhang patted Wang Xian on his shoulders and continued, "I didn't really help you guys much and the help isn't worth that much!"

"Uncle Zhang, some gratitude shouldn't be measured in monetary terms!"

Wang Xian replied to Uncle Zhang in a serious tone.

"Sigh. Alright then. Although I don't have a son, having you as a nephew is better than having a son!" [\[1\]](#)

Uncle Zhang was teary-eyed and moved.

"Uncle Zhang, you should go entertain your neighbours. You don't have to be so courteous with us!"

Wang Xian smiled.

"Great, great!"

The gloominess that hung over Uncle Zhang was gone and he revealed an excited look. This nephew of his had really made him proud!

"Don't just stand here, get a seat inside. The banquet will be starting soon. Please take a seat and wait a moment."

"Old Zhang, you are really lucky. Your daughter is marrying into a rich family and now you have such a nephew. I'm really envious!"

"Yea, Old Zhang! $660,000 as monetary gift! I believe you could enjoy the remainder of your life."

"Haiz. Who would have expected the Wang siblings to return Old Zhang's kindness in such a way?"

"The Wang siblings are really rich now and Old Zhang is really lucky!"

"If we had..."

As the crowd was discussing, some were feeling regretful. If they had taken care of the Wang siblings previously, they might be the ones on the receiving end right now.

"Can you guys shut up and stop your babbling? Are you treating this as your house? Have you guys not seen the outside world before?"

At this moment, a cold sneer sounded from the side.

The crowd was slightly shocked and turned around.

At one end, a slightly plump and burly young man extended his arm and revealed his tattoo. He was pointing at the crowd and shouting.

"Damn you! Can't you keep your volume down?"

Seeing that everyone had looked over, he shouted at them once again.

Seeing this, Uncle Zhang's expression changed. He immediately walked over and apologized, "I'm sorry that we have gotten a little noisy. I'm sorry!"

The bride and groom beside the young man stared at Uncle Zhang coldly and sneered, "I wonder what you guys are babbling about. The groom isn't here and yet you guys are making so much noise."

"That's right. The groom can't be seen. Perhaps he's not coming," the groom and the bride remarked sarcastically.

The young man beside them raised an eyebrow and added, "Oh, so the groom isn't here yet. Hehe. Are you guys hosting a wedding banquet with a dead person? What is there to be happy about?"

The mockeries of the bride and groom had embarrassed Uncle Zhang. When Uncle Zhang heard what the young man said, his face turned red immediately.

He was already mad that the groom wasn't here today. Now that he heard others commenting that his daughter was marrying a dead person, his body shivered in anger.

"You, you... You better watch your words!" Uncle Zhang said in agitation.

"You better clean your mouth. Have you eaten shit?"

When Wang Xian heard the young man and saw the embarrassed looks on Uncle Zhang, he walked over emotionlessly as he spoke to the young man.

"So what if I've said it? I, Fenghai, have not been afraid of anyone in Pengzhou!" the young man replied arrogantly to Uncle Zhang and Wang Xian.

"They are here, Fenghai. Don't waste your time entertaining the group of clowns!"

At this moment, the groom saw cars stopping outside and immediately reminded Fenghai.

"Tsk, trash!" Fenghai sneered at Wang Xian before turning to the groom and nodding his head. He saw people were arriving at the entrance and the three of them immediately went over.

"That's too much!" Uncle Zhang looked at their back views, feeling embarrassed.

"These young men are really rude and arrogant!"

"Yeah, they are too arrogant. Is this something a human would say?"

The surrounding neighbour commented and also looked at the back views of these young men with displeasure.

"That is!"

However, at this moment, a middle-aged man was shocked to see the group of people that these young men had gone over to receive.

Walking at the front was a middle-aged man in a suit. He was full of smiles.

Uncle Zhang and his neighbour knew this middle-aged man well. He was one of the top figures in the entire Feng Lake County.

The middle-aged man didn't have a good reputation. He had a group of underlings and no one in the entire Feng Lake County dared to offend him.

They saw the middle-aged man talking with the groom and bride while also trying to get on the good books of Fenghai.

"Du Qingshan! That's Du Qingshan! He's actually trying to get on the good books of that young man!"

"That young man must have a strong backing for Du Qingshan to be acting so respectfully!"

"Du Qingshan is here! Look at those behind him. Aren't those famous businessmen in Pengzhou? Oh my gosh. The families and friends of this family are really awesome!"

"We can't afford to offend them. Since even Du Qingshan is trying to get on the good books of them, Fenghai must be someone influential in Pengzhou too. There's no wonder why they were so arrogant!"

The surrounding crowd looked in shock as they witness the arrival of the group of people.

Uncle Zhang looked even more ghastly. He clenched his fist tightly but his expression gradually turned into a helpless look.

Chapter 159: Strength (2)

"The relatives and friends of this family are really impressive, let's just go to our seats now!"

A rather esteemed elder saw that all the guests entering were reputable people from Pengzhou, and he sighed faintly.

"Let's go in!" Some people made these comments indignantly.

The young chap earlier on had not only pointed at them and scolded them, he even said nasty words to them. This made them feel very helpless.

The other person had such strong connections, even Du Qingshan from the county had to fawn on him. To find fault with that young chap? It was akin to seeking trouble for oneself.

Not to mention that there were others who seemed to have extraordinary identities in the crowd.

"Let's go in, Xiao Xian!" Uncle Zhang looked with unease as he spoke. His daughter had gotten married off, and things that went against his wishes kept happening!

"Wait a moment, let's go over, Uncle Zhang."

At this moment, Wang Xian saw the young chap walking alongside the bride and groom, showing respect as they walked towards the crowd. There was a slight smile on his face with a tinge of arrogance.

"Hmm?" Uncle Zhang looked at Wang Xian with bewilderment.

"Come with me, Uncle Zhang, I cannot take this lying down anymore!" Wang Xian gave a cold look as he turned his head towards Xiao Yu. "Xiao Yu, let's go over!"

"Mm!"

At this moment, Xiao Yu nodded her head and gave a slight smile as she looked upon the young chap and the bride and groom receiving people with respect.

"Forget it, Xiao Xian, they are mighty, and that Du Qingshan is a renowned character in the county. We cannot afford to offend him." Uncle Zhang looked on with discomfort as he tugged at Wang Xian's arm.

"No worries, Uncle Zhang, leave it to me." Wang Xian looked at Uncle Zhang and gave him a reassuring look.

Uncle Zhang frowned and shook his head. "Forget it, forget it!"

"Then I shall go over with Xiao Yu!"

Wang Xian smiled when he saw that Uncle Zhang disliked getting into trouble. Wang Xian and Xiao Yu then walked towards the direction where the young chap and the bride and groom were situated.

"Sigh, this kid, Xiao Xian!"

Uncle Zhang looked uneasily and went along, as he was afraid that Wang Xian might lose out.

As the young chap and the couple walked in, they immediately frowned and expressed displeasure as soon as Wang Xian and his company of two walked towards them.

"What are you guys here for? Are you trying to pick a fight?"

Just as Wang Xian and his company walked over, Feng Hai stared at them with aggression.

Maybe it was because he was apprehensive about the few people around, therefore he did not start yelling!

However, the few people, including a middle-aged couple, who were talking to the bride and groom were stunned. Some of them even threw curious looks over.

When they saw Wang Xian and Xiao Yu, they were visibly astonished.

"We are here to give you a slap!" Wang Xian looked at Feng Hai coldly and uttered.

"Such harsh words, what kind of upbringing did you have, hmph!"

Xiao Yu, who was also beside Wang Xian, spoke to Feng Hai.

"Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu..."

Standing behind them was Uncle Zhang, looking flustered. He immediately pulled Wang Xian and Xiao Yu back.

"What are Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu doing? Why are they trying to offend that young chap?"

"I think they are trying to dig their own graves. Even Du Qingshan has to be respectful towards that young chap. What exactly are they trying to do?"

"These two people are just fooling around, they think that just because they are rich, they are so great."

"They had better not bring it upon us. This pair of Wang siblings are just too full of themselves. Just because they have that bit of money, they never realize there are people out there who are even richer and more powerful than they are!"

Just behind them, the people of Feng Lake County were showing signs of uneasiness, as they whispered amongst each other.

"Saint..."

"Damn it, are you trying to dig your own grave! Today, my brother is getting married here, and we have elders here. While I still have a good mood, you better get out of my sight immediately. Otherwise, don't blame me for being nasty!" At this moment, Feng Hai expressed his anger after hearing what Wang Xian said.

He immediately pointed at Wang Xian and Xiao Yu, shouted angrily and threatened them boastfully. His voice interrupted an elderly man who was just beside and wanted to speak.

The elderly man was astonished, and the middle-aged man and a young man that stood beside the elder were equally astonished.

"Fu*k!"

The middle-aged man beside the elderly man directly spoke a vulgarity and expressed his discomfort and anger.

To everyone's surprise, the middle-aged man swung his palm in full force and slapped Feng Hai hard in his face!

Smack!

Feng Hai could not even react in time, and even if he could dodge, he would not dare to do so.

The middle-aged man's palm landed on Feng Hai's face, and the sound of the slap echoed through the main hall.

This kind of force showed that the middle-aged man did not hold back his strength, and there was even a possibility that a few of Feng Hai's teeth might have fallen out.

The crowd surrounding them were astonished.

The family of the bride and groom were utterly shocked as they looked at the middle-aged man beside them.

The middle-aged man and his family were notable figures that they had gone through painstaking efforts to invite. If it were not for the sake of their grandfather, the middle-aged man and his family would not even have come.

But they could not figure out why. Why would the middle-aged man directly slap their friend's face?

However, what shocked the crowd more was the fact that the middle-aged man and the elder were going over to the side of Wang Xian and Xiao Yu immediately.

They bent their bodies, showing a great sign of respect on their faces.

"Saintess, Mr. Wang!"

These three people were not just any other people. They were the Song Family from Pengzhou. The young man was Song Aowen, a disciple from the Thistles and Thorns Sect. The middle-aged man and the elderly man were also participants of the selections conducted by the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

As they saw the future Sect leader of the Thistles and Thorns Sect, aka the honorable Saintess, as well as the Miracle Doctor Wang, even the Song family wanted to fawn over them, so they naturally did not dare to stir any more trouble.

They saluted respectfully.

As to how Feng Hai spoke towards the Saintess and Mr. Wang, they were also not going to relent.

If Mr. Wang said to slap your face, you had to do it.

"Mm!"

Xiao Yu nodded her head; she was the Saintess of the Thorns and Thistles Sect, so it would be more appropriate for her to handle the matter.

Xiao Yu looked at the astonished faces of the bride and groom's families and gave a faint smile. "Why did you all spout a vulgarity earlier on? Apologize to my uncle now!"

The bride and groom were stunned as they looked at Xiao Yu.

"Apologize. I asked both of you to apologize, you hear me?" The elder from the Song family had a sullen expression as he gave the command to the bride and groom's families.

"Director Song...we...we..."

The families of the bride and groom left their mouths open in disbelief.

"Do you need me to teach all of you? If this matter is not settled with a solution that we are satisfied with, I think the Lee family can cease to exist in Pengzhou!"

The elder of the Song family stared at the families of the bride and groom coldly. His warm expression had disappeared from his face.

The families of the bride and groom felt a shiver down their spines. When they saw how serious the face of the elder was, they were terrified.

"So...sorry, it was our fault just now."

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu did not say a word but continued to stare at them coldly.

"I am sorry; it was my fault. Please, I beg of you to forgive us!"

As they felt the icy stares of the three members of the Song family, the silence of the young man and young woman, both of their voices quivered, as if they were about to cry.

"You should apologize to my uncle!" Wang Xian spoke coldly.

"I apologize, apologize..."

The bride and groom were thoroughly afraid. Who did they offend exactly?

Why, why is the Song family treating them with such respect and falling out with us?

Chapter 160: Strength (3)

The entire hotel lobby quietened down.

This included Uncle Zhang's relatives and friends and also the relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

The businessmen and influential figures on Pengzhou that they had invited over were looking at the development in disbelief.

They knew clearly of the background of the bride and groom. The groom's grandfather is the President of a mining organization. He could be considered as one of the earliest batches of people in Pengzhou who got rich.

Although the family business had been on a decline, the groom's grandfather had great connections throughout Pengzhou.

As long as his grandfather was still around, the majority of the people in Rivertown would be respectful to him.

Many rich men in Pengzhou were invited to the wedding. In fact, the old master had even invited members of the Song Family.

The Song Family was the strongest family in Pengzhou at this moment. Their background was mysterious but strong.

In Pengzhou, whenever the Song Family stomped its feet, the entire Pengzhou would feel the tremors.

Yet, the three members of the Song Family were bowing down respectfully to a juvenile sibling and even ordered the groom and bride to apologize.

"This... Why would the Wang siblings be so influential? Even... The guests that were invited by the other party had to be respectful to them and even slapped the arrogant young man for the Wang sibling!"

"That's incredible! How did the Wang siblings get to know those influential figures? Even these people had to be respectful to the Wang siblings!"

"Look, look! Du Qingshan is walking over."

"All the influential figures had gathered there. Oh my gosh! All of them are going over to greet those siblings!"

"This... How can this be possible?"

Behind them, Uncle Zhang and his relatives and friends were dumbfounded.

Those were people that they couldn't offend. Yet, when the Wang siblings went over, even those influential figures had to bow to the Wang siblings and even ordered the bride and groom to apologize.

In fact, even Du Qingshan, who had been overbearing in the entire Feng Lake county, just stood there like a small underling.

He wasn't at the level of those influential figures yet.

At this very moment, Uncle Zhang was completely shocked and stood there in a daze.

He saw that arrogant young man fall to the floor from the slap.

And he saw the arrogant bride and groom bowing down and apologizing in fear.

This was completely beyond his imagination.

"Xiao Yu, Xiao Xian."

Uncle Zhang opened his mouth and looked at his nephew and niece.

Wang Xian smiled at Uncle Zhang before looking coldly at that couple. "Seeing that it's your wedding today I won't be calculative with you guys."

"Thank you, thank you!"

The bride and groom had already been scared out of their wits. When they realized Director Song didn't add a word, they finally heaved a huge sigh of relief.

If he was someone that the Song Family was so fearful of, what would the groom and bride even be in front of him?

"However, I wouldn't just let that young man off so easily." Wang Xian glanced at Fenghai who was just getting up.

Fenghai's mouth was filled with blood and his entire face had been deformed.

"I'll leave this to you guys!" Xiao Yu frowned upon seeing Fenghai, speaking to the three members of the Song Family.

"Yes, yes. We will definitely give the Saintess and Mr. Wang a satisfactory explanation!"

Three members of the Song Family replied immediately. This was the order of the Saintess!

Even if the Saintess wanted to crush the Li Family, the Song Family would not hesitate a moment.

When Fenghai heard what the Song Family members said, his eyes were filled with despair. Following which, he blacked out and fell to the ground.

Since the Song Family had spoken, he was finished. Even if he was not dead, he would be severely punished.

The faces of the bride and groom, together with the surrounding crowd, had turned as white as sheets.

"Mr. Wang, Saintess. I had not expected to bump into you guys in Pengzhou. Are you all here to attend a wedding too?"

The old man from the Song Family looked around before asking this with a smile.

"Yeah. We are from Pengzhou too. My sister is getting married today!"

Seeing how careful the Song Family was acting, Xiao Yu smiled and nodded her head.

"Oh? Is that so? What a coincidence. Since she's a relative of the Saintess, she's also a relative of the Song Family. Hehe."

The old man from the Song Family smiled.

"She's the only relative we have in Pengzhou. Please help them along in the future."

Wang Xian placed his hands over the shoulders of Uncle Zhang as he spoke to the old man from the Song Family.

"Not a problem at all. This is just a small matter. Rest assured, Mr Wang. Just leave this to the Song Family."

The old man from the Song Family immediately gave his guarantee. After this, he smiled. "Since they are the relatives of the Saintess and Mr. Wang, they are one of us. Let's go over a while."

"Xiao Kun, prepare some gifts for them."

"Yes, father."

The middle-aged man beside the old man nodded his head. Following which, he headed towards the table that was collecting the monetary gifts.

Du Qingshan, who was standing at one corner, looked at the development in disbelief. Suddenly, he spotted a familiar figure among the crowd.

His expression changed, and he walked to Uncle Zhang and asked, "Big Brother, are you from Feng Lake County?"

"Yes, Director Du. How are you?"

Uncle Zhang heard someone speaking to him. When he saw it was Du Qingshan, he was slightly shocked and immediately replied.

"I am not Director Du. Big Brother, you can just address me as Xiao Du. Xiao Du would do. You should be a few years older than me."

Du Qingshan put on a big smile and quickly added, "I had not expected us to be from the same area."

As he spoke, he smiled radiantly and said to the old man of the Song Family, "Director Song, we are from the same hometown. I'll look out for Big Brother in the future. No one would dare to offend him."

Hmm. When the old man from the Song Family saw Du Qingshan walking over trying to curry favor, he nodded his head in satisfaction. "Come with me in a while!"

"Yes, yes!"

Du Qingshan was thrilled upon hearing the old man from the Song Family. His face turned red in agitation as he looked to Uncle Zhang. "Big Brother, we should be friends since we are from the same place. Let me just go give my monetary gift!" Du Qingshan said as he walked towards the place to give the monetary gifts.

At this moment, the middle-aged man was standing in front of the table collecting monetary gifts.

The middle-aged man who was in charge of collecting immediately stood up, smiled and asked, "Sir, how much would you like to give?"

"$500,000!"

The middle-aged man from the Song Family smiled before taking out stacks of cash from a briefcase.

"Whose name should I record for these?" The middle-aged man's pupils shrank as he spoke.

"Just record it as the Song Family," the middle-aged man from the Song Family replied after pondering for a moment.

"Alright!" The middle-aged man nodded his head in a hurry.

At this moment, Du Qingshan also walked over with a smile and said to the middle-aged man, "Hey brother, please help to record mine too!"

"Du... Director Du... You..."

"$300,000!" Du Qingshan smiled. "My big brother's daughter is getting married. It's only natural that I give a little more."

"Big Brother..."

When the middle-aged man heard Du Qingshan, he swallowed his saliva before replying, "Alright, alright."

One gave $500,000 and the other gave $300,000. Stacks of cash now filled the table.

Chapter 161: Wedding Car Lineup

(1)

Gulp!

Everyone around them was watching in disbelief. Subsequently, they cast envious glances at Old Zhang and his family.

They knew that Old Zhang's family had achieved a place in the sun.

Even the influential Du Qingshan had to fawn upon him with respect, and gave him $300,000 cash as a monetary gift. From now on, who, in the entire county, would dare to offend Old Zhang and his family?

Not to mention the Song Family, who was more powerful than Du Qingshan.

"Everyone, please proceed to the function room. We'll begin our banquet soon." After Wang Xian and Xiao Yu told Song Family, they walked towards Sister Li.

Uncle Zhang was following beside them in a daze. But he was more happy and proud than ever.

"Let's go. Xiao Xian and Xiao Yu are awesome. Both of them turned into powerful people."

"That's right. Both of them just walked over and said a few words. The other party apologized immediately. The big shot they invited even struck out immediately!"

"Old Zhang, you really hit the jackpot to have such nephew and niece!"

"Old Zhang, don't forget us when you strike a fortune!" said the crowd to Wang Xian, Xiao Yu, and Uncle Zhang pleasingly.

The jealousy in them had long since disappeared. What they had were envy and fawning for Uncle Zhang.

Uncle Zhang looked at the friends and relatives around him and appeared to be standing up with his head high.

All this was because of his nephew and niece.

At the same time, the banquet struck a blow to his relatives and friends.

Most people felt regretful. If they had shown slight care and concern for the Wang siblings back then, they would be rewarded for it now.

Even if it was a small reward from the Wang siblings, they could hold their heads up in the Feng Lake County.

...

"Oh, Aunt Zhang and Sister Li, aren't you rushing down to Rivertown today?" asked Xiao Yu with curiosity. The banquet ended at about 2 pm, and Xiao Yu was driving Wang Xian, Aunt Zhang, and Sister Li back home.

"Sigh, we'll be going tomorrow instead of today. Your Uncle Zhang is going to rent a wedding car. Since they're not coming to fetch us, we'll have to send Xiao Li over."

Aunt Zhang shook her head slowly. "Even though we settled the young guy today, it also irritated your Uncle Zhang. He could not take this lying down. So he decided we should send her over ourselves," Aunt Zhang said, looking at her daughter. "Xiao Li, if Xiao Wei's family bullies you after you marry over, you can always come back. Don't endure them."

"Don't worry, Mom. Xiao Wei has been good to me. He's just too obedient to his parents!"

Sister Li pouted. Obviously, she was not very pleased with her boyfriend this time.

"Sister Li, what's the name of the future brother-in-law and his father? What kind of businesses are they into?"

Upon hearing their conversation, Wang Xian turned over and asked Sister Li.

"Your future brother-in-law is called Wei Zhiwen. His family is in the medical equipment business. His father is Wei Qingguo, who has some reputation in Rivertown," Sister Li replied. Out of curiosity, she asked, "Why, Xiao Xian? Do you know them?"

After learning of Wang Xian and Xiao Yu's strength today, Sister Li was also taken by surprise.

Compared to how they were acting in the afternoon, her husband's family might not have such a daunting influence.

Wang Xian shook his head. He took out his phone. "I'll settle the wedding car. On top of that, I'll also settle some other things for you, Sister Li."

As he spoke, he called Uncle Zhang and asked him not to rent any car. He would settle this matter.

Sister Li stared at Wang Xian with a stunned face. She hesitated before she decided to swallow her words.

Aunt Zhang quickly thanked him.

After talking to Uncle Zhang, he continued to call the head of Ren Family.

Ren Family had shares in most of the car dealers in Rivertown. Getting their help in finding a wedding car should be an effortless task for them.

When the head of Ren Family received Wang Xian's call, he was thrilled on the phone. He patted his chest and promised to prepare the wedding car.

The car reached the home of Aunt Zhang. Wang Xian and Xiao Yu went to their house and sat for a while.

In the evening, after having dinner at Uncle Zhang's place, they chit-chatted with Uncle Zhang for half an hour in front of the door.

After Wang Xian and Xiao Yu went home, Wang Xian dialed Old Qin's number with hesitation.

"Hello, Wang Xian? What's the matter?" Old Qin's voice was heard.

"Old Qin, I need to ask you something. Do you know Wei Qingguo, who deals with pharmaceutical equipment in Rivertown?" Wang Xian asked Old Qin directly.

"Wei Qingguo? Are you talking about the Wei Qingguo from the Ling Medical Equipment Group?" Old Qin asked with doubt.

"I guess so. He has some reputation in Rivertown." Wang Xian nodded. "Old Qin, does Wei Qingguo have any immediate superior in the Rivertown? Or does he need to answer to any leaders or any organizations?"

"Yes, two in the healthcare industry, and another one is Miao Zhiyong, who is cooperating with Duan Family. Wei Qingguo also needs to curry favor with the rest of the hospital directors too," Old Qin answered.

"Can you help me contact them tomorrow. I need their help!" Wang Xian said with a smile on his face.

"Haha, sure. Wang Xian, these are trivial matters. If they know you are the one who asked for their help, they will rush over here no matter how busy they are!"

Old Qin laughed out loud as he spoke. He knew about what had happened in the Yan Family. After he heard Old Xue's account, he remained shocked for a long time.

At the same time, he was glad that Qin Family was on good terms with Wang Xian.

Currently, who in Rivertown dared to defy Wang Xian?

He may not have proclaimed himself to be the king, but everyone took him as the king without saying.

Wang Xian chuckled. "Thanks, Old Qin. You can pass them my number later and get them to call me."

"This time, I will make sure Uncle Zhang is completely out of worry so that he can enjoy his life from now on!"

After hanging up the phone, a faint smile surfaced on his face. After he settled

Sister Li's matter, he would not have anything to worry about in his hometown. In the future, they could always come back to visit Uncle Zhang and Aunt Zhang once a year.

In less than five minutes, a phone call came in.

"Hello, Young Master Wang. I'm Miao Zhiyong. How may I help you?"

Back in a luxurious villa near a mountain, a middle-aged man was holding a phone with a beaming face as he asked respectfully.

"Hello, Director Miao. It's not something difficult. Are you free tomorrow?"

"Yes, speak your mind, Young Master Wang. Your matter is the most important thing now!"

"Tomorrow, my sister is marrying someone from the Wei Qingguo's family in Rivertown. I need your attendance!"

"Sure, Young Master Wang. Just send me the address, and I'll go over tomorrow."

"Mm!" Wang Xian nodded and smiled.

"Hubby, tomorrow is our 25th wedding anniversary. Where are you going?" a wealthy lady next to Miao Zhiyong asked immediately when she heard his call.

"I can't make it tomorrow. I have to accompany a big shot to do something." Miao Zhiyong shook his head with a solemn face. At the same time, his eyes were filled with surprise.

"Old Qin?" asked the wealthy lady sternly.

"Someone even more powerful than the Qin Family!"

(2)

Wang Xian made four to five consecutive phone calls. After which, he smiled satisfactorily.

Every single one of them had promised to be here on time.

What just happened to Miao Zhiyong was also happening to several wealthy and influential people in Rivertown.

They were all people who had the abilities to directly or indirectly affect the Wei Family's medical equipment company. In fact, if two or three of them were to join hands to mess with the Wei Family, they would be able to force the Wei Family to declare bankruptcy.

Wei Family's influence in Rivertown was still above average and had assets of $700-800 million. However, it had a weakness, and that was poor connections and background.

"Let's go to bed!"

After settling all the matters, Wang Xian got on the bed and fell asleep.

The next morning, Wang Xian and Xiao Yu headed over to Uncle Zhang's house for breakfast.

There were already quite a few people who had gathered there in the morning and were chatting.

"Xiao Xian, when will the wedding cars that you got be coming? I shouldn't have troubled you with this. If I had known that you were getting the wedding cars from Rivertown, I wouldn't have asked you to."

Uncle Zhang sat beside Wang Xian and spoke while drinking Pu'er tea.

"It's fine, Uncle Zhang. I've asked them to be here by 9 am. We will reach Rivertown by 11 and just in time!"

Wang Xian smiled.

"9 am? It's almost time!" Uncle Zhang nodded his head.

"Xiao Xian is a really great kid and knows about returning kindness. He has settled everything for you. Old Zhang, you don't have to worry!" an old man beside Uncle Zhang commented.

"Yeah, I'm really lucky."

Uncle Zhang smiled.

"Look! There are quite a number of cars heading our way!"

At this moment, a middle-aged man standing by the side saw the situation on the road. He was shocked by what he saw.

"The wedding cars are here?"

The rest of the crowd looked over inquisitively.

At this moment, Wang Xian received a message on his phone. He stood up, smiled and said, "They are here. Once Sister Li is ready, we can go set off right away!"

"Let's go, let's go!"

Uncle Zhang nodded his head and looked towards the wedding cars lined up from afar. He revealed a smile and went to the room to call Aunt Zhang and Sister Li immediately.

Sister Li changed into her wedding gown. She had exquisite makeup on and looked extremely beautiful.

"What the... What are these cars? They are simply stunning!"

"There are even sports cars. Oh my gosh! There are at least fifty to sixty cars in this line-up!"

"These cars are simply stunning!"

"Wow. Look at the car plates. Look at those car plates..."

When Uncle Zhang and his family member walked out, they immediately heard the exclamations of the crowd.

They looked over and were surprised to see 50-60 wedding cars.

The one leading the line-up was a luxurious Rolls-Royce Phantom that cost over $10 million. Behind it were nine other Rolls-Royces.

Behind the Rolls-Royces, there were 10 Bentleys.

Moving further back, there were Lamborghini Aventadors, Ferrari sports cars, Maseratis and many others.

At the very end, six land rovers concluded the line-up of 50-60 wedding cars.

Seeing such a luxurious wedding car line-up, Sister Li's jaw dropped in astonishment.

However, what truly shocked her were the car plates of these cars.

The Southern Province cars started with "S." Cars from Rivertown would start with "SB".

The car plate number of the first Rolls-Royce was SB11111.

The car plate number for the second Rolls-Royce was SB22222.

Moving back, she even saw car plates like SB88888 and SB12345.

Due to the influence of her finance, she knew a little about the significance of car plate numbers.

An ordinary man would never be able to get numbers like SB11111, 22222, 88888.

Those who owned these car plates were undoubtedly the filthy rich and influential people of Rivertown.

"This... How did Xiao Xian get these luxury cars?" Sister Li was shocked.

"Young Master Wang, the wedding cars are here. Are you satisfied with these?"

At this moment, Ren Anzhi alighted from a car at the back and ran towards Wang Xian.

Wang Xian had asked the Ren Family to help him find some wedding cars and the Ren Family Head had decided to let his son bring them over.

"Great. I have troubled you guys!" Wang Xian nodded his head and smiled.

"Not at all, not at all." Ren Anzhi waved his hand in response.

"Alright, let's go then!"

Wang Xian looked at Sister Li and Uncle Zhang.

"Let's go, let's go. Xiao Xian, this line up is a little too extravagant!"

Uncle Zhang sighed emotionally.

Wang Xian simply smiled in response. He got onto Xiao Yu's car and the crowd headed towards Rivertown.

Summer Sun International Hotel was one of the only three five-star hotels in Rivertown. Due to its connection with the Xue Family, the Summer Sun International Hotel also had the best business.

Today, the son of Wei Qingguo, Wei Zhiwen, would be having his wedding in the Summer Sun International Hotel.

The Wei Family could also be considered as a respectable family in Rivertown. Therefore, the wedding of the future successor to the Wei Family was done in a grandiose manner.

"What? The bride's party is sending their daughter over with the wedding cars that they sourced themselves?"

Within a luxurious room of the hotel, a middle-aged woman looked bitter as she questioned the young man.

"Yes, mom. Isn't that great? She didn't have to come from the hotel. Once she arrives, we can start the wedding ceremony!" the young man explained.

"Great? How can this be great? Isn't that embarrassing? Her family will probably get cars that cost several hundred thousand as wedding cars. When they arrive at the hotel lobby, they will embarrass us. NO WAY! This won't do!"

The middle-aged woman spoke with a hideous look.

They could choose to not go to the bride's house, but their son's wedding had to be luxurious in Rivertown.

"Tell me, Qingxiu is such a fine lady! Her family background isn't any inferior to ours. Furthermore, she just returned from her overseas studies. YOU...!"

The middle-aged woman pointed at the young man and remarked angrily.

"Alright, alright. Now that they are getting married, let's not talk about these scenarios. Just get someone to escort her to the eighth floor when she arrives," Wei Qingguo interrupted.

"Dad, aren't we going to receive them at the lobby?" the young man said bitterly. He was none other than Wei Zhiwen.

"Doesn't she have legs? Is she handicapped? After this wedding, if her parents aren't satisfied, get them to look for a better family," the middle-aged woman commented grumpily.

"Mom, how can you say that? Xiao Li is my wife and your daughter-in-law." Upon hearing his mom's comment, Wei Zhiwen wasn't pleased.

"Alright, mom shall not speak of her in such a manner. I'll try to manage our relationship in the future!" the middle-aged woman replied. She still loved her son deeply.

Mm. Wei Zhiwen nodded his head with satisfaction.

At this moment, the middle-aged man added, "We are not going to receive them. Just get Xiao Li to come up directly!"

Wei Zhiwen revealed a bitter look. After giving some thought to it, he finally nodded. "In that case, I'll let Xiao Li know!"

"Sigh. It would be great if you married a girl like Qingxiu. If our families worked together, our business would reach new heights. Why did you choose a girl from a village? Sigh!"

When the middle-aged woman saw her son leave, she sighed emotionally.

"What else can we do? This child is determined to marry her. He even made her pregnant."

"Tsk. It's entirely the village girl's fault!"

Chapter 163: The Price of Getting Off the Car (1)

A fleet of fifty to sixty wedding cars drove into Rivertown in a massive formation as they headed to the Summer Sun International Hotel.

Ten Rolls-Royces, ten Bentleys and the rest were other posh cars like Lamborghinis Aventadors and Maseratis.

This team of wedding cars, worth at least $300 million, looked extremely lavish.

When the cars entered the city area of Rivertown, they drew the immediate attention of many people.

Such a luxurious wedding fleet was uncommon.

Uncle Zhang and Aunt Zhang were sitting in a Rolls-Royce, looking around happily.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu were beaming as they followed behind the car fleet.

"Sister Li got married in a blink of an eye. I wonder when it'll be your turn!" Xiao Yu stared gleefully at the car fleet in front.

"You think too much. I'm only a year-two student," Wang Xian said nonchalantly as he darted a look at Xiao Yu.

"Hehe." Xiao Yu chuckled. The car fleet quickly arrived at the doorstep of the Summer Sun International Hotel.

There was ample open space for parking in front of the hotel.

Under the direction of the hotel staff, a fleet of fifty to sixty wedding cars was parked in rows. The scene was spectacular.

Wang Xian and Xiao Yu stepped out of the car. Wang Xian fished out his phone and made calls to those who had contacted him yesterday.

After he ended the call, Miao Zhiyong and the rest of them, who were waiting for him in advance, trotted over.

"Young Master Wang!" Six of them greeted him with a beaming face.

"Thank you for taking the trouble to come over here today," Wang Xian said to them with a smile.

"It's no trouble. You're welcome!"

Miao Zhiyong and the rest quickly waved their hands. "It's our honor to offer you our help. Besides, it's a small matter."

"Thank you!" Wang Xian nodded with a smile.

"What? They want us to go over ourselves? This is fu*king too much! Our car fleet has arrived downstairs and yet, they refused to receive us personally? What is this?"

At the same time, Uncle Zhang's raging voice was heard from the front.

Wang Xian frowned slightly and walked over immediately while Xiao Yu followed behind quickly.

Miao Zhiyong and the rest who were following behind were puzzled as well.

When they received the orders from Old Qin and Young Master Wang to put up a front for the bride in Wei Family's wedding today, they thought of such a situation.

But now, it seemed more severe than they thought.

"Is the Wei Family seeking their doom?" A middle-aged man could not help but whisper.

"Let's take a look!"

"What's wrong, Uncle Zhang?" Wang Xian and Xiao Yu walked to the first Rolls-Royce and asked Uncle Zhang doubtfully.

"Wei Zhiwen is such a loser. He wants us to go to the eighth floor ourselves.

Going there by ourselves? They are not even providing the wedding car. Now that we're here, they didn't even bother to receive us? Do they know the rules? Aren't they bullying us?" Uncle Zhang raised his voice in a fit of anger. Aunt Zhang, next to him, was looking dreadful.

Sister Li was looking embarrassed.

"This is too much! What a bunch of assholes!" Xiao Yu raged after she heard Uncle Zhang's account. However, she immediately covered her mouth the moment she realized her choice of words.

"Xiao Yu, you're right. Those assholes think we're some pushovers!" Uncle Zhang immediately agreed with what Xiao Yu said.

You think it's troublesome to fetch us in a wedding car. Fine. Yesterday, you refused to show up at the wedding banquet of the bride. This is over.

And now this? Uncle Zhang could not take it lying down anymore.

When Wang Xian heard this, his face turned sullen. With a pair of cold eyes he said, "Has the Wei Family finished setting up the banquet in the hotel?"

"Yes, they are done. They invited quite a few people over. Still, their family took this wedding seriously," Sister Li replied immediately.

"Seriously? They're trying to make themselves look good. What about us? This is not the first time!" Uncle Zhang snarled. Sister Li did not dare to reply to her raging father.

"Calm down. Calm down!" Aunt Zhang comforted him.

"We'll wait over here. They want to look good, right? Get them to come over and receive us. If they don't come, we're not going up. Let's wait and see!" Wang Xian looked at Uncle Zhang and suggested.

"Xiao Xian is right. Xiao Li, you will tell Wei Zhiwen to get his butt down here to receive us with his family. Otherwise, we're not going up. Tell him this is what I said!" Uncle Zhang said directly.

Xiao Li showed a bitter expression. But when she thought of Wang Xian's effort, getting her a fleet of luxurious cars in Rivertown, she was unhappy to walk up herself. So, she called her boyfriend.

Wei Zhiwen, who was greeting the guests, answered his girlfriend's phone immediately in the hotel.

Soon, he had an embarrassing look as he hurriedly consoled her.

"Mom, Dad, let's go down and receive Xiao Li, shall we? Xiao Li and her family have arrived!" Wei Zhiwen walked to his parents and said bitterly.

"Hur? Didn't we tell them to come up straight to the eighth floor?" the middle-aged lady frowned and said with an impatient expression.

"Mom, the father-in-law said we must receive them. Otherwise, we're not following the customary practice," Wei Zhiwen answered with an embarrassed look.

"Practice? Since they're here, they should abide by our practices. Are we going to abide by their practices from the countryside? Can they afford it?" The middle-aged woman threw out mean words.

"Get them to come up now and stop making trouble!" Wei Qingguo frowned and continued. "We still have to entertain our friends and relatives!"

"This..." Wei Zhiwen was feeling helpless. He made a call again.

However, before he could even finish what he wanted to say, an angry voice was heard from the phone.

"Wei Zhiwen, I'm telling you now! Either your family comes down to receive us, or I'll send my daughter back!"

Upon hearing this, Wei Zhiwen's face paled slightly.

He was an introvert, and he had been an obedient child to his parents since he was young. This time, he had shown great determination in marrying Xiao Li.

Now that he was in such a situation, he could not do much.

"Dad, Mom?" Wei Zhiwen came to his parents with a dreadful look.

"What's the matter?" the middle-aged lady raised her eyebrows and asked.

"Father-in-law is unwilling to come up on his own. Let's go down, shall we? We just need to receive them and bring them up," Wei Zhiwen pleaded as he asked.

"Such a trouble-maker!" The middle-aged lady sulked as she stared at her son with dissatisfaction.

"Fine. Let's go. It's not good if we insist!" Wei Qingguo frowned and said to them.

"Hmph, let's go!"

"We're going down to fetch the bride. Please take a seat, everyone!" Wei Qingguo greeted his friends, relatives, and his business acquaintances as he prepared to go down.

"Oh? Picking up the bride? Let's go and have a look."

"Yes, we're going over too. We haven't seen how beautiful the bride is!"

"Haha, yes. Let's join the party!"

The friends and relatives around them followed behind with curiosity.

They had yet to see the bride, so they wanted to check her out.

Chapter 164: The Price Of Getting Off The Car

Seeing the group of people following, Wei Qingguo had a ghastly expression.

If I let my relatives and friends witness the bride arriving in a wedding car that costs a few hundred thousand, wouldn't that be embarrassing?

What will this tell them about us?

They probably will say we are mean to let the bride sit in such a car!

The middle-aged woman looked disgruntled.

However, she couldn't possibly send them back after seeing their enthusiastic looks.

This had made her look even more disgruntled.

"She really knows how to cause us trouble!"

Wei Qingguo mumbled softly as he headed down with a grumpy face.

"Director Wei, why didn't you ask the photographer along? There should be video coverage for receiving the bride, right?"

As the group of more than a dozen people walked out of the lift, one middle-aged man asked this.

"It's fine. We like to keep this process simple. The two kids have already taken lots of wedding photos and videos as records."

Wei Qingguo squeezed out a faint smile.

"In that case, let our groom be at the front to receive the beautiful bride and the parents behind him to welcome their daughter-in-law!" a middle-aged man joked loudly.

"Let's go!" the crowd behind him seconded. No one had noticed the looks on Wei Qingguo or the middle-aged woman.

On the other hand, Wei Zhiwen was wearing a faint smile as he walked out.

"Where are the wedding cars?"

When the crowd arrived at the lobby, Wei Qingguo looked around. He instinctively skipped the luxurious cars as he looked around him.

"Hmm? Where are they?"

The middle-aged woman also looked around. Her face darkened as she commented, "Don't tell me they are only coming in two or three cars!"

"What a huge line-up of wedding cars ahead. Wow. Rolls-Royce and sports cars! Isn't that a little too extravagant?"

"Oh my gosh! Take a look at those car plates. Which influential person of Rivertown do these belong to? What a grand line-up!"

"I haven't heard of any wealthy man in Rivertown getting married today!"

At this moment, doubts sounded from the crowd of relatives and friends.

Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged woman also saw the luxurious wedding car line-up. However, they did not believe they were from Xiao Li's family.

They knew clearly about their daughter-in-law's family.

The crowd also didn't believe that these luxury cars belonged to the Wei Family.

They knew the Wei Family well. Although they were rich, they still couldn't afford a wedding car line-up that cost $300 million.

"Son, give them a call!"

The middle-aged woman heard the exclamations of the surrounding relatives.

If the wedding cars that arrive in a while cost just a few hundred thousand, it would be really embarrassing in comparison with the luxury cars ahead.

The middle-aged woman and Wei Qingguo weren't looking pleased.

When the phone call got through, it was Uncle Zhang who answered the call.

"We are right ahead of you guys! Can't you see us?"

Wei Zhiwen, who was making the call, was instantly shocked as he looked ahead.

There was indeed a familiar face standing in front of the Rolls-Royce.

"Father-in-law, these cars..."

"Come over!" Uncle Zhang said impatiently before passing the phone to his daughter in the car.

"Dad, mom, they are right there. Let's go over!"

Wei Zhiwen pointed to the cars ahead and led the group over.

"Where?" The middle-aged woman looked in the direction her son pointed and followed behind her son.

"There!" Wei Zhiwen pointed his finger again.

Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged woman looked over and saw two familiar figures standing beside the Rolls-Royce.

They were the parents of the bride.

"Why are they standing..."

Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged woman were shocked.

When they got closer to the wedding cars, they started seeing other familiar faces. At this moment, they couldn't help but be surprised.

They knew clearly about the bride's family and were extremely dissatisfied about it.

They were from a village.

However, they were in a Rolls-Royce luxury car right now and were surrounded by several dozens of other luxury cars.

Even the Wei Family couldn't afford such a grand line up.

"What the... It can't be! Look at those luxury cars from the bride's family and those car plates. Aren't those the cars of the Ren Family's Head?"

"And those cars right there. Aren't those the cars of several other wealthy men in Rivertown? Why are they all being used as wedding cars?"

"Isn't the bride from the village? The Wei Family wouldn't be able to afford such a luxurious line up of wedding cars too!"

The crowd of relatives and friends were commenting and felt disbelief.

Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged woman were also stunned by what they saw.

Their daughter-in-law was indeed sitting in the luxury car.

"It's really hard to get you here!"

When Uncle Zhang saw them walking over, he remarked mockingly.

"Father-in-law!"

When Wei Zhiwen heard Uncle Zhang, he greeted with embarrassment before looking towards Sister Li.

Wei Qingguo and his wife asked, "You...How did you guys get so many luxury cars as wedding cars?"

"What? I can't get other cars to send my daughter over just because you are not willing to fetch her?" Uncle Zhang replied angrily.

"Huh?"

Uncle Zhang's word surprised the crowd behind the Wei Qingguo's couple. They looked towards Wei Qingguo and his wife curiously.

It seemed that they weren't very pleased about it.

Moreover, the Wei Family seemed to have not sent wedding cars to fetch the bride.

"Alright, let's talk after we get in. Let's go upstairs. We have a number of guests waiting!"

When Wei Qingguo heard Uncle Zhang, he quickly diverted the topic out of embarrassment. Those that had come along with him were all his relatives and friends. He didn't want to lose his composure here.

"Xiao Li, let's get up together!" Wei Zhiwen said to Sister Li, who was in the car.

"Wait a minute, brother-in-law. We had a hard time sending Sister Li over. How can she just go up with you? You've got to at least give her a red packet to get her off the car. These are the rules and customs!"

Wang Xian placed his hand on the car door as he smiled and spoke to Wei Zhiwen.

Uncle Zhang looked at the Wei Family's reaction before turning to Wang Xian. He stood aside and didn't say a word.

"Red packet?"

Wei Qingguo and his wife were slightly shocked and Wei Zhiwen frowned.

They had not prepared any red packet!

However, giving a red packet to get the bride off the wedding car was also a customary thing to do. The amount wasn't the crux of the issue.

"You guys must have gone crazy from thinking about money!" the middle-aged woman grumbled softly. However, Wang Xian, who was closest to her, could hear her perfectly.

"Xiao Li, let's not kick up a fuss. Will you just get off the car? The wedding is about to start. We can't afford to miss the auspicious hour!" Wei Zhiwen said quickly.

"Hehe."

Wang Xian looked at the Wei Family's couple and revealed a cold smirk.

At this moment, a mocking voice came from the back of the crowd.

"Aiyo, a wedding should be lively. Can it be that the Wei Family didn't even prepare a red packet? How can you guys not show even this level of sincerity?"

It was from Miao Zhiwei and the group.

They could now tell that Young Master Wang had invited them over to support him and mess with the Wei Family.

Any one of the six of them could severely damage Wei Family's business. Any two or three of them together could make the Wei Family bankrupt!

Chapter 165: Painful Price

The sarcastic tone stunned Mr. and Mrs. Wei, Wei Zhiwen, and the rest of their relatives and friends.

Anger flashed within Wei Qingguo's eyes. He bet the in-laws wanted to embarrass them.

"Our Wei Family is preparing a grand wedding...you..." Wei Qingguo lifted his head with a furious look as he traced the source of the voice.

However, he froze before he could finish his sentence as he looked shockingly at the six people in front of him.

"Director Miao, Director Li, Manager Fang, Director Zhao, Director Heng, and Director Wu!"

When Wei Qingguo saw them, his pupils could not help but constrict. All six of them were people whom he needed to fawn upon. Why? Why are they here?

"Hello, Director Wei."

Miao Zhiyong smiled at Wei Qingguo with a sarcastic look on his face. "Today, we are here to send the bride off. But, we didn't expect to wait this long. The bride came, and yet, you were slow in receiving her. You don't even have basic manners. Director Wei, you're doing things the wrong way!"

"Yes, yes. It was our oversight!" Miao Zhiyong spoke as if he was teaching a lesson to Wei Qingguo. But Wei Qingguo did not dare to be displeased about it. He hurriedly bowed and apologized.

"If you want the bride to come out of the car, you should at least prepare some red packets!" Director Zhao beside him grinned at Wei Qingguo. [\[1\]](#)

"Yes, I got it. We'll prepare them right away!" Wei Qingguo apologized with a nod, even though he was full of surprise.

Why? Why did these six people come with the bride's wedding car?

Was it a coincidence or...?

Uncle Zhang, Aunt Zhang, and Sister Li were shocked to see this. What was going on?

Why did Wei Qingguo treat those six people beside Xiao Xian with so much respect?

The relatives and friends behind Wei Qingguo were equally surprised when they saw this.

Among them, some recognized Miao Zhiyong and the rest.

All six people had a great influence on Wei Family's business.

"Yes, we'll get it done now," said the middle-aged lady quickly with a constant mixed expression.

"If you don't have the red packet, that's fine. You can always give something else!" Wang Xian smiled nonchalantly at Wei Qingguo and his wife.

"What else?"

Wei Qingguo knit his eyebrow slightly when he heard Wang Xian. Radiance flickered in his eyes as he stared at Wang Xian, unsure of his identity.

"Since it's for the bride, it's as good as switching the gift from your left hand to your right hand," Wang Xian looked at them with his lips drawn. Seeing everyone staring at him, he smiled and continued, "All the shares of the Ling Medical Equipment Group and all assets of the Wei Family can be treated as Sister Li's red packet for getting off the car!"

"What? Are you insane? What sheer nonsense is this?" As soon as Wang Xian finished his sentence, the middle-aged lady pointed her finger at Wang Xian and shrieked.

"What nonsense are you talking about?" Wei Qingguo stared at Wang Xian with a dreadful look.

Even Uncle Zhang and Aunt Zhang, next to him, were shocked.

"I think it is feasible. It's not a big deal to transfer Wei Family's assets to the bride."

"Young Master Wang is right. You'll have to pay some price for getting a daughter-in-law."

"You didn't even receive the bride when she's been here for so long. Take it as a little punishment!"

"Yes, since Young Master Wang's sister is married to the Wei Family, you can't treat her poorly. Assets transfer is not a big deal." Miao Zhiyong, Director Li and the rest persuaded Wei Qingguo in a cold tone.

To them, it was a great honor for the Wei Family since Young Master Wang's sister was marrying their son. How dare the Wei Family forego and pay no attention to the customary practice.

No wonder Young Master Wang had to get the six of them. Wei Family was digging their own grave!

"This..."

Wei Qingguo's expression turned awful immediately when the six of them expressed their opinions. He was staring at Wang Xian with a pair of disbelieving eyes.

Young Master Wang?

The six of them actually addressed him as Young Master Wang?

The middle-aged lady watched this scene, looking pale. What are Director Miao and the rest trying to do? Force them?

"You can't blame me for asking too much. Sister Li held her banquet yesterday when she married to your family. But none of you turned up. Not even the groom. Heh, I even had to look for my own wedding car. In that case, I can only ask for a bigger red packet for my Sister Li." Wang Xian beamed as he looked at the pale-looking middle-aged lady and Wei Qingguo.

The relatives and friends behind them were shocked as they stared at them. None of them uttered a word.

"Transferring all our assets... isn't this... too much?" Wei Qingguo had a constant mixed expression as he spoke with a trembling voice.

"Nope, I don't think so," Miao Zhiyong answered with a face full of smiles. "I can tell that the Wei Family is bullying the bride's family. If you don't pay such a price, who knows if you will continue to bully the bride!"

"That's right, Director Wei. You need to reconsider it. If you don't agree with it, we have our own ways too," Manager Fang said impassively to Wei Qingguo.

"How can all of you do such things?!" The middle-aged lady had an ashen look with her body trembling violently. Her voice sounded like she was crying.

"I'm getting a safety net for my Sister Li," said Wang Xian coldly to them.

"Wei Qingguo, don't turn things ugly. Otherwise, you won't have a chance to make it up." Miao Zhiyong at the side threatened him.

A look of despair flashed across Wei Qingguo's eyes. He closed his eyes and took a deep breath, "Fine, we will transfer all our assets to our daughter-in-law. Please step out of the car."

"Great, Director Wei. You're generous. Come to us if you have any need in the future," Miao Zhiyong said smilingly to Wei Qingguo.

A stick and a carrot.

Six of them could easily make the Wei Family bankrupt, at the same time, they could bring Wei Family to the next level.

Upon hearing Miao Zhiyong, Wei Qingguo gave a smile. None of them knew if the smile was a happy one or an upset one.

Perhaps it was both.

Whatever had happened today was totally beyond his expectations.

A daughter-in-law from the countryside, whom they despised, actually had such an influential brother.

He could get all the people whom Ling Medical Equipment Group depended on over here.

He wanted all of the Wei Family's assets to be transferred under the bride's name.

Yet, Wei Qingguo did not dare to refuse. Otherwise, Ling Medical Equipment Group would not survive for more than six months.

"This... how..."

The middle-aged lady was stupefied. Are they giving away the properties and assets that the Wei Family worked hard for in the past decades just like this?

To the daughter-in-law whom she had always looked down upon?

Uncle Zhang and Aunt Zhang were dumbfounded as they looked at Mr. and Mrs. Wei, then back to Wang Xian again.

Sister Li, in the wedding car, was looking confused. All the Wei Family's assets are going under my name?

"Xiao Wei, aren't you getting the bride out of the car on your big day?" The relatives and friends of the Wei Family quickly got this situation out of a fix.

"Yes, Xiao Wei. Pick her up and get ready for the wedding," Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged lady said hurriedly.

It was a situation that was hard for them to swallow, but nothing could be changed.

In the future, they would have to please this daughter-in-law!

Chapter 166: Getting A Beachfront House

Sister Li's wedding had ended and Uncle Zhang and his wife were delighted,

After getting to know about Wang Xian's background from Miao Zhiyong and the group, Wei Qingguo and the middle-aged lady had given up on some thoughts that they were harboring.

They knew about the reputation of Miracle Doctor Wang from the Old Street. It was just that they hadn't seen him previously.

At this moment, they had truly witnessed his capabilities.

To make up for their actions for the last two days, they even wanted to head to Pengzhou to host a make-up banquet.

However, this idea was rejected by Uncle Zhang.

Now that his nephew and niece had made him really proud in Feng Lake County, he wasn't really bothered by this.

What made Uncle Zhang and his wife really contented was that they wouldn't have to worry about Xiao Li being put into a tough spot in the Wei Family in the future.

With all their assets transferred to Sister Li, the Wei Family would have to treat their daughter-in-law really well.

Otherwise, if they bullied Sister Li and she left, the Wei Family would be finished.

When the cowardly Wei Zhiwen saw how this had developed, he was thrilled instead. This made Wang Xian and Xiao Yu a little speechless.

This brother-in-law of ours... really has no desire to be in conflict with others.

"Xiao Xian, uncle really has to thank you for what you've done for this incident!"

After the wedding banquet, Uncle Zhang patted on Wang Xian's shoulders and spoke with a radiant smile.

"Uncle Zhang, these are just some small matters. Ask Sister Li to bring you guys to First-grade Restaurant to have a meal over the next two days. Sister Li should know about it. This is the restaurant that I own. As for accommodation, you guys could stay with Sister Li over the next few days.

Wang Xian smiled at Uncle Zhang and his wife.

Sigh!

Uncle Zhang patted Wang Xian's shoulders once again and heaved a sigh. With a flicker of gratitude in his eyes, he remarked, "Work hard!"

Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Uncle Zhang, Aunt Zhang, we are leaving!"

Xiao Yu waved at them before driving off.

"The returns of today are from small assistance rendered a few years ago. We are really lucky!"

Seeing the car disappearing from his vision, Uncle Zhang sighed emotionally.

Aunt Zhang who was standing by the side smiled and wrapped her arms around Uncle Zhang's arm.

"Brother, where are we heading? Back to school?" Xiao Yu asked curiously as she drove.

"Let's not return to school. It's not convenient to always stay at school. I'm thinking of getting a house outside school," Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu.

Wang Xian had made up his mind to get a house several days earlier. The dormitory room was small, squeezey and inconvenient. He definitely would like to have a house outside the school.

Moreover, it had to be a beachfront house. One where you could see the seas once you opened the windows!

"Brother, we are getting a house?" Xiao Yu turned her head towards Wang Xian and asked excitedly.

Wang Xian nodded his head. "Let's get a beachfront house."

"Wow! Brother, let's go get a house!" Xiao Yu remarked agitatedly.

Wang Xian smiled. "Let's go to the Supreme Seas Development Zone."

Supreme Seas Development Zone was the name of a luxury development area. It was located by the Golden Supreme Coast.

Golden Supreme Coast was an extremely beautiful beach in Rivertown.

Currently, this piece of land was owned by a well-known developer. The developer had built a luxury living area on it and named it as the Supreme Seas Development Zone.

Houses within the Supreme Seas Development Zone were all beachfront houses. They were beside the seas and were sufficiently warm, so that flowers could bloom during the spring season.

The Supreme Seas Development Zone was a little far from the city area and would take forty minutes by car. It was also a half-hour ride away from school.

The car arrived at the entrance of the Supreme Seas Development Zone and they could see the golden beach illuminated by the sun from afar.

The entire beach was extremely breath-taking.

Within the zone, there were wooden huts and beautiful pools.

The villas weren't beside each other and were widely apart from one another, just like a standalone villa.

Over this piece of land, there were only thirty to forty villas.

"Let's go take a look at the sales office."

Wang Xian looked to the sales building by the side.

"Alright, brother!"

Xiao Yu nodded her head and drove the car to the front of the sales building.

The Supreme Seas Development Zone was relatively pricier than the surrounding cities. The price of the villa started at thirty million each.

From what he understood from his research online, the houses in this area weren't sold out yet.

Xiao Yu stopped her car at the entrance of the sales building. After alighting, she skipped joyously to Wang Xian and held onto his arm.

"Excuse me, is there anything I can help you with?"

There weren't many people in the sales building. Only four to five salespersons were in it and they were just sitting by the side and playing on their phones.

A beautiful saleslady asked after seeing Wang Xian and Xiao Yu walk in.

Both of them were a little too young and no one had expected them to be buying a house.

"We would like to view the houses. How many houses are left in this zone?" Wang Xian asked directly.

"We are only left with the two most expensive villas. Their prices are both above sixty million. As for the rest, they are sold out."

The saleslady smiled and replied.

"Hmm. Can you bring us to view the houses?" Wang Xian asked directly.

"Are you sure you guys are buying?" That sales lady looked at them in shock.

"Can't we view the houses?" Wang Xian frowned and repeated his query.

"Yes, you can. Of course, you can."

After taking a further look at their dressing, the saleslady nodded her head.

"In that case, bring us there!"

"Alright! Please wait a moment while I go get the keys!"

The sales lady nodded her head, took out two rings of keys before saying to them, "Please follow me."

Hmm.

When she walked out of the sales building and saw the pink Bentley parked at the entrance, she was shocked. Soon, the smile on her face got deeper.

"Sir and Miss, let's get there by cable car!"

The development area of the Supreme Seas Development Zone was huge and the separations between villas were huge.

Sitting in the cable car, the sales lady introduced the area to them enthusiastically.

"As of this moment, we still have two villas that aren't sold. These villas are also the best. The villas have three floors with an area of 1,500 square meters. There's also a carpark slot beside the houses.

The sales lady brought them to the first villa. Looking from outside the villa, the villa was exquisite.

The villa had a large yard in the middle of it with different kinds of flowers grown.

The villa had three floors with each floor spanning approximately 500 square meters.

The house was already renovated and fitted with the necessary furniture. There was a study room, individual bathroom and even a gym!

On the third floor, there was even an indoor pool.

The entire villa was extremely luxurious.

"The price for this villa is $73 million. There's another villa a short distance away. That villa would be over $80 million," the sales lady said to them.

"Let's go take a look at the other one." Wang Xian looked around the villa before saying this to the saleslady.

The sales lady smiled and said, "Alright, sir. The other villa has a completely different style from this. When you open the window of the other villa, the seas are just right below. The interiors are fitted with the best sound isolation materials. Therefore, you won't find it noisy at night. Let me bring you guys there to take a look!"

"Sure!"

When Wang Xian heard her words, his eyes lit up and he nodded his head immediately.

Chapter 167: Breeding Spiritual Grass (1)

"This is the one!" Wang Xian exclaimed with excitement as he stood by the villa's window and looked down at the sea. It was a villa which was located deep within the Supreme Seas Development Zone, close to the sea.

This villa was built on a towering rock that emerged from the sea, thus having the seawater right beneath it. It was different from the other villas that were located more than a hundred meters away from the sea.

The entire villa stood at three stories, and the exterior had a swimming pool that linked to the sea and a boat placed beside the villa.

The exciting thing was the slide placed on the roof, allowing people to slide straight into the sea.

This villa seemed much more magnificent than the previous one which he had viewed.

"How much does this villa cost?" Wang Xian asked the saleswoman excitedly.

"Sir, this villa is currently selling at $83 million. If you are able to make the full payment, you may have the property only for $80 million. You may have the villa with all the facilities available inside!" the saleswoman replied politely.

"$80 million..." Wang Xian nodded and said, "I'll take it, may I sign the contract and stay in today?"

"Yes, of course!"

The saleswoman nodded with enthusiasm and shook, and moved herself right beside Wang Xian.

She looked at Wang Xian with glittering eyes and brushed her breast against Wang Xian's arm.

"All right, please bring me the contract, and if possible, I shall stay here today." Wang Xian spoke as he looked coldly at her.

"Oh yes! Yes, sir!" The saleswoman nodded and walked out with some disappointment.

Wang Xian made his way up to the top level of the villa and watched Xiao Yu view the surroundings with excitement.

"Choose a room for yourself!" Wang Xian said to Xiao Yu.

"All right, brother. I'll choose the room on the second level," she replied excitedly.

"Okay, I shall have the room on the third level then."

"That reminds me, brother, my master will be coming over and staying with us later," Xiao Yu told Wang Xian.

Wang Xian nodded and said, "Sure, we can give Elder Fang the room right beside yours, when is she coming over?"

Wang Xian was not surprised that Xiao Yu's master was staying with them.

Ever since Xiao Yu had become the Saintess of the Thistles And Thorns Sect after joining the sect, Sect Leader Tang had always wanted to arrange someone skillful enough to protect her.

However, Xiao Yu turned down the offer. Fortunately, Elder Fang would be following her from now on.

Apart from giving martial arts guidance, she would also ensure Xiao Yu's safety.

"I just sent her the address, she will be here in the afternoon," said Xiao Yu.

"Okay," Wang Xian acknowledged.

At this moment, the saleswoman came back with a middle-aged man in a suit.

"Sir, we have brought all our information, and we may proceed with the transaction now."

"Sure!"

All it took was just the signing of the purchasing contract and the payment.

"Sir, if you have any needs, you may contact us via our hotline, and we will answer your needs as soon as we can!" the middle-aged man said to Wang Xian with much veneration.

"Oh yes, I really do have a need. Does your company provide purchasing services for yachts?"

Wang Xian had always dreamed of possessing a yacht.

A yacht would complete that sea view villa. It would also be a pleasure to take Xiao Yu or Guan Shuqing out to the sea for a ride.

Having a zesty life on the sea could not be more wonderful than swimming under the sea in his dragon form.

"Yachts?" The middle-aged man was stunned for a while and replied, "Well, we have a collaboration with a yacht agent who represents a well-known yacht brand in the world. If you wish to purchase, we have a booklet with the various types of yachts."

He took out a booklet and handed it to Wang Xian.

The yachts were known as the top luxury brand in Italy.

Wang Xian viewed the price of the yachts, which ranged from $3 million to $80 million, came in different styles and were mesmerizing.

"This yacht costs just as much as this villa." Xiao Yu was shocked as she came and looked at the different yachts in the booklet.

Wang Xian nodded, he pointed at a particular yacht and said, "How's this one?"

"It's beautiful, but it costs $40 million, it's too expensive," Xiao Yu replied with her lips pouting as she looked at the yacht that Wang Xian had pointed out to her.

The yacht stood at 26 meters long and was able to make long-distance travels.

The interior concept was no different from a house.

It was filled with all kinds of amenities such as a dining area, a bedroom, and a living room. The double-decker yacht was grand and luxurious.

"Let's decide on this, then: the cheaper ones are too small," Wang Xian said decisively.

Both the middle-aged man and the saleswoman were astonished.

In just within a day, $120 million had been spent.

"Sir, we will need you to pay the deposit first, and we will deliver the yacht within a week!" said the middle-aged man, in an ardoring manner.

"Sure!" Wang Xian nodded and made the payment for the deposit immediately.

"Thank you, and contact us if you have any needs."

As both the middle-aged man and the saleswoman left, Wang Xian lay on the sofa with a huge smile on his face.

Just the renovation of the entire villa alone cost tens of millions of dollars, with all appliances purchased from top brands in the world.

Xiao Yu also toured herself in their new home happily.

"Brother, my master has arrived, I'm going out to receive her."

Xiao Yu ran out of the house. By then, half an hour had already passed as Wang Xian was chatting with Guan Shuqing on his mobile phone.

"Brother, come and help me out!"

Wang Xian stood and went outside as he heard Xiao Yu's voice after a short while.

As he arrived at the courtyard, he saw a Wrangler SUV had been parked. Xiao Yu, with her master and the chauffeur, had their hands full.

What seemed peculiar to Wang Xian, were some grass and stones that were removed from the car.

"What are these?" asked Wang Xian as he looked dumbfounded.

"These are some spiritual stones and spiritual grass that possess spiritual energy," replied Elder Fang, who looked at Wang Xian in bewilderment.

"Spiritual stones and spiritual grass that possess spiritual energy?"

Wang Xian was stunned for a while and immediately went up to pick up one of those stones.

[Dilapidated spiritual stones]

Instantly, some words flashed across Wang Xian's head.

"Spiritual stones!" Wang Xian's eyes started to fill with fire, but he shook his head.

Wang Xian needed a complete spiritual stone; dilapidated spiritual stones were totally useless to him.

He looked at the spiritual grass, but there was no sign given from his system, as the grass may have been too low in terms of level.

"These items are used as a form of support for Xiao Yu's training," said Elder Fang as she took out two tufts of spiritual grass from her car carefully.

The tufts of spiritual grass were placed in a wooden bucket of half a meter wide, which was filled with red mud and some spiritual stones.

One of the tufts appeared to be redder in color, and it glowed with red halation.

The other tuft had some green fruits which were about the size of a pinky fingernail, grown on it, and there were five to six of them.

Chapter 168: Breeding Spiritual Grass (2)

100-year Blood Nurturing Grass: Level 1

Extractable Dragon Energy: 665

100-year Spiritual Bead: Level 1

Extractable Dragon Energy: 343

What?

When Wang Xian saw the information about these two tufts of grass, he was shocked.

He was actually able to see the level of these medicinal grasses. Moreover, dragon energy could be extracted from them.

Nope, they should be referred to as "Spiritual Medicine!"

100-year Blood Nurturing Grass! Could it be that this medicinal grass has been living for a hundred years and has evolved into a spiritual grass? Wang Xian thought to himself.

"Our Thistles and Thorns Sect had a hard time getting these two tufts of grass. This is the Blood Nurturing Grass. Consuming it would strengthen one's breathing and blood flow and strengthen one's body. This is the Spiritual Beads Grass. Consuming the spiritual beads on it could increase one's spiritual strength. However, the spiritual beads on it haven't matured and would require an additional month. Spiritual grasses like these are few even in the entire Thistles and Thorns Sect."

Elder Fang explained as she held onto the two tufts of spiritual grass.

"Master, are those stones with spiritual strength and spiritual grasses expensive?"

Xiao Yu looked at the white and translucent stones around her and asked inquisitively.

"They are naturally precious. Now that we are at the Age of Dharma Decline where spiritual energy is scarce, cultivation is extremely difficult. Not everyone has the Inborn Constitution like Xiao Yu. A small stone like this will be enough for an ordinary Ancient Martial Artist to absorb. However, each one of these is worth several hundreds of thousands." [1]

"The value of these two tufts of grass is even higher. You can't get it without four to five million. Moreover, many would see these as priceless. Even if you have the money, you might not be able to get them," Elder Fang explained to Xiao Yu patiently.

"Wouldn't that mean that the stones with spiritual energy and these spiritual grasses are worth forty to fifty million?" Xiao Yu remarked in astonishment.

There were over a hundred stones with spiritual energy that her master had brought over this time. Together with these precious spiritual grasses, the value was extraordinary.

"These resources are for your training use for the next half a year. There will be an auction in the Southern Province tomorrow. At that time, there would be spiritual grasses up for auction. I'll bring you along to get some items," Elder Fang continued.

Xiao Yu's eyes lit up as she nodded her head slightly.

The Thistles and Thorns Sect had highly valued Xiao Yu's Inborn Constitution. They weren't stingy at all when it came to various cultivation resources.

"Let me place the remaining spiritual grass in a place with ample sunlight. Xiao Yu, bring these spiritual stones into your room. I'll teach you how to absorb the energy in a while!" Elder Fang said to Xiao Yu.

"Alright, Master," answered Xiao Yu.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I'll be troubling you for the near future," Elder Fang said to Wang Xian.

"It's alright. You are Xiao Yu's master. I should be thanking you for guiding her."

Wang Xian shook his head.

Although Elder Fang wore loose clothing, her perfect body was just like a mature peach. Looking at her was pleasing to the eyes.

Elder Fang nodded her head and smiled. After which, she took the tufts of medicinal grasses to the front yard. With the assistance of a middle-aged man, she planted them.

After watering them and placing some broken spiritual stones around them, Elder Fang finally nodded her head in satisfaction before heading back to the villa.

As for the driver, after helping Elder Fang, he left immediately.

After seeing them leaving, Wang Xian hesitated for a moment before appearing in front of the medicinal grass Elder Fang had planted.

Wang Xian knew relatively little about medicinal grasses.

Medicinal grasses and medical techniques were often highly related. However, the shame was that Wang Xian was just a pseudo Miracle Doctor.

It seems like only medicinal grasses that are over a hundred years could be considered as Level 1 spiritual medicine. Only then can I see their information and extract dragon energy.

Wang Xian confirmed the thought in his mind. From another perspective, the Devil Flowers that he met in the seas previously could also be considered as a form of spiritual medicine.

Level 1 spiritual medicine is worth four to five million. This is similar to the value of a 100-year-old ginseng. Can I breed my own spiritual grass?

Wang Xian pondered.

When he knew how precious spiritual medicine was, as well as its effects, he had a thought in mind.

As a divine dragon, coupled with the fact that he could turn into an Azure Dragon of Wood attributes, he could control all types of plants.

The most common ability and what he was most apt at in this moment was controlling plants. Using wood-attribute energy, he could make the plants grow at a rapid pace and control them for attacking.

Does this mean that I can breed spiritual medicine rapidly?

For example, making a 100-year spiritual grass grow into a 500-year spiritual grass in a short amount of time?

If Wang Xian could do it, he would be a "bug" like existence in the future. All the experts in the Ancient Martial Arts circle would be requesting spiritual medicine from him.

At that time, he wouldn't have to worry about the resources required for the Dragon Palace!

Wang Xian had spent a total of $120 million to buy the villa and the yacht today. This left him with only thirty million. How poor was he!

Wang Xian walked in front of the medicinal grass that Elder Fang had planted.

There was a total of ten tufts of them.

These medicinal grass were all around thirty to forty years old and weren't cheap at all.

"This is the Spiritual Beads medicinal grass. However, it has not borne the spiritual beads yet!"

Wang Xian looked at the medicinal grass. It was different from those that Elder Fang had placed in his own room. This was just a seedling in comparison.

It still had some effects if consumed now. However, the effects were a far cry from those 100-year-old Spiritual Beads Grasses.

Those that were below a hundred years were classified as medicinal grass. As for those above a hundred years, they were classified as spiritual medicine.

Wang Xian bowed down and dug out the Spiritual Beads grass.

Sss!

Moving his finger slightly, a dense aura of the Azure Dragon surrounded the grass and prevented it from dying.

"Let's experiment on it!"

Wang Xian returned to the villa. When he walked past the second floor, he noticed that Elder Fang was guiding Xiao Yu with her cultivation. He headed for the third floor directly and closed the door.

"I hope it will work!"

The Spiritual Beads Grass was only about twenty centimeters tall and had the thickness of a thumb. It was of a bright green color, just like bamboo which had grown out of the earth.

It was much smaller than the one in Elder Fang's hands a while ago, which was half a meter tall.

Wang Xian held it and emitted an intense aura of the Azure Dragon. Gradually, he injected them into the Spiritual Beads Grass.

The Spiritual Beads Grass glowed in a faint green color.

Wang Xian noticed that spiritual beads were growing at a very slow pace.

"It really works!"

Wang Xian's eyes lit up as he continued injecting the aura of the Azure Dragon into it.

"This is it."

However, after ten minutes, Wang Xian could feel that all the energy in his body had been depleted. The Spiritual Beads Grass had only grown by ten centimeters.

"Indeed, it isn't that easy to create a spiritual medicine!"

Wang Xian's complexion was pale and he felt fatigued.

He hesitated for a moment before going to the top floor of the villa. After removing his clothes, he slid into the seas from that slide.

Dragon Transformation!

Wang Xian dived into the seas. He noticed that the waters directly below were only about 1.5 meters deep. Swaying his body, he swam towards the seas rapidly.

Splash!

The giant body of the divine dragon appeared. Wang Xian held that Spiritual Beads Grass between his lips and swam to the region where the waters were seven to eight meters deep. After which, he created a space that was free of water.

Wang Xian in human form was a lot weaker than when he was in the dragon form. The energy in his body in human form was also a lot lower.

With a change in thought, lights of five colors were emitted from his body and he turned into an Azure Dragon with Wood-attribute energy.

I don't believe I can't create a spiritual medicine!

Wang Xian stared at that Spiritual Beads Grass as a dense aura of the Azure Dragon was injected into it gradually.

Endnote:

The Age of Dharma Decline was referenced from the three divisions of time following Buddha's passing in East Asia Buddhism. It was said that during this period, no one would be able to attain enlightenment.

Chapter 169: Breeding Spiritual Grass (3)

Immense energy of Azure Dragon filled itself into the spiritual bead herb, which spurred its growth.

The Azure Dragon energy had allowed the herb to grow from 20 centimeters to 30 centimeters. Gradually, the spiritual beads grew to half a meter under the irrigation of the energy.

"Hmm? Why hasn't it reached the level of a spiritual medicine?" Wang Xian stared at the spiritual beads in bewilderment and used his Dragon Energy to check its status.

"Oh my.... This spiritual bead might be at a bottleneck stage!" Wang Xian frowned. Every living thing had its shackles to unlock, spiritual grass included.

It usually required a long period of time before the spiritual grass reached the stage of spiritual medicine.

As time passed, the energy of the herb would be accumulated, and it would be able to break free from its shackles.

What Wang Xian was trying to do was to speed up the growth by force, but it was unable to break the shackles.

"Looks like it's not going to be as easy as I'd expected." Wang Xian frowned again as he realized that it was not easy to cultivate spiritual medicine.

It would be too absurd to think that any random person with a wood element energy could use their power to speed up the growth for spiritual medicine.

In fact, unknown to Wang Xian, his Azure Dragon energy contained essence of the wood element. A pinch of energy was equivalent to one hundred points of wood elements.

As he was trying to recover from the energy lost, he gave it a thought and shook.

"Since spiritual medicines are able to boost my dragon energy, does it mean that the shackles can only be broken by injecting dragon energy?"

Immediately, Wang Xian injected some dragon energy right into the spiritual bead herb.

Instantly, Wang Xian saw spiritual beads born from the spiritual bead herb.

[Spiritual Bead: Level 1]

[Extractable Dragon Energy: 432]

"Yes! I did it! I did it!"

A tuft of herb had finally been cultivated into spiritual grass after a massive amount of Azure Dragon energy and 14 points of dragon energy had been used up. Wang Xian was definitely on cloud nine.

In conclusion, compared to the energy depleted in cultivating the medicine and the amount of energy he could gain from it, he still had close to 400 points of dragon energy surplus.

However, the time taken to cultivate should be taken into consideration as well; it was not just the energy that was the crucial element.

Assuming Wang Xian took this amount of time, he would probably gain more than 400 dragon energy if he hunted in the sea.

"I shall continue and see if this can be cultivated to a higher level."

Wang Xian's heart was filled with willpower as he pumped more Azure Dragon energy into spiritual medicine.

The Azure Dragon energy allowed the spiritual bead medicine to speed up the growth upon breaking its shackles.

Gradually, as the spiritual bead medicine grew, the six spiritual beads on the stalk began to turn red.

After an hour, Wang Xian exhaled a long breath, looking exhausted.

In just an hour, he had used up all his Azure Dragon energy which only allowed the spiritual medicine to grow to about eighty centimeters, and was still far from the full evolution.

He decided to recover his energy before he carried on.

As the full recovery took place after an hour, he continued to pump the energy into the spiritual bead again.

Slowly, it grew to ninety centimeters, and to one meter.

Wang Xian sensed yet another shackle upon reaching one meter.

"Guess I have to use my dragon energy again."

The difference between the Azure Dragon energy and the dragon energy was the Azure Dragon energy contained essence of the wood element and could be replenished through recuperation upon full consumption, while the dragon energy would be gone permanently under the same circumstance.

Currently, Wang Xian's dragon energy was standing at 500,000, so it was not a big deal using just a bit to cultivate a tuft of spiritual medicine.

This time, Wang Xian used up 200 dragon energy.

[Spiritual Bead: Level 2]

[Extractable Dragon Energy: 2,312]

"It's level 2! It has reached level 2, and the six spiritual beads have turned a fiery red color. These spiritual beads might be in their 500th year."

He thought and continued to cultivate.

Since it was still early, he wanted to see how far he was able to cultivate.

One hour passed...

Two hours passed...

Eight hours passed...

Ten hours passed...

"I'm exhausted!" Wang Xian lay flat on the sea bed like a dead dragon after twelve long hours.

This was just like fighting in a war. No one would be able to stand after fighting such long hours, especially when all energy had been used up.

However, a smile was drawn across Wang Xian's face as he persevered to push the spiritual medicine to three meters with the six spiritual beads bore with yellowish fruits.

[Extractable Dragon Energy: 13,654]

A Level 4 spiritual medicine had been created after more than ten hours, utilizing more than 3,000 dragon energy.

He realized that the cultivation would get tougher and tougher. It would require at least three days to reach Level 5.

It would take half a month to reach Level 6.

The higher the level, the tougher it gets. It might even need three to four months or more in order to reach Level 7 or 8.

He had to go on without any recuperation during this period.

"I shall let Xiao Yu try on one to test its effectiveness," said Wang Xian happily as looked at the fruits and continued to recuperate.

Compared to the Level 1 spiritual beads, the current fruits were at the size of a fist and were beaming with a faint yellow light.

With a twist of his body, Wang Xian had transformed back to his human form. He then leaped to the villa's roof. In his hand he held the spiritual bead medicine which stood at the height of three meters and the circumference of an arm.

"Let's place it here then. It should not perish with a vitality of Level 4 spiritual medicine."

Wang Xian set the six fruits down as he left the Level 4 spiritual medicine on the roof.

If anyone were to know that the spiritual medicine had been left on the roof, it would invite countless powerhouses to the villa to compete for it after a day.

I guess it's past 8 o'clock, Wang Xian thought as he looked at the sky, which had already brightened up after he was gone with the cultivation for more than ten hours since the day before.

He got himself dressed and made his way down.

He peeped into the rooms at the second level. It seemed like both Xiao Yu and her master had already gone down.

When he came to the ground floor, he heard soft exclamations from outside.

He came to the front door and saw that Xiao Yu was training with a sword in her hand. Sweat was rolling down her cheeks.

On the other side, Elder Fang was dressed entirely different from her two previous outfits.

She was dressed in a complete tight-fitting gear which displayed her perfect body line.

Such sultriness to that derriere which was firm, round and big.

Such enticement with her hair tied up.

Elder Fang was standing on the other side while giving guidance to Xiao Yu's sword skills.

"All right, we shall call it a day. We need to rush to Flow City," said Elder Fang as she looked at the time.

Hu! Xiao Yu took a deep breath and replied, "Yes, Master!"

"Brother! Where did you come from? And just where were you yesterday?" asked Xiao Yu with some astonishment as she saw Wang Xian standing at the front door.

She had searched for her brother for a long time when he had suddenly disappeared.

"Oh, I went out and got something for you," said Wang Xian with a smile.

"How mysterious. I can't believe that you are starting to hide things from me already!" said Xiao Yu, with her lips pouted. Feeling unhappy, she said, "What on earth did you get for me that you had to leave without a sound. I almost called the cops after a long and wasted effort searching for you."

"Ahem ahem." Wang Xian smiled awkwardly as he was faced with his sister's complaint and said, "I went to get something for your training. Here, take this!"

As he spoke, he presented the fruits bore from a Level 4 spiritual medicine.

Chapter 170: Auction (1)

A yellow fruit appeared in Wang Xian's hand. When Xiao Yu wiped off the perspiration on her face and saw the fruit, she was completely speechless.

"What? You went to get fruit for me?"

"Huh?"

However, Elder Fang, who was beside Xiao Yu, frowned upon seeing the fruit in Wang Xian's hand.

"This isn't any ordinary fruit. This is something your brother had to work an entire night to get for you!"

Wang Xian was speechless as he walked towards Xiao Yu with the spiritual fruit.
"This is highly nourishing."

"Tsk. You must be lying to me. All you like to do now is lie to me."

Xiao Yu pouted and was clearly not convinced.

"This is...!"

Suddenly, excitement flashed passed Elder Fang's eyes. She had a shocked expression and her exclaim was filled with disbelief.

"Oh? It seems like Elder Fang has recognized this fruit!"

Wang Xian smiled at Elder Fang.

Puff puff!

Elder Fang's breathing was rapid. Her gaze was tightly fixed on the yellow fruit in Wang Xian's hand as she mumbled, "Spiritual Bead takes a hundred years to turn green, five hundred years to turn red, a thousand years to turn orange and one thousand five hundred years to turn yellow. This... This... This is the fruit of a Level 4 Spiritual Beads Grass!"

Elder Fang explained and her body was shivering slightly.

She looked on in disbelief. She did not have a great understanding of spiritual medicine in general but was very clear about Spiritual Beads Grass.

The Thistles and Thorns Sect had paid a huge price to get a Level 1 Spiritual Beads Grass. At that time, she had gone to find out more information about Spiritual Beads Grass.

The fruits from the Spiritual Beads Grass were known as Spiritual Beads. Based on the difference in Level, the colors would be different too.

Fruits from a hundred-year grass, five hundred-year grass, one thousand-year grass and one thousand five hundred-year grass were green, red, orange and yellow respectively.

Based on the color of this fruit, it was clear that it was the spiritual bead of a Level 4 Spiritual Beads Grass.

She had not even seen a Level 3 spiritual medicine, let alone a Level 4.

"Rumor has it that for a peak Level 9 Martial Artist, he has a ten percent chance of advancing to Half-step to Inborn if he consumes a Level 4 Spiritual Bead. If he can gather the entire spiritual medicine, he would have a sixty percent chance of advancing!"

Ten percent might seem low but it was in fact very high for a Level 9 Martial Artist, let alone sixty percent.

Elder Fang's face was turning a little red from excitement. This made her even more alluring. "The value of this Level 4 Spiritual Bead is similar to an entire city. Miracle Doctor Wang, how did you get it?"

"I did expend a lot of effort to get it," Wang Xian smiled and replied. Seeing the shocked expression on Elder Fang, he felt a little proud of himself.

It was just something he created by skipping a night of sleep!

Hehe!

"Expend a lot of effort..." Elder Fang's expression was interesting to watch. She really didn't know what else to say. Getting a Level 4 spiritual medicine just because you have expended a lot of effort? This...

"Master, is this fruit really that awesome?" Xiao Yu opened her mouth slightly and asked in astonishment.

"This is a Spiritual Bead and isn't an ordinary fruit!"

Elder Fang gritted her teeth. She felt that this pair of siblings was really strange. One managed to get a Level 4 Spiritual Bead after "expending a lot of effort" while the other asked if "this fruit is really that awesome?"

If it wasn't because of her great mental qualities, she would probably be spewing blood.

"Level 4 Spiritual Bead couldn't be bought with anything less than $700-800 million. Moreover, even if you have the money, you need to wait for the opportunity too. The frequency of the sale of Level 4 spiritual medicine might not even be once in an entire year throughout the Ancient Martial Arts circle," Elder Fang explained.

"This... So expensive?" Xiao Yu's eyes popped open and were filled with disbelief.

"Yeah!" Elder Fang nodded her head solemnly. "More often than not, Level 4 spiritual medicine couldn't be measured using money. Under most circumstances, there have to be exchanged with other objects!"

"Oh my gosh. It's worth that much?"

Wang Xian was shocked too when he heard Elder Fang's explanation. He had initially thought that the value of this fruit to be a few dozens of millions at the maximum. It was beyond his imagination that this would worth $700-800 million.

It seemed like he had underestimated the value of a Level 4 Spiritual medicine.

"What do you think? Xiao Yu, do you want to try a fruit that cost $700-800 million?"

Seeing Xiao Yu's shocked expression, Wang Xian joked.

Xiao Yu swallowed her saliva and stared at the Spiritual Bead in her brother's hand, which she had previously dismissed as just a normal fruit.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, Xiao Yu's current cultivation level is a little too low. She wouldn't be able to withstand the enormous spiritual energy in it. It's better to wait for her to consume it after reaching Level 9!"

Elder Fang's mouth twitched a little as she spoke.

"Can we just cut it into smaller pieces before eating?" Wang Xian was taken aback and asked inquisitively.

"That's possible but a large portion of the energy of the Spiritual Bead would be lost," Elder Fang said.

"It's fine. Just cut it smaller and eat it. If Xiao Yu can't finish it, Elder Fang, you can have some. Although it's a little hard to get this, it is not impossible to get," Wang Xian said nonchalantly and emitted the aura of a ruler.

Seeing how he could say those words calmly, Elder Fang was stunned and didn't know how to respond at the moment.

Her Thistles and Thorns Sect had gone through mountains and seas just to get a Level 1 spiritual medicine to aid Xiao Yu in her cultivation training. In the end, Xiao Yu's brother easily took out Level 4 spiritual medicine for Xiao Yu to waste.

This...

Can it be that it's our Thistles and Thorns Sect that is too trash-like?

No, it's this juvenile who is too insane.

Elder Fang looked at this mysterious and good-looking juvenile and started to go into a daze.

That's a little beyond her imagination now!

Miracle Doctor Wang from the Old Street of Rivertown is definitely not that simple! She thought to herself and had a desire to demystify the aura around Wang Xian.

"Brother, you are really nice to me. I'm sorry for grumbling about you previously!"

Xiao Yu walked over, feeling touched.

"Haiz. All you have to know is that I've done all these things for you."

Wang Xian smiled.

"However, if you are leaving next time, you still have to inform me. Otherwise, I'll be calling the police!" Xiao Yu continued. Upon hearing her, Wang Xian's face stiffened as he patted her head.

At this moment, Elder Fang commented, "Let's not let Xiao Yu consumes the Level 4 spiritual medicine. We can head to the auction today and see if we can get some Level 1 or 2 spiritual medicine for Xiao Yu!"

"Auction?" Wang Xian was taken aback slightly and looked at Elder Fang in doubt.

"Yeah. An auction organized by the Nine Stars Auction House. Nine Stars Auction House's auction is a blend of Ancient Martial Arts and modern style. As long as you have the money, you can enter. They will be hosting an auction in the Southern Province this time. All the wealthy people and Ancient Martial Arts Sects in the surrounding two provinces will likely be sending their representatives over. The scale of this auction is pretty huge and would likely have lots of precious items."

Elder Fang looked at Wang Xian as she explained.

"Oh? If I have something to put up for auction, can I leave it there for sale?"

Wang Xian raised an eyebrow. He only had approximately $30 million and less than one percent of the resources needed for the Dragon Palace had been gathered. It was time to get some money.

"It's a little too late to sell it by consignment now. However, there's a session after the auction that allows one to exchange items for items. Naturally, you could get money for your items. You can even save on the auction fees in this way. Consequentially, you might not be able to get a good price since you lack the publicity!"

Elder Fang explained to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian nodded his head and made up his mind.

"Brother, what are you selling?" Xiao Yu asked Wang Xian inquisitively.

"A few blood corals." Wang Xian thought about it. That heart-shaped blood coral with the other corals should be able to fetch $100-200 million. However, it was still too little.

"And a Level 4 Spiritual Bead!"

As he spoke, he took out another yellow-colored Level 4 Spiritual Bead.

Elder Fang and Xiao Yu were instantly stunned.

Chapter 171: Auction (2)

When Elder Fang saw another Level 4 Spiritual Bead, she suddenly felt like she was a beggar who had met a filthy rich person.

Her lips were parted slightly as she stared at the Spiritual Bead that every Martial Artist wanted to lay their hands on.

Such a Spiritual Bead was held casually by Wang Xian, who wanted to sell it for money. He dismissed this as something simple.

Xiao Yu was also stunned when her brother held out the Spiritual Bead. She hugged her brother's arm immediately and exclaimed, "My tycoon brother!"

"Enough, let's go!" Wang Xian smiled at Xiao Yu, "Get yourself washed up. You stink!"

"Okay!" Xiao Yu nodded to Wang Xian and ran back to the villa joyously.

Elder Fang stared hard at Wang Xian before she walked back to the villa.

Wang Xian went back and checked out the kitchen. He realized Xiao Yu and Elder Fang had bought a lot of food when he opened the refrigerator.

He made a simple breakfast and waited for Xiao Yu while eating it.

"Wow, brother. You made breakfast. But we can only have it on our way. The auction is about to begin!" Xiao Yu was thrilled as she took some food from the table and handed her Master some.

"Are we in such a hurry? Then let's go now." Wang Xian stood up and nodded.

"The auction starts at 10.30 am and ends at 3 pm. It will be almost 10.30 when we arrived at Flow City," said Elder Fang to Wang Xian.

"Okay, let's set off now!" Wang Xian nodded. He took out the Blood Corals and headed outside.

Flow City was the capital of the Southern Province. The prosperity of the city was similar to that of Rivertown. It was also a second-tier city.

However, Flow City was nearer to the first-tier city, Summer City. As such, the riches and the Ancient Martial Artists from the two provinces would be going to the auction held at Flow City.

"Here's a list of the auction items. Miracle Doctor Wang, you can take a look to see if anything catches your eye." Elder Fang handed an exquisite auction booklet to Wang Xian.

"Thank you!" Wang Xian nodded and took over the booklet with curiosity.

The first page was an introduction to Nine Stars Auction House.

Nine Stars Auction House was considered the First-class Force, mainly for auctioning some items that were from the ancient martial art world and the present society.

Apart from the Starry Auction House managed by the Starry Sacred Sect, Nine Stars Auction House was the top-notch auction house in the domestic country.

Each auction they held could attract many wealthy people and experts.

This auction was the same as well.

Wang Xian flipped to the second page, which showed the first item for auction.

The authentic calligraphy of Li Bai.

Li Bai, known as the Sword Celestial, was also a legendary Ancient Martial Artist and a powerful Inborn Expert.

The name, Sword Celestial, was crowned for his mighty swordsmanship.

At the same time, he had integrated his swordsmanship into his calligraphy. According to rumors, if anyone could decipher his swordsmanship from his calligraphy, he would definitely be able to obtain the inheritance of the Sword Celestial.

The first item, Li Bai's authentic calligraphy, held high value in collection and cultivation.

The bid started from $20 million.

The second item was an antique which was not as expensive as the first one, with a starting bid of several million.

Subsequently, there were other antiques, accessories, and all kinds of jewelry.

Apart from those, there were things like renowned swords and herbs ranging from millions to billions. Many things inside the booklet stunned Wang Xian a little.

Besides that, there were a few secretive items which were unrevealed. However, the booklet claimed that these items would spur fierce competition among the experts.

Wang Xian flipped through the booklet and had some understanding of the auction.

The car drove them fast to the border between Flow City and Summer City at 10.10 am.

This area was a suburb with a pleasant environment and a beautiful lake next to it.

It was surrounded by villas too.

The car finally came to a halt in front of the auction house where various branded vehicles were parked around it.

[Nine Stars Auction House]

Wang Xian stepped out of the car and walked forward. He saw a huge stone monument standing beside the auction house as it gave off a majestic vibe.

"Let's go. It's almost time," said Elder Fang to Wang Xian and Xiao Yu.

The two of them nodded and walked toward the entrance.

"Please show your pass!" Two young men stood at each side of the entrance spoke.

Elder Fang took out a pass and handed it to one of them.

"You may enter," he said respectfully after examining it.

"Young Master Liu, you may enter." At this time, the two young men spoke to the person behind them with respect.

"Mm."

"Qingyue, Nine Stars Auction House shares a close relationship with the Liu Family. I'll get them to keep a lookout for nice jewelry from now on."

A young guy's voice was heard from the back.

"Thanks, Young Master Liu!" A girl thanked him in a monotone voice.

"You're welcome. I ought to do this," said the young guy.

Wang Xian, who was about to enter, paused when he heard the conversation between the young guy and the girl. His expression changed.

"Hey, why did you stop suddenly? Move!"

The young guy's impatient voice was heard from behind.

Wang Xian hesitated before he spun around. Xiao Yu and Elder Fang turned back with questions too.

Xiao Yu looked at the pretty girl in red and parted her lips. She quickly turned to her brother.

At this time, Wang Xian knit his eyebrow slightly when he saw that girl.

She was still the same one who liked to dress in red.

Looking ravishing as before.

The only difference was she seemed to be more aloof and tired.

The girl was Lan Qingyue.

When Lan Qingyue saw Wang Xian, she was shocked, surprised, and more... she felt a great sense of loss.

"How..." Wang Xian opened his mouth, "How have you been lately?"

He was mostly responsible for Lan Qingyue's withdrawal from school. Wang Xian had always felt guilty to her.

"I'm good. How about you?" Radiance flickered in Lan Qingyue's eyes, but her face remained expressionless.

"I'm good too." Wang Xian smiled.

Young Master Liu, who was beside Lan Qingyue, was shocked as he looked at Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue again. His expression slowly turned awful.

Everyone could tell that Lan Qingyue had some relationship with this lad.

"Qingyue, who is he?" Young Master Liu asked with a darkened expression.

"Just a classmate. Let's go," Lan Qingyue replied in a down-spirited tone and walked forward slowly.

Young Master Liu looked at the back view of Lan Qingyue with a mixed expression. He then glared at Wang Xian with a pair of ruthless eyes.

He walked over to Wang Xian and whispered a warning, "Brat, I don't care who you are. Just stay away from Qingyue. Otherwise, I'll make sure you live in a living hell."

Wang Xian was already in a bad mood when Lan Qingyue left immediately. Hence, he was impatient when he heard the young guy threatening him.

"Scram!"

Chapter 172: Auction (3)

"Scram!"

When Young Master Liu heard Wang Xian, his face stiffened instantly.

He stared coldly at Wang Xian and revealed a hideous look. "Great. Great! You are the first person who dares to speak to me in such a manner!"

Wang Xian looked him in the eyes before walking in impatiently.

Young Master Liu stared coldly at Wang Xian as murderous intent flashed in his eyes.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, that is Little Sword Celestial, Liu Feiyun, from the Tyrannical Sword Family, a First-class family. He already possessed the strength of a Level 7 Martial Artist at the age of 27 and specialized in swordsmanship. He once defeated three Martial Artists of the same level with his swordsmanship and has since been known as the Little Sword Celestial. His talents are tremendous!"

Seeing that Wang Xian had made Liu Feiyun his enemy, Elder Fang frowned and reminded him.

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head. However, he was focused on the figure in red dress ahead of him and wasn't paying attention to Elder Fang's reminder.

Seeing how he reacted, Elder Fang shook her head slightly.

The decorations within the Nine Stars Auction House were extremely grandiose. When one entered, he would see a huge hall. Tables and chairs were already set up within.

At the very front, there was an elevated platform of approximately a meter tall. There was a huge screen on the elevated platform that would be used for the auction.

The auction house could be divided into two floors. The lower floor was for the public and there was an additional floor above it.

For the second floor, they were mainly suites. There were quite a number of suites which totaled twenty to thirty.

These suites weren't VIP suites or for those with strength. Instead, it was just a very ordinary suite.

One could not see the clients that had walked into a suite from the outside.

These were private spaces that Nine Stars Auction House had prepared for their clients.

Some clients might not want to let others know that they had obtained some precious items from the auction. Therefore, they would prefer to enter into a suite.

As one of the top auctions houses in the country, Nine Stars Auction House would also ensure a hundred percent confidentiality with regards to the buyers' and sellers' information.

"Let's get into a suite!"

Elder Fang took a glance at Liu Feiyun, hesitated for a moment, and led Xiao Yu and Wang Xian to a suite on the second floor.

One could still clearly see what was happening on the ground floor from within the suite

More and more people entered the Nine Stars Auction House. This auction was clearly highly successful, with approximately two hundred people attending.

These people were largely from the Southern Province and the two other provinces neighboring it.

There were entrepreneurs, directors of large organizations and strong experts from Ancient Martial Arts Families and Sects.

The ratio of wealthy men to martial artists was roughly 1:1.

From the second floor, Wang Xian could see Liu Feiyun and Lan Qingyue sitting around a table near the elevated platform.

Liu Feiyun was explaining to Lan Qingyue enthusiastically.

Wang Xian looked away and started observing the people of the auction.

"Liu Family of the Tyrannical Sword from Hailing Province, Ancient Fist Sect, Lingyue Sect from the Dongqing Province and Demon Subduing Sect. I had not expected the First-class Forces from the two neighboring provinces to all be here."

Elder Fang looked down and spoke solemnly.

The Liu Family members who practiced Tyrannical Sword, Ancient Fist Sect, Lingyue Sect from the Dongqing Province and Demon Subduing Sect were all First-class forces.

Speaking of which, the Southern Province was relatively weaker and didn't have any First-class Forces.

"Welcome, everyone, to our Nine Stars Auction House!"

At 10 am sharp, an old man walked up to the stage and spoke to the guests.

The old man was loud and didn't require another sound amplification system. He was able to project his voice clearly to everyone's ears.

"This is Sound Transmission Art. This old man is at least a Level 8 Martial Artist!" Elder Fang explained to Xiao Yu.

"Martial Artist Level 8! Incredible." Xiao Yu revealed a shocked expression.

"Nine Stars Auction House can be considered to be in the top-tier even amongst the First-class Forces. They have five to six Inborn experts and their disciples are extremely strong. An ordinary First-class Force couldn't be compared with it!"

Elder Fang continued her explanation.

Xiao Yu nodded her head and looked down curiously.

"We have a total of forty items on auction today. Without further ado, we will be starting the auction for the first item, a real calligraphy piece of Li Bai." [\[1\]](#)

"Li Bai was known by many as the Sword Celestial and had integrated his swordsmanship into his calligraphy. If anyone could decipher his swordsmanship from his calligraphy, he would definitely be able to obtain the inheritance of the Sword Celestial and become invincible," the old man remarked. Two beautiful and employees in skimpy outfits carried a calligraphy piece onto the auction stage.

The handwriting was wild but had sharp vibes to it. Any Ancient Martial Artists would be able to tell that this piece of calligraphy wasn't ordinary.

However, it was extremely hard to decipher anything from it.

"The starting price will be $20 million. The auction begins!"

"Ding! $25 million!"

Just as the old man completed his sentence, the screen on the stage showed that there was someone who had upped the bid.

For this auction, one wouldn't have to raise a card. Everyone had a button in front of them. One would just need to enter the bidding price and press the button to submit one's bid.

"$25 million from that Mister at Table 8. Is there anyone who would like to make a bid?"

The old man revealed a price after seeing the bid price.

The crowd immediately turned their attention to Table 8.

"This calligraphy piece, I'll definitely be getting it!"

Around Table 8, Liu Feiyun lifted his head proudly and made his intention clear to all.

"He's the little Sword Celestial of the Tyrannical Sword!"

"It's the Liu Family! Let's just forget about it!"

"We naturally wouldn't compete with the Little Sword Celestial for the swordsmanship!"

"Since Young Master Liu is so determined, we naturally wouldn't compete with you for something you are fond of!"

The crowd looked at Liu Feiyun. Some of them greeted him while some exchanged customary words. [\[1\]](#)

Within the auction house, the Liu Family would rank in the top four in terms of strength. Unless it was necessary, no one would like to compete with the Liu Family.

"Haha, thank you, everyone!"

Liu Feiyun revealed an excited look. He laughed loudly and greeted the crowd before turning his attention to Lan Qingyue who was beside him.

"Qingyue, if there're any jewelry related items in a while, I can win the bid for you. With the name of our Liu Family, others would still show us respect."

Liu Feiyun looked at Lan Qingyue proudly.

"Thank you, Mr. Liu. However, The Zhou Jewelry has Lingyue Sect as their support. Would I be troubling Young Master Liu?"

Lan Qingyue shook his head gradually and looked to a table just a short distance away.

"Lingyue Sect?" Liu Feiyun squinted his eyes and replied confidently, "Qingyue, our Liu Family isn't afraid of the Lingyue Sect. Let me help you. If our enemy is only Lingyue Sect, there's nothing to be afraid of!"

At this moment, the old man on the stage shouted suddenly, "A $35 million bid from Suite 13! Is there anyone who would like to increase the bid!"

Liu Feiyun was taken aback. The smile on his face stiffened. He immediately lifted his head and looked towards the big screen.

On it, Suite 13 had just made a bid for Li Bai's calligraphy work at $35 million.

The crowd was slightly shocked too as they looked at the enraged Liu Feiyun.

"$40 million!"

Liu Feiyun's face sank. He lifted his head and looked to the location of the suite as he sneered.

"$45 million!"

At this moment, Suite 13 increased the bid by another $5 million.

The gloominess on Liu Feiyun's face was heavy.

Just a while ago, he still claimed confidently that everyone would show his Liu Family respect. Just as he finished his sentence, someone stood out and competed with him.

The action was similar to slapping him in the face.

Chapter 173: Jewelry Stand-Off

"Brother, do you want to buy this painting?" Xiao Yu looked at Wang Xian shockingly in Suite 13.

"Nope!" Wang Xian shook his head.

"Then why are you bidding on it?" Xiao Yu threw him a stunned look.

"He just irks me!" Wang Xian said with a smiling face.

Xiao Yu and Elder Fang looked at Wang Xian, speechless.

"$50 million. Does anyone want to bid any further?"

This time, an elderly man's voice was heard. Wang Xian looked and realized that many people were casting their glances over their sides.

Wang Xian gave a playful look and stopped his bid.

Since Liu Fei Yun was so determined to get that calligraphy, Wang Xian purposely raised the bid to annoy him.

Liu Fei Yun wanted to save his face. As long as the Liu Family's reputation was concerned, he would not let go easily.

Wang Xian took this as an advantage to up the price.

"Congratulations to Little Sword Celestial for winning the auction for Li Bai's authentic calligraphy. I hope Young Master Liu can obtain the Sword Celestial's inheritance!"

When the elderly man on the auction table saw that Suite 13 gave up bidding, he knocked on the table and gave a final confirmation.

Liu Fei Yun was not as thrilled as just now even though he'd won the auction. His face turned glum, and he went silent.

He might have gotten the authentic Li Bai calligraphy, but he spent an additional $25 million and got a slap in his face. Naturally, he was in a bad mood.

One by one, the items were auctioned away.

"Next on the list, a tuft of Level 2 Spiritual Medicine Renling Leaves of 500 years. After consumption, it could enhance body strength and strengthen body skin. This was the famous Foundation Building Spiritual Medicine. The auction began from a base price of $15 million!"

"Level 2 Spirit Medicine is beneficial to your current cultivation. I will bid on it for you!"

Elder Fang stared at the auction item again with an unwavering expression. She immediately increased the bid to $20 million.

"$20 million!"

"$21 million!"

"$22 million!"

The competition for Level 2 Spiritual Medicine was better than those antiques. The number of competitors reached a dozen instantly.

"$30 million!"

Elder Fang was not surprised by this situation. When the bid hit $28 million, she increased to $30 million immediately.

"The price of $30 million has already surpassed the value of Level 2 Spiritual Medicine."

"$30 million? Forget it. It's too expensive."

"Spending $30 million for a tuft of Renling Leaves is not worth it at all. After all, it's only useful to Level four and five Martial Artist!"

When the price hit $30 million, the individual families and sects shook their heads slowly. $30 million was beyond its own value.

Elder Fang did not feel the pain for such a price that surpassed its own value. Since it was for the cultivation of Xiao Yu, it was worth it.

"Suite 13 bid $30 million. Is there any higher price?" the elderly man stood on the stage and asked everyone.

"Suite 13!"

Cold radiance flashed in Liu Fei Yun's eyes. He cast a glance upstairs and sneered.

"$31 million!"

"Young Master Liu bid $31 million. Any more bidders?"

Liu Fei Yun's bid slightly stunned the elderly man. Subsequently, he drew a smile on his face.

"The other party bid $30 million. They should be determined to get this tuft of Spiritual Leaves. Young Master Liu is upping the price."

"Looks like Young Master Liu bears a grudge against Suite 13 from when they raised his bid just now. This is revenge!"

"People from Suite 13 were ignorant. Provoking Young Master Liu is not a wise choice!"

When the crowd saw Liu Fei Yun raise the bid for another million, they understood immediately and exchanged discussion in whispers.

Back in the suite, Elder Fang's expression was awful when she saw Liu Fei Yun bid deliberately.

Xiao Yu, at the side, raged as she glared at Liu Fei Yun, who was sneering.

"Forget it. Let him have it. It's just a lousy Level 2 Spiritual Leaves!" said Wang Xian to Elder Fang. He drew a faint, cold smile when Liu Fei Yun was competing with him.

Elder Fang was slightly stunned with a mixed expression. "Level 2 Spiritual Leaves are not lousy!"

"Uh, heh!" Wang Xian chuckled out in embarrassment as though he spoke too haughtily. He quickly smiled and repeated, "Not lousy, not lousy."

"Any more bids?"

The elderly man's voice was heard from the auction table again. He was surprised as he looked towards the second story.

Logically speaking, Suite 13 should continue to bid if they were determined to get this item. Why are they keeping quiet?

Liu Fei Yun at Table 8 was also taken aback. Coldness slowly faded out from his face.

One second, two seconds...Ten seconds!

"Congratulations to Young Master Liu for winning the Level 2 Renling Leaves once again!"

The congratulatory voice of the elderly was heard again.

"Gosh, they people of character. Young Master Liu was obviously provoking them. They actually surrendered!"

"This is not about a man of character, but rather, that there is no need to fight anymore. For a Level 2 Renling Leaves, $30 million is already too much."

"This... Young Master Liu is unwise. He raised the bid because the other party wanted the item out of spite. In the end, the other party withdrew while he stumbled on it."

The surrounding people exchanged their conversations in whispers as they looked at Liu Fei Yun and shook their heads.

"What a fool, Little Sword Celestial! If it wasn't for his gifted talent in cultivation, he'd be totally useless!"

"Hehe, people from Suite 13 know their limits. On the contrary, Liu Fei Yun was too hot-headed. It's hard for him to succeed."

In the hall, people from the Ancient Fist Sect and Lingyue Sect looked at Liu Fei Yun as they commented impassively.

"Young Master, we still have to bid for the last few items. We should not overspend."

A middle-aged man frowned slightly as he reminded Liu Fei Yun.

"I know!"

Liu Fei Yun darkened his expression as he stared at Suite 13 with resentment.

Lan Qingyue, on the side, shook her head when she witnessed this.

"Next, we're auctioning the Emerald Gemstone, weighing two kilograms at a starting bid of $200 million!"

A jade-green colored Emerald Gemstone was taken out, and it was beaming with dazzling glow under the lights.

Emerald Gemstone was considered to be the top-class jewelry. A carat would cost tens of thousands. A two-kilogram Emerald Gemstone was worth over millions of dollars.

The Emerald Gemstone could be used to make a dozen sets of jewelry.

The price of $200 million had silenced everyone in the hall. The affluent people stopped at the sight of it while the Martial Artists would not buy ravishing but impractical jewelry.

"$210 million!"

Just then, an aloof voice was heard. Lan Qingyue raised the price and spoke emotionlessly.

"$220 million. Haha. The Zhou are determined to get this Emerald Gemstone and all the jewelry today!"

An arrogant voice cut the air as a middle-aged lady stood up with multiple posh accessories hanging around her. She spoke impassively to Lan Qingyue.

"$230 million!" Lan Qingyue said as she looked at the lady with an unchanged expression.

Chapter 174: A Strange Stone

"$250 million!"

Just as Lan Qingyue completed her words, the voice of the middle-aged woman sounded.

She looked at Lan Qingyue and gave a cold smirk.

"The two large jewelry companies are going against each other head-on!"

"A contest between two organizations that are worth dozens of billions each! This is going to be interesting."

"I heard that Lingyue Sect found a gemstone vein on Linyue Mountain that produces lots of precious gemstones. The Zhou Jewelry has deep connections with Lingyue Sect. After obtaining the support of Lingyue Sect, The Zhou Jewelry has been on a frantic drive to quash Deep-sea Jewelry."

"It was said that Deep-sea Jewelry's billion-dollar investment in Dongqing Province failed completely a while ago and they lost everything."

"The Zhou Jewelry has the backing of a First-class Force while Deep-sea Jewelry doesn't have the support of any Ancient Martial Arts Forces. When competing with The Zhou Jewelry, Deep-sea Jewelry is at a deep disadvantage!"

"I heard that Deep-sea Jewelry will have a political marriage with the Liu Family of the Tyrannical Sword. I wonder if that's true!"

The surrounding crowd was looking on in shock as they witnessed the contest of these two large organizations.

Deep-sea Jewelry and The Zhou Jewelry were ginormous organizations in the Southern Province and Dongqing Province. Their financial wealth wasn't something that ordinary rich people could compete with.

Despite seeing the strong stance put on by the middle-aged woman, Lan Qingyue maintained her emotionless face.

"$331.53 million. If the Zhou Jewelry would like to continue bidding, the Deep-sea Jewelry will choose to give up!" Lan Qingyue said to the middle-aged woman plainly.

When the middle-aged woman heard Lan Qingyue's bid, she was taken aback slightly as she stared at Lan Qingyue fervently. "I finally understand why the Lan Family will let a little girl like you take over the Deep-sea Jewelry. You're indeed capable. This piece of Emerald Gemstone is worth at most $331.53 million when made into jewelry. You can choose to ignore the cost of production but if this gets too high, it will become pointless. Nonetheless, what's important is that the Deep-sea Jewelry couldn't afford to absorb these losses!"

"But The Zhou Jewelry can!"

The middle-aged lady revealed a faint smile and increased the bid, "$331.54 million!"

Lan Qingyue wasn't shaken. She did not increase her bid or say a word.

"Congratulations to The Zhou Jewelry for getting a precious piece of Emerald Gemstone at the price of $331.54 million!"

The old man looked at the middle-aged woman in astonishment before glancing past Lan Qingyue.

That's what a real businessman would look like and how a fully commercialized organization should act.

The middle-aged woman from The Zhou Jewelry was incredible but the girl from Deep-sea Jewelry wasn't simple either.

The auction resumed.

Pieces after pieces of antiques, jewelry, painting, precious swords and various weapons and spiritual medicine were being auctioned off.

Elder Fang was able to get her hands on a Level 2 spiritual grass for Xiao Yu as she fulfilled her wish.

Wang Xian looked at the various items put up for auction but none really caught his attention.

He didn't know how to appreciate antiques, jewelry and paintings, and had no need for weapons or spiritual medicine. He simply sat down and drank his tea.

"The next item is rather unique. One could see it as a piece of art. However, it has a faint mysterious energy signature and is indestructible. The consignor has placed this with us for sale at a starting price of $10 million!"

The auction was approaching the end. The old man took a sip of tea before announcing this to the crowd.

A piece of stone was being brought up the stage on a tray. The stone was entirely red with tiny marks on it. It was the size of a fist and looked magical and beautiful.

The crowd below the stage looked inquisitively at this unknown item.

"This piece of stone was obtained by the consignor by chance in the seas. Our Auction House wasn't able to tell what this is. Even an Inborn expert couldn't destroy this stone! The starting price is $10 million and the auction will begin now!"

The old man continued. The fist-sized stone was projected onto the screen for everyone to take a good look.

"An unknown item being auctioned at $10 million? Isn't this a little too expensive?"

A Martial Artist looked at the stone inquisitively.

"Even an Inborn expert couldn't destroy it. It might be a treasure. Perhaps one could make a killing after buying it!"

"Even an Inborn expert couldn't tell what this is. Do you think you will know? What's the use of getting it?"

A few Martial Artists exchanged their views and the surrounding crowd nodded their heads in approval.

Since the stone had been examined by Inborn experts without results, what's the use of getting it?

"Oh? Isn't this stone pretty beautiful?"

The middle-aged lady from The Zhou Jewelry was interested. She hesitated for a moment before entering a bid price of $10 million.

"The Zhou Jewelry is really rich. All the jewelry sold today was bought by them and they had spent approximately $400-500 million in total. Deep-sea Jewelry isn't able to get any piece at all!"

"The rich always have the final word. For the near future, The Zhou Jewelry might just become the largest jewelry company in the country!"

The surrounding crowd was astonished. With the support of Lingyue Sect, The Zhou Jewelry might evolve into the largest jewelry company in the future.

When the middle-aged woman heard the exclamations of the crowd, she was cockily pleased as she touched the ruby in her hand.

Hmm? That stone! Why is it giving me a strange sensation?

In a suite on the second floor, Wang Xian was taken aback when he saw that stone. He had felt a strange sensation welling up in his mind.

He felt that this piece of red stone wasn't dead but alive.

Why would I get this feeling?

Wang Xian frowned deeply. However, as the distance was too far, he couldn't get any information.

"This piece of stone isn't simple!"

Wang Xian focused and made up his mind immediately. Following which, he entered his bid: "$11 million!"

"Suite 13 has made the bid of $11 million. Is there anyone who has a higher bid?" the old man announced loudly.

The middle-aged woman hesitated for a moment before increasing the bid to $12 million.

"$13 million!"

Wang Xian didn't up his bid immediately. Instead, he hesitated for a moment before shouting.

The middle-aged lady from The Zhou Jewelry didn't follow and the crowd didn't join in.

"$13 million, deal! Congratulations Suite 13 for getting this piece of mysterious stone. I hope that you will be able to unveil the mysterious aura around this stone!"

The old man congratulated him.

"Brother, what did you buy this stone for?" Xiao Yu looked at him and asked while feeling lost.

"I feel that this stone isn't simple. I bought it to do some research on it!" Wang Xian said.

"How can a stone be so special?" Xiao Yu commented but didn't continue further.

Wang Xian also didn't answer. His eyes were fixed on the employee carrying the stone towards their suite.

Wang Xian realized that the closer the stone was, the stronger the feeling he had. That palpitation seemed to have triggered a response from the deepest part of his bloodline.

This stone is definitely not simple!

Wang Xian felt his heart tingle and he stood up gradually.

Creak!

The door was opened and the employee walked in with the red stone. "Sir, this is the item you have bid for."

Wang Xian looked at that stone. His body froze immediately and his eyes were filled with shock!

Essence blood of the Suzaku!

Chapter 175: Spiritual Stone

"Blood essence of Suzaku!"

Wang Xian looked at the red stone, shocked.

Suzaku was one of the five phoenixes.

They were named Red Suzaku, Yellow Ensuu, Green Ran, Purple Saku Ootori, White Hon Jun.

Phoenixes, like the Divine Dragons, were the top race in the universe.

In history and myths, the emperors were represented by dragons, and the empresses were represented by phoenixes. The Chinese idiom 'Nine and Five Reign Supreme' was originated from the nine dragons and five phoenixes.

Phoenixes had a formidable ability - Nirvana, ability to be reborn.

It was different from the Nine Divine Dragon Transformations of the Dragon Race. The five phoenixes' cultivation was known as Nine Nirvana Transformations. At the same time, it was the most formidable existence in the universe.

Wang Xian did not expect he could buy a piece of Suzaku Essence Blood with more than $10 million.

This was hitting the jackpot!

[Suzaku Blood Essence: Level 15]

[No Dragon Energy could be extracted, but it could be used to refine medicine, weapons, and Nirvana.]

A simple message appeared in Wang Xian's brain. Such a simple blood essence was actually a Level 15. This was a total surprise to him.

A piece of Suzaku's blood essence was already Level 15. It was not hard to imagine its mightiness.

After Wang Xian swiped his card, he could not take his eyes off the blood essence.

"Brother, what is this thing?" Xiao Yu observed it with curiosity.

"Good stuff. I'm going to study it!" Wang Xian stared at it.

Xiao Yu rolled eyes at his behavior and continued to focus on the next round of the auction. The auction had begun with the last few items' bidding. The competition remained fierce.

"How can we activate this thing?"

Wang Xian stared at the Suzaku's Blood Essence puzzledly. With a slight hesitation, his finger moved, and a drop of blood appeared.

He slowly smeared the blood on the stone, and the blood slowly seeped into the Suzaku Blood Essence.

And then, nothing happened.

Wang Xian tried to instill Inferno Dragon Energy, but soon, he realized nothing got in.

"Is it because of my low level?"

After playing it for 20 minutes, Wang Xian did not figure out how to use the Suzaku Blood Essence.

He was ignorant of refining medicines and weapons. As for Nirvana, he knew nuts about it.

Without any choice, Wang Xian could only keep the Suzaku Blood Essence for now.

"I wasn't expecting that Manjac Ji would be hiding in the crowd. Totally unexpected!"

"Master, who is he?"

"There is a saying in the Ancient Martial World. 'Be mad, be a maniac.' Do whatever it takes, Maniac Ji Yuankun!"

"What a name. I saw that Liu Family, Ancient Fist Sect, Lingyue Sect, and Demon Subduing Sect were quite wary of him. Master, how strong is he?"

"An Inborn Expert!"

Just then, the exclamations from Elder Fang and Xiao Yu drew Wang Xian's attention. He spun around with doubts and looked down.

A man was sitting at the last table at the back. His shoulder-length hair hid his face as he sat there like a dead person.

Everyone in front of him was looking at this man with fear and respect.

"Master, why do people call him a maniac?" asked Xiao Yu curiously.

"There's a reason behind it. Ji Yuankun was from an Ancient Martial Artist Family in Flow City. Back then, Ji Family was of second-class strength. His father was a Half-step to Inborn. After they provoked a first-class force, his entire family got eliminated. Both parents and his wife were killed. At that time, he fled with his five-year-old son in his arms."

"Ten years later, Ji Yuankun hunted down his enemies on his own and exterminated that first-class force. More than 1,000 people were killed. It was a shocking piece of national news. But Ji Yuankun was avenging himself, so none of them said anything."

"After which, Ji Yuankun killed the miracle doctor ranked number nine on the Miracle Doctors Chart. He did that because of his son."

"His son was saved ten years ago, but he was poisoned and remained unconscious all the time. It was Ji Yuankun who used a myriad of spiritual medicines to keep his son alive. He brought his son to seek medical treatment, but was humiliated by that miracle doctor. Hence, Ji Yuankun killed him!"

"His family demise and his unconscious son seemed to have impacted him, causing him to act eccentrically. Now, he does crazy things to cure his son's illness. With his terrifying strength, none of the forces are willing to provoke him," said Elder Fang slowly.

"Then he's quite pathetic," said Xiao Yu.

Elder Fang chuckled, "This type of person is the most frightening."

"The strongest person in the Southern Province is Maniac Ji. He did not rebuild his family nor join any forces. By the way, the auction has ended. Let's go down. Didn't your brother wants to auction some stuff?"

Elder Fang threw a glance at Wang Xian.

"Okay, let's go down." Wang Xian nodded.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, let's detour to avoid the suspicion of others," said Elder Fang to Wang Xian as she took them on a detour.

Wang Xian knew her qualm. She was worried that Liu Feiyun would suspect they were in Suite 13.

After detouring, Wang Xian realized that no one had left the place. The wealthy people, families, and sects were still looking at the auction table.

On the stage stood a Martial Artist who was holding a Level 2 Spiritual Medicine.

"Level 2 Spiritual Medicine in exchange for 100 pieces of stone with spiritual strength. I wonder if anyone wishes to trade."

After the auction ended, Nine Stars Auction House would provide a free trading place for all the guests to trade their items.

"A Spiritual Stone!"

Just when the middle-aged Martial Artist was waiting for a reply, a cold voice cut through the air suddenly.

The middle-aged Martial Artist cast his glance over and narrowed his pupils. Immediately, he said, "Sure, Senior Ji."

Maniac Ji swung his arm from the back row, and a white, twinkling Spiritual Stone was sent flying to the middle-aged Martial Artist.

"Spiritual Stone, a complete Spiritual Stone!"

"This deal is worth it. A Spiritual Stone is usually used by Inborn Experts for their cultivations. The value of it is more than Level 2 Spiritual Medicine!"

"I have heard that Maniac Ji has been collecting various Spiritual Medicine. Looks like the rumor is true!"

The surrounding crowd exchanged discussion in whispers.

Wang Xian looked at the Spiritual Stone falling into the middle-aged Martial Artist's hand slowly. He was stunned.

[Spiritual Stone: 100 grams]

[Can be used for cultivation!]

"Spiritual Stone. It's the real Spiritual Stone!"

When the message appeared in Wang Xian's brain, his eyes turned passionate.

He finally saw the core material required for building the Dragon Palace - Spiritual Stone!

This Spiritual Stone is 100 grams, yet its value is more than $10 million. If he needs a ton of Spiritual Stone, that would be 1,000 kilograms. Based on the price, 10,000 of such Spiritual Stones would cost $100 billion.

Wang Xian thought for a moment and frowned.

"I have a family sword that cut iron like mud. I would like to exchange it for Level 1 Spiritual Medicine for improving blood circulation or cash!"

After the middle-aged Martial Artist went down, another Martial Artist went up to the stage with a honed sword.

Wang Xian ignored the auction on the stage as he fixed his eyes on Maniac Ji at the back.

Since he possessed Spiritual Stone, he must have known how to obtain them.

Chapter 176: Heart-Shaped Blood Coral

"Brother, aren't you going to auction some items? If you are, hurry up!"

Xiao Yu reminded Wang Xian as he saw him pondering. There had been five to six people who had gone up to trade their items.

Hmm!

After Wang Xian recovered, he looked forward as a well-suited magnate walked down the auction stage

Just as he was about to stand up, Liu Feiyun from Table 8 stood up before him.

It was obvious that he did not get anything he wanted from the auction previously, evident from his bleak expression

As Liu Feiyun walked up to the stage, he looked at Lan Qingyue before looking around. His gaze eventually stopped at Lingyue Sect and The Zhou Jewelry.

He took out an exquisite box from his pocket and opened it

"I believe all of you can guess what the item I'll be trading away is. Yes, this is one of the petals from the Ethereal Flower. Its value can match that of a Level 3 spiritual medicine. I want to trade this for any jewelry. Any type of jewelry will do as long as its value matches that of this petal. Those from The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect, do you want to trade?"

As Liu Feiyun spoke, he started to grin, and a slight sense of domination could be felt from him.

"Ke Ke, I did not expect that Liu's Family to come up with such a precious item to support Deep-sea Jewelry. It seems like we will be facing off against them directly in the near future." A middle-aged man from Lingyue spoke indifferently as he looked at Liu Feiyun with a smile.

Liu Feiyun looked towards Lingyue and replied calmly, "Now that the Deep Sea Jewelry has the support from our Liu's Family, no one can take advantage of them easily."

"Haha. Great. In that case, we will like to give it a try! Liu Family of the Tyrannical Sword? Tsk!" The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect snorted.

There was tension in the air.

Liu Feiyun was undaunted. At this moment, he seemed domineering and indeed lived up to his name of the Little Sword Celestial.

"Everyone, I'll be trading Level 3 Spiritual Medicine for jewelry of equivalent value, if you have such jewelry, you may come forward to trade. If you don't have it now, you can come to the Liu Family in the future for trade.

Liu Feiyun repeated himself before turning to Lan Qingyue. After which, he left the stage with a delighted expression

He believed that his actions would definitely move Lan Qingyue.

"Lingyue Sect is supporting The Zhou Jewelry and now, the Liu Family is supporting Deep-sea Jewelry. This is going to be interesting."

"The Zhou Jewelry has the support from a First-class Force. Deep-sea Jewelry has to react and find a strong cooperation partner. Otherwise, they wouldn't be a match at all!"

"Trading Spiritual Herbs for Jewelry, from what is seems, Liu's Family is giving great support for Deep-sea Jewelry, in the future, they might just have a chance against Zhou's Family Jewelry!"

Wang Xian pondered as he overheard these conversations of the crowd. It seems that the Lan's Family might have run into some crisis.

After Liu Feiyun exited, Wang Xian stood up immediately and walked towards the auction stage.

Everyone's attention was on him as they waited in anticipation to see what he would be taking out for trade.

Below the stage, Lan Qingyue was staring at Wang Xian blankly.

Liu Feiyun looked at Wang Xian with a heavy expression on his face. Glimmers flashed in his eyes.

"I'm selling a few things."

Wang Xian smiled as he spoke, he then took out four exquisite Blood Corals.

"Blood Corals, a type of precious gemstones from the seas. There are four of them here and one of them is..."

As Wang Xian spoke, he lifted one of them to show it to the crowd. "A heart-shaped blood coral that is formed naturally. I believe that the value of this would be very high. I'm selling all of these and accepting only cash!"

"Wow, these Blood Coral are so stunning!"

"Four blood corals with two of them likely weighing four to five catties. These are valuable!"

"Naturally-formed heart-shaped blood coral! That blood coral is simply breathtaking. It also has a branch that looks just like a red line. It's beautiful!" [\[1\]](#)

"Blood corals are often regarded as precious gems that aren't inferior to diamonds. These four blood corals would likely be worth more than $300-400 million!"

Below the stage, the crowd exclaimed.

Bang!

At this moment, a middle-aged woman from The Zhou Jewelry stood up with eyes beaming with desire as she stared at the heart-shaped blood coral.

Heart-shaped Blood Coral and one that is formed naturally!

Using just this as a marketing gimmick would be enough to bring huge fame for The Zhou Jewelry.

In fact, if the publicity was done well, the heart-shaped blood coral would enable

The Zhou Jewelry to make its way to the top rankings of jewelry companies in the entire world.

Naturally formed blood corals that had auspicious symbolism weren't something that emerald gemstone could compete.

Lan Qingyue also stared fervently at the heart-shaped blood coral in Wang Xian hands. She clenched her fist tightly.

"$400 million. The Zhou Jewelry will be taking all these blood corals!"

The middle-aged lady from The Zhou Jewelry shouted as she stared at the Blood Corals on the stage

"$420 million!" Lan Qingyue shouted without any hesitation

"$450 million!" The middle-aged woman had no hesitation either.

"Give us those blood corals and our Liu Family will ensure you a life of wealth and fame!" Liu Feiyun said to Wang Xian as he saw the competition that involved Lan Qingyue.

"Do he need the Liu Family to give him a life of wealth and fame?" A middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect stood up immediately and continued, "Sell them to us and you will get the friendship of Lingyue Sect."

"I'll forgive you for offending me previously. You can also use these blood corals to exchange for Level 3 spiritual medicine from the Liu Family. I'll give you five petals of the Ethereal Flower!"

Liu Feiyun ignored the middle-aged man and remarked coldly.

"My friend, you've got to think this through. Sell it to us and the Lingyue Sect will ensure your safety. You won't have to worry about others taking revenge on you!"

Sensing the aggression towards Wang Xian from Lingyue Sect and Liu Feiyun, Lan Qingyue frowned slightly and said to Liu Feiyun, "Young Master Liu, I can compete for this on my own. I don't need the Liu Family to help me!"

"It's alright, Qingyue, leave this to me. I will definitely get those blood corals for you!" Liu Feiyun replied confidently.

Lan Qingyue frowned further as she looked at Wang Xian. She increased her bid once again, "$500 million."

The value of these blood corals has exceeded my expectations!

Wang Xian was slightly shocked at the development. He turned his gaze to Lingyue Sect and Liu Feiyun and a cold light flashed in his eyes.

An auction is an auction. Trying to threaten me?

"We have a deal!" Wang Xian said as he looked at Lan Qingyue.

Lan Qingyue was stunned but revealed a faint smile.

"Haha. You are a smart person. This is a wise decision." Liu Feiyun laughed heartily and remarked as he saw Wang Xian selling these blood corals to them.

He then looked at Lingyue Sect with a taunting expression.

"Hmmpf!" The middle-aged man from Lingyue snorted as he looked at Wang Xian.

"Haha, you are interested in Level 3 spiritual medicine?" Liu Feiyun looked arrogantly at Wang Xian and asked.

"I didn't say I was selling them to you. Furthermore, what use do I have for those five petals? To rear bees?"

When Wang Xian saw the arrogant looks of Liu Feiyun, he wasn't pleased at all. He didn't know why he always found him extremely annoying.

Wang Xian's words shocked the surrounding crowd. What just happened?

"Brat, what are you saying? Level 3 spiritual medicine! Do you know the value of Level 3 spiritual medicine? Insolent brat!"

When Liu Feiyun heard him, his face darkened instantly.

Chapter 177: The Impact from Level 4 Spiritual Medicine

"How arrogant. Five Level 3 Spiritual Medicines are more than enough to exchange these Blood Corals. This young man actually said it's for rearing bees? Ignorant people aren't afraid of anything."

"How dare he say he'd use Level 3 Spiritual Medicines of Liu Family to rear bees. Those were the flower petals from the Level 4 Ethereal Flower. Each of them is equivalent to Level 3 Spiritual Medicine, and they are priceless!"

"I guess he didn't know the value of Level 3 Spiritual Medicines. He was lucky to have gotten those Blood Corals."

All the Martial Artists families and sects were dumbfounded when they heard Wang Xian. Subsequently, they commented sarcastically.

Not only Level 3 Spiritual Medicines, but even Level 1 ones were also precious. Only the First-class forces could lay their hands on Level 3 Spiritual Medicines.

Liu Family could become the First-class Force because they had two stalks of Level 4 Ethereal Flowers. Hence, they had consistent supplies of Ethereal Flowers' petals.

In fact, every level of Spiritual Medicine marked a difference. Some of the Spiritual Medicine Trees could bear a lot of Spiritual Medicines. Hence, the value would be higher.

Ethereal Flower Petals were considered to be low in value among the Level 3 Spiritual Medicines. But it was not easy to obtain either.

Now, Wang Xian actually commented on using them for rearing bees. Thus, everyone felt he was too arrogant.

"Are the Level 3 Spiritual Medicines formidable?"

Wang Xian chuckled softly as he looked at Liu Fei Yun. Then he turned to Lan Qingyue and picked up the Blood Corals. "We'll deal according to the price you said!"

Lan Qingyue stared at Wang Xian with gleaming eyes. She stood up slowly, nodded, and walked over.

"I'll transfer the money immediately to you." Lan Qingyue took over four Blood Corals with surprise flashing across her eyes.

"Mm!" Wang Xian nodded and did not utter another word.

"Lad, aren't you talking big? It's better to stay low profile. The value of Level 3 Spiritual Medicine is not something you can spout nonsense about."

When Lan Qingyue took over the Blood Corals from Wang Xian, Liu Fei Yun clenched his fist with a dreadful expression.

"You are the arrogant one!"

Wang Xian glared at Liu Fei Yun with a disdainful look. He then took out a yellow fruit from his pocket slowly.

"Let's carry on with the auction. Spiritual Bead, a Level 4 Spiritual Medicine, Spiritual Bead Fruit!"

"What?!"

When Wang Xian took out the Spiritual Bead Fruit from his pocket, a faint, refreshing aroma drifted into the air.

Boom!

At this moment, people from dozens of tables stood up in the auction hall as they stared at the fruit in Wang Xian's hand with fire in their eyes.

"The fruit bore by Spiritual Bead! It's 2,000 years old...Level 4 Spiritual Fruit!"

"This can give you an additional 10% chance to attain Half-step to Inborn for Level-nine Martial Artists. This thing is a must-have. We need to get it."

"The fruit from Level 4 Spiritual Bead. This is even more valuable than the petals of Ethereal Flower. Gosh, how did this young man get Level 4 Spiritual Fruit?"

All the Martial Artists from the families and sects stared hard at the Level 4 fruit with burning eyes. They almost went short of breath.

Level 4 Spiritual Fruit was extremely beneficial to a family or a sect.

If any of the Level 9 experts from the clans or families could achieve Half-step to Inborn Realm with this fruit, their family or sects would attain huge improvements.

In particular, those Third-class Forces could upgrade their strength by a class with a Half-step to Inborn expert. And the fruit could give birth to one Half-step to Inborn expert.

"In history, Level 4 Spiritual Fruit has only appeared thrice in Nine Stars Auction House. It's totally unexpected to encounter one over here."

An elderly Level-nine Martial Artist was exhilarated as he stood up, staring at the Spiritual Fruit.

"No wonder he said Liu Family's Level 3 Spiritual Medicine was trash. He's got a better one, and he actually took it out to trade!"

"Damm, compared to the Level 4 Spiritual Fruit, Liu Family's Level 3 Ethereal Flower Petals are indeed trash!"

"Young lad, what do you want to trade this Spiritual Fruit for?" an old man from the Demon Subduing Sect asked Wang Xian with a pair of eager eyes.

"Spiritual Stones. I only want to trade for Spiritual Stones through bids!" Wang Xian said immediately. Initially, he had wanted to trade for money. But the corals fetched a price that was beyond his expectations. Besides, the Spiritual Stones appeared.

As he spoke, he turned to look at Maniac Ji at the back.

Just then, Maniac Ji lifted his head and revealed half of his head, looking at the Level 4 Spiritual Fruit in Wang Xian's hand.

"Spiritual Stone!"

After Wang Xian revealed his trading requirement, everyone had a complicated look.

Spiritual Stones were valuable, and not any ordinary families or sects could possess them.

Besides, they did not have a large number even if they owned some.

Without seventy or eighty Spiritual Stones, it was impossible to win the auction.

At Table 8, Liu Fei Yun continued to have a mixed expression on his face. He fixed his gaze on the Spiritual Fruit in Wang Xian's hand and gritted his teeth.

He did not expect this fellow to have a Level 4 Spiritual Fruit.

Recalling what had happened just now when he asked Wang Xian if he knew the value of the Level 3 Spiritual Medicine...it was another slap in the face.

And this was not the first time today.

"Young Master Liu, Level 4 Spiritual Fruit! We must fight for it. We must win it!"

Just then, the middle-aged man beside Liu Fei Yun exclaimed excitedly, "If we can win this Spiritual Fruit, our Head of Family will be pleased."

The voice of his middle-aged steward darkened Liu Fei Yun's expression even more.

He took a deep breath and nodded with a dreadful look.

Upon seeing Wang Xian stir up a commotion with just a thing he took out, Lan Qingyue had a look of yearning.

If... If she was the chosen one, how wonderful it would be?

"70 Spiritual Stones!"

An old man from the Demon Subduing Sect bid immediately.

"71 Spiritual Stones!" a young man from Ancient Fist Sect shouted.

"73 Spiritual Stones!" Liu Fei Yun clenched his teeth and yelled.

"Hoho, why is the Liu Family participating in the auction?" The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect looked at Liu Fei Yun and jeered at him, "Just now, I wonder who said the other party was ignorant about the value of Spiritual Medicine? And who claimed that his Level 3 Spiritual Medicine was awesome? Since it's so awesome, why do you have to bid?"

Liu Fei Yun's face turned black immediately upon hearing what he said. "If you want to bid, just offer your price. Stop saying useless shit!"

"Hmph, how arrogant for a junior, just because he thinks he's the Little Sword Celestial." The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect had chilly eyes. He shouted out immediately, "75 Spiritual Stones!"

"76!"

"77"

"Four first-class forces are competing for it. Forget it, we are not qualified to participate in this!"

"Spiritual Stones are the hard currency for the top-notch forces. But it's too difficult to obtain them!"

"I only had three of them, and I already used them all up for my cultivation."

The rest of the people watched dumbfoundedly as Liu Family, Ancient Fist Sect, Demon Subduing Sect, and Lingyue Sect competed against each other. All of them let out a soft sigh.

They were totally ineligible to participate.

"85 Spiritual Stones!"

Just when the four first-class forces were in a heated competition, Maniac Ji's voice cut the air once again as he raised the bid to 85 Spiritual Stones.

This was an extremely high offer.

Chapter 178: Maniac Ji

The offer from Maniac Ji made the four main bidders hesitate.

It wasn't because they were afraid of the Maniac Ji's strength.

For a Level 4 Spiritual fruit, they would dare to continue bidding even if they were going against Maniac Ji.

However, Maniac Ji's offer was too high.

A Level 4 Spiritual fruit was worth around eighty spiritual stones. It would not be a good deal for them if the price went any higher.

"85 Spiritual Stone! Maniac Ji's offer is too high!"

"In order to cure his son, Maniac Ji is searching all over the world for all kinds of spiritual medicine. He won't be concerned about the price."

"Sigh, it seems like Maniac Ji is going to win the bid for this Spiritual fruit."

"Putting Maniac Ji aside, who is this young man? He can't be simple especially since he has a Level 4 Spiritual Fruit."

"I agree, he can't be simple. Since he dares to mock the Little Sword Celestial, he definitely has someone's backing."

Those who were around started to whisper as they witnessed the events unfolded.

Wang Xian looks satisfied especially when he saw the four main powers stopped increasing their bid. He was contented with 85 Spiritual Stones. These added up to 8,500 grams. Although it was still far from the target of one ton, at least there was progress.

Wang Xian said, "Congratulations, Senior Ji, for securing this Spiritual Fruit!"

He smiled as he looked at Maniac Ji and walked towards him with the fruit.

Maniac Ji nodded and looked at Wang Xian.

"Take this!" Wang Xian said as he put the Spiritual fruit beside him.

Maniac Ji picked up the fruit and retrieved 85 Spiritual Stones from the bag beside him. "For you, Miracle Doctor Wang!" he said.

"Oh?"

"You know me?" Wang Xian replied with surprise.

"I am familiar with all the Miracle Doctors that are ranked in the top-50s. Since Miracle Doctor Wang had defeated Fang Huazi who was ranked Eighteen, I would have definitely heard about you," Maniac Ji said with a blank face.

"I see." Wang Xian laughed. He looked at Maniac Ji and continued, "Senior Ji, do you want me to take a look at your son?"

"Your medical skills are still insufficient!" Maniac Ji commented calmly.

"Don't you want me to give it a try? After all, your son's conditions are already as such. What if I can cure him?" Wang Xian insisted with a smile on his face. There was also a tinge of excitement in his tone.

"Get out of my sight! Or die!"

At this moment, Maniac Ji lifted his head slightly with killing intent clearly directed towards Wang Xian.

Those who said such things about his son were courting death.

"What's going on? That young man offended Maniac Ji?"

"F*ck, he must be courting death. How dare he offend Maniac Ji! That's equivalent to seeking his demise!"

At this moment, those in front of them visibly felt the intense killing intent. Everyone's heart skipped a beat and turned their attention over.

"This guy is courting death. I hope Maniac Ji kills that young man!"

A flicker of surprise flashed across Liu Feiyun's eyes as he spoke and gloated.

Elder Fang and Xiao Yu looked over hysterically.

Maniac Ji was seated in the last row and the seats in the middle were empty. As a result, many did not overhear their conversation.

However, they knew that the young man had offended Maniac Ji.

"This is Maniac Ji's style! Killing a person once he gets into an argument!"

As Wang Xian felt Maniac Ji's aura, he did not care much. He stretched his hand over to tap on Maniac Ji's shoulder.

When Maniac Ji saw the composed looks on Wang Xian, bloodthirst welled up in him as he grabbed towards Wang Xian's arm.

Pak-Pak!

Wang Xian's arm was stopped by Maniac Ji. However, he still managed to tap on Maniac Ji's shoulder twice.

"If you believe in my medical skills, you can look for me at Old street. You know it!"

Wang Xian smiled while he turned and left.

"Hmm? What's going on? Why didn't Maniac Ji strike?"

"The young man must have said something that offended Maniac Ji. However, Maniac Ji probably did not want to kill him!"

"Although Maniac Ji is eccentric, he doesn't kill the innocent. He probably has clear rules on who he should or should not kill!"

At this moment, no one saw the astonished looks on Maniac Ji hidden behind his long and messy hair.

He looked blankly at his palm which was blood-flushed, and he was in awe.

"He... How could he be so strong!" Maniac Ji mumbled to himself.

Just a few moments ago, he had felt fear trickling down his soul when his palm touched the young man's arm.

He was certain that the young man was stronger than him, and the difference was huge.

Wang Xian smiled as he walked to Xiao Yu and Elder Fang's side.

It was all his intentions to speak so much to Maniac Ji and even taunt him with words.

He had his own thoughts for providing treatment to Maniac Ji's son.

He felt that it was time that he paid more attention to the construction of the Dragon Palace. In the near future, he should try to look for the resources required.

The trading session continued to about 3 pm in the afternoon.

When the trading session ended, Wang Xian, Elder Fang and Xiao Yu smiled and exited the venue.

It had been a fruitful trip for Wang Xian today.

Suzaku's essence blood, 85 Spiritual Stones, $500 million in cash and relevant information about Spiritual Stones!

He was thrilled.

The Ancient Martial Arts Families and Sects from the Southern Province, Hailing Province and Dongqing Province were left in bewilderment as they looked at them leaving.

Lan Qingyue looked at Wang Xian and hesitated. After a while, she quickened her pace and walked towards him. She called out, "Wang Xian!"

The voice shocked Wang Xian. He turned around and smiled.

Lan Qingyue said gratefully, "Thank you for the day!"

Wang Xian smiled and replied, "That's not necessary. We are classmates after all!"

Lan Qingyue smiled and replied, "Still, I should thank you!"

At a few meters away, Liu Feiyun was beaming with killing intent as he thought to himself. Damn you brat! And you, Lan Qingyue! You will be marrying me in the near future and yet you are acting so flirtatiously!

He clenched his fist tightly.

Liu Feiyun was deeply embarrassed today.

Liu Feiyun looked at his butler and said with rage, "Butler Zhao! Check it out, I want to know the background of this brat and where he obtained the Spiritual Fruit from. I want him dead and I want you to bring his head to me!"

"Yes, Young Master!" Butler Zhao replied and nodded.

Liu Feiyun had a savage expression on his face and mumbled, "It will be our engagement ceremony in five days you dare to mix with an external guy right here? Lan Qingyue, I will definitely give you a surprise once we are engaged! I will make you submit to me under my crouch!"

...

After a brief chat with Lan Qingyue, the two went their own ways.

Wang Xian wasn't clear about his feelings for Lan Qingyue. Nonetheless, he knew that there was a sense of guilt.

After driving into the villa, Elder Fang brought Xiao Yu to train.

As for Wang Xian, he went to the courtyard, got a big vase, and filled it with soil before bringing the vase with soil to the top of the villa. After which, he planted various spiritual grasses in it.

He nodded with satisfaction and lay down under the sunshade umbrella by the side. He then took out his phone and called Guan Shuqing.

Wang Xian pondered about getting her to the villa and then...

Hehehe!

Chapter 179: Invited For A Treatment?

The next morning, it was the fourth day of their seven-day holiday.

After watching Xiao Yu practice her sword in the courtyard, Wang Xian came to the Divine Dragon Medical Hall at the old street.

The medical hall had been closed for four days. Some of the calls from the hospitals were rejected by him too.

"Even though I have $500 million now, I must continue to work hard when I think of the resources required for Dragon Palace."

Wang Xian opened the door of Divine Dragon Medical Hall, boiled a flask of hot water and poured himself a cup of tea with smiles. He lay there while waiting for patients to come to him.

In less than 20 minutes, an ambulance siren was heard outside.

Wang Xian had already called and instructed the hospitals to send those patients in need over on his way to the medical hall.

"Be careful. Careful when you shift to the bed."

"Here, no hurry!"

"Doctor, is the Miracle Doctor here that formidable?"

"If he wasn't that formidable, would I have taken you here? Speak no more after you enter. You need to abide by the rules. Otherwise, you'll bear the consequences. You should have found out about the reputation of the Divine Dragon Medical Hall these past two days."

The conversation between the family members of the patient and the doctor was heard from the outside.

One by one, three patients were brought in one shot.

Wang Xian stood up and swept his gaze across the three patients. "Payment first, and I guarantee your recovery!"

After his shout, he went to the patient and began his treatment.

"Miracle Doctor Wang. I brought my son here. Please take a look at him!"

At this point, a voice was heard.

"Bring him upstairs first. You need to queue for getting treatment!" Wang Xian did not look back at him as he spoke.

"Mm." Maniac Ji was not displeased at all. He immediately signaled to the people behind him with gestures.

The few of them nodded and carried a juvenile out from a car outside with care.

The juvenile was 14 or 15 years old with rosy cheeks, and did not seem like a patient at all.

However, the juvenile was unconscious with no signs of waking up. One could vaguely see the black bones of the juvenile.

Wang Xian was treating another three patients. To avoid being watched, he got a few curtains in the room so that no one could see him from the outside.

Maniac Ji watched everything Wang Xian was doing. Subsequently, he stood quietly at the side.

The rest of the family members were standing at the side too.

"Is this the place?"

"Divine Dragon Medical Hall... it should be here. I heard there's a new Miracle Doctor that entered the Miracle Doctor Chart. Now he's ranked 18, so he should be quite skillful."

"He beat Fang Huazi to earn his ranking, but he has no cases to prove his reputation. Let's try and see if he can cure Big Brother's injuries. If not, we'll have to find the Miracle Doctor from the Medical Saint Sect!"

Just then, there were a few middle-aged men talking outside the door. They were dressed uniformly with a wolf embroidered on their clothes.

"Is Miracle Doctor Wang around?" asked the three of them directly. When they stepped into the medical hall, they frowned when they saw that people were standing around in silence.

"Queue up if you're here for treatment!"

Wang Xian answered impassively when he heard the voice outside.

The three of them were stunned and chuckled immediately. "Dianlang Sect would like to invite Miracle Doctor Wang to Rongzhou to treat our big brother. We'll reward you handsomely then!"

"Rongzhou?" Wang Xian was slightly taken by surprise, as no one had ever come to Rivertown to invite him for treatment.

It looked like his reputation had traveled far, which was a good thing.

"I don't have much time these next two days. You can bring him over!" Wang Xian smiled and replied. Rongzhou might not be far from here, but it would take four to five hours of traveling. He would waste a day if he traveled back and forth, which was a troublesome thing.

"Hur? The middle-aged man in the center knit his eyebrow slightly and said again, "Miracle Doctor Wang, our Big Brother's injuries are quite severe. He's not fit to travel so far. I hope you can come along with us."

"How much are you paying if I cure him?!" Wang Xian asked immediately as he frowned.

"$20 million. So long as you can cure our Big Brother's injuries, we will pay you $20 million. Also, we'll provide those required herbs and Spiritual Medicines!" the middle-aged man continued.

"$20 million?" Wang Xian shook his head and declined. "I'm busy!"

"You..."

The middle-aged man was stunned as his expression turned awful. It was more than respectful for a first-class sect, Dianlang Sect, here to invite a Miracle Doctor that was ranked 18.

But the other party did not even give them any face. Besides, he did not even come out to show his face.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, we can negotiate the price again. You should at least show your face. You're not showing respect to us if you do this." The middle-aged man darkened his expression as he spoke to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian, who was treating a patient inside with his Azure Dragon Energy, frowned. Impatiently, he drew the curtain open and looked at the three of them outside.

"I'm busy. If you want to get treatment, bring the patient over. Make your choice, and stop interrupting my treatment of other patients!"

Wang Xian looked at the three middle-aged men and spoke without any patience.

"Fu*k, it took us almost five hours to get here just to invite you over. Is this the right attitude? Your ranking isn't high, and you're fu*king proud of it. How could you not give a face to Dianlang Sect?!"

A middle-aged man looked at Wang Xian with fury on his face. "Looking at you, I don't think you deserve your reputation. You look so young. I wonder what means you used to win Fang Huazi!"

"That's enough, Third Brother. Stop it!" The middle-aged man in the center frowned slightly and waved his hand to stop him. He then looked at Wang Xian and coldly said, "We heard about your reputation, and that you're young and promising. But you're such an arrogant fellow that you are not showing the Dianlang Sect respect, even when we came here and invited you. Heh."

"Scram if you're not here for treatment!"

Just then, Maniac Ji's voice was heard from the side before Wang Xian could reply.

He lifted his head and looked at the trio from Dianlang Sect with immense killing intent in his eyes.

The three of them froze as they spun around with nasty looks. An infuriating bellow sounded. "Fu*k you again..."

But when they saw Maniac Ji, they swallowed whatever words they had. Their eyes were wide-open as they looked at him with disbelief.

"You... You...are Maniac Ji..."

The three middle-aged men trembled all of a sudden as they revealed frightening expressions.

Inborn Expert, Maniac Ji, was well-known for his name. They had even seen him before.

Looking at the middle-aged man whose hair was long, and who was filled with a murderous aura...who else other than Maniac Ji could be here?

They swallowed a mouthful of saliva with great fear in their eyes.

"Senior Ji, hello. We'll leave now. Like now!"

The trio was full of fear. They were well aware that Maniac Ji was a terrifying existence as he had once exterminated a first-class force all by himself.

Even though Dianlang Sect was also a first-class force, they were not that different from the one that Maniac Ji had exterminated.

If their Sect Leader knew they provoked Maniac Ji, they would get slaughtered immediately just to appease Maniac Ji's anger.

After all, Maniac Ji liked to do things based on his preferences, and he could kill anyone without batting his eyes!

Chapter 180: The Treatment

"The trio is so arrogant! The first thing they did was to demand Miracle Doctor Wang to follow them to Dianlang Sect to treat their Big Brother!"

"That guy with long hair looks so strong! The trio was terrified by just a sentence from him. Even the middle-aged man with long hair had to queue with his son for the treatment and yet the trio dared to demand that the miracle doctor follow them to Rongzhou right away. Don't they know the rules here? How dare they still kick up a fuss here."

At this moment, those around the group started to whisper to one another.

As the trio overheard the conversations, their bodies stiffened. There was a flicker of fear in their eyes.

Even the Maniac Ji brought his son here for treatment and queued patiently for his turn. This...

Is he just a Miracle Doctor that ranked near the twenties in the ranking board? Even the Miracle Doctor that ranked 9 was murdered when he offended the Maniac Ji.

"We are sorry, Miracle Doctor Wang, we will scram immediately. Immediately!"

The trio left the place immediately with fear evident on their faces.

Looking at the trio with slight disdain, Wang Xian shook his head slowly. It was human nature to bully the weak and be fearful of the strong.

Ignoring this brief interlude, Wang Xian walked to the last person in the queue and continued with his treatment.

After five minutes, he nodded with satisfaction and walked out. "Let's go take a look at your son," he said to Maniac Ji.

"Yes."

With a flicker of hope in his eyes, Maniac Ji nodded his head and followed Wang Xian up the stairs.

At the second story, Maniac Ji walked to his son who was on the bed. His eyes were filled with love he had for his son.

With determination in his eyes, he said, "Miracle Doctor Wang, I can promise you anything so long as you can cure my son!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and looked at the young man who was on the bed. "Haven't you look for other skilful Miracle Doctors to treat him?"

Maniac Ji replied in a solemn expression, "I once approached the ranked 4 Miracle Doctor. He told me that only the 10,000-years Cleansing Elixir could cure him."

The 10,000-years Cleansing Elixir was considered to be Level 7 or 8 spiritual medicine. Disregarding the chances of finding it, whether it really existed was a question.

After hearing from the Maniac Ji, Wang Xian reached out and lifted the young man's arm. He felt a slight warmth from his arm and a faint glow emitting from his arm. However, one could also vaguely see that his bones had turned black.

The toxins had already bound with his bones. Ordinary medical techniques couldn't possibly cure it. It would require a large amount of strong spiritual herbs to purge the toxins from the bones.

While holding the young man's arm, Wang Xian injected a stream of Azure Dragon energy into his body.

Through his senses, he noticed that the young man's bones were all pitched black. It looked horrifying.

However, there was a sweet scent of spiritual medicine emitted from his body too.

If it wasn't for the vast amount of spiritual medicine in his body, he would have died long ago.

Maniac Ji told Wang Xian, "Although that Miracle Doctor did not cure Xiao Xiang's illness, he reminded me of a way to keep his life -- using the body as medicine to suppress the toxins. For every cycle, I would need various spiritual grasses and decoct them into soup to feed him. Otherwise, he would be beyond curing if the toxins toxin enters the body!"

If Wang Xian had not demonstrated the terrifying strength the previous day, Maniac Ji would not have bothered and wasted his time on a Miracle Doctor that ranked only 18th.

He wouldn't have queued patiently and wasted his time explaining all this to him.

As the energy of the Azure Dragon flowed into the young man's body, Wang Xian couldn't help but frown slightly. As he was still too weak, the energy of the Azure Dragon couldn't deal with the toxins in the body.

"These toxins are really vicious. The dosage of the toxins is horrifying too."

As the energy from the Azure Dragon contacted the toxin, the energy was being neutralized at a terrifying speed. The toxin seemed to be alive and would attack the energy from the Azure Dragon frantically once they sensed it coming.

"This venom was released by a Half-step to Inborn expert just before he died. This venom that was released was sufficient to kill ten thousand people!"

As Maniac Ji spoke, he shook with wrath. There were signs of madness in his eyes.

Wang Xian looked at Maniac Ji. With how it looked now, Maniac Ji was no doubt experiencing madness in his mind

If his son had died, Maniac Ji would likely fall into deprivation and become a real demon.

"The situation is within control," Wang Xian said as he sent Divine Dragon Energy into Xiao Xiang's body this time.

Sss sss...

Wang Xian could hear burning sounds from the body of Xiao Xiang. He realized the concentrated toxins and the divine dragon energy were neutralizing each other.

Although Dragon Energy was considered to be among the highest-tier energies, the amount was limited. On the other hand, the toxin had been inside Xiao Xiang's body for several years and was deeply rooted in his bones.

Nonetheless, neutralizing the toxins in his body was still possible with the Dragon Energy.

100, 200, 300...

The Dragon Energy was being exhausted quickly. The amount of toxins in Xiao Xiang's body far exceeded Wang Xian's expectations.

However, the expense of the dragon energy was nothing compared to what there was to gain.

"This...This..."

As he looked at the black toxin diminishing from his son's body at a pace visible to the naked eye, Maniac Ji's eyes lit up with excitement.

He crouched beside the bed, hugging his own head.

Wang Xian looked at Maniac Ji and thought to himself, Even a crazy person has a soft spot in his heart.

Wang Xian utilized both of his arms and emitted dense dragon energy from his body. At the same time, he was emitting the demeanor of a supreme Emperor.

Maniac Ji was in awe. Horror flashed in his eyes as he lifted his head and looked at Wang Xian.

This aura... This aura... It's too strong...

Puff

"Alright, the toxins in your son's body have been removed,"

Wang Xian exhaled as he spoke. He had used up more than 2,000 points of Dragon Energy to cure Maniac Ji's son. This was a huge price to pay.

Argh, argh.

Just as they spoke, Xiao Xiang started to murmur.

With the help of the vast quantity of spiritual medicine in his body, his body was recovering at a rapid pace after the toxins had been purged.

In the future, if he started to cultivate, he could easily reach Martial Artist Level 8 or 9.

"Ji Xiang, my son, my dear son!" Maniac Ji exclaimed in excitement.

Wang Xian looked back at him while walking down the stairs. He wanted to give the father and son some personal time.

As Wang Xian returned to the first story, the other three patients had left. He poured himself a new cup of tea and started drinking in his chair.

The fragrance of the tea was what he liked.

Bang Bang Bang!

About ten minutes later, footsteps were heard from above.

"Ji Xiang, wait for me outside the medical hall. I will join you shortly."

A fatherly love could be felt from Maniac Ji as he spoke. He was no longer in the state of madness.

"Yes, father," Ji Xiang nodded as he walked out.

Maniac Ji walked to Wang Xian and bowed deeply. "Thank you, Miracle Doctor Wang. I will fulfill all your requests so long as you don't send me to die. I would still like to accompany my son for some time," he promised.

As Wang Xian rose from his seat, he smiled at Maniac Ji and said, "I need an astronomical amount of spiritual stones. I need a way for me to obtain them."

Chapter 181: Ways of Obtaining the Spiritual Stones

"I only have fifty pieces of Spiritual Stones!"

When Maniac Ji heard Wang Xian's conditions, he frowned as he did not have that many Spiritual Stones.

"Tell me...where did you get yours from?" asked Wang Xian to Maniac Ji directly.

"Underworld's missions. Spiritual Stones are very precious items for cultivation use. They are the hard currency in the underworld. Hence, some of the top-notch sects and families use them to trade," Maniac Ji explained to Wang Xian.

"Missions?" Wang Xian raised his eyebrows with doubts.

"Everyone in the world earns money to survive. It's the same for the underworld. There were many ways to do that, and it makes no difference, just like the modern world. But the underworld is more practical. You can log on to a website, and they have all kinds of missions. You can also set your own missions. All the sects and clans are gathered on the website!"

Maniac Ji looked at the computer next to him, and Wang Xian agreed.

Maniac Ji got on the computer and logged in to a special website. When he entered, the screen showed a message:

[With various sects and clans in the underworld, our heroes emerge.]

On the home page was all the various ranking charts.

Underworld's Outstanding Experts, Doctors, Spiritual Medicines, Art of Cultivation, Young Heroes, Assassins, and more.

The charts piqued the curiosity of Wang Xian.

The happenings in the underworld were much to his surprise.

He clicked the medical ranking with some interest and scrolled to the eighteenth position. A name was on it with some comments.

[Miracle Doctors Chart No.18: Wang Xian]

[Age 20. Defeated Fang Huazi on Sep 17, this year. He crippled his arm and gained his fame overnight after this match. Replaced Fang Huazi's ranking, but his competence in medical skills remained unknown. He has a Divine Dragon Medical Hall at the old street, Rivertown!]

"Hehe, this evaluation is quite to the point!" Wang Xian read the website with a face full of smiles.

"The founder of this website is Tianxiao Sacred Sect. No one can beat them in terms of information. There is a space dedicated to all kinds of missions with about 400 to 500 missions daily. Some of them are easy, some of them are difficult. Each mission has different rewards. You can also publish your mission and trade your items on the platform."

Maniac Ji introduced the website to Wang Xian formally. Then he hesitated. "Since you want the Spiritual Stones, I can collect them for you. I'll give you a hundred annually for 15 years. What do you think? Apart from that, you can command me whenever you need help. For the next 15 years, I'll obey your instructions."

With a hundred Spiritual Stones annually, that would make 1,500 pieces for 15 years. If these stones were converted into cash, it would be more than $100 billion.

On top of that, the Inborn Expert's service for 15 years was added to the price paid.

"You can collect as many Spiritual Stones as possible. If I have other needs, I'll find you again!" Wang Xian waved his hand as he spoke to Maniac Ji.

"Yes!" Maniac Ji hesitated before he nodded. "Miracle Doctor Wang, I have some Spiritual Medicine with me. I'll get someone to send it over to you tomorrow."

"Sure. I'll give you an address later. You can deliver them to that place!" Wang Xian nodded.

"I'll take my leave now!" Maniac Ji bowed and left.

Be it because of the power that Wang Xian displayed or the ability to cure his son, Wang Xian was someone who deserved Maniac Ji's respect.

"I didn't know there was such a website. How interesting."

Wang Xian drew a smile on his face as he clicked on the Outstanding Experts of the underworld. The number one on the chart was Nie Wuhen, Sect Leader of Donghua Sacred Sect.

Number two was Hai Jiao, an island owner.

There were only twenty names on the Outstanding Experts Chart. Most of them were aces from the Sacred Sects.

There were eight Sacred Sects in the underworld which stood tall within the country.

Wang Xian read them with interest. Subsequently, he clicked on the missions page.

There were all kinds of missions including assassinations, looking for bodyguards and seeking Spiritual Medicine.

Moreover, Wang Xian discovered that many missions were related to foreign disputes such as competing against and even killing experts from other countries.

There were some group missions for competing for some treasures.

"Unbelievable. It's amazing!"

Wang Xian browsed the individual tasks to think of how he could earn those Spiritual Stones.

Currently, two ways could earn Spiritual Stones within the shortest possible time. One was to save people.

Another way was to sell Spiritual Medicine in exchange for Spiritual Stones. Both methods were the fastest ways.

Wang Xian preferred the second method. He just needed to spend over ten hours to make some Spiritual Medicine to exchange for 400 to 500 pieces of Spiritual Stone.

It should not be that difficult to get more than 10,000 pieces of them.

"Xiao Xian!"

Just then, Guan Shuqing's surprising voice was heard from the outside. Wang Xian turned around with a smile on his face.

Guan Shuqing, in a white skirt, had obviously made an effort to doll herself up.

Her skirt, at knee length, was similar to a student skirt, revealing a pair of fair and beautiful legs.

She wore a shirt on top with her curvy bust lifted by her garment.

Such an attractive beauty!

"What are you looking at?!"

When Guan Shuqing saw Wang Xian's look, she rolled her eyes. But her face had nothing but smiles.

"Hehe." Wang Xian giggled. "I haven't seen you for a long time, so I missed you. Since I missed you, I just want to look at you!"

"What a glib tongue!" Guan Shuqing pouted her lips slightly as she walked to his side.

Wang Xian shut his computer and stood up immediately. He walked to her and said, "Let's go. I'll bring you to the new house that I bought!"

"Great, let's go. I want to check out the house!" Guan Shuqing smiled and nodded.

"We need to go back to school to pick up my bike first."

"I drove today. My dad just bought me a car the other day."

"Great. Come to think of it, I'm not a good boyfriend. I haven't given you any presents before!"

"Hmph, now you know!"

"Should we go to the city center first to buy you some presents?"

"Another day. I want to go to your house and see if you're keeping a mistress!"

"Haha, how can it be?!" Wang Xian and Guan Shuqing laughed as they came to the carpark.

Guan Shuqing's dad had bought her a Maserati, which was costly too.

"Wow, it's so beautiful over here. A house with a sea view!" Guan Shuqing walked into the villa and looked around in amazement.

Wang Xian drew a smile on his face, "Let's go. I'll take you to the roof. It's more interesting upstairs!"

Wang Xian brought Guan Shuqing to the roof with enthusiasm.

"It's so beautiful here!" Standing on the roof of the villa, Guan Shuqing looked out to the sea and exclaimed with happiness.

"Hehe, it's your home from now on. How is it? Do you like it?"

Guan Shuqing blushed slightly and did not answer. She kept observing the surroundings with joy.

She ran happily on the roof, and her skirt was lifted slightly.

Pink!

Chapter 182: My Broadsword Is...

Wang Xian expressed that his big D... was thirsty.

While admiring the beauty of Guan Shuqing, he had an idea in mind, and thoughts started flowing.

"Shuqing, let's go and swim in the sea. The weather today is the best and most comfortable for it!" Wang Xian said with a smile to Guan Shuqing.

"Sure," Guan Shuqing replied happily. However, her expression soon changed to helplessness as she continued, "I forgot to bring my swimsuit."

"I have some here. I asked Xiao Yu to buy for you when she was buying one. Come over," Wang Xian replied with a righteous smile. He then brought Guan Shuqing to the changing room.

The swimsuits were definitely not bought by Xiao Yu.

As an upright man, the swimsuits Wang Xian gave Guan Shuqing were all bikinis. Hehe.

"This..." Guan Shuqing was shocked as she replied and her face quickly turned red from embarrassment.

"What happened?" Wang Xian asked innocently.

"This...The swimsuit is too revealing. Why is it all..." Guan Shuqing blushed as she asked while pointing to the wardrobe.

"Oh? That's true. This sister of mine! Why did she get swimsuits like these? What if others see my gorgeous Shuqing in these? That will be bad! However, don't worry about that. There aren't any outsiders here. How about you just wear it now?"

Wang Xian explained while pushing the blame to his younger sister righteously.

There was a flicker in Guan Shuqing's eyes and the blush spread to her neck. She noded her head slightly and replied, "Alright!"

She shivered as she took a swimsuit. After which, she said to Wang Xian, "Go out first..."

"Fine, I will go out, I will go out."

Wang Xian nodded and smiled. He then walked out.

"Wait."

However, at this moment, Guan Shuqing called out to him.

Wang Xian was stunned for a moment and curiously turned his head around.

He saw Guan Shuqing blushing as her eyes started to flicker. She pouted, stared at Wang Xian and asked, "Will your younger sister get this type of swimsuit?"

Wang Xian looked at the swimsuit Guan Shuqing was holding. The swimsuit was skimpy and even had a hole at the bottom.

He recalled the recommendation the boss gave when he was buying.

Wang Xian's expression changed drastically as he shouted, "Xiao Yu, I asked you to buy a swimsuit. Look at what you've bought. What is this?"

He walked out as he pretended to be angry. On the way, he closed the door!

Bam!

Tsk! Guan Shuqing snorted after she saw through Wang Xian's act. She then gave a supercilious look as she changed for another swimsuit.

"Big Brother, what are you talking about? Didn't you choose the swimsuits yesterday?" Xiao Yu asked.

"What? What are you saying Xiao Yu? Why aren't you training?" Wang Xian retorted.

At this moment, Guan Shuqing overheard the conversation vaguely.

Pft! Guan Shuqing could not hold back her laughter further. She then looked for a swimsuit that looked comparably normal.

"Wow, you're so gorgeous!" Wang Xian exclaimed.

He was lying below the sunshade umbrella. When he saw her walking over, he went up to her to welcome her.

Tsk! Guan Shuqing rolled her eyes.

She wore a black swimsuit and because the swimsuits Wang Xian bought were only able to cover the important parts, it was exceptionally appealing to the eyes.

Wang Xian's eyes lit up as he walked over, pretending that the previous events had not happened. He said, "Let's go and swim in the sea. We can slide down from the slides from the third story. It's really interesting. Come, let me help you!"

"Ok. Today's weather looks great!"

Guan Shuqing looked up at the sun happily and replied.

"Yes, the weather is great today. The seawater is very clear too. Let me help you,"

Wang Xian replied as he walked over, rubbing his hand. He then extended his arms around Guan Shuqing.

While enjoying the skinship with Guan Shuqing, Wang Xian was really satisfied with his choice of swimsuit. This is great!

"You..."

Guan Shuqing blushed suddenly as she said, "You... Can you just use your hands to help me? You don't have to hold me by the bottom too!"

Wang Xian was stunned. He looked down immediately and saw his little brother sticking out to help Guan Shuqing. Embarrassment was soon written all over his face.

"I'm in the prime of my youth! Hehe!" he replied while forcing a laugh.

After which, Guan Shuqing kept a distance from Wang Xian. She looked at the slide and sat on it enthusiastically.

Wang Xian followed behind her.

While swimming in the seas, the only shame Wang Xian felt was that Guan Shuqing knew how to swim. Otherwise, it would have been perfect.

After playing in the sea until 5 pm, Wang Xian felt hot all over his body.

"You can just stay over for the night."

At dinner, Wang Xian regained his serious looks and continued, "We have a lot of rooms here. Why don't you just stay behind for the night!"

Hmm? Guan Shuqing hesitated.

"There is a family theatre in this villa. Let's watch some movies tonight," Wang Xian replied as he saw Guan Shuqing hesitating.

Time to strike the metal while it's hot, he thought.

"Yes, it's possible, but..."

Guan Shuqing looked at Wang Xian and hesitated. In the end, she did not say what she was thinking of.

Hehe!

Wang Xian made a big grin.

Xiao Yu was eating her food at the side while looking at her own brother. She felt that her elder brother had changed and had become a pervert.

After dinner, Wang Xian left Guan Shuqing in the living room to rest while also asking Xiao Yu to chat with her.

He immediately rushed to the family theatre and made a call.

"Dahai, Dahai. Hurry up! Send me the seeds!" [\[1\]](#)

Wang Dahai, who had just picked up the call, was bewildered. He was having dinner with his family and questioned, "What seeds are you talking about? Can you be clearer?"

"Japan's seeds!" Wang Xian exclaimed. His broadsword was already thirsty beyond words. He must succeed tonight!

Suddenly, Dahai noticed silence over the dining table. He lifted his head gradually and saw his parents.

"What nonsense are you spouting? I already have a girlfriend! I have already confessed to Su Qian and she agreed to it."

Wang Dahai walked towards his room as he replied to Wang Xian.

"What a good brother you have been!" Wang Xian praised.

Wang Xian saw the few seeds that Wang Dahai sent over. He gave a vile smile on his face as he started to meddle with the player.

The family theatre was connected to the Internet. There were a few comfy sofas at the center of the room and they could fit a family.

Wang Xian slotted the files from Wang Dahai behind Detective Chinatown and selected the autoplay function.

Hehehe!

Wang Xian laughed vilely and revealed a satisfied look.

He returned to the living room and talked briefly to Guan Shuqing and Xiao Yu. At around 8 o'clock, Elder Fang pulled Xiao Yu away for training.

"Let's go Shuqing. Let's go and watch a movie!" Wang Xian said to Guan Shuqing with a smile.

"Alright. Oh! Which room will I be staying in tonight?" Guan Shuqing asked.

"Just a room on the third story will do. We have plenty of rooms here!" Wang

Xian replied with a smile.

"Let's go!" Guan Shuqing nodded with a smile as she replied. "We should sleep after the movie. Shall we go shopping tomorrow?"

"Sure. No problem! I will get some gifts for you tomorrow. This is also my duty as your boyfriend!" Wang Xian replied.

"You promised!" Guan Shuqing exclaimed.

"Naturally!"

Wang Xian smiled as he brought Guan Shuqing to the family theatre on the third story.

"Let's watch Detective Chinatown! Have you watched it before?" Wang Xian asked.

"Not yet. Let's watch this movie. The reviews for it are great!" Guan Shuqing replied.

Hmm.

Wang Xian nodded his head and the two of them sat on the sofa.

He held Guan Shuqing in his embrace lightly throughout the movie.

Guan Shuqing did not push him away and she leaned on Wang Xian. It was warm and romantic.

The movie started soon after and it was a good comedy show. Guan Shuqing was amused by it.

As the movie was ending, Guan Shuqing commented joyously, "This movie is so funny, What a great movie!"

"Yes! It was a great movie!"

Wang Xian replied while squinting his eyes at Guan Shuqing as the movie ended.

"It's already 10 pm! Time for bed!" Guan Shuqing said shyly when she noticed Wang Xian staring at her.

"Let me hug you for a while longer. Just a while more!" Wang Xian replied softly.

"Alright!" Guan Shuqing nodded and replied. She loved the current atmosphere.

"Sexy female dealer deals the card online..." [\[2\]](#)

At this moment, a familiar piece of music sounded. On the screen, a shocking movie started playing.

Chapter 183: Nirvana

The cards were dealt! Totally!

Wang Xian was extremely exhilarated. Guan Shuqing did resist in the beginning, but she gave up.

She allowed him into her room.

Wang Xian was thrilled as he hugged Guan Shuqing fast and furious as soon as he came to her room.

The door was opened and closed in one go.

Subsequently, it was the most exciting moment for Wang Xian.

Even though it was his first time doing this, he had seen a few clips under the influence of Wang Dahai. At the very least, he was not a total noob.

After the shrill cries, it was the alluring moan.

At 11 pm, the moon was high in the sky, and the waves washed up onto the shores.

It was a beautiful night.

Be it outside or inside the villa, it was full of seductive glows and sounds.

However, at this time, two black figures were dashing towards the villas.

"This is the place. The one whom Young Master wants to kill is inside!"

"There are only three women and Wang Xian in the house. This lad has some luck with women!"

"Hmph, how dare a Miracle Doctor who is ranked eighteen provoke our Young Master Liu. Go to hell!" As the two black figures spoke, they moved in swift actions. With a leap, they entered the villa immediately.

"Kill them all!" A black figure looked into the villa and spoke in a murderous tone.

"Go!" The two black figures charged into the villa at a daunting speed.

Ring!

Suddenly, the bells beside Elder Fang rang without any warning when she was resting in her room.

"Someone broke in!" She immediately opened her eyes and dressed up. With a skip and an arm swing, she picked up her sword and walked out of her room.

She cast a glance at the door that was tightly closed at the side where Xiao Yu was resting. With some hesitation, she leapt to the third floor. "I should remind Xiao Yu's brother!"

But when she jumped into the room, she heard the seductive voices within the room.

Along with that, it was conversations like, "No, stop it," "I'm dying," and "Let's change to another position."

Elder Fang stared with her eyes wide open. Subsequently, her face turned red instantly.

Ring!

At this time, the bells in her hands rang again. She could not stay here any longer. With a leap, she jumped down and walked to the entrance of the villa.

"Who is it? How dare you barge in like this!" Elder Fang drew her long sword with a slightly blushed face as she spoke coldly to the two black figures in front of her.

"Hur?" I did not expect to see a Martial Artist here!" The two black figures narrowed their eyes and launched their rapid and fierce attack.

"Seeking your own death!" Elder Fang had a slight change in her expression. She wielded her long sword and darted out at the two figures.

"Level 8 Martial Artist!" Both black figures were shocked. They exchanged eye contact and wielded the daggers in their hands for another attack.

The two black figures were Level 8 Martial Artists too.

Xiao Yu, who was deep in her sleep, did not know her Master was battling with someone outside. All the more, Wang Xian was ignorant about it.

He was also battling at that moment. If he was not battling, he could have easily detected the happenings outside.

Elder Fang and the two black figures fought for twenty minutes.

Eventually, they left the place quickly with bewilderment.

The woman possessed a combat skill that was way beyond their expectations.

Whoo!

"Who are they? All their strokes were ruthless, and they were out to kill!"

Elder Fang knit her eyebrows slightly as she looked to the distance. The two black figures had long since disappeared in the dark.

She pondered for a moment and went back to the villa. In a move, she jumped directly to the second floor.

Standing outside, she could still hear some voices from upstairs. Elder Fang blushed once again. She took a deep breath and went back to her room.

Third floor, within Wang Xian's room.

An hour passed...

Two hours passed...

Three hours passed...

Guan Shuqing felt numbness in her entire body as she was almost blacked out.

"I can't go on, Xiao Xian. I... I really can't." Guan Shuqing was almost tearing up as she pleaded.

Wang Xian was slightly stunned, "I haven't... haven't..."

"Xiao Xian, I really can't go on. My lips are swollen!" Guan Shuqing shook her head with slight terror.

He was too strong, and he lasted for too long. Simply formidable.

Wang Xian gave a bitter look on his face. He was not expecting himself to be so formidable. After almost four hours, he was still energetic.

Could it be because of his Dragon nature?

He frowned slightly. With a bitter face, he said, "Okay, Shuqing. It was my fault today."

As Wang Xian looked at the pale-looking Guan Shuqing, his heart ached as he consoled her.

"No, it was my fault. I didn't..." As Guan Shuqing spoke, her voice got softer and softer. Eventually, she fell asleep.

"Well, it's not good to be too strong either!" Wang Xian sighed as he pulled the quilt at the side over Guan Shuqing!

Bam!

What he did not notice was, something from the table dropped onto the bed as he pulled the quilt.

It was a piece of blood-red stone, and the stone landed around Guan Shuqing's thighs.

There was a trace of blood on the bed sheet. When that piece of blood-red stone fell on it, it slowly emitted a red glow.

"I shall take a shower!" Wang Xian stood up and walked to the bathroom.

When the bathroom door was closed, the red stone gave off an immense amount of glow which encompassed Guan Shuqing slowly.

A virtual image of Suzaku flashed and disappeared shortly.

The Suzaku's Blood Essence was gone too.

Guan Shuqing, who was lying on the bed, did not know that she was undergoing her Nirvana.

The next morning, Wang Xian looked at Guan Shuqing, who was still sleeping. He used his Azure Dragon Energy to heal some of her wounds. Subsequently, he came downstairs quietly.

"Brother, where is my sister-in-law? Get her to have breakfast with us!" said Xiao Yu when she saw Wang Xian walking down.

"She's still sleeping. We can have it first." Wang Xian giggled and sat down to have his breakfast.

"Oh, are you going out today?" Xiao Yu continued to ask.

"I don't think so. We should be taking a rest!" Wang Xian shook his head when he thought of Guan Shuqing.

Elder Fang, next to him, looked at Wang Xian discreetly as she ate her breakfast quietly.

After breakfast, Elder Fang suddenly instructed Xiao Yu, "Xiao Yu, go upstairs now. I have something to talk to your brother about!"

"Hur?" Xiao Yu hesitated and was confused for a while before she nodded and headed upstairs.

Wang Xian looked at Elder Fang with questions.

"Yesterday, someone snuck into the villa. They were two Level 8 Martial Artists with strong murderous intention!" Elder Fang told Wang Xian sternly. "I'm afraid there will be stronger ones next time, and I won't be able to stop them!"

After hearing what Elder Fang said, Wang Xian was stunned. With a frown, he asked, "Are they after me?"

Elder Fang nodded her head slowly. "I think so!"

Wang Xian's eyes turned cold. "Leave this to me. I hope they'll return again!"

Elder Fang was slightly stupefied as she fixed her gaze on Wang Xian without uttering any words.

Chapter 184: The Conversation Between Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue

In one of the rooms on the third floor of the villa, Guan Shuqing's eyelashes twitched a little. She reached around her and frowned.

Her body was trembling when she recalled the craziness of last night. She started blushing as she lay on the bed, feeling weakness throughout her body.

That was too tiring. She felt that she would need two to three days of rest to recuperate.

Buzz. Buzz!

A mobile phone vibrated beside her just as she started imagining things.

She stumped for a while before reaching for the mobile phone. It was Wang Xian's phone.

When she saw the message, she was taken aback.

The message was from Lan Qingyue. There wasn't much in the message and just a sentence: [Thank you for your help at the auction the other day. If you have any jewelry in the future, could you sell it to our Deep-sea Jewelry?]

Guan Shuqing frowned slightly. She did not reply but instead quietly placed the mobile phone back.

A few moments later, Wang Xian walked into the room and saw that Guan Shuqing had woken up. He immediately said, "Shuqing, you are awake! Are you hungry? I have made some chicken soup for you. Hehe. Let me get it for you."

"Sure."

Guan Shuqing looked at her man and her eyes were filled with tenderness.

Soon, Wang Xian walked into the room again with a bowl of chicken soup in his hands. "Come have some! It helps in your recovery."

"Thank you, Xiao Xian!" Guan Shuqing replied.

She drank a mouthful before leaning against Wang Xian's legs.

"Let me feed you!"

Wang Xian expressions were full of tenderness too as he fed her slowly.

"Alright, I am full now. Let me rest a little more. It's all your fault from yesterday," Guan Shuqing said.

Guan Shuqing lay down as she rolled her eyes at Wang Xian.

"Together! Let's lie down together!"

Wang Xian tried to snuggle into the bed ecstatically after hearing what Guan Shuqing said.

"You... Stay away!" Guan Shuqing exclaimed.

She was scared of him.

Errr.

Wang Xian was slightly disappointed with Guan Shuqing's reactions. "Haven't your injuries recovered yet?"

Guan Shuqing nearly cried out after hearing him. Her external injuries had recovered, but she had not recovered from exhaustion.

"No! Get out! You are not allowed on the bed. Get out!" Guan Shuqing remarked.

Wang Xian was speechless and walked out feeling disappointed.

This...How should I deal with this!

Guan Shuqing started pondering as she looked at the back view of the leaving Wang Xian.

I cannot satisfy Wang Xian, if this continues on, he will...

Guan Shuqing was lost. She lay on the bed and fell into a daze.

After pondering for some time, Guan Shuqing made up her mind. She picked up Wang Xian's mobile phone.

On second thought, she decided to use her own phone and look for Lan Qingyue's on WeChat instead.

[Are you there!] she typed.

Guan Shuqing bit her lips as she looked at her mobile phone.

[Yes? Is there anything?] Lan Qingyue replied.

In the Deep-Sea building in the city center of Rivertown, Lan Qingyue was busily handling the paperwork. She looked drained. She was surprised when she saw Guan Shuqing's message and frowned.

[Do you like Xiao Xian?] Guan Shuqing asked after pondering for a while.

[Is there any purpose to your question at this juncture?] Lan Qingyue replied calmly while taking a deep breath.

[And then?]

Lan Qingyue smiled bitterly after looking at this message. She supported her forehead with her hand.

[If...What if I'm agreeable to letting you stay beside Xiao Xian... Are you willing?] Guan Shuqing replied immediately.

Lan Qingyue was stunned when she saw the message. She bit her lips and replied, [I'm already out of the picture. Besides that, aren't you there for Xiao Xian already?]

[Are you willing if the three of us stay together? The truth is that I also don't want to share him with you. However, I'm out of other options!]

Guan Shuqing sent out this message bitterly.

She didn't want to share her husband with anyone else. However, when she thought of the craziness of Wang Xian from the previous night, she was aghast.

Furthermore, as one who was born in a well-to-do family, she knew clearly. Even her own father was having an affair outside.

There were few men who were rich but loyal.

Moreover, Wang Xian was too outstanding. Even if Wang Xian didn't think about it, there would be lots of women trying to approach him.

She should be active instead of passive.

Although Lan Qingyue was once her competitor, she admired Lan Qingyue.

In the office, when Lan Qingyue saw Guan Shuqing's message, she was shocked and stared at it blankly.

"All I want now is to stay beside him..." Lan Qingyue murmured. She looked down and continued, "However, everything is too late now!"

She wiped her tears and replied, [I... I am getting engaged soon.]

"What?" Guan Shuqing sprang up upon seeing the message.

She hurriedly continued, [You are getting engaged? Do you mean it?]

[Yes, it's true. Xiao Xian and you will have my blessing. I'm really envious of you! Goodbye!]

Guan Shuqing was shocked by the last message from Lan Qingyue. She doubted, "How could Lan Qingyue be engaged? How can this be possible?"

Her expression changed and she hesitated. She then looked at the clothes that were ripped into pieces.

"Xiao Xian, Xiao Xian!" Guan Shuqing shouted weakly.

"Huh?"

Wang Xian, who was surfing the Underworld website, immediately rushed over.

"What's the matter, Shuqing? What happened?" Wang Xian walked over and asked caringly.

"Do you know that Lan Qingyue is getting engaged?" Guan Shuqing asked Wang Xian.

"What?"

Wang Xian was shocked by what he heard and his expression changed drastically.

Guan Shuqing saw the changes in his expression and asked, "Xiao Xian, do you like Lan Qingyue too?"

Wang Xian smiled bitterly while looking at Guan Shuqing. He replied, "I do feel a little sorry towards her..."

"Fine, fine! You don't have to explain it to me." Guan Shuqing rolled her eyes before continuing, "I wanted to ask her if she would like to be with you too initially. However, I had not expected her to be getting engaged. This isn't right. Based on my understanding of Lan Qingyue, she wouldn't abandon herself to despair just because Xiao Xian hasn't chosen her. Why would she suddenly be getting engaged? Furthermore, from my conversation with her a while ago, she must still be in love with you. However, she seemed to have something she couldn't tell me."

Guan Shuqing analyzed seriously. A woman understood another woman best. Furthermore, the sixth sense of woman was usually very strong.

Wang Xian was startled after hearing Guan Shuqing, and he opened her mouth briefly.

What? What does she mean?

"Ok, Xiao Xian, I am tired and I want to rest. If you can convince Lan Qingyue, I won't object."

Guan Shuqing lay on the bed, closing her eyes as she spoke.

Wang Xian's expression changed again. He looked at Guan Shuqing, walked over and gave her a kiss. He took back his phone and left the room with questions.

After looking at Wang Xian closing the door lightly, Guan Shuqing opened her eyes.

"Pff, you are a teddy, a big teddy!" [\[1\]](#)

After walking out of the room, Wang Xian started to frown. He recalled the day when he met Lan Qingyue at the auction house and the conversation of those around.

Chapter 185: Lan Family

"Mo Qinglong, check on the recent events that happened to Lan Family, and check on the Tyrannical Sword, Liu Family, too!"

Back on the roof at the villa, Wang Xian commanded Mo Qinglong over the phone.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

"What strength do we have now in the Dragon Sect?" Wang Xian continued to ask Mo Qinglong.

"Dragon King, we have 50 Dragonians at level 8 while Mo Yuan is already a Half-step to Inborn!" Mo Qinglong answered.

"Okay, I got it. Have you brought the nine venomous sea snakes back to the sea?"

"Yes, they are safe in the sea now!"

"Great!"

After Wang Xian hung up the phone, he looked at the message sent by Lan Qingyue. He immediately asked, [Are you a willing party in this marriage?]

[Sometimes, you can't get what you want, and you can't refuse to do something when you don't want to!]

About five minutes later, Lan Qingyue gave a double-edged reply.

"I'll get the things I want, and no one can force me to do something that I don't want to do. I'll have control of my own fate!"

Wang Xian stared at the sea in the distance, drawing the corner of his lips.

At the same time, two middle-aged men were standing beside Liu Fei Yun with respect in a manor at Hailing Province.

"Useless things! You've got two people, and you can't even kill a Level 8 Martial Artist," Liu Fei Yun screamed impatiently at the two middle-aged men beside him.

"Young Master, her swordsmanship is formidable, and she was at the peak of Level 8. We were afraid we might draw attention if we got into a tangle with her for too long!" Both middle-aged men explained with an awful look.

"Oh? Formidable swordsmanship?" Liu Fei Yun drew his lips slightly. "Last night, I finally deciphered the Art of Sword Celestial from the authentic calligraphy of Li Bai and obtained Sword Celestial's inheritance. Soon, I'll become a Level 8 Martial Artist. I would like to meet and spar with the lady you said to be strong in her swordsmanship. However, I'm too busy lately, and I don't have the time to play with them!"

"Young Master, you obtained Sword Celestial's inheritance. I'm sure you'll make it to the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart one day and overlook the rest of the heroes!" The two of them quickly flattered him as they were shocked.

"Haha, of course. Outstanding young heroes. My Tyrannical Sword and I will ascend to the top!" Liu Feiyun laughed.

"Congratulations, Young Master!" Both of them quickly licked his boots again.

"Hmph, he's just a Miracle Doctor ranked 18. Both of you will make a trip with Butler Zhao and Liu San the night after tomorrow. You must kill them for me. Otherwise, don't come back," said Liu Feiyun coldly.

"Yes, Young Master. We'll deliver his head to you!" the two middle-aged quickly answered.

Liu Fei Yun waved his hand and smirked. "Wang Xian, Miracle Doctor Wang, and you, Lan Qingyue. If it were not for your billions worth of assets, do you think the Liu Family would go all the way to help you out? You are just a plaything to me. Since a plaything is not obedient, I'll make sure you listen to me!"

Liu Fei Yun displayed a haughty look. With the inheritance of Sword Celestial, he would become one of the most formidable Sword Celestials in the world soon.

...

Two days passed.

These two days, Guan Shuqing had been resting while Wang Xian was waiting quietly in the villa.

The school would open tomorrow, and Wang Xian took a month's leave.

"Dragon King, the information you wanted is here!" In the afternoon, two figures jumped up to the roof like ghosts when they reported to Wang Xian under the beach umbrella.

Wang Xian reached and took the information.

It was about Tyrannical Sword Liu Family and Lan Family.

"One Inborn Expert, four Half-step to Inborn Experts and 13 Level 9 Martial Artists. No wonder they are the first-class force!" Wang Xian squinted his eyes as he read Liu Family's information.

The entire document had detailed records of the strength in the Tyrannical Sword Liu Family. The only one that could evenly match with them in the entire Hailing Province was Ancient Fist Sect.

In Hailing Province, no one dared to offend Liu Family.

When Wang Xian picked up the information about Lan Family, an invitation card was caught in between the papers.

Wang Xian opened it up. It was an invitation for an engagement party sent by Lan Family to other wealthy families.

His eyes turned cold as he continued to read.

Deep-sea Jewelry and Lan Family had taken a hammering under The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect just recently.

First, they took a loss in a billion-dollar investment project in Dongqing Province. Next, they were targeted by The Zhou Jewelry.

This caused a huge blow to the Lan Family.

In desperation, Lan Family had to join hands with Liu Family to stand up against The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect's hammering.

However, Liu Family requested Lan Qingyue to marry to their family.

"Tomorrow!" Wang Xian stood up slowly. "Liu Family will not be a concern anymore."

"You may leave!" Wang Xian gestured for them to leave and pondered quietly.

Night fell when Xiao Yu, Guan Shuqing, and Elder Fang were watching soap operas downstairs.

Wang Xian was thinking of his plan for tomorrow. Should he inform Lan Qingyue in advance? Should he ask for Lan Qingyue's advice?

At about 10 pm, Xiao Yu and the rest went back to their rooms to sleep. Guan Shuqing did not allow Wang Xian to enter her room.

Without any choice, he went to the next room.

Around 11 pm, Elder Fang woke up in her room as she looked at the bells ringing non-stop at the bedside. With a swift movement, she opened her door.

"Elder Fang, let's do it together!" Just then, a voice came from upstairs. She lifted her chin and saw Wang Xian looking over with a smile.

Elder Fang paused before she nodded.

Wang Xian made a quiet jump into the living room.

Indeed, Miracle Doctor Wang is not that simple! Looking at the way he moved, Elder Fang thought to herself. She had always believed that the mysterious Miracle Doctor Wang was not someone simple.

"Last time, they sent two Level 8 Martial Artists over here. This time, they will definitely send more formidable people over!" Elder Fang reminded Wang Xian.

"Don't worry. I've got everything prepared!" Wang Xian chuckled and looked outside.

Voila!

The door was opened and the four black middle-aged men walked into the villa.

"I have been waiting for you guys for many days. Finally, you guys came!" Wang Xian gazed at the four people in front of him with smiles on his face.

"Hur?" The four black figures hesitated as they swept their watchful gazes around.

"Just the two of them!" a middle-aged man narrowed his eyes and said coldly.

"Kill them, and behead the man!" The middle-aged man in the middle spoke in a cold and harsh tone.

"What's the hurry? I still want to ask who sent you guys over!" Wang Xian wore a smiley face as if everything seemed like a breeze to him.

"Kill!" However, the quartet did not hesitate at all. With swift movements, they launched an attack at them.

"You are really asking for it!" Wang Xian looked at the four black figures with an icy look.

Chapter 186: Dragon King's Order

"You guys are courting your death!"

Just as Elder Fang was preparing to pull out her long sword to attack, a voice pierced through the silence.

The four black figures wavered and looked at their surroundings attentively.

"How dare you barge into the forbidden grounds of the Dragon King! How audacious!"

The voice sounded again and a shadow appeared in front of the four black figures, staring at them coldly.

"You..."

The four black figures were shocked by the sudden appearance of an old man and instinctively staggered back several steps.

"You...Who are you?"

"Oh no, we are ambushed!"

The four black figures stared at the old man who appeared suddenly, feeling aghast.

Elder Fang also perked up and stared at the old man in front of her attentively.

To her astonishment, she didn't manage to see how this old man had appeared.

"Cough cough. The Dragon King is asking you guys a question. If you aren't answering, I'll just have to make you talk."

Mo Qinglong stretched his arms out slowly.

The four black figures looked at Mo Qinglong with heavy expressions. As Mo Qinglong stretched his arms up, a devilish force swept towards them.

"Shit! He isn't someone we can stand up against! Run! Hurry, run!"

The four black figures were petrified. At the instant the old man raised his arms, they felt the fear of death creeping upon them.

"Can you escape?" Mo Qinglong commented mockingly as waves of dark energy entered the body of the black figures.

The four froze and horrified expressions were seen on their faces.

To everyone's astonishment, the old man was able to control their bodies just by raising his arms.

Following which, their eyes were shrouded by darkness and their bodies stiffened.

This... is the Devil Path! An Inborn expert!

Elder Fang was horrified to see Mo Qinglong controlling the four men through such a terrifying method.

Devil Path!

Moreover, he was a powerful expert at the Inborn Realm.

An Inborn expert who practices the Devil Path takes orders from Wang Xian? Could it be that he also practices the Devil Path? Elder Fang thought.

"Speak! Who sent you guys here?" Wang Xian asked the four men coldly.

"It's... It's our young master!" the four black figures replied together.

"Who is your young master?" Wang Xian continued asking.

"Young Master Liu, Liu Feiyun! He wanted us to come and claim your head and kill off everyone in the villa. He wanted this as his present for his engagement ceremony the next day!" they replied.

"Liu Feiyun! Fine, fine!"

Wang Xian squinted his eyes as murderous intent flashed past his eyes.

He didn't expect these men to be sent by Liu Feiyun. Furthermore, he ordered these men to decapitate him.

"Since that's the case, I will send you a congratulatory gift tomorrow!"

"Kill them!" he said coldly to Mo Qinglong.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong waved his arms and the four collapsed on the ground.

Elder Fang's heart skipped a beat as she saw the developments. She looked at Wang Xian with her eyes flickering.

"Get everyone in Rivertown to go to the Lan Family's villa tomorrow!"

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong nodded respectfully. Shifting his stance, he disappeared from sight.

Dragon King? Elder Fang thought to herself.

Elder Fang heard how the terrifying Inborn expert addressed Wang Xian. She had a lot of questions in mind but didn't act rashly.

"You are going to the Lan Family tomorrow? Tomorrow is the day the Lan Family and the Liu Family hold their engagement ceremony," Elder Fang reminded Wang Xian.

"I know," Wang Xian replied. He continued calmly, "Elder Fang, you should go get some rest!"

Elder Fang looked at Wang Xian once again. She hesitated but still went back into her room.

She pondered for some time before taking out her mobile phone and calling Sect Leader Tang.

"Elder Fang, did something happen for you to call me at this time?"

The voice of Sect Leader Tang could be heard from the other end of the phone call.

"Sect Leader, I have a very important thing for you," Elder Fang said solemnly.

"Just say it!" Sect Leader Tang got serious and answered.

"It's about Xiao Yu's elder brother, Miracle Doctor Wang." Elder Fang took a deep breath and continued, "The Liu Family from the Tyrannical Sword sent assassins to assassinate him tonight. However, a terrifying old man appeared and addressed Miracle Doctor Wang as the Dragon King. The old man uses Devilish techniques and is definitely an Inborn expert. With a wave of his hand, he murdered two Level 9 Martial Artists and two Level 8 Martial Artists."

"Furthermore, Miracle Doctor Wang is preparing to meet the Lan Family tomorrow. My guess is that he will be confronting the Liu Family."

Liu Family of the Tyrannical Sword! Inborn expert! Dragon King!

Sect Leader Tang's expression got worse as Elder Fang spoke. He replied, "I knew Miracle Doctor wouldn't be simple since he can take out a Level 4 Spiritual Medicine effortlessly. However, I hadn't expected an Inborn expert to address him as Dragon King."

"The Liu Family only has an Inborn expert. Since Miracle Doctor Wang dares to go, he should have enough confidence!"

Sect Leader Tang's eyes flickered as he continued, "Miracle Doctor Wang and Xiao Yu... I will bring some men to the Lan Family tomorrow!"

Elder Fang was stunned after hearing Sect Leader Tang. Nonetheless, she replied respectfully, "Yes, Sect Leader!"

Dragon King and an Inborn expert! Sect Leader Tang started to ponder.

Tonight was fated to be an eventful night for the people of Rivertown.

"None dare to defy once the order of the Dragon King is issued!" the Ren Family Head replied respectfully to the dark shadow.

Mm. The dark shadow nodded, his body moved and disappeared from the luxurious villa.

"The order from the Dragon King had been issued! Rivertown will be chaotic once again!" Ren Family Head said as he looked at the dark shadow disappearing. He could feel a faint pressure from the dark shadow.

However, he knew that this was just an ordinary member of the Dragon Sect.

"Tomorrow is the day the Lan Family and the Liu Family host their engagement ceremony. It seems like the Dragon King is targeting the Liu Family!"

The Ren Family Head eyes flickered and he shouted to those outside, "Come in!"

"Family Head!"

Two people rushed in and addressed him respectfully.

"Gather all the elites of the Ren Family. Follow me and obey the orders of the Dragon King tomorrow!"

"Yes, family head!" The two members were shocked and nodded their heads.

Old Duan got dressed early in the morning and gave his orders to the elites of his family.

Tomorrow, we shall obey the command of the Dragon King!

"Obey the command of the Dragon King!"

"Obey the command of the Dragon King!"

Each and every Ancient Martial Arts Family from Rivertown answered in unison and would obey the command of the Dragon King.

At the Qin Family, Old Qin dressed up and laughed heartily, "Brother Wang Xian wants to blow this up! With the Dragon Sect and everyone from Rivertown, there's no reason to be scared of the Liu Family. Haha! Incredible! Incredible! Once the order of the Dragon King is issued, no one in Rivertown dares to disobey."

The news spread to every elite and wealthy man in Rivertown.

Old Qin from the Qin Family had told them personally. The order of the Dragon King had been issued and they shall obey the order tomorrow.

Although this group of people did not understand much about the Dragon King and some might not have heard of him, Old Qin and those wealthy men with connections with Ancient Martial Arts Families had all received the news.

Tomorrow, they shall head to the Lan Family and take orders from the Dragon King.

At night, the whole of Rivertown shook just because of a person's order.

The night passed by peacefully. However, turmoil had started to brew.

"So, the Dragon King has the Dragon Sect backing him!"

"Dragon King, I have come too!"

At the top floor of a building, a long-haired man stood there and spoke plainly.

Chapter 187: I'm Wang Xian (1)

The next morning at Flowing Water Villa.

Flowing Water Villa was a private club in Rivertown with a horse racing track, golf course and swimming pool.

This was a high-end private club. Also, a high-end banquet venue.

Lan Family, second to Qin Family in Rivertown, was indeed a billion-dollar group.

Even though the stock price of Lan Family had fallen sharply in the recent period, they still maintained their status.

No ordinary companies or groups could easily shake Lan Family's status. Besides, they had their foundation. It would be difficult for them to fall.

Today was a rather important day for the entire Lan Family.

Lan Family would be joining hands with the Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family from the Hailing Province. To put it bluntly, Lan Family was getting Tyrannical Sword Liu Family as their backing.

Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family possessed formidable strength in Hailing Province. Their family assets had reached hundreds of billions.

But this was secondary. Liu Family was strong in its mighty strength.

In the entire Hailing Province, it was scarce to have someone who dared to offend the Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family.

Hence, the political marriage of Lan Family's future heir, Lan Qingyue, and Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family, Little Sword Celestial, was a big deal for many people.

Early in the morning, many luxury cars were parked outside the Flowing Water Villa. All elites were well-dressed as they headed to the villa.

"Second Master Liu, hello."

"Second Master Liu, hello!" A middle-aged man put on a smile as he stood at the entrance, greeting all the guests.

"Haha, thank you for traveling so far to attend Xiao Yun's engagement ceremony!" Second Master Liu laughed as he greeted the guests politely.

"You're welcome. It's Young Master Liu's engagement ceremony. We must be here for the celebration. It's our honor to be here!"

"That's right. Since Young Master Liu is of the Hailing Province, the friends from Hailing Province must join in the celebration!" the middle-aged men and elderly men quickly replied.

"Haha, thank you, everyone!" Second Master Liu cupped his fist and smiled.

Many people drove their luxurious cars with presents from Hailing Province. They were heading towards the Flowing Water Villa joyfully.

Those wealthy families, Martial Artist Families, and sects had to come and showed their support since it was a political marriage between Liu Family and Lan Family. Besides, it was the Little Sword Celestial who was getting engaged.

"That's Magnate Guo. He's in the top five tycoons in Hailing Province. I didn't expect he would be here personally."

"They are from the Hushan Sect of Hailing Province, a Second-class Sect."

"That's Wu Family of Hailing Province, another Second-class family."

"Gosh, so many people actually came to support Liu Family. If this ceremony were to be held in Hailing Province, I believe there would be more people!"

"It was the right choice to have this political marriage. Liu Family's strength in Hailing Province was too formidable!"

A few people from the Lan Family were in disbelief when they saw the stream of people who walked in.

Liu Family was simply too strong. Lan Family found themselves a strong backing with the political marriage despite making some sacrifices themselves too.

"Ah Xiu, have we sent out all our invitations?" a middle-aged man asked the woman next to him.

"Yes, we did. We sent them to all well-known people, including the Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown. It's just that I don't think the Ancient Martial Artist Families would turn up since we have no contact with them!" The woman frowned.

Lan Family was considered to be widely known in Rivertown. They also invited many people since the future heir of the family was getting engaged.

Even though they could not compare their lineup with Liu Family, they should not lose out at the very least.

"I wonder if Qin Family will turn up!" The middle-aged man hesitated as he frowned and spoke while observing the guests from Liu Family.

"I think someone will come, it's just that we're not sure about that person's status," the woman pondered and said.

"Forget it. Let's not think about these things. We're still far from Liu Family. Once we finish this engagement, we will not be afraid of the Zhou and Lingyue Sect!" the middle-aged man said as cold radiance flashed in his eyes.

"The magnates from Rivertown are here. Let's receive them!"

The middle-aged man and woman were the parents of Lan Qingyue. He looked at those magnates from Rivertown and went up to greet them with smiles.

"Director Lan, congratulations!" One by one, the Rivertown magnates greeted him with smiling faces.

However, their smiles seemed to be odd and peculiar.

"Director Li, welcome. Thank you for attending my daughter's engagement ceremony!" The middle-aged greeted him with smiles.

"Hehe, you're welcome." Director Li gave an awkward smile.

"Director Lan, congratulations!"

"Thank you, Director Lan, for inviting me!"

"I must thank all of you for attending the ceremony. Please come in." Looking at the Rivertown magnates, Director Lan put on a smiling face and spoke fervently.

The group of Rivertown magnates chuckled and walked inside.

"Dragon King?"

Two magnates who knew each other went inside. One of them spoke softly to a middle-aged man.

The other middle-aged man nodded. "It was Dragon King's order. Old Duan called me personally, and said he will show up too!"

"Hu Family Head asked me to come!"

"Old Qin informed me to come over!"

"All elites in the entire Rivertown came over under an order. I bet Lan Family has yet to know about this!"

"Who dares to tip them off?"

The group of magnates went inside.

"Old Qin is here personally!"

At this time, Lan Family's people who were receiving the guests were thrilled when they saw Old Qin and other well-known magnates walking over.

"I think they are taking account of Liu Family. What a great influence for a first-class force. Old Qin actually turned up personally for our political marriage with the Liu Family!"

"Old Qin, it's our honor for you to come here personally. Thank you very much!" The parents of Lan Qingyue quickly went up and spoke to him with smiling faces.

"Hehe, I had to come this time!" Old Qin greeted them politely with a double-edged comment.

"It's my honor to have you attend a junior's engagement ceremony. Old Qin, this way!" The middle-aged man and the lady welcomed him inside.

"Carry on with what you're doing. We can go over by ourselves." Old Qin smiled and waved them off as he led a group of people inside.

Just then, a middle-aged guy from Lan Family exclaimed, "Eh, those are the Ancient Martial Art Families, Ren Family, Xue Family, Duan Family, and Hu Family!"

"Gosh, the influence of the Liu Family is too overwhelming. All the Ancient Martial Artist Families of Rivertown are here."

"We don't have a Second-class Force in Rivertown, not to mention a first-class force. Hence, no one will dare to provoke us since we're in-laws with the Liu Family. Besides, they need to give us some face, so they are here to make peace with us today!"

"Haha, you're right. We'll enjoy a higher status in Rivertown in the future. This engagement was the right decision to make."

Chapter 188: I'm Wang Xian (2)

The members of the Lan Family were conversing joyously. The number of people who had attended this wedding was completely beyond their expectations.

Old Qin had come personally and the majority of the Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown had already arrived.

This made them feel extremely proud and lucky at the same time.

They felt lucky that they were having a wedding with the Liu Family.

This political marriage would bring the Lan Family countless intangible benefits.

"Even the Ancient Martial Artist Families in Rivertown are wary of the Liu Family and are here to show goodwill. This political marriage is worth it!" a young member of the Lan Family commented happily.

The surrounding members of the Lan Family also smiled radiantly.

As the guests entered the villa one after another, the Lan Family noticed that the majority of the wealthy men and Ancient Martial Artist Families of Rivertown had all arrived.

There were a total of three to four hundred of them. This was undoubtedly a huge number.

Together with the guests from the Lan Family and the Liu Family, the number of people attending this engagement ceremony was over a thousand.

Within a room in the Flowing Water Villa, Lan Qingyue sat in front of the dressing table without emotions.

Behind her, several maids were helping her put up exquisite makeup and adjusting her beautiful white engagement ceremony dress.

"Sister Lan, you should be a little more thrilled. Today's your big day! Do you know how many people are out there? There are at least a thousand of them! Oh my god! I heard that the wealthy people in Rivertown have all arrived. Moreover, there are many influential figures from Hailing Province."

"The Liu Family is truly incredible in Hailing Province. Moreover, Liu Feiyun's fame has spread far and wide despite his young age, and many refer to him as the "Little Sword Celestial." Qingyue, you are really blessed!"

Beside her, a young lady commented.

Lan Qingyue's eyes flickered and were filled with fatigue and indignance. She looked at the reflection of herself in the mirror.

She was beautiful but she didn't like the white dress. She preferred a red wedding gown.

However, she did not say it out loud. This was because she wasn't a willing party to this engagement.

If it wasn't for the Lan Family, or if the person she liked had the same feelings for her, she would have never agreed to the engagement.

"Qingyue, are you done?"

At this moment, the door to the room opened. Liu Feiyun was wearing a neat set of attire.

This attire wasn't a suit but a family costume of the Liu Family.

Slightly above the chest area, the word "Liu" was imprinted on it. There was also an image of an Ethereal Flower embroidered onto the costume.

He had a sword behind him that indicated his identity as a member of the Liu Family who was known for their Tyrannical Sword.

His attire wasn't typical for an engagement ceremony but it was, in fact, the most formal costume of the Liu Family.

"I'll be done right away."

Lan Qingyue nodded her head slowly and replied without turning her head over.

Seeing how she reacted, a cold look flashed in the eyes of Liu Feiyun. As he looked at Lan Qingyue from top to bottom, vile thoughts arose in his mind.

"The engagement ceremony will begin in half an hour. Qingyue, get dressed properly. We have a lot of people that have come from Hailing Province!" Liu Feiyun said. His lips curved into a smile as he turned around and left.

"Qingyue, look! Look at how charming Liu Feiyun is! You and he are the real perfect couple!" the young lady by her side commented.

Lan Qingyue didn't respond to it and simply looked into the mirror with hollow eyes.

The golf course of Flowing Water Villa had been modified into a large engagement ceremony field.

On it, there were over a hundred exquisite tables with delicious food on them.

At the center, there was a pathway laid by the red carpet.

At the front of it, there was an elevated platform set up for the engagement ceremony. The stage was huge and the place looked just like the launch event of major popular brands.

Although it was outdoors, the surrounding decoration was luxurious with a tinge of romance.

At this moment, the guests of the Liu Family and the Lan Family were seated to the left and right respectively.

"Sect Leader Tang, please come in. I had not expected Sect Leader Tang to attend our Lan Family's wedding. It is truly our honor!"

At this moment, several members of the Lan Family welcomed Sect Leader Tang and a dozen members of the Thistles and Thorns Sect enthusiastically before leading them to their seats.

"Hehe, Director Lan! How could the Thistles and Thorns Sect stay out of today's event!"

Sect Leader Tang looked across the crowd from Rivertown and commented with a faint smile.

"Yes, yes. Thank you for coming! Everyone, please!" the middle-aged man and the other members of the Lan Family replied joyously.

They had never expected Sect Leader Tang of the Thistles and Thorns Sect from the Southern Province to lead their members to attend this engagement ceremony.

This was a Second-class Force!

"Who would have expected the Lan Family to have so many guests? The Sect Leader of Thistles and Thorns Sect from the Southern Province is even here personally. Moreover, the Qin Family and the majority of Ancient Martial Artist Families from Rivertown have all come!"

"Haha, they aren't doing this for the Lan Family. Instead, they are showing respect to the Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family. If the Lan Family could really invite them over, they wouldn't be so badly bullied by Lingyue Sect."

"That's true. Those people from the Southern Province and Rivertown wouldn't be here if not for the Liu Family."

To the left of the crowd from Rivertown, the guests of Liu Family were looking at the guests of the Lan Family while whispering softly.

Around the table closest to the stage, seven to eight members of the Liu Family and Lan Family sat around.

An old man with a white beard sat on the seat for the host. He looked around satisfactorily and said to the old man beside him, "The Lan Family sure has a lot of guests!"

"Haha, Old Liu. I'm sure you know that they are here mainly because of you!" the old man from the Lan Family replied courteously.

"Haha, that's true. The Tyrannical Sword of the Liu Family is still rather influential around the surrounding provinces. Your granddaughter is really lucky to be marrying my grandson."

The old man with a white beard wasn't humble at all as he remarked arrogantly.

"Yes, yes!" the old man from the Lan Family nodded his head. A tinge of embarrassment flashed passed his eyes.

The other members of the Lan Family simply exchanged pleasantries with the other members of the Liu Family.

The difference between the strength of the two parties had determined the difference in their status.

Just as they were conversing, the guests around them consciously and unconsciously looked over.

"Who would have expected Old Liu to be here? He's the pillar of the Liu Family!"

"Old Liu rarely shows up in the Liu Family's villa. He probably rushed over for his beloved grandson's engagement ceremony!"

"Old Liu has reached the Inborn Realm for over twenty years. His strength is probably even more horrifying at this moment!"

The crowd discussed softly. With an Inborn expert sitting right there, it was hard for them to not pay attention to this area.

"It seems like I'm not too late!"

At this moment, a young man walked over slowly. He looked towards the Liu Family with a smile before walking to the location at the front.

When the Ancient Martial Artists of Rivertown saw Wang Xian, they held their breath as they saw him walking ahead...

And he sat around the table with Old Qin, Old Duan, Old Xue, Sect Leader Tang and others.

Chapter 189: I'm Wang Xian (3)

"Thank you all!" Wang Xian said and smiled as he looked at the few people at the same table.

"Hehe, Wang Xian already called us to come, how can we not turn up?!" Old Qin smiled back at Wang Xian.

"The bride and groom are out."

"Today's main characters are here."

Just then, some voices came from the side. Wang Xian spun his head around and peered towards the back.

Everyone turned around too.

The clean-looking, white gown with a refined makeup turned Lan Qingyue into a ravishing beauty.

Every move of hers was giving off a unique vibe.

Liu Fei Yun, beside her, was in a blue suit with a long sword behind him. He looked around with a face full of smiles.

His dignified demeanor and confident appearance made him an elegant man too!

"They were made for each other!"

"The man is dashing while the lady is striking. Haha. Such a perfect match!"

The crowd was pouring endless praise when they saw the attractive couple walking on the red carpet.

"Let's welcome the couple who are walking towards their happiness!"

A renowned host was holding onto a microphone with smiles on the front stage.

"Liu Fei Yun, 28 years-old, is well-known as Little Sword Celestial who is a well-mannered and impressive gentleman. Lan Qingyue, 22 years-old. She's already the General Manager at Deep-sea Jewelry at such a young age, and she's a famous talent in Rivertown. Today, they will be tying the knot over here!"

As the host introduced the couple, soft music was played. All the guests kept quiet as they watched smilingly.

"She's still so beautiful!" Wang Xian looked at Lan Qingyue and displayed a faint grin.

Upon hearing his comment, Old Qin and Old Xue threw him a gaze as they widened their smiles. Even heroes have a weakness for the charms of a beautiful woman.

"Look, they're here!" As they were approaching, the host said with smiles, "Please face our friends and relatives. Today, they will be witnessing the couple tying the knot of a lifetime!"

Liu Fei Yun turned around as he grinned from ear to ear. Lan Qingyue followed suit too.

"Thank you for attending the engagement ceremony of Mr. Liu Fei Yun and Ms. Lan Qingyue. Today will mark a new beginning for the couple. Let's give them our most sincere congratulations."

"Today, all of you will witness the engagement of the couple!"

"Even though this is not the wedding ceremony, getting engaged is equivalent to proposing. I wonder if the fiance has prepared anything!" The host looked at Liu Fei Yun with smiles.

Liu Fei Yun returned a grin to him. "Of course!"

"Then let your show begin!" the host joked.

An engagement was different from a wedding. The fiance had to propose on the grand stage.

Liu Fei Yun drew his lips slightly. After he took two slow steps backward, he swung his arm, and the long sword behind him was drawn into the air.

He threw his arm up, grabbed the long sword, and began his sword dance.
In amongst flowers with a bottle of wine,
I drink alone for there is no one close by.
I raise my chalice to invite the shining moon,
the moon casts me a shadow, and we have a triad.
Since the moon never learns to drink,
my shadow absent-mindedly shall follow me.
Nevertheless, I have them around me, enjoying the moments, just like how it should be.
I sing, and the moon lingers,
I dance, and my shadow whirls under.
In my sober moments, we rejoice together.
And we bid goodbye as soon as I am drunk.
Such fellowship shall last despite our parted ways.
Only heaven knows when we shall come together again.

A sword danced in front of the audience. As Liu Fei Yun wielded his sword, he recited one of Li Bai's renowned poems, "Drinking alone under the moon." His sword was gleaming with a faint and wavering glow from the moon, which was beautiful and extravagant.

The audience was taken aback by Liu Fei Yun's swordplay such that they could not hide their shocking expressions.

"Little Sword Celestial's swordsmanship seems to be much stronger than what the rumors claimed it to be. Gosh, this is impressive!"

"His sword seems to have drawn a picture in the air. Young Master Liu's swordsmanship is getting more powerful. He lives up to the name of Little Sword Celestial!"

"Haha, awesome. It's indeed the Art of Sword Celestial. Well done!"

An elder with a full white beard was sitting in the front row, looking ebullient when he gazed at the strokes Liu Fei Yun displayed.

Liu Fei Yun was even more proud when he noticed the surprised looks from the audience. He then turned to Lan Qingyue.

"Wine and moon were the most loyal companions throughout Li Bai's entire life. I hope, Qingyue, you can become my most loyal companion in my life too. Just recently, I obtained the Sword Celestial's inheritance, and I'll rise to the highest level in no time. As my wife, you'll also enjoy a high status with me!" As Liu Fei Yun spoke, he pointed the long sword into the air, and a diamond ring appeared on the top.

He threw his long sword back into its scabbard and took the diamond ring as he gazed smilingly at Lan Qingyue.

"Qingyue, will you be my companion?" Liu Fei Yun looked at the ravishing Lan Qingyue.

"Wow, this is so romantic. If someone were to propose to me like this, I'd say yes immediately!" All the females in the crowd were falling head over heels for him.

Liu Fei Yun, who performed swordplay, was simply too romantic and touching!

"I didn't expect that Young Master Liu could obtain the Sword Celestial, Li Bai's inheritance. No wonder the sword dance was beautiful, yet ferocious. What a surprise."

"I heard that he won the auction of Li Bai's authentic calligraphy. He's such a talent to have comprehended its essence in such a short time. He even obtained the inheritance. He's such a gifted man!"

"Given Young Master Liu's talent, he will take over Old Liu's position and become the next Inborn Sword Celestial of the Liu Family."

When the audience heard what Liu Fei Yun said, they were struck by surprise. The talent displayed by Liu Fei Yun was daunting.

Lan Qingyue fell into a trance-like state as she gazed at Liu Fei Yun and the diamond ring in his hand.

A different phase of life would begin as soon as she received the ring.

Immense bitterness filled her eyes as she closed them.

"Hur?" Upon seeing how Lan Qingyue was responding, Liu Fei Yun frowned slightly. Impatience flashed in his eyes as he sounded stiff. "Qing Yue, will you say yes to me?"

"Of course not!"

Just when Lan Qingyue opened her eyes to accept her fate, a voice cut the silent air in the engagement ceremony.

Upon hearing the voice, Lan Qingyue jerked slightly as she spun around with disbelief. She stared hard at Wang Xian.

"Hur?" An abrupt voice had stunned everyone from the Lan and Liu Family.

Liu Fei Yun, on the stage, turned around immediately. When he saw Wang Xian, he was slightly taken aback. Soon after, he glared at Wang Xian with a murderous face.

"Who are you, brat? How dare you spout nonsense here. Seeking your own doom?"

A middle-aged man who was sitting beside the white-bearded old man stood up. He stared at Wang Xian with a sharp and ferocious look as he shouted at him.

The white-bearded old man swept his gaze across Wang Xian before he turned to look at the seniors from Lan Family unhappily. Apparently, he was displeased with the fact that the person who had interrupted was a guest of the Lan Family.

"I'm Wang Xian!" Wang Xian returned a smile to that middle-aged man as he replied impassively.

Chapter 190: I'm Wang Xian (4)

"I'm Wang Xian!"

It was just three short and ordinary words but they exhibited endless confidence.

"Wang Xian? Where did this brat come from? How dare he spout nonsense here? Is he courting his own death?"

At this moment, before the Liu Family responded, a burly man among the Liu Family's guests stood up and shouted emotionlessly at Wang Xian.

"That's right. How dare you spout nonsense in Young Master Liu's engagement ceremony! You must be too eager to die!"

"I have not heard of Wang Xian. However, I'll probably be attending your memorial service the same day next year!"

"What an arrogant brat to kick up a fuss in Liu Family's engagement ceremony. You must be tired of living!"

After that burly middle-aged man stood up to reprimand Wang Xian, other ancient martial artists stood up one after another and stared coldly at Wang Xian.

Some of the ancient martial artists emitted strong auras directly as they threw their gazes filled with killing intent at Wang Xian.

In an instant, everyone's attention had fallen onto Wang Xian.

Without having to take actions or say a single word, there was already a group of guests who were willing to stand up for the Liu Family.

In fact, if it wasn't a joyous event today, they would have taken actions directly to get on the good books of the Liu Family.

"Xiao Xian... Why are you here? Get away quickly!"

Lan Qingyue was shocked to see Wang Xian. After hearing the threats of the crowd while still being in shock, her face turned pale and she blurted out.

She knew that Wang Xian was incredible. However, the other party was the Liu Family, who was one of the top forces in Hailing Province!

Lan Qingyue's body was shivering a little and her eyes were filled with horror.

Huh?

When the crowd heard Lan Qingyue, they were stunned.

This... What does this mean?

When the female party of the engagement ceremony said those words, the meaning behind it would be great.

Is Wang Xian the old flame of Lan Qingyue?

Or perhaps he was her secret lover.

A bright green grass field slowly appeared over Liu Feiyun's head. [\[1\]](#)

You couldn't really blame them for reading too much into this. With the development of the situation, it wasn't hard for them to reach this conclusion.

In fact, those with a wilder imagination already had a few versions in their minds.

The young missy of the Lan Family is forced to marry the Liu Family. The lover of the young missy appears to snatch the bride!

The young missy of the Lan Family has an affair with a poor kid. Little Sword Celestial of the Liu Family is made a cuckold!

Wait wait wait wait!

"Lan Qingyue!"

Liu Feiyun saw the expression of Lan Qingyue and heard her words. His expression was savage and he was clenching his fist tightly.

Under such circumstances and during his engagement ceremony...

For her fiancée to be involved in a scandal with another man, this was the utmost humiliation to him.

How could he possibly face the public in the future as the Little Sword Celestial of the Tyrannical Sword!

Bam!

"Preposterous! Preposterous!"

At this moment, at the table of the host, the white-bearded old man slammed his hand heavily on the table with a solemn expression.

All the cups on the table were knocked over.

The old man from Lan Family beside him looked extremely pale. The other members of the Lan Family were also as white as a sheet. Some even stared at Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue angrily.

The burly middle-aged man from before saw how furious Old Liu was. He stood up and immediately remarked, "Old Liu, leave this to us. We can handle it!"

"Yeah, Old Liu. Just leave this brat to us!"

Those Ancient Martial Arts Families and Sects who wished to get on the good side of the Liu Family stood up one after another and requested Old Liu to let them help.

"Drag him out!"

Old Liu didn't say a word but the middle-aged man beside him did.

"Yes!"

Instantly, over ten people nodded their heads. They were from different families and sects. They stood up and stared harshly at Wang Xian before walking towards him.

"Brat, you are courting your own death!"

The burly middle-aged man stared coldly at Wang Xian with killing intent.

"Xiao Xian!"

Seeing this, Lan Qingyue's complexion turned even paler. A teardrop streamed down her cheek.

Wang Xian looked at the dozen people walking towards him and revealed a mocking smile.

He stood up gradually.

Rattle rattle!

At this moment, sounds of tables and chairs scraping the floor sounded.

To the astonishment of the Lan Family, the Liu Family and the guests, all the Ancient Martial Artist Families and wealthy men from Rivertown and the members of the Thistles and Thorns Sect together with Sect Leader Tang stood up.

They stared coldly at the dozen people walking towards Wang Xian.

The atmosphere dropped below freezing point in an instant. Everyone from the Lan Family looked at this scene with disbelief.

All the major families, Ancient Martial Artist Families from Rivertown and the members of the Thistles and Thorns Sect had all stood up with the young man.

They were shocked by the development. The Lan Family had initially thought that they were only here to show goodwill because of the political marriage with the Liu Family.

They thought that the Thistles and Thorns Sect, Old Qin and the wealthy men from Rivertown were only here in hopes of getting to know the Liu Family.

However, they realized that they were completely wrong. They weren't here because they wanted to show goodwill to them for the political marriage with the Liu Family.

And they weren't there because they were wary of the Liu Family.

They were here for that young man!

The dozen martial artists walking towards Wang Xian were stunned. They looked at the Rivertown crowd in shock as their expressions turned solemn.

Just a while ago, they were still commenting that the Ancient Martial Artist Families of Rivertown and Sects from the Southern Province were only here because of the Liu Family.

At this moment, those were just their wishful thoughts. They were here to get on the good books of the Liu Family? Nope, they were here to go against the Liu Family!

"Haha! Great, great!"

The middle-aged man beside the white-bearded old man looked hideous as he saw the crowd stand up.

He stood up gradually and fixed his eyes on Wang Xian. "Brat, I think I know who you are. To have such a huge influence in Rivertown and to be so young, you must be Miracle Doctor Wang who ranks eighteenth on the Miracle Doctors Chart. Not bad! You are pretty good, brat!"

"However, you choose to not enjoy your bright future and instead offend our Liu Family. Do you think this trash from Rivertown is sufficient to challenge our Liu Family?"

The middle-aged man shouted out the last sentence.

Rattle rattle!

As the middle-aged man completed his sentence, the guests of the Liu Family stood up immediately.

In terms of number, they weren't inferior to the people of Rivertown. When it came to strength, they were much stronger than the crowd from Rivertown.

Among the guests of the Liu Family, there were three to four Second-class

Forces.

On the other hand, only Thistles and Thorns Sect was a Second-class Force on the Rivertown side.

"Just a small Rivertown and yet you dare to challenge the Liu Family. You guys don't know where you stand! The Liu Family doesn't even need to take actions and we can easily annihilate you guys!"

"Haha, interesting! A small Rivertown that doesn't even have a Second-class Force and the Southern Province which doesn't even have a First-class Force are thinking of challenging us and the Liu Family. They must be really eager to seek their own death!"

"I'll give you guys a chance right now. Cripple that brat and throw him over. Otherwise, we will annihilate the entire Rivertown!"

The guests of the Liu Family looked down on the group behind Wang Xian.

If it was just the forces of Rivertown, they weren't wary at all. In fact, even if they included the Southern Province, they weren't afraid if they included the Liu Family too.

"I'm sorry that I'm late!"

At this moment, a nonchalant voice sounded in the ears of everyone.

Chapter 191: Annihilation (1)

"I'm sorry that I'm late!"

A nonchalant voice sounded in the ears of everyone.

Everyone was stunned as they turned their attention to the entrance at the side.

It was a middle-aged man with hair that spread around his shoulders. He had a saber at his back. His fringe was concealing his eyes, but even so, a bright and fearsome radiance could be vaguely seen from his eyes.

Behind that middle-aged man, dozens of followers were trailing behind him. They had the same weapons in their hands. All of them shared an extraordinary vibe that came from someone who held high positions for a long time.

"Who is he?" A middle-aged man observed the horde of people with surprise as he displayed a puzzled look.

But everyone had the same sentiment when the horde of people emerged. All of them were staring at the long-haired middle-aged man who was leading at the front.

"We've got more than enough people to challenge you guys." The man was obviously Maniac Ji. Following behind him were all formidable people from the Ancient Martial Artist Families and sects in Flow City.

Maniac Ji might not have established any forces of his own, but he was born and lived in Flow City. He truly deserved to be the King of Flow City.

Even if he did not claim to be the King, all the families and sects in Flow City recognized him as one.

Maniac Ji's identity was similar to Wang Xian's in Rivertown.

They were Kings without having to proclaim themselves as such.

None of the people in Flow City dared to defy his orders.

Maniac Ji slowly lifted his chin and stared at the middle-aged man who remarked, "A small Rivertown which doesn't even have a Second-class Force and the Southern Province which doesn't even have a First-class Force were thinking of challenging them and the Liu Family. They must be really eager to seek their own death!"

"Maniac Ji!" That middle-aged man filled his eyes with fear as he swallowed his saliva with a trembling body when he saw Maniac Ji staring at him nonchalantly.

"Maniac Ji, he's Maniac Ji..." All the guests from Liu Family went pale in panic.

Reputation was all a person needed. Be mad, be a maniac. Do whatever it takes, Maniac Ji.

Back then, Maniac Ji stooped to any means just to annihilate the entire first-class force, and this created a stir in the Ancient Martial Arts World.

Anyone who encountered this maniac would be petrified.

Maniac Ji swept his impassive glance across those guests from Liu Family as he paced his way to Wang Xian.

With a bow, he shouted respectfully, "Miracle Doctor Wang!"

"You're not late!" Wang Xian had not informed Maniac Ji, but he was pleased to see Maniac Ji here.

Ji Yuankun might be known as Maniac Ji, but he had a strong sense of comradeship, and he was someone who kept his words.

"Glad to hear that!" Maniac Ji revealed a smile. After his son recovered, he finally found his long-lost smile. "Miracle Doctor Wang, should I annihilate Liu Family?"

Maniac Ji's voice was heard once again.

When the guests from Liu Family saw the chilly smile Maniac Ji was wearing, their foreheads broke into a cold sweat.

No doubt it was Maniac Ji. The first thing he said was to annihilate Tyrannical Sword of Liu Family.

"Maniac Ji, do you want to set yourself against us?"

At this time, the white-bearded old man who was sitting at the front could not take it lying down. He stood up immediately with frosty radiance flickering in his eyes.

Maniac Ji ignored the white-bearded old man as he continued to look at Wang Xian, waiting for his reply.

"Do it!" Wang Xian spat out the words coldly.

"Hahaha, hahaha." Just then, the white-bearded old man laughed wildly. He stared at Wang Xian with a malevolent expression. "Brat, you are thinking of annihilating Liu Family? What an arrogant tone. Do you think Maniac Ji himself could do that by himself?"

The white-bearded old man continued as he glared ferociously at Maniac Ji. "Others may be afraid of you. But I, Liu Jingshan, am not. Do you think you can be my match?" The white-bearded old man exhibited immense confidence on his face as he spoke.

Twenty years ago, he had made a breakthrough and attained Inborn Realm while Maniac Ji had accomplished that only five years ago. Hence, Liu Jingshan was dauntless.

"Wang Xian, damn you. Today, I'll kill you with my own hands!" Liu Fei Yun felt embarrassed when he saw a horde of Ancient Martial Artist Families and Maniac Ji led by Wang Xian.

He slowly drew the sharp-edged sword with a pair of murderous eyes as he glared at Wang Xian.

Today, Liu Family had nothing to fear if a fight broke out. His grandfather could hold Maniac Ji while the rest of the guests from Liu Family could cripple Wang Xian's men.

"Kill me with your own hands?" Wang Xian stared at Liu Fei Yun coldly as he filled his eyes with an immense amount of killing intent. He swung his arm.

Whoosh!

At this time, four figures were thrown over to the side.

Everyone was appalled as they quickly turned to check on the black figures.

Bam!

Four black figures were thrown to the stage, making four thumping sounds.

"Four bodies!" All of them were aghast as they stared at the four bodies on the stage.

Liu Fei Yun fixed his eyes on the four bodies with an awful look on his face. He could even recognize them at one glance, as they were the ones who he had sent to assassinate Wang Xian last night.

"How dare you send someone to kill my family and me. Heh!"

"I must destroy Liu Family!" As soon as Wang Xian finished his words, a group of people, in black attire with a golden Divine Dragon embroidered on their chest, marched slowly towards them.

There were 52 in total including an old man and a middle-aged man at the entrance. The remaining ones were young men.

As they marched over, they exuded an intense killing vibe.

All of the people from Liu Family varied their expressions. Every one of them stared at those black-attired people as they surrounded them.

Liu Jingshan narrowed his eyes as he sensed danger brewing. He stretched out his arm and drew a honed sword as he stared at Wang Xian coldly.

With a stern look, the guests from Liu Family fixed their eyes on the fifty people who emerged out of nowhere. A small amount of cold sweat broke out from their faces.

They were already aghast that Miracle Doctor Wang could gather all the people from Rivertown.

They did not expect he could gather Maniac Ji, let alone a group of more than fifty black-attired men who surrounded the area.

They might not be aware of their strength, but they could tell that this bunch of people were not ordinary given the killing and imposing vibe they exuded.

Besides, the brave act of besieging the Liu Family already proved their strength.

On the other hand, people from Lan Family were dumbfounded and appalled as they watched the event unfold.

They did not expect that the political marriage of Lan and Liu Family would have such developments.

Dazedly, they fixed their eyes upon that young man who had apparently engaged in some entanglement with Qingyue.

Initially, they thought this young man would be easily killed by Liu Family.

Never did they expect things would turn out this way.

Experts emerged and eventually besieged them all!

They were dazzled as that young man seemed like he wanted to annihilate Liu Family!

"These must be the forces behind him. It's much more formidable than I thought!" Sect Leader Tan was stunned as he looked at Maniac Ji and the group of black-attired men around him.

But he was glad that he had made this choice.

Chapter 192: Annihilation (2)

The crowd from Rivertown behind Wang Xian looked on silently.

Although they knew the strength of the Dragon King, they were still slightly surprised to see the sudden appearance of Maniac Ji.

Wang Xian smiled and looked towards the Liu Family and the crowd behind them.

"The Liu Family targeted me and I'm only going to target them. However, if you choose to take action, I wouldn't mind going on a killing spree!"

Wang Xian revealed a murderous look and looked at Liu Feiyun, who was on the stage. "Oh, Little Sword Celestial, who has inherited the will of the Sword Celestial. Let me see your true strength!"

Wang Xian spoke sarcastically. Behind him, a dragonian walked directly towards Liu Feiyun.

He had a young look and was younger than Liu Feiyun.

"Do you really think that this is your home ground and you can be so brazen?"

Seeing Wang Xian's confident look that seemed to have treated him as prey, Liu Jingshan revealed a cold look.

He lifted the long sword in his hands slowly and spread a strong aura towards the surroundings.

Bam bam bam!

The cups and plates on the table rattled and made a loud sound. Members of the Lan Family quickly moved to the side in horror.

The crowd behind the Liu Family was hesitating.

Looking at the current situation, it was clear that the Liu Family was the passive side.

The strength of the fifty-odd people that surrounded them was unknown. They didn't know how to make a decision nor did they dare to make a decision.

Feeling the strong aura from Old Liu, everyone's attention turned to Maniac Ji.

As long as the battle between Inborn experts was decided, the victorious side would be clear.

"Maniac Ji, I would like to see how strong you really are. If you help him this time, you will be the arch-enemy of the Liu Family."

Liu Jingshan pointed his longsword at Maniac Ji.

"Hehe. You will be the second Inborn expert that will die in my hands!"

Maniac Ji drew his longsword slowly and wasn't wary of going toe to toe with Liu Jingshan.

"It's better if you leave this to the Dragon Sect!" A domineering voice sounded.

Bang!

A black aura exploded instantly and coalesced into material form.

"What!"

The strong aura shocked everyone as they looked at the old man standing at the entrance.

The old man lifted his head. The surrounding black aura masked his appearance but the horrifying aura he emitted suppressed an area spanning over a thousand meters.

A heart-wrenching power could be felt from the old man as the crowd shivered.

Even Maniac Ji or Liu Jingshan did not give them such a strong sense of suppression.

"So strong!"

Maniac Ji's hand was shivering. He looked in shock at the old man emitting black aura as he clenched his longsword even tighter.

"Inborn expert! It's another Inborn expert!"

A guest of the Liu Family couldn't contain himself and exclaimed. That young man had managed to summon two Inborn experts!

"Inborn!"

Members of the Liu Family felt their hearts skipped a beat. Dull clouds cast a shadow over their minds as they stared fervently at Mo Qinglong.

Liu Jingshan, who was holding a longsword in his hand, could feel perspiration breaking out of his palm as he looked at Mo Qinglong in disbelief.

Two Inborn experts! They had to face two Inborn experts while facing off against a small Rivertown.

Moreover, these two Inborn experts were both summoned by the same young man!

This...

Liu Jingshan's face sank. That horrifying old man had locked onto him with his aura.

He was sure that if he moved, the other party would definitely attack him.

Moreover, he felt that he wouldn't be a match for this old man.

This made his heart pump violently.

"Little Sword Celestial of the Tyrannical Sword? Sword Celestial's inheritance? Mo Wushi, Level 8 Martial Artist, seeking your guidance!"

At this moment, a dragonian walked up to the stage. He stared coldly at Liu Feiyun.

His voice instantly drew the attention of the crowd.

Everyone immediately turned around and looked at the stage. At that spot, a man even younger than Liu Feiyun was standing in front of Liu Feiyun.

Liu Feiyun's expressions were changing rapidly. He took a glance at the old man with terrifying aura and perspiration covered his forehead. After which, he gripped his sword tightly as he looked to the young man in front of him.

"Miss Lan, be careful not to be injured!"

At this moment, Sect Leader Tang moved and appeared beside Lan Qingyue. Using his Internal Energy to cover her, he sent her towards Wang Xian.

"Xiao Xian, you..." Lan Qingyue looked at Wang Xian, still feeling a little disheveled.

"I know that this isn't your own intention. Moreover, I will not let you marry a dead man today!"

Wang Xian smiled at Lan Qingyue and walked to her.

"Die!"

At this moment, Liu Feiyun let out a loud roar. With a hideous look, he charged towards Mo Wushi.

Mo Wushi was unmoved. Looking at the constantly changing swordsmanship of Liu Feiyun, he extended his hand to take the attack directly.

"You must be courting death!"

Seeing Mo Wushi was intending to use his body to take his attack directly, Liu Feiyun revealed a savage look. His swordplay turned even sharper!

Bam bam bam!

Sounds of metal clashing propagated. Mo Wushi used his palm to take on the sharp sword directly before pushing forward with his entire body!

This is bad!

Liu Feiyun was shocked as horror filled his eyes.

Bam!

A palm hit Liu Feiyun heavily. Mo Wushi followed up and stepped on Liu Feiyun with his feet as he stared coldly at him.

"How dare you offend the Dragon King with these meager skills!"

Mo Wushi looked down on Liu Feiyun with contempt. "Little Sword Celestial? Inheritance from the Sword Celestial? Trash!"

Liu Feiyun's eyes popped open and were filled with disbelief.

This man who was even younger than him was surprisingly able to crush him easily.

He had always been a proud person and even swore to make it to the top of the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart. However, what happened now made him feel utterly defeated.

He was one of the top 20 on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart and yet he lost to an unknown young man easily!

He tilted his head and stared at the young man who was looking at him with contempt.

He was the Little Sword Celestial who had received the inheritance of the Sword Celestial! He was supposed to become an Inborn expert in the future!

Bam!

However, an intense pain cruised throughout him at this moment as he felt his consciousness slipping away from him slowly!

"Feiyun!"

"Feiyun!"

The members of the Liu Family were aghast as they looked in horror at Liu Feiyun who was lying on the elevated stage.

Wang Xian looked at the members of the Liu Family coldly and remarked, "If one tries to kill me, I'll definitely kill him. Liu Feiyun sent people to assassinate me and my kin. I'll be returning these right now!"

His voice propagated to everyone's ears.

Everyone in the Liu Family was horrified. What he meant was that Feiyun wanted to kill him and his family.

Therefore, he would also kill Feiyun and all his family members.

"Qingyue, it's going to get bloody. Let's leave this place!" Wang Xian said to Lan Qingyue gently.

Lan Qingyue looked at him blankly. Shortly after, tears streamed down her cheeks as she nodded her head heavily.

Chapter 193: Annihilation (3)

The sun was shining. A gust of cool breeze drifted over, cooling the summer.

When the cool breeze came off the engagement ceremony at Flowing Water Villa, it was a bone-piercing chill.

All of them watched as the young man and girl took their leave while the black-attired men slowly closed up the blockade.

"You want to destroy Liu Family?" Liu Jingshan clenched his long sword tightly with a ghastly look as he swept his gaze across the black, imposing old man and Maniac Ji.

"Miracle Doctor Wang cured my son. You can only blame your grandson for this!" Maniac Ji drew his long saber slowly as his body gave off an immense killing aura.

"Heh, Unexpected. A mere Miracle Doctor of Rivertown could summon two Inborn Experts. What a surprise." Liu Jingshan let out distasteful laughter. Apparently, he misunderstood that the people of Dragon Sect also owed Wang Xian their favor.

He swept his gaze across all the people. "Destroying Liu Family? I'm afraid it is not that simple."

"Heh, I'll wipe out your entire family instantly." Mo Qinglong looked at Liu Jingshan with a disdainful look. As he spoke, he struck!

"Run! Get out of here! Get out of here!" Lan Family and the rest of the guests fled in all directions with fear when they saw how the situation developed.

The battle of Inborn Experts was not something they could participate in. If they got involved, they'd either get seriously injured or die.

"Why didn't you tell me when such serious things like this happened to you?" Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue strode to one of the rooms and turned a deaf ear to the devastating screams behind them.

"Why should I?" Lan Qingyue looked over her shoulder and returned a question.

Wang Xian drew a bitter smile on his face. It seemed like Lan Qingyue still bore grudges over his choice of Guan Shuqing.

"But for what you did today, I'll forgive you." Lan Qingyue hesitated as she saw his smile. "But, Liu Family..."

"Leave the Liu Family to them. Don't worry. I'm not afraid of them." Wang Xian chuckled and continued, "We'll settle your family's affairs together. When people learn about what happened today, Lingyue Sect and Zhou Family wouldn't dare to play any tricks. If they did, there's nothing to fear either!"

"Thank you, Xiao Xian!" Lan Qingyue stopped and looked at him, as she was touched.

Wang Xian grinned. "A red wedding gown would suit you better. Wear the red one next time!"

Lan Qingyue slightly blushed when she heard his comment. She reached out her hands to hug him gently.

Wang Xian revealed a thrilled expression as he hugged her tightly. He whispered in her ear, "You must be tired from the last few days. Why don't we enjoy ourselves for a few days? I'll take you out to sea."

"Sure, I'll call my parents to tell them that I'm having a break for the next few days." Lan Qingyue struggled out of his hug and stretched herself. She then ran to the room next door with a beaming face and took out her phone to call her parents.

"Hello, Qingyue? Are you okay?" Lan Qingyue's father held his phone as he watched Liu Jingshan spit out fresh blood in the air. He asked this with trepidation.

"Dad, I'm going out with Xiao Xian for a few days. These last few days have been tiring for me. I want to have a good rest!" Lan Qingyue spoke in a joyful mood.

"Sure, go and have fun with Miracle Doctor Wang. You don't have to worry about anything!" Lan Qingyue's father quickly agreed.

Since his daughter had gotten such capable boyfriend, why the hell would they want to continue with the political marriage with Liu Family? What's more, they were almost dead now.

So long as they befriended Miracle Doctor Wang, Lan Family was not afraid of Zhou Family and Lingyue Sect.

Besides, the Miracle Doctor Wang was, obviously, much easier to get along with than the Liu Family.

"I'm done, Xiao Xian. Let's go. I want to relax for a few days!" Lan Qingyue changed out of her wedding gown and came to Wang Xian with thrills all over her face. She looked like she was a little carefree girl.

"Let's go. We'll go out to the sea. The yacht that I bought a few days ago just arrived today," Wang Xian said with a smile.

"Sure, let's go to the sea. I'm going to swim, surf and fish..." Lan Qingyue exclaimed with excitement.

"Sure, let's go!" Wang Xian held her hand and went outside.

Lan Qingyue was only 22 years old now, and she should not be responsible for the entire group. She should not endure a marriage that she hated. She should be learning and having fun in school without a single worry.

"Wow, what a beautiful villa and yacht!" They took a car to the villa that sat right next to the sea. Lan Qingyue was animated as soon as she saw the villa and the yacht.

"I'll pick up something from the house!" As Wang Xian spoke, he went into the villa and picked up swimsuits, red wine, tea leaves, and some supplies.

"Qingyue, let's head out to the sea!" Wang Xian brought her to the yacht.

"What a beautiful yacht. It's much better than the one my dad bought!" Lan Qingyue looked at the luxury yacht that was over 30 meters long with an ebullient expression.

The yacht was divided into two levels. The ground floor had a sofa, kitchen, dining area, and it was quite spacious.

There were four rooms on the second floor.

A 30-meter-long yacht had a floor area that was larger than an average house!

"Xiao Xian, can you drive a yacht?" Lan Qingyue asked as she roamed around the yacht.

"Ahem, I think there should be driving instructions. I'm quite smart, so there shouldn't be any problems!"

Driving a yacht required a license too. But Wang Xian believed he could handle it.

"Haha, let's do it together." Lan Qingyue followed behind Wang Xian with much interest.

Wang Xian took the operating manual. He was examining the brand new yacht with a beaming face.

"The oil tank is full. Let's set out now."

With a smiling face, Wang Xian began to operate the yacht as it sailed slowly out to the sea.

"Be careful, Xiao Xian. You're maneuvering it without a license!" Lan Qingyue said, grinning.

"Haha, don't worry. Leave this to me. Let's go somewhere shallow first before we go further out? We can enjoy ourselves for the next two to three days!" said Wang Xian with a smile.

"Sure!"

The yacht continued to sail across the sea. As a first-timer, Wang Xian did not dare to drive it too fast. But without knowing, he actually drove them to somewhere near the Dragon Sect island.

He hesitated and stopped the yacht. "Let's stop and check out this place!"

"Okay, I want to catch some fish. How about having fish for dinner?"

"There is diving equipment on the yacht. We can dive and catch some lobsters for dinner!"

"I don't dare to do that. Is the water deep over here? Will there be any sharks?"

"Haha, how can there be? Let's go. I'll take you out for a swim!"

Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue changed into diving suits and dived underwater freely.

Swimming, diving, and fishing.

Wang Xian even caught some lobsters and crabs for dinner.

Chapter 194: Fish Tornado and the Ichthyosaur

Wang Xian accompanied Lan Qingyue til nine-plus at night. He had initially intended to sleep with the lady but was ruthlessly pushed out with the doors locked.

Wang Xian smiled bitterly as he walked to the first floor. Walking to the deck, he looked to the faraway seas.

He could sense that Lan Qingyue had fallen asleep on the second floor.

She had barely slept over the last two days and was finally able to get a good rest today.

It will be at least be ten hours before Lan Qingyue wakes up!

Wang Xian thought to himself. He hesitated for a moment before removing his clothes and throwing them onto the sofa.

Bam!

Wang Xian leaped into the skies and dived into the seas. Moving his body, he transformed into a six-meter-long divine dragon in an instant.

"Prime Minister Turtle and Roving Girl are just around the corner. Let's summon them over!"

Wang Xian looked around and let out a dragon roar to the surroundings.

Growl!

Growl!

Soon, replies were heard. Wang Xian could see Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Girl, Roving Lobster and Roving Heavens with his group of Devil Monkeys swimming towards him.

At the forefront, the Nine Venomous Sea Snakes were the fastest as they approached Wang Xian at an astonishing speed.

"Greetings, Dragon King!"

Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Heavens, Roving Girl, Roving Lobster and the rest bowed respectfully in front of Wang Xian.

Mm!

Wang Xian looked at the eight hundred Devil Monkeys and could sense their improvements in strength. He couldn't help but reveal a satisfied look.

Behind Prime Minister Turtle and Roving Lobster, there was a group of sea turtles and large lobsters following them.

These sea turtles and lobsters looked extremely lively. The sizes of these lobsters were all around a meter and their two huge claws looked extremely destructive.

These were all subordinates of the Prime Minister Turtle and Roving Lobster.

Let's make use of the night to go deeper into further sea regions to look for resources required for leveling up! Wang Xian thought to himself.

Wang Xian looked at the yacht a short distance away. He hesitated for a moment before ordering the Prime Minister Turtle, "Drag the yacht along!"

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Prime Minister Turtle nodded his head and swam below the yacht.

Although the thirty-meters long yacht was heavy, Prime Minister Turtle was able to easily drag it along on the water surface.

Wang Xian was a little worried about Lan Qingyue. He went to the second floor quietly and used dragon energy to calm her body and make her enter deep sleep.

If there weren't huge disturbances, she would only wake up after ten hours.

"Let's head towards the deeper sea region!"

Wang Xian dived into the seas once again and gave his orders.

Wang Xian had searched the entire Bohai Sea. Up to this point, other than the huge Level 12 Devil Flowers that weren't finished off, the other areas had been combed.

The Bohai Sea wasn't big. With their speed, they only used three hours to reach the Yellow Sea.

Wang Xian noticed a sudden and drastic change in the underwater world ahead of him.

The depth of the Yellow Sea was approximately forty meters deep on average. The deeper region could reach a depth of over eighty meters.

The entire Yellow Sea was very broad and was several times the size of the Bohai Sea. At this moment, the region where Wang Xian was at was approximately fifty meters deep.

This was the first time he came to such a deep-sea region.

Under the waters, it was pitch black at night. Seagrass was common and the variety of fish was much higher than the Bohai Sea.

"This place is much more comfortable. I always feel that I could barely move in the Bohai Sea!"

Wang Xian swayed his body within the fifty meters deep sea as he swam around freely.

"Eh, there's a school of sharks ahead!"

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and focused on the twenty-odd sharks a thousand meters away.

These sharks were all four to five meters long and gave off a violent aura as they swam domineeringly in the sea.

Wang Xian revealed a faint smile. He got moving and swam towards the school of sharks directly.

Big White Sharks: Level 5

Extractable Dragon Energy: 534

That's over 10,000 points of dragon energy from twenty sharks! Haha. This is something the Bohai Sea couldn't match up to!

Wang Xian was thrilled. Sea monsters in deep waters weren't simply a myth!

The resources in the entire Yellow Sea were at least a dozen or even a few dozen times more than the Bohai Sea.

When my subordinates and I get stronger, I'll head to the real seas for an adventure. I wonder if there will be terrifying creatures at a depth of 10,000 feet underwater? Are there other races living in the pitch-black darkness within the seas? Are ancient marine animals still surviving at the bottom of the seas?

Wang Xian was getting excited from these thoughts. The sea regions were largely unexplored by humans. In the near future, he would be exploring the entire seas and become the ruler of the seas!

Wang Xian was filled with ambition. He let out a soft roar and his subordinates swam over quickly.

"Let's explore the Yellow Sea!" Wang Xian ordered. His gaze was fixed in front of him as he led his subordinates to conquer the unknown sea region!

The seabed of the Yellow Sea wasn't too different from the Bohai Sea. Both had flat grounds and areas where it was a little more mountainous. However, the scenery of the Yellow Sea was grander and more beautiful than the Bohai Sea.

Devour, devour, devour!

There were many species of fish around him. There were little yellow croaker, hairtail fish, pacific mackerel, Spanish mackerel, yellow drum fish, slender shad fish, pacific herrings, pomfrets, codfish and many others.

Moving around, Wang Xian devoured all the fish he came across. In just two hours, he had gained more than 17,000 points of dragon energy.

Just 42,000 points of dragon energy more and I'll level up. Let's try to increase my level by the end of the night.

Wang Xian thought to himself and turned his attention ahead. The area in front of him was different from the darkness of the surrounding seas. It was full of marine animals that were glowing.

The glowing marine animals illuminated the bottom of the seas. Moving his body, Wang Xian headed towards it.

"This..."

When he approached the illuminated region, he was shocked by what he saw.

"Fish tornado! It's a humongous fish tornado!"

There were at least a few hundred thousand to a few million fish gathered here and swimming in circles like a tornado under the water.

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and stared fervently at this fish tornado.

If I devour all the fish here, I'll gain at least a few hundred thousand points of dragon energy!

Wang Xian's eyes lit up and he immediately ordered, "Surround the entire school of fish!"

The entire fish tornado spanned over a thousand meters. Wang Xian wasn't able to dominate the entire school with his dragon power.

Moreover, he noticed that there were several unique fish species in the middle of the fish tornado.

They had a terrifying size and every one of them was at least seven to eight meters. They also had flat heads with sharp mouths.

Their mouths were approximately two meters long with rows of sharp teeth exposed that gave off an eerie glow.

"What's that fish?"

Wang Xian was filled with doubt. These four to five unique fish swam in the middle of the fish tornado like the Kings of the school.

Around them, densely-packed herrings, pacific mackerel and Spanish mackerel seemed to be honoring them as their Kings.

Wang Xian swayed his tail and started his hunt.

This would be his first battle towards conquering the Yellow Sea.

Endnote:

An Ichthyosaur is a large extinct marine reptile

Chapter 195: Ichthyosaurs

There were thousands of species hidden in the deep sea, occupying 70% of planet Earth, and the secrets were far more than any human could imagine.

The ocean has always been an unexplored area for humans.

Wang Xian stared at the fish tornado before him with fervent eyes and a relaxed expression on his face.

Eight hundred Devil Monkeys went up slowly to surround the fish tornado.

Food hunting!

This was the way for any living beings to evolve. Whoever can hunt to the last would be the most powerful being remaining.

Wang Xian jerked his Divine Dragon's body and charged out to the school of fish at a daunting speed.

"Dragon Power!"

Boom!

An invisible force encompassed the area, spanning a thousand kilometers as though the King had arrived.

The entire school of swirling fish suddenly froze.

Wang Xian opened his mouth and devoured the school of fish before him.

Herring, Pacific mackerels and Spanish Mackerels converted to Dragon Energy in his belly at a rapid rate.

Boom!

The entire fish tornado was in chaos as they fled crazily in all directions.

Located in the middle of the school of fish, another type of fish teetered their huge bodies as they stared at Wang Xian with a ferocious look.

They swayed their tails and charged towards him.

Sensing the impetus of the five odd-looking fish types, Wang Xian revealed a surprising look on his face.

The five odd-looking fish were covered with layers of palm-sized fish scales which looked heavy in the water.

[Ichthyosaurs: Level 9]

[Extractable Dragon Energy: 49,642]

"Ichthyosaurs. It's the legendary Ichthyosaurs!"

When the five odd-looking fish were dashing towards him, their information appeared in Wang Xian's mind. Ichthyosaurs belonged to an ancient fish group. According to the current historical study, they could have even existed way before the dinosaurs.

Based on the records, a large Ichthyosaurs could reach more than twenty meters long.

The current five Ichthyosaurs before him were only about ten meters.

"Five Ichthyosaurs could provide me with more than 200,000 points of Dragon Energy. Haha, not bad!"

Wang Xian was thrilled as he launched an attack at the five Ichthyosaurs without any fear.

Bam!

A Ichthyosaurs swam fast and furiously towards him with a gaping mouth that was three meters wide. Within its mouth, it was densely packed with teeth that looked terrifying.

Ka Ka Ka!

Wang Xian stretched out his metal-like dragon claw which scratched the top of that Ichthyosaurs' mouth.

Hiss!

The razor-edged dragon claw ripped the mouth of the Ichthyosaurs. Blood splattered in all directions.

Growl!

Upon seeing that Wang Xian had wounded their companion, the other four Ichthyosaurs opened their mouths and attempted to bite him.

Grooo!

Wang Xian swung his tail, shaking the surroundings violently. Soon after, four solidified water balloons appeared at his tail.

Each of them was one meter in size, giving off an emerald-blue luster in the sea.

Bam, Bam, Bam, Bam!

Four water balloons emerged in front of the four Ichthyosaurs instantly and landed in their mouths.

Boom!

The water balloons exploded, and the four Ichthyosaurs were dripping blood from their mouths. Wang Xian stretched out his dragon claw at one of the Ichthyosaurs again.

Ssss!

Another sound of a tear was heard. Given Wang Xian's current level, he possessed the same strength as an average Level-eleven marine animal. Five Ichthyosaurs were under his brutal torture!

"I don't have time to waste on you!"

Wang Xian saw millions of fish fleeing away in all directions. Even with 800 Devil Monkeys surrounding the area, many fish still managed to make their escape.

He made a swift move and inflicted severe damage to the four Ichthyosaurs. He then moved around to devour the escaping fish.

Dragon Power encompassed the area as he swallowed the fish and converted them into Dragon Energy.

After half an hour, there were no more fish left -- only dead silence.

Wang Xian made a swift move and came to the five Ichthyosaurs.

They were bigger than Wang Xian by many times with ten-meter-long bodies.

He opened his mouth and fed on the Ichthyosaurs. He only managed to swallow them all after chewing a dozen times.

"Haha, my Dragon Energy increased by 300,000 points instantly. I still need about 100,000 points before I can hit Level 7!"

Wang Xian revealed his thrill. The higher level he got to, the better he could manage his control of the five elements. His strength would get stronger too.

A level-up was not solely about upgrading strength. It was more than that.

"Let's go. I must level up to seven by the end of today!" Wang Xian commanded his subordinates and swam forward.

The surroundings were full of kelp while some glowing jellyfish were floating around.

The sea was not as dark as it seemed at a depth of fifty-meters deep. In the ocean, those deep waters with thousands of meters of depth were the place where darkness stayed.

Sunlight could only reach hundreds of meters.

"How wonderful it would be if I could find other Ichthyosaurs."

Wang Xian had been swimming forward. Probably due to the fish tornado, the number of fish within dozens of miles was significantly reduced.

"What's that? A shipwreck? I mean a bunch of shipwrecks?"

Wang Xian was slightly stupefied by a large number of shipwrecks in front of him. The sails were broken, lying around disorderly in the sea.

Some of the ships had half of their bodies caught at the bottom of the seabed.

Furthermore, Wang Xian noticed some strange plants were growing on some of the ships. It was rather peculiar.

"There's something strange about the place before us!"

Just then, Wang Xian narrowed his eyes. He peered at the front, then to the back. Both of them gave him a different vibe as though they were two distinct regions.

"Dragon King, it's the territory of other creatures ahead of us!"

Roving Heavens took his rod to Wang Xian and told Wang Xian with wary eyes, gazing at the place before them.

"Territory of other creatures?"

Wang Xian looked at Roving Heavens with some doubts.

"There are many creatures in the ocean. They will gather and occupy a region. Based on the size of the region, it will reflect the strength of the group!"

Roving Heavens observed the place ahead and said with a stern look, "The region ahead is not any smaller than our Devil Monkeys'. Since other marine life does not dare to come close, it means that a dominant race exists in this place."

"Oh?"

Wang Xian nodded his head slowly. Most of the living creatures were living in groups. They could occupy one place and rule the land. Same logic for the ocean.

An eerie silence filled the area ahead. Obviously, it was the territory of a race.

"The battle of territory?"

Wang Xian looked behind as the Devil Monkeys gathered behind him. Prime Minister Turtle pulled the yacht to the side and came to the bottom of the sea.

Roving Girl and Roving Lobster were gazing ahead.

"We fight! Forward!"

Wang Xian was also bursting with fighting spirit as he swam slowly forward.

Roving Heavens, Prime Minister Turtle, nine venomous sea snakes, and the eight hundred Devil Monkeys were following solemnly behind him as they marched towards the region.

"Who dares to step into the Ichthyosaurs family's territory?"

Just then, a muffled voice was heard.

The voice was not human, but a unique transmission through spirits.

Wang Xian could understand such spirit waves.

He stopped and looked ahead.

Roving Heavens and the rest stopped their motions too.

A gigantic Ichthyosaur, fifteen meters long floated out from one of the shipwrecks with a domineering demeanor!

Chapter 196: War!

"Get out of our territory or die!"

This Ichthyosaur had its attention fixed on Wang Xian and his subordinates. His gaze was cold and filled with bloodlust.

So strong. It's much stronger than the five Ichthyosaurs we met previously!

Feeling the aura from the Ichthyosaur, Wang Xian was a little shocked. This Ichthyosaur had clearly manifested intelligence and its level would definitely not be any lower than ten.

It had a huge body that spanned fifteen meters and gave off chilly vibes.

"Surrender or die!"

Wang Xian stared at that Ichthyosaur and growled.

Growl growl growl!

When Ichthyosaur heard Wang Xian, it immediately lifted his head and let out three cries. Waves emitted from his mouth and propagated to the surroundings.

At that instant, the quiet region seemed to have livened up.

In a sunken ship a small distance away, two Ichthyosaurs that were approximately three to four meters long swam out.

From a forty-fifty-meter-long sunken ship, an Ichthyosaur that spanned over ten meters swam out.

At the same time, Ichthyosaurs swam out from various sunken ships in the surroundings.

Among them, the smallest was two to three meters long while the larger ones spanned fifteen to sixteen meters.

At the very end, a seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur swam out from the depth of the waters.

Gradually, the school of Ichthyosaurs appeared at the location five hundred meters ahead of Wang Xian.

Ichthyosaurs of various sizes added up to six to seven hundred of them.

Among them, there were 20-30 of them that were approximately ten meters long, 3 that were approximately fifteen meters and 1 that was seventeen to eighteen meters long.

"How dare you barge into our territory. I'm going to eat you!"

That seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur stared fervently at Wang Xian.

It could feel a strong attraction from Wang Xian. Its instincts were telling him that if he could devour this strange creature, it would be able to evolve further!

"Kill!" that huge Ichthyosaur swayed its large tail and ordered.

In that instant, all the Ichthyosaurs opened their wide mouths and attacked Wang Xian.

How ruthless of them to attack us directly!

Seeing the seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur, Wang Xian moved his tail slowly.

"Kill!"

A dragon roar burst from Wang Xian.

Growl!

Roving Heavens lifted the rod in his hand and let out a long roar.

Growl! The group of Devil Monkeys behind it also let out a loud roar while emitting their bloodlust.

Sss sss sss!

The nine venomous sea snakes lifted their heads and spat out their tongues.

Bzzz!

Prime Minister Turtle, who had been lying on the seabed, shook a little as his body was covered by the mud gradually.

Roving Lobster stood up and extended his huge claws that glowed with a metallic shine.

Bang!

Wang Xian headed for the Ichthyosaur directly ahead of him.

Behind him, Roving Heavens, nine Venomous Sea Snakes, Prime Minister Turtle and the group of Devil Monkeys also made their moves.

There were over a thousand animals from both sides but the aura they gave off seemed to be ten times their sizes.

Swish swish swish!

Wang Xian swayed his tail and two huge water balls gathered behind him. Each water ball was approximately two meters and was shot directly at the Ichthyosaur at the front of the school.

"I'm going to devour you!"

The seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur wasn't moved by Wang Xian's attacks at all. It flapped its tail rapidly and swam passed Wang Xian's head directly.

Bam!

The water balls exploded.

Ichthyosaur: Level 11

Extractable Dragon Energy: 293,244

Level 11!

When Wang Xian saw the level of this Ichthyosaur, he wasn't surprised at all. He kept his composure as his dragon claws glowed in a metallic shine and attacked that Ichthyosaur.

The seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur had a head that was five to six meters long. On it, densely packed teeth were the size of a fist and looked extremely sharp.

Its entire head had similar skin to a crocodile with protruding portions on the head.

Its size was more than three times that of Wang Xian.

Growl!

Bam!

Sounds of collision propagated as Wang Xian's dragon claws clashed with its mouth.

Its teeth were ripped off directly by Wang Xian's dragon claw.

The Ichthyosaur didn't let go of Wang Xian's dragon claws. In response, Wang Xian emitted flames from his claws and forced it to relax its grip rapidly.

"Take this rod from me!"

At this moment, Roving Heavens and the rest were clashing with the school of Ichthyosaurs.

Roving Heavens lifted its metal rod like The Great Sage Equalling Heaven in television shows and smashed directly at the fifteen meters long Ichthyosaur.

"Limitless Gravel!"

At the bottom of the seas, a wave of yellow earth suddenly engulfed the dozen Ichthyosaurs ahead.

Amidst the yellow earth were solid stones that were sent towards the school of Ichthyosaur directly.

"Water Control, Water Imprisonment!"

Behind the group, Roving Girl moved her palms as ropes of water restricted the mouths of the Ichthyosaurs.

As she waved her hands, droplets of water appended themselves to the Devil Monkeys rushing towards the earth sent by Prime Minister Turtle and prevented their vision from being blurred by the yellow earth.

800 Devil Monkeys leaped and attacked towards the Ichthyosaurs.

However, the most horrifying of them all were the nine Venomous Sea Snakes. Their speed was astonishing and they used potent venom. When moving at full speed, the surrounding Ichthyosaurs couldn't keep up with their speed at all.

With every bite, venom was injected into the Ichthyosaurs that stiffened their bodies. In fact, Ichthyosaurs that were smaller than ten meters were poisoned to death directly.

The nine Venomous Sea Snakes were like assassins and were extremely frightening.

"You guys are seeking your own deaths!"

Picking up the scent of blood from the surroundings, the seventeen to eighteen meters long Ichthyosaur looked over and saw its kind being slain. Its eyes gradually turned red.

It was a creepy shade of red that had a drop of blue liquid within it.

Wang Xian was shocked to see the change in the eyes of the Ichthyosaur and increased his alertness.

Growl!

The Ichthyosaur stared at Wang Xian with bloodthirst as it attacked him.

Wang Xian kept his composure and met it with his dragon claws.

Bang!

At this moment, the Ichthyosaur initiated the attack with its tail. The swing of its tail brought strong current that was of at least several tons of force.

Wang Xian was unmoved and swayed his own tail. A huge current started forming as it smashed towards the Ichthyosaur's tail.

Growl!

Seeing that its tail attack was stopped by Wang Xian, the Ichthyosaur opened its mouth and bit towards Wang Xian's body.

"Die!"

Wang Xian waved his dragons claws downwards towards the large and extended jaws of the Ichthyosaur.

Ka ka ka!

Wang Xian's dragon claws opened a long wound on the Ichthyosaur's head. However, the Ichthyosaur managed to bite onto his tail.

An intense pain sensation cruised in his body. Wang Xian immediately broke free and swam backwards.

The Ichthyosaur felt the pain and retreated in a hurry.

"Why did the Ichthyosaur choose to bite my tail of all places?"

Seeing his dragon tail that was about to break into two, Wang Xian's face sank.

Energy of the Azure Dragon covered his wounds on his tail and he was recovering gradually.

Wang Xian looked at the Ichthyosaur and noticed the blood-red eyes were shimmering in a brighter glow as it stared intensely at him.

Chapter 197: Victory

"The eyes of the Ichthyosaur must have a special ability."

Wang Xian stared at its eyes. Somehow he had a feeling of getting seen through by them. It was a peculiar kind of feeling.

It was as though it could see his weakness and attack it.

When the creatures hit Level 10 and 11, they will develop their own special ability. In particular, Level 11, as they would definitely possess their own ability for sure!

Wang Xian pondered. Level 10 was already an Inborn Expert while Level 11 was considered to be a realm above Inborn Realm. This was beyond an average human's scope since they possessed unique means.

The Ichthyosaur in front had a special pair of eyes which could spot any weaknesses.

Roar!

Just when Wang Xian was having his thoughts, the Ichthyosaur relaunched its attack. The gigantic mouth tried to bite his tail again.

Due to the difference in mass, Wang Xian had difficulties dodging it.

"Looking for my weakness?"

Wang Xian squinted his eyes. With a violent jerk, the colors on his body began to change. Eventually, he turned to a metallic, golden Divine Dragon.

His entire body was gold, giving off a faint metallic shine in the sea.

Metal Divine Dragon had a weaker defense, but a more powerful attack than the Earth Divine Dragon.

When the Ichthyosaur saw the transformation of Wang Xian, it revealed a shock in its eyes.

Through its vision, it was shocked to find out that the fellow before it seemed like a piece of metal without any weaknesses. Even his eyes were golden pupils. All the body parts were indestructible.

Sure enough. This Ichthyosaur must have read the weakness on me.

Wang Xian observed the expression of the Ichthyosaur and spoke to himself. He stretched out his dragon claw, opened his golden dragon mouth, and launched an attack.

Bam!

To meet force with force was the most primitive way of combating. But as soon as Wang Xian attacked, there was a sharp radiance of one-meter long extending out from his pair of dragon claws. He slashed it at the Ichthyosaur.

Hiss!

The razor-sharp metal aura enveloped and cut the body of the Ichthyosaur, leaving wounds of a meter long on its body.

Wang Xian displayed a cold look as he stared at Ichthyosaur with wariness. His body swayed as he was ready to strike again at any time.

Roar! The Ichthyosaur roared with rage.

Growl!

At this time, devastating shrieks were heard from the side.

That Ichthyosaur was shocked as he began to observe the surroundings. Suddenly, he realized that three 15-meters long Ichthyosaurs were falling apart under the joint attack of Roving Heavens, Prime Minister Turtle and nine venomous sea snakes.

All of them were wounded, and blood was everywhere.

Those ten-meter-long Ichthyosaurs were attacked by two-meter-sized lobsters which were gleaming with a metallic glow from head to toe. They were wielding their pincers in the assault.

Half of the smaller ones were either wounded or killed.

The bunch of Devil Monkeys gave off demonic flames, accompanied by fearsome attacks. Their bodies were covered by black scales which looked extremely creepy.

Every Devil Monkey looked more like a hideous devil.

Roar!

The 17-meter-long Ichthyosaur let out a mournful growl. His eyes got redder, and his body exuded icy-cold luster as he glared at Wang Xian.

"Hehe, I can upgrade my level after I eat you up."

Wang Xian also returned him a pair of cold stares.

"Dragon King!"

"Dragon King!"

Just then, Prime Minister Turtle swam slowly below him.

Roving Heavens came to the left while the nine venomous sea snakes were swimming around him. All of them were staring at the 17-meter-long Ichthyosaur.

"Kill it!"

Wang Xian immediately issued orders.

Prime Minister Turtle took the first move to make a group of Earth Thorns slowly surface on the water, swiftly launching an attack with it.

Roving Heavens swung his rod in his hand and smashed the Ichthyosaur.

Nine venomous sea snakes moved at a frightening speed and darted out.

Wang Xian was moving his tail as he exuded a metallic aura.

Roar!

The Ichthyosaur was petrified as it could not resist the most vigorous assault from the Dragon Palace.

Bam, Bam, Bam!

Blood splattered as Roving Heavens swung his rod hard on the head of the Ichthyosaur.

Wang Xian made a swift move and bit the Ichthyosaur's body as he swallowed it in big gulps.

A mouthful of flesh and blood turned into immense Dragon Energy.

Growl!

The Ichthyosaur let out a despairing scream before its vitality quickly disappeared.

Wang Xian swallowed the 17-meter-long Ichthyosaur, weighing dozens of tons, entirely in a minute.

His dragon claws grabbed the pair of Ichthyosaur's eyeballs and continued to devour other Ichthyosaurs around him, ignoring the system notifications and the increase in his body mass.

Dragon Energy was rising at a crazy speed.

The battle of the races often brings massive benefits to the ones who win the victory.

After Wang Xian devoured more than hundreds of Ichthyosaurs, his Dragon Energy increased to more than one million points.

Currently, his body grew to seven-meters long.

[Name: Wang Xian]

[Race: Five Elements Divine Dragon (Able to transform into a human)]

[Level: 7]

[Dragon Energy: 1,563,421/10,000,000]

[Superpower: Dominate the marine animals (Ability to rule any marine animals that are lower than the existing level)]

[Devour any form of marine animals (For extraction of dragon energy)]

[Five Elements Control]

[Art of Cultivation: Divine Dragon Transformation]

"Finally, I promoted my level!"

Wang Xian looked at his own attributes and was thrilled about it. He rocked his body as he felt the mightiness from the Divine Dragon body.

Now, it should be a lot easier to deal with that Ichthyosaur. I can even fight Level 12 creatures! Wang Xian thought to himself. He transformed himself into a five-colored divine dragon.

Wang Xian glanced around and noticed a bunch of Devil Monkeys chewing the smaller Ichthyosaurs' dead bodies. He ignored them.

This is the law of the jungle. Devouring some powerful creatures could enhance some strength and bring about many benefits.

Wang Xian swam towards the shipwrecks ahead of him. He breathed out Earth Dragon aura from his mouth, unveiling all the shipwrecks in front of him.

"Treasure!"

When he saw the chests in it, he was exhilarated. With his claw, he opened it immediately.

Unfortunately, they contained calligraphy and paintings which had already turned into scraps.

He opened another chest and found silver inside.

"Silver! Just nice, we're short on that!"

Wang Xian was satisfied with his find. Just then, the system notification arrived. He pondered before he collected all the silver.

He continued to search the rest of the shipwrecks and found silver in the chests and a small portion of gold.

"These plants..."

Wang Xian came to the plants which he had noticed when he arrived here just now.

The plants grew on the ships, glistening and looking alluring. They were very eye-catching.

Five tufts were found on the central shipwreck, another five to six tufts were located at the side.

When he arrived before these plants, a message appeared in his brain.

[Fish Secretion Grass: Level 5]

[Extractable Dragon Energy: 7,657]

"Level 5 Spiritual Medicines! They are Level 5 Spiritual Medicines! No wonder the Ichthyosaurs marked this place as their territory. It was all for the Level 5 Spiritual Medicines!"

Wang Xian displayed slight surprise as he swam forward and picked the tufts of Fish Secretion Grass up.

With curiosity, he opened up the chest under the Fish Secretion Grass and found some spoilt herbs in it.

These Fish Secretion Grasses must have been formed after the ships sank in the sea along with the gold, silver, and Spiritual Medicines a few thousand years ago.

"Dragon King, 25 Devil Monkeys died and there were 108 casualties in this battle."

At this moment, Roving Heavens came over and reported respectfully.

"We had more than ten deaths?"

Wang Xian nodded his head. In wars, death is inevitable. The deaths of 25 Devil Monkeys was considered little.

Wang Xian realized a problem after the battle just now.

It was about war formation.

Devil Monkeys were the main force as the forward. Hence, it was inevitable to have deaths and casualties during close combat. But the Clam Girl's performance surprised him.

The Clam Girl's long-range assistance could bring significant advantages to the Devil Monkeys who would engage in close combat.

In the future, the Nine Divisions of the Divine Dragon will create a formation. The Devil Division will be the forward. We need to have an auxiliary division, a long-range attack division, and a defense division, just like the assistance, tankers, supports, mages, and scouts in a game.

Wang Xian thought to himself. The Nine Divisions of the Divine Dragon would be developing in this direction!

The recruitment of subordinates would be in this direction as well.

Hence, the Ichthyosaurs with bulky attacks were not in his consideration.

Chapter 198: Luxurious Cruise

Splash!

Emerging from the seas, Wang Xian landed on the deck of the yacht with a smile.

The sun had just risen. The rosy red sunlight shone on the surface of the seas, creating an exceptionally beautiful scene.

Since leveling up, the disposition of a supreme ruler on Wang Xian became even denser. Each action of his was filled with noble airs.

He wore his clothes and took a glance at the time. It was already eight-plus in the morning.

Sensing that Lan Qingyue was still asleep, he went to the kitchen and took out a piece of Ichthyosaur meat.

The meat was clear and had the aroma of meat. As the flesh of a Level 10 marine animal, not only was it delicious but it was also highly nourishing to the body.

Wang Xian sliced the fish and prepared some condiments. After which, he took out a bottle of red wine before heading to the second floor with a radiant smile.

"Qingyue, it's time to get up!"

"Uh? What time is it now?"

A lazy voice sounded from the room.

"It's already past eight in the morning and the sun has risen. Get up and have breakfast!" Wang Xian replied with a grin.

"Alright, Xiao Xian! I'll be down in a short while."

Mm!

Wang Xian returned to the kitchen and tidied the dining table.

"Wow, Xiao Xian! You have already made breakfast!"

When Lan Qingyue saw the food on the table as she walked down the stairs, her eyes lit up and she walked over cheerfully.

"Of course! Have some delicious sashimi. You definitely haven't eaten such delicious sashimi previously!" Wang Xian replied in a gentlemanly manner.

"Mmm. The weather is great outside. Having breakfast here is such a luxury!"

Lan Qingyue looked at the seas that were dyed red from the rays of the sun and was intoxicated by the scene.

"Have a little red wine, have some sashimi and a sunny side up!" Wang Xian passed the food over and spoke with a smile.

"Thank you, Xiao Xian! What is this fish? It tastes so much better than Atlantic Bluefin Marlin! It's so delicious!"

Lan Qingyue looked at Wang Xian heartily and bliss was written all over her face.

Wang Xian smiled and made up an answer.

After finishing her breakfast, Lan Qingyue walked to the deck and observed the surroundings. Suddenly, she asked inquisitively, "Eh, Xiao Xian. Where are we? Where's the island that was near us last night?"

"After you had fallen asleep yesterday, I steered it for a long time. Even I do not know where we are now. Let's just take things as they come!"

Wang Xian laughed and took a glance at the global positioning system through his phone.

"Uhm... This..."

When Wang Xian saw where they were at, he was shocked.

"It seems like I have steered the ship to the public seas unknowingly!" Wang

Xian commented in shock.

The public seas referred to regions that weren't supervised by any country.

"Public seas? Xiao Xian, you actually steered the ship for over a hundred miles! That's pretty incredible!"

Lan Qingyue felt a little speechless with Wang Xian.

Wang Xian laughed. It wasn't he who had steered the ship for over a hundred miles. Instead, it was Prime Minister Turtle who had dragged the ship for over a hundred miles.

However, he naturally wouldn't tell Lan Qingyue about this.

In the future, he might tell Lan Qingyue about his other identity. However, this wasn't the right time.

"The public seas aren't bad too since we are still going to tour around for another two days."

Lan Qingyue smiled and asked, "Xiao Xian, do you have a computer?"

"Hmm? What do you need a computer for?"

"I have to check on some things for the company."

"You finally got out! Why are you concerned about the company now? Have a good time and you can worry about it when we get back!"

Wang Xian walked to her.

"This wouldn't do. In a few days, Jade Nation will have a jade-betting* festival. At that time, I have to head to Jade Nation to purchase jade stones!" Lan Qingyue explained to Wang Xian. [\[1\]](#)

"I don't have a computer. Therefore, I guess it's better if you just relax over the next two days!"

Wang Xian smiled and looked at her.

Lan Qingyue pouted. Suddenly, something caught her eyes as she exclaimed, "Eh, Xiao Xian, look! There's a huge cruise right there."

"Hmm? There really is a cruise!"

Wang Xian looked over and indeed saw a cruise five to six hundred meters away from him.

The cruise ship was approximately 150 meters long and had three floors. It also looked extremely luxurious.

What really surprised him was that the cruise ship was docked in the middle of the sea and surrounded by various yachts.

"That's the Venture, a public sea cruise of the Gambling City. I heard that they have a casino on it with all kinds of interesting games and food.

Lan Qingyue was shocked to see the cruise.

Venture? Public sea cruise? Casino?

Wang Xian looked on in astonishment.

"Yeah, I heard it from my parents. The truth is that there are in fact a lot of such gaming cruises in the public seas. Since it could cruise through the seas, it is natural that gambling is made possible on it. I heard that their services are pretty good," Lan Qingyue explained to Wang Xian.

"Oh, is it? Should we go take a look?"

Wang Xian hesitated for a moment. He looked to the surrounding yachts before asking.

"Sure. Some wealthy people steer their own yacht over since they might prefer to not follow the cruise. Why don't we go over? There should be a computer for use on the cruise!"

Lan Qingyue was also a little interested.

"Alright, let's head there and take a look!"

This was also the first time Wang Xian heard of such cruises. He immediately nodded his head and steered the yacht towards the cruise.

"Stop your yacht on the seas. We will send a small boat over to receive you!"

Just as the yacht approached, the service attendant on the cruise shouted loudly at them to remind them.

Wang Xian stopped the yacht and looked around him.

Around the cruise, there was a special area marked out by nets as a swimming area. One could swim within the area without being wary about dangers. The safety precautions were ample and well done.

What a thoughtful gaming facility! Wang Xian thought to himself. At this moment, a small boat approached them.

"Let's go, Xiao Xian!" Lan Qingyue said to Wang Xian. The two of them jumped onto the small boat and boarded the cruise.

"Welcome to the Venture Cruise!"

Once they got onto the cruise, two beautiful waitresses welcome them with radiant smiles.

The floor was layered with red carpet and looked extremely grandiose.

Wang Xian took out several hundred dollar bills as tips for the service attendants around him before heading in.

"Hi, Sir and Miss, the first floor of our cruise is the gaming area. The second floor is where various entertainment facilities are located while the third floor is where the rooms for our guests are. Once you get in, there will be guides dedicated to you!"

The service attendants smiled as they explained to them.

Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue nodded their heads.

"Why don't we go have some fun on the first floor?"

This was the first time Wang Xian was in such a place and he was thrilled as he asked Lan Qingyue.

"Mm. Alright!"

Lan Qingyue nodded her head and the two of them headed towards the entrance of the gaming area on the first floor.

Once they entered, they noticed the grand decorations immediately. The entire floor was very spacious and spanned several thousand square meters.

There were various gaming tables and machines available.

To their surprise, the first floor had three to four hundred people playing all kinds of games.

Wang Xian looked ahead and saw things that he had only seen in movies. He rubbed his hands and got a little excited.

"Let's go test out our luck!" Wang Xian smiled and said to Lan Qingyue.

"You can play. I'll just accompany you!" Lan Qingyue replied with a smile.

"Great, let's go then!"

Chapter 199: You're Garbage

Dice, Blackjack, Roulette, Poker, slot machines, and many more games on the cruise.

Casual betting is for fun. If it gets serious, one will lose the entire family's fortune. Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue came here to have some fun. It would be a pleasant experience for them too.

Wang Xian had never been exposed to gambling before, so he was a little curious about it. But he was not expecting he could earn money with this.

In fact, given Wang Xian's current ability, he was unable to make money with gambling as well.

He was not the God of Gamblers. He might possess a mighty strength, but this had no relationship with gambling skills.

He did not have any supernatural power to change a card, just like how they did in the movies. In the movies, the actors memorized the cards. But even if Wang Xian had a good memory, this was not a movie after all.

The bottom card could not be seen when the dealer shuffles the cards.

In reality, the casinos would not cheat, except to earn money by using a certain probability.

This probability could guarantee that they could make money out of it.

Of course, each casino would have a gambling master to prevent others from cheating or making trouble in the casinos.

Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue, with a beaming face, came to exchange one million worth of chips.

"Let's see if we can win some money!" Lan Qingyue exclaimed with a smile.

"This isn't easy. Let's go and play something simple!" Wang Xian said as he went to the Sic Bo table. [\[1\]](#)

Sic Bo is a simple game that bets on the total scores of the dice. 4 to 10 total score will make a "Small," while 11 to 17 will make a "Big." You can even bet on specific scores, and the payouts are different.

Two of them came to the table with six people gathered around. They were placing bets, and shouting 'Big' and 'Small.'

Among them, some of the men were hugging young and beautiful women.

Some of them wore low-cut dresses. They leaned their bodies on the men with alluring expressions.

"Finalize your bets now!" the dealer said to the crowd around the table.

When Wang Xian saw the crowd placing their bets, he looked over his shoulder and said to Lan Qingyue, "Let's play this. Big or Small?"

"Big!" Lan Qingyue chuckled as she said.

"Okay, we'll bet $50,000 and try our luck!" Wang Xian smiled and placed five chips on 'Big.'

"One, two, four. 7 points, small!"

After he placed the bets, the dealer opened the cage and counted the points before she announced the outcome to everyone.

"Oh, Xiao Xian. We lost!" Upon seeing the result, Lan Qingyue pouted and spoke grumpily.

"Haha, it's fine. It's my turn."

Wang Xian laughed as the dealer continued to roll the dice. With some hesitation, he continued, "This time, we'll still bet on 'Big!'"

"Two, two, four. Eight points, Small!"

The result was out, and Wang Xian was speechless. He'd lost again!

"Your turn next!" Wang Xian said with a bitter look on his face.

"Sure." Lan Qingyue smiled.

"Let's go somewhere else!"

After more than ten consecutive rounds, they had lost $200,000. Wang Xian went to other gambling tables without any choices.

"Sure, you really don't have the luck. Hehe, I didn't lose that much!"

"Eh..."

Wang Xian lost his words. A loss is still a loss no matter how much you lose!

"There's a fishing slot machine over there. Let's play that!"

Wang Xian saw the fishing slot machines not far away from them. He had seen those in his hometown, but he had never tried before.

After he played those machines, Wang Xian was left with only $200,000 worth of chips. He'd lost about $700,000 within an hour.

He had to admit that gambling was losing more than winning.

"We still have the last 20 chips. Let's get our base money back."

Wang Xian was not too mindful about losing money. He went back excitedly to the place where they'd bet on the dice.

There were four young men and five middle-aged men at the table. Wang Xian walked over and sat at the side.

Lan Qingyue was standing and watching him play from the side with smiles.

"Finalize your bets!" The dealer's voice was heard again. Wang Xian looked around as he beamed. He then placed his bet on the Small.

"Four, five, six. 15 points, Big!"

"Haha, I told you it's Big again!" At this moment, a young man laughed out loud.

He stood up and collected all the chips with a stuck-up look.

"Awesome, you're indeed someone who uses hidden weapons!"

The few young men beside him praised him with envy.

The young man immediately revealed a conceited look. He drew his lips slightly, "It is worth it to practice for so long. Finally, I see some results!"

"If you can place your attention on your cultivation, I'm sure you can surpass your current strength today," a young man quipped at him.

"Why do people lead such tiring lives? Just have fun in the things you're interested in. No matter what, I don't have anything to worry about for the rest of my life!"

The young man was chic as he held a chip in his hand. Suddenly, he looked at Lan Qingyue, who was diagonal across from him. "Right, beauty?"

He flicked his finger, and the chip shot in a straight and precise direction to the clothes under Lan Qingyue's neck.

"Haha, gambling and beauty. How cool is Brother Zhu!" The young men beside him chuckled and commented.

Piak!

When Wang Xian saw the flying chip, he frowned and reached out to receive it.

The chip said twenty. That represented $200,000, which was the biggest denomination chip over here.

"Do not litter!" Wang Xian narrowed his eyes and threw the chip in the garbage bin at the side.

The young man, who was laughing, drew his lips slightly when he saw Wang Xian throw his chip away after receiving it. He then sized Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue up with a face full of smiles.

"Haha, you just got a slap in your face." The rest of the young men chuckled at what they saw.

That young man waved his hand as he was not bothered by it.

"Big or small. Finalize your bet!"

At this time, the dealer was heard again.

Wang Xian looked over and threw a few chips on the 'Small.'

"Let's just place any bets!"

That young man looked at Wang Xian. Just now, he did not listen to the sound of the dice. Hence, he just placed $200,000 worth of chips on 'Big.'

"Three, five, six. 14 points, Big!"

"Haha, my luck is good. I can even win when I just placed my bet anyhow!"

The young man chuckled once again. With a playful look, he stared at Wang Xian. "Brat, you're out of luck today!"

Wang Xian cast a cold glance at the young man and ignored him.

"Xiao Xian, let's forget about them!" Lan Qingyue popped over and reminded him with a whisper.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded. He would not dampen his mood just because of a few pieces of garbage over there.

"It's okay. Let's carry on!"

Wang Xian saw that the dealer had rolled the dice. He took out another five chips and placed them on 'Small.'

"Tsk, Brat, you're garbage!"

At the same time, the young man sitting diagonally opposite him shook his head. He then placed his chip on 'Big' with beaming expressions.

"One, four, six. 11 points, Big!"

The dealer opened the hood and announced the outcome loudly.

Chapter 200: Eyes Modification

Haha!

The laughter of that young man sounded again as he revealed a conceited look.

"Oh, Zhu Qian, are you here to wreck my casino? Let me tell you this: I won't be paying you the money you win."

At this moment, a good-looking young man walked over. Beside him, a middle-aged man and an old man followed closely behind.

The two of them were to the left and right of the young man.

"Hehe. If Brother Tiancheng isn't paying me my winnings, I can only make you pay for my bills on the cruise," Zhu Qian smiled and replied to the incoming young man.

"Haha. Great! Since you guys are here, it's only natural that I will be a good host!"

The young man laughed as he walked over and patted on Zhu Qian's shoulders. "Have a good time! Let me arrange the itinerary for the next few days!"

"Thank you, Brother Tiancheng!"

The surrounding group of young men answered with radiant smiles.

"Finalize your bets!"

When the dealer saw the approaching young man, he perked up. He became more serious with shaking the dice and announced loudly.

"These are the last five chips. Qingyue, I'll leave them with you."

Wang Xian handed over the five chips to Qingyue.

"Alright. Just see how I am going to win them all back!"

Lan Qingyue took over the chips and was hesitating on placing them on the "Big" or "Small" section.

"Hey, pretty! Follow me and I can guarantee your win!"

At this moment, Zhu Qian looked at Lan Qingyue and commented.

The young man that had just arrived took a glance at Zhu Qian before looking at Lan Qingyue. A thought struck him and he smiled.

"I don't care!"

Lan Qingyue glanced at Zhu Qian with contempt and still placed her bet under the "Small" section.

Hehe. Zhu Qian shook his head as he placed his chips on the "Big" section.
"Pretty, if you follow me, I can guarantee your winnings. The brat beside you is trash!"

The other young men looked on with cocky smiles.

"Two, four, six. Twelve points, "Big" wins!"

The dealer revealed the dice and announced the result loudly.

"Don't come and disgust others," Lan Qingyue replied with disdain after hearing flirtatious comments from Zhu Qian constantly.

"Oh?" Zhu Qian raised an eyebrow and unhappiness flashed passed his eyes. Seeing that Lan Qingyue had zero chips left, he lifted his head and remarked,
"Hey pretty, out of chips already? Here are some for you to play with!"

As he finished his sentence, he threw out five to six chips. Each chip was worth $200,000.

His actions made the remaining young men tongue-tied. To just throw out $1.2 million like this...that's the demeanor of a local tyrant.

"Let's go, Xiao Xian, and ignore this crazy guy!"

When Lan Qingyue saw the looks of Zhu Qian, she felt even more contempt.

She wasn't a little girl who hadn't seen the world.

She was making decisions for Deep-sea Jewelry, an organization of over $10 billion. Zhu Qian's actions to her were those of a retard.

Hehe.

Wang Xian nodded his head and laughed lightly. He saw the embarrassed looks on Zhu Qian and felt even more like laughing.

Lan Qingyue still had a domineering character. A female CEO that helmed a $10 billion business wasn't someone who would be tempted by money from a rich kid.

"Hey pretty, you better watch your words!" Zhu Qian saw the mocking eyes of his friends and said with a solemn expression.

When Lan Qingyue heard Zhu Qian, she replied with contempt.

"You are just another guy who feels too good about himself! In my eyes, you are... Tsk."

"You must be lacking someone to teach you!"

Zhu Qian squinted his eyes as vile thoughts and looks flashed past his mind.

Huh?

When Wang Xian heard his words, his face turned cold. He looked at Zhu Qian and the group of young men behind him before finally stopping at the young man who had just arrived.

"Is this your cruise? Does it mean that you allow your friends to spout nonsense here?"

"As long as my friends are happy, I can handle the rest!"

That young man was surprised to see Wang Xian questioning him as he replied directly.

As long as my friends are happy, I can handle the rest! A nonchalant answer from him that showed that he wasn't concerned about what had happened.

In his eyes, there was indeed nothing to be calculative about. This was his territory and considering Zhu Qian's background, he was someone worth his protection.

"Haha, great! Interesting!"

Wang Xian heard the young man's reply and revealed a creepy grin.

"Let's go Qingyue. Let's get some more chips and have some fun with them!" Wang Xian said to Lan Qingyue before walking towards the place to exchange chips.

"Huh?" Lan Qingyue looked at him with questions in her mind.

"Just wait here a little!"

Wang Xian smiled at her before speaking to the group of young men.

"Oh?"

Zhu Qian and the group of young men looked at Wang Xian with doubts. They couldn't tell what Wang Xian wanted to do.

However, they didn't say a word and simply looked at him coldly.

Wang Xian walked to the chips exchange area, took out his card and said to the employee, "$5 million. Get me the chips with the largest denominations!"

"Alright, sir!"

The employee smiled and nodded his head before passing him his chips.

"Xiao Xian, let's forget about it. With our skills, we will just be giving them money. Let's not be calculative with a few rich kids!"

Seeing how Wang Xian had reacted, Lan Qingyue thought that Wang Xian just wanted to do something for her. She immediately discouraged him.

"It's fine. I need to use the washroom. When I get back, I'll be the gambling king!"

Wang Xian thumped his chest and replied with a radiant grin.

Lan Qingyue looked at him helplessly. "If we lose this money, we won't be continuing no matter what."

"Alright, alright. I understand. A gambler will lose nine out of ten times!"

Wang Xian grinned and nodded his head before heading to the washroom. As for Lan Qingyue, she waited outside the washroom.

The washroom on the cruise was luxurious and grand. Every cubicle was also tightly separated.

"Hehe, I'll make you pay a heavy price for being so cocky today!"

Wang Xian revealed a deadly smirk. He had not wanted to resort to this. However, it seemed like there would be such a need at this moment.

He took out a fist-sized item from his pocket.

The eye of a Level 11 Ichthyosaur.

Wang Xian had not devoured the eyes but had kept it instead.

As the divine dragon, he had an extremely powerful ability. Wang Xian had utilized it a little initially.

And that was modification.

Using dragon energy for modification was an extremely powerful ability. Wang Xian had earned his first bucket of gold through dragon energy modification.

Dragon Energy modification could alter an animal exterior. Based on the extent of the modification, the exhaustion of the dragon energy would differ.

At this moment, Wang Xian could even use dragon energy to alter his own body.

Other than his appearance, he could also modify his interior.

For example, his heart or other related organs. This would naturally include his eyes.

Wang Xian could modify his eyes to give them the ability to see further, but was limited to this.

This was because he did not have samples of other eyes and didn't know how to modify.

The ability to see further is simple and he could understand. If he wanted abilities like byakugan or sharingan from the popular manga series, Naruto, it would be difficult, as he did not have a sample. [\[1\]](#)

Modification couldn't be done out of the thin air.

And just a night ago, he had obtained the eyes of the Ichthyosaur.

The ability of this eye was to enable the user to see weakness. Based on his previous research, the ability of this eye wasn't as great as he had initially imagined.

Its real ability was penetration.

To put it simply, it was to see through things. The stronger the organism or object, the harder it was to see through. On the contrary, the weaker it was, the easier it was to see through.

This was also similar to the ability to identify one's weakness.

Chapter 201: You're Absolute Garbage

Using the eye as a sample, Wang Xian could modify his own eyes.

However, the consumption of Dragon Energy would be high to do such a modification.

He'd given it a try that morning. The system notified him that he would need 400,000 Dragon Energy to modify his eyes.

400,000. Back then, Wang Xian had hesitated for a long while before he finally gave up.

"Extract sample for modification!"

Wang Xian held up the Ichthyosaur's eyes in his hand and recited in his heart.

[Sample extracted. 400,000 Dragon Energy is required to modify the eyes. Do you want to proceed?]

When the sound of the system was heard, Wang Xian immediately nodded his head to confirm.

Wang Xian felt weaker as 400,000 Dragon Energy dissipated rapidly.

However, his eyes were flickering with blue and red radiance as they flashed consecutively.

Om!

Another abstruse feeling struck him as Wang Xian batted his eyes.

Penetration!

As the blue and red radiance flashed across his eyes, Wang Xian took a look at the side.

A red-blue world appeared before him.

With a thought, the door panel at the side slowly disappeared, revealing a middle-aged man squatting in the bathroom playing on his phone.

Wang Xian lowered his head.

"Hur? So small. It's smaller than mine by half the size. He even has hemorrhoids on his ass!"

Wang Xian exhibited a smile on his face when he saw this. He lifted his head up and looked through the wall behind him.

Gulp!

"See no evil, see no evil!"

Wang Xian batted his eyes as it was the female washroom opposite him.

A pretty lady was squatting over there.

"A beauty is not a beauty when she's pooping!" Wang Xian murmured to himself before he walked out with a face full of confidence.

"What took you so long in the washroom?" Lan Qingyue asked him as soon as he was out of the washroom.

"Heh heh." Wang Xian giggled, "Qingyue, do you have chocolate?"

"You want chocolate?" Lan Qingyue looked at him with question marks on her face.

"Yes, I'm the God of Gamblers now!" Wang Xian jokingly said. [\[1\]](#)

"You are just fooling around!" Lan Qingyue rolled her eyes at him.

"Here, take my arm!" Wang Xian extended his arm and said to her.

"Yes, God of Gamblers!" Lan Qingyue nodded and took his arm with smiles. She followed him to the gambling table where they had been just now.

"They are bold to be here. Hehe. I wonder what they are up to!"

At this moment, the young men stood in front of the gambling table. When they saw that Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue had made their return, Zhu Qian remarked without any emotion.

"They can't run away though. This is my turf. But Zhu Qian, you better restrain yourself and not kill anyone!" a charming young man next to him said as he chuckled.

"Brother Tiancheng, today I'll teach the girl a lesson in front of that brat!"

Zhu Qian stared at Lan Qingyue with a dirty and lewd look on his face as he drew his lips.

He loved money and beauties, in particular, enchanting beauties.

The young man chuckled and instructed a middle-aged man behind him, "Check on them."

"Brother Tiancheng, save the trouble. They are just two average people. Could they have a more powerful backing than we do?" Zhu Qian said with a cold smile.

"It's always good to play it safe!" the young man smiled.

"Okay, let's make a fortune before we leave!"

Wang Xian swept his gaze across the young men across the gambling table before he sat down and spoke to Lan Qingyue.

"I shall see how you can make a fortune then!" Lan Qingyue smiled as she sat next to him.

"Brat, do you want to compete with me?"

When Zhu Qian saw Wang Xian sat down, he walked over with disdainful look and looked at him with provocation.

"We'll continue with this." Wang Xian pointed with a beaming face.

"Fine. Let's have a game!" Zhu Qian nodded as he grinned.

The rest of the young men took their seats as they smiled at Wang Xian.

"Finalize your bets!" the dealer shouted at them.

Wang Xian drew his lips as he cast his glance on the hood.

He could clearly see what was inside with his vision after blue and red radiance flashed in his eyes.

Wang Xian grinned. He took out five chips worth one million dollars and placed them on "Small."

He did not finish all his chips at once because it would only be interesting if he enjoyed the process.

"Hur? You're having some luck!"

Zhu Qian gave a cold look at Wang Xian while throwing a chip on "Small."

"Just now, my luck was poor. But now, my lady of luck is back since I washed my hands," Wang Xian said impassively as he received two million dollars worth of chips from the dealer.

"Finalize your bets!" the dealer announced to everyone at the table after he shook the dice again.

"Gentlemen, follow my bet!"

Wang Xian looked at the other five middle-aged men on the same table and spoke with a smile on his face.

They hesitated as they did not believe in him since he had lost a huge amount of money just now.

Wang Xian was not bothered by this at all. He placed another million worth of chips on "Small."

"Hur?" Zhu Qian was somewhat surprised as he placed his chip on "Small" as well.

The rest of the middle-aged men could not make up their decisions. But some decided to follow Wang Xian and place a higher stake!

"One, three, three. 7 points, small wins!"

The dealer opened the cover and frowned before he declared the score.

"Looks like my lady of luck is here!"

Wang Xian smiled as he had earned two million in a short while.

"Let's continue!"

The dealer shook the dice for a longer time such that Zhu Qian frowned at it.

Wang Xian swept his gaze and saw the points clearly in it.

"I shall place a higher bet!" As he spoke, he threw five million dollars on Big immediately.

Some of the middle-aged men hesitated before they followed his bet with 10,000 worth of chips.

Zhu Qian knit his eyebrows together. Just now, the dealer has taken a longer time to shake the dice with a variety of changes made to the rhythm.

Apparently, all these dealers were specially trained to interrupt some people with special hearing.

"Small!"

He chose not to follow Wang Xian and placed a chip on "Small."

"Four, four, six. 14 points, Big wins!"

When the dealer opened the cover and saw the points in it, his expression changed slightly.

All of a sudden, this gambling table was losing a large sum of money.

Zhu Qian had a different expression as he stared at Wang Xian with an awful look. "You're damn lucky!"

"Haha, you're absolute garbage!"

Wang Xian smiled and returned his remark.

"Bro, you're in some kind of luck today. Your Lady of Luck is here!"

"Yes, carry on with the bets. We'll place the same thing and reap the gains!"

The middle-aged men beside him laughed as they spoke to Wang Xian. Since Wang Xian had won three times in a row, his luck had proven to be good.

"Sure. Follow me, and you'll never lose out!" Wang Xian said confidently.

He did not mind people who won money because of him since they would not be a hindrance to him.

Besides, that young man seemed to be the in-charge of this cruise.

Wang Xian intended to make him cry his eyes out.

Chapter 202: I'll Leave When I Win $800 Million to $1 Billion

On the gambling table, the smart-looking man started to frown when he saw Wang Xian win $5 million in one game.

However, he didn't say a word.

In the gaming industry, it is common to see customers win money. In fact, some people even win tens of millions.

However, these people were rare. Large scale casinos like theirs wouldn't say much about it and would only attribute it to the luck of their customers.

"Let's continue!" Wang Xian looked at the dealer and said with a smile.

The dealer started to frown and looked towards the young man.

The young man gestured for him to continue.

The dealer nodded. He then covered the dice shaker and started shaking them.

This time, the dealer shook the dice for a longer period.

Pak!

The dealer put the dice shaker on the table and remarked, "Please finalize your bets!"

Wang Xian scanned through and placed $5 million on the "Small" section.

"Follow him!"

Those middle-aged men beside him didn't hesitate to follow him. Some took out several tens of thousands while others placed bets of over a few hundred thousand.

Zhu Qian's face was gloomy and he remained silent. He could only vaguely guess the results as the dealer shook the dice for a longer time. Therefore, he didn't place his bet for this round.

Seeing chips of over $5 million for this round, the dealer took a deep breath before opening the dice cover.

"One, one, four. Small!"

"Haha, we won. You are awesome, young brother! You are fantastic!"

"Yes, lady luck is really smiling brightly on you! We won, we won!"

A few middle-aged men beside Wang Xian's side stood up in a hurry and quickly swept the chips over and in front of Wang Xian.

The dealer swallowed his saliva. He hesitated for a moment before paying out the remaining chips.

"How is this possible! This young man was trash previously! How could he become..."

Zhu Qian expression changed for the worse as he looked at Wang Xian in disbelief.

The young man beside Zhu Qian frowned. He then waved his hand to signal to the old man behind him.

"Young Master!"

"Check if he is cheating!"

"Yes, Young Master!" the old man nodded and moved to a position opposite Wang Xian.

"Thank you for your hard work!" Wang Xian said.

Wang Xian gave a ridiculed expression when he saw the old man moving to the position opposite him to observe him.

He took up a chip worth $200,000 and threw it towards the old man.

"What great luck you are on, son! I would like to observe for a while!"

The old man picked up the token and spoke to Wang Xian while maintaining a smile.

"As you wish!" Wang Xian replied and nodded nonchalantly.

"Let's continue!" the young man said to the dealer grumpily.

Perspiration covered the dealer's forehead. He nodded, picked up the dice shaker and started shaking again.

Wang Xian sat there nonchalantly while Lan Qingyue grabbed his hand blissfully.

"Please finalize your bets!" the dealer stuttered.

"Big!"

Wang Xian scanned through and pushed $10 million worth of chips forward.

"Big! Big!"

"I'll bet $1 million!"

"I believe in you, young brother. $500,000!"

The group of middle-aged men who had followed Wang Xian with his bets previously placed all their chips forward.

Those around them saw the quantum of the bets and turned over curiously. There were also some who were attracted by the crowd.

"Open! Open!"

"Open! Big! Big! Big!"

The group of middle-aged men beside Wang Xian were already chanting ecstatically before Wang Xian said a word.

The dealer's hands trembled. He looked at the bets amounting to over $12 million as he lifted his hands slowly.

"Four, five, six. Big!" the dealer announced as his face turned white. He had lost over $20 million in just a few games.

The old man who was observing Wang Xian started frowning and turned serious.

"Bring more chips over!"

"Hurry up, hurry up! Give us our winnings!" the group of middle-aged men demanded.

"Give it to them!"

The young man's emotionless voice sounded as he looked at the dealer with a sullen face.

The dealer nodded and gave them their winnings.

"Haha, I've won more than $20 million!" Wang Xian looked at the young man mockingly and laughed.

Wang Xian was typically a humble man. However, if someone was to offend him, he wouldn't be courteous to them.

"Let's continue!"

"Yes, yes! Let's continue!"

"Hurry up, hurry up!"

The group of middle-aged men beside Wang Xian were elated! They were looking at Wang Xian as if they were looking at their god of fortune.

In just two games, some people had won five to six hundred thousand. There were even some people who had won a few million.

At this moment, the old man walked over and spoke to the dealer. "Let me do it!"

"Yes, Old Gao! Please! Please!"

The dealer hurried aside when he heard Old Gao. He felt relieved.

The old man took up the dice shaker and shook it lightly for a few times. After which, he placed it on the table.

"Please finalize your bet!" the old man said calmly.

Wang Xian looked at the old man. The old man was very calm and kept his cool.

He must be an expert! Otherwise, he wouldn't have stepped in now! Wang Xian thought to himself.

He scanned through the dice shaker again and took out $5 million. "$5 million on 'Small!'"

"Why don't you bet more!" Zhu Qian asked Wang Xian coldly.

It was obvious Zhu Qian knew Old Gao.

"I'm not so certain for this round. Therefore, I'll just be placing a smaller bet!" Wang Xian smiled and replied.

The group of middle-aged men was slightly surprised. They hesitated for a moment when they saw Wang Xian placing a bet of only $5 million. Eventually, they placed bets that ranged between a hundred to two hundred thousand.

As the crowd finalized their bets, they looked at the old man.

The old man smiled calmly and reached for the cover.

Wang Xian focused on the dice inside and saw the dice had changed when the old man held onto the cover.

The dice which were originally One, One, Three had changed to Six, Six, Three.

"My apologies! Six, Six, Three. Big!" the old man said with a big smile.

"Big! Haiz! We've lost!"

"It's big! We've lost!"

The group of middle-aged men standing by the sides felt their hearts aching.

Wang Xian's expression remained unchanged. He gestured to the old man, "Let's continue!"

"Okay, let's continue!" The old man smiled. The few young men beside him also grinned and were feeling confident.

The old man shook the dice shaker and placed them down slowly once again.

"Small! $20 million!"

Wang Xian pushed all his tokens on the "Small" section and smiled confidently.

"You are really confident, young brother! I will follow you! $500,000!"

"Me too! I placed $1 million! Since this young brother dares to bet $20 million, my $1 million is nothing."

The group of middle-aged men increased their bets after seeing Wang Xian bet $20 million for this round.

"Hehe. Fine!" The old man nodded his head with a smile. He then reached for the cover.

"Wait a minute!" Wang Xian shouted and stood up.

Hmm? The old man frowned slightly and stared at him, feeling puzzled.

"Let the dealer beside you open it. I don't trust you." Wang Xian stared at the old man with a wide grin and spoke slowly.

Old Gao's expression changed slightly as he replied with a solemn voice, "What is the difference?"

"There's no difference. However, I just want that dealer to be the one opening it. So? You can't allow it? Or are you hiding something?" Wang Xian said to the old man coldly.

The old man's expression changed and he stared harshly at Wang Xian.

"The shaking was completed anyway. It doesn't matter who's the one opening the cover. Since we are the customers, why can't you accede to our request and let the other dealer open it?"

"That's right! It is the same no matter who opens it! Let the dealer at the side open it!"

The group of middle-aged men picked up Wang Xian's suspicions and made their views heard immediately.

Their action of changing dealers in the middle of gambling had already angered some of them. The question on who should open the cover right now would also just be a small matter.

If they refused, it would only confirm the young brother's suspicions that something wasn't right.

"What's the matter? Does it matter who opens the cover? That dealer can open it right away, can't he?"

"That's right! Although their request is slightly troublesome, you are operating a casino cruise! This is just a small request!"

Those customers who had gathered to see what was happening started to comment.

The old man looked at those who were around and his face turned solemn. At this moment, he couldn't forcefully open it. If he did so, it would only prove to the crowd that they were indeed up to something.

It would be a disastrous blow to them if news of their casino cruise cheating got out.

Old Gao drew a long face and gestured to the dealer beside him.

That dealer nodded with a bitter face as he reached to open the cover. His arms were trembling.

"Two, Three, Four. Nine Points! Small!"

"Haha! We won! We won!"

"It's amazing!"

The group of middle-aged men who had just won were jubilant.

The old man walked back to the young man with a troubled face and said, "He is skilful!"

The young man looked extremely displeased and clenched his fist tightly. He stared at Wang Xian harshly and said, "Young man, it's good to know when to stop!"

Wang Xian looked back at the young man as he replied coldly, "I will leave when I win $800 million to a billion. What's the matter? You are operating a casino cruise and you won't let your customer win? If that is the case, you might as well shut it down!"

Chapter 203: Sunken (1)

When that young man heard what Wang Xian said, cold radiance flashed in his eyes.

"I just won more than 30 million, and you're stopping me already? What about those people who lost over more than ten million dollars? Why aren't you stopping them? Do you mean that people can only lose and not win any money here?" Wang Xian asked loudly with a disdainful look as he observed the young man's expression.

"That's right. You let us gamble if we lose our money. But how can you stop us when we're winning some money? I lost more than five million dollars last year. Are you stopping us because we're winning?"

"That's right. I saw a wealthy man lose more than 10 million just a few days ago."

The audience around them began to speak loudly when they witnessed such a situation.

Everyone knew that the chance of losing was more than winning in gambling.

But if the casino stopped you from gambling just when you were winning some money, how would you feel?

Everyone was displeased as they looked over there and commented.

People from the other side of the casino came over out of curiosity when they saw the crowd.

The young man was looking awfully embarrassed.

"Why would we stop you? Our casino can still afford to lose this bit of money," the old man turned to the crowd and said slowly. "Since you guys want to play, let's continue then!"

"Carry on!"

Cold radiance surfaced in the old man's eyes as he took the dice shaker and shook it violently.

Pak!

When the dice shaker hit the table, the old man said impassively, "Finalize your bets!"

"Interesting!"

Wang Xian saw two out of three dices stacked up together. The dice that was stacked up on top was one point while the remaining dice was also one point.

They added up to two points altogether.

But given the rules, three to ten points would make a Small. There was no betting option for two points.

Going by this, all betting options were losing options.

But Wang Xian continued to bet on the Small with ten million.

The middle-aged men and the spectators around the table were tempted as they followed his bet.

"Get that dealer to open the cover!" Wang Xian pointed at the dealer by the side and said.

Radiance flickered in the old man's eyes as he signaled the dealer to open the cover.

That dealer almost burst into tears as he lifted the cover gently.

"Two points, you lose! Haha!"

When Zhu Qian saw the dice stacking up, he exclaimed with thrills.

"Damm, why is it two points? Is this fucking possible?"

"How did the dice end up stacking up together? Is this cheating?"

"That's right, such a probability is too small."

Those customers who had lost burst out with loud voices and grumpy looks on their faces.

Wang Xian clapped his hands. "Awesome. This old man is simply impressive. I'm sure you didn't learn how to stack all the dice together or crush them into powder just like the movie, did you? Brilliant!"

As he spoke, his face was full of sarcasm. He continued, "Let's carry on. I don't believe I'll lose all the time!"

The old man stared at Wang Xian with surprise. When he saw a group of customers beginning to crowd over, his expression turned wretched.

The young man at the side noticed the issue.

This fellow obviously knew two dice were stacking on each other.

But he continued to place a ten-million bet, encouraging the customers around him to follow him.

It was okay if the dice stacked once or twice.

However, what would the customers who lost their money think when this happened again and again?

They could argue that this was absolutely cheating.

"I'm not sure who you are, but I'm paying you $100 million for you to leave from my gambling cruise and never come back again!"

The young man had mixed expression as he gritted his teeth and whispered to Wang Xian.

'Hehe, What's the matter? Are you admitting your defeat?"

Wang Xian looked at the young man scornfully as he drew his lips slightly. "Just now, your friend made cheap remarks. I'll not leave without $500 million. You still need to fork over another 100 million to distribute to the customers over here. If you're unwilling to do it, we can continue with the game," Wang Xian said slowly. He did not forget about the customers around him.

He just wanted to make the young man feel disgusted. Otherwise, Wang Xian would lose out big-time if he just let this young man off after spending 400,000 Dragon Energy on modifying his eyes.

This young man had to pay some price for the 400,000 Dragon Energy.

"Brat, don't push your luck!" The young man shot up from his seat as he glared at Wang Xian with a pair of cold eyes fuming with murderous intent.

"I'm pushing my luck? I came here just to have some fun. If it were not for your friend who was rude to my girlfriend while you said you could handle me, do you think I'd be here playing along with you? You want to have a game? Then let's have fair play!" Wang Xian stood up and spoke sarcastically to the young man.

Upon hearing Wang Xian calling her "girlfriend," Lan Qingyue slightly blushed. Immediately, she rolled her eyes at him.

Zhu Qian had a rather awful expression on his face when he heard Wang Xian. He stared malevolently at him.

"Everyone saw that I lost more than a million right from the start. Since you guys taunted me, I should take this gamble seriously. Let me continue, or pay all the customers here and me. Then I'll leave!" Wang Xian continued to say nonchalantly.

I'm out to make them disgusted!

The customers around them were looking doubtful, yet hopeful. If the casino is giving away $100 million to them, each of them could get quite a sum of money.

"Get out of here now, or else I'll make sure you regret it!"

The young man darkened his expression as he walked to Wang Xian and threatened him.

He did not care about the strange looks on the faces of the surrounding customers.

Bam, Bam, Bam!

As the young man spoke, the security guards on the cruise ran over with electric batons in their hands. They glared at Wang Xian in a threatening manner.

"You are chasing and threatening me just because I won $30 million at your place. Haha, you can forget about operating such a gambling cruise from now on!"

Wang Xian fixed his indifferent eyes on all the people.

The surrounding customers pondered slightly when they saw such a situation. Seeing the way that Venture handled such cases, they really had to reconsider if they should come here again in the future.

"If you dare to utter a word again, I can cripple your legs. No one dares to play punk on the turf of Jiang Family in Gambling City!"

The young man stared at him with fiery eyes and an ice-cold expression.

"Brat, you're here to make trouble, aren't you?" Zhu Qian walked over and glared at Wang Xian. "I, Zhu Qian from the Zhu Family, will make sure you have a miserable ending in the future for offending me!"

"Is this a threat?!"

Wang Xian looked at Zhu Qian and the young man before him with a trace of a smile on his face. "If that's the case, let's wait and see. You better remember what you said just now!"

After Wang Xian finished his sentence, he looked at Lan Qingyue with a smiling face, "Let's return to our yacht!"

"Okay!"

Lan Qingyue nodded her head with a stern look on her face. "Xiao Xian, I heard my grandpa mention Jiang Family of the Gambling City once before. They are a powerful family."

"It's okay. Let's go back to the yacht to enjoy the beautiful scenery!"

Chapter 204: Sunken 2

"This rascal is courting death! How dare he be so arrogant when he doesn't have the capabilities to support it!" Zhu Qian said.

He gave a grim look as he saw Wang Xian leaving.

"Tsk, you don't know what you have gotten yourself into! I will not let things end like this!"

Jiang Tiancheng looked at the dispersing crowd with a cold face.

"Leave the girl to me," Zhu Qian said to Jiang Tiancheng with a vile expression.

Jiang Tiancheng nodded and replied, "This rascal has a yacht outside! If they aren't leaving, we shall wait till night!"

...

Heehee, a 150-meter cruise, what a pity.

After returning to the yacht, Wang Xian smiled when looking at the 150-meter cruise thirty meters in front of him.

The entire cruise, inclusive of the renovation, was estimated to be worth at least $1 billion.

Zhu Family? Jiang Family of the Gambling City?

Wang Xian eyes lit up. With just a thought, he sent a signal into the sea.

At this moment, fifty meters under the sea, members of the dragon palace were cultivating on the seabed.

There were nearly eight hundred Devil Monkeys gathered there and Prime Minister Turtle was lying on the sand. Roving Girl and Roving Lobster remained motionless.

Only the nine Venomous Sea Snakes were swimming freely in the vicinity.

As the signal came, all of them opened their eyes. They looked up at the cruise that was a few hundred meters away.

"Leave this to me!" Roving Lobster said.

Roving Lobster's body emitted a metallic glow as it swam swiftly towards the hull of the cruise.

Roving Lobster was the second subordinate Wang Xian had gotten. Its current level was Level 9.

Roving Lobster was currently at Level 9 and had fighting power almost comparable to an Inborn expert

It swam under the cruise and struck the hull viciously with its huge pincer.

The nearly impregnable cruise was damaged instantly with a one-meter tear on its hull.

Boom!

Seawater started gushing into the cruise at a terrifying speed.

Screech!

The pincer struck again and another huge crack appeared on the hull of the cruise.

Seawater surged in crazily.

Beep beep beep beep!

On the cruise, Jiang Tiancheng brought Zhu Qian and a few young men along as they walked towards the third story. They were conversing happily.

When the emergency alarm sounded, Jiang Tiancheng was stunned.

"What is going on?"

His expression changed and he hurriedly turned towards Old Gao who was at his side.

"It must be a fault on the cruise. Young master, let's go to the control room!"

Old Gao expression changed, and he spoke in a hurry.

"Let's go!"

Jiang Tiancheng had a solemn look. "The cruise was just fine, why would the alarm go off all of a sudden!"

"What is happening? What is happening?" he asked.

"Why would the alarm of the cruise go off suddenly?"

"What happened? Don't tell me the cruise hit the coral reefs!"

The alarm rang through the whole cruise. Everyone was alarmed by it and ran out in a hurry.

"All crew members, please head to the first level deck!"

"All crew members, please head to the first level deck!"

At this moment, the cruise's warning announcement sounded.

"Oh no, there is a major accident!"

Jiang Tiancheng and his friends who were heading to the control room were shocked by the developments.

"Damn it! What's going on?"

Jiang Tiancheng was very anxious! He couldn't care about being discovered anymore and jumped towards the first level.

The old man followed behind and jumped down next. Zhu Qian and the rest followed after.

Bam!

Jiang Tiancheng pushed through the control room's door and saw the distressed crowd. He shouted towards them angrily, "Damn it, what happened!"

"Young Master Jiang, the situation is bad! Water is flooding into the cruise at a rapid pace. It will only take half an hour before our cruise sinks," the captain replied.

The middle-aged captain continued maniacally, "The rescue party from our country will need an hour to arrive! We need to get all our customers onto the rescue boat!"

"What? Why would the cruise be flooding suddenly without any premonitions? Why the hell are we flooding?"

Jiang Tiancheng was flustered after hearing the captain.

Sinking cruise? This has to be a joke.

This cruise cost close to a billion. Furthermore, this cruise had been bought for less than five years.

If the ship sank, the losses to the Jiang Family would not just be a billion. They would also lose a gold mine in the sea.

"Young Master Jiang, we have no idea either. According to the mechanics, two holes appeared on the hull out of nowhere. Seawater is surging in through the holes. The displacement rate could not match that of the water. We have approximately half an hour before we sink completely. You should hurry to the escape boat! This cruise is beyond repair!"

"This cruise is beyond repair!"

Jiang Tiancheng's expression turned gloomy as he heard the last few words of the captain. He clenched his fist tightly.

"God damn it!"

Jiang Tiancheng punched the door at the side heavily and left a hole in it.

"Brother Tiancheng, you should come to my yacht now! Let the crew handle the situation here!" Zhu Qian said. His friend and he was shocked by the situation.

"Young Master, let them handle it!"

Old Gao, who was beside Jiang Tiancheng, spoke solemnly. He looked equally aghast.

"Let's go!"

Jiang Tiancheng gritted his teeth. The cruise that he was in charge of was sinking. He would be severely punished when he returned home.

"F*ck! This damn ship sank when it wasn't even moving! This cruise by the Jiang family is really trash!"

"Damn it, we played here for just three days and the ship sank!"

"I heard the Venture just threw a person out because he was winning. This is freaking karma. I'm never going to a casino by the Jiang Family. What shitty luck they have!"

The group heard the customers cursing angrily just as they exited the control room.

"You guys f*cking shut your mouth!" Jiang Tiancheng growled angrily as he heard the conversations.

"F*ck, you won't even let us speak? Trash is trash!"

"What is this shitty place? I have to discard the things I've brought along. You better compensate me for that!"

Although Jiang Tiancheng was in a foul mood, the rest of the customers were unhappy too. They were cursing at Jiang Tiancheng right to his face.

"Young Master, don't be bothered by them. Let's go!" Old Gao reminded Jiang Tiancheng.

Jiang Tiancheng took a deep breath and barged through the crowd.

"Brother Tiancheng, let's go!"

They reached the opposite side while the customers gathered at the exit. No one was left behind.

Zhu Qian jumped off the cruise, stepped lightly on the waters and leaped onto the blue yacht at the side.

Jiang Tiancheng jumped and followed behind him. When he reached the deck of the yacht, his face was gloomy. As he looked at the sinking cruise, his heart was bleeding.

Zhu Qian and his friends remained silent after seeing Jiang Tiancheng's face.

"This scene would be truly shocking if it appeared in a movie!" Wang Xian said from a yacht not far from the scene. He was smiling brightly.

Chapter 205: Shiver in Fear

"This..."

Lan Qingyue watched as the event unfolded before her, her eyes gaping and in disbelief.

A cruise of more than a hundred meters sank, making a shocking scene which was even more impactful than Armageddon in the science fiction movies.

"Xiao Xian, you... there are a lot of people on the cruise. Can you..." said Lan Qingyue, stupefied as she watched.

"Don't worry. The ship will take another half hour to sink completely. All of the people will be safely transferred to another place during that time," Wang Xian said as he narrowed his eyes.

"Qingyue, I still have matters to settle. Will you be watching it or...?" Wang Xian turned around and asked Lan Qingyue.

Because it could be very gruesome for what comes next!

Lan Qingyue looked at Wang Xian with hesitation. She slowly made out the words, "Xiao Xian, don't kill the innocent!"

"Don't worry!" Wang Xian knew Lan Qingyue had guessed what his next course of action was. "I will not hurt anyone unless they provoke me or hurt those people whom I care about."

"Okay, I'll cook you some fish and lobsters. We can eat it together later!" Lan Qingyue smiled as she looked at Wang Xian

"Sure!"

Wang Xian nodded as he watched Lan Qingyue enter the kitchen on the yacht. Then, he cast his gaze to the left-hand side.

Some familiar figures were standing on the deck of the blue luxury cruise.

With a thought, Prime Minister Turtle quickly surfaced on the water from the bottom of the sea. He then carried the yacht on his back, steering it closer to the cruise.

"Young Master, the family head wants us to investigate this and beg for forgiveness!" said the old man with an awful look as he hung up the phone and walked to Jiang Tiancheng on the blue cruise.

"Beg for forgiveness?!"

Jiang Tiancheng clenched his fist tightly with a hideous expression.

"Who is that? It's that rascal!"

Just then, Zhu Qian pointed to the front and shouted loudly with his eyes wide open.

"Hur?" Everyone on the deck was stunned as they followed the direction Zhu Qian was pointing at.

A yacht slowly approached them.

On the yacht, a familiar young guy raised the tea in his hand and smiled.

"It's that brat!"

Jiang Tiancheng's eyes were fuming with ferocious radiance.

"Could the sinking of the cruise have something to do with him?" Suddenly, a young man spoke.

All of them were stunned. Even the old man by the side knit his eyebrows together.

The sinking of the cruise was simply too creepy. How could a hole appear at the bottom of the cruise when it was not even moving?

No one would believe it if someone said there was nothing odd about this.

Jiang Tiancheng trembled as he fixed his eyes on Wang Xian.

The yacht approached a close distance of five meters away from the cruise.

"I detest threats and people who have filthy mouths and spout nonsense."

Wang Xian revealed a smile when he saw the six people on the cruise five meters away from him. "I told you that you could forget about operating your casino!"

He spoke with a sarcastic look on his face. "I wonder if you're regretting it now!"

Wang Xian looked at them indifferently. As he spoke slowly, he sipped tea and continued, "Look, how spectacular this is!"

"It was you!"

Jiang Tiancheng let out a low bellow from his throat as he stared malevolently at Wang Xian. "I want you dead!"

Whoosh!

At this time, Zhu Qian, who was next to him, swung his arm. Dozens of hidden weapons darted out at Wang Xian all of a sudden.

"Do you know that I hate you for littering?!"

Wang Xian gently swung his hand, and the hidden weapons fell into the water. He then gazed coldly at Zhu Qian.

"Martial Artist, you're a Martial Artist too!"

When Zhu Qian saw Wang Xian sweep his hidden weapons without any difficulties, he found it hard to believe.

Wang Xian, as a Divine Dragon, did not practice any Inner Energy. If he did not strike, no one could sense his strength.

"How dare you sink our cruise! Go to hell!"

The old man beside Jiang Tiancheng exuded murderous aura. As he struck, he displayed domineering oppression towards Wang Xian.

"Half-step to Inborn. Not bad!" Wang Xian commented with a smile.

Whoosh!

As Wang Xian spoke, Aquatic Ropes suddenly shot out from the sea!

They moved like flexible serpents as they launched a swift and fierce attack at the old man in the air.

The old man had a drastic change in his expression. His entire body jerked as he brandished his palms at the Aquatic Ropes in the sea.

Whoosh!

However, more than a hundred Aquatic Ropes surfaced again at this time.

"Oh no!"

The old man exhibited a shocked expression as the ropes wrapped around his body.

Bam!

Water splashed as the Half-step to Inborn Expert was dragged into the sea. The next moment, he was out of sight completely.

"What?"

The people on the blue cruise were shocked when they saw the old man disappearing into the sea.

"Old Gao is a Half-step to Inborn Expert. How could that be possible..."

A young man revealed an expression of disbelief as he mumbled.

Jiang Tiancheng was equally surprised. He lifted his chin and looked fearfully at the young man who was staring back at him.

"The ocean is my turf! Whoever provokes me, I'll make sure he sinks to the bottom of the sea!"

Wang Xian glared at the young men before him with a pair of icy-cold eyes.

"No, this has got nothing to do with us!"

Three young men were totally freaked out on the cruise. He could sink a hundred-meter cruise easily, and make a Half-step to Inborn Expert disappear into the sea in the blink of an eye.

Creepy Aquatic Ropes and freaky means!

They retreated to the back as they pleaded for mercy.

Zhu Qian and Jiang Tiancheng were trembling. They seemed to have seen a devil laughing when they saw that young fellow displaying a beaming face.

"Get into the sea!" said Wang Xian to them.

Boom!

After he finished his sentence, the entire cruise sank to the bottom of the sea without warning.

"I...I was wrong. Please let me off..."

"Please don't kill..."

Jiang Tiancheng and Zhu Qian blurted out with fearful voices, but they quickly came to an abrupt end.

The ocean waves surged and combed, bringing about little ripples in the sea before it restored to a peaceful state.

Wang Xian exhibited a nonchalant look.

If others leave me alone, I'll leave them alone too. But if they provoke me, I'll pay them back tenfold.

This was Wang Xian's principle.

"What a spoilsport!"

After Wang Xian dealt with the few fellows, he lost all interest. He only displayed a smile when he watched the sinking Venture.

"Constructing the Dragon Palace required a large amount of steel and metal. Just nice. This cruise, weighing a hundred tons, could provide a huge amount of resources!"

Wang Xian cast a look before he walked into the yacht.

"Xiao Xian, wait for another ten minutes. I'll be done soon!" said Lan Qingyue smilingly when she saw Wang Xian walking in.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian nodded as he sat on the sofa and waited with a beaming face.

"Here, try my cooking!"

Chapter 206: Separating The Dragonians

"Xiao Xian, thank you! I've really enjoyed myself today. I need to go now, and don't forget our promise!"

On the beach, Lan Qingyue bade goodbye to Wang Xian joyously before leaving in a car.

Wang Xian grinned while looking at her disappearing back view. After which, he walked slowly back to his villa.

Three days. Wang Xian had accompanied Lan Qingyue on the seas for three days.

And in those three days, he had increased his level to Level 7 and gathered thirty percent of the materials required for the Dragon Palace.

He would just need seventy percent of the materials to complete the Dragon Palace.

"Let's go to the medical hall!"

Over the last two days, there had been more than a dozen people from the hospital or individuals who had contacted him for treatment. This was a lot more than usual.

As Wang Xian had been on the seas, he had rejected all of them.

After riding his heavy-duty motorcycle to the medical hall, Wang Xian opened up the shop. After which, he switched on his computer and entered the Underworld website to check out the latest news.

"Eh? My ranking on the Miracle Doctors Chart has gone up!"

When Wang Xian came across the Miracle Doctors Chart, he clicked out of curiosity.

His ranking had been eighteenth in the past. At this moment, it had risen to eleventh.

At the back of the Miracle Doctors Chart, there was a new comment. Increased ranking to eleventh, as he cured the son of Ji Yuankun from Flow City.

"So this is because I cured the son of Maniac Ji!"

Wang Xian nodded his head slowly. After which, he clicked into the interactive news page and continued his browsing.

[Dragon Sect of Rivertown!]

A surprising thread appeared on the forum page which Wang Xian clicked hesitantly.

[First-class Force from Rivertown, Dragon Sect. Maniac Ji from Flow City annihilated the Tyrannical Sword, Liu Family of Hailing Province under the invitation of Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown. Dragon Sect officially appeared in front of the public.]

[Dragon Sect of Rivertown has an Inborn expert and a dozen Level 8 and Level 9 Martial Artists. The exact strength of the Dragon Sect is unknown.]

The introduction in this thread wasn't complete and only had a few descriptions.

The annihilation of the Tyrannical Sword, Liu Family, caused a huge ruckus in the neighbouring provinces.

Among which, news relating to Dragon Sect and Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown had also attracted the attention of many people.

"It seems like the people of the underworld still don't know that I'm the one who established the Dragon Sect!"

Wang Xian was slightly surprised and continued browsing for a while.

"Miracle Doctor Wang!"

At this moment, a figure approached Wang Xian silently.

Mm!

Wang Xian turned around and nodded his head at Maniac Ji.

Maniac Ji placed a bag beside him and said, "These are spiritual stones. A total of 120 pieces!"

"Oh? So many of them?"

Wang Xian took up the bag in shock. However, when he saw the spiritual stones in it, a satisfied look appeared on his face.

"I accepted a great mission and earned some spiritual stones from it."

Maniac Ji showed a faint smile and continued, "In half a month, if everything goes as planned, I should be getting 200 more pieces!"

Wang Xian looked at Maniac Ji in astonishment. "What kind of mission is it to give 200 spiritual stones as a reward?"

"Collecting a Level 5 spiritual medicine. There's a strong guarding monster beside that spiritual medicine. As long as I can get the spiritual medicine, I will be able to get 200 spiritual stones as a reward!" Maniac Ji grinned.

"Goodbye, Miracle Doctor Wang. Feel free to instruct me as you wish."

Mm!

Wang Xian nodded his head. Looking at the spiritual stones in his hand, he hesitated for a moment.

Building the Dragon Palace would require ten thousand pieces of spiritual stones. Currently, he had over a hundred pieces.

Moreover, these were all given to him by Maniac Ji.

If I sell all my spiritual medicine, I should be able to get approximately two thousand pieces of spiritual stones. If I breed more spiritual medicine, I will have gathered ten thousand pieces of spiritual stones in one to two years. This is still too slow!

Wang Xian pondered.

Since Maniac Ji can obtain so many spiritual stones through missions, why don't I let the dragonians of Dragon Sect out to earn spiritual stones? With the current strength of the dragonians, they are easily among the cream of the crop in the underworld!

Wang Xian made up his mind. Dragon Sect was supposed to serve the Dragon Palace after all.

Letting them out to complete missions could also accelerate the process of building the Dragon Palace. Moreover, only through more battles could the dragonians get even stronger.

In that case, I should send all the dragonians out. Hopefully, they will be able to make a name for themselves!

Wang Xian thought and his lips curved into a smile. He wasn't fond of the idea of exposing his force, but the Dragon Sect had now been discovered by the public.

In that case, he should separate the dragonians and let them pursue their own paths.

It's fine if they choose to go alone or develop their own influence.

He did not want the dragonians to simply stay within the base.

If he required manpower in the future, the dispersed dragonians would return to obey his orders as he commanded.

Great, great. The dragonians are pretty strong now. It's a waste that they are staying within the base the whole time. If I let them roam the underworld, they would be even stronger in the future!

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and looked forward to the arrival of that day.

The day when various forces would gather with a command from him!

Having made his decision, Wang Xian summoned Mo Qinglong.

In less than twenty minutes, Mo Qinglong appeared within the Divine Dragon Medical Hall.

"Dragon King!"

Mo Qinglong's burley figure bowed respectfully at Wang Xian as he greeted him.

Huh?

Wang Xian was slightly shocked when he saw Mo Qinglong's left shoulder.

"Why is your arm injured?" Wang Xian asked in a solemn tone.

"It's the people from Sacred Seas of Swords. A ship came near our island the yesterday. An old man on it questioned us, asking if it was us who had killed Yan Feng. He was arrogant and therefore I killed that old fool and everyone that was with him!" Mo Qinglong replied dimly.

Sacred Seas of Swords!

Wang Xian squinted his eyes. He naturally knew about the Sacred Seas of Swords.

Yan Feng of the Yan Family was a disciple of the Sacred Seas of Swords. His master was an Inborn expert.

The news of Yan Family being eliminated and Yan Feng being killed had reached the people of the Sacred Seas of Swords. Moreover, only the newly emerged First-class Force, Dragon Sect, could possibly eliminate the Yan Family and kill Yan Feng in Rivertown.

"What good timing!"

Wang Xian hesitated for a moment. He waved his arm and instantly cured Mo Qinglong's injuries. "I happened to have an idea in mind to disperse the dragonians and let them move freely. Alternatively, they can move in teams of three to five people while roaming the underworld and collecting spiritual stones. They can establish their own Forces or rule over an area. They are free to do what they want, but are not allowed to kill the innocent!"

"Staying in the base would be a waste of their talents. Let's give them the opportunity to roam the world!"

"Yes, Dragon King!" Mo Qinglong nodded his head. "Dragon King, what about me? Let me accompany you and be your butler!" Mo Qinglong smiled.

"Alright." Wang Xian thought for a while before nodding his head. However, he soon frowned and commented, "However, many know about your appearance now. This will be a little troublesome!"

"Dragon King, I can alter my appearance!"

As Mo Qinglong finished his words, he shook his body. The wrinkles on his face slowly faded, making him look a dozen years younger.

A forty-year-old looking middle-aged man appeared in front of Wang Xian. He looked completely different from before.

"Since I have reached the Inborn Realm and obtained the bloodline of the Dragon King, I have regained my youth. It is just that I didn't think this was necessary and therefore maintained my previous appearance!"

Mo Qinglong's voice sounded a lot younger too as he explained deferentially to Wang Xian.

"Haha, great! You shall follow me in the future. Let Mo Yuan keep in contact with the rest of the dragonians!"

Seeing the appearance of Mo Qinglong, Wang Xian revealed a faint smile.

His decision to separate the dragonians now would surely allow him to summon an unstoppable force with a command in the future!

Wang Xian looked forward to that day and was interested in what the dragonians would be able to achieve.

"The seas are my world and I'll conquer it bit by bit. As for the underworld, I'll leave it to the dragonians!"

Chapter 207: Not Any Doctor Could Be Called A Miracle Doctor (1)

"Brother, are you going out for a few days? Sister-in-law wants me to tell you that you can bring Lan Qingyue here for a gathering after you're back!"

The next morning, Xiao Yu told this to Wang Xian after her breakfast, as Mo Qinglong stood beside Wang Xian, who had a chest in his hand.

The entire Rivertown, even the Southern Province knew that Wang Xian had exterminated Liu Family.

Xiao Yu heard about it naturally. When she found out, she parted her lips slightly with a face full of surprises.

She went to chat with Guan Shuqing. Through various devious questions, she realized that Guan Shuqing did not mind about all this. She did not seem to oppose it.

Xiao Yu was speechless. Hence, she recognized that she might have two sisters-in-law in the future.

"Okay, you'll accompany Shuqing tomorrow during your break." Wang Xian had nothing to say as he nodded with a smile.

"Sure, Brother. Rest assured that I will take good care of Sister-in-law!" Xiao Yu said playfully.

Wang Xian patted her head helplessly. "I'm off. I should be back in three to four days!"

"Okay, Sister Li will be here with us tomorrow too!"

Xiao Yu waved her hand as she gave him the cold shoulder.

With Wang Xian's current status in Rivertown, Sister Li's husband, father, and mother-in-law treated her like something precious.

Apart from her owning all of their family assets, Wang Xian's current status was also one of the reasons why her father and mother-in-law dared not make things difficult for her.

Instead, they had to treat her with care.

With such a daughter-in-law in the Wei Family, the family had turned supreme in the Rivertown.

"Old Mo, can you drive?" asked Wang Xian to Mo Qinglong when he walked out of the villa.

"Yes, Young Master."

"Great, let's get a car after we're back!"

Wang Xian smiled as he spoke. They took a cab to Deep-sea Jewelry building.

"Xiao Xian!"

Lan Qingyue wore a red dress today, and it was evident that she was in high spirits. A middle-aged man was following beside her.

He was an uncle of Lan Qingyue. Wang Xian had seen him once at the Qin Family's banquet.

"You look beautiful today!" Wang Xian praised her with a smile.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, hello. Thank you for going with us!" Lan Qingyue's uncle immediately walked to Wang Xian and spoke eagerly with respect.

"You're welcome!"

Wang Xian gestured with a hand and a smiling face. He looked at Lan Qingyue. "How do we get there?"

"We're heading to the international airport at Flow City. Let's go!"

With Lan Qingyue's leading, they reached the airport. They took a private jet of Lan Family to the airport at Flow City before they transferred to the capital of Jade Nation.

"It will only take three hours from Flow City to Jade Nation. The journey is quite fast. I went there once and the scenery there was breath-taking. There are also many huge mountains!"

Lan Qingyue walked shoulder-to-shoulder with Wang Xian as she introduced Jade Nation happily to him.

"Oh, really? This is my first time going abroad!" Wang Xian smiled and said.

"I went there once with my Dad. There are a lot of mountains. One of them was Jade King Mountain Range. 50% of the world's jade stones came from there."

"It was beautiful next to the Jade King Mountain Range. They dug holes in the mountain and some reside there. Some even opened shops there. It's quite interesting. We can visit that place when the time comes," Lan Qingyue explained to him joyously.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

"Qingyue, it's our boarding time. Let's go over!"

While Lan Qingyue and Wang Xian were chatting, Lan Quanfeng came over and informed them.

"Let's go!"

Lan Qingyue smiled and nodded as she headed to the first-class cabin.

They boarded the plane. Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue were sitting far from each other due to a large number of people in the first-class cabin. One sat at the front, and the other one sat at the back.

The first-class seats were comfortable sofas with two attached together in a row.

Mo Qinglong's seat was not far away from Wang Xian, but they were not sitting next to each other.

Wang Xian came to his seat while the rest of the passengers strolled into the cabin slowly.

"I'm sure master will be able to cure the leader of Gordanway and complete his mission this time."

"I'm sure he can. Our master made a breakthrough in his medical skills recently. His rank on the Miracle Doctors Chart has seen improvements."

"A 500 Spiritual Stones reward! The Gordanway family is really wealthy!"

"Junior sister, this is your first time out with our master. If you are unsure of anything, let me know!"

At this time, conversations in whispers were heard next to him.

Wang Xian spun his head around, and he was slightly stunned to see a few young men and a pretty woman walking over.

"Hmm, it's her?"

Wang Xian's face revealed a hint of surprise.

"Junior Sister, your seat is here. Let me see if I can exchange my seat with the one beside yours!"

A solicitous voice was heard. Subsequently, Wang Xian heard, "Hey handsome, can you swap your seat with me?"

Wang Xian lifted his head as he looked at the young man beside Doctor Sun.

The young man was about 27 or 28 years old. He was wearing a white shirt, and he had an extremely fair complexion.

The young man asked and looked at Wang Xian at this time.

Doctor Sun was left without any choice. But when she saw Wang Xian, she froze for a moment. Surprise and shock flashed in her eyes.

Wang Xian put out his palm and pointed to some stuff in front of him. He declined, "Sorry!"

"Please!"

The young man flashed a smile and continued to be a gentleman. He took out his wallet before he pulled out a stack of hundred dollar notes and handed them to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian shook his head and smiled.

"Miracle Doctor Wang!"

At this time, Doctor Sun quickly sat in the seat beside Wang Xian and chatted with him. "What a coincidence. I didn't expect to see you here."

"Yes. What a coincidence. Are you heading to Jade Nation too?" Wang Xian asked Doctor Sun curiously.

Doctor Sun was a doctor in one of the city hospitals. Previously, Doctor Sun came with some patients who were sent over by the hospitals too.

However, she did not turn up in the previous two times. He did not ask for the reason either.

Now, they actually ran into each other on a flight. From their conversations just now, it seemed like Doctor Sun had gotten herself a new master.

"Yes, I'm going to the Jade Nation with my master and the rest!" Doctor Sun nodded with a smile. "What are the chances of us meeting each other here?!"

Wang Xian smiled and nodded his head.

The white-shirt man and two other young men were standing next to them with a surprised look.

When the white-shirt man saw Doctor Sun's surprised and zealous expressions, he put an annoyed expression on his face.

He tried to get into the good book of Doctor Sun in every possible way. But she remained lukewarm to him. Yet, she displayed a zealous attitude to this young fellow and even addressed him as 'Miracle Doctor Wang?'

"Junior Sister, is he a doctor too?" the white-shirt man asked with a darkened expression. "Not any doctor could be called a Miracle Doctor!"

"He is incredible!"

Doctor Sun rebutted him immediately. She had just gotten herself a Miracle Doctor as her master a few days ago. Hence, she knew nothing about the underworld.

She did not even know about the Miracle Doctor Ranking chart.

All she knew was that Wang Xian was incredible.

Chapter 208: No Doctor Could Be Called A Miracle Doctor (2)

"Incredible? Is he as incredible as our Master? In fact, is he even more incredible than us?"

The white-shirt young man revealed a disdainful expression. How incredible can a brat be?

"What's a Miracle Doctor? Only those that ranked in the top-30s on the Miracle Doctors Chart could be called Miracle Doctors. As for the rest, they are at most renowned doctors!"

The white-shirt young man continued proudly, "Junior sister, your medical skills might be great in the hospital but are still far from average in the medical circle. When you learn more about medical techniques, you will then understand what real Miracle Doctors are. The title of Miracle Doctor shouldn't be used carelessly!"

"Only people like our Master, who ranked fifteen on the Miracle Doctors Chart, are qualified to be called a Miracle Doctor!" the white-shirt young man said to Doctor Sun in an educating tone.

Doctor Sun frowned and retorted, "Miracle Doctor Wang is indeed very incredible. Even the doctors from the Sacred Followers Guild are defeated by Miracle Doctor Wang in medical techniques.

Seeing Doctor Sun rebut him again, the white-shirt young man replied angrily, "The Sacred Followers Guild is indeed really incredible. However, they have more than two hundred followers. Among them, some followers have great medical skills. However, they will at most be considered renowned doctors. Master once said that if the few of us take part in the assessment of the Sacred Followers Guild, we have a high chance of passing it!"

"Oh!"

Doctor Sun swallowed her words and couldn't retort. After all, her experiences were too far from those Miracle Doctors or the Sacred Followers Guild. She didn't understand them well and didn't know how to rebut.

"I really didn't expect you to be a renowned doctor. Let's spar when we have the opportunity!" the white-shirt young man said coldly to Wang Xian. It was clear that he had seen Wang Xian as a rival in love.

Wang Xian maintained his smile throughout and didn't say a word. Their master ranked fifteen on the Miracle Doctors Chart, while he ranked eleventh.

Clearly, he wasn't completely convinced of the ranking on the Miracle Doctors Chart.

With his current strength, he was confident to even challenge the number one on the chart.

However, this was only his conjecture. Those who stood at the top of the ranking chart would definitely not be simple.

"Tsk. You are pretty arrogant to answer when one addresses you as Miracle Doctor!" the white-shirt young man remarked sarcastically after seeing that Wang Xian wasn't answering him.

"Why aren't you guys in your seats? What are you guys standing here for?"

At this moment, a voice suddenly sounded from the back.

An old man walked over and spoke to the group of young men.

"Master, it's nothing much. We are just chatting with Junior Sister and a renowned doctor!" the white-shirt young man immediately bowed and explained.

"Oh? A doctor?"

The old man looked confused and turned his attention to the female disciple he had just taken in.

"Master, this is a very incredible... Doctor that I met in Rivertown."

Doctor Sun could see the doubts on her Master's face and immediately explained. After getting to know more about the medical circle, she didn't dare to address Wang Xian as Miracle Doctor carelessly.

"Just an arrogant small doctor who claims to be a Miracle Doctor!" the white-shirt young man standing by the side quickly added.

"One should really not claim to be a Miracle Doctor rashly!"

The old man nodded his head slowly. "The title of Miracle Doctor represents the cream of the crop in the medical realm. Any rascal who impersonates a Miracle Doctor will suffer a terrible death."

"Rascal!" When the white-shirt young man heard his master, he looked at Wang Xian mockingly.

"Guang Hua?"

At this moment, Wang Xian recalled a name when he saw the old man.

"Huh?" The old man was taken aback and looked at Wang Xian in surprise.

The white-shirt young man also looked at Wang Xian with surprise. "Brat, you are not qualified to call my master by the name!"

"Rivertown? Wang Xian? Miracle Doctor Wang?"

The old man pondered and tried to probe further.

"It's my honor to meet you!"

Wang Xian smiled faintly and nodded his head.

He clearly knew about the Miracle Doctors Chart, as he had gone through the top-30 on the chart.

Guang Hua, 65 years old, a factionless doctor.

A factionless doctor was similar to what Wang Xian was at this moment. They were not affiliated to any Forces.

On the Miracle Doctors Chart, factionless doctors were few. The Sacred Followers Guild and Medical Saint Sect took up eighty percent of the Miracle Doctors Chart. This was also why the two Saint Sects were so strong.

Guang Hua had been a travelling doctor since the 1970s and 1980s. He had been to the majority of the country by feet.

During the journey, his medical skills achieved a breakthrough and he had reached the fifteenth spot on the Miracle Doctors Chart. One would consider him to be a Miracle Doctor with a unique background.

Wang Xian had a lot of respect for him.

"Sorry for not recognizing you. I had not expected to meet Miracle Doctor Wang here."

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua immediately greeted him and started observing this absurdly young Miracle Doctor Wang.

He was still rather curious about a twenty-year-old juvenile who had made it to the eleventh spot on the ranking chart.

The interests were exacerbated by the fact that Wang Xian seemed to be a factionless doctor too.

"Baisong, is this how you should talk to Miracle Doctor Wang? Where are your manners! Apologize to him immediately!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua looked at his disciple and chided him.

The white-shirt young man was stunned as he stared at Wang Xian in disbelief.

Suddenly, he felt a chill down his spine. Recalling the recent news on Miracle Doctor Wang from Rivertown, fear started welling up.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I'm really sorry. It's my fault that I did not recognize a distinguished person like you. Please forgive me!"

Wang Xian simply waved his hand at him and didn't pay attention to him after.

A petty person like him wasn't worth his time.

"What a coincidence, Miracle Doctor Wang. Xiao Xiu, go and sit at my seat. I'd like to have a good chat with Miracle Doctor Wang!"

"Yes, master!"

Doctor Sun was dumbfounded. She immediately stood up and left.

The white-shirt young man also went to his seat immediately. His eyes would turn to where Wang Xian was from time to time.

That white-shirt young man's forehead was covered with perspiration.

Under no circumstance would he have expected that juvenile to be the eleventh-ranked Miracle Doctor Wang who was in the limelight recently.

This was a ranking even higher than his master.

Recalling what he had done and what he had just said, he felt a chill down his spine once again.

"Senior Brother, is Miracle Doctor Wang famous?" Doctor Sun sat in her master's seat and asked inquisitively.

The white-shirt young man didn't answer. His face had turned as white as a sheet.

The other young man sitting beside him nodded his head bitterly. "He's incredible and he currently ranked eleventh on the Miracle Doctors Chart!"

"Even higher than our master?"

Doctor Sun's eyes popped open as he looked to Wang Xian in admiration.

"Miracle Doctor Wang has also accepted the mission from the leader of Gordanway?" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua asked.

"Nope, I don't know about this mission. Could Miracle Doctor Guang Hua shed some light on it?" Wang Xian shook his head and asked.

"Hehe. Sure! This is an open mission in the underworld and everyone can see it. The leader of Gordanway, Jade Nation, ran into some issues while cultivating."

"Jade Nation has always been behind in the medical field. Therefore, he invited Miracle Doctors from all over the world to treat him. As long as you rank in the top-100 in the world's Miracle Doctors Chart, you will get ten pieces of spiritual stone even if you can't cure him."

"If you can cure him, the reward will be five hundred pieces of spiritual stone. I've brought my disciples along to give it a try!"

Chapter 209: Gathering of Miracle Doctors (1)

After Miracle Doctor Guang Hua's explanation, Wang Xian finally understood the entire mission completely.

The leader of Gordanway led a significant family in Jade Nation. They were considered to be powerful and mighty in the Jade Nation.

The leader of Gordanway was an Inborn Expert. Something went wrong during his cultivation, so he was seeking medical treatment from the Miracle Doctors around the world.

Jade Nation was only a small and poor country.

The Gordanway Family possessed three to four Inborn Experts. Hence, they were a colossus in the Jade Nation. As they were situated at the Jade King Mountain Range, they were rich, especially with Spiritual Stones.

All the Spiritual Stones were dug out from the stone mines.

They were generous to give away ten Spiritual Stones to those top 100 doctors from the global ranking who made a trip here.

If the doctors were to sell the Spiritual Stones, they could easily fetch a price of $100 million.

Gordanway Family had deep pockets.

"I heard that many domestic Miracle Doctors took up this mission. After all, 500 Spiritual Stones were quite attractive," said Miracle Doctor Guang Hua with a beaming face.

Wang Xian nodded in agreement. Getting Spiritual Stones was difficult.

Not everyone possessed a strength like Maniac Ji who could earn Spiritual Stones at such a fast rate. It was not easy for an average Level 7 to 9 Martial

Artists to earn a piece of Spiritual Stone.

Miracle Doctor was considered to be one of the highest-paying occupations.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, why don't you join us for fun since you're here. Even if you can't treat him, you will at least get ten Spiritual Stones as a consolation prize!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua said with a smile.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian nodded his head slowly. 500 Spiritual Stones was attractive enough for him to work!

"Haha, we'll be going over. At that time, we can take a look at the top doctors from the world," Miracle Doctor Guang Hua said, smiling.

Wang Xian nodded and began to chit chat with Miracle Doctor Guang Hua.

Perhaps Miracle Doctor Guang Hua did not have many interactions with Miracle Doctors that were of the same level as him. Hence, he was rather chatty. Wang Xian also liked his personality. As such, both of them had a great time chatting.

The plane took off, heading to Jade Nation.

Three hours later, the plane landed at the international airport of Jade Nation's capital.

"Qingyue, I want to tell you something!" Wang Xian came to Lan Qingyue and said apologetically.

"What is it?" Lan Qingyue looked at him with doubts.

"I probably can't keep you company for today and tomorrow. I've got something going on!" Wang Xian scratched his head as he spoke.

"Hur?" Lan Qingyue looked at him with consternation.

"Just now, I met Miracle Doctor Guang Hua, ranked 15th on the Miracle Doctors Chart. He took a mission, and I wanted to check it out with him. So..."

"Hmph, you're really unreliable!"

Lan Qingyue interrupted his words as she rolled her eyes at him with a sulky face.

"I'm going to earn some money. I'll look for you as soon as I'm done, and I'll bring you some top-grade jade stones!" Wang Xian immediately promised.

"Fine!" Lan Qingyue pouted and nodded.

"Heh heh." Wang Xian let out an awkward smile as he walked Lan Qingyue out of the airport and waved to her.

"Miracle Doctor Guang Hua, let's go!" Wang Xian came to Miracle Doctor Guang Hua and said .

"A car sent by Gordanway is waiting for us outside!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua nodded as he took the lead.

The white-shirt young man who was following behind saw Wang Xian tagging along. Hence, he was well-behaved and did not dare to utter a word.

Two luxury vehicles were waiting outside of the airport.

Wang Xian, together with Mo Qinglong, got in the car.

Instead of the city center, the car traveled towards the mountains in the distance.

Just like what Lan Qingyue had mentioned, Jade Nation had many towering and magnificent mountains.

There were endless mountains along the way.

"This is Jade King Mountain Range which stretches for a few hundred kilometers. It is the largest mountain in Jade Nation. All the jade stones in Jade Nation were mined from this mountain. The Gordanway Family is located just beside Jade King Mountain Range!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua introduced this place to Wang Xian, as he had some knowledge of it.

"The scenery is extravagant here!"

Wang Xian looked at the surroundings with smiles. Miracle Doctor Guang Hua chuckled. "The caves that they reside in are more interesting!"

After a 30-minute ride, the cars stopped beside a green mountain in the Jade King Mountain Range.

"Please follow me!"

The driver got out of the vehicle and led the way before them.

Wang Xian followed him as he looked ahead.

It was a large village with a stone at the entrance engraved with some Jade Nation words on it.

At the entrance, five young men were standing there with guns in their hands.

The leader of Gordanway was holding a general position in Jade Nation. Hence, they had troops stationed at this place.

Upon entering, it was a small village.

Their dressing was much of the same as the people in China.

They followed the driver to a huge mountain. Wang Xian noticed that the entire mountain had been excavated with windows on the outside, just like ordinary buildings.

"Not many people in Jade Nation reside in the caves of Jade King Mountain Range. Only a few significant families and businessmen carry on with this type of lifestyle."

Upon seeing Wang Xian's curious look, Miracle Doctor Guang Hua explained to him.

Wang Xian nodded and went into the mountain. There was a huge hall, about a thousand square meters in size.

The interior was decorated to give a luxurious vibe. Pieces of beasts' fur were hung up on the wall as ornaments.

But the lighting appliances were all in modern style.

The entire hall gave an alternative aesthetic.

"Tsk tsk, it's indeed the top family in the country!"

Wang Xian swept his gaze around and exclaimed slightly. The cave houses of Jade Nation were comparable to the castles in Europe.

At this moment, quite a number of people were gathered in the hall. They were all seated around in chairs.

Wang Xian looked around. He noticed that not only Asians were here, but there were also Europeans and Americans.

"Poison Doc. Poison Doc is here too!"

A shocked voice came out from the mouth of Miracle Doctor Guang Hua. Wang Xian looked over and saw a scrawny old man sitting on the sofa.

A black, poisonous snake was couching on his hand, which made him look frightening.

"Poison Doc!"

Wang Xian thought of the Miracle Doctor ranked 9th on the Miracle Doctor Chart.

Poison Doc Yan She was an elder of the Sacred Followers Guild. Not only was he proficient in medical skills, but he also possessed Inborn Strength.

"There is Miracle Doctor Blood Man from Europe. But I'm not sure who that is!"

"That's Holy Priest from the Holy Sect. His medical skills must be known as strong to become a Holy Priest."

"The Miracle Doctor Yin-yang from island country is here too. Looks like we have lots of compelling characters gathered here!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua swept his gaze around with a surprised look.

Wang Xian looked over and traced all the Miracle Doctors one by one.

Blood man of Europe was similar to a vampire. They could enhance their strength with the energy from fresh blood.

The Miracle Doctor Yin-yang from island country was a Yin and Yang Master, originating from China. The skills were developed and expanded in the island country. Miracle Doctor Yin-yang was a renowned doctor over there.

The 500 Spiritual Stones were really attractive.

Wang Xian looked around him and pondered to himself.

However, Wang Xian was determined to get those 500 Spiritual Stones.

Chapter 210: Gathering of Miracle Doctors! (2)

"Let me express my gratitude to all Miracle Doctors from all around the world for gathering at Gordanway!"

Wang Xian and Miracle Doctor Guang Hua sat in the chairs and waited for more than half an hour. Finally, a middle-aged man walked out and expressed his gratitude to the crowd.

Just as the middle-aged man finished his sentence, a middle-aged Caucasian shouted, "Let's skip the pleasantries! Bring us to the leader of Gordanway."

"We have prepared a banquet for everyone. In that case, let's push that back. However, we will be giving out part of the remuneration first!"

The middle-aged man wasn't angered by the middle-aged Caucasian at all. Instead, he clapped his hands as he remarked.

Those that had come were Miracle Doctors from all over the world. Some of these Miracle Doctors had strength that wasn't inferior to the Gordanway Family. Therefore, they weren't acting too deferentially.

Naturally, as a powerful and influential force, the wealth of the Gordanway Family wasn't something that the Miracle Doctors could possibly match.

Various beautiful ladies carried a plate and walked towards the crowd of Miracle Doctors.

On each plate, there was a bag with ten pieces of spiritual stones in it.

After getting part of the remuneration, all the other Miracle Doctors were clearly looking more patient.

"Since everyone is so anxious, follow me!" the middle-aged man said to the crowd.

There were a total of fifteen Miracle Doctors. If their disciples or subordinates were included, there were a total of more than forty people.

The crowd followed behind the middle-aged man.

"Pervert!"

At this moment, Wang Xian heard a very soft voice from his side.

He was slightly shocked and looked to Doctor Sun, who was beside her, immediately.

He saw Doctor Sun frown and look at the two people beside her with disdain.

Wang Xian followed her gaze and noticed that the pale-looking middle-aged Caucasian was staring fervently at Doctor Sun.

At the other end, an old man was frowning and staring at Doctor Sun intensely.

The first man was Miracle Doctor Blood Man and the second man was Holy Priest.

Wang Xian was confused. Logically speaking, considering their status, even if Doctor Sun was extremely alluring, they shouldn't be staring at her so intensely.

He looked at Doctor Sun but didn't find anything strange.

"Everyone, please come in!"

At this moment, the crowd passed through a tunnel and entered a cave.

This was clearly a cave for cultivation. In the cave, an old man was sitting in the center.

Within the cave, thousands of spiritual stones were embedded in the surroundings. All the Miracle Doctors who stepped into the cave were shocked to witness this.

The cave was extremely warm. It was at least forty degrees celsius.

Within the cave, the most eye-catching thing was a pangolin beside the old man.

This was a pangolin that was close to three meters long. It had bright red scales and emitted savage vibes.

"Thank you, everyone, for coming!"

The old man opened his eyes slowly and looked at the surrounding crowd.

"Greetings, Leader of Gordanway!"

The surrounding Miracle Doctors greeted the old man.

The old man in front of them was an extremely strong Inborn expert. As the leader of the top Family in Jade Nation, his strength wasn't something that an ordinary Inborn expert could match.

"Everyone! I'm sure you guys know about my condition. I'd like to invite you to take a look right now!" the leader of Gordanway said slowly.

"Let me go first." the twenty-first ranked Miracle Doctor on the domestic Miracle Doctors Chart said.

"Please!" The leader of Gordanway nodded his head.

"Excuse me for my intrusion!"

That middle-aged Miracle Doctor nodded his head. As he waved his arm, a silver thread flew out and wrapped around the wrist of the old man.

The leader of Gordanway did not dodge and simply allowed himself to be caught by the silver thread.

The middle-aged man placed a finger on the silver and shut his eyes slightly.

Soon, he frowned. The silver thread extended and wrapped around the body of the leader of Gordanway gradually.

However, after going around him twice, he still did not discover any abnormalities.

The middle-aged man was clearly disappointed. "Please pardon my incompetence. I'm unable to help!"

"Silver Thread Inspection technique of the twenty-first ranked Miracle Doctor can accurately detect various kinds of injuries. It's surprising that he couldn't detect any abnormalities!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua let out a silent sigh.

Silver Thread Inspection was an extremely powerful ability in the medical techniques of China.

Doctor Sun was stunned by what she had seen. Such unbelievable techniques had truly opened her horizons.

"Let me give it a try!"

Seeing that the middle-aged man had backed down, Holy Priest walked ahead with a wooden rod in his hand.

Waving his wooden rod, pure white energy entered the body of the leader of Gordanway.

The Holy Priest frowned and commented, "My Light hasn't detected any darkness. The leader of Gordanway should be..."

"That's what many other Miracle Doctors have said!"

The leader of Gordanway looked up to the Holy Priest. His eyes were clearly fatigued as he commented, "Whenever I cultivate, I will sense my internal energy going berserk. In fact, I have to constantly restrict the powers in my body right now."

That Holy Priest frowned and shook his head. After this, he backed down.

What many people did not notice was that when the Holy Priest released his Light, Doctor Sun's body shimmered.

Let me give it a try, hehe!

The pale-looking middle-aged Caucasian took a step forward. Moving his finger, blood that emitted a black aura appeared in his hand.

"I'll have to trouble the leader of Gordanway to open your mouth!"

The leader of Gordanway nodded his head. He knew about the treatment technique of Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

The blood that emitted a black aura entered the old man's body through the mouth. Soon it entered his heart and into every part of his blood vessels.

"Huh?" The middle-aged Miracle Doctor Blood Man frowned. He stretched his hand forward and the blood flew out from the mouth of the leader of Gordanway. Miracle Doctor Blood Man shook his head, clearly looking disappointed.

Following which, another five to six Miracle Doctors stood out and exhibited their unique skills.

However, everyone ended frowning.

No one had discovered where the issue was. If they couldn't even identify the source of the illness, how were they going to devise a treatment method?

The leader of Gordanway wasn't looking great.

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua gave it a try but the attempt turned out to be futile.

In the end, only Wang Xian, the eighth-ranked Poison Doc, and Miracle Doctor Yin-yang from Japan were left.

"Let me give it a try!"

The Poison Doc took two steps forward. The black poisonous snake that was wrapped around him lifted its head and started hissing.

Sss sss sss!

The poisonous snake leaped and jumped beside the old man who was three meters away. As it stuck out its tongue, its blood-red eyes stared constantly at the leader of Gordanway.

"Poison Doc from China, I have long heard of you!" the old man said to the Poison Doc.

"That's just a superficial name!" Poison Doc replied emotionlessly while keeping his eyes on his poison snake.

Sss sss!

The black poisonous snake went around the old man. Suddenly, its vision shifted to the pangolin.

Sss sss!

Suddenly, the pangolin stuck out its tongue and emitted a horrifying aura.

Sss sss!

The black poisonous snake was shocked and slithered back to the Poison Doc in fear.

"Xiao Jia, don't move!" the old man said gently to the pangolin.

Sss~

The crowd gasped and looked at the pangolin in shock.

The aura it emitted in that instant was that of an Inborn expert!

The Poison Doc looked a little embarrassed and shook his head helplessly.

"China's medical techniques are only so!"

A mocking voice sounded which irked Poison Doc and Miracle Doctor Guang Hua.

Wang Xian wasn't paying attention to the mockery.

Within his eyes, blue and red light alternated. His eyes shifted to a direction as he revealed a faint smile.

Victory was in his hands!

Chapter 211: Conspiracy (1)

"The Art of Yin and Yang originated from China. The so-called Miracle Doctor Yin-yang was relying on our ancestor's skills."

"Hmph, you're from a small country. Even King Sanhe would not dare to be brazen!"

"How dare Qi She, who is ranked only 49th on the global ranking, speak gibberish here."

Poison Doc, Guang Hua and the rest of the Miracle Doctors looked coldly at the Miracle Doctor Yin-yang from the island country.

"Tsk, Poison Doc is ranked 31, and my ranking is 49. But looks like someone claimed a higher position without any strength today."

Miracle Doctor Yin-yang spoke sarcastically. He turned to look at the leader of Gordanway. "Since the five to six Chinese Miracle Doctors can't identify the source of the illness. I guess you can only leave this to me!"

"Hur? Miracle Doctor Yin-yang, you've got a solution?"

The leader of Gordanway looked at the Miracle Doctor Yin-yang, who was full of confidence, with a glimmer of hope in his eyes.

All the Miracle Doctors stared at Miracle Doctor Yin-yang with doubts on their faces. Poison Doc, Guang Hua and the rest watched with darkened expressions.

"I'm 80% confident."

Miracle Doctor Yin-yang exhibited a confident look. He swept his gaze across Poison Doc, Guang Hua and the rest. With a swing, a gust of black and white air darted out from a bell.

The black and white stream of gas flew towards the leader of Gordanway.

"Hur?"

Everyone observed the cloud of black and white fog doubtfully.

Slowly, the black and white fog encompassed the leader of Gordanway.

"Leader of Gordanway, please keep a distance away from your pangolin. The heat energy emitted from its body will greatly affect my Yin Yang Cloud. After all, that pangolin is an inborn animal!" Miracle Doctor Yin-yang instructed Leader of Gordanway nonchalantly.

"Okay," he nodded. "Xiao Jia, go to that corner!"

Ssss!

The three-meter-sized pangolin nodded its head just like a human. It then went to a corner and kept still.

"Boundless Yin and Yang expel evil spirits!"

Miracle Doctor Yin-yang let out a soft bellow, and the cloud of black and white fog spun slowly around the leader of Gordanway.

"I studied a little on the Art of Yin and Yang. According to historical records, Miracle Doctor Yin-yang will use rituals, talismans, and chantings to get rid of evil spirits. This is the first time I've heard of the Yin Yang Clouds."

Poison Doc Yan She stared at the cloud of black and white air with flickering eyes.

"Hmph, ignorant people. What do you know about my medical skills?" Qi She scorned at Poison Doc and continued, "Today, I'll show you bunch of ignorant fellows!"

Ha!

The Yin Yang Clouds spun rapidly at this time. This scene was much more spectacular than the means displayed by those Miracle Doctors just now.

"My Internal Energy is no longer in unrest. Hahaha, I no longer need to suppress my Internal Energy!"

Just when everyone was in disbelief, the leader of Gordanway who was in the clouds exclaimed excitedly. He stood up immediately and looked at Qi She with thrills.

"Thank you, Miracle Doctor Qi She. You actually suppressed my Internal Energy for me. Can you provide a permanent remedy?"

"How is it possible?"

Guang Hua, Poison Doc, and the rest of the people were shocked.

This Miracle Doctor Yin-yang actually found treatment through this way!

The rest of the Miracle Doctors gazed at Qi She with surprises.

"Haha, no one can match my medical skills." Qi She stared at them with a cold but arrogant face. He turned to the Leader of Gordanway and chuckled, "Sir, give me another ten days. I'll be able to cure your illness permanently!"

"Great!" The Gordanway old man was elated. "You have saved my life. I'll never forget your kindness, and I'll reward you handsomely for this!"

"Haha, you're welcome!" Qi She laughed out loud as he turned to look at Poison Doc and the rest of the people. "I told you all. The Chinese Miracle Doctors are so-so!"

"Haha!"

Poison Doc, Guang Hua and the rest were looking grumpy. But on the other side, Wang Xian gave a creepy smile.

He did not that expect this mission would involve a conspiracy.

He gazed meaningfully at Qi She, but he did not expose him right away.

"Miracle Doctor Qi She, must I stay in the Yin Yang Clouds all the time?" asked the leader of Gordanway respectfully with smiles.

"No. I'll paste something on you."

Miracle Doctor Qi She shook his head as he took out pieces of a weird-looking talisman. He then walked to the Leader of Gordanway and pasted them on him.

"These talismans could temporarily keep your illness under control. You should never take this down!" Qi She warned the leader of Gordanway.

"Don't worry, Miracle Doctor Qi She. No one can take it down without my permission!" the leader of Gordanway said with a beaming face.

"Alright, you're free to move now!"

Qi She had smiles all over his face. He took out the bell and kept the Yin Yang Clouds.

"Haha, I really recovered!"

Since the leader of Gordanway could move his body freely, he could not help but laugh out loud. "Thank you, Qi She Miracle Doctor. I would also like to extend my gratitude to the rest of the Miracle Doctors too. Today, I'll play a good host to all of you, and I'll send you off tomorrow!"

"Since the leader of Gordanway is cured, it's a load off our minds!"

"That's right. We're glad that you're recovering well. We're incompetent, but luckily, we've got Miracle Doctor Qi She!"

"Miracle Doctor Qi She was impressive. I believe you'll improve your ranking tremendously on the chart from today onwards."

One by one, the Miracle Doctors congratulated the leader of Gordanway and Miracle Doctor Qi She.

Poison Doc, Guang Hua, and the rest of the Chinese Doctors wore awful looks on their faces.

They had the highest number of Chinese Miracle Doctors here on this trip. Even the Poison Doc, ranking 9th, was present. In the end, the leader was cured by a Miracle Doctor from the island country. Such a disgrace!

"Let's go. It's getting late. I've gotten my people to get dinner ready!" the leader of Gordanway exclaimed happily.

All of the people followed the leader of Gordanway to the banquet cave.

There were singing and dancing performances with wine and food.

Miracle Doctor Qi She, no doubt, had become the most attention-grabbing figure in the dinner. Most of the Miracle Doctors went up to him to curry favors. Even the leader of Gordanway gave a toast to him with joy!

"Hmph, the Art of Yin and Yang originated from China. He used our medical skills to cure the leader of Gordanway, and yet, he spoke impudently to us. What a villain!"

Guang Hua drank a glass of wine angrily. Some of the Chinese Miracle Doctors also darkened their expressions.

"Why didn't Miracle Doctor Wang give it a shot just now?" asked Poison Doc Yan She all of a sudden as he held the body of a poisonous snake that licked the wine in the glass.

"Hehe, I'm not that proficient yet!" Wang Xian shook his head and smiled.

"Miracle Doctor Wang could even cripple Fang Huazi's arms, leaving all the Miracle Doctors in Sacred Followers Guild with no solutions. I think you're proficient enough."

Poison Doc looked at Wang Xian and threw him a faint smile as he spoke.

Chapter 212: Conspiracy (2)

"Oh?"

Wang Xian looked to Poison Doc and asked plainly, "Poison Doc wants to stand up for Fang Huazi?"

"Haha! I'm not that free. Furthermore, his arms were crippled because he lost in a challenge he initiated. He's too full of himself. However, I'd just like to inform you that Fang Huazi has a master!" Poison Doc laughed heartily.

"Thank you, Senior Poison Doc, for your reminder!"

Wang Xian was taken aback but nodded his head with a faint smile.

"The Sacred Followers Guild is much better than the Medical Saint Sect."

Poison Doc made a baffling statement casually.

Wang Xian smiled and didn't say a word. He lifted his wine cup.

"Come, come, come! Miracle Doctors from China! Although you guys didn't do a thing, I'll still give a toast to you guys!"

At this moment, Qi She carried a cup, walked over proudly and laughed loudly.

No one was paying attention to him. Poison Doc was silently playing with his black poisonous snake. Guang Hua was enjoying his wine and the other few Miracle Doctors were conversing softly.

"There's a saying in China which goes along the line of this: when one reaches a certain level, he can be a tutor for the rest. There shouldn't be a geographical distinction in the medical world. It seems like you guys are still too petty!" commented Qi She sarcastically.

"Hello, everyone! Thank you for being here!"

At this moment, the leader of Gordanway also walked in with a cup of wine in his hand. Lifting it, he announced, "Let Miracle Doctor Qi She and I give a toast to everyone!"

Hehe! Qi She, who was standing beside, lifted his cup at the crowd with a sarcastic expression.

"Thank you, leader of Gordanway, for the warm welcome!"

Poison Doc, Guang Hua, Wang Xian and the crowd stood up and lifted their cups.

"This young Miracle Doctor looks a little familiar. I didn't see you attempt previously. It must have been really easy to get these spiritual stones!"

When Qi She saw Wang Xian, he smiled.

"If I act, someone's going to lose his life!" said Wang Xian emotionlessly to Qi She.

"Haha, this is interesting! To be able to become a Miracle Doctor at such a young age, it seems like the medical circle in China has really fallen back!"

Qi She laughed sarcastically as he shook his head and walked towards the crowd.

The leader of Gordanway took a glance at Wang Xian and didn't say a word. After a simple nod, he left.

Wang Xian looked at Qi She and his lips curved into a smile.

The banquet wasn't lengthy and ended in an hour plus.

Several service attendants brought the guests to their own personal rooms.

The rooms were within a stone cave. However, the interior was luxurious.

Soon, Mo Qinglong entered and reported to Wang Xian, "Young Master, the leader of Gordanway has returned to that cultivation cave. Qi She has also left that place!"

"Let's head over then. It's really not easy to earn these five hundred pieces of spiritual stones. I will have to ask for a pay increase from Gordanway!"

Wang Xian smiled and stood up before walking towards the cave, where the leader of Gordanway was, with Mo Qinglong.

With the strength of them, they easily avoided the patrolling guards and arrived at the entrance of the cave.

Pa pa!

Wang Xian didn't attempt to hide. His footsteps immediately alerted the leader from Gordanway who was sitting in the middle of the cave.

"Huh?"

The leader of Gordanway opened his eyes and stared at Wang Xian and Mo Qinglong, "May I know why you are here at this hour?"

"It's all because of those spiritual stones!"

Wang Xian saw a talisman on the leader of Gordanway and walked directly to him.

"Huh? Stop right there!"

Seeing Wang Xian walking directly towards him, the leader of Gordanway chided solemnly.

Sss sss!

At this moment, the pangolin in the corner got up and headed towards Wang Xian slowly with a vicious look.

"I'm here to save the leader of Gordanway!"

Wang Xian stared at the pangolin that was walking towards him and released his aura.

Sss sss sss!

The pangolin was petrified and retreated in horror.

"What?"

The leader of Gordanway was shocked and stared at Wang Xian in disbelief.

His companion was an Inborn existence and yet it was petrified with a single look. This was simply impossible!

Wang Xian grinned and continued walking towards the leader of Gordanway.

"You must be courting your own death. This is the territory of the Gordanway Family!"

The leader of Gordanway stood up and emitted a strong aura.

"Don't worry, we are here to help!"

Mo Qinglong saw a gust of aura charging towards them. With a wave of his hand, he blocked it off.

"Inborn expert!"

The leader of Gordanway became vigilant in an instant and stared closely at Wang Xian and Mo Qinglong.

"I'm here to save you. Otherwise, you wouldn't even know when others have killed you!"

Wang Xian walked in front of the leader of Gordanway and reached for the talisman on his body!

"Huh?"

The leader of Gordanway was shocked. Seeing Wang Xian lift his hands, he immediately put on his guard.

However, to his astonishment, dense droplets of water appeared and swept away the talisman on his body.

The talisman broke into pieces after being immersed in water.

The leader of Gordanway was horrified as a chill went down his spine.

He couldn't even withstand a strike from the young man in front of him when he was at the peak of the Inborn Realm!

However, he quickly recovered and looked blankly at the talisman on the floor.

"This... How is this possible?"

"What's the matter?" Wang Xian smiled and signalled to the pangolin!

Sss sss!

The pangolin stared at Wang Xian in fear. The stifling pressure he felt from Wang Xian a while ago completely petrified him.

The pangolin hesitated for a while before crawling over.

Argh!

Just as the pangolin approached, the leader of Gordanway let out a shriek in pain. He immediately sat on the floor and started suppressing the pain.

Sss sss!

The pangolin immediately came to the side of the leader of Gordanway and used its tongue to lick his body.

"Get back to the corner!"

After he released his aura once again, the pangolin felt a stifling pressure and scampered to the corner in a hurry.

At this moment, the strange feelings on the body of the leader of Gordanway also dissipated.

"What is this about...? This is...?"

The leader of Gordanway lifted his head suddenly and looked bitterly at the pangolin.

"You aren't sick at all, but there's something wrong with it!"

Wang Xian pointed to the pangolin in the corner.

Wang Xian had attempted to use his Piercing Eye to check out the injuries on the leader of Gordanway in the afternoon.

Under the supervision of the Piercing Eye, everything could be seen as energy.

He noticed faint energy emitted from the pangolin that was being absorbed by the leader of Gordanway.

This source of energy was the source of his illness.

"You are saying there's something wrong with Xiao Jia!" the leader of Gordanway asked bitterly.

"It was clear that someone did something to the pangolin and must be using another method to slowly control you!" Wang Xian explained.

The leader of Gordanway clenched his fist tightly. Taking a glance at the pangolin in the corner, he walked slowly towards it. Instantly, the feeling of losing control could be felt once again.

Chapter 213: The Outcome of Miracle Doctor Yin-yang

The leader of Gordanway took a deep breath as he stared at the talisman that had dropped on the ground just now. He gradually calmed down.

He stood there without a word as he was pondering.

Wang Xian did not interrupt him. He believed that the wise old man before him was capable of straightening this out.

"Gosh, given Gordanway's current status after decades of dominance in Jade Nation, never did I expect that someone close to me would hurt me!"

Radiance flickered in the eyes of the leader of Gordanway. "Xiao Jia grew up with me and has been following me around. It's the closest kin that I have. But they actually found a way to control me, and eventually, the entire Gordanway Family, through Xiao Jia. Damm!"

As he finished his sentence, flashes of ferocious radiance were found in the eyes of the leader of Gordanway before he closed them.

"Thank you for your reminder. I guess Gordanway Family is now full of loopholes. Since you can spot this, I hope you can cure Xiao Jia's injuries!"

When the leader of Gordanway opened his eyes again, he bowed to Wang Xian and pleaded immediately.

The leader of Gordanway was even more respectful to the mysterious and formidable Miracle Doctor as compared to Qi She.

"Of course. I'm here for the Spiritual Stones anyway."

Wang Xian smiled and beckoned the pangolin over.

The leader of Gordanway did the same thing too.

When the pangolin walked over, the leader of Gordanway was in pain again. Wang Xian stroked its head, and the Dragon Energy in Wang Xian's body quickly neutralized the poison in the pangolin's body.

This was a unique poisonous gas that was absorbed into the body through food.

It did no harm to the pangolin, but it would bring extreme harm to those who were near it. In particular, the leader of Gordanway, who practiced his cultivation around the pangolin, and would absorb the poisonous gas directly.

"Thank you, Miracle Doctor!"

The leader of Gordanway could no longer feel the pain. With an exhilarated expression, he quickly thanked Wang Xian respectfully.

"Just giving me a handsome reward will do!" Wang Xian said nonchalantly.

"Yes, certainly!"

The leader of Gordanway nodded in haste before he knit his eyebrows. "Miracle Doctor, I'll deal with my family matters first, and I must get it done by tonight before anything happens!"

"Go ahead. I'm going back to sleep!"

Wang Xian waved a dismissive hand and went out. Mo Qinglong was following closely.

The leader of Gordanway fixed his eyes on Wang Xian, "This young man is much more formidable than me!"

Hiss!

The pangolin stuck out its tongues as it made some noises.

"Xiao Jia, are you saying that you felt oppressed when you saw him?"

The leader of Gordanway stroked the head of the pangolin as he asked softly.

Ssss!

The pangolin nodded.

"I heard from my master that there's another kind of existence apart from the realm above Inborn Realm. They are known as the Immortals of the Land. Has that young Miracle Doctor reached that stage?"

He murmured as he stared at the pangolin with flickering radiance in his eyes. "Let's go, Xiao Jia. Today, we need to get rid of the black sheep."

The night in Jade Nation was not peaceful.

The growling sound of beasts could be heard occasionally from the surrounding mountains.

It was all the more restless within the territory of Gordanway.

Wang Xian did not want to get involved in their affairs. He was here to earn those Spiritual Stones, not to meddle in family affairs.

He detested getting into more trouble.

The sun was shining brightly the next morning. The air in Jade Nation was much better than in China.

Wang Xian's mood was lifted as he breathed in the fresh air from nature.

"Sir, I'll lead you to the restaurant. The leader of Gordanway will be sending all of you off later!" a waitress said to Wang Xian.

"Sure!"

Wang Xian nodded as he came to the restaurant with Mo Qinglong.

"Congratulations to Miracle Doctor Qi She. Word about you curing the leader of Gordanway has successfully gotten out. I'm sure your ranking will improve in no time!"

"This time, Miracle Doctor Qi She can definitely rank as the top 30 in the global ranking. After all, you beat many doctors yesterday!"

"That's right. Even Poison Doc Yan She is not your match. Your ranking will improve by a lot!"

Wang Xian overheard the conversations as soon as he entered the restaurant.

"Haha, my medical skills aren't that formidable. It's just that some people are overrated!"

Qi She raised his voice as he swept his gaze across Poison Doc and other doctors at the corner of the restaurant. He could not hide the conceited look on his face.

"Miracle Doctor Qi She, don't be modest. Your medical skills are impressive. We can't compare to you at all!"

Several people laughed and replied immediately.

"Given my medical skills, I can at most get into the top five. There are several people better than me!"

Qi She shook his head gently. "But, the Art of Yin and Yang is still compelling in our country. But the Chinese doctors who were known to be the best are getting worse with each generation. Even a young lad is on the chart!"

As he spoke, he thought it was funny when he saw Wang Xian walking in.

"That's true. That lad did not do anything yesterday. Obviously, he did not want to embarrass himself in front of us!"

"That's right. He was the only one who did nothing. Since he's so young, he might have some insider dealings!"

"He came here to enjoy free food and ten Spiritual Stones by doing nothing. What a shameless act!"

Some of the surrounding people commented with smiles just to fawn upon Miracle Doctor Qi She.

"Hehe!"

Wang Xian overheard their comments as soon as he sat down. He had a sarcastic look as he looked at the door.

The leader of Gordanway brought five to six men with him to the entrance.

Everyone could sense a vague blood-shedding aura from them.

Apparently, they had been killing people not long ago.

"Hmm? The leader of Gordanway is here. Looks like he is looking good. Miracle Doctor Qi She is really awesome!" said the people around Miracle Doctor Qi She when they saw the leader of Gordanway.

"Hur?" Miracle Doctor Qi She was slightly taken aback as he spun around.

"Leader of Gordanway, you got up early today. Why didn't you take a good rest? With my talisman, you should be able to have a good sleep!" Miracle Doctor Qi She said with a smiling face.

"I didn't sleep a wink last night!" The leader of Gordanway gave a bloodthirsty look.

"Hur? Why is it so?" Miracle Doctor Qi She asked with doubts when he observed something wrong with the leader of Gordanway's expression.

"I was getting rid of those black sheep!" the leader of Gordanway said with a ghastly voice. Soon after, everyone watched with shock as a fist struck Qi She's chest.

Bam!

"How dare you collude with those traitors and poison me, Miracle Doctor Qi She. You'll join them too!"

Puke! Miracle Doctor Qi She spat out a mouthful of fresh blood with a drastic change in his expression. He was petrified. "How did you... How did you find out?!"

"Take him away. I'll make sure he enjoys the rest of his life!"

The leader of Gordanway commanded the people behind him coldly and let out a sigh of relief.

He walked to Wang Xian and bowed. "Miracle Doctor Wang, thank you!"

Chapter 214: Jade King Mountain Range

Shocking!

Everyone in the restaurant was dumbfounded and looked at the development with disbelief.

They looked blankly at the leader of Gordanway bowing down to the young man and thanking him respectfully.

His bow was deep and he did not have the demeanor of an Inborn expert at all. He also didn't act in a way that the leader of the top tier Family in Jade Nation would be expected to.

He was just like an ordinary citizen thanking his benefactor for lending a helping hand.

"It seems that the matter you are concerned about has been settled!" said Wang Xian heartily.

"Thank you, Miracle Doctor Wang, for your assistance. I have settled them."

The leader of Gordanway showed a faint smile and sat opposite to Wang Xian. "Miracle Doctor Wang, if there's anything you require my assistance for in Jade Nation, feel free to let me know!"

"Sure, I wouldn't stand on ceremony!" Wang Xian replied with a laugh.

"Will Miracle Doctor Wang be interested in hanging around Jade Nation for a few days? I'll let my guys bring you around Jade Nation!"

The leader of Gordanway extended his hospitality.

"I'm good. I'm here in Jade Nation to settle some other stuff. I'll be leaving after having my meal!"

Wang Xian shook his head and rejected. If he stayed in this place for a longer time, Lan Qingyue would probably "kill" him with her stare.

"Alright then, Miracle Doctor Wang. I'll get you a chauffeur later to bring you around in Jade Nation. If you ever visit the Jade Nation in the future, let me know in advance. I'll definitely be a good host!"

The leader of Gordanway smiled and stood up. "Miracle Doctor Wang, the medical techniques of China indeed have incredible effects and you are really a worthy young hero! Enjoy your meal! I'll be leaving now."

Wang Xian heard his last sentence. He smiled and bade goodbye to the leader of Gordanway.

Wow!

When the leader of Gordanway left, everyone was shocked.

They had been watching the entire development attentively.

The feeling they got was that the leader of Gordanway had put himself down a little too much. The tone he was using when talking to that juvenile was completely deferential.

Even when Miracle Doctor Qi She had found a way to treat the illness of the leader of Gordanway yesterday, he wasn't treated as such.

However, that juvenile's response was even more shocking.

He seemed to take everything as a given, acting nonchalantly.

One should know that this was a top-class Family with several Inborn experts in the clan, and it even had a strong army. They could be considered as elite even when compared with the rest of Jade Nation.

"From what the leader of Gordanway said, his illness was caused by Miracle Doctor Qi She and his clan members. The plot seems to have been seen through by Miracle Doctor Wang."

"Miracle Doctor Wang from China is really incredible to be able to see through the conspiracy. Moreover, he seems to have cured the illness of the leader of Gordanway."

"There a saying in China that goes along with the idea that heroes are often young. Miracle Doctor Wang has such astonishing medical skills at such a young age. His future will definitely be extraordinary!"

"Miracle Doctor Yin-yang was really arrogant. He was still mocking Miracle Doctors from China yesterday. Now that his plan has been exposed, he's most likely finished!"

"No wonder Miracle Doctor Yin-yang has ways to treat the leader of Gordanway. It was all his doing in the first place!"

The surrounding group of Miracle Doctors sighed emotionally. The remaining followers and disciples of these Miracle Doctors looked across in awe.

No one had expected such a young juvenile to be in possession of such astonishing medical skills.

As for those who were still crowding around Miracle Doctor Qi She a while ago, they immediately walked out with blushing faces.

"Haha, Miracle Doctor Wang has truly made Chinese Miracle Doctors proud. This is really beyond my imagination!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua brought his disciples along and laughed heartily to Wang Xian.

"I guess I'm just lucky too!" replied Wang Xian with a laugh.

"Miracle Doctor Wang's medical skills are truly exceptional and much better than ours!" another Miracle Doctor walked over and said respectfully to Wang Xian.

When one reached a certain level of proficiency, he could be the tutor of others. They had not looked down on Wang Xian just because of his young age!

Through this incident, Wang Xian had also become famous.

Poison Doc walked over and asked inquisitively, "Miracle Doctor Wang, can you share with us how you diagnosed the illness of the leader of Gordanway?"

"The truth was that the leader of Gordanway wasn't sick at all, but someone poisoned the pangolin beside him. Poison Doc's poisonous snake had probably discovered this. However, it was probably fearful, and the pangolin and didn't dare to go over!" Wang Xian said heartily.

"Oh, so that's how it is!"

Poison Doc nodded his head slightly. "No wonder so many Miracle Doctors couldn't find the source of illness. The problem wasn't with the leader of Gordanway after all. Miracle Doctor Wang, you are really incredible. I'm truly convinced this time!"

Wang Xian exchanged pleasantries and smiled with them.

Doctor Sun who was standing by the side looked at Wang Xian with even more admiration. As for the white-shirt young man, his eyes popped wide open and he was clearly shaken.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, are you heading back to China in a while?" asked Guang Hua.

"Nope, I still have something to attend to and will be leaving later!" Wang Xian shook his head.

"We will also be hanging around here. Since we are here, we have plans to play for a few more days!"

After finishing their breakfast, Wang Xian bade goodbye to Guang Hua and his disciples. He boarded the car assigned to him by the leader of Gordanway and headed towards where Lan Qingyue was.

The end of the Jade King Mountain Range was the liveliest region in the entire Jade Nation.

To ensure the local customs would continue, the local government dug a lot of caves around the area to attract customers.

And for the next few days, it would also be the busiest few days of the year.

The annual stone-betting festival would be held over the next few days. During this period, stone betters, jade stones lovers and jade stones businesses would be here to bet and purchase!

Wang Xian saw a huge crowd gathered in the area they just went past.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I'll be waiting here. If you have any instructions for me, you can give me a call!" the driver said deferentially to Wang Xian.

"Alright!"

Wang Xian nodded his head. He alighted from the car and looked ahead of him.

This was a magnificent entrance. The center of the Jade King Mountain Range had been dug through and both sides along the path had various stone caves.

Within the stone caves and at the entrance, there were various stones on display.

Some stones had a faint green shade while others had a tinge of red.

These were none other than stones for stone betting.

Wang Xian called Lan Qingyue and walked in.

Passing through the entrance, there were more exquisite caves. At the entrances of these caves, there were jade stones that had been cut open with clear prices.

Wang Xian saw Lan Qingyue standing with her uncle at the entrance of a rather luxurious-looking shop.

Lan Qingyue had a bitter look on her and stood solemnly there.

Wang Xian was confused and frowned. He walked over and shouted, "Qingyue!"

"Xiao Xian!" Seeing him walking towards her, Lan Qingyue forced out a smile.

Wang Xian could tell Lan Qingyue was unhappy and asked caringly, "What happened?"

"Nothing. It's just some matters relating to purchasing jade stones. A supplier we have been working with for a long time suddenly decided to stop working with us."

Lan Qingyue frowned slightly, "They said someone is preventing them from working with Deep-sea Jewelry. Tsk! The ones behind this must have been The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect!"

Chapter 215: Stone-betting

"Qingyue, how many jade stones do you intend to procure?" asked Wang Xian to Qingyue, who was looking sulky.

"I need about 600 kilograms of Low-class Jade Stones, 100 kilograms of middle-class ones, 50 to 60 top-class ones, and more than 1,000 grams of supreme-class ones," Lan Qingyue answered.

As the top-notch jewelry company in China, the Deep-sea Jewelry had to spend more than billions annually in procurement just to support the sales of the entire group.

They worked with an established company in Jade Nation in previous years through installment payments. However, that group had refused to work with them this year.

With this, Deep-sea Jewelry would be in trouble.

Without sufficient jade stones to produce jade jewelry, there would be a severe shortage in this category.

This would be a huge blow to a top jewelry group.

"Can't you change to another supplier?" asked Wang Xian doubtfully.

"No!" Lan Qingyue shook her head and said with a depressed look. "We don't have enough capital. We only have more than half a billion liquidity in the group. Most of them were reserved for managing other risks. Currently, we can only afford to take out one or two hundred million!"

"Besides, the process will be too long to find a new working partner. By that time, the Stone-betting Festival of Jade Nation will be over."

"Qingyue, why don't we take a bank loan just to tide us over through this crisis first?!" At this time, Lan Quanfeng suggested this to Lan Qingyue.

Lan Qingyue nodded her head. "I guess this is the only way out. We cannot have a shortage of jade stones as they are important. Otherwise, we'll suffer a significant impact from it!"

"Qingyue, don't you have some masters in Deep-sea Jewelry who are proficient in stone-betting? I believe if you purchase some jade stones through betting, it would be much cheaper than a direct procurement!" Wang Xian asked as he looked at Lan Qingyue with questions.

Stone-betting is like life-betting. One can become a millionaire or bankrupt with a single bet. But, a top-notch stone-betting master could still guarantee a profitable business.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, we had a stone-betting team in Deep-sea Jewelry in the past. But the entire team has been poached!" Lan Quanfeng shook his head as he said with a heartache.

"It's unrealistic to rely on stone-betting. Even if we have a team, we're just saving a little money."

Lan Qingyue was not concerned about the Stone-betting team that had been poached.

"Let me do it. I'll act as the Stone-betting Master for today!" Wang Xian straightened his clothes and said to Lan Qingyue as though he was some master.

"Enough, Xiao Xian. You don't have to worry about this. I'll get the group to send me all their funding!" Lan Qingyue chuckled at his funny look.

Wang Xian raised his eyebrows. "Since you're free now, you can join me in stone-betting. Let's go!"

"Xiao Xian, are you serious? If you want to bet, go ahead. I'll give you some suggestions on the side!" Lan Qingyue smiled and said.

Since they had insufficient capital as of now, they could only put a stall on the procurement.

"Stone-betting is not easy. I learned from a few masters for a long time in the past. But, I lost most of the time!" Lan Quanfeng said to Wang Xian.

"I'm good at stone-betting!" Wang Xian laughed as he spoke. He looked at Lan Qingyue. "I didn't reveal my other identity. I'm actually a Stone-betting Master."

Lan Qingyue rolled her eyes at him with apparent disbelief.

She knew better than anyone else about jade stones and stone-betting. It was not only about experience, but it was also about luck.

Wang Xian smiled with confidence. With a pair of Piercing Eyes, Stone-betting was totally chicken-feet!

"This place is known as Stone-betting street. The entire street is three kilometers long, and more than ten thousand stones can be found here. Someone used more than one million and won two hundred million worth of jade stones before over here!"

Lan Qingyue introduced this place to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian nodded as he observed the place that he'd passed by just now.

There was a variety of stalls, displaying stones and their prices.

Wang Xian walked to a stall. The stall owner was a middle-aged man. When they walked over, his eyes brightened up.

"Take a look. Just now, someone won a million worth of jade stones with one hundred thousand dollars. My stall has the best Fengshui in the entire stone-betting street." The middle-aged man raised his voice as he introduced his stall to them.

Wang Xian narrowed his eyes as he swept his gaze across the few hundred pieces of stones at the stall.

Wang Xian was speechless when he saw all the common stones in that stall. There were no jade stones at all, and he claimed he had an excellent Fengshui?

"During the Stone-betting Festival, the Jade Nation will bustle with the highest number of tourists. Some people might make use of this opportunity to gain advantages. If you are not skillful, it would be hard to win a jade stone during these few days!" Lan Qingyue reminded Wang Xian when she saw him staring at the stones seriously.

"Got it. The Stone-betting Master never fails!" Wang Xian turned around and smiled.

He came to the second store, pointed at a stone, and asked, "Boss, how much are you selling this for?"

"There's a price tag on it!" The stall-owner looked at Wang Xian and smiled.
"The entire Stone-betting street is clearly priced!"

Lan Qingyue, next to him, nodded too.

"Great. I'll get this!"

Wang Xian went over and picked up the stone. The stone was about the size of two fists with green dots on the outside. This type of stones was not exactly good.

It was not cheap for a price of $80,000 either.

"Sure, do you want to cut the stone here? We can do it for free!" asked the stall-owner with a smile.

"Can I do it myself?" Wang Xian asked.

"Certainly!" He nodded.

"Oh, look who I saw? Someone from Deep-sea Jewelry! Why? Do you intend to rely on Stone-betting to support the sales of the Deep-sea Jewelry? Haha!"

At this time, a chuckle of sarcasm was heard.

Lan Qingyue and Lan Quanfeng were stunned for a moment. When they turned around and saw the group of people, their faces sank immediately.

There were more than twenty people with one lady and four middle-aged men in the center.

Several old men and young men were following behind them.

The one who spoke was a lady. She fixed her eyes on Wang Xian and the rest who were gambling with a taunting look.

"Hehe, the Zhou! What a huge line-up!"

Lan Qingyue stared at the lady and the rest of the people with a darkened expression.

"The girl from Lan Family...you've got quite an ability. You were going to marry into the Liu Family a few days ago. But now, you are sticking to Miracle Doctor Wang. How nice it is to be a youngster!"

The middle-aged lady mocked Lan Qingyue. She then turned to look at Wang Xian. "I bet you're Miracle Doctor Wang. What a young and promising man!"

"Hur?" Upon hearing what the middle-aged lady said, Lan Qingyue had a nasty look. "You're already old, so don't be jealous."

"Hehe, even if I was not old, I would not be a loose person!"

A hint of coldness flashed in the middle-aged lady's eyes as she followed up with a sarcastic remark.

Chapter 216: Stone Betting Master?

Her remarks made Lan Qingyue uncomfortable as Lan Qingyue stared harshly at the middle-aged woman.

"Old hag, don't disturb us here!"

Wang Xian gave a cold reply after hearing what the middle-aged woman said.

"What did you call me? Old hag?"

The middle-aged woman shrieked upon hearing Wang Xian and stared furiously at him.

"I'm talking about you! Do you need me to emphasize it again?" Wang Xian remarked emotionlessly at the middle-aged woman.

"Miracle Doctor Wang! Don't think you can be arrogant just because your ranking on the Miracle Doctors Chart is high. We are not the Liu Family. You are just a factionless doctor! You should take a look at your standing!"

A middle-aged man beside the middle-aged woman reminded Wang Xian in a harsh tone.

"Oh, is it so?" Wang Xian looked at the middle-aged man mockingly.

"Tsk! It's easy to die young when you are so arrogant!"

The middle-aged man showed no signs of weakness and retorted, "A factionless doctor isn't safe anywhere. It's easy to die away from home!"

"Hehe, I'd like to give it a try!"

Killing intent flashed in Wang Xian's eyes.

The middle-aged man laughed nonchalantly. His Lingyue Sect was a First-class Force similar to the Liu Family.

Although this juvenile had annihilated the Liu Family, Lingyue Sect wasn't fearful of him at all. In fact, he didn't even see Wang Xian as equal.

Although Miracle Doctors were strong and could summon experts who owed them favors, a factionless doctor had a huge weakness.

That was that they did not have any real supporting Force or incredible individual strength.

The Sacred Followers Guild did not exist in the past. The establishment of the Sacred Followers Guild was a gathering of various Miracle Doctors.

The purpose was to ensure the safety of various Miracle Doctors.

This was because many Miracle Doctors were often threatened and slain in the past.

The ninth-ranked Miracle Doctor was also killed by Maniac Ji! And yet Maniac Ji was still alive and kicking.

The reason was because the ninth-ranked Miracle Doctor wasn't from the Sacred Followers Guild or the Medical Saint Sect.

If he had a strong supporting Force behind him, Maniac Ji would definitely not act rashly.

This was because if he did, it would be equivalent to a slap to the supporting Force behind him and a declaration of war against it.

The strong supporting Force would definitely hunt Maniac Ji down.

However, those who owed the ninth-ranked Miracle Doctor favors were fearful of Maniac Ji's strength and didn't seek revenge for him.

Other than that, experts wouldn't be at the beck and call of the Miracle Doctors they owed favors to forever. Once they had repaid the favor, they naturally wouldn't help in the future.

These were the weaknesses of a factionless doctor and also the reason why Lingyue Sect wasn't afraid of Wang Xian.

If Wang Xian dared to summon two Inborn experts to Lingyue Sect, Lingyue Sect could also invite other Sects or friends to face them.

The Liu Family just happened to be caught by surprise! If the Liu Family had made preparations, they wouldn't have been annihilated!

At this moment, a Jade Nation local beside the middle-aged man suddenly added, "This is our territory. If Brother Zhou has any need, just leave it to us!"

"Haha, I don't have to trouble Brother with this. These are some small matters and Lingyue Sect can still settle them!"

The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect laughed heartily.

"Hey brat, I'll offer you a piece of kind advice to the Deep-sea Jewelry. It's better if you guys act honestly in the future. You guys aren't a match for Zhou Jewelry. Retreat to the second tier silently or your losses will be grave!" the middle-aged woman said to Lan Qingyue with a smile.

"You guys sure are confident!"

Wang Xian looked at them with contempt and ridicule. "Not only will Deep-sea Jewelry not retreat to the second tier, but it will also grow stronger and stronger.

Wang Xian walked to the stone cutting machine and signalled to the master stone cutter. [\[1\]](#)

The master stone cutter moved away and made a hand gesture to ask Wang Xian to continue.

Wang Xian lifted the stone cutting equipment and placed the stone on it. With a confident grin, he cut it down decisively.

The owner of the stall was shocked to see the crowd. When he saw Wang Xian cutting the stone, he immediately looked over.

"Eh! It's green, it's green! It's a gain*, a gain! A huge gain!"

[Note: A gain in stone betting would mean that the value of the gemstone hidden within the stone is higher than the price paid for the stone]

The owner of the stall exclaimed loudly in disbelief after seeing the stone.

"It's really a gain!"

Lan Qingyue and Lan Quanfeng looked over. Their bitter expressions quickly turned to radiant smiles.

Wang Xian smiled. Everything was as he had expected. How could he not get a "gain" with his Piercing Eyes? If he had failed, he must be blind.

Using his Piercing Eye to scan the stone, Wang Xian could look past the impurities of the stone. He could already see approximately a thousand grams of Top-class Jade Stone in it.

"What a killing! Top-class Jade! This piece is worth at least $7-8 million. That's a hundred times profit.

The stone betting owner exclaimed loudly.

The owner's voice drew the attention of the nearby crowd as they came over inquisitively.

"Wow, what a huge piece without any impurities. That's at least $7-8 million.

"Hey brother, will you sell it for $8 million?"

A man shouted loudly from the crowd.

Wang Xian shook his head and threw the stone to Mo Qinglong!

"Huh? You guys sure are lucky to get a gain!"

The middle-aged woman from The Zhou Jewelry looked at that piece of jadestone in shocked and remarked coldly.

"My luck has always been great!"

Wang Xian replied the middle-aged lady. After which, he turned to Lan Qingyue and asked, "How is it? As I've said, I'm a master of stone betting!"

"Even you dare to call yourself a master of stone betting? Aren't you afraid of others cutting your tongue off?"

An old man behind the middle-aged woman spoke with disdain. He looked to the middle-aged woman and said, "Madam Zhou, leave the stone betting to us!"

"Alright, Old Feng, I'll leave this to the various masters!"

The middle-aged lady smiled and nodded her head. "Let them know that stone betting isn't just about luck, and who's a real master!"

"Hehe, just leave it to us. He's just a brat and his luck alone can't be compared with us!"

Five to six old men walked to the stall ahead. They took out professional tools and started examining each stone.

Seeing their proficiency, the owner was shocked and knew that these old men were experts.

Hehe!

Wang Xian glanced at the group of old men acting professionally. He signalled to the boss and pointed his fingers directly. "Boss, give me that stone right there, and this!"

"Alright, brother!"

The owner nodded his head and picked up two stones.

One was five to six thousand grams while the other was just the size of a fist.

Wang Xian gave the boss $150,000. After which, he brought the stones to the stone cutting equipment.

As he swung the blade down, glorious red light was reflected off the stone.

"Bloodstone! Supreme-class Bloodstone!"

"Oh my god! It's another gain. This is a huge gain!"

"Supreme-class bloodstone! Just a small spot like this is worth at least $3 million!"

"Oh my... Is this luck? How can one be so lucky?"

"Two consecutive huge gains! His luck is simply exceptional!"

Exclamations broke out moments after Wang Xian cut the stone. His lips curved into a smile as he looked towards the group of dumbfounded old men.

Master of stone betting? If you guys are masters of stone betting, I'll be the god of stone betting!

Chapter 217: God of Stone Betting

"Sigh, Lady Luck is smiling on me!" Wang Xian sighed softly as he taunted. In just a few cuts, he cut out a piece of supreme-class bloodstone from it completely.

It was worth at least five million dollars.

Lan Qingyue and Lan Quanfeng stared dumbfoundedly at the jade stone in Wang Xian's hand with their mouths agape.

His luck is way too good, isn't it?

Madam Zhou and the rest of the people stared at Wang Xian, stunned as their expressions gradually turned nasty.

"It's too early to be happy!" Madam Zhou scorned at Wang Xian coldly.

"Let's continue!"

Wang Xian tossed the jade stone in his hand to Mo Qinglong before he picked up the stone that was the size of a head.

"This is the third one. He is not going to have a huge gain, is he?"

"How can he have such good luck? Even a master cannot guarantee he could double or triple the investment for all the stones in three consecutive rounds!"

"He has the luck of the Irish if the same thing happens again!"

The surrounding onlookers stared at Wang Xian as they discussed in whispers.

Madam Zhou and the rest of them fixed their eyes on him as well.

Wang Xian felt funny when he saw the crowd. Without much consideration, he wielded his knife.

"Oops!"

Wang Xian exclaimed with a smile when he shook his head as soon as he saw the grey stone in it.

"The first knife fails!"

"This is normal. How can one have such good luck!" the people around them commented.

"Ha, he thought that Lady Luck is always by his side. What an idiot..."

Just when Madam Zhou was gloating over his misfortune, Wang Xian brought the knife down again!

"How is this possible!" Madam Zhou swallowed her words abruptly as she shrieked.

A hint of immense green was seen.

"Gosh, he got it again. Fu*k, it's a huge gain!"

"All three stones were huge gains. This is fu*king awesome!"

"Gosh, boss. Did you have all the best stones?"

The green one was not too bad. Despite the value not being any higher than those two earlier on, it still could fetch millions of dollars!

"My luck is really good!"

Wang Xian shook his head slowly as he cut the stone open.

"Xiao Xian, you're simply impressive!"

Lan Qingyue ran over exhilaratingly as she gazed at him with admiration.

"Haha, I was wrong. They are the masters. I'm the God of Stone Betting!" Wang Xian chuckled. "Let's go to another stall. We'll make huge money today!"

Wang Xian tossed the jade stone to Mo Qinglong and looked at those urban masters. "Old people, good luck!"

The several old men had their cheeks flushed as they stared at Wang Xian with shaky bodies.

"Hehe!"

Wang Xian laughed sarcastically and proceeded to the next stall.

Madam Zhou and the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect glared at Wang Xian with nasty looks. They gritted their teeth. "Let's follow them!"

Wang Xian came to another stall as he scanned the jade stones. Immediately, he knew everything.

"Boss, give me these seven pieces!"

Wang Xian pointed at seven stones as he instructed the stall owner.

"Are you buying all these? They cost a total of $1.85 million!"

"Bring them over!" Wang Xian said immediately.

"Xiao Xian, aren't you buying too much?" Lan Qingyue hesitated and reminded him when she saw him buying seven pieces of rocks in one shot.

"Qingyue, just you watch!"

Wang Xian smiled at her as he received all the stones.

"He really thinks he can get a huge gain for all the stones he picked?" Madam Zhou looked at Wang Xian and said with a sullen look.

Wang Xian chuckled as soon as he heard that. He picked up a knife and wielded it at the jade stone.

"Tsk, ts, why is it a gain again?" Wang Xian sighed and shook his head pretentiously. Those Stone-betting Masters were totally stunned as they witnessed it themselves.

It's a fu*king gain again! He looks at a stone, buys it, cuts it, and it's a gain! This is godlike!

Fu*king hell...

"It's a gain! Looks like it must be a Middle-class Jade Stone that costs over a million!" Lan Qingyue clapped her hands like a kid and exclaimed.

"This...this future son-in-law of the Lan Family is too... sick!"

Lan Quanfeng widened his eyes with his mouth wide open like a fool as he watched.

"Well, this should be more than a million. Here!"

He tossed the jade stone to Mo Qinglong before he continued. Another cut was done.

"Oops, nothing. It's a loss!"

"My luck is getting poor!"

Wang Xian revealed a smile on his face. Out of seven stones, three of them were gains, and three of them were wastes.

Boom!

However, a commotion erupted around him when he cut the last stone.

"FML. Emerald Gemstone! Such a huge Emerald Gemstone that fu*ing costs a hundred million!"

"This is insane. The first Emerald Gemstone, highest value of a jade stone, was found in this year's Stone-betting Festival!"

'It was already impressive for someone to get a glass stone yesterday. Today, someone actually got an Emerald Gemstone!"

Emerald Gemstone, the most supreme stone among the jade stones. Any one of them could easily fetch at least over ten million.

The one that Wang Xian got was worth at least a hundred million.

"Yes!"

Wang Xian exhibited satisfaction on his face. He held the Emerald Gemstone that was palm-sized and passed it to Mo Qinglong with a smile.

"Gosh, Xiao Xian. You're amazing! Really amazing!"

Lan Qingyue was so excited that she could not help but give Wang Xian a peck.

"Of course!"

Wang Xian grinned. "You don't have to procure the jade stones this year. Just leave it to me!"

"Great, then I'll leave this to you!" Lan Qingyue exclaimed with excitement.

Wang Xian nodded with a smile. "Let's carry on!"

"Okay. Let's continue!"

"How is this possible!"

Madam Zhou stared at Wang Xian with disbelief as she gritted her teeth.

"Madam Zhou, this is bizarre. He's picking up random jade stones, and he already made big bucks from them. This... this is totally illogical!" those Stone-betting Masters said with embarrassment.

They were the top-notch Stone-betting masters in China. Now, a young man had surpassed them totally. This was simply...simply...

"Yes, that fellow is bizarre to earn more than 100 million within a short period. If he continues, he can support the entire Deep-sea Jewelry!" Madam Zhou said with a sullen look.

"If that's the case, whatever plans we have to stop Deep-sea Jewelry from running their business are wasted!" the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect said calmly.

Madam Zhou turned around slowly as she looked at the middle-aged man from Jade Nation with a malevolent face.

When the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect saw the look on Madam Zhou, he knit his eyebrows as a hint of ruthlessness flashed in his eyes!

"Shamala, can you settle something for us?" the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect asked gravely.

"Brother Zhou, the jade stones are ours. We cannot do anything to them since they are not from our country!" Marain understood their intentions immediately as he smiled.

"Okay, when should we strike?"

"Haha, we don't need timing. This is the turf of Shamala. We can strike at any time!" Marain said with nothing to fear.

Chapter 218: You Guys Are Ants In My Territory

Madam Zhou and the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect gave a cold smirk.

Shamala was a top tier Family in the Capital of Jade Nation. The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect met the Leader of the Shamala Family by chance while on a mission.

Because of this, The Zhou Jewelry had been able to rise up rapidly.

Just before this, to take a further step forward, The Zhou Jewelry had allied completely with Lingyue Sect.

Since then, The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect would each receive fifty percent of the profits. As for The Zhou Jewelry, it also made its way to become the strongest jewelry business in the country.

This was the territory of Shamala Family and they were in Jade Nation. It was too easy for them to deal with some external people.

"Hehe. It's a shame that Miracle Doctor Wang has to die so early despite being so incredible!" Madam Zhou said coldly with a smile.

"Deep-sea Jewelry wants to compete with us? They are still a far cry from us!"

The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect laughed.

"Huh? This is...?"

Near the center of the Stone-betting street, Wang Xian stood in front of a stall. Beside him, Mo Qinglong was carrying a huge bag.

There were all kinds of gemstones in the bag.

Adding them together, their value had exceeded $500 million.

And their cost was only slightly above $10 million.

This speed of earning money was truly horrifying.

To prevent others from following them, Wang Xian stopped opening the stones after purchasing them. He was preparing to send them back to be checked in a secured place. This was also to prevent them from attracting too much attention.

Wang Xian looked at the largest stone at the stall he came across.

Using his Piercing Eye, he found the interior of the stone to be extremely creepy.

It wasn't a gemstone in it, nor impurities. It was a sapling, a jade-green sapling.

At the center of the stone, there was a blue liquid. Weird! Extremely weird!

Moreover, Wang Xian found his eyes getting tired and extremely uncomfortable when looking into the stone with his Piercing Eye.

This was the feeling he would get only when he tried to look through some immense power.

However, why would a stone have such immense power?

This might be a treasure! That sapling is able to survive within the stone. It is definitely not simple!

Wang Xian thought to himself as his eyes lit up. He immediately said, "Boss, I'm getting this stone!"

"Alright, sir. It's $2.3 million!"

That owner was thrilled and replied immediately.

Hmm.

Wang Xian didn't say a word and simply reached his hands over to receive the stone.

This stone was much larger than a basketball and weighed thirty to forty catties.

I'll do a thorough examination when I get back! he thought to himself before placing the stone in the bag Mo Qinglong was holding.

"Hello, everyone! It seems like you're having quite a fruitful day!"

At this moment, the voice of the middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect sounded beside them.

"Huh?" Lan Qingyue and Lan Quanfeng turned around and saw that twenty-odd people had suddenly surrounded them.

"What are you guys trying to do now?"

Lan Quanfeng looked at the group of young men from Jade Nation. It was clear that they weren't friendly.

"How dare you guys steal in my territory? You guys must be really daring!"

Marain's eyes lit up when he saw the bag in Mo Qinglong's hand as he remarked sarcastically.

"Steal?"

Lan Quanfeng and Lan Qingyue were shocked. Soon anger raged up.

"Steal? Since when did we steal? Which eyes of yours caught us stealing?" Lan Quanfeng growled angrily.

"When? Just today! The loot is right in the bag you guys are carrying!" Marain smiled.

"I can attest to it!" Madam Zhou said with a smile confidently. "Why did you have to resort to stealing? How shameless!"

"Come with us!" Marain said mockingly.

"Slander! What proof do you have of us stealing? It is clear that we bought these. Moreover, what authority do you have to order us to go with you?" Lan Quanfeng said solemnly.

"The authority comes from being part of the Shamala Family!" Marain replied arrogantly. "And based on the fact that this is our territory!"

"Shamala!"

The owner was shocked when he heard the middle-aged man. He quickly lowered his head and greeted respectfully. "Good afternoon, sir!"

"Shamala? You are from the Shamala Family?"

"Shamala is an exceptionally strong Family in the Capital. This group of people must be eager to die for them to be daring to steal the items of the Shamala Family!"

"Isn't that middle-aged man the one in charge of this place? His standing in Shamala is really high! How did this group of foreigners offend them?"

"This is the territory of the Shamala Family. No one dares to offend the people of Shamala Family in this place!"

Some passersby looked across in shock, and at Marain.

"Madam Zhou, aren't you going a little overboard to accuse us without evidence?" Lan Qingyue said coldly to Madam Zhou and the crowd from Lingyue Sect.

With the strength of their country, the Ancient Martial Arts Families in Jade Nation wouldn't dare to beat them up.

Moreover, the business circle restricted assassination of the other party.

Once a party broke the rules, the party would be penalized.

"You stole the gemstones and it's only natural that they will be confiscated. Moreover, we won't harm you. However..."

The middle-aged man looked at Wang Xian and gave a murderous stare.

"Miracle Doctor Wang is from the Underworld. Hehe. He might suffer some injuries or even death!"

"Haha, Miracle Doctor Wang is really incredible at stone betting! I'm really convinced. However, I've forgotten to tell you that this is my territory!"

Madam Zhou laughed loudly and looked at Wang Xian.

"Shamala?"

Wang Xian turned solemn. He had not expected The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect to link up with the local forces to target them.

Moreover, they were so blatant.

"You guys are no different from robbers!"

Upon hearing them, Lan Qingyue stared coldly and chided them!

"Hehe, brat! You are now in my territory and you should watch your words. Otherwise, it's still fine to teach you a small lesson!" Marain replied coldly.

"Incredible! Incredible! To ally with Shamala Family and frame us directly!"

Wang Xian looked mockingly at Marain and remarked emotionlessly, "Are you sure the Shamala Family would want to go against us? I'm reminding you to think this through!"

"Hahahaha!" Marain laughed loudly. "Brat, I don't have to think about it. So what if we are going against you?"

"Who the hell are you? Using the words from the Chinese, this is the territory of the Shamala Family. Even if you are a dragon, you better stay down in front of us. Even if you are a tiger, you shall bow down in front of us. In my territory, you guys are just like ants!"

"Is it so?" Wang Xian revealed a cold smirk. "I don't like to remain down!"

Wang Xian turned and stared harshly at the people from The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect.

"Since you have chosen this, it's only courteous that I return the favor!"

Chapter 219: Miracle Doctor Wang, Please Give Me Your Order

"Haha, returning a favor? Then I shall wait and see what favors you are going to return us!" Marain looked at Wang Xian and laughed haughtily.

For centuries, since the establishment of Shamala in Jade Nation, they had a strong foundation for over a hundred years. How could a foreigner crush it as he wished?

Shamala had nothing to be afraid of over here!

"Such arrogance. You're insolent when you're on someone else's turf. Seeking your own death!"

The middle-aged man narrowed his eyes and stared at Wang Xian scornfully, "This is not your Rivertown!"

"Heh, five minutes!" Wang Xian took his phone and said without any expressions.

"I'll give you five minutes. After that, you'll find out the consequences!" said Marain sarcastically. He felt funny when he heard the remarks, and could not be bothered by them.

"Xiao Xian, we..." Lan Qingyue walked to Wang Xian and looked at him with worries.

"It's okay. Just wait for five minutes!" Wang Xian beamed at Lan Qingyue.

"They are too powerful. Let me see if I can think of ways!"

Lan Quanfeng was unsure if Wang Xian could find a way to shake them off within five minutes. With panic, he took out a phone and made calls.

"Marain, what are you doing here?" Just then, an old man's voice was heard.

Marain was slightly stunned as he quickly put a smile on his face. He looked at that old man. "Gambling King, they are trivial matters. A few people stole our things, and we're here to nab them. Yet, one of them told me to wait for five minutes. Hehe!"

"Oh?" The old man smiled and nodded. "Someone actually dared to provoke you guys in your territory?"

"Some ignorant people!" Marain laughed and said. Apparently, he was fearful of the old man before him.

"Gambling King! He's the Gambling King!"

"Gambling King of Gambling City who went into seclusion five years ago. Never did I expect him to show up in Jade Nation!"

"I heard the Gambling King has been addicted to gambling his entire life. He's invincible in the Gambling City. After his gambling skill became almost godlike, he was addicted to Stone-betting!"

"Never did I expect Gambling King to be here!"

The people behind Madam Zhou looked at the old man with wonder.

"Senior Gambling King, I'm Zhou Hong from Lingyue Sect!" The middle-aged man from Lingyue Sect greeted the old man before him.

"Mm, carry on with your business. I'm here for fun. Hehe!"

The old man beamed and waved his hand before he looked at Wang Xian and the rest.

Suddenly, the old man paused and stared at Wang Xian. He narrowed his eyes. "You look familiar. You killed Gao Wen, didn't you? And the kids from Jiang Family and Zhu Clan. You did it, right?!"

"Hur?" Wang Xian froze for a moment as he looked at the old man.

The old man stared at Wang Xian with a darkened expression. "Gao Wen is considered half a disciple to me. He's now working for Jiang Family and those kids from Jiang Family and Zhu Clan. You can take your death penalty from the Gambling City!"

"What?"

Everyone around him was stunned as they fixed their eyes on Wang Xian with disbelief.

"Hehe, you even offended the Gambling City. Ignorant fellow!"

Madam Zhou and Zhou Hong from Lingyue Sect had their eyes on Wang Xian as they gloated over his misfortune.

"Gambling King, I didn't know that this fellow offended the Gambling City. He's asking for his own death!" Marain peered over and jeered at him.

"Ignorant indeed. Didn't he stir trouble in the Shamala's territory too?" the old man said with a stern face.

"Old thing, you better watch what you're saying if you want to have a longer life."

Just then, Mo Qinglong, who was standing at the side, glared coldly at him when he heard the old man asking the Dragon King to take his death penalty in Gambling City.

"Hur?" The old man had a slight change in his expression. The aura around him began to alter as he stared at Mo Qinglong.

Mo Qinglong continued with his stare while a black and soul-catching flame flashed in his eyes.

Boom!

Boom!

At this moment, a booming sound was heard abruptly from the sky.

Everyone was shocked as they shifted their attention from Mo Qinglong to the sky.

Helicopters, armed helicopters!

Hundreds of helicopters whirled in the sky, as the sound of the engines echoed through the Stone-betting street.

Woo!

Everyone was peering at the hundreds of helicopters which were 20 meters away from the ground.

At this moment, all the armed elite soldiers slid down from the helicopters.

An old man, at the center position, slid down from the helicopters as he scanned below him with a pair of cold eyes.

When he saw Wang Xian's location, his eyes narrowed.

Pak!

All the armed soldiers landed with weapons in their hands. They were waiting for orders with icy-cold eyes.

The old man landed on the ground and walked towards Wang Xian.

Everyone around was dumbfounded and shocked to witness this.

They did not understand why hundreds of helicopters and armed soldiers were present.

"General Gordanway!"

"Leader of Gordanway!"

The crowd cried out with their eyes wide open when they saw the old man taking majestic steps.

The leader of Gordanway, General Gordanway, the founder of Gordanway Family.

The top figure in Jade Nation.

He was a legendary figure who made his way to the top of the Jade Nation from a nobody.

"Leader of Gordanway!"

Marain was taken aback as he looked at the old man fearfully.

Those who knew the inside stories would understand how powerful this legendary figure was.

Leading a congregation of buddies, this man and his pangolin had built the mighty Gordanway Family.

Over thirty years, the leader of Gordanway and his pangolin had dug up half of Jade Nation.

Less than five people in the entire Jade Nation could compare with the Inborn Experts under him.

Earlier on, he had encountered some issues with his cultivation. As such, all the experts in Jade Nation went to visit him.

Why is he here? Looks like he's fine! Marain pondered to himself.

Just when Marain, Madam Zhou and Zhou Hong were shocked by the line-up, the leader of Gordanway was already walking towards them.

Under everyone's shocking gaze, the leader of Gordanway walked to Wang Xian and lowered himself with respect.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, please give me your order!"

"What?!" Marain could not believe his eyes.

All the people around them were watching in disbelief.

The leader of Gordanway from Jade Nation was bowing to that young man with respect?!

The legendary leader?

"You're fast!" Wang Xian was shocked by his speed as he spoke with a smile.

"Your matter is my priority. I wonder which ignorant fellow offended you?!" The leader of Gordanway wore a smiling face as he spoke.

However, Marain, who saw his smiling face, was trembling in his boots.

Chapter 220: Can't Afford To Offend, Can't Afford To Offend

"This member of the Shamala Family accused us of stealing their jadestone and wanted to teach us a lesson. What an interesting accusation!" Wang Xian said plainly to Marain who was by the side.

When Marain heard Wang Xian, his body shivered. To the astonishment of the surrounding crowd, he went down on his knees and begged, "Leader of Gordanway, I... I didn't know... I didn't know that this man is your..."

"Alright, just get that old man from Shamala Family to explain to me. If he can't explain clearly, just don't let me see him ever again." the Leader of Gordanway looked at Marain and remarked emotionlessly.

Shamala Family was powerful and a top-tier Family in the entire Capital. Claiming this to be the territory of Shamala Family wasn't an exaggeration at all.

However, this was just a city after all. It was just the Capital.

As for the Gordanway Family, one could say that they possessed a similar standing as the Shamala Family throughout the entire Jade Nation.

The differences between the two of them were huge!

"Leader of Gordanway, please forgive me. I'm begging you to forgive me. I was wrong. Please!"

Marain kowtowed to the leader of Gordanway constantly in horror.

If he were to ask the leader of the Shamala Family to explain, without a doubt, he would be sent to the leader of Gordanway as a corpse.

"Scram!" The leader of Gordanway saw Marain and chided coldly.

"No..." Marain's eyes were filled with despair. He kneeled in front of Wang Xian and begged, "Your Honor! Please let me go. Please forgive me. Ignorance isn't a fault. I beg you!" [\[1\]](#)

"Oh, you know ignorance isn't a fault? It seems like you understand Chinese idioms pretty well. Hehe. What a shame! We are in Jade Nation and Jade Nation doesn't have this line!"

Wang Xian looked mockingly at Marain. "Didn't you say that you would show me the outcome? What's the matter now? You meant this outcome?"

"No..."

Bam!

A warrior saw Marain remain on the floor begging for forgiveness. Therefore, he walked straight over and kicked him in the head. After which, he dragged him away.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I'll give you a satisfactory answer for this!"

The leader of Gordanway gave his promise to Wang Xian.

"I'll just leave him to you. Oh right!"

As Wang Xian was speaking, he turned to the people from The Zhou Jewelry and Lingyue Sect. He gave them a cold smirk before adding, "Leader of Gordanway, do you have a say on the jadestone trade of this place?"

"The trading of jadestone and similar activities are mainly in the control of the Shamala Family and a few other families. However, I have the same authority over these!" the leader of Gordanway replied with a smile.

"That's great. In that case, I'd like the leader of Gordanway to do me a favor by stopping all trade with The Zhou Jewelry in the future. On top of it, please help Deep-sea Jewelry get in contact with the respective families so as to discuss further collaboration!" Wang Xian said heartily.

"Not a problem. These are just some small matters!"

The leader of Gordanway nodded his head, turned to Madam Zhou and the group from Lingyue Sect and said emotionlessly, "Ban them from entering Jade Nation in the future."

"And expel them right now!" the leader of Gordanway said and gestured to the warriors around him.

"Get out of Jade Nation immediately!"

In that instant, a dozen warriors pointed their weapons at them and shouted coldly.

At this moment, Madam Zhou and the group from Lingyue Sect was completely stunned and embarrassed.

They had never expected a phone call from that juvenile to summon more than a hundred helicopters over in less than five minutes.

Moreover, his background was so strong that it sent chills down their spines.

They had heard of the reputation of the leader of Gordanway too. Yet, an existence of such status was so respectful towards him.

How... How could this be possible?

"Banning jadestone tradesl with The Zhou Jewelry?"

Madam Zhou shivered as she got flustered and terrified.

Banning The Zhou Jewelry from the trade of jadestone would be equivalent to chopping off their arms. How were they going to compete with the Deep-sea Jewelry in the future?

"Scram! Otherwise, we won't be courteous!"

A warrior chided coldly at Madam Zhou and the group from Lingyue Sect.

"Let's go, let's go!"

Zhou Hong from Lingyue Sect turned around bitterly. To be expelled from the Jade Nation and restricted from entering ever again was the greatest humiliation he ever received.

Pfft!

At this moment, a soft voice sounded from the side.

"So powerful! So powerful!"

The Gambling King from Gambling City wiped the blood off the edge of his mouth with his arm. He looked in shock at Mo Qinglong as fear flashed past his eyes.

In the clash of aura during the exchange of gazes, he threw out blood directly from the pressure he felt.

He was the strongest existence in Gambling City and an Inborn expert. Yet he was injured in the clash of the aura.

"Hey old fool. Don't act tough when you speak. It might just cost you your life!" Mo Qinglong said emotionlessly to the old man.

The old man was surprised and didn't say a further word. He took a glance at the leader of Gordanway talking to Wang Xian and was even more shocked.

"Can't afford to offend. We really can't afford to offend. No wonder he could sink the cruise of the Jiang Family and kill that brat from the Zhu Clan of the Jiang Family without reserve!"

Puff!

He took a deep breath and looked at Mo Qinglong again. This horrifying expert that even he was wary of turned around and left briefly.

"Hey!"

The Gambling King took out his phone and made a call briefly.

"Gambling King, what are your instructions?"

The Gambling City within the country was one of the four largest gambling cities in the world. In a grandly renovated casino, an old man answered the phone respectfully.

Despite being in a different country, this old man was still very cautious and respectful. From this, one could tell the influence of the Gambling King.

"Just forget about the incident of Gao Wen and your grandson. That Miracle Doctor Wang isn't simple!" the Gambling King said emotionlessly before hanging up directly without a second word.

"Forget it?"

The old man held the phone in his hand blankly as his expression changed.

"Forget about the billion dollar cruise and the life of my grandson just like this?"

The old man was bitter. However, the instructions were given by the Gambling King and he had to be cautious with them.

"Should I just give up like this?"

The old man was unwilling to. His eyes flickered as he picked up the phone and contacted the old man from the Zhu Clan.

...

"Xiao Xian... You... You..."

When the leader of Gordanway left, Lan Qingyue stared at Wang Xian, feeling stunned and speechless.

A phone call and five minutes!

And the highest existence in Gordanway rushed over with a hundred helicopters.

A request and The Zhou Jewelry was restricted from stepping into Jade Nation and restricted from getting any jadestone.

A request and the Deep-sea Jewelry would become the most loyal working partner with the Jade Nation.

Everything seemed so simple to the point that Lan Qingyue found it unbelievable.

She recalled the Gambling King from Gambling City who left spewing blood, and the sunken cruise on the seas previously.

The man, who was younger than him, seemed to possess unrivalled capabilities!

Lan Quanfeng, who was standing by the side, was equally dumbfounded. His hand, which was carrying his phone, was shivering a little.

He made a call to look for a contact in Jade Nation. The answer he received from his contact was that he was completely helpless, and that he couldn't offend the Shamala Family, and Lan Quanfeng was on his own.

Yet, to his astonishment, the future son-in-law of the Lan Family was able to get the top-tier force in the entire Jade Nation to help him with just a single call.

This was even more shocking than annihilating the Liu Family previously!

Chapter 221: Glowing Like a Goddess

"Who are they to summon the leader of Gordanway and his troops here personally?"

"He must have formidable backings. Could he be the Young Master of some Chinese supreme-class families?"

"How scary. This time, Shamala Family has hit a snag!"

When the spectators around them saw the departure of the leader of Gordanway, they began to peer over the other side and whisper among themselves.

"Let's continue."

Wang Xian spotted Lan Qingyue's shocked look, so he stroked her head gently.

"Gosh, Xiao Xian. You're way too impressive. You actually summoned the leader of Gordanway over."

"Without the channel in Jade Nation, the Zhou Jewelry will not be the match of Deep-sea Jewelry in the future!"

"Xiao Xian, thank you. How about this? When I go back, I'll have a board meeting, and I'll distribute you some shares!"

Lan Qingyue was animated as she grabbed Wang Xian's arm and rattled on non-stop.

Wang Xian chuckled, "Forget it. I'm not interested in this. Oh, I'll pass the jade stones to you later on. Qingyue, help me get some gold and silver bricks with that. The more, the merrier."

"Gold and silver bricks? Sure, leave this to me!" said Lan Qingyue with a smile without asking anything further.

Currently, the Dragon Palace required 100 tons of gold, 100,000 of silver, 1 million tons of bronze, 10,000 tons of fine iron, 1 million tons of coral reefs, 1 ton of five colors of gemstones each, and 1 ton of Spiritual Stones.

He had collected 23 tons of gold, around 100 tons of silver, 5 tons of bronze, and 100 tons of fine iron. No progress on coral reefs and five colors of gemstones had been made yet, but he had managed to collect one-tenth of the Spiritual Stones.

On the whole, Wang Xian lacked many things. He needed to find coral reefs and five colors of gemstones in the sea.

Coral reefs were common though.

After touring the Stone-betting street once, about 500 stones were collected in two of Mo Qinglong's bags.

If Wang Xian cut out all the stones, he believed their value would not be less than two billion.

"Let's find a hotel and rest. My uncle and I will be discussing the jade stones' partnership with a few companies tomorrow. You don't have to follow me!"

After a busy day, Wang Xian and Lan Qingyue checked into a hotel in the evening.

"Sure. I'll get some rest tomorrow at the hotel!" Wang Xian smiled and said.

"Yes, we should be departing for China tomorrow afternoon. Get some rest!"

After dinner, Wang Xian chatted with Lan Qingyue for a while before he returned to his room.

"I wonder...what's that sapling in the stone?"

When Wang Xian returned to his room, he took out the stone that he had bought from the stall and observed it with amazement.

"Let me open it!"

He held the rock in his hand and began to apply force.

"Hur? I can't even break this stone, even with my current strength?!"

Wang Xian was shocked. He thought of the time when his eyes ached after staring at it with his Piercing Eyes. He knit his eyebrows and punched hard on that stone.

The stone remained unmoved.

Buzz.

At the same time, Wang Xian's phone suddenly rang. Feeling doubtful, he placed the stone aside for the time being.

"Hello, Miracle Doctor Guang Hua? Is there anything?" Wang Xian picked up the phone and asked puzzledly.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I'm sorry to disturb you at this hour. Where are you now?" asked Miracle Doctor Guang Hua in panic.

"I'm at the Oye International Hotel. What's the matter, Miracle Doctor Guang Hua? Is anything wrong?" Upon hearing his tonality, Wang Xian hurriedly asked.

"My most junior disciple is in trouble. It's complicated. I would like you to come over and take a look!" said Miracle Doctor Guang Hua anxiously.

"Your most junior disciple?" Wang Xian was slightly stunned as he thought of Doctor Sun. Immediately, he asked, "Where are you now? I'll be right over."

"I'll send you an address!"

"It's not far!"

Wang Xian looked at the map and rushed over to Miracle Doctor Guang Hua's place.

Wang Xian arrived at a hotel ten minutes later. He headed directly to the Presidential Suite on the highest floor.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, you're here!"

It was a disciple of Miracle Doctor Guang Hua who opened the door. When he saw his arrival, he quickly led him into the room.

Wang Xian saw Doctor Sun lying on the sofa after he entered the living room.

Guang Hua, beside her, was poking her with a silver needle non-stop.

Wang Xian noticed that Miracle Doctor Guang Hua's clothes were in bits and pieces. Apparently, this was after a fight.

"What's going on? What happened?"

Wang Xian went over and saw Doctor Sun, whose entire body was as white as snow.

Her entire body was a milk color, exuding a faint luster. Not even a drop of blood was flowing in her body.

She was as white as snow, glowing just like a goddess!

"Miracle Doctor Blood Man did this!"

Miracle Doctor Guang Hua lifted his chin and looked at Wang Xian with a worn-out face.

"Xiao Xiu went back to the room in the evening. Subsequently, I didn't find her inside, but there were signs of a struggle in the room. I traced it and found Xiao Xiu lying on the ground in a mountain. Miracle Doctor Blood Man was battling with the Holy Priest. I got her back, but I realized all her blood had been sucked!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua darkened his expression as he spoke.

"All her blood was sucked?" Wang Xian's heart sank as he walked to Doctor Sun immediately. With his Piercing Eyes, her perfect figure was exposed under his vision.

He scanned inside Doctor Sun's body and realized there was not a single drop of blood in it. Yet, unique white-colored energy was maintaining her vitality.

"This? Her heart is not beating, yet she maintained her vitality. How did you do it, Miracle Doctor Guang Hua?"

Wang Xian was shocked as he squatted down. With all the blood sucked dry, Doctor Sun should have been dead immediately. But yet, she was still alive.

If the white-colored energy completely disappeared, she would die immediately at such a state.

"I don't have this ability!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua shook his head bitterly, "I guess this is her unique constitution. When I first met her, I found her special, as though she was carrying bright energy with her. She's suitable to be a doctor. She gave me a similar feeling to the Holy Priest. Hence, I accepted her as my disciple."

"Miracle Doctor Wang, I asked you here to see if you have ways to treat my disciple."

"Her blood was sucked dry, and her vitality is maintained by special energy. Once this energy disappears, she will die. Besides, she would reject other blood given her current state." Guang Hua continued to say, "I can only slow down the energy consumption through acupuncture. But I don't think this will last any longer!"

Wang Xian nodded and grabbed Doctor Sun's arm. A stream of Wood Energy entered her body.

Boom!

The moment Wang Xian's wood energy entered Doctor Sun's body, the white-colored glowing energy intensified in her body.

It was as hot as the sun!

Chapter 222: The Female Light Divine Dragon

"This... This..."

When Miracle Doctor Guang Hua saw his disciple emitting a brilliant light, he was shocked.

"Junior sister looks so holy and pure!"

The white-shirt young man by the side was dumbfounded and simply stared blankly at Doctor Sun who was on the sofa.

Her current pure and beautiful looks were similar to the records of Holy Goddesses in mythology!

Seeing Doctor Sun emitting radiant light, Wang Xian was stunned. He started observing her body carefully.

Pure and flawless, fair without impurities! Even her eight extraordinary meridians have no signs of blockage at all!

Inborn Constitution! This is what a real Inborn Constitution is!

Wang Xian looked at Doctor Sun's body in shock.

Pure and flawless! This wasn't the Inborn Constitution created using dragon energy by Wang Xian, but a naturally-formed Inborn Constitution.

And there's unique white-colored energy of the light attribute around her. No, it can't be!

Wang Xian squinted his eyes and recalled the time when he had encountered the Five Elements Stone Plate.

Five Elements Source Stone was the Origin Sources of the five attributes. The light that Doctor Sun was emitting currently was almost identical to the energy emitted by the Five Elements Origin Sources.

Origin Source Constitution? This is comparable to the Divine Dragon's bloodline! Why would this appear on Earth!

Wang Xian's eyes popped open.

When looking at races in the universe, one could look at bloodline or constitution. The Divine Dragon's bloodline was the bloodline of the highest level. As for Origin Source Constitution, it was the Constitution of the highest level.

"I would never have expected this!"

Wang Xian's eyes flickered. However, Doctor Sun's blood had been sucked dry. I have to inject fresh blood into her. However, the Origin Source Constitution will reject an ordinary bloodline!

Wang Xian hesitated for a moment before squeezing out a drop of essence blood from his hand.

He dripped the blood onto Doctor Sun and directed it slowly into where her heart was.

Thump!

At this moment, her heart beat. A concentrated stream of dragon energy entered the heart of Doctor Sun.

Thump, thump, thump!

Not good. This won't work unless I inject all my blood into Doctor Sun's body.

Wang Xian frowned instantly. He wanted to use his blood as a starter and rely on the blood creation ability of the heart to restore blood in Doctor Sun. However, things weren't as simple as he had thought.

"Her heart's blood creation ability isn't sufficient. Although her Constitution is exceptional, she is still an ordinary person. She has not even contacted Ancient Martial Arts previously!"

Wang Xian frowned and pondered.

"How is it? Is there nothing Miracle Doctor Wang can do?"

Guang Hua saw the light disappearing and commented bitterly.

"I can give it a try but I have to get back to the country!" Wang Xian recalled something and said to Guang Hua.

"Phew! Are you confident, Miracle Doctor Wang?" Guang Hua frowned and asked.

"Rest assured, it shouldn't be a problem. I can still maintain her vitality at this moment!" Wang Xian said with a smile.

"That's great, that's great! Miracle Doctor Wang's medical skills are indeed incredible. There's nothing I could have done!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua shook his head and sighed emotionally.

"I will also need to rely on some spiritual medicine." Wang Xian shook his head and continued, "Do you want to hand Doctor Sun to me or would Miracle Doctor Guang Hua prefer to go to Rivertown with me?"

"I'll go to Rivertown with you. Although I have just accepted this disciple, she has only encountered this catastrophe because she followed me. If I can't see her recovery, I won't be at ease!" Miracle Doctor Guang Hua replied.

"Hmm, alright. We will head back tomorrow afternoon. At that time, we can travel together."

"Alright, Miracle Doctor Wang!"

On the second morning, Lan Qingyue and Lan Quanfeng went to negotiate the details of the collaboration. As for Wang Xian, he continued his examination of that stone.

In the afternoon, the group took a plane back to Flow City.

"Xiao Xian, I have told Guan Shuqing about you helping to treat the disciple of Miracle Doctor Guang Hua. Don't harbor other ideas!"

When the two of them were about to separate, Lan Qingyue took a glance at Doctor Sun, who was on the stretcher, and warned Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was speechless and found it hilarious. Nonetheless, he nodded his head and commented, "I'm a doctor!"

Tsk!

After giving a cold sneer and rolling her eyes at Wang Xian, Lan Qingyue pouted and left.

Wang Xian shook his head and looked to Miracle Doctor Guang Hua. "Miracle Doctor Guang Hua, send Doctor Sun to my place!"

"Alright!"

After sending Doctor Sun to Wang Xian's villa, Miracle Doctor Guang Hua sat around for a little while before leaving with his disciples.

Wang Xian looked at Doctor Sun, who slept silently on the bed like a holy goddess, before taking a glance at the time.

Let's go get that thing over! Wang Xian thought in his mind.

He went to the top floor of the villa, removed his clothes and jumped into the sea.

Roar!

He swayed his tail and swam towards the coral region of Bohai Sea rapidly.

Swish swish swish!

Along the way, Prime Minister Turtle, Roving Heavens, Roving Lobster and Roving Girl joined in and followed behind him.

After half an hour, Wang Xian arrived at the coral region once again.

That was the dangerous territory of the Devil Flowers.

Devil Flowers: Level 12

Extractable Dragon Energy from the flower sac: 1,112,343

Looking at the giant Devil Flowers ahead of him, Wang Xian turned serious.

The Level 12 Devil Flowers were the strongest marine animals in the entire Bohai Sea.

Wang Xian could only choose to avoid it when he encountered it previously. However, with his current strength, he definitely could defeat it.

"Restrict all the tentacles of the Devil Flowers and kill it!" Wang Xian instructed his subordinates.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

"Attack!"

Wang Xian shifted his body and turned into a golden dragon of the metal attribute. He immediately attacked the flower petals using his razor-sharp claws.

Swish swish swish!

At the instant Wang Xian launched his attack, hundreds of tentacles wrapped towards Wang Xian.

Weng!

Boom!

At this moment, Roving Heavens and Prime Minister Turtle also acted. They immediately attacked the various tentacles.

Wang Xian grabbed towards the huge petal with his dragon claws.

With the powers from the entire Dragon Palace and Wang Xian's level increment, the Devil Flowers were slowly being ripped apart.

The tentacles were being chopped off one after another.

"It's done!"

Wang Xian reached downwards and pulled up a huge flower sac.

"I can get more than a million points of dragon energy if I devour it. It seems like I have to let Doctor Sun repay this slowly in the future!"

Wang Xian shifted and swam back towards his villa.

His subordinates dispersed to the surroundings and continued with their cultivation practice.

Splash!

Back in his room, Wang Xian noted that Xiao Yu had not returned. He went into the room where Doctor Sun was.

Extractable Dragon Energy from the flower sac is 1,112,343. It could restore and strengthen one's heart. This flower sac is equivalent to a Level 12 spiritual medicine. Its effects are definitely insane! Wang Xian thought in his heart. He looked at Doctor Sun and slowly slipped the flower sac into her mouth.

With a thought, the flower sac turned into liquid and entered her body.

In that instant, her body glowed in glorious white light and her heart started beating violently.

With Wang Xian's blood as a trigger, drop after drop of blood was being created.

Blood of the divine dragon was being created and slowly flowed into her body and limbs.

Wang Xian looked at Doctor Sun and hesitated for a moment. With a thought, he injected the Cultivation Arts of the Light Divine Dragon into her mind.

The current Doctor Sun had completely shaken off the bloodline of a human and was metamorphosing into the bloodline of the divine dragon.

This form of bloodline was not something the dragonians couldn't compete with.

A female Light Divine Dragon!

Chapter 223: Progenitor Tree

Gagaga!

"I finally reached Prince Realm! What exhilarating and mighty energy!" [\[1\]](#)

Back on the other side of the world, Miracle Doctor Blood Man was roaring with excitement in the basement of a castle in Europe.

Massive energy including oppression, darkness, terror, and the power to conceal sun and moon exuded from his body!

...

"Brother, Sister-in-law is here too. We're here to check if you're hiding any woman!"

Just when Wang Xian was staring at Doctor Sun, Xiao Yu's exclamation was heard from the outside.

He was stunned, and the door swung open immediately.

Three girls, Xiao Yu, Guan Shuqing, and Elder Fang went inside.

"Wow!"

Three of them stared at Doctor Sun on the bed with amazement in their eyes.

Her pure and flawless face made her look just like a holy goddess.

Her perfect figure was envied by all the girls.

She was a goddess that could make countless men go crazy for her.

Even when Elder Fang looked at her, she could not hide her astonishment.

"No wonder Qingyue sent me a message to get me here!"

Guan Shuqing stared blankly at Doctor Sun as she whispered.

"Wow, Brother. Where did you get this stunning beauty from? She's so ravishing, pure and holy!"

That was her disposition. Doctor Sun, who was lying on the bed, was giving off a glow just like a goddess. This would make most of the girls ashamed of themselves.

"Eh, she's the disciple of Miracle Doctor Guang Hua and used to be a doctor from our city hospital. Something happened to her, so she needed treatment!"

Wang Xian looked at them and quickly explained.

"Hmph, you used to give treatments only in the medical hall. That's where you get your 'Mad Doctor' nickname from. But now, you brought a patient back home just because she's a beauty."

Guan Shuqing glared at him angrily.

"Ahem, this is a special case. Her sickness is quite complicated even when I'm the one treating her. I don't know when she can wake up!"

Wang Xian explained again. Immediately, he fished out pieces of jade jewelry from his pocket.

"Pigeon Blood Ruby. I bought this from Jade Nation especially for you!"

Wang Xian pressed near Guan Shuqing with a smiling face as he took out an exquisite necklace and passed it to her.

"Hehe, that's more like it!"

Guan Shuqing was pleased as she held the necklace up and gazed at it with love.

"Brother..."

At this time, Wang Xian heard Xiao Yu's displeased voice.

"Hehe, how could I forget about my beloved sister?"

Wang Xian laughed and took out another piece of jewelry. Then, he turned to Elder Fang and said, "Elder Fang, here's yours. Everyone gets one!"

"Thank you!" Elder Fang smiled as she received the jewelry from Wang Xian.

"Shuqing, you've been practicing with Xiao Yu for a few days. How's your cultivation?" Wang Xian asked Guan Shuqing with concern.

When Guan Shuqing found out about Xiao Yu's cultivation, she was tempted to try too. Hence, Wang Xian got Elder Fang to guide her as well.

"I'm a Level 5 Martial Artist now. Am I awesome?" Guan Shuqing said animatedly.

"So fast?" Wang Xian was stunned as he asked with consternation.

"Brother, you don't know how crazy Sister-in-law is. She's even faster than I am now. I started my cultivation a dozen days ahead of her, and I'm only at Level 6. It was also the Spiritual Medicine that I took which got me this far!"

Xiao Yu went along with her words with a surprised look.

Wang Xian looked over with an astonished look as Elder Fang nodded her head slowly. Apparently, she was also shocked by the cultivation speed of Guan Shuqing. She was simply too crazy.

"Are you that powerful?"

Wang Xian was somewhat surprised, as he had not unblocked all the eight extraordinary meridians in her. Yet, her cultivation was much faster than Xiao Yu.

"Heh heh, that's my ability!"

Guan Shuqing lifted her chin complacently as she replied joyously.

Wang Xian smiled and nodded. "That's true. Shuqing, you're the best!"

"You've got a wife, so you forget all about your sister!"

Xiao Yu, next to him, rolled her eyes at him.

"By the way, did you see the Spiritual Medicines on the rooftop? That Fish Secretion Grass? You can use it if it's useful for your cultivation," said Wang Xian to Xiao Yu.

"Yes, I saw it. When Sect Leader Tang sent some Spiritual Medicines to me the other day, he was dumbfounded." Xiao Yu chuckled.

After Wang Xian was gone, Xiao Yu came to the rooftop for her cultivation every day.

When she went up with her master for the first time, they were stunned for five minutes after seeing the Spiritual Medicines.

The Level 4 Spiritual Beads and the Level 5 Spiritual Medicine, Fish Secretion Grass contained immense spiritual strength.

Sect Leader Tang found Level 2 Spiritual Medicine after some hard work. Hence, he brought them over. In the end, he was so embarrassed that he put his Spiritual Medicine away when he saw the Spiritual Grass lying around on the rooftop.

Thinking back, Xiao Yu found it extremely funny.

"If it benefits your cultivation, just use it. You don't have to save it for me. Elder Fang, you can use it to enhance your strength too!" said Wang Xian to them.

Elder Fang gave a bitter smile. It was Level 5 Spiritual Medicine -- even her Sect Leader swallowed mouthfuls of saliva when he saw it. He also stared at it with a shaky body for half a day, not to mention her.

Yet, the Spiritual Medicine was placed on the rooftop just like some weed. It was a total waste of resources.

They were chatting and laughing as they came to the living room. Elder Fang went to the kitchen to cook dinner.

After dinner, Wang Xian pulled Guan Shuqing into the room for a 'chat.'

Their moaning was so loud that Elder Fang jerked her body slightly with flickering eyes on the second floor.

But Wang Xian missed the fiery flame flashing in Guan Shuqing's eyes during their intercourse.

Three hours later, Guan Shuqing pleaded with him to stop. Wang Xian came to the rooftop of the villa to enjoy the cold breeze while sobering himself up.

"I shall check out this thing then!"

Wang Xian picked up the stone beside him. It was the same stone he'd bought from Jade Nation.

There was no way he could break the stone in his human form.

Wang Xian took the stone and leaped into the sea.

Roar!

With a soft growl, Wang Xian turned into a Divine Dragon. He immediately scratched the stone with his dragon claws.

Ka Ka Ka!

Finally, the stone cracked under his mighty force.

[Ding. A sapling of a Progenitor Tree was found. Do you want to plant it in your body?]

The moment the stone cracked open, he felt a gust of green aura coming at him. The system notification prompted him at the same time.

Wang Xian was stunned for a moment. But without further ado, he agreed.

[The sapling of the Progenitor Tree is planted. You may absorb the Azure Dragon Energy!]

The system notification was heard again. At that instant, Wang Xian felt a strong suction in his body that seemed to be sucking all the vitality he had in his body.

His facial expression changed slightly as he quickly closed his eyes. He began to meditate so that he could control the suction to absorb all the Dragon Energy in the world.

One hour. Five hours. Ten hours.

Wang Xian sat with his legs crossed in the ocean quietly without moving.

"This won't do. This is a fu*king endless pit. I must go for a retreat to suck the sapling of the Progenitor Tree dry!"

After twelve hours, Wang Xian opened his eyes and spoke with a grumpy look.

He immediately returned to the villa and quickly explained to Guan Shuqing and Xiao Yu about his plan before he went back to his room.

Retreat!

Chapter 224: One Month

One day, two days, three days...

Wang Xian didn't know how long he had been cultivating. Only through constant cultivation practice could he barely keep up with the absorption of that damn sapling of the Progenitor Tree.

Guan Shuqing, Xiao Yu and Lan Qingyue would come over to take a look at Wang Xian, who was sitting with his legs crossed in his room, from time to time.

If it wasn't for Wang Xian emitting dense vitality and reminders from Mo Qinglong who stayed beside Wang Xian, they would probably have sent Wang Xian to the hospital.

On the 25th day, Doctor Sun woke up.

When she opened her eyes, the image of a Light Divine Dragon flickered and a horrifying pressure emitted from her body.

Xiao Yu and Guan Shuqing asked Doctor Sun to go home first but were rejected by her.

She stayed within the villa and within Wang Xian's room the entire day while looking blankly at Wang Xian.

From time to time, she would use a towel to clean his face. While doing so, she always wore a blissful expression which might have been due to having the same bloodline as Wang Xian.

Her body emitted a kind of holiness and nobility that made one feel that this woman shouldn't exist in the mortal realm.

Doctor Sun's persistence and gentleness made Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue feel a strong sense of danger. However, Doctor Sun was treating them very kindly.

This made them a little speechless.

In the room of Wang Xian a month later.

Doctor Sun stared at Wang Xian with a blissful smile while Mo Qinglong stood at his side deferentially.

When he looked at Doctor Sun, it was with respect and fear.

"Phew! It's finally not absorbing anymore!"

At this moment, Wang Xian opened his eyes and heaved a sigh.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, you are awake!"

A pleasant voice sounded beside his ears. Wang Xian was slightly stunned and looked over.

An exquisite and perfect face appeared in front of him. Her bright eyes were staring intensely at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian was taken aback. Sensing the dramatic change in her aura and the even more beautiful Doctor Sun, he revealed a faint smile and exclaimed, "Doctor Sun, you are awake!"

"Yeah, thank you, Miracle Doctor Wang. You can just call me Lingxiu. Don't call me Doctor Sun!"

Sun Lingxiu had the smile of a goddess. When she saw Wang Xian getting up, she immediately reached over to help him up.

"It's alright, I can do it myself!" Wang Xian immediately replied. However, Sun Lingxiu still kept a warm smile, looking intensely at him and helping him up.

An alluring scent floated by, making Wang Xian a little aroused.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, shoes!"

Sun Lingxiu picked up the shoes on the floor and wanted to put them on for him!

What the...!

Wang Xian looked blankly at Sun Lingxiu. She was holy like a goddess and wore a white shirt. Her perfect figure was much better than Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

It was especially so for the vibes from her body. Even Wang Xian felt inferior to her in this aspect.

Someone like her was going to put on shoes for him?

"It's fine. Let me do it myself. I can do it myself!" Wang Xian interrupted immediately.

"It's alright. Miracle Doctor Wang saved my life. This is something I should do!"

Sun Lingxiu shook her head and squatted down.

Wang Xian couldn't take it. He grabbed his shoes quickly and put them on.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, let me make you some food. You have not eaten for a long time!" Sun Lingxiu replied with a smile before walking out of the room.

Wang Xian's jaw dropped and he looked to Mo Qinglong who was beside him. He felt confused and asked, "Old Mo, what happened?"

Mo Qinglong shook his head and answered, "Young Master, I don't know either. Since Miss Sun woke up, she has been staying by your side."

"Moreover..." Mo Qinglong hesitated for a moment before continuing, "Miss Sun is really strong now. In fact, she's even stronger than me. I can sense Young Master's vibes from her. I believe that this is because of the bloodline."

Bloodline!

Wang Xian sank into thought. There's a saying that goes along with the idea that blood is thicker than water. [\[1\]](#)

The blood within Sun Lingxiu was from him and they shared a common root and source.

This was similar to Wang Xian's future child who would inherit his bloodline. It was just that Sun Lingxiu had inherited it by a different method. Therefore, Sun

Lingxiu would develop a unique affection for him.

This type of unique feelings together with her admiration and love for Wang Xian from previous occasions made these feelings even stronger than before.

"It seems like things have gone beyond my expectations!"

Wang Xian had initially thought of curing her and raising her to be a great Miracle Doctor. In that case, there would be someone helping him earn money, and he wouldn't be that busy in the future.

Forget it. Let's just take a step at a time. However, Sun Lingxiu still has to stay with me at this moment, Wang Xian thought to himself. After which, he looked to Mo Qinglong and asked, "How long have I been practicing behind closed doors?"

"A month, Young Master. Some things happened during the month!" answered Mo Qinglong.

"So long? Speak. What happened?" Wang Xian asked curiously.

"First, Young Master's ranking on the Miracle Doctors Chart has increased to eighth. Many people have invited Young Master to take a look at their illnesses. Second, assassins from the Sneaky Thorn Organization were sent to assassinate Young Master recently. The Sneaky Thorn Organization has now been annihilated by seven dragonians. The seven of them have established the Abyss, an assassin organization, and returned to their previous occupations. The Abyss received news from the Sneaky Thorn Organization that the one who issued the mission was from the Gambling City. They are now assassinating the higher management of Gambling City. An Inborn expert has been assassinated by Abyss and the name of Abyss is now known throughout the Underworld!" Mo Qinglong smiled and explained to Wang Xian.

"Oh, is it? That's great. Establishing an assassination organization in less than a month! However, inform them to only kill those who deserve it. We don't have to be the embodiment of justice but we can't be too evil!" replied Wang Xian with a smile.

Based on the cultivation pace of the fifty dragonians, they should be Martial Artist Level 9 by now. Those who were diligent might have even reached the stage of Half-step to Inborn.

Previously, the fifty dragonians could have reached the Inborn Realm if they practiced behind closed doors for a hundred days. However, they were now acting outside. Therefore, the time required to reach the Inborn Realm might have been extended a little.

Nonetheless, fifty dragonians were definitely able to cause a storm in the Underworld.

"Yes, Young Master. The fifty dragonians managed to earn 500 spiritual stones in a month!" Mo Qinglong answered.

"It seems like my previous decision was correct!"

Wang Xian smiled and stretched his body. "I haven't been out for a month. It's time to relax a little.

He had been behind closed doors for a while. Feeling the little sapling in his body, Wang Xian had the urge to spew blood.

The little sapling was known as the Progenitor Tree. The name sounded cool and the fact that it could merge with his body was impressive. However, it didn't seem to have any effects at all.

The only information about the Progenitor Tree was [The Ancestor of All Wood]. As to its effects, he had no clues at all.

This made him speechless. A month of cultivation practice behind closed doors and all he got was a little sapling that he did not know the use of.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, have something to eat!"

At this moment, the voice of Sun Lingxiu sounded from outside the room. Her voice was as sweet as a bird and made one's heart skipped a beat.

"Alright, thank you!"

Wang Xian walked out of the room. When he saw dishes of delicacies placed on the dining table, he quickened his pace down the stairs.

"You don't have to thank me. I'm just repaying the debt of gratitude!" Sun Lingxiu said to Wang Xian with a smile.

Chapter 225: Back to School

"If the food doesn't taste good, let me know, and I'll do it again!"

Sun Lingxiu sat opposite Wang Xian as she looked at him with a smiling face.

There was a faint smile on a fair and flawless face. Staring at her holy look seemed almost a disrespectful act.

Wang Xian was uncomfortable with her gaze. With slight hesitation, he asked, "Lingxiu, just call me Wang Xian. How's your cultivation progress going?"

"I think I'll still call you Xiao Xian since it is more cordial," Sun Lingxiu tilted her head slightly and beamed. "I'm at the 5th Divine Dragon Transformation, but I don't think I can transform into a Divine Dragon yet."

When Wang Xian saw her adorable look that was inconsistent with her holy appearance, he received a significant impact due to the stark contrast.

"Probably, it was not the right time yet!"

Sun Lingxiu was, after all, not a real Dragon Race. If she wanted to become a dragon, she would need an evolution process.

Hence, she was not an authentic female Divine Dragon yet.

"From now on, you can just follow me. I'll leave the Divine Dragon Medical Hall in your hands!"

Wang Xian hesitated before he spoke. Part of the reason he spent tremendous effort to treat her was because of the Divine Dragon Medical Hall.

"Really, Xiao Xian?"

A hint of excitement flashed in Sun Lingxiu's eyes. "The Light Divine Dragon Transformation which I'm cultivating can cleanse any impurities through the Light Energy. It is quite effective too. Given my current strength, I'm confident in treating some terminal diseases!"

"Okay, I'm kinda lazy. I'll leave Divine Dragon Medical Hall to you from now on!" Wang Xian smiled and nodded. "But you need to let Miracle Doctor Guang Hua know about this."

"I got this. Master is very kind to me. I'll tell him about it later!"

Sun Lingxiu nodded. Miracle Doctor Guang Hua could no longer guide her in her current medical skills.

"Okay."

Wang Xian smiled and took out his phone to check the time. He realized it was noon.

In addition, he had received many messages which included some from the school counselor from the school. The counselor sent him dozens of messages.

The school counselor sounded angry and anxious in his last message.

[You'll be expelled if you don't come back to school!]

Wang Xian revealed a bitter smile. His attendance for classes did not exceed ten days ever since the new semester began.

Earlier on, he had applied for a month's vacation, but it was already over.

Besides, he may have been a well-known figure in Rivertown, but not many people in school knew about it.

All the more, the school counselors were going nuts about it. They would deduct credits as long as he was absent.

Apart from his school counselor's messages, there were dozens of Wang Dahai's calls and messages. He was asking about his whereabouts and why he was not there for classes.

Then he stopped asking ten days ago. Probably he had heard about Wang Xian's updates from Xiao Yu.

Then, it was Old Qin and Old Xue's messages. Wang Xian replied to them one by one.

Let's go back to school!

Wang Xian pondered. No matter what, he could not be expelled from the school.

He intended to visit the principal or send some gifts to him.

"I need to go to school. I'll take you to the medical hall tomorrow!" Wang Xian told Sun Lingxiu.

"Sure, I'll look for my master later on!" Sun Ling Xiu nodded.

Wang Xian nodded. After lunch, he went outside with Mo Qinglong following behind him.

"Let's get a cab. We'll go to school."

Wang Xian instructed Mo Qinglong, who was following behind him.

"Young Master, we don't have to take a cab. I bought a car recently!"

Mo Qinglong chuckled as he told Wang Xian.

"You bought a car? What car?" Wang Xian was stunned and asked with interest.

When Wang Xian had told Mo Qinglong to buy a car some time ago, he was ready to get a Rolls Royce or Maybach.

Both of the car models were impressive, and they looked cool on the road.

"A caravan!" Mo Qinglong smiled and replied.

"Caravan?" Wang Xian was stupefied for a second. Immediately, he laughed.

"Caravan is good. It's more comfortable to take a caravan!"

Mo Qinglong fitted the role of steward quite well. No car was as comfortable as a caravan.

"Young Master, the car is over here. Come with me!"

Mo Qinglong walked towards the back of the villa where there was an open car park.

When Wang Xian came to the carpark, he saw the huge caravan parked in the lot.

The entire vehicle was painted black. It looked more like a huge truck than a caravan.

The entire vehicle was at least ten meters long.

"This is the German-made MAN 8X8 cross-country caravan. It's 11 meters long, 2.5 meters wide and almost 4 meters tall. It weighs 21 tons. After some special modifications to the vehicle, it is explosion-proof. Even Level 8 Martial Artists cannot smash the door open easily. It will not be damaged, even when hit by a rocket!"

Mo Qinglong introduced the vehicle to Wang Xian with a beaming face. "How is it, Young Master? Do you like it?"

"Impressive!"

With his eyes brightened up, Wang Xian walked to the front of the vehicle. The entire car was overbearing after the modifications.

"If this vehicle collides with another vehicle on the road, wouldn't it crush the other car?"

Wang Xian was dumbfounded as he opened the door.

The entire vehicle was like a small house with a bedroom, washroom, living room, and dining area.

It even came with a spiral staircase which led to the "second floor" of the vehicle.

The roof of the vehicle was a convertible one. Once the roof was opened, it would turn into something like the flybridge yacht that has an open living room. An electrical-adjustable table was located in the middle.

The interior of the entire vehicle was extremely luxurious.

"Great, not bad!"

Wang Xian was delighted, as this vehicle was even cooler than those Rolls-Royces and Maybachs.

From the outside, the entire vehicle looked just like a pickup. Those who had no knowledge about caravans would not know that this was a luxurious caravan.

"The car took more than half a month and more than 10 million to complete the customizations and modifications," Mo Qinglong smiled and said. "Young Master, sit tight. I'll take you to school."

"Okay."

Wang Xian nodded and sat on the sofa inside while observing the interior.

The vehicle was well-equipped with smart appliances such as a TV and computers.

When the car hit the road, he could not feel any bumps from the inside. It was very quiet inside as the sound-proof walls were quite effective.

Gee!

Wang Xian giggled as he lay on the sofa with a cup of tea. He sipped the tea with a beaming face.

"Young Master, the school guard forbade us from entering, as our vehicle is too big!"

Mo Qinglong's voice was heard after half an hour.

Wang Xian was stunned for a second as he was speechless. "I'll get down. You'll wait for me here."

"Yes, Young Master!"

Wang Xian opened the door and stepped down from the car.

"A bunch of students were driving sports cars a few days ago. This is even better, it's a pickup. Students are really full of ideas nowadays!"

As soon as Wang Xian walked out of the car, he heard the muttering of the school guard.

Wang Xian smiled and walked into the school as the school guard watched him curiously.

Chapter 226: Exchange Student

Wang Xian looked at the time and sent Wang Dahai a message. Soon, he got a reply.

[The lesson just started, hurry up and come over!]

Wang Xian quickened his steps to the classroom after reading the message.

When he reached the doorstep of the classroom, he heaved a sigh of relief after realizing that the lecturer wasn't the strict one. Instead, this lecturer, who was teaching Information Technology Engineering, was funny.

"I am here to report!" Wang Xian shouted at the doorstep when he saw the lecturer didn't notice him.

"Woah, isn't this the famous student, Wang Xian? How many lessons have you skipped? I reckon you will need to retake the module!" the middle-aged lecturer said mockingly while looking at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian smiled but remained silent.

"Come on in. There is still a seat in the first row. Listen attentively!" said the Lecturer while pointing to an empty seat in the first row. The lecturer didn't question further.

Wang Xian smiled bitterly while walking to the first row.

The tables of the classroom were all arranged in rows of four and there happened to be an empty seat in the first row of the room. Wang Xian went over to sit down. However, when he looked to the side, he was shocked.

He did not know any of his classmates in the first row.

There were two rather good looking girls who looked like twins, and a lean and modest guy wearing a pair of glasses.

Wang Xian truly couldn't recognize them. There weren't that many people in the previous classes.

He looked around and was surprised to find more than ten unfamiliar faces

While Wang Xian observed his classmates, they were observing him too.

The current Wang Xian was well-known throughout the entire school. Not only was he chosen by two goddesses, but he was also filthy rich.

He was the owner of First-grade Restaurant and had bought a luxurious car for his sister, which was worth about $3-4 million. Furthermore, he possessed formidable individual strength.

One could say that he was the most eye-catching student in the University of Rivertown.

Even those whom Wang Xian did not know were looking at him.

Wang Xian was about 1.8 meters tall and well-dressed. His handsome face also had a unique quality.

With his smiling face, his disposition and his handsome looks, many male celebrities weren't as attractive as him.

Being handsome would naturally attract more attention.

If he was not in a lesson, there might be some students who would surround him.

Wang Xian looked and smiled at the beautiful twins beside him before looking forward.

The lesson started and the lecturer was lecturing like usual. With Wang Xian's current memory and comprehension skills, he could easily catch up with the progress simply by flipping through the contents taught previously.

Wang Xian came to understand where these new joiners had come from while listening to the lecture.

They were exchange students from University of Modu.

The discipline of Information Technology Engineering in the University of Rivertown was top notch in the entire country and attracted various exchange students who would come to the University of Rivertown each year.

Similarly, some students from the University of Rivertown would also head to the University of Modu for exchange.

Often, the exchange would last two semesters, which equated to a year.

"Class has ended!" announced the lecturer.

An hour later, the bell that signalled the end of the lesson rang. The lecturer knocked on the table and left.

"Brother Xian, you are finally here, I thought you had died from a mishap and wouldn't be returning!"

"Wang Xian, you still know you have to come for lessons? Even the school counselors couldn't reach you! Incredible!"

"You should bring some things to bribe the school counselor, after skipping classes for so many days!"

"Big boss, when are you bringing our class to your restaurant for a meal?"

Wang Xian was surrounded by his classmates immediately after the class had ended. Wang Dahai and Zhang Wen even ran over while questioning him.

"Uhm, I was busy for the last few weeks and hence I didn't attend the classes!" Wang Xian explained with a smile.

He continued, "Just wait a few more days. I will definitely bring everyone to my restaurant a few days from now!"

"We've got to hug his thigh tightly! Wang Xian, you have the thickest thighs in our class!" the students joked. [\[1\]](#)

The beautiful twins were looking at the crowd around Wang Xian, feeling puzzled.

"Hey, can you guys stop pushing around!" A displeased voice sounded at this moment. Instantly, the commotion around Wang Xian died down substantially.

"I'm sorry, Hua Zeming."

"We are sorry, we are sorry!"

The classmates quickly apologized. Wang Xian looked over to check what was happening.

Four people were sitting there and every single one of them was wearing a branded outfit and a branded watch.

The one that spoke was the guy sitting in the middle. He was good-looking and his hair was slightly long. He looked just like a rich young man often portrayed in dramas.

"Dahai, Zhang Feng and Zhang Wen, let's go outside," Wang Xian said to Wang Dahai, Zhang Feng and Zhang Wen. As they walked out, the trio laughed.

The four guys sitting at the back stared at Wang Xian as he left. The one guy who was seated closest to the door asked a girl beside him, "Who is that?"

"Han Junming, that is Wang Xian. He's the most well-known person in the school currently. He established his own business and is now very rich. Oh, right, the restaurant where you gave the class a treat a few days back belongs to him. Two goddesses in school openly declared their love for him. Even the coach of the Taekwondo club, Yan Hu, said he was not his match. He's incredible!" replied the girl with a bright smile.

"Oh, is it so? A well-known person?"

Han Junming laughed and looked at Hua Zeming.

Hua Zeming snorted and showed contempt.

"There are lots of unfamiliar faces in class!" Wang Xian said to Wang Dahai and the group when they walked out.

"Yes, there are quite a number of them. The four that came to our class are relatively influential. They were all born with silver spoons in their mouths. A few days back, they brought the whole class to your restaurant and spent more than $500,000 after discount. Furthermore, Hua Zeming defeated Xu Qingcheng with a single strike. He is really strong. Although they just came to our school, they are quite well-known. All of them drive supercars and are a little arrogant!" replied Zhang Wen enviously.

"I think the most incredible exchange student is the girl named Mu Wanwan. You might know about her, but she is simply stunning. She's comparable to Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing. More than ten rich second generation guys have confessed to her since she came. I heard she's the reason why many other rich second generation guys from Modu came here for exchange. Tsk Tsk. Our school is rather famous now!" Wang Dahai continued.

"Really?" Wang Xian replied with a smile. "The twins in our class are pretty good looking too."

"Those twins are a pair of internet celebrities with a few million fans online. They are pretty incredible but I already have Su Qian. They are destined to not be able to be with me," Wang Dahai exaggerated.

He continued, "Oh yes, Old Wang! Lan Qingyue has returned to school and she was seen with Guan Shuqing each time. Brother, what's your view on this? Is there something fishy going on?"

"Errr, is there?" Wang Xian shook his head slightly and said.

Wang Xian was stunned as the trio stared at him. Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue clearly had some agreements between them. He was probably going to be penalized if they caught him looking at other girls.

"Let's go, Old Wang. We can continue our chat at the back of the class!" Wang Dahai said to the rest as the bell that signalled the start of class rang.

Wang Xian nodded and the four of them headed back to class.

Huh? When they were at the back of the class, Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng were surprised to see their seats taken.

There were four more seats at the back but these seats were also taken by the beautiful twins.

"Hey, friends, these are our seats. Our books are still on the table too!" said Wang Dahai as he frowned at Hua Zeming, Han Junming and the group.

"Can you move to the front seats?"

Han Junming took the books and put them on the side of the table with a beaming face. He then turned to Wang Dahai and spoke with a smile.

"No, we're not used to sitting in the front seats since we're a bunch of slackers!"

Zhang Feng smiled. Only the straight-A students would prefer to sit in the front seats. People like them would find it torturous to sit at the front.

Besides, if the four of them were four beauties, probably Wang Dahai, Zhang Feng and the rest would not have any comments. But since they were hunks, all the more they would not agree to it!

"Hur?" Han Junming narrowed his eyes as he stared at the quartet standing at the side.

All the students in the class were back. Some of them looked at Wang Dahai, Zhang Feng, and the rest with surprise.

"Hey guys, since Han Junming said they want to sit here, you should just let them be. They bought everyone lunch a few days ago. Can't you just give in to such a simple request?"

Before Han Junming and his clique could answer, the beautiful twins at the back spoke.

They were playing with their phones as they peered at Wang Xian and his clique through the corners of their eyes.

"Just because he bought us lunch doesn't mean he can take someone's seats!"

Zhang Wen frowned as he stared at the beautiful twins. "Besides, do you know that we had a 50% discount when we were at the First-grade Restaurant? Have they ever given a discount before? Do you think the food you had at that time only cost half a million?"

"That's right. This is a separate issue. Didn't you hear Guan Shuqing say she will give us a 50% discount? We really have nothing to say if you're taking this matter as your bargaining chip!" Wang Dahai shrugged and told the beautiful twins frankly.

"It's not much. We don't need a discount anyway." Han Junming smiled with no intention of leaving his seat.

The remaining three people disregarded them completely as they continued playing on their phones with arrogant and aloof looks.

"Ha!" Wang Xian found it funny upon seeing their attitudes. "Do you think my roommates need your treat when they come to my restaurant? Get out of the way and stop embarrassing yourself!"

"Hur?"

Four of them knit their eyebrows as they lifted their heads and stared at Wang Xian with dissatisfaction. Their gazes were cold.

"Chey, such petty men. We will give our seats to you!"

The beautiful twins sitting at the back were furious as they stood up, glaring at Wang Xian and his clique.

"This is none of your business. Trying to seek attention?"

Wang Xian frowned as he looked at the beautiful twins with impatience.

"You..." The twins revealed a hint of anger on their faces.

"Enough. Both of you can stop your nagging. That's just annoying." Wang Dahai told the twins off and turned to the four guys: "Get out of the way!"

Bam!

Han Junming, Hua Zeming, and the other two guys stood up slowly. With their chins up, they glared coldly at Wang Dahai, Wang Xian and the rest.

"We're starting our class. Why are you guys still standing there?"

Just then, an old man with a pair of spectacles walked in. He gazed at the back of the class and spoke in a stern voice.

"Brat, you're arrogant. Just you wait!" Han Junming stared at Wang Xian with icy-cold eyes.

"The well-known figure in school? Haha!" Hua Zeming gave a vague smile, and the four of them walked to the front with an expressionless face.

"This is the University of Rivertown!" said Wang Xian impassively.

"Back to your seats now!" The professor raised his voice and said to everyone in the class.

The rest of the classmates looked at Wang Xian first, and then Hua Zeming's clique.

"What a show-off!" Wang Dahai whispered as he looked at him with an unhappy look.

Wang Xian smiled and sat down. He did not care about the quartet. If they were to seek trouble, he would teach them a lesson - learn to stay low in Rivertown.

The class began, and the four people at the back exchanged communication in whispers when the professor was not paying attention to them.

Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, Zhang Feng were hopeless students. They only studied at the last minute when it was time for examinations.

Wang Xian used to be alright, but now, he had also caved in.

"Bring your girlfriends for dinner tonight. I'll go to the counselor's office first thing after school." Wang Xian began to cram after he said this.

"Old Wang, we'll wait for you at the school entrance!" Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, and Zhang Feng said to Wang Xian when the dismissal bell rang.

"Okay, I'll look for the counselor now!"

Wang Xian nodded and went to the teaching building with a beaming face.

"That fellow is super arrogant. Should we teach him a lesson?"

"Any hidden talents in this small Rivertown are totally incomparable to us. How dare he act snobbish in front of us. I can't stand it!"

"Hehe, we'll have our chance to play with him!"

Hua Zeming and the rest of the three stood up slowly in the class. The pair of beautiful twins immediately joined in.

...

"Hey, get this board up and draw some pictures on it. It must be perfect this time!"

"Yes, then we will take some photos and post in the forum. Let's see if we can get some donations for Wu Juanjuan!"

The teaching building was located in the center region of the school. Wang Xian went in and saw some students from the student council working on the campus board for the school on his way.

He swept a glance at it and pondered.

Wang Xian recognized the University of Rivertown as a good school, and the counselors were helpful too. When he was just admitted to the university, his results were excellent. When the counselor found out about his family situation, he even applied a tuition grant for a semester from the school for him.

Even though every school had such vacancies for assisting the needy students, Wang Xian was very grateful as a beneficiary.

The few thousand dollars was a considerable sum of money to him back then.

"Why don't I repay the school, and, at the same time, settle the problem of skipping school in the future!"

Wang Xian smiled as he continued on his way to the teaching building.

The counselor's office was located on the third floor. Wang Xian went up and knocked on the office door.

"Come in!"

A voice was heard from the room. He opened the door and realized that many teachers were having conversations inside the room.

With some embarrassment, he noticed that all subject teachers were inside.

"Mr. Lee!"

Wang Xian looked at his counselor and walked towards him.

"You, you're here for classes? Come, let me check how many days of lessons you have missed!"

When the counselor saw Wang Xian, he beckoned him over with slight frustration.

"I couldn't get through to your phone, and you don't reply to my messages. I thought you went to outer space!"

Wang Xian giggled. Counselor Lee was a kind-hearted person in the eyes of every student. He was thirty years old, and he was responsible at his work.

Hence, Wang Xian had a good impression of him and did not mind his reprimanding.

After all, he was in the wrong. He would not go against the counselor just because he was much more powerful than before.

"Mr. Lee, I've been a little busy recently. My phone has some issues. Hence I didn't receive your call!"

Chapter 228: Donating $50 million to the School 2

"Spare me your excuses. This isn't a valid reason for you to skip classes. Look at how many lessons you've missed and the academic credits that will be deducted! If your exam results aren't satisfactory, you will have to repeat the year!" Counselor Lee reprimanded.

He stared at Wang Xian, walked to the side and took out a notebook.

"Oh, Wang Xian, you've missed five of my lessons! I will deduct it from your academic credits. If your credits aren't sufficient, you will have to repeat my classes next year!"

An old professor turned to look at Wang Xian and said, "Young man, you shouldn't be skipping classes and not studying hard. You are only in your second year. Now is the time to be studying and working hard!"

"Wang Xian! You didn't come for any of my political classes this semester! You can't continue like this."

A few lecturers that taught Wang Xian commented directly.

"You little rascal missed over fifty lessons. Under such circumstances, we will have to serve you a warning," the counsellor held the notebook and said.

"It's okay to not serve you a warning. However, you must promise me that you will be present for every lesson from now on. On top of that, you must guarantee that you will not fail any modules!" the reputable professor said to Wang Xian.

"Professor Guo has spoken for you. It's alright for me to not serve the warning, but I'm sure you will have also heard what he said. Can you achieve it?" said Counselor Lee.

The school's warning would be reflected in the transcript. If one was served a warning, it would have a negative influence on his job prospects in the future.

The old professor was also giving Wang Xian a chance.

"This..." Wang Xian hesitated.

Having heard what the old professor and Counselor Lee had said, he sank into a dilemma.

It was hard for him to promise he would not skip class in the future.

After seeing Wang Xian's expression, Professor Guo said sternly with a solemn face, "What's the matter? You aren't willing? I will have to give you a warning then. You've got to think it through. Don't be arrogant just because of the little achievement you accomplished. The curriculum of the University course isn't that tight after all!"

"Cough, Cough, it might be a little hard for me to not skip classes," Wang Xian replied shyly.

"Huh?" professor Guo raised his volume, and Counselor Lee, who was beside him, also stared at Wang Xian.

"Professor Guo, Counsellor Lee, I love the University of Rivertown deeply. Furthermore, our teachers have also taught us to be useful people to society. This... I just saw Wu Juanjuan from our school raising money for her leukaemia. Now that I have accomplished something, let me pay for her medical fees," Wang Xian said righteously to professor Guo and Counselor Lee.

"Medical Fees?" Professor Guo, Counselor Lee and the rest of the lecturers were taken aback by Wang Xian's response. The medical fees for the treatment of leukaemia weren't cheap at all.

It could range from $500,000 to a few million!

"Brat, you must be thinking of using this to convince us to let you pass by the back door!" Professor Guo stared at Wang Xian and remarked.

"Hehe, Professor Guo, I don't have such intentions. I just feel that this is something I should do. When I first came to the University of Rivertown, I had nothing. My tuition fees for my second semester were only exempted thanks to Counselor Lee. Since I have achieved something now, it's only natural for me to pay it forward!" Wang Xian smiled and looked at Counselor Lee.

"The sum could reach as high as a million!" Counselor Lee reminded him after pondering for some time.

"I know," answered Wang Xian with a nod before continuing. "Besides that, to thank the school for waiving my fees for a semester, I would like to donate some money to the school. I hope the money can help those poor students in need!"

"Hmm! Brat, you are a kind guy!" Professor Guo remarked as his stern face relaxed a little.

As someone who was known throughout the school, the lecturers know a little about Wang Xian. They were glad that Wang Xian knew to repay the gratitude he received.

"Great! I will report to the principal about your intentions to donate. Tell me a figure. I will inform the principal about it when we have a meeting later in the day. If he knows that you have such intentions, he will be overjoyed!" Counsellor Lee said with a smile.

"Alright, Counselor Lee! I will donate $50 million then!" Wang Xian nodded.

Pff!

"What?"

One of the lecturers who was drinking choked on his water and spat. He was completely shocked.

Counsellor Lee and Professor Guo looked at Wang Xian with disbelief and were a little stunned.

"You...Wang Xian, how much did you say?" Counselor Lee jumped up directly and asked loudly.

"$50 million. Together with Wu Juanjuan's medical fees, it would be $51 million. At that time, please help to transfer $1 million to Wu Juanjuan!" Wang Xian answered with a bright smile.

"$50 million!"

"What the...!"

The lecturers around exclaimed. $50 million! This wasn't a small sum.

The University of Rivertown was an elite school with many successful alumni who had donated to the school as gratitude. However, a donation of $50 million could easily rank in the top five of all time!

"Wang Xian, are you sure?" Counsellor Lee asked in disbelief.

"Yeah, I am!" Wang Xian replied and nodded.

"I will give Principle Lee a call and get him to come over!" Professor Guo said with his eyes wide open. After which, he took out his phone and dialled a number quickly.

Wang Xian laughed and added, "Counselor Lee, there is nothing much I can do. I'd just like to go a little further and thank the school for its teachings!"

"Brat, you sure are successful now!" Counsellor Lee was shocked.

"I guess I'm doing fine. I have been busy with my business recently and therefore have neglected my studies. Erm... Counselor Lee and various lecturers, regarding the classes I might miss in the future, do you think you can...?" Wang Xian smiled and asked.

"Alright, alright. You are thinking of slapping us with money! However, it sure feels great. The school is where we educate our students. As your teachers, we are glad to see what you have done. However, even though you've earned some money, you must not forget about learning. Try your best to come to our lessons. If you have questions, you can come and look for us directly!" Professor Guo hung up the phone and said to Wang Xian using an educating tone.

Wang Xian smiled, nodded his head and said, "Yes, yes! Professor Guo is right! I will try my best to not fail any modules!"

"Hmm! Wait for a little longer. The principal is coming over soon. Oh, our celebrity student, find a place and have a seat. Hehe!" Professor Guo said with a smile.

Wang Xian nodded and started chatting with a few lecturers.

Soon, the principal arrived. With excitement written all over his face, he pushed the door open and asked, "Where is Wang Xian? Come over!"

Wang Xian smiled and stood up. After discussing the donation with the principal, he left the office.

"This brat has a kind heart. There aren't many students who have such a sense of responsibility nowadays. $50 million isn't a small figure!" Professor Guo exclaimed after Wang Xian had left.

"This student is pretty capable to be able to donate $50 million at such a young age. In addition, he has a caring heart!" Counselor Lee added proudly.

"Since the $50 million is donated by Wang Xian, let's set up a department to manage this disbursement for needy students. We shall keep this transparent and can't disappoint our students!"

"I hope our school will nurture more students with such a sense of responsibility!"

Chapter 229: Bulldozed Through (1)

"Our school nurtures talents. Wang Xian may have been wrong in skipping classes, but his sense of responsibility was stronger than anyone else. Let's just close one eye in the future!"

"This is the most positive and encouraging matter at the University of Rivertown. Why not this? We can cut some of the expenses from this year's budget and pay for Wu Juanjuan's medical bills. The $51 million donated by Wang Xian will be used in assisting the needy students. We cannot let the students think that the school is not doing as much as a student!" the principal of the University of Rivertown said with excitement.

"Great!"

"Agree! We can cut some of the welfare from the teacher's day!"

Some of the old professors and teachers in the office discussed with smiles emerging all over their faces.

As part of the education industry, they were all top intellectuals, and hence, they had stronger moral and social responsibilities than the average people.

The world is still filled with kind-hearted people.

Wang Xian walked out of the office with smiles as he was in a chirpy mood.

He could have made a call to the school and gotten them to turn a blind eye on his absence. He could have even graduated easily without going through examinations.

But he did not do that.

He could simply be cocky or even crush some of the people. However, he still had his own principles for some of the things.

Wang Xian did not think he was a good-natured person, but he tried not to be a villain.

He would treat others the same as how others would treat him.

With a chirpy mood, Wang Xian headed out of the school. He came to the entrance and saw Wang Dahai and the gang waiting for him there.

"Have you settled it, Old Wang? Did the counselor say anything?"

Wang Dahai yelled to Wang Xian as soon as he saw him walking out.

"Everything is settled!" Wang Xian nodded with a smile. "Let's go and have our dinner!"

"Let's go. Follow the 'thigh' and we get to enjoy it!" Zhang Feng and Zhang Wen joked along with their girlfriends.

Buzz!

Just then, the booming sound of the sports cars was heard at the school entrance.

"Wow, it's Hua Zeming and the other three hunks!"

"Lamborghini Aventador, Aston Martin - Vanquish, Ferrari FF, and Ferrari F12 berlinetta. All the cars cost more than five million each. These four people from Modu are filthy rich!"

"They are rich and handsome. How fu*king unfair is the world!"

"Wow, so cool! They are cool sports cars. Four cars add up to more than 20 million!"

"Hua Zeming and his gang are so cool. How nice it would be I could be one of their girlfriends!"

All the students exclaimed in awe at the entrance. The guys were jealous while the girls looked into the cars with admiration.

The four cars lined up in a horizontal row, heading out. The four of them had smirks on their faces.

Honk!

Suddenly, Hua Zeming, in the center, honked his horn with a taunting look when he saw the people in front of them.

The other three at the side looked in his direction. Hua Zeming, with a smile, gestured ahead and asked, "Let's have a game, shall we?"

Han Junming and the rest froze for a second and peered ahead.

"Sure, let's have a game then!" all of them looked at each other and said.

"Three, two, one!"

Han Junming, whose car was on the exterior side, began his countdown with a taunting look.

When he counted to one, the engines of the four sports cars roared.

Superior sports cars like these had terrifying speed when their engines powered up. They charged forward as though they were irritable bulls.

Vroom!

Eek!

The vrooming engine sounds and the shrieks from the tires rubbing on the ground cut through the air at the same time.

Wang Xian and his clique ahead were slightly stunned when they heard the car engines behind them.

Ah!

When the girlfriends of Zhang Wen, Wang Dahai, and Zhang Wen saw the four sports cars charging at them at high speed, they screamed in horror.

Wang Dahai and the rest had drastic changes in their expressions. Their faces paled instantly.

However, four of the sports cars swerved and made a drift around them.

Wang Xian and the rest were surrounded by the cool-looking drifts.

Waves of air hit Wang Xian and the group, bringing about dust in the air.

Four supreme sports cars were drifting uniformly together. Such skills and visual impacts struck awe to everyone.

"FML, that's so cool!"

"Drifts! They look stunning when four cars drift together. Not even a racer has such skills!"

"Cool, so freaking cool!"

The surrounding students and onlookers watched with their mouths open as the four sports cars did their drifts. Thrills were climbing all over their faces.

"Fu*k you!"

Wang Dahai, who was in the center, hugged Su Qian and scolded furiously. His face was a little pale.

Zhang Wen, Zhang Feng, and their girlfriends were looking bad.

When the cars charged and drifted around them, they got the shock of their lives.

Wang Xian, who was standing in the center of the group, narrowed his eyes as his expression sank.

Vroom!

After making four to five rounds of drifts, the four sports cars lined up in a row again. Four faces appeared before Wang Xian and his clique.

"Wow, that's so cool. Junming, you're amazing!"

A thrilled voice was heard from the sports car.

Wang Dahai and the rest opened their eyes and looked over with awful expressions.

Hua Zeming, Han Junming and the rest were driving a sports car individually while the beautiful twins were sitting in Han Junming and another guy's car respectively.

At this time, the twins were shouting excitedly as they threw a glance at Wang Xian and the rest with mocking expressions.

"Hehe, Brat. This is Rivertown. But, so what?"

Han Junming opened the roof of the car. With a pair of sunglasses, he placed his arm on the car door. He looked provocative as he asked Wang Xian.

"Hey, I don't care where this place is, but you better watch yourself. Otherwise, the game is on!"

"How do you find our driving skills? Want us to do it again?"

Another two guys looked at them with smiling faces.

"Don't ever provoke us again. You guys can't bear the consequences after that!"

Hua Zeming, in the middle, lifted his chin as he taunted Wang Xian and his clique disdainfully.

"Fu*k you!"

Upon hearing the insults, Zhang Feng, Zhang Wen, and Wang Dahai were furious. Wang Dahai, who was as impatient as always, almost wanted to charge at them.

"Dahai, no! We can't afford to mess with them!" Su Qian quickly held him back.

"Forget it, let's ignore them!"

Zhang Wen and Zhang Feng's girlfriends were all pale. "None of them look simple. Let's not offend them!"

Each one of them was driving a sports car that cost more than five million.

They could not afford to mess around with people who could afford to drive cars like this.

In their opinion, even Wang Xian was far from them!

"Trash, don't be too cocky next time!"

The beautiful twins showed their middle fingers in the sports cars with contempt.

Chapter 230: Bulldozed Through (2)

"Oh, freak! How did that group offend Hua Zeming and his friends?"

"That's right, how did they offend Hua Zeming and his friends? They are really unlucky. I heard that Hua Zeming and his other three friends are really fierce!"

"Hua Zeming, Han Junming and the other two guys come from very strong families. They are also formidable themselves. The drift just now was simply stunning!"

"They are just humiliating them!"

"Eh, isn't that Wang Xian?"

"Yeah! That's Wang Xian, the most well-known person in our school. He went missing for some time. How did he offend Hua Zeming and his friends?"

The surrounding students conversed and gathered over inquisitively.

"It really is Wang Xian! He is easily one of the more incredible students in the school and is earning big bucks at such a young age. However, he's still not comparable with Hua Zeming, Han Junming and his group of friends!"

"Wang Xian bought a Bentley worth $3-4 million for his sister and is also powerful. However, it is clear that Han Junming and his group of friends are more incredible. They each own a supercar that is worth at least $5 million! "

"I heard their families are all filthy rich with assets worth over hundreds of trillions. They are also influential in Modu, the place where the rich gather!"

The crowd discussed softly.

Although Wang Xian was great and owned the First-grade Restaurant, a restaurant known throughout the country, he was still a far cry from these people with filthy rich parents. Just take a look at the supercars they are driving. Every single one of them cost more than $5 million.

The crowd in the school didn't think that Wang Xian would be as rich and influential as them.

Furthermore, Hua Zeming and the group were powerful. They had challenged Xu Qingcheng a while back and defeated him with a single move. This was something that even Coach Yan Hu couldn't do.

Although the four of them were exchange students who had just come to the University of Rivertown, their fame and strength had seemingly edged past Wang Xian's.

Wang Xian walked towards the supercar with a cold expression amidst the arrogant looks of the group. The twins even showed him their middle fingers with contempt.

"Old Wang, let it go. Let's not be calculative with them!"

Wang Dahai stepped forward and spoke to Wang Xian as he saw Wang Xian walking over.

"Yes, Old Wang. Let's not be calculative with them. Damn it! They are just exchange students here and yet they are already so arrogant!"

Zhang Feng and Zhang Wen walked over and tried to convince Wang Xian while holding back their anger.

Wang Xian waved his hand at them and walked to the supercar closest to him. He stepped on the bonnet with his right foot.

"The four of you sure are arrogant!" Wang Xian remarked coldly.

"Get your foot off!" Han Junming replied coldly when he saw Wang Xian stepping on his supercar.

"Put it down! You can't afford to pay for this car!" the beautiful twins said to Wang Xian with contempt.

Bam bam!

Wang Xian smiled coldly and stepped a few times on it. He looked at them and warned, "Let me tell you this again: you are in Rivertown right now! If you want to play, I'll play with you! Driving skills? Let me show you what driving skills are! And I would love to see if the outcome is something I can endure!"

Wang Xian answered coldly in response to what the four of them had said to him!

"F*ck, I'm asking you to lift your damn feet! Can't you hear me?" Han Junming shouted. Not only did Wang Xian ignore him, but Wang Xian also stepped a few more times on the bonnet. Han Junming got out of the car furiously. Following which, the other three also alighted.

"Damn it! Wang Xian is trying to go head to head with Hua Zeming, Han Junming and their friends!"

"He is not being rational! It is clear that Wang Xian couldn't handle all four of them at the same time!"

"Will a fight start between them?"

The crowd was shocked by the development of events and started whispering.

"Put your foot down! Can't you hear me!" Han Junming stared harshly at Wang Xian while Hua Zeming and the other two guys walked over with a gloomy expression.

Wang Xian smiled and replied, "Since you want to play, I'll play along with you!"

He moved his feet away as he finished his line before walking to the side of the car.

"Rascal, I'm warning you! Don't test my patience!" Han Junming said coldly to Wang Xian while pointing at him.

"Interesting! No one dares to talk to me like this in Rivertown!" Wang Xian remarked.

He looked back and waved his hand slightly. "The driving skills you have shown me aren't impressive at all. Let me show you something fancier!"

Vroom Vroom!

As Wang Xian spoke, the sound of the engine revving roared loudly from a short distance away.

The revving of the engine resembled that of the roar of a beast.

To the astonishment of the crowd, a huge black car charged towards them as the crowd scampered in a hurry to get out of the way!

"Oh f*ck, is that a lorry?"

"MAN! That's a caravan! That's a caravan!" [\[1\]](#)

"What a domineering car! It looks just like a military vehicle!"

The crowd looked towards the black monster in shock as it charged ahead.

It was closed to four meters tall and over ten meters in length. Its tire alone was already half the height of a person.

MAN, as its name would suggest, is a brand of cross-country caravan. It was incomparably domineering.

The domineering car that resembled a huge beast charged forward directly.

"This is...!"

"Oh my god! What is that big car trying to do!" Exclamations from the crowd erupted.

When Han Junming, Hua Zeming and their friends saw the huge car charging towards them, their expressions changed abruptly.

Boom!

To the disbelief of everyone, the domineering caravan charged directly towards the four supercars.

The huge tires were almost as tall as the supercars. To the astonishment of the crowd, it bulldozed through.

A premium cross-country caravan could easily manage a forty-degree slope. A supercar which had a low body would seem miniature in front of it.

The gigantic caravan weighed over twenty tons. It is easy to imagine the outcome if it rammed over a supercar that weighed just over a ton.

It was just like what everyone had witnessed.

To everyone's amazement, the first supercar collapsed the moment the giant caravan went over it.

When the rear wheels rolled over, the supercar sank and almost hit the ground.

One should note that the giant caravan had eight wheels.

The supercar was totally deformed and white smoke rose from it.

Soon, the second supercar followed the fate of the first.

Lamborghini Aventador, Aston Martin Vanquish, Ferrari FF, Ferrari F12 Berlinetta. One after another, they were flattened.

The cracking sounds were eerily sharp in the silent crowd.

This made the crowd's breathing quicken a little!

Bam!

When the black giant caravan crushed the last supercar, it came to an abrupt and heavy stop.

Just like how beasts stopped after besieging a city.

Crack crack!

The doors to the black giant caravan opened. From it, a middle-aged man walked down with a bright smile. He looked at Wang Xian and asked, "Young Master, how were my driving skills?"

As he spoke, he looked at the four cars as though he was enjoying his masterpieces.

"I'll leave the judging to the four of them," Wang Xian replied happily.

Chapter 231: Show Me What You've Got For You To Be Cocky in Rivertown

Boom!

"This..."

"Gosh..."

Shocking. Every moment unfolding before them struck horror into everyone.

Four super sports cars became four piles of useless metal now.

The cars were in a disastrous state and were almost scraps. Everyone found it incredible.

"These are sports cars worth more than $20 million!" a guy could not help but exclaim.

Each of these four sports cars was like a dream car to them. Yet, they turned to scraps of iron before them!

The exclamations brought the dumbfounded quartet to their senses.

All their expressions recovered from their shock and turned extremely awful and hideous as they looked at Wang Xian.

"YOU ARE ASKING FOR DEATH!"

Words came out as a soft growl from Hua Zeming's mouth as he glared at Wang Xian with a pair of murderous eyes.

"How dare you crush our cars!"

The other three held their fists tightly as they fixed their bloodthirsty eyes on

Wang Xian.

"Aren't you giving any comment? How were my driving skills?"

Mo Qinglong was the one who drove. He looked at Hua Zeming and the rest with a taunting look as he walked over.

"You're fu*cking digging your own graves!" Han Junming gave Mo Qinglong a death stare as he said fiercely.

"Hehe!" Wang Xian looked at them and revealed a cold smile. "This is Rivertown. Show me what you've got for you to be cocky here. I'll be right here waiting for you!"

"Gosh, this is damn awesome!"

"He's too domineering. He just bulldozed with his car and crushed the four super sports cars. That's just overbearing!"

"Scary! He dared to turn four super sports cars that are worth $20 million into something like this!"

"Is this Wang Xian? He's more domineering than what we imagined. Such an imposing demeanor. No wonder the two goddesses from our school took a fancy of him!"

"Impressive. I'm convinced by his overbearing demeanor!"

"This is too shocking. Senior Wang Xian is so cool, so domineering!"

"Show me what you've got for you to be cocky here. I'll be right here waiting for you!" Senior Wang Xian sounded so cocky, but I like it! I worship him!"

"Wang Xian has nothing to fear. He just crashed those sports cars that are worth $20 million, just like toys!"

The surrounding crowd exploded into commotions. They pointed and commented excitedly. All of them were impressed by Wang Xian, who was standing at the center impassively.

Given his guts, and the things he did and said, he was invincible!

"Damm, I feel so good now! How dare the outsiders play punks at our place. They drove their sports cars everywhere as if they were afraid that no one knows they are rich!"

"That's right! Well done! I hope Junior Wang Xian can totally suppress them!"

Some of the guys felt good about it. They were already unhappy with the quartet for being flashy and arrogant.

"Looks like we can have a good game. I hope you are ready to bear the consequences for being arrogant!"

Hua Zeming clenched his fists tightly. He took out his phone slowly with an icy cold face.

"If you can't compensate us for our car repair fees by ten fold, I'll make sure you get it from me!"

Han Junming squinted his eyes. With a blackened face, he took out his phone too.

"Half an hour. I'll just wait for half an hour!" Wang Xian said sarcastically when he saw them taking out their phones.

"You'll regret it soon!" a guy swept an angry glance at Wang Xian and said coldly.

The surrounding spectators frowned when they saw Hua Zeming and Han Junming take out their phones.

"Hua Zeming and the rest had strong backings!"

"Senior Wang Xian seems confident. I don't think he's afraid of them!"

"If it was just one or two of them, there'd be nothing to fear. But it is hard to say when four of them come together!"

"Nonetheless, I'm still supporting Senior Wang Xian!"

As the surrounding people were commenting, more and more people crowded over and joined in on the discussion with disbelief.

"Wanwan, it's Hua Zeming, Han Junming, and his clique. They seem to have some conflicts with that Wang Xian. Their sports cars were rolled over by that large cross-country caravan!"

"Oh? Really? Hua Zeming and his clique are really high-profile!"

"The four of them just want to act haughty in Rivertown. Would they dare to be this arrogant back in Modu?"

"But given their strength, no one is their match in Rivertown. That Wang Xian was courting his own doom!"

"That's right. Apart from a Miracle Doctor in Rivertown, the rest of the people and families are nothing to them!"

"Hehe, I bet they have nothing to do to show off their strength in this small place."

Five people were letting out soft laughter as they gazed at the crowd.

Out of the five people, there was a pretty girl with makeup and tight-fitting clothes that exhibited her curvy figure altogether.

She was a little haughty as she overlooked the spot before her with faint disdain.

"Quick, Young Master Ren ordered us to send these four super sports cars for repairs."

"Director Qin, is it a car accident? Four super sports cars were hit?"

"I think so. The one who called Young Master Ren has strong power. Just get over here now!"

In less than 20 minutes, several trailers parked on the side. About eight men came down from the cars and headed towards the crowd.

"Gosh, these four cars are in bad shape. Looks like they were rolled over by that huge pickup. The repair cost would be at least a few million dollars!"

"Yes, what a disaster. Why didn't they call the insurance company to settle this?"

Director Qin squeezed himself into the crowd, and he was surprised when he saw the four sports cars.

Each of them cost $5 million and above. No wonder they called Young Master Ren and Director Qin to rush down and settle this.

"Who is Young Master Luo?" Director Qin asked carefully as he stared at the group.

"You were the one sent by Ren Anzhi? Tow the four sports cars away and quote me a price for the repair fees!"

One of them from the quartet looked at Director Qin with cold eyes as he spoke immediately.

"Yes, Young Master Luo. Got it!"

Director Qin quickly nodded. Young Master Ren had reminded him to treat them respectfully. Hence, they must be some big shots.

"What if you can't afford the repair fees by ten fold? Haha!"

Young Master Luo glared at Wang Xian coldly. He asked as he narrowed his murderous eyes.

Director Qin was curious as he traced the direction Young Master Luo was looking at.

"Hur?"

All of a sudden, Director Qin froze and his body stiffened with shock flashing in his eyes.

With a stiff neck, he turned around and saw the black, gigantic pickup not far away. He swallowed his saliva.

Without any hesitation, Director Qin walked to Wang Xian and put on a sincere and pleased smile.

"Young Master Wang, how do you find the modified MAN 8x8 cross-country caravan from Germany? It's absolutely domineering! Look at how it crushes four supercars easily! Young Master Wang, let me send someone over to check if there are any scratches."

Chapter 232: Your Son Has Gotten Into Trouble

"Young Master Wang, how do you feel about the modified MAN 8x8 cross-country caravan from Germany? It's absolutely domineering! Look at how it crushes four supercars easily! Young Master Wang, let me send someone over to see if anything is scratched."

Director Qin's voice pierced the silence and shocked everyone in the vicinity.

What's the situation now? What is happening?

Hadn't Director Qin still talked deferentially to Luo Zhiyu about the cars a while ago? Why did he say such things now? Moreover, why is he acting so deferentially toward Wang Xian?

Director Qin's puzzling actions shocked everyone in the vicinity.

Luo Zhiyu, who stood there with his head lifted up high and had demanded ten times compensation a while ago, was stunned.

Seeing Director Qin asking two maintenance workers to check the caravan that just rammed over their cars, Luo Zhiyu's expression turned gloomy.

"Asshole, what are you doing? What did Ren Anzhi, that idiot, ask you to do here?" Luo Zhiyu stared harshly at Director Qin and shouted loudly.

"I naturally know what I'm supposed to do here? Do I need you to remind me?"

When Director Qin heard Luo Zhiyu, he lifted his chest and retorted with contempt. He didn't have the same respectful attitude towards Luo Zhiyu at all.

The look in his eyes was full of taunts.

Young Master Ren had instructed him here to handle this matter. At the same time, Young Master Ren emphasized that he had to be respectful.

However, the moment he saw Wang Xian and the modified cross-country caravan at the side, he knew what he should be doing instead.

As a confidante to Young Master Ren, he knew a lot of things.

This included how Young Master Ren had to be respectful to Young Master Wang as though Young Master Wang was his grandparent.

This included how the father of Young Master Ren, who was also the Ren Family Head, had to be respectful when dealing with Wang Xian.

This included the fact that Wang Xian, who was a devil-like existence in his eyes, had annihilated the Yan Family and Liu Family!

Within the circle of the most influential and wealthy people in Rivertown, all of them knew that you could offend anyone in Rivertown, but not Young Master Wang, who was also known as Miracle Doctor Wang.

He was truly the most horrifying person in Rivertown.

Today, Director Qin believed that even if Young Master Ren had come personally, he would probably choose to offend Luo Zhiyu instead. In fact, Young Master Ren might just pick a fight with him.

If Young Master Ren knew of his actions, not only would Young Master Ren not be angry, but he would also have a better appraisal of him.

At the thought of this, a faint smile appeared on the face of Director Qin.

He glanced at the four supercars that had been crushed, smiled lightly and remarked, "It's your honor to have Young Master Wang crush your cars!"

"YOU...!"

Luo Zhiyu was shivering a little from anger. He stared coldly at Director Qin and clenched his fist tightly!

"What the...? What's the situation now?"

"I'm totally confused? What is happening? Isn't that Director Qin someone Luo Zhiyu had called over?"

"That middle-aged man addressed Wang Xian as Young Master Wang! That's not a common address nowadays!"

The surrounding crowd was shocked and confused by the development as they whispered among themselves.

Screech, screech, screech!

At this moment, several luxurious cars drove towards the school and stopped by the side.

The crowd was surprised and immediately knew that those were people Hua Zeming and his friends had summoned over.

"There are ten Benzes! Moreover, their car plate numbers are in running order! Who are they?"

When the crowd saw the ten black Benzes lining up neatly, their minds were blown away.

"Look! There are more at the back!"

At this moment, a teenager couldn't help but exclaim. He was pointing to the back as he shouted.

"Land rovers! There are eight land rovers! Oh my god! They are of the same model!"

"Those are cars from the Enterprise Alliance Security Group! Oh my god! Enterprise Alliance Security Group is the largest security company in Rivertown. It is said that everyone in it is an expert!"

Cars drove over and stopped one after another. There were a total of thirty to forty cars.

"Someone is alighting!"

The crowd looked in shock at the people who were alighting from the cars.

They were all young men wearing black attire. At the very front, the driver, who was wearing a pair of white gloves, opened the door of the car in a hurry.

From the car, an old man with a walking stick alighted. From him, one could feel the vibes of a really successful man.

"Chen Hu! That old man resembles Chen Hu!" someone from the crowd exclaimed loudly in disbelief.

"Who is Chen Hu?"

"Chen Hu is the director of the East City Group. He's a billionaire in Rivertown. Many people have to address him as Master Hu when they see him!"

"A billionaire?"

"Wow, there are over twenty young men in suits following behind Chen Hu. This line-up is so stunning!"

"People are alighting from the land rovers too. Who are they?"

"Oh my god! The director of Enterprise Alliance Security Group has come personally. Oh my god! He has actually come personally!"

"There are so many people!"

"Hua Zeming, Han Junming and their friends only made a call and yet so many people have come. Moreover, they are all influential figures in Rivertown! This..."

Every single person in the crowd looked on in disbelief at the group of people who had just arrived.

At the very front were three people. They were the director of East City Group, the director of Enterprise Alliance Security Group and a middle-aged man giving off strong vibes.

At this moment, the crowd looked to Wang Xian before looking at Hua Zeming, Han Junming and their friends.

"Hehe. They have all arrived. I hope you will be able to take the consequences!"

Han Junming looked at the group approaching them. His lips curved into a smile as he stared coldly at Wang Xian.

"We are starting the game now! I hope you could entertain us!"

Hua Zeming stretched his neck a little as he revealed a cold smirk.

When the crowd saw the approaching group of people, they couldn't help but gasp.

"It's over, it's over! Senior Wang Xian is over!"

"Damn it! I had not expected Hua Zeming and Han Junming to be so incredible. They are able to call upon these influential figures with a single call!"

"Uncle Hu!"

"Chen Hu!"

"Ah Wu!"

Hua Zeming, Han Junming and their friends smirked and greeted the approaching group of people.

"Who dares to bully Zeming? Let Uncle Hu teach him a lesson. There's no one to be afraid of in Rivertown!"

"Young Master Han, who's the one who doesn't understand his position? Leave him to me!"

"Young Master Zhou, I hope I'm not late!"

The middle-aged man, director of East City Group and director of Enterprise Alliance Security Group met the greetings from Hua Zeming and his friends with radiant smiles.

"Sss! This...!"

When the crowd heard how the three leaders addressed Hua Zeming and his friends, they gasped.

They did not know about the middle-aged man, but Chen Hu was the director of a large group and had assets of over a billion. The other man was also the director of a strong group.

Yet, they were so deferential in front of them.

"Have they all arrived? Are there more?" Wang Xian looked at the three men that had walked over with dozens of subordinates. He gave a gentle smile.

"Death is knocking at your door and yet you acting so cockily!" the beautiful twins remarked coldly.

Huh?

Huh?

"That is...?"

However, when Hu Fei, Chen Hu and Gong Wu saw Wang Xian, their bodies froze.

Their stiff bodies shivered a little as they stopped in their tracks.

At the same time, the three of them took out their phones and made a call.

"Brother Hua, your son has gotten into trouble."

"Director Han, your son has gotten into trouble!"

"Second Master Zhou, your son has gotten into trouble!"

Chapter 233: Known Throughout the University of Rivertown

Your son has gotten into trouble!

Three of them said the same thing at the same time.

"What's going on?"

"This..."

Everyone was stunned when they saw three well-known figures pulling out their phones for calls.

Hua Zeming, Han Junming and the rest froze for a moment as a bad feeling suddenly rose in their hearts when they heard their conversations.

"Uncle Hu!"

Hua Zeming's expression sank gradually as he called out to Hu Fei.

Hu Fei peered at Hua Zeming through the corner of his eyes and ignored him. After he spoke to the person on the phone, he quickly walked towards Wang Xian.

"Young Master Wang, I didn't know that one of my big brother's sons had offended you. He said he will leave it to you as long as his son's life is spared!"

"Young Master Wang, Director Han wants me to apologize to you. His son, Han Junming, is at your disposal!"

"Young Master Wang, Second Master Zhou hopes you can spare his useless son's life!"

After Hu Fei went over, Chen Long and Gong Wu walked to Wang Xian immediately and spoke respectfully.

"Gosh, what's this situation now?!"

"God dammit! This..."

None of the surrounding spectators knew what to say as the event unfolded before them.

Their shock was beyond words as they lacked the vocabulary to describe it!

Hua Zeming, Han Junming, and the rest had called a group of people here. The staff member from the 4S car service who had just arrived ignored them as soon as he saw Wang Xian. He even mocked them.

Another three big shots arrived, and they called their parents to tell them their sons had gotten themselves into trouble!

Subsequently, the three big shots walked to Wang Xian and addressed him as Young Master Wang with respect.

The three big shots even told Wang Xian that he could do whatever he liked as long as he spared their lives.

Oh gosh!

Hua Zeming, Han Junming, and the rest parted their lips slightly, as they could not help but tremble for a moment.

They gazed at Hu Fei, Chen Long and Gong Wu in disbelief.

"Uncle Hu!" Hua Zeming opened his mouth and called out once again.

"Shut up. Get over here now and make your apology. Your dad told me to break your legs if you can't settle this today!" Hu Fei yelled at Hua Zeming, "If you can make it back home, you'll be punished by the house rules!"

"What?"

Hua Zeming trembled with a stupefied expression and fear flashed in his eyes.

If you can make it back home!

If you can make it back home! What if he couldn't? The answer was clear.

"Get over and apologize now!" Hu Fei shouted at him once again with a stern face.

"I..." Hua Zeming was filled with trepidation.

"Forget it. Just giving them some punishment will do. And I don't want to see them in Rivertown!"

Wang Xian looked at the four of them disdainfully before he spoke to Hu Fei, Chen Long and Gong Wu.

"Thank you, Young Master Wang. Their families will definitely give you a satisfactory answer!" The three of them hurriedly replied.

Wang Xian waved a dismissive hand and said to Wang Dahai and the rest, who were dumbfounded, "Let's go for our dinner. Don't let some trash spoil our mood!"

"Let's go!"

Wang Dahai and the rest stared with their wide and round eyes before they followed Wang Xian to the First-grade Restaurant.

"You guys are asking for trouble! Of all the people in Rivertown, why did you have to provoke Young Master Wang?"

Hu Fei looked at the quartet and shook his head gently. He looked at the figure who had just left with fear and respect.

"Young Master Han, go back to Modu now and never come back to Rivertown again. At the same time, your family needs to give a satisfactory answer to Young Master Wang!"

Chen Long looked at Han Junming and said solemnly, "You guys are lucky today. Young Master Wang gave us some face!"

Han Junming, Hua Zeming and the rest were still in a daze as they stood there with ashen faces.

At this time, all their phones rang. When they saw calls from the leaders of their families, their faces got as white as sheets!

What kind of people were they messing with?!

"How formidable is Senior Wang Xian!"

"He's simply too awesome!"

"Is this Wang Xian's strength? Hua Zeming and Han Junming were already so impressive. But now, their families are begging him to spare their sons' lives!"

"My idol! Senior Wang Xian is my idol! I heard he was penniless when he was in year one. Yet he has climbed to such a domineering position within a year!"

Hundreds of people broke into a commotion when Han Junming and Hua Zeming got into the cars like some walking zombies after Wang Xian disappeared.

All of them were discussing in shock.

Today, Wang Xian had exhibited an appalling and domineering strength.

If Wang Xian was just a well-known figure in the school in the past, he would become the legendary figure of the University of Rivertown from today onwards.

"Brother Xian, Brother Xian, you'll be our leader from now on!"

Wang Dahai called out to Wang Xian with admiration in one of the rooms in First-grade Restaurant.

"Brother Xian, you're so awesome and cool! I'd want to marry you if I was a girl."

"Get lost!"

Wang Xian pushed Wang Dahai away out of disgust. "Xiao Yu and the rest are here. You guys just go over there and sit!"

Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, and Zhang Feng were talking excitedly after Wang

Xian went out.

"Shuqing, Qingyue!"

Wang Xian walked out and saw Xiao Yu and Elder Fang. His eyes swept across Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue as he called out with a smile.

Apparently, he'd run away from some problems perfectly during a month of retreat. He felt the retreat was worth it!

"Looks like someone took good care of you!"

Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue sized him up with their eyes as they implied.

"Thanks to both of you for taking care of me during my retreat. You have worked hard. Let's have dinner!"

Wang Xian feigned ignorance as he spoke to Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue with sincerity.

"Heh, I'm glad you know it!"

Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue revealed smiles on their faces and headed to the private room.

Wang Xian immediately followed behind them. He saw Xiao Yu giving him a thumbs up with admiration.

Wang Xian patted his chest proudly, looking impressed with himself.

When Wang Dahai and the guys saw Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue entering the private room at the same time, they were taken aback.

During dinner, all of them dropped their jaws when Wang Xian was taking food for Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue eagerly.

This situation... Gosh!

"Brother Xian, I'm impressed. I'm totally impressed. You're simply awesome!"

When the four of them came to the washroom, Wang Dahai, Zhang Wen, and Zhang Feng immediately spoke to Wang Xian with great admiration.

"Heh, that's nothing!" Wang Xian chuckled with some haughtiness!

"Let me check how 'impressive' you are!"

Wang Dahai and the guys stretched their necks and checked out in between Wang Xian's legs.

"Gosh, formidable!"

"Invincible!"

Chapter 234: Sacred Sect Flame Palace

"Good morning, Senior Wang Xian!"

"Good morning, Wang Xian!"

"Good morning, handsome!"

When Wang Xian and Xiao Yu arrived at school the second morning, they were greeted by the students on the way enthusiastically.

"Morning!" Wang Xian nodded and replied with a smile.

"Brother, your actions have truly shocked the entire school. I had never expected you to accomplish something so shocking. That's totally incredible!"

Seeing students from the school greeting Wang Xian one after another, Xiao Yu looked at her brother with admiration.

"I am still just your brother!" Wang Xian joked. He smiled and added, "Alright, I'm going to my classroom now."

"Go ahead!" Xiao Yu replied, and the two went their separate ways.

"Good Morning, Wang Xian!"

"Good Morning, Brother Xian!"

When Wang Xian arrived at the classroom, everyone's attention was focused on him. A flicker of surprise flashed across their eyes and they quickly greeted him with a smile.

"Morning!" Wang Xian nodded and replied with a smile.

"Wang Xian, you have really hidden what you are capable of too well! The incident that happened yesterday in the afternoon has erupted in the school forum! Your actions are really too domineering!"

"You are my idol! I had never expected you to have such abilities!" some of the classmates with whom Wang Xian was closer with joked as they tried to get on the good books of Wang Xian.

Wang Xian smiled and chatted with them for a while. Soon, the school bell rang.

However, during the short intervals between the lessons in the morning, an announcement was made through the school's broadcasting system.

"Year-two student, Wang Xian, has donated $50 million to help students in need. The school will be setting up a Department to help needy students financially."

When the announcement was made, the school erupted with raucous discussions.

Wang Xian! It's Wang Xian again!

Together with the details of the incident the day before that were being spread at a crazy speed, Wang Xian was now known by everyone in the University of Rivertown.

"Thank you, Wang Xian for the donation to the school! Thank you, Wang Xian for helping out students in need!"

"The counselor approached me today and informed me that Wang Xian had donated a sum to the school to set up a fund that helps needy students. The school has now exempted my tuition fees for a year. I am deeply grateful to Wang Xian!"

"Positive energy! Wang Xian donated $50 million, and this could help a lot of people! Thank you, Wang Xian!"

"Wang Xian is really noble to donate $50 million to help the needy students! Thank you, Wang Xian!"

The school also posted the announcement on its official school website. At the same time, they publicized the assistance plan.

In the comment section, countless students were discussing the donation. Most of them were thanking Wang Xian for his donation.

In the end, the four words of [Thank you, Wang Xian] were up-voted the most, and soon reached over ten thousand.

After seeing the messages on the school forum and hearing the broadcast in school, Wang Xian smiled and left for the Divine Dragon Medical Hall in a joyous mood.

There were only two classes in the morning. After his classes, it was only ten in the morning.

When he reached the doorstep of the medical hall, Sun Lingxiu, who was wearing white, was already standing there.

She stood there quietly and wore a gentle smile on her face. This attracted the attention of many passersby.

"Xiao Xian!"

When Sun Lingxiu saw Wang Xian walking towards her, she walked forward and welcomed him with a beautiful smile.

"Have you been waiting?" asked Wang Xian as he opened the doors to the Divine Dragon Medical Hall.

"Nope, I've just arrived!" answered Sun Lingxiu.

When Sun Lingxiu entered the medical hall, she looked around attentively. "Xiao Xian, you might not know about this, but when I sent patients here for treatment in the past, I imagined becoming a Miracle Doctor as incredible as you. I would think about how great it would be if I could cure them of their illnesses! Although I'm not as great as you are at this moment, I'm at least able to treat patients here!"

She spoke happily, as this was something she had been hoping for ages.

"I'll leave this medical hall to you from now on. I won't meddle with the business anymore!" Wang Xian commented.

"Rest assured! Now that you have left this to me, you will be my boss from now onwards. I'll be earning money for you!" Sun Lingxiu smiled as she went to boil some water.

"Mm. I've brought you here today to take a look first. You can start seeing patients starting tomorrow! I might just stay around here when I have nothing to do," Wang Xian nodded his head and said.

"Alright, Xiao Xian. However, can I change the rules of the Divine Dragon Medical Hall?" Sun Lingxiu asked.

Sun Lingxiu made Wang Xian a cup of tea with the boiled water and brought it to him.

"The rules? Just change them as you wish. I won't be getting involved with the business here in the future after all. Oh yes! It would be best if we could collect spiritual stones from treatments to Ancient Martial Artist," Wang Xian nodded and replied in a nonchalant tone.

"Yes, Boss Xiao Xian, I'll just follow your instructions!" answered Sun Lingxiu with a radiant smile as she lifted the cup of tea and placed it in front of Wang Xian with both hands.

Wang Xian was not used to her behaving this way.

This reminded him of the nurse and maid cosplay.

"This is the place! Divine Dragon Medical Hall that is helmed by the eighth-ranked Miracle Doctor on the Miracle Doctors Chart!"

When Wang Xian and Sun Lingxiu were chatting, an old man and a young man arrived by the doorstep and commented after taking a look at the signboard.

"Master, will he agree to join our Flame Palace?" the young man asked curiously, looking into the Medical Hall.

"Rest assured, he will agree!" the old man said with confidence. "Our Flame Palace is a newly crowned Sacred Sect and we are at the stage where we are recruiting various experts. This is also the best time for the experts to join us!"

"Miracle Doctor Wang is a factionless doctor. Although he is ranked eighth on the Miracle Doctors Chart, he is still a factionless doctor after all. He now has a chance to join a Sacred Sect and become our personal Miracle Doctor within the Sect. Tell me! Will he reject and let this opportunity slip?"

"Hehe, he will definitely agree to join. This is a chance encounter for him and the best opportunity available. He wouldn't get the same treatment and status that Flame Palace is offering if he chooses to join another Sacred Sect," said the old man confidently as he walked in with his head lifted up high.

The young man nodded in agreement and followed behind.

"Hey there, you guys are...?"

Sun Lingxiu was tidying up things in the medical hall when the old and young man entered. She looked at them and asked them this, feeling a little baffled about their purpose.

"Wow, she's so beautiful!" the young man exclaimed when he saw Sun Xiuling.

The old man smiled and looked at his disciple before turning his attention to Wang Xian, who was resting on the reclining chair, and asking, "You must be Miracle Doctor Wang!?"

Huh? Wang Xian lifted his head and saw the old and young man. "Yes, I am. Do you have something for me?"

"Miracle Doctor Wang is indeed as young as rumored. I am an Elder of the Sacred Sect, Flame Palace. I would like to invite Miracle Doctor Wang to join our Sacred Sect as our personal Miracle Doctor!" said the old man heartily.

"Sacred Sect, Flame Palace?" Wang Xian was baffled. "Is there a Flame Palace among Sacred Sects?"

The old man was shocked to hear Wang Xian's reply and displeasure flashed in his eyes. Although Flame Palace had just become a Sacred Sect, it was already known throughout the world.

"Flame Palace has just become a Sacred Sect. We sincerely hope Miracle Doctor Wang can join us!" The old man repeated his invitation.

"I'm sorry. I have no intention to join any forces!"

Chapter 235: A Slave

"I'm sorry. I have no intention to join any forces!"

When Wang Xian declared his stand indifferently on his chair, the old and young men froze immediately.

The old man was slightly embarrassed when he saw Wang Xian sipping his tea in a relaxed and casual manner. Wang Xian was looking calm as he dismissed them as someone unimportant.

Wang Xian did not take Sacred Sects seriously at all!

"Miracle Doctor Wang, the Flame Palace was promoted to a Sacred Sect. If you can join us, you'll be one of our members, and we'll protect you!"

The old man continued making his point to Wang Xian with a sunken expression.

"I'm sorry!" Wang Xian sat up and put his tea aside. He looked at the old man and repeated himself again, "I don't have the intention to join any forces, and I may not be practicing medicine anymore!"

"It's your honor that we invited you to join the Sacred Sects. How dare a factionless doctor treat us rudely!" said the young man coldly. The young man spotted Wang Xian's lukewarm expression, and the fact that Wang Xian disregarded them totally irritated the young man who had been received with flatteries recently.

Wang Xian was stunned and surprised. He looked at the two haughty people and found them funny. "So what if you are from the Sacred Sects? Are you forcing me to join against my will?"

"Hmph, since Miracle Doctor Wang is unwilling to join us, how can we force you to do so? The Flame Palace will be recruiting heroes and disciples at Wuduan Mountain two days from now. I hope to see you there!" the old man said coldly. With a palm move, a fiery red invitation card appeared in his hand.

Shoo!

He swung his palm gently, and the invitation card was inserted into the wall behind Wang Xian like a hidden weapon.

It was not hard to imagine the strength he possessed for pushing a paper invitation into the wall.

The old man got up and walked out. When he was approaching the door, he paused and said sternly, "A factionless doctor who does not join any force is unsafe!"

The old man left immediately upon completing his sentence. The young man glowered at Wang Xian before he glanced at Sun Lingxiu with passion flashing in his eyes.

"Hehe!"

Wang Xian put on a smiling face as the old man left. He reached out his hand, and the invitation card embedded in the wall flew to his hand.

If that old man saw this just now, he would be appalled!

Wang Xian flipped the fiery red invitation card and saw prominent characters printed on it.

Pilgrimage: Sacred Sect, Flame Palace!

"Pilgrimage?"

Wang Xian chuckled. Sects that could become one of the Sacred Sects were domineering existences.

They must have more than ten Inborn Experts and enough influence.

The fact that Flame Palace could be promoted to Sacred Sect meant it must have possessed a dominating presence.

In the last decades, Flame Palace was also the only force that had been promoted.

After they were promoted, the Flame Palace would need to expand their sect by recruiting underworld experts and disciples.

Wuduan Mountain was about a hundred kilometers away from Rivertown. It was not near, but not far either.

"What has Sacred Sect got to do with me?!" Wang Xian chuckled the invitation aside and continued with his relaxing tea time.

After Sun Lingxiu came to the Divine Dragon Medical Hall, he finally relaxed completely.

He could swim in the sea, rest in the medical hall, go to school every day. The thought of it was just satisfying.

"Oh, Lingxiu. If you want to have lunch or dinner, you can go to First-grade Restaurant next door."

Wang Xian relaxed and lay down for more than 30 minutes before he stood up and spoke to Sun Lingxiu, who tidied up the medical hall.

"Yes, Xiao Xian." Sun Lingxiu nodded and sat beside him smilingly.

"I'll go back to school now. Go back and rest if there's nothing to do!"

Wang Xian looked at the time and headed to the school.

"Mm!"

Sun Lingxiu stood up and gazed at Wang Xian's back view with a faint smile.

"If this place is going to work like I want, I would be swamped. This might prevent Xiao Xian from making money too!"

Sun Lingxiu observed the entire Divine Dragon Medical Hall while she was deep in her thoughts.

She was a kind-hearted person. When she witnessed life and death, and many helpless families in the hospital, she always thought about how wonderful it would be if she were more skillful.

Hence, she was impressed by Wang Xian and admired him a lot.

She always wanted to help those people who suffered from illness or had no money to see expensive doctors when she improved her medical skills.

She knew she was acting a little like a Holy Mother, but it had always been her dream.

Now, she finally had a chance.

However, she would need to overthrow the rules set by Wang Xian previously if she wanted to do that. It would bring more work to the medical hall in the future too.

"Let's get a helper!"

Sun Lingxiu thought of a person as she wore a radiant smile on her face. She closed the medical hall and walked upstairs slowly.

Sun Lingxiu sat with her legs crossed and her eyes closed. The smile disappeared from her face as she looked like a noble and holy goddess.

"My blood!"

She parted her red lips gently as she exuded a faint white glow from her body. The white and bright energy eventually illuminated the entire room.

Pure, elegant, holy!

At the same time, in a castle in faraway Europe...

The night was dark. A middle-aged man, in his red tuxedo and a tall hat, raised his wine glass as he roamed around in the ballroom full of flashes.

Various middle-aged men and ladies in refined and luxurious dressing were exchanging conversations with the middle-aged man in a tuxedo.

"Prince!"

When the middle-aged man in a tuxedo went on the front stage, all the audience cheered for him.

"Hehe, thank you for coming!"

The middle-aged man in a tuxedo exhibited an imposing demeanor as he raised his wine glass, overlooking the people like a ruler.

All of them in the ballroom bowed to him in respect and held up their tall wine glasses.

The thick bloody color in the tall wine glasses was eerie-looking under the faint and gloomy lighting.

"Hehe!"

The middle-aged man in a tuxedo lifted his chin, looking thrilled.

At that moment, his excited face stiffened with shock, fear, and despair showing in his eyes.

"No!"

He let out a sharp shriek and disappeared on the spot. He then appeared on the top of the castle, as he looked far in one direction!

"No, it can't be. This is impossible!"

He was trembling badly as desperation filled his eyes.

Ah!

All of a sudden, the middle-aged man in a tuxedo rolled his body on the rooftop of the castle in pain, looking to be in agony.

"Master...I surrender. Master, please. I beg you! I was wrong. I was wrong!"

"I'll come to you now, Master. I'll be at your disposal from now on!"

He knelt on the ground and pledged his loyalty loudly.

There was no one around him, but he was unusually respectful and fearful.

"How dare you feed on my blood. Hmph!"

Sun Lingxiu opened her eyes with radiance flashed across them.

She stood up slowly with a smile on her face.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man is now a slave!

Chapter 236: Disciples Of The Flame Palace

Wang Xian didn't know what had happened in the Divine Dragon Medical Hall.

"Hurry up. Let's go get some crockpot rice. That stall has great business. We've got to hurry!"

At this moment, Xiao Yu was rushing Wang Xian, Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing.

"Alright. It has been a long time since we have eaten in the school canteen. Let's go!"

Wang Xian nodded his head with a faint smile before looking to Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing. "Do you guys still have lessons in the afternoon?"

"I have two more lessons in the afternoon!"

"I have two lessons too!"

The two girls smiled and returned the question, "Why? What's the matter?"

"Nothing, nothing. I'd just like to ask if the two of you will be staying in the dormitory tonight?"

Wang Xian smiled sheepishly. After practicing behind closed doors for a month, he had a hard time holding it in. He wanted to release some of it.

"I'm staying in the dormitory."

"I'm going home!"

The two girls stared at him at the same time and answered.

"Oh, in that case, come to my villa after school tomorrow! Let's have a good gathering and get something nice to eat!" continued Wang Xian without a pause.

Huh? The two girls were a little interested. After hesitating for a moment, they nodded their heads.

Wang Xian was thrilled and started looking at Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue from top to bottom.

Both of them were around 1.7 meters tall with perfect figures. The two of them together...

Wang Xian was in ecstasy at the thought of it. His imagination ran wild and he was wondering if he should get some new clothes for them.

Schoolgirl costume? Stockings? Female teacher costume?

"Wow! There are so many people waiting for it!"

When they arrived at the canteen, Xiao Yu was clearly displeased when she saw the long queue in front of the stall that sold crockpot rice.

"Let's go. We have nothing going on anyway. Let's just queue for it!"

Wang Xian smiled and walked over as he spoke to Xiao Yu.

"Alright!"

Wang Xian had visited this crockpot rice stall with Lan Qingyue once. It was indeed tasty and could be considered as one of the most patronized stalls in the University of Rivertown.

Wang Xian, Xiao Yu and the group walked towards the end of the line.

"Eh? Wang Xian, are you eating in the school canteen too?"

"Hello, Wang Xian!"

"Hello, senior Wang Xian!"

When Wang Xian and the group walked over, those who were queueing immediately recognized him and greeted him.

"Yeah, I'm here for lunch. Hello, everyone!"

Wang Xian smiled faintly. After what had happened yesterday and the news of him donating $50 million to the school had spread, he was now known by even more people than the number of people who knew Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing.

"Are you here for the crockpot rice? Come, you can queue in front of me!"

"Oh yeah, Wang Xian. Come, you can go to the front. You don't have to queue!"

"To the students ahead, are you all fine with letting Wang Xian queue in front of you guys?"

"Not a problem at all. Oh right, Wang Xian, what would you like to have? I'll order for you!" the students in the queue smiled and said to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian saw the enthusiastic looks on the students. He simply smiled, waved his hand and replied, "It's alright. I'm not in a rush. I can just wait behind!"

"This won't do. You are someone we really respect in the entire school. We aren't in a hurry either. You have done so much for the school and this is just a way the students are trying to express their gratitude. Do you guys agree with me?"

"That's right, that's right!" all the students replied loudly.

"How many servings of crockpot rice do you want? It will be all free if you visit here again!"

The boss of the stall heard what the students were saying. With a face full of smiles, he stretched his head out of the window.

"What a great boss!" the students laughed and commented.

"Haha, it's just some rice. Hey, Wang Xian, how many servings would you like? I'll start preparing right away!" the boss laughed heartily.

"In that case, thank you, boss. I'd like to have four servings!"

Wang Xian saw the enthusiastic looks of the students and replied with a faint smile.

"Alright, it will be done right away!"

The boss nodded his head.

"Hehe. Xiao Xian, you are really incredible now. You don't have to pay for your meal and can just use your face!"

"Yeah! You are getting even more compliments than us currently!" Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue smiled and said to Wang Xian.

"Perhaps it's because I'm too good looking!" Wang Xian said cheekily. "Let's find a place to sit. I'll bring it over to you guys in a while!"

"Alright, brother, thank you!"

Xiao Yu, Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue walked to a bench a short distance away and sat down.

"Brother, can you get another serving? My master is coming too!"

Less than two minutes had passed when Xiao Yu shouted to Wang Xian.

"Alright!" Wang Xian nodded his head and ordered an additional serving.

After five minutes, the boss placed five servings of crockpot rice on a tray and passed it to Wang Xian with a smile.

"Thank you!"

Wang Xian thanked the boss before carrying the tray towards Xiao Yu and the group.

"Tsk. You are just a Martial Artist Level 8 Elder from the Thistles and Thorns Sect and yet you dare to speak to me in this manner? You must be courting death!"

When Wang Xian walked over, he instantly heard a clear voice sound. He was taken aback and lifted his head to look over.

It was from a girl, a very beautiful girl. In terms of looks, she wasn't inferior to Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue.

Around her, there were three to four other teenagers.

Opposite the girl, Elder Fang and Xiao Yu were standing.

At this moment, Xiao Yu's face had turned red from anger. She stared harshly at the girl as she remarked, "Tsk! Is your Flame Palace that impressive that it gives you the confidence to speak so loudly? Are you the Saintess or Sect Leader of Flame Palace?"

"Hey, girl, you better watch your words. Flame Palace isn't something you can insult. A small Thistles and Thorns Sect is nothing in the eyes of our Flame Palace. Just a few attendants from the Flame Palace would be enough to annihilate you guys!"

The young man standing beside the girl looked at Xiao Yu with contempt and issued a stern warning.

As for the girl, she was as proud as a peacock and looked plainly at Xiao Yu and Elder Fang.

The Flame Palace again?

When Wang Xian heard that name, he looked to the boy who spoke with disdain.

"You better watch your words in front of me too. Those who dare to speak like this to my sister in Rivertown will suffer a terrible death!"

Wang Xian carried the tray and walked over directly. He placed it on the table by the side before looking at that boy.

Huh?

The boy was first stunned, but quickly turned his head over to meet the eyes of Wang Xian.

However, he soon frowned when he saw Wang Xian. The aura on his body dissipated immediately.

Wang Xian looked at that boy and demanded coldly, "Apologize now!"

"I..."

That boy was shocked. The proud girl was also slightly stunned as she looked confusingly at Wang Xian.

That proud girl restrained her arrogance and exclaimed, "Miracle Doctor Wang!"

Wang Xian did not pay attention to her and had his eyes fixed on that young man.

"I'm a disciple of the Flame Palace!" the young man gritted his teeth and said with a heavy tone.

He had not expected the one who he had reprimanded to be the sister of Wang Xian.

They had long heard about the incident of Hua Zeming and Han Junming in the morning. After investigating further, they found out that Wang Xian was, in fact, Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown.

He was now facing the eighth-ranked Miracle Doctor on the Miracle Doctors Chart, someone who could summon several Inborn experts to annihilate a First-class Force.

Therefore, all he could do was to brace himself and throw out the title of Flame Palace.

Chapter 237: Trouble

Wang Xian narrowed his eyes as coldness flashed in them while looking at the young guy.

"Apologize now!"

When the girl beside him noticed the change in Wang Xian's expression, she quickly instructed the young man.

That guy hesitated, looking embarrassed. He then gritted his teeth and lowered his head slightly. "Sorry, Miracle Doctor Wang. I didn't know she's your sister!"

"Scram!"

Wang Xian spat out a word emotionlessly again. This time, he was staring at all of them.

"Miracle Doctor Wang... We..."

"I don't want to repeat myself again!"

That pretty and haughty girl was about to say something again, but Wang Xian glared at her coldly.

Her expression changed drastically as she stared at Wang Xian with an awful look. Subsequently, she turned her back on him and left.

"Hmph! Such arrogance!" Xiao Yu glared at them and said with anger.

The haughty girl darkened her expression while the rest of the people following her were looking sulky.

"Wanwan, why are we afraid of him? He's just a factionless doctor. We..."

The boy who had apologized just now asked Mu Wanwan with a sullen look.

"He's not someone whom we can provoke!"

Mu Wanwan's expression sank as she took a look at him. "Flame Palace is trying to recruit the factionless doctor ranked eighth on the Miracle Doctors Chart. If he becomes the dedicated Miracle Doctor in Flame Palace, his position is equivalent to an elder's position!"

"Wanwan is right. Even if he is not joining Flame Palace, we can't afford to offend him. The Flame Palace would not offend a Miracle Doctor like him without any reason," another guy beside him said with a gloomy look.

They were only average disciples of Flame Palace. Even though they had Sacred Sect as their backing, they did not dare to provoke Wang Xian.

"Are we swallowing this down just like this?!" that boy asked, as he felt humiliated.

Mu Wanwan was looking ahead without uttering a word.

...

"What's going on?" Wang Xian looked at Xiao Yu and asked her when that group of people had left.

"It was because of Thistles and Thorns Sect!" Elder Fang frowned as she answered Wang Xian.

"Thistles and Thorns Sect?" Wang Xian paused slightly as he asked doubtfully, "Do Thistles and Thorns Sect and Flame Palace have any conflicts?"

"Mm, sort of!" Elder Fang nodded. "Sect Leader Tang and one of the elders of Flame Palace shared some grievances. Hence, it involves the entire Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

"Let's talk while we eat!" Wang Xian sat at the table as he said to Elder Fang.

"It's a long story, and it involves the Sect Leader's wife!" Elder Fang took a seat and said to Wang Xian.

"Hur? Sect Leader Tang and that elder from Flame Palace had a fight with a girl? In the end, Sect Leader Tang won the heart of beauty? Such drama like this?" asked Wang Xian, shocked.

"Something like that!" Elder Fang nodded her head bitterly, "I'm not sure about the details, but Sect Leader Tang's foe made a breakthrough to Inborn Realm and was promoted to the elder of Flame Palace. Besides, the Flame Palace was just promoted to become a Sacred Sect not long ago."

"This time round, Flame Palace is recruiting experts and disciples at the Wuduan Mountain. Given the influence of Sacred Sects, formidable families, sects around the provinces will be there on a pilgrimage."

"Many people knew about the old scores between Sect Leader Tang and that elder from Flame Palace. The Thistles and Thorns Sect might be in danger, as we're afraid they may make things difficult for us!" Elder Fang said with a helpless look on her face.

A Second-class Force against a Sacred Sect was as good as an ant fighting an elephant. Thistles and Thorns Sect could not resist them.

"What's so great about Sacred Sect? Give me a few more months, and I will also become an Inborn Expert!" Xiao Yu pounded her bowl with her chopsticks out of anger.

"The Flame Palace invited me to join their them, but I turned them down today!" Wang Xian stroked Xiao Yu's head as he laughed.

"Hur? Brother, did they?" Xiao Yu was slightly stunned as she asked to confirm again.

"Yes, they wanted me to become their dedicated Miracle Doctor." Wang Xian laughed as he spoke. "Extremely haughty old and young men!"

"You did the right thing by rejecting them!" Xiao Yu pouted her lips and nodded.

Elder Fang shook her head. "Given Miracle Doctor Wang's strength, you could be at least an elder in Flame Palace after you joined them."

"Master, will something happen to Thistles and Thorns Sect this time?!" asked Xiao Yu with concern.

"According to Sect Leader's speculations, we will get humiliation at most. Their old scores were not as serious as fighting it out with their lives. It's just that it would be difficult for Thistles and Thorns Sect to develop in the future!"

Elder Fang slightly knit her eyebrows as she looked at Xiao Yu. "Thistles and Thorns Sect will have to depend on you."

"Don't worry, Master. I will become a formidable expert so that no one can bully Thistles and Thorns Sect!" Xiao Yu said with motivation.

Wang Xian chuckled as he found it interesting to see his own younger sister growing up.

He was not sure if this was considered to be a heroine cultivation story for his sister.

After lunch, Wang Xian accompanied Guan Shuqing and Lan Qingyue for a stroll in the canteen.

Xiao Yu went back to her cultivation, feeling spurred on by Elder Fang.

She was already a Level 8 Martial Artist, the same level as Elder Fang.

However, she was still far from Elder Fang in terms of combat experience.

Even so, Elder Fang was astonished by Xiao Yu's growth too!

After school, Wang Xian took the comfortable caravan back to the villa.

Sun Lingxiu greeted him with a smiling face while making tea. She even cooked for him.

Upon seeing such a pure and beautiful goddess serving him, Wang Xian was not used to it, but at the same time, he felt extremely satisfied.

Sun Lingxiu continued staying in the room not far away from him, and did not mention leaving.

Wang Xian woke up early the next morning. He came to the yard and noticed Xiao Yu and Elder Fang's startled looks as they gazed ahead.

"Master, I was wrong. I was ignorant the other time. It was all my fault. I will be serving you by your side from now on. Please give me a chance!"

A middle-aged man, who wore a vibrant red tuxedo, was kneeling at the entrance with an ashen look. He was kowtowing to Sun Lingxiu without stopping.

His broken Chinese sounded quirky.

"What's your name!" Sun Lingxiu looked at Miracle Doctor Blood Man and asked without any emotions.

"Master, I'm the maid... No... I'm the slave, named Scarlet Vince Vladimir."

Miracle Doctor Blood Man answered respectfully. His broken Mandarin and the term 'maid' were very funny.

"Okay, I shall call you Xiao Hong from now on!" Sun Lingxiu put on a smile as she spoke to Miracle Doctor Blood Man. [\[1\]](#)

"Yes, you can call me anything you want, Master. Xiao Hong sounds nice!" Miracle Doctor Blood Man quickly agreed.

"Okay, get up now and follow me from now on!" Sun Lingxiu said with a smile.

"Yes, Xiao Hong vows...to follow Master for anything you want me to do. My loyalty to the Master is as much as the sea..."

Miracle Doctor Blood Man--no, Xiao Hong--told Sun Lingxiu with determination.

"Gosh, what a talent!"

Chapter 238: Pilgrimage (1)

A very interesting person arrived at the villa.

He was known as Miracle Doctor Blood Man in the past and Xiao Hong currently.

When Wang Xian saw Miracle Doctor Blood Man, he immediately realized why he would be under the control of Sun Lingxiu.

The reason lay in the bloodline.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man had sucked and consumed the blood of Sun Lingxiu previously. Initially, Sun Lingxiu was supposed to die because of this. However, Wang Xian managed to save her, and imparted the Cultivation Arts of the Light Divine Dragon Transformation to her.

Together with a Level 12 flower sac and her incredibly strong constitution, her cultivation level reached Level 6 of the Divine Dragon Transformation and her strength wouldn't be inferior to an Inborn expert.

As for Miracle Doctor Blood Man, his strength had improved by leaps and bounds after consuming Sun Lingxiu's unique blood.

However, there was a hidden issue with it. The blood belonged to Sun Lingxiu after all.

Using the method Wang Xian developed to control the dragonians, she had gained control of Miracle Doctor Blood Man directly.

Just like the dragonians, Miracle Doctor Blood Man would have developed an innate submission and obedience to Sun Lingxiu.

Sun Lingxiu could also give Miracle Doctor Blood Man an experience worse than death through her unique technique.

"Young Master, Xiao Hong is really strong. My senses are telling me that he isn't any weaker than me!" Mo Qinglong found it hilarious to see Miracle Doctor Blood Man, or Xiao Hong, standing there deferentially.

"He's indeed strong, but he has gone for wool and come home shorn. He definitely had not expected himself to end up like this!" Wang Xian said with a face of smiles.

"Hello, everyone, my master has prepared breakfast. Please come and have a try!"

Sun Lingxiu brought out the breakfast she had prepared. Miracle Doctor Blood Man immediately went over to help and brought out the breakfast like a gentleman.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man was from a top-tier noble family in Europe. Every past generation in his family was part of the nobles. Therefore, he exhibited noble airs in every action he did.

This was definitely not something waitresses in western food restaurants could match.

The only negative about him would be his broken Mandarin.

"It's time for breakfast!" Sun Lingxiu sat to the side of Wang Xian happily and remarked. "Try some!"

"Yeah!" Wang Xian nodded his head and commented. "So tasty!"

"Great! Oh right, Xiao Xian. I might not be opening the medical hall today. Xiao Hong has a lot of books on medical techniques. I'd like to take the day off to take a look at them!" said Sun Lingxiu.

"Sure, you don't have to be in a rush!" Wang Xian nodded his head.

"Yeah, yeah. With Xiao Hong helping out at the medical hall, it will get a lot easier in the future!" Sun Lingxiu smiled and nodded her head.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man saw how his master looked at Wang Xian. He immediately thought to himself that this would also be someone he had to treat with respect in the future.

After a day of classes, Wang Xian brought Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing back to the villa excitedly.

Eh?

However, when he arrived at the villa, he saw a familiar figure sitting on the sofa.

"Sect Leader Tang, why are you here?"

Wang Xian signalled to Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing before walking to where Sect Leader Tang was.

"Miracle Doctor Wang!"

When Sect Leader Tang saw him, he immediately stood up and greeted him.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, sorry for intruding. There's something I have to tell Miracle Doctor Wang and Xiao Yu!"

"Have a seat, Sect Leader Tang. You can be frank about it!" Wang Xian smiled and walked over.

"It's regarding the pilgrimage!"

Sect Leader Tang sat down and spoke with a heavy expression.

"Pilgrimage?" Wang Xian was taken aback and recalled the Flame Palace.

"This is an invitation card from them!"

Sect Leader Tang nodded his head and placed two invitation cards beside Wang Xian before opening them.

Its contents were the same as the invitation card he had received from an old man. [Pilgrimage: Sacred Sect, Flame Palace]

Five very domineering words!

And below the seven words, there was a line of words.

[Sincerely inviting Sect Leader Tang of Thistles and Thorns Sect]

And on the other invitation card, it read [Sincerely inviting Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect]

Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect?

Wang Xian squinted his eyes to catch a better look.

"Someone from Thistles and Thorns Sect might have leaked out the news. Now, the Flame Palace knows about the existence of a Saintess in Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

With a heavy expression, he continued, "Therefore, the Flame Palace has sent out two invitation cards!"

Within the Underworld, once a sect established the position of Saintess or Saint, it would mean that they had extremely high regards for that disciple.

To a large extent, the Saint or Saintess represented the future successors of the position of Sect Leader and they had a high chance of reaching the Inborn Realm.

The Elder from Flame Palace heard about this and was clearly interested to find out more about the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

As to what he really had in mind, no one else would know.

Wang Xian frowned slightly. The Flame Palace had sent two separate invitation cards. In that case, Xiao Yu as the Saintess had to go. Otherwise, it would be signalling that she looked down on the Flame Palace.

This might result in grave consequences in the future.

Sect Leader Tang didn't dare to reject.

"Pilgrimage?" Wang Xian was feeling a little contemptuous. "I'll accompany Xiao Yu tomorrow."

Huh? Sect Leader Tang was slightly shocked. He immediately stood up and said respectfully, "I'll be troubling Miracle Doctor Wang then. This is all because of me after all."

"It's alright, Sect Leader Tang, you don't have to worry about it!" Wang Xian smiled and shook his head.

"In that case, I shall not disturb Miracle Doctor Wang further. I'll get going. Our Thistles and Thorns Sect still has to make some preparations," said Sect Leader Tang.

"Alright!"

Wang Xian nodded his head. Seeing off Sect Leader Tang, he glanced at the invitation card on the table. "Pilgrimage? Interesting!"

Pilgrimage to the Flame Palace would suggest Flame Palace wanted others to revere them!

Soon after, Xiao Yu and Elder Fang returned to the villa. Clearly, Xiao Yu and Elder Fang had learnt about the matter.

When Xiao Yu got back, she immediately went to practice and swore to become an Inborn expert as quickly as possible.

At night, the thrilling night Wang Xian had envisioned did not come into fruition. Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing stayed in a separate room.

Moreover, they locked their door when they went to bed.

This made him feel helpless.

"Young Master, I have a piece of good news!"

On the second day, when Wang Xian walked to the living room, Mo Qinglong walked over and reported to him joyously.

"What's the good news?" Wang Xian stretched his body a little and asked.

"Mo Yuan has made the advancement to the Inborn Realm!" Mo Qinglong answered with a smile.

"Oh? That was pretty fast!"

Wang Xian revealed a satisfied expression. Mo Yuan was Mo Qinglong's disciple and had a foundation in cultivation. It wasn't too huge of a surprise that his cultivation level had now reached the Inborn Realm.

"Oh, right." Wang Xian thought about it and continued, "Call Mo Yuan along too. The Flame Palace has organized a pilgrimage. Let's go over and take a look!"

"For the pilgrimage to the Flame Palace, I heard that all the second-class and above forces in the four to five neighbouring provinces have to attend."

"The main objective of the Flame Palace is to recruit experts and take in outstanding disciples."

Mo Qinglong knew more about the pilgrimage than Wang Xian and added, "I'll get Mo Yuan over right away!"

"Let him hurry over. We will be rushing there after breakfast!" said Wang Xian.

At this moment, Miracle Doctor Blood Man, who had noble blood, carried the breakfast to the dining table. "Hello everyone, it's time for breakfast."

"Lingxiu, why don't you guys follow us to Wuduan Mountain today?" Wang Xian said to Sun Lingxiu, taking a glance at Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"Alright, Xiao Xian, I'll listen to whatever you say!" Sun Lingxiu answered obediently.

Lan Qingyue and Guan Shuqing, who happened to be coming down the stairs, heard her.

Chapter 239: Pilgrimage (2)

"Shuqing, watch over him. I'm going back to the office to settle some stuff!"

Before Lan Qingyue was gone, she cast a death stare at Wang Xian and urged Guan Shuqing.

"Don't worry. I'll watch over him!"

Guan Shuqing nodded.

"Hmph!"

Wang Xian gave a bitter smile when Guan Shuqing threw him a warning look after Lan Qingyue left.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, let's go. It will take more than two hours to reach Wuduan Mountain from here!"

Elder Fang looked at Wang Xian and spoke casually, thinking he was a sex poodle to herself.

"Let's take the caravan. Just right. All of us can fit into it!" Wang Xian told them as he swept a glance at the group and headed to the car.

Xiao Yu, Elder Fang, Guan Shuqing, Sun Lingxiu, Miracle Doctor Blood Man Xiao Hong, Mo Yuan, Mo Qinglong and Wang Xian made eight people in total.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man was in his usual vibrant red tuxedo. His face went pale as he observed the group with surprise.

Needless to say, his master was an Inborn Expert.

In addition, that Miracle Doctor Wang and his two other servants were Inborn Experts.

Counting him in the group would make five Inborn Experts in a group of eight.

Such a lineup surprised Xiao Hong.

If we had a few more experts, we could form a royal family! Xiao Hong thought to himself.

"Young Master, this is the information about Flame Palace researched by Mo Yuan!"

Mo Qinglong handed a document to Wang Xian in the car.

"Oh?" Wang Xian took it with surprise. Xiao Yu and Elder Fang looked over with curiosity too.

"They have 13 Inborn Experts, more than 30 Half-step to Inborn Experts, around 80 Level 9 Martial Artists, and their Saint and Saintess were on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart. They were ranked 17 and 14 respectively!"

Xiao Yu and Elder Fang read aloud the information on the document as they stared with their eyes agape.

"They are strong. They actually have 13 Inborn Experts!" Xiao Yu could not help but exclaim, "Is this how strong a Sacred Sect is?"

"According to the information Thistles and Thorns Sect got, Flame Palace only has 11 Inborn Experts, and they don't have so many Half-step to Inborn Experts and Level 9 Martial Artists!"

Elder Fang knit her eyebrows slightly.

"This information is accurate!" said Mo Qinglong to Elder Fang

"Looks like Flame Palace has concealed their actual strength. They are among the Sacred Sects indeed!" Elder Fang exclaimed.

As compared to such a domineering Flame Palace, Thistles and Thorns Sect was nothing.

"Master, will the Flame Palace bully Thistles and Thorns Sect?" Xiao Yu looked at her master with concern.

"Don't worry!" Elder Fang squeezed a smile on her face, but she was, in fact, worried sick!

"Relax. I'm here, aren't I? With me around, what can the Flame Palace do?!"

Wang Xian smiled and stroked Xiao Yu's head.

"Yes, I still have a formidable brother!"

Xiao Yu lifted her chin and showed a smile on her face.

The car was driving fast on the road.

Wuduan Mountain was situated in the North City of Dongqing Province.

Wuduan Mountain was made up of five 100-meter peaks, surrounding a special scenic area in the center.

This scenic area only opened in the spring, and tourists were prohibited from entering during other seasons.

Wuduan Mountain had five entrances. Wang Xian and the rest began to observe the environment after the car was parked at the entrance.

The floor around the 100-meters towering peaks was covered by marble.

All kinds of luxury cars were parked in the carpark, while the imposing experts strolled inside.

Many Martial Artists were standing around the entrance.

They were dressed in uniforms with huge flames embroidered in front of their chests.

"Even the entrance guards are Level 7 Martial Artists. They are simply domineering."

"No wonder Flame Palace can be the only force that rose to become a Sacred Sect within decades. We can tell how strong Flame Palace is just by a glimpse of it."

"Sacred Sects... When can we be promoted to the Sacred Sects? Sigh, I guess we're hopeless!"

The few influential families and sects from the surrounding provinces exclaimed softly when they saw the guards at the entrance.

They walked in with awe, just like what the invitation of Flame Palace had written: Pilgrimage!

"Flame Palace did not dispatch all their people here for this recruitment. It's not even a third of their total strength!"

"I heard there will be four Inborn Experts from Flame Palace here. With them around, they can suppress everyone on the spot!"

As Wang Xian and the group headed inside, the discussions were heard from the surroundings again.

"Your invitation card, please!" the guards of Flame Palace asked them coldly when they came to an intersection point.

Mo Qinglong placed two invitation cards on the table. The guards took a glance and gestured for them to enter.

"Wow, what a huge square!"

When they walked into Wuduan Mountain, a vast square unfolded before their eyes.

Guan Shuqing was shocked as she looked inside.

A large cauldron, five meters tall, was situated in the center.

An immense flame was burning in it, making it look magnificent.

Dozens of Level 8 Martial Artists from Flame Palace were surrounding the cauldron.

The entire square was about two to three kilometers in radius.

A field that was similar to the ancient martial arts field was located in the center.

At this time, more than a thousand people were gathered here. Even though thousands of people sounded like a huge number, it looked like a few in the spacious square.

The entire square looked like an ancient underworld with the surrounding pine trees.

"Master, Sect Leader and the rest are over there!"

Just then, Xiao Yu pointed to the entrance on the right after she scanned the surrounding environment.

"Let's go over there!" said Elder Fang as she looked at Wang Xian before she walked to Thistles and Thorns Sect.

"Sect Leader!"

Xiao Yu and Elder Fang walked over and greeted Sect Leader Tang.

"Saintess!"

Thistles and Thorns Sect had sent more than 20 people, including several elders. The elders, along with the attendants, greeted Xiao Yu.

Since the Flame Palace already knew Xiao Yu was their Saintess, there was no need for them to hide anymore.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, thank you for being here."

Sect Leader Tang bowed to Wang Xian, expressing his gratitude.

Wang Xian waved a dismissive hand. "When will Flame Palace start their pilgrimage?"

"Noon. They will start the recruitment of experts and disciples at noon!" Sect Leader Tang answered.

"We're still early then!"

Wang Xian looked at the time and sat on a stone bench with nothing to do.

Guan Shuqing sat with him on the stone bench beside him.

Sun Lingxiu found a seat nearby with a smiling face while the Miracle Doctor Blood Man stood beside her respectfully.

More and more people gathered in the square. Most of the Martial Artists carried their swords and sabers.

The atmosphere began to liven up.

The crowd was distinguished by their uniforms. From their attire, it was easy to tell which sect or family they came from.

"I saw five first-class forces. All of them were led by Inborn Experts. That's formidable!"

"Quite a number of second-class forces are here too. No one dared to defy a word from Sacred Sect!"

Chapter 240: Pilgrimage (3)

Voices from a few attendants and Elders of Thistles and Thorns Sect sounded from the side. Wang Xian looked briefly across the crowd before continuing his casual chat with Guan Shuqing.

"The one heading towards us is from the Fengyang Family and the one at the forefront is Fengyang Lie, an Inborn Realm expert!"

"Fengyang Family is one of the strongest families in Feng City. They have a lot of descendants. The entire family has over 2,000 members and they are a huge family with more than a hundred years of history!"

"That young man right there is Fengyang Cai. He used to be the ranked twentieth on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!"

"Greetings, family head of Fengyang Family!"

"Yeah, hehe!"

Several people beside the Thistles and Thorns Sect were whispering among themselves. When Sect Leader Tang saw Fengyang Family walking in his direction, he immediately stood up and greeted them.

Fengyang Lie, who was walking at the front, looked coldly at Sect Leader Tang before giving a forced smile.

Sect Leader Tang was a little embarrassed. However, he didn't say a word and sat to the side.

"Thistles and Thorns Sect is really unlucky to offend an Elder from the Flame Palace. The future development of Thistles and Thorns Sect will become tough!"

"It's their fault, offending those they shouldn't have. They only have themselves to blame!"

Two young men walking at the front of the Fengyang Family crowd were chatting. They were quite loud and weren't concerned about the Thistles and Thorns Sect who was just beside them.

This made the crowd from Thistles and Thorns Sect embarrassed.

Wow!

"Eh, it's that beautiful girl!"

At this moment, the young man who was talking opened up the folded the fan in his hand while staring intensely at the position beside Wang Xian.

"Looking at the clouds reminds me of her clothes. Looking at the flowers reminds me of her looks. The spring breeze blows and the flowers bloom. If I haven't seen her at the foot of the mountain for immortals, I'll see her under the moonlight by the abode of immortals." [\[1\]](#)

The young man recited a poem as he fanned himself. He was staring at Sun Lingxiu fervently.

When Fengyang Lie saw his son, he smiled and said, "Let's just sit here while waiting!"

"Father, your son is going to get you a daughter-in-law!" the young man with a folded fan smiled and said to his father.

Fengyang Lie returned a faint smile before looking to Sun Lingxiu. "She's indeed beautiful and befitting of our Fengyang Family!"

"Haha!" the young man laughed loudly.

"Brother Cai, that girl is really stunning. I just wonder if she has a boyfriend!"

The young man beside him was stunned by Sun Lingxiu's beauty and commented enviously.

"She sits with her legs closed together and the distance between her eyebrows is short. She's definitely still a virgin!"

Fengyang Cai moved his folded fan as he continued, "Rare! Rare! Holy and noble! Let me go over and get to know her!"

As he finished his words, he walked directly to Sun Lingxiu. "Hi, I'm Fengyang Cai from the Fengyang Family. I am greatly attracted by your looks. May I know the name of this beautiful lady?"

Fengyang Cai fanned himself lightly and gave off the vibe of a scholar from Jiangnan.

Sun Lingxiu sat beside Wang Xian with a medical book from Miracle Doctor Blood Man in her hands. She simply sat there quietly while reading.

As she flipped through the book, the stunning disposition she displayed was similar to that of a deity who had descended to the mortal realm.

Sun Lingxiu ignored Fengyang Cai's question completely. As an Inborn expert, she could hear his conversation with others previously and had chosen to completely ignore him.

"Sun Lingxiu is really attractive. There's actually someone trying to pick her up!"

Guan Shuqing, who was beside Wang Xian, was a little envious while speaking to Wang Xian.

"You are equally attractive!" Wang Xian smiled and pinched her cheeks. He then turned around and looked towards Sun Lingxiu.

When the crowd from Thistles and Thorns Sect saw Fengyang Cai greeting the beautiful girl who came with Wang Xian, they looked over inquisitively.

Huh?

Seeing Sun Lingxiu completely ignoring him, Fengyang Cai was slightly shocked.

"Brother Cai, what's the matter? Why don't you let me, your brother, give it a try?"

The other young man by the side spoke with a smile when he saw Sun Lingxiu completely ignoring his brother.

Fengyang Cai looked a little embarrassed. He leaned towards Sun Lingxiu again and asked, "Hey girl, it's rude to be ignoring others, right?"

"My master is already ignoring you. Don't be so thick skinned and keep coming over!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man, Xiao Hong, who was standing beside Sun Lingxiu, lifted his head slightly and spoke with contempt.

His broken Mandarin sounded a little quirky.

Huh?

Upon hearing Miracle Doctor Blood Man, Fengyang Cai was shocked. He squinted his eyes and stared at him. "An underling has no right to speak here!"

"Hey, girl. I, Fengyang Cai, am talking to you. Are you not going to show me any respect?"

His face sank as he stared at Sun Lingxiu, who was still going through the book. In his eyes, fury was raging.

However, Sun Lingxiu still didn't say a word. Miracle Doctor Blood Man, Xiao Hong, walked forward and stared at him with disdain. He then remarked, "Get... Lost!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man's quirky Mandarin coupled with the disdain look on him was hilarious.

"Shut up and get lost!"

Pa!

When Fengyang Cai heard Miracle Doctor Blood Man, his already embarrassed look sank further. He waved the folded fan in his hands and a crisp noise sounded instantly. The fan was in fact made of metal and wasn't any ordinary fan.

"Hey girl, you have gone a little overboard!" He looked coldly towards Sun Lingxiu once again.

Huh?

Some members from the Fengyang Family also frowned and looked over, feeling confused about what was happening.

"F*ck your mother! You asking me to shut up? Asking me to get lost? Hey, brat, I'm telling you to scram now. Can you hear me? Brat!"

When Miracle Doctor Blood Man heard Fengyang Cai, he immediately chided him.

Pfft!

"What the!"

"This... This..."

Wang Xian, Xiao Yu and the crowd who was watching silently from the side couldn't help but break into laughter. The crowd of Thistles and Thorns Sect was also shocked as they looked at Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

A well-dressed and good looking foreigner was hurling vulgarities in Mandarin. His voice and expression at that moment were truly hilarious.

Even Sun Lingxiu who was reading a book silently couldn't help but break into laughter.

"YOU..."

In that instant, Fengyang Cai's expression turned violent and savage as he stared at Miracle Doctor Blood Man!

When Fengyang Lie heard Miracle Doctor Blood Man, killing intent flashed in his eyes. F*ck your mother? Wouldn't that be f*ck his wife?

"You must be tired of living!" Fengyang Cai's eyes turned cold as he swung his folded fan towards the chest of the Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"Brat, I can kill you with a swing of my hand!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man, Xiao Hong, was extremely pissed. He waved his hand casually and slapped Fengyang Cai in the face before anyone reacted to it.

"What?"

Fengyang Cai was horrified. Following which, a strong force sent him falling to the ground.

Bam!

His body smashed onto the floor and blood was oozing out from his mouth!

"Filthy blood! You've dirtied my hand!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man saw a drop of blood land on his fingers. He took out a piece of tissue impatiently and wiped it off with contempt.

"You are such an ugly guy and yet you dare to flirt with my master. Trash! Trash!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stepped on Fengyang Cai's face with his feet and remarked with disdain.

"You must be tired of living!"

Chapter 241: Pilgrimage (4)

Boom!

Fengyang Lie and Fengyang Family stood up together. Their icy-cold faces were crawling with murderous intent as they stared at Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"This..."

Everyone from Thistles and Thorns Sect was dumbfounded at the scene. Darn, this foreigner was definitely a supreme talent.

"He's at least a Half-step to Inborn Expert!"

When Sect Leader Tang looked at Miracle Doctor Blood Man, he was stunned. However, he frowned immediately when he saw the people from Fengyang Family.

"How dare you injure my son! You must be tired of living!"

Fengyang Lie jerked his body and exuded a strong and intense aura from it. He glared at Miracle Doctor Blood Man with a pair of emotionless eyes before he stretched out his hand, taking a sword from a middle-aged man next to him.

"Inborn!"

The surrounding Martial Artists within a radius of a few hundred meters away were drawn by the immense aura exploded by Inborn Expert immediately. Everyone looked over in shock.

"It's the Fengyang Family. That's Fengyang Lie. Who's the one who offended them?"

"Another first-class force? Otherwise, who dares to offend them?"

The crowd looked over with doubt. Even people from the Flame Palace in the middle turned their attention over here.

"Heh, old freak. Since you can't even teach your son well, I'll have to do it for you. Why?"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man's expression remained unchanged. He maintained his disdainful look when he looked at Fengyang Lie.

However, the scarlet tuxedo that he was wearing got darker as he released bloody aura from his body.

"Eh, this is...? Inborn!"

Sensing the demeanor of Miracle Doctor Blood Man, Fengyang Lie sharpened his eyes as he fixed them upon him.

"Hehe!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man widened his mouth, "How dare you disturb my master. Count him lucky that I didn't kill him!"

"Master!"

Fengyang Lie heard that word again. Radiance flickered in his eyes as he peered at Sun Lingxiu who was sitting there with a darkened expression.

"But..."

At this time, Miracle Doctor Blood Man made a move at a frightening and daunting speed. A red figure flashed immediately.

"Even if I'm tired of living, can you kill me? Old freak!"

When the Miracle Doctor Blood Man reappeared, he was already a half-meter away from Fengyang Lie's left-hand side. Scarlet radiance blinked in his eyes as he fixed his cold eyes on Fengyang Lie.

"You..."

Fengyang Lie was appalled as he gazed at Miracle Doctor Blood Man with his blood run cold.

In fact, he did not even capture the trace of his opponent's movement.

Realizing this, the hand that was holding the sword trembled slightly.

The surrounding crowd from Fengyang Family also gazed frightfully at Miracle Doctor Blood Man. They swallowed their saliva and clung to their weapons tightly.

"So...Sorry. It was my son's fault!"

Fengyang Lie apologized with an embarrassed look.

"That's right. Hiak hiak. Be good. I'll kill all of you if you continue to infuriate my master."

Miracle Doctor Blood Man broke out in ghastly laughter before he flashed back to Sun Lingxiu.

He straightened his clothes and stood by her side, just like a British steward.

By ignoring them, he acted as though nothing had happened.

No one thought that such a person could be a daunting Inborn Expert.

And no one would have thought the pretty girl reading her book quietly was the master of this Inborn Expert.

"Take Cai'er over for treatment!"

Fengyang Lie spoke to the members beside him with a vile expression.

"Yes, Chief!"

Fengyang Family gazed at the foreigner in a scarlet coat with a stern look. Eventually, they turned their attention to the pretty girl who was reading a book.

What background does she have to have an Inborn Expert as her slave?

Everyone pondered the doubt to themselves.

"How daunting!"

The people from Thistles and Thorns Sect also peered at Miracle Doctor Blood

Man with shocked looks.

"People around Miracle Doctor Wang are not any average people!" Sect Leader Tang was stunned, but he heaved a sigh of relief to himself.

The sects and families far away shook their heads eventually as they wondered.

"Chief, who is that girl and that middle-aged man in a scarlet coat? How could they be so domineering?"

An old man squatted beside Fengyang Cai and proceeded with his treatment. His face was solemn as he swept a glance towards the other direction and asked in a low voice.

"I don't know. A master of Inborn Expert is definitely not an average person!"

Fengyang Lie clenched his fist tightly with a vile expression. He felt a slap on his face when he recalled what he said just now -- a girl that was befitting of the Fengyang Family.

Given what happened just now, he had to succumb to that mysterious existence despite the fact that he was an Inborn Expert!

Regardless of the backings they had, he was unable to deal with that foreigner in a scarlet coat.

"Could they be from the Thistles and Thorns Sect?" a young man suddenly asked.

"How is that possible? Where on earth did Thistles and Thorns Sect get such domineering experts? Besides, only that terrifying scarlet man made his move just now!"

...

Wang Xian peered casually at Fengyang Family as he revealed a smile on his face upon hearing their conversations.

He did not make his move just now because Miracle Doctor Blood Man was around. Given Sun Lingxiu's ability, she did not require his help either.

Without three or four Inborn Experts, no one could really take Sun Lingxiu and Miracle Doctor Blood Man down.

An average first-class force was nothing to them.

"Those are...? Disciples from Flame Palace! All of them are young talents!"

"They have large numbers of talented people. No average first-class forces can be comparable to them!"

"I must join Flame Palace and become one of their members today!"

At this time, a commotion broke out not far away. All the attention was turned to that side as everyone witnessed the young disciples from Flame Palace. They walked out, wearing uniforms with flames embroidered on them.

There were about thirty to forty disciples aged thirty and below. All of them were considered young talents.

They made an impressive presence with haughty looks on their faces, giving off immense self-confidence on their own.

The core disciples from various families and sects felt inferior when they saw them.

"The Flame Palace will be recruiting outstanding disciples today. Please get ready if you wish to join us. We'll have assessments later on," the disciples from Flame Palace said in a low voice as they swept their gazes around.

"Child, you must work hard to get into the Flame Palace later on!"

"Dad, I'll become the disciple of the Flame Palace!"

"Once you join the Flame Palace and become a disciple of Sacred Sects, you'll have a strong backing in the future. There would be no need to worry for the rest of your life!"

The surrounding crowd was thrilled with what the disciples of Flame Palace had said. All of them turned to their children and reminded them.

They would be extremely lucky if they could join a Sacred Sect.

"Hey, disciples from Flame Palace are heading towards us!"

Just then, Guan Shuqing was looking ahead as she told Wang Xian.

Wang Xian spun around and exhibited a smile as soon as he spotted the disciples walking towards them.

Wang Xian had seen the leader before. It was the young man who came to the Divine Dragon Medical Hall with an old man the other day.

The rest of them were Mu Wanwan and her clique, who they had seen in the school canteen.

Chapter 242: Pilgrimage Or Tearing Down The Place (1)

"Brother Wanshuai, who would have expected that Miracle Doctor to be so brazen to reject our Flame Palace's invitation to become our dedicated Miracle Doctor? How arrogant is he?"

In the field of the Wuduan Mountain, Mu Wanwan lifted her head slightly and gave off an arrogant vibe while speaking to the young man beside her.

"He's just a brazen factionless doctor. When I went with my master to invite him, he was so arrogant and didn't have any respect for us at all!"

The young man's eyes turned chilly. He looked ahead of him and smirked.

"He didn't give us face even when Elder Liu went to invite him personally. Brother Wanshuai, why are we still trying to invite him? He's just a factionless doctor who we, the Flame Palace, could easily crush!"

Beside him, a young man remarked vengefully.

"That's not how it works. Although our Flame Palace has advanced to become a Sacred Sect, we are still too weak among the Sacred Sects. We need to recruit various experts and Miracle Doctor Wang is rather capable!" answered the young man plainly. However, he added with a chilling expression, "However, if Miracle Doctor Wang chooses to remain arrogant, our Flame Palace wouldn't let him off easily. Our Flame Palace has yet to establish our prestige!"

"This is the last opportunity we will be offering him!"

"Brother Wanshuai, hasn't the Palace Master invited the powerful Miracle Doctor Shenghua? Miracle Doctor Shenghua's strength could even rank in the top five in our country. Why do we still need to invite that Miracle Doctor Wang?" the young man who spoke earlier frowned and asked.

"Miracle Doctor Shenghua couldn't remain in our country all the time. Moreover, it's a good thing for us to have another Miracle Doctor joining us!" the other young man answered plainly. "This will be the last invitation. If he doesn't accept it, our Flame Palace wouldn't be bothered either!"

The group of Flame Palace disciples discussed among themselves before walking towards where Wang Xian was.

"Oh? I had not expected people from the Thistles and Thorns Sect to be here. Miracle Doctor Wang seems to have a good relationship with the Thistles and Thorns Sect."

When the young man saw the crowd from Thistles and Thorns Sect beside Wang Xian, his eyes flickered. Nonetheless, he walked directly towards Wang Xian.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, my master, Elder Liu, would like to extend the invitation to you once again and invite you to join our Flame Palace. This will also be our last invitation!" said the young man plainly after getting ahead of Wang Xian.

"It's still the same answer." Wang Xian looked at the young man, smiled and shook his head.

"Since Miracle Doctor Wang isn't willing to give our Flame Palace face, we shall forget about this. I hope Miracle Doctor will conduct yourself well in the future!"

The young man revealed a cold smirk before leaving.

"He's just a small factionless doctor and yet he rejected the invitation from the Flame Palace. How foolish is he!"

Mu Wanwan looked coldly at Wang Xian before following behind the young man and leaving.

Dang!

At this moment, the crisp sounds of a bell were heard throughout the entire Wuduan Mountain!

Dang!

Those Ancient Martial Artist Families and Sects who were here stood up and headed towards the central location.

Swish swish swish!

At this moment, four figures landed on one of the mountain peaks before approaching the large cauldron on the central area.

Three old men and a middle-aged man stood on the four corners of the large cauldron respectively.

Boom!

At this moment, the flames in the large cauldron below them raged up and rose over ten meters into the skies.

The aura of the four men connected and a strong disposition filled the entire field of Wuduan Mountain.

"So strong!"

"What stifling pressure!"

The surrounding Ancient Martial Artist Families and Sects were shocked. All of them lowered their heads slightly as they walked towards the central location.

Swish swish swish!

At the five entrances of Wuduan Mountain, disciples of Flame Palace entered. Each entrance had approximately two hundred disciples.

All of them wore neat attire and gave off extraordinary vibes.

The four Flame Palace Elders who were standing on the large cauldron showed satisfactory smiles. Looking at the approaching Ancient Martial Artist Families and Sects who had their heads lowered, they raised their heads proudly.

This was what pilgrimage was supposed to be!

"This is deserving of a Sacred Sect. The strength of their Inborn experts isn't something that could be matched by ordinary Inborn experts. Eh? Isn't that Wushi?"

Mo Qinglong squinted his eyes and took a glance at the four Inborn experts on the large cauldron. When he looked ahead, he spotted a familiar figure.

"It's Wushi! This kid chose to roam alone and has made a name for himself!" Mo Yuan looked over and commented.

Wang Xian saw Mo Wushi but acted nonchalantly as he walked towards the central location.

"Three days ago, our Flame Palace invited various heroes, families and sects over. Today, everyone has come. I'd like to express my gratitude to everyone for your recognition of our Flame Palace!"

Seeing the crowd around them, an old man announced this with a smile and directed his voice to the ears of everyone.

"Our Flame Palace was established 230 years ago. Now that we have advanced to become a Sacred Sect, we would like to recruit all heroes and talented disciples to join us so we can grow stronger together. Here, I'd like to announce the entire First-class Force, Fire Origin Sect, joining our Flame Palace and becoming disciples of Flame Palace!"

The old man looked ahead of him and revealed a smile.

"I, Yan Guangwen, shall lead all the disciples of Fire Origin Sect to join the Flame Palace. From today onwards, Fire Origin Sect shall no longer exist!"

From the center of the crowd, an old man walked forward and shouted.

Rumble!

"First-class Sect, Fire Origin Sect, has joined the Flame Palace. This is shocking!"

"That's an entire First-class Force! For them to all join the Flame Palace, this is truly shocking."

"Incredible, Flame Palace has managed to convince the Fire Origin Sect!"

When the shocking news was announced, the surrounding martial artists were clearly astonished.

"Other than that, rogue cultivator and Inborn expert of Combustion Palm, Cao Haokong, will also be joining our Flame Palace!" the voice of the old man sounded once again.

"I'm Cao Haokong of the Flame Palace!"

An old man walked slowly ahead. Clasping his right fist in his left palm, he greeted the crowd ahead of him.

Between his hands, flames were raging furiously.

"Cao Haokong! Cao Haokong of the Combustion Palm has joined the Flame Palace! Oh my god, two Inborn experts have joined them!"

"Who would have expected these experts to join the Flame Palace?"

"The Flame Palace has gotten substantially stronger. Even if all the other forces here allied together, we wouldn't be a match for Flame Palace!"

The crowd looked towards Cao Haokong in shock once again.

"Twenty-third ranked Miracle Doctor on the Miracle Doctors Chart, Miracle Doctor Tai Mingshou, will be joining the Flame Palace!" The old man wasn't finished with his announcement as he continued with a smile.

"I'm Tai Mingshou of the Flame Palace!" an old man walked forward and shouted.

"And for the final announcement, let us welcome Miracle Doctor Shenghua, whom our Palace Master has invited over personally!"

When the old man finished his words, an old man with a foreigner's looks walked to the side of Tai Mingshou.

He had a faint glow emitting from his body which gradually shrouded an area that spanned a hundred meters.

The entire space turned to be similar to an immortal realm. Tai Mingshou greeted Shenghua deferentially.

"Top-tier Miracle Doctor Shenghua from Europe! Who could have expected Flame Palace to be able to invite Shenghua to the Flame Palace!"

"Insane! This is insane! They are truly deserving of the name, Sacred Sect Flame Palace!"

Chapter 243: Pilgrimage Or Tearing Down The Place (2)

The experts who were recruited by the Flame Palace stunned everyone.

They stared dumbfoundedly at the two Inborn Experts and two Miracle Doctors who were sitting there.

"One of the Miracle Doctors is a top-notch European Miracle Doctor, Miracle Doctor Shenghua. I heard he possessed a strength of Inborn Realm."

All the surrounding spectators gazed at the disciples of Flame Palace with more respect.

This has spurred all the disciples of Flame Palace to look proud. They lifted their heads up slightly with pride.

"The Flame Palace will be recruiting another batch of elites today. Those who wish to join the Flame Palace, you may participate in the assessment later."

"For those who wish to join the Flame Palace of Sacred Sects, you must have outstanding abilities. For 20 years old and below, you must be at least a Level 5 Martial Artist. For 30 years old and below, you must be a Level 6 Martial Artist and Level 7 for those who are between 30 to 40 years old. For 50 years old and below, you'll need to be a Level 8 Martial Artist. For Level 8 and above, you're eligible to join us. However, we can't promise you'll be recruited even if your level of cultivation meets all the requirements. We still need to test your combat ability!"

"At that time, our disciples will be testing you!" The old man continued with a smile, "We'll start from those Martial Artists below 30. Once you have passed the test, you'll become a disciple of Sacred Sect. The glory is waiting for you."

"Elder, I want to join Flame Palace and become a disciple of Sacred Sect!"

As soon as the old man finished his sentence, a young guy took an eager step forward as he exclaimed loudly.

"No hurry." The old man drew a smile on his face when he saw the eager young man. He cast a glance at the disciples by the side. Softly, he shouted, "Where are the disciples aged 30 and below?"

"Present!"

About 70 disciples stood out in a row and answered at the top of their lungs.

Every one of them was exhibiting a prodigious amount of self-confidence.

At the very front stood a guy and a girl with blazing eyes and extraordinary demeanors.

"Our Saint and Saintess will be doing the assessment. Those who pass will be recruited by the Flame Palace!"

The old man made his speech slowly. The rest of the elders moved swiftly and sat beside the huge cauldron.

The flame rose, exhibiting domineering outward bearing force.

"Luan Fanghua, Saintess of Flame Palace!"

"Mo Canghai, Saint of Flame Palace!"

The Saint and Saintess of Flame Palace took two steps forward as they overlooked the surroundings with haughty looks.

"Greetings to Saint and Saintess!" The Martial Artists around the area immediately clamored.

The status of Saint and Saintess of Flame Palace were just after the elders. Hence, the two of them were young talents from the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!

"If you want to join us, show us what you've got. Don't assume that you are a talent. Our Flame Palace has no room for mediocrity. Show us everything you've got!"

Saintess Luan Fanghua turned to the people around her and said, "Those young people who want to join the Flame Palace, step forward now!"

Wow!

Once Saintess Luan Fanghua finished her talk, hundreds of young people walked out with excitement on their faces, staring at the front.

There were two kinds of forces in the underworld. One was the Sacred Sects, while the rest made up the other one.

Joining Sacred Sects was as good as achieving great success in life. It was something of the utmost glory.

Even those disciples from first-class forces also wanted to join Sacred Sects very much.

And all the families and sects supported their offspring in joining the Sacred Sects and becoming an expert there.

"Level 5 Martial Artists, please line up in a row. Same goes for Level 6, 7, and 8. Please line up in your respective levels!" Saintess Luan Fanghua gazed at everyone and said nonchalantly.

Level 6 Martial Artists who were 30 years old and below were known to be gifted people in any sects or families. Level 7 was considered to be a supreme talent. Level 8 Martial Artists could make it off to the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!

Hundreds of young people lined up in rows.

There were only about seven to eight Level 5 juveniles who were below 20 years old. Becoming a Level 5 Martial Artist at such an age was considered to be something of extreme talent.

Level 6 Martial Artists had the most number with more than 80 people.

There were only three Level 7 Martial Artists, and no Level 8 Martial Artists were below the age of 30!

"Song Sheng from Flame Palace, 19 years old. I will be testing two Level 5 Martial Artists!"

"Zhao Wu from Flame Palace, 27 years old. I will be testing two Level 6 Martial Artists!"

...

Just then, disciples from Flame Palace stepped out and spoke to those juveniles and young people who were here for the assessment.

Wow!

"They are very confident to challenge two people of the same level as them at the same time."

"Impressive to challenge two people of the same level as them right away. The Sacred Sect really lives up to their name!"

"The Flame Palace is exhibiting their strength!"

When the sects and families noticed each Flame Palace disciple was going to test two Martial Artists of their same level, they were overwhelmed by shock.

The four Flame Palace elders on the stage wore faint smiles.

They wanted to exhibit the power of the Flame Palace through this method.

"Me!"

"After you!"

"Me!"

The juveniles and young people around were not convinced.

"Bring it on!"

Yet the Flame Palace disciples displayed confident looks. With a simple move, they leaped to vacant space at the side.

Two juveniles immediately followed.

"Do it!"

A disciple placed his hands behind his back and spoke impassively.

"Sure!"

The two juveniles exchanged a glance before they launched an attack at that Flame Palace disciple.

However, the outcome blew everyone away.

That disciple exuded a faint glow in red and fired off explosive and ferocious assaults that forced his two opponents of the same level back!

"The Sacred Sect disciple indeed. They are domineering!"

"They are formidable! Is this the power of a Sacred Sect?"

Everyone was stunned while the ones fighting with Flame Palace disciple had cold sweat breaking out from their foreheads as they were appalled.

Bam!

At this moment, that disciple of Flame Palace sent one of the juveniles flying with a punch. The other juvenile had a drastic change in his expression with wariness all over his face.

"Enough!" The Flame Palace disciple stopped and shook his head as he looked at the two of them who he had exchanged blows with.

"Poor in actual combat. Fail!" Saintess Luan Fanghua said with a calm voice.

"Fail? Both of them were Level 6 Martial Artists at such an age, yet they could not make it to the Flame Palace!"

"Such a strict test. But what they did was right. After all, it's the Sacred Sect!"

"The disciples of Sacred Sect are just too formidable!"

Everyone around the field watched in awe.

"The Art of Cultivation in Sacred Sects is definitely better than those average sects. They can easily attain the realm above Inborn Realm."

Radiance flickered in Mo Qinglong's eyes as he sat below.

"Easily attain the realm above Inborn Realm? What do you mean?" Wang Xian asked doubtfully when he heard Mo Qinglong.

"Master, the Art of Cultivation is divided into many grades. Some of the mediocre ones would find it difficult to reach the Inborn Realm, while some of them can easily do it. To achieve the realm above Inborn Realm, you must practice an Origin Source, a.k.a. an attribute. But there aren't many of these techniques around, yet the Flame Palace is practicing one!"

Chapter 244: Pilgrimage Or Tearing Down The Place (3)

"The realm above the Inborn Realm is often regarded as a myth. However, such a realm really exists. I can already feel it. However, it will be a little difficult to achieve the breakthrough," said Mo Qinglong to Wang Xian.

Wang Xian nodded his head slightly. The realm above Inborn Realm was referred to as Immortals of the Land by the people in the Underworld. However, Inborn Realm experts would refer to it as Dan Realm.

That would involve compressing Internal Energy within the Elixir Field into a Dan so as to achieve an advancement! [\[1\]](#)

However, it's extremely hard to compress one's Internal Energy into a Dan. The first issue lies in the Art of Cultivation.

Art of Cultivation has to have an elemental attribute. For example, Dan formed with metal, wood and water Art of Cultivation would give Metal Dan, Wood Dan and Water Dan respectively.

While Wang Xian was chatting with Mo Qinglong, the assessment was going on quickly.

Soon, only twenty-five qualified candidates emerged from an initial number of over a hundred and ten candidates. The twenty-five candidates remaining would gain the qualification to join the Flame Palace.

There were plenty of genius-level talents in First-class Forces that failed to make the cut. From this, one could tell how stringent the Flame Palace's assessment was.

At the same time, it demonstrated how powerful the Flame Palace was!

For ordinary sects, the Flame Palace was incredible and almighty!

"The selection of disciples below thirty years old had now ended."

Saintess, Luan Fanghua, looked across the crowd of qualified disciples. Seeing their excited faces, she smiled and looked to the crowd below the stage.

"Before we carry on with the subsequent assessment, I have something personal to settle!"

As she spoke, her gaze looked down and eventually landed at where Thistles and Thorns Sect was.

"My master, Elder Duan, has had a little personal animosity against Sect Leader Tang of the Thistles and Thorns Sect in the past. This has to be settled first!" said the Saintess, Luan Fanghua, as she smirked.

Rumble!

When she finished her sentence, the surrounding families and sects erupted into discussions.

Thousands of people from the entire field looked towards where Thistles and Thorns Sect was. Sympathy, contempt and expressions of pleasure in others' misery was written across their faces.

"A small Thistles and Thorns Sect has offended an Elder of Flame Palace. It's over! They are completely finished!"

"Based on the strength that was demonstrated by the Flame Palace, annihilating the Thistles and Thorns Sect will be just like killing an ant!"

"Thistles and Thorns Sect is going to be annihilated!"

"My master is an Elder of a Sacred Sect and will naturally not lower her status by bullying a second-class force!"

Saintess, Luan Fanghua, opened her mouth again and the crowd went silent immediately.

"Our Flame Palace will also not lower our status by targeting you. In that case...!"

Luan Fanghua paused for a moment and looked to where the Thistles and Thorns Sect was. "Send your best disciple forward. Based on my understanding, the Thistles and Thorns Sect seems to have assigned a Saintess. Let our disciples take a look at her. If your Saintess' cultivation level isn't bad, we might just spare you. However, if she can't make it, you guys can start disbanding!"

You guys can start disbanding!

When the last five words of the sentence ended, she emitted a faint aura towards where Thistles and Thorns Sect was.

"Domineering! This is the might of a Sacred Sect. They aren't killing you because they are afraid of staining their hands. However, they could force you to disband directly!"

"The Flame Palace is indeed deserving of the name of a Sacred Sect. Domineering, with contempt for everything else! Although they aren't taking actions themselves, they can make you disband directly!"

"Incredible and mighty!"

The surrounding crowd sighed and looked towards Thistles and Thorns Sect.

At this moment, everyone in the Thistles and Thorns Sect was embarrassed. Some of them were even shivering from anger.

The face of Sect Leader Tang, who was standing in front of the group, was as white as a sheet. Asking me to disband the Thistles and Thorns Sect?

That would be the greatest humiliation ever! He would be letting down his ancestors and would bear the insults and shame for life if he had to disband the sect!

Elder Tang looked bitterly at an Elder of Flame Palace.

Elder Duan looked down at Sect Leader Tang with scorn and disdain.

The two of them weren't on the same level at this moment. A word from him and he could make the Thistles and Thorns Sect disband.

"Sect Leader, didn't they want me to step forward? Tsk! I'll show them what I'm capable of!"

Xiao Yu saw the crowd looking at them with scorn and saw how the disciples of the Flame Palace looked down on them. At this moment, she was filled with rage.

"Xiao Yu, Sect Leader has let you down!" Sect Leader Tang looked bitterly at Xiao Yu.

"Rest assured, Sect Leader. Thistles and Thorns Sect won't disband. Didn't they want to see my strength? I'll show them how incredible I am!" Xiao Yu clenched her small fist and answered angrily.

"Yeah!"

With the Flame Palace identifying Xiao Yu specifically, Sect Leader Tang had no ways to go against the Flame Palace. He could only nod his head slowly and turn to glance at Wang Xian.

Wang Xian didn't say anything.

Letting Xiao Yu fight would be an important trial for her.

If she wanted to become an expert, she had to be able to face some of the issues.

If Wang Xian had kept her protected under his wing, Xiao Yu would never be able to spread her wings and fly in the vast skies.

There are some things that she had to face alone!

"Saintess, Wang Yu, of the Thistles and Thorns Sect seeking guidance from the disciple of the Flame Palace!" [\[2\]](#)

After obtaining the approval of the Sect Leader, Xiao Yu stepped forward and stared coldly at Luan Fanghua.

"Pfft! Just a little brat! The Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect is just a little brat!"

"What the... How old is this Saintess? Eighteen or nineteen? My guess is she's not even twenty and yet she was already made the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect?"

"Could it be that she's the illegitimate child of Sect Leader Tang? Haha? She's so young and she's already the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

"It seems like Thistles and Thorns Sect is really going to be disbanded. They shouldn't have offended the Flame Palace! What a group of reckless people!"

When the crowd saw Xiao Yu step forward, almost everyone was waiting to see her get destroyed. A little brat who wasn't even twenty could become the Saintess?

This was probably a joke!

Tsk!

Xiao Yu could hear the mockeries of the crowd who weren't even trying to mask it. She clenched her hand tightly over her treasured sword and stared ahead furiously.

"A little brat!"

When Luan Fanghua saw Xiao Yu, she didn't see her as a threat at all as she commented plainly.

"Who would like to educate the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

Luan Fanghua looked in the direction of the disciples of Flame Palace and asked loudly. She had also intentionally chosen to use the word "educate."

Her contempt for Xiao Yu was clearly evident in her choice of words!

"That's the sister of Miracle Doctor Wang!"

"Who would have expected her to be the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

At this moment, among the disciples of the Flame Palace, Mu Wanwan and the few other young men around her saw Xiao Yu and were a little surprised.

"Saintess? Let me educate this Saintess from the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

Mu Wanwan's lips curved into a smile. Recalling the day when Wang Xian had embarrassed them in the school canteen, her expression turned as cold as ice.

She was fearful of Miracle Doctor. However, that Miracle Doctor Wang had rejected the invitation of Flame Palace consecutively.

Under such circumstances, with Flame Palace as her backing, she wasn't fearful, even if she was to face Miracle Doctor Wang.

The embarrassment on that day shall be returned to your sister here!

Mu Wanwan walked forward. She held a belt sword in her hand and looked down on Xiao Yu arrogantly.

"I'm Mu Wanwan from Flame Palace. Let me educate you a little, Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect!"

As she spoke, she lifted one of her hands before continuing, "Seeing that you are just a little brat, I shall just use one hand!"

"Tsk! As to who's going to educate who, this isn't set in stone yet!"

Xiao Yu gritted her teeth, stared at Mu Wanwan and gradually drew her long sword.

"Give this Saintess from the Thistles and Thorns Sect a lesson she wouldn't forget!" remarked Saintess, Luan Fanghua, emotionlessly.

Chapter 245: Pilgrimage Or Tearing Down The Place (4)

"A second-class force actually has a Saintess? How interesting!"

"I bet that lass from Thistles and Thorns Sect couldn't take more than three strokes."

"That Mu Wanwan from Flame Palace seemed to be a Level 7 proficient. I guessed she can beat her in just one or two strokes!"

"Judging from what the Saintess said, they want to teach this lass from Thistles and Thorns Sect a lesson!"

Everyone stared at the field and exchanged views about it.

The elders and attendants from Thistles and Thorns Sect were overwrought. Despite knowing that Xiao Yu had a domineering Inborn Constitution, they were worried, as she was going to face a disciple from Flame Palace.

After all, it had not been long since Xiao Yu began her cultivation, and she did not have any combat experience.

Elder Fang and Sect Leader Tang at the side looked relieved though.

"Hehe!"

Elder Liu revealed a faint smile as he looked at his apprentice with a satisfied look under the large cauldron.

"I'll let you have a go first, lass!"

Mu Wanwan scorned Xiao Yu with one hand behind her back and another hand holding her belt sword. She raised her eyebrow at her!

"Fine!"

Xiao Yu took a deep breath, grasping the sword in her hand.

This was her first fight and her first real combat experience.

She closed her eyes and recalled the sword movement taught by her teacher and Sect Leader Tang.

"Poot, what is that lass doing? Is she too nervous?"

"Haha, the Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect is funny. She is so nervous that she closed her eyes!"

"If such a lass can become a Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect, I think they can really disband!"

The spectators around them chortled when they saw how Xiao Yu was behaving.

The Saintess from Thistles and Thorns Sect was amusing!

"I'm going to attack!" Xiao Yu opened her eyes and looked fixedly at Mu Wanwan without any emotion!

"Hehe, lass!" Mu Wanwan shook her head disdainfully.

However, Xiao Yu held her sword and thrust forward with a sharp radiance on her sword edge and a swift movement just like the wind.

Xiao Yu had completely adjusted herself to her peak condition in terms of her speed and strength.

This blow was almost at the peak of an attack from a Level 8 Martial Artist.

"Hur?"

The moment Xiao Yu struck, Mu Wanwan felt as though a lion was coming her way when she looked at the sword propelled at a breakneck speed. Her expression changed abruptly as she quickly put up her block!

Ah!

A horrified shriek cut the air in the field. Mu Wanwan stared with a ghastly look at the sword that had slashed her belly.

A honed sword had slit her clothes, and blood was oozing out from it.

If Xiao Yu had not altered the course of the sword slightly, she could have killed Mu Wanwan instantly!

Shocking!

Everyone watched the stage in disbelief as they could not believe their eyes.

They were stupefied when they witnessed Xiao Yu's sword slashing the disciple of Flame Palace.

With just a stroke, Xiao Yu had almost killed Mu Wanwan, a Level 7 Martial Artist from Flame Palace, in a split second.

"Swift and mighty move!"

"Her speed and her power are equivalent to a Level 8 Martial Artist!"

"Gosh, the Saintess from Thistles and Thorns Sect is a Level 8 Martial Artist? Unbelievable!"

"An instant kill within one stroke. This young girl is domineering! Incredible!"

"She's at least a Level 8 Martial Artist. Well, a juvenile who is not even 20 years old possesses a Level 8 strength? Such an intimidating talent!"

"Level 8 Martial Artist! She could jolly reach Inborn Realm in the future. No wonder Thistles and Thorns Sect conferred her as the Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect. She has dominating endowment!"

"Her talent is intimidating. Even the Saint and Saintess from Flame Palace were not as gifted as her!"

The atmosphere got heated instantly. They stared in disbelief at Xiao Yu, who had slashed the disciple from Flame Palace in a split second.

Just now, they were still mocking and scoffing at her. The next moment, she made an instant kill. This...

The intimidating talent!

"How is this possible!?"

Even the disciples stared at Xiao Yu with shock.

With a Level 8 strength, she already surpassed many other Flame Palace disciples. The most surprising thing was her endowment!

The faint smile on Saintess Luan Fanghua's lip slowly disappeared. Her eyes glittered as she fixed her eyes at Xiao Yu with surprise.

The four elders below the large cauldron were taken aback as they looked at Xiao Yu.

A Saintess of Second-class sect at the age of 18 or 19 actually possessed the strength of a Level 8 Martial Artist.

Her endowment was even better than their Saint and Saintess.

"Did I win?" Xiao Yu fixed her eyes on Mu Wanwan, who was horrified, and asked impassively. Her voice was heard throughout the field.

Everyone halted their breathing for a moment and stopped their conversations.

It was so quiet that everyone could hear a pin drop.

"Well, well. What a wonderful Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect and Tang Linglong!"

Elder Liu sat under the large cauldron and muttered in a low voice with a gloomy look.

"Elder Liu, she's just a lass with extraordinary talents. Before she's a grown-up, she's still a lass!"

Upon hearing what Elder Liu said, he answered with a dismissive expression.

He stood up slowly and cast a look at Xiao Yu. With a beam, he said, "Very good. The young lady has such an outstanding talent to achieve Level 8 at such a young age!"

"Hur?"

"What's going on? An elder of Flame Palace praised her personally?"

"Don't tell me that this elder is fond of talents?"

The surrounding crowd was puzzled as they watched the elder of Flame Palace stand up.

"Wang Yu, right? Well done," the old man continued his praise. "It would be a waste for this supreme talent to stay in Thistles and Thorns Sect. But after all, you're a Saintess. Why not this? I'll make an arrangement today."

"Since the Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect is such a gifted person, we have a disciple who is a descendant of a highly ranked member in Flame Palace. I've decided to let Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect marry the descendant of Attendant Peng!"

The old man stood beside the giant cauldron and announced this right away.

"What? Does the Flame Palace want to have an allegiance marriage with Thistles and Thorns Sect?"

"If she marries the descendant of a highly ranked member in Flame Palace, wouldn't Thistles and Thorns Sect be affiliated with Flame Palace. This would be a blessing in disguise!"

Everyone below the stage froze for a moment before they began their discussion frantically again. Some of them envied Thistles and Thorns Sect for having a blessing in disguise.

Yet, the elder's words stunned the disciples of the Flame Palace.

"The descendant of Attendant Peng? Isn't he Peng Fengyun? That ugly idiot?"

"To betroth the Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect to that idiot, Peng Fengyun, he must be in luck!"

"Tsk ts, that Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect looks pretty. That ugly and silly idiot is really lucky!"

Disciples of the Flame Palace paused for a while before they whispered.

Even though their voices were soft, all the Martial Artists around them could hear them.

When they heard the whispering of Flame Palace disciples, they froze immediately.

To betroth the Saintess of Thistles and Thorns Sect to an ugly and idiotic disciple was obviously an insult!

Nothing was more humiliating than this!

Chapter 246: Are You All Worthy?

(1)

"What?"

Xiao Yu, who was standing on the stage, was shocked to see the Elder who stood up and decided her marriage suddenly.

Her marriage wasn't something that could be casually determined by others.

Moreover, she was asked to marry a mentally challenged guy?

Were they trying to humiliate her?

Below the stage, Sect Leader Tang and Elder Fang looked aghast upon hearing the Elder of the Flame Palace.

"Elder, you don't have to worry about the marriage of a disciple of the Thistles and Thorns Sect. Moreover, we are just a small second-class force. There's no way we deserve someone from the Flame Palace!" Sect Leader Tang immediately stood up and said bitterly.

"As long as I say it can, it can. This matter is settled!"

That old man looked nonchalantly at Sect Leader Tang and spoke in a definitive tone.

"It's over, the future of that genius girl is ruined!"

"Marrying an idiot? So what if he's the descendant of a highly ranked member of the Sacred Sect?"

"What a humiliation! Thistles and Thorns Sect finally found a genius young girl. Yet, she has to marry an idiot from the Flame Palace. What a huge insult!"

"This young lady has chosen the wrong sect. It will be easy for her to join a First-class Force or even a Sacred Sect. She might very well make it to the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart one day and become an Inborn expert!"

Around them, voices of discussion didn't stop. However, they did not mock the Flame Palace or say a single word that suggested Flame Palace was wrong.

This was a manifestation of the influence Flame Palace possessed.

"Interesting! Trying to humiliate us?"

Below the stage, Wang Xian saw the old man acting like his words were the decree of an Emperor. Instantly, murderous intent flashed in his mind.

"Even an idiot wishes to marry my sister. Is the Flame Palace crazy?" Wang Xian remarked emotionlessly, stepping forward and staring at the old man.

Huh?

Wang Xian's voice shocked the surrounding crowd.

"Who dares to retort the Elder of the Flame Palace?"

"Are you seeking death?"

The crowd followed the source of the voice and looked over. The Elder from the Flame Palace was shocked. He squinted his eyes, stared at Wang Xian and was shocked.

"So it's Miracle Doctor Wang. I had not expected this genius young girl to be your sister!"

The Elder of Flame Palace looked ahead as he commented.

"Miracle Doctor Wang?"

"Miracle Doctor Wang? There's only one Miracle Doctor that is so young. He must be the eighth-ranked Miracle Doctor, Miracle Doctor Wang from Rivertown!"

"So this young girl is the sister of Miracle Doctor Wang!"

"An eighth-ranked Miracle Doctor on the Miracle Doctors Chart! There's no wonder his sister is so strong. I was still wondering how a small Thistles and Thorns Sect could nurture such a talented young girl!" the crowd looked towards Wang Xian and exclaimed.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, isn't this a great thing?"

At this moment, Elder Liu stood up slowly. A ruthless light flashed in his eyes as he continued, "Our Flame Palace wished to invite you to join us but was rejected. If this goes through, although Miracle Doctor Wang couldn't join our Flame Palace, you can become related to us. That's a good outcome too."

Elder Liu's word shocked the crowd as they looked at Wang Xian.

"Who could have expected Miracle Doctor Wang to reject Flame Palace's invitation?"

"We are talking about an invitation from a Sacred Sect! As a new Sacred Sect, if Miracle Doctor Wang joins them, he would definitely be treated generously. Who would have expected him to reject the invitation?"

"Hehe. Asking my sister to marry a retard?" Wang Xian looked emotionlessly at Elder Liu.

"He's not a retard. He's the descendant of someone who has contributed much to the Flame Palace! His standing in the Flame Palace won't be low!"

Elder Liu's lips curved up slightly.

"Is it so?" Wang Xian laughed mockingly. A light flickered in his eyes as he looked in the opposite direction.

At that place, an expressionless young man stood there. He had short hair and a devilish aura around him.

The young man felt the gaze from Wang Xian, bowed respectfully and nodded his head.

Following which, the young man looked to the central location coldly.

"A retard of the Flame Palace wishes to marry a girl favored by the gods. Isn't the Flame Palace a little too indulged in your own fantasies? Are you guys deserving of her?"

He walked slowly ahead with a cold smirk without a tinge of fear that he was facing a Sacred Sect.

Huh?

The crowd was surprised by the voice and looked in the direction of it.

"Who's that young man? Is he courting death?"

Everyone looked over and was confused by the young man in front of them.

Elder Liu also turned around immediately and stared coldly at the young men.

Before the Elders of Flame Palace said a word, the Saintess, Luan Fanghua, remarked coldly, "A descendant of one of the contributors of Flame Palace isn't someone you can comment on casually. You are digging your own grave by insulting the disciples of the Flame Palace!"

Hehe!

The young man gave a sarcastic smile and continued, "Can it be that trash disciples of Flame Palace can't be criticized by others? Just because you are from a Sacred Sect?"

"Exactly! It's because we are from a Sacred Sect!"

Saintess, Luan Fanghua, stared domineering at the young man. She waved the long sword lightly in her hand before continuing, "If you say another word, I'll definitely slay you!"

Haha!

At this moment, the young man burst into laughter. "I'm Wushi. Since the Saintess of Flame Palace wishes to slay me, it's only natural that I take on the challenge!"

Wushi was a name used by Mo Wushi in the Underworld.

Mo Wushi leaped and descended onto the field. He looked at the four Elders at the central location and smirked. "I'm guessing the Elders of Flame Palace wouldn't fight with a junior! Am I right?"

"Diamond Bone Wushi! He's the nineteenth-ranked Wushi on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!"

"Wushi was one favored by the gods, who emerged from nowhere half a month ago. As a rogue cultivator, he made it to the nineteenth position on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart at the young age of twenty-six years old!"

"Wushi from the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart? What is he trying to do? Challenge the Saint and Saintess of Flame Palace?"

"I heard that Wushi has been going around challenging various geniuses. Just a while ago, he defeated the nineteenth-ranked genius and replaced him on the chart.

When the crowd heard Mo Wushi reveal his name, they were slightly shocked.

At the central location, the Elders of Flame Palace squinted their eyes and fixed their gazes on him.

"YOU!"

Saintess, Luan Fanghua, stared coldly at Mo Wushi and remarked, "A nineteenth-ranked guy on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart isn't qualified to make our Elders take you on. Since you want to kick up a fuss today, I just have to cut you down!" said the Saintess.

She handled the long sword in her hands slowly and said, "Diamond Bone? I'll turn you into a corpse today!"

"Haha, just you alone? Oh, little Saintess of the Flame Palace, you are just trash to me! Come forward with that Saint!" shouted Mo Wushi brazenly as he stared at Luan Fanghua.

His arrogance was through the skies.

The surrounding crowd stared at the brazen Mo Wushi in disbelief.

"Is there something wrong with his head? How is he so daring to taunt the Saint and Saintess of the Flame Palace here?"

Chapter 247: Are You All Worthy?

(2)

Everyone stared at the extremely arrogant Mo Wushi.

In their eyes, this Wushi might be a retard.

How dare he taunt the Saint and Saintess of Flame Palace. He was obviously digging his own grave.

The Flame Palace would never let him off!

"I'll kill him!" said Saint of Flame Palace indifferently. He had been keeping his quiet. As he spoke, he gazed at Mo Wushi.

"No you don't. How dare a nineteenth-ranked guy on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart speak impudently? Let me slaughter him!"

Saintess Luan Fanghua cast a glance at Saint Mo Canghai. With an arm swing, she held her sword in her hand.

She fixed her eyes on Mo Wushi and said coldly, "You'll pay for your brazen words with your life!"

As soon as she finished her words, she dived out like a dancing swallow on fire. Her body was glowing with red radiance as she darted towards Mo Wushi.

"What light, flexible footwork and fiery attack!"

"Saintess at the peak of Level 8 has such mighty attacking power. Even I, as a Level 9 Martial Artist, would be terrified by her assault."

"Too formidable. Since average disciples of Flame Palace are capable of beating someone of their same level, the strength that Saintess possesses will be more intimidating!"

"A moth that flies into the flame!"

Mo Wushi was emotionless when he saw the light and fast figure attacking him. He stretched out his arm with black aura exuding from his body.

"Show me what the Saintess of Flame Palace has got!"

Both of his arms danced in the air as the sword of Luan Fanghua approached him.

"Go and die!"

Luan Fanghua's eyes were filled with killing intent. She jerked her arm, and the sword burst into flames. She aimed and thrust her sword at Mo Wushi's arm.

Bam, Bam, Bam!

However, a crisp and clear sound was heard when the honed sword fell on Mo Wushi's arm.

The golden blade aura could not win against the mortal flesh and bones!

"What?"

Saintess Luan Fanghua made a different expression as she wielded her sword with a stern face.

The battle of the sword and physical body was actually on par.

"The Diamond Bone lives up to his name. He's so formidable that even Saintess Luan Fanghua could not break through his defense!"

"Isn't he impressive? Saintess is in the top 50 on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!"

All the spectators were stunned as they placed their attention on the fight between the two people.

Saintess Luan Fanghua wielded her sword, aiming all the vital parts of Mo Wushi. His face was looking colder than before.

Shoo!

A flash of red light darted straight in his eyes. Mo Wushi jerked his arm and Divine Dragon scales emerged on his hand.

Pa!

His palm grabbed the sword immediately while he moved his body closer to Saintess Luan Fanghua, who was shocked by it. Mo Wushi charged at her with almighty physical strength.

Bam!

"Weak. Too weak. Saintess of Flame Palace is just so-so!"

Mo Wushi struck a heavy blow to Luan Fanghua's chest. She puked a mouthful of blood and looked pale.

He laughed loudly as he retreated ten meters away from her. With a pair of eyes that shone like torches, he glared at Saint Mo Canghai. "Next!"

Boom!

Mo Canghai's body quaked, and a faint flaming aura encircled him. He stared at Mo Wushi coldly. "Die!"

"He's formidable!"

Luan Fanghua could not help but puke a mouthful of blood at the side. With a pale-looking face, she warned Mo Canghai.

She was macabre as she looked fixedly at the arrogant figure.

"What? Saintess was already defeated?"

"Dominating. Diamond Bone Wushi's assault was overbearing. His powerful defense vanquished her in all aspects. His strength is definitely higher than his ranking on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart!"

"Saintess is defeated! Gosh!"

The surrounding crowd got the shock of their lives. The four elders of Flame Palace sitting in the central position had a slight vile expression.

A rogue cultivator defeated their Saintess of Flame Palace at this time. If word about what happened today got around, the Flame Palace would definitely be embarrassed.

"Haha, I made myself clear. Only when two of you join hands can you qualify to fight with me. One is just... a long way to go!" Mo Wushi scoffed at Mo Canghai.

"Stop your arrogance!"

Mo Canghai showed signs of embarrassment on his cool-looking face. He made a shift move and struck Mo Wushi.

"Haha!"

Mo Wushi cackled as his body was shrouded within a demonic aura. "I'm capable of doing that in front of you!"

Audacious and boundless arrogance.

The disciples of Flame Palace around exhibited extremely dreadful looks. Their expressions sunk as they fixed their attention on Mo Wushi.

If it were not for the presence of the various sects and families from different provinces here, they would have besieged and whacked that arrogant fellow.

However, they could not do it now. Even if they dared to do it, the reputation of Flame Palace would be ruined.

The four Flame Palace elders sat in the field with darkened expressions as they gazed at the fight with cold faces.

Mo Wushi and Mo Canghai's battle broke out instantly.

Mo Canghai, ranked fourteenth on the Outstanding Young Heroes Chart, was the Saint of Sacred Sect Flame Palace.

He was a Level 9 Martial Artist before he turned 32. Hence, his endowment was intimidating.

But even so, Mo Canghai was at the total losing end when he battled with Mo Wushi.

Everyone was stupefied as they watched Mo Wushi suppressing Mo Canghai with his fearsome steel bones and iron muscles.

The Saint was powerless to put up a resistance.

"Saint of Sacred Sect is just so-so!"

Mo Wushi rolled his five fingers into claws. Black aura wrapped around his hands and his hands took the form of dragon claws!

"You lose!"

He burst out a clap of laughter and ripped the person in front of him with a claw.

Mo Canghai was horrified as he quickly raised his arm to block the blow.

When the terrifying crash was felt, his face went grisly.

Ah!

Mo Wushi gripped and scratched the arm of Mo Canghai with five fingers. Five deep and bloody marks were left on it with wounds that went deep into the bone.

Blood dripped as Mo Canghai stared at Mo Wushi, who withdrew his arm slowly. Mo Canghai was looking vile.

Mo Wushi was ostentatious.

He had a disdainful face, and was full of arrogance.

"Even the Saintess and Saint of Flame Palace were defeated. I wonder if there are other outstanding young people from Flame Palace?"

Mo Wushi swept his gaze across the disciples of Flame Palace with a sneer. Finally, he looked at the four elders in the field.

"Elders, given the strength of your disciples, how can the Flame Palace be worthy of this girl who is favored by God?"

"Darn!"

"This Wushi is such a braggart. He's asking for death!"

"That is simply taking the disciples of Flame Palace as trash!"

"That's right." Wang Xian looked at Mo Wushi with satisfaction. Talking about flaunting, Mo Wushi was still very good at it.

He took a glance at the injured Saintess and Saint before he sneered. He turned to the elders of Flame Palace. "Elders, since anyone can beat the hell out of the Saintess and Saint of Flame Palace, I think you can forget about this marriage."

"Since your Saintess and Saint turned out to be this way, whichever descendant of that highly-ranked member... heh... does he deserve it?" Wang Xian scorned and sneered at them.

The one who humiliates others can be humiliated too.

Since Flame Palace wanted to show off the strength of their younger generation, then they would just vanquish the Saint and Saintess!

Chapter 248: All Rounded Suppression

The line, "Are you deserving?" resounded throughout the entire field.

Everyone was dumbfounded as they turned to Wang Xian and the Flame Palace.

Are you deserving?

This had shamed the members of the Flame Palace.

"You aren't deserving!" At this moment, Mo Wushi, who was standing in the middle of the field, made a shocking remark.

His remark seemed to be a response to Wang Xian's question. After which, he walked to Xiao Yu and did something that made the crowd into disheveled.

Mo Wushi went down on one knee in front of Xiao Yu. With his head lowered slightly, he said, "Saintess, if there's anything Wushi can do to be of help to you in the future, please give me your orders!"

Rumble!

Everyone in the field looked at them in disbelief.

The one favored by the gods, Wushi, questioned if Flame Palace could merit a girl like Xiao Yu.

Miracle Doctor Wang questioned whether Flame Palace was deserving of Xiao Yu.

Also, the proud son of Heaven, Wushi, kneeled respectfully in front of the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect like a servant.

This...

Together, this was equivalent to openly questioning if Flame Palace was qualified to match with the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

A slap! A tight slap to their faces.

A while ago, Flame Palace declared with dominance the marriage of the Saintess of the Thistles and Thorns Sect with a retard from the Flame Palace.

The next moment, a Miracle Doctor and a proud son of Heaven questioned their qualifications through a display of strength.

Do you guys merit her? Are you deserving?

The entire field had quietened down. At this moment, no one dared to say a word.

The four Elders of Flame Palace in the middle of the field were aghast and stood up coldly.

Rumble!

Strong flames raged on from the large cauldron behind them as the sounds of fire burning resounded in the field.

Their eyes fell gradually on Wang Xian and Mo Wushi.

Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown!

At this very moment, a middle-aged man, who was wearing attire with a large mountain embroidered on it, stared at Wang Xian with a vengeance from the corner of the field.

"It's all because of him that our Lingyue Sect suffered such great losses!" said the middle-aged man to the old man beside him.

Hmm!

The old man nodded his head as his eyes turned cold. He squinted his eyes and looked towards Mo Wushi who was in the field.

"This rascal is clearly standing up for Miracle Doctor Wang. In that case..."

The lips on the old man slowly arched into a smirk. Since Lingyue Sect was at deep enmity with Miracle Doctor Wang, he might as well get on the good books of Flame Palace at this moment.

The old man stepped forward and shouted, "Rascal, how dare you be so brazen to the Sacred Sect, Flame Palace? Are you courting death?"

Are you courting death?

The voice of the old man broke the silence in the field and resounded in the ears of the crowd.

"Huh? This voice?"

"That's the aura of an Inborn expert!" Just as the old man opened his mouth, everyone was shocked and looked over quickly.

"It's the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect!"

"Lingyue Sect! Is he...?"

An old man walked towards the middle of the field amidst the gazes from the crowd. He was staring coldly at Mo Wushi. The crowd was slightly shocked and soon understood what was happening.

The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect was intending to take on Mo Wushi.

As a Sacred Sect, the Elders of the Flame Palace couldn't act as they wished when Mo Wushi defeated their Saint and Saintess.

If they did, the Flame Palace would bear the name of a bully and one who didn't follow the customs and rules.

Although Mo Wushi was arrogant, his challenge to the Saint and Saintess of the Flame Palace was official after all. The Flame Palace couldn't possibly kill him just because he defeated the Saint and Saintess of the Flame Palace.

As a new Sacred Sect, they had to pay a lot of attention to their reputation.

However, even if the Flame Palace couldn't act, themselves, it didn't mean others couldn't act on their behalf.

The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect was attempting to get on the good books of the Flame Palace.

Seeing the approaching Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect, the four Elders of Flame Palace revealed a gratified look.

As a Sacred Sect, there would be times when they wouldn't have to handle some matters themselves because others would volunteer to do it for them.

"Rascal, you must be eager to die for being so arrogant to the Flame Palace. I'll give you three minutes. Get lost or... Die!"

The Sect Leader stared at Mo Wushi as he spoke emotionlessly. At the same time, he sent the aura of an Inborn expert towards Mo Wushi directly.

Mo Wushi was surprised. He covered himself in a devilish aura as he tried to withstand the aura of the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect.

"This... If Wushi still chooses to act rashly, he is likely to be killed!"

"He's too arrogant. Under such circumstances, even if the Flame Palace doesn't act, there would be people jumping out to teach Wushi a lesson!"

Although they were slightly surprised by Wushi initially, they weren't exactly surprised to see an Inborn expert targeting Mo Wushi.

"Tsk! How dare you be so arrogant in the territory of our Flame Palace? Even if we don't do a thing, others would step forward to put you down!" When the group of disciples of Flame Palace saw an Inborn expert stepping forward to target Mo Wushi, they smiled cockily.

They wouldn't need the Elders to do anything and there would naturally be experts who would step in.

Everyone looked at Mo Wushi who was in the middle of the field. At this moment, he probably couldn't be arrogant.

"He's just a junior. As an Inborn expert, why are you so calculative?"

However, just as everyone thought that the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect would act to suppress Mo Wushi, a cold voice sounded.

An invisible aura blocked the stifling pressure of an Inborn expert from Lingyue Sect directly.

"What?"

"An Inborn expert! There's an Inborn expert who wants to stick up for Wushi!"

"Is this an open confrontation with the Flame Palace?" Everyone was shocked and immediately turned their head over.

At the corner where the people from Flow City gathered, a middle-aged man held a long sword in his hand, his hair covering his face.

"Maniac Ji!"

The crowd was stunned and so was the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect. He stared intensely at him as his expression turned solemn!

"Maniac Ji!" The Elders and disciples of Flame Palace looked over coldly.

"Maniac Ji of Flow City!" The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect stared harshly at him and chided, "This is a matter of Lingyue Sect. You can't stop me!"

"I'd love to give it a try!" Suddenly, an emotionless voice sounded from the crowd. A strong aura swept towards the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect directly.

The strong approaching aura shocked the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect.

"What!"

Everyone in the crowd immediately looked over.

It was another middle-aged man standing beside the Thistles and Thorns Sect. He was staring harshly at the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect.

"Get back to your sect. Otherwise, Lingyue Sect won't have a single peaceful day!"

The middle-aged man was none other than Mo Yuan, who demanded coldly.

"F*ck! Two Inborn experts! Two freaking Inborn experts!"

"What is he trying to do? Challenging the Flame Palace openly? Oh my god! There are two Inborn experts now!"

"This is too terrifying. The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect tried to suppress the proud son of Heaven, Wushi. To his astonishment, two Inborn experts stepped forward to safeguard him!"

"What a domineering appearance. Who is that middle-aged man standing beside the Thistles and Thorns Sect? What a terrifying aura he has? Why haven't I heard of such an Inborn expert!"

The surrounding crowd was shocked to witness the development of events!

Chapter 249: All Rounded Suppression (2)

Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect warned Wushi, the outstanding young hero, to get lost within three minutes or die!

Then, two Inborn Experts appeared immediately.

Maniac Ji, who possessed the strength to annihilate a first-class force by himself, showed up.

An unknown middle-aged man who exhibited domineering appearance with similar overweening tonality.

He just said, "Get back to your sect. Otherwise, Lingyue Sect won't have a single peaceful day!"

Overbearing to the max!

Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect's expression turned vile instantly. With a darkened expression, he stared at Mo Yuan who had a murderous look on him.

Two Inborn Experts. One was Maniac Ji who was both ruthless and righteous.

Another one was a middle-aged man who proclaimed Lingyue Sect would not have a single peaceful day.

Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect dared not take what the two Inborn Experts said as jokes.

Hence, he was extremely embarrassed as he was stuck in a difficult position! A difficult one!

With a sullen look, he swept his gaze across Maniac Ji and Mo Yuan, then to the surroundings.

Unless another Inborn Expert helped him out at this time, he would have to grit his teeth and scam.

He looked at all the Inborn Experts of first-class forces and finally stopped at his good friend.

Fengyang Lie, the leader of Fengyang Family. So long as he had his good friend's help at this moment, and the backing of Flame Palace, so what if it were two Inborn Experts?

Fengyang Lie, who was standing below the stage, sensed the gaze from the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect. He was hesitant for a moment before he nodded his head slowly.

If he stepped forward at this point in time, he would befriend the Flame Palace and Sacred Sect.

"What? Not a single peaceful day? Hehe. Do you think you're qualified to do so to Lingyue Sect?"

Fengyang Lie held a sword and strode out slowly.

"Another Inborn Expert!"

"Is this going to be the battle between Inborn Experts?"

"Gosh, the leader of Fengyang Family is here. Another Inborn Expert!"

Hiak hiak!

The entire quiet square bustled with the voice of Fengyang Lie.

Another Inborn Expert, another one. Forget about others. Just the lineup was good enough to thrill anyone!

However, Fengyan Lie, who was striding forward, suddenly froze.

He heard a familiar voice.

A voice that could tremble him.

That 'hiak, hiak' with the foreign accent was annoying to his ears, but at the same time, it left a deep impression on him.

His body froze as he peered to his left.

He saw the foreigner in a scarlet tuxedo staring at him coldly, licking his lips.

Seeing this, he was unsure if he should swear.

"Damm. Are they from the same gang?"

Fengyang Lie had a drastic change in his expression. Three Inborn Experts! Fu*k, these three Inborn Experts are obviously from a gang.

Fu*k, the Fengyang Family was not Flame Palace. Three Inborn Experts could annihilate not only the Fengyang Family but also Lingyue Sect. It was a piece of cake for them.

Is it worth it to fawn over Flame Palace and be offend the three Inborn Experts? Fu*king no!

Fengyang Lie froze suddenly as he had a mixed expression.

The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect in the middle was stunned slightly as he looked at Fengyang Lie with consternation.

Everyone was staring at Fengyang Lie with questions. What's going on? Why did he stop half-way?

Flaunt it! Why did you stop being ostentatious?

"Hehe!"

Fengyang Lie put on a different expression. He spun around, looking awkward yet polite as he headed to his original position.

Just like that!

Fengyang Lie's series of actions stunned everyone around him.

What's going on? What does this Inborn Expert mean?

Everyone was taken by surprise. He asked if they thought they were qualified to bring turmoil to Lingyue Sect.

Then he went back. What the hell was that?

"What's going on?" What is this leader of Fengyang Family doing? Why did he suddenly retreat?"

"I have no idea. His action was perplexing. We can't guess the thoughts of an Inborn Expert."

The crowd commented in astonishment.

However, Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect had a dramatic change in his expression on the stage. He found himself in a difficult position as he looked at the two Inborn Experts who were staring back at him.

Bam!

"Stand back, everyone. Are you courting your own doom to seek troubles on our territory?"

When Elder Liu noticed such a situation, he slammed his hand on his chair with a vile expression and bellowed in a low voice.

He swept his cold gaze over Maniac Ji and Mo Yuan.

"Yes, Elder Liu!"

Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect felt relieved as he quickly answered.

Elder Liu looked at Wang Xian indifferently. He observed the people around him with a grave expression.

The elders of Flame Palace could tell that Maniac Ji and the middle-aged man beside Thistles and Thorns Sect were here because of Miracle Doctor Wang.

"How dare you embarrass the Flame Palace!?"

Several elders of Flame Palace were looking inhospitable. One of them cast a glance at Shenghua at the side.

"Hehe!"

Shenghua revealed a faint smile on his face as he stood up slowly and walked to the center spot. His attention was on Wang Xian.

"I've long heard of your name, Miracle Doctor Wang. I thought we could be buddies of the same sect and exchange our medical skills. Never did I expect you would turn down the invitation. I guess I can only use this opportunity to learn from you!"

Shenghua spoke to Wang Xian with a beaming face. "I also want to see if Miracle Doctor Wang lives up to his name as the young Miracle Doctor!"

"This is...!"

"The way Miracle Doctor Wang handed this obviously pissed Flame Palace off. Hence, they were going to teach him a lesson."

"That's right. After all, they cannot get humiliated as a Sacred Sect. They must restore their dignity!"

"Miracle Doctor Shenghua is renowned overseas. I wonder how he will do it!"

Everybody felt it was all imposing as they watched quietly. The impact that they got today was overwhelming.

"Shenghua, that cheap old man!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stared daggers at Shenghua as he whispered.

"Hur? Do you know him?" asked Sun Lingxiu, looking at him.

"Yes, he's a lecher. Fu*k. He stole a woman from me and even lectured me."

Miracle Doctor Blood Man glared at him and said coldly, "But master, my strength has improved tremendously. I'm not afraid of Shenghua now!"

"Really?" Sun Ling Xiu smiled.

"I used to be afraid of this cheap old man. But now, I'm not!" Xiao Hong patted his chest and acted as though he was formidable.

"Go on!" Sun Lingxiu said impassively.

"Yes, master. Today, I'll get a good game in with that cheap old man!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man was elated as he stared at Shenghua and chuckled.

"Shenghua, you cheap old man. How dare you challenge my master's friend in medical skills. I think I will be the best person to do it!"

Just as when Shenghua was staring daggers at Wang Xian, Miracle Doctor Blood Man's broken Mandarin was heard again.

As arrogant as ever!

As broken as ever!

Chapter 250: Just This Level?

"Damn it, they really are!"

When the arrogant voice sounded, Fengyang Lie's mouth twitched a little.

His face darkened at the sight of the middle-aged man in a bright red tuxedo.

Although his actions previously were a little embarrassing, he felt that his decision was a brilliant one when he heard this arrogant voice.

These people are indeed together!

"Who is that foreigner? Why is he so arrogant?"

"What an arrogant guy! However, the phrase 'cheap old man' and 'this old man' became really hilarious in his tone!"

"Who is that middle-aged man in a red tuxedo? How could he still be so arrogant to Miracle Doctor Shenghua?"

The surrounding crowd looked in shock at Miracle Doctor Blood Man who stepped forward.

"How dare you speak like this to the Miracle Doctor of the Flame Palace! You must be courting death!" an attendant from Flame Palace looked at Miracle Doctor Blood Man and chided.

Hehe!

Miracle Doctor Blood Man did not pay attention to the attendant and simply stared at Shenghua. "Old man! Not doing so well in Europe? Why are you here?"

"Oh, little blood man!"

Upon hearing Miracle Doctor Blood Man calling him an old man, Miracle Doctor Shenghua was clearly displeased. He stared harshly at Miracle Doctor Blood Man as he remarked with contempt.

"Hehe. You better be careful when speaking. I've reached the Prince Realm now and an old man like you isn't at the same level as me anymore!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stared at him with contempt before adding, "Let's compete with medical techniques. Let me see what you are capable of!"

Prince Realm!

Shenghua squinted his eyes upon hearing him. Although he was a little surprised, he still remarked coldly, "Do you want me to purify you?"

"Haha, old man. Do you think I, Miracle Doctor Blood Man, am still the same as before? Why don't we fight it out?"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man smiled sheepishly but gradually restrained his smile. On his red tuxedo, black and viscous blood started circulating.

The scent of blood and raging aura emanated from his body.

"For blood cultivators and light cultivators like us, strength also represents the level of our medical techniques. Hehe. My raging blood is making me really excited now."

Hehehehe!

Miracle Doctor Blood Man lifted his head slowly. To the astonishment of the crowd, a pair of blood-red wings appeared behind him.

This symbolized the strength of a Prince Realm expert and an incomparably noble existence.

"Come, come! Since I have advanced to the Prince Realm, I haven't experienced a battle that has made me tremble. My blood is now raging and calling out to you!"

Hehehehe!

Miracle Doctor Blood Man laughed hysterically. From him, an invincible vibe started to form around him.

His devilish blood wings extended behind him as the scent of blood covered him.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man had turned completely red. His eyes were even glowing in blood-red light and two huge fangs were exposed from his mouth.

"What horrifying aura!"

This is the Vampire from Europe! He's a Prince Realm Vampire! Oh my god! What a terrifying aura!"

"He's too strong! Get back, get back!"

The crowd was shocked. The stifling aura that Miracle Doctor Blood Man had exhibited sent chills down the Sect Leaders and Family heads of various First-class Forces.

Those Inborn experts stared fearfully at Miracle Doctor Blood Man, who was flapping his blood wings.

"Too strong. He's too strong! I'm so glad I did not mess with him previously!"

Fengyang Lie looked at Miracle Doctor Blood Man suspended in the air and his heart was thumping violently. The strength that Miracle Doctor Blood Man had exhibited at this moment was even more frightening than before.

Fengyang Lie was sure that it would be difficult for him to escape if they ever fought.

"This vampire...!"

The four Elders of Flame Palace, who were sitting in the central location, were dumbfounded.

Inborn experts could be distinguished by their battle prowess and could be separated into four tiers. The four tiers were Exploratory Inborn, Small Mastery Inborn, Great Mastery Inborn and Pinnacle Inborn.

The four of them had the strength level of a Small Mastery Inborn expert. Together with the unique Art of Cultivation of the Flame Palace, they could fight with a Great Mastery Inborn expert.

However, Miracle Doctor Blood Man made their hearts shiver in fear.

The four of them exchanged gazes as fear gripped them.

"I had not expected a small blood man could improve to this extent!"

Shenghua looked in shock at the impetuous Miracle Doctor Blood Man in the air.

"I could crush you easily in the past and I still can do it now. We are your natural nemesis!"

Shenghua's expression was glum. Waving his hand, a staff appeared in his hand.

He held the staff with both of his hands and a dense Light attribute energy emanated from his body.

Light, Illuminate!

A pair of wings made up of Light energy appeared behind Miracle Doctor Shenghua. He had a holy glow around him and looked just like the angel in the legends.

"Light will definitely annihilate darkness!"

Miracle Doctor Shenghua held the staff in his hand as he gradually levitated towards Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"Hehe, darkness has already fallen!"

Carrying his bloody aura along, Miracle Doctor Blood Man charged towards Miracle Doctor Shenghua directly. "Die!"

"Holy Slash!"

At this moment, Miracle Doctor Shenghua had an imposing look on him. The Light energy around him masked the details of his face, making him look a little holier.

He waved the staff in his hand and a cross-shaped slash flew towards Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"My blood is raging!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stretched out his arms. Thick fresh blood surrounded him as he ripped apart the cross-shaped slash.

Huh?

However, the moment the cross-shaped slash impacted his hand, it mysteriously entered into the body of the Miracle Doctor Blood Man. This shocked him a little.

To his surprise, he felt his blood become exceptionally excited when the Light energy entered into his body. It was as though they were cheering.

"This... This...!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man was thrilled. Light had always been the counter against blood cultivators. However, he was no longer affected by Light.

In addition, he had a warm feeling when the Light landed on him.

Hehe! Hehe!

Miracle Doctor Blood Man started laughing hysterically. "My master! My master is indeed incredible! Hahaha!"

He screamed excitedly as he looked fervently at Shenghua.

"Old man, have a taste of the powers of darkness!"

Moving his body, he charged towards Shenghua at an astonishing speed.

In the air, Miracle Doctor Blood Man looked just like a curtain made of blood that descended towards Shenghua.

"Darkness shall expel Light!"

Miracle Doctor Shenghua was unmoved. The powers of Light had always been a good counter against blood cultivators. Even if the cultivation level of Miracle Doctor Blood Man had reached the level of Prince, it would still be highly effective.

He held his staff with both hands as he chanted, "Holy Light Illumination! Slash!"

Blinding rays appeared in front of him. The dense white light was just like the daytime sun that shrouded towards the approaching Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"I rise from the darkness but I revel in the Light!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man opened up his blood wings as he charged into the Holy Ray Illumination.

"Foolish!" Seeing Miracle Blood Man charging in directly, Shenghua remarked with contempt.

"Hehe. You are the foolish one. Trash! You dare to play hero here with just this level of strength? A Miracle Doctor of an Emperor-class Force is just at this level?" [\[1\]](#)

Vulgarity and insults sounded at this moment, shocking everyone!

Chapter 251: Never See A Pretty Girl Before?

Boom!

As the voice of Miracle Doctor Blood Man trailed off, the Holy Ray Illumination displayed by Miracle Doctor Shenghua was suddenly flushed with blood.

The Holy Light encompassing a radius of five meters was stained with a bloody color.

Hiak hiak!

Miracle Doctor Blood Man let out a clap of wild laughter as he charged swiftly and ferociously towards Shenghua.

"How did this happen?"

Shenghua was horrified as he watched the Miracle Doctor Blood Man charging at him with disbelief.

"Cheap old man, you lost!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man was thrilled. His nails were long, exuding a glistening bloody mist.

"Why weren't you punished by the Holy Light?"

Shenghua was appalled as he raised the staff in his hand and struck heavily at the Miracle Doctor Blood Man.

"Because you're too weak!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man slashed at Shenghua's staff.

The absence of the limiting effect from two different attributes freaked Shenghua out.

Logically speaking, the Holy Light emitted from his staff should have dissolved the blood in Miracle Doctor Blood Man. But nothing happened.

On the contrary, he realized the other party was undaunted by the power of Holy Light.

"Incredible, that Miracle Doctor Blood Man is incredible!"

"Domineering. Both of them are simply domineering!"

"Shenghua lives up to his name with his daunting combat ability. That Holy Ray Illumination looked like it could purify me in one go!"

"That vampire was more formidable. Wasn't the Holy Light supposed to suppress vampires? Why is he badly beaten up now?"

Everyone around spectated the duel with disbelief.

This was another kind of combat of medical skills.

"Interesting. the battle between Xiao Hong and Shenghua felt like combat between two mages!" said Wang Xian with a smile, as he could tell that Miracle Doctor Blood Man had suppressed Shenghua completely.

"Young Master, the Art of Cultivation in Euramerica is like this. In ancient Europe, they have knights, mages, and witches just like our ancient Martial Arts Experts. They may have different cultivation systems, but they are ultimately similar too!"

Mo Qinglong explained to Wang Xian, "They have mages and knights in Euramerica. Shenghua and Miracle Doctor Blood Man were more of mages who attack with elements. However, Miracle Doctor Blood Man had a stronger physique."

"Besides," Mo Qinglong paused for a moment. "Euramerica has the most comprehensive cultivation system. They have many experts that are much more formidable than our side."

"Really?" Wang Xian was slightly taken aback as he looked at Mo Qinglong.

Mo Qinglong nodded. "The Ancient Martial Artist Families in the underworld like to keep to themselves. They don't share their skills with outsiders. Hence, many secret manuals that contained powerful skills were lost."

"However, they have a more complete inheritance system in Euramerica. Take Shenghua's Holy Light for instance. If he has a chance to practice a higher level of cultivation, Miracle Doctor Blood Man has an equal chance too. But such Cultivation Arts can only be found in Sacred Sects here in the underworld."

Mo Qinglong spoke as though he was reminiscing. "When Spiritual Treasures were spotted in spiritual mountains in the underworld, the news was leaked, drawing many powerful forces from overseas to compete for them. In the end, we lost them to someone else in our territory!"

Wang Xian nodded his head slowly. He may not have understood other places, but not many experts were found in the underworld. Most of them were concentrated in Sacred Sects. Like Flame Palace who just got promoted, they already had dozens of Inborn Experts. Those long-standing Sacred Sects should be even stronger. Maybe they possessed a more high-class combat ability!

"You're gone!"

At this time, the haughty voice of Miracle Doctor Blood Man was heard. Wang Xian looked over. He saw Miracle Doctor Blood Man tearing Shenghua with a bloody claw, leaving deep bloody marks on him.

Shenghua was pale-looking. Immense bright energy healed the injuries on his body.

But his face was grim as the thick blood was constantly absorbing the energy from his body.

"Haha, Shenghua, are you convinced now?!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stood in front of him with a cocky face. He looked just like a villain when he stood tall and high, overlooking Miracle Doctor Shenghua.

Upon seeing his stance, Shenghua had a dreadful expression. Even his body was jittery.

"Geez, that's too strong. That vampire was tough! I think even the two Inborn Experts may not be a match for this vampire!"

"Their Art of Cultivation is compelling. Given our techniques, Inborn Experts can only take flight in the sky for a short moment. Yet, they can form wings, and even battle in the air with their cultivation arts!"

"What they practiced was magic, using a special way to perform remote attacks with their spiritual strength. The experts in the underworld are more proficient in using weapons such as swords and sabers. Each has their own strengths!"

The crowd including Inborn Experts exclaimed too.

"By the way, the vampire seemed to mention that his master is a friend of Miracle Doctor Wang. He has a master?"

Suddenly, some people realized something. That vampire had said he has a master before his fight just now.

His master? Such an existence like him as a master?

Everyone was stupefied. Does such a daunting existence actually have a master?

Then how domineering could his master be? Beyond imagination!

Back at Fengyang Family, Fengyang Lie could not believe it. He was wiping cold sweat that broke out on his forehead with a tissue paper.

"I admit defeat!" Shenghua said with a low voice and grave expression as he clenched his fist tightly.

"Haha, great that you admit defeat. Don't be arrogant, and keep a low profile. Do you get it?"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man educated Shenghua with a conceited face.

Hiak hiak!

Subsequently, Miracle Doctor Blood Man burst out laughing. With a swift movement, he darted to Sun Lingxiu like a bloody shadow.

"Master, how did I do? Am I not impressive?"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man lifted his chin and asked Sun Lingxiu just like an elementary student who just got first in his class.

"Not bad!" Sun Lingxiu praised him without much emotion except drawing a faint smile on her face.

Gulp!

All the people, including the disciples from Flame Palace, cast their glances over there in disbelief. They could not help but gulp.

"That pure and holistic girl is the master of the vampire?"

"Gosh...this!"

"What a pure and holy goddess. Her demeanor is impressive!"

"Given the temperament she exhibited, she seems like a fairy from Heaven. Is she a princess from some Sacred Sects or Sacred Clans?"

"Gosh, she's the master of the vampire. Given her demeanor, she doesn't seem to be groomed by any average forces. Besides, the fairy doesn't seem to be weak!"

"The super cocky and domineering vampire is acting like a child, waiting to be praised over here. This..."

Everyone was shocked to see this. Even the four elders from Flame Palace looked at Sun Lingxiu with grave expressions.

What kind of backings did she have for the mighty vampire to be a slave to her? Or what strength did she possess?

"What are you looking at? Never see a pretty girl before?"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man stared and chided those people who were staring at them.

Chapter 252: Conduct Yourself Well

Shocking!

Everyone looked at them with shock and disbelief.

Seeing how arrogant and savage Miracle Doctor Blood Man was, the crowd quickly averted their gazes.

Only the four Elders in the central location continued staring. However, they were clearly embarrassed and infuriated.

The Flame Palace had truly been embarrassed today.

A disciple of Flame Palace was completely thrashed by a Saintess of a Second-class Force.

The Saint and Saintess of Flame Palace were easily crushed by a rogue cultivator.

The one who had defeated them was extremely arrogant. Flame Palace couldn't do anything, as they were concerned about how others would view them. Inborn experts tried to stick up for them but were forced to back away by two other Inborn experts.

And now, Miracle Doctor Shenghua, whom the Palace Master had invited personally, was defeated by an unknown vampire.

In quick succession, one after another...

Initially, Flame Palace wanted to make use of this opportunity to recruit disciples and experts while displaying their might. However, the outcome was beyond their expectations as they were humiliated consecutively.

This made the four Elders of the Flame Palace unusually furious.

"It's all because of that guy!"

The four Elders looked at Wang Xian who was below the stage. Strong killing intent leaked out from their gazes.

If it wasn't for Miracle Doctor Wang, how would Flame Palace be humiliated as such?

How would their disciples and Miracle Doctors be defeated in quick succession?

"He deserves death for tarnishing the reputation of Flame Palace!" Elder Liu directed his voice softly to the other three Elders around him.

"Our Flame Palace shouldn't just take this humiliation. There's only one outcome for him for offending us!"

"Kill! He's just a small Miracle Doctor no matter how many strong experts surround him."

"The reputation and name of Flame Palace aren't things that can be infringed upon!"

The other three Elders replied coldly immediately.

What Miracle Doctor Wang had done today was deserving of ten thousand deaths in their eyes.

"Call upon a few other Elders tomorrow. We shall announce the Flame Palace's Killing Order and we must definitely kill him!"

Elder Liu was filled with killing intent. His gaze swept across Maniac Ji, Mo Yuan, Wushi and the crowd.

If it wasn't for the fact that they were wary of how others might view them, they would have struck right away.

"For those who wish to join our Flame Palace, Level 8 Martial Artists and above can apply for direct enrolment."

Elder Liu looked to the surrounding crowd and said solemnly with an expressionless face, "Today, the selection of disciples for Flame Palace shall end here."

"What? It's ending so quickly?"

"It's just been two hours and they are ending it now...? This..."

The surrounding crowd was taken aback as they had not expected the Elder of Flame Palace to announce the end so quickly.

"This might be due to..."

Some people looked to where Wang Xian was as their eyes lit up.

Flame Palace wanted to display the might and authority of a Sacred Sect today. In the end, they got a tight and ruthless slap from Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown.

Their disciple, Saint, and Saintess were defeated. Even the Miracle Doctor that their Flame Palace had invited personally was defeated.

Nonetheless, the connections that Miracle Doctor Wang had displayed greatly shocked the crowd.

In fact, even Flame Palace did not act hastily and swallowed their grievances.

However, Flame Palace won't just let this go. As a newly crowned Sacred Sect, they will definitely return the humiliation they suffered ten folds over. Otherwise, their authority would be non-existent! the surrounding crowd thought to themselves.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, our Flame Palace will remember the incidents of today!" As many had expected, the voice of the Elders of Flame Palace sounded at this moment.

Elder Liu stared coldly at Wang Xian with fervent killing intent. He gritted his teeth and remarked with a gruesome expression, "Miracle Doctor Wang, I hope you conduct yourself well in the future!"

As he finished his sentence, his eyes swept across Maniac Ji, Mo Yuan, the vampire, Sun Lingxiu and the crowd of the Thistles and Thorns Sect.

"Indeed!"

When the crowd saw the cold looks of Elder Liu, they immediately understood a feud had broken out between the Flame Palace and Miracle Doctor Wang.

Moreover, Miracle Doctor Wang would most likely encounter a mishap soon!

"Oh?"

Wang Xian revealed a smirk and replied to the Elder from the Flame Palace, "You can remember it if you wish. As to how I should conduct myself, I don't need you to remind me!"

"Haha, great. I'm impressed by your courage! Tsk!" Elder Liu laughed loudly and stared harshly at Wang Xian before turning around and left.

The other Elders also gave Wang Xian cold looks before heading towards the depths of Wuduan Mountain.

In the middle of the field, the disciples of Flame Palace also looked fiercely at Wang Xian.

"Cultivate diligently when you get back! Those who offend the Flame Palace will definitely die!"

The Saint, Mo Canghai, glanced at Mo Wushi sternly and sneered.

In the middle of the field, Mu Wanwan gritted her teeth as she looked to Xiao Yu before rejoining the group of disciples of Flame Palace shamefully.

The group of disciples of Flame Palace left shortly after.

Around them, everyone intentionally and unintentionally looked towards Wang Xian as they whispered among themselves.

Within Lingyue Sect, the Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect, was looking extremely displeased.

Not only did they fail to get on the good books of the Flame Palace, but they had also offended strong enemies today.

"Luckily, the Flame Palace will eliminate Wang Xian and the other two Inborn experts. Otherwise, we would be in trouble!"

The Sect Leader of Lingyue Sect glowered at Wang Xian before leading the crowd of Lingyue Sect and leaving.

Around them, various Sects and Families also started leaving one after another.

The outcome of today's pilgrimage was something they had not expected.

They were shocked to see someone humiliating a Sacred Sect during their pilgrimage.

"Look out for news on Miracle Doctor Wang of Rivertown for the next few days. I believe Flame Palace will strike within the next two days!"

"He should be dead soon. Even if he has great strength and can summon three to four Inborn experts, it would be futile if a Sacred Sect wished to target a factionless doctor like him."

"This Miracle Doctor Wang isn't rational to go against an entire Sacred Sect. He's likely going to be dead soon."

Around them, some sects and families whispered softly as they left.

...

"Brother!" Xiao Yu walked towards Wang Xian with a blushing face and greeted him softly.

"Your performance was pretty good!" Wang Xian caressed her head and gave his compliments.

"King!" Mo Wushi walked over and greeted Wang Xian respectfully.

"Yeah!" Wang Xian looked at Mo Wushi and nodded his head. "Just continue with your own journey!"

"Yes, King!" Mo Wushi nodded his head. After paying respects to Mo Qinglong and Mo Yuan, he turned around and left.

"Miracle Doctor Wang!" At this moment, Maniac Ji and Sect Leader Tang had also walked over and greeted him solemnly.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, Flame Palace will definitely not let the events of today rest. I'm afraid of what's coming next..." Sect Leader Tang frowned and reminded Wang Xian.

"I understand!"

Wang Xian nodded his head and a cold flash of light blitzed past his eyes. "Sect Leader Tang, you don't have to worry about this!"

Conduct myself well? I naturally will do as I see fit!

Wang Xian's eyes flickered.

Considering what Flame Palace would do next, if he wished to do as he deemed fit, it would be to strike first.

Sacred Sect, Flame Palace! Let me show you what I'm capable of!

Chapter 253: The Autumn Wind Blows And The Flames Extinguished (1)

"Shuqing, you'll return to the villa with Elder Fang and Xiao Yu," said Wang Xian to Shuqing and Xiao Yu when the sects and families gradually dispersed from the square in Wuduan Mountain.

"Xiao Xian, you..." Shuqing bit her tongue. "Be careful!"

"Don't worry!"

Wang Xian caressed Guan Shuqing's head with confidence. He beamed at Sect Leader Tang. "I hope Sect Leader Tang can send them back!"

"Rest assured, Miracle Doctor Wang!"

Sect Leader Tang cupped his fist and assured him.

Wang Xian nodded and waved goodbye to Guan Shuqing and Xiao Yu.

"Brother, come back soon!"

"I'll be back tomorrow morning. Don't worry!"

Wang Xian smiled and nodded.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, do you intend to strike Flame Palace?"

After Xiao Yu and Guan Shuqing were gone, Maniac Ji looked at Wang Xian and asked with a solemn expression.

"Even if we don't, they'll still strike at us." Wang Xian smiled impassively. He turned to Mo Yuan. "Where is the basecamp of Flame Palace? We'll exterminate them today."

"At the foot of Fiery Rock Mountain which is more than a hundred kilometers away from here!" Mo Yuan answered.

Maniac Ji was a little taken aback when Wang Xian took it so easily when he said they were going to exterminate them.

"Let's go over there!"

Wang Xian did not have the slightest hesitation. Since he decided, he would execute immediately.

"Yes!" Mo Yuan nodded. "Shall we gather the disciples of Dragon Sect?"

"No need. We're good enough!" Wang Xian smiled, and Mo Yuan nodded. He immediately went to look for a vehicle.

"Master, just a few of us are going to strike an Emperor-class Family? Isn't it too few of us?" Miracle Doctor Blood Man at the side whispered his question to Sun Lingxiu.

"Following Xiao Xian will do!" said Sun Lingxiu nonchalantly.

Miracle Doctor Blood Man pouted and kept quiet. He stood respectfully by the side as he sized up Wang Xian and the rest.

They had one more Inborn Expert, which made it six in total.

To exterminate an Emperor-class force with six Inborn Experts was wishful thinking.

The vehicle drove to Fiery Rock Mountain, which was a renowned mountain range of Dongqing Province.

Fiery Rock Mountain was a colossal active volcano.

One could see the rising smoke in the sky from far away. The temperature was higher than in other regions by a few degrees.

Volcanoes did not necessarily have magma rumbling underneath. In fact, many volcanoes had now turned into tourist attractions.

Flame Palace Sacred Sect did not turn into one such scenic spot, but the scenery was not any inferior to the rest of the beautiful scenic spots.

"The basecamp of Flame Palace is situated on the main peak. The surrounding mountains were for the elders and some disciples. There are 23 peaks in total, out of which, only the main one is connected to the underground volcano. I heard it is the sacred ground for the cultivation of their disciples."

Mo Yuan did an introduction to Wang Xian as the vehicle entered the Flame City. As soon as they arrived in the city, they saw the volcanoes far away.

"Let's find a place to have dinner. We'll go over after sunset," Wang Xian said with a smile after looking at the time.

"Yes, Dragon King!"

Mo Yuan nodded as he instructed the driver to drive them to the best restaurant in Flame City.

Flame City may have been a small city, but it came with a rich historical heritage.

Flaming Flower Restaurant was the best restaurant in Flame City. All their dishes were put together with the various wild animals hunted from the volcano mountains.

The group of six people went into the restaurant and sat in the main hall of the restaurant.

Flaming Flower Restaurant may not have been big, but it looked posh.

"Sir, we serve the tastiest wild vegetables and meat here. Please try it!"

Wang Xian and the rest sat down, and the service staff served their dishes warmly not long after.

"Chinese cuisine is impressive!" Miracle Doctor Blood Man sat beside Sun Lingxiu and put a thumb up to compliment.

"Hehe, that's true. Chinese cuisine is the best in the world." Mo Yuan chuckled.

"Not only do we have delicacies, but we also have pretty girls too!"

At this time, a quirky voice was heard. It was a distinctive voice that sounded frivolous and dissolute.

"Hur?"

Mo Yuan and Miracle Doctor Blood Man raised their eyebrows as soon as they heard the remark. They immediately turned to look over to their side.

Ten odd-looking men.

The two tables beside them sat queer people with seven old men, two middle-aged men, and one young man. They were all foreigners.

The seven old men had big builds and wore oversized clothes. They exuded an extraordinary demeanor.

The old men seemed to be people who had just come out from seclusion.

The two middle-aged men were ordinary-looking. The young man who spoke was a blonde hunk.

"Eat your food, and shut up. Stop disgracing the foreigners!"

When Miracle Doctor Blood Man noticed the blonde hunk was staring at his own master, he glowered at him.

"Hehe." The blonde hunk did not mind him and giggled, "Chinese girls, good skin!"

"Boss, bring all your best dishes here!"

Just then, a sharp voice was heard from the outside.

"Coming. Gentlemen, this way please!"

Immediately, a middle-aged man in a suit greeted them quickly with reverence.

"Gentlemen, please have a seat here!"

The restaurant manager quickly ushered the four people inside.

"I heard the news from Wuduan Mountain that a fellow ruined our pilgrimage this time!"

"Yes, several elders already rushed over here. Even Palace Master found out about this."

"Hehe, looks like someone is digging his own grave!"

The four gentlemen had outstanding bearings. They lifted their chins as though they were condescending someone as they discussed this briefly.

Wang Xian and the group's attention was drawn by the conversations between the four young men. They turned around and ignored the young blonde foreigner.

"Boss, get us some wine!"

A young man instructed the middle-aged man in front of him. "If he dares to offend us, he will need to pay a heavy price. We can establish our reputation at the same time!"

"That's right. Who within the five provinces dares to provoke us? He's obviously asking for it. I heard he's a factionless doctor. Haha!"

The four young men continued their conversations at a table beside Wang Xian and the rest who smiled as they exchanged glances.

The four young men must be disciples from Flame Palace.

They enjoyed their drinks and exchanged conversations booming without any restraint.

"I heard our Mu Wanwan was wounded. We must check her out tonight. Hehe!"

"This fellow is up to no good again. But Mu Wanwan was too haughty. She's difficult. You should find yourself other targets!"

The young men were exchanging conversations when one of them spotted Sun

Lingxiu suddenly. He was slightly stunned as a tinge of passion flashed in his eyes.

The saying, "women are like disasters" was right. This was especially true for pretty ladies.

That young man stood up in amazement. "Pretty, are you from Flame City?"

Chapter 254: The Autumn Wind Blows And The Flames Extinguished (2)

Just as Sun Lingxiu was eating, a young man walked over and asked her a question directly. This made her knit her eyebrows a little.

"Scram and go eat while you can, rascal!" Seeing others offending his master again, Miracle Doctor Blood Man lifted his head and chided coldly.

Huh?

The response of Miracle Doctor Blood Man immediately stunned the Flame Palace disciple who came to strike a conversation. A cold light flashed in his eyes.

He was a disciple of a Sacred Sect. Furthermore, the group was in their territory. How dare he call him a rascal?

"You better choose your words wisely, foreigner! Otherwise, I'll make things difficult for you!" The young man stared harshly at Miracle Doctor Blood Man and pointed at him. "You guys better be honest here. Otherwise... I'll let you know whose territory you are in!"

"Hehe! At this moment, an appropriate thing to say in Chinese would be 'rescuing the damsel in distress!'"

A voice with a similar accent to Miracle Doctor Blood Man's sounded once again.

Following which, a palm suddenly appeared on the shoulder of the young man from Flame Palace.

"Hey beauty, this guy is a crook. Now that I have taught him a lesson your behalf, are you going to pledge to marry me in gratitude?"

The good-looking guy with blonde hair smiled and looked towards where Sun Lingxiu was. His lips curved into a smile as he gave Sun Lingxiu dirty looks!

"You must be courting death!"

The young man from Flame Palace, whose shoulder was being held, growled angrily. He clenched his fist tightly and charged towards the good looking guy with blonde hair.

Argh!

However, just as the young man threw a punch, his body suddenly started trembling violently. He stared at the good looking guy with blonde hair in front of him with disbelief and shock!

"What the... How dare you cause troubles in our territory?"

"Damn it! There are more and more people who wish to die here!"

The other disciples of Flame Palace stood up immediately and gave the good looking guy with blonde hair an icy glare.

"Hehe! Just a few trash and yet you dare to speak to me like this?" the good looking guy with blonde hair turned over and said mockingly. A strong aura swept quickly towards the four young men from Flame Palace.

"YOU..."

The four disciples from Flame Palace choked from the stifling pressure. Their faces turned red quickly as they could only stare at him with their eyes wide open.

"Scram!"

With a light push from the good looking guy with blonde hair, the young man from Flame Palace was knocked back onto the chair behind him.

The four disciples of Flame Palace were filled with fear and anger instantly as they could only stare with deadly looks at the good looking guy with blonde hair.

"I love to see your angry looks." The good looking golden-hair looked at the four disciples of Flame Palace as though he was admiring a piece of art. In a light-hearted tone, he continued, "But I'd love to see your despairing looks even more!"

"Oh! This should be quick!"

"Heng Wang, it's time to go!"

At this moment, an old man a short distance away spoke plainly to the good looking guy with blonde hair.

"Haha. You don't even allow me to enjoy myself a little."

The good looking guy with blonde hair smiled at them, turned around and said to Sun Lingxiu, "Hey beauty, I saved you a while ago. Aren't you going to pledge to marry me?"

As he spoke, he tapped once at the void space between them before leaving with the group of old and middle-aged men.

Behind them, the four disciples of Flame Palace glowered at them but didn't dare to give chase.

The stifling pressure they felt from the young man with blonde hair had made them experience fear.

"Interesting!"

Wang Xian looked at the ten foreigners before turning to Sun Lingxiu.

Sun Lingxiu's eyes lit up as she lifted her right hand and grabbed something off her body. A red flame appeared in her hand.

"Do you recognize them?" She looked to Miracle Doctor Blood Man beside her and asked.

"This mark?" Miracle Doctor Blood Man frowned slightly and answered, "Flame... There are a few Emperor-class Forces internationally that specialize in flames. From how they addressed the young man with blonde hair, he must be Heng Wang from the Fire God Denomination!" [\[1\]](#)

He frowned and squinted his eyes at the disappearing figures of old and middle-aged men.

"They are all Inborn Realm experts!" commented Wang Xian plainly.

"What?"

Mo Yuan, Maniac Ji and the others were shocked.

All of them are Inborn Realm experts? There are ten of them!

"What are they here for?" Mo Qinglong frowned and mumbled.

Wang Xian looked at the embarrassed and furious disciples from Flame Palace leaving with gloomy expressions before he smirked and said, "It should be related to the Flame Palace. Moreover, they aren't friendly!"

They aren't friendly!

Mo Qinglong and the rest were shocked and quickly sank into thoughts.

"I know a little about the Fire God Denomination. They aren't any weaker than our Sacred Sects. In fact, they are a lot stronger than the newly crowned Sacred Sect. They are here for..."

Doubts surfaced on Mo Qinglong's face.

"Perhaps... Tonight will be an interesting night!" replied Wang Xian with a laugh.

"How dare he place a tracking flame on my master! If I see the blonde rascal again, I will kill him!"

Miracle Doctor Blood Man spoke with intense killing intent.

...

Night. The summer had passed and the autumn wind was sighing.

The Fiery Rock Mountain was still glowing in a faint light.

It was especially so at the main peak. At night, the volcano was shrouded in a red glow that made it exceptionally beautiful.

Six figures descended on a tree a thousand meters from the entrance silently and waited patiently.

"Miracle Doctor Wang, it's already 9 pm. Let's split up to ambush and kill the Elders on each peak before they guard against us. Even if we can't annihilate the Flame Palace, we can also make them suffer grave losses!" Maniac Ji looked at Wang Xian and suggested.

"No rush. Let's wait and see!"

"Wang Xian waved his hand at him. He continued standing silently while staring at Flame Palace.

Maniac Ji was confused but still waited patiently.

Time passed slowly and it was soon 10 pm. Suddenly, ten figures appeared from afar.

They were moving rapidly like a gust of wind and carried with them an intense and violent aura.

"It's them!"

"The ten Inborn experts from the restaurant!"

"They are indeed here!"

Maniac Ji looked solemnly across at the ten Inborn experts.

The ten of them didn't attempt to hide themselves at all. Each of the ten figures was glowing and approaching the Flame Palace like a meteor.

"How arrogant of them to charge into the Flame Palace so openly! What are they trying to do?" Mo Qinglong frowned and asked.

"Huo Yu of Flame Palace and Shenghua! Get here right away! How dare you guys steal the treasure of our Fire God Denomination! Today, we will definitely annihilate the entire Flame Palace!"

A majestic voice propagated throughout the entire Flame Palace and resounded within the Fiery Rock Mountain.

"A small Flame Palace stole the treasures of Fire God Denomination to become a Sacred Sect in the East. Hehe. Today, we will annihilate you!"

A brazen voice sounded once again. In the skies above the main peak, the figures of the ten Inborn experts from the Fire God Denomination were well illuminated by the flames they emitted.

Wings made of flames sprouted behind their backs.

Ten of them had completely sealed off the entire Flame Palace.

They weren't concerned about Flame Palace having more Inborn experts than them at all.

Neither were they fearful of Flame Palace.

An arrogant, domineering and majestic voice and aura shrouded the entire Flame Palace.

"Who is it? Who dares to play punk in Flame Palace?"

"Who is it? Who dares to clamor at Sacred Sect?"

The resounding voice shook up the entire Flame Palace. All the disciples walked out of their rooms as they bellowed in anger.

They enjoyed the utmost glory after they were promoted from a first-class force to a Sacred Sect.

Everyone treated disciples of Flame Palace with respect, and none of them dared to be rude to them.

Now, someone dared to talk big at the Flame Palace. That was as good as digging their own graves.

"Gosh, there are ten people in the air!"

"Air...?"

Every Flame Palace disciple was surprised as they looked up towards the main peak.

"It's true. Ten people with huge flaming wings on their backs!"

"They...they are Inborn Experts!"

"Ten Inborn Experts. Gosh, ten of them!"

"So what? We have 14 Inborn Experts guarding the Flame Palace now!" all the disciples said with trepidation as they looked over.

"Who dares to play punk in Flame Palace?"

"Fire God Denomination? How dare you barge onto the sacred ground of Flame Palace. You guys definitely have a death wish!"

One by one, figures sprouted out from each of the peaks, shouting at the ten Inborn Experts of Fire God Denomination in the sky.

"Fire God Denomination, any capable man can retrieve the Spiritual Treasures. How dare you barge into Flame Palace with just ten people? I guess you're here to die!"

An old man's voice cut the air from the main peak. He had a pair of enormous wings behind him, and he held a flaming spear as though he was a flame warrior.

"I didn't think you guys would chase all the way here. Looks like you're not giving up!"

Shenghua's voice was heard too. He flapped the glowing feathered wings and glowered at the people from Fire God Denomination. He then flapped towards the Palace Master of Flame Palace.

Flame Palace experts arrived at the back of their Palace Master.

Instantly, 14 Inborn Experts stood at the back and glared at the Fire God Denomination in front of them with sharp and cold eyes.

"Get out of Flame Palace now. Otherwise, leave your bodies here!"

Palace Master of Flame Palace who was in the center spot glared with a pair of cold eyes. He fixed his eyes on the ten people with seriousness climbing all over his face.

"We'll leave after we annihilate you people."

One of the old men from the Fire God Denomination in the middle chuckled with a ghastly sound. "How dare you steal our things and kill a Prince Realm expert. Today, I'll use your flesh and blood as offerings to him!"

"I see. You're here to offer us your lives. Do you think you can annihilate us with just ten people? The Flame Palace is fearless even if you send the entire Fire God Denomination over!"

Palace Master of Flame Palace looked fixedly at them with a darkened expression.

"Haha, all of you are trash. Five Exploratory Inborn Experts? I can kill two without any problem. Why do we need the entire Fire God Denomination here?"

The blonde-haired young man at the side was looking cool. He stared at the elders of Flame Palace insolently.

"Kill them all and reclaim our treasures!"

The old man in the lead stopped the useless talking and made a swift move. His movement was accompanied by a powerful flame that struck directly at the Palace Master of Flame Palace.

"Kill!"

Palace Master and Shenghua had awful looks when they saw ten experts charging at them.

They knew the strength of Fire God Denomination. Therefore, they had grave expressions.

"Besiege and wipe them out!"

The Palace Master bellowed and made a move. His body was shrouded in flames as he darted out to attack the old man at the center.

"How dare an insignificant Pinnacle Inborn create a Sacred Sect. Die!"

The old man in the middle jerked, and a virtual image of a Fire Demon appeared on him.

The Fire Demon that was formed with flames encompassed the old man who grew three meters tall.

"Go to hell!"

The old man swung his enormous fist with daunting strength at the Palace Master.

"So strong!"

He raised his Flaming Spear to block, but he was pushed back a dozen meters.

Palace Master had a sharp change in his expression as his eyes were filled with horror.

Ah!

Yet a desperate scream was heard from the side in that instant.

A blue flame shrouded a Flame Palace elder.

The creepy blue flame burnt that elder immediately.

The elder tried to use his flaming ability to counterattack. But his fiery red flame seemed like a stimulant that ignited a bigger blue fire.

A horrifying scream struck consternation in all the people in Flame Palace.

In an instant, an elder of Flame Palace was seriously wounded or probably dead. All these things happened in a split second.

"How is this possible? How could they kill an elder in an instant?"

"It's a raid. They are sneaking an attack. When our Palace Master realizes it, they can wipe us out even if it's 10 against 13!"

All the disciples of Flame Palace exclaimed from below. They found it unbelievable that a dozen Inborn Experts of Flame Palace could not defend the other party with ten Inborn Experts.

"Heavenly Flame!"

Palace Master was shocked as his expression turned grave immediately.

"How dare you steal our Spiritual Treasures. I'll make sure the Flame Palace is wiped out today!"

The old man who displayed the Heavenly Flame was looking cold. The blue-colored flame was burning around him.

Even the air gave off a loud sound.

"Make it quick and kill them all!"

An old man from Fire God Denomination shouted as he burst into a giant ball of fire. His entire body was on fire.

He swung his arm and blasted a basketball-sized fireball at the Flame Palace elder in front of him.

The Flame Palace elder wielded his machete and hacked the ball of fire.

Bam!

However, metal-like fire droplets fired off a radius of hundred meters from the exploded ball of fire.

Ah!

At the same time, the disciples of Flame Palace screamed in horror from below.

The fire droplets penetrated Level 7 and 8 Martial Artists, and the mightiness of the fire struck terror into them.

The spillover fire from the combat burned the surrounding woods.

"Oh, no!"

Palace Master and the elders had the shock of their lives. The moment their opponent struck, their hearts already skipped a beat.

"Go to hell!"

The blonde-haired young man held a red scepter, firing off tongues of blazing flames at the elders of Flame Palace.

Terrifying stance!

Ho!

Flame Palace elders held their weapons and slashed those flames.

"Haha, kill them all! How dare a reserved place snatch Fire God Denomination's staff. Die!"

At this time, one middle-aged man from Fire God Denomination picked up his Flaming Spear and sprinted over.

The blazing fire was burning atop Flame Palace. Such a sight was spectacular from afar.

"The gap is huge. As a force for hundred years, Fire God Denomination is definitely far more powerful than the Flame Palace!"

"These ten experts from Fire God Denomination were Inborn Experts with a strong foundation. Those Exploratory Inborn Experts from Flame Palace could not hold a candle to them."

"The Flame Palace is going down soon!" said Maniac Ji and Mo Yuan shockingly as Wang Xian and the rest witnessed this from far.

"Heavenly Flame... looks like we have a lot of good stuff here!"

A tinge of red sparks flashed in Wang Xian's eyes as he was ebullient.

I haven't struck for a long time!

Chapter 256: The Autumn Wind Blows And The Flames Extinguished (4)

Argh!

"So strong! How could this group of people be that strong?"

"The heat emitted by that blue flame is really spooky."

"Shit! Elder Liu is hit and injured!"

"Should we run? Should we..."

Fiery Rock Mountain, Flame Palace. At this moment, it was as though Armageddon had descended on Flame Palace.

In the skies, Inborn experts were engaged in intense battles. Flames were raging and illuminated the skies.

The shockwaves from the battles of Inborn experts affected the entire Flame Palace. Sparks were fluttering.

Scorching hot fire dripped down like melted metal. Even a Level 7 and 8 Martial Artist had to dodge carefully.

Blue flames were shot out from the sky. Once in contact, it would quickly reduce everything to ashes.

In the air, the Elders of Flame Palace were injured one after another. The disciples watched from below in shock and disbelief.

They were from the Sacred Sect! A newly-crowned Sacred Sect. They were supposed to be the strongest and the highest tiered existence around.

However, a group of foreigners had barged in and was slowly annihilating them.

This... How could this be happening!

"Fire God Denomination! Get lost from our Flame Palace immediately or none of you are getting away!" The Palace Master of Flame Place stared intensely at the group in front of him and growled loudly as he started noticing his Elders falling one after another due to grave injuries.

"Huo Tu, you have to pay the price for stealing the spiritual treasure of the Fire God Denomination. Not letting us leave? You aren't that capable yet!" Opposite the Palace Master of Flame Palace, the old man covered in three-meter-tall flame remarked coldly. "Today, I'll not let anyone in Flame Palace get away!"

Argh!

While the old man was speaking, another shriek of pain sounded from the side.

The Palace Master of Flame Palace looked bitterly to his left.

"You guys deserve death!"

Anger filled his eyes as he witnessed an Elder hit by the blue flame and slowly reduced to ashes.

In just ten minutes, three Elders were severely injured and one was killed.

If this went on, the Flame Palace may very well be annihilated.

The Palace Master of Flame Palace gritted his teeth and the long spear in his hand shivered with his body. He declared solemnly, "Since you guys are eager to die, I shall grant you the wish!"

Swish!

A human head-sized ball flew out of the Flame Palace suddenly. In the night skies, it was just like the scorching hot sun.

"None of you are getting away after killing an Elder from the Flame Palace!"

The human head-sized Flame Ball flew above him and emitted a scorching hot radiance.

"Spiritual Flame Ball! It's the Body Refining Spiritual Flame Ball!"

The group of experts from the Fire God Denomination stared at the Spiritual Flame Ball above the Palace Master of Flame Palace fervently.

"Body Refining Spiritual Flame Ball! It could refine the bodies of Fire Cultivators and trigger resonance. It could also increase the battle prowess of Fire Cultivators! Huo Tu, this is the spiritual treasure you have stolen from the Fire God Denomination!" The old man opposite the Palace Master of Flame Palace stared at that Body Refining Spiritual Flame Ball intensely.

"Haha, spiritual treasures can be possessed by any capable person." The Palace Master of Flame Palace laughed wildly before staring coldly at the group.

"Killing a Prince Realm expert from the Fire God Denomination, stealing our Spiritual Flame Ball... Do you think we will let you off?" The old man shrouded in giant flames smirked and remarked, "Do you think we have come unprepared?"

"Haha, a Sacred Sect that has been established for over a hundred years isn't something a small Flame Palace like yours could imagine. You are digging your own grave!" The young man with blonde hair laughed hysterically. He opened up his palm and a fist-sized ball was revealed on his palm.

The ball seemed to have been sealed by a lava-like object.

Dense flames flooded into the ball. At this moment, cracks started appearing on the exterior layer of the ball and a violent aura started emanating from it.

"Lava Ball! This is a lava ball that was formed a hundred meters below the lava. Today, I will reduce you to ashes with it!"

Heng Wang revealed a thrilled look. There seemed to be lava flowing on the surface of the Lava Ball. In an instant, the surrounding temperature increased by several dozens of degrees.

Luckily, everyone around was a Fire Cultivator. If they were ordinary men, they would likely be roasted to death by the high temperature.

"Die!"

Heng Wang waved his hand and the Lava Ball was thrown towards the Palace Master of Flame Palace at an astonishing speed.

Huh?

When the Palace Master of Flame Palace saw the ball that was emitting astonishing heat, his face sank and he growled loudly, "Break!"

His body shivered and flames started flowing into his body through his head from the Body Refining Spiritual Flame Ball.

Flames circulated in his body before appearing in his hands. A four to five meters thick fire pillar shot towards the Lava Ball.

"Kill!"

The instant the Palace Master of Flame Palace stopped the Lava Ball, the old man opposite him immediately attacked.

"Kill! Kill! Kill!"

The group of experts from the Fire God Denomination launched their attack once again as strong and horrifying powers shrouded the skies.

Flames were raging, and dangers were everywhere.

"Run, we've got to run!"

"Our Flame Palace... Our Flame Palace might really be finished!"

On the ground, seeing that the Palace Master of Flame Palace was being besieged once again, the faces of the group of disciples turned as white as sheets and perspiration started streaming down their faces.

Some disciples who weren't as brave had already started fleeing silently.

Argh!

Argh!
